About Sam Yau

Originally from Malaysia, I came to New Zealand to study in 1985 and graduated in Canterbury University with a Bachelor of Commerce Degree. I am the proud husband of Christy; a great music teacher and father of our son, Justin Yau who has recently started working as a graduate audiologist. My main motivation to be your councillor is to strive towards: Affordable rates so that our future generation can own their own home. Transparency, because decisions should never be made behind closed doors. Facilitating users, instead of subsidising private businesses, and finally Investing in infrastructures, improving water quality and ensuring safer communities.

If I have the privilege of having your vote, I will bring the Voice of our people to the council's table. This is Your City, you should have Your Say and I will ensure Your Voice will be Heard loud and clear!
