35986	Locals pleased with moving ahead with playground development, I just wanted to suggest some points expressed by talking to parents and kids alike. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Activity tower looks good</li> <li>- Talk of wanting monkey bars, climbing being a important element. The space shuttle spinner looks good.</li> <li>- Is there a danger of the Viking Snake Swing hitting into childs body or head if they walked past?</li> <li>- As well of tables, a bench seat would be a good thing for parents to use without taking up tables.</li> </ul>		Paul
35984	It would be great to see if finally underway.		Mario
35980	We love it, the council staff have put a lot of time and effect into the plan and have listened to the Little River community. It looks fantastic !!! The community feedback we have received has all been positive and they can't wait for it to be built.		Fiona	Little River Wairewa Community Trust, Secretary/project co-ordinator
35976	Plans look great, would like to see alternatives to any CCA treated timber as it is a poison to the touch especially when wet and especially if splinters occur. Also the treatment can leech into the groundwater and contaminate drinking water and freshwater ecosystems. Many alternatives exist beyond the branded over the counter easy option and as it is a place where our tamariki will be playing I think it is a must.		Ryan
35926	No... go for it. Cant wait for the upgrade	Not at this stage	Jenn
35923	Needed now. Great design	Also needed by the community.	Vanessa
35916		Looks great, love the board walk across the wetlands - be great to have bird life here	Bizz

35900	The pump track is the most important part of the park.	The whole banks peninsula is lacking in mountain bike tracks (even though there are hundreds of KMs of paper roads that could easily be surveyed and used for this). This means the Banks Peninsula could be a destination for local and international MTB riders for the price of a few surveys and some organization of volunteers. Much better than slowly extinguishing paper roads without consulting.	Mark
35854	There is a real need. There is not even a swing for over 3's. Our school is year 1-8 and there should be equipment for all those ages, minimum. Delays are frustrating and this should have been a priority. Attached photo of current inadequacies.	Think it is amazing the focus on the youth of the area. Important they have active options and are included in the community, especially when staying local is so important.	Clinton
