[Rates > Visitor Accommodation], [Revenue > Excess Water Charge]

>> Parking charges should be introduced to Hagley Park and the Botanic Gardens. These areas are well connected to active and public transport links.

321 - Tom Williams

[Transport > Other]

Support but this doesn't go far enough - what about congestion charging for people entering Christchurch during peak times

3217 - Abdirahman Abdi

I believe it's a sound plan. the significant proposal to introduce parking charges to the botanic gardens and Haggley Park is sound.

3219 - Ted Meager

Charge at the very least operating costs (tow trucks, parking wardens) for parking infringements. Education via the wallet must be worth a try.

322 - Richie Connell

It's the new reality, user pays so I agree.

3231 - Colin Foster

Parking fees for Haggley park will hopefully reduce unnecessary parking and make more spaces available. At present I have to change my plans to visit the park when no spare spaces are available. Hopefully more parking will be made available from the revenue collected.

3266 - Renee Mark (Italian Film Festival)

Parking charges yes.

329 - Alice Kavet

[Transport > Cycleways]

Providing that bike lanes are maintained and strengthened throughout the city, I don't see any issues to parking charges being increased.

3295 - Rachel Du Val

As much as I enjoy the free parking at places such as the Botanical Gardens, I understand that charging for this is probably necessary in order to maintain what we have. I would hope the charges will be reasonable so people can still enjoy these amenities.

3299 - Phil OMalley

Supportive of parking increases for existing and new fees at key parks

3319 - Ryan Moore

I support the proposed parking charges.

3341 - Maria Bartlett

Sensible option to charge for those parks

3357 - Merav Benaia

I support the proposal to introduce parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park. Too often these premium parking space is being used for a free all day parking in the central city, where there are good options of public transport and cycling.

3375 - Sarah Hadley

That's ok

3379 - Mike Currie

I support the idea of introducing parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park, given that this area is well connected by active/public transport links. The approximately 620 car parks would generate $2 million a year (based on $4.60 for three hours).

3380 - Victoria Lukiyanyuk

It makes sense. I think it is a good idea.

3384 - Robert Biggs

This would deter poorer families from visiting the wonderful selection of Parks in Christchurch. Hagley Park being the jewel bequeathed to us by our forebears.

3392 - Stephen Wood

I support these initiatives

3398 - Robert Pethig

If the parking cost is at a small charge is proposed. A couple of dollars is obtainable for the average family but close to $5 an hour makes it very costly over the course of a day and might drive people away. Also ease of payment; using card, apps and cash would mean people wouldn't find themselves disappointed if they only have one option available to them.

340 - David Wilkinson

as above. support- anything that reflects a true cost. park maintenance counts

3409 - Angela Webster

Fair enough if we have more money to use as a city.

3411 - Marian Krogh (Protect Our Winters NZ)

POW supports the proposed parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park. These are areas that currently have good public and active transport connections. The CCC estimates this could raise 2 millions dollars per year. This could then be further invested in subsidising public transport, and creating more cycling options.

3412 - Alicia Harbison-Price

I think there will be some negative reactions to introducing parking charges in areas like Hagley Park and the Botanic Gardens, but it is a good way to make some revenue. The proposed charge of around $5 for 3 hours feels fair as well.

It is worth noting that for public transport, only one bus route (8 Airport/Lyttleton) travels along Rolleston Avenue so many people will have to transfer at the Bus Interchange or walk from the Interchange to access the Botanic Gardens or Canterbury Museum without a car.

3414 - Chrissie Williams

I support a parking fee at Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park

3415 - Allan Taunt

Agree with proposed changes in the "Proposed changes to fees and charges" section of the consultation document.

The Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park facilities are easily accessible via public and active transport, so there is transport choice. It should also be noted (and I'm sure staff are aware), users of these car parks are not always visiting Botanic Gardens or using Hagley Park facilities. With a fee for parking in the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park carparks, this will help reduce the unnecessary load on the driveway and carpark surface, this in turn reduces the damage and maintenance costs.

3425 - Hugh Dacre

Botanic Gardens proposal is reasonable as it has become parking for people who are at work rather than using the facilities there. The suggested rate is reasonable but should remain at a discount to other city parking.

3427 - Mikaere Greenslade

Car parking costs should not be covered by rate payers. As owners, we should pay for our own storage on any street.

3436 - Sara Campbell

I agree with the proposed parking charges at Hagley Park and the Botanic Gardens.

3476 - John Fletcher

I would charge parking at key parks.

3484 - Prue Stringer

I approve of the parking charges, for motorists to pay their way, but mainly to discourage car use. Any revenue from parking charges could go towards making public transport more attractive .

3497 - Cerys Fletcher

I support the proposed parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park. These areas are well supported by good cycle infrastructure and connection to buses, and the public should be incentivised to use these modes of transport rather than driving to these places.

3498 - Lucas Tomasi

Parking fees at botanic gardens are a good idea. Having charged parking at hagley might make it hard however for families who take their children to weekend sport

3519 - Fiona Fenton

It is reasonable to charge for key car parks.

3525 - Andrew Hey

I support these changes

353 - John Mayhew

Yes charge more for parking vehicles to encourage more cycle use and stop empty buses polluting the city.

3542 - Beatrix Gilling

Yes, I agree with the changes for parking charges at the Botanical gardens and Hagley park.

3558 - Patrick Kennedy

Fully support parking charges in the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park. These are well connected by public and active transport already.

3564 - Allan Grant

This may discourage use of the parks but if it assists in keeping this aspect of rates under control, then I support it.

3573 - Joyce Yager

[Fees & Charges > Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)]

I strongly support introducing parking charges, including additional parking charges throughout the city to discourage driving short distances into town.

3585 - Rachel Fulton

[Fees and Charges > Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)]

Increase parking charges across the city, including the proposed parking fees at the Botanic gardens and Hagley park. I can take the bus or cycle to this area very easily and it would raise a huge amount of money. Higher parking fees could then be put directly towards subsidising buses and creating more cycling infrastructure. We'd have a disincentive to drive, an incentive to bus or bike, less air and noise pollution,

3586 - Rachel Geddis

Car parks like the botanical gardens carparks are currently at capacity. Perhaps introducing payment for these parks might make parking more accessible for those that want parking in close proximity.

3589 - Roxanne Brassington

I think it will impact visitors to the gardens but it makes sense

3599 - Hayley Guglietta

I do not have issue with parking charges at the botanic gardens for me personally i would rather pay in the carpark for the time I need to be there than to be pinged all the time with tickets

3610 - Eric Stierna

I agree with charging for parking at key parks in the community.

3614 - Lin Roberts

- I support the proposed parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park, as these areas are well-connected by public and active transport. The $2m a year this would raise (based on your calculations) would be useful.

3621 - Morgane Honore

I fully support the introduction of parking charges at key parks such as the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park. These areas are well-served by public and active transport options, making them ideal candidates for parking fees. The revenue generated, estimated at $2 million annually according to Council calculations, could be allocated towards offsetting other costs, contributing to the sustainability and upkeep of these cherished public spaces.

3622 - Jono de Wit

I support the proposed parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park as these areas are the jewels in the city's crown and people should pay to enter these places in their private vehicle and store it there while they enjoy them. By not charging, that means the city is subsidising the cost of private vehicle parking and by extension private vehicle use in general. The city should instead be subsidising more sustainable ways of transport to these areas such as public transport and cycling.

3623 - Jessica Adams

Yes, there should be parking charges at key parks.

3625 - Angela Brett

[Fees & Charges>Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)]

Parking charges sounds great! I think in general the only way to help people make changes to how they move around the city is to disincentivize driving and parking in monetary ways.

3626 - Connie Christensen

I support charges for kerbside parking of vehicles... it should not be free to store your vehicle on public road space anyway. Feel free to take the bus, taxi, uber, scooter, cycle or walk instead of driving your own car into town ;-)

3632 - Judith Bell

Sounds reasonable

3636 - Kay Robertson

Yes to parking charges in the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park. There are convenient cycleways and public transport nearby. Car parks should bring revenue to the City.

3640 - Angela Neal

A small charge i agree

3644 - Yvonne Dixon

The parking charges seem fair to me.

3646 - Thomas Blakie

Yes good idea

3655 - Dan Manton

I support the introducing car parking fees (on weekdays) around Botanic Gardens and Hagley park.

3663 - Connor McIver

I support the introduction of parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park. These areas are readily accessible by other (less polluting) means and incentivising mode shift is worthwhile.

3673 - Theo van Woerkom

Yes please do these, especially charges for Botanical Gardens and Hagley Park. Some people park there who don't even use the park to make use of the free parking.

3684 - Alison Lomax

It is reasonable to charge for parking at these venues as people currently park there for free and use other facilities in the area to avoid parking fees.

3690 - Jono de Wit (Greater Ōtautahi)

We support the proposed parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park, as these areas are well-connected by public transport, and active transport. The $2m a year this would raise (based on Council's calculations) would be useful in offsetting other costs.

3695 - Pamela Pye

Support proposed changes

3699 - John McCombs

[Fees and Charges > Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)]

Support botanic gardens and Hagley park charges and increase central city parking fees

3700 - Ian Cumberpatch

I think this is ok as long as the costs are kept at reasonable levels. My observation is that CCC parking charges are at high levels.

3704 - Logan Cane

Please introduce a parking fee at Botanic Gardens/Hagley Park. In-fact make it a premium parking area (perhaps with the exception of disabled parking) so that people are incentivized to take public or active transport. Hagley is a recreational area for exercising, and a real asset to the city. We do not want to see it taken over by cars.

3706 - Ellie Stevenson

Absolutely bring those parking charges in on parks. It's easy as to take public transport from anywhere in the city to anywhere near those parks; if you want to create a greater cost for other park enjoyers by occupying a spot in the carpark instead of busing in, you can shoulder that cost. The same idea should apply more across the city.

3724 - Terence Sissons

Parking charges are a good idea - visitors to the Botanic Gardens and especially non-resident visitors should not expect to have their recreation subsidised by the ratepayers.

3725 - Richard Smith

I support the proposed parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park. These areas are well-connected by public transport, and active transport. The $2m a year this would raise (based on Council's calculations) would be useful in offsetting other costs.

373 - Charlene Herring

Since the Botanical Gardens car park is one of the few places to park for free anywhere near the central city it is a shame to have to charge ... but probably makes sense.

3738 - Finn Jackson

I support the proposal to introduce parking fees at key parks. These areas have high demand and are well connected to public and active transport modes. As such it makes little sense not to charge for their use.

375 - Alex McNeill

I believe that paying for parking is part of choosing to drive somewhere. The proposed fees aren't extravagant (less than $5 for 3 hours) and would hopefully encourage more people to use public or active transport to get there. My only concern is that those with mobility issues may be negatively affected by such fees - is there a system to get reduced parking fees for these people who already have mobility parking stickers?

376 - Mattias Wieland

[Fees and Charges > Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)]

I'm in favour of higher parking charges

3768 - Tracey Klatt

Extra parking charges at Hagley Park is a good idea

3770 - Jane Higgins

I think charging for parking at the Botanic gardens and Hagley Park is acceptable. It would be great if the money raised from this could be used for encouraging active modes of transport - walking and cycling - in the environs of the park.

3780 - Jack Halliday

Yes. - Parking should be changed in all areas where there is excess demand, including the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park.

3782 - Ramses Hunt

I think charging for key parks is a good idea

3783 - Arthur McGregor

[Fees & Charges > Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)]

I support introducing parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park. In fact, I'd like to see all free all-day parking within the 4 avenues changed into paid parking.

379 - Alex Rowe

[Fees and charges > Venue Charges (Parks)], [Fees and charges > Resource Consent Fees], [Fees and charges > Other]

I agree with all proposed changes. In support of charging individual people for services ie car parking rather than subsidising these through rates paid.

3798 - M-Webb User

Yes charge for parking at key parks to encourage use public transport.

3802 - Matthew Baird

Car parking: I fully support introducing parking fees at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park car-parks. These are high-demand car parks that are well-connected by both active and public transport options. I've seen high levels of congestion in the Botanic Garden car park a number of times, often with cars going in only to give up and turn around. Adding charges will reduce demand.

3808 - Peter Rodgers

3817 - Melissa Macfarlane

I support the introduction of parking charges in the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park, this will help to reduce the use of these free parks but all-day commuters and support a change over of visitors during the day. Christchurch is a large city and I believe $4.60 for three hours parking is a reasonable expectation, and the revenue can be used to support amenities for residents.

3819 - Jessica Halliday

Support proposed parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park, as these areas are well-connected by public transport, and active transport. The $2m a year this would raise (based on Council's calculations) will be useful in offsetting other costs.

3837 - Dermot Coffey

I strongly support the introduction of parking charges- these would give an additional revenue stream to support active transport development

3856 - Portia Bishop

- Agree with the parking changes at key parks. E.g. at Botanic Gardens, this is already very well serviced by bus routes. It will produce more revenue to offset other costs ($2 mil according to council calculations)

3861 - Alex Robinson

The proposed changes make sense, but without better functioning and more convenient public transport options, it may dissuade and isolate people who cannot afford it.

3862 - Katharine Metherell

Parking charges should be introduced at key parks but not all parks.

387 - Rowena MacGill

Parks should be free for all.

3873 - Angela Curl (Transport, Society and Environment Group, Department of Population Health, University of Otago Christchurch)

We support the proposed introduction of parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park.

3876 - Dave Evans

I agree with charging for parking at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park. These places are well served by public transport and would be great places for families to cycle to.

3881 - Anne Scott

Support parking charges at Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park.

3884 - Rachel Bacon

I think this is a good option.

3890 - Michele St George Waugh

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Public Transport]

Parking charges in oaks - a fair call as we try to reduce reliance on cars in the central areas, but maybe add an inner 'orbiter' bus ring route to assist

3894 - Greg Siddells

It is often difficult to be forced to pay for a previously free service, but the reality is that a probable cost is involved and some recovery of that cost is acceptable.

3899 - Harrison McEvoy

[Fees and Charges > Car-parking fees (on-street and off-street parking)]

Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park fees are good. Parking fees should increase across the city.

3906 - Sarah Bennet

I support any measure that makes private car ownership & use more expensive, tiresome and difficult - people should have to pay to drive and park within the four avenues. The accessibility of the bus terminal should make driving an unnecessary endeavour and the council has a responsibility to discourage car use via increased charges and fees wherever possible.

3913 - Mark Darbyshire

I support the proposed new car parking fees for the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park. These will help take pressure off rates rises, contribute towards maintenance costs, and encourage uptake of public transport.

3931 - David Moorhouse

Free car parking distorts transport choices, so charging is well overdue (and was actually suggested 20 odd years ago)

3936 - Carley Dove-McFalls

[Fees and Charges > Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)], [Transport > Carparking]

I support the introduction and increase of parking charges on all council owned parking as this will help fund other projects and discourage car use in a time that is critical for our planet. Privately owned car parks, such as Wilsons, must also be bought up by council.

3945 - Callum Snell

I support the idea of introducing parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park, given that this area is well connected by active/public transport links. The approximately 620 car parks would generate $2 million a year (based on $4.60 for three hours).

3949 - Fay Brorens

Parking in the Botanic Gardens - yes I think a charge is OK provided it is modest ($4.60 for 3 hours)

3957 - Anne Scott (Spokes Canterbury)

Support proposed parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park, as these areas are well-connected by public transport, and active transport. The $2m a year this would raise (based on Council's calculations) would be useful in offsetting other costs. This should include increased cycle parking in the same area to encourage mode shift.

3958 - Emma Turner

parking charges are fine, we need to be encouraging other means of transport to get into and around the city.

3969 - H Bloomer-Law

Fees at parks sounds like another good way of raising funds, I support it.

3985 - Benjamin Lowe

Parking charges will reduce traffic congestion & get people into public transport. Good.

402 - Cynthia Charron

- fully support increases to fees and charges for user-pays services - fully support proposed introduction of parking charges at Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park, HOWEVER this must be paired with a campaign that publicises and encourages other modes of transport to these locations (ex "Which bus line takes me to the Botanic Gardens?") because many people will not be familiar with public transport systems, charges and routes.

4021 - Cornelis F De Jager

Go for it, if you don't want to pay, don't go.

4025 - Robin Wynne-Williams

[Fees and Charges > other]

Parking charges need to be applied at the key parks, eg the Gardens, but family passes, and golden oldie and disability passes

4033 - Juliana Venning

Parking charges are a fair source of revenue.

404 - Annelise Bryant

Yes that's fine

417 - Jackie Astall

No, good idea

423 - Linda MacIntyre

With our increasing population and still having a car mentality, a parking charge seems to be the only option.

426 - Elyse Thompson

I think this is sad, but I do understand it. If fees are added, please ensure they are affordable. It would be a shame if families could no longer afford to visit places like the Botanic Gardens. OR invest in better public transport options, e.g., light rail system, so that parking lots are not as relied on.

447 - Zoelle Davies

Charging for services people use is fine.

450 - Allison Husband

$4.60 for three hours of parking in Hagley Park seems reasonable especially if it can reduce the increase to residential rates ie user-pays.

48 - Kean Mitchell

Yes, We have a user pays model and for too long, users of services have not been paying. Traffic from outside of Christchurch (non Christchurch residents) who use CCC roads and infrastructure, libraries, parks pools, but pay no rates, should be paying in some form. Local residents who are more likely to be able to walk to these parks, venues, etc, are paying for the location through their increased rates already, so should through that method, benefit if they do not need to park at a venue.

482 - Graham Townsend

I approve of parking charges at the Botanic Gardens & Hagley Park, and of an increase in parking meter charges.

487 - Gavin Stevenson

Parking fees for the Botanic Gardens is a reasonable step forward as long as fees themselves are reasonable and less than those charged by established businesses in the central city. The addition of "a dollar or two" to some fees may seem small but in the context of current economic reality, may not be that small for some families wishing to enjoy those facilities and services.

526 - Stephen French

Charging for parking in and around Hagley Park is a useful fund raiser for the council and would encourage more people to travel by bus rather than car.

533 - Judith Livingstone

As it is difficult to visit the botanic gardens a parking fee is feasible

540 - Ross Allen

I support all the proposed fees and charges, including the new Botanic Gardens car park charges (too many workers and high school students are taking advantage of this free parking).

546 - Lisa Boyce

Parking doesn't matter to me. I don't drive. Also this is a destination. Park elsewhere and enjoy the walk, it's beautiful

550 - Colin Mansell

Yes. Reasonable parking charges in Parks etc are good to discourage car use.

563 - Tobias Meyer

I support charging for parking.

579 - Rosemary Neave

yes to parking charges at Botanic gardens and Hagley Park, apart from disabled parking. These parks are well served by public transport. Parking charges generally in the city should be increased.

c. Increased charging for inner city parking, discounts for disabled parking

592 - Cindy Bolderston

User pays

595 - jeffery Thackwell

Good idea

618 - Natalie Dixon

I think this is ok and I'd like to see council own more parking facilities instead of Wilsons.

623 - Linda Everett

Definitely should be parking charges at key parks. We all have to pay for parking at most places in town, so why not the parks too.

630 - Kate Cater

No problem.

635 - Ashley Campbell

I support parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park. I understand that people will object, as everyone objects to a change that sees them pay for something that previously others paid for, but it is important that people who use these facilities pay for them rather than push the cost on to other ratepayers, especially given the financial stress many are under.

657 - Murray Peacock

Agree , all revenue raising needs to be acted upon

663 - Sam Chow-Tan

Go ahead, user pays

667 - Frans Jeldrick Oorthuys

ok again

670 - Sue Orpwood

As many of the people who park in the Botanic Gardens car park are there so they can walk through to appointments and visiting at the hospital, rather than use the gardens, I think car park charges are needed.

687 - Anna Laurenson

I think that's a great idea to generate revenue. User pays.

693 - Jamie Innes

Yes you should be increasing parking fees wherever practicable as a revenue source. Chch ppl have had it too good for too long with cheap or free parking.

702 - Tim Stedman

[Fees and Charges > Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)]

Introduce Parking fees at all council facilities including swimming pools and recreation centres and the botanic gardens

729 - Rodney Thompson

Not a fan of charging for parking at the Botanic Gardens. I frequently visit the gardens (once or twice a month) and adding parking charges would deter this. I am comfortable with having paid street parking in the commercial areas, but not at public access council run facilities.

760 - David Palmer

In general car parking should always cost money, so I agree with that proposal.

771 - Chris Foubister

charge for parking in the gardens carpark

8 - Justin Yudistira

The parking at Hagley Park and Botany Gardens should be chargeable. This is an area with plenty of active transport and public transport connections, so we should limit free parking here

80 - Elizabeth Velde

Fair

814 - Malcolm McKellar

Agree. Need to do everything we can to discourage car use.

847 - David Bromell

I support the proposed parking charges on p. 43.

883 - Elizabeth Steel

I agree that it would be beneficial to introduce parking charges to parks. I visit the Botanical Garden often, and while I very much enjoy the free parking, I would be happy to pay a small fee to avoid additional rate increases. I think that the proposed fee of $4.60 for three hours is acceptable, but I wouldn't want to see it be any higher than that.

893 - Peter Murphy

Okay

896 - Ged Robinson

It is a good idea to charge people using it but it would be great if we could create ways where driving was seen less effective and public transport or leg power was used more. But all in all its a good idea

900 - Bill McElhinney

I believe a user-pays fee for parking in our key parks is a good idea.

901 - Noel Meek

[Fees & Charges - Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)]

Please charge more for parking - disincentivising cars in our central city is an excellent option to reduced our emissions.

963 - Bronwyn Moth

I 7nderstand the need to reclaim money towards the upkeep of parks etc.

Oppose

1 - Aidan Sheard

No parking charges.

1002 - Riley Mahuika

Never introduce fees to our parks/gardens. You are trying to promote public transport right? Maybe designate more bus stops to those locations. But lets be real, kiwis like the freedom of having a car. Please don't charge. It will leave a bad taste in an overseas traveler who gets randomly slapped with a fine

1014 - Sandy Porter

Definitely not.

1030 - Andrea Gosney

Disgusting

1034 - James Forde

Yes, dont do it. Look for ways to reduce and remove charges

1035 - Jean Peneha

Yes. There is already plenty of paid parking around the city. Why charge families more who are trying to take their children out. Elderly trying to go for a stroll in a park. Tourist who already have so much to pay for

105 - Harriet Murray

The city, its council, and its people are all feeling the hardship of increasing cost. By going forward with these proposed changes, you are taking the accessibility out of council funded areas. They will be used less and the thing we have spent so long on rebuilding (a lively city) will be lost again.

1051 - Andrew Wood

Shouldn't be parking charges at parks! That's just rude

1053 - Melissa Tauwhare

You want to increase rates AND charge parking?!? No

1061 - Racheal O'Brien

I think that is awful. We have enough families who can't afford to make ends meet and then you want to take the joy of access to parks away from them. Something our city is based on. The garden city and you want to charge them. People will stop coming and access those that are free taking the need for bigger venues like the gardens less needed or put further pressure on public transport

1068 - Redacted Redacted

Do not charge parking fees. If we dont have enough money dont up keep the park. Dont charge those who already own the park. ie rate payers

1109 - Sarah Hosking

Do not introduce parking charges at key parks - its a place that families can go and spend time in nature without it being expensive.

1114 - Shunzi Wang

I don't think there should be charges for parking at parks.

1116 - Stephan Lloyd

I don't support charging for parking at Hagley park and the Botanical gardens. I would support the rate increase.

1129 - John Clemens

Although $2M income from charging for the Botanic Gardens / Hagley Park car park (which I guess does not include extra costs associated with its implementation - signage, patrolling, definition of parking places etc.) sounds attractive, I do not support such a move. Just look at page 5 of the LTP Consultation Document: this prime open space is an oasis, not only for its environmental benefits (fresh air, exercise, displays, sport etc.), but also as place of refuge socially and culturally, psychologically even, for us all, including for many people who are less fortunate financially or socially than most who might not come if there was a charge. The very absence of a charge is a signal that all are welcome whatever their circumstances.

115 - Dean Milroy

I think charging for parking at key parks isn't fair on people on lower incomes

1160 - Chichella Cook

Please dont do that. It discourages people from getting out and enjoying our free beautiful natural spaces.

1167 - Anja Luecht

[Parks > Parks Maintenance]

If you decide to charge for parking outside parks then maybe you should first spend money on making the parks more appealing? Why are parks such as Bishopdale Park having to be "adopted" by Cotswold Primary School to help keep up the maintenance? Parking outside parks should never be a revenue for council when it is one of the few things people can do these days that don't cost money.

1168 - Annie Pattison

There should be no charge for parking at parks. Imagine you're a poor person with children or animals or you want to get exercise. Instead of letting children play outside in a dangerous area that you can afford to live in, you drive them to a nice park to play and experience what Christchurch can offer, but you get there and you have to say 'sorry kids, I know it's your favourite place to play but we have to go somewhere else or home'. When you make policy like this you have to keep in mind what vulnerable communities this would be affecting. Being able to access bigger, nicer parks in other areas can give families hope for the future.

118 - Barbara Neville

Please don't charge at parks. Poor and young families who need outings can only go to these places if they have no money.

1189 - Michaela Allen

Please don't charge parking at at parks, we need to encourage people to visit parks.

119 - Alyssa Tull

I disagree with this initiative, and believe that it will become an obstacle for families wanting to visit these parks.

1217 - Ila Couch

I don't agree with parking charges at key parks - as your example. It creates barriers to access.

1218 - Eva Rogatski

Cheap cash grabs that turn people away will then leave these areas suffering with less foot flow

1224 - Amanda OBrien

[Fees and Charges > Car Parking (Parks)], [Fees and Charges > Car Parking Fees)on-street & off-street parking)]

Parking should be free or extremely low cost in the city, i stay away simply because Parking is hard to find and expensive.

1242 - Nick Scott

More free parking

1244 - K Stanley

No one will want to use them as they won't be able to afford it

1254 - Nikki Thebault

Charging for parking at city parks is bizarre

127 - Judith Clarkson

No fees at parks

1273 - Anthony Moore (The Elms Hotel Ltd, T/A Hotel Elms Christchurch)

I disagree vehemently on placing parking charges for the public wanting to access our community parks such as the botanic gardens and Hagley Park as this only adds to the cost for families and will discourage good social interaction and family time in the outdoors.

1278 - Tim Marsh

Stop increasing costs and reduce spending

128 - Elizabeth Ackermann

If you charge for Hagley you will go against all our city father's plans

1280 - Victoria Mitchell

I do not support this. Parks are one of the few free activities in the city for families and this would diminish access.

1292 - Gemma Phillips

Lame- find money through how you do things rather than putting more on the people.

1293 - Jill Rice

Don't increase fees, these carparks bring locals into the city. Private carparks are already way too expensive.

1303 - Paul Johnston

I do not support the introduction of parking fees at key parks

1308 - Bernadette Bowe

Parks are enjoyed by everyone but mostly families. I do not agree with parking charges at key parks. As an idea, could the locals have an exemption card perhaps and charge a small fee for tourists? Not sure how that would be implemented though.

1312 - Andrea Bromley

I do not go to the city as it is - or very very rarely if I do, due to the cost of parking and now you want to add parking fees to the botanic gardens.... This city is not user friendly as it is and you are trying to make it harder for people to go and enjoy the beauty we have. $4.60 for 3 hours. Doesn't sound like much but you have a child playing sport weekly or need to go to an event, it all adds up.

1322 - Kelly Robertson

I don't agree with this. We want people to enjoy our spaces not restrict them by adding a cost to it

1324 - Anaru Matai

Do not want to charge for parking for additional areas

1332 - Liam White

NO Why would you make it cost more for people to go out and see the city. That is the dumbest thing.

1333 - Daniel Roome

Parks should be free. Money grabbing tactics!

1335 - Julie Turner

absolutely not, we pay enough now for parking

1339 - Carol Marie Ferrier

NO to charging for families to attend their kids sports matches on the weekends!

1347 - Stephen Leon

Parking at parks? I object.

1366 - Fiona Rutherford

Parking charges at key parks is unnecessary these parks are designed for everyone to go to, not just the privileged who can afford to pay.

1373 - Luke Lagan

Don't do it. We're the garden city, don't charge for that it's part of the city fabric and feel.

1389 - Emma Mcmurtrie

I don't think you should do that.

1401 - Jenine Screen

I don't agree with parking charges at key parks - you want families to go and use these areas freely

1406 - Eve Lafferty

Don't support including paying for botanics car park

1413 - Tania Brewer

What benefits are the tax payers getting if we are charged everywhere. This also effects general well-being for families with lower incomes being able to afford to go to parks etc with charge of parking, we need more free places for all to be able to attend.

1415 - Rebecca Macpherson

I would prefer that these charges were not enforced, example - the gardens is a great place for families to go and extra costs could deter these things to happen

1416 - David Laughlin

Clearly it costs council to operate parks, but I think parking charges could be counter-productive, and not really in the spirit of what the parks are all about.

1424 - Peter McMillan

I BELIEVE CERTAIN FREE PARKING IS BENEFICIAL AND IMPORTANT FOR CHRISTCHURCH, LIKE HAGLEY PARK, MARGARET MARY, ETC.

1475 - Courtney Henderson

Yes, I don't agree with introducing parking charges at the botanic gardens or hagley park. This would have a negative impact on those that are able to access and enjoy the gardens due to the cost $4.60. Hagley park and the botanic gardens are places that are for benefit of the local community and are being maintained as part of our rates so I feel that parking should be included within what we already pay. The parking in hagley park is greatly beneficial to access the park for walks but also close quick visitation to the hospital.

149 - Kristie Agnew

not charging for parking at parks, that is quite depressing.

1490 - Carolina Nery

Yes, it is clear you want to make segregation, first of all gentrification removing people from the city centre, from now you want to give no option to park in the city keeping people in their suburbs. Shame !!!!!

15 - Sara Currey

Parking is a barrier in the city, let alone at parks. Christchurch city is not inviting to residents, not enough affordable parking.

150 - Jeremy Foate

1508 - Mb Brennan

I absolutely object to the notion of instigating parking fees at the Botanic gardens / Hagley Park. It has been a delight and an enlightened policy that in the past Christchurch people have been able to easily visit both these venues. This would be a retrograde step at any time but even more so these days when people are increasingly living on smaller sections or apartments and less exposed to the peace, beauty and tranquility of nature. Mental health, could be compromised. These proposed fees are a barrier to access and will create inequity. Those that can't afford it, need it most. This idea is unthinkable, inhospitable and ungenerous. This is not a Christchurch that cares for all her citizens for one will not be able to visit and enjoy the gifts of our gardens and parks that have been left to us by the forward thinkers of the past. It is one area of town that should be sacrosanct. We can escape the losses of the earthquakes imprint on our city and enjoy what still is. We can breathe nature's peace which should be free. The present system has and still does work well. I am appalled that you would even consider charging for access to this gem. What next, a slippery slope, indeed. Keep your hands off our parking at the botanic gardens and Hagley park. Leave what is presently working well, alone. The proposed income generation is relatively small in the bigger picture of the budget and not worth the inequity or precedent it would create. I am no fan of increasing rates but if that was the cost of keeping easy and free access then I would be prepared to stomach the small increase alternative you pose. Efficiencies may be able to be found elsewhere. Either way NO PARKING FEES. The status quo is best. Let's encourage everyone to keep enjoying one of Christchurch's jewels.

1518 - Kathleen Anderson

I think all parks, and beaches should continue to have free and accessible parking. Parking fees deter people from using facilities and people struggling to afford basic living necessities should be able to find free places to enjoy our city. We seldom venture into the central city as we find the current parking charges exorbitant. We prefer to support businesses, food outlets etc where there is free parking available.

1549 - Jessica Saunders

Most residents only go to parks because we can't afford to do anything else. I don't think it's wise potentially putting up barriers to families who can't afford other entertainment

156 - Julieanne Giles

Object people won't use them

1568 - Kathryn May

Freeze salaries, remuneration, fees of board members, workers, committee members.

1593 - Rick Houghton

No need to charge for parking. More revenue could be created by enforcing current parking limits and rules. Everyone knows the parking enforcement is ad-hoc and only work normal "office" hours. Have you ever witnessed the chaos around Hagley Park after a large event.

1608 - Helen Davies

These parks were gifted to the city for all to use! If you want to introduce fees make it reasonable so that people will keep using them. In my experience where councils have introduced these at too high a rate people go elsewhere. Businesses don't have the foot traffic and close which means councils do not receive their business rates! I would not pay the $4.60 proposed. $1 per hour would be more reasonable, people would wear that and maybe stay longer. Make it more and you'll end up with empty carparks, again a loss for the council and local business.

1613 - David Browne

charges at parks is a revenue grab and should not happen.

1617 - Jack Swannell

No. This is a very slippery slope. Next, we will have to pay for parking to go to the beach. NZ love how accessible these places can be. Coming from the UK, councils now charge to visit any location which is unaffordable for many.

1628 - Matthew Brovelli

Bad idea. We need to encourage people to be out and about. This support mental and physical wellbeing. Adding yet another penalty created yet another hurdle for positive behaviours.

1636 - Sandra Thomson

I can't agree with that because of people on the poverty line. Sometimes a park is the only free thing they can afford.

1638 - Leigh Percasky

Do not support this. Creating extra barriers to people getting out in nature seems counterproductive. Paid parking will stop some people visiting the gardens.

1640 - Veronica Leigh-Ogden

Got stuffed. Why should people pay to go to a park.

1641 - Win Douglas

Wont be going to parks if I have to pay a fee.

1646 - Dale McGregor

Parks are a public amenity, and there should not be a charge for their use. We are known as "The Garden City" for a reason. Also, why does it take two traffic control vehicles for one mower when operating to control traffic, another cost that is completely unnecessary?

1654 - Jane Ross

What have we been playing rates for? The parks are there for the residents to use not for the council to make money.

1674 - Susan Galbraith

No don't charge local people to pay for parking at the parks they pay for out of their rates.

1685 - Bowen Abaraham

No parking charges

1691 - Jesse Newman

I do not support charging for parking at these type of facilities as this could limit access to residents who are already paying for these facilities.

17 - Sandra Pilet

Parking charges kill small business. Try and think outside the box and do things to promote business not kill it.

1709 - Aaron Cumming

Parking charges, you are like a broken record. Parking costs are already over the top and put people off going into the city. Once again this is just punishing the rate payers for past neglect and what the hell are our rates actually paying for if you are just adding charges on. These are not value added services the parks are already there. We have already paid for these parks.

1710 - Ashwin Kurup

Again, stop spend money on unnecessary stupid stuff, >>> beautification etc. [Transport > Roads (Capital)] [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)]

1711 - Eluishia Hart

This is ridiculous. With the rise in costs, we enjoy taking our children to the gardens as a free option when we can't afford anything else. You'll just keep families like mine away from those places

1724 - Jo Hikuroa

I would rather pay more in my rates and allow all visitors and families to use the parks. It would be such a shame for people to be put off going to the gardens because of parking costs.

1726 - Gavin Umuhuri

No, don't charge parking fees at botanic gardens. Families need the ability to park for free

1732 - Carole Logan

Car parking is already far too expensive & a deterrent to visiting places, especially in the city so don't increase.

1742 - Graeme Hodge

Keep Hagley park car parking free if possible.

1749 - Nicole Baxter-Warren

Such a tricky balance, I don't personally get to use these places due to working full time but know the impact that may have on young whānau. I think there shouldn't be a cost for weekend sports users as subscriptions already incorporate facility uses.

1761 - Elaine Dunlop

Charging rate payers to make money means some may pay more than once overall.. so it is still coming out of the same wallet

1771 - Jimmy Hua (Cantebery Court Motel)

no

1775 - Jo Hall

Not a good idea as this will hurt those who cannot afford it, therefore limiting the use to those who can afford it. Should be free to everyone.

1780 - Alison Griffith-Collins

Please stop treating parking as a cash cow. This disadvantages groups that are usually financially stretched, but need parking (families, the elderly, unwaged). Expensive parking (e.g. in Hagley Park) could achieve the opposite result: it drives people out of the central city.

1784 - Joanna Chan

If you want public spaces to be usable parking should be free. Especially for sports grounds.

179 - Bridgette Smith

No just leave it free. There are so few areas where people can park for free. Key parks allow people from all socio economic levels to enjoy what Christchurch has to offer.

1792 - Laura Parkes

I believe this proposal will create a barrier to these places for people of lesser income. Many families regularly utilise these spaces as recreation as they are unable to paid recreational spaces. Suggesting that parking fees would be negligible in a lower income families budget is tone-deaf and out of touch. Personally, my family budgets every paycheque down to the last dollar with nothing unaccounted for and many families in Otautahi are the same. Adding a charge to these spaces would lower the standard of living for lower income families and negate the rates stabilisation benefit for them as they not only typically do not own property but are also at the mercy of the landlords system who will raise their rent regardless.

[Grants & Funding - Arts Centre Funding]

I believe that adding fees to parking areas in key parks would have a negative impact on many at risk communities. The lessening of funding to the arts will compound this impact.

1793 - Pamela Hughes

No I disagree with parking charges at key parks. I recall "pay and display" in England and it just seemed like milking a view or in this case parks. What could happen is park visitors parking in residential areas and congesting them more

180 - Kevin McSweeney

I'm uneasy about parking charges at parks

1809 - Dianne Bennett

I find it extremely sad to think that car parking at the botanical gardens may be charged. There is so much paid car parking around the city we should be able to keep this the same as it has been for a very long time. It encourages families and individuals to use our beautiful Botanical Gardens park and visit the Art centre complex and Museum (when it is open again)

181 - Pearlin Jacob

Parking charges are already high inside the city . The metro service is not all that great in terms of having enough bus stops. It becomes difficult specially during the colder months . So I think there has to be free parking, to help people get out there and enjoy the parks . Parks are the only free entertainment and if that has paid parking how will young families who are struggling go anywhere?

1815 - Tony Hallams

I oppose this

1816 - Sarah Cook

I feel charging for places like gardens is not okay the gardens, playground etc are a great resource for chch and free for families to get out and enjoy so by charging adds that extra later of costs to families. Parking is already hard to find in the city and costly so if families cant pay for the gardens say where do they park to still enjoy a free activity

1829 - Stephanie Barbier

I dont agree with charging for parking at parks, its a space place for families to go who dont have alot of money to spare

1834 - Judith Penney

While this seems an easy income-earner, our community places high value on the ability to access free parking at key parks. Parking has become expensive in the inner city and personally, I avoid paying for parking wherever possible (I use the bus if possible). I will avoid our attractions also if paid parking is introduced.

1838 - Charlotte Holland

Please do not introduce parking charges at the botanical gardens!!

1849 - Amy Brewer

Less people will use facilities if you charge for parking.

Always important but not if we are going to be charged parking to visit them.

1864 - Kylie Williams

Its hard enough to find parking let alone pay for parking with the price of everything. The children of christchurch will be the ones to miss out on alot more than than they already do because parents are already finding it difficult to make ends meet

1868 - Sara Rennell

We want our people to afford visiting the parks. Do not add parking charges to botanical gardens!!

1871 - Marlana Cooper

Really, so now parents wont be able to afford to take kids to the park if they live to far to walk and the kids will miss out

1873 - Marjorie Manthei (Victoria Neighbourhood Association Inc)

Not everyone we consulted with commented on this proposal. However, those who did were NOT IN FAVOUR of parking charges in the Botanic Gardens or Hagley Park. The reasons given were that the expected revenue would be relatively small, with an insignificant impact on rates. The impact on low income residents, however, could be prohibitive, making it less attractive for these residents to enjoy what are popular public spaces.

1884 - Sophie Robb

I wouldnt visit the park if i had to pay. I remember going to Orton bradley park a lot as a child but now you need to pay ive never been

1888 - Lois McClintock

There are little places to park for free centrally already. Charging at parks as well now will just introduce more frustration to park users and may result in these parks not serving their intended purpose to the community as people will go less as a result

1944 - Peter Salvesen

Not logical and will not help fill the void from wasteful spending. This is not useful. Maintain what we already have to a better standard.

1959 - Brad Waldon-Gibbons

I don't agree with charges to Hagley park carparking in specific. This is a main hub for sport, recreation, culture and the environment. There should not be more barriers to going to this place and doing these activities. In particular for our young people to have these opportunities. I also think that individuals with disabilities will be unfairly impacted due to restricted access /services to also enjoy these spaces. Forcing them to (most likely) pay for parking if they wish to use this facility.

1968 - Kelly Osborn

These changes especially to be parking at Hagley park will drive people especially young families away from using the park. This area should be access to EVERYONE not just those that can afford the parking.

1971 - Matt Bevan

No parking fees as it discourages people from going to places

1976 - Amanda Henderson

One of the highlights of life in Christchurch is our freely accessible parks, especially the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park. Charging for parking in those key parks will mean just more places which become an unaffordable luxury for those on a fixed income or those struggling to make ends meet.

1996 - Iain Nicholls

Do not introduce parking charges at key parks.

1997 - Justine Wright

no. people cannot pay for the parking as it is. I know of people who have to park in town every day for work, yet cannot afford the parking. to begin to charge for the few free parks will drive business and customers away from town.

1999 - Gus Fahy

We want people to use our facilities. Charging for parking is a backward step to get people out and about. We need people in the inner city not in that malls so parking options need to be attractive

20 - Ross Williamson

There are too many restrictions now on parking. Don,t charge for parking at parks.

2002 - Bridgitte Dunn-Breen

This would deter people attending already costly events.

2015 - Lindy Matheson

You want people to use them, don't charge for parking.

2031 - Christine Suwandy

[Fees & Charges>Other]

Please let the parks have free car parks.. it should be welcome to everyone to join. I rather the council charge more fine to people for rubbishing

205 - Denise Erikson

People would be turned off using the parks. The Gardens at Hagley Park would not be used by me for walks and I go to the Gardens at least twice a month if not more as it's a great asset for the city. It would be very sad to make it so visiting is hard to do

2057 - Alicia Moggre

I do not support parking charges at parks. Going to the park should remain a free activity to encourage access, fitness, outdoor experiences in a way that is equitable to those of all income levels.

2061 - Charlotte Hollywood

Charge more for parking in town but not for hagley :(

2072 - Nikki Bleyendaal

I fundamentally disagree with introducing parking charges at the Botanical gardens and Hagley park - they remain one of the few free activities available to the people of Chch and adding a time restriction and cost to the experience of nature seems absurd.

2074 - Andrei Kardos

Park's are for everyone. Are you saying poor people should not visit parks? Cut your huge wages and see if you can afford all the crap you are proposing. Or should an elderly push bike to park?

2078 - Barry Williamson

This is a TERRIBLE decision. Introduce parking charges at key parks would be a HUGE mistake. I will cause people such as me to avoid such facilities and consequently the public benefit of such facilities will be eroded. Don't underestimate the benefit of such facilities to us the residents of Chch. to erode the perceived value of living here with residents with limited income will be seen as the thin edge of the wedge. Bottom line Don.t introduce parking charges at ANY parks.

Parks are vital but should not be seen as a money-making asset. They are a public benefit asset. The benefit to the city is what is adds to the perceived value of living here or visiting if you are a tourist. DON'T tax it.

2103 - P Stark

parking at key parks would be a shame and stop people from visiting and traveling to them if having to pay for parking

2111 - Vaughan Wright

Public parks need to remain free parking or we risk them not being utilised

2116 - Redacted Redacted

Have a point of difference in this city and dont charge for using Hagley park. Let's avoid having a park where only some can afford to use it.

2119 - Andrew Cooper

Parking should be free and there should be more of it.

2143 - Vicky Anderson

I don't think adding parking charges to Hagley park and Botanical gardens is a good idea. It would mainly impact hospital staff. In the gardens it would impact young families.

2178 - Sue Bridgwater

Parking costs in the inner city are already prohibitive, increasing and adding to them will not help bring people from out of town into our city

218 - Isabelle Barkley

The Botanic Gardens should remain free to park at and accessible to all.

219 - Tegen Bishop

Stop introducing parking charges.

22 - Grace Colcord

Charging fees on key parks will push communities away from getting outside, especially in our key areas. They will flood with tourists, and our city will not be our own

2207 - Ian Thomas (Athletics Canterbury Inc.)

If you charge at key parks, you will stop people/families going to use these facilities and then the events/sports/get togethers that happen at these parks sdo not happen, damaging the finances of thsoe organisations.

2215 - Gretchen Smith

Parking should be free at parks

2241 - Francesca Hayes

The parking beside Hagley Park should remain free.

2251 - Mobim Mathew

Support the businesses by providing free parking so that people can come and support them with out having to spend more money. I don't think the city is attracting more people because of all these constraints.

2264 - Sarah Scollard

Keep parking free where possible. I don't o into town mostly because of paid parking.

2289 - Leonie Jackson

I am not happy about parking charges at the Botanic Gardens. It would hit young families quite hard and they are huge users of this wonderful facility. I volunteer at [REDACTED] [REDACTED]. The session runs for 1½ hours - parking costs could make it unaffordable.

230 - Peter Elliott

I don't agree with charging for parks and playgrounds outside of the city centre

2305 - Monique Maynard

Charge parking at parks (aka penalize sports teams ie cricket players?) You want people on bikes and waste millions on that project, but a kid wants to play for a team in fresh air and out of trouble and we charge them to park for the pleasure??? Are you OTT PC Greenies or not?

2327 - Charles Shaw

This proposal advantages the wealthy and disadvantages those with less income.

2340 - Hazel Sligting

Life is so expensive currently and having access to things such as free parking and free parks means that the public can enjoy recreation outside of the home

2357 - Cori Sanders

Also, we, the ratepayers already pay for the Botanic Gardens, so why should we have to pay for parking there for a few hours? It is a blessing to be able to park there and at Margaret Mahy Park for free for a few hours. This brings relief to young families and it brings people into the city centre.

The ones the Council needs to penalise are those who park there for longer than the stipulated number of hours, for example, the new residents of the newly built townhouses who don't have enough parking spaces on their own plots and seek to park in areas that are supposed to be for families visiting parks and the Gardens. Hire more parking wardens instead of removing the scarce few free car parking opportunities for families to come into the city and enjoy the parks and gardens.

As a rates payer, I feel like I'm already paying so much in rates and what few things there are to enjoy, like parking at the gardens and parks, the Council is thinking of removing!

2368 - Alaine Percasky

This again is making it harder for families to use the parks. This is a way that families can have family time. They can't afford to go to areas that cost as many only have around $40.00 a week left over, many have less than that and here you are making it harder for everyone.

2390 - John Gibbons

Parking charges at key parks would be a travesty. Parks are for the people who have paid for their establishment. What, really, would the net revenue be after allowing for enforcement and establishment? Aside from that, what about the poorer people, and their children, where our parks provide solace from an often-difficult existence.

2407 - Dave Evans

[Fees and Charges>Venue Charges (Parks)]; [Fees and Charges>Libraries Charges]

Parks should be a service, not a income producer, just like libraries.

2415 - Gabrielle Sa

I do not believe parks should be charged. This will mostly impact young families

2417 - Victor Vergara

Parking charges are expensive in the city compared to other cities and the parking lots are under any basic standard. By introducing expensive parking charges at key parks, basically you are just asking people not to go or saying, you can enjoy a public space just if you can pay!

2421 - Helen Foley

I disagree with charging for parking at key parks especially the Gardens. This should be a place where everyone can afford to spend time, given that our rates also go to the maintenance of the gardens. It should be free to park. Also, if parking charges are introduced the effect will be side streets are even more swamped with traffic trying to find a carpark.

2422 - Debora Mora

Parking in our parks should remain FREE for all. So people can access our parks and enjoy. INTRODUCING a charge would deter people from visiting. We are not Sydney yet.

2425 - Bronwyn Kircher

Parking should be free.

2452 - Philippa J Flood

It is outrageous that you are proposing to put parking meters in the botanic gardens car park. That place is sacrosanct and should be free of charge to all residents and visitors to the city. It is one of the few city amenities that low income residents can use free of charge. As the council have removed so much on street parking in the city many people rely on the gardens carpark to leave their car and walk through the park to work. Do not put meters in that car park.

2461 - Marjorie Manthei

I understand the reason behind charging for parking in the Botanic Gardens & Hagley Park, but I don't support it. The information given in the draft LTP suggests that there isn't much financial benefit to charging, and I think these very special public places should be as accessible as possible for everyone. There's no way to means test the charge, and I don't like the idea of low income families in particular being unable to enjoy the gardens/park as often as they want.

247 - Daisy Cassels

terrible idea, even less people will bother using them.

2491 - Heidi Warren

That will wreck businesses very short sighted approach that will end badly. Unless the council increases buses and starts using passenger train services for public and tourists then you're punishing car users for trying to access city shops and services!!!

2493 - Inder Singla

Again, adding cost to basic amenities will only put strain on people earning living and minimum wages. This will lead to increasing financial gap between people earning only to survive and people with substantial financial assets.

2496 - Nikki McDonald

Keep Parking free: We pay so much in rates why do we also have to visit so many places in our city... especially children with families.

Don't charge to park at these parks. It's ridiculous

2498 - REDACTED REDACTED

It would be a shame to charge for parking in Hagley Park, its such a wonderful family area.

2499 - Amanda Ray

Don't charge people to park at parks. We already pay for these parks through our rates. Charging for parking will make these areas only accessible to rich affluent people.

2504 - Sarah van der Burch

No to increased or new parking charges just now. I think we should focus on less parking and more public transport but I think we need to get that better before we charge for all parking.

2514 - Jeannie Murtagh

Oh please do not charge fees at parks! It is hard enough to get families and children outside using facilities!

2525 - Adrienne Kimberly Georgine

If you charge for people to go to parks, it literally defeats the purpose. No I don't there should not be paid parking at key parks. You will alienate many from its use.

2528 - David Cooper (Netball New Zealand)

I live out of city however this seems counter intuitive to having a healthy population if we start leveraging parking in spaces healthy activity happens.

2535 - Anne Batchelor

I disagree with parking charges at parks - how will this impact Saturday morning sport, for example?

2536 - Jennifer McDonald

at key parks:

Do not support that. Sometimes not practical to use a parking building if you need to be a distance from it. Not everybody has good mobility

2541 - Kelsi Mosley

I do not agree with parking charges at key parks, which should remain free and accessible to families and others in the community

2554 - Paul Schwalger

Note: I wouldn't support paid parking at the botanical gardens or Hagley park. Keeping these spaces accessible to everybody in the city is important

Not supportive of charging parking at key parks. It is important to maintain equitable access to spaces the whānau can enjoy at no cost.

256 - Bill May

Do not charge for parking at key parks.

2571 - Anna Walker

I think parks shouldn't have meter parking - seems sad a community park where kids can play, learn and see our heritage has a fee attached to it. Should be a mindful place for all - include fees in our rates if you have to instead.

2583 - Lois Moore

Parking in parks should not be applied. These are used by families and for local people playing sport which contribute to the overall health of our community.

259 - Margaret McEvedy

I think funding can be found in areas other than charging parking fees in parks. There is something fundamentally wrong with this idea, fines for parking too long are acceptable but restricting access to public parks by introducing charging is a step too far.

2593 - Mike Wall

oppose

2603 - Ron Brooks

that is outrageous our parks are for us not you to gauge us with.

2615 - Virginia Wright

I am opposed to anything that adds to the cost for people who may be seeking things they can do with their families that are free. Visiting the Botanical Gardens for example, and being able to park there with kids and babies as is currently possible. Even a free first two hours would be preferable.

2618 - Margaret Stewart

No introducing parking charges at key parks. We already pay for parks via our rates so no double dipping please.

264 - Raizel Reyes

[Fees and Charges > Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)]

Excessive parking fees discourage people from going out, exploring and spending in the city. It is a deterrent to people spending and supporting local, with so many other fee increases already cutting into everyone's incomes.

2648 - Helen Fox

I disagree. If we are increasing rates, we need to make sure accessibility to our community is affordable.

265 - Emily Anderson

I do not agree with more parking charges at key parks. There should not be any financial barriers to accessing parks.

2650 - Alexander Amies

I would prefer that Hagley Park remains parking fee free

2655 - Michele Mccaw

I do not support introduction of parking charges at key parks particularly Hagley park as I feel this would change the demographic of people visiting these facilities and negatively impact families with young children as well hospital staff who park in the area who park in the area

2665 - Kelly Donaldson

Parks should remain FREE to park at

2690 - Robbie Dobbie

I am against charging for parking around parks or the Botanic Gardens. They are important places for mental health and their use needs to be encouraged. Just cut payments to Jacobs + AECOM + you will have the money for this.

2691 - Ian Ebbs (South West Sports & Recreation Hub Inc)

Parking charges at key parks will make it harder for some families to be able to access those facilities, recreation is a key aspect of people's well being & should be protected.

2693 - Tanya Markman

I would not like to see fees charged at key parks. In particular, I would not like to see this happen in Hagley Park. It receives a very "across the board" kind of user and as such, should be 'especially exemp'.

2702 - Wendy Dick

charging at parks is ludicrous..its what we pay our rates for..

2705 - Ian Le Page

Fees to use parks, beaches and car parks will only lead to increasing staff to administer with little benefit other than upset a greter section of the community.

2706 - Jan Bierman

No parking charges at key parks only time restrictions. Keep the Armagh Street carpark in Park free, but continue with a time restriction.

2714 - Rachel Fechny

No parking charges at the key parks

2734 - Sharon McDonald

I don't believe that the parks should be charged at all. This will not encourage sport for young and old.

2738 - Patricia (Patsy) Eastwood

Please don't start charging parking fees at Parks and on residential streets.

Please don't start putting parking fees into car parks at public parks and recreational area.

2746 - Helen Taylor

If you hadn't handed every available parking space (vacant sites and buildings) over to that monster 'Wilson's Parking' you lot would already be making money off parking spaces and the Garden's could stay accessible to everyone, not just the rich.

2762 - Geraldine Allan

No one will visit the city if you put up fees

2770 - Sarah Lassche-Jones

Disgusting!

2771 - Suzanne Antill

No charges or fees should be applied.

2791 - David Dockery
at key parks)?

Charge parking a hospitals for family members who need to be at hospital ~~free~~ family members.
Stop using Public payers as a ATM use to budget you have as we have to use COWRS.

2800 - Ellena Cameron

DONT LIKE THE IDEA OF CHARGING PARKING AT, NOTANE GARDENS OR ~~MARGARET~~ MARGARET MAYHE CHILDRENS playgrounds AS THIS MAKES IT HARDER FOR PEOPLE ON LOW INCOMES TO TAKE THEIR CHILDREN

2813 - John Antill

No charges or fees should be applied

2815 - Douglas Shaw

No parking charges at gardens

2824 - Hannah Mason

I do not approve of charging for parking at parks and gardens.

2832 - Riley Neupauer (University of Canterbury Green Party)

[Fees and Charges > Car Parking (parks), Transport > Public Transport Infrastructure, Transport > cycleways (capital), other/Special Interest Topics > Public Transport]

The parking charge proposal is a frivolous undertaking that would bring in a negligible amount of revenue, consequently doing much more harm than good for our communities. With options for city parking being limited and often inaccessible, there are many residents of Ōtautahi who already struggle to patronise local common spaces, and increasing the cost of these facilities would only further hinder availability. A more sustainable option would be to provide better transport alternatives to and from key locations, such as consistent bus routes and usable bike lanes in the surrounding area. This would reduce the space taken up by empty lots and parked cars, improve congestion, and allow more people to visit the lovely greenery of Christchurch.

2840 - Matthew Carter

I favour retaining free parking for the Botanic Gardens. The Gardens are a beautiful, iconic community facility: introducing parking charges will disincentivise visitors with low discretionary income. Arguably more carparks there could be designated disability carparks. A display at the access road entry showing the number of currently vacant carparks (similar to displays in carpark buildings) would be convenient and may be practical.

2846 - Olwyn Ferguson

If you are thinking of charging at key parks you will be making it so that the average person will not be able to afford to go anywhere as a lot of families enjoy wondering around the gardens.

2847 - Colleen Philip (Sustainable Ōtautahi Christchurch)

There was mixed reaction when the idea of charging for parking at the Hagley Park carpark was discussed. Overall the sentiment was against this as it is parking used to access an important site for families and others in the community for whom a charge will be a significant barrier. >>> [Fees and Charges > Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)]

2860 - Ruth Grey

If you want to attract more people to the city don't charge the earth to park in the city.

2861 - Laila Jansone

I oppose introduction of fees on carparks.

2863 - Lynne O'Keefe

I would not like to see parking charges at parks such as the two carparks within the botanical gardens. The current time limit should be maintained and monitored, discouraging all day parking.

2875 - Paul Andrew

No do not charge - that's bollocks

2876 - Sarah Hastie

I'm against the introduction of parking charges at key parks. Finding reasonably priced carparking in the city centre is already difficult without introducing parking fees at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park. I also think it will limit the use of these key public spaces to only those who can afford parking fees. Similarly the reality is our city's public transportation (primarily due to our lack of population density) is not of a standard to replace the need for a car/desire of people to drive and thus the need/desire for parking spaces.

2882 - Erin Andrew

Charging at parks that are used for sports is totally a big NO

2888 - Alistair Price

Please just stop trying to milk the ratepayers. What are you trying to achieve?

2913 - Amanda Ovenden

In a world where more people are sedentary and need to get out to local parks to exercise, it is a ridiculous idea to them put more barriers in their way. Especially struggling families that may use parks as their only option to get a trip with their children or elderly that may feel ostracised and walk in public parks to feel connected to the community. And socialise. You will need to spend more money on health services if parks are not easily accessible for all.

2914 - Ally Callinicos

I am against this proposed change. Kiwis need encouragement more than ever to get outdoors and into nature, and introducing parking to key parks is the antithesis of this.

2936 - Ian Lochhead

User charges for some council services (building consents etc) are well established and should continue, but free access to parks is a key benefit for families. Parking charges for the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park would seriously constrain peoples' usage and enjoyment of these assets. The $2 million generated would be better found by making savings in other areas such as major events.

2939 - John Thomsen

parks and parking should be freely accessible, to all.

2945 - Lynne Lochhead

I am opposed to introducing parking fees for the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park.

2946 - Florence Green

[Strategic Direction > Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities]

I can't see the point of charging for parking in the Botanic gardens and Hagley Park. It makes hardly any difference to the rates (maybe $15). I'd rather pay this to maintain accessibility, and participation in this prime green space in our city. Free parking meets two Community Outcomes: "A collaborative confident city (residents can actively participate in community and city life) and "A green, liveable city (our neighborhoods and communities are accessible..)".

2948 - Peter Borodin

No

2951 - Les McKay

This appears to be just another money grab. My understanding is that most sports clubs pay a fee to the council to use the parks so charging parking is just double dipping.

2954 - Tim Frank

No.

2955 - Linda Morris

Do not introduce car parking fees for the Botanic Gardens

2957 - Lisa Keen

Free parking enables families to access the public parks for their childrens entertainment, making them pay to use the parking will deter and drive away those that can't afford it, this punishing the children!!

2958 - Chris Sinclair

Don't agree with parking charges to key parks - this could discourage many people 'feeling the pinch' not using these facilities. Are we not paying enough in rates for maintenance of these parks??

296 - Deborah Spencer

Residents should have free access to green spaces - charging for everything will reduce access, usage and appeal of moving to Canterbury. It is not all about the money - quality of life, access to green space, areas for healthy exercise, social interaction make happier residents.

2963 - Carolyn Roos

Here we are trying to get people to visit our outdoors but uou charge say goodbye to that

2971 - Nikita Todd

Dont charge or if you do make it cheap, if you start charging less people will come into town to do things. If i have to spend $5+ for an hour its not worth it for a day for me

2985 - Marama McKenna

No changes to fees

No changes to fees

2987 - Penny Raid

It is really important for the accessibility of the central city for families to have a few hours of free parking in the Botanic Gardens

2995 - Ronnie Davey (Citizens Advice Bureau Christchurch Area)

Access to parking for community areas, such as gardens and parks should not charge. This will impact marginalised groups who can't afford high cost activities. These gardens are already funded and should remain free of charge and accessible to all without extra costs.

2996 - Stephanie Damm-Logan (Guardian Films)

There should not be parking charges at public spaces like this

3003 - Sonya Hodder (Spreydon Neighbourhood Network)

Introducing parking charges would limit people's access to the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park?

Hagley Park is very important for the public maintaining their fitness and sporting activities, vital for their health and well being. We are concerned that you are considering charging for these parks.

3006 - Sarah Harris

Costs of anything need to stop going up.

3017 - Heather Venis

A charge to park to enjoy a visit to the gardens, museum, etc with young children, an elderly parent, carer, would impact on their budget for the simple task of going for a walk in the city - I feel should be free. My question is what happens when a sports ground is being used (parking already stretched) for a large crowd, ie: cricket and you can only park for so long. How would this work?

3021 - Viane Makalio

No do not do this. The botanic gardens have been built over the years charging parking will be damaging for those who have paid rates for so long and in terms of equity it is not right. If i read this correctly it seems that if you can afford it you can access it. If that's what the council deem correct then so be it but for myself and my community it will damage the relationship we have with council, it will increase inequities and it will create "you pay you enjoy" precedent which i wholeheartedly disagree with.

3023 - Carolyn Brown

I am also against the Council introducing parking fees for access to the botanic gardens. The money required to set up the infrastructure to do so (unless they are turning it over to Wilsons) will not be repaid for a long time and if they have given the contract to Wilsons, not much will be left for use in maintaining the park. The Central city struggles enough to attract people to the city because of competing with free parking at malls, including fees for the gardens will not help this. It is also a park that visitors to the hospital use because they cannot afford the exorbitant fees in the hospital car parking. Hagley park is supposed to be an open space for all who live in chch to enjoy, not just those who can afford to park there.

do not introduce parking charges at key parks, especially if the contract is being given to Wilsons. The parks are supposed to be free for all to use, introducing a parking fee makes it difficult for all those who want to go, to go.

3034 - Ameer Hurrell

Also not ok , we are already charged left right and centre. Should be able to go to the free park and enjoy free parking!

3035 - Claire Coveney

No I do not think it OK to charge people to park in the Botanical Gardens as it was gifted by our forebears. >>> I think your priorities are wrong. If you introduce fees, then please offer people with disabilities free parking. They do need a vehicle to get to our gardens. Others can bus, bike and walk. They have 2 legs and can use them. (my sick humour)

3039 - Paula Allen

i just wont go to Hagley anymore, you should be promoting these places and trying to attract people into town, not the opposite

3040 - Claire Wichman

Do not introduce parking charges at parks, they should be easily accessible to everyone for free.

3048 - Jesd Elliott

That seems like a dumb idea for those already struggling and want to do a free activity.

3052 - Jinky Knowler

I strongly disagree on the proposed parking rates at Botanical Gardens and around Hagley Park. This is the only area where the community can gather through sports and events plus it has been a significant leisure & exercise area for anyone to use even for our beloved dogs.

3056 - Carolyn Elcock

No to charging for parking at Botanic Garden or Mona Vale.

3078 - Adele Bishop

Terrible idea charging for parking hitting young families in the pocket.

3079 - Willem Bouman

not a good idea - with rising costs across all sectors of community it seems punitive to introduce charges at public parks/parking

3093 - Gareth Cook

Introducing parking charges at key parks will reduce resident and tourist use. Not in support.

3096 - Hamish Mitchell

Again this is nonsense.

31 - Gary Durey

GREED, pure GREED by the council. NO consideration has been given to the "people" of this city. Cut the CCC's out of control spending and you wont need to scam people in this way.

3103 - Philippa May

I don't think the public should have to pay for parking to visit local parks and gardens. In times of economic hardship a visit to our beautiful Christchurch Botanical Gardens for example is one of the few free activities for residents - particularly invaluable for families.

3119 - Patricia Paul

I don't think this is a good idea. It could hinder more people, especially young or low income earners from going to these parks.

3123 - Kate Markman

I absolutely do not agree with introducing parking charges to parks. They should be a free resource for people of all financial backgrounds to enjoy

3124 - Jeff Pundanera

Not keen on this. Free parking is just one of the social benefits which all people in Christchurch must enjoy.

315 - Sophia Pegg

I hope we are not charging parking at our public parks. How does that make them accessible to all?! And how do you get yourselves in a situation where this is an option!

Don't charge for parking or access.

316 - Margaret Whittaker

I don't think people should have to pay parking at parks such as Hagley and and botanic gardens

3162 - Kate Ord

Do not charge people to park at parks. This is a second form of rates. What happens when we take our children and grandchildren to these places only to find we have to pay to park the car. This whole city is already full of parking meters!!!

3165 - Adrienne Baxter

parking charges are already in place. do you want people to be engaged in activities in our city? then overcharging won't achieve that and will disadvantage low income earners. also doesn't match with reducing cars in the central city idea.

3166 - Arwen Sommer

I disagree with adding a charge to the botanic garden car park. It's one of the few remaining completely free CBD activities and it would be a shame to lose that in this time of high costs of living.

3170 - Derek Doddington (Top Dog Theatre)

Parks should not have parking fees.

3171 - Lisa Roberts

Do you want people to stop coming to the inner city completely !!! This is what will happen , if you charge for park parking

3172 - Sara Shea

We shouldn't have to pay to park in the key parks. It's already impossible to find parking in the city and for a single income family this would make us less inclined to come into the city and parks.

3179 - Rochelle Taylor

There must still be some free parking around the city

3187 - Debbie Hamilton

Its appalling please do not as you are not at all equity focused these places will only be for the elite

3189 - Susan Pearson

Parking in parks should remain free.

319 - Fay Stickley

No way. Parks should have free parking. Noone will go to the parks if there are charges. Just a joke.

3195 - Redacted Redacted

That is not fair and you will find a lot less people will go to those parks. Times are tough, why make it harder.

That is not fair and you will find a lot less people will go to those parks. Times are tough, why make it harder.

3198 - Denis O'Connor

The car parks at the Botanical Gardens and Hagley Park, must remain free of charge. Wardens can be employed to monitor observance to time limits and fine offenders

3204 - Rebekah Bedyn

It would be sad to see the free parking go for the gardens. It's always been a draw card for us, knowing we didn't have to pay to visit.

3228 - Daniel Gilmour

I do not support charging people to park in the botanic gardens and hagley park.

3232 - Margaret Slack

Parking should be free at public parks etc

3240 - Sarah Brunton

[Fees and Charges>Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)]

I am supportive of charging for all day parking but have reservations about charging families for parking while visiting Hagley Park and the Botanic Gardens

3254 - Tracey Jury

I find this proposal very upsetting and it and the Arts Centre issue are why I have made this submission. I would much, much rather we paid more in our rates and keep parking at our parks free. I work in the Visitor Centre at the Botanic Gardens and the 3 hours of free parking is often mentioned as something wonderful and hugely appreciated. Queuing to pay would change the experience of visiting the Gardens to something commercial. For me it was something I especially loved after living abroad and it would be so sad for it to go.

326 - Greg Dodds

Do not agree with new parking charges, especially at parks – this will result in people not going, even if they really want to, possibly because they can't afford it and it would normally be something they can experience "for free" as part of what they already pay for in rates. This would be exclusionary for poorer people and families, not right.

3260 - Sofie Hampton

Parking is shocking anyway ! Please dont make it more costly

3268 - Savannah Da Silva

I would oppose parking fees. They will discourage use of parks and green spaces for people who may actually benefit the most and encourage parking in other areas to avoid fees.

328 - Alan Hodges

Don't agree with charging for parking at Hagley park. To do so would discourage visitors.

3283 - Elizabeth Clarke

I do NOT agree with you charging for parking at the Botanical Gardens. Families on low incomes should be able to visit the gardens free of parking charges. To prevent workers parking all day but still allowing visitors to the park the ability to visit free of charge, I suggest you allow for a visit to be 3 hours free then a per hour charge after that.

3292 - Gabrielle Heath

No charging at parks. Young mothers with babies, people exercising wont use the parks if additional costs involved.

3301 - Anna Wilkes

I absolutely oppose charging for parking at Hagley Park and the Botanic Gardens. It is somewhere that is accessible for all people of Chch and should remain so.

3302 - Kelly Pluck

Bad idea to introduce parking at key parks. This is targeted at families who go to parks. And families are those who go to do free activities because kids need entertaining. Parking fees would make a lot of people resentful and cause issues elsewhere.

3305 - Angelita Schwalger

There are ample parking meters around our city that bring in a significant amount of revenue, stop trying to put more in, all you are going by that is putting even more financial barriers up for people to enjoy themselves and again the most vulnerable, low socio economic people/families will be the ones affected by this! Their lives are already a massive struggle with financial burdens and you want to create more !! Again the privileged will be the only ones that benefit from this as there will be more spaces for them as the poor won't be able to access.

3307 - Richard Griffiths

3311 - Michael McEntee

These are parks that the people of this city have already paid for and now you are trying to charge them to use the facility they have paid to develop and maintain.

3318 - Mary Ogilvie

I treasure our parks and believe parking should be free so they can be enjoyed by everyone.

3325 - Adele Geradts

Parking at parks should be free, timed, i.e. 90 minutes or 180 minutes, so others can enjoy the space - Don't introduce parking charges.

3330 - Marijke Dryfhout

Parking charges are also very high. Having free parking is important

334 - Clare Marshall

no parking charges at key parks.

3346 - Lynette Bay

Charging fees is not an efficient way to pay debt, (eg) parking fees are just another form of tax and will further increase the cost of living.

3361 - Ali Cameron

Charging fees is not an efficient way to pay debt. The payment for the parking etc is simply another way of increasing the cost of living. Reducing the debt by, for example, delaying some of the projects till a time when the country is in a generally healthier financial state will take the pressure off the households. More fees, regardless of what they are for still comes out of the household incomes.

3366 - Robert Manthei

Do not introduce charges at key parks. These are public facilities and time limited parking can suffice-- to both discourage all day parking and allow residents ready access to these recreational spaces. Do not charge for parking in the Botanic Gardens or Harley park. Study showed the benefit to charging would be relatively small, but the negative reactions to such would be widespread and would reduce use of these key facilities. Nothing to be gained.

337 - Debbie Jones

I do have an objection to this. It makes this inaccessible to those struggling financially and the recreational activities are better for the community that the amount you will be getting from parking. We have stated we want an accessible city so this is contrary to that.

3372 - Jenny Bond (Te Tuna Tāone)

I am sure this has been considered it will likely mean that less families and low income people will visit Christchurch's key parks thus removing the ability for them to engage in the environment for no direct cost.

3382 - Meg Biggs

I do not wish to see parking fees for places heavily used by families , this would not benefit the overall health and wellbeing of the community as a whole.

3413 - Janey Archbold

Dont charge for parking at parks

3423 - James Upton

Charging for parks needs to be coupled with providing alternative ways to travel to parks. For example, there are very few bus routes to the Hagley park area. Buses currently in the Arts/Park area are mainly tourist ones parking for free. On balance I do not agree with charging for Hagley park in particular. It offers inner city outdoors experience that compliments Arts, and Museum experiences for residence. It's a way of giving something back to the people who pay rates.

3429 - Somnath Bagchi (Avonhead Community Group Incorporated)

The primary mode of transport for Christchurch residents is driving - not cycling or buses. Driving is more convenient for the ageing population. Driving is also better for businesses, as it is inconvenient for a person on a bus or a cycle to bring back as many bags of shopping compared to a person who is driving back. Additionally, environment-friendly cars will become increasingly prevalent, meaning that driving will cease to hurt the environment. Given these factors, there is no benefit in disincentivising driving by having increased or new parking charges (or, for that matter, making roads less car-friendly).

344 - Aaron Herriott

More greed. Simple matter is many people cannot and will not pay for parking. We are stretched thin as it is. Don't be assholes

3452 - Sabine Handel

Why not hand them over to Wilsons car parks as well? The charges for parking in Christchurch are ridiculously high! NO for charging at key parks now too.

Leave car parks at parks fee free!

3453 - Zeta Pringle

I am opposed to the introduction of parking fees being applied at key parks. This will not improve congestion . The cost of implementation could easily out the revenue. The city needs to ensure tourist and visitors enjoy our city parks and not find additional parking costs. This could give our wonderful city a bad taste to visitors and tourists,

I repeat I would not like to see parking charges installed at our parks. This will not be great for those that used the parks regularly . Plus visitors shall not visit them.

3456 - Sam Steven

I don't think there should be parking charges at the Botanic gardens.

3464 - Serena Smith

No, that seems ridiculous.

347 - Catherine Webber

Charging these fees is double dipping. We pay for parks in our rates now so to charge for parking for going to the park is outrageous. It will be a pointless exercise unless you invest in more Parking Wardens, it is hard enough now to get one to attend a complaint because they are always short staffed.

3470 - Sophie Brears

Families are doing it tough already at the moment, and as a mother of 2 (ages 4 and 8), my husband and myself are often looking for free activities to do in the weekend with them. Adding a parking charge could deter a lot of families who are living week to week or like us, just trying to save money where ever we can.

3474 - Timothy Lambert

yes drop proposed parking fees at hagley and botanic gardens. Let people enjoy areas for free rates foe all incuding churches schools etc

3479 - Rhys Glenjarman

The botanical gardens is the only place people of limited means can enjoy themselves. Adding a parking fee will significantly reduce the access of citizens to the area, especially young families. It is unethical to charge for access to popular public domains such as the botanical gardens and Victoria park in the port hills area.

3485 - Dr Sally Price

I don't agree with introducing parking charges at Hagley Park outside the cricket ground and at the Botanic Gardens off Riccarton Avenue (Our draft Long Term Plan 2024- 2034 Consultation document, p 43) . There is paid parking in the new parking building in the vicinity. My reasoning for no charges is as follows: Last year a family member was diagnosed with cancer and with all the resulting appointments for tests/treatments we found the free parking of much benefit as it stressful enough dealing with health issues let along having to pay to park all the time. These carparks benefit sick people and their families who are supporting them. If billing of carparks is needed in the Botanic Gardens area, then it could be possible to put paid parking in in the Armagh Street parking area but not where people are needing to get to hospital appointments.

3487 - Sally de Graaf

It would be very upsetting to have carpark charges at our parks, which is one of the only free facilities left for families to visit, other than our libraries.

350 - Chris Hoopmann

I do not support this. Fees for parking at recreational facilities will introduce another barrier for lower income earners' access to leisure and excercise. It will also reduce the population engaging with cultural and natural heritage and cause further decline of these public assets.

3510 - Michael Horgan

Shocking. Fees at parks is appalling

3535 - Anna Harper

Yes parking should be free in Hagley park, it is a key drawcard to bring people into the city. We need more options for parking in the city which is cost effective. We want to encourage people to come to the city.

3539 - Louwren Moolman

Don't charge parking rates at parks. People go there for a free outing with their kids. This is not a good idea and will mean people no longer want to/cant visit parks.

354 - Vivienne Allan

I dont agree with parking charges at parks - they are there for the ratepayers to enjoy. Depriving us of even that delight is small minded.

3541 - Ashleigh Smith

The only few benefits to the people of Christchurch, especially young families is the botanic gardens. To propose the cost of parking will see a decrease in people visiting, it'll make it unaffordable for some families to be able to enjoy a day out in the gardens. I disagree with this proposal.

3547 - Juliet Thomson

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

Not if you don't fund the arts centre and charge for parking in the Botanic gardens Bs

Not reasonable. Children and all adults needs unhindered free access to parks and gardens for growth relaxation physical exercise and general mental health.

3552 - Alice Neylon

I do not support this as it deters the citys residents from using them.

3559 - Alana Harper

Not keen to pay for parking at parks.

3572 - Tania Dirkze

People are struggling to make ends meet and you want to introduce paid parking. It's outrageous. The people using parks are the ones that can't afford to go to paid attractions already. The parking for the hospital is outrageous so no doubt this will follow suit. Start thinking like the working class of this city., you know the ones you are taking all these rate payments from.

3577 - Marie Byrne

I do not support the introduction of carparking charges for the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park. My particular concern is for the potential charges to South Hagley Park car parking where they are used for parking for sporting activities, nurses/hospital workers and multicultural centre use. Perhaps investigating the use of vacant Council owned land adjacent to Hagley Park (eg the former Blenheim Rd over bridge land) could be utilised as some form of mitigation to this issue.

3581 - Steven Barbour

Botanic Garden car parking fees - strongly against. So short-sighted. Why endanger visitor numbers to: The Botanic Gardens: the marvellous, but under-threat, Art Centre; and the soon-to-be refurbished Canterbury Museum? None are easy to get to on public transport for most people. You are letting 'means' dictate 'ends'.

359 - Lisa Davies

Please don't bring in parking charges at parks!! This is a terrible idea! These are recreational spaces for our community and they should always be freely accessible, especially for those who have to drive there - the elderly, disabled, injured and physically challenged.

3592 - Lucy Altaner

Overall, 2 million isn't that much, it would make more sense to increase rates and leave parking free.

3609 - Laura Caygill

I'd like to see parking remain free at Hagley Park and the Botanic Gardens. Hagley Park is one of our biggest assets in the city and being able to meet friends for free there is really helpful in terms of limiting weekend spending.

361 - Rowena McNabb

Ridiculous idea.

3617 - Bronwen Bisley

I do not support parking charges on key parks - I believe these should be free so that all can enjoy them.

3624 - Noeline Marsh

[Transport>Carparking (Capital)]

It will be a shame to put parking charges at parks. These are places that everyone needs to access without a cost involved. Take Wilsons parking back and make those parks profits come back to the council.

3627 - Patrick O’Kane

[Fees & Charges>Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)]

I think parking charges at key parks is a terrible idea. I think it will lead to a reduction in the utilisation of these facilities. Adjusting the charges in other council car parks might encourage their use more (eg $1-$2 per hour for four hours) might encourage more use of these spaces and generate more income that way. Adding charges to hagley park feels like a stick to drivers, whereas lowering fees in other car parks might be seen as more of a carrot to encourage their use.

363 - Nathan Carroll

I don't agree with this proposal, there shouldn't be any barrier to peoples well being and exercise

3634 - Peter Cooper

Bad idea, wooly thinkers scrambling for ways to fleece park users.

3648 - Yvonne Russell

Cars are the only form of access for some people and once again motorists are seen as an easy source of finance . Petrol tax , registration , driver licensing and warranting have all been charged for and yet still car drivers are penalised further with parking costs . Not fair !

365 - Wendy Burton

Don't agree with parking charges at key Parks . It will result in many people not using these areas . we need them for good health . Considering the cost of installing parking units, maintenance and monitoring them , how long would it be before any revenue even makes a difference? In the mean time your pingng young families already cash strapped . let them park free and play.

3653 - Andrew McDougall

I do not agree with parking charges in the Botanic Gardens. Already the city is operating an "economic exclusion zone" for the less well off. I can only travel by car due to mobility issue, and a trip to the Botanic Gardens in my wheelchair is an outing I really enjoy. It's important the gardens remain available to all rate payers regardless of wealth.

3670 - Joscelyne Silcock

No. families are being priced out of the city. Parking around Hagley park needs to be kept free of charges. Also suburban parks need free parking

3686 - Suzanne Peddie

It would be best to maintain free parking at key parks

3689 - Catherine McClean

Should not be charging at city parks if people are there for recreation. This is to be encouraged and not made inaccessible

3692 - Jen McKinnel

No, parks are public spaces, i take my dog and kids to different parks as treats, we need to drive as they are not close by, i cant afford to already pay the huge carparking fees. Now we wont even be able to go to the park!!

3696 - Jim Porteous

Definitely not the Botanical Gardens

3697 - Jennie Brittenden

I don't support the proposal to charge parking at key parks. I believe this would deter people from visiting the central city and other areas which would negatively impact local businesses

3703 - Greg Hay

Charging for carparking at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park carparks is to commence in the 2024/25 financial year - there is already limited free parking in the city as it currently stands. This new charge will stop people coming in to use the facilities/park. If you instead monitor time limits this will be a more effective measure. Its already hard for a family to come into the city centre and not have to pay (which is a consideration given the cost of living crisis), and adding further charges will simply mean additional cost & people may avoid using these facilities.

3705 - Glenis Youngman

Charging fees is not an efficient way to pay debt. Fees such as parking fees is just another way of increasing the cost of living. >>>More fees no matter what they are for still come out of household incomes.

Make them safe and free of car parking fees.

3708 - Joan Simpson

If charging a key parks means the community doesn't use the park then charging should not be introduced. Families in particular need to be able to play for free with families.

3710 - Kit French

This is absurd. Public spaces are for public use.

3715 - Jason Bridgwater (Linwood Rugby League)

Parking should be free at a public parks

3722 - Rachel Thwaites

Dont do it. Its hard enough already for families to come to good parks. They will not come

3733 - Helen Reason

[Fees and Charges > Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)]

I don' think its fair to charge people using the Botanic Gardens. However some people are parking there and walking to other areas in the city because its free.

Parking charges seem to be steadily increasing in the pay for parking areas - and I consider it a disincentive to go in the central city area unless on a Sunday or after business hours

3740 - Nicky Sharples

Would prefer to have no parking charges especially in Hagley Park as it is for the community as a whole not the select few that can afford parking.

3745 - Victoria Rathgen

Please do not do this, it will be an excuse to discourage users to use the parks who really need outdoors for health and wellbeing...people dying cost more.

3746 - Quinn Ledgerwood-Gee

CCC Should not raise fees and charges as it is not equitable in our current inflationary environment to charge residents more. This is a blanket charge to all residents, many of whom are financially struggling.

3748 - Greta Bond (Age Concern Canterbury)

Again, parking charges at key parks will adversely impact those with lower incomes, many of whom rely on these facilities for recreation (those on higher incomes have greater choice). Free access to outdoor spaces brings health benefits to everyone. If this was to be introduced, extended park and ride or regular public transport options to and from these spaces (particularly at weekends) would be necessary (the cost of which might in fact be higher than the revenue gathered. Parks are a place where intergenerational meet-ups for family and whanau can occur, without cost (one of the few places where this is still possible).

3759 - Ben Connolly

I don't support charging at the Botanic gardens as this will limit access for those that access our parks and public spaces, including low income families

3761 - Fiona Henderson

I think the introduction of paying for parking is a shame - it could discourage the use of these great facilities which should be free. I would prefer for hiring fees for parks for commercial activities to be increased as they seem very cheap.

3763 - John Graham

We should no be paying to park our car, it's so wrong & should not happen, as this will become unaffordable for young family's & pensioners.

3767 - Donna Faucher

To high

3772 - Sue McFarlane

I strongly disagree - parks should be accessible for free to all, not just those who can afford to pay for parking. Our city parks, especially our wonderful Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park have always been a very important place for families to spend time together exploring, out in the fresh air, appreciating the variety of trees and flowers within. As a child I spent many Sunday afternoons at the Botanic Gardens, with my family. There is very little free parking outside of the Botanic Gardens/Hagley Park and without free parking, many families will be prevented from enjoying one of the most special places in our city. Once or twice a week, I walk around Hagley Park with friends and have coffee at Ilex and I always take visitors to the Botanic Gardens. If parking charges are put in place, I will no longer walk there or take visitors.

Maintain Free parking and access to city parks - I very strongly believe all our city parks should be free to access. The parks have always been a very important place for families to spend time exploring, out in the fresh air, appreciating the variety of trees and flowers within. There is very little free parking outside of the Botanic Gardens/Hagley Park and without free parking, many families will be prevented from enjoying one of the most special places in our city. 3773 - Elizabeth Benson

I absolutely do not support there being parking fees at key parks. There is very little to do for free in this city and it would disproportionately affect poor people as it may become a barrier for them to use. It is important for both physical and mental health that parks remain accessible to all residents not just those that could afford to pay for parking.

378 - Chris Arnold

[Fees and Charges > Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)], [Recreation, Sports & Events > Rec & Sport (Operational)]

Parking at hospital, parks and areas where public access for recreation should be free.

3781 - Trevor Spiers

3787 - Deb Donnell

The payment for the parking etc is simply another way of increasing the cost of living for households.

3788 - Robin Laing

Encouraging people to come into the city and spend money in city businesses should be the priority.

3807 - Graeme Remington

Why do Politicians, Parliamentary and Local Councils, not get it, that cars are here to stay and will always be the preferred mode of transport when there is no good transport solutions provided for. Don't charge a fee and local parks and sports grounds

3811 - Greg Canton

I also do not agree with charging people to park in the gardens, you are spending billions in the coming years. I am not sure when the penny will drop that the inner city is the place with no free parking....please do not remove the last place. People should not have to pay to go for a walk. What will be next . Bring life to the inner city, do not destroy it further

Strongly disagree, parking in the inner city is a joke. When residents and even visitors can visit any mall and park for free no wonder the inner city struggles, changing a family to park so they can walk around a park is not right. $2 million a year is not even a drop in the bucket.

3813 - Marg Morrison

I don't agree with parking charges at key parks for recreation unless you have evidence people are using these areas to avoid paying for parking elsewhere eg. the Gardens car parks.

3814 - Rob Battersby

There should be a no park fee at public parks. If a parking fee is introduced at public parks, this will only discourage use of the park.

3825 - Justin Barton

Oppose charges at botanic gardens - we should be encouraging locals of all incomes to visit and meet there, not making obstacles.

383 - Louise Woolley

[Fees & Charges > Car Parking Fees (on-on street & off-street parking)]

Parking is expensive in city centre already, so avoid going in to the centre if possible. If charging for parks I would avoid going there too !

3832 - Karen Atkinson

Should NOT be charging for parking at key parks.

3836 - Tessa Morrow

NO! Don't create ANOTHER barrier to the public especially families exploring our city

3850 - Stephanie Remington

No more parking charges!!

3852 - Chris Coey

Considering the hospital already has insufficient parking, you want to make this situation worse???

The council has promoted the city in the past as the "garden city" yet you want to make it harder for people to enjoy what Christchurch is largely known for (The Gardens) ?? This idea is totally rejected!

386 - Christine McPhail

While citizens are under financial stress asking them to pay to park at facilities they already fund is a very bad idea

3865 - Maxine Donovan

Cant see that working and actually doesnt sound user-friendly.

3869 - Cam Parsonson

dont think charge for parking at parks is a good idea

3877 - Hilary Quayle

Ridiculous

3889 - Jessica Rees

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Strategic Transport]

Having a point of free inner city parking ensures more equitable access to our beautiful city. We need to improve public transport options to different areas of our CBD to ensure that this is not lost if introducing parking charges.

3891 - Christopher Gauci

A good way to limit rate payers from enjoying OUR parks.

3895 - Margaret Trotter

One of our more significant proposals is to introduce parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park. The park belongs to the people who already pay in their rates. Really. Do you want to make the city a ghost town? Already the city competes with Shopping Malls with free parking and you charge large amounts for parking. Why would people come into the city with these charges. What happened to the CCC first hour free? If you want a vibrant city invite us in. Could rate payers get some free parking rather than trying to avoid the private parking companies with their parking lots around the city -these are not inviting on vacant lots to take our money and look like a third world country. Encourage us to come in. Don't punish us.

3897 - J E Thomas

I think it is lovely that the Gardens parking is free and therefore fully accessible for all.

3898 - Richard Smith

SHOULD NOT HAVE PARKING FEES AT KEY PARKS - THESE NEED TO BE ACCESSIBLE TO ALL AND PARKING COSTS IS A BARRIER - TIMELIMITS NEED TO BE CLOSELY WATCHED THOUGH AND SHORTENED TO 2 HOURS

3901 - Amanda South

Please don't charge for the Armagh park at the Botanic Gardens

3917 - Bob Thayer

I disagree with charging for parking in the Botanical Gardens

3918 - Rachael Travaille

Keep parking how it is.

3927 - Wendy Marshall

Don't charge the Botanic gardens. People need to be able to go with their families to a free beautiful educational space.

Parks should be free to all.

3935 - Michael Healey

I disagree with parking fees for the botanical gardens during the weekends, this would disadvantage full community access.

3960 - Nicola Prattley

For many people parks are one of the few available affordable leisure activities. Parking charges would impact many peoples' ability to access this and given the already high levels of obesity among our population, I think parking charges at key parks would be a backwards step.

397 - Merrick Brown

I disagree with this proposal. Parks (and parking at parks) is one of the key things a council should be providing for free.

3972 - Archana Sewak

NO WAY.

3974 - Amanda Jenkins

Parking should remain free at key parks - the public should NOT be charged to park for recreation

Do not charge public to pay for parking in gardens and around the Parks.

3976 - Elizabeth Pugh

No to parking charges at the key parks. Enforce the time limit with adequate signage. Introduce a system "phone app" if a car is to be parked for longer, ie a wedding or event in Hagley Park cafe etc. Then a set charge for parking could be paid.

3989 - Mary O'Connor

Is it no wonder that people drive to a park for their pedestrian exercise – running, jogging or walking? CCC should be encouraging pedestrian activities for health and wellbeing, but instead you are going to deter them from coming to Hagley Park by charging them for parking. There is also an ageing population and pedestrian activities are the most accessible for the population as a whole, but particularly this age group, but you are not encouraging them to be active and have better health as a result. Please drop your plan to charge for parking in Hagley Park to encourage activity for health and wellbeing in natural spaces, as the urban environment is unsuitable.

3991 - Marilyn Copland

Please do not do this. One of the great aspects of Chch is that families can go together to places like Hagley Park & not have to pay any "extras" while enjoying important recreational time together.

3992 - Sue Piesse

As you've only given one example I'll comment on that. Do NOT believe we should start parking charges at key parks. People are struggling to eat & recreational sport & entertainment in parks should remain as is so they continue to be used to the max.

4000 - Kari Barr

No to parking charges at parks. Families need to be encouraged to go to places which are free. Adding on charges such as parking stops this.

4002 - Joanna Orr

Parks should be accessible to all and so parking charges should not be applied.

4005 - Janet Lockyer

I strongly disagree with this as they are public parks and gardens. We (residents) are already paying for this through our rates & taxes. It would also cost a huge amount to put in meters etc and to maintain and to operate and check them. People would stop going to these places.

4006 - Hana Saemon-Beck

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Public Transport]

Install Public Transport options first. Have a rail and bus system.

4014 - Stephen Hill

No, if charging at key parks and I don't want to pay, I won't go there.

4017 - Angela Nicholls

Don't charge for parking at the parks. Parks should be available for everyone to use not just those with money. Put 3hr time limits on and police them if need be.

4020 - Brian Turner

I'm not in favour of car park charges at public parks unless fee paying events are being held as such parks.

4023 - Bethan Sommer

Walking is good for the community and if you truly care you would make it cheap enough for everyone to park there anytime they want to go for a nice walk.

4030 - Jenna Hayward

Its expensive enough

4032 - Paul Dietsche

Parking charges at key parks is taking advantage of rate payers already paying for these services

41 - Rhonda Campbell

It should not be too expensive to park around the centre... it will deter people from going there... thus the retailers dont get customers etc...

4264 - Sam Newton (Recreation Aotearoa)

96. To the extent to which charging for car parking at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park (Page 43) incentivises and funds Active Transport, we are supportive. However, the cost-benefit analysis of this proposal needs to include its impact on participation in physical activity, particularly among tamariki/rangitahi and high-deprivation communities. We submit our concern that adding travel costs to the barriers that participants already face, is of huge concern.

[Transport > Cycleways (Capital)]

433 - Derek Phelps

By introducing parking charges at some parks will stop people from going to parks It would seem a shame to see Hagley Park not being used to it's fullest potential The Residents already pay for these parks in their current rates charges

441 - Bianca Jamieson

You'll do anything to make a quick buck won't you. You get enough already manage it better.

448 - Nick Campbell

The issue with charging people for what is currently a very family friendly area and is widely used for picnics, exercise groups is they will just go elsewhere. If people go elsewhere then you wont be getting your parking incomes and businesses will struggle. With what has already been done to business on say Lincoln Road ect, removing side street parking/ roadworks ect you would see people are all about ease of access to where they want to go. Businesses located in the CBF will always struggle due to poor public transport and poor parking.

46 - Karin Lange

God no! Please no parking charges at key parks! They are our mental health levellers!

467 - Anna Scheirlinck

Parking at the park should be free, everyone should have access to green spaces and some people don't live nearby.

483 - Narelle Gilmour

You can't charge for people to park at parks, that's just ridiculous.

You can't charge for parking at parks

489 - Barry Livermore

Parking at parks? That is stupid, we own them, we paid for them and their upkeep, paying to park, therefore to use them will create considerable backlash. Maybe charge those that don't pay for them, but how would you do that. A group that I belong to has long since stopped using Christchurch parks because of charges. Surely, given that Christchurch (was once) the "garden city" and we know how beneficial parks are to our health, this is a dumb idea. This is made all the more ridiculous given that we don't pay council to drive or walk on OUR public roads, to use libraries etc. Will you put up a toll gate at the city limits next. Another example of a dysfunctional council.

5 - Dr M Peter Moore

I oppose the suggestion of charging for parking at the botanic gardens. It is a place many of your families come to to use the playground and we should not be putting barriers in the way of this.

501 - Dee Swadi

No parking charges at Hagley Park.

510 - Eleanor Sim

I can understand that this can be a valuable source of Revenue but, having taught at a low decile school, the fact that many facilities are accessible to all and free of charge enables equity of access and it is of concern that some facilities could, if fees and charges are implemented, it will mean inequity of access for Low income, elder population, and will lead to potential barriers for Māori and Pasifika.

554 - Veronika Gabel

Hagley Park is an important leisure location for locals, often used by the elderly and young families. I would like to see the carpark, currently set at a 3 hour maximum, to remain free of charge.

56 - James Loveridge

By charging for parking in spaces that bring community together you are once again proposing to dissolve community with a higher focus on the lower class and struggling household incomes. Introducing parking charges in public spaces which hold events such as Childrens sports for example, further impacts not only the parents financial pressure from the council but also the pressure from their respective children. What is a parent supposed to say to their kid when they ask why they can't play soccer anymore..... Because our council is being greedy??

570 - Greg Partridge

I do not agree at all with parking charges being introduced for people who want to visit the Botanical Gardens nor Hagley Park. If you aren't going to charge cyclists to ride on specially constructed, very expensive cycleways, then do not charge people to park at the Gardens, Hagley Park, nor any other public reserve when there are many ways for the Council to reduce the enormous volume of money you are planning to spend on a network of infrastructure, which is being pushed for by a relatively small but very vocal proportion of the population, and Council members who are wanting to be seen to do what is "green".

573 - Rebecca Dean

I don't think there should be parking charges at key parks. I think this would reflect poorly on our image as a garden city and our values.

575 - Murray Walls

We shouldn't have to pay for parking at parks.

581 - Paul Amtman

Seems rather ironic that we can build cycleways for the minority and yet look at charging parks which more people use. Keep away from that.

Keep parks free of charge.

597 - Ashleigh Dickson

I don't support charging for car parking at botanical gardens and hagley park. You would be reo to have parking wardens operating each day and patrolling the streets. This seems inefficient and expensive to support a parking charge. Public parks should be free parking.

601 - David Ralph

Do not introduce parking charges. Happy to pay more in rates to keep this as it is today.

621 - Sophie Morton

I don't approve of introducing parking charges at Hagley Park

622 - Stephanie Cullen

I DO NOT support adding parking charges to the botanic gardens. Parking charges add stress and increase the effects of the cost of living. It's not worth the "revenue" you're generating for it to feel like everywhere in the city has to cost money at every point.

631 - Cynthia Roberts

There does need to be free parking in the city where public transport doesn't currently get families to the gates such as the Botanical Gardens. One family member has 3 young kids and love the Botanical Gardens and Margaret Mahey as a place to bring them to play and enjoy nature. They wouldn't come if it involved paying. However, there does need to be the deterrent of fines for overstaying the allotted time.

I don't support charging for parking in the Botanical Gardens. It is a place of sanctuary, and a place for families to bring their kids, but I do support fines for those who outstay their 3 hours.

644 - Julie Paterson

I love walking in Hagley Park and really appreciate the free parking. Please don't change this.

669 - Daniel Barkley

I do not like the idea of having the fee at the botanic gardens. I understand why the council feels this would be a good investment. However it is probably the only free parking close to the center of town. I worry that by charging it would also cause people to use the Gardens less, which has physical and mental health knock on effects.

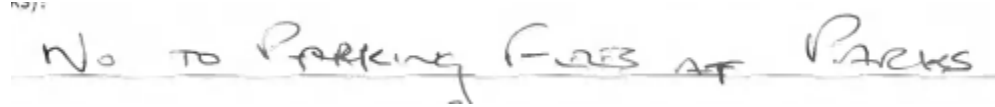

678 - Sean Smith

I don't agree with adding parking fees for parks and reserves.

684 - Louise Morrison

I am 100% against introducing parking charges at parks

6904 - Jean McIntyre

No TO PARKING FEES AT PARKS

694 - Lucia Rivas

Council should encouraging people to use parks for their well-being. I'm this will hinder use. I don't mind parking charges in the city or other busy areas like the university.

697 - Joanne Claire Eaton

stop making the city expensive for families, the people who use the parks regularly do so as it provide free entertainment for families, it is so expensive to park in town so people use local parks instead

708 - John Allen

Why we pay for this in our rates.

718 - Sharon Pheasant

Again this example disproportionately impacts those who may not be able to bike, walk or use public transport eg elderly, disabled, young children. And you just don't have sufficient bus options available either. Parks in particular are a great free activity for families no matter their socio economic background- applying charges will make parks for the well off and physically able. This is not the kind of Christchurch I want to see

727 - Donal McEvoy

People attend parks with their kids, kids are expensive to raise and now people are struggling. So charging people for what was a free activity is just money grabbing. Rates already pay for the park up keep, why charge people to use something they already pay for?

732 - Alexandra Hartevelde-Turnbull

Parking charges to key parks seems like a short term perspective idea. Parks and recreational spaces are a free space for the general public and families to use. Introducing a parking charge will decrease usage, which seems counterproductive to the investment made to create these parks.

736 - Helen Westrupp

I don't agree with the gardens parking being paid.

742 - Mark Holland

Leave the park and garden parking alone.

746 - Lara Flavell

[Fees and Charges > Other]

I agree in the user of a service pays but not car parks! Art galleries etc should be user pays - these are a luxury. You really are pushing lower income people away from enjoying these areas. Hagley is particularly concerning because sports is held there - another cost for struggling families which may be what breaks them & stops them from being able to play that sport

752 - Vivienne Hewson

I would not like to see charges for parking at our parks and gardens. It is the one free activity i enjoy most and it seems greedy to charge families to stroll around the gardens or walk the dog

755 - Jenn Shraga

Another way to squeeze the general public. People cannot afford to feed their families, high earners are struggling to allow their kids to take up recreational sports, sporting groups are suffering, community is falling and all the council can think about is "how can we make people pay more"

757 - Scott McCormick

Ridiculous. Fix your costs and overspending

762 - Julie Nelmes

again with the cost of living this will impact already stretched incomes

763 - Nicola Fagan

[Fees and Charges > Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)]

parking in the city is outrageous and to keep my job I have to spend a minimum of $70 just to park for work. I will avoid the city any other time due to parking and accessibility, parking costs at parks and other recreational areas will mean I just do not go to those areas.

77 - Gill Patterson Kerr

I don't agree with charging at Parks for parking.

785 - Ariana Tikao

I'd prefer to have some free parking available at recreation facilities and parks.

794 - Yanny Webb-Walker

I'm against the introduction of charges for parking at parks as they are used mostly by locals and is beneficial for physical and emotional health. If they were introduced they should be kept very, very low and be able to use cash

795 - Gary Phillips

Parking at ratepayer funded locations should be free

815 - Sophie Ryan

This would deter locals which would be awful.

816 - Murray Dickinson

I don't agree with charging for parking in Parks and recreational spaces.

820 - Shelley MacDonell

I would prefer to avoid the parking increases in the Botanic Gardens to facilitate access

822 - Gavin Scott-Petersen

have significant concerns regarding the proposed changes to introduce parking charges at key parks. Parks and recreational areas are vital for community well-being, offering spaces for children to play, families to gather, and individuals to engage in physical activity. Imposing parking fees at these locations could disproportionately affect lower socioeconomic communities, making it more challenging for them to access these essential public spaces. Accessibility to parks and recreational facilities should be a fundamental right for all community members, regardless of their economic status. The introduction of parking charges could deter families, particularly those from lower-income backgrounds, from utilizing these spaces, thereby widening the gap in health and wellness opportunities within our community. Moreover, parks serve as community hubs, fostering social cohesion and providing a natural respite from the urban environment. By introducing parking fees, we risk reducing the frequency and duration of visits to these vital communal areas, potentially diminishing their role in community bonding and mental health.

In conclusion, while I recognize the challenges in balancing the budget and maintaining high-quality public spaces, I urge the council to reconsider the proposal to introduce parking charges at key parks. Ensuring free access to these areas is essential for promoting a healthy, inclusive, and vibrant community. I encourage the exploration of alternative funding mechanisms that uphold the principle of equitable access to public spaces for all community members.

823 - Kym East

You will stop people using these facilities by starting to charge at parks and playgrounds.

825 - Duncan King

Parking at parks and greenspace should be free. Its not for council to attempt to force the general public out of their vehicles. I am sick and tired of a bureaucracy that dose not listen to the majority of its citizens. Net zero is not just impossible but will have no effect on climate.

843 - Ngaire Donelda Bacon

I do not agree with this proposal. Just give the Rate payers a break !! Especially with an average rate increase being proposed of 13.24%

865 - Kelvin Duncan

No. You have ot get money from somewhere and a user pays policy is at least fair. People who don't like it can take a bus or bike.

870 - Lis Stevenson

Not necessary parking is way too expensive and stopping people from going to places because of the cost

874 - Arna Morton (Morton Music)

Charging for parking at parks is criminal. In a time of such big financial stress for many people, going to the park is one of the last free activities to do in the city. Don't add extra stress to parents and families

895 - Hayley Mahanga

[Fees & Charges - Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)]

There's already enough charges for public parking

897 - Jonathan Mathias

[Fees & Charges - Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)]

The council shouldn't be providing or developing parking for vehicles. Parking should be a private venture.

899 - Sharon Pavich

I think this is a bad idea. I think we should be encouraging people to use our incredible recreational facilities and the magnificent botanic gardens by providing free parking. Surely alluring people free access to keep fit and enjoy nature has many health visits and therefore creates less strain on medical services. Oppose this proposal. I personally don't use the sports fields but enjoy the botanic gardens and Hagley Park.

902 - Karen McElhinney

While I do support user-pays, I believe in this case the contribution is not enough to rock the boat. It is better to allow people from all walks of life access to our key parks.

904 - George Cox

I do not support the adding charges/fees to park at Hagley Park. However, introducing a charge on larger vehicles (utes/SUVs) parking in the city could act as both a revenue generator and a way to aid in the climate crisis. This would discourage large and polluting vehicles from entering the city as often, which could also decrease road damage.

939 - Alana Bashall

Pay enough with parking charges already.

942 - Stephen Tubb

Dumb idea people won't use the parks if you do that

966 - Sarah Lunam

Parks should be free parking as it is for the community. You are disadvantaging the lower income earners who don't have enough to even feed their family, let alone pay to go to the park! This is poor on the council to propose this.

972 - Robert Gomez

No parking at parks should be free, otherwise people won't use the parks, very stupid idea

977 - Bridget Stokes

Do not agree in charging fees at parks - we as a community have worked hard to provide these parks and still to maintain them - they are used for children's sports - and learning experiences.

990 - Wendy Fergusson

Don't like the idea of having to pay for parking at a park, have to find a way to stop people parking there all day - they are the problem

996 - David Smith

More reason not to go to town. Great.

Other

1001 - Jessica Schulz

People will avoid going to any place we have to pay.

1012 - Andrea McGregor

Charges could be made with a yearly pass? Or pay for 6 get one free. Keep the rate of charge low so people not disadvantaged

1018 - Gerry Whitter

If you're increasing the parking fee you should also add parking space, like making a building for parking space and the rate should be different depending on the peak hours

1043 - Shafali Verma

Where do you not charge parking anyway? Having parking charges on top of doing your tax increase would be just outrageous! However if you are doing it to solve the rise of tax raise that would be helpful as people who use the service are only paying that.

1104 - Kate Bevin

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration>Strategic Transport]

I think if you're going to charge for parking at selected parks, you also need to educate people on alternative forms of transport to get to these places e.g. public transport, cycling and walking. This will also decrease carbon and increase health outcomes for people. Maybe staff could go to these key areas before the changes take place to educate people about the alternatives and provide information on how they can access them.

1117 - Brent Elder

I think that is fair, but the charges should be minimal.

1132 - Gavin Fitzgerald

A balance of premium charged and free parking is a good compromise.

1144 - Lisa Renton

If parking costs will directly impact keeping existing facilities open then that's a great idea,

1210 - Dianna Koorey

Hopefully only minimal charging. I dont mind a user pays system as long as its not excessive

1259 - Paula Darrell

Parks need to be free to visit. Maybe chch city residents can park free with a special card as we already pay for them. Visitors especially overseas ones can afford to pay and they should for using our services such as toilets and playgrounds so we can afford to maintain and upgrade them.

1319 - Luke Sweeney

Reduce where you are currently wasting your money before charging anything else

1352 - Lin Klenner

Happy for car parking to be charged but at an affordable price

1391 - Anna Gruczynska

I do not support but accept car parking charges at Hagley Park. It is one of the last few truly free attractions in central Christchurch that families can enjoy, and it should stay this way if at all possible.

1398 - Carol Woolf

If they have to be then keep them as low as possible!!

1403 - Carolyn Kaye

People drive into the gardens and Hagley park for recreation. Sometimes for an unlimited time. Charges for parking will make these areas less accessible for families especially playing sport. Whilst i understand the need to raise capital, would it be possible to have some 'sitting' areas where one can park a car and so long as someone is sitting in it, there is no charge esp in gardens eg where being able to sit in the car with an elderly relative is a special outing, and also by sportsgrounds waiting for sports to finish if picking up kids.

1405 - Justin Standing

I agree with adding a charge for parking but a 3 hour limit seems prohibitive if people want to spend some time in the city as well as the gardens. Suggest $4.60 per entry instead, and ensure the parking fine is targeted only at problematic situations (e.g. car left there for 2+ days, or blocking access). I'm happy with a rates increase to support this proposal (presumably lower than 0.31% mentioned)

1431 - Carissa Ptacek

I'm disappointed about being charged parking at key parks. I noticed a bunch of consent fees didn't raise in price and it seems like that would be a better place to charge a small increase, but I don't know how that works (i.e. if it's fixed under Act)

144 - Michael Fairhurst

Put in time limits on parking, not high usage cost parking.

1442 - Elisha Blogg

I am in two minds with the cost to park at parks. These lovely spaces are free for people to use who may not otherwise be able to pay for other activities in ChCh, however, I do understand this could generate a good amount of money.

1446 - Emma Waddell

I can see how this would work to help reduce the rates increase. But only agree if rate increase is significantly lower.

1469 - Susan Grant

Parks are places where families can go without cost so as such I do not think they should have To pay parking fees for less than 4 hours. or the gates could open later so that those that use parks when not visiting them do not have access when working hours start.

1520 - Wendy Butcher (Canterbury WEA)

Some increase is needed but care needs to be taken to ensure it does not hamper access for older citizens visiting the city.

1523 - Jonathan Burn

Yes. As long as the parking rate for the botanic gardens is affordable to enable everyone to experience the gardens

1541 - Maurice Adler

[Spending > Our Proposed Spending]

I'm only in favour of introducing these charges if the CCC do there bit by stop spending money on their pet projects.

1544 - Daana Watson

levies on user pays is a fair system. Don't like the idea of blanket increases that affect people who don't use the services being provided but they get caught up in the costs associated whether they use them or not.

1546 - Robert Fleming

[Fees and Charges > Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)]

I'd like to see parking in the four avenues be free for disability parks and loading zones only. This is one way Christchurch will reverse the imbalance of too many vehicles on the roads without needing to implement congestion charging too soon in the future.

1592 - Richard Catron

No one wants to pay for parking, but it is a necessity.

1609 - Johnathons Atkins

if you provide a car park, pay for it. otherwise it should be free on street

1620 - Daisy Sinnadurai

Yes, very high fees and charges. CC are only for the wealthy people.

[coder note. Question is "Do you have any comments on our proposed changes to fees and charges(e.g. our proposal to introduce parking charge at key parks)?

1650 - Deb Osborn

If you're increasing or instigating fees and charges, you should also improve the experience - lighting, security, groundwork.

1663 - Sam Spekreijse

If possible, giving hospital workers exception during work hours would be worthwhile; a lot of essential staff use that as parking for work.

1672 - Dickson Wong

I think it is ok to charge for parking but not exorbitant fee. Maybe a dollar an hour for example is a healthy balance

1692 - David Bluck

Charge more on rates and keep the rest free.

1695 - Jordan Wyatt

I can respect paid parking. I went to the Botanic gardens carpark area today and found it nearly impossible to get a parking spot. When I left, there was a queue of about 14 cars backed up...about to discover there were no available parking spaces. Perhaps a way of showing available parks could work - similar to in carpark buildings? The same sensors, built into the gravel? Or, without adding more cost, and more rates haha, we can all consider how we park our cars better.

1750 - Edel Lougheed-Deane

The proposal to introduce parking charges at key parks like the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park presents a complex decision with both advantages and disadvantages to consider. While implementing these charges would produce revenue without increasing the ratepayer, it could cause people to use the parks less frequently or perhaps find alternative methods of getting to the parks. People would also wonder why their current rates aren't covering it. Introducing fees for parking could deter certain demographics, such as low-income individuals or families, from accessing and enjoying these public spaces, which are valued for their recreational and cultural significance.

1752 - Carolyn Boulton

If parking charges can keep rate increases to a minimum, then I support them.

1806 - James Edwards

strongly oppose the proposed parking charges at our city parks. This plan will hit families hard, especially those with little kids who are already stretched thin financially. Our parks are a lifeline for relaxation and fun, and it's just not right to add parking fees on top of everything else. Charging for parking is going to be a real burden for many people who rely on these parks for a break from the city life. It's not fair to make it harder for them to access something that's supposed to be for everyone. We all pay our rates, which help keep these parks beautiful and open. Asking us to pay again just to park our car feels like being charged twice for the same thing. Instead of charging us more, why not just make sure the current parking rules are actually followed? That way you can stop people who are misusing the parking without charging everyone else. If you have to charge, it should only be the out-of-towners who don't contribute to our rates. Please, let's keep our parks easy and free to access. It's important for our families and it's the fair thing to do. Let's find a better solution that doesn't involve putting this cost on local residents.

1814 - Jenny Atkin

I strongly object the proposed parking charges at our city parks. We already pay our rates to keep the parks well maintained, so asking us to pay again for parking is actually paying twice for the same thing. Relaxing in our parks is an important activity for many families with young kids, which are already stretched financially, so it doesn't feel right to me to put this extra burden. Families will think twice whether to go to something that should be available and free for everyone, so why add parking fees on top of everything else? Instead of charging for parking, I suggest a stronger law enforcement to make sure the current parking rules are actually followed. That way you can stop people who are misusing the parking without charging everyone else. If you have to charge, it should only be people out of town who don't contribute to our rates. There are better solutions that doesn't involve putting this cost on local residents.

1839 - Catherine Grima

I don't have a problem ~~with~~ with charging for parking in the main city but not at neighbourhood parks as this will hugely discourage their use and focus people to park far away and block up other streets otherwise ~~fees~~ less congested.

1913 - Liz Meek

Find a way to ensure our major, best parks are free to visit eg the gardens car park. Look for ways to charge that won't marginalise those on low incomes.

1921 - Harry Lawrence

If you are going to charge at key parks then you need to improve the public transportation infrastructure with it. People need an affordable way to bring their families into town.

1927 - Donna Gillatt

It is no hidden secret that you are following the Agenda 2030 scheme and will do anything to ban us from using vehicles, this is just another deterrent.

193 - Anne Mahan

Parking fees are okay as long as they are not at the same rate as the city center rates and are worth collecting. Is the cost worth charging.

1932 - Cynthia Carey

People won't use places they can not access and have to pay a small fortune to park to access

1939 - Mary Sefton

The carparks that would go Do you care about people coming and going to work who park in the area and loosing car parks for bussiness more will have to close there doors

Try and get people into town and not to increase to much

1945 - Lucy Howell

Parking charges are acceptable in areas that are well connected by public transport.

1979 - Julie McCloy

Ideally parking would remain free at these spaces to encourage their use. However, if you are proposing a fee of $1.50 per hour (you say $4.60 for three hours) that seems fair. But if you are proposing a flat fee of $4.60 for any parking at all - 15 mins up to 3 hours - that is unfair and a massive jump from 0. Make it fair and reasonable. and yes, you can make it cheaper than other CCC parking - it is free now remember.

1982 - Alana Brown

charging at hagley and gardens would be a bgreat way to discourage even more people to stay away. being able to access the park for a few hours for no cost attracts so many people to get out an enjoy the space. maybe charge when events are on only?

1985 - Laura Tretheway

Theoretically a good plan, BUT doesn't seem fair to do when you have not yet sorted out hospital parking!

2006 - Aaron Mcloughlin

Charging fees is not an efficient way to pay debt. The payment for the parking etc is simply another way of increasing the cost of living. Reducing the debt by, for example, delaying some of the projects till a time when the country is in a generally healthier financial state will take the pressure off the households. More fees, regardless of what they are for still comes out of the household incomes.

201 - AJ Wade

Minimum number of free parks with time limit or first hour free only.

2012 - Nick Boyd

You need additional parking facilities, more parking at lower rates will be more successful than the opposite. There are still so many unused spaces post earthquake

2045 - Sheherazad Bhote

Christchurch is a large city, public transport is not always conducive to getting a family around easily. Free car parking at specific locations should be maintained, or at an affordable cost. Does the cost of enforcing parking make this change worth it?

2060 - Liv van Workum

In terms of encouraging those to use other methods of transport, I think it is excellent. However I still think we need to keep our spaces accessible for all and protect things like freedom camping areas and reserves.

208 - Astrid Harrison

Free hours should be kept in public parks like the Botanic gardens to encourage visitors and keep it accessible for all.

2091 - Sarah Johnstone

Please continue to keep the botanical gardens free. It is a must for our city

2112 - Matt Easterbrook

I support if this funding goes towards maintaining parks and towards better public transport

2115 - Billie Kaine

Somewhat agree, user pays policy is fair

2121 - Cassie Welch (National Public Health Service (NPHS) Te Waipounamu)

Fees and Charges

Do you have any comments on our proposed changes to fees and charges?

Parking Charges

31. NPHS Te Waipounamu broadly supports the proposal to introduce parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park, and we also note that these proposed changes will reduce potential rates increases. However, we are concerned that the parking charges may act as a barrier for people to access vital greenspace and create inequitable outcomes. It is already more challenging for some groups to access greenspace, for example older people, people with health conditions, and people with lower socio-economic status.³⁰

Spending time in natural environments is associated with physical and mental health benefits, specifically increased physical activity, cognitive restoration, and overall reduction in stress.³¹

32. NPHS Te Waipounamu therefore recommends the following adjustments to CCCs parking charges to reduce inequitable access to the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park:

- i)* To support families and residents to still access and encourage cycling rather than driving to the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park, we recommend that Council consider providing additional bike parking facilities within the Botanic Garden and Hagley Park carparks. People are more likely to cycle to destinations that have adequate bike parking facilities that are user friendly and well-designed.³² Additionally, bike-parking needs to be designed for different types of cycles, including cargo, e-bikes and mobility trikes, and located in safe, convenient, and accessible locations.³³ Providing Locky-Docks or Staple bike parking facilities, that are sheltered and well designed, will support communities to continue to access the health-promoting environments of the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park.
- ii)* To further support equitable access to the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park, NPHS Te Waipounamu recommends that CCC apply the additional concession for residents with a mobility permit: that displaying a mobility card entitles the driver to two-hours of free parking. We recommend that this concession is applied regardless of whether the driver is in one of the nine designated disability carparks in the Riccarton and Armagh car park in or not. This concession will ensure that older people, disabled people and people with health conditions will continue to access the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park, and that the cost of parking is not a barrier to those greenspaces.
- iii)* NPHS Te Waipounamu notes that there are already several bus routes that support access to the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park via public transport. We recommend that to further support use of public transport, CCC ensures the bus stops close to the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park are sheltered bus stops with adequate seating.

33. NPHS Te Waipounamu notes that it may be more cost-effective long-term to ensure that everyone has access to these valuable green spaces than it is to develop the infrastructure required to charge residents for parking and continue to check that they have paid for parking.

2144 - Amy Mcnaughton

Consider also one at the playground

2200 - Janna Robinson

I'm not sure I agree with charging for parking at Hagley Park. It is a public park for the use of everyone. However, there are a number of people who park around there for work and do not use the park. If paid parking is brought in, then I would hope it would be affordable parking for office hours only.

2214 - Paul Kruger

[Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Transport > Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)]

Agreed, counterbalance by investing more in public transport and public accessibility through cycleways etc.

2263 - Scott Babington

I am not a fan of parking payments at the gardens/parks, but appreciate that this is probably a necessary 'evil'

2297 - Andrew Walker

Keep it affordable. You don't want to scare people away.

2304 - Stephanie Burke

Only need to charge after 2 hours, this will stop those that aren't actually using the park from using the car park.

2310 - Helen Broughton (Waipuna Halswell Hornby Riccarton Community Board)

- The Board does not support the introduction of parking charges at the Botanic Gardens Armagh Street carpark and Riccarton Avenue North Hagley carpark that could result in impacting access of families to these facilities but would be supportive of charges to deter all day parking.

2311 - Paul McMahon (Waitai Coastal-Burwood-Linwood Community Board)

The Council should consider both the financial and equity impacts when making this decision. The Board suggests 1-hour free parking then $4.50 for three hours after that.

2345 - Deirdre Cottrell

As long as it raises significant revenue and some free parking times are retained so that people on low incomes can also enjoy these amenities. I would like free parking on Sundays near the Botanical Gardens.

2355 - Iain Sanders

We are already paying for our parks. We should not be penalizing residents for visiting parks. Charge visitors instead and provide residents with a free access pass.

Continue to provide free access to our parks, heritage and coastal recreational areas with better free parking facilities.

2396 - Sam Jenkins

All land use should be appropriately charged to ensure it's being used efficiently - I think in addition to charging for parking in and around the botanic gardens, all of Hagley Park should be charged for parking in and around it.

2431 - Toni Stewart

People who benefit from facilities have to contribute

2434 - Philip Bones

Introducing new charges should only happen if at least 80% of the income is returned to the city, not swallowed up in the cost of administering the charging. I would hate to see Wilsons involved in any such new charging.

2448 - Barrie Uren

if parks are totally owned and operated by CCC and not by Wilsons Parking and Ngi Tahu

2476 - Reuben Scott (Simeon Park Community Group)

We are for the parking charges at key parks as this will deter car usage. Consideration for those that have mobility issues and elderly would be a good idea (exemption etc).

2500 - Carsten Knott

Should be more expansive to make alternative traffic more attractive like public transport, car pooling bike

2509 - Angela Nicol

I know there was discussions for paid parking at Hagley Park, but I really feel that if cars are there 4 hours plus, then thats more understandable. I think under 4 hours, its best for families visiting the park for picnics and events, as well as walking to the hospital.

2511 - Charlaine Palmer

Continue with free, but time-limited at Hagley Park.

2515 - Jane Hopkins

I support charging for parking at the botanic gardens although it could be cheaper - $1 per hour would be good.

2516 - Robin Palmer

Prefer free, though time-limited, parking in Hogley Park.

2522 - Rosa Hughes-Currie

Bus frequency needs to be increased to Hagley Park during the hours parking is charged. If busses remain infrequent and parking is charged it makes the park harder to visit by any transport means.

2540 - Jocelyn and Caroline Papprell and Syddall

As people who cycle and use public transport regularly we rarely need to park a car in town but we recognise that a number of people, particularly families make the most of free parking at the Botanic Gardens & Hagley Park. Should a charge be introduced for using those parking areas we suggest that the areas would need to be much improved in quality (safer access, get rid of pot holes, improved lighting & signage etc), and the parking fee should be collected directly by the Council not leased out to a private company. Could there be a way of making use of smart technology to charge the parking fee to vehicles with single occupants rather than to a full carload – a method to encourage carpooling or alternative modes of transport. We note however, that there is adequate public transport for people in the area of the Botanic Gardens & Hagley Park.

2574 - Matthew Pont

I'm supportive conceptually, but you need to ensure that adequate alternatives are available. E.g. Is public transport actually available, affordable and accessible to get there. If you put an event on that ends on a Sunday evening, is it going to take someone hours to get home on a Sunday timetable? Because if it is, they're not going to have a realistic choice but to drive.

2599 - Susan Miller

I am a fan of user pays rather than included in the rates but have reservations that car parking fees proposed will deter people & tourists to visiting the places so are you better off?

2611 - Papataitua Harrington

I would be concerned about parking charges on Saturdays where kids and adults sports are being played.

2616 - Jane Chrisp

If you are going to introduce parking charges at key parks then you actively need to have camera security and better lighting

2619 - Laura Cosgrove

We are the garden city. As a rate payer to me it's important that I can use the beautiful central parks as a cheap activity for my child. A timed barrier and upgrading this could be a way to combat overstayers.

2630 - Tamara Smith

[Spending > Te Kaha]

In your own words, the council has allocated $453 million into Te Kaha, multi-use arena project. I think you should be maximizing how you use this space to its full to recuperate costs rather than introducing parking charges to key parks that are an integral part of people's wellbeing and will possibly deter people from using them.

2682 - Scott Savage

User pays is fine. Just be mindful of not scaring people away because of high cost to them. Find the right balance between supply and demand.

2695 - Dave Gardner

I'm happy for car parking to be charged, though it would be nice to see even more alternative and safer ways to get to Hagley park, so can go there with the family without having to use a car.

2699 - Graham Beswick

I have no problem with introducing charges on key car parks depending where they are and as long as it does not stop people going into the city

2715 - L.F. Blake

Whilst it would be a shame to charge for parking at parks as it would affect families recreation, perhaps charging only during business hours of the working week would reduce workers using these for long term parking, and thus free up parks for visitors.

2723 - Laura Greenland

Not really constructive, but unless someone is going to monitor and enforce the charges then they are pointless.

2733 - Georgia Macaulay

Eh the parking fees for parks is a little much. Not many places left in Christchurch which aren't paid parking anymore. Discourages people from the city. Perhaps we could look at reducing the number of streets with timed parking on which have residential housing. As a previous inner-city dweller, the lack of parking for residents and the removal of the residential parking permit was a major influence in moving away from the city centre.

2750 - Helen Johnstone

Yes, so long as the amount is not prohibitive. Some income to help pay for the facilities available would be fair.

2751 - Helen Holyoak

Hard one. I support cars being less favourable transport. I support free access to public parks. Could a koha option work? A QR code with a link and statement such as. I support free access to public parks but recognise this comes at a cost and offer to pay $$ for my parking to ensure maintenance of free access to this facility! Most I see parks at Botanic are elderly or those with young kids, they are not the ones who should face increased barrier to public parks

2780 - Maree Hemingsen`

Charging during the week to discourage workers parking. Especially places like the gardens. Need more mobility and family parking.

2781 - Sarah Hemmingsen

Support charging during weekdays to discourage parks being filled with commuters or tour buses. Overall there needs to be more parking for mobility card holders.

2786 - Redact Redacted

Parking charges in the work days would be great - stop those using it for work transport parking.
No charges during weekends for citizens.
Charges for tourist vehicles/buses, yes.

2799 - Dot Lovell-Smith

I support the introduction of some charging for car parks around Hagley Park and the Botanical Gardens. Perhaps the first 90 minutes could be free to help people to access events, Eg the Armagh St car park in Hagley park is often used by retirees as a short term car park so they can attend lectures at the WEA.

Carpark charges could also be introduced in suburban parks where parked cars regularly occupy green recreational space on sports days eg around the Kyle park BMX bike facility. Or on Hagley Park berms. Most of these parks have nearby bus services. If the sport absolutely needs a designated car park, build the parking and and charge for it.

Car and ute access to beaches should be banned with fees charged for lsea side roadside carparking except for disabled and service vehicles. This could be at a cheaper rate than the city centre charges. Why should botany lovers and music lovers pay for access to what they love, but not sports people? Free secure bike parks could be provided instead. Sportsmen and children would be fitter and healthier. All sports grounds should be accessible by bus,

281 - Selwyn Gamble

[Other / Special Interest Topics > Public Transport]

Honestly I'm not mad at the prospect of introducing parking charges at key parks BUT the equilibrium has to be met with genuine incentives to take reliable public transport to said park for instance, people will just bite the bullet and pay or be defiant and won't (potentially getting fined), I don't think residents are stoked with either of those outcomes so your public transport better up to scratch in that regard.

2823 - Aurora Garner-Randolph (School Strike For Climate Ōtautahi)

Yes. Fees shouldn't increase, and car parks should be charged but transport options should be provided.

2826 - Dan Scott

It makes sense that parking charges should be included as this disincentivises the use of private motor vehicles and helps induce a mode shift towards public and active transport. However, this should only be done in places that are already well serviced by public transport, and are easily accessible through these means and through active transport. Otherwise this provides our city's lower-income families with an unfair barrier to enjoying the public spaces that Christchurch has to offer.

2848 - Glen Koorey

perhaps you should also consider additional charging at other major suburban attractor venues (e.g. Pioneer Stadium, QEII Park, etc)

2868 - Jonty Coulson

Disabled parking should not incur charges and should be enforced however, as many have disabilities which may prevent full use of public or active transport.

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund], [Parks > Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration], [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Strategic Transport], [Fees & Charges > Car Parking (Parks)]

It is vital for the city council to understand that spending money now means saving money in the future. As a result cost reductions cannot come from cuts to climate change, biodiversity or active transport programs. All of these will have positive returns in the long term. The council should instead extract value from existing assets such as the parking charges to botanic gardens and Hagley park mentioned earlier.

29 - Hayley Young

Charge more at par cars, let the rich people pay.

2926 - Jennifer Barnes

Maybe they can be first hour free, with payment starting after 1 hour. Then people who can't afford parking can still use parks

2927 - In Kyung Lee

Appropriate charging for use of land is fine - only if there is not a significant underlying increase in rates. Otherwise this is just double dipping.

293 - Monique van Veen

I'm gutted about the parking charge proposed for the Botanic Gardens but recognise this is one area where the council could build revenue to use in other areas. I'd suggest keeping the botanic gardens carparking free on the weekends to ensure families still have a cost effective way to travel to, and enjoy, our beautiful public spaces.

2934 - Monica Richards

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Public Transport]

Make sure you have free public transport to key parks as well as charging parking i.e. use carrot and stick.

298 - Zya Gurau

I disagree with proposed parking charges without more significant investment in the cities public transportation.

299 - Jane Nuttridge

Meet in the middle with a $2 for 4 hour charge.. accessible to everyone.. do not make it $4.80 and inaccessible to those who need the children's playground at the gardens the most!

2993 - Nikki Staskiewicz

Not all parks should have parking fees. We need to see this as a health (mental, physical, spiritual) initiative. If people have to pay, it may be a deterrent (if they would otherwise 'have' to drive)

3066 - Tony Simpson

I think we should allow free parking in car parks that are associated with community sports.

3077 - Mike Davidson

I do not support car-parking charges at key parks. Current time limits in Hagley Park needs to be reviewed with potentially changing 180-minute space to 120-minutes. Car park usage needs to be monitored and enforced.

3089 - Trevor Lord

Support this, as long as income so generated is passed to amenities and projects, public and private, that support the preservation and restoration of such civic amenities as are being taxed (i.e.: redistributing wealth generated by such amenities so that this money can be used to enhance wider civic amenities).

3127 - Dianne Downward

Parks are for everyone, no one should be excluded. Charging for car parks in parks will exclude those who cannot walk very far or who are unable to cycle, from using our parks. A four hour limit can be imposed in Hagley park to stop this carpark being used for all day parking by city and hospital workers. No charges for books from Libraries.

314 - Vaughan Kirkland

I would support it over a certain time limit i.e. first 60-90 minutes free and then a charge after that to promote car park turnover.

3177 - Dan Lucas

These charges need to align with demand, it should not use wilson central city charges as a basis but generally agree

3197 - Viv Patton

I think you have to keep these low

3217 - Abdirahman Abdi

However, Christchurch is still very reliant on cars in terms of travel and how far parking will get from the CBD for those who can't afford Private parking. maybe a zone of free bus travel for those with metro cards to ease the pain.

3235 - Thomas Caspari

I do not particularly like the idea of car park charges for Hagley Park / Botanic Gardens, but would understand if it was introduced.

3250 - Hannah Murdoch

I agree with parking charges at Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park. These are generally used by people who can afford to be there, and the gardens is a service. It's also a tourist attraction. I don't agree with charging for parking at smaller parks.

3336 - Margaret Lovell-Smith

It seems to me that introducing parking charges in some key parks such as Hagley Park and the Botanic Gardens, is taking us further down the path of introducing commercialism into areas which belong to the people and are for the people to enjoy at all times. The next step could be proposals to enlarge the car parks. I would prefer to see the car parks removed from Hagley Park altogether. At the same time ensure that such parks have cycle stands near by. At present there are none provided at Mona Vale, though there are large bus and car parks.

3363 - Brodie Marra-Stevenson

I think this will limit access to parks for a lot of people, but will also encourage people to walk to local parks. If this goes hand in hand with more investment/improvement of our smallest community parks then for sure.

3371 - Malcolm Frost

Parking charges at key parks seems to go against the spirit of - 'The Garden City'. A visit to the park is something those of modest means should be able to enjoy without additional costs.

3373 - Michael Netto

I appreciate the effort to maintain and enhance our city's parks through the introduction of parking charges at key parks as mentioned in the Consultation Document. However, I am concerned about the potential impact of these charges on accessibility and usage of these vital community spaces. Parks serve as important communal areas where people of all ages and backgrounds can engage in recreational activities, relax, and connect with nature without financial barriers. Introducing a parking fee could discourage some segments of our community, especially those for whom even small additional costs might deter park visits. This is particularly relevant for families, elderly citizens, and those on fixed or lower incomes. Could the Council consider alternative methods to manage park maintenance costs and encourage responsible park usage without compromising accessibility? Options such as voluntary donations, sponsorship opportunities, or nominal fees only during peak times could be explored. Additionally, ensuring that any fees are reasonable and offer various payment options could help mitigate the impact. It is crucial that we strike a balance that continues to encourage park usage while also addressing the financial needs for their upkeep. I urge the Council to carefully consider these aspects to ensure that our parks remain accessible and welcoming to all residents.

3419 - Michael Allan

Regular users of such parks should be required to purchase a displayable permit like the disability one - say $50(?) - effective over all parks. Non-display of such a permit would result in a parking ticket.

3430 - Philippa Upton

Please don't even consider parking charges unless there are excellent public transport options available into the parks. This is certainly not the case for the Botanic Gardens, which is a wonderful place for the people of Christchurch to enjoy as theirs - not just tour groups in buses who can park outside!

3465 - Hannah Steven

Keep parking at botanical gardens free with the time limit. Encourages people into city to enjoy park benefits parking in botanical gardens should remain free

3529 - Marc Duff

Would prefer 1st hour is free to keep encouraging residents to use our parks for whanau and tamariki but after the first hour you get charged. Health and Well being is crucial for the vibe of our city and physical exercise should be encouraged not road blocks put in place.

3548 - Dwayne McCormick

This is not a way of supporting locals. I would support this if chch rate payers were except and those outside of city utilizing the facilities paid for the use.

355 - Lynda Clark

I am concerned about proposed charge for parking at the Botanic Gardens. I understand that many people who park do not necessarily visit the gardens. Might this be overcome by having traffic wardens patrolling and then fines for those over 3 hours? I visit the gardens, by myself, with friends, with visitors, on a very regular basis, as do many residents. This may include visiting the cafe and shop, which would bring in money too. For some families, the $4.60 charge would be off-putting. It's one of few places for free recreational activity, which encourages an appreciation of nature, much needed in this technological world.

3567 - Rachel Briggs

I can understand why this would be considered and how this would help. I think the key would be to make sure its affordable and if you ticket, make sure the tickets are actually reasonable - i.e. the actual cost that would be lost if someone did not pay for parking for a period of time.

3569 - Sarrah Walters

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Public Transport]

It is understandable that the council is considering introducing parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park, however this area should also be better serviced by public transport to reduce the impact of parking charges. There has been a long-standing gap in this area and while the council is not the service provider they need to work with the service provider and consider the necessary infrastructure.

Proposed changes to fees and charges – it is understandable that the council is considering introducing parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park, however this area should also be better serviced by public transport to reduce the impact of parking charges. There has been a long-standing gap in this area and while the council is not the service provider they need to work with the service provider and consider the necessary infrastructure.

3575 - Anna Hansson

Is there some kind of alternative option that could be introduced where you charge only for weekdays, or a sliding scale where the hourly rate increases the longer you park. Or what if you just started better patrolling the park and started fining people who overstayed the current three hour parking limit.

3598 - Kyle Sutherland

Yes to including parking charges at Botanical Gardens, too many people park here knowing it is free and congestion is now terrible. The first hour should be free though.

3601 - Bridget Allen

it would be better not to charge people to use park at parks, as we green spaces are important to mental health and might stop some people from visiting if they have a lower income. If park was charge there no to be allowance to help people to get to the parks, like free buses.

3604 - Caroline Burt

It needs to be considered if the charges will become a barrier for people to use the parks and participate in active exercise. The charges should only be in place if there is no barrier.

3606 - Mark Dowers

Not opposed to this, however, changes to parking fees need to not alienate our poorest residents that most need our recreational spaces.

3611 - Sharon Dowers

I support parking charges at key parks, however I believe this should only be applied during standard business hours, with it remaining free over weekends and public holidays. Parking in the centre city is already sky high, and there needs to be a balance.

3615 - Janine Clarke

Providing that these fees are used to improve public or low environment impact transport to these sites.

3616 - Mark Webster

User pays is nothing new. The fee you suggest is certainly less than other private car parks around the city. However the parking areas you mention are not well maintained, and if fees are going to be charged, then improved drainage would need to be done (as they often flood with heavy rain)

3618 - Chrys Horn

I'm glad to see parking charges proposed for the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park. These areas are easy for most people to access using Public or active transport if they do not want to pay the costs. I Possibly there could be some concessions for those who have mobility passes. I must say $4.60 for three hours seems very cheap. This, like all car parking around the City, could and in my view should be increased so that people start to consider different transport options (e.g. park and ride) for getting into the city.

3635 - Jane Lila McKenzie

Proposed Charges To Fees and Charges pg 43 Parking Charges: I don't agree with full charges at the Botanical Gardens or Hagley Park, but do suggest four hours free, this will put a halt to all day parkers but still leave a decent time for others to lunch, walk and enjoy the gardens or paddle in the pools with children stress free.

3657 - Ruth Bullen

Free for 2 hours, charge for all day parking, don't prevent people from having access to places and the city

3660 - Alice Shanks

It is fair to charge for the use and maintenance of public car parks, as long as the time interval is long enough to enjoy or use the facilities at the park.

3661 - Steph Walker

As a regular user of the Botanic Garden carpark for Park Run, I tentatively support this, but wonder whether the first hour free, or a 9am-5pm (or daylight hours) could be incorporated for those people who use the park for short lengths of time.

3679 - Janet Perry

I can understand the rationale for adding parking charges at Hagley & Botanic gardens. Would prefer to have continued free parking /access to these locations but certainly please keep the rates at under $5 for 3 hours.

3680 - Bridgit Anderson

I think it's a great idea to charge for some parking to discourage car use and to encourage people to think about how precious resources are managed. But I think there should be an increase in accessible, free parking and availability for those with disabilities and the elderly.

3701 - Rod Hay

I support the proposal to introduce parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park, though consideration should be given to those parking charges not applying on weekends and public holidays.

372 - Kyle Bluck

I support parking charges and funding from that being used to slow our streets and build more separated cycleways.

3757 - Sonia Kennedy

While I don't love the concept of parking charges at certain parks, I do understand the requirement to boost income from other sources. If the charges can be kept lower than at privatised car parks (i.e. Wilson's) then I think that is more appropriate. Especially for families who use parks as a free outing with the kids - to then have to pay standard parking rates per hour negates the affordability of that activity. Even if there is a "first hour free" option available would be more palatable.

3758 - Mads Churchhouse

[Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Transport > Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)]

Instead of charging people for being forced to cars, urgently complete the bike lanes and buses so that there's a modal shift and they don't need their cars.

3764 - Jack Gibbons

I support the proposed charges at parks. Particularly the botanic gardens. The charges should be set as demand management measures. I am a regular park user. This would be very useful for events like Hagley Park Run, where often the car park fills up, circulation is very poor and there is no indication beforehand if the park will be full. Many runners can arrange alternative transport, although there does need to be better and more permanent bike parking as the stands close to the events areas fill up. (and the floating aluminium stands feel insecure and have low uptake)

3784 - Simona Wallwork (Nomads United AFC)

I agree as long as public transport options are increased.

3789 - Samantha Astin-Brown

As the new carpark at Parakiore is finished why not get that in use and charge for it? (I'm being serious)

3791 - Sandra Beltman

If council is considering introducing charges for parking at the Botanical Gardens, North and South Hagley Parks, I would have some objections. Considering the raft of rates increases being proposed, I would like council to consider giving local rate payers a parking charges exemption (sticker/card for the car?) for these areas, currently already being funded by rate payers contributions. Large motorhomes are often parked here, possibly due to the entertainment amenities and room to manouver into place, however perhaps they could pay a parking fee ?

3809 - Johnathon Ridden

If this offsets the level of rates increases then yes. I support only for a handful of parks.

3815 - Dianne French

I think it is important to have accessible free parking in Chch, especially in The Botanic Gardens. I have used these in the past for hospital visiting. However I think those people overstaying the 3 hour limit and parking on the yellow lines along the roadway/footpath into the carpark should be penalised - these measures need to be enforced.

3816 - Annette Bolton

Charging makes sense but only where there are alternative public transport options for people. For example, in Hagley Park a lot of hospital workers do shift work and might not necessarily be able to, or feel safe getting a bus. Ideally council should look into removing all private car parks so that the revenue goes back to the people and not to private companies offshore.

3826 - Kate Cleverly

i agree with the user pays approach to spread the load. I am concerned about charging for parking at the Botanic Gardens but if the fees collected are directed back into the gardens rather than lost in the overall pot i agree with this

3830 - Brenda Banning

Please keep Margaret Mahey parking free. The use of this park by all people and its accessibility is something to be preserved

3831 - Rick Jones

Charging for parking at some parks etc may see a decrease in usage and attendance however it's clear that some people working in the city use the Botanical gardens park for free. The other side of charging is the cost to enforce - if there is little gain in revenue - don't consider it.

3841 - Kate Hodgins

Yes, parking charges are useful to discourage cars, especially at parks such as the botanic gardens. I have used the car park myself as a cheaper alternative when visiting town- I'd still use it if I had to pay, or would make more effort to catch a bus/bike to town. My only caveat is that there needs to be alternative access modes, such as good, frequent bus services as well as safe, connected cycleways.

3845 - Wolfgang Rack

I find this justified if the parking charges are used to increase public transport and cycleways.

3846 - Rebecca Finch

I think that's an OK idea, I mean it discourages car use which is a good thing, but I do think some way needs to be found to make parking for older people/pensioners/those with disabilities free or very cheap as it's unfair to burden people on fixed incomes or lower incomes. People with higher incomes or flashier cars should pay more.

385 - Francesca Brown

Until public transport is up to scratch and frequent enough AND all the cycleways are actually finished, parking charges should apply only to people from out of town - ratepayers should have a sticker that allows free parking.

3875 - Maureen McCloy

That seems a pity to charge for parking at Hagley and the Gardens as everything else there is available for the public to freely visit. However, I appreciate that it is prime real-estate and a parking fee might encourage people to use other forms of transport.

That seems a pity to charge for parking at Hagley and the Gardens as everything else there is available for the public to freely visit. However, I appreciate that it is prime real-estate and a parking fee might encourage people to use other forms of transport.

3883 - Colin Meurk

again not aware of implications, but please don't make parks out of range of poorer citizens to enjoy.

3896 - Coral Denize

Yes, charging users instead of general charging seems okay - need to consider though that parks are free access for our young people and families, and charging for parking at parks may make accessing those beautiful spaces more challenging for these groups

3908 - Cathy Harlow

Car parking charges at key parks: what are you trying to achieve? If it's a revenue stream, then I don't agree: it's not useful in overall monetary terms and it's wrong because people should be able to enjoy the parks and we should try to facilitate that. If you're trying to stop people hogging free parking then calibrate the parking ticket machines: you always need a ticket but 2 (or 3) hours is free and after that you pay $4.20 (or whatever the going rate is) per hour

3910 - Joshua Jones

This is fine, more services should be pay to use but allow for free buses into the gardens say for poorer families

3921 - Alison Loveridge

Charging for parking at key parks is appropriate - except for disability parks.

3924 - Rachel Purcell

If you are going to charge fees for parking, there need to be alternative transport options, e.g. buses and safe bike lanes available.

3942 - Soongseok Yoon

If the charge might be quite expensive, people will not use the parking lots. I agree with the introducing parking charges, but it should be kept very reasonable.

3956 - Nicola McCormick

A lot of people will not be happy regarding this. Why has there not been revenue taken from these areas already in the form of parking wardens? Most have a parking time limit.

3980 - Marlene Rohan

Yes, to some changes for charges
i.e. Hagley Park, charge during the week but free on weekends.
Up the percentage charges on rates on churches. I would not want to see changes to time for parking at the Botanic Gardens

3996 - David Lough

CHARGE ^{AT} ~~IN~~ THE BOTANIC GARDENS.

4001 - Jennifer Porter

I see the need for parking charges at Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park but wonder at $4.60 for 3 hours? $$1.50 \times 3 = 4.50$. I wonder how this money will be calculated and policed?

4007 - Luka Whitaker

As long as the costs either have a large variance or a consistent affordable costs. E.g. no more than $1.50 per hour

4012 - Fiona Garrett

So long as you provide security for parked vehicles.

4027 - Rona Buttimore

On the wealthiest side of town yes

4034 - Remy Barbier

Make the car users pay. Except for those with disabilities.

4037 - Jo Kidd

I would support more user pay but not universally for some parks as then people wouldn't use them

404 - Annelise Bryant

give optional of a yearly subscription so people who visit the park often can save some money.

443 - Keryn Roberts

I disagree with this, one beauty of this space is that it is accessible for all and introducing a charge reduces this accessibility. I would agree with potentially charging for longer stay for example everyone gets free parking for say 3 hours and then if you want to stay longer there is a fee. Note that adding fees will also result in more people parking on side streets which will cause congestion and increased frustration for these residents who would see an increase in traffic without the correct traffic management plan.

47 - Jamie Billings

Parking should be free on Sundays everywhere to encourage people enjoying the inner city.

492 - Lyndon Telfer

If you introduce parking charges for Hagley park you need to monitor and enforce. I work in the city and people wh Iwork with don't bother paying for the onstreet parking. For the odd time they get caught it is cheaper to pay the fine. Maybe an opportunity for more revenue if existing parking was monitored?

494 - Casey Mathieson

I think it is appropriate for rates to be spread across services so ratepayers not using the service will not be paying for it. Also areas with high tourism could have increased fees for use for car parking etc. to help fund without taking money from people who live within the city and don't use the services

497 - Anna Taylor

Parks, galleries and museums change the lives of all who visit them. Visiting them should not be governed of limited to those who can afford them. The council should consider charging a visitors tax, similar to what's done overseas, so foreign visitors pay, not those who have to find a way to afford to live here

534 - Russell Hignett

[Transport>Carparking (Capital)]

Yes I accept introduction of parking charges at certain parks. This could encourage greater use of public transport. Parking for hospitals and for children's sporting events should be excepted.

577 - Donna Tse

Payment for parking means maintaining the surfaces, that is no pot holes, gravel surfaces and better toilet facilities

610 - Charlotte Borra

Good idea to introduce parking fees, as long as public transport options are made available or increased

612 - Annette Mauger

It is acceptable to charge small parking fees so long as they are reasonable and not ridiculously high - this will exclude families and others from attending some activities, especially if you are referring to Saturday/school sports grounds. If you want to charge to park near the gardens (next to Christs College), best you fill in the potholes and put a decent surface on the track

615 - Michael JasonSmith

[Fees & Charges > Other]

I am in favour of increased fees and charges if they are applied equitably to the residents, rather than just equally. To quote the Father of Capitalism, Adam Smith, "It is not very unreasonable that the rich should contribute to the public expense, not only in proportion to their revenue, but something more than in that proportion." Specifically to parking charges at key parks, these are reasonable if there are affordable and accessible transport options, such as cycling, for all residents.

652 - Sharon Howells (Sharon Howells School of Dance)

This would be ok but Wilsons should not play a part in our City Parking, the parking area is dark, dull of pot holes in the rain and insecure. The money should go into private Ch Ch City Security. When you pay to park your car you don't expect it to be vandalized or smashed into

655 - Patricia Holden

I think that most parks should be free. However the Armagh St carpark in the park could be the exception.

659 - Matt Dumont

In general I strongly support fees and charges for car parking; however I believe there should be exceptions to support those with disabilities with many mobility car parks excluded from fees and charges. Most members of the public have multiple options for transport (e.g. active transport & bus infrastructure); however those with disabilities often do not have the same choices; therefore as a community we should subsidise these parks.

666 - Stephen Palfrey

People will stop going unless you provide subsidised public transport.

6900 - Geraldine Jellyman

Yes parking charges at key parks but not if it impacts parents taking kids to their sports

698 - Danica Gilmore

Parking charges need to be low cost to prevent people avoiding the outdoors and exercise if this cost becomes a barrier. Charging around Hagley park will also just further penalise users of the hospital and its staff

70 - Noel Marceau

The Gardens carpark in Armagh St should remain free but a scanning of number plates similar to the Metro waste stations or movement sensing like at the airport could be utilized to warn (and potentially penalize those who exceed the four hours).

724 - Sophie Cooney

I believe parks and playgrounds should be free up to a certain time limit, eg: 30-60 mins free, longer, chargeable. This would mean people that can't afford to pay for parking can still visit and enjoy our public spaces for a short period, but it will deter overstaying or parking there all day for work etc

745 - Gretchen Bruner

Parking at parks should be free or a very small fee (like $2 a day).

749 - Sandra Pearson

Good idea but free for disabled parking.

769 - Julie Kidd

I support the proposal for parking charges at Hagley and the Botannic Gardens, as long as metering allows adequate time to enjoy the facilities and includes the ability to use the PayMyPark app and NOT contracted to Wilsons.

818 - Bevan Phillipson

Needs more discussion, community involved more

880 - Peter Kim

Fair. Should be 2 dollars an hour. Limit 3 hours. Or make it a coupon parking. Yearly fee type of structure.

Not Stated

100 - Anthea Fraser

Not aware of the details. Cost of revenue gathering, admin and surveillance c/b higher than the revenue.

1022 - Sally Burrows

I would not visit the parks if I had to pay for parking

1113 - Graeme Plank

[Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]

If car parking charges are to be introduced into the city parks as a user pays principle on top of vastly increased rates, then perhaps cyclists should be levied to help pay for the exceedingly expensive cycleways they have exclusive use of.

If the aim is to stop people coming into the city to visit parks for recreational activities and surrounding attractions such as The Arts Centre, Museum (when it reopens) etc then charging for parking will certainly help that aim. I don't think I've ever seen a cyclist riding in or out of Hagley Park with a full set of golf clubs.

1158 - Sheryl Elson

Dont mind that does not effect us

1163 - Nichola Tyson

We pay towards park maintenance, many families who have a limited budget go to parks, while revenue can be gained it's probably going to hit low income families in the pocket

1176 - Jamin Thomas

Although I don't have kids, one of my major memories was playing football in Hagley Park on a Saturday. Introducing parking fees on parents each time they play there is disincentive for parents.

1216 - Glenn Maguire

People will just park 100m down the street and annoy residents

1249 - Sally Michael

again please consider all income earners and what makes sense to these people.

1274 - Phillip Bewick

Just another tax... Parking increases will just stop people coming into the city.

Keep parking prices low, you will still make money with more people coming in.

1300 - Barbara Dunne

Charging the fees for the city parking will just mean more people will not to into the city.

1326 - Allison Oneill

yes, stop spending money you dont have instead.

1330 - Gary Bint

Is this proposal cost effective to run??

1385 - Bernice Kilkelly

I dont know how i geel about paying for a park when visiting a park/green/recreational park. You want to encourage people to these places not discourage it.

1397 - Andrew Sprouse

It's a risk that less people will come into the city

1428 - Conor Keena

I'm a bit conflicted about that. I'm a firm believer that low parking fees will bring people into the city more, but I also recognise the need to collect revenue. Specifically for the Botanic Gardens, I remember it was a great place to go with the buggy when the kids were small enough to have daytime naps, and paying a parking fee may change that for many young parents. Or maybe not.

1467 - Alistair Falconer

The proposal should encourage the public to walk rather than drive to the parks, so that has got to be good for both one's health and the environment.

1488 - Mel Brown

This was interesting and I totally see your point and its merits I just hope that it doesn't put people off using the facilities. But I guess $4.60 for three hours isn't too bad. Just don't make it over $5.00. It is mainly families I guess that use this and we want them to continue using it.

1501 - Jason Middlemiss (Waimāero Fendalton-Waimairi-Harewood Community Board)

The Board acknowledges that the car parking spaces in Hagley Park are not utilised to their full potential, because many people park here to visit destinations in the wider central city and not for visiting the Gardens. The Board also understands that this proposal is intended to increase revenue to offset the significant rates increase. However, charging people to park at Hagley Park is a very difficult proposition for our residents. The Board finds it distasteful that we are put in the position of deciding whether or not to support this proposal, when the Council was not willing to put other cost-saving options on the table.

152 - John Stickley

The more the council imposes parking fees the less people will use the amenities. Businesses will also suffer if a mandatory fee is imposed.

1533 - Mark George

Introducing parking charges at parks etc will most likely impact those with mobility problems who are less able to park and walk while increasing the parking issues in the surrounding areas as those who can avoid the area where fees are charged.

1599 - Megan Brown

Wilson's is already extortionate

161 - Sam Apps

There won't be any need to charge for parking as by the time you have finished there won't be any parks left to park a car. But hey at least we can all bike there right?

1630 - Bridie McKinnon

Attracting people into the city should be prioritised

1800 - Judith Deans

These need to be explored. Possible charges for Botanic Gardens

188 - Tony MacHarper

Although fairly low would the proposed parking fees at these places deter people from using them for recreational purposes?

1886 - Judith Dawson

No

2037 - Beverley Nelson

[Art Galleries & Museums > Art Gallery (operations)]

Parking at the Bot gardens? - not sure.

2058 - Janita Patrick

I personally don't like paying for parking but if others are happy to pay then that's up to them.

2092 - Jeremy Bruce

Christchurch city is so accessible because of free and reasonable parking policies. If you over do it, that will change and you'll hurt the vibrancy of your city and lose the trust of your community.

2124 - Mary Chase

Less people will seek to go to the parks.

2167 - Terry Frost

So you now want us to pay for parking in the likes of Hagley Park? User pays may need to be applied to other areas too.

2234 - Jane Edens

Its abit high dont ya think

2261 - Tony Hampton (Health New Zealand Te Whatu Ora – Waitaha | Canterbury)

Ref. Page 254

CCC is proposing to introduce parking charges in Hagley Park –$4.60 per three hours. This may or may not have implications for staff and/or patients who previously park in this area for free.
We (IIG) have not proposed a submission point -

2358 - Carolyn Moffat

While I would be reluctant to see this happen, particularly at Hagley Park, I do think it would deter people parking there and heading off for the day to work etc.

2388 - Guy Tapley

I believe the proposed changes are sensible.

2401 - Arlee Folkers

Charging for parking at parks is not going to make a significant difference to the proposed rate charges.

2602 - Dorothy Jordan

I think it's inevitable that charges for parking at key parks should happen, these are usually surrounded by streets where charging occurs.

2668 - Emma Geldard

Will it actually bring in that much money or will people stop using those parks? To be honest, if just go somewhere else with free parking in the same way I'll shop at a mall rather than in the central city

2678 - Fiona McKenzie

Would like to see council car parks rather than bloody Wilsons.

27 - Warner Wilson

Keep increasing parking and drive more and more people out of the city center. I dont go there and have no need to go there

277 - Jane Harrison

In some ways it is a good thing if it is encouraging people to use public transport/active transport.

2864 - Darin Cusack

Parking at key parks is short sighted and not dealing with core issues.

2865 - Natalie Henderson

It pains me, but I think paying for parking at Botanic gardens etc makes sense. However, I'm in 2 minds because i think people on the margins might not make use of the Park and playground if they have to pay parking. That would be disappointing.

2898 - Jack Allan

Inconvenient and avoided if possible - but as I advocate - user pays to some extent.

2923 - Amanda Peter

think you do have to be careful about no free parking anywhere as that reduces equity in useage for those on limited incomes.

3031 - Lee Osborn

User pays is good in principle but it would be a shame if the new charges exclude low income people from enjoying places such as the botanic gardens. I realise the current free parking is abused by some people which fills the spaces most days so it might help with this.

3046 - Gisela Faber

[Fees & Charges>Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)]

P. charges are awkward for visitors, but acceptable as one of many measures to deter cars.

3060 - Georg Ludwig

Parking charges can be as high as you like, it will finally fill the busses and get us on our bikes.

3099 - Stephen Miller

It will make little difference in a small, flat, spread out city like ChCh where it is easy to avoid such costs by walking.

3112 - Dr Edward Simpson

No

3257 - Fiona Jones

We are paying rates to maintain the parks if you want to charge parking that should go towards and not charge us more for it otherwise it doesn't benefit anyone

3279 - Sarena Harrison

Saturday morning sport? People will have to pay?

3315 - Jill Hargreaves

Targeting the wrong individuals.

338 - Jennifer Riley

we should not increase fees that create a barrier to access.

3404 - Maureen Heffernan

Parking charges will affect people with disabilities or young children. Please do not make them excessive if you must introduce.

3455 - Craig Steele

after reading the proposed fees changes. We visit the gardens and Hagley Park and the museum when it was open often because it has easy and free parking this would mean we would visit less unfortunately.

3466 - Mark Stapleton

Although petty in its approach hopefully it will encourage less car use ..

348 - Christiana Raphael

Parks if parking charges are introduced should be cheap. Personally doing so reduces access to a resource that all should have access not just the well off.

3483 - Jo Bethell

I have mixed views on introducing parking charges at key parks - I can see some benefits in terms of additional revenue raising, and maybe providing some encouragement to use alternate forms of transport, but as a user of Hagley Park for various childrens sporting events, and e.g. Park run, the logistics of paying for parking would be annoying!

3486 - Kelly Chapman

Parking charges at the gardens seems consistent with other areas around the CBD.

3493 - Brendon Lee

Parking Fees are a low revenue stream which mainly deters the public from parking at these places.

3499 - Allana Paulin

Thats crazy so not even going to a park will be free which is an outing alot of families do because it is free

3540 - Philip Robinson

people will not go to parks if parking fees are charged.

3596 - Susan Lau

I can see the rationale behind introducing parking fees for the gardens and Hagley Park, but what I wonder is how you are balancing this with ensuring that families surviving on lower incomes have equal access to them? It feels like it would be like if you were to introduce fees for parking for the public libraries, rec centres, sports halls, council service centres etc. This would mean that we are cementing in social stratification and segregation where this kind of enrichment is only possible for the middle class and the wealthy. Yes, people do have some option of using public transport, but I fear that this change will particularly affect families with lower incomes the most.

360 - Wendy Pollock

As long as it actually more than covers costs, otherwise ridiculous

362 - Christine Stiles-Pickard

People from the low income demographic should be able to enjoy the Botanic Gardens As mentioned before with rates, insurance and food prices increasing exponentially, finances are being stretched to the limit

3712 - Zeta Pringle (Coalition for safe accommodation in Christchurch)

Visitors and Residents do not expect to pay for parking at parks .

3726 - Cliff Mason

Parking charges should only be applied where there is easy and frequent public transport access directly to the site.

396 - Daniel Jackson

Overall parking fees ends up stopping me wanting to go there entirely. If there's free parking then I often make more of an effort to go to those places instead. People are getting nickel and dimed as it is, paying for parking in order to go and spend money tends to dissuade me.

4003 - Kristine Jolliy

[Fees and Charges > Other]

Yes I agree. But make the tour company buses pay. E.g. Mona Vale. The tourists flock to here but don't pay to go in. The toilets, footpaths etc all need maintaining.

4004 - Nathalie Le Bras

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Public Transport]

Less car parking more public transport

416 - Mike Cleaver (Canterbury)

interestingly that proposal could be considered a step in reducing car dependency, which I love, but I would want to know that there are many suitable and affordable alternatives. For example would it be sensible to provide some kind of park and ride service from a further out area in the city to the city centre. this might be useful for visitors and commuters alike. I feel like the impacts of such proposals are not just fiscal but also ecological too, by increasing fees of city parking, more people will find alternatives to cars (hopefully) and thus help the city reach environmental impact goals.

418 - Molly Magid

I think parking charges are a great way to incentivise people to take public transport or engage in active transport

499 - Michael Sumpter

The concern is that by adding charges to parking at places such the botanic gardens, you add a barrier to use to the poorer parts of our community. In general I support user pays to a reasonable level.

572 - Brian Nelson

Charging for parking is a "loss-making" exercise.

587 - Diana Holderness

705 - John Hendrickx

712 - Liz van Montfort

713 - Matthew Irving

Due to the council being anti car, any opportunity to make it harder for cars to enter the city the council will take. I and no doubt many many drivers no longer travel into the city. I think the council will increase charges due to the above reason and not being able to balance there budgets.

715 - Hayley Barrett

I imagine you've overestimated how much this will get for the Council as people simply won't park in the parks and will park on the street. I don't love this idea, but revenue has to come from somewhere and this is a user pays society, so it does seem like a way of bringing down the price of rates slightly.

720 - David Leafa

Sure, if you want to keep people away.

877 - Helen Hessey

Although I don't own a car, and the bus is my regular form of transport, almost every day, I hear about the huge cost of parking a car in town. It seems exorbitant.

906 - Alister Ferguson

This proposal would probably result in fewer people using the facilities as free parking should go hand in hand with free use

Venue Charges (Parks)

General Comments

16 submissions were received on the proposed venue charges for parks.

12 provided comments in support of the proposal, and 2 provided comments in opposition.

1 provided an alternative proposal, and 1 provided a general comment about the proposed venue charges for parks.

Officer Response

We asked submitters if they would support an increase in our venue charges, ranging from 9.5 – 10.9%.

Submissions supporting proposed venue charges:

The majority of the submitted responses expressed support for increased venue charges. Reasons provided included user-pays being an appropriate model for venues (rather than being funded by rates) and that this allows charging of those who do not reside in CCC boundaries.

Submissions opposing proposed venue charges:

Only two responses opposed the charges on the grounds that parks should not be an income producer and because of concerns that this would lead to rising costs in the future.

Venue charges allow revenue to be raised by charging those who use the facilities, which can indeed include those who reside outside of Christchurch City Council boundaries. These only apply to individual facilities and venues while park use remains free.

Yes, We have a user pays model and for too long, users of services have not been paying. Traffic from outside of Christchurch (non Christchurch residents) who use CCC roads and infrastructure, libraries, parks pools, but pay no rates, should be paying in some form. Local residents who are more likely to be able to walk to these parks, venues, etc, are paying for the location through their increased rates already, so should through that method, benefit if they do not need to park at a venue.

If you are going to charge for parking at Botanic Gardens then don't put events there. We have a HUGE city - the East of Christchurch has plenty of land which is under utilised. Why not have NYE or Sparks in the Park in the East Zone - lots of free parking. If you charge for parking, then have to employ parking wardens, etc. Realistically how much are you going to save ! A prime example of a waste of money with regards to parking is at QEII Sports Centre where parking barriers were installed (was intended to be free parking for a couple of hours whilst using the centre), however, the barriers never worked. Why didn't the council ask for a refund ? The defunk barriers are still there (without the arms).

Officer Response

Support the proposed fees and charging users of the resource consent service.
Concern about misalignment of fees and impact on cost of affordable housing.

Resource consent fees only apply when an application is made for resource consent for development that is in breach of the District Plan rules. Many housing developments can comply with the rules and do not require a resource consent.

The fees reflect the cost of running the resource consent service, and reducing or waiving the fees for affordable housing would require funding via rates.

The majority of submissions support the proposed fees.

Yes I do have thoughts on what I see as a lack of vision. I want to discuss the hurdles CCC place in front of potential small business owners in the city. For the last 2 years I have been trying to lease a site within the four avenues. Countless possible renters have made contact only to walk away because of the fees charged by CCC. The space is tiny-25 sq metres. The site sits on a busy egress and exit route. It would make a great little cafe. However every time sometimes approaches the planners at CCC (who are very polite and who have encouraged me to write this submission, the potential renters realise that CCC costs make their wish to for a resource consent make their venture impossible. To give a little more detail. Costs are an $800 pre consent meeting. A $4,000 deposit , with a statement from CCC that the consent might cost more and might cost less. And the recommendation from CCC that getting a professional planner on board is advisable. So maybe $10k in CCC costs for a start up business to open their door. Each time entrepreneurial youngsters wanting to start their first business walk away shaking their heads at CCC. For me it's difficult because the site used to have consent and currently carries consent for smaller numbers. There are no complexities. It's a straightforward case. So it might be interesting to consider what other communities have done for their people when their city has been trying to get back on its feet after a calamity. As part of my work as a filmmaker I visited New Orleans 5 years after Hurricane Katrina. Here I interviewed a local official who described how actively New Orleans sought out startups to 'green shoot' their depleted city. I have a video I would like to show. Here you shall see an official describing the importance to the city of small business repopulating the rebuilt city centre. To achieve this the city adopted a zero fees policy for start-ups that came with a business mentor attached. New Orleans was proud of their ground up approach to restoration. By way of contrast, Christchurch appears to have favoured the larger corporate business. In sense that is short sighted and comes with a lack of vision.

General Comments

17 submissions were received on the proposed building consent fees.

8 provided comments in support of the proposal, and 1 provided a comment in opposition.

3 provided alternative proposals, and 5 provided general comments about the proposed building consent fees.

Officer Response

The general support for increasing building consent application deposits is acknowledged. Note that there are no additional processing fees for applicants because of this proposal. Changes are only proposed to application initial deposits. Building consent application deposit fees are proposed to be increased to align better with the average cost of processing a building consent application. This better manages the applicant's expectation of fees and assists in reducing disputes about fees.

Objection to proposed changes to building consent application deposits.

Council proposes to increase deposits required for building consent applications. This will not increase the overall building consent application fees. It only means that a higher deposit is received up front which better manages expectations about overall fees and assists with reducing fee disputes.

Theme: Building Consenting Processes:

For building consenting, Council follows the process required under the Building Act 2004 using internal staff to complete tasks and its processes are regularly audited by IANZ. Contractors are sometimes required for overflow processing or where specialist expertise is required. As the cost of the process is recovered from the applicant, applicants do incur processing fees. Council appreciates these costs, and continues to review its process to improve customer service and streamline processes. There are no potential cost implications, external factors or implications for climate action, Mana Whenua, Accessibility.

In addition to advocating for increased operational and capital spending to enhance services, including safety audits for buildings.

No additional funding has been requested or proposed for safety audits for buildings (BWO). The current funding level allows for council to meet its legislative obligations.

Theme: Climate Change and Building Consents

Building code requirements are set nationally (through the Ministry of Business, Innovation and Employment) and the Council cannot require more than that when we issue a building consent. Unless the Government makes changes to legislation, we are limited in what we can require. We do make submissions to the Government / MBIE when they consult on proposed changes, as can any person.

The building code does not cover all aspects of building on a site, which is where the District Plan can be outlined below.

The impact that climate change may have is considered with building consents. For example, required floor levels for new houses include an allowance for 50 years of predicted change.

The District Plan is prepared under the Resource Management Act (RMA) and manages the effects of land use, subdivision and development on the environment. Council has a responsibility to manage significant risks from natural hazards including the effects of climate change under the RMA. For example, there is policy direction in the District Plan to avoid or restrict subdivision, development, and land use in areas of higher risk, as well as to manage the effects of hazards through methods such as higher floor levels. Council has commenced work on a plan change to manage the risks associated with coastal inundation and erosion including effects of sea level rise, and is preparing a plan change that seeks to manage the effects of development in extended areas affected by river and rainfall flooding.

The Council's programme of work also includes a Coastal Hazards Adaptation Planning Programme, which is about preparing now for the effects of coastal hazards on our communities, infrastructure and environment so that we are ready for what may happen in the future.

Council is proposing through plan change 14 (Housing and Business Choice) that financial contributions are required from anyone developing land that do not retain or plant 20 per cent tree canopy cover on a site. The plan change also proposes the protection of trees by making the listed protected trees in the current District Plan a 'Qualifying Matter' to limit the extent of intensification. In doing so, it provides for increased resilience to climate change

Commercial building consents - complaint about the requirement to have accessible service areas.

The building code requires accessible reception and service counters. As a regulatory authority, the Council is expected to ensure that building work complies with the code.

Precedence was set with Determination 2004/13 Access and facilities for people with disabilities in a tavern, concluded that the counter in a bar that was 1100mm high for its full length did not comply with Clause G5 of the Building Code as it made no provision for people with disabilities.

MBIE's website offers valuable guidance on counter height. It suggests that a 900mm high counter is practical for wheelchair users and is also a usable height for people standing. Furthermore, it deems a minimum of 900 mm wide section of a bar counter at the level of 900 mm as adequate.

Note, we have previously accepted that accessible bar counters are not required where the space is set up as a restaurant (often including a maitre'd counter) to provide table service to eat a meal rather than primarily set up as a bar, where most patrons will be moving about and will likely need to approach a bar counter to order drinks and/or food.

2545 - Antony Gough (Terrace Christchurch Ltd)

There is a person in the council building consent department who has taken it upon themselves to demand a lowered disabled bar section in all new hospitality building consents. All bars are also restaurants at The Terrace and as such offer table service for people in wheelchairs. I am not aware of any bars and restaurants in Christchurch that have a lowered section for wheelchair service. When I asked people who are in wheelchairs how they expect to get served at bars and restaurants they all said they preferred table service. This person does not seem to realise that you cannot have a bar liquor license without also serving food. So then the restaurant in question pointed out that they do table service. The council officer then wanted to see exactly what the kitchen equipment was to be even though it was fully disclosed in the building consent. This is simply adding delays and costs to our architects having to respond by pointing out what was included in the building consent. This is a person who is not enabling but is doing the opposite.

Response: Many customers find charges a barrier to their use of the libraries (research was undertaken later 2021), so introducing membership fees or reintroducing fines would make some library services inaccessible for them.

Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)

225 submissions were received on the proposed changes to car parking fees (on-street and off-street).

51 provided comments in support of the proposal, and equally 51 provided comments in opposition.

100 provided an alternative proposal, and 25 provided general comments about the car parking charges.

Officers Response

Submitters provided feedback on the proposed increase in fees and charges for car parking in the central city, as well as having free or discounted parking for those working or visiting Christchurch Hospital.

Car Parking Fees and charges

There was support for increasing parking charges as a way to encourage the use of public transport. Alternatively, there was feedback that current charges were expensive, should be cheaper or free as high costs discourage visits to the CBD.

Council takes a market-based approach to setting parking fees, based on the supply and demand for parking around the City. The implications of reducing parking fees in the central city include loss of revenue, longer stays by users and less turnover for parking spaces.

To set the parking fees, Council regularly reviews the charges set in other main centres around New Zealand, and takes a comparative approach, which is appropriate to local market conditions.

Hospital Parking

Parking demand adjacent to the Hospital has been high for a number of years and with a new car park building opening in late 2023 on the corner of St Asaph Street and Hagley Avenue, it is expected that this will help accommodate some of the demand. The building has 463 spaces.

There is also the “CDHB Park n Ride” Carpark at 25 Deans Avenue where users can park their vehicle and take a free shuttle to the Hospital.

[Libraries > Libraries (Capital)], [Recreation, Sports & Events > Pools (Capital)], [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)]

- I request the expansion and proper funding of the parking enforcement team. Currently it operates only short working hours, so enforcement of parking can not be carried out at times when it is really needed (e.g. Thu - Sat evenings, where people are instead required to call the police to report a parking offence but the Police are under enough pressure already at these times). The enforcement team should also allow the public to report using alternative methods such as sending time-stamped photos to a monitored email address or Snap Send Solve. The current system of needing to call a phone number is slow, inefficient and not cost effective. The rationale for this is equity and accessibility for all. For some people it is not easy to “just go around” a car parked on the footpath such as those using crutches/walking frame, a wheelchair, a mobility scooter, or pushing a pram. I also request a review of fines, as they have not been increased in years and may not be sufficiently high to act as a deterrent or to cover the cost of enforcement.

o Increases in car parking fees within the CBD. o Monitoring of illegal parking, (particularly on Thu-Sat nights) with appropriate penalties.. o Ability for bus drivers and citizens to report illegal parking with photo or video evidence, and it be acted on with penalties.

2847 - Colleen Philip (Sustainable Ōtautahi Christchurch)

>>> [Fees and Charges > Car Parking(Parks)] We would prefer you seek alternate places to implement or increase parking charges. Why do we have Wilson’s carparking in private ownership? This should be publicly owned and the proceeds support the Council. We have been told that Council would lose money if it owned these carparks but this makes no sense given a private company chooses to own them and appears to be making enough money to continue to do so.

I agree with charging for parking. Make sure that the monies collected are used to maintain Ch Ch 's precious historical places.

3136 - John Hynes

I think charging for parking in very popular areas like that is a good idea, especially if it encourages people to consider bus/cycling/walking instead.

I support these initiatives

3523 - Kate Hedworth

Increased parking charges is good and I fully support.

3525 - Andrew Hey

[Transport > Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)], [Transport > Footpaths & Streetscapes (Capital)], [Parks > Tree Canopy]

Parking charges in general should be increased around the city, and free on-street parking within the four avenues should be reduced or even eliminated in favour of paid parking or repurposing the space to bus or mobility lanes, or increasing footpath or urban canopy cover.

Parking is mostly free in this city. This results in an enormous amount of public land given over to free storage of private motor vehicles. It would make sense to extend paid parking throughout our busiest neighbourhoods; and where paid parking exists either implement dynamic parking pricing, or at least increase existing parking fees in line with inflation.

3585 - Rachel Fulton

[Fees and Charges > Car Parking (Parks)]

Increase parking charges across the city, including the proposed parking fees at the Botanic gardens and Hagley park. I can take the bus or cycle to this area very easily and it would raise a huge amount of money. Higher parking fees could then be put directly towards subsidising buses and creating more cycling infrastructure. We'd have a disincentive to drive, an incentive to bus or bike, less air and noise pollution,

3625 - Angela Brett

[Fees & Charges>Car Parking (Parks)]

Parking charges sounds great! I think in general the only way to help people make changes to how they move around the city is to disincentivize driving and parking in monetary ways.

Parking charges generally could be increased, to promote alternative transport.

Parking charges should be increased around the city. This would incentivise public and active transport use. In disincentivizing increased car usage, we could also improve the air quality and accessibility of our city.

3802 - Matthew Baird

I also support parking charges increasing across the city for on street/ground level parking. This will incentivise active & public transport use and reduce demand, improving the air quality of the city.

3835 - Hiren Patel

All car parking in the city should be charged.

[Fees and Charges > Car Parking (Parks)], [Transport > Carparking]

I support the introduction and increase of parking charges on all council owned parking as this will help fund other projects and discourage car use in a time that is critical for our planet. Privately owned car parks, such as Wilsons, must also be bought up by council.

Don't increase fees, these car parks bring locals into the city. Private car parks are already way too expensive.

1491 - Lindsay Richards (Westmorland Residents Association)

I think that's pretty miserable. There's already a shortage of parking around the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Parks and there will be people who can't or won't pay to park there, which will just add to the congestion. For another 0.31% leave it like it is.

Ridiculous. Worse enough you allow wilsons to dominate the parking around the city. Kick them out and let the council run the parking.

2507 - Bronte Barber

Parking around the city is currently $4.60 and now many streets with an excessive amount of time limits. It does not make it welcoming to how we want to be an inviting city. Local/residents already struggle trying to park with time limits now appearing on many residential streets. Its hard enough as a teacher to park at schools when 90% have 120 time limits.

264 - Raizel Reyes

Excessive parking fees discourage people from going out, exploring and spending in the city. It is a deterrent to people spending and supporting local, with so many other fee increases already cutting into everyone's incomes.

Again, in these tough economic times, extra charges should not be introduced. Parking charges are already expensive - which is difficult for retailers— you need to be making the city and its environs more accessible and desirable for people- not less.

2699 - Graham Beswick

I have never been a fan of overseas company Wilsons operating our carparks all the money should be retained in our city and not topping up off shore investors

Give us a break. 3106 - Kim Georgine (Te Puna Matarau)

We feel like parking costs are already a barrier to events and production activity, so no. We feel like parking should be made more readily available at various destinations around the city. We also feel that any company that provides parking and has council contracts (if any) as well as private companies who provide parking should be mandated to ensure that they meet certain quality controls, i.e. paved spaces, monitoring for glass etc...

3155 - Robyn Ratcliff

It would be good to see parking charges at park carpark, as it affects all city users?

Parking in parks must be free.

3429 - Somnath Bagchi (Avonhead Community Group Incorporated)

The primary mode of transport for Christchurch residents is driving - not cycling or buses. Driving is more convenient for the ageing population. Driving is also better for businesses, as it is inconvenient for a person on a bus or a cycle to bring back as many bags of shopping compared to a person who is driving back. Additionally, environment-friendly cars will become increasingly prevalent, meaning that driving will cease to hurt the environment. Given these factors, there is no benefit in disincentivising driving by having increased or new parking charges (or, for that matter, making roads less car-friendly).

3444 - Jo McGregor

Don't charge any more for car parking.

3668 - Gavin Hardie

Fees are too high - parking fees in the Central City are far too high which now means I never visit the city centre as it is less costly to visit my local shopping centres.

I despair of your parking policies. I avoid going into town when I used to meet friends after work at 5pm for early dinners but now we go to the suburbs or mall.

3693 - Lynette Wills

Parking in the central city is far too high. This means that older people do not choose to visit the heart of the city and only explore their local shopping precincts. Best to bypass central city businesses and shops until parking is cheaper and more affordable.

3733 - Helen Reason

[Fees and Charges > Car Parking (Parks)]

I don't think it's fair to charge people using the Botanic Gardens. However, some people are parking there and walking to other areas in the city because it's free.

Parking charges seem to be steadily increasing in the pay for parking areas - and I consider it a disincentive to go in the central city area unless on a Sunday or after business hours.

3806 - Simon Green

Parking costs are killing the central city businesses. Why would anyone come into the centre of ChCh if they can park at a mall for free? We own homes in ChCh and in Rangiora, and we come into town often. Parking is off-putting and far too high.

634 - Caitlyn Due

Parking has always been an issue. I love the free parking along the beachfront for road trippers but I don't believe this needs to have a time limit on so that during the day it is free however at night time there is a cut off time and people who stay there are encouraged to use camping ground (south brighton or/bring back Rawhiti camping) to bring money into the area but also allow locals to use these other car parking areas especially during events. By adding extra costs especially Wilson's car parking I'm afraid this will deter people from even trying to come to NEw Brighton. Keep the ramp parking free

1452 - Maraed Riley

Indeed, implementing a fee for non-residential area parking is prudent. Freedom camping zones should remain exempt to support tourism.

1515 - Andrew Douglas-Clifford

We also need to increase street parking charges in order to incentivise public transport and cycling use, and improve our air quality.

152 - John Stickleby

Have all the "pay-to-park" car parks owned solely by the Council so the money stays in the City for infrastructure funding. Not owned by some overseas corporation.

1522 - David Alexander

I think we have a very good bus system. I think that the cost of parking should be comparable, maybe even linked, to the cost of the bus. I think that paying for parking should use a system similar to paying tolls in the North Island. This would keep the current experience the same, meaning people who park don't have to argue with a disagreeable parking meter. This would also allow the council to introduce tolls or congestion charging in future.

1540 - Isabel Carlyon

2391 - Mitchell Rogers

Parking near the hospital should be subsidised if you are visiting/dropping someone off there. Maybe getting a ticket from inside to reduce the fee.

2466 - Tracey Cloughly

If you are wanting to attract people into the city or popular areas for businesses then parking needs to be lower. On street parking from apartments is also putting pressure on free parking, maybe you need to change the rules and have parking included with apartments. Definitely puts people off in coming into the CBD

2479 - Jacqui Raymond

The only problem with this is that it might discourage people from visiting the city centre. If we do this, we need to make public transport better

2559 - Michael Campbell

>>> I also advocate for the augmentation of parking charges across the city to promote the utilisation of public and active transportation. By discouraging excessive reliance on cars, we can enhance both air quality and the overall accessibility of our urban environment. INCREASE DIRECT INCOME TO THE COUNCIL

In the 2022/23 financial year, Council received $4,460,096 in parking and special vehicle lane related infringements. The current number of parking compliance FTE positions is 27; however this number depends on the number of vacancies in the team.

SUBMISSION POINT 8: Double income from parking and related infringement operations as a starting point in the LTP; increasing staff positions in this area accordingly and set performance targets. Enforcement of parking and vehicle restrictions will act as a deterrent to poor behaviour and add needed income to the City's coffers.

2817 - Emma Twaddell (St Albans Residents' Association)

Increase central city parking costs to contribute to and encourage PT use.

2845 - Erin Todd

In general, parking fees should be increased all around the city and the number of free car parks should be reduced. This will incentivise active and public transport use, reduce emissions, and improve the feel and accessibility of the city.

More value can come from existing assets - for example, increasing (or adding) parking fees at council facilities

perhaps you should also consider a >>> increasing charging rates for on-street and off-street parking in general. This would encourage more people to consider more sustainable transport options such as cycling, busing, or even carpooling. You should also consider lowering the threshold for excess water charges; the original threshold value in the original consultation was totally appropriate and it was disappointing that a higher value ended up being chosen.

Citywide Parking Charges: In addition to the specific charges at key parks, I recommend considering an increase in parking charges across the city. This measure would serve as an incentive for residents and visitors to utilize public and active transport options more frequently. By disincentivizing car usage, we can expect to see benefits such as improved air quality, reduced greenhouse gas emissions, and enhanced accessibility and mobility within the city. This approach aligns with the Council's strategic priorities of creating a green, liveable city and reducing emissions.

- Increased Charging for Parking in Council Facilities: Reviewing and potentially increasing the charges for parking in Council-owned facilities could serve as another revenue source. This strategy not only generates income but also encourages the use of public and active transport, aligning with the Council's sustainability goals.

I think a better plan would be to pay for parking on Barbados street, particularly with the upcoming stadium. This in turn has the added advantages of encouraging commuters from outside of Christchurch to take public transport

2947 - Katia De Lu

Furthermore, charges should be increased for CCC-owned parking throughout the city for the same reasons.

3012 - George Laxton

I want to see parking prices increased in other parts of the city, then those who can pay can pay the cost, or they can decide to ride a bike or take public transport. [Transport > Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)]

3055 - Josephine Drysdall

I would also encourage raising parking charges for on-street and ground-level council parking to encourage the shift to more climate-friendly transport options.

3115 - Jane McCulla

Parking charges are big compared to other places...it would be nice to see 1st two hours free or some incentive for people to be encouraged to visit the city. They would linger longer and spend more.

312 - Shane Binder

I also note that parking infringements have increased in line with most fees. As infringements generally are incurred by people who knowingly violate parking regulations, they should also be increased at a rate higher than other fees as a means of discouraging this behaviour (while Council would not want to be seen to discourage use of parks and facilities through fee increases!).

3129 - Skye Arnopp

Only if the charges are used to maintain the local parks, and they are administered by local council and not by a third party private parking entity like the insidious Wilsons group.

Keep parking costs down to a gold coin donation. No one will mind this.

319 - Fay Stickley

Cheaper and better parking would help the community.

3192 - Janene Burnett

No, I support charging a fee directly to people using it. However, extra inflated prices for using cards at paymachines like currently across the city should be avoided as it is not in line with the max 3% that card providers charge.

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Strategic Transport]

Yes, cost reductions should not come from any kind of service cut or cuts to future-focused projects such as climate change and active transport projects. Revenue could be generated from congestion charging and increased parking charges.

3411 - Marian Krogh (Protect Our Winters NZ)

Overall parking fees should increase for council provided parking city-wide. There needs to be more incentives to take public transport, to walk, or cycle. This would again result in less congestion, meaning those who need to drive will be able to do so more efficiently, less air and noise pollution.

3414 - Chrissie Williams

I propose that parking in Lichfield St car park building be increased further than the proposed ~5% to 20%

3436 - Sara Campbell

Parking charges should be increased in the city. Anywhere there is access to public transport and active transport networks I support increasing parking charges. This will reduce car dependency and lead to less climate emissions, better air quality, less car congestion, reduced road maintenance costs, healthier people and therefore less of a burden on our health system.

3497 - Cerys Fletcher

For the same reason, I advocate for parking charges to be increased around Ōtautahi generally. Using public and active modes of transport should be the most accessible, affordable, convenient, and enjoyable way of getting around Ōtautahi - driving should not be the default method for people to transport themselves, and increased parking charges could help encourage this mode shift, at least in the central city.

3519 - Fiona Fenton

Additional income can be achieved if ccc takes back car parking sites that are being used by private companies like Wilson. Council could also increase revenue by enforcing parking restrictions eg people parking on grass berms or parking across and blocking pavements. Examples of these infringements seen daily in Sumner. Wandsworth Borough Council in London has some of the lowest rates in the UK due to the amount of revenue generated by parking fines.

3573 - Joyce Yager

[Fees & Charges > Car Parking (Parks)]

I strongly support introducing parking charges, including additional parking charges throughout the city to discourage driving short distances into town.

3613 - Catherine McLeavy

In central city agree with parking charges as this equalises parking in the city centre.

3614 - Lin Roberts

- Parking charges should be increased around the city. This would incentivise public transport use and cycling use, and enhance the city centre as a pedestrian friendly vibrant space. It would also improve the air quality of our city.

3618 - Chrys Horn

Car parking is considerably more expensive in other cities. I don't think we should be afraid of putting up charges for parking in Christchurch.

3621 - Morgane Honore

I advocate for increasing parking charges across the city. By raising parking fees, we can incentivize the use of public and active transport alternatives, thereby reducing car dependency, improving air quality, and mitigating emissions. This shift aligns with our city's commitment to sustainability and fosters a more accessible and environmentally friendly urban environment.

3622 - Jono de Wit

Car parking charges should be increased across the city. The current costs are low and do not truly reflect the real cost of providing so much public space for car storage in our city. Car users are being subsidised by people who do not use a car or do not use a car often and I think this is wrong.

3627 - Patrick O'Kane

[Fees & Charges>Car Parking (Parks)]

I think parking charges at key parks is a terrible idea. I think it will lead to a reduction in the utilisation of these facilities. Adjusting the charges in other council car parks might encourage their use more (eg $1-$2 per hour for four hours) might encourage more use of these spaces and generate more income that way. Adding charges to Hagley park feels like a stick to drivers, whereas lowering fees in other car parks might be seen as more of a carrot to encourage their use.

[Transport>Carparking (Capital)]; [Strategic Direction>Have we got the balance?]

Stop removing free car parks and offer more reasonable pricing in council run car parks (eg $1-$2 per hour for first four hours) to encourage people into the central city. Also maybe subsidise or offer parking support to hospital staff to make the commute easier. (Currently I park at daycare if I can get a spot, drop my kids and then walk 20 mins to work which means I am late almost every day).

3634 - Peter Cooper

Parking around the new stadium should be the only exception, if roads need upgrading around this facility, it should be user pays.

3655 - Dan Manton

I support increased parking charges on weekdays in city. I believe emphasis should be on getting commuters out of cars - hence weekdays - and that should be free on weekends to stimulate economy and access to sport and recreation facilities,

3658 - Tom Logan

1. Parking charges should be increased around the city. It's not typically regarded as a service, but the provision of parking at no cost to the motorist is a service in that an expensive Council asset is being occupied, especially expensive within the city. A

768 - Volker Nock

Illegal parking on footpaths, cycleways and grass verges, blocking access and forcing disabled residents, parents with young children or buggies, cyclists or other residents on to the road has become a significant problem in Christchurch and makes it unsafe for non-motorized citizens to get around. It also negates many advantages of the new cycleways network. Currently, it is only possible to report illegal parking via a phone call and parking staff need to attend in person. While I have found parking staff very proactive, usefulness of the current system is obviously extremely limited by office hours and timing of the arrival of staff. We urgently need it to be possible to report illegal parking via mobile phone apps providing an integrated evidence chain (photo, GPS, time and date, such as the already used Snap, Send & Solve) and for parking services to be enabled (required) to fine based on such reports (without a parking warden needing to be physically present). I understand that this is already the case with other councils in New Zealand, so there must be a legal precedent which can also be applied in Christchurch. Unfortunately, behaviour like this will only change when people get stung with fines, during and outside council working hours. Given an appropriate evidence chain such as provided by modern integrated mobile phone apps, the onus of proof needs to be on the motorist/registered owner, not the person reporting, otherwise nothing is going to change.

Parking is an issue for Banks Peninsula residents that have NO PUBLIC transport option to the city, and MUST use a car and have to PAY to park. There are many examples where public services in the city are no available to rural residents as we have no option but to drive and park, Te Pae, the central library, the hospital, all of these services are not available to rural Banks Peninsula and Akaroa, as there is no public transport options into the centre of the city. It is all very well for city residents who can take the public bus in from their place of residence to charge them for parking in the city. It is our city too, we pay rates but we are discriminated against due to the parking costs. Just because we live on Banks Peninsula does not mean we are wealthy and can afford these extra costs.

161 submissions were received on other fees and charges.

26 provided comments in support of proposed fees and charges, and 16 provided comments in opposition.

99 provided alternative proposals for fees and charges, and 23 provided general comments about fees and charges.

Officers Response

Mixed responses but general support for user fees and charges better reflecting costs. Specific comments focussed on:

- Parking fees and tolls to fund public transport
- Pool and gym fees are too cheap and should better reflect the market.
- Base fees for library, museum and gallery users
- Tourist charges, a tourist tax, and levy sharing with Govt. Such a proposal would involve significant advocacy, business case modelling and engagement with Central Government over some years.
- Introduce a ratepayers card and set general charges for others higher.
- Increase Dog registration fees, use funds for Dog Park provision and maintenance.

Currently Parking Fees are not ring fenced to fund Public Transport, and are used to offset the general rate.

The submission on the ratepayers' card which considered an entry fee, could sit between a community services card fee and a general entry fee. i.e. discount for ratepayers (could be nil for some facilities). Residents who rent, ratepayers who live outside the district, but own property and pay rates would need consideration, we would also need to consider the costs of implementing using smart technology. Possible implementation obstacles include; high transaction and administrative costs for a relatively low marginal costs from the additional users, cost/benefits. Such a proposal would require a fully costed business case.

Dog registration fees are currently planned for 24/25 at $2.64m. They cover direct Dog control activities, registration and the Dog Shelter. They do not currently contribute to Dog Park construction or maintenance. Parks do not currently separately account for Dog Park maintenance.

It would be relatively easily to do this with an internal charge between Parks and the Dog account assuming costs were known and Councillors were of the opinion the benefit was to dog owners rather than ratepayers.

Community Services, Super Gold and Kiwiable/Hahai Cardholders are offered discounts on certain recreation and sports admittance fees, ie swimming pools, Jellie Park, Taiora QEII and Gym membership.

The commercial excess water fee per cubic metre (1,000 litres) is increasing in line with residential to $1.41 (incl GST). Revenue of $5.2 million is budgeted in 24/25 equating to 4.27 million m³.

Parking fees and tolls to fund public transport would assist with mode change to aid greenhouse emissions.

[Fees and Charges > Car Parking (Parks)], [Borrowing & Debt Management]

Charging fees is not an efficient way to pay debt. The payment for the parking etc is simply another way of increasing the cost of living for households. Reducing the debt by, for example, delaying some of the projects till a time when the country is in a generally healthier financial state will take the pressure off the households. More fees, regardless of what they are for still comes out of the household incomes.

3913 - Mark Darbyshire

I oppose the proposed pricing change to 10-visit passes for He Puna Taimoana due to an error in the information displayed in the draft LTP. The 2023/24 fees shown are incorrect; they are higher than the fees listed on the He Puna Taimoana website. Therefore, the proposed 2024/25 fees would result in a higher percentage increase than stated. For example, adult peak passes would see an increase of 70%, not 28% as stated in the draft LTP. It would work out more expensive per visit ($23) to buy a 10-visit peak pass than to pay for each visit individually ($18). It is disappointing that this is similar to an issue I pointed out in last year's draft LTP.

- Don't reduce libraries or library hours

2296 - Vickie Walker

Shouldn't have to pay. Encourage customers instead of deterring them.

2300 - Katinka Visser

Do you have any comments on our proposed changes to how we rate?

Visitors to Christchurch should pay for the use of the facilities. Wastewater being one.

2301 - Ian Douthwaite

For the most part, changes to nominal charges is nominal at best. Significant shifts in user-pays basis for some amenities may need to be considered (e.g. cost of recreational facilities compared to the commercial equivalents they compete with). How about saving the cost of regularly reviewing and consulting on 83 pages of fees and charges?

2357 - Cori Sanders

[Spending > Capital Programme (general)]

Charging fees is not an efficient way to pay debt. The payment for the parking etc is simply another way of increasing the cost of living. Reducing the debt by, for example, delaying some of the projects till a time when the country is in a generally healthier financial state will take the pressure off the households. More fees, regardless of what they are for still comes out of the household incomes.

2442 - Paula Bevilacqua

It adds another cost on living. An idea would be to delay some of the projects until a time that is more stable and financially healthier.

2443 - Greg Urquhart

Charge visitors more than residents....rate payers should get subsidies on these things. Residents in Sydney for example have a ratepayer sticker and then tourists etc pay more

2565 - Neet Subraman

Would suggest considering imposing higher fines for any civic infringements (graffiti, road rules and other damages in public). This will be a win-win, improve law and order while increasing revenue to the council and other government bodies.

2611 - Papataitua Harrington

Keeping great parks, facilities open and free for people is important when everything else is becoming costly.

2666 - Kathleen Crisley

E. Increase user-pays fees at Council recreation facilities (rates relief)

I asked about a working example using the Graham Condon Recreation and Sport Centre's operational costs, excluding depreciation.

In Financial year 23 (1 July 2022 to 30 June 2023), Total Controllable Costs $4,079,35; Total Revenue: $1,907,154

So 46.75% of operational costs were met by memberships and entry fees.

This recovery rate is too low. If ratepayers are supporting the costs of building and replacing these facilities, users should be prepared to pay for the costs of operating them.

SUBMISSION POINT 6: Raise membership and user fees to ensure all pool and sports facilities are recovering at least 65% from users, raising this target further over the 10-year timeframe of the Plan

267 - Fionn Walker

I think money has to come from somewhere, but taking that out of the tax payers dollar instead of Christopher Luxon's 52k toward his 7 properties is absurd. There are other avenues where costs can be reduced other than taking it out of minimum wage workers pockets

2678 - Fiona McKenzie

Yes, again I work with both disability and the Arts, and there is a critical link with well-being in both where there is value and reward. Please keep council venues affordable and accessible.

2799 - Dot Lovell-Smith

I would like some sort of discount for the elderly and disabled residents.

2922 - Zak Morrison

The proposed changes to fees and charges, including the introduction of parking charges at key parks and the potential increase in citywide parking charges, as well as higher fees for excess water usage, are steps in the right direction. These changes support the Council's vision for a sustainable, accessible, and liveable city. They also provide a mechanism for generating additional revenue that can help balance the budget and fund essential services and infrastructure. I trust that the Council will consider these suggestions as part of its commitment to the well-being of Christchurch and its residents.

2949 - Graeme John Marriott

Dog licence fees should be increased to cover the cost of dog parks etc. They should discourage rather than encourage dog ownership.

2953 - Quentin Kelly

I never pay for parking, regardless. I refuse to. I have never put money into a meter or whatnot. As a rate payer, I refuse to pay twice for something I am already paying for.

3035 - Claire Coveney

[Environmental monitoring]

More policing of industrial areas flouting laws and legal action taken eg. the Australian company with its containers causing stress to local residents. There needs to be consequences to polluters and businesses not respecting our residents and environment, especially the awa/rivers.

I would like to see heavier fines for polluters of rivers and the harbour. The container company run by and Australian company now appealing should be heavily fined.

312 - Shane Binder

I agree that fees and charges need to increase to help with revenue. I note that a general increase around 10% has been applied across the board to fees. For most fees (parks, facilities, etc), fees are paid by residents, which is a double charge on top of rates increase. At the same time, fees paid by visitors and non-residents (including hourly parking), and developers (street construction costs) have only increased by 4-5%. Please correct this imbalance and increase the latter fees at a rate that is equal to or higher than the former fees, paid primarily by residents who already have rates increases.

3375 - Sarah Hadley

Can we fine people for dropping rubbish?

Please fine people for dropping rubbish.

3529 - Marc Duff

Would like to see fly tipping fines greatly encouraged to allow the City Council to purchase more cameras for enforcement.

353 - John Mayhew

User pays must be the system adopted to stop ratepayers paying for freeloaders.

3542 - Beatrix Gilling

Congestion charging in the central city at peak times should also be investigated.

3558 - Patrick Kennedy

I would also like to see the council investigate a congestion charge for our most traffic-afflicted areas, such as the central city to raise revenue and reduce unnecessary and inappropriate private vehicle use.

Congestion Charging in the city centre is also an avenue for expanding revenue and also reducing unnecessary emissions and wear and tear on public assets.

3577 - Marie Byrne

[Libraries > Operations]

Consider reintroducing fines for overdue books. No fines is as nice to have.

I feel consideration should be made into the introduction of a 'residents pass' that would enable increased charges/fees for the use of Council services/activities by non-residents. One example of this could be introducing a charge to enter the Art Gallery, with a residents pass providing for free entry for city residents. Similarly entry charge increases could be introduced at sports and recreation facilities with a 'residents' deduction being able to maintaining existing charges.

3609 - Laura Caygill

I'm confused, however, about the pricing at He Puna Taimoana - your figures for a 10-visit pass for the 23/24 year are higher than currently advertised on the website ($135 currently on the website, $150 on p241). Surely a 10-visit pass should be cheaper per visit than the fee for a single entry, however as you have laid these out this doesn't appear to be the case for residents for the off-peak rate. I'd like to see entry fees for He Puna Taimoana kept low - it's one of my favourite places to go in Ōtautahi.

In general would prefer to pay higher rates and have fees remain low, because that way everyone is contributing to a vibrant, accessible city.

3625 - Angela Brett

[Strategic Direction>Additional Savings & Efficiencies]

I think it would be good to explore further places where we could collect money from people using private cars as transport such as the proposed parking charges at Hagley and the Botanic Gardens, and increasing fees within the city.

3631 - Charlotte Sparrow

Possibly, in line with user-pays. However, this shouldn't be an additional charge, just a reallocation of council revenue.

3634 - Peter Cooper

Also charge those who hire it or attend events.

3645 - Sophie McKenzie

the rise in fees and charges will end up not being equitable with the current inflation environment to be charging residents more.

3650 - Leslie McAuley

Increased fees and charges does not pay off debt but only places more of a burden on households at the time of a cost of living crisis.

3674 - Andrew Driver

Try and keep them to a minimum as wages etc haven't kept up in this country for years

3705 - Glenis Youngman

Instead put user charges at the places where visitors can go such as the museum.

3730 - Ian Mason

Only if cycling and public transport options are provided.

3741 - Kevin Spaul

Maybe look at more income from sports and recreation

3743 - Ben Ellis

excess water use fees should be high, encouraging conservative use of our limited resource. I hope this fee will also apply to commercial users who exceed allowances, etc.

3756 - Christina Hamilton

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

Gather revenue, to put aside for adapting to climate change, by adding a fee to coastal attractions eg: New Brighton Pier

3761 - Fiona Henderson

[Revenue > Development Contributions]

but I would like to see a larger proportion of funding coming from development contributions and fees and charges.

3775 - Kate Latimer

Increase fees for pools & attractions that are at high usage

379 - Alex Rowe

[Fees and charges > Car Parking (Parks)], [Fees and charges > Venue Charges (Parks)], [Fees and charges > Resource Consent Fees],

I agree with all proposed changes. In support of charging individual people for services ie car parking rather than subsidising these through rates paid.

3862 - Katharine Metherell

Other penalties should also be enforced such as dog fouling and rubbish tipping.

3869 - Cam Parsonson

increase charges to sports groups/clubs using council areas

3894 - Greg Siddells

Fairness and a reflection of user use and therefore paying for a service should be considered.

3902 - James Ridpath

I think we need to start thinking about spending less than charging for more.

3907 - Graham Muir

Council Fees and Charges should be increased at a similar rate to property rates increase. I don't understand why RSE meeting room changes have been reduced, some quite significantly.

3920 - Malcolm Clark

Start charging overseas tourists they are reaping by use of our facilities without financial input.

3921 - Alison Loveridge

Increase in fees for corporate events and business use of facilities etc. is appropriate.

Is it possible to apply for postponement on use of sports facilities in case of hardship for low income groups?

3965 - Dean Banks

Some of the funding provided by those fees should be used to ensure they are accessible to public transportation and by separated bike lanes.

3982 - Duncan Taylor

Council fees & charges need to be constantly monitored

4025 - Robin Wynne-Williams

[Fees and Charges > Car Parking (parks)]

Parking charges need to be applied at the key parks, eg the Gardens, but family passes, and golden oldie and disability passes

404 - Annelise Bryant

Make entrance to the museum more

406 - Angela Burrill

Charges need to be increased to offset reductions in rates.

417 - Jackie Astall

Charge tourists to use our services. Entry to museum for example. Non residents should pay

Once again, renters and visitors do not pay for these services.

452 - Mark Penrice

Parking charges are OK as long as they don't restrict the amount of time you can park there.

481 - Tommy Ng

Less fees and charges to help lessen the burden of the people

489 - Barry Livermore

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters]

There are 2 usual ways to achieve more profitability; Increase your charges or cut overheads. Council seems to be doing the first. With 1 third of council staff already on a salary of $100000+, plus a 5% pay rise they have been granted and 8?new executives ($200000+p.a.). Again tone deaf.

531 - Cameron Bradley

[Other/Special Interest Topics>LTP Consultation; Fees and Charges >Libraries Charges]

I support the first 25 pages of proposed fees and charges. In saying that you need to realise that in this day and age it is bad that I even need to read 25 pages of proposed fees and charges. Please consider either making the data available for people to interrogate themselves, or providing aggregated figures in order to make an informed decision in an easier manner.

536 - Marilyn Yurjevich

You could perhaps charge shopping centres rates on their parking spaces, which may induce them to put meters in?

597 - Ashleigh Dickson

I think the Council should look at alternative funding for services. This may include base fees for museums or art galleries, or "tourist" charges to get additional support. The council may need to look at water usage charges to get money from high use households. It's difficult when funding is acquired through home ownership and many doing own homes and utilise facilities and services arguably freely. Perhaps there should be some services where money is collected on other means.

6 - Natalia Volkova

Increase fees and charges to collect extra funds

615 - Michael JasonSmith

[Fees & Charges > Car Parking (Parks)]

I am in favour of increased fees and charges if they are applied equitably to the residents, rather than just equally. To quote the Father of Capitalism, Adam Smith, "It is not very unreasonable that the rich should contribute to the public expense, not only in proportion to their revenue, but something more than in that proportion." Specifically to parking charges at key parks, these are reasonable if there are affordable and accessible transport options, such as cycling, for all residents.

657 - Murray Peacock

Fast food outlets and supermarket trolleys need to pay a litter/pollution charge

687 - Anna Laurenson

It's getting too expensive to live in Christchurch. Road user charges and registration should be paying for road upkeep.

702 - Tim Stedman

Introduce a Tourist tax applicable to all per person per overnight stays Work with government to double the tourist levy for tourists coming into the country with the proceeds shared between local councils Introduce congestion charging All cruise ship visitors pay additional landing fees

746 - Lara Flavell

[Fees and Charges > Car Parking (Parks)]

I agree in the user of a service pays but not car parks! Art galleries etc should be user pays - these are a luxury. You really are pushing lower income people away from enjoying these areas. Hagley is particularly concerning because sports is held there - another cost for struggling families which may be what breaks them & stops them from being able to play that sport

750 - Simon Walker

Everyone who uses a service should pay.

851 - Kevin Lamb

3. Land Information Memorandums

As I have previously submitted, the council charges a sum far more than neighbouring territorial authorities. The accounting statement seems to point to a surplus exceeding $1,065,000 for the 2024/2025 financial year for the Land and Property Information Services budget.

Notes made by staff to the Council during the setting of the Long-Term Plan noted:

“When setting fees for LIM we conduct a benchmarking exercise with other Councils of similar size and complexities. Wellington City Council has been identified as our closest neighbour in this regard with them having similar types of Residential housing. The various types of housing adds layers of complexity to the LIM. Selwyn and Waimakariri District Council have a standard build environment, with little to no multi-story residential dwellings resulting in an easier product to produce. The cost comparison between Wellington and Christchurch Councils Residential LIM’s are; Wellington - $333.35, Christchurch - $290.00. The fast-track LIM was introduced in response to customer feedback and demand, it is an optional service for customers who wish to utilise it. On average 14% of our customers have chosen to utilise this service since its introduction 2014. During busy periods the fasttrack LIM gives our customers an option to get information faster prior to property purchase, removing this option could lead to customers being disadvantaged in the market place. It does not add cost to customers who do not choose to use this service.”

My question was about where the “surplus” is going, not an exercise in comparisons between councils.

I have discussed my concerns over the years with three Council staff and nothing has changed to justify the fee and associated “surplus”.

The Council should be setting fees considering the following guidelines and practices:

“Guidelines for setting charges in the public sector (2017)” – The Treasury.

“Setting and administering fees and levies for cost recovery Good Practice Guide” – Office of Auditor General

RECOMMENDATION:

Land Information Charges be reduced from 1 July, 2024, to be in line with Selwyn and Waimakariri District Council charges and the “fast track charge of $390-00 be removed.

Implementation of speed cameras and fines at specific high-traffic, high-risk areas could generate more revenue for the city as well as keeping speeding low in the suburbs.

Please bring in these cost changes a.s.a.p.

3016 - Zarah Green

These types of services should be user pays. ECAN are putting up rates and one of the reasons given is cost of consents. This sort of thing needs to be user pays.

3230 - Suz Guthrie

Ways of saving or making council money is always an issue. Clever people manage to work it out satisfactorily. Find and use clever people.

335 - Wayne Bates

YES stop trying to suck money out of those that cannot afford it.

3471 - Murray Irvine

These changes are all small fry compared to my suggestion above. Pinching a few dollars from families looking after children.

3637 - Sam Davidson

Additionally, reducing the fees and charges in an inflationary environment is an equitable move, ensuring that the financial burden on Christchurch residents is not exacerbated.

3732 - Harry Stronach (Akaroa Ratepayers & Residents Assn Inc)

Cruise Ships

In the meantime, we see that the LTP is proposing a 10% increase in fees to use the Akaroa wharf, and on page 259 of the LTP there is a stated fee of $33,938 for a ship carrying over 4500 passengers, per visit. I am afraid that your planners have lost the plot on this one, and there will be no such revenue. No ship carrying more than 1000 pax will ever come to Akaroa harbour again.

Yes I agree. But make the tour company buses pay. E.g. Mona Vale. The tourists flock to here but don't pay to go in. The toilets, footpaths etc all need maintaining.

I believe that if you use a service you should pay for it.

51 - Zoe Brock

couldn't care less IF the money goes the right things

592 - Cindy Bolderston

The country needs to adopt a system of ‘user pays’ if we are to rebuild our basic infrastructure

850 - Rhondda Poon

I think that visitors should be charged more.

Spending

Our Proposed Spending

General Comments

625 submissions were received on the proposed operational spend outlined in the draft plan.

83 provided comments in support of the proposed spending, and 137 provided comments in opposition.

308 provided alternatives to the proposed operational spending, generally indicating they would like to see spending reprioritised. 143 provided general comments about operational spending.

Officer Response

The general trends of submitters were for Council to stop wasting money and reduce spend.

However, there was a general desire to keep up with infrastructure maintenance (not including expensive alterations to roads) and repairs and maintenance on existing facilities. The general expectation was essential services were maintained, with a mixed view whether this included libraries and pools.

New facilities that are a drain on funds were questioned, with a focus on borrowing unjustly allocating costs to future ratepayers mentioned by several.

Transparency of operational expenditure (opex) and services delivered was questioned by some, the financial resources needed are set out in the Activity Management Plans (AMPs) and are based on the levels of service that will be delivered which are also set out in the AMPs.

The Canterbury Museum is not directly operated by Council, hence the lack of mention in the consultation document.

The Metro Sports facility, Parakiore is being funded by central government, and Council has only made a fixed contribution to the facility. Council will be responsible for the operational costs associated with Parakiore ($1.4m), which have been modelled into the Draft LTP and will be funded by a combination of user fees and rates.

The Council did not contribute to the Convention Centre and this is owned by the Crown. The city and district benefit from events at Te Pae through increased visitors and activity.

The %age of rates used for debt servicing and repayment quoted in the Draft as 27.8% in 2024/25 and 28.3% by 2033/34 is the gross cost, excluding interest recovery from CCHL. The net cost, after adjusting for the advance to CCHL equates to 21.1% and 25.1%. Intertest charges of circa $146M form 12.6% of the total spend of $1,1157m in year one of the draft LTP.

The investment in Ferrymead Heritage Park is held in the current year budget to enable delivery of a new business plan and a review of the organisational structure of the Trust.

The graph on page 26 of the Consultation Document details the total operating spend over the term of the Draft LTP. The $948m spend on Other over the next 10 years relates to Economic Development ($211m) with the balance largely being interest costs relating to earthquake borrowing, and borrowing for on-lending to subsidiaries where the interest costs are recovered as part of the on-lending (also referred to as a back-to-back loan arrangement).

1008 - Angela McPherson

Yes with reservations.

[Strategic Direction>Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities]; [Rates>Residential Rates]

I guess we just have to wear it. Agreed that the city has made huge investments in the last decade, but now is not the time to underfund community facilities (eg parks, libraries, galleries, museums): these assets are vital in a time of democratic stress and societal division

1265 - Jill Banbury

Everything is needed to provide a city efficiently. We are already going to see a number of NZ's facilities downgraded with this present government.

1407 - Scott Butcher

Broadly I think operational spending is correct

1515 - Andrew Douglas-Clifford

Do not cut back on essential services that people rely on! It never ends well.

1623 - Oliver Mould

In the past, many parts of CCC failed to account properly for Operational spending so I am glad to see this may be being more carefully focussed on and proper allowances made for OPEX.

1647 - Barry Linwood

As far as I can tell coming from Ashburton your team's are doing a fantastic job

1690 - Richard Suggate

The current mix looks about right

1756 - Kieran Sweetman

Effective and efficient spending initiatives are welcome

1838 - Charlotte Holland

I like & support the suggested investment in Swales, transport, coastal environment & libraries.

1839 - Catherine Grima

Comments: I agree. We should prioritise funds on the operational side. As you say, those that get the job done in real-time.

1869 - Bill Cowen

As I say I support the bulk of it.

1976 - Amanda Henderson

Yes, on the whole.

1998 - Grace Robinson

Moreover, it is evident that investing in infrastructure sooner rather than later is not only financially prudent but also essential for addressing the severe infrastructure deficits faced by our city. With construction costs rising annually, it is imperative that rates are raised by more than the proposed 13.24% to adequately address these challenges and prevent further deterioration of our infrastructure.

2057 - Alicia Moggre

Thank you for not reducing services.

2121 - Cassie Welch (National Public Health Service (NPHS) Te Waipounamu)

Operational Spending

214 - John Hinchey

[Libraries > Libraries (Operations)]

Don't cut back on our traditional core services such as libraries. They are a driver of our democratic life we enjoy.

2235 - Cara Paterson (Creative New Zealand)

Arts, culture, creativity and ngā toi Māori provide essential infrastructure for strong, prosperous, connected and healthy communities in Christchurch. This includes community hubs, whare taonga, museums, art centres, festivals, whare wānanga, galleries, creative skill development workshops, education programmes, residencies, master classes, exhibitions, performances and internships, among many others.

It's fantastic to see the ongoing development of major creative infrastructure in the city, and we encourage Council to continue to work closely with creative communities to ensure the spaces can deliver opportunities for the creative sector and local communities to engage with arts, cultural, creative and ngā toi Māori services and activities.

2236 - Julyan Falloon (Sport Canterbury and Sport New Zealand (Joint Submission))

Thank you for maintaining your investment in sport and recreation across many areas during some extremely tough economic times. The benefits are real, human and long lasting for the people of Christchurch and we acknowledge that while Council has had to 'tighten its belt' financially, sport, active recreation and play have fared well compared to some other areas within Council.

Comments: This spending is vital for the continued upkeep of services. Some of these costs can't be reduced eg. staff salaries.

2308 - Sarah Elicker

Please do not reduce operational spending and cut services.

2310 - Helen Broughton (Waipuna Halswell Hornby Riccarton Community Board)

- The Board considers that the proposed spending accords with the feedback provided in response to the "What matters most" consultation.

240 - Bella Zilber

I support continued investment in city services and amenities

2504 - Sarah van der Burch

Looking at the expenditure it seems reasonable.

2516 - Robin Palmer

Comments:

*Impressed with current levels of service -
keep it up!*

2540 - Jocelyn and Caroline Papprell and Syddall

To us libraries, council pools, well maintained parks are an valued part of living in Christchurch. We would not like to see levels of service cut. Cuts to staffing also has a flow on a effect to other non-council services & a subsequent economic impact for the city. It is also important that the community is able to have direct input into decisions about possible cuts to services in their specific areas.

2570 - Marie Gray

In general, I am a strong supporter of public libraries, sports and recreation centres and pools. These are low-cost or free community spaces that enhance physical and mental health and wellbeing.

2574 - Matthew Pont

People need to be paid reasonably and fairly, if you don't pay them well our city will suffer. The city is more than roads and pipes. Please continue to spend on libraries, museums, parks, events etc. If these services get cut it's unlikely we'll get them back anytime soon, and that will cost more in the long term

2591 - Bronwyn Hayward

I also welcome the overall investment in Arts, libraries and public parks

2618 - Margaret Stewart

Continue to maintain existing services

2737 - Valerie Sloss

Mostly, yes!

2799 - Dot Lovell-Smith

I would like to see the present level of services maintained.

There needs to be an awareness of the different physical and social environments and specific needs of different suburbs

I support maintaining or improving the same level of services. I think you are prioritising the right things. Especially the spending relating to having sustainable environments

2807 - David Close (Christchurch East Labour Electorate Committee)

The strategic priority of being an inclusive and equitable city is achieved in most respects:

- ☒ Continued free use of libraries and free access to the art gallery, museums, botanic gardens and numerous parks and playgrounds improves the quality of life for all.
- ☒ Entry charges for swimming pools are subsidised to reduce the cost barrier for children and families.

2845 - Erin Todd

Council is not being asked and does not have a mandate to cut back on services like libraries and swimming pools to force through lower rate increases. These services are for all residents and cutting these services will disproportionately affect lower socioeconomic, youth, disabled, and elderly residents.

Costs should not be reduced with service cuts

2847 - Colleen Philip (Sustainable Ōtautahi Christchurch)

While we understand how under pressure financially both the council and ratepayers are but deferring things will make them more expensive in the future.

2848 - Glen Koorey

It's important to continue providing the same level of service for all of the wonderful facilities and services that the Council operates.

2922 - Zak Morrison

I agree that the current operational spending priorities as outlined in the Draft Long Term Plan. The Council's services are vital for the community, and any reduction in these services could have a disproportionate impact on lower socioeconomic groups, disabled individuals, and the elderly. These community members often rely more heavily on public services due to limited alternatives available to them.

Considerations for Operational Spending - Equitable Access: It is essential that the Council continues to provide equitable access to services that cater to the diverse needs of its constituents. Cutting back on these services could lead to increased inequality and social exclusion. - Long-Term Impact: While reducing operational spending might offer short-term relief in terms of lower rates, the long-term impact on community well-being and social cohesion could be detrimental. The Council's services play a significant role in fostering a sense of community and belonging, which is invaluable for the city's social fabric. - Economic Benefits: Many of the Council's services, such as libraries and recreational facilities, have indirect economic benefits by contributing to the education and health of residents, which in turn can lead to a more productive workforce.

2980 - Sandra McLachlan

I am in agreement with the above spending priorities

3005 - Grant deVine

Yes

3012 - George Laxton

Yes I think we are, we should not be cutting services and I am glad that the council chose not to do that, we all depend and use them and when you cut services it is those who are struggling the most who will feel it the worst. Please keep funding out public libraries, pools, community centres etc. I will be happy to have my rates raised to fund these for the benefit of the community.

3055 - Josephine Drysdall

Costs are rising, and it is inevitable that we will need to cover those costs.

Council must raise rates by more than the LTP proposes to address infrastructure deficits in Christchurch, as delaying construction leads to higher costs.

We need to be able to pay to maintain our services, and I do not want to see top-notch facilities like our libraries, The Arts Centre, parks, and gardens underfunded or closed. Public and shared spaces are vital to healthy and inclusive communities. Council staff should also not be further disadvantaged in the current inflationary environment.

3056 - Carolyn Elcock

But don't think about closing libraries

3065 - Janet Wilson

[Libraries>Libraries (Operations)]; [Parks>Parks Maintenance]; [Parks>Sports Grounds & Facilities]

Important to maintain community facilities such as libraries, parks, sports grounds.

3093 - Gareth Cook

I support operational spending as identified above.

316 - Margaret Whittaker

I don't know but it's imperative that money is spent on libraries, parks etc, so if that means added rates, so be it.

3291 - Jess Kikstra

Yes, support operational spending proposals. I also think it would be beneficial to trial using deliberative democracy methods for issues such as budgeting, For example, participatory budgeting or citizens assemblies. I think trialing these kinds of methods would enable more meaningful engagement with residents than the conventional policy proposal and submission process. This would support the first community outcome (supporting participation) and help to build trust

3319 - Ryan Moore

No services should be cut back on.

334 - Clare Marshall

When you were elected Mayor, you said you had the finances under control.... Do not cut our existing services.

3341 - Maria Bartlett

Investment in existing city assets, their operation and maintenance, should be a priority

3363 - Brodie Marra-Stevenson

Seems relatively sensible,

3411 - Marian Krogh (Protect Our Winters NZ)

POW and its members use, and rely on council services such as libraries, and public recreation areas. It would be ridiculous to cut these services just to lower rates. Removing these services will disproportionately impact lower socioeconomic, disabled, younger and older residents.

3415 - Allan Taunt

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters]

Agree with the operational spending allocation and certainly do not support a reduction.

Staff are expected to deliver a lot with minimal resources and remuneration. They are under pressure. Further to that, social media often treats staff harshly by members of the public that are unaware of what it takes to run a city. There are examples where staff have been mentioned by name, or unreasonable words have been used to describe the organisation. When staff have no right of reply, this is unfair and disrespectful. I ask that staff are appropriately remunerated, are provided with the necessary resources and support for what can be a thankless role at times. To provide an inclusive community, everyone needs to be well supported. For this we must continue to provide the variety of services people use every day. This includes libraries, art displays, sports grounds, walkways, parks and recreation facilities, and much more. In addition to operating these facilities, maintenance tasks must continue for people's safety as well as keeping the environment clean.

3436 - Sara Campbell

Do not reduce funding for public amenities such as libraries, swimming pools, the arts etc.

3452 - Sabine Handel

The core services should be kept up.

Yes, if you keep level of services in libraries, parks and waterways up.

3497 - Cerys Fletcher

Yes. Council absolutely should not cut back on its services. The services that CCC offers its ratepayers are some of the best in the country, and are so important to the diverse communities they serve across the city.

3529 - Marc Duff

Fully support the expenditure on our current infrastructure, as truly believe the poor and difficult position finds itself in is due to under investment in our infrastructure by previous councils over a number of years. The fact that we are still trying to fix infrastructure especially roads post earthquake shows the settlement from the govt at the time was poor for our city and the results are showing. While climate change is important there is a need to fix our current infrastructure first and thats where our immediate focus should be. If you want better resident survey results then fix our current infrastructure.

3596 - Susan Lau

The effect of inflation cannot be ignored, and I believe we have core facilities that are worth maintaining as they make Christchurch a good place to live in.

Our libraries and recreation centres are important community hubs, and there certainly doesn't need to be reduced investment in infrastructure such as water and waste management.

3614 - Lin Roberts

- Do not cut back on services people rely upon (libraries, swimming pools, etc)

3618 - Chrys Horn

Please do not cut back on services that families use most such as swimming pools and libraries. In New Zealand people need to have good water skills as well as needing options for cooling down in an increasingly hot climate where local waterways are graded as no longer swimmable. Both Libraries and pools provide that.

3621 - Morgane Honore

Absolutely, operational spending should prioritize essential services that directly benefit our community. Council services such as libraries and swimming pools are vital resources that many residents rely upon for education, recreation, and social engagement. Any attempt to cut back on these services in an effort to lower rates would have detrimental effects, particularly on lower socioeconomic, disabled, and elderly residents who may depend on them the most. It's essential to recognize that Council services exist to serve the needs of all constituents, and any reduction or removal of these services would result in disproportionate impacts on vulnerable segments of our population. Instead of cutting back on essential services, we should explore other avenues for managing rates, such as increasing revenue through fair and equitable means or optimizing operational efficiencies. Ultimately, maintaining access to essential services is crucial for fostering a thriving and inclusive community. As stewards of public resources, it's our responsibility to prioritize the well-being and needs of all residents, ensuring that essential services remain accessible to everyone.

Equity and Inclusion: The long-term plan should address issues of equity and inclusion to ensure that all residents have access to essential services, opportunities, and resources. Prioritizing initiatives that reduce disparities and promote social cohesion is key to fostering a fair and inclusive community.

3622 - Jono de Wit

Most of the proposed increase in rates is due to inflation and increased interest and insurance costs. I do not believe that ratepayers and residents should be asked to pay more for less services. The council must continue its existing levels of service and investment, and in some areas like active transport investment, must increase it further.

3636 - Kay Robertson

We need to adequately maintain and renew existing infrastructure and I don't want to see a reduction in services such as libraries and swimming pools. These community services are very important to residents. We need to plan for the future and invest in new infrastructure with climate change firmly in mind.

I do not want to see services reduced. I wish we weren't building that ridiculous stadium, but that ship has sailed with the support of the 'frugal five'. A lot of stupid decisions were made in the rebuild (principally by the Government of the day) and we'll have to pay higher rates as a result. Lot of 'nice to haves' for well-connected mates. The regular folks will have to suffer with either higher rates or reduced services. I vote for higher rates.

3661 - Steph Walker

I am thankful that the council has recognised that cutting day to day operations is not the preferred option. So many of the operational activities beyond capital infrastructure become more important for the community as the cost of living "crisis" hits. Community centres, libraries, galleries, parks, festivals and other local activities that are accessible in all ways of the word are what I like to call infrastructure of the heart. Without them, without looking after our people, the city is a shell.

3663 - Connor McIver

Overall, I think the priorities are about right.

3690 - Jono de Wit (Greater Ōtautahi)

There is no mandate for Council to cut back on services people rely upon (libraries, swimming pools, etc) to force a lower rates increase. Council's services exist for its constituents, and removing these services will disproportionately impact lower socioeconomic, disabled, and elderly residents, for whom there is no alternative.

3704 - Logan Cane

I think at the very least we should maintain the current levels of service. I would argue that we have underinvested in key areas for too long and that now is the time for work to be done rather than deferred on the promise of keeping rates low. If rates do not keep up with inflation, we will have no choice but to reduce levels of service and Christchurch will fall behind in development, much less keep up with growth. I want Christchurch to be a thriving city that is competitive on a national level.

Yes, a focus on core infrastructure is key. Please do not reduce levels of service either for services such as libraries or parks as these are often utilized by low socioeconomic families to help combat the cost of living.

3706 - Ellie Stevenson

Let's be real here: the vast majority of people are extremely disengaged from Council and are not writing in submissions here or hearing about its processes. People are busy and stressed and rely on being able to engage with what's right in front of them, like libraries and swimming pools that bind families and friends together and provide escapes and outlets. Cut those and you're hitting people in need, particularly those like our elderly and disabled who often struggle to keep up with a world not built for them, and rely on reliability being a watchword of Christchurch City Council's operations.

3725 - Richard Smith

There is no mandate for Council to cut back on services people rely upon (libraries, swimming pools, etc) to force a lower rates increase. Council's services exist for its constituents, and removing these services will disproportionately impact lower socioeconomic, disabled, and elderly residents, for whom there is no alternative.

3768 - Tracey Klatt

All of it needs doing, lots of stuff is getting old and needs fixing/improving. And all the new projects proposed are important.

All very important stuff - don't cut it back

3802 - Matthew Baird

It is important we keep up our current level of service for the wellbeing of our residents. Those residents that depend on council services will be disproportionately harmed if service levels drop, please do not cut back on libraries, swimming pools, etc.

3851 - Angela Lowery

Yes agree that we should be maintaining our existing levels of service, however there should have been some accountability for the huge budget blow-outs of the some of the major projects - Metroports as an example which contributed to us being in this situation.

3875 - Maureen McCloy

We need to pay for the core infrastructure and facilities that we expect - otherwise we are kicking the can down the road to future ratepayers by leaving them with run-down infrastructure and facilities. Same with the services provided by Council as these contribute to maintaining a society that is inclusive - for everyone rich or poor; advantaged or dis-advantaged.

3881 - Anne Scott

People appreciate and rely on these services.

3915 - Redacted Redacted

It is necessary to maintain or increase operational spending in order to provide services at the current level. The removal of services such as would disproportionately impact lower socioeconomic, disabled, and elderly residents, who rely on council services to live their life with dignity.

3921 - Alison Loveridge

I appreciate people are facing cost of living challenges, but timely spending will save money in the long run. Costs of infrastructure are more likely to continue rising than fall in the future

3930 - Peter McCarthy

[Spending>Capital Programme (General)]

Operational Spending & Capital Programme:

Operational Spending means Council's regular spending on keeping the parks, libraries, pools, and other services running, funded from rates.

Capital Programme is spending on Council's "assets", which includes things like roads, water pipes, and flood protection.

Council isn't doing nearly enough to address the climate crisis. PAGE FOUR asks you to talk about what Council spends its money on. "Operational Spending" and "Capital Programme" are two types of spending that Council could be doing to take responsibility, but right now they're pushing it all into the far future when it'll be too late to take action. That's why you have to tell Council to put more money into these types of spending, and to put money into climate and flood protection.

15 - Sara Currey

No, spending across the city on things that dont need to be priority!

Reduce spending like all the residents have had to! Further increases will be too much for households already struggling.

As an example of where Council spending is not aligned with community expectations, the Board wishes to reiterate concerns we have expressed in past submissions, that there are assets owned by Council with no associated maintenance budget. These are often features of subdivisions, and a specific example are the sculptures throughout the Northwood area. The result is that residents are left with broken or deteriorating assets next to their homes, and the past 11 years have taught us all what this can do to peoples' wellbeing. The lack of a routine maintenance budget is an example of why our residents regularly report concerns about the Council not addressing the basics. Without a full account of the Council's assets and the necessary resources to maintain them, it is difficult to make the necessary budget allowances.

I cannot stress how confusing and disappointing it is to hear that you are in financial crisis like the rest of us but then say you want to start new projects and ventures. Yes you've included the stadium but what about every other cultural hub Christchurch. What about our art gallery, our arts centre, the zoo? Since the earthquake these places have been a standing staple for Christchurch, they mean just as much to us, if not more for some, than the cathedral or Mona Vale. These places are core to our well-being and our cultural experience within the city, they bring in tourists, they help and support local creatives and people in general. Yet all I've seen in regard to these places is a cry for help because they're being left in the dust by this plan

Operational spending and peoples salaries are an essential, and not up for discussion when deciding on prioritisation. As a council for a city riddled with unresolved trauma, there needs to be more room for growth from operational costs. Who are you operating for and what impact are you meant to be having if you are only holding money to operate? I don't see clarification on what other priorities are here besides yourself.

2282 - Nicola Columbus

[Transport>Roads (Capital)]

Roading and roundabouts take up far too much of Council spending

2422 - Debora Mora

No. CCC is spending beyond your means. To cope, you should be spending on NEEDS not WANTS.

2429 - Neil Ricken

No, I do not believe that you have got the balance right. You propose a budget of $16.8 billion over ten years. You say that you have identified cost savings of $41 million over the same period of time. That equates to $4.1 million per year. That is a cost saving of 0.244%, less than a quarter of one percent. Frankly, that is an absurdly low cost saving figure, and it looks as if you have not really tried to save costs, only to pass the result of your economic ineptitude on to the rate payers of the city.

Significant savings, at meaningful levels, need to be made (not 0.244%). Vanity projects need to be cut; jobs need to be cut. The Council needs to live within its means, and not borrow exorbitantly thus increasing the burden of the ratepayer. The country is in recession, interest rates are high, inflation is still running hot.

Stop spending money forcing the DEI ideology on residents. You say you want to manage ratepayers money wisely - the evidence does not support that.

2439 - Callum Turnbull

The proposed budget over 10 years is $16.8 billion. Proposed savings are $41 million. The fact that this is highlighted as a "win" is embarrassing. Especially when you are proposing a rate increase of double inflation! Overall, it smacks of the entitled attitude of management at CCC. While employers are shedding jobs, and ratepayers are battling to make ends meet, your proposed budget is not supportive of the needs of the community.

2545 - Antony Gough (Terrace Christchurch Ltd)

Council staff identified savings of $180 million but then councillors only took $41 million of these offered and identified savings. This shows a complete lack of reality to the real world we all have to live within.

The Christchurch City Council (CCC) was elected using a campaign that advocated for minimal rate rises. To fulfil its promises council will need to cut proposed spending in numerous areas – and most specifically in the three types of water and in transport (the two biggest spend areas). To do this council should be asking:

1. Can the levels of staffing be less (ie, revisit the assessment of local staffing positions)?
2. Can the level of debt be lowered?
3. Can functions that council host and organised be managed more effectively with less cost to ratepayers and more cost to users?
4. Where abouts, specifically, in the water and transport budgets can savings be made?

2832 - Riley Neupauer (University of Canterbury Green Party)

[Strategic Direction > infrastructure Strategy, Strategic Direction > Climate Change, Spending > Our Proposed Spending]

No, on the contrary, the UC Greens are quite disappointed with the proposed spending allocated towards infrastructure, particularly in regards to environmental protections. The Council posits the needs of today's residents as if they are separate from those of future generations, a deeply misguided sentiment. Flooding and the many other consequences of climate change are not some far-off possibilities that could potentially arise decades from now, only affecting our descendents. They are incredibly pertinent issues that will undoubtedly worsen as time progresses, and this exacerbation may come much sooner than we expect. Even the most senior Christchurch residents are liable to be negatively impacted by these environmental challenges. It is not a question of "if" climate change will impact us, it is simply a matter of how soon our reckoning will come. But let's be idealistic and say that the current residents somehow won't be affected. Does that mean we shouldn't strengthen our infrastructure to the best of our abilities? Are we simply to wait around for the worst to happen before we decide it's time to take action, which by then will be too little too late? Do we only develop Christchurch for posterity's sake? The fallacious nature of this logic is self-evident. And that's not even to mention the services that aren't directly related to climate change, most of which are also underfunded, despite having self-perpetuating repercussions. The Council is understandably concerned about reducing costs, but they need to remember that monetary spending isn't the only cost we face.

2906 - Donna Thomsen

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

No. Look at the white elephant that is the Convention Centre. What an unbelievable waste of money. Look at the issues with Metro Sports Centre. Why on earth does a city the size of Christchurch need a sports centre of that size and complexity. Look at the Sports Stadium, another disaster unfolding.

Start to think small and efficient not huge vanity projects that an aging demographic will not be able to pay for or properly utilise.

31 - Gary Durey

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters]

Excessive spending on "backroom" staff and "vanity" and "nice to have" projects all need to be stopped.

311 - Peter Clark

Ratepayers Can Not continue to fund non essential projects. The country is broke as a result of irresponsible ideology. Christchurch City even more so. It's got to be stopped and council pushed back into a sphere of operation for the basic infrastructure and to respect where funding for this comes from.

CCC has got to go back to basics. Stop trying to create a fantasyland. You're there to provide water, sewer, roading (not senseless projects like in the city), park IF it can afford to, other services like libraries IF it can afford to, and ONLY essential services.

Start getting real and back to being a council that exists solely to provide basic infrastructure. Let residents take responsibility for themselves if they desire more than basic.

Money spent on the Stadium, Convention Centre and the new airport at Tarras is wasted and as a ratepayer I do not support them. I support money spent on the homeless, Libraries and community

3152 - Neroli Fornasier

You have wasted so much money and continue to do so, then want us to pay more. It's ludicrous.

3200 - Georgina Woods

324 - Richard Wesley

I don't think enough work has gone into ensuring we are spending on the right things in the operational area.

You should reduce funding on big, white elephant projects.

No, we are going into a recession when we are were already in a cost of living crisis. I see no austerity in the councils 10 year plan at all

3361 - Ali Cameron

Council needs a Better Budget .council needs to cut spending on woke minority focused projects intill they have got out of debt . The way out of debt is saving and cutting .not taxing rate players .

Ccc doesn't know how to run a business or service , constantly in debt doesn't mean charging tax payers more .it should be how to we reduce costs and think about cutting back on spending on projects we don't have the money for . Less spending in every area . More fund raising but not by taxing . People should have a say of where there money goes . >>> Out of control pointless spending at the council .

3376 - Barry Lee

Reduced levels of service are necessary in this current cost of living crisis to reduce the rates burden on those struggling in our community.

3405 - Selina Faimalo (Flare Ōtautahi Street Art Festival)

We perceive an inequity in the allocation of resources towards arts and culture, with a heavy bias towards certain methods. Redistributing these resources could facilitate a more inclusive, varied, and far-reaching impact on the city of Ōtautahi.

3567 - Rachel Briggs

The consultation documeng didnt convince me that the council is prioritising the right things. There were significant things missed locally and too much attention given to securing events.

3598 - Kyle Sutherland

More needs to be done to reduce operational spending to live within our means, without reducing spending on critical water infrastructure which is decades behind, and should be Council's main priority ahead of new stadiums and ego-driven Commonwealth Games bids.

3600 - Murray Wiig

More hard questions need to drill down on the actual costs of every service. The ethos needing to be promoted throughout the organisation needs to revolve around "Can this project or service be completed at a lower cost." the focus needs to revolve around can ratepayers afford it. The days of automatically using the COL index as the benchmark of what increases are acceptable are over. Normal business practice revolves around treating budgeting expenses as a challenge to reduce expenses to a level below last years actuals. There is very little evidence that this methodology is practiced within council.

3624 - Noeline Marsh

[Transport>Transport (Operations)]; [Strategic Direction>Climate Change]

I object to money being spent on climate change initiatives, especially making it more difficult to drive a car in the city. Carbon emissions is a hoax. The world is at 0.04% carbon dioxide in the atmosphere. If it is lowered to 0.02% then life will not exist because plants will die. Please do not waste money of climate change initiatives. Lowering speed limits and building expensive traffic calming barriers and narrowing streets is a waste of money. That money needs to be put into driver education and police enforcement of dangerous driving.

3631 - Charlotte Sparrow

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Staff Matters]

Needs significant permanent reduction. Reduce the size of council.

[Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]; [Strategic Direction>Have we got the balance right?]

The Council is spending way too much on the nice to have eg, excessive spend on cycleways. The Council is trying to do too much. Just stick to the basics and lower the rates burden on residents.

3635 - Jane Lila McKenzie

Pages 8 and 9 of the LTP!! The outgoings of the council Far exceed the income! The plan to spend Zillions of dollars is outrageously daft when there is absolutely nothing to draw from. The Outgoings of approx 24 Billion compared to the income of almost 7 Billion leaves an enormous hole of Debt! WE CAN NOT AFFORD ANY OF THESE PROPOSALS. The plan based on a population increase is Still Not going to fill the gap. Borrowing 2.6 Billion for a capitol program while paying 1.2 Billion in existing debt is beyond sense. WHY????? IS THE COUNCIL GIVING AWAY MORE IN 'TRANSFERE OF LAND' TO NGAI TAHU?? pg 16!. Ngai Tahu are bleeding the council and the Christchurch rate payers blind. Fifteen years ago, Gary Moore gave half the Council Building, a building the council owned-outright, to Ngai Tahu to whom we are now paying 10.8 million a year in Rates!!! @ 532 per square as opposed to normal rents averaging 383!! This is absolutely disgusting. THEY ARE STEALING FROM US! I absolutely will not approve their receiving any more 'land of importance' from the Christchurch rate payer. For the last 15 years Ngai Tahu have had first option on properties CCC was selling, of which they bought at a reduced price and sold at market rate value + which was an increase for their business and to the detriment of Christchurch Rate Payer. It is because of this continued inability to be able to make a profit on anything, the council has now gone deeply into debt.

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Accelerating Adaptation], [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Transport > Public Transport Infrastructure]

There is not sufficient amounts being spent on climate adaptation. Also insufficient on public transport and active transport. The network of protected cycleways needs to be expanded to get the full value from the investment.

Partly we are in the position we are in because of previous deferral of spending in infrastructure. We need to stop repeating this mistake. We should not be keeping rates down by underinvesting in the future.

3787 - Deb Donnell

[Rates > Residential Rates], [Grants & Funding > Orana Park Funding], [Grants & Funding > Arts Centre], [Parks > Heritage (Capital)], [Borrowing & Debt Management]

Householders are under pressure and facing significant financial challenges. Consequently they are cutting back spending as much as possible to the bare basics, in order to survive. The Council should be doing the same - so that any proposed spending covers maintaining the core infrastructure, insuring key assets (including grants to assist the city's heritage and other assets, such as The Arts Centre, Orana Park, etc.), and debt servicing and reduction. Nothing more.

3852 - Chris Coey

There are items within the draft plan which could be removed or scaled back.

3891 - Christopher Gauci

[Rates > Residential rates]

The council needs to first manage wasteful spending, review what is necessary for the city to function versus what is a nice to do. Hurting rate payers with higher than inflation increases without considering wasteful spending is deplorable.

This Long Term Plan is vastly insufficient in every regard >>> put[s] undue strain on CCC's finances despite CCC's claim to manage ratepayer money wisely. The post earthquake "spendathon" needs to stop. Costs on Te Ka Ha & other projects have spiraled out of control. Council should pull back on every area and only focus on essentials with the goal of reducing reliance and overall reduction of rates over the 10 year LTP.

422 - Nias Kitchin

If just to maintain your current levels of service are 13.24 percent, after the already huge increase we have faced the last few year, There's is a MASSIVE problem. Cycle ways through the city and other extras should not be continued on if u can't even afford the maintenance of the city. Sports centers that at eye watering lot over budget from construction problems that we are already paying extra for that really was not needed is beyond enough. It seems your only solution is to put up rates year after year. Less spending , prioritizing and other avenues should be your solution. Not just passing on the financial burdens to the residents of this city which are struggling from your already price hikes.

I don't see how 2 million a year from charging for carparking is helpful when you could just not spend 200 million on new cycleways over the next 10 years. STOP SPENDING.

Yes these are the things that are definitely more of the priority of spending. [Coder note: response to general operation spending question]

Our residents are struggling already with the cost of living. The already huge rate increases are nearly being handled. The draft plan is over ambitious at the cost of bankrupting your residents. The basics and maintenance is all you can afford for the foreclosure future and what should be focused on. No cycle way or any other big projects should even be considered anymore. It's extremely frustrating to read that report.

10% on environment issues that are pet projects for some councilors is too much. Staffing costs in all areas need to be cut - I guarantee you have staff you could get rid of (especially in your building department).

Cutbacks need to be made. Do what the Government departments are having to do and find 7% savings in all these areas. That would make a huge difference to the cost of our rates. Surely there are saving that could be made in three waters. I cannot believe that the amount allocated there has no opportunity to make savings, especially at a staff level. Make some hard decisions. Cut costs. The rate payers are not here to bank roll departments with no accountability.

Just find some ways to make some cuts. You are spending too much.

You should be thinking not about how the city will look at the end of all this spending, but about where you get your funds from. We were promised less than 5% rates increase (which for many will still be too much). That is your budget. Make what you want to do fit inside it, stop coming back to rate payers with your hand out wanting more. No business in the world operates this way and its time the council was run like a business.

Stop the spending. Cut back. You will break many people by continuing on this path of rates increases. We can't afford it. Either remove some of this spending completely, or ask every part of the budget to work with 8% less than you have budgeted so we can have a much lower increase. You people are so out of touch if you think anyone in Christchurch is happy with this.

718 - Sharon Pheasant

Current levels of service on the weekly day to day are good so not sure increased spending is necessary. Laying debt on future generations is not something I think we should be doing and isn't something most families will be doing at individual level.

746 - Lara Flavell

The way the rates are spent needs to be gone through with a fine tooth comb. All wasteful unnecessary spending should halted immediately. I do not agree that the council should be finding new ways to squeeze more out of people. Just need to budget & manage the money you already get a hell of a lot better than you do now

757 - Scott McCormick

No you don't have the balance right. You need to reduce your spending on Wages and non essential projects. Have a commercial mindset. Every business is reducing staff number but no mention of it in this draft. All the real work is outsourced so head count for oversight is ridiculously high.

This is a difficult one to answer as a lay person. We need to keep maintaining services but try to find the most cost effective way to do this without compromise. As a homeowner, I face similar challenges and may have to find different ways of doing things which maybe the council needs to do. Wasteful spending needs to STOP! (example the cycleway next to the cycleway on Park Terrace. Whoever came up with that idea should be sacked.)

1312 - Andrea Bromley

Just focus on the immediate things needing "fixed" but halt all new projects such as extra cycle lanes, road speed hump things (Lincoln road and Tennyson street are a joke) And perhaps council pay increases too....

I feel as though CCC could be prioritising mitigation of flood risk as much as possible to ensure managed retreat strategies have minimal effect on Christchurch residents. >>>

Would like to ensure project spending in areas such as New Brighton justify the increases in rates.

1501 - Jason Middlemiss (Waimāero Fendalton-Waimairi-Harewood Community Board)

While recognising the essential nature of operational spending in sustaining the day-to-day services provided by the Council, it's imperative to assess whether we are prioritising these expenditures effectively. The absence of a comprehensive levels of service review poses a significant challenge in determining the appropriateness of our operational spending. Without a thorough examination of the demands and standards of service required, we run the risk of allocating resources inefficiently and potentially overlooking opportunities for cost savings. This lack of clarity raises concerns that we may be allocating funds to areas that do not align with community needs or expectations, inadvertently squandering resources that could be redirected to more impactful initiatives. Therefore, it's crucial that we prioritise conducting a thorough levels of service review to ensure that our operational spending is optimised, enabling us to make informed decisions and allocate resources where they can deliver the greatest value for our community.

1510 - Jan Whitehead (Banks Peninsula Sports & Recreation Inc)

We have to keep up with infrastructure and R&M of existing facilities

This is so important, if anything, increase the amount here.

[Coders Note: related to parks, heritage and the coastal environment]

1648 - Andrew Bowman

While I generally support the level of existing services, I believe that expenditure should only be on facilities in which provide an essential service (for example facilities related to water provision and waste disposal) or community recreational facilities such as parks which are relatively low-maintenance. I think that funds should be set aside to create a long-term wealth generation capability for the council (similar to a sovereign wealth fund) to mitigate further needs for dramatic rates hikes.

Additionally, the "Other" category here is quite large and I don't know what you are spending that on.

1658 - Justin Fletcher (Predator Free Waimairi Beach)

CCC and its residents must chose their priorities wisely and then fund them appropriately. Ultimately we must be prepared to pay for what we value.

Again these things are important but don't forget the libraries and cultural things too.

1778 - Jane Houghton

Don't have to allocate as much monies towards different departments, i.e. I know 'art' installations are part of a particular budget and they spend it all so they get the same or more next year - no, reduce it ! All departments know they have to spend all their budget otherwise they get less next year - let's encourage them to save rather than spend it all.

Just need to ensure things are repaired property first time, efficiently, etc.

1814 - Jenny Atkin

I believe we need to find the right balance between working hard to reduce the impact of rates rises on residents while ensuring that Christchurch continues to be a great place to live. I believe you should reduce the expenditure and reset your targets to something more achievable and put more common sense. It's all about prioritization.

1825 - John Davies

Like any enterprise, in times of financial stress the council really needs to stop whacking the major funding base with rate rises, cut out wasteful spending, take a long hard look at overheads, make tough decisions on staffing levels & levels of services and focus on basics (such as the three waters, rubbish collection and maintenance of roading and infrastructure) rather than elaborate schemes with little tangible benefit and substantial downsides (such as the Harewood Road proposal)

I believe the budget could be trimmed in some areas, so that the essential services (water, roads, street lighting, rubbish collection) can be maintained.

CCC wastes a lot of money on consultant fees for things that are not needed, and getting processes back to front, simply asking the community first for input could save a lot of money from consultants that are external (not from here) don't understand local conditions and history and could learn a lot from having a chat with locals. There are many examples of this. CCC is also funding hugely expensive projects that are NOT needed, while some simple services slip behind. It is important that logic is prioritised over ideology.

Less money needs to be wasted on idealistic things.

2305 - Monique Maynard

I understand that costs have increased for providing services and happy to cover increased rubbish collection etc, but do not want any unrequired expenditure - ie statues and art pieces.

2319 - Mark Todd

The Council should review and reduce, across the 10 year period of the forthcoming LTP, the level of insurance it carries across it's asset base and accept a lower level of overall coverage/ higher degree of self insurance. It should consider giving its CCHL group the leeway to do the same. This is a decision likely to be forced on the Council in time anyway as securing re-insurance from global markets for New Zealand as a whole becomes more and more costly over this period (relative to normal CPI level increases), and scope of cover invariably comes under pressure through impact of climate change/ natural disasters etc. The NZ market is simply too small to avoid this outcome, so please front up to it now and change the business model in this key area.

See comment above on insurance. I add that I am sure the ratepayers and residents of Christchurch would accept this proposition if fully explained and phased in over the next 10 years.

2327 - Charles Shaw

Also missing from the programme is a focus on smaller communities outside Christchurch city, including those such as Wainui on Banks Peninsula, which provide many recreational opportunities for the citizens of ChCh. More resources need to be put in to support the efforts and initiatives of rate payers in these outlying communities.

2350 - Jack Bisset

We must all, including council, realise the benefits of up front investment in solar and battery and EV tech coupled with public transport. This will slash operating costs. Please reach out for a direct presentation on how and why if desired.

2367 - Stephen Conti

Maintaining services and the pages road bridge(which might actually save lives) should be the only focus

2385 - Ezra Mussa

[Rates > Other]

The proposed 13.24% rates rise only increases the average annual rates rise since 2013 to 6.38%; this means that 13.24 is a comparatively low rates increase. Without it, the average annual rates rise since 2013 is 5.42%. Therefore, there should be no question of cutting services to keep rates down. Rates should instead go up. Because CCC offers services essential to the residents of the city, whom CCC has responsibility for, rates should be raised by as much as is necessary to maintain services.

2389 - Aurora Garner-Randolph

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters]

CCC needs to increase its operational spending in order to ensure that its staff are not disadvantaged in the context of inflation and to maintain key services for the people of the city.

2392 - Wendy Blair

I think the sports centre in town is a gigantic waste of our money. Its cost keeps increasing and the contractors building it are taking the mickey asking for more and more money when they aren't even delivering on time or budget. Stop funding the cathedral as much as we are, and why is the boss of the Arts Centre being paid so much when the money should go to the restoration? He won't even reveal how much he gets paid which is not transparent? Money should go to water, waste, roads, services (pools, XXX, parks) things which benefit ALL residents for little cost,

2403 - Andrew Woodfield

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Governance]

There is no electoral mandate for Council to cut back on services people rely upon (libraries, swimming pools, etc) to force a lower rates increase. Council's services exist for its constituents, and removing these services will disproportionately impact lower socioeconomic, disabled, and elderly residents, for whom there is no alternative. Council needs to seek mandate from the electorate either in a election campaign or a referendum before implementing any far-reaching changes like this.

259 - Margaret McEvedy

Given the debt situation for councils I suspect the balance is not right. Agree that council must concentrate on core issues

Yes I think the correct things are being prioritised, as stated above but I don't think that Council adheres strictly to what you state above. A tough line across excess needs to be applied, rate payers are having to do this and so must Council.

Council must maintain services however I ask that the hardship imposed on ratepayers is shared by Council that savings must be made across the board and excess trimmed. Some tough choices and decisions around cost cutting will need to be made but that should not affect development and maintenance of essential services. Use major companies to sponsor the 'nice to do programmes' and get back to core services.

Only get back to basics as soon as you can. Encourage large business to fund nice to haves. Obviously 3 Waters and other essential services allowed to fall into disrepair must be upgraded and maintained. Ratepayers know that we pay for this city to do better than survive we want it to thrive, please do not be disrespectful and wasteful with the money that we willingly pay to maintain and enhance the beautiful city we live in.

260 - Manu Hepi

Yes and no, all of these priorities are important but there are still plenty of other things that require funding.

2615 - Virginia Wright

Keep the less privileged members of our community in mind at all times when reviewing what might be cut and don't cut things that add in any way to the financial burden of bringing up children with access to community assets whether that be swimming pools or libraries. Be smart with what gets cut and what doesn't. For example cutting the production grant at first glance may seem to add up economically (save $1.5million) but in fact takes a significant chunk of money out of the economy (the $11million left over once the $1.5million has been covered).

2621 - Caroline Gray

Council already expects residents to do work on their behalf such as report dumped rubbish/ blocked drains. Level of day-to-day service on offer is minimal.

2622 - Rob Murfitt

Cost efficiencies can be achieved by more realistic standards of quality and performance

2629 - Sarah Smith

I'm sure you can maintain the existing levels of service with the current infrastructure, without increasing the rates. Stop putting monies into new infrastructure, unless it is absolutely essential.

263 - Brian Hill

[Revenue > Disposal of Red Zoned Land], [Revenue > Disposal of Council Owned Land]

Cut services and sell assets to enable the funding of infrastructure investment

2640 - Wayne Hawker (New Brighton Museum)

This is a huge challenge for council and when you see just how slow many contractors are working while repairing roads, underground infrastructure etc why is the council not including financial penalties on these contractors to ensure they are done quicker in a safe manner, nobody seems to do anything at the weekends, why not many in the hospitality and shopping sector work 7 days a week so why can they not

2664 - Peter Galbraith

There is no mandate for Council to cut back on services people rely upon (libraries, swimming pools, etc) to force a lower rates increase. Council's services exist for its constituents, and removing these services will disproportionately impact lower socioeconomic, disabled, and elderly residents.

2666 - Kathleen Crisley

I strongly feel that the Council's LTP budget lacks appropriate scrutiny for both ends of the balance sheet: income and expenditure. All businesses and families need to review their income and expenditure in these difficult economic times, with many reducing their expenditure accordingly and looking for additional ways of making money.

Our Council needs to do the same.

REDUCE DEMAND ON RATES – AREAS FOR SAVINGS

A. Christchurch City Council Civic Offices, Hereford Street

The annual rent for Hereford Street is $10.8 million per year ex GST. The rental agreement for the Council has locked it into a systematic increase every year before a first right of renewal on 1 September 2034 with final expiry in 2106.

Council must look to downsize its reliance on this office space and sub-let the subsequent vacant space to reduce expenditure and to increase income. We are locked into this this underperforming asset which is owned 50/50 with Ngai Tahu; we need to earn more income from it.

There are Circa 1500 people based at the Christchurch City Council Civic Offices, or similar office-based environments.

Whether people work from home is dependent on a number of variables such as their employment agreements and the nature of their jobs. While some people work from home regularly, others do so on an ad-hoc basis, and some choose not to at all.

Following this, sublet vacant space to other entities to recover income from the underperforming asset at Hereford Street.

Review all other CCC office locations with a focus on downsizing.

2682 - Scott Savage

Please please just think about what we need vs what we want (nice to haves). E.g. In the past we've seen expensive costs like art installations of lumps of coal or replacing the fence around Hagley Park (unsure what was wrong with the old one). Let's delay spending if it's not of infrastructure benefit and get ourselves sorted before splashing the cash.

269 - Zara Potts

Council should prioritise people's well-being over anything else. To make it more difficult for people financially is not doing that. There are more creative tax/rate options that could be considered like a real estate transaction tax or a billboard tax or air bnb tax - rather than hitting ratepayers with more and more costs.

2690 - Robbie Dobbie

Need to get back to basics of spending ²⁶⁹⁰ on core services, maintaining our assets + retaining our services (necessary ones). Add efficient deliverable capital programme that helps drive our city forward, with particular operations.

Comments: Looks good although a further breakdown of 'other' would be interesting to see.

Operational + maintenance spending is good just as long as efficiency ^{productivity} is monitored.

Care infrastructure + services - Yes Consultants - No

I disagree with expenditure on CCHG going to China.

We need to stop selling our coal to them + stop bringing Capital programme in their rubbish product. Encourage recycling instead.

In this Draft ITP we have focused on developing a deliverable capital programme

2799 - Dot Lovell-Smith

Could more solar and wind powered electricity help reduce costs?

2807 - David Close (Christchurch East Labour Electorate Committee)

[Borrowing & Debt Management > Rating for Renewals]

Council should reduce its capital programme for works that are not urgent. Every ratepayer knows that it is far cheaper to wait a while and pay cash than max out the credit card. We suggest that the Council trim capital expenditure asset out below:

• Information Technology (Vol 1, page 177). In addition to $97m for renewal of assets, $177m is budgeted to improve the level of service. Does anyone seriously believe CCC will gain $177m of benefit from the 'improved level of service'? Reduce by 50%. Save $88m.

2822 - Angela Leatherby

As above, I believe that we need to ensure the investment into our core infrastructure is delivered in a controlled and managed way that reflects the Council's staffing capacity. If we try to do too much too quickly we lose control and that is when budgets blow out, mistakes happen, projects are compromised and this then all impacts on ongoing operational spend

2823 - Aurora Garner-Randolph (School Strike For Climate Ōtautahi)

Infrastructure needs more investment. There needs to be more operational spending. Services shouldn't be cut. >>>See attached document for further submission information.

2827 - Carley Dove-McFalls (Generation Zero Ōtautahi)

Because if we do not increase our rates to keep up with the current levels of service, our city will be worse off in all aspects and people would lose their jobs. We want our rates to go towards green council jobs and services that help communities that have been pushed to the margins of society.

2835 - Emma Rodriguez Dos Santos

I want to see existing public services supported and invested in. I believe the Libraries Services is an excellent thing across CCC so its very odd that it only get 6% of the whole and some of the other proportions don't appear to be more highly prioritized.

286 - Pauline Reid

In these tough economic times I think any new big projects should be limited as Christchurch has seen a lot of big projects post quakes and we can't afford any more projects blowing out cost wise. We should all be grateful for the "the new and vibrant city" that is emerging.

2868 - Jonty Coulson

We need to better support future generations in this city, and investing in infrastructure is always cheaper sooner.

2869 - Josiah O'Neill

[Borrowing & Dept Management > Borrowing & Dept Management]

I would also support the Council taking on more debt to fund long term projects provided the payment are sustainable, I do not believe paying down debt significantly should be prioritised over other things.

2876 - Sarah Hastie

Whilst I believe the council maintaining its "core" services, infrastructure and facilities is important, I do think some consideration needs to be given to what constitutes core services, infrastructure and facilities. The rates increases do seem quite large, particularly when many people are struggling. Are there areas of existing services or infrastructure projects that have been labeled as core that are really "nice to have" - For example supporting cycling would not constitute a core infrastructure investment to me. The major cycling projects are a nice to have, which in my opinion we don't need and thus by not going ahead with these could be a good way to cut rates increases and council spending without reducing spending on the core services related to transportation (e.g maintaining roads and footpaths). Similarly whilst it is nice to have big events, these are luxuries rather than must have, so some consideration needs to be given to whether we should have them and who is actually benefiting from them.

2888 - Alistair Price

We are continually being told how much items on the Long Term Budget will cost. The question that needs to be asked of Councillors and staff is this money going to be wisely spent and managed. Too often we see waste of CCC spending by council and its contractors.

But please spend the money wisely. Cut out the waste. The ratepayers are not there to support Councillors or staff private dreams or agendas. Councillors you are there to run a city not a charity while things are tough.

2936 - Ian Lochhead

However, I believe that reprioritisation of spending is required in some areas and that existing funding for some items that are proposed to be withdrawn should be maintained.

It is important for CCC to continue to deliver its current level of service, particularly as central government is making cuts in so many areas. If rates are reduced and services and investment in infrastructure etc is reduced the city will go backwards. It is important to make Christchurch a desirable place to live to attract long-term residents and students attending our tertiary institutions. There is still a lot of investment needed to get us back to where we were pre-quakes.

2939 - John Thomsen

Some projects/jobs/departmental jobs on projects should be prioritized and others put on hold to reduce expenditure.

298 - Zya Gurau

[Strategic Direction > Climate Change]

There haven't been resources explicitly budgeted for projects surrounding sustainability projects. I would like to see climate related projects more explicitly budgeted in.

2997 - Simon Trotter

Operational costs for new infrastructure needs to be accounted for and in real terms. New builds increase operational costs, and these will continue to grow.

2999 - Reuben Woods (Watch This Space & The Flare Street Art Festival)

[Recreation, Sports & Events > Community Arts, Grants and Funding > Requests for additional funding]

We believe a fairer and more diverse distribution of investment in arts and culture spending will ensure a greater impact and reach of our city's incredible creative spirit. By investing in street art and a strategic programme, we can develop a unique approach to urban creativity that will support a wide range of participants and audiences for future generations. This impact will contribute to the city's reputation as a thriving and prosperous destination, attracting attention and visitors, while reflecting our citizens and communities in vibrant and engaging ways. From large-scale events to community-centred initiatives, the street art programme will provide wide-reaching opportunities. This would be a nation-wide first and ensure Ōtautahi leads the way for urban creativity and its positive outcomes.

3 - Di Pranker

I think we need action - no more money wasted on consultants and working groups

3023 - Carolyn Brown

Council could save rate increases and money if they stopped chasing dream projects and focus on the assets we already have and ensuring they are fit for purpose. Cutting services is not the answer if they want to continue to improve the public's satisfaction with living here.

3031 - Lee Osborn

[Parks>Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration]

It depends what was meant by core infrastructure and facilities. We should reduce spending on events that benefit vested interests and stick to core council activities, boosting some such as predator control which, oddly, hardly rates a mention in the ten year plan.

3092 - Kitty Moran

Maintain existing levels of service, yes. But investing in facilities like Te Kaha would be too much.

3124 - Jeff Pundanera

Not quite. Probably lessen the spendings on cycle pathways where there aren't many cyclists. Most cycle pathways were even eating up road spaces (i.e. Grove Road, Addington).

Rather, divert budget to law enforcement and medical care. Law enforcement: find ways to lessen those people roaming around Christchurch harassing people for money, ram raiding, stealing cars, stealing mailbox content, etc. Christchurch seem to be an unsafe place to live in now. Medical care: have more budget allotted here so there could be more nurses and doctors at least in this city. Waiting times for appointments must go down and that would be the evidence that the council had prioritised healthcare.

3129 - Skye Arnopp

Focus should be on keeping/improving social welfare services and local infrastructure.

As previous, maintaining or improving social welfare and local infrastructure is paramount

That said, perhaps you could look at allocating more to financial assistance for those disadvantaged.

315 - Sophia Pegg

As long as our core infrastructure and facilities is roading, parking, water and sewerage. Everything else is a nice to have.

Our plan need to reflect the fact that we are not wealthy. We don't have money or more money. Our focus needs to be on the must haves and not the nice to have.

3163 - Simon Cobb

Less on water, more on heritage eg Arts Centre

3165 - Adrienne Baxter

You need to look for alternatives to fund infrastructure not just relying on taxing the rate payers more and more, especially when times are tough for many. have you looked at businesses funding? in exchange for something they need.

[Rates > Other]

also look at doing planned project quicker so the costs don't keep going up and become unaffordable (as they have been doing). maybe finish a few projects before starting new ones. Watch consulting fees! they are over charging and price projects off the market just because you are a council or government agency and see a cash cow. Does it really need consulting?

[Strategic Direction>Have we got the balance right?]; [Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]; [Transport>Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)]; [Grants & Funding>Arts Centre Funding]; [Grants & Funding>Orana Park Funding]

Almost, I would like to see more funding for Orana Wildlife park, the Arts Centre, and green forms of transport i.e. bike lane/routes and public transport.

[Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]; [Transport>Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)]; [Grants & Funding>Arts Centre Funding]; [Grants & Funding>Orana Park Funding]

I agree with most of the spending however I want to see more spending on housing, our arts centre, Orana Park and bike lanes/public transport.

3231 - Colin Foster

There are some areas that could do with more funding (such as parks and recreation areas) and less on charity type events.

3248 - Dave Edwards

Reduce amount spent parks, heritage and coastal environments

[Libraries>Libraries (Operations)]

Same with libraries, let the users pay and use the online services.

Now is the time to pull back of glamour and grandiose projects. Make it easier for communities to fund raise and do the work themselves. Pull back on cultural projects and spend our rates on fixing the basics.

3250 - Hannah Murdoch

[Transport>Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)]

As long as the transport costs are going towards easier public transport.

[Strategic Direction>Climate Change]

Retain the sustainability fund. Do not focus on development and hard assets. That is not all that supports a community. We need green spaces, connected communities, sustainable living practices.

3299 - Phil OMalley

I do not have the budget to comment on - only a series of pleasant slides on where the money is to be spent. What are the staff costs, facilities costs (offices) and other major cost areas. Ensuring contracts for road and other council funded works are competitively tendered. Especially to related parties like CityCare Reducing capital spend (see comments on the South Library) will help with the interest costs.

3318 - Mary Ogilvie

I think roads, water and public transport should be top priority.

3322 - Christine Nicoll

Maintain what we have rather than create more projects that need ongoing cost.

334 - Clare Marshall

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters]

Libraries, pools, parks should be maintained. They are amenities for the people who live here. Cut your admin and office staff. and reduce the salaries of key council members and higher management - they are out of whack compared to a normal resident of this city and I don't agree with my rates paying such ridiculously high wages.

3346 - Lynette Bay

Using rate payer money wisely - spend what you have not what you do not have. Leave projects that can wait, wait until money is available.

Please work with in the budget and be good stewards of our taxpayer money. It is our money, not yours to spend as you wish. There are good projects but are they a priority or can they be put aside to relook at when council is in a better financial position, that is can they be done later. As a rate payer the council needs to be doing the basics well before doing 'fancy costly projects that do not necessarily benefit all rate payers. Spend within your means.

3364 - Alison Murray

Fund the community organisations that benefit everyone. Pools, parks, museums, and heritage are important but they should be more user pays as they do not benefit everyone.

3371 - Malcolm Frost

Although I have ticked - "Deliver what we have proposed in the Draft Long Term Plan" I believe it is imperative for the Council to look at ways to save money & to avert a 'Rates affordability crisis' that could present itself some time hence. The worst situation would be one in which much infrastructure has been built that then can't be serviced. I hope to be proved wrong but I fear cost pressures could prove much more onerous for the Council going forward than has been estimated.

3372 - Jenny Bond (Te Tuna Tāone)

I think you need to look at what efficiencies could be gained from within council. It is not clear if this has been done as a measure to address efficiencies. Instead, the focus seems to have been on reducing or the removal of contestable grants.

3373 - Michael Netto

[Spending > Our Proposed Spending], [Rates > Residential Rates]

Thank you for allowing the opportunity to provide feedback on the Draft Long Term Plan 2024-2034. I appreciate the Council's commitment to future-proofing our city through strategic investments in infrastructure and services. It is essential, especially in light of our growing population driven by both domestic and international migration. However, I am concerned about the proposed average rates increase of 13.24% for next year. Such a significant hike during these challenging economic times could strain many residents and businesses, potentially making living in Christchurch less sustainable.

In these trying times, I believe that the Council should prioritize delivering basic services efficiently rather than ✓ Draft Long-Term Plan 2024-2034 from Netto, Michael embarking on overly ambitious projects that lead to excessive rate increases. We must ensure that Christchurch remains a livable city for all residents without imposing undue financial burdens. Thank you for considering my concerns. I look forward to seeing adjustments that more closely align with the immediate needs and financial realities of Christchurch's residents.

I appreciate the Council's effort to manage and allocate funds for the day-to-day operations that keep our city functioning. However, after reviewing the proposed operational spending, I believe that our priorities need reconsideration to better align with the essential needs of Christchurch residents. While I understand that all services provided by the Council are important, I am concerned that not enough emphasis is being placed on the most crucial services that directly impact the well-being and daily life of all city residents. Essential services such as public safety, water supply, waste management, and infrastructure maintenance must be prioritized to ensure that they are not only maintained but enhanced, without imposing undue financial burden on the ratepayers. Moreover, the current economic climate calls for a stringent review of how efficiently and productively the Council's funds are being used. Operational efficiency should be at the forefront of the Council's fiscal strategy to ensure that taxpayers' money is being spent wisely and that we are getting the best possible return on investment. This includes critically assessing each line of spending to find potential savings and avoid wastage. I urge the Council to adopt a more focused approach on essential services and improve operational efficiency and productivity. This approach will not only ensure sustainability and preparedness for future challenges but also maintain public trust by demonstrating fiscal responsibility.

[Strategic Direction > Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities]

I appreciate the vision laid out in the Council's Strategic Framework 2024-34 for a thriving, inclusive, and sustainable city. However, I urge a stronger emphasis on the basics—increasing operational efficiency, boosting productivity, and ensuring financial prudence to avoid wasteful expenditures. A transparent approach in all projects and initiatives is crucial to maintaining public trust and demonstrating that every dollar spent is aligned with our community's core needs and priorities. Let's focus on making our city not only sustainable and inclusive but also efficiently managed and responsibly governed.

We want our rates to go towards green council jobs and services that help communities that have been pushed to the margins of society.

3381 - Karen Amyes

Prioritize the most important services and postpone those of lesser importance so that rates do not increase.

3418 - Judith Kirk

While it is important that we continue to maintain our existing level of service and levels of investment in our core infrastructure and facilities it is also important that we continue to assess the relative values of these and consider if adjustments should be considered so that other important facilities can be included.

3421 - Mary Clark

Mostly.

3425 - Hugh Dacre

But you should be improving efficiencies.

3430 - Philippa Upton

Overall I think there is a good attempt to balance differing needs and expectations given the situation the Council is starting from, but the proposed plan seems to be light on support for culture and heritage.

3460 - Jasper Van der Lingen

More should be spent on the arts, libraries and cultural facilities like the Arts Centre

3464 - Serena Smith

Look into providing more for those less fortunate, so they don't feel like a plague to everyone else in the city. Look at what the Wellington City council does on this subject. You'll learn heaps.

3471 - Murray Irvine

Get back to basics and leave the other stuff to those who know how to do it correctly.

3484 - Prue Stringer

Spending on community should be increased, eg libraries, parks.

3510 - Michael Horgan

Again, mis management. Been in the industry watching ccc waiste millions. Ccc should be looking at cost savings. Scrap panel groups as they waist millions per year

Scap panel works. Get value on contracts

Invest in everyone, not just the west side and affluent people

Yes again. Talk to people who have been involved. Huge waiste of money by many contracts

354 - Vivienne Allan

The reason I say 'no' is because the annual answer is always to pare back the libraries, change their opening hours, reduce their staff etc etc etc. In other words, reduce the small cultural impact such activities have even further.

3552 - Alice Neylon

[Transport > Roads (Capital)]

Reduction of dumb initiatives and a focus on improving function and quality of roading.

3558 - Patrick Kennedy

The council does not have a mandate to cut back on services such as libraries, swimming pools, etc. to force through a lower rates increase. Removal of council services would disproportionately affect those who need them the most.

3575 - Anna Hansson

It sounds about right overall but it really comes down to the details

358 - Tamara Dauvergne

People are sick and tired of Councils trotting out this kind of nonsense that threaten essential community services such as swimming pools and libraries. How about reducing your staff, reducing the exorbitant executive salaries and running under a budget - just like all citizens must do.

3599 - Hayley Guglietta

Not completely, I believe we must push projects that have not started off the books until we have completed key anchor projects (Stadium, Cathedral etc) to relieve people of the ever increasing costs and we do not lose any community funding as in the big scheme of things this money is not much but gives a ROI to the city like nothing else can.

Stop spending money on reports and plans that then get shelved as there are no allocated resources to execute said plans. i.e the Draft Stormwater Management Plan

3601 - Bridget Allen

I think money going into the stadium and sport is too high. More needs to go into the arts.

3610 - Eric Stierna

Increasing operational spending without targets for improving the efficiency of the services delivered is a recipe for waste. The plan to increase operational spending should differentiate between cost increases that maintain the status quo and those that create new capabilities. At least 33% of the increased spending should be focused on growing new operational capabilities aligned with the needs of the growing community. The ability to achieve cost savings in operational spending that can support growing the funding and support for non-governmental organisation services should be highlighted.

3618 - Chrys Horn

As I've said earlier - please invest more in infrastructure that supports the capacity of Christchurch residents to be able to choose to change the way they live to be more climate and environment friendly. Invest in infrastructure than holds us all in behaviour patterns that work against our collective long term interests. Likewise invest in community development which helps people to help themselves more and to be more resilient - something that is becoming increasingly important as our climate and local environment changes and deteriorates.

3620 - Rosemary Turnbull

Existing levels of service must continue but money wasted needs to be scrutinised.

Think much more carefully about where the money is spent--less on sporting "white elephants" and more on cultural and spiritual buildings and places which can enrich the soul in these troubling times!

I haven't time to read the plan but urge more spending on the Cultural aspects of the city. That will benefit our citizens more than anything else, apart from infrastructure repairs and maintenance.

3623 - Jessica Adams

Priority should be for key services and infrastructure not subsidising housing, transport and the "nice to have" extra things in the community.

3625 - Angela Brett

I wish that the public consult on the stadium hadn't committed us to spending as much on that, and that we could use some of that to fund more sustainability projects, but - beyond that, it's good to see the forward thinking in flood prevention and that there are still cycleway projects and other accessible transport options in the mix.

[Grants & Funding>Arts Centre Funding]

Although I will still quibble about specifically what is funded. I'm in the - I'm guessing - large group of people writing in to say we'd like the arts centre to remain on the funding list!

3626 - Connie Christensen

Some services might be able to benefit from sharing operational facilities (libraries, service centres, community spaces, sports facilities, council offices etc) to save on space, staff, running costs, building space needed, maintenance etc.

363 - Nathan Carroll

I think there should be more investment in the east, the reality of the poor state of this side of Christchurch is plain to see

3634 - Peter Cooper

Back to basics! Start looking after neglected park, reserves, roading footpaths. Too much vanity spending, eg the 4M$ that could be found to buy an old house at Akaroa! Extra money can be found for a stadium at short notice, wasteful spending on disastrous road layouts in the central city!

3645 - Sophie McKenzie

It is essential for services not only to be maintained at what it is currently but should also to increase them even more.

3646 - Thomas Blakie

Overall, the investments which are being made and the spending is good. There should be more investment in long over due work around climate adaptation, public and active transport, enabling stronger and denser communities, and engaging more with the public and young people in innovate and diverse ways.

3648 - Yvonne Russell

Many of the things I am being rated for are not things I can even access (bus service ,cycle lanes , sports stadium to name a few) I would be quite comfortable for a cut back to library opening 4 days a week , rubbish collection once a month, swimming pools cutting back on opening hours , minimal "free concerts " .

3651 - Kate Innes

[Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]; [Transport>Footpaths & Streetscapes (Capital)]; [Transport>Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)]; [Transport>Roads (Capital)]; [Other/Special Interest Topics>Creating a Climate Fund]

Would like greater funding for cycling, walking and public transport, and less money spent on roads. Would like greater funding for climate-related action, such as adaptation planning and a climate resilience fund.

3652 - Andrew Hamlin

As mentioned in previous comments. Some of the things that CCC invests in is more catered for the "I want here and now crowd" I feel a lack of investment towards some of Christchurch's more iconic valued assets being our parks, rivers and reserves. However this also takes a collaborative approach to achieve. I think that CCC has the power to act on arranging more collaboration with the wider community so that the community is more inclined to engage.

3653 - Andrew McDougall

I believe much more must be spent on infrastructure in the East of the city. I feel that we are treated with contempt. I have lived in Wyon St. for 57 years and am horrified at how the infrastructure has been so poorly maintained over that time. The community board recently rejecting improvements is a real "slap in the face" for residents of Wyon St.

3666 - Clarrie Pearce

Need more funding for quality of life situations such as Orana Park, the Arts Centre etc less on noncore Transport eg pretty streets.

3668 - Gavin Hardie

CCC is making poor decisions by not prioritizing Citizen's needs properly. e.g. Kaha Stadium is the CCC's White Elephant and the Costly new Swimming Pool built on Christchurch's former Brewery Lake.

3671 - Linda Nicolson

You need to focus on must haves until the economy improves-not nice to haves.

We need people to do the work but we don't want too many high paid managers. The review process of performance of staff needs to be robust like in the private sector.

3700 - Ian Cumberpatch

I see that only 1% goes to Housing, collectively 8% Art Gallery Museums, Communities and Citizens, and Libraries. I think more funding is required for housing, communities and citizens.

I can only accept that those who prepared the Proposals have done so on sound and informed advice from those suitably experienced to provide this.

3701 - Rod Hay

Comments below will enlarge on my views but, in summary, I believe that greater emphasis is needed on resilience of infrastructure, nature and citizens' wellbeing in the face of future economic, social and climate challenges. Some of the reprioritisation is needed within spending categories such as transport, while other categories such as art galleries and museums appear to be poor relations in comparison with sport and recreation for example.

3705 - Glenis Youngman

I think the council needs to think of all residents with their plan and cannot make a one-size fit all plan. The council needs to reduce the costs and cut back on any new projects until the economy is in better shape. >>> Stick to the basics instead of fancy projects that end up costing more than projected.

3710 - Kit French

Big projects are nice to have, but the basics should come first.

3711 - Hamish Keown

[Grants & Funding > ChristchurchNZ Funding (General)]

As a ratepayer, I agree that we need to keep the core infrastructure maintained, but due to the generally high cost of living, I think the council needs to limit additional funding to Chch NZ, for example, as there should be a level of sustainability with such an organisation. It's only fair if CCC expected community groups to see a diverse range of funding, that its own companies do the same.

3717 - Sam Hampton (Te Pātaka o Rākohaitū Banks Peninsula Geopark Trust)

It is critical that infrastructure and facilities required for the communities of Banks Peninsula are adequately supported.

As should be not just maintaining services but enhancing to create resilient networks.

3722 - Rachel Thwaites

Can still do better.

3724 - Terence Sissons

Agree that rates need to fund operational spending but the level of expense needs to be constantly scrutinised.

First priority should be - can we afford all this? If we can't then we need to prioritise and some things will just have to wait. For example, let's get Te Kaha and 3 waters paid off before we take on more community projects. Things that can't wait need to be financed over the expected economic life of the assets so that current ratepayers are not subsidising future generations

3727 - Carl Fox

however in my opinion Council is spending money in non-core and non-investment areas. If some of this expenditure was redirected, then there would likely be a return on the investment rather than wasted expenditure.

3757 - Sonia Kennedy

10% attributed to Other makes it hard to determine if the right things are prioritised. There is a further 11% in Regulatory & Compliance and Strategic Planning which seems high.

3758 - Mads Churchhouse

Yes. When people are struggling, they need more public services, not less. This is just basic social economics. The impact on households of paying rates which can be equitably spent on the city's infrastructure and services can go a long way to mitigating the broader impacts, to the ordinary person, of a declining economy and struggling broader society. As a microcosm - paying rates which go to funding, say, a well run bus service, is far cheaper to households in the long run (and far better for social inclusion, community health, leisure, mental health AND the climate) than households being forced to shell out for a car or spend more week to week on petrol because the city no longer has public transport. Defunding public services simply exacerbates the poverty people are already experiencing. It isolates them, worsens their health mental and physical, which then ultimately draws more on the economy in a vicious cycle as need increases. This is basic austerity stuff.

The people of this city, and the council, could save far more money in the long run by investing rates into the infrastructure that's going to weather the climate crisis. Either you spend big now, or you spend far, far more in coming decades.

3770 - Jane Higgins

It's good to see spending on climate change mitigation. Obviously, adaptation is important, but cities must take the lead (since government clearly won't) in emissions reduction through decarbonisation of transport and the growth of an urban forest. I would like to see more spent on these mitigation instruments. It is disappointing to read in the Plan that we are unlikely to reach our emissions target as a city. I encourage Council to do more to take this target seriously and to strive to achieve it.

3780 - Jack Halliday

- Current and future generations should not need to pay for the unsustainably low rates rises of the past. - Too much priority in road maintenance. Necessary spending on cycling, pedestrian and bus infrastructure, three waters, climate change mitigation and adaptation, urban revitalisation and others should not be pushed back or removed completely.

I am glad to see no operational spending cuts to public facilities such as libraries and swimming pools. These are necessary, well-used and loved parts of our city that should never be used to reduce rates rises.

3798 - M-Webb User

[Grants & Funding > Other Community Grants & Funding]

Operational spending is about right but for the peninsula we can make it go further by using local contractors. Our reserves committee does a lot for the community and volunteer work but they could get more assistance and finances as an example.

3805 - Antony Lawrence

It's time for zero based budgeting rather than the attitude of growing the organisation without proper consideration of the effectiveness (or otherwise) of the existing policies.

3830 - Brenda Banning

As noted in overall comments there is a lot to balance. >>> There should be more focus on what will make us more sustainable and resilient not quick economic gain.

3831 - Rick Jones

$948m on "other" operational spending looks like a smokescreen. Publish the numbers of how and where this is to be spent.

3832 - Karen Atkinson

Put some money into New Brighton instead of farting around. It's been 13 years since the EQ and we've had sweet all.

3834 - Matt Stewart

[Parks > Parks Maintenance]

Operational spending should be prioritized, especially park up keep. If CCC is already struggling with tree maintenance, and CCC is proposing to significantly increase the trees in the parks, are our parks going to turn into unmaintained forests?

3837 - Dermot Coffey

[Revenue > Central Govt Grants & Funding]

As Joe Biden once said: "Don't tell me what you value, show me your budget, and I'll tell you what you value." The LTP gives us the clearest picture of the Council's vision for the next decade. It is unfortunate that central government decisions make harder many of the long-term changes that need to happen within Christchurch as we deal with a growing population, inadequate investment in infrastructure for many years, the inevitable and potentially catastrophic impacts of climate change and a need to reduce our own emissions. This doesn't change the need to make these improvements however. This long-term plan is a step or two in the right direction but needs to go much further in terms of developing a healthy, safe and future-oriented city. If central government is going to maintain a car-first or car-only approach and ignore the impacts on wellbeing and the inevitability of it worsening sprawl and failing to help congestion, it falls upon our local government to actually put people at the centre of their decisions

3839 - Samantha Dryden

We should be maintaining existing levels of service & investment as a minimum. Ideally, we should be increasing investment in several key areas such as climate change mitigation and adaptation, public transport and bike lanes, and biodiversity.

3845 - Wolfgang Rack

In the current environment, I'd prefer higher priority to operational spending, and lower priority to capital spending. Too much capital is spent on sports infrastructure such as Te Kaha.

3846 - Rebecca Finch

I guess I would like CCC to ensure that whatever they do for citizens is targeted to keep the climate emergency at the forefront of the decisions, so how do we reduce emissions? How will this decision (whatever it is) reduce emissions?

You are doing some of this work and its fabulous, now it would be such a hopeful thing to see that work ramped up and pumping.

3881 - Anne Scott

Our core facilities, in particular Libraries, recreation facilities, parks and natural spaces are essential services which should not be cut. We also need water, wastewater, power and internet which need ongoing maintenance. The rate increase is a sad reflection of previous underinvestment which is now catching up with us. A stitch in time saves nine.

3882 - Jodi Gauci

Maintain what we have rather than letting it get so bad it needs replaced

3898 - Richard Smith

NEED TO CUT OUR CLOTH AS WE CAN AFFORD

3899 - Harrison McEvoy

[Transport > Footpaths & Streetscape (capital), Fees and charges > Car Parking fees (on-street and off-street parking, Transport > Public Transport (infrastructure)]

There is no reason this should be cut. You should expand the roving footpath crews and the parking enforcement teams. You should also enforce bus lanes.

3907 - Graham Muir

accepting $41m out of potential savings of $182m suggests there is room for further savings here if the council is prepared to make more realistic decisions rather than 'passing the buck' back on the ratepayer.

3908 - Cathy Harlow

New expenditure should be evaluated against whether delays are likely to ultimately hurt rate payers more. If not, don't ask people to pay now when they are hurting.

3909 - Anna Osborn

Reducing costs in the council itself should be looked at first.

There needs to be a focus on the spending in the council, staff etc.

3910 - Joshua Jones

I think more spending on infrastructure and regional growth should be prioritised,

3913 - Mark Darbyshire

In the past, Council has too often put all its eggs in one big basket. Expensive projects like Te Kaha, the cathedral, the Town Hall, and the Court Theatre all spring to mind. We need to shift the mindset towards a more equitable use of funds for smaller projects to ensure the needs of everyone in the community are met, and not just certain pockets of society. This will achieve better social outcomes and reduce cost blowouts.

3917 - Bob Thayer

With some reservation. Cost of providing services must be scrutinized

3921 - Alison Loveridge

In general operational spending needs to be prioritised rather than cuts to rates to maintain services and shift to running new services to support public and active transport.

393 - Kathryn Russell

Forget about nice to haves in cost of living crisis. Stop neighbouring areas residents using CCC services and events free

3951 - Steph Walker (Christchurch Arts Audience Development Trust)

Christchurch Arts Audience Development Trust is a collective of individuals, representing many of our city's arts organisations. The Christchurch Arts Audience Development (CAAD) Steering Group was set up in 2012. The group is representative of many of Christchurch's key arts genres and has the aim of creating a platform for all of the city's arts organisations to better engage with their audiences. We support any Council infrastructure and activity that brings artists and audiences together more readily. Organisations represented on the steering group are: Canterbury Museum, Christchurch Symphony Orchestra, SCAPE Public Art, WORD Christchurch, the Court Theatre, CoCA, Showbiz, Isaac Theatre Royal, MAP - Movement Art Practice, Jolt Dance, the Christchurch Arts Centre and more. While members also include representatives from Toi Ōtautahi, Christchurch Art Gallery Te Puna o Waiwhetū and ChristchurchNZ, none of these representatives provided advice or opinion towards this submission.

Spend less on sporting facility's!

612 - Annette Mauger

You state 7% ($629M) is spent on regulatory and compliance, 3%($236M) on governance, ($326M) on strategic planning and policy. That is 14% ($1191M) of operation costs. There is a large of amount overlap in these job descriptions which are core council functions. Perhaps efficiencies can be made here. 10% ($949M) is classified as other. This needs to be clarified as this could mean anything. I'm hoping the large amount allocated to Three Waters means we will be rid of chlorinated water in the very near future.

[Libraries > Libraries (Capital)]

Prioritising existing services is good so long as it includes promised-for upgrades to libraries that have been in the works since the 2010 earthquakes -- e.g. Beckenham Library.

Cut out some managers and review the pay packages of your CEO and other executives.

635 - Ashley Campbell

Providing community services such as libraries, swimming pools, community services is core council spending and should be prioritised.

657 - Murray Peacock

the proposed level of rate increase is unaffordable to most property owners , the Council need to reprioritise expenditure to balance income with expenditure, your primary mission statement is spot on , so you need to work to achieve this

6900 - Geraldine Jellyman

While there are big projects to finish - stadium & metro - we may need to dial back on some other work in the meantime

My main comments are around cutting costs, cutting back and doing things cheaper, as well as raising alternative income sources. See my comments in the next section

Guiding principle: Brainstorm more ways to increase income and reduce costs Some potential ideas to get started as follows:

Defer or delay more projects or explore ways to do them cheaper

Increase opportunities for sponsorship Hui for ways to reduce costs vote on best ideas and implement them

In general I don't have a problem with your priority areas for spending

705 - John Hendrickx

Reduce spending Stop wasteful spending Increase productivity Reduce all the spin and woke ideas

I think we need to invest much more for a safe future. It will be cheaper to build now and get prepared.

755 - Jenn Shraga

The level of service has fallen yet rates are to increase. Hiding the major mishap programs going up in the city behind "service and infrastructure " is blatant. Look to big corporations and business for your money and stop squeezing the people for something they will never afford to use.

759 - Rory Kinahan

I think the CCC does a good job of most core services but needs to concentrate on providing value for money, ensuring that all staff are providing value and managing staff who are not, while only providing core services.

760 - David Palmer

Spend more on operations.

769 - Julie Kidd

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters]

Continued operational spending, especially maintaining adequate numbers and skill mix of staff to keep services running well, is very important

784 - Sian Carvell

As mentioned, as well as maintaining, operational spending should also be future focused, so the city is resilient to change climate changes ahead, where we thrive not just survive, and we don't just react but rather be proactive.

We understand that budgets are tight, and that cost cutting is the order of the day. We agree with cost cutting, which is operational, but this should not be confused with wise intergenerational investment in your town and city centers, suburban centers and parks and recreational facilities.

[FULL ATTACHMENT AVAILABLE]

847 - David Bromell

This is a false choice - reducing operating costs does not necessarily require reduced levels of service and investment in core infrastructure and facilities. It could be achieved by focusing staff on long-term goals and current objectives, and helping them identify minimal investments of time and resources for maximal impact. Cut waste, not services.

Generally, yes, but I expect Council to set goals for management to reduce operating costs in 2024/25, noting that central government is requiring agencies to identify cost savings of 6.5%-7.5%.

870 - Lis Stevenson

Put a stop to fancy stuff like statues etc and focus on keeping services running

883 - Elizabeth Steel

Honestly I think that there should be higher levels of services and core infrastructure investment, but if the only options are maintenance or worse then I'd choose maintenance every time. I would ideally like to see more investment in bus routes and lanes, cycle lanes, and extreme weather protection like flood protection.

885 - Denise Kidd

I seem to be locked in to agreeing with what CCC is proposing to do or asking them to make savings. I expect to be able to inform what dollars get spent on and inform where the money is spent some of the spend is correct

My issues are that the options proposed are either do what CCC say or dont, an option is missing for me, which is to spend money but differently than what is proposed. I want residents views to influence priorities

I don't agree with spending money on the cathedral and there seems to be little investment in biodiversity funding and ongoing funding of conservation work

920 - Marie Porter

Core infrastructure and facilities are essential CCC business, please ensure leadership decisions, long-term planning and works are carried out with efficiency of resources and spending.

982 - Craig Newbury

Work within your budgets and look for ways to spend less, get better value from the spend. Stop look for 'good ideas' that cost us money when we don't need it and only take an idea from another when that idea will save money, not increase spend!

Only if the spend fits within a budget. Look at what the current govt is doing. Reducing costs! CCC reduce costs!!

If it fits within the budget. If not trim things or sell capital assets to reduce debt to enable the required spend. Just like a family or company does. Live within your direct means and stop stepping outside of them.

1167 - Anja Luecht

You need to make your budget and spending public. The amount that Christchurch City Council pays for their staff to attend meetings, not paying Iwi tens of thousand of dollars to use name on council facilities, for art projects that either never happen or you spend ridiculous amounts of money on that don't serve your residents.

The Eastern coastal Suburbs, including New Brighton, South New Brighton and Southshore have been largely abandoned. There is a very deliberate and inequitable attrition of services including lack of rubbish collection, lack of adequate roading, asphalt and wastewater repairs and facilitated deforestation of South Brighton reserve and erosion of the Estuary edge

1302 - Melanie Forsyth

When you asked the residents if they wanted to maintain services, did you also advise the cost to them associated with this - otherwise its idealistic. Of course they want to maintain current services, but perhaps there should be a seperate charge associated with the services outside of rates if you belive there is the demand from residents. Otherwise we should be looking to reduce rate rises in the future until the overall economy is in a significantly better position - that way we actually protect future generations in the economy and infrastructure started.

1436 - Victoria Andrews

Stop applying the council's 'one size fits' approach all with regard to Akaroa and Banks Peninsula which contain numerous remote and isolated communities of interest that have little in common with the developed urban areas of Christchurch.

The council applies policies across the board without regard to where activities often take place. Doing so impinges on the level of service and quality of life for many in the Akaroa community some of whom lack the resources to travel into town to access a dentist (Akaroa has no dentist), attend appointments, seek entertainment or to further their education. Parts of the Peninsula are often cut off from Christchurch due to inclement weather conditions.

In my experience, staff sometimes provide reports about the Akaroa area that do not reflect the actual situation based on the location of the activity and limitations which are not often found in the city. Councillors are then expected to make decisions on inadequate and inaccurate information. In my view the focus of Christchurch City Council remains firmly on the CBD and the suburbs of the city. It also appears that some decisions can be swayed by powerful business and sporting interests. An example was the decision to add 5,000 seats to the new stadium bringing the total number up to a 30,000 capacity while knowing full well the facility will remain empty during most of the year. Influential developers appear to have the capacity to override council reports and decisions at will. Te Kaha gets a whopping $286 million at 5% of capital spending (see below) plus probably of a portion of the $408 million listed under "other" of the capital spend over the next 10 years. The average ratepayer has been left out of the discussion leaving them little recourse other than writing a public submission until the next election comes along.

No. Delaying investment in a city only leads to increased costs for the next generation. We need to learn the lessons from decisions made 20-30 years ago to underinvest in infrastructure that are now affecting many councils around the country. A council isn't only for essential infrastructure (i.e. transport/water) - it is also the organisation best placed to efficiently deliver many services to enrich residents' lives - such as well-maintained parks and a reasonable number of events - and services that help the most vulnerable such as community housing.

2902 - Prawindra Mukhia

How are interrelated businesses operated - how is City Care managed to ensure contracts are fair value? For example, are the returns from CCHL under control? Operational spending is critical. Post 2011 the city of Christchurch has "pockets" of positive and welcome developments - in saying this it has to be noted that parts of the city are functional well for locals and visitors, nationally and internationally. These are: New Regent St, the central city library, Cashel Street and the Arts Centre/Hagley Park/ Art Gallery. The latter is of particular importance - The Arts Centre is host to 12 tenanted galleries/museums - these are an anchor to the Christchurch Art Gallery and link/connection to experiencing the best and most functioning aspects of the central city, to Cashel St, parts of High Street and surrounding areas.

Mirror your ratepayers, cut back everywhere you can and attend only to necessities.

466 - John Pryor

I am deeply concerned that Council is overspending in areas where it should not be involved and poorly prioritising funding.

48 - Kean Mitchell

[Spending > Capital Programme]

The rates should be specific to the scope they are funding.... if the money is for 3 waters, it should NEVER be used for a Library. If a rate item is for pools it should not be used for parks, etc The service on offer should be supported by the funding available.....

Te Kaha

General Comments

542 submitters provided feedback on Te Kaha.

29 provided comments in support of the spending on Te Kaha, and 298 provided comments in opposition.

143 provided alternative proposals, and 99 made general comments regarding the build and subsequent running of the stadium.

Officer Response

Most submitters were against further spending on Te Kaha.

Some submitters mentioned that ratepayers in surrounding Councils would also benefit from the Stadium and should contribute either directly or via an Ecan levy.

Other submitters mentioned that ticket prices could contain some form of funding for the Stadium.

Council has consulted on Te Kaha separately in 2022 and resolved to proceed with the project.

Surrounding Councils have previously been approached regarding contributing to the operating costs of the stadium.

Council and Venues Otautahi are already aware of the option to add a fee to ticket prices.

In terms of the CAPEX programme, I am thrilled that CCC have pushed on with the new stadium and it's great to see the progress when driving past - it will be an absolute win for the city.

[Spending>Capital Programme (General)]; [Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]; [Transport>Other]

No issues with CAPEX - love the stadium build. To have major events come back to Christchurch and the possibility of new sporting franchise opportunities is awesome. Only comment would be on the Transport portion of CAPEX, either phase things out to latter years and reduce cycleway costs (if any). Focus for transport CAPEX should be the must-haves, rather than the nice-to-haves.

1312 - Andrea Bromley

We all said no to Te Kaha, but noone listened. However, I do support this one as if we had it opened earlier this year, perhaps we might have ended up with international acts like Taylor swift and Pink which would bring alot into our city.

1965 - Grant Bowater

Don't renege on the Stadium - Christchurch desperately needs a covered stadium facility.

2235 - Cara Paterson (Creative New Zealand)

We support Council's commitment to investing in the operation and delivery of new community facilities, including Te Kaha Canterbury's Multi-Use Arena. We encourage Council to closely engage with the creative sector on the operation of the Arena, and whether any of the new spaces can support the arts community (such as rehearsal spaces). The Arena presents exciting opportunities for Christchurch residents to engage with and participate in arts, culture, creativity and ngā toi Māori, and the events hosted at the Arena provide important employment opportunities for the creative sector.

2243 - Catherine Birch

We would like more funding for the new Christchurch stadium and the Christchurch Santa parade and for Orana wildlife park to help the animals.

3127 - Dianne Downward

[Grants & Funding > Other Community Grants & Funding]

The completion of the stadium should be a drawcard for events in the first few years so no additional funding should be needed for events here. community groups need to be self supporting as much as possible.

314 - Vaughan Kirkland

Yes generally. I am particularly in favour of the stadium in spend as I think this will revitalise the CBD. I do find it interesting that whilst the stadium is listed here as a standalone item the likes of the museum upgrade and the building Court theatre are not listed individually. Whilst I also support these developments I believe in the interests of clarity they should also be listed here individually. The stadium has become a lightning rod for those opposed to increases in council spending. In the interests of clarity I think these other projects should be listed so there can also be a discussion about them in a spending context.

3165 - Adrienne Baxter

[Three Waters > Other], [Transport > Other], [Resource > Resource Recovery (Capital)], [Libraries > Libraries (Capital)]

Te Kaha took too long to build and we have over invested, but needs to be finished now that you have started. Get it finished before the cost goes up again though.

3234 - Rhys Pryde-Wall

I support the stadium, a functional stadium is an essential park of a modern & functional city

3603 - Murray James (Food Resilience Network Incorporated)

1068 - Redacted Redacted

Sell the metal in the new stadium.

1071 - Brian Donovan

The additional funding for Te Kaha was a killer and could have been spent in a more worthwhile way. The Kaha is a worthwhile project but the wish of the people was largely unheard and the extra funding was largely pushed by the inner city retailers and rugby and a massive publicity campaign.

1103 - Murray Sanders

Very much against the increased spending approved by the Council for the enlarged stadium

Am apposed to $286 spending on Te Kaha

115 - Dean Milroy

Te Kaha is at best poorly placed due to it's overbearing presence right in the centre of the city and there are rumours that it's facing the same issues relating to sinking land that Parakiore is facing. At worst it's a total waste of money.

1154 - Francesca Rae

You are spending hideous amounts of money on Te Kaha, the stadium and want the surrounding council's ratepayers to contribute to the cost. The people who will benefit are the businesses in the area so ask them to contribute to your mad idea.

The Te Kaha project appears to be misaligned with current community priorities and resource allocation. Instead of investing in this initiative, funds could be redirected towards expanding green spaces, which offer a range of health and recreational benefits to the broader populace.

I don't want to pay any extra for the Metro facility or the rugby stadion.

1303 - Paul Johnston

I have never supported Te Kaha. It will not give a return to the city based on spend. There is not a Stadia anywhere that pays for itself let alone returns a dividend.

1309 - David Simpson

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?], [Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

No. How can you tell me you've already committed $286 million through 2025-2027 to complete Te Kaha, and then suggest that possibly organising a climate resilience fund that could 'amass as much as $127 million' over ten years!? If my rates are to rise I expect you to prioritise the health and safety of future generations over sporting corporate profit.

Boost the budget for this by dropping money from Te Kaha.

1346 - Bianca McKinnon-Gee

The single stand out item I continue to see is the waste of further money on Te Kaha - a white elephant that we won't be able to afford to run, and can't afford to throw more money at, especially with the current government and cost of living crisis that is being made worse.

Really poor decision making on the stadium and it seems afraid to pull out, to the point good money is thrown after bad.

Stop the stadium. >>> Leave the stadium market to Dunedin.

1355 - Andrew McCarthy

Te Kaha will be an albatross around the city's neck. It's a folly. And it's Phil Mauger's fault.

1362 - Pablo Rodriguez

Te Kaha is a waste of money! The funds should go towards activities that are good for our health, such as bike lanes, recreational centers and parks, and programs to get people outside.

1370 - Jeremy Kaye

Of the above main items I disagree that the stadium should get so much money.

Mostly. However some items like the stadium where they are huge amounts of money should be cut

Compared to the rest of the LTP the stadium takes up a huge amount of money. I'm also concerned as to the ongoing running costs.

But there are some very big ticket items like the stadium which soak up a lot of money and therefore rates which I am not in favour of. Cut these to reduce rates increases.

1391 - Anna Gruczynska

[Recreation, Sports & Events > Recreation Centres (Capital)]

It costs to maintain and operate any asset, if CCC cannot afford operating costs, the asset shouldn't have been bought in the first place. Can't wait to see if and how Parakiore and Te Kaha can wash their faces when built.

140 - Linda Harriswilliams

Stadium should be user pays. All districts should be paying. A levy should apply till paid for. Should not be put on rate payer.

1430 - Dan Hartwell

Stadium costs too high and should have been pushed out regionally.

1431 - Carissa Ptacek

[Rates > Residential Rates]

Because Decisionmakers decided to ignore that Te Kaha was a financial burden on the city we are in this place, this could be almost 2% less if the original business case was listened to that it did not pass cost/benefit reviews. Also, by pledging $10 million to the Cathedral which again was clearly underestimated. Please stop making "shiny" thing decisions and taking Whole of Life costs into account. If we don't raise rates appropriate to cover operational costs it's an even worse outcome. I'm disappointed I have to say yes to this but know it's the right decision that the ratepayers have been forced into.

1452 - Maraed Riley

[Spending > Our Proposed Spending]

Investing in Te Kaha is misguided. Rather than allocating funds to watch a few individuals in leisure, prioritize expanding green spaces for broader community use. Redirect resources towards health-promoting activities like bike lanes, recreational centers, parks, and initiatives to encourage outdoor engagement.

1474 - Céira Dernhagen

Te Kaha is a waste of money. Funds for the project should be allocated to more green spaces so we can use them instead of watching a few people roll around in the grass. The funds should go towards activities that are good for our health, such as bike lanes, recreational centers and parks, and programs to get people outside.

1508 - Mb Brennan

Te kaha... needs to pay for itself. other..

1517 - Felix Harrison

Te Kaha should not be a priority.

1518 - Kathleen Anderson

I think the spending on Te Kaha is unwarranted. Christchurch could be very well served with a smaller, less expensive stadium. And I suspect building costs could be cut - too many people are making too much money in the complicated and expensive consent and construction procedures required.

153 - Lindsay Strang

I have reservations with regards to Te Kaha

1541 - Maurice Adler

[Recreation, Sports & Events > Recreation Centres (Capital)], [Libraries > Libraries (Capital)], [Spending > Capital Programme (General)], [Strategic Direction > Financial Strategy]

What matters most. Over the last few years, the Christchurch City Council has had a field day on think big projects which is contributing towards the rates raised we are looking at now. To mention just three , the stadium which was pushed for the Canterbury Rugby and the Crusaders which can't fill the one they have now. We will be paying it for years. It will be a liability for years to come and it will be the ratepayers who pay, not the Canterbury Rugby or the Crusaders.

The second is Recreation and Sports Centre. This is an embarrassment. The Council received a quote to build it and didn't even obtain a good engineering report on the ground. The result is a huge cost overrun. Who has to pay for it. The ratepayers with a rate rise.

The third is the Hornby Centre. Of three, this is the most sensible. But considering the vast amount of money been spent on the other two projects, was it wise to build this. From memory, once again they didn't get a good engineering report because there was a blowout with that too.

In short, The Christchurch City Council needs to treat their finances the same as one would treat their home finances. If you can't afford don't do it. Ratepayers are tired of being used as a never ending source of funds with rate increases. My recommendation is, don't plan to have anymore large projects that we cannot afford.

Te Kaha. No more money for them unless it is critical.

1544 - Daana Watson

Absolutely DO NOT agree with Te Kaha levy being applied to rate payers. This facility is going to host professional sporting and concert events, ie private enterprise, who can afford to pay a larger hire fee, which they will then pass on to those people attending and buying tickets. In the 12yrs since Forsyth Barr opened in 2011, I have been to only 3x concerts there and no sporting events. That is likely to indicate the attendance usage I would have for events hosted at Te Kaha.

As a user-pays venue, I don't see why my rates should include a levy for a venue that is about bringing in events for the "tourist" dollar, not for everyday usage like driving on roads, collecting rubbish or parks & recreational facilities like sports centres (Parakiora!!!) & libraries, which should be services that ratepayers are expected to contribute to since this affects us all.

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

I would rather pay a small increase of 0.29% in rates now to combat climate-related issues, than the 2.4% Te Kaha levy.

1545 - Jasmine Arps

It's a shame we are locked into funding Te Kaha, which is not affordable at this time and certainly not to the size / spec that's being built. Contributions from regional partners should have been sought before construction began.

1546 - Robert Fleming

It was disappointing to see the council increase the size (and resulting extra cost) for Te Kaha in response to a public campaign, thereby over riding the prepared business case. More work needs to be done urgently to ensure that the entire region who will benefit gets to help out with the cost increases. However, it is good to see the progress being made on our multi purpose stadium.

1549 - Jessica Saunders

The new stadium while I appreciate is needed, is costing us alot more than rates payers can pay.

Charge non Christchurch residents higher ticket fees for the staduim

[Libraries > Libraries (Operations)]

Less on Te Kaha more o libraries

1568 - Kathryn May

Never a supporter of new stadium as this cost has blown out. Any future builds etc need the cost to be capped and not able to increase.

1572 - Olive Easterbrook

I support everything but not Te Kaha. Why should everyone pay for a facility that only some will be able to afford to use.

1585 - Rachel Smith

I think Te Kaha spending is a misuse of ratepayers money considering some residents will never be able to afford to to to an event there.

1617 - Jack Swannell

[Transport > Other]

$286 million on Te Kaha (4.41%) is obsurd. Most of CHCH residence probably cannot afford to use it, with none ratepayers, especially Selwyn, benefiting from it.

1618 - Zachary Imhoof

NO Te Kaha is a waste of money. Funds for the project should be allocated to more green spaces so we can use them instead of watching a few people roll around in the grass. The funds should go towards activities that are good for our health, such as bike lanes, recreational centers and parks, and programs to get people outside.

1619 - David Hera

Te Kaha is not a cost-effective use of funds. The money should be redirected to enhance green spaces, allowing for broader public use rather than benefiting only a few. Investment should focus on health-promoting amenities like bike lanes, recreational centers, parks, and programs that encourage outdoor activities.

1648 - Andrew Bowman

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?], [Grants & Funding > Orana Park Funding]

Overall, I believe the plan strikes a good balance with the exception of spending money on Te Kaha. This seems like a boondoggle and a fraction of that money could be used to provide Orana Wildlife Park with the funds it needs to continue.

I don't support further spending on inner city sports facilities such as Te Kaha as they are unnecessary and don't benefit the majority of residents.

1653 - Kate Manning

Te Kaha shouldn't even been on the list, the parties who see it as vital (such as the Rugby Union) should be the ones funding it.

1670 - Juliet Robertson

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

Te Kaha should not be prioritised over The Arts Centre

168 - Brydie Lauder

mostly yes, but the spend on te kaha is insane, to the detriment of arts, culture, and heritage

1691 - Jesse Newman

The money spent on Te Kaha would be better on other projects to make Chch a more sustainable, vibrant and appealing city.

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Strategic Transport], [Strategic Direction > Additional savings and efficiencies]

Mothballing the stadium build and pursuing more efficient and sustainable modes of transport would significantly reduce council outgoings freeing money to keep rates rises in the low double figures.

Less on transport geared towards private motor vehicles (both roading and parking). Cease work on Te Kaha.

1694 - Tamsin Page

[Grant & Funding > Events Ecosystem Funding]

Should never have gone ahead with Te Kaha in the first place - it is an outrageously expensive project that is going to cost Christchurch ratepayers for generations to come, both in paying for its construction

1780 - Alison Griffith-Collins

Te Kaha completion requires $286 million. Sport is not the only cultural feature of Christchurch. I immigrated in 1997. Since then, residents have had to beg the Council for anything "cultural" that is not sports-related. That includes a long campaign for the Christchurch Art Gallery, and more recently a long-overdue makeover for the Canterbury Museum. Now, it's $1.8 million for the Arts Centre, which is a drop in the bucket compared to Te Kaha.

1788 - Sandra Ward

Everything apart Te Kaha. It is coming at a huge cost to the city and is basically going to be a glorified Rugby stadium. Unfortunately the Council/Government haven't got the money to be able to do it properly for Multi Use.

1793 - Pamela Hughes

[Strategic Direction - Have we got the balance right?]

While that does sound sensible. I am concerned over the new projects, for example, I was, and still am, against the Stadium, and I am so annoyed that I am paying for it in my rates, and will be until I die!

180 - Kevin McSweeney

It is such a pity we are wasting so much on unnecessary sports facilities especially the stadium

the stadium is an unnecessary waste (although I accept it's too late to stop it)

1819 - Gavin Millar

Why should the City Council continue to sink further millions into a oversized and bound to be under utilized sports stadium? Evidence from around the world has shown that the economic benefits of these venues are massively overstated. Te Kaha represents a massive publicly funded subsidy to professional sports teams and event organisers.

1827 - John Rice

I disagree with any expenditure on the stadium Te Kaha

1829 - Stephanie Barbier

Christchurch has already invested alot into Te Kaha so I think we shouldnt waste the opportunity to make money from it but equally we need to only spend conservatively and allocate money elseware as not everyone will benefit from Te Kaha.

1885 - Leo Summers

[Parks - Heritage (Capital)], [Transport - Other (Capital)], [Libraries - Libraries (Operations)]

Significantly less on heritage in CBD, Te Kaha, and more on Transportation and libraries preferred. Te Kaha needs to have a supportive transportation system for it to operate effectively

1888 - Lois McClintock

There is an unreasonable investment in the new stadium

It is quite clear that the stadium is contributing to a large amount of this increase. Should this be taken out of the equation then the general council services shouldn't have to decline to not incur a significant rates increase. This question implies the opposite, but the percentage of the rates increase proportionate to the stadium say otherwise.

Stadium is a waste of rate payers money

Large amount of money goes to a stadium which should go into fixing infrastructure that is still damaged from earthquakes. The priorities are wrong here. Its frustrating that we still have not fixed our city

1913 - Liz Meek

[Grants & Funding > Art Centre Funding], [Revenue > Other]

Disagree with major spend on te kaha.

Te kaha is a lesson. The city would still be a great place to live without massive 'anchor' projects like the stadium. We are a small population and I'm angry I'll continue to fund this project for years when Dunedin already struggles to make its stadium work.

1933 - Aidan Moody

Too much weight on te kaha stadium. I have zero interest in supporting this facility.

Keep funding for The Arts Centre - so much money has been wasted on sports stadiums, facilities & cycle ways - culture & heritage buildings are also such an important part of our city! Don't lose them

1945 - Lucy Howell

Additionally too much money is going into a stadium that will have very little community value and many harmful environmental impacts. Historically stadiums generally lose money rather than make money and service communities for very limited timeframes (e.g. while an event is on).

1949 - Tessa Marshall

The stadium will have no importance during climate breakdown

1959 - Brad Waldon-Gibbons

te kaha funding was in my eyes, is a ill-thought out project that boosted ego's at the time and the true cost was never thought out.

1960 - James Beck (The River Ōpāwaho)

With the exception of Te Kaha, these foci are incredibly important. especially parks and transport.

2018 - Pippa Marshall

Do you have any comments on our capital spend or capital programme?
The stadium is not sustainable or helping the environment
we need to prioritise building infrastructure that will help the environment not destroy it.

2037 - Beverley Nelson

Absolutely fed up with the cost to ratepayers of that stadium.

2060 - Liv van Workum

However I fear the great investment in Te Kaha (despite understanding it's ability to bring in revenue), is distracting from spending that could happen Now to safeguard our city to environmental changes, as well as ensure our people are well in this cost of living crisis.

It seems beyond me that Te Kaha is taking up too large a portion of funding when we haven't improved upon our services in order to mitigate the visitor increase that'll happen with such a service. That money could be better put to safeguarding our city against looming natural weather events that will continue to occur while the earth is under stress.

2073 - Peter Cook

It isn't the services that are responsible for eh increases, it's the money wasted on a flash stadium, which everyone knows will be a burden on ratepayers for decades

2082 - Bluebell Barr

Te Kaha is unnecessary and takes away money that could be going towards funding for the climate.

2093 - Rachael Hemmer

Everything there is fine EXCEPT for Te Kaha. What an enormous waste of money.

2103 - P Stark

What is Te Kaha thinking the stadium that became too expensive as was future planned thought left room for price increases as council not good at planning ahead for population growth.

Do you have any comments on our capital spend or capital programme?

SCRAP TE KAHA, Use the money for community initiatives like food banks, libraries, RAD Bikes, greening the city, river clean-ups, ~~and~~ repair cafes and community gardens. - to name a few. Ōtautahi does not need a costly, resource hungry stadium, we need community support, a walkable/bikeable city, and CLIMATE JUSTICE.

2115 - Billie Kaine

A huge sports ground in central city being built, not necessary at moment. More important areas to be focused on.

Blow out costs to stadium.

Just imagine money still in the bank instead of going to a stadium.

2133 - Cathrine Ackroyd

Te Kaha is a mistake. Too big. Only a small number of Chch people will use it. The running costs will be huge. Any events held there will be at the expense of existing venues.

2153 - Chiara Anderson

Almost 5% on Te Kaha is outrageous when you're only spending little over 10% on parks/heritage/coastal. Particularly heritage as that encompasses the arts presumably. Disgusting

2157 - John Quayle

We do not need to waste money on the stadium

2166 - Wendy Everingham

I totally object to the Stadium rebuild.

2172 - Tobias McKellar

There was no need to build a stadium.

Again, the stadium is unnecessary.

2180 - Amy Elliot

Do you have any comments on our capital spend or capital programme?

Chuck the stadium our city is falling apart

2181 - Liviah Rachel Bramley

less money on that ridiculous stadium!

2183 - Hali Stauffer

[Parks > Parks Spending (General)]

Te Kaha project is not a wise allocation of funds. It's a sign of poor city planning and seems to completely disregard community needs. Instead, resources should be directed towards expanding green spaces for community use, promoting activities beneficial to our health and the health of the natural environment, such as enhancing bike lanes and initiatives to encourage outdoor engagement. We should prioritise investments that foster well-being and community participation rather than limiting, exclusive, expensive projects.

2215 - Gretchen Smith

Council has spent too much money on the sports stadium

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

Funding sports stadium instead of including funding for the arts, heritage and culture at the Arts Centre

2262 - Rowan Prestage

The stadium is a waste of money. It is not competitive with the other cities and won't generate the wealth you want

2289 - Leonie Jackson

[Spending > Capital Programme]; [Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities]

Overall, have we got the balance right:

The maintenance of buildings and services is vital, as is delivering clean water and safe, effective infrastructure. These are important to focus on. However, a bit of 'greed' is creeping in - eg. the Te Kaha stadium - an expensive build. Keeping our green image in mind on every project, might stop excessive spending, and improve wellbeing.

No - Te Kaha stadium spending is far too high.

2296 - Vickie Walker

Waste of money on stadium, is that Te Kaha?
Don't understand.

2325 - Lisa Ferdinand

Most of those areas are essential to maintain and future proof our city and environment with the exception of te kaha which is a massively expensive luxury that will only benefit a small portion or residents and take a very long time to recoup what was spent.

234 - Jocy Kidd

[Rates > Residential Rates]

This increase is significant and concerning, for us that means we'll be paying $160 a week in rates which is almost untenable. Building things like the stadium should be cut.

2389 - Aurora Garner-Randolph

i am opposed to the stadium, it is a waste of money and does not benefit the average resident. trickle down economics is not real phil.

2392 - Wendy Blair

[Recreation, Sports & Events > Recreation Centres (Capital)]

Too much money spent on Te Kaha and city sports centre.

2403 - Andrew Woodfield

[Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]; [Other/Special Interest Topics>Staff Matters]

Cut funding for Te Kaha, bike lanes and increasing salaries.

2421 - Helen Foley

[Libraries > Libraries (Capital)], [Art Galleries & Museums > Art Galleries (Capital)]

I disagree with having to pay for Te Kaha given that I am unlikely to attend an event there. I think the council should charge other district ratepayers more for tickets when events are held there.

2425 - Bronwyn Kircher

get rid of the horrible looking stadium in the middle of the city, a more cheaper one should have been built on the outskirts

2429 - Neil Ricken

[Recreation, Sports & Events > Pools], [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Strategic Transport], [Three Waters > Taumata Arowai Requirements]

The stadium is a 'nice to have' as is Parakiore, both unnecessary costs.

2445 - Joseph Davidson-Labout

we don't need an extremely expensive stadium

2448 - Barrie Uren

TE Kaha has been an expensive gold plated project not supported by user pays. eg. rugby union or previous council

2452 - Philippa J Flood

The stadium did not need a 30 000 person capacity. That cost an extra 55 million. We were told at the time that the council could absorb that cost and it wouldn't affect rates, but it has affected rates. Why do the rugby people in this town always win?

The stadium should not have been built. Not all rate payers will be able to afford tickets to the stadium. You need to invest much more in social housing and stop the terrible homelessness problem we have in this city.

$286 million on Te Kaha is not ok in the face of your proposal not to fund the Arts Centre $1.83 million.

2461 - Marjorie Manthei

Am very aggrieved about the amount of our rates going into Te Kaha, compared with, say, libraries. The decision to "buy" more seats for a venue that is unlikely to be full more than one or two times a year was shameful.

No additional funding for Te Kaha

2471 - Jennifer Taylor

We did not need a stadium.

The stadium is/was a mistake. Sports facilities should only be built by the council when they are for the direct benefit and participation by citizens, not for the likes of the Crusaders and other commercial sporting entities.

2485 - Lucy hill

you should be valuing what already exists instead of creating this humungous stadium. listen to the people and what they want

2491 - Heidi Warren

I don't think rate payers should fund the sports stadium te Kaha all, most ppl don't care for rugby anymore. We are a multicultural city now.

Te kaha is the silliest thing ever, unless you turn it into a theme park it's the largest waste of money in history. Nobody likes sport that much. It's modern multi cultural Nz for goodness sake not provincial kiwiana. More people want to access stuff like there is in overseas countries. Make Christchurch reflect modern world please.

2504 - Sarah van der Burch

I do not believe that we should build Te Kaha Stadium. Sprots Economics does not typically create the return on investment suggested. I don't mind spending on a multi-use venue but not now.

I still think Te Kaha is wrong but we won't always agree.

2514 - Jeannie Murtagh

Find someone else to fund Te Kaha - we shouldn't be.

[Spending > Capital Programme (General), Other/Special Interest Topics > Cathedral, Other/Special Interest Topics > Commonwealth Games)

I want the Council to listen to feedback in the future BEFORE they lose millions of rate payers money in huge schemes the people dont want such as repair of the Cathedral, Te Kaha and a possible future Commonwealth Games!

We should not be putting nearly half a billion of our money into a stadium which will be used, maybe, a dozen times a year either.

As above - let the NZ Rugby Board pay for Te Kaha arena as it is only for them, not for all Christchurch ratepayers as, believe it or not, rugby isn't important to a lot of people.

2515 - Jane Hopkins

I don't support the gold-plated Te Kaha stadium. Substantial savings could have been made by not having a roof.

2520 - Graeme Fraser (Diamond Harbour Community Association)

As commented above, I did not agree with the stadium upgrade which has led to shortfalls elsewhere.

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Creating a Climate Fund]

I would rather spend 5% on these funds than on Te Kaha.

2522 - Rosa Hughes-Currie

[Transport>Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)]; [Three Waters>Stormwater and Land Drainage]; [Strategic Direction>Have we got the balance right?]

Too much being spent on Te Kaha, not enough on flood protection and public transport.

2540 - Jocelyn and Caroline Pappill and Syddall

Overall, NO as too much money is going into the stadium which will be a millstone round the city's neck for years to come. Research has shown that stadiums generally lose money & provide very little community value.

257 - Belinda Mearns

Te Kaha - I submitted on this and disagreed the city should proceed. So am taking this opportunity to confirm, I still think it's a bad idea and it is going to be a continued cost once built and operational. I'd rather see the spend on libraries, parks, heritage, arts, public transport and the environment increased.

2583 - Lois Moore

Our rates should not be funding huge sports structures like the stadium on Barbados street which benefit only a few professional sport enthusiasts.

2584 - Susan Stevens

Te Kaha should not be built. Ratepayers cannot afford this extravagance. Put your priority on maintaining our core infrastructure and stop spending on extravagant >>> stadiums.

2595 - Nicola Hely

Finally, I am very disappointed at the amount of money Te Kaha requires and will require for many years to come.

2603 - Ron Brooks

no te kaha

2618 - Margaret Stewart

[Grants & Funding > Orana Park Funding] , [Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding] , [Other/Special Interest Topics > Cathedral]

I would like to contribute towards the Orana Park, Art Centre, Anglican Cathedral requests for money. Since I am not going to be using the stadium you can divert that percentage of my rates from the stadium to Orana Park, Art Centre and Cathedral. I am sure there are a lot of other people who would be keen to do this as well

[Recreation, Sports & Events > Recreation Centres (Capital)]

Why is the Council spending so much money on Te Kaha and the Metro Sports Centre? This money could have been spread out and spent elsewhere sharing the money goodies. Is there going to be a consequence for those involved in the Metro Sports Centre blowout?

If Council can't afford to build Te Kaha with existing money and is reliant on putting rates up why did it agree to the current costings?

2624 - Colin Ong

The latest ticking time bomb is the proposed central city sports stadium, where if central government does not come to the party, will result in an even heftier rates increase.

2629 - Sarah Smith

The cost of the new stadium is ridiculous.

[Parks > Parks Spending (General)] , [Libraries > Libraries (Capital)]

Far too much money going into parks, Te Kaha and the libraries.

2692 - Liz Fletcher

Was against stadium

2697 - Laura Molles

I don't believe we should be pouring hundreds of millions of dollars into a stadium, but I realise that ship has sailed.

2748 - Kyla Jasperse

Te kaha is a waste of money, should be totally user pay.

2762 - Geraldine Allan

The people who want the Stadium can pay for it .

2780 - Maree Hemingsen`

Is there anything that you would like to tell us about our proposed specific aspects of our capital spend or capital programme?

No more money to the ~~Cathedral~~ stadium.

I have to save to pay my rates
please use my savings carefully

2793 - [REDACTED]

Rates: • I do not consent to any rates rise for Te Kaha, I do not consent to any debt raised to assist the funding of Te Kaha, I do not consent to any operational spending towards Te Kaha. This is not a public use asset, it is a private development for private use, all debt servicing is to be contained within its own operational environment separate from we the people.

2799 - Dot Lovell-Smith

I don't support the large spend on Te Kaha. The National and local sports bodies who supported and demanded the facility should have to contribute more to the costs. As an elderly female ratepayer I am unlikely to ever use the facility, but I am being asked to pay for it. Is this fair and equitable?

2827 - Carley Dove-McFalls (Generation Zero Ōtautahi)

And too much money is going into a stadium that will have very little community value and many harmful environmental impacts. Stadiums generally lose money rather than make money.

2835 - Emma Rodriguez Dos Santos

I fundamentally disagree with the diverting of CCC capital spend towards Te Kaha and voted against it at the consultation. It seems like a vanity project.

I repeat - I DID NOT AGREE with increasing the local debt to pay for Te Kaha - thus I do not support this at all as a use of CCC spend.

2836 - Jillian Frater

I do not support the funding proposed on Te Kaha.

2839 - Teresa von der Heiden

Te Kaha is overly prioritised. Many people will never/ rarely use it as not interested in sport or big music events.

2840 - Matthew Carter

Personally I don't support Te Kaha and don't expect to derive any direct or indirect benefit from it.

2841 - Hunter Craig

I would like to see less towards Te Kaha, but I suppose we can't do anything about that now.

2847 - Colleen Philip (Sustainable Ōtautahi Christchurch)

Very little support from SOC for Te Kaha. We realize it is a done deal but still want to emphasise the burden this is on citizens and wonder if they were actually as well informed about the for- forever rates burden as they needed to be before this decision was made.

2856 - Rachel Puentener

I continue to oppose the spend on Te Kaha. Funding could have been better spent to address the strategic priorities that will lead to better outcomes for more people, such as through capital investment in social housing.

2864 - Darin Cusack

Te Kaha continues to be a concern as shown with the proposed rates increase, the total cost of the project will clearly show additional activities coming on stream which have not been clearly explained by council requiring more funds from ratepayers, on top of this the reduction in funding events will also impact on the viability of this facility. So there is opportunity to grow and act commercial which is being impacted by poor planning and capital execution.

Concern around the proposed cost of Te Kaha as the total cost has not been made clear to ratepayers, just lumping the cost on ratepayers is not the right way, as many ratepayers will never attend, use or gain benefit out of the stadium, user pays with key users needing to support.

2865 - Natalie Henderson

I think Te Kaha is a waste of time and should never have been built.

Te Kaha is a waste of time, I disagree with putting money into it. Libraries are incredibly important in society and is one place where all people meet as one - homeless, wealthy, old, young, different cultures, genders etc. Give the Te Kaha spending to them. I don't think transport should have so much spent on it (this government's rhetoric side) - alternative transport options, cycle ways etc are what money is better spent on. Climate resilience and reducing emissions - not getting more cars on the road. It's stupid that this government can't follow evidence based research - i hope the City Council isn't as stupid as the government. More roads = more congestion and more cars. We need to do something different. So I'm disappointed at the level of funding council hopes to give transport (assuming most of that is roading infrastructure).

2868 - Jonty Coulson

Too much money is being spent on Te Kaha stadium, which will have very little long term community value, but will encourage unnecessary flights and construction projects with negative environmental impacts.

2899 - Victoria Nebbeling

Te Kaha is too high, I still disagree with so much of our rates being put towards the stadium when we have such a need in other places among our communities. There is a huge need for support in local communities and housing, climate resilience and environment projects for future generations.

29 - Hayley Young

As I have already said, why are the rate payers continuing to subsidise te kaha. It has cost hundreds of millions already. We should not be prioritising that. Fund the rest of it's build privately or through the ticket sales when it opens. Make people who visit it pay more for tickets to see events that happen there. I should not be paying in my rates for such a doomed building. It is never going to recover its costs now.

get rid of te kaha

2905 - Vida Zelenka

Te kaha is way to prioritised

I'm concerned at the rates rise to cover te kaha, it seems like a huge expenditure and the cost benefit is not there

2947 - Katia De Lu

3. Please stop wasting money on the stadium. I am concerned that too much money being wasted on the stadium. It offers very little value to the community, while having harmful environmental impacts. Please do not let the sunk cost fallacy turn this colossal waste of money into an ongoing burden on ratepayers for decades to come.

- Keep operating costs for the new stadium as low as possible. It should never have been built, but now that we're stuck with it, please avoid further burdening ratepayers with this colossal waste of money.

2955 - Linda Morris

Put the Stadium on hold

Stadium should be bottom of the list

2958 - Chris Sinclair

I consider the fully roofed stadium plus extra seating of debatable long term value compared to ongoing extra rate costs for many people who will never go there.

Why extra on Te Kaha? Is this what has already been contracted for the build and mortgage servicing or future maintenance. When completed, Te Kaha use should pay for it's own maintenance. If not, sell it!

2972 - Ewan Baron

Te Kaha Stadium. The affordability of this project was very questionable. In my opinion unaffordable considering the real benefit offered to citizens (debatable subject). However, I believe to carry the massive debt burden of this development we need to investigate alternative ownership structures of the stadium and treat it as a commercial asset. For example part or full sell down to a third party organisation or company. Share float ownership. We need to reduce the principle debt sooner.

2975 - Carrie Keith

[Recreation, sports & events > community arts]

How can you justify so much on a stadium and nothing into the arts!!!

2993 - Nikki Staskiewicz

Unnecessary to build huge stadiums when we should be caring for our community and the land, not just entertaining them/visitors and concreting out great slabs of land.

[Strategic Direction > Additional Savings and efficiencies, Grants and Funding > Events Ecosystems Funding]

Stadia, events, etc.

2995 - Ronnie Davey (Citizens Advice Bureau Christchurch Area)

Te Kaha should not be included with these other fundamental priorities. It is not a must have.

3023 - Carolyn Brown

I thin it short sighted of the Council to have put all the money into the stadium and super duper swimming complex when neither will be paying for themselves for a long time, if ever due to changes to air travel predicted with climate change. >>> [Recreation, Sports & Events > Pools (Capital)]

The stadium will be a white elephant if the full effects of climate change come into force.

3031 - Lee Osborn

The stadium was a mistake that we will all have to pay for but which wealthy businesses (including sporting bodies) will benefit from.

[Grants & Funding>Events Ecosystem Funding]

I would have ticked "Reduce event bid funding" had it been an option. This is frivolous spending which helps businesses not Christchurch people as a whole and increases emissions by encouraging travel. The cost of Te Kaha was ridiculous but adding to it by expensive bidding on top adds insult to injury.

3035 - Claire Coveney

Investing so much on huge projects such as te kaha has not been necessary,

I do not agree with taxes going to pay inflated think big projects like Te kaha (we could have shared with Dunedin)

No I dont agree with Te Kaha. I think it is in a stupid location. Anyway too late now.

3055 - Josephine Drysdall

I would also add that in light of this, the spending on the stadium is obscene.

Too much money is being spent on a stadium that will have little community value and many harmful environmental impacts. Generally, stadiums lose rather than make money.

306 - Beni Rae

Te Kaha is a monumental waste of money.

3060 - Georg Ludwig

The stadium was totally unnecessary, but it is too late, but do not pay for its operation, even if it means, it will deteriorate

307 - Rata Jamieson

Too much money is going into a stadium which has minimum community value, and not into more local recycling initiatives.

3090 - Trudi Bishop

[Other/Special Interest Topics - Commonwealth Games]

We could have not invested so much in an glory project such as the stadium or be making silly proposals such as hosting Commonwealth games which could bankrupt the city for nothing more than giving the Mayor a glory day.

Spend less on the stadium,

3092 - Kitty Moran

I disagree with spending so much on Te Kaha.

3096 - Hamish Mitchell

Too much is being spent on Te Kaha. This is in effect a training ground and Saturday arena for the Crusaders and the all blacks. There is little benefit in my view for 90 percent of the population that don't attend rugby fixtures. Rugby will get priority at this facility for 8 months of the year

3105 - Tracey MacArthur

[Spending - Capital Programme (General)]

Too much emphasis, contribution, ongoing costs to rate payers for huge mega projects - Te Kaha, Parakiore and Te Pae as examples.

3110 - Michael Beard

[Spending - Our proposed Spending], [Other/Special Interest Topics- Tarras Airport], [Community Facilities - Halls & Community Centres (Capital)], [Libraries - Libraries (Operations)]

Money spent on the Stadium, Convention Centre and the new airport at Tarras is wasted and as a ratepayer I do not support them. I support money spent on the homeless, Libraries and community centres

3134 - Kim Lister

We shouldn't be funding the stadium. It should be funded by insurance and private stakeholders.

3152 - Neroli Fornasier

stop spending our money on overpriced stadiums and sports complexes.

The stadium is taking too much money at cost of the Art Center and other heritage sights

316 - Margaret Whittaker

I have no idea nor interest in what te kaha means, which means as far as I'm concerned it's a waste of money

3166 - Arwen Sommer

I'm going to be very honest here: Te Kaha is a absolute waste of money, space, time, and resources. I firmly believe we should stop it where it is and sell off whats currently there as scrap metal to recoup at least some of the massive cost wasted. I know this is impossible but we have so many basic infrastructure issues and so many fantastic assets which desperately need operational funding I find the amount of spending on Te Kaha totally unconscionable. If the council had all the basics running well and rates were low then it might be a different matter, but it feels like cruel joke beside proposed cuts and rates increases.

3167 - Paula Hunter

[Three Waters > Taumata Arowai Requirements]

Te Kaha. It seems wrong to spend that much money on a professional sports ground when I live on a road that is full of potholes and the footpaths have had no work undertaken since the earthquakes and are a mess.

But at least the Crusaders will have a nice comfy spa pool to relax in after being paid to play a game of football.

3191 - John Massie

The new stadium is a huge money sink and will never make back what its costing. Finishing it is a sunk cost fallacy. Scrap it and make a new park.

3195 - Redacted Redacted

Te Kaha!! It is going to be an unbearably noisy eyesore for the inner city. Yet again, millions being spent on sport.

3248 - Dave Edwards

Te kaha is bleeding us. A tiny percentage of the actual Christchurch population will actually use it but all of us are subsidising it.

3262 - Charlorte Verity-McCormick

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right]

All in all, yes....EXCEPT the $286 million on Te Kaha...what a waste!! There are many, many Chch people who will never venture into the arena. Further more, while it may bring revenue and visitors to the city, this definitely is far too much to spend on a stadium which we don't really need (we have plenty of venues already!)

All priorities are correct in my view, except Te Kaha, whix could be removed completely

[Rates > Residential Rates], [Art Galleries and Museums > Art Gallery (operations)]

Yes - we should generally be maintaining what we have (except Te Kaha). Perhaps tighten budgets on some things...e.g. does the gallery need to be open every day of the week?

327 - Roland Harrison

The expenditure on Te Kaha is too high.

329 - Alice Kavet

Seems crazy that the council is funding the development of the stadium at the same time as putting up these rates so high. Also at the expense of other things in our town.

3308 - Monica Jasper

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Cathedral]

The stadium and cathedral are huge costs to the community that will deliver it relatively little value to it, instead aimed at tourism.>>>

3318 - Mary Ogilvie

I not wish my rates to be used for extremely expensive projects like the sporots stadium.

3334 - Shona McDowell

Te kaha is taking too much money from other important areas including arts and culture

3336 - Margaret Lovell-Smith

Less could be spent on Te Kaha

3363 - Brodie Marra-Stevenson

Honestly it's ridiculous that we chose to fund a stadium over a functional public transport service. Sell the stadium

3366 - Robert Manthei

I don't have access to all of the information in this area; however, Te Kaha at 700m is not core business (along with ongoing costs to maintain what will be a vastly underused facility.

It is too late, but the CCC made a shameful decision re: Te Kaha by spending an additional 50m on and additional 5000 seats. This for a facility that will be used only occasionally and will be locked to the public when not in use (unlike parks, libraries and most other public spaces). I fear it will become an expensive masoleum (the current stadium--capacity about 18,000 has seldom been filled to capacity over the last 10 years, even during the Crusaders heyday).

3370 - Eliot Blennerhassett

Generally yes. I think too much money has been committed to Te Kaha stadium capital expense, and also ongoing operating costs.

3379 - Mike Currie

And too much money is going into a stadium that will have very little community value and many harmful environmental impacts. Stadiums generally lose money rather than make money.

3380 - Victoria Lukiyanyuk

Too much of the financing is focused on Te Kaha, a useless passion project

Still too much focus on Te Kaha.

[coders note. Response to 'Captial Programme > Comments']

Reconsider Te Kaha funding,

3410 - Boubey Black

I'm also saddened eith the decision to destroy the old historic buildings, and associated businesses, to make room for the new stadium, which is, to me, a massive and unnecessary eyesore that could have been placed elsewhere.

3411 - Marian Krogh (Protect Our Winters NZ)

POW feels that too much money is going into a stadium that will have minimal community value and will create environmental harm. This money would be better off being spent on community recreation such as trails for walking, trail running, hiking and biking.

3414 - Chrissie Williams

Te Kaha should not be funded

3427 - Mikaere Greenslade

Te Kaha should be self funding.

Te Kaha - user pays

3435 - Alex Cornford

If rugby fans and clubs crowd funded the stadium : we wouldn't have a horrendous rate increase. CCC planning is underfunded and excessively slow. The council should fund it's core administration FIRST and tell rich rugby businesses to fund their own stadium.

Rugby stadium is not an essential CCC item and this ratepayer is very unhappy with the wasteful spendthrift independent citizens. We should follow the money and see if any of the councillors profit from stadium construction don't agree with stadium spend

3493 - Brendon Lee

We really didn't need the stadium.

354 - Vivienne Allan

I agree with everything except the stadium which I find a shocking expense on the ratepayer. How many of ChCh's people are going to use it? Why cant it be self funding?

3541 - Ashleigh Smith

Why is so much more going into funding the stadium when it will benefit only a select few? If it's to bring revenue to Christchurch that is great, but why should the locals struggle and expect to fund this?

3562 - AJ Russell

[Rates > Residential Rates]

and while I do recognise the downstream benefits of a good venue to the whole city, I disagree strongly with the proposed rates rise component related to the stadium. This should be more of a user-pays funding model, not an huge levy imposed on everyone.

3634 - Peter Cooper

No. Far too much is spent on a stadium that few will benefit from.

[Spending>Capital Programme (General)]

It is mostly good, but Te Kaha is taking too much money.

366 - Namalee Kodikara

The immense focus on sporting infrastructure risks squeezing out other cultural assets such as the library and the arts centre. A relatively small amount of money would have an enormous impact on these assets but it's not clear that the large sums being spent on the sports stadium and associated indoor complex would have the same rate of payback.

3660 - Alice Shanks

I think it very clear now that the Council made the wrong decision to go ahead with the current stadium. The building costs and ongoing maintenance and running costs are a burden to the ratepayers and will suck funds from other meritorious investments.

3668 - Gavin Hardie

The amount being spent on entertainment in the form of the stadium is financially irresponsible in this time.

3683 - Max Sullivan

I know it's past the option of stopping the project at this point, but I think that all of our investment into Te Kaha has been unnecessary. Having a bigger and fancier stadium seems unlikely to draw in more performers/attractions to our city when the more important factors are the amount of interested people (ie population size) and money they'll make off performing. The amount of money we've spent on this has been huge.

3686 - Suzanne Peddie

The Stadium is a massive waste of money and the structure is out of scale with the city.

I think the Council spending on Te Kaha is far too high - the number of people who will actually benefit is low and it will sit as an empty site in the middle of the city for most of its life.

3783 - Arthur McGregor

I've never supported spending so much money on the stadium, but too late to change that sadly :-(

I also think the stadium is a colossal waste of money that will just be a drain on ratepayers for decades to come. It will have very little community value and many harmful environmental impacts.

[Grants & Funding > The Arts Centre]

Te Kaha stadium is a terrible investment that I am opposed to on several levels and amount of money gone into this is too much. An example of why this is a bad decision is the council suggestion to cut the funding for the Arts Centre, a vibrant and important anchor for Ōtautahi's culture identity. If the council takes the funding, the Arts Centre Trust will fold and CCC will take over operations. This will not be done efficiently and cost ratepayers even more year on year than the current setup. It is run as a tight ship and as it's rebuild continues the Trust is taking it from strength to strength. The Arts Centre will be more regularly accessed than Te Kaha and will grow with support from NZs second largest industry, tourism.

3816 - Annette Bolton

Don't support Te Kaha and the cost.

[Rates > Other]

Rates should be set based on the requirements of investment not on political whims. Screwing with finances now screws us all over in the end. Council's failure to adequately fund its LTP in the initial years to overcome the burden of Te Kaha's construction will likely end up either requiring significant rate increases in future to make up the slack or taking on debt to cover operational expenditure. It is not just about maintaining services it is about investing and improving.

3906 - Sarah Bennet

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre]

$286 million on Te Kaha is OUTRAGEOUS. Libraries get less than half that?! And the Arts Centre - a heritage site which is far more accessible to the public than Te Kaha will ever be - gets nothing. Unacceptable and not what our city needs. We would be better off halting the build as it is now and re-designing into a centre that would actually service our entire community rather than just those with the resources necessary to attend events Te Kaha would host.

The Council must continue to fund and support the Arts Centre. Growing up in Otautahi, the Arts Centre serves as the backdrop of many formative memories and to see it get so ruthlessly discarded would be devastating for not just me, but the whole city and her future generations. In my opinion, it is the heart of Christchurch and should remain so. It supports a range of individuals and communities and provides a unique space that would be impossible to recreate if it were to be subjected to the cuts the council is proposing. Please, reconsider this short-sighted decision!! The expenditure of millions of dollars on Te Kaha and nothing on an established heritage area is absolutely nonsensical and not a decision that suits Christchurch. Please protect the integrity of our city and SAVE THE ARTS CENTRE.

Not at all, I am deeply concerned about the 8% other spend and the fact it seems to be increasing. I also think it is highly important that council removes its running costs out of this 'other' portion and is honest about its allocation. If you are proposing Museums and Galleries can be run on 1% and Libraries on 7% then surely the administration and counsellors can work on ensuring their operations can be run on something in-between AND BE TRANSPARENT about this. I also question your rationale for keeping some larger projects, like the stadium, but not others like the Arts Centre. Personally, I would like the arts centre and not to pay an extra 6% rates (over three years) on building a stadium when we already have good alternative venues available.

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Cathedral], [Strategic Direction > Climate Change]

The CCC has unwisely and undemocratic-ally injected hundreds of millions of dollars into the cathedral (The Anglican Church in NZ has at least $3b in total assets) and into a stadium that we cannot afford to build, maintain or insure without raising rates continually and inter-generationally. What we should be spending money on isn't monuments to 'Gods' or giant, loss making concrete white elephants, but instead, into protecting ourselves from climate change...after all Christchurch is a flood plain next to the sea. I agree with those parts of the plan that deliver infrastructure and water network upgrades and anything that improves public access to public transport and safer cycling.

Please do not spend millions on vanity projects and try not to be swayed by propaganda; for instance rugby clubs getting their members to spam CCC with submissions asking for a stadium or non-secular groups like the Anglican church putting themselves up for rate payer handouts when they are spectacularly wealthy and can afford to fund their own vanity projects without our help.

[Rates > Residential Rates], [Libraries > Libraries (Capital)]

$286 million on a stadium is madness and highly iniquitous as the majority of CHCH residents will not be able to afford to buy $100+ tickets to events at the stadium during a cost crisis and so only the wealthier residents will get to use a facility that everyone is paying for. It makes massive rate rises inevitable and 60% plus of CHCH residents cannot afford to pay their bills NOW. $140 million on libraries is also nuts in my opinion as we cannot afford it and we can live without it. If you hadn't spent over a quarter of a billion dollars on a sports ground we could maybe have afforded more and upgraded libraries, but now we cannot. The CCC's profligacy has doomed us to ever increasing rates that are becoming unaffordable to a large percentage of ratepayers and rental tenants and that will only get worse as you pay interest on the debt and plow more ratepayer money into running costs for the stadium.

880 - Peter Kim

Remove te kaha. Wasted too much on this. Just like the town hall.

883 - Elizabeth Steel

I do not approve of the amount of money being spent towards Te Kaha. I also think that the amount of money being spent on recreation and sports, relative to housing, governance, and even libraries, is absolutely ludicrous. With the housing crisis facing this country and with the challenges facing people regarding home ownership, it makes no sense that there is $76m more slated to be spent on one stadium than on securing housing for us to live in. Similarly, there is >4x as much money allocated to recreation and sport than to housing. While certainly worth funding, the funding priorities do not reflect the requirements of the current Christchurch. Perhaps, if the council is so focused on saving money, then perhaps they should look to the giant amount of money allocated to recreation and sports, instead of targeting services that vulnerable residents value and rely on, while still claiming that climate projects are too expensive.

The inclusion of Te Kaha on this list vexes me deeply. Especially since it will be allocated more funding than libraries and solid waste & resource recovery. These priorities are very out of touch and do not reflect the values and reality of Christchurch residents.

[Other/Special Interest Topics - Commonwealth Games], [Spending - Capital Programme (General)]

It isn't acceptable that the council will not reach their emissions targets. The proposed spending on flood protection, public transport, major cycleways, and urban forests is a start but is nowhere near the amount needed to properly defend against climate change. The council must do better to reach their goals. Just saying that it is unlikely, without genuinely and wholeheartedly trying to reach these emissions goals, is unacceptable behaviour. It shows that the council values vanity projects, like building huge new stadiums and floating a bid to host the commonwealth games, above the future of the city it is supposed to serve. The council serves the city. The city doesn't serve the council's ego.

912 - Sophie Hartnell

I think building the stadium is outrageous given the times we are living in. This money could have been spent on so many other things to make our city more sustainable and liveable. The argument that to be an international city you need a stadium with capacity of over 30000 doesn't sit well with me. We should be focusing on our heritage buildings and resorting the Cathedral, the Dux and the Art's Centre. It's a travesty that these buildings are being left to fend for themselves while a huge stadium is being built not far away.

The proposed rate increases are below the national average rise of 15.3% (Tom Kitchin “The rates conversation” Newsroom, 10 April 2024). If you exclude the portion for Te Kaha, the proposed Christchurch rates increases are significantly below the average. The community was vocal in its support for Te Kaha, so now we need to pay the cost of that facility, while also ensuring the Council operates a balanced budget. In short, the level of rating for asset renewals is insufficient.

For sure a Stadium is a nice to have, but the build is grossly over priced for the times we are living in.

2369 - Rachele Allan

I object to anything over and above essential for te kaha.

240 - Bella Zilber

I'm not in love with the stadium but that's already happening - too late now!

2476 - Reuben Scott (Simeon Park Community Group)

Given that the CCC has prioritised big vanity type projects for eg: the stadium and the large pool complex (the metro/parakiore recreation centre) which overwhelming, to our mind, will have negative impacts (non-economic) on our city such as emissions from people traveling to events from a far and whether the events will actually be accessible to the whole population of Ōtautahi. If your basics aren't up to scratch then these big projects are a burden on the ordinary citizen of Ōtautahi.

248 - Eric Livingstone

The stadium should not have been started until other region councils agreed to joining into the funding

2529 - Bernard Newman

[Parks>Foreshore]; [Parks>Heritage (Capital)]; [Parks>Maintenance]

I believe too much is directed toward funding parks, heritage & coastal environments and on Te Kaha, I feel there need significant "trimming"

2544 - John Bannock (Governors Bay Community Association)

Please consider that Te Kaha is a regional asset and should receive contributions from across Canterbury, Christchurch rate payers should not be expected to solely foot the cost.

Te Kaha stadium should be a regional asset and funded accordingly.

2579 - Simone Hindin

How are you spending twice as much on single sports centre than all the libraries combined. That seems a bit off.

2630 - Tamara Smith

You are also investing heavily into a sports stadium that supports sporting opportunities for the future and I believe you should be supporting the equivalent in the Arts.

[Fees & Charges > Car Parking (Parks)]

In your own words, the council has allocated $453 million into Te Kaha, multi-use arena project. I think you should be maximizing how you use this space to its full to recuperate costs rather than introducing parking charges to key parks that are an integral part of people's wellbeing and will possibly deter people from using them.

265 - Emily Anderson

I think the companies that have allowed Te Kaha costs to sky rocket need to be accountable and carry some of the cost.

268 - Kathryn McNeil

This is essential - but there needs to be a focus on reducing waste. What is done to incentivise demolition work to be done in a responsible way (as council did for Lancaster Park) - it's horrific seeing what goes in those skips that go straight to landfill.

2690 - Robbie Dobbie

Make best of it.

2693 - Tanya Markman

4. Stadium.

Money spent on the stadium and anticipated losses from its use should not rest entirely at ratepayers' feet. Even before overruns the stadium was only meant to return 87 cents for every dollar spent. Sam Richardson – Associate Professor at Massey University – says “there is no evidence in New Zealand that a city’s economy enjoys a net benefit by building a stadium”. This one structure has been the main reason for recent council budget spending overrun. Council could reduce the future costs to ratepayers for this complex by increasing the cost to users.

2715 - L.F. Blake

Investment in Te Kaha will bring income into the city, but its value to the residents does not warrant as large a Council investment as proposed in these times of economic hardship.

2733 - Georgia Macaulay

[Transport > Transport (Operations)]

The money spent on Te Kaha will be dwarfed by the money that will be needed to spend to change the layout of the roads around the stadium and increase availability of transport to the stadium. Too late now but a poor choice of location.

2734 - Sharon McDonald

Make sure that Te Kaha is working within its budget.

2747 - Mark Thygesen

Complete and efficiently operate Te Kaha to minimize operating deficits.

2774 - Clare Elliott

Do you have any comments on the additional event bid funding proposal?

The council needs to levy money from ^{residents in} outside towns e.g. Rangiora, Rolleston etc to pay for using the central city's amenities.

2838 - Graham Erikson

>>> Te Kaha should have a ticket levy on non-city residents - allowing a discount for city rate payers / residents or surrounding councils providing substantial ongoing funding. [Revenue > Central Govt Grants & Funding] [Parks > Heritage (Capital)]

2841 - Hunter Craig

If you can get Taylor Swift it is good for the economy, if Te Kaha cannot hold the capacity for a Taylor Swift concert, it is not going to be worth it - not a Taylor Swift fan. But I imagine the bidding on her concerts will be immense

2846 - Olwyn Ferguson

I know that the sports stadium is a good idea but again i think its getting too expensive, im concerned with how often it will be used.

2861 - Laila Jansone

[Parks > Heritage (capital)]

Heritage, Te Kaha should not be in high priorities.

2923 - Amanda Peter

[Revenue > Central Govt Grants & Funding]

stupid Te kaha & government pushing costs onto local bodies rather than handling at a government level. Pretty unimpressed but can afford & don't want to see cultural spaces cut, think it is a global problem.

Te Kaha has been a enormous cost for present ratepayers, bit of a gamble but may pan out overtime.

2936 - Ian Lochhead

The cost of Te Kaha is excessive and ways should be found to mitigate the impact of this on rates. Efforts should be made to levy neighboring councils whose citizens will benefit from Te Kaha in order to reduce the burden on Christchurch rate payers. This would allow increased expenditure on other areas such as heritage.

2945 - Lynne Lochhead

Although the capital programme rightly prioritises spending on three waters and transport infrastructure, the sum of 286 million for Te Kaha seems disproportionate for a single item. While the city is rightly committed to completing this project in a timely way it needs to actively pursue contributions from surrounding councils and if that fails should consider a differential entry fee for non-Christchurch residents.

2951 - Les McKay

Te Kaha: I understand the council were insured and after the quakes accepted a settlement several hundred million less than the insurance cover. Fiscally irresponsible but the stadium should have been startd and completed years ago. Too much time wasting.

2957 - Lisa Keen

[Spending > Our capital programme]

Transport and 'te kaha' are disproportionately prioritised!

298 - Zya Gurau

I would like to see money taken out of the stadium budget put towards libraries and solid waste and resource recovery.

304 - Timothy Sjoberg

Te Kaha is a rubber duck, I would have rather seen that investment into the parks and environment as we know bringing people out into nature (even in a city) increases their mental and physical health much more than having a half filled stadium.

3043 - J Elliott

STADIUM - Yes to the stadium except for the 13.4m additional cost regarding the Transport project around the stadium. This is NOT a priority to the NZTA and nor should it be to the council. The $13m should not be funded by Ratepayers.

3053 - Drucilla Kingi-Patterson

At present with Stadiums and Housing development out city is beginning to look like a compass

[Full attachment available]

3089 - Trevor Lord

Te Kaha is commanding an investment disproportionate to any tangible benefits gained...CCC's interest in Te Kaha should be tendered for third parties to take it up and allow release of such funds for more relevant purposes in the immediate needs of the City.

312 - Shane Binder

Buyers remorse - 5% of capital spend just on Te Kaha (especially when compared with other much broader Council categories) is a shocker, especially as it will be a commercial enterprise when completed, and the only "value capture" reimbursement to us poor ratepayers is trickle-through increases in rates for higher adjacent property values. Any opportunity to shift these costs to future users rather than present ratepayers (who could voluntarily be future users too) should be explored.

As noted previously, $286M on Te Kaha specifically should not be a high priority.

3124 - Jeff Pundanera

Probably, make sure that the city could get the most out of its ROI (Return on Investment) on this massive Te Kaha place you've built. That's where the bulk of these additional finance gaps should come from - not from the residents or taxpayers as we are all suffering as well from the cost of living crisis.

Make sure that Te Kaha must get way above and beyond its target ROI once it opens. This is where the city should get the bulk of its finances to fill in the gaps - not from taxpayers.

3127 - Dianne Downward

[Transport > Cycleways]

Roads around Te Kaha should have pipes underneath upgraded but return the road to present configuration as we don't know how people will use the area to travel there and we don't have a spare $13M. People will still come to the stadium and road cones can be used if needed for traffic control. Changes can be made in the future if needed and if funds are available.

3129 - Skye Arnopp

Stadiums and sporting venues should be lowered down the list; please do not capitulate to the cricket mafiosos and the like!

Te Kaha does NOT need a roof. This is just "me-too", because Dunedin has a covered stadium. Rugby and soccer are outdoor games. Even without a full roof most spectators are under cover and visiting artists can be housed under temporary covering.

321 - Tom Williams

As a regional stadium how can we encourage other areas e.g. selwyn etc to pair for their share?

What we are building is a regional stadium, this needs to be funded and supported at a Greater Christchurch level

3256 - Ian Goodwin

[Grants & Funding>Events Ecosystem Funding]

Building the Stadium should have been conditional of NZ rugby giving 1 All Black Test each year for 10 years to Christchurch without any payment.

3268 - Savannah Da Silva

Spending on Te Kaha looks very high and seems an obvious choice for looking at alternative funding streams

3287 - Claire Fletcher

I believe you could reduce the rates if you reduced funding for some projects or used borrowing to pay for some projects. For example >>> extending the amount residents pay for Te Kaha over a longer period of time.

3325 - Adele Geradts

Less should be spent on Te Kaha,

I would have Te Kaha receiving $100 million, the rest coming from other Canterbury councils, as they will benefit equally from the venue.

Minimise costs on tekaha. Make users and users from other neighbouring council areas pay a fair share. People in rolleston and rangiora are uses of Christchurch council facilities which we fund In the mean time we are being charged additional rates to pay for a larger stadium that based on rugby attendances here and in other cities will seldom be required

[Spending > Capital Programme (General)], [Parks > Parks Spending (General)], [Libraries > Libraries (Capital)], [Resource Recovery > Resource Recovery (Capital)]

The spending of $870 million on parks, heritage & the coastal environment, $286 million on Te Kaha, $140 million on libraries, $137 million on solid waste and resource recovery is good but surely if you tried a lot harder these things could be maintained without rates increases.

It is bad enough that we have had to spend so much on a replacement stadium for Lancaster Park, which should have been a hell of a lot bigger for a start. We are never getting a Taylor Swift concert without a venue that holds 90,000 people. NZRU should have been forced to pay a percentage of the build costs for the new stadium or banned from using the finished venue. I believe that it has been proposed that up to 15 rugby games a year are to be held in the new stadium, if this is the case then NZRU should be paying millions per game or passing on 100% of ticket revenue to the city for the privilege of using a venue they have not paid for.

3490 - Peter Minten

The only contention I have is with the money to be spend on the Te Kaha Multi Use Arena. I believe a future user pay principle should employed meaning future concert goer's and All Black fans should pay a part of the funding costs of Te Kaha.

3548 - Dwayne McCormick

Almost agree with most areas just again the idea of nice to haves needs to be pushed out and must haves be prioritized. Also looking at how to recoup money from events at Te Kaha, again one rate for Chch rate payers and a different rate for those who are non rate payers.

3598 - Kyle Sutherland

Charge a user tariff for all events at Te Kaha, which should be user pays.

3610 - Eric Stierna

while reducing the spending on Te Kaha. The reductions in Te Kaha CAPEX should be addressed by a reduction in scope for Te Kaha which is already well over budget.

3613 - Catherine McLeavy

Very important that local councils contribute to Te Kaha, should have been done from the start.

3623 - Jessica Adams

There should be a concerted effort for a collaborative investment form other Councils for Te Kaha.

[Strategic Direction>Have we got the balance right?]

I'm disappointed in the management of the stadium delivery and funding. It is a regional asset and the cost burden should be shared with neighbour councils.

3635 - Jane Lila McKenzie

see my notes on WHAT MATTERS MOST. Te Kaha: pg 12 The Press, 19th April: Another shock for rate payers is the 13 Mill 'More than expected' upgrading for the streets around the Stadium! Everything to do with this has become over and above acceptable and the extra cost and wasted space of almost 6 meter wide pavements is absolutely not necessary. XXXX dropped a bombshell with the council being eligible for a possible 51% subsidy. That is us the ratepayer! What is going on here?

3646 - Thomas Blakie

Should spend less on Te Kaha.

3708 - Joan Simpson

Te Kaha is another project which as a rate payer I don't support however I do understand that it should bring money into the city. Provided the design works as it is planned. I worry for the impact on those many residents who are choosing to live in the city. What will it really be like to have the noise of the stadium and thousands of people misbehaving after the events. The city is going to need to work hard to help ensure the environment is such that people leave events and disperse effectively.

3722 - Rachel Thwaites

Get money from Rugby for the stadium. Stop building fancy architectural elephants

3773 - Elizabeth Benson

I think the funding for Te Kaha that is required to build it is disproportionate to the benefits. It is a debate that has already been had though so not relevant.

286 million on Te Kaha (4.41%) Why are we spending extra to complete Te Kaha? Look for areas where you can cut costs, or put the project on hold until we can afford this monstrous white elephant.

I would like to see an alternative proposal to fund Te Kaha build and future maintenance, that does not rely so heavily on rates/public funding.

[Revenue > Other]

I am not a supporter of Te Kaha - mainly because it has been presented as something that will make the city money when it won't - all the international literature supports this. Given that we are getting it anyway - we need to prove the international literature wrong - that is going to mean some significant work to get the return on investment into the city coffers - a visitor night fee as previously proposed could be part of this.

3871 - Philip Buchanan

[Transport > Cycleways (Capital)]

The council should not be spending more on Te Kaha in 3 years (286m) than on the entire cycleways programme over 10 years (199m).

The Arts Centre is genuinely iconic and mustn't be left high and dry. If 1.8 million is too much (hard to believe, given the massive amount being spent on stadium, etc!) then give a little less (1.5 million) but it would be a false economy to abandon the jewel in our neo gothic crown. Please - in a time of uncertainty and insanity of funding at a national level, please do the right thing, Christchurch!!

3896 - Coral Denize

Increase the number of events allowed at the new stadium to increase revenue in the city

3907 - Graham Muir

Given the amount being spent on Te Kaha I am concerned at the restrictions that were applied to the number of events like concerts that can be held. Such restrictions should be removed so that maximum use and hence revenue can be achieved.

3908 - Cathy Harlow

Te Kaha: I can see that a stadium brings a lot of positives to a lot of people. But, as the costs show, it also brings a lot of negatives to a lot of people in terms of higher rates for something they have no interest in. Stadium construction and operation also seems to be an area that is ideal for public private partnership. I don't understand the history of the Te Kaha development and why a PPP wasn't seriously considered at the time but it's never too late! Ultimately, it's either a going economic concern, in which case you should be able to find a partner to take on the economic risks, or it's going to be a consistent drain on ratepayers, in which case you should front up and ask us if we all want to be drained.

391 - Paris Porter

include fundraising in ticket pricing for te kaha

3921 - Alison Loveridge

We are now committed to Te Kaha, and need to support improvements to roading around the stadium.

3931 - David Moorhouse

The stadium is going to be a continuing drain on the city. Individuals gain no benefit unless they spend a large amount to attend a sporting event or show. Why are the business community not contributing more given they will benefit from people attending events.

3952 - Robert Simpson

The thing with Te Kaha is it is intended to hold big commercial events to make money off Cantabrians, that should stand on their own. It isn't really for the community

3967 - Graham Wagener

Te Kaha should be deprioritised.

3986 - Chris Kelly

Comments: We dont need a stadium as in near future the community will only be allowed limited travel between zones.

4009 - Michelle Whitaker (Flourish Kia Puāwai)

4020 - Brian Turner

Te Kaha should be moth-balled until the Selwyn, Waimak and Hurunui Council agree to co-fund it.

4023 - Bethan Sommer

Defund Te Kaha, its in an awful spot and tourism is not actually proper infrastructure. It has uncontrollable fluctuations for residents with jobs not providing stable incomes.

4024 - Richard McCaskill

Future operating costs for Te Kaha need to be shared with Waimakariri, Selwyn and Ashburton, perhaps through ECan as those Councils don't seem willing to contribute.

464 - Mary McCammon

But Te Kaha should be funded to a far greater extent by the people who will use it and especially by those who will profit from it.

I'd favour reducing the funding for Te Kaha in favour of a small increase for our library services.

527 - Hans Daellenbach

[Libraries > Operations]

Providing good library services that are easily accessible are an important cultural service of local government. There can be no justification to curtail operations in order to reduce operating costs and divert funds to other "pet" projects. There would have been more justification to reduce the seating capacity of the Stadium and save millions.

536 - Marilyn Yurjevich

[Grants and Funding>Arts Centre Funding; Other/Special Interest Topics>Cathedral; Parks>Other; Strategic Direction>Have we got the balance right?]

The balance is sort of reasonable, given our circumstances. HOWEVER THE ARTS CENTRE is not mentioned. It needs about $1.5 million to keep it going. Please include that! We don't need the bells and whistles on the arena and the Anglicans, a wealthy segment, can pay more for the cathedral in the square. Please ensure there is provision for an ECO-SANCTUARY IN THE RED ZONE. Christchurch sorely needs one.

669 - Daniel Barkley

Do we really need to pay 286mil for Te Kaha, cant districts nearby Christchurch pay for some of the bill? Residents in the Hurunui, Waimakariri, and Selwyn districts will all benefit from the arena.

687 - Anna Laurenson

I really think you should move more toward 'user pays'. I don't like sports and rarely go to concerts. Why should I have to fund the stadium. Will rate payers be entitled to rebates when it becomes profitable? Why not add a levy on ticket sales to pay for the stadium? Same with the swimming pools and recreational facilities.

718 - Sharon Pheasant

Te Kaha is a huge spend. Perhaps a pause is needed right now.

736 - Helen Westrupp

The stadium, was this an essential build? It is my understanding it will require on going maintenance and considering the council finds it hard to maintain the current infrastructure and this will only get more expensive. Is it the investment the city needed?

742 - Mark Holland

110 - Frank Spiewack

Te Kaha is a white elephant and will cost a lot of money to run.

1113 - Graeme Plank

Surely savings can be made in this most expensive part of the budget. Te Kaha is also another massively expensive project with major disruptions to the local community during its construction phase. Having it placed in the centre of town combined with a major push to repopulate the close by area with high density inner city living looks like a recipe for a noise complaint disaster resulting in limits to Te Kaha's commercial viability for noisy evening events. I hope the build budget includes sound dampening otherwise there will likely be a rather expensive and embarrassing mitigation to follow, which rate payers will certainly not stomach.

113 - Sarah Cragg

Te Kaha is such a huge slice - isn't some of it insurance?

1140 - Julien Maries

Well 4% of the budget for the stadium and I don't see anything on art.

116 - Jarrod Coburn

I'm not too happy with the stadium, because I personally would never use it. I hope that it will be cost-neutral over time but I sort of doubt it. Subsidising a small group of extroverts and sports fans doesn't seem a good use of public money, but then I suppose the same could be said about any specialist group of people.

Te Kaha will bring more money to the business in town, but the location! Right in middle of town- the traffic is going to be awful and the noise?! why the location. Id like more entertainment in Christchurch rather than flying to Auckland or missing out which is more usual, but I don't see that as a priority

1462 - Sue Piercey

I was not a supporter of building Te Kaha at this time and I hope that I will come to change my mind if it does attract a lot of events and does not, as I fear, become a constant drain on ratepayers who would have to make up any loss through rates. As it will be a regional attraction I resent that surrounding councils were only approached to make a financial contribution towards its construction after it was already underway.

No. We need to invest in roads, transport and water network. We need to invest in the basic infrastructure that keeps the city running. This includes repairs which still need to be completed after the earthquakes. I consider these to be essential items. However some things are simply extras, and we need to consider whether things need to be done immediately, for example a $13 million update to the roads around the new stadium, or the upgrades to Gloucester St. These are nice to have items and we can't afford them at the moment.

2396 - Sam Jenkins

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > City Planning], [Other/Special Interest Topics > Public Transport]

It seems wild that we are willing to have a separate increase purely for one stadium, yet have little plans to build up a liveable city in and around the core, except for low rise housing that's eye-wateringly expensive. Where do we expect people attending stadium events are going to stay? how do we think they are going to travel en-masse to the events? Where is the inter-city transport to support this? Do we expect 30k people are going to drive their cars and somehow find parking somewhere in town?

2467 - John Ogier

I'm not as optimistic as some about the benefits vs ongoing costs of Te Kaha. I suspect it will cost the city more than allowed.

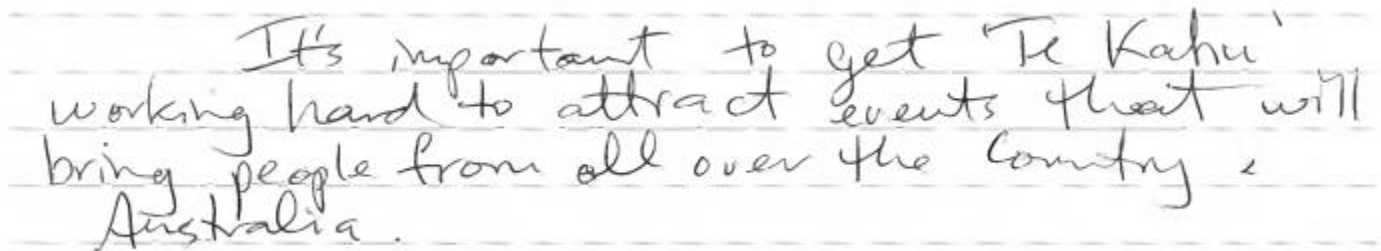

2485 - Lucy hill

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre, Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Heritage (Strategic)]

no, I think it is really important to keep what already exists rather than creating new things. I have always thought that the arts centre was an amazing and valuable cultural asset, especially in Christchurch where there are barely any heritage sites. i feel that its important to keep them, its a place that is vibrant and used daily whereas the stadium wont be.

2536 - Jennifer McDonald

[Grants & Funding>Events Ecosystem Funding]

It's important to get Te Kaha working hard to attract events that will bring people from all over the country & Australia.

2578 - Sarah Polson

Do we need to spend $286 million dollars on Te Kaha?

2640 - Wayne Hawker (New Brighton Museum)

While it is now too late to change ,it was not a council's core responsibility to be building sports stadiums so we need to simply say no to any future requests for funds or to any organisation or promoter that says they will come here if we pay them Council are not a bank and should not be required to financially prop up private business.

The council should never have got involved with the stadium

This is always going to be an interesting area for council especially around heritage following how much we lost from the earthquakes, around climate change given there is so much we can not control , and in regards sports venues we should simply be looking at supporting these venues that support grass root communities and not the business models like the stadium that a high number of ratepayers will never utilise but are being charged for within their rates. Maybe there needs to be a discount card that is issued to private residential ratepayers only giving them a 5% - 10% discount to events at the stadium and this cost is borne by the promoter / organisation holding such events . There could also be an additional $5 maintenance levy charged on every ticket sold to events at the new stadium which is then used for that purpose which would help negate ratepayers having to continually paying even when they do not even use it

2651 - Finn Blanchard

The funding for Te Kaha is probably the thing that has the least impact on me and the thing I would probably prioritise the least, however I still hope to use it when it is completed.

2655 - Michele Mccaw

and now te kaha needs more funding for upgrades to surrounding streets

2787 - Jean Drage

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Cathedral, Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

And where is the debate on this at Council which spends so much time responding to the noise around funding an obsolete cathedral, the Arts Centre and the new stadium (for example)?

2820 - Brendan Ross

TE KAHA SHOULD HAVE BEEN AT ANOTHER SITE - WHAT ARE ONGOING MAINTENANCE COSTS FOR THE RATEPAYERS?
WILL SEWAGE AND WAIMAK COUGH UP? DIFF ADMISSION RATING FOR THEM?

286 - Pauline Reid

Te Kaha - A benefit to the wider communities including Waimakariri and Selwyn rate payers. What has been the feedback from these 2 councils to contribute towards the building and operational costs?

2879 - Dan Woods

Lets be realistic te kaha wont just be $286 million

2953 - Quentin Kelly

Te Kaha... did anyone actually ask for this? I mean it, who asked for this?

2996 - Stephanie Damm-Logan (Guardian Films)

$286 million on Te Kaha - This spend is huge and based on discussions I have had from people working on it, it sounds like there is a huge amount of wasted money.

3036 - John W. Thacker

There are so many areas requiring funding.The Arts Centre / Orana Park/Ferrymead/Provincial buildings many more. Lets hope our Te Kaha will deliver the goods! Lets make it pay for itself!

3037 - Robert Fletcher

I'm not a particular fan of Te Kaha, but given its building is going ahead and a majority apparently support it, spending the money is necessary.

3065 - Janet Wilson

Huge ongoing cost of Te Kaha needs reining in if possible.

3115 - Jane McCulla

What is Te Kaha?

3145 - Leah Wild

Not so sure about Te Kaha

3186 - Jan Alekna

What is te kaha?

322 - Richie Connell

Te Pae (non-council owned) is apparently very busy for events over the next couple of years. We need to ensure the Stadium is a success and get it built as quickly as possible. I have inside information that for the Australian construction firms to do it more quickly means they miss out on bonus $. No incentives to finish early! This is a huge issue, and should be publicly outed and then the community will get down there and protest! Get it built guys!

3222 - Mark Rayner

If I am being asked to contribute to stadium construction or other sports facilities I will never use any of these facilities.

327 - Roland Harrison

The stadium has become an expensive luxury and means that other smaller cultural activities are losing funding.

3285 - Deborah Brown

What's Te Kahu? Is it worth that amount

335 - Wayne Bates

Te Kaha is the biggest money sucking monstrosity this city has ever seen, closely followed by the Conference centre

338 - Jennifer Riley

$286 million on Te Kaha!

3389 - Megan Roulston

5. If there needs to be a choice between funding Te Kaha stadium or The Cathedral my preference is for funding to Te Kaha stadium.

3430 - Philippa Upton

It's unfortunate that so far the Council has not secured funding support for Te Kaha from Councils in the wider region, whose residents will also benefit from this

3452 - Sabine Handel

Maybe look at the additional expenditure of the the arena >> which is draining the rates away.

Not a friend of Te Kaha

3453 - Zeta Pringle

I have concern that the costs could escalate with roaring at new stadium funds not being now available will add more pressure to the burden rate payers have to absorb as the increase is large and may not be budgeted for.

3466 - Mark Stapleton

Prioritizing a stadium over the repair and maintenance of the Arts Centre seems remarkably short sighted..

3499 - Allana Paulin

[Grants & Funding>Events Ecosystem Funding]

Even with a somewhere for events not much things would come to christchurch otherwise this would of happened long ago it'll just sit empty what a waste of money when everyone is struggling ❖❖

3556 - William Tuckey

Stadium is fit for a mega city. Too late now.

3589 - Roxanne Brassington

Te Kaha is getting a lot of money

3601 - Bridget Allen

Te Kaha is not high on my priorities, but now it has started to be built the council has to finish it and that why it on this list.

3624 - Noeline Marsh

Whats Te Kaha??

3748 - Greta Bond (Age Concern Canterbury)

[Strategic Direction > Other Policy Matters], [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Greater Christchurch Partnership]

While we understand the sunk cost on Te Kaha, it seems a slightly skewed priority, particularly when compared with the amount that has been allocated to housing. Older people in Canterbury increasingly do not own their own homes, and the rental market can be very difficult to navigate for older people (particularly those on fixed incomes).

3813 - Marg Morrison

I am concerned that we do not have agreed from the Wainakariri and Selwyn Councils for the Stadium funding

3849 - David Peddie

Te Kaha is not an essential service

3865 - Maxine Donovan

Te Kaha feel isn't going to benefit me but essentially but provide revenue more for Council.

3881 - Anne Scott

Te Kaha needs to be finished.

3889 - Jessica Rees

Te Kaha must repay the burdensome investment made in it.

3891 - Christopher Gauci

What's Te Kaha

3893 - Joe Pope

How many millions spent on the stadium?

3930 - Peter McCarthy

With Te Kaha, do Selwyn ratepayers contribute to this?

4014 - Stephen Hill

Will Te Kaha Break even or will it be a cost to ratepayers?

4026 - Helen Van den Bogaert

What is te kaha

416 - Mike Cleaver (Canterbury)

It is unfortunate that Te Kaha is such an expensive project when I still feel that significant city infrastructure needs to grow before it can be well utilised (see my earlier comments, cars and parking will screw up the use of the stadium).

450 - Allison Husband

[Spending > Our Proposed Spending]

The levels of service and investment should cover ALL core infrastructure and facilities for both the Arts and Sport. The very large investment in Te Kaha is most definitely not for the benefit of all rate payers.

As mentioned above, the very large investment in Te Kaha is a direct imbalance with other facilities that are enjoyed by a larger percentage of the city's population.

452 - Mark Penrice

[Strategic Direction>Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities]

We should be prioritizing keeping the city running efficiently over adding expensive new stuff. When the stadium is complete it should be sold for $1 to save the future operating costs when it makes a loss.

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration>Coastal Hazards Adaptation & Adaptation Planning]

Too much on the stadium, not enough on retreating or coping with sea level rise.

[Transport>Footpaths & Streetscapes (Capital); Three Waters>Waste Water (Capital)]

You should be cancelling white elephants like the stadium & spending on basics like footpaths and sewage treatment.

482 - Graham Townsend

The Te Kaha project is a done deal I guess; but vanity projects such as this one are generally money-losers. Please do not repeat anything of this nature. Community sport and recreation is an asset towards mental and physical well-being, but high-end spectator facilities are a different matter. I am not aware of the extent to which lobbying by e.g. hospitality interests or sporting codes influenced the decision to build this facility; but I hope it is not repeated.

486 - Neil McConachie

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Cathedral]

Concerns regarding the continuing payments we as ratepayers are making on Christ Church Cathedral and the new Sports Stadium being built by the Hospital.

487 - Gavin Stevenson

Mixed feelings here. The cost of Te Kaha is now non-negotiable but are other facilities and services resourced with the same level of funding.

533 - Judith Livingstone

[Strategic Direction > Additional Savings & Efficiencies]

Sell the stadium that will only cost the council money it time sports paid their quack of the costs

55 - Jen Abernethy

What is Te Kaha

555 - Jemma Balmer

I was against Te Kaha but in the scheme of things, it is a low spend.

70 - Noel Marceau

As previously stated Te Kaha has to be economically viable, other it should be renamed Te Arewhana ma. I do not wish to be the Strength of Te Kaha, as a rate payer.

721 - Raphael Menke

A new stadium? Aren't there other priorities?

810 - Susan Mullord

4.41 per cent is a lot to spend on a stadium. I presume this is for the build and not ongoing running costs once it is operational.

843 - Ngaire Donelda Bacon

Comments: It is extremely disappointing that the governments multiple offers to hand over the stadium project to the crown to take charge of were rejected outright & now ratepayers are having to carry the burden of the Te Kaha build - a sum of 286 million, due to the sheer incompetence of the people making this decision. What is even more disappointing is they were able to make this decision without consultation.

9 - Julia Henson

How has te kaha already gone so far over budget already? Why should tax payers fund this overspend?

996 - David Smith

You over charge. Why have stadiums that 90% of people will never go to and have no benefit from. Dunedin stadium has lost money ... christchurch stadium is a great white elephant.

Capital Programme (General)

General Comments

416 submissions were received on the general distribution of capital programme spending outlined in the draft plan.

60 provided comments in support of the proposed capital programme, 53 opposed.

234 provided alternative proposals, generally highlighting different capital projects they would like to see prioritised or removed from the programme. 84 general comments on the capital programme were received.

Officers Response

Submitters transversed a range of topics and themes but in general the following categories come through strongly.

Funding Balance

Many people believe that we have the funding balance between the different capital areas of transport, three waters and community facilities about right. They support the draft as presented and use terms such as “looks about right” and “seems to have the right balance”. There seems to be an understanding of balancing the need for ensuring renewal funding is adequate for the future, along with some new investment for growth and improvement, while keeping rating levels for residents at a reasonable level.

The process that we have gone through over the past eight months has resulted in a capital programme that is carefully prioritised to ensure that the most important projects are retained, while those of less priority have been rephased to outer years or removed altogether. The reduction in funding levels from both the FY22-FY31 LTP and the early drafts of this LTP have balanced the capital needs of the city with the affordable rating increase for residents.

- From a review of the general comments on the capital programme we would not recommend any specific changes to the funding levels between the main areas of council capital project delivery.

Keep Delivering the Basics

Ensuring that the basics are seen to first and foremost is important according to both supportive and opposing submitters. Ensuring that we maintain what we have, keep the taps on, and ensure investment in our core roading network received a number of comments.

The process that has been worked through during the LTP development, in terms of reviewing and testing the renewal and replacement budget levels, has paid off.

- The capital funding proposed does not require any major revision and there appears no driver from the consultation submissions to revisit the balance of funding for renewals and replacements.

Climate Change

The subject of sustainability, adaptation to change and climate change features to a greater extent than in the past, showing that submitters certainly are becoming more aware of these issues. However, there is a split of supportive comments for further investment, and opposing comments for removing funding for items such as cycleways.

- A specific response to this topic is covered elsewhere in the submission summary feedback.

Stadium

A small number of submissions mentioned the stadium project as a “nice to have” or “vanity project” and requesting that funding should be redirected to other priorities.

- This project is well into its construction and no reallocation of capital budgets is recommended.

Arts Funding

There is a split down the middle of submitters believing on one hand that too many investment is occurring with the arts and culture side of Council efforts, and on the other hand not enough investment is occurring.

- A specific response to this topic is covered elsewhere in the submission summary feedback.

This Draft Plan strives to achieve a reasonable balance of expenditure against infrastructure demands. Deliverability constraints (both within council and the industry) are also factors in setting the proposed Capital Programme. This ensures an appropriate level of borrowing.

Support

1008 - Angela McPherson

All these are very important and hard to argue with any spending here

1067 - Iarene Jelley

We need these services funded.

1168 - Annie Pattison

I think it's a good order

1203 - David Moore

[Spending > Te Kaha]

All of this is good except the stadium. Given the significant rates increases and state of water infrastructure, this project should never have gone ahead.

1278 - Tim Marsh

Essential works

[Coders Note: in reference to other aspects of capital spend or capital programme]

1335 - Julie Turner

Keep the essential services,

We haven't got the money

1428 - Conor Keena

Excellent service, hope it keeps going as it is

1547 - Graham Allan

if we do not spend this money ww will go backwards

1556 - Jeffry Bergman

I am generally in favour of the way the council is prioritising at present

1696 - Natalie Brannigan

These areas are excellent to focus on

1793 - Pamela Hughes

Well done

1816 - Sarah Cook

I guess cannot think of any other services that would benefit

1839 - Catherine Grima

Seems appropriate, especially the three waters, v environment.

1868 - Sara Rennell

It sounds pretty reasonable

193 - Anne Mahan

Mostly I think it is okay

1960 - James Beck (The River Ōpāwaho)

[Spending > Te Kaha]

With the exception of Te Kaha, these foci are incredibly important. especially parks and transport.

1999 - Gus Fahy

All I can say here is that what needs to be done needs to be done. It will never ever be cheaper to invest in infrastructure and just because it is expensive doesn't mean that it shouldn't be done. We want value for money, not rolls royce and definitely bargain basement crap that has a short life.

2065 - Robin Lake

Long term plan 2024-2034 Christchurch City Council On the whole, I think that this is a well thought out plan, sensibly focused on the important issues for the city. >>> Obviously, there are many factors that are uncertain over the next ten years, not least of which is the emerging redirection coming from the new government. This is particularly important for transport and three waters, and I would expect the government to continue to force responsibility for these issues onto local government, which will increase costs. The major spends on three waters and transport are appropriate.

2087 - Emma Norrish (Waipapa Papanui-Innes-Central Community Board)

The Board broadly agrees with the proposed prioritisations, though are advocating for assurance that the key projects in its Board Plan, which are important to addressing particular community needs, receive the required consideration, resourcing and funding.

2121 - Cassie Welch (National Public Health Service (NPHS) Te Waipounamu)

Capital Programme

Are we prioritising the right things?

36. NPHS Te Waipounamu broadly supports the proposed capital spending over the next 10 years.

38. NPHS Te Waipounamu strongly supports option (c), for CCC to accelerate work on some projects and programmes, with a focus on balancing the needs of today's residents with the needs of future generations.

[Coder Note: Full attachment available]

2140 - Brendan Fraser

I think so.

2243 - Catherine Birch

I agree with it

2263 - Scott Babington

Completely agree.

2324 - Steffan Kraberger

The distinctions are micro not macro, overall good direction

2388 - Guy Tapley

Inflation is a fact of life and it is having an impact all over NZ. Furthermore, deferred maintenance and postponed capital investment in essential infrastructure costs more over time because maintenance requirements increase as assets wear out and capital costs rise.

I believe the balance is about right.

2498 - REDACTED REDACTED

Without knowing what is actually proposed, and how this is costed, its not possible to say.

Yes, all important.

2508 - Oliver Hutchison

I support continued investment in council services, and investment in projects to enhance active/public transport, climate mitigation/adaptation.

2509 - Angela Nicol

[Other/Special Interest Topics > LTP Consultation]

Its lovely that the Council has this feedback ability. Using tokens last year to place what was more important to the Communities of Christchurch was a great method to see this order, and I support that majorities decision on this order.

2574 - Matthew Pont

Continue to invest. Money you don't invest now is just more money that will have to be spend in later years

2585 - Susan Macann

[Coder note: For context 'Less on three waters and more on parks, heritage and coastal environment'] but the order of priority can remain unchanged.

268 - Kathryn McNeil

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration - Coastal Hazards Adaptation & Adaptation Planning]

Three waters, transport, and solid waste and resource recovery - yes. These things are essential. As is climate change adaptation, which isn't mentioned in the list. Libraries, 100% maintained parks and Te Kaha are the nice-to-haves. Focus on the essentials.

2699 - Graham Beswick

These are core council priorities so yes what ever money it takes to maintain these has to be spent

All communities benefit from facilities that provide services that provide essentials of basic living to survive eg. the 3 waters, healthy living, easy transportation, recreation, etc

2833 - Robbie Peacocke

Without full historical context, the capital funding allocations appear to be focusing on mostly the right things.

3124 - Jeff Pundanera

All good here.

3231 - Colin Foster

In general it appears to be about right.

326 - Greg Dodds

This sounds okay.

3262 - Charlorte Verity-McCormick

All priorities are correct in my view, except Te Kaha, whix could be removed completely

3263 - Allan Wood

That's a good idea

3291 - Jess Kikstra

[Transport > Cycling], [Three Waters > Waste Water], [Parks > Parks Spending (General)], [Recreation, Sports & Events > Rec & Sport (operations)], [Libraries > Capital], [Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

Capital program: Yes, particularly supportive of spending on cycling and active transport. I would also support behavior change programmes and consideration of incentives to encourage more people to bike. Supportive of improvements to waste treatment, parks and foreshore, recreation, libraries, and adapting to climate change.

3299 - Phil OMalley

Generally the right focus on infrastructure (to avoid the Wellington level of problems) and not pet projects. >>>

350 - Chris Hoopmann

Overall seems fine, but it comes down to how money is allocated within each category.

3567 - Rachel Briggs

Yes

3576 - Noeline Allan (Cass Bay Residents Association)

All of these areas are important to invest in.

3623 - Jessica Adams

The core services of the Council should be the priority.

3637 - Sam Davidson

Increasing capital spending is necessary, especially for critical infrastructure projects that cannot be delayed, such as the Major Cycle Routes and the Heathcote Floodplain Management Implementation. Delaying these projects only escalates the costs and risks associated with them.

3663 - Connor McIver

Generally, yes.

3687 - Rebekah Savage

Transport - A necessary investment

3723 - Don Babe

Broadly yes.

3768 - Tracey Klatt

They all need to be done

3881 - Anne Scott

Support the expenditure on Libraries, three waters, transport (with more funding on cycling), parks and heritage. etc.

3894 - Greg Siddells

I have submitted on this before and are happy with the outcome.

4021 - Cornelis F De Jager

Yes I agree this stuff needs to happen.

464 - Mary McCammon

THank you for your work. This is essential council business

486 - Neil McConachie

Happy with that.

533 - Judith Livingstone

All there things help with the wellbeing of the people of Christchurch

563 - Tobias Meyer

We should not cut services, especially those services that make living in this city better for any vulnerable groups.

This is a chance to be visionary and shape the city. We don't want to see any cuts to services.

573 - Rebecca Dean

I'm glad to see this prioritisation - this is why we pay rates. Thank you

Please don't cut services. It is a major drawcard that Christchurch has a well functioning public infrastructure system. This is why I'd never live in Wellington!

669 - Daniel Barkley

I think cutting services would be unhelpful. The level of service in Christchurch is really helpful. It is better to pay to keep it in my opinion.

877 - Helen Hessey

ok

902 - Karen McElhinney

These things are all very important to the future of our city and should continue to be acted on.

Oppose

1218 - Eva Rogatski

We need to scale back and take a look at what is truly our key priorities. When we take on too much and have too many things going on, budgets are blown and projects fall behind. We realistically should be landing things without trying to bite off more than we can chew

1245 - Nicole Ireland

Will put more people in more debt who is already in debt with the cost of living too no way you need to finish to big projects that u have the funds for and stop proposing big projects in near future .

I feel you guys need to stop spending unnecessary money on big projects that u know that u guys know that u guys cant afford.

1326 - Allison Oneill

you are overshooting and spending too much

halt all spending on things that are not maintance. stop approving new projects. act like a business.

1344 - Sean Lally

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?]

No, cost of living is too high and we seem to be finding project that have gone well over budget. Why are we allowing costs to increase from initial quotes..?

Maintaining current standard should cost more

1346 - Bianca McKinnon-Gee

Time to focus on core issues, like clean water, public health and transport. A stadium does not improve people's general well being like a library does.

Water, transport, libraries, waste, absolutely.

1408 - Tracey Fowlds

Just stop any unnecessary project's, we're finding it hard enough as it is to cover our rates

Its a matter of do whst is needed to repair & maintan but dont spen on pretty stuff or major riading changes. We just cant afford it :(

Just put any 'pretty' unnecessary work, arts etc off

Just remember your job is to repair & maintain the city, we dont need radical expensive changes at the moment. Everyone is struggling to keep up will bills atm, its hard going

1490 - Carolina Nery

It's concerning that funds are being diverted from enhancing city life to build a large stadium. Shouldn't providing opportunities for people to learn and connect with their identity be a priority over transportation? Additionally, libraries need better activities, and investing in local artists could generate employment. Based on my research, assigning specialized individuals to manage specific areas ensures efficient resource utilization.

The paper is beautiful but does not explain properly where the money goes.

Better capital management, you should have organised better the investment in the arena.

150 - Jeremy Foate

[Strategic Direction > Additional Savings & Efficiencies]

The critical city services have been neglected in favour of grandiose projects such as the stadium and sports hub. They are the projects that should be trimmed to reduce rates.

1568 - Kathryn May

No more big projects. No games like mayor proposed. We cannot continue with these rates rises.

161 - Sam Apps

Upgrade what needs to be upgraded. Don't come up with random stuff just for the hell of it. Actually think about what is important and needed. Because half of what you do isn't necessary. Eg cycleways that nobody uses

168 - Brydie Lauder

too much emphasis on roads and sports facilities, letting arts and heritage fall by the wayside

1804 - Ian Sweeney

There is nothing in her for the arts.

1927 - Donna Gillatt

I think the majority of capital expenditure is a waste during such times.

1968 - Kelly Osborn

As per the previous comment. Its time to reduce spending!

stop spending money!!

2115 - Billie Kaine

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Governance]

I have to say I don't think so. I have no confidence in the council. Such sloppy attention to us who were affected by the Earth Quakes. Some people still trying to sort things out. We need clever changes to infrastructure so not sure how your budget meets the needs. Often it's all decided before we find some things are just silly. I believe nothing any of us say will make a difference, council are a law unto themselves

2119 - Andrew Cooper

Too much on art, heritage and cycle lanes.

2357 - Cori Sanders

It seems like the balance is weighted heavily towards very high long-term debt with no configuring in of the projections for the running of the council, the implementation costs of the projects, and the continued running costs of the planned projects. The necessity of the projects is far outweighed by the medium to long term debt that will be put on the shoulders of the rate payers.

These proposals are not going to alleviate the ongoing increases in medium to long term debt, i.e. debt that all councils including CCC are struggling to pay the interest on. Making it easier to pay for the debt does not change the fact that many of the 'vanity' projects the council proposes do not actually reduce the debt but increase it.

[Fees and Charges > Other]

Charging fees is not an efficient way to pay debt. The payment for the parking etc is simply another way of increasing the cost of living. Reducing the debt by, for example, delaying some of the projects till a time when the country is in a generally healthier financial state will take the pressure off the households. More fees, regardless of what they are for still comes out of the household incomes.

2358 - Carolyn Moffat

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?], [Transport > Roads (Capital)], [Transport > Transport (Operations)], [Three Waters > Three Waters (Operations)], [Spending > Te Kaha],

No. We need to invest in roads, transport and water network. We need to invest in the basic infrastructure that keeps the city running. This includes repairs which still need to be completed after the earthquakes. I consider these to be essential items. However some things are simply extras, and we need to consider whether things need to be done immediately, for example a $13 million update to the roads around the new stadium, or the upgrades to Gloucester St. These are nice to have items and we can't afford them at the moment.

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?], [Rates > Residential Rates], [Other/Special Interest Topics > Asset Sales]

I would like to make it very clear that ratepayers cannot continue to fund everything, and we expect the council to find ways to reduce costs. If that means selling some assets, then do that. The difference between this council and a business owner or private person is this - if a business or private person cannot afford something, they go without, or sell assets to afford it. This is exactly what I expect of council, yet, the council seems to think it is OK to continue with these exorbitant increases. It is not OK. This council seems to be able to push forward with projects it cannot afford, as it seems to think ratepayers will be happy to pay increased costs. We cannot carry on like this. The council needs to prioritise projects and we need to go without others. Concentrate on the core business.

2389 - Aurora Garner-Randolph

CCC needs to increase its capital spending program now.

2422 - Debora Mora

[Libraries > Libraries (Operations)], [Three Waters > Taumata Arowai Requirements], [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Transport > Roads (Capital)], [Spending > Te Kaha]

-STOP the spend on wants, and PRIORITISE the spend on needs

2443 - Greg Urquhart

Transport costs are a waste....just throwing more good money after bad trying to get Public transport working....its just wont...

247 - Daisy Cassels

Stop spending so much on stadiums and pools we can't afford!!!! Cut backs on spending!!!!

2529 - Bernard Newman

Comments: I believe the council is spending far too much in these areas as a consequence they are now proposing rates increases to fund into these areas.

2586 - Leeann Watson (Business Canterbury)

Asset renewal is important for maintaining the levels of service and lifespan expected of public infrastructure. However, our view is that the draft LTP places too much of a focus on renewal, at the expense of proactive infrastructure delivery. Business

Canterbury understands there is some uncertainty now from changes in Government policy – but if we want to continue being a “leading New Zealand city” we will need to be bold about the projects we invest in and advocate for as a city.

2625 - Danielle Leenders

I think there is too much capital spend, on asset etc. At a time where many of us our living hand to mouth. If families are not able to make capital spend, our council should be reflecting that. Its a time for cutting back to basics.

2791 - David Dockery

Comments: Can not keep using Rente payers as a ATM as times are hard and incomes are not going up as quick as costs. Also population is getting ~~older~~ older and insurances and Rentes in the future are not guaranteed. to be paid so Council will have to find money else where

Is there anything that you would like to tell us about our proposed specific aspects of our capital spend or capital

2793 - [REDACTED]

Capital Expenditure: • We do not need and can no longer afford any more, Community Centres, Libraries, Cycle lanes, sexualised events nature, Surveillance systems, Art works and installations, 'Award winning' built structures, the butchering of our road infrastructure, Sinking swimming pools, Toxicifying our water ... • I do not consent to the capital expenditure or any of the above

No. Maintain current levels of service but need to reduce the proposed capital programme. In Particular the transportation and parks/reserves areas. Too many new initiatives which we cant afford.

Reduce significantly new areas of capital investment except for the replacement and upgrade of existing assets/facilities.

Need to reduce expenditure in the capital programme especially the new projects/programmes outlines in the LTP

An undiscerning reader might be satisfied after briefly glancing at the $2.7 billion towards water supplies, or the $870 million on environmental pursuits. However, when closely analysed, several concerning flaws emerge from this plan. UC Climate Action Club and School Strike for Climate, two of Ōtautahi's commendable grassroots environmental groups, have helped compile some of the most prominent of these issues:

- CCC must massively increase the number of community housing units it provides to 3,000 in the next year instead of reducing the number. It currently spends 18 million to maintain roughly 2,850 units, and earns 16 million back, meaning that the expense of community housing is negligible - CCC did not meet its target of 20% safety audits, instead doing 3%. Therefore, more funding is needed to audit buildings for safety

- The proposed 13.24% rates rise only increases the average annual rates rise since 2013 to 6.38%; this means that 13.24 is a comparatively low rates increase. Without it, the average annual rates rise since 2013 is 5.42%. Given the suboptimal conditions afflicting much of the city's infrastructure, it is clear that rates need to be raised to support these vital facilities

- Since the Transport Asset Management Plan and Transport Activity Plan are clear that road resurfacing will be much more expensive going forward, CCC must reduce the cost of road resurfacing by reducing wear-and-tear on the roads, which it can only do by reducing car traffic and especially by reducing truck traffic. More sustainable forms of transportation are economically beneficial for residents and CCC, requiring less total expenditure and contributing drastically less to climate change

- Biodiversity, flood protections, and most other crucial environmental services are heavily underfunded, which calls into question whether CCC truly understands the gravity of the climate crisis. There should be a much greater emphasis placed on upholding the natural health of Ōtautahi; these environmental programs have the potential to greatly benefit our green city, but this improvement cannot be fully achieved without ample investment

- CCC must continually fund the Stormwater Activity Plan's four pilot programs, as they are essential to climate adaptation and overall resident safety

2837 - Deborah Harwood

Yes but many projects seem to be taking so long that costs are blowing out in a way that is not acceptable. Public are agreeing to one level of debt only to have the goal posts shifted within a short time. Many costs have pushed past a limit where I would no longer have supported them to begin with.

2864 - Darin Cusack

The planning and execution of our capital plan continues to be a concern, rather than going into examples we continually see re work of infrastructure works, poor planning, execution and budgeting of existing capital works. There is also concern around the identification, management and execution of new proposed projects.

294 - Michael Brantley

The waters a must The other red stuff. Cut it. Not the time.

2953 - Quentin Kelly

Stop the vanity or personal projects. This is rate payer money, it is literally a shakedown every year when the council comes around saying 'looks like we dont have enough in the budget again and we went over so have to borrow, looks like rates are going up'.... its a broken record. I am expected to be able to live within my means, balance the books, budget, and pay for important things to continue to be able to have an income, and the council is no different. Stop spending my money on frivolous rubbish that no-one asked for. Fix the roads, fix the water pipes, make sure flood planes and drainage work. This is your key function. If any areas, say... Edgeware, flood every time it rains you have failed. If I continually failed at my job I would be fired after the 2nd time. Fix the things broken that impact the people, do it once, do it properly and to best practice so it lasts 20 years, move onto the next problem.

No-one and we both know it asked for what the hell is happening in Gloucester St.

2989 - Lee Robinson

[Three Waters > Waste Water (capital), Grants and Funding > Arts Centre Funding, Grants and Funding > Events Ecosystems Funding]

No, there is too much capital expenditure of a wasteful nature (e.g Akaroa wastewater as one example) and not enough focus on funding that has an investment return to our city, - Events, Arts Centre as but two examples.

3105 - Tracey MacArthur

[Spending - Te Kaha]

Too much emphasis, contribution, ongoing costs to rate payers for huge mega projects - Te Kaha, Parakiore and Te Pae as examples.

3166 - Arwen Sommer

[Three Waters > Water Supply (Capital)], [Three Waters > Waste Water (Capital)], [Transport > Public transport Infrastructure (Capital)], [Resource Recovery > Resource Recovery (Capital)]

There's too much spending on big flagship projects (eg. Parakiore, Te Kaha), and not enough on maintaining and upgrading basic infrastructure.

I think we should be refraining from starting ANY large capital spend flagship projects and concentrate on making sure we are doing what were already doing as best as possible.

Stick to the basics, fix and upgrade infrastructure, fund what we already have.

3248 - Dave Edwards

Pull back on services and grand projects. There are billions proposed for community projects that only a few use.

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Social Housing]

Keep out of affordable housing, why are the general ratepayers subsidising this.

[Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]; [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration>Strategic Transport]

Why really are millions being spent on cycle ways, I hardly see anyone using them. The cities a horrible place to bike, wind, rain and cold distract from any enjoyment. I believe mopeds and small electric or motorcycles are a better answer..

335 - Wayne Bates

All needs a major overhaul by qualified people not councillors who have no experience in this type of work, and some who are too young to have a clue at all

3619 - David Fuffy (Richmond Residents' and Business Association)

The balance of capital works lean heavily once again towards west Christchurch. This is not equitable given the scope of our needs or of the contributions coming in from our suburb.

[Coder note: Richmond]

3635 - Jane Lila McKenzie

WE CAN NOT AFFORD ANY OF THESE PROPOSALS. The plan based on a population increase is Still Not going to fill the gap. Also, borrowing 2.6 Billion for a capitol program while paying 1.2 Billion in existing debt is beyond sense

3703 - Greg Hay

I have issues with the continued spend on your ERP system (SAP/S4 Hana). This is one of the most expensive ERP's there is - are there not more cost effective alternatives? Examples of spend in this space include (but not limited to) SAP Improvement Programme - Core S/4HANA Asset Management $5.8m + S4HANA Enhancement Bundle $1.5m, etc. Council Meeting Rooms (Staff Only & BYOD) Audio Visual Upgrade $2m - this seems like a "nice to have". How with the wider community benefit from this spend?

447 - Zoelle Davies

The first 2 figures are way too high.

Do it without raising rates so much!

715 - Hayley Barrett

You can't afford to spend this much! You are asking for an increase from rate payers that is not sustainable so you cannot spend this amount. Find ways of cutting back each amount. I believe you will find you can cut some costs by cutting staffing. If not, you just cannot do all the things you want to do. Cut the amount in half and give us some savings. It's not up to rate payers to fund pet projects that the city can't afford.

755 - Jenn Shraga

No. You have missed out the people of the city. Those who are currently struggling to afford to live. Your biggest downfall is mismanagement of fund on these major projects. Handing fists full of money to organisations who cannot get the project done on time and in scope. It's The citizens of the city that suffer and without those renters, rate payers and spenders/ consumers there will be no use for your major projects. Your next major project will be dealing with homelessness on a grand scale. There needs to be better review of the priorities of "essential" works.

Hope this is not the order in which you are going to prioritise these programs. That needs a rethink.

784 - Sian Carvell

I ticked no as I don't see climate change and investment in what is coming aka being a resilient and thriving city which is flexible and responsive to the changes ahead, one that not only invest in current but also future residents. Although several on the list have potential to contribute to this, looking at the plan in detail, I am not convinced it has enough focus new and innovative way, rather sticking to the old ways.

789 - Stuart Sanderson

[Strategic Direction>Have we got the balance right?]

No - Rates are increasing too high, too quickly and need to be curbed. Projects should be reduced to essential maintenance until spending is under control.

[Rates>Residential Rates]

People aren't getting wage increases in line with the rate increases. All non essential projects that haven't yet started should be put on hold until spending is under control.

[Strategic Direction - Have we got the balance right?]

Yes i think you have the balance right, my major concern is areas where growth has happened substantially and infrastructure has not meet those needs. Halswell is a concern for me

Too much committed to nice to have projects rather than maintenance of core infrastructure and keeping rates increases low

1 - Aidan Sheard

[Grants & Funding > Orana Park Funding]

These unfortunately necessary since our earthquakes and maintenance budgets, along with climate change we cannot ignore it.

1043 - Shafali Verma

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters]

Council should also cut back on certain projects and hold those projects which are not the biggest priority (Cathedral, stadiums etc) till our economy becomes a bit more stable, budget cuts not only on additional road works, construction and events but also cut the staff (especially the higher ups) with so much pay just like govt department and save some money rather than biting every single penny out of a normal day to day worker with fixed pay.

[Rates > Residential Rates]

Your long term plan should consider the short time economic conditions and hold everything which we possibly can in this tough time where population is struggling to meet end and cannot afford to have such a massive rate increase in double digits!

1107 - Claire Gullidge

More on parks, heritage, coastal environment and facilities for children and less on transport.

1113 - Graeme Plank

[Rates>Residential Rates]

In an extended cost of living crisis the council should be doing its utmost to minimise the burden placed on its ratepayers. Delaying some projects, especially those that benefit few, or are for the benefit of those who do not financially contribute into those projects by way of rating would ease the burden for rate payers.

1135 - Callum Wood

[Spending>Our Proposed Spending]; [Strategic Direction>Additional Savings & Efficiencies]

Operational and capital: review all areas with a complete review questioning " do we need to actually even do this " from a council perspective. there are many areas i would question why Council is actually doing them and scope creep has created many layers across all departments for no or little value procurement requires a complete review and changes would make massive differences as noted; contracts re-tendered to avoid cost escalations or just stopped in year 3 totally for a year (reseals and renewals)

[Strategic Direction>Additional Savings & Efficiencies]

as in previous comments: procurement ; contracts changed to avoid escalation - every single contract! and simply deleting some years completely

1157 - Justin Rogers

I enjoy the libraries, parks, cycleways and pools, and value the water infrastructure. I have minimal interest in the larger sporting event spaces.

I could have done without a fancy stadium for a bit longer and finished more streets, drainage, and cycleway projects.. See below for other ideas.

1176 - Jamin Thomas

[Spending>Te Kaha]; [Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]; [Transport>Other]

No issues with CAPEX - love the stadium build. To have major events come back to Christchurch and the possibility of new sporting franchise opportunities is awesome. Only comment would be on the Transport portion of CAPEX, either phase things out to latter years and reduce cycleway costs (if any). Focus for transport CAPEX should be the must-haves, rather than the nice-to-haves.

[Rates>Other]

I am not suggesting we cut services, but would like further exploration on the idea of phasing particular capex projects or pieces of work that can result in the burden of rates being shifted to further 'out-years'. On the hope that interests costs decrease and inflation drops in the next few years, this may be more palatable to the public.

[Rates>Residential]

Primarily rephasing of CAPEX and focus on the must-haves, and not nice-to-haves in respect of transport. Completely understand the inflationary environment that we are operating in, so feel like a rates rise closer to 10% is more reasonable.

12 - Jalori Mathias

There should also be more investment in renewable energy.

1232 - Heather Young

[Parks > Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration], [Parks > Parks Spending (General)]

Increase the proportion of spending on Christchurch's accessible coastal suburbs and their associated reserves (Brighton, South Brighton, Southshore, North Brighton): Reasons: 1. Preserve cultural heritage (Maori used the Estuary and Spit for kai moana for centuries), 2 Climate change adaptation, 3. Preserve East Australasian flyways, ecosystems for migrating birds such as Godwits (maintain biodiversity) 4. Tourism's greatest future growth is in areas of natural beauty and significance

1235 - Alex Edge

I think council should be delaying any major upgrades or new projects until the cost of living has stopped increasing at the current rate and people feel more financially stable

1259 - Paula Darrell

[Art Galleries & Museums > Museums (Operational)]

We need to look at ways to move and get things done quickly so the rising cost don't effect what's budgeted for. We need to find new revenue but not at the cost of the chch residents.

1319 - Luke Sweeney

Money being spent on things that add value is fine eg libraries etc cycleways definitely not

All those things seem ok

133 - Alan Mears

Water and Transport should be top priority

1339 - Carol Marie Ferrier

We are in a recession through to 2026, tourism helps keep everyone afloat durign this time. Keep major tourist attractions open and funded (e.g Arts Centre and surroundign area fo gardens, museum, gallery etc)

1391 - Anna Gruczynska

The sole focus during the cost of living crisis should be on the absolute "must haves", not advancing "nice to haves" like installing on every suburban street 30kph signs that nobody pays any attention to. There are too many things in the plan that the city cannot afford and that no one will miss if they don't proceed.

Yes to investment in CORE infrastructure and facilities.

1395 - William Wallace

Yes, water, transport, parks, etc., are important, not so much the multi-sport facility, or a replacement South Library.

Council needs to focus on essential services and get out of the 'nice-to-have' areas. We're a low-wage economy with many people teetering on the brink - though not all - and a little minnow of a country at the bottom of the world. Let's concentrate on doing what we do well with innovation and resilience. We've done it before, post-quakes, we can do it again in these difficult times.

1398 - Carol Woolf

Be careful about the amount of indoor facilities as they cost a lot. Invest in opportunities of free land for outdoor activities on east side.

1413 - Tania Brewer

It is deeply disappointing that so many important things have taken so long to rebuild, which means everything now has tripped in price with the Council threatening to cancel and not go forward, procrastination has cost us too much money. Council needs to move forward quicker to prevent such money wastage and stop punishing rate payers for these cost increases.

As stated if Council hadnt procrastinated we would have building attractions built at a fraction of now what required so you shouldnt need to increase and punish rate payers for Councils errors.

As stated previously and reduce CEO of Councils pay she is overpaid and under performed, so start using Council money more logically rather than increasing rates.

But get onto it the longer you procrastinate the more costs incur and then Councils cries for more money.

Get smarter and stop such long delays, as these delays have made us all suffer.

As previously stated plan better and stop causing unnecessary procrastination and wastage.

Get onto it!

1415 - Rebecca Macpherson

I would like the Council to focus on the must haves rather than the wish to have/or control

look at what 'fun' stuff is funded - sick of the waste

1460 - Jihee Park

going for a smaller scales, you already collecting the money for stadium, already had a budget for big swimming pool in the city - but you kept blowing the budget, are you hiring right people to run the budget? are you having an expert on the project? why are you keep over budgeting? where did it go wrong, now it is 13% up, what is next?

1474 - Céira Dernhagen

[Spending>Our Proposed Spending]

Operational Spending & Capital Programme:

Operational Spending means Council's regular spending on keeping the parks, libraries, pools, and other services running, funded from rates.

Capital Programme is spending on Council's "assets", which includes things like roads, water pipes, and flood protection.

Council isn't doing nearly enough to address the climate crisis. PAGE FOUR asks you to talk about what Council spends its money on. "Operational Spending" and "Capital Programme" are two types of spending that Council could be doing to take responsibility, but right now they're pushing it all into the far future when it'll be too late to take action. That's why you have to tell Council to put more money into these types of spending, and to put money into climate and flood protection.

Option 3 - Accelerate work on some projects and programmes, with a focus on balancing the needs of today's residents with the needs of future generations (e.g. spending more on climate change adaptation, boost the funding for major events).

15 - Sara Currey

Prioritize water ways, parks, libraries yes! More expensive cycle ways no. When we can afford them then absolutely!

Yes but how the money is spent and how much is spent is the problem.

1501 - Jason Middlemiss (Waimāero Fendalton-Waimairi-Harewood Community Board)

While the Board supports the focus on developing a deliverable capital programme, to ensure the success and sustainability of these exciting projects, it's crucial to adopt a staged phase approach. By breaking down the implementation into manageable stages, we can mitigate the risk of cost blowouts and ensure that the Council stays on track with budgetary goals. This phased approach allows for better monitoring, risk management, and adjustment as needed, thereby enhancing the overall effectiveness and efficiency of the capital programme.

1522 - David Alexander

I think services funded by the council should require community support, in the form of signatures on paper.

Please do not remove amenities from Christchurch, find alternative methods for funding.

1541 - Maurice Adler

[Spending > Te Kaha], [Recreation, Sports & Events > Recreation Centres (Capital)], [Libraries > Libraries (Capital)], [Strategic Direction > Financial Strategy], [Strategic Direction > Additional Savings & Efficiencies]

What matters most. Over the last few years, the Christchurch City Council has had a field day on think big projects which is contributing towards the rates raised we are looking at now. To mention just three, the stadium which was pushed for the Canterbury Rugby and the Crusaders which can't fill the one they have now. We will be paying it for years. It will be a liability for years to come and it will be the ratepayers who pay, not the Canterbury Rugby or the Crusaders.

The second is Recreation and Sports Centre. This is an embarrassment. The Council received a quote to build it and didn't even obtain a good engineering report on the ground. The result is a huge cost overrun. Who has to pay for it. The ratepayers with a rate rise.

The third is the Hornby Centre. Of three, this is the most sensible. But considering the vast amount of money been spent on the other two projects, was it wise to build this. From memory, once again they didn't get a good engineering report because there was a blowout with that too.

In short, The Christchurch City Council needs to treat their finances the same as one would treat their home finances. If you can't afford don't do it. Ratepayers are tired of being used as a never ending source of funds with rate increases. My recommendation is, don't plan to have anymore large projects that we cannot afford.

Only spend on what is really really needed.

1544 - Daana Watson

Apart from Te Kaha, these are all services that the CCC should be developing, maintaining and repairing so if this is your anticipated costs, then so be it.

Stop bailing out private business like that bike park on the hill.

1654 - Jane Ross

We should live within our means. Core services are what our rates are for. Not massive sports centres.
But if something has to go then we should tighten our belts.

1699 - Dominic McKeown

capital works seem to be half of operating costs. this could be cut by making sure that people are working efficiently and working to achieve things faster and for better use of ratepayer spending. proactive maintenance should be looked further into for all infrastructure as this will allow for things work before breaking which seems to be the current process. removing barriers to getting works done as it takes ages from reporting to any action to happen. this clearly is a problem.

some efficiencies can be gained by removing some works entirely or incorporating to other aspects of council function.

1717 - Mark Doyle

[Spending>Te Kaha]; [Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities]

Overall, have we got the balance right:

The maintenance of buildings and services is vital, as is delivering clean water and safe, effective infrastructure. These are important to focus on. However, a bit of 'greed' is creeping in - eg. the Te Kaha stadium - an expensive build. Keeping our green image in mind on every project, might stop excessive spending, and improve wellbeing.

2301 - Ian Douthwaite

Again, it's not so much about priorities between things as within things. Given that the main constraint on the capital programme is capacity rather than money, then the priority should be to achieve more by being faster and simpler, i.e. radically simplify projects rather than over-elaborating them. e.g. Renew a stretch of street rather than creating a convoluted streetscape.

2338 - Robin Schulz (Coronation Reserve Residents Group)

Partly completed projects that require completion to secure the achieved asset should be provided for.

2344 - Sarah Elicker (Te Huarahi Linwood Avenue School)

More emphasis please on child and pedestrian safety, reducing vehicle speeds, active transport options, climate change resilience and adaptation, and parks and green spaces.

2350 - Jack Bisset

We must add to this a residential housing and community infrastructure investment. I would be happy to discuss this directly. This will crucially add more resilience to our communities from further earthquakes, floods, fires and storms.

2368 - Alaine Percasky

Keep to the basics at the moment, then look at it again in a couple of years!.

As I have mentioned the basics are necessary such as the Waste water, footpaths. We need to be more Savey on how we use the money. Cut back, stop projects that are not necessary at present, keep things at a minimum.

2411 - Rachel Montejo

However there seems to be some real issues with programme mgmt for large capital projects. They seem to consistently go outrageously over budget

I like the priority list except transport getting budget of $1.6b.

2507 - Bronte Barber

Yes - but financially no. Prioritise better!

2511 - Charlaine Palmer

[Transport > Cycleways (Capital), Other/Special Interest Topics > Tarras Airport, Other/Special Interest Topics > Cathedral, Transport > Roads (Capital)]

Comments: Stop work on all cycleways, especially the wheels to wings and Nor West arc. They narrow roads and reduce carparking. No more funding for Christchurch Cathedral. Stop work on Tarras Airport. Don't change Church corner intersection. Reduce spending on consultants. Rainbow Community to meet all costs of rainbow crossings.

2514 - Jeannie Murtagh

[Spending > Te Kaha, Other/Special Interest Topics > Cathedral, Other/Special Interest Topics > Commonwealth)

I want the Council to listen to feedback in the future BEFORE they lose millions of rate payers money in huge schemes the people dont want such as repair of the Cathedral, Te Kaha and a possible future Commonwealth Games!

2537 - Suzanne Montocchio

Can these department first not commit to savings before asking for more money.

2595 - Nicola Hely

I love visiting the libraries and use Hagley Park often too. I do not want to see any day to day services cut.

I do not want to see cost reductions come from service cuts, and there absolutely cannot be any cuts from the climate change or biodiversity programmes.

2599 - Susan Miller

I feel that too much money is being wasted on some of these programmes. We need to prioritise the urgent things now to reduce this amount to reduce the increase.

2624 - Colin Ong

All very well and good on paper regardless of the alternative chosen. However, what I am very concerned about is the repeated end result - projects are never finished on time and on budget.

2627 - Sarah Butterfield

We are not a big enough city to justify some of the huge centralised projects. We should concentrate on getting things right at community level.

I think it's the role of the Council to know what the important infrastructure priorities are. Many people do not understand the invisible but essential services.

2655 - Michele Mccaw

Although I think there needs to be more accountability when it comes to larger projects such as metrosports and te kaha.

2679 - Brad Adlam

Stop non-core projects

2682 - Scott Savage

To reiterate we need to be ensuring we are being smarted with the dollars being spent. Ensure projects are scoped correctly before committing to tax payers money being spent (e.g. Cathedral) and hold those delivering the project to account.

Cut back on the nice to haves for the next few years and get the fundamentals right with infrastructure and services for future use. With a considerable rates rise for citizens, this will reduce the spend within the city due to less cash people have which will impact businesses causing flow on effects of business and job growth.

Itemise and prioritise all intended projects. Hold off on the unnecessary ones. Ensure projects are delivered as scoped and not a costly blowout please

2690 - Robbie Dobbie

Cut all unnecessary expenditure

2705 - Ian Le Page

Needs greater emphasis on repairs and upgrading existing structure

2738 - Patricia (Patsy) Eastwood

Plan for what is right and fair for the ratepayers, choosing the least expensive options rather than the most expensive ones where each is equally sustainable.

2750 - Helen Johnstone

Keep costs for any project to a reasonable amount.

2756 - Stephanie Defregger

Library and health services, especially mental health services and youth programmes are important.

2758 - Christopher Seay

2763 - Karl Dean (Federated Farmers of New Zealand)

2. SUMMARY OF RECOMMENDATIONS

2.1 NCFE recommends:

2.1.1 that CCC should consider all proposed projects in the LTP and prioritise only those that are essential, to reduce the overall rate increase;

[Full attachment available]

277 - Jane Harrison

I think more needs to be spent on climate change/adaptation. Is the infrastructure robust enough to cope with increasing intensity of rain/wind/flooding etc.?

2771 - Suzanne Antill

Comments:

We should not be expanding our expenditure.
We should be economising and cutting back on expenditure.

2772 - Janice Antill

Even although it is desirable to have libraries open on Sunday and some of the other projects are very worthwhile we have to batten down the hatches or the elderly and vulnerable will be desperate. We are facing a major international Depression.

2780 - Maree Hemmingsen`

Comments: Need to maintain services, transport, libraries, service centres without increasing rates. Think about what extras and new proposals add, - are they must haves? eg no cycleways.

2781 - Sarah Hemmingsen

Comments: Need to maintain existing infrastructure but should think about pushing out new capital developments. To quote the interim CE "Your lack of planning is not my crisis".

2791 - David Dockery

stop work if job blows out because under price job (contractor pays diff)

28 - Geoff Egan

Transport needs changing, everything needs a hard look at.

2810 - Kari Hunter

Develop in-house capability for Council works and building. Done well, this can:

- significantly improve coordination between projects
- smooth workflow so that there is more steady employment for resident workers
- improve flexibility when conditions and needs change
- provide pathways for training
- build and retain institutional skills and knowledge
- retain more of the city's resources for the City by exporting less profits out-of-district to external corporations.
- No more wasteful Arena-type extravagances that will be an ongoing drain on our resources and will exclude a significant portion of the citizenry who will not be able to afford events.

2821 - Dave and Denise Falls

ents:

But how you spend / process needs to be looked at.

[Coders note. Comment]

Comments:

→, NO Fix roads & footpaths before making cycleways.

2822 - Angela Leatherby

[Recreation, Sports & Events > Community Arts], [Recreation, Sports & Events > Events]

There needs to be consideration of how large a capital programme the Council can actually manage within its current staffing levels. There is no point in trying to do too much, too quickly without the staff to ensure the work is done well, on time, within budget and to scope. If we focus more on this we may do things slightly slower but they will be done better and save money in the long term. This would then provide money to invest into our Arts, Culture and Music, ensuring that the creative heart of our city is not compromised. It would also provide money to invest into events that ensure the city is a vibrant place to live. There is no point pouring money into the shell of the city if the we stop investing in the soul of the city - all those things that provide well being and connection. Council's strategic priorities states that Christchurch will be an inclusive, equitable city which puts people at the centre of developing our city and district, prioritising wellbeing, accessibility and connection. We can't say these things and then not live them through our long term plan.

Your answer to this question has already been answered by mana whenua in your consultation with them. We should be following their lead as kaitiaki or Ōtautahi and districts. However I would reiterate that we need to a capital programme that is manageable and I think we are trying to do too much.

All extremely important but only if we have capacity to deliver the programmes, otherwise scale back. Do less well and we will reap the rewards for years to come. If we do more poorly we will cost the city for years to come.

As above, if we have more control over our capital projects doing only what we can actually manage, we won't need to reduce services. We can then increase events bidding to ensure that the city remains a vibrant place where people want to be.

As above, have a more manageable capital programme and increasing bidding funding does not need to impact rates at all.

2824 - Hannah Mason

For the most part, yes. Some things about our city's rebuild have been extremely poorly planned - going too big with some key structures - and it is disappointing to see the ongoing costs of those things, but I understand we can't go back and change those decisions now.

2827 - Carley Dove-McFalls (Generation Zero Ōtautahi)

Funding towards climate change mitigation projects must increase substantially (100x) and must be the number one priority.

2832 - Riley Neupauer (University of Canterbury Green Party)

[Strategic development > Community Outcomes and Strategic Priorities]

The Council seeks to improve our coastal city of Christchurch - and they evidently know the steps necessary to do so. Yet they severely limit the quality of implementation by adhering to a stagnant, conservative monetary policy that will prove to be thoroughly insufficient as the years unfold. The Long Term Plan only outlines the agenda for the next decade, but the implications of these decisions will impact Ōtautahi's residents for generations, and unless the CCC actively invests in better infrastructure, their communities will continue to bear the consequences. The UC Greens implore the Council to consider a more forward-thinking approach to its spending, so that Christchurch is adequately equipped to fully support its residents.

2834 - Geoff & Liz Carter

There should be no need to use staff and consultants on capital projects. Use one or the other.

Yes and No. There needs to be a definite focus on "core" Council services and less spent on the frills. Lets wait until times are a bit easier to do some of the projects - e.g. cycleways.

2840 - Matthew Carter

There is very little discussion of climate change in the consultation document. I hope this doesn't reflect that climate change risk is being ignored in works carried out. For example, maintaining all parts of the road network to the same standard may not be warranted.

2876 - Sarah Hastie

Whilst the appropriate areas are being prioritised, the specific spending in some areas should be reviewed.

2902 - Prawindra Mukhia

I refer to my Q1 answer regarding outcomes and benefits of the projects. I need to know what the benefits are from the investment before I agree on the rate increase. I need to know what are my options? How have the projects been prioritized?

It is difficult to answer this without additional information. We need the Business Case for each of the above programs. The business case should inform us about: - Outcomes, Benefits and Impact of the program - The whole of life costs - Social impact - Environmental impact (GHG emissions).

There MUST be budgets for "Continuous Improvement" for all the programs. The program activity should include: - Compiling and sharing lessons learned - Improvement on portfolio, program, project practices - Improvement on PMO processes - Training - End of year report

2919 - Hayley Guglietta (Avon Ōtākaro Network INC)

Push back new capital projects that have not started or nice to haves until the stadium is completed i.e Lancaster Park, Rolleston Gate, Robert McDougall,

2922 - Zak Morrison

The Draft LTP proposes significant investments in several key areas, including three waters, transport, parks, heritage and the coastal environment, Te Kaha, libraries, and solid waste and resource recovery. While the investment in three waters is both necessary and commendable, given the critical importance of drinking water, wastewater, and stormwater management, there are concerns regarding the prioritisation of other areas, particularly the MCRs programme.

2924 - John Gibbs

[Parks > Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration]

Second there is continued treatment of the Environment as a separate entity and one couched in terms of costs rather than potential returns. I live on the Banks Peninsula - the Environment is part of our infrastructure and it is an important asset and driver of the local economy. I see tourist businesses that are reaping the benefit of 30 years of consistent investment in the environment. I see numerous businesses that wouldn't exist if we had continued to damage our flora and fauna. And no amount of investment would be able to bring them back. A large part of the hospitality and retail business in Akaroa is driven by people who come here to enjoy the natural world. The demand for 'nature', if you will, will continue to grow - globally - The Peninsula could be well placed as a biodiversity hot spot. However, as I mentioned these investments take time to bear fruit (just like lots of other investments in infrastructure). Stopping a programme doesn't just put it on hold - its often the equivalent to taking a write off of all the expenditure to date. Perhaps the best example is the pull back from eliminating possum during the TB scare - farmers tell me that the job was nearly done and a small additional expenditure would have seen that become a reality and we wouldn't be spending millions of dollars on it today. So please rethink your approach to the environment - it is important infrastructure that drives our economy.

2927 - In Kyung Lee

Method of allocation is not the primary issue; the planned expenditure - both capital and operating - needs to be reassessed first.

Prioritising too many things

2939 - John Thomsen

Some projects/jobs/departmental jobs on projects should be prioritized and others put on hold to reduce expenditure.

2957 - Lisa Keen

[Spending > Te Kaha]

Transport and 'te kaha' are disproportionately prioritised! Our health system is broken! Public and mental health and addiction centres need urgent attention.

2968 - Angela Moran

The focus should be on maintaining existing infrastructure sufficiently, not on developing these further when people are in so much financial difficulty at the moment.

297 - Michael Crabtree

Reduce spending by 10%

2989 - Lee Robinson

Just focus on those that provide the city a return

2992 - Marian Robinson

[Grants and Funding > Events Ecosystem Funding]

We need to focus on events, infrastructure and invest in projects that provide a return to the city.

3 - Di Prankerd

Probably - but I query the prioritisation of waste and resource recovery

3016 - Zarah Green

[Libraries>Libraries (Capital)]

I think this is good use of money except for things like opening new libraries.

[Transport>Roads (Capital)]; [Transport>Transport (Operations)]; [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration>Greater Christchurch Partnership]

This needs to be thought about alongside external factors as well. 2 examples. The people of Selwyn are using more and more of the roading infrastructure in Halswell etc but NZTA don't have onramps / offramps to the Southern Motorway to support increased levels of traffic in Halswell. Another example is the Ministry of Education doesn't want to build another high school in the Halswell / Prebbleton area, but the footpaths, cycleways and bus services don't support children getting to Hilmorton high school in a safe manner.

3085 - Jacqueline Sullivan

[Transport>Roads (Capital)]; [Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]; [Transport>Footpaths & Streetscapes (Capital)]

Don't start spending money on new projects until the money is available, Put a hold on things like cycle ways, until we can afford them, and find a way to do it at a reasonable cost, or shelve them. Concentrate on the essentials - roads and footpaths.

3087 - Lucie Masselink

All projects seem to go way over the suggested completion date and massively over budget. The solution is not to put our rates up even more to pay for this

3088 - Heather Brown

Finish existing projects promptly. Defer new projects.

3092 - Kitty Moran

Mostly.

3093 - Gareth Cook

More effort to keep projects in budget is required

3099 - Stephen Miller

Focus on the essentials that people require for health and to be able to get to their places of work, school efficiently.

Avoid the vanity and ego projects. Christchurch is a small, insignificant city a long way from everywhere. What most people want is a pleasant, safe place to live.

314 - Vaughan Kirkland

Generally about right. I think a more needs to be put into replacing , upgrading, and building new infrastructure.

3165 - Adrienne Baxter

PLEASE think does it need to happen if we can't afford it before spending the money. Every dollar matters when it is not your money to spend. rates are very expensive in NZ and can't keep going up like this if we want our young people to be able to get into their own home.

3238 - Fergus McCallum

Investment in the service and level of investment in our core infrastructure and facilities would prevent the increasing degradation of these services, which would cost more long term to fix.

325 - Kathleen Clinton

Waste, resources, environment most important

3250 - Hannah Murdoch

Hopefully the transport money is going towards easier and safer public transport and biking. More needs to be invested on the environment and slowing disruption to natural habitats, as well as climate resilience.

3299 - Phil OMalley

My submission is primarily on the proposed capital spending plan. With the completion phase of Te Kaha early in the 10-year plan, then the capital plan should be focused on infrastructure and city services. Less on projects that are post-earthquake rebuilds or new substantial facilities or features. Looking at the 10 year plan capital spend, the balance is reasonable.

3325 - Adele Geradts

You have the right things, but I think the spending is wrong.

3331 - Lisa Fazi

I would personally invest in the facilities that have a cultural value and therefore attract more visitors e.g The arts centre, museums, cathedral

3341 - Maria Bartlett

Review new capital investments to determine what is essential and what is "nice to have"

3364 - Alison Murray

Stop flogging a dead horse. Spend the money where the people are.

3368 - Roland van Bommel

[Three Waters >Other]

The original 3 waters plan made sense as it envisioned a closer cooperation between councils and a capital programme only makes sense if CCC cooperates with other councils in order to fund some of the capital projects It also makes it much more viable to attract outside infrastructure investment form domestic and overseas sources.

3371 - Malcolm Frost

[Rates], [Borrowing & Debt Management > Borrowing & Debt Management]

It is also quite possible that the burden of capital expenditure for some projects has been underestimated (historic precedent tends to be supportive of this view).

3376 - Barry Lee

Capital spend should only take place to replace an existing asset that has outlived its useful economic life. Capital projects that the physical work has been commenced and a fully costed contract has been signed will need to continue. Every project needs to go under the microscope and to establish if it is a need not a want or a nice to have. Projects that would have in the past attracted government funding and now because of cut backs do not attract it, must be reexamined as to the extent of the project or stopped.

3377 - Roderick Syme

Overall balance seems reasonable but note comment below on Heritage support.

[Coders note. note below is as follows "The proposed discontinuation of support for the Christchurch Arts Centre is of particular concern. I consider the Arts Centre to be an essential component of the cultural fabric of the City, along with the Canterbury Museum and Christchurch Art Gallery, deserving of significant ratepayer support. Certainly the Arts Centre should do everything possible to develop appropriate commercial activities in this Heritage environment, but features such as the Rutherford Den, the Great Hall and the Observatory are fully deserving of support. I was a student on this site 1956-64 and have enjoyed a range of activities at the site since establishment as an Arts Centre. There would be serious negative consequences if the City Council was forced to take over responsibility for the site."]

3419 - Michael Allan

Spend more money on essentials.

347 - Catherine Webber

[Parks > Parks Spending (General)], [Spending > Te Kaha], [Libraries > Libraries (Capital)], [Resource Recovery > Resource Recovery (Capital)]

The spending of $870 million on parks, heritage & the coastal environment, $286 million on Te Kaha, $140 million on libraries, $137 million on solid waste and resource recovery is good but surely if you tried a lot harder these things could be maintained without rates increases.

3540 - Philip Robinson

Priorities are right but costs are to high.

3572 - Tania Dirkze

The amounts need to be significantly decreased. If you don't have the money for it don't do it. Or start budgeting better.

3587 - Caroline Bruner

We should also take some of this investment to support communities, infrastructure and the arts.

3599 - Hayley Guglietta

But looking at each line item I can easily indentify a number of projects that could easily be pushed into future years to allow room to finish large anchor projects

Push back new capital projects that have not started until the stadium is completed i.e Lancaster Park, Rolleston Gate, Robert McDougall, Stop spending money arguing about projects i.e Harewood Cycleway, Church Corner dropping the westbound lane, Park Terrace cycleway.

3604 - Caroline Burt

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration>Strategic Transport]; [Transport>Roads (Capital)]; [Transport>Footpaths & Streetscapes (Capital)]; [Transport>Transport (Operations)]

It is my understanding that there is little to nothing for the area of Halswell, one of the fastest growing areas of our city. Yes, much of what is required will be covered by the land developers. However, there will be gaps in the Halswell transport infrastructure due to the increased development and the change in the way the people now reside on the land. Such as missing safe crossing zones for school children, missing links in footpaths, current roadways with increased use and traffic types that it was not built for. Consideration also needs to be given to the impact on the roadways from the developments in the Selwyn district that will impact the Halswell area. The further Prebbleton and Lincoln develop, in particular towards the Port Hills, there will be an increase of usage on roads such as Saby's Road and the supporting roadways.

3605 - Nic Sewell

I support an increase in spending on infrastructure, in particular systems that are (or support) renewable and sustainable.

Supportive in general

3610 - Eric Stierna

CAPEX spending should be ramped up over three years to the targets in order to allow the rates increases to be phased in over the same 3 year period.

3611 - Sharon Dowers

The council needs to cut its cloth here. While the 3 waters works need to happen, every cycleway project and other non essential project needs to be hit pause until such time as its costs can be afforded.

3616 - Mark Webster

I'm not able to discern what each of those broad statements entail.

3617 - Bronwen Bisley

Rather than put essential infrastructure projects on hold (such as cycleways) I would prefer a rates increase, if the government support is reduced.

3618 - Chrys Horn

As I have previously mentioned we need also to be prioritising infrastructure that helps us all live more comfortably, cheaply and healthily. We need trees in our city, we need a LOT fewer cars, we need more cycle infrastructure, good ways of prioritising public transport and a well planned city that provides for people rather than cars.

3626 - Connie Christensen

We have to focus on sustainable and future proof water, waste and transport, not big stadiums for a few big commercial events.

3644 - Yvonne Dixon

[Spending>Te Kaha]

It is mostly good, but Te Kaha is taking too much money.

3645 - Sophie McKenzie

I think it is also important that CCC increase capital spending programs to the likes of individual projects that are underway and will need funding in 2024 or 25 to avoid quick and temporary fixes. Examples are having Major Routes done by 2025. This is also key for the safety and well-being of commuters.

3652 - Andrew Hamlin

We should focus on those things which CCC is also most likely going to have to reduce costs towards . However I have not deluged deep into the capital program but can see some areas within CCC services that could be improved to help reduce expenditure.

3653 - Andrew McDougall

I believe should be spent on infrastructure in the East of the city. We always feel like the "cinderellas" who are neglected by the council despite the best efforts of our local councillor.

3657 - Ruth Bullen

Has to be better funding or delivery models for projects like te kaka, capital projects in general. Review the procurement system and processes is it fit for purpose for complex projects.

3671 - Linda Nicolson

Again sort out must haves like water and roads and if you are successful coming in on budget then spend on nice to haves.

3684 - Alison Lomax

[Libraries > Libraries (Operations)]

I regularly visit libraries and each time i go I see a number of staff standing around chatting, libraries appear to be over staffed given they no longer issue or return books as it's all automated. The branches that have NZ Post in them have huge queues with the staff there frantically trying to get through all the customers while library staff are standing nearby chatting to each other with nothing to do. The council needs to look at how and where it spends it's money to make sure it's being well spent. I also think it's a waste of resources to provide computer gaming facilities, if the computers are meant to be used for those that can't afford one they don't get to as there is usually young people sitting there gaming for ages. I don't feel this is an essential service or is helping the community in any way.

3705 - Glenis Youngman

A better idea is to delay some of these vanity projects till a time when the country is in a better healthier financial state that will take the pressure off households.

To manage ratepayers money wisely the council needs to stop investing in new projects until the economy is in better shape financially. >>>The council should be involved in core services not nice to have projects.

3710 - Kit French

Council running costs should be included here for view.

3711 - Hamish Keown

Yes- the three waters need to be a priority and I overall agree with the above

3721 - Benn Dickie

[Three Waters > Three Waters (Operations)]

Additionally I think that this capital program does not adequately some of your human capital potential that could be engaged to support programs and investments. An example of this is the water leak proposal - utilising public reporting (i.e. Snap Send Solve) through encouraging and promoting water reporting would likely affect assessments identifying leaks.

3722 - Rachel Thwaites

[Parks > Parks > Other Red Zone Areas], [Parks > Otakaro Avon River Corridor Regeneration]

Slow it down, push non essential projects out to 15 years eg red zone. Its not urgent to do this. Its a giant green sponge

3724 - Terence Sissons

Improvements as opposed to maintenance can wait until the city can afford them.

[Coders note: relating to transport]

All desirable but are they all affordable?

[Coders note: relating to parks, heritage and coastal environment]

3731 - Heather McHarg

Housing reduce recreational & sport and spread across above

3758 - Mads Churchhouse

CCC needs to increase its capital spending program right now.

The above things are all priorities, and therefore should be included. However, they are not being funded enough.

3775 - Kate Latimer

Reduce new projects

3798 - M-Webb User

is there a maybe option.. yes for drinking water, wastewater and stormwater as being top of priority; more budget for parks, heritage and coastal environment especially for the Port Hills and the Banks Peninsula for biodiversity and pest control. More for solid waste and resource recovery- where recycling bins are provided in public spaces and resource efficiency and waste minimisation is the norm.

3820 - Rowan Sprague

[Spending > Te Kaha], [Three Waters > Three Water (Operations)]

In general I think we are [Coder note: prioritising the right things], except for Te Kaha - the stadium is costing too much. I would prefer if less money was spent on Te Kaha for a lower-spec stadium and more money was spent on upgrades and modernisation of 3 waters.

3825 - Justin Barton

[Transport > Operations]

I propose that the suggested balance should focus even more on core values of maintaining existing services.

Existing roads potholes/unevenness should be maintained properly first, and adjustments should be deferred such as traffic easing, new cycle ways, excessive road markings.

New projects should be reassessed if they maintain their cost benefit given the uncertainty of the NZ and global economy, and demographic shift to shrinking and aging population in Christchurch.

[Strategic Direction > Additional Savings & Efficiencies]

review other new capital projects, concentrate on delivering existing core services

3830 - Brenda Banning

I think this is close. I think water is number 1.

3831 - Rick Jones

Detail where the $408m is to be spent then ask "do we really need to do this" Look at to asset and ask if it really needs to be replaced.

3834 - Matt Stewart

There are a numbers capital projects - Metro Sports, Stadium, Cathedral, convention centre, Town Hall, Museum, that are 100's of millions a dollars in build costs. Most of these are were significantly over budget, some more than double. Having are making a significant jump while these projects are way over budget is not a good look. Is CCC spending beyond their means and beyond what the people of Christchurch can afford? Should this tax money be coming from somewhere else?

3836 - Tessa Morrow

Three waters at top yes! But others should be moved around

3862 - Katharine Metherell

if there is a large focus on capital projects there needs to be a realistic review of the operational costs associated with new projects to ensure ongoing operational funds are balanced. Perhaps the capital plan is a little ambitious for the next 10 years.

in principle yes, but the detail is not necessarily best for the communities involved.

3868 - Don Gould

We have a massive capital budget for the stadium right now. We need to put more of the capital program on hold until we have completed this massive project.

Other projects can't start until CCC and government finish projects they have on the table.

3916 - Laila Jansone (Renew Brighton Charitable Trust)

We support priorities such as water infrastructure, road upgrade, and waste management. Given the difficult economic climate mid and long term, the rest of the capital expenditure shall not be in the priorities.

393 - Kathryn Russell

Ensure it's not just one set of ratepayers finding what has been a prior lack of investment. Decrease non essential spending.

3931 - David Moorhouse

Mostly OK,

3966 - Michael Apathy (Climate Liberation Aotearoa)

There are many more examples of projects in the LTP, such as the Heathcote Floodplain Implementation program, which are pushed out beyond the current LTP cycle. This is not good enough. If these are important enough to invest in, they are important enough to invest in now. Therefore, we ask that every single capital investment is scheduled for completion by 2025, and rates raised accordingly.

3968 - Joseph Fullerton (UC Climate Action Club)

[Transport > Cycleways]

[Transport > Rooding]

[Three Waters > Stormwater & Land Drainage]

[Fees and Charges > Other]

CCC needs to increase its capital spending program right now. Individual projects which need funding in in 2024 or 2025, to avoid the bow-wave effect, include:

- Major Cycle Routes (MCRs)
 - Nor'West Arc must be finished by 2025
 - Northern Line must be finished by 2025
 - Wheels to Wings must be finished by 2025
 - South Express must be finished by 2025
- Memorial Ave Bike lanes must be built by 2025, because Burnside High School students, and students at other schools serviced by Memorial Ave such as Westburn and Cobham, should be able to have safe commutes.
- Heathcote Floodplain Management Implementation must be brought forward to 2025 in order to protect the residents of Heathcote from further floods such as the Woolston floods.
- The four pilot programs in the Stormwater Activity Plan must be funded in every year of the LTP:
 - Project 1, “Conduct Multi-Value Analysis on Stormwater Treatment Methods and Technologies for Consideration in Future Projects”, must be funded for project completion in 2025, because the produced information is critical to climate adaptation.
 - Project 2, “Installation of Stormwater Treatment Devices to Reduce Metal Contaminant Discharge and Monitoring of Effectiveness”, must be funded for project completion in 2025, because Council is under a legal obligation to meet resource consents and should not be responsible for contaminating waterways.
 - Project 3, “Undertake Analysis of Stormwater Outfall Blockage and Discharge Potential Risks with Respect to Climate Change Effects and Identify Mitigation Solutions”, must be funded for project completion in 2025, because the stormwater system isn't getting enough funding, so it's important that the current system is used wisely.
 - Project 4, “Identification of Properties At-Risk of Above Floor Flooding”, must be funded for project completion in 2025, because CCC has a responsibility to all residents of the city, who only live in areas that CCC zoned for residence; it can't now abdicate its responsibilities to those residents.

As a general rule if a Council asset is worth insuring against loss then it should be insured/replaced if

3990 - Malcolm Smeaton

Comments: Stick to the basics. Maintain what we have. As much as possible put new projects on hold.

4001 - Jennifer Porter

Provisional agreement. Current government is not clear on Water or Transport. Whose does spending on Parakiore and Te Whare Tapere fit in?

4014 - Stephen Hill

[Spending > Our Proposed Spending]

Someone has to bite the bullet. Some things have to be trimmed or cut. Can't keep borrowing.

I think so [Coder note: that you are prioritising the right things].

[Spending > Capital Programme (General)], [Three Waters > Three Waters (Operations)], [Parks > Parks Maintenance], [Transport > Transport Operations], [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)]

Water, stormwater, sewer, non-native birds polluting estuary, clearing rivers + waterways are more important to me than speedhumps and cycle lanes. Too much money spend on bright flashy things.

4018 - Winston Howison

I am in support of spending on infrastructure and services but I would like to see money spent on delivering outcomes, as opposed to planning and consultation.

437 - Chrystal Gray

Don't if we are already struggling stop wasting money if it doesn't need fixing.

469 - Amira Aman

[Fees and Charges>Other]

No increases to fund these services. Make do with the current funds, just like we do as house owners making do within our strict budgets.

489 - Barry Livermore

Focus on core business, looking after infrastructure. Financially tough times are no time to be splashing out on extras, keep in mind the ratepayers are in tough times, Restraint.

492 - Lyndon Telfer

[Rates > Residential rates]

Please cut back capital spending so we get a rates rise inline with inflation just as Mayor Phil Major campaigned on. Not every road, pipe and building you have earmarked for upgrade in years 1 to 3 is going to fail and will happily survive for a few more years yet.

[Transport > Roads (Capital)]

As per my first response please cut back spending as households do and work within existing budgets. If this means a road doesn't get a coat of chip seal for a few more years who really cares. By the way chip seal doesn't fix the problems with uneven roads.

493 - Andrew Douglas

Spread projects rather than doing everything at once. This will limit an additional living cost in an already expensive period. Wages aren't going up to match expenses.

494 - Casey Mathieson

I understand that projects for long term value are essential to a degree, but prioritising projects rather than delivering multiple at once to spread and/or minimise the rates increases for ratepayers would be more beneficial to help those in a time of multiple other financial increases.

[Spending > Te Kaha]

Priorities are right to an extent, but why are ratepayers subjected to such an increase for Te Kaha. Over budget and way beyond schedule should not have a significant impact on ratepayers. These issues should have been accounts for at the beginning of the project, not the budget bolstered at the ratepayers expense

615 - Michael JasonSmith

I disagree with prioritising of Te Kaha over other activities. Other activities that would benefit more residents of The City include providing active transport options, making libraries more accessible, and extending the reach of the Art Gallery and museums.

617 - Gerard Loader

I think the time has come to concentrate on core services. Finish whatever "nice to haves" are going on. Then call time on those and concentrate on the core of what a council does.

Drop the "nice to haves" and put ot into maintaining core services

618 - Natalie Dixon

Good to get the basics right but we're not a business and library, good marketing and communications, arts and events is important too.

657 - Murray Peacock

All OK

Capital works not associated with basic infrastructure need to be shelved and more innovative ways to charge for user pay need to be looked at

666 - Stephen Palfrey

The capital programme is too big. The council are building edifices that only a small percentage of ratepayers will use. Stick to the operational knitting. Good waste management, well maintained existing roads, high water quality provision, good waste water systems, good stormwater systems, good quality subsidised public transport,

Review the Capital Programme and do the same proposed works but over a longer period.

Maybe reduce capital expenditure expectations and fund the works over a longer period with fewer operational expenses.

672 - Edwin Du Plessis

The 3 top priority items are about right, there may be a need to move some funds between these items to ensure that Global Warming effects are adequately addressed

687 - Anna Laurenson

[Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Strategic Transport]

This all needs doing. Everyone uses water and roads/footpaths. If you haven't already please stop with the damn cycleways. Millions wasted to keep a small population happy. The entire central city is a nightmare to get through/into. Please put more thought into future projects.

6904 - Jean McIntyre

We're proposing to spend the $6.5 billion over the next 10 years across a range of activities, including some key areas that you've told us are important through our residents' surveys, and our early engagement on the Draft LTP:

- $2.7 billion on three waters (drinking water, wastewater and stormwater) (31.5%) ✓
- $1.6 billion on transport (24.9%) ✓
- $870 million on parks, heritage & the coastal environment (13.4%) ✓
- ✗ • $286 million on Te Kaha (4.41%) ✗
- $140 million on libraries (2.16%) ✓
- $137 million on solid waste and resource recovery (2.11%) ✓

692 - Tony Ward

We need to get back to the core council functions. Its utilities not social services. Rates are a levy on properties so it needs to be targeted to property services and utilities.

694 - Lucia Rivas

All very essential. Where does central government funding come into play?

705 - John Hendrickx

No need to look at the basics reason why the council is there Bad Stop trying to provide for all the lound minority groups. Spend money on roads not unused cycle ways Stop social engineering and return to roads rubbish collection and water.

707 - Chris Mardon (Ecobulb Limited)

The Council should consider an "evidence based approach" to establish whether the continuation of the largest projects being funded deliver a return commensurate with their level of investment - and if not, scale back or stop these projects.

708 - John Allen

Infrastructure, water, sewerage, roads and waste management should be a priority especially flood management!

713 - Matthew Irving

Unnecessary feel good projects. High salaries of management. Chlorine in the water.

Stick to the core responsibilities of the council

722 - Sinéad Horgan

I would prefer to see services such as gums, libraries and arts centre kept. There is a lot of bureaucracy in council that could be cut instead

Prioritise parks, arts, library and sports and basic services, this is what you are here for. Pet projects should go

727 - Donal McEvoy

As per previous, maintenance will suffice for the next couple of years. The people can't afford it

733 - Tania Thompson

[Spending > Te Kaha], [Libraries > Libraries (Capital)]

things that we need to live, waste, transport, rubbish need to be organised well. Te Kaha and libraries, maybe not so much. not everyone will use these facilities and yet we are all forced into higher rates to pay for them back to basics. needs, not wants.

needs, not wants.

742 - Mark Holland

You need to weed out the nice to have cycleways art events etc nice to have. Water maintaining roads etc is core services.

747 - Euan Gutteridge

Not sure. Need to focus on what is absolutely essential and cut out the vanity projects.

Must cut vanity projects and focus on the essentials only. That's what any commercial enterprise would do. We can't afford the nice-to-haves anymore

Please focus on what is really essential.

750 - Simon Walker

Work on just doing what a councils do best running core services

751 - Genevieve Robinson

Once again, not a huge amount of focus on green spaces, minimising thermal mass from concrete buildings, and ecological corridors

762 - Julie Nelmes

while a stadium will bring in business residents still need quality of life please put more into ensuring our health both mental and physical.

774 - Frank Webster

The damage done to city property through tagging, vandalism, dangerous aggressive driving and refuse placed in other peoples' bins or in the wrong bins must from day-to-day amount to an astronomical amount of lost revenue. This is a result an influence that has always been there - just pure, sheer laziness on the part of some citizens! Imagine how more easily we could sail through completing many of these projects if we could look to countries like Singapore, Japan and Switzerland!

781 - Jenene Parker

Still spending too much money. Just do essentials

[Parks>Sports fields network plan]

[Strategic Direction > Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities]

Summary Points

- Coastal Spirit Football Club (Coastal Spirit) strongly supports the Programme – Community Parks Sports Field Development (ID 61785) and the $85.6m investment planned.
 - With increasing membership, strong community programs, and an under-pressure field network we would like to see the investment brought forward to ensure that new fit-for-purpose fields & facilities are established quickly.
 - The proposed investment is a minimum required investment to bring Christchurch into line with other similar and neighbouring communities in terms of the level of investment made in sports fields.
 - Coastal Spirit’s interests would be represented by Mainland Football who we understand would like to speak at the hearing.
- Coastal Spirit would like to make a formal submission on the Draft Long Term Plan 2024 -2034 (the LTP).

Capital Programme

We strongly support the $85.6m set out in the LTP for the Programme – Community Parks Sports Field Development on the basis that this includes at least $50m committed to the establishment of the Our Sports Field Network Plan for Ōtautahi Christchurch. This plan includes the goal of establishing up to 12 floodlit all-weather turfs, complete with changing rooms, supported by improved and well-maintained grass playing fields.

We note that $85.6m investment in the LTP is largely phased towards the backend of the 10-year period. The current Sport Field Network is under significant strain and has been for several years. Our sport is growing significantly, and this is before the true impact of the FIFA Women’s World Cup is seen on participation rates. Our community and the residents of Christchurch are changing their habits in sport participation from the traditional Saturday afternoon window to other times during the week. Currently we are unable to support this desire for change as we simply do not have access to an adequate amount of well lit, fit-for purpose, all-weather surfaces. We urge the Council to reconsider the investment timeframe and bring forward the majority of this much needed Capital investment

Generally, yes, but I do not support some of the current prioritisation within the Transport portfolio.

865 - Kelvin Duncan

The first two and the last are musts. No cut backs. No cut backs for coastal works. The rest can be cut back as economic conditions require. And no vanity projects please.

904 - George Cox

[Spending > Te Kaha], [Strategic Direction > Climate Change], [Transport > Other]

Overall, the capital expenses look good with three waters and transport being vital to keeping our city functional in a climate crisis. However, I would like to see more investment in transport and less in Te Kaha (but you should atleast finish what you started). Prioritise the climate crisis with the capital expenditure please.

906 - Alister Ferguson

Yes but the amounts suggested indicate some major overspend.

935 - Rob Davies

Save money instead on stopping bike lanes, art installations, glossy advertising and redoing works & feasibility studies that have already returned a "no favour" you've told us are important through our residents' surveys, and our early engagement on the Draft LTP:

- $2.7 billion on three waters (drinking water, wastewater and stormwater) (31.5%)
- $1.6 billion on transport (24.9%) - What?
- $870 million on parks, heritage & the coastal environment (13.4%)
- $286 million on Te Kaha (4.41%) - What is this?!
- $140 million on libraries (2.16%)
- $137 million on solid waste and resource recovery (2.11%)

- doing what with 2.7 billion? What's the end result? Unchallenged? Unfounded?

Are we prioritising the right things?

Yes No Don't know

Comments: WHAT is being done. What is Te Kaha? How many of you ratepayers USE your/our libraries? Where is the data - justification for 140mill? What will 2.7bill get us?

Not Stated

1047 - Rachel Davies

How much of this funding can be given to private entities that run such projects already rather than taken it out of council/tax payers funds? ie. Arts Centre

1164 - Andrea Davis

You may want to put those capital programme through the test of sustainability. Do they increase the negative impact on the natural ecosystems ability to clean and filter our waste, does it take more resources from the earth than it needs, does it increase the amount of chemicals made by humans that cannot be dealt with by the natural environment, does it increase the ability of citizens to access the basic needs of life. Basic needs of humans are housing, health, social connection, education, and democracy, they are different from the basic wants of humans.

1175 - Jonathan Ludgater

Concentrate on what will make business grow

1249 - Sally Michael

I can't tell because I don't know what it takes to operate these places. it would be helpful to have a idea of what they spent last year and what are requesting for this financial year

128 - Elizabeth Ackermann

But will you actually do this.

1385 - Bernice Kilkelly

Is there anyway if reducing what we do right now and dealing some projects to help reduce these costs.

139 - Paul Tait

Its a team effort with all agencies keep it simple

1418 - Wayne Biddorff

How much are you spending now? (not over 10 years)

1501 - Jason Middlemiss (Waimāero Fendalton-Waimairi-Harewood Community Board)

The Board wishes to raise concerns about the Council's use of large programme-level budgets with minimal transparency of the projects contained within them. The Board understands that there are financial advantages to this approach, including the ability to use cost-savings from some projects as contingency against other cost overruns. However there should still be more transparency about the specific projects that these programmes plan to address.

152 - John Stickley

Where is the money coming from?

1574 - David Cassidy

just do what is right by the people

1701 - James Friend

It just needs to be manageable financially. If we can't afford it now, we delay it.

1710 - Ashwin Kurup

I don't think so.

1749 - Nicole Baxter-Warren

As long as environmental factors and mana whenua are being considered in all decision making. Transport is always a sticky point for me.

1784 - Joanna Chan

Hopefully this includes more bike lanes.

1806 - James Edwards

I'm really concerned about the new financial plans. Here's why this approach doesn't make sense and what we should consider instead: 2. Project Cost Controls: Stay on Budget: We've got to get better at estimating our project costs right from the start. We keep blowing our budgets, and this can't go on. We need tight control and constant monitoring to stop money from slipping through the cracks.

1814 - Jenny Atkin

The new financial plan and your approach doesn't make sense and is of a high concern. We also need to better control project cost and stay on budget. We need to better estimate our project costs right from the start, as with high inflation the costs are ballooning out of control. Tight control and better monitoring our expenditures will ensure money doesn't slip through the cracks.

1828 - Robert Jelley

$870 million on parks, heritage & the coastal environment(13.4%)

202 - Anne Spicer

They are all worthy projects. Water is top priority but what does that figure include? Same question for transport.

2087 - Emma Norrish (Waipapa Papanui-Innes-Central Community Board)

Intensification and development impacts on the transport network: The Board signalled an intent in its Plan to take a measured, 'big picture' view of local transport issues, including considering the impacts of intensification about which it remains very aware and concerned. Again it is a balance between supporting fiscal prudence when it comes to Council spending and recognising/advocating for what the community sees as important transport issues and/or projects. The Board recently fed back to staff that the Capital Programme can be difficult to navigate in terms of understanding the true impact of some projects, for example the difficulty seeing where the costs on the Council to support new housing developments such as in the Cranford Basin/Grassmere Street area of East Papanui, will ultimately be offset by government infrastructure funding, or other sources. This is key to having a clearer picture of what costs will be borne by the Council and ratepayers over the longer term.

2098 - Marty Byrne (Christchurch and Hanmer Attractions)

Important that infrastructural spending is maintained at a level where the city can continue to progress and grow

2171 - Mark Smith

As long as projects are going to be effective

22 - Grace Colcord

Thank you for the transparency. Funding these amounts is great, but I worry that across 10 years it will be more harmful than helpful to our communities. It does not allow for a creative space or outlet. Many young people, including myself, are the ones to inherit these spaces the most, yet we are more in creative spaces than anything. We have lived without the most optimal transport systems, without the rebuild of many of the buildings that we love, without the best out of all those priorities, but we have still lived with these things existing in a form that is adequate. What I worry for is the dissolving of the Arts that contribute so much to our communities, in vocational and expressive ways that the other priorities here do not offer.

It [Coder note: our proposed spend on Transport] encourages me to move overseas again, where I have returned from a 3 year expat experience, arriving 3 years ago. And in comparing both times, I am feeling more valued elsewhere.

2289 - Leonie Jackson

Thank you for the many great facilities and services the Council provides. (at St Christophers)

2404 - Grant MacLeod

So long as the industry who will support you to deliver this then sure, maybe you have the mix right. Its normally the process to spend or assign a contract that ends up being your biggest time issue, or engagement/consultation results.

2407 - Dave Evans

You say $6.5 billion, but your numbers listed barely pass $5.8 billion. A $700,000,000 million amount is missing. The books are not balance, which is a clear indication that the priorities cannot be right with over 10% is unidentified...

Am sure Sport and Recreation could be better, but as it is as good as anywhere in the world, it is more fine tuning versus water, recycling, climate, transport, and balancing budgets.

2417 - Victor Vergara

without reviewing every detail it's hard to say that you are doing great. For example, The original cost of the Parakiore Recreation and Sport Centre vs the real cost to finish this... do you think you are doing great? Who did the Management of this project?, how much did you pay for that? Why we have to pay more rates for the mistakes on this project? where are the insurances? ...

2442 - Paula Bevilacqua

Some of these projects can take a back seat to save money, they are not urgent/important.

[Coders note: relates to parks, heritage and the coastal environment]

2520 - Graeme Fraser (Diamond Harbour Community Association)

I think the ship has sailed on some large projects which may yet to prove white elephants for which we will continue to pay for many years to come.

2521 - Stuart Jones

Too much BUREAUCRACY.

2559 - Michael Campbell

No thanks. I think this is outlined above.

258 - Kevin Clarke

People first please

2761 - Annette and Michael Hamblett

These core services and infrastructure investment are essential.

2835 - Emma Rodriguez Dos Santos

Thanks for providing the consultation document as a booklet, and the interactive bubble tool to enable us to see what the spend is on different themes and categories, plus projects alongside each other within a theme. Please make this available permanently, not just for the LTP.

2846 - Olwyn Ferguson

you should be fixing the roads & pipes & footpaths

2848 - Glen Koorey

All of it is necessary to have a well-functioning sustainable city - that is the price of progress...

2860 - Ruth Grey

But stick to core council responsibilities - water, roads, sewage, parks, pools, libraries, and rubbish. Now is not the time for big vanity projects.

2888 - Alistair Price

The CCC just wastes money when it proceeds. Please plan carefully and responsibly. We the ratepayers are not just a bottomless pit. We need no nasty surprises because of poor planning and judgments.

2954 - Tim Frank

Apart from Te Kaha there is not such significant capital spending that it should burden future generations. Overall, we should not leave our children with so much debt.

297 - Michael Crabtree

Yes but still some wasted money used on repeated repairs of roads and infrastructure. No accountability for failed repairs. Contractors demanding over inflated prices, council not cutting back on nice to do projects.

3035 - Claire Coveney

The overspending on projects will not stop given the global situation.

3066 - Tony Simpson

The figures above don't match up to the figures on page 24 of the LTP

3077 - Mike Davidson

Unfortunately, you don't provide enough information to make an informed decision. It's not just about how much is being spent, but how much is being done. The most important part of the long-term plan is the first three years. Looking at the expenditure for years 1 to 3 in this draft, increased costs and what had been approved in the 21-31 long-term plan, I think you are underspending on critical infrastructure and not being transparent about it.

311 - Peter Clark

Stop trying to create some fantasy city that we can't afford.

3131 - Johannes (Hans) Van Oyen

There is not enough detail here to make an informed decision. (too much wriggle room within the categories to determine what will be actually be done)

3177 - Dan Lucas

I am one of the many who represent the construction industry, although obviously bias I am unsure ccc realise just how dependant how many of your rate payers are reliant on the capital work you undertake. From construction companies, to construction workers, to manufacturing, accommodation, hospitality and many more all thrive when the construction market is boyant. I have confidence you have the knowledge to know where to divide the capital through each area my greatest concern is the balance of when it is too be spent. With an economy that is so reliant on your spend we must keep the spend levels consistent to provide such a large population some form of continuity of business

3261 - Helena Campbell

So much wasted

3378 - SAHIF ALI

Now is the time to increase investment in assets that will have long term returns. Also better planning and investment in infrastructure to meet future needs

3408 - Warren Feeney

Really, you need to provide far more background to all of the above to be able to respond. the information on page 3 is light on detail.

3430 - Philippa Upton

You mention an ageing population. I assume that this will be taken into account and planned for in project planning and objectives?

344 - Aaron Herriott

Less vanity pieces, more vital ones

3453 - Zeta Pringle

As a city we must provide facilities and services. The council must avoid blowouts in costs and escalation of price in any of this major works. Easier said than done. But the only money the council has comes from the ratepayers and loans. Some has to pay at the end of the day

35 - Graham Taylor

Failure to keep up with infrastructure costs and maintenance will only cost more in the long term

353 - John Mayhew

Existing costs are already too high so no more increases.

No more expensive white elephants that cost ten times more than promised and take forever to complete. Ratepayers cannot afford.

3629 - Marie Graham

Not enough detail of what funds will be what funding will be spent on

3695 - Pamela Pye

Priority should be given to investment in infrastructure for protecting and upgrading three waters networks and for essential roading and public transport projects which obviously benefit majority of citizens. Further investment in roading projects that will benefit few and cause major disruption and inconvenience to residents and businesses should be deferred until need for them is clearly proven and more effective construction methods are established.

In current economic environment, existing functioning amenities and assets must be supported before any new ones are funded.

Capital expenditure over the LTP period includes $1.9B on improved service levels.

3733 - Helen Reason

[Three Waters > Three Waters (Operations)], [Transport > Transport (Operations)]

I agree that these are priorities but as shown the percentages to be spent on water and transport take the largest chunk of the spend and how can this be reduced?

378 - Chris Arnold

I assume the cost are correct?

I assume that your LTP plan has inflation built in for the term of years

3850 - Stephanie Remington

870 million on parks, heritage & the coastal environment (13.4%) and $137 million on solid waste and resource recovery (2.11%) - these things should be linked more closely. Example, West Coast storms flooding rubbish dumps and all the waste escapes causing huge environmental damage.

3852 - Chris Coey

To project costs out 10 years, particularly in the inflationary period we are in is basically ridiculous. To list out a wish list of what should be achieved would be more to the point.

3902 - James Ridpath

Its too difficult for the average person to understand. I could pick a couple and say dont do this or cut the expense of that, but how do we know how critical they all are?? Im sure some could be postponed to save costs.

3942 - Soongseok Yoon

I don't know the exact price.

Reviewing the original facilities should be done.

402 - Cynthia Charron

Fundamentals of infrastructure, for example Three Waters and Public Transport, are absolutely the right things to be prioritised.

403 - Paul Davis

Yes. Stop forcing additional infrastructure on residents. Growth at all costs is a mistake.

4038 - Jodi Wright

I hope you are. [Coder note: prioritising the right things]

48 - Kean Mitchell

[Spending > Our Proposed Spending]

The rates should be specific to the scope they are funding.... if the money is for 3 waters, it should NEVER be used for a Library. If a rate item is for pools it should not be used for parks, etc The service on offer should be supported by the funding available.....

Parks, Heritage and Coastal environment should be separated..... Each element needs it's own cost and revenue make up analysis.... If that element cannot be funded fully, some sort of local charging, or income generating ventures need to be considered....

These [Coder Note: Parks, Heritage and Foreshore] should be separated and funded separately..... Heritage most definitely should not be with Parks and Coastal environment. Heritage buildings should be supported by CCC.

[Borrowing & Debt Management > Borrowing & Debt Management]

Loan funds to fast track infrastructure investment for new growth areas..... Stormwater resilience spending needs to be increased !! (city to sea pipeline and outfall - pumped) - manage long term risk now !! Align the stormwater strategy with the red zone.... Why is the Red zone Land left generating no income for the city !! (invest in the infrastructure and start developing this land ASAP - seek an external loan, to support long term rates pool gain (additional 4,000 households is $14m per year in rates & minimum $1B in land sales revenue + job creation, and resident numbers growth in the east of the city - compromised by the Red Zoning - improving the economics in this area) - Red Zone rates charge for funding of the scope needed to generate the revenue. What other CCC led business ventures can be progressed, if through CCC direct or through CCC owned or part owners companies.??

482 - Graham Townsend

Critical infrastructure includes a liveable climate. Therefore reducing GHGs must have top priority.

529 - Don Reekie (Parkstone Musical Appreciation Group)

Water and small flexible transportation is needed. Free transport should be the target subsidised nationally from taxation. Meanwhile climate friendly and people services should be the aim.

581 - Paul Amtman

Maybe if we had invested more wisely in maintaining our core services we might be in a better position.

64 - Lindy Drury

31% percent on Three Waters?

670 - Sue Orpwood

I believe in user pays, and council's main job being maintenance and prioritising Chch residents before tourists.

Keep it simple, sensible and local focussed please.

699 - Helen Reddecliffe

We need to look at what sort of city / environment we want to live in. Deferring work will be more expensive to complete in the long run, result in lesser amenity and further burden future generations of ratepayers.

720 - David Leafa

Hard to know what to prioritize should be.

748 - A Robinson

you don't even maintain the current infrastructure as you are always re repairing

939 - Alana Bashall

I dont see anything that includes wildlife parks

Stay within strong value based budgets please.

Grants & Funding

Strengthening Communities Fund

General Comments

46 submissions were received on the Strengthening Communities Fund.

20 provided comments in support of the proposed Fund, and 4 provided comments in opposition.

20 also provided alternative proposals for the Fund, and 2 general comments were received relating to the Fund.

Officers Response

Submitters discussed the value of the Strengthening Communities Fund in terms of the role it plays in empowering, activating and resourcing numerous community groups and institutions. Also discussed was the increasing reliance on this fund as other sources of funding dry up and the cost of living “crisis” continues to impact.

Most submitters supported the retention of the Strengthening Communities Fund at a level consistent with the Draft LTP with existing inflation-adjusting provisions. Other views included increasing the value of the Strengthening Communities Fund and making social events and commercial activities ineligible.

Some submitters do not support community grants and/or see them as an area that can be reduced in order to save costs.

The relative size of the Strengthening Communities Fund is maintained over the term of the LTP due to inflation protection measures that are already built in at 2% p.a.

The value of the Fund to the community is enhanced by its wide criteria allowing for a diverse range of applications (worthy causes) and informed elected member consideration in making decisions over its allocation.

The increased reliance on Council for community grants is not only affected by the “drying up” of other funding but also the requests by large organisations increasing in size resulting in the ability to fund small grassroots organisations is increasingly challenging.

Due to cost-of-living pressures and increased community capacity building initiatives Council is experiencing more applications, for increased amounts for a greater range of purposes. Staff believe these can be managed within the size of the fund as currently proposed. However, the gap between what Council is able to fund and the level of community requests is predicted to grow. Below are approximate figures.

- In 2021/22 the Strengthening Communities Fund had requests of $14,400,014 against a budget of $6,898,419
- In 2022/23 there were requests of $16,130,783 against a budget of $6,959,663
- In 2023/24 there were requests of $16,562,246 against a budget of $7,073,378

If Council were looking to make a saving, the inflation provision could be removed saving approximately $150k p.a.

The impacts of reducing the size of the Fund will primarily effect applicant organisations and the communities they serve.

I support Adjusting the Strengthening of Community Fund to allow for inflation and increased needs/

2000 - Victoria Nebbeling (Canterbury Community Gardens Association)

In support of the Canterbury Community Gardens Association’s submission, I respectfully ask the Christchurch City Council to retain both its Strengthening Communities Fund and its Sustainability Fund over the next 10 years, 2024 - 2034. These funds’ very existence align with our Council’s climate change and community objectives and over the next 10 years they will bring increasing benefit to our way of life in Christchurch. Nowadays CCGA connects with over 70 shared gardens in and around Christchurch. Community gardens have been created at an exponential rate in recent years. Even we who are closest to the phenomenon cannot fully grasp the significance of the movement, but we certainly recognise its worth to communities and to society in general. Community gardens, whether attached to schools, churches, or occupying public land provide wonderful opportunities for people to learn by doing and to share good ideas by showing and telling. With their history of operating frugally, they are well placed to demonstrate the efficient use of resources such as energy, water and basic materials. Funding from the CCC's Strengthening Communities Fund and its Sustainability Fund can seed 'acorn to oak' growth in our volunteer communities. Just think of Smith Street Urban Farm, Linwood Community Garden, Kohinga Mara pantry, Otakaro orchard, Richmond, Lyttelton, New Brighton, any of the 70 shared gardens – all these places help people to adopt sustainable practices, encourage walking and cycling, help communities through composting and repurposing to reduce their greenhouse gas emissions and to live enriched lives. Christchurch City Council has in the past helped all this to happen through both its Strengthening Communities Fund and its Sustainability Fund. It is great value for money! The provision of these relatively modest funds is in alignment with the Council's own climate change objectives. By making them available through CCGA the benefit reaches deep into communities. I would therefore ask that both the Strengthening Communities Fund and the Sustainability Fund be maintained for the benefit of communities and for our city as a whole. CCGA and the community gardens we represent wish to take this opportunity to gratefully acknowledge our Council's past support and to affirm that we look forward to continuing to work together to strengthen our communities and to promote sustainable living within our many local neighbourhoods

Sport Canterbury and Sport New Zealand applaud Council for the continuation of the Strengthening Communities Fund. Being a recipient of this fund ourselves, we have been able to continue to provide vital capability development support to many sports organisations across the City, particularly through the very trying times caused by COVID-19 and subsequent economic challenges. We are well placed to continue this work which enables and strengthens organisations to be self-determining and sustainable and hope to be successful in accessing this very important fund again in the future for that work.

Strengthening Communities Fund needs to be increased to keep pace with inflation, cost of living and living wage increases. More groups are applying than ever but this needs to be considered that more collaboration with other groups that existing in the community. Our model of shared services help to reduce admin costs for clubs and ensure clubs are focused on the their sport and recreation delivery and increasing participation. Focus for funding should be in areas of high deprivation with low decile schools especially in the Coastal Waitai and Papanui Innes wards. There is an ongoing need for migrant support. Increasing equity, wellbeing, empowerment, community resilience is needed for at risk, often marginalised and culturally and linguistically diverse (CALD) communities. CAB provides language support services so that clients can get the information they need in their native tongue. During the last 12 months over 1000 clients from CALD communities accessed our service, with top enquiries relating to legal and government services. When Work Connect and Skills Connect ended their programme for new migrants, CABCHA began a monthly CV writing workshop and translated more pamphlets into other languages to help fill that gap. In addition, the MBIE funding cuts for migrant programmes have not been supplemented locally to support new migrants.

Ensuring the Strengthening Communities Funding remains and is well funded is imperative to support this growing population. The Citizens Advice Bureau service is dynamic, innovative and responsive to community need. CAB has been in Christchurch for 54 years and has been ongoingly innovative to address needs. Our service organisation is one of the few that: provides the opportunity for individuals to share their concern on ANY issue; provides well researched information; invites discussion about the various options, and encourages clients to choose options to suit. We have built relationships with specialists for our free clinic services. These weekly or twice weekly clinics include: General Law, Immigration Legal, Employment Law, ACC, JP and Tech Support clinics. Our monthly CV workshop is aimed at migrants and clients re-entering the workforce. All of these well attended clinics have been set up in response to community needs. CAB has special access to other specialists as well to help clients who are facing particularly challenging situations. For example, our volunteers have direct access to local WINZ managers for each CABCHA office and a special number we use to access Immigration NZ allowing CAB to side-step long queues.

Ensuring that the funding portals are available in the long term will mean that CAB can continue to help the community understand their rights and explain any recent changes in government policies/services. Citizens Advice Bureau connects with other bodies and organisations to create new opportunities and enhance effectiveness. CAB NZ Bi-cultural organisation is imbedded in the Kaupapa of our organisation <https://www.cab.org.nz/what-we-do/our-kaupapa/>. We have been engaging with the community for over 54 years and have support and encouragement for our work from National organisations such as MBIE, MSD, Department of Internal Affairs, Inland Revenue and Immigration NZ. Locally we have a long list of organisations that support our services. Our services have been well utilised and we have been vital in giving support to clients in times of need, especially through periods of community stress such as Covid, the Christchurch Earthquakes and other natural disasters. To ensure we can continue to provide these services, the long-term plan must include funding for organisations like CAB.

By inference, our preference as an organisation, is for Council to channel funds into completing and activating projects that are in process thereby adding amenity to the community. Our position is laced with a strong flavour of self-interest, being on-going support from Council to complete and activate the Ōtākaro Orchard Café and Education hub building thereby enabling us to focus upon and accelerate our actions in support of the Councils Climate Resilience Strategy, in particular programme 10 Sustainable Food System where a significant portion of the stated focus and examples of what is being done are the direct work of the FRN completed in the absence of any secure support funding.

[Grants & Funding > Other Contestable Funds]

Apparent significant reduction in funding for community action/participation The FRN is of the view that in the preparation of this long term plan and corresponding budgets, Council Staff have overlooked the significant multiplier effect of funds applied to activity that engages community passion and action in the form of volunteer hours and product in kind.

Ōtākaro Orchard in its full scope of activity being the establishment and maintenance of the food forest orchard, urban farm productive garden and the current construction of the Café/education hub is a real life, real time example of this multiplier effect.

The food forest and urban farm have risen from bare ground on the strength of a large group of regular volunteers, supported by one FRN part time employee. Their passion and force of will keeps the motor running on the financial fumes with which we operate as an organisation.

The Ōtākaro Orchard building project is direct proof that when fully commercial no risk contracts are unable to be funded, an organisation can shoulder risk, trade time for financial cost and deliver a budgeted $2.5 million dollar project for just under half that cost. Sure it has taken a while, been stop start and is not activated yet but we are very close. How was this achieved?

- Volunteer professional service provision.
- Volunteer project management (4 years - worth and counting).
- Material procured at cost or significant discount – with the right story.
- No markup on cost on materials and services from a head contractor(s).
- Time taken to make the right decisions rather than hurried under commercial pressure to complete.

The common factor here is that volunteers made this happen but we cannot be there all the time and a support base of paid resource is essential to the completion of work and on-going delivery of the stated objectives.

For the FRN this has come from core funding provided by Council from the Sustainability and Innovation Fund and Strengthening Communities and from other philanthropic sources outside of Council. Without this base – nothing would happen at all.

Community Waterways Partnership Ōtākaro Avon River Corridor

Our urban waterways are in serious distress, the community waterways partnership was formed to collectively address this issue, but without leadership, funding and resourcing it will not return the benefits to the city and our waterways that it has the potential for. The Ōtākaro Orchard is placed in a central city location on the Ōtākaro river frontage and is in our view the perfect launching pad for delivery of education and activating volunteer groups for waterway improvement projects as well as a place where Councils work programs can be presented to the wider interested public. The FRN and its associated members and colleague organisations are here to assist – but first we must be complete and open for business.

On the whole, yes. However, with the rising cost of living it is ever more important that community organisations have more access to funding than in previous years. The charitable sector is currently under stress due to rising costs and increasing needs in our community.

Strengthening Communities Fund

We note with concern that the allocation to the fund has annual increases of slightly less than 1.5% over the ten years of the LTP (Summary of Grants, page 172, Vol 1, Draft LTP). The Consultation Document refers to cost increases outside the control of the Council (Mayor's introduction, page 5.) Community groups, who face those same cost pressures, including increases in the minimum and the living wage, assist the Council to achieve its strategic priority of an inclusive city.

Recommendation

That the Council:

- (i) mitigate the impact on community groups of the high inflation rate of the past year.
- (ii) increase its allocation to the Fund in 2024-25 to $7.453m, an increase of 5% over the allocation of $7.099m in 2023-24.

We are deeply concerned any reduction in community grants funding in real terms will result in negative outcomes for community wellbeing as it is a well-documented fact that the direct and indirect benefits of the work community organisations do far outweigh the direct costs to Council. While small savings would eventuate for the council, serious costs would arise in other areas as a result. Considering the current economic climate, CCC should increase community funding, not curtail it. This is a time when community services are needed more than ever We submit that the Council increase Community Funding in response to the rising needs resulting from the current socially, economically, and environmentally difficult times.

3661 - Steph Walker

[Recreation, Sports & Events > Community Arts], [Grants & Funding > Other Contestable Funds], [Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

I don't believe this current operational spending proposal is a balanced reflection of the Council's community outcomes and strategic priorities. As someone working in the arts, culture and creativity space with a particular interest in festivals and locally-based organisations and companies, I am not confident that Ōtautahi can be a "cultural powerhouse" without further investment that enables local artists and organisations to thrive.

I am incredibly thankful that Council has not proposed cuts to funding which supports our sector, and funding for libraries and galleries which also play a big part in supporting creativity in the city.

What concerns me though, is the increase of new festivals and organisations in the city that, having been seeded by Council funding, or been receiving funding prior, will then stretch the "strengthening communities fund" and the "events and festival sponsorship fund" to the point where rather than funding for success, Council is funding for... for a meagre existence, I guess. These funds have, I believe, got modest increases but the sector could really do with further funding, and at a greater amount.

The Arts, Culture and Creativity sector is a lot like sports. We have grassroots organisations, we have organisations recognised and succeeding at a regional level, and we have organisations that tour/play nationally and are at the top of their game, so to speak. Christchurch loses a lot of talent once they get past grassroots. They leave because they cannot see how they can make work here consistently, and how to grow. I should know - I've left Christchurch twice, at pivotal points in my career. I came back to give back to my hometown, but a lot of people won't. If that happens, then festivals and organisations that remain face steeper bills to bring talent to Christchurch, steeper learning curves when it comes to running these sorts of places and spaces, and have to work harder to keep people here.

It's an ecosystem where Council plays a big part - and not just with funding, but with having ways for cheap access to venues, to ensure the organisations you do fund have to foster local talent and to partner and assist other organisations in the city. Council can be quite creative with the resourcing you can offer!

This is where I get to The Arts Centre. When I think about the Arts Centre I think about the buildings, and who "lives" in them, and then I think of the activities, or programming, that happens there. I think that the Arts Centre does amazing programming, bringing in artists and companies to bring spaces to life. What is lacking, though, is affordable space for those artists and companies to actually be in residence year-round. When I go to the Arts Centre right now, I see commercial tenants (health tech, a hotel, a University...) but I do not see arts companies "living" in the arts centre and getting to choose what they put on. At the moment, the way to be able to make work there affordably is to be programmed by them or partner with them. It is fully curated. My experience of working at resident companies in Arts Centres in Australia is of quite a different model. Nonetheless, I certainly want the Arts Centre to be "saved", but perhaps whatever this looks like could take into account what is needed to help this city become a Cultural Powerhouse.

☒ The Council's allocation of financial support for cultural, sporting and community groups is also inequitable. The huge operating cost of Parakiore and Te Kaha (Vol 2 pages 5-6) will exceed the $22m of rates-funded grants and will dwarf the funding of the Strengthening Communities Fund (Vol 1, page 172), which is the Council's instrument for funding hundreds of small community groups.

That the Council: (i) rationalise its grants policy, providing criteria for the allocation of grants, as is the case for the Strengthening Communities Fund. (ii) recognise the strategic role of the Strengthening Communities Fund in promoting community wellbeing. (iii) make clear distinctions between grants to community groups, and contracts with business entities to provide services to the Council. (iv) provide more detail in the Annual Plan to keep residents and ratepayers informed.

3619 - David Fuffy (Richmond Residents' and Business Association)

The grants from the Strengthening Communities fund is core funding for our organisation and we support the retention of this fund, however it has not kept up with inflation and the demand for this fund is increasing and will increase even more if the sustainability fund is removed. For every $1 you give us we convert this tenfold with our outcomes. This year alone we have delivered a number of improvement projects, engaged at numerous events, promoted online the happenings of our wider community and provided crucial feedback information to CCC in a variety of settings.

Capital Endowment Fund

1 submission - opposed - was received on the Capital Endowment Fund.

Officer Response

Councillors asked for information on the implications of inflation protecting the Capital Endowment Fund from year three (2026/27) of the LTP. This advice was sent to Councillors on 10 May 2024.

Council is able to use the unallocated proceeds of the Capital Endowment Fund to support a wide range of initiatives without impacting on rates. The anticipated unallocated proceeds over 10 years are detailed in volume 2 page 116 of the draft LTP.

Staff advice on a number of community requests for funding received through submissions will include the use of the Capital Endowment Fund, to avoid an additional impact on rates, particularly over the first three years of the 2024/34 LTP.

General Comments

50 submissions were received in relation to other contestable funds.

9 provided supportive comments regarding contestable funds, and 11 provided opposing comments.

36 provided alternative proposals for the funds, and 1 general comment was received.

Officer Response

Submitters supported the reinstatement of the Sustainability Fund which is proposed to be phased out in July 2025. In particular submitters referred to the alignment of the Sustainability Fund with Council's sustainability goals and the role of the Fund in empowering a community response.

Submitters also supported the proposed retention of the bio-diversity fund.

A number of submitters supported the reinstatement of the fixed-term Environmental Partnerships Fund primarily to support environmental organisations working on the Port Hills, Banks Peninsula, the Avon-Heathcote-Styx rivers and the harbours.

A small number of one-off larger requests between $100k and $500k for specific pest control initiatives were included in submissions.

Less prevalent views included submitters who did not support the retention of other contestable funds contending that community groups should raise their own funds.

Historic Places Canterbury advocated for the retention of Heritage Incentive Grants.

Overall:

When the funding to the Museum, Cathedral and proposed event ecosystem are set aside, the level of grant funding proposed in the draft 2024/34 LTP is consistent with previous years with modest inflation provision for the Strengthening Communities Fund.

There is an average increase of $2m in years 2024/25, 2025/26 and 2026/27 in the amount available to Council in the Capital Endowment Fund to support additional or changed requests for funding as Council see fit, at no additional cost to rates.

Council proposes to retain the Biodiversity Fund at a total of $439k in 2024/25 rising to $552k in 2025/26.

The Environmental Partnerships Fund was established for three years at $350 p.a. via a drawdown from the Capital Endowment Fund. The Fund concluded in 2023/24. The additional cost to rates of reinstating the Environmental Partnership Fund at $350 p.a. is 0.05% p.a.

The Biodiversity Fund can accommodate specific submitter requests to support organisations, some of which were previously supported from the Environmental Partnerships Fund, as follows:

- Te Kakahu Kahakura $30k pa.
- Pest Free Banks Peninsula $50K p.a.
- Pest Free Banks Peninsula (feral ungulates initiative) $40k p.a.
- Bank Peninsula Conservation Trust $30 k p.a.
- The Banks Peninsula Conservation Trust has an existing annual grant of $167k until 2026/27.
- Port Hills Trust Board - $10k p.a.
- Summit Road Society $20k p.a.
- Orton Bradley Park Board $15k p.a.
- Avon Heathcote Trust $5 p.a.

- Whaka Ora, Healthy Harbour – $50k p.a.
- Styx River restoration - $20k p.a.
- Conservation volunteers - $30k p.a.

Council could consider using the Capital Endowment Fund to boost the Biodiversity Fund by $200k p.a. for three years, 2024/25, 2025/26 & 2026/27, to cover additional demand. There would be no additional cost to rates.

An advantage of maintaining funding to existing biodiversity initiatives/groups is that the momentum of the work achieved is quickly reversed if activity stops – “the pests recolonise”.

The Sustainability Fund was established on a fixed term basis at $380k p.a. The final year is 2024/25. The additional cost to rates of continuing this Fund at $380K p.a. is 0.054% p.a.

If Heritage grant funding were reinstated and/or other financial methods introduced (e.g. festival), it would encourage investment in heritage and the local economy. It could also incentivise owners and kaitiaki to undertake works to protect, maintain, repair and upgrade heritage buildings, places, structures and objectives. In doing so, it can contribute to the protection of the district’s heritage consistent with the vision and outcomes of the Heritage strategy and District Plan, particularly where it is in private ownership. Where heritage buildings are not maintained, there is a risk of it falling into disrepair and financial methods enable Council to demonstrate a level of support to achieve outcomes sought by the Council and community. The annual Heritage Festival, in particular has been very popular with the community for many years.

The retention of heritage grants at the 2023/24 level of $547 p.a. will be an additional cost to rates of 0.078% p.a. Any future funding would require resourcing by the Heritage team to assess and administer.

The eligibility criteria for the Biodiversity Fund, Strengthening Communities Fund, the Discretionary Response Fund, Events & Festivals Fund and the Capital Endowment Fund generally allow for applications with sustainability, biodiversity and heritage outcomes. These funds provide alternatives to potential applicants and community groups and are included in the draft LTP. The Capital Endowment Fund is particularly suited to larger one-off projects. Using these Funds to support applications will result in no additional cost to rates.

1605 - Denis Aldridge (Living Springs Trust)

General comments Banks Peninsula (including the Port Hills) is uniquely placed geographically and ecologically as a biodiversity hotspot. Because biodiversity is mobile, Banks Peninsula acts as a seeding node, and a storehouse of carbon for Greater Christchurch and the wider Canterbury area. Banks Peninsula (including the Port Hills) contributes significantly to CCC’s aspirations for a Greener Liveable Climate Resilient City. Biodiversity is a public good and all current and future generations of Christchurch residents benefit from its protection and enhancement. Acknowledgement with thanks for the biodiversity-focused funding that has been contributed by CCC to date for the collaborative Te Kakahu Kahukura, Pest Free Banks Peninsula and feral goat eradication programmes facilitated on behalf of many partner organisations by the Banks Peninsula Conservation Trust. Specific responses to directions signalled in the Draft LTP 2024/2034 In support of Council working towards a green liveable city and advocates that all goals relating to climate resilience, protecting and regenerating the environment (especially indigenous biodiversity), water bodies, and tree canopy, apply to all of Banks Peninsula (including the Port Hills) as well as urban Christchurch. In support of the following strategy documents that underpin the Draft LTP especially where nature-based solutions and enhancing indigenous biodiversity have been given preference: Ōtautahi Climate Resilience Strategy; Ōtautahi Urban Forests plan; Te Pātaka o Rākaihautū/Banks Peninsula Destination Management; Banks Peninsula Community Board Plan 2023-25; and Whaka- Ora/Healthy Harbour Plan. In support of Council's continued provision of the Christchurch Biodiversity Fund to support protection of high value indigenous biodiversity on private land. However, we know that demand for this fund is high with many private landowners highly motivated to protect and enhance biodiversity and we request that this fund is increased to reflect this demand. Concerned about the proposed removal of the Environmental Partnerships Fund (EPF) will have a negative impact of significance on the ability of community-led organisations to deliver conservation outcomes for the benefit of current and future generations of Christchurch City residents. Concerned that the 21 partner Port Hills-focused Te Kakahu Kahukura (TKK) programme will lose funding at a time when it is most needed. Post another Port Hills fire the important role of this community-driven programme in supporting landowners has never been more clear. If appropriately resourced this community-led programme can support: ecological recovery from fire damage; proactively plan for fire risk mitigation of existing and future indigenous biodiversity across the Port Hills; and establish an ecologically robust Port Hills forest that is a biodiversity hub for Christchurch City, with significant climate resilience benefits. Concerned that Council's grant via the EPF to Pest Free Banks Peninsula elimination and feral ungulate programmes have been discontinued. When removing funding we have to consider the effect on the ground: reincursion of animal pests will occur and the investment of CCC – not to mention the incredibly hard work of so many in our communities – will have been for nought. This negative impact will also be felt for years on land owned by the Council. Concerned that the removal of an EPF grant supporting the Banks Peninsula Conservation Trust's operational costs means their organisational focus has to shift towards securing new funding to "keep the lights on". This puts pressure on the BPCT's ability to provide the leadership support and facilitation for collaborative community-led programmes like TKK and Pest Free Banks Peninsula. Concerned that the draft LTP is not explicit about the need to control weeds which threaten local ecosystems. If adequate ongoing internal resourcing for Council to meet their obligations to control these threats on Council land is not available, incursion of plant pests will potentially undermine the investment CCC (and many others) have already made in achieving biodiversity gains over many years. Specific requests for additions to the LTP Requests the reinstatement of the Environmental Partnerships Fund (or a similar grant vehicle) to continue funding at the same level as the LTP 2021/23 for the following: The continuation of an annual contribution of $30k to support the Te Kakahu Kahukura programme. The continuation of an annual contribution of $50k to support the Pest Free Banks Peninsula elimination programme. The continuation of an annual contribution of $40k to support feral ungulate removal on Banks Peninsula. The continuation of an annual contribution from the Environmental Partnerships Fund of $30k towards BPCT operational costs so they can continue to facilitate these strategically important collaborative programmes.

We also support the Council’s “Green, Liveable City” strategy, continued provision of the Christchurch Biodiversity Fund to support protection of high value indigenous biodiversity on private land and the following nature-based strategies to enhance indigenous biodiversity:

☒ Whaka- Ora/Healthy Harbour Plan. ☒ Ōtautahi Climate Resilience Strategy;

☒ Ōtautahi Urban Forests plan;

☒ Te Pātaka o Rāīkuhautū /Banks Peninsula Destination Management plan but with a focus on green tourism rather than mass tourism;

☒, Banks Peninsula Community Board Plan 2023-25; and,

We request that Council continues to allocate funding for the Cass Bay Reserves Committee.

We work in close collaboration with the Regional Parks Team, Recreational Rangers, and the local community to collectively provide an invaluable contribution to ecological restoration of the harbour, as well as providing biodiversity awareness.

[Grants & Funding > Strengthening Communities Fund]

By inference, our preference as an organisation, is for Council to channel funds into completing and activating projects that are in process thereby adding amenity to the community. Our position is laced with a strong flavour of self-interest, being on-going support from Council to complete and activate the Ōtākaro Orchard Café and Education hub building thereby enabling us to focus upon and accelerate our actions in support of the Councils Climate Resilience Strategy, in particular programme 10 Sustainable Food System where a significant portion of the stated focus and examples of what is being done are the direct work of the FRN completed in the absence of any secure support funding.

[Grants & Funding > Strengthening Communities Fund]

Apparent significant reduction in funding for community action/participation The FRN is of the view that in the preparation of this long term plan and corresponding budgets, Council Staff have overlooked the significant multiplier effect of funds applied to activity that engages community passion and action in the form of volunteer hours and product in kind.

Ōtākaro Orchard in its full scope of activity being the establishment and maintenance of the food forest orchard, urban farm productive garden and the current construction of the Café/education hub is a real life, real time example of this multiplier effect.

The food forest and urban farm have risen from bare ground on the strength of a large group of regular volunteers, supported by one FRN part time employee. Their passion and force of will keeps the motor running on the financial fumes with which we operate as an organisation.

The Ōtākaro Orchard building project is direct proof that when fully commercial no risk contracts are unable to be funded, an organisation can shoulder risk, trade time for financial cost and deliver a budgeted $2.5 million dollar project for just under half that cost. Sure it has taken a while, been stop start and is not activated yet but we are very close. How was this achieved?

- Volunteer professional service provision.
- Volunteer project management (4 years - worth and counting).
- Material procured at cost or significant discount – with the right story.
- No markup on cost on materials and services from a head contractor(s).
- Time taken to make the right decisions rather than hurried under commercial pressure to complete.

The common factor here is that volunteers made this happen but we cannot be there all the time and a support base of paid resource is essential to the completion of work and on-going delivery of the stated objectives.

For the FRN this has come from core funding provided by Council from the Sustainability and Innovation Fund and Strengthening Communities and from other philanthropic sources outside of Council. Without this base – nothing would happen at all.

Disestablishment of the Sustainability and Innovation Fund.

With this fund slated for elimination in the current LTP budget ($380,000), additional pressure will fall on other funds that have not been increased and the multiplier opportunity delivered by volunteer organisations for much good work will be lost. We urge reconsideration

In our view, Council's contestable funds have, in the past, been allocated in less than effective fashion, often with a flavour of the minute bias and broken into small offerings that regularly amount to very little. In our experience there is often a focus on “feasibility assessment” of potential projects rather than activation or getting things done with a resultant drawer full of good intentions that were never realised.

The FRN holds the opinion that change in how community focused funds are managed and applied is certainly called for but, feel strongly that the more is achieved by funds applied to this nature of allocation achieves far more in the right hands than the <100c in the dollar achieved in commercial contracts. As such we suggest reconsideration and support an increase in the budget for grant funding rather than austerity based cuts.>

Many hands out seeking funding support.

The FRN acknowledges that in this current recessional environment there are many institutions with their hands out seeking financial support from the Council via its long term plan and associated budgets.

We present the same request, but rather than from contestable Grant funds which go hand in hand with the consumption of considerable volunteer resources in identification, application and reporting, we request a more stable allocation of funding for the FRN from Council.

It is our view that the volunteer Committee of FRN has displayed appropriate resourcefulness, financial prudence and long term tenacity to warrant consideration by Council to the provision of a non-contested allocation of financial resource to complete construction and commence the real work of Ōtākaro Orchard and Edible Canterbury.

In the medium to long term – this investment will produce a dividend in the form of a self-sustaining organisation that can remove itself from the contestable grant environment and perhaps even contribute positively to it from surplus funds generated from its social enterprise. The time for Council support of this is now. We aim to be complete and open for early summer 2024.

In the overall scheme of the LTP budget our request for funding is insignificant and we hope it can be considered and incorporated in this LTP budget.

Biodiversity Strategy

We do not support the removal of the $340,000K biodiversity fund, we are in a biodiversity crisis. This is not the time to remove this fund. We would like to see the funds criteria changed so that it is not just focused on private land as it makes it near impossible for most of our urban groups to apply. Greater in house resources for biodiversity rather than contractors and to enable the biodiversity team to be embedded throughout all departments. The biodiversity strategy needs to be integrated with the climate change strategy.

Community Waterways Partnership Ōtākaro Avon River Corridor

Our urban waterways are in serious distress, the community waterways partnership was formed to collectively address this issue, but without leadership, funding and resourcing it will not return the benefits to the city and our waterways that it has the potential for. The Ōtākaro Orchard is placed in a central city location on the Ōtākaro river frontage and is in our view the perfect launching pad for delivery of education and activating volunteer groups for waterway improvement projects as well as a place where Councils work programs can be presented to the wider interested public. The FRN and its associated members and colleague organisations are here to assist – but first we must be complete and open for business.

we are very concerned that the Sustainability Fund seems to have dropped off the plan entirely after 2024. These funds have been hugely important for community groups and not-for-profits to enable them to provide community events and to address climate change and resilience objectives. Cuts to such funds does not seem to align with the Community Outcomes described that the start of the LTP.

2570 - Marie Gray

I strongly oppose the abolition of the Sustainability Fund and the Environmental/Climate Partnerships Fund. It is short sighted to reduce funding to community groups taking action on climate change and working to restore our degraded environment.

2783 - Sarah Wilson (Te Ahu Pātiki Charitable Trust)

We are grateful for the assistance we have received thus far and urge the Council to continue to fully support the interlocking initiatives across the rohe. This is the quickest, surest and most sustainable way to achieve climate change resilience and a green liveable city. Key Reasons

Why Continued Support is Critical:

- ☒ Banks Peninsula (including the Port Hills) is uniquely placed geographically and ecologically as a biodiversity hotspot. Because biodiversity is mobile, Banks Peninsula acts as a seeding node, and a storehouse of carbon for Greater Christchurch and the wider Canterbury area.
- ☒ Banks Peninsula (including the Port Hills) contributes significantly to CCC's aspirations for a Greener Liveable Climate Resilient City.
- ☒ Biodiversity is a public good and all current and future generations of Christchurch residents benefit from its protection and enhancement.
- ☒ Acknowledgement with thanks for the biodiversity-focused funding that has been contributed by CCC to date to Te Ahu Pātiki. Thanks also for the contribution to our current Fire Risk Analysis Plan development project.

☒ We are concerned that the proposed removal of the Environmental Partnerships Fund (EPF) will have a significant negative impact on the ability of community-led organisations to deliver conservation outcomes for the benefit of current and future generations of Christchurch City residents.

☒ We are concerned that the 21 partner Port Hills-focused Te Kakahu Kahukura (TKK) programme will lose funding at a time when it is most needed. Post another Port Hills fire the important role of this community-driven programme in supporting landowners has never been clearer. If appropriately resourced this community-led programme can support ecological recovery from fire damage; proactively plan for fire risk mitigation of existing and future indigenous biodiversity across the Port Hills; and establish an ecologically robust Port Hills forest that is a biodiversity hub for Christchurch City, with significant climate resilience benefits. We are all interconnected and need support to collectively mitigate against fire risk.

☒ We are concerned that Council's grant via the EPF to the Pest Free Banks Peninsula (PFBP) elimination and feral ungulate programmes have been discontinued. When removing funding we have to consider the effect on the ground: reincursion of animal pests will occur and the investment of CCC – not to mention the incredibly hard work of so many in our communities - will have been for nought. This negative impact will also be felt for years on land owned by the Council. Te Ahu Pātiki is currently battling a feral pig invasion. Feral pigs are significant biodiversity and agricultural pests. We are working alongside Graham Corbishly and the work of the Feral Pig Committee of PFBP and have had great success with trapping and specialist hunting so far. However, the Council needs to work alongside others to commit to eradication of feral pigs not just control efforts. While this will require significant resource (estimates are up to $500,000 across agencies) it is far more cost effective than the ongoing annual cost of maintaining suppression (in the order of $120,000 - $180,000 per year just to hold the current gains).

☒ We are concerned that the removal of an EPF grant supporting the Banks Peninsula Conservation Trust's operational costs means their organisational focus has to shift towards securing new funding to "keep the lights on". This puts pressure on the BPCT's ability to provide the leadership support and facilitation for collaborative community-led programmes like Te Ahu Pātiki, TTK and Pest Free Banks Peninsula.

In Support of Specific requests for additions to the LTP:

☒ We request the reinstatement of the Environmental Partnerships Fund (or a similar grant vehicle) to continue funding at the same level as the LTP 2021/23 for the following:

- o The continuation of an annual contribution of $30k to support the Te Kakahu Kahukura programme.
- o The continuation of an annual contribution of $50k to support the Pest Free Banks Peninsula elimination programme.
- o At a minimum, the continuation of an annual contribution of $40k to support feral ungulate removal on Banks Peninsula. Strategically, a much greater investment in feral pig eradication would be prudent and should be considered. Investment is twofold:
 - ☒ 1. City Council staff should continue to support the eradication of feral goats as well as identification of key areas for feral pig control on Council and adjoining land;
 - ☒ 2. The LTP should invest in complete removal of feral pigs by contributing $100K spread over 3 years toward the joint effort (matched by ECAN, DOC and landowners).
- o The continuation of an annual contribution from the Environmental Partnerships Fund of $30k towards BPCT operational costs so they can continue to facilitate these strategically important collaborative programmes.

Support for Grant funding to be reinstated. I have seen firsthand the quantity and quality of work that comes from mahi funded by community grants plus all the additional volunteer and in-kind mahi these funds in-turn generate. And this is not just from my own experience. Funding from your Innovation and Sustainability Fund, along with ECan's Waitaha Wai Fund from January 2023- January 2024, funded approximately 716 Te Tuna Tāone facilitator hours and 56 mana whenua hours. This in-turn generated a total of 6,367.24 attendee hours. This can be broken down to 5,144.37 hours from ākonga (students), 289.85 from Kaiako (teachers). There have been 34 people paid by other organisations for 76.75 hours of their time. And 318 volunteer hours. Please note this only records the hours the facilitator spends with the ākonga and Kaiako. It does not include the many in-kind hours ākonga and Kaiako do tuna mahi, in and outside class time without facilitator involvement, yet inspired by Te Tuna Tāone. Sceptics may say well kaiako and ākonga would be doing this mahi anyway and yes they would be doing mahi but not mahi focused on understanding the state of their local waterway and taking their action to improve the health of that waterway. In terms of impact 79% of ākonga involved could report behaviour change that would help the awa - Most common YOU HAVE DONE to make life better for tuna/eel? Is: 1. Picked up rubbish 2. Raise awareness among people (create video, brochures, email, made: a sign, poster, mural, flyers and book) 3. River clean -up (litter picked rubbish around local awa and got adult to fish rubbish from awa) Most common thing you learnt that you SHARED with someone is: 1. Facts about Tuna 2. Wash car on grass (because on the driveway or road goes to the stormwater and straight to the awa or moana) 3. Need to pick up rubbish Most common person/group WHO you SHARED your learning is: 1. Family - Mum and Dad 2. Friends and other classes 3. Community – the public, adults I appreciate that money is tight right now for everyone. A decision to reduce the Innovation and Sustainability Fund to zero from 2025/26 will result in a significant setback. This is not just for non-governmental, community-led initiatives, but also for the potential of these funds to attract volunteer, in-kind, and financial support from various other sources. This could have a profound impact on local communities and their ability to drive and achieve change. If there's no provision for community grant funding, I'm curious to know if it's possible for the budget allocated to council-led initiatives to incorporate resources for professional and community expertise. This would enable a collaborative effort with council staff to accomplish council-led tasks. Essentially, I'm suggesting that the community possesses a wealth of relevant expertise that could accelerate the progress of council-led tasks. However, it's crucial that the community is compensated for their time and expertise. I want to acknowledge and thank Council staff for their time, expertise and willing assistance provided to Te Tuna Tāone. Almost without exception, Council staff have been approachable and willing to share their subject expertise and have demonstrated a commitment to achieving positive outcomes for the rivers of this city.

The Sustainability Fund of $385k needs to be kept and actually increased, given it is such a small % of total spending yet critical for Christchurch to be a leader in sustainability which is what helps bring international visitors to our city.

• I entered "Don't know" above because I trawled through numerous linked documents and 'bubbles' on your website related to the LTP, but was unable in the time available to get any clarity about whether grants to community-led groups was counted under "operational spending or elsewhere and could not locate any information on the fate of the Sustainability Fund, the Environmental Partnerships Fund or the Biodiversity Fund. I am commenting on these here on the assumption these funds are classed as 'operational' – if these comments should appear somewhere else in this feedback, please copy them there. • As noted above, many in the community are highly aware of the challenges facing us, and give many hours of volunteer time to positive local projects – my husband for example has given over 600 volunteer hours over the last 3 years helping to maintain the Council's plantings on the Port Hills. And some of the successes of these community-led organisations have been spectacular eg the elimination of goats from Banks Peninsula. However many of the active groups, such as Banks Peninsula Conservation Trust, the Summit Road Society, the Styx Living Laboratory Trust etc, require some support to make this possible – the Community Partnership Fund, Sustainability Fund and Biodiversity Fund are critical multipliers of volunteer work and need to be enhanced and/or reinstated.

What provision is being made to fill the gap that will be left by the Government withdrawing funding for the Jobs for Nature programme? How is the Council building partnerships with and supporting the numerous community groups who are contributing massively to the community outcomes the Council says it aspires to, and to its strategic priorities, but which may wither without the small amounts of funding they manage to survive on? What funding is available to support these groups? Such funding definitely must not decrease, and ideally will significantly increase.

We do not support the removal of the Sustainability Fund. This fund is critical for a number of organisations to meet their project costs and funding shortfalls throughout the year. We believe this fund could be reworked to give greater impact if it were tied more closely to the CCC Climate Strategy.

As an owner of a house in Christchurch and land at Le Bons Bay, I am well aware of the work that has been going on in pest control and regeneration of land on Banks Peninsula and Port Hills by individual land owners and organisations. Much of this has been coordinated by the Banks Peninsula Conservation Trust. The need for ongoing work has been highlighted by the effects of the recent fires and the sudden storm in the Eastern Bays of Banks Peninsula in 2022, which rapidly changed the landscape. I am very grateful that CCC has to date provided funding for this biodiversity work for many programmes and am asking that such funding will continue. Banks Peninsula is a storehouse for carbon for Greater Christchurch. So Banks Peninsula and the Port Hills contribute meaningfully to the CCC hopes for a greener, liveable, Climate Resilient City. May these hopes continue for this and forthcoming generations. Work has started and so many improvements have been made in regeneration and pest control, but much is still to do that to limit this now would be a major disappointment and undo much of the work in progress. I support the Banks Peninsula Conservation Trust's request for ongoing CCC financial support.

2000 - Victoria Nebbeling (Canterbury Community Gardens Association)

In support of the Canterbury Community Gardens Association's submission, I respectfully ask the Christchurch City Council to retain both its Strengthening Communities Fund and its Sustainability Fund over the next 10 years, 2024 - 2034. These funds' very existence align with our Council's climate change and community objectives and over the next 10 years they will bring increasing benefit to our way of life in Christchurch. Nowadays CCGA connects with over 70 shared gardens in and around Christchurch. Community gardens have been created at an exponential rate in recent years. Even we who are closest to the phenomenon cannot fully grasp the significance of the movement, but we certainly recognise its worth to communities and to society in general. Community gardens, whether attached to schools, churches, or occupying public land provide wonderful opportunities for people to learn by doing and to share good ideas by showing and telling. With their history of operating frugally, they are well placed to demonstrate the efficient use of resources such as energy, water and basic materials. Funding from the CCC's Strengthening Communities Fund and its Sustainability Fund can seed 'acorn to oak' growth in our volunteer communities. Just think of Smith Street Urban Farm, Linwood Community Garden, Kohinga Mara pantry, Otakaro orchard, Richmond, Lyttelton, New Brighton, any of the 70 shared gardens – all these places help people to adopt sustainable practices, encourage walking and cycling, help communities through composting and repurposing to reduce their greenhouse gas emissions and to live enriched lives. Christchurch City Council has in the past helped all this to happen through both its Strengthening Communities Fund and its Sustainability Fund. It is great value for money! The provision of these relatively modest funds is in alignment with the Council's own climate change objectives. By making them available through CCGA the benefit reaches deep into communities. I would therefore ask that both the Strengthening Communities Fund and the Sustainability Fund be maintained for the benefit of communities and for our city as a whole. CCGA and the community gardens we represent wish to take this opportunity to gratefully acknowledge our Council's past support and to affirm that we look forward to continuing to work together to strengthen our communities and to promote sustainable living within our many local neighbourhoods

I am concerned that:

1. Council funds such as the Environmental Partnership Fund and Biodiversity Funds may be reduced or lost from this Plan. These funds are the partnership between Council and community. They ensure organisations such as BPCT and PFBP can keep the lights on and continue delivering on the ecological vision of the community and the goals identified by Council in this Plan. I urge the Council to ensure that these or similar types of Funds continue to be provided for.

2817 - Emma Twaddell (St Albans Residents' Association)

We are deeply concerned any reduction in community grants funding in real terms will result in negative outcomes for community wellbeing as it is a well-documented fact that the direct and indirect benefits of the work community organisations do far outweigh the direct costs to Council. While small savings would eventuate for the council, serious costs would arise in other areas as a result. Considering the current economic climate, CCC should increase community funding, not curtail it. This is a time when community services are needed more than ever. We submit that the Council increase Community Funding in response to the rising needs resulting from the current socially, economically, and environmentally difficult times.

2819 - Beth Rouse (Avebury House Community Trust)

Supporting Communities It was evident post-quakes that communities were more than capable of coming together to support one another. When given resources, they grew community cohesion through grass-roots initiatives like community gardens, and groups based around habitat restoration, mental and physical health recovery, cycling, nature play and other related initiatives.

This largely volunteer workforce has brought enormous value to Ōtautahi's recovery. It is essential to continue ratepayer support for community-based infrastructure - community centres like ours, and similar organisations that are on the ground, enabling and coordinating those local connections. For those with a proven track record of positive outcomes, we suggest giving them more financial certainty.

For example:

- We advocate for the 3-year funding cycles to continue. These allow for critically needed long-term planning, reducing the time and money spent on administration at both ends of the application and the unwelcome stress of waiting for grants approvals.
- Reduction in funding pools will have negative impacts throughout the community. Sustainability and Biodiversity Funds have been key drivers for positive community action, especially for those near waterways or reforestation projects. Avebury House is located within such a community. While Strengthening Communities is an excellent fund, the danger of it becoming overwhelmed with submissions is clear, if groups who relied on those other funds look elsewhere for support.
- Direct support for local heritage initiatives, preserving properties like Avebury House, and telling the stories of our suburbs reaches a wide and diverse cross-section of the community. Large scale projects such as the Arts Centre and the Anglican Cathedral serve a different purpose. It is essential that heritage funding directed to organisations such as Avebury House is not lost.
- The potential loss of the $350k Partnerships Fund will be a huge blow to projects whose ultimate value amounts to so much more.

Like many of our local organisations, we support the four community outcomes, but with a shift in priority to put 'A green, liveable city' as number 1.

Biodiversity Sports fields have $100 million over the LTP. Can we take some from this? Biodiversity is only $2million in the LTP Gaps in biodiversity funding. Jobs for nature – who will pick up that work? Ends in 2025. This focuses on public land. We need funding to continue that work Community Partnership Fund – disappearing in July 2024. Currently 200k. Supports Styx Mill Trust and Summit Road Society. Need to reinstate Biodiversity Fund (used to support biodiversity work on private land) – ask to increase from what is supposed to be 400k. Need councillor support for this. Environmental/climate change partnership fund. Where is the integration with biodiversity? Sustainability fund – ends of FY 2025. Need to get this reinstated and funded in future years. Waterways restoration budget. Healthy Water Bodies Action plan. We need funding to reach those targets. Need to advocate for funding. Climate change levy – could we use some of that levy for biodiversity? How much are we paying consultants for ecological expertise? Please hire more staff to stop paying consultants' wages. CCC has a very small waterways restoration budget, which is shown to be cut going forward. The amount of money we are asking for over a 10 yr. period is the equivalent to 1 or 2 stormwater basins. We have developed a Healthy Water Bodies Action plan which details holistic goals and targeted for waterway health outside of stormwater quality. To implement that plan and reach those targets more funding is required. Considerable amount of $$ is being put towards the stormwater basins with the thought of improving water quality. Based on the current information those basins are not providing adequate treatment. Stormwater quality is only one part of improving waterbody health, if we put a small % of that funding towards other aspects of waterway health (i.e. planting, naturalising stream banks, instream habitat additions) we could see some changes in ecosystem health. Resources / staff biodiversity management currently sits under the 'parks team'. Which limits our ability to work across council and focus primarily on biodiversity outcomes. Instead there is a lack of strategic focus and expertise to deliver this work (as not all park rangers have same expertise in this area). We have also gone from a team of 2 waterways ecologists to 1 which means there is even less capacity to ensure council projects are resulting in good outcomes for waterway health. This also means there is lack of oversight on private projects around waterways which require resource consent. This is due to capacity internally. Need to reinstate the Natural Environment Team? This team was dis-established when the 'climate working group was set up' - so the focus shifted to 'climate change' but then limited the focus and resource on biodiversity - i.e. biodiversity now lacks an 'all of council' approach. Need to set up a well-resourced biodiversity team that operates across teams and is integrated within the climate strategy. Need an all of council approach. How do we set up an all-of-council ecology team? We also need better integration of the climate change strategy and biodiversity strategy. There are currently no ecologists on the climate change working group. So consider whether to add 'biodiversity' to the climate change working group/ and support for funding of biodiversity out of the climate change levy? (so not just focused on adaptation - which may just be infrastructure).

[Transport > Roads (Capital)], [Parks > Sports Grounds & Facilities], [Transport > Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)], [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Grants & Funding > Other Contestable Funds]

Too much money is allocated to road and sport field maintenance. Road maintenance would be better spent investing in active transport and public transport infrastructure. This is especially true to cycling, where the benefits on public health and safety are numerous, and costs are low. Sport field maintenance could better be spent on improving biodiversity funding through actions such as increased regenerative planting and support for biodiversity funds.

I am also shocked at the lack of investment into biodiversity and biodiversity related funds. Speaking as a biologist, the biodiversity crisis has the potential to harm human existence moreso than the climate crisis, the city council should consider this in their funding allocations.

[Parks Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration]

Sports fields currently have $100 million worth of funding in the LTP, where biodiversity only has $2 million. Against the backdrop of the biodiversity crisis this is unjust, and funding must be reallocated to support biodiversity. The biodiversity fund should be increased tenfold from the proposed $400,000, and the community partnership fund should be reinstated and given increased funding. Alongside implementing this, the council should robustify it's biodiversity related workforce, including more waterway ecologists and moving biodiversity management out from under the parks team to allow a primary focus on biodiversity outcomes.

2. Funding for Community Engagement (LTP Vol Page 116) – There is no funding for both Environmental/Climate Change Partnership Fund and Community Partnership Fund. This action goes against the Council's Outcomes (collaborative and green, livable city) and Strategic Priorities (inclusive city and reducing emissions). Suggest a Green Fund to be established that will foster awareness, education and innovation. 3. Funding for Programme Continuous Improvement: Each programme should have budgets for continuous improvement to include activities such as Lessons Learnt (capturing and sharing), sustainable project management for project effectiveness and efficiency, training, PMO process improvement).

3047 - Mark Christensen (Project Oversight Group of Pest Free Banks Peninsula and Towards Pest Free Waitaha)

The POG seeks that the City Council's LTP provide for: Pest Free Banks Peninsula

- The continuation of an annual contribution of $30k from the Environmental Partnership Fund (or a replacement fund) to support the Te Kākahu Kahukura programme.

- The continuation of an annual contribution of $50k from the Environmental Partnership Fund (or a replacement fund) to support the Pest Free Banks Peninsula
- elimination programme.
- The continuation of an annual contribution of $40k from the Environmental Partnership Fund (or a replacement fund) to support feral ungulate removal on Banks Peninsula.
- Additional funding of a significant proportion of the $500k needed in the 2024/2025 year to progress the elimination of feral goats on Banks Peninsula.
- Enough budget for biosecurity work to ensure biodiversity values and gains on Council owned land on Panks Peninsula are supported by ensuring capital and operational budgets are adequate for the task, including continuation of the Better Off Funding for biosecurity work within council owned land.

The POG reiterates the comments, concerns and requests of the PFBP Project Management Group (PMG) in their submission by the Chair of the PMG, Dr David Miller, dated 5 April 2024. The POG particularly notes the critical importance of CCC funding to date which has been crucial for the development and implementation of programmes that have achieved national significance for their innovation, their community inspiration and their efficacy. In addition to the comments from the PMG, the POG notes that Pest Free Banks Peninsula includes the control of feral pigs. To date, over 2200 feral pigs have been removed from Banks Peninsula since August 2022 and surveillance would indicate we have achieved more than 75% suppression. Specialist Contractors will assist with suppression work for several months commencing July 2024. Current control activities are being focussed on upper Kaituna Valley, Mt Bradley, Loudan, Tupari, Marchands, McQueens Valley and mid Prices Valley. Expenditure to date on this suppression work is over $480,000, funded by ECan, DOC, CCC, the Zone Committee, various landowners (cash and in kind) and by the project manager. This is the largest feral pig control operation currently being undertaken in the country and there is growing interest from many other similarly affected communities about this work. The intent is to use this project as a case study to inform other work around New Zealand. We are at a point where we either accept the need for ongoing annual suppression to maintain/improve previous suppression efforts, or we attempt elimination (starting from a suppressed population). We currently have funding ($300,000) for suppression work in 2024/part 2025 but need to find an additional $300,000 to $500,000 (in 2024/2025) before significant zonal elimination could be considered. More funding will be required in any event if any elimination strategy cannot be initiated during 2024/2025. The key is not to let current populations rebound prior to initiating any elimination strategy otherwise elimination costs will increase. The alternative of ongoing suppression would cost $120,000 to $180,000 per year. The POG therefore seeks funding of a significant proportion of the $500,000 needed in the 2024/2025 year to progress the elimination of feral goats on Banks Peninsula.

More funds should be allocated to implement the biodiversity strategy. There are benefits to increasing tree cover in urban streets from reducing surface temperatures to increasing appearance and value. There is also the environmental impact of increasing tree cover and green spaces. Now is not the time to cut community funding the return MOST groups give to the city out ways the funding they receive from CCC in most cases the group takes the CCC dollar and match it with other funders and then turn that into a return with volunteers and resourcing that cannot be matched. [Recreation, Sports & Events > Community Arts], [Grants & Funding > Strengthening Communities Fund], [Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

I don't believe this current operational spending proposal is a balanced reflection of the Council's community outcomes and strategic priorities. As someone working in the arts, culture and creativity space with a particular interest in festivals and locally-based organisations and companies, I am not confident that Ōtautahi can be a "cultural powerhouse" without further investment that enables local artists and organisations to thrive.

I am incredibly thankful that Council has not proposed cuts to funding which supports our sector, and funding for libraries and galleries which also play a big part in supporting creativity in the city.

What concerns me though, is the increase of new festivals and organisations in the city that, having been seeded by Council funding, or been receiving funding prior, will then stretch the "strengthening communities fund" and the "events and festival sponsorship fund" to the point where rather than funding for success, Council is funding for... for a meagre existence, I guess. These funds have, I believe, got modest increases but the sector could really do with further funding, and at a greater amount.

The Arts, Culture and Creativity sector is a lot like sports. We have grassroots organisations, we have organisations recognised and succeeding at a regional level, and we have organisations that tour/play nationally and are at the top of their game, so to speak. Christchurch loses a lot of talent once they get past grassroots. They leave because they cannot see how they can make work here consistently, and how to grow. I should know - I've left Christchurch twice, at pivotal points in my career. I came back to give back to my hometown, but a lot of people won't. If that happens, then festivals and organisations that remain face steeper bills to bring talent to Christchurch, steeper learning curves when it comes to running these sorts of places and spaces, and have to work harder to keep people here.

It's an ecosystem where Council plays a big part - and not just with funding, but with having ways for cheap access to venues, to ensure the organisations you do fund have to foster local talent and to partner and assist other organisations in the city. Council can be quite creative with the resourcing you can offer!

This is where I get to The Arts Centre. When I think about the Arts Centre I think about the buildings, and who "lives" in them, and then I think of the activities, or programming, that happens there. I think that the Arts Centre does amazing programming, bringing in artists and companies to bring spaces to life. What is lacking, though, is affordable space for those artists and companies to actually be in residence year-round. When I go to the Arts Centre right now, I see commercial tenants (health tech, a hotel, a University...) but I do not see arts companies "living" in the arts centre and getting to choose what they put on. At the moment, the way to be able to make work there affordably is to be programmed by them or partner with them. It is fully curated. My experience of working at resident companies in Arts Centres in Australia is of quite a different model. Nonetheless, I certainly want the Arts Centre to be "saved", but perhaps whatever this looks like could take into account what is needed to help this city become a Cultural Powerhouse.

Targeted Heritage Rate Absorbed into the General Rate

Whilst supportive of this measure, HPC [Historic Places Canterbury] requests the Council use a small fraction of the $2 million savings to fund Heritage Grants so they start in the upcoming 2024/25 financial year.

Heritage Incentive Grants and The Intangible Heritage Grants HPC requests the Heritage Incentive Grants and The Intangible Heritage Grants be reinstated in the upcoming financial year and not as proposed in 2031/32.

If the proposed draft LTP is adopted, with no Heritage Grants until 2031/32, HPC is confident in asserting without being contradicted, Christchurch will be the only metropolitan City not to offer Heritage Grants. Many of our smaller provincial cities offer Heritage Grants.

Heritage Incentive Grants (HIG):

HPC requests the Heritage Incentive Grants be reinstated and commence in the upcoming financial year. The Council has a role in the ensuring the retention of our collective Heritage. Having HIG grants ensure the Councils Heritage Team can work with Heritage Building owners to retain our Heritage. The Council has developed processes and policies in support of our built heritage and the HIG are an integral practical part of these and their successful application. HPC observes, a scheduled heritage building owner is required to file a Resource Consents etc for any work unless it is a repair. As proposed, the heritage building owner will not be able to apply for a grant to cover the cost of the consent. The Council insists the Heritage Building owner to be responsible but under what is proposed the Council will not offer support in return.

The Strategy lists "The Council's roles in heritage ... Funder" By not offering Heritage Grants until 2031/32, HP considers the Council is clearly in breach of its Heritage Strategy. This Strategy was widely consulted and supported by the Residents.

Events Ecosystem Funding

General Comments

738 submissions were received on the proposed events ecosystem funding options outlined in the draft plan.

187 submissions were received in support of increasing the major event bid funding.

195 submissions were received in opposition of increasing the bid funding, preferring for the level of funding to remain at current levels.

320 alternative proposals were received, generally indicating event bid funding should be decreased rather than remain the same or increase. 42 general comments regarding event bid funding were also received.

Officer Response

We asked submitters whether they thought we should increase the level of bid funding or leave it at the levels proposed in the draft LTP. A significant number of responses were received. The majority of submissions received opposed increasing funding and the associated rates increase.

Submissions supporting LTP Proposal to retain current level of funding:

Written feedback from submitters who support leaving it at the levels proposed in the draft highlighted that many feel that now is not the time to be considering increasing the fund, which would further increase rates, putting more financial pressure on households. In some instances, these submitters suggested we revisit the proposal in a few years, when households are facing less financial pressure.

Others questioned whether attracting more events really would be good for the city, citing environmental concerns (many using SailGP as an example), whether the economic benefits really are as good as stated, and whether the city has the infrastructure to support further large-scale events.

There were concerns from others that the ratepayers fronting the cost for the additional bid funding won't be able to afford to attend the events, and the major benefactors would be the hospitality and retail sectors.

Submissions suggesting reducing current funding levels:

A number of submitters suggested alternatives to our proposal. These tended to fit into two categories:

- Reducing the amount allocated to event bid funding in the LTP, or removing it completely
- Shifting the onus of funding any additional funding away from the ratepayer, instead suggesting that those who will benefit most from additional funding should contribute more.

Feedback from submitters who would like to see the event bid funding reduced or removed completely echoed the concerns discussed by those who support keeping the bid funding at the levels proposed in the draft LTP.

Some submitters highlighted that they don't think that this should be a priority for local government or that it is a luxury, and that ratepayers shouldn't be subsidizing attracting events to the city. Others felt that attracting events to the city should be the responsibility of those set to benefit the most from hosting them, some submitters noted that they don't feel that they personally, or that their household get any benefit from the money invested in bringing these events to the city. Others felt that we have made our contribution in investing in the facilities to attract these events, and now it should be over to the events industry to attract and host the events not ratepayers.

Submissions suggesting increasing event funding:

Submitters who provided a preference on increasing event bid funding supported increasing the level of funding proposed in the draft LTP. Many highlighted the economic benefits of attracting additional and bigger events to the city, while others focused on the need to make the most of the facilities that we are investing so much in providing. Many highlighted the vibrancy that events bring to the city, and discussed their desire to live in a vibrant, interesting city.

In some instances, submitters indicated that if we were to increase the level of event bid funding, they would like to see this done within the proposed rates envelope, making substitutions as opposed to adding it onto the proposed rates increase as an additional cost.

The majority of respondents submissions indicated that council should not increase funding for the first three years of the Long-Term Plan.

Supporters of the increased funding option focused on the need to ensure our venues are fully utilised and the positive benefits bring, particularly inner city businesses and the vibrancy events generate.

Previous advice from the Recreation Sports and Events team provides information detailing annual events hosted in the city. Approximately 300 plus events permits are issued every year with 93 events supported by the CCC events fund. Previous advice also suggested that existing funding for FY 24/25 FY25/26 FY 26/27 are exhausted, meaning no additional major events other than those already committed to, could be bid for.

Historic Council provided funding levels (previous 2021-2031 LTP)

Funding for major events (from 2021/22) was part of CNZ’s baseline funding of $15m (approx.) per annum. The total baseline funding is allocated across its range of outputs to deliver against its strategic objectives outlined in its statement of Intent.

The expenditure has been enhanced over recent years due to a variety of things including 3rd party revenue that CNZ attracts commercially, Government grants, and legacy funding held on its balance sheet (now fully expended).

The last 3 years funding provided by council above baseline funding has been as $600 K per annum funded from the Capital Endowment Fund.

An additional $1,941,000 in FY23/24 was provided for one-off Major Event funding. This additional amount includes major and business events.

Future Funding

Proposed baseline funding levels within the draft Long-Term Plan released for public feedback, are:

- FY 24/25 $13.6 m
- FY25/26 $14.0 m
- FY26/27 -FY 33/34 $14.3m

Additional Events Ecosystem funding commences in the fourth year of the Long-Term Plan. FY 27/28 $2.4 m, FY28/29 2.7m, FY29/30 – 33/3 3.95 m

Total Proposed 10 year Opex Grant funding ($ 148.4 M) to CHCHNZ (FY24/25- FY 33/34)

Year 1	Year 2	Year 3	Year 4	Year 5	Year 6	Year 7	Year 8	Year 9	Year 10
$13.6	$ 14.0	$ 14.3	$ 16.3	$ 17.0	$ 18.2	$ 18.2	$ 18.2	$ 18.2	$ 18.2

Venues Ōtautahi have confirmed that for FY 24/25 and FY 25/26 they will reprioritise their operational budgets to meet any additional bid investment funding required to secure events in their venues including Te Kaha when it opens in 2026.

For Council’s Consideration

Option 1: No change to the draft Long-Term Plan – Additional Funding commences in July 2027 as above.

- This option is consistent with the majority of the submissions received.
- No impact on rates
- No impact on Council owned venues operated by Venues Ōtautahi until FY 26/27.

Option 2: Increase event bid funding as per the options consulted on within the 2024-2034 Long term plan Consultation Document.

- This option would not be consistent with the majority of submissions received,

Rates impact

- FY 24/25 $2.8 million 0.42%,
- FY 25/26 $3.3 million 0.04%,
- FY 26/27 $4.5million 0.14%

Option 3: Alternative Options, no change to FY 24/25 and 25/26. Additional funding for FY 26/27 by bringing forward the proposed funding from year 4 to year 3. This option would support activity associated to council owned venues and events when Venues Ōtautahi funding from within current operational budgets stops. Funding would be available 2 months after Te Kaha opens.

- This option would not be consistent with the majority of submissions received
- This option acknowledges submitters concerned about the risk of not fully utilising the cities venues

Rates impact

- FY 24/25 No impact on rates
- FY25/26 No impact on rates
- FY 26/27 $2.8m 0.34% impact on rates

I am supportive of increasing the bid funding given the significant positive economic and social wellbeing impacts that hosting major events has in Christchurch. In particular, hosting sporting events inspires the next generation (and their parents) to be involved in sport and recreation contributing to community health and wellbeing, makes use of our sporting venues, delivers a strong financial return on investment and showcases our city to the rest of NZ and the world. Attracting major events and hosting these at Hagley such as the ICC Women's Cricket World Cup and test matches between NZ and Australia puts Christchurch on the world stage and attracts overseas visitors. Other cities and councils continue to invest strongly in the competitive bidding process for such major events and Christchurch needs to invest support into these bid processes in order to remain competitive. Hagley is a world class venue, but it must be supported by hosting major events in order to remain so.

1230 - Carlana Limmer

I do not think the balance suggested in the LTP should include City investment into hosting major events in Christchurch. Major events bring significant economic returns to the city through the additional spend from visitors who attend these major events - with visitors attracting significant additional spend in accommodation, restaurants, cafes and bars, retail outlets and city tourism activities. In addition to the significant economic impact, major events increase the profile of Christchurch as a great tourism destination, it highlights the capabilities of Christchurch in attracting major events, it increases locals pride in their city and additionally increases the opinion of locals of their city being a great place to live. With significant investment already spent on new venues and the to be completed new arena, if the city does not invest to ensure that these facilities are being used, then the significant spend on these venues and infrastructure has no value as the Christchurch City will not be able to maximize their return on this investment.

[Libraries > Libraries (Operations)], [Grants & Funding > Events Ecosystem Funding]

Libraries no longer serve such an important part of the community. With so many books / education resources now on-line, I believe the large amount of money invested into libraries (which are not well utilized these days even as an educational resource) should instead be put into Major Events which have a real return to the local economy. These major events also provide legacy and hands-on training, experience and education for those in the entertainment and events sector, providing work for AV operators, sound engineers, security, caterers, talent, printers, event professionals .. the list goes on. The events industry and the hospitality industry was decimated by Covid 19 and the loss of major events in Christchurch would be a big blow for these industries.

[Strategic Direction > Additional Savings & efficiencies], [Parks > Parks Maintenance], [Resource Recovery > Resource Recovery (Operations)], [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Libraries > Libraries (Operations)]

Value the most - major event funding, parks and foreshore. With rubbish and recycling, some portion of these costs should be user pays on their rubbish collection to save some of the costs allocated here. Losing the investment into creating more cycle lanes, and reducing the spend on libraries as these are not utilized or needed as they were prior to the hugely growing on-line resources which people can access for free.

If budget from other areas (libraries, cycle lanes) are allocated instead into major event funding, then rate increases for this funding would not be required and additionally, would bring in significant economic benefits to the region.

[Strategic Direction > Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities]

Community Outcomes are fantastic - investing in major events would only increase to all of the below outcomes: A collaborative confident city A thriving prosperous city A cultural powerhouse city

Duco Events have brought lots of content to Christchurch City and been supported by the Christchurch NZ Event Fund and without this funding these events would not have taken place in Christchurch. Former World Heavyweight Champion Joseph Parker has had two major Heavyweight fights in Christchurch. We have brought the SYNTHONY show to Christchurch. The T20 Black Clash - Cricket vs Rugby, has been held three times in Christchurch (2019, 2021, 2023). Each of the 3 events have attracted 1 million+ viewers on television each year, have been sell-out events and brought significant visitor nights and economic benefits to the city. Post event surveys also score in the 90-94% range when questioned about events such as the Black Clash increasing their pride in their city and making it a more enjoyable city to live. Hosting major events adds to the vibrancy of the city and showcases the city to visitors domestically and internationally, it also increases economic activity and attracts others to the city in the future for business events / conferences and also attracts other promoters to bring their events to Christchurch. The impact of business events in the city include knowledge sharing and collaboration with other local businesses to together help flourish. The infrastructure that has been invested in by the City into new venues and Arena's needs to be utilized for content that brings economic rewards to the City. Therefore I think that re-allocating some spend from libraries and cycle lanes to hosting major and business events should be a major factor in Christchurch NZ's Long Term Plan.

1273 - Anthony Moore (The Elms Hotel Ltd, T/A Hotel Elms Christchurch)

When cities bid to host major events like the Olympics, World Cup, international conferences, or large business expos, they require significant financial resources to prepare compelling bids. This includes costs associated with marketing, venue preparation, infrastructure development, accommodation, transportation, security, and other logistical aspects. When a major event selects a city to take their business to, they pick the city's best overall offer, and a bid fund is a major contributing factor. We therefore need all the funds previously available and more to be honest to ensure we attract events to Christchurch and fill spaces such as Te Pae and Te Kaha, Town Hall etc.

1290 - Aric Thorn

Events bring life to the city, it attracts new residents as well. SailGP was A+. The impact these events have on attracting new residents (ratepayers) should be considered when considering as part of considering the funding (as I presume it would eventually pay for itself through growth). Similar philosophy to the stadium.

1298 - Jason Reekers

Events are what bring people together and makes living in a large city vibrant and exciting. Please don't take away or cut funding for events.

1331 - Robyn Lynley Capon

We need to spend money to make money. We need big events to bring money in

1341 - Moore Todd

We are going to have a world class stadium. Lets fill it.

1378 - Rowena Morgan

If we dont bid funding then the city is at risk of missing out to other cities

1385 - Bernice Kilkelly

We need to start making the most of Te Kaha being built and the city being back on its feet. We have missed out on plenty iver the last 12 years. Its our turn to shine and be proud if how far we have come.

1391 - Anna Gruczynska

I support spending money to make money for the city. Too many venues are already sitting empty most of the time, and we still have Te Kaha to come. If we cannot invest in bringing events to it, why are we building it in the first place?

1397 - Andrew Sprouse

It's really important to attract major events to our city

1413 - Tania Brewer

Get onto it!!!!

1462 - Sue Piercey

Events seem to be well attended and give the people who attend them enjoyment and a sense of being part of a community and businesses in the vicinity of the event benefit financially.

1510 - Jan Whitehead (Banks Peninsula Sports & Recreation Inc)

Its great having major events but not at the expense of our basic infrstructure

1512 - Denis McMurtrie

Events bring our city alive. A nice to see is other local councils should have some "skin in the game". As we bring visitors in they will get some spin offs as they think of different ways to entice them. Country markets etc.

1542 - Blair Davy

Increased funding to attract major events is key. Concerts, racing events etc are what keep people engaged with the city and encourage investment. We continue to spend money in Auckland for events which should be spent here.

The increase is negligible and the tradeoffs for people living in the city are huge, it makes the city feel like it actually has some excitement about it and some positive news stories, rather than the negatives of the cathedral and metro facility.

Fill the stadium with events, get people excited about the city.

Increase events spending significantly.

1583 - James Pomeroy

This should be a priority as the impacts are obvious for the local economy.

1622 - Joseph Veale

events are good investments.

1693 - Brook Walker

Keep funding events - sail GP etc etc. great vibe for the city [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)] [Other/Special Interest Topics > Cathedral] [Spending > Te Kaha]

1734 - Fergus O'Neill

Moderate increase as bidding on these events can provide a significant return on investment for businesses and create an excellent environment for residents.

1749 - Nicole Baxter-Warren

I think the facilities and the drive of people in our city will see a natural demand for attending such events. I would be far more inclined to head to events, sports, concerts knowing I don't have to pay for travel and accommodation.

1756 - Kieran Sweetman

Christchurch has made great progress in re-establishing itself post EQ. It now needs to capitalise on Te Kaha when it is completed. More visitors means more funds for our cherished institutions.

1785 - Rosaria Ferguson

Bid funding creates increased tourism spend as an investment while creating vibrant cities

1801 - Quinton Hurley

We've now committed to spending a large amount on event facilities i.e. Te Kaha, Te Pae (whether we agree with it or not) so it is best we use them.

1808 - Paul Monk (Squash Canterbury)

Additional funding to attract national and international events is critical if we are able to fully activate some of the amazing facilities we have on Christchurch. Additionally, such events provide significant economic benefits to the city and the money allocated will represent a very good investment.

1834 - Judith Penney

With completion of the major facilities, we have the capacity to host multiple large events. We must capitalise on this; the return to the community will inject funds to our City.

1914 - Stefan Miller

Christchurch needs to be able to secure high profile entertainers, these are great way's to stimulate a City's economy!

1979 - Julie McCloy

The level proposed - $1 million - is incredibly low compared to the 'return' amount in three years - $19 million. It is effectively gone. This is short sighted. if we are investing in making this a vibrant city - "a cultural powerhouse city" then how can we cut this? We are trying to build interest in coming here, in spending money in our businesses, in staying in our hotels - but there's nothing to come to for three years. So we spend hundreds of millions on Te Kaha, but aren't bidding for events to be there to support it. DO NOT DO THIS.

1989 - Hannah Collins

Worth it in time

1999 - Gus Fahy

We have fantastic new facilities. We need to be able to attract people here to use these facilities and bring spending to our city

2012 - Nick Boyd

More events bring in more income. Everything has moved to Dunedin as we don't offer what they need. We miss out on so much potential

2062 - Khloe Peck

With the spend on building Te Kaha it would be detrimental to the sustainability of these space to not increase the funding for events. Building such a facility doesn't mean events will come, promoters need incentives to book venues. As a modern city we need to encourage a wide range of events to take place in our city to not only encourage locals to take part but encourage visitation helping all of the ancillary services.

2078 - Barry Williamson

Really need balance here! I realise how important it is economically to attract major international sports, business and music events.

2092 - Jeremy Bruce

Keep investing and bringing life back into the city

2098 - Marty Byrne (Christchurch and Hanmer Attractions)

We are strong supporters of the work that CCC and CNZ do to promote Christchurch and the Canterbury region as a venue for events and the pending completion of Te Kaha will only increase the interest from outside parties in considering Chch as a location for events going forward. Competition for events is high between the likes of Auckland, Wellington, Queenstown and Christchurch and in order to be successful bids need to have the financial support of the local Council and their representative bodies involved in pulling bids together.

2206 - Nikki Rogers (Hospitality NZ)

Bid funding for major and business events

29. We note the additional funding option laid out in the consultation document regarding event bid funding.
30. Hospitality NZ supports an additional rates increase to provide additional event bid funding for major and business events.
31. As per figures from ChristchurchNZ, in the 2022-23 financial year, $2.9m was invested in major events, generating $35.8m in visitor spending and a return on investment of 11:1. For the same period, $500K was invested in business events returning $25.8M over 5 years to 2028 (ROI 35:1). The forecast ROI for the fund over the period of the long term plan is $670 million.
32. The rationale to support more event attraction to Christchurch is clear - events attracting visitors provide immense financial benefit, and elevate city vibrancy.
33. Furthermore, given the significant capital investment made into infrastructure and facilities in Christchurch (particularly Te Pae and the upcoming Te Kaha Multi-Use Arena), operational investment in events is needed to ensure the most is made of this infrastructure and to maximise return on investment.
34. Aside from funding for event attraction, Council also has a role to play in reducing the restrictions and red tape involved in hosting events. Restrictive policies reduce the number of events that can be held each year, and do not incentivise event organisers to bring their events to Christchurch.

- Support additional event bid funding for major and business events through an additional rates increase.

2207 - Ian Thomas (Athletics Canterbury Inc.)

Reducing the amount will stop events from happening in the city, which will then mean, that a lot of organisations are fighting over the money available, which for the long term sustainability of the city and it's businesses and residents that less visitors from outside are coming to spend money here which has a big effect on the local economy.

2236 - Julyan Falloon (Sport Canterbury and Sport New Zealand (Joint Submission))

Sport Canterbury and Sport New Zealand applaud Council for its continued investment into, and support of major events. We support the alternative option for bid funding for major events which includes an additional $2.8 million in 24/25, $3.3 million in 25/26 and $4.5 million in 26/27. The value of events to the City cannot be understated. National and international research has consistently confirmed that major events have the following benefits for host cities and regions:

Direct benefits: such as increasing tourism revenue, generating international media exposure for New Zealand, employment opportunities, opportunities for New Zealanders and residents of host cities to experience world class events, opportunities for communities to showcase their regions and achievements nationally and internationally, trade or investment opportunities during the event.

Legacy benefits: such as local, regional or national infrastructure development, new business opportunities, growth in sport or cultural participation rates, on-going business or industry growth or investment opportunities, key international relationships, opportunities to build New Zealand's and the host cities international brand, growth in participation and high achievement in the field to which the event relates, additional opportunities for participation in sporting, cultural or creative activities

Event capability benefits: such as building the management capability of the events sector, extending or improving additional systems and knowledge relating to event delivery, increasing the available pool of trained professionals and volunteers and growing its skills, enhancing New Zealand's and the host cities reputation as a major events destination.

2258 - Jak Hartley

I would love to see more international events here in chch if possible

2295 - Katja Charmley

I support the proposal to allocate additional funding for event bids. Bringing big events into the city not only enhances the global view of our community but also has significant economic benefits. Hosting major events attracts tourists from around the world, boosting the local economy through increased spending on accommodations, dining, transportation, and leisure activities. Additionally, these events often garner widespread media coverage, showcasing our city's attractions and amenities to a global audience and attracting further tourism in the long term. Moreover, investing in event bids demonstrates our commitment to fostering a vibrant cultural scene and positioning our city as a desirable destination for both leisure and business travelers. By attracting diverse events catering to various interests and demographics, we can create memorable experiences for visitors and residents alike while driving economic growth and prosperity.

2304 - Stephanie Burke

Give us some entertainment - everything got taken away after the quakes and we are missing out.

2328 - Steven Gray

We must increase bid funding to support investments in Te Pai and stadium etc

2330 - Bradley Conder (Novotel Christchurch & Ibis Christchurch)

The investment in business events and major events by ChristchurchNZ has revolutionised the landscape for accommodation providers in Christchurch. Before 2019, the city faced prolonged winters with low occupancy rates due to insufficient demand. However, emerging from the pandemic and the opening of Te Pae, the months from April to September have consistently experienced a significant increase in activity. While it is recognised that central hotels receive the majority of business events, noticeable overflow has benefited hotels and motels throughout the area. The most encouraging indicator of business events is their contribution to the wider community, including restaurants, bars, retail, transport, professional services and airlines. The opening of Te Pae has led to a more consistent level of demand over the year, addressing our winter periods with obvious flow-on effects to even out the boom and bust cycle of years past and drive confidence for the market to increase investment into the city.

2376 - Bruce Bassett (Tourism Industry Aotearoa)

On the specific consultation option on additional events bid funding for major and business events, TIA supports this option.

Activating spaces is key to giving people access to the public realm. You have great assets so fill them up, get people in, provide a market for events. Be interesting.

2437 - Caroline Whittaker

We need large scale events that can service the region.

2498 - REDACTED REDACTED

I think its important tgat we keep bidding for major events. It brings visitors to the city and show cases Christchurch.

2519 - Charlotte Withington

Bringing larger events to Chch will be a significant return on investment and will counter act any rates increase required to fund it.

2559 - Michael Campbell

As someone who has worked in the events industry I fully support increasing funding here. Events activate dead spaces are good for business and make the city livable and special. I am not sure that Christchurch NZ has its priorities right when it comes to funding major events, it seems they are quick to jump on any announcement but equally when it goes wrong they dont seem to be accountable. So i would support a review of their operations and would recommend that Major event bids come back in house to Council and leave Christchurch NZ to focus on Business Events bidding (which is their natural strength)

2574 - Matthew Pont

You're building world class facilities. Either you go all in with your investments and up the bids, or you have wasted our money developing facilities we don't need.

2586 - Leeann Watson (Business Canterbury)

We are right on the cusp of having a fully functional entertainment and cultural offering in Christchurch, and to maximise the benefits of these facilities (Te Pae, Te Kaha, Parakiore) we need to ensure that sufficient funding is dedicated to attracting and retaining major events.

Not only do these major events produce economic return, but they also help reposition the image and perception of Christchurch to future investors, developers, tourists and people who may be considering here, investing or establishing themselves in our city.

Other main centres like Auckland and Wellington appear to have significantly higher major event bid funding than Christchurch, and as we gear up to compete for more events with Te Kaha coming online, there must be a corresponding increase in the level of funding.

Business Canterbury supports the 'option to provide additional event bid funding for major and business events' – but would like to see that funding ringfenced with a major event calendar that businesses can plan around and economic impacts from those events shared widely.

The context and parameters for deciding which events to pursue should include engagement with the business community.

259 - Margaret McEvedy

Event funding is vital for a growing economy, I support an increase to generate growth.

[Other/Special Interest Topics - Commonwealth Games]

Of course it's nice to host events (not the Commonwealth Games!!) but it's a nice-to-do, not a must do. It's hard to say increase the bid funding when the cost benefit isn't known.

269 - Zara Potts

Since the stadium has been built and is costing ratepayers so much you have an obligation to find events that will make use of the stadium - however ratepayers have already paid enough and you need to find other ways of attracting events rather than once again making ratepayers pay more.

2691 - Ian Ebbs \(South West Sports & Recreation Hub Inc\)

These events are great for the spirit of the city, they encourage future generations to want to participate & get active themselves, to try something new. Bringing these events can also bring more business to local companies when visitor spend in Christchurch.

273 - Ereni Pūtere

The libraries do an amazing job and must continue to be well resourced to do so, in particular the Māori collections and their kaitiaki.

2733 - Georgia Macaulay

Well we spent all of that money on the stadium, may as well try to get some money back from it while we are at it.

2737 - Valerie Sloss

I think it will be vitally important to increase the bids we make initially to attract big acts to Christchurch once we have a bigger and better venue.

2766 - Michael Singleton (Christchurch International Airport)

Destination Christchurch provides a unique window of opportunity to capitalise on new infrastructure.

13. Post-recovery Ōtautahi Christchurch is an exciting place to live, work and play and, if properly supported, should expect to be a growth engine for the next decade.
14. Recently completed infrastructure including Te Pae convention centre, the Lyttelton cruise berth, the soon to open Te Kaha and Taiwhanga Rehia (Metro Sports centre), together with a renewed and revitalised CBD, has allowed Ōtautahi Christchurch to relaunch nationally and globally, with the city now being able to participate in several segments it had been unable to since the Canterbury Earthquakes. Specifically, conference and incentive, cruise and sports events. Accessing these sectors presents a unique opportunity for Christchurch to re-establish itself as a premier destination for conferences, events, tourism and education.
15. The Council, as the ultimate owner of entities such as Christchurch Airport, Lyttelton Port and Venues Ōtautahi, derives a direct return from its investment in growing the visitor economy. Indirectly there is a multiplier effect for the local economy for this investment. For example, conferences at Te Pae are estimated to enable the equivalent of 2 additional A320's of domestic visitors and one international flight through the Airport every week. Those visitors stay multiple evenings and spread throughout the region supporting the local visitor economy and beyond.

16. ChristchurchNZ indicates in FY22-23 the $2.9m invested in major events generated $35.8m in visitor spending with a return on investment of 11:1. This multiplier grew to 35:1 when invested in business events. The $500K invested in business events during FY23-24 is expected to return $25.8M over 5 years to 2028. ChristchurchNZ forecast the return to Ōtautahi Christchurch from investing in event funding over the next ten years could be in the region of $670m.
17. Major events provide other benefits beyond economic impact including city brand profile, visitation, legacy outcomes including infrastructure and community benefits.

The Council should increase bid funding to be able to continue to attract major international sports, business and music events.

18. As a member of the Ōtautahi Christchurch community, Christchurch Airport acknowledges the inclusion of event bid funding for major and business events, could add 0.4% onto rates next year.
19. The Council has made, and continues to make, large capital investments in events infrastructure, much of it is world class. That investment has been well positioned and has secured Ōtautahi Christchurch's seat back at the highly competitive international sports, business and music events table. In the absence of operational investment, Ōtautahi Christchurch is less likely be able to leverage its investment in that infrastructure and fully re-establish itself as a premier destination.
20. Growing our engine room to support our city will require a thriving visitor economy. As the Council seeks greater returns from its commercial undertakings over the course of the Long-term Plan 2024-34 period, it is in the city's interests those events and activities that provide a return to it, whether through positive social, wellbeing or economic impacts or through financial returns from its ultimate investment in city assets and infrastructure, are themselves supported.

I FEEL BECAUSE COSTS GO UP EVERY YEAR
THE BID FUNDING AMOUNT SHOULD RISE
ACCORDINGLY TO KEEP UP WITH THE RATE OF INFLATION AND COSTS.

281 - Selwyn Gamble

Please increase it, like seriously I'm a young person and so many of my friends have already left Christchurch because there is no night life. I don't just mean going to clubs either, I mean genuinely exciting things to see and do. It's such a sleepy town which is great if you want to raise a family but it's genuinely suffocating as a young person. For instance, once Te Kaha is built - Christchurch should only be second to Auckland for getting the biggest music arts performing there, we are the biggest city in the South Island but all the big artists go to Dunedin and that desperately needs to change.

2830 - Fiona Bennetts

I believe there should be a moderate increase in bid funding. Bidding on these events can provide a significant return on investment for businesses and create an excellent environment for residents.

2845 - Erin Todd

These events provide a significant return on investments, so there should be a moderate increase in bid funding.

2848 - Glen Koorey

As part of Chch's rebuild, having more events here and getting our name back on the world stage is important to attracting greater visitor numbers and increasing business revenue.

2854 - Annabel Turley (Christchurch Central City Business Association)

Major events provide economic benefits that provide an impressive return on investment. Also, major events are key in enhancing the city's brand, increasing visitation, and fostering legacy outcomes, including infrastructure development and community enrichment. We fully support the proposed increase in bid funding for major events in Christchurch. It is evident that the Council's investments in events infrastructure have been substantial, and it is now imperative to compliment these capital investments with operational funding to fully activate this infrastructure and realise maximum returns on investment. The data from the 22-23 financial year speaks volumes about the positive economic impact of major events. With an investment of $2.9 million, the city witnessed a remarkable $35.8 million in visitor spending, an impressive return on investment of 11:1. Similarly, in the following fiscal year, a mere $500,000 investment in business events resulted in a significant return of $25.8 million over a five-year period, projecting an exceptional ROI of 35:1. The forecasted ROI for the fund over the next decade stands at a staggering $670 million, as illustrated in the accompanying graphic.

The Mayor's introduction says - now is the time One of the four pillars is for the city to be the cultural powerhouse of Aotearoa New Zealand. However we have never invested in arts or events product. Now is the time to make small relative investments to in turn bring investment to Christchurch. Entrepreneurs, Tech companies and even government departments won't move to Christchurch unless we're competitive in vibrancy. We have never invested in Arts Festivals like Auckland and Wellington (their cities fund their festivals $1m+ each). The impact that Major events such as Sail GP are making PR, visitation and trade wise are the first to be seen in decades. We need to invest now to fill our new venues in 10 years. It takes time to build . Let's fill the venues with quality arts content, not just second rate bands that we can afford at Te Kaa when it opens.

We have venues to use and fill - it will take us. time to get at winning bids. We need to start now to fill them. If we get Major Events (and invariably they are not arts events, as arts events need to be created of this place) we should ensure arts content and leverage opportunities are built around them.

2886 - David Fleming

2976 - Reinier Eulink (Crowne Plaza Christchurch)

We believe that major events in Christchurch are key to many businesses small and large and make a big difference to our city. We will have world class facilities especially when the stadium and Metro Sports Facility have been completed, this should be supported with sufficient funds to attract events into the city. On that basis we believe that funding should be increased to major events.

We believe that major events in Christchurch are key to many businesses small and large and make a big difference to our city. We will have world class facilities especially when the stadium and Metro Sports Facility have been completed, this should be supported with sufficient funds to attract major events into the second largest city in New Zealand. On that basis we believe that funding should be increased to major events in order to grow revenue for all businesses in the city. The impact that for example a concert or International Rugby game has on the city is significant. Hotels, Bars and Restaurants will be busy, in turn fruit veg and meat suppliers as well as laundry companies, airport, taxis and not to forget the teams working in these facilities will have many hours and earn. In turn this will be spent back into the Christchurch wider community / economy. We are becoming a great city and are the envy of many other New Zealand cities, we need to continue this momentum and become the city that everyone wants to visit. There is no point in having these amazing facilities if they are not being used as intended.

2979 - Zac Beckett-Knight (Late Knight Productions Limited)

We are not opposed to event bid funding for the region as long as the event has a net financial gain for the region and is able to return any investment required to secure the event.

2989 - Lee Robinson

[Spending > Our Capital Programme (General), Three Waters > Waste Water (capital), Grants and Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

No, there is too much capital expenditure of a wasteful nature (e.g Akaroa wastewater as one example) and not enough focus on funding that has an investment return to our city, - Events, Arts Centre as but two examples.

If we don't invest in events in this city we do not receive the visitor numbers we need (e.g Australian Cricket Test circa $1 million returned to the community, English Cricket Test circa estimated $3-4 million returned to the community. Presently Cricket itself has had to underwrite $80k to secure the English Test which is money that should be going to the community Cricket game and assisting our young kids to get out and play their sport. It's the city's role to invest in events not sporting organisations.

2992 - Marian Robinson

[Spending > Our Capital Programme]

We need to focus on events, infrastructure and invest in projects that provide a return to the city.

We need events in this city and the Council to back them

2999 - Reuben Woods (Watch This Space & The Flare Street Art Festival)

Major events have a huge impact on the city's activation and the benefits spread beyond the primary event itself - major events help to facilitate the city's need to provide wider attractions - from hospitality and retail to destination and public space initiatives. We support increased and ongoing investment into major event bid that span a wide range of interests.

3026 - Tony Smail (Canterbury Rugby)

I believe that for Christchurch to fulfil it's vision of being a leader in NZ in the creative space - it must attract major events, big names for its residents.

3136 - John Hynes

3170 - Derek Doddington (Top Dog Theatre)

3177 - Dan Lucas

3280 - Megan Cassim

3384 - Robert Biggs

We should not miss out on attracting major events. There is little point in having all the buildings that have been built since the Earthquakes if people and events do not visit. Everyone enjoys the buzz that they engender.

3405 - Selina Faimalo (Flare Ōtautahi Street Art Festival)

Large-scale events significantly influence the city's vibrancy, extending their benefits well beyond the event's duration. They play a crucial role in bolstering the city's appeal, encompassing various sectors like hospitality, retail, and urban development. We advocate for continued and expanded investment in diverse major events that cater to a wide array of interests.

Important and bring money to the city. Sail GP meant lots of people in the city who were spending. There was too much consultation on this. Too many people.

344 - Aaron Herriott

More events = more revenue for the city, simple. Some we need back to break even with this new stadium. We might as well use it right?

3486 - Kelly Chapman

A lot of money has been invested in our facilities. It would seem a shame that these facilities are not utilised to their full potential after all this time and investment.

Libraries, the Art Gallery, and The Arts Centre have an important role in the city and the quality of residents lives.

Its important to the city that the Art Centre survives and flourishes. We have so few heritage buildings left. Let's value what we have

3497 - Cerys Fletcher

There should be a moderate increase in bid funding.

3498 - Lucas Tomasi

It will be expensive but I believe we should increase event funding especially since we are already building a lot of new sports and event infrastructure. It will help drastically to encourage domestic and international tourists to spend time and money in our city

3500 - James Wallis

Bid funding will support the city to grow and gain attention around the country. It is needed to restore confidence in Christchurch

3529 - Marc Duff

Bringing events to the City is a vital cog in the well being of the City and events hosted in our city benefit everyone from taxi drivers, to those working in hospo to those that own hospo outlets. At a time when times are tough we should be encouraging extra events to protect jobs in our city and support business. If we don't increase our bid funding, we are only allowing other councils a foot in the door and to be in a better place when we see economic recovery. It compliments the saying that in times of depression, companies that invest are the ones that will flourish when the economic tide turns.

3558 - Patrick Kennedy

A moderate increase is reasonable. We have spent/are spending huge amounts of money on Te Kaha, Te Pae, and Parakiore. Attracting large events is the whole reason for these projects in the first place.

3598 - Kyle Sutherland

With the enormous burden being placed on ratepayers to fund Te Kaha, now is not the time to cut funding to attract international events.

360 - Wendy Pollock

To make the best return to citizens for the enormous amounts spent on Te Pae and Te Kaha the city must attract events

3607 - Mike Percasky

- This summer was the first summer since 2011 that I really felt Otago is back to pre-earthquake success and in so many ways is better than before and offers tourists and locals an incredible experience rivaling city's much bigger than us with much bigger budgets. As a city we 'punch above our weight' and that is due to a lot of hard work and risk taking, not just from the private sector, but also from CCC and ChristchurchNZ. In my opinion now is not the time to take our foot off the gas! • ChristchurchNZ are a key strategic partner to the private sector and with their economic lens, they are able to help facilitate private public partnerships that ensure Otautahi continues to invest in events, international partnerships and long-term projects that will continue to put Otautahi on the map. They know that any successful city needs continual investment to grow and to flourish and they have the data to prove that the money they are investing is just that, an investment. The data I have seen shows for every $1 invested in major events there is an $11 return in visitor spending and for business events, that increases to $35 for every $1 invested. That increase in visitor spend is critical to the survival of thousands of small businesses who all benefit from these events. • The world is becoming more and more competitive, when it comes to securing events and the days of sitting back and hoping event organisers will choose our city, are long gone. That is because other councils have crunched the numbers too, and realise the economic benefits of events to their city and are therefore willing to pay to secure events. • We are lucky to have some incredible event infrastructure in Otautahi, all within walking distance of the CBD. Te Pai, Hagley Park, Hagley Oval and soon Parakiore (Recreation and sports centre), and Te Kaha. We need to empower ChristchurchNZ and give them the resources to continue to secure fantastic events, that attract people from all over NZ and beyond to attend and spend their money in our city. • I support additional event bid funding in this LTP.

3622 - Jono de Wit

It makes no sense to spend massive amounts of money on Te Kaha and then not provide any (or enough) funding to support bringing events to the new stadium.

3623 - Jessica Adams

Everything should be done to encourage large events and not hinder them eg SailGP

3624 - Noeline Marsh

It's important to be able to attract events here even at a cost. It keeps the city alive and may well mean revenue is gathered or brought into the city as an aside to the event. Other businesses may profit which helps everyone.

3627 - Patrick O'Kane

I think increasing the bid funding as it will likely provide a large return to the city if we can host big events (All blacks, concerts).

3661 - Steph Walker

If Council were to increase the bid funding, I think it should be focused on making Te Kaha the best success it can be in its first 5 years so that it develops itself as THE place for big music events in Te Wai Pounamu, alongside sporting events which I feel will more naturally gravitate. I don't think anyone wants any subsequent bail outs for the stadium so setting it up for success with this fundings seems crucial to me. Let's learn from Dunedin!

3690 - Jono de Wit (Greater Ōtautahi)

We believe there should be a moderate increase in bid funding. Bidding on these events can provide a significant return on investment for businesses and create an excellent environment for residents.

3691 - Deb Hawke

It is essential that Christchurch is able to compete and win this business. It would be a shame to build a new stadium and not have funds to bid for events to ensure it is well used for a variety of purposes.

3704 - Logan Cane

With an emphasis in the first few years on events that will provide the greatest return on investment for the entire city, and an outright exclusion of events that are a net loss. For example, without proof, I would imagine a Super 15 rugby game probably doesn't bring in as much revenue as an international musical act as no one really comes to Christchurch specifically to watch a domestic rugby game. Once the rates increase for the stadium is gone, then it can be used for more diverse uses that may not necessarily be hugely profitable. Especially if it is supporting local culture.

3706 - Ellie Stevenson

I'm all for just bringing in business events and the like that generate return on investment and are part of a tangible future strategy. >>> [Other/Special Interest Topics > Commonwealth Games]

372 - Kyle Bluck

I just have some concern for how the arts always dies when money is tight, but without the arts, economic problems snowball because the city loses its soul, no one wants to visit, culture and community dies, social issues increase, etc.

3738 - Finn Jackson

It doesn't make sense to reduce major events funding at the time that Te Kaha opens, so a moderate increase seems sensible. Having said that, this isn't a personal priority.

3741 - Kevin Spaul

I suppose the CCC has to pay for the new Stadium some how

3751 - Tom Rainey

With the new stadium coming on stream, we must build on the massive investment already made by helping to fill this expensive asset as much as possible.

376 - Mattias Wieland

It only makes sense to use the facilities we have built and are building. Christchurch needs to back itself to become a world-class city.

3768 - Tracey Klatt

It's good to have lots of local events here so that we don't have to travel elsewhere in NZ (or overseas) for them - let's bid harder!

3801 - Victor (aka Vince) Eichholtz

Use of Te Kaha MUST maximise it's potential to bring increased spending into the city.

3806 - Simon Green

It's a no brainer. Spend money to make money.

3812 - Nick Paris

Essential to tip the momentum of Christchurch to attract cashed up millennials into a more upwards worm...

3826 - Kate Cleverly

Christchurch needs to complete the major sports and event infrastructure still outstanding post earthquake and needs to allow for the opportunity to host events. There is no point building the facilities if we cannot attract major events to fill them.

3832 - Karen Atkinson

The more events we attract the more comes into the economy.

3860 - Kate Cleverly (Halswell Community Hub)

There is no point building facilities if the city cannot attract major events to them

3862 - Katharine Metherell

I would go to more events and spend locally if things came to Christchurch - it is not practical to travel to Auckland for events.

3866 - Nicki Carter (Carter Group)

The funding would be used to attract more major and business events. As a city have invested in the infrastructure for major events and it does not make sense not to invest in operational funding to attract major and business events to Christchurch. The projected return on investment for the fund over ten years is $670m. The whole Christchurch economy would benefit from the return on investment from the additional event bid funding.

3887 - Michael Patterson (Commodore Airport Hotel Ltd)

We are a major employer and put quite simply Events means Jobs for our employees.

3917 - Bob Thayer

These events bring visitors to our city.

3957 - Anne Scott (Spokes Canterbury)

We believe there should be some increase in bid funding. Bidding on these events can provide a significant return on investment for businesses, help pay the cost of the infrastructure, and create an excellent environment for residents.

3962 - Malia Hay (Voices Co. Academy)

[Grants and Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

Clearly both Events and creative arts are important to the Christchurch economy, so it would be great to see this supported locally (i.e. The Arts Centre); as well as looking at bids nationally and internationally.

3976 - Elizabeth Pugh

We will have a beautiful new stadium - Warm and dry to watch sports events. I understand that "bids" need to be made for concerts - major artists - Funding should be increased to encourage these artists to come to the Sth Island.

4016 - Joanne Zervos

With Te Kaha & Parakiore opening we need to be prepared but do we start now? or wait for year 2?

4018 - Winston Howison

Christchurch and Banks Peninsula benefit greatly from high profile events and it should be a priority to generate economic activity.

4025 - Robin Wynne-Williams

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Commonwealth]

Increase the bid funding and actively bid for international events, eg the Para Olympics, the winter Olympics, the commonwealth games, international water events for the Event lake at the Bottle Lake area., repeat the recent sailing regatta at Lyttelton and many other events, eg a major motor, equestrian and loads of other events. The saying “to accumulate you have to speculate” while maintaining “the champaign image on a beer income” by cutng waste, over heads, and unnecessary extravagance, and keeping the money in Christchurch;

4036 - Mike Baeck

If it takes a slight rate increase to attract more events and make the new stadium pay for itself I would like to see that happen.

46 - Karin Lange

Use it while balancing capital gain with significance in terms of increased overseas traffic due to cool, culture enriching events in the arts!

47 - Jamie Billings

Events are great for attracting tourists, with a new stadium this should be a focus.

486 - Neil McConachie

Happy to see this additional funding.⁸

496 - Simon Liddy

Great idea, we need to be able to attract more events to the city and especially when Te Kaha is complete, being able to compete and out perform Eden Park is very important.

531 - Cameron Bradley

I don't want the next Taylor Swift to skip Christchurch

555 - Jemma Balmer

Events are important to the city and its businesses. It makes Chch a vibrant and exciting place to live. I am in favour of increasing this.

582 - Prunella Harris

I wish we didn't need to increase rates to do this! But I think it's important to bring life and help businesses thrive in our city. Sail GP was fantastic and I'd like to see a way forward explored to host this event again. I'm also a dolphin fan but surely there would be a modern and safe method of discouraging these mammals from the course. It's only a few days every two years!

597 - Ashleigh Dickson

Bidding for events is critical to bring people to the city. This encourages spending and revenue for local businesses.

601 - David Ralph

We need to have big events, concerts etc, attract people to Christchurch. This helps bring in revenue for many business's.

608 - Patrick Clarke

[Spending>Te Kaha]

We should double down on these events and facilitate CHCH as the go to venue for events. especially to recoup and prove the value that has been put into the new stadium.

614 - Anabel Darby

New, regenerative infrastructure like Te Pae Christchurch Convention Centre (funded by the Crown and gifted to Christchurch) has turned Christchurch into a vibrant city attracting millions into the city from successful business events. Te Kaha will do the same for major events. Without ongoing operational investment from Council, business events will go elsewhere to Auckland, Wellington's new convention centres, or to Australia. Ongoing investment to attract and win bids for major conferences is absolutely essential.

- Business events provide other benefits beyond economic impact including business attraction, knowledge sharing and support in developing clusters of interest.
- Destinations must match 1:1 funding from Tourism New Zealand when attracting international conferences. Without a Christchurch bid fund, Christchurch will lose out on the vital TNZ bid fund to attract international conferences. This TNZ money will go to Auckland and Wellington to boost their new convention centres instead. • Business events are a huge boost for the city in off-peak months (March – November), keeping accommodation, hospitality, attraction and retail busy during normally quiet months.

615 - Michael JasonSmith

I think funding for events should be increased. In my experience, the Major Events that are supported by The Council are well chosen. SailGP was a fantastic success and showcase for the city – despite misplaced critiques from Sir Russell Coutts. Even events that are supported in a small way, such as the Extreme Solar Systems conference held in March 2023, bring in hundreds of people from around the World that become ambassadors for The City. I have often enjoyed events without even attending them: it is just nice to know they are on as one travels past the venue setting up or seeing people head off to the event.

637 - Bernice Swain

I think major events brings lots of benefits to our city and so they are worth pursuing.

675 - Trevor Thornton

Extensive stakeholder consultation with over 50 groups and organisations undertaken as part of the feasibility study into the multiuse arena identified the key issues that must be resolved if Christchurch is to strengthen its appeal as a vibrant city

They were:

The livability of Christchurch and its reputation is a 21st century with " things to do"

Ability to compete with other cities and attracting major events and concerts

Keeping expenditure in the city and within the Canterbury region

The return of Private sector investment confidence to the city

The attraction and retention of young people to the city who are currently choosing to work and study elsewhere

Return of city and regional pride.

The report to Council on 12 December 2019, when you made the decision to build the new multiuse arena included the Council's desired community outcomes

Strong communities: celebration of our identity through arts culture heritage and sport

Liveable city: vibrant and thriving central city

Prosperous economy: modern and robust city infrastructure and community facilities

I understand you have to balance the books and there is a limit to what you can expect Christchurch ratepayers to contribute. However, your previous decisions have supported what the community asked for and I encourage you to be consistent in your approach by including the Bid Incentive Fund in the Christchurch City rates for 2024/ 25 and beyond. To push pause is contrary to what stakeholders want, what you have agreed to deliver and will be a lost opportunity to stimulate the regions economy

695 - Patrick O'Sullivan

The level of investment should increase to ensure the utilisation of Te Kaha and other venues.

699 - Helen Reddecliffe

I did not support the additional investment in the super flash Te Kaha. However, now that it is going ahead it is absolutely critical that it is able to secure events so it is used.

724 - Sophie Cooney

When there's more things on in Christchurch, it brings so much money into our economy- just because it attracts tourists and tourists spend here. Would be wonderful if there's more concerts and sporting events once Te Kaha is finished!

754 - Bradley Conder

Not funding major events or business events will reduce the city's appeal for holidays, conferences or domestic migration.

add more to major events funding. it all comes with a strong return on investment for the city

This increase still represents a operating deficit on 2023 for ChchNZ and the Major events fund. auckland is spending 15 million you are proposing 1 million

756 - Jonathan Harrington

[Recreation, Sports & Events > Events]

I would like to see support for arts, events and festivals ahead of new city infrastructure opening.

761 - Carol Groves

Hopefully by spending money you make more money in the long term.

770 - Yuri Ponstijn (Carnmore Hotel Christchurch)

Funding to attract major sports, business and music events is critical to the economy. Why build Te Kaha then to not be able to have a full schedule of events. We must be able to attract these major events to boost the local economy.

771 - Chris Foubister

our new vibrant city needs events, no good having a fabulous new stadium if no one comes to 'play' in it

774 - Frank Webster

Anything to strengthen connections to the outside world. Major events help to create counter-balances to our geographical isolation.

780 - Kirsten Templeton

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?]

Not if you are planning to cut bid financing to bring large scales events to the city. Surely the balance is out of whack then with the investment in the stadium only for it to sit empty?

Increased bid funding is vital to securing major events into the city - from which everyone benefits

I am writing to you as an international keynote speaker, deeply involved in High-Performance sport and multi-national corporate training , to express my concern regarding the absence of bid funding for business and major events in the draft Long Term Plan (LTP) currently open for feedback.

The proposition of additional event bid funding is critical for Christchurch to continue attracting lucrative Australian and international conferences. These events not only contribute significantly to our local economy but also enhance the city's global standing and provide invaluable opportunities for knowledge exchange and professional development within our community. I host prime ministers, and Fortune 500 CEOs each and every week and they often ask me where in the Southern Hemisphere is the best place for their annual conferences and conventions - Christchurch being my go-to of course.

Bid funding serves as a cornerstone for securing high-profile events, which are instrumental in driving visitor spending and elevating the city's reputation. The absence of such funding would notably diminish our ability to compete on an international scale, potentially sidelining Christchurch in favour of destinations with more aggressive funding strategies. And I know from personal insights that other cities are making this a key priority.

Historical data underscores the value of investing in business events. For instance, the $2.9 million allocated to major events in the FY 22-23 catalyzed $35.8 million in visitor spending, showcasing an impressive 11:1 ROI. Similarly, the $500k investment in business events for the FY 23-24 is projected to yield $25.8 million over five years, reflecting a remarkable 35:1 ROI. These figures highlight the tangible economic benefits of strategic event funding and support the case for its inclusion in the LTP. It's a no-brainer in my opinion.

Beyond their economic contributions, business and major events play a pivotal role in enhancing Christchurch's brand, attracting international visitors, and leaving a lasting legacy that extends to infrastructure improvements and community enrichment. Notably, business events have proven effective in attracting international delegates during off-peak months, promoting year-round tourism stability. I've lived here for twenty years and navigated the challenges along with every other Christchurch resident. Now is our moment to really shine, but we can only do that with your support and leadership.

The exclusion of bid funding from the LTP poses significant risks, including the potential forfeiture of matched funding from Tourism New Zealand. This would not only hinder our ability to attract international conferences but also compromise the broader benefits associated with such events, including business attraction, knowledge sharing, and the fostering of specialized interest clusters.

In light of the above, I strongly advocate for the inclusion of bid funding for business events in the LTP. This funding is not merely an expenditure but an investment in Christchurch's future—economically, culturally, and socially. I urge the Council to recognize the multifaceted value that business and major events contribute to our city and to ensure that Christchurch remains a competitive, vibrant, and attractive destination for international events.

816 - Murray Dickinson

We will have a new Multi-use arena and we need to invest to attract events. Ultimately a successful Multi-use Arena will have significant economic benefits, and revitalise the CBD.

818 - Bevan Phillipson

None acceptable.

[Coder note: believe comma is missing after 'none'. This question asked "do you have any comments on the additional event bid funding proposal?"]

821 - Hannah McGowan

spend more on supporting local musicians & giving them a platform, especially unusual bands like Christchurch's Moider Mother who bring an original & international sound to this city.

856 - Ralph Hobbs

Not my priority but I believe this would be worthwhile for the city and worth the money.

860 - Gaynor Stanley

[Grants and Funding>Events Ecosystem Funding]

[Grants and Funding>Arts Centre Funding]

Major events as an attraction to fill city coffers and enhance city life are important - and the Arts Centre's continued existence and enhancement has a vital support role to play.

Canterbury Cricket Trust

Submission Christchurch City Council – Long Term Plan – Funding for Events in Christchurch

1. Events are extremely important to the City, they are fundamental to our image, our sport and recreation, our culture and our people.
 2. As importantly, they are an economic benefit to the City and they must be pursued and promoted and vigorously support our cities exposure for tourism and our cities businesses.
 3. Our exposure on the international stage is vital to the City's wellbeing, its' tourist industry and those in business that take risk in relying on the tourist and retail dollar.
 4. We are concerned, however, that cricket and other partners who provide the services and support for these events are required, at the moment, to fund or, at least, underwrite these events. It is unacceptable, unsustainable and untenable for those responsible for promoting sport, thereby providing recreation and wellbeing for our young participants, to be left to fund or underwrite events that the City should, and has, until this long-term plan, been responsible for.
 5. By way of example, Cricket has had to underwrite $80,000 to try and seek the scheduling of a proposed English Cricket test in Christchurch in November / December 2024. As we have reiterated this is simply not sustainable.
 6. Quite apart from the fact that that it is not the sports and various organisations objectives, these third parties are not for profits and often charitable; such commercial funding arguably does not come within the objects, often charitable, of these organisations.
 7. Cricket needs funds for the growth and development of its game. This is at the community level for school children and participants and clubs. It should not be funding or underwriting facilities and events and, in other words, subsidising the City to do its job, like other councils around the country are currently doing.
 8. It is strongly urged that the City funds events from its own resources. Sports in particular must have its own money for its kids, its youth, its participants to enable growth of the sport and promote health and culture.
 9. There are multiple examples of the City pursuing expenditure where its priorities are concerning. These need to be critiqued and reconsidered in many respects.
 10. In the meantime, we would urge and encourage the Council to adopt its alternative option for funding bids for major events. This would comply with its previously stated policies that are set out below. The City should fund these events rather than compromise its future vitality and promotion. A 0.42% increase in rates should not deter the city from complying with its previously stated obligations.
 11. Why would the City not invest in events, when its return on investment will provide $650M over the next ten years. This for a modest increase in the rate levy.
 12. We would remind the Council of its previous intentions when a decision to build a multi-use arena was made.
 - Strong communities;

- Celebration of identity through arts, culture, heritage and sport;
 - Livable city;
 - Vibrant and thriving central city;
 - Prosperous economy
 - Modern and robust city infrastructure and community facilities.
13. The latest proposal where there are no funds in the budget for events seems to fly in the face of these outcomes. The city resolved to strengthen its appeal as a vibrant city in the following manner:
- The livability of Christchurch and its reputation in a 21st Century “things to do” city;
 - Ability to compete with other cities and attract major events and concerts;
 - Keeping expenditure in the city;
 - The return of private sector investment confidence in the city;
 - The attraction and retention of young people to the city who are currently choosing to work and study elsewhere; and
 - Return of city and retail pride

We have done the hard work to provide and plan for these facilities. Now let's use them. Businesses have invested in the CBD in anticipation of having events now and not having to wait another three years in terms of the Councils considered options.

902 - Karen McElhinney

We are now well on track to having our amazing stadium. We need to have it in use as much as possible. The same applies to Te Pae and the Town Hall, sports venues etc.

911 - Aaron Winder (BreakFree on Cashel)

Christchurch needs more major events. We get very limited events and mainly over summer. Winter in Christchurch is a difficult time for Hospitality and with a new covered stadium on the way we need to make the most of bringing events to the City to help the business that have been waiting 13 years for this.

918 - Gina Dellabarca (Show Me Shorts Film Festival Trust)

Attracting major events to the city is highly beneficial for residents, and local businesses.

Oppose

1 - Aidan Sheard

We're not ready for it anyway. Wait till the stadium is finished.

1008 - Angela McPherson

This is discretionary but will we miss out on events if funding reduced

1071 - Brian Donovan

At this stage the answer would be no due to economic circumstances and challenges around our water infrastructure

1104 - Kate Bevin

I think it's a good idea to keep funding as it is until our economy recovers from the "recession" and then look at increasing funding for events.

1158 - Sheryl Elson

It should stay as it is .

116 - Jarrod Coburn

I have grave doubts whether spending the money to attract big events actually benefits the City economically. Often figures will be calculated using questionable methodologies and then there is no further examination when the event is over. Do the Councillors ever see post-major-event reports to show whether the economic benefits were realised? It would be nice if the CCC could regularly report on/publish those outcomes.

1175 - Jonathan Ludgater

If it will not pay for itself the rate payer should not be paying

1203 - David Moore

Let's get the basics right before spending more money on non-essentials.

1216 - Glenn Maguire

Let promotion be the job of promoters

1235 - Alex Edge

Now is not the time. We need the facilities anyway (ie finished stadium)

128 - Elizabeth Ackermann

This is only of interest to some people..events. most rate payers live a life just enjoying our nature. Im in Lyttelton and the Sailgp is great but we actually don't need it to make our lives more enjoyable

1282 - Kelvin Lynn

Reduce expenditure in this area. It does help the average family struggling to make ends meet.

1326 - Allison Oneill

stop trying to play with the big boys when you are broke

133 - Alan Mears

Needs to be justified

1335 - Julie Turner

We haven't got the money leave it as it is, maybe in ten years time we maybe in a better financial situation

1373 - Luke Lagan

[Grants & Funding > ChristchurchNZ Funding (General)]

Really, we've just lost the opportunity to host sail GP going forward. Why increase funding when CCC can't even retain bids that you've previously won?

1418 - Wayne Biddorff

Reduce bid funding.

1436 - Victoria Andrews

I do not support the Events Ecosystem Fund in relation to ChristchurchNZ (plus an additional $700,000 fee) or paying for the All Blacks to play a game of rugby in Christchurch or to pay for SailGP to perform in the Lyttelton harbour. Bid Funding for major and business events, page 49, is all about ensuring that “we can host world class events in Christchurch” at the same time as many ratepayers are struggling to put food on the table and pay their ever increasing rates. Let the business and sporting community underwrite the expense if it is so important, not ratepayers.

15 - Sara Currey

Hosting anything that costs more is not smart. We are trying to rain in spending not create more

1508 - Mb Brennan

would be quite happy with even less

1533 - Mark George

Often the bid funding is a cost to ratepayers but the benefit goes to business people.

1541 - Maurice Adler

Only spend on what is really really needed.

1546 - Robert Fleming

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating A climate Fund]

It is a trade off. Major events aren't always compatible with our climate change goals and as we have seen with SailGP, controversial. I'm opposed to having to 'bid' for an event; the benefits aren't necessarily guaranteed for the ratepayers. I think the section below - More investment in adapting to climate change, should take precedence over our event funding.

1616 - David Thomson

It's not really sustainable to be increasing rates to fund events that benefit a small percentage of rates holders. At some point you have to say no.

1617 - Jack Swannell

Bring down the cost of event bid funding. I fail to see why rate payers should contribute so much towards these events. Most locals do not attend and the economic benefit is for a few business owners.

1640 - Veronica Leigh-Ogden

We haven't got a complex that's finished enough to take on major events so no don't increase it.

1657 - Victoria Panckhurst

Where's your tick box for reducing the bidding?

1672 - Dickson Wong

Successful bidding will have a positive impact to the local economy and generate income for council as well. So increase in bidding doesn't have to be passed on to the local residents as the council stands to benefit from these events as well

1674 - Susan Galbraith

I'm all for supporting things that bring people to Christchurch. 0.42% increase seems reasonable

17 - Sandra Pilet

Leave them till you actually have money to spend

1737 - Tim O'Sullivan

Please reduce the bid funding. I know that this expenditure falls under the rubric of "bread and circuses" and there is some role for the Council to provide the infrastructure necessary for events but a lot of these events are only of interest to small sections of the ratepaying public.

1764 - Chris Conwest

no

1778 - Jane Houghton

Whilst the expenditure is so high, the council needs to prioritise paying off debts as a lot of money is in interest and remove the non-essential such as more statues, events in Christchurch - at the moment we have NYE, Sparks in the Park, etc, etc.

1780 - Alison Griffith-Collins

Christchurch is a small-ish city. Too small to host many major international sporting events.

1792 - Laura Parkes

I do not believe that this is a sustainable idea.

1793 - Pamela Hughes

I do not care about providing international sports business or music events - they are icing on the cake and I think we can do without them

180 - Kevin McSweeney

We should not spend any money on event bid funding (or for the events themselves). The operators and participants should meet all costs (including being charged for use of infrastructure and facilities and a dividend to compensate for the inconvenience to the general public). This is simply a rort to get ratepayers to subsidize the events and activities

1826 - Jacqui Hudson

Ratepayers can't afford any more increases

1827 - John Rice

Don't bid for major events at all they seem to just add costs to ratepayers.

1864 - Kylie Williams

Dont try and fix stuff thats not broken all you are doing is making more people struggle an ery unhappy and in cases homeless.

1931 - Roz Kinraid

I am not convinced hosting events is the solution. Providing a sustainable liveable city for residents should be the priority.

1977 - Nicholas Lealand

More investment in adapting to climate change

20 - Ross Williamson

Involve more Council private partnerships to help defray costs.

2061 - Charlotte Hollywood

Waste of money

2065 - Robin Lake

I do not support an increase for additional event bid funding. I expect that once Te Kaha is completed there will be a "novelty" factor about the venue which will attract events and audiences. I think we should maintain current funding and review the situation perhaps 12-24 months after Te Kaha is operational. The venue needs to be self-supporting as much as possible.

2084 - Sarah Donaldson

This is a luxury that doesn't bring in true return on investment.

2115 - Billie Kaine

I doubt if increasing the possibility of me having to sell my house is far more important than a major event. Doesn't even come close. So so many individuals are in the same boat.

2172 - Tobias McKellar

The city does not need to bid for more events

2191 - Cassandra Hannington

Increase bid funding when the stadium is actually complete.

2269 - Lyn Leslie (Te Pātaka o Rākohautū Banks Peninsula Community Board)

The Board encourages Council to leave the bid funding for major and business events at current levels in the Draft LTP.

2289 - Leonie Jackson

It would be great to have more support for Arts events eg. choral festivals such as the World Choir Games, which Auckland is hosting this year. We have a city brimming with musical (not just rock bands!!) talent. This should be recognised - not just sporting talent.

2300 - Katinka Visser

NO!!! - No events should happen until the wastewater is sorted

2340 - Hazel Sligting

Leave it. The events only benefit a small portion of the rates payers but if funded by all of them. Focus on the important work of fixing the city, clean it up and then spend money on events.

235 - Louise Sturgess

Our hotels barely have the capacity at the moment when there are two or more significant events on.

2355 - Iain Sanders

Don't increase event bid funding.

2367 - Stephen Conti

Sail gp and the convention centre.....what a joke!

2396 - Sam Jenkins

We should not be spending money on bidding for events when we haven't finished any of the locations they might suitably be held.

240 - Bella Zilber

This is of lower importance to me

2417 - Victor Vergara

Again, I will be paying more rates for events that are not for everyone. Is this the right time to increase the bid funding? maybe not...

243 - Peter Townsend

Bid funding needs to be carefully prioritised to ensure the optimal impact on our wider community.

2466 - Tracey Cloughly

We need to use the resources wisely, not over spend and get this city tidied up. Still a lot of things not sorted from earthquakes.

2471 - Jennifer Taylor

Major events should be financially self-supporting.

2497 - Carolyn Lynn

Do we really need to fork out money for these events. I find it difficult to reconcile paying money and the purported gains for the local community. What are the real economic rewards as opposed to best guest of commentators.

25 - Ben Hart

Whilst there is a cost for this I feel this is important to attract events into the city to enhance the wellbeing for all and capitalise on economic benefit of events.

2504 - Sarah van der Burch

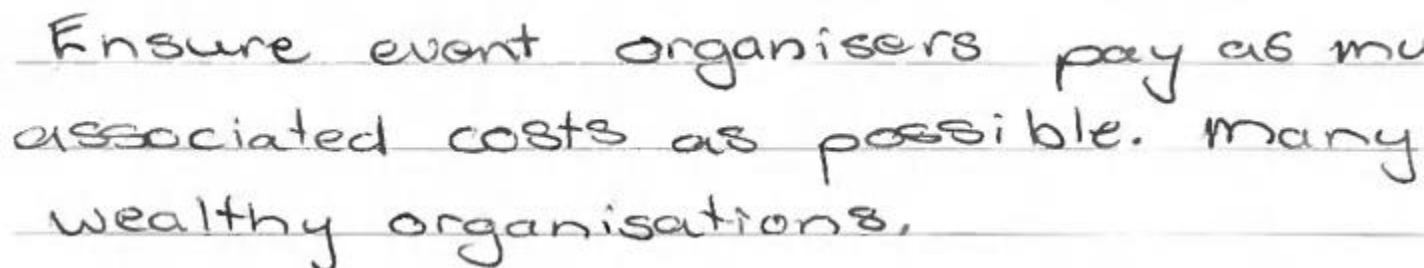

[Grants & Funding > ChristchurchNZ Funding (General)]

Please dont put any more funding into bringing tourists or events to CHC.

Please do not add any additional money to attracting events or tourists.

2511 - Charlaine Palmer

Ensure event organisers pay as much associated costs as possible. Many wealthy organisations.

2514 - Jeannie Murtagh

[Grants & Funding > ChristchurchNZ Funding (General), Strategic Direction > Additional savings and Efficiencies]

As above! We should not be funding elitist events for a very small percentage of the city's population.

2520 - Graeme Fraser (Diamond Harbour Community Association)

I think that there is too much focus given to attracting large events to the city, at the expense of its ratepayers. We should concentrate on making the city work well as it is rather than building large conference centres, stadiums, and sports centres that then have to be filled to avoid bankruptcy.

2524 - Ruth Falconer

User pays

2525 - Adrienne Kimberly Georgine

I definitely do not believe we should increase bid funding.

2536 - Jennifer McDonald

[Spending>Te Kahu]

It's important to get 'Te Kahu' working hard to attract events that will bring people from all over the country & Australia.

2557 - Malcolm Warren

The amount spent on event attraction is already too high. The benefits of this spend are concentrated on vendors of liquor and accommodation. Consequently it is they who should pay, not average ratepayers. Spend on 'major' events does not benefit the majority of ratepayers nor does it improved the future wellbeing of our region.

2584 - Susan Stevens

Most ratepayers cannot afford an more increases.

2595 - Nicola Hely

I do not want to pay for this at all, and firmly believe there should be no increase.

2610 - Keith Harris (Akaroa District Promotions (ADP))

No. With the new stadium in place we believe it will attract events without additional funding. It is strange how Council can spend over a million dollars to attract a large-scale event to Christchurch city and not provide support for organisations within its boundaries who try to promote their areas to visitors.

2618 - Margaret Stewart

Bid funding for major and business events leave at current levels.

2640 - Wayne Hawker (New Brighton Museum)

It is not the core role of council to be bidding for these events. The primary benefactors of these events are within hospitality, hotel/motels, taxi/uber yet the majority of ratepayers are being asked to pay to simply help line their business pockets we have a morale obligation to better fund long term tourist attractions such as Orana Park, Antarctic Centre etc

2650 - Alexander Amies

We don't need

27 - Warner Wilson

If an event can't stand on its own with out council funds then it isn't needed or warranted it's a form of corporate welfare

2745 - Kate Latimer (Eastern Community Sport and Recreation Incorporated)

Bid funding isn't required to attract events as once you have the stadium near completion, concerts and games will come back to Christchurch as it has easy access via Intl routes and plenty of accomodation etc.

2746 - Helen Taylor

Not at the expense of The Arts Centre. We already have a facility for local community involvement in the arts. Support local and national creatives. Why can't private business get involved with bid funding for our city. It often benefits business anyway.

2748 - Kyla Jasperse

Major event need to be able to pay for themselves as a rate payer why should I pay for private interests to make gains.

2761 - Annette and Michael Hamblett

[We do not support] >>> boosting the funding for major events.

We oppose more money going to Christchurch NZ/major and business events. Certain businesses like hospitality and accommodation get returns from these but we doubt the average citizen benefits. We are sceptical of the predicted long-term forecasting of financial returns from big events and wonder if this ever gets properly audited.

2772 - Janice Antill

No increases in major event bid funding! (We can not afford it!) major events should be paid for by private outside organisations.
We are going into a major Depression...

2781 - Sarah Hemmingsen

We don't really have the infrastructure for big events yet anyway.

2791 - David Dockery

Do you have any comments on the additional event bid funding proposal?

benefit to Christ is small when you look at the capital outlay we have done.
As going to never pay for it self (Stadium as the up keep and staffing will always blow out and cost rather more.

2807 - David Close (Christchurch East Labour Electorate Committee)

Option to provide additional event bid funding for major and business events

6.1 We are opposed to this option for the following reasons:

- (i) We consider that Christchurch NZ and Ventures Otautahi already spend excessive sums for this purpose and object to the proposed increase mid-decade.
- (ii) The cost-benefit assessments for events are invariably made by interested parties and cannot be relied on.
- (iii) The very concept of bringing events from afar is outdated; the environmental impact is huge.
- (iv) Our Mayor should join with other Mayors to make it clear to the Rugby Union that no city will pay a fee to host a test.
- (v) We consider that hugely expensive facilities, which local people have paid for, should be used primarily for local events for local people.

2813 - John Antill

no funding of events
all funding should be by private business

2828 - Thomas Kulpe

"There is significant value.." No doubt major events and ChristchurchNZ efforts to promote Christchurch as a destination bring money into the city. However, as long as we don't have a good grasp of the cost (including the environmental cost) we should not allow for any bid funding.

2833 - Robbie Peacocke

Current level of events is ok - a 0.42% increase is quite large for events that many residents will never use.

2847 - Colleen Philip (Sustainable Ōtautahi Christchurch)

There is no appetite within SOC for increasing event funding unless it is toward things that add to health and well being. The idea of slow tourism is favoured. As is the use of the natural features of our beautiful city. Rather than bringing in more large events why not give more support to some of the wonderful attractions we already have e.g. Orana Wildlife Park. [Grants & Funding > Orana Park Funding]

2865 - Natalie Henderson

I don't think we should be spending money on attracting events to the city - such as the yacht race.

Don't do it

Do NOT boost funding for attracting events to Chch.

287 - Judy Yarwood

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

I support more for Climate change but balanced funding for major events

2890 - Finn McIntyre (University of Canterbury Sustainable Design Society (UC SUSD))

SUSD believes that increasing bid funding would take valuable resources away from other areas that are more critical. Additionally, the new Te kaha stadium is a prime example of how attempting to create too much attraction can lead to a drain of ratepayer money.

293 - Monique van Veen

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

It's fantastic to have flourishing events and conferences in the shorter term (5+ years), but these do not serve us if we can't also begin to plan (and save) for longer term climate adaptation needs as our city grows and ages. As outlined in the LTP we are a growing city, and one that has requested prioritisation of our water (access to safe drinking water alongside adequate storm water infrastructure), and natural spaces (beaches, reserves etc). With finite resources available to 'do it all' I don't think we can responsibly increase the likes of bid funding for major events while we go without a Climate Resilience Fund.

2968 - Angela Moran

We simply cannot afford this. There will be time to look at this again in the future but please listen to your people. Most Cantabrians are finding finances very hard currently.

2993 - Nikki Staskiewicz

[Spending > Te Kaha, Strategic Direction > Additional savings and efficiencies]

Stadia, events, etc.

3012 - George Laxton

People and events are going to come anyway, this is a waste of money.

3023 - Carolyn Brown

It is a folly to invest money in promotions like the sail gpt when we already have world class assets that are in desperate need of funding from the Council to continue.

Stop bidding for new events and focus on maintaining the assets we already have.

We do not need so many major events per year given the challenges we are about to face with climate change. Is like playing the fiddle while Rome burned otherwise. Focus on making the city resilient rather a city of large events and concerts.

3035 - Claire Coveney

The considerations of all communities, all people is important. I think of the cruise ship and Sail GP where we put money ahead of our endangered species reflects a lack of respect and understanding of the fragility of our wildlife. Human activity is responsible for most of the problems we face now and we need to address them instead of grandiose schemes.

I would like to say if we are serious about reducing carbon emissions how can you do that by attracting so many people by car and planes to come here to concerts. It seems a double standard. In Glasgow they reduced carbon emissions as most people bussed to their major outdoor concerts. I like to support and share with Dunedin the events that come to the South Island. Co operation not competition. Until we get our carbon emissions due to transport down keep events bidding low.

Masses of tourists coming off cruise ships or to large events puts a lot of pressure on our infrastructure and local communities. Time for a moratorium on cruise ships.

3088 - Heather Brown

Cost benefit analysis almost always show a huge benefit to the city as a whole, but also the province. Start charging non-ratepayers more?

3089 - Trevor Lord

Do not proceed.

3092 - Kitty Moran

I'd prefer to leave the bid funding at its current levels for a few years, THEN increase the bid funding.

3094 - Daniel Smith

Events should stand on their own merits and self-fund with a return to ratepayers. Even large events are often only applicable for a small minority of rate payers to enjoy so it is not fair for everyone to have to pay for attracting them.

3099 - Stephen Miller

Christchurch, given its location and size, should not be competing to attract major international events. This is just crazy. This is the egos and vanities at work.

3110 - Michael Beard

I don't support the Stadium and I have no idea what the Convention Centre actually does.

3125 - Gabrielle Humphreys

Not necessary to increase funding for events

3129 - Skye Arnopp

Unnecessary.

3131 - Johannes (Hans) Van Oyen

I get quite upset when special interest groups talk about "benefits". If sports lovers want a fancy stadium, if the accommodation & hospitality sectors benefit from this, if some people think we need a $100,000,000 cathedral as a city "icon", if cricket lovers want a pavilion in Hagley park, let them stump up the money for it.

319 - Fay Stickley

Another excuse to raise rates.

3287 - Claire Fletcher

I would reduce the funding as previously mentioned

3291 - Jess Kikstra

I do not support more major business and events funding. I would prioritise funding for community events rather than major business and events. It's often unclear how this funding benefits the wider community.

3307 - Richard Griffiths

>>> Subsidizing events that profit big businesses is completely unacceptable.

334 - Clare Marshall

If we create a living, viable, attractive city - with functioning wastewater, transport systems that work because they're not clogged by cars and venues to visit like the arts centre.... then we won't have to spend money bidding/advertising ourselves to big spenders. This is not a big priority for our money and does not provide DIRECT benefit to residents - just indirect benefit (which is hypothetical) from the incoming visitors.

3366 - Robert Manthei

Leave the level where it is or even reduce it. The CCC should not increase such efforts so that a minority of the community can benefit economically.

3372 - Jenny Bond (Te Tuna Tāone)

Do not support an increase in bid funding. I believe that there is greater priority for funding in environmental areas. The current proposal is more than sufficient and could even be reduced to enable funding for other areas.

3392 - Stephen Wood

Events funding can be a high stakes game. It needs to balance costs and benefits. We got away with the 2nd Sail GP but there was some negative sentiment generated. Event promotion should be tempered with some realism.

3414 - Chrissie Williams

Do NOT boost the funding for major events

I do NOT support. The current allocation is enough and could even be reduced to enable funding for other areas. The major beneficiaries of events - eg hospitality and accommodation, should be contributing to attract events to the region, rather than the rate payer.

3416 - Sarah Roberts (Canterbury Society of Arts Charitable Trust (CoCA))

Bidding for, and hosting events, particularly cultural/ music events, attracts people interested in experiencing more of the city's cultural attractions, including galleries like CoCA. Prioritising bidding for events of this type, alongside a plan to promote the city's cultural attractions, would benefit the arts community and support the outcome of creating a cultural powerhouse city.

3423 - James Upton

Rely on making the City fun to visit, easy to move around in, with clean waterways and good sports and conference facilities. These attributes are tangible marketing selling points without needing additional event bid funding.

3425 - Hugh Dacre

We need to concentrate on making this a city for its own inhabitants. This will make it more attractive to visitors anyway. Businesses may get some benefit but "trickle down" has never worked as well as proponents claim!

3427 - Mikaere Greenslade

These events benefit only a small minority of rate payers.

3430 - Philippa Upton

While it's important to attract events to Christchurch, there are many other things to support that make Christchurch a great place - firstly to live and secondly visit.

348 - Christiana Raphael

We need to be mindful of events for ego's sake. More events does not make a more liveable city. It's the quality of what we present to the public that is enriching and sustainable.

3493 - Brendon Lee

Priorities please. Sporting events, leisure activities, etc. are NOT A PRIORITY. Affordable housing SHOULD BE a priority. The aftermath of the CCC earthquakes has shown all the major investors had fled to Auckland, knowing that it was unwise to use their insurance $ to rebuild say new hotels or large complexes. Look at the problems with the Christchurch Cathedral church?

3499 - Allana Paulin

[Spending>Te Kaha]

Even with a somewhere for events not much things would come to christchurch otherwise this would of happened long ago it'll just sit empty what a waste of money when everyone is struggling ❓❓

3535 - Anna Harper

We do not need additional event bid funding at this stage.

3541 - Ashleigh Smith

Auckland will always get first dibs. Not much has come to Christchurch still, so why still waste the money?

3564 - Allan Grant

Dont do it.

3567 - Rachel Briggs

We havent got enough focus on local attractions, activites, events. We need to work towards making christchurch a great place to live and to visit all the time, not just when there is an event here.

3572 - Tania Dirkze

The Christchurch people can not just be expected to keep paying these increases. This is such a chunk out of any elderly persons pension. This is a huge whack on families.

358 - Tamara Dauvergne

Focus on the city infrastructure rather than vanity projects

3586 - Rachel Geddis

Until Te Kaha is completed, I don't think we should have additional investment in this space.

3596 - Susan Lau

[Strategic Direction > Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities]

Your "Community Outcomes" page shows that Christchurch is doing quite well in terms of its economic base, and where it is doing much less well is in terms of economic and social disparity and sense of social inclusion.

Bids to attract more major events and business opportunities are great but should not come at the cost of services that provide for our day-to-day security and facilities that provide social good - for example libraries and cheaper, carbon-neutral transport infrastructure (which have previously been suggested by some in our council as being expendable.)

I'm concerned that there is a tilt towards valuing planning that draws in visitors with money to a greater extent than planning that ensures affordable and community-building living for residents. The former is important, but not at the cost of the latter.

Your own measured community outcomes show that we are failing to a greater extent at the latter. I would also add that one reason why visitors like Christchurch and its people is not because it's an exciting, worldly hub, but because of how the way of life feels here and how people treat them and each other. By virtue of our location in the world we are never going to be London, but I have learned that what really impresses visitors about Christchurch is how we live, our relationship with our natural environment and how we look after each other.

Please don't destroy that simply to put in flashy big-ticket projects that make every social and cultural engagement in the city a matter of profit.

3599 - Hayley Guglietta

Bid funding should be left to the commercial operators. We should be concentrating on a liveable city and infrastructure that then goes on to support the attraction of more visitors to events and to experience our wonderful city.

3613 - Catherine McLeavy

Any increase would in effect be a cost of Te Kaha. Embarrassment if city cannot attract events etc. Do not penalise ratepayers for council decisions.

3632 - Judith Bell

Really appreciate support of local festivals and events such as the ChCh Big Band Festival, Strum Strike and Blow.... This brings in visitors, livens up the city, keeps locals in town, supports local business and provides performance outlets for performers.

3648 - Yvonne Russell

We should leave the bid funding at current levels until such time as the major facilities and infrastructure are completed and paid for . Don't risk spending when we are already in debt and having to borrow .

3668 - Gavin Hardie

Take care of ChCh Citizens first.

3684 - Alison Lomax

Until facilities like the stadium and metro sports centre are complete I don't think this is a priority.

3686 - Suzanne Peddie

Providing more funding for bidding for big events is an unnecessary and skewed use of public money (and the events often leave a trail of drunkenness, injury and damage) for little benefit. More important to use what we have well (c.f. Arts Centre)

3687 - Rebekah Savage

[Grants & Funding > Orana Park]

I think orana park is more important in the long term than some bids.

3693 - Lynette Wills

No do not increase rates to cover Major Event Bidding..

3703 - Greg Hay

Given the proposed rate increase, it is unpalatable to increase funding in this space.

3722 - Rachel Thwaites

Why is this happening. How do rate payers benefit cause I only see shoos motels, resturants and taxis benefiting

375 - Alex McNeill

Our city is at its best when we have big events. However, the adaptation to climate change should be prioritised ahead of these.

3764 - Jack Gibbons

I do not support increasing the bid funding, there are many more important areas for the council to spend. Even within the category of providing amenity to residents of the city there are much higher value areas to spend. Parks in particular which provide value day after day and are often filled with events organised by the public.

3783 - Arthur McGregor

I don't value large scale events. I think the economic benefits are often overstated, and the risks of spending money for no gain are high.

3809 - Johnathon Ridden

Look at the SailGP fiasco in Lyttelton Harbour. We should not be encouraging events to the detriment of our at risk natural heritage. Only events that will not have a negative impact on Christchurch should be considered.

3813 - Marg Morrison

If we can't afford to fund the Arts Centre and Orana Park for our citizens we shouldn't be spending money on nice to have attractions for visitors and tourists.

3849 - David Peddie

Not a core service

385 - Francesca Brown

[Strategic Direction > Climate Change]

As noted earlier I'm not a huge supporter of this - large events have a large planetary footprint - not just the people in the act/team coming and all the paraphernalia that goes with it, but the whole impact of people travelling in and only staying a short period of time, the waste produced - I could go on. We should be focusing on being a destination to live and work and play - and being a low footprint as we can.

3859 - Sally Widdowson

Extra spending here is a gamble as these events don't always bring in the expected returns.

3861 - Alex Robinson

Let's focus on looking after our locals and existing infrastructure and heritage assets rather than wasting money on attracting international events. We have world class local activities that we should be supporting first and foremost.

3865 - Maxine Donovan

Cant think this will benefit all, only perhaps retail, but at end of day if it is a cost saver, then can only be beneficial.

3963 - Jillian Scott

investment of $2.8 million provides a return for $67 million then business ho profit should be paying a higher percentage towards this. All black games are not worth the money spent to attract the event to chch.

3990 - Malcolm Smeaton

you have any comments on the additional event bid funding proposal?

We should focus on the basics

4001 - Jennifer Porter

As our facilities such as Te Pae become better known, patronage will increase – as will the $$$ effects on hospitality, retail etc.

4003 - Kristine Jolliy

[Grants & Funding > Other Community Grants & Funding]

Sail G.P has already so much $ to hold thier events. Russell Coutts makes so much profit from his events why should we financially support him?? Support small music events (Those that would struggle otherwise).

4004 - Nathalie Le Bras

We are a small city at the bottom of the Southern Hemisphere

402 - Cynthia Charron

I am NOT in favour of increasing the bid funding for major and business events. Especially at this time, and with the current financial risks and uncertainties, the city does not have the money or infrastructure to be focusing on more, or bigger events. These can become pipe dreams, money pits, or vanity projects.

416 - Mike Cleaver (Canterbury)

I feel as though by making the city a better place to live and visit, the attractiveness to businesses and events will naturally improve. as such I feel it should be the focus of the council to make the city the best place for people, and the rest will follow.

422 - Nias Kitchin

Now is not the time to be investing extra money:

425 - Laura Bates

We can't afford to attend these events anyway, we certainly shouldn't be spending more money on them.

437 - Chrystal Gray

Dont it doesn't need to be done

443 - Keryn Roberts

We are entering a recession and you are proposing budget cuts because you don't have enough money. These large events often cost more then they bring in, especially in an economy where spending is low. Now is not the time to explore these interests.

469 - Amira Aman

We can't afford higher bids!

505 - Laura Jones

some of these are vanity projects and do not provide returns commensurate with investment , if the envirnmental costs are included . Flying people into Christchurch for short stays makes no sense when we are in a climate emergency . Supporting smaller, local events makes more economic , social and environmental sense.

527 - Hans Daellenbach

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Commonwealth Games]

Stop or reduce contributions to glamour events (e.g., rich people regattas, motor racing, etc.), which should be self-funding. Public event bid funding should be for grassroot events that benefit and cater for NZ people, not international interests. Definitely no funding for Commonwealth Games or the Winter Olympics.

532 - Chris Abbott

Try to get SaolGP to return

579 - Rosemary Neave

[Strategic Direction > Climate Change]

I support more spending on Climate change mitigation and adaptation but do not support boosting funding for major events - these two are contradictory.

581 - Paul Amtman

As a pensioner living on the superannuation major events are out of my league putting up rates causes me lost sleep.

595 - jeffery Thackwell

Events funding is a subsidy from private individuals to the business community.

612 - Annette Mauger

Often when large incentives are offered to bring events to places, the expected profits fail to materialise, leaving ratepayers to foot the bill

635 - Ashley Campbell

I do not support additional event bid funding. The retail, hospitality, and accommodation sectors are the major beneficiaries of increased events, so if they want additional bidding they should be prepared to cover the cost themselves. It is much more important that money is spent on creating a liveable city for residents than on attracting more big events that don't benefit everyone.

645 - Stewart Mckenzie

[Strategic Direction > Climate Change]

If necessary I would prefer more of the budget on areas that improve climate change (both emission reductions and adaptation) and drop levels of spending on the major events

662 - Cameron Taylor

Are you joking? Stuff that!! Unless a business can provide guarantees of a decent profit, why spend money on foolish games. Make these events guarantee a certain profit or they have to carry the loss not the CCC

666 - Stephen Palfrey

Wasting your energy. If events want to be here due the demography then they will come. The sailing was great but the council were being blackmailed by a private enterprise. Can't happen again. Money would be better spent on economic development i.e. attracting inward investment - business, technology, manufacturing and retail.

673 - Chris Adams

Better to invest locally.

6903 - Don Jellyman

I'm not a big fan of major events. Chd should market itself as 'The Garden City' & focus on a clean/green image.

713 - Matthew Irving

You're not in the business of entertaining, we pay for a service not for you to provide flower shows or sailing racing

750 - Simon Walker

Is that really the business of a council????

781 - Jenene Parker

These events only benefit the privileged few. They should pay

785 - Ariana Tikao

I am not in favour of major business events or other events such as Sail GP which do not provide any lasting benefits to our communities but pose more of a threat environmentally. I believe smaller and locally led events are of more benefit, and should therefore be given more priority.

794 - Yanny Webb-Walker

Don't waste too much money on events. Surely they should pay for themselves

Attracting events is nice but not at the rate payer expense.

855 - Anna van Haastrecht

I certainly do NOT want this increased!

880 - Peter Kim

Our infrastructure is incapable of handling big events. In a global scale we lack everything to be a good host. Chch needs to get its own affairs in order before committing to big acts

883 - Elizabeth Steel

I am against increasing bid funding, given the associated rate hikes. When it comes to saving money, this is something that we could do without. Yes, it's nice to attract more events, but it's not necessary. Especially given the lack of funding for the Arts Centre -- far better to fund this preexisting hub of culture and creativity (of which I found no mention in the consultation document) than to pour money into bidding for expensive additional events.

893 - Peter Murphy

Reduce bid funding, its wasting money we dont have

Reduce bid funding, its wasting money we dont have

897 - Jonathan Mathias

Private entities should cover the cost of events.

904 - George Cox

Investing to make Ōtautahi Christchurch into a modern and sustainable city will probably be a far more cost effective way of attracting these major events. I do not support additional event bid funding and think the same outcomes could be achieved via other spending avenues (ie: better public transport and ecological restoration).

906 - Alister Ferguson

I have no confidence in the " build it and they will come" mentality. Hospitality and retail might benefit but the rest of us will be paying long into the future

920 - Marie Porter

You don't have a box to tick for reducing bid funding! Core infrastructure not cash for rich mates like Russel Coutts! What a disgrace!

Other

1031 - George Tylee

Events must be net positive economic impact on city. Ensure selwyn and waimak also contribute.

1034 - James Forde

Stop event funding

Stop it. If events are commercially viable then private investment will drive it.

1100 - Alistair McKinnon

Or even reduce it

1117 - Brent Elder

There are a lot of events already, we should not be increasing here, especially at the cost of existing attractions and resources!!

1126 - David Maciulaitis

If anything decrease bid funding, or look at joint bids, to host events across two cities benefiting more economies equally.

1129 - John Clemens

Stop or greatly reduce funding to attract major events, and focus on making Christchurch a thriving centre where people want to live and visit, i.e. so magnetically attractive that major events (the ones that support our Community Outcomes) will flock to us regardless.

Actually, I wanted a box to tick to reduce bid funding. Spend the moeny instead on enhancing our assets and values.

113 - Sarah Cragg

Is there a future project for green energy and green waste management? Big investment but the more buildings can move to renewable energy source's and better waste processing (including composting toilets), the better... right?

1135 - Callum Wood

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Governance]

completely review to reduce this as there has not been a focus on a paradigm shift. what is the value of doing zero funding ? how many would come anyway ? bold governance is required in times of significant need

1157 - Justin Rogers

The consultation document says that retail, hospo and accommodation businesses get $67 million a year return if we spend $2.8-4.5 million. That sounds nice, but what fraction of that return will those businesses pay in rates? Are they still helping to pay for the pipes and roads, or are they just padding their profits with public money running events?

1164 - Andrea Davis

only bid for events that are GHG neutral, and lets not pretend Sail GP is powered by nature, its Scope 1 and 2 GHG emissions is massive, as is the car racing events. Get the cycle way city to sea done and go for the wealthy bike tourists who stay and ride bikes for a week, flying in and out of CHCH. Lets face it NZ is in a vulnerable space with markets not wanting to have food miles on their dairy, meat products, and our tourist also will not want to spent big dollars and GHG emissions on visiting NZ. We need to diversify what we offer as a country to bring in dollars for other markets. I think you should actively bid for large foreign corporations to live and work in CHCH.

1219 - James Mckie

Central government should be paying its fair share in bidding particularly if it an event that isn't planning to come to nz but could. As having the event is benifitful to nz and chch economicly

1272 - Sarah Hogan

The city needs to attract big international events, I see little point in it being built for the sole purpose of sport. It should be a multi functioning facility which is the intent, therefore, it needs to be used in this way for its sustainable future, and the benefit of all Christchurch residents.

1274 - Phillip Bewick

Hold events/fun days in the city/Hayley park. $1-2 online tickets that can be scanned on entry or make it a donation. The stall holders and events people will make money along with local businesses and the council will make extra money from tickets / donations.

1278 - Tim Marsh

Not a priority

1308 - Bernadette Bowe

This is a catch 22 situation. Christchurch is getting a new stadium. If you don't increase bid funding then we save but do we? The stadium or other event centres may lay vacant and become white elephants. In my opinion just bid for those events which will give us a better return economically.

1327 - Chris O'Brien

Events should fund themselves.

1333 - Daniel Roome

Reduce it, the council loves to spend the people money with no regard.

1334 - David Cowie

Where is the option to decrease funding?? I only chose Leaving it as there was no option to decrease it. Not happy on this one.

1339 - Carol Marie Ferrier

Increase bid funding in short term until Christchurch is established as event central. So many things going for CHch

1355 - Andrew McCarthy

Reduce it!!! This is a nice to have. Why was this option not offered above? Poor survey design!

1358 - Rob Noster

Forget the bid funding.

Leave the bid funding for the corporates. Saving the rate payers money.

1365 - Valerie Grose

Whatever we bid for has to be money well spent, if its the arts then it is good for our culture, but if a major event ends up costing the city then its not viable

1370 - Jeremy Kaye

I see the economic benefit in increasing event funding. However if it is increased, something else should be cut from the LTP so there is a nil rates increase.

1402 - Martin Smallman

I'll pick the option you didn't provide. REDUCE bid funding.

1431 - Carissa Ptacek

[Grants & Funding > ChristchurchNZ Funding (General)]

I assume this will go to Christchurch NZ, Te Kaha is already a waste of money and Sail GP is a group of snivelling entitled men which limits locals ability to enjoy their facilities. I'm not interested in more of that "calibre" of guests. I like Electric Avenue and those types of events but if that means that the funding to maintain the Town Hall and the like is reduced I don't think that's worth it.

1500 - Warwick Schaffer

Why is council even involved in events promotion, this is either corporate welfare (big facility owners can do their own promotion) and or killing private enterprise that could and should be doing this.

1501 - Jason Middlemiss (Waimāero Fendalton-Waimairi-Harewood Community Board)

The Board understands that the background to this proposal was a concern that the events bid funding would be inadequate to support events in Te Kaha during its first year of operation. The Board is sympathetic to this concern, as having the facility underutilised would be a poor return on the Council's investment. Equally, the Board acknowledges that this is a difficult economic environment in which to consider spending additional money on events. Before making any decision about increasing the bid funding, the Board encourages the Council to seek advice on any cost-neutral options for making the city more attractive to event organisers, and seek cost efficiencies from existing events to free up more event bid budget for Te Kaha. The Board also submits that any decision to invest in event bid funding must be made in the context of robust evidence of the return on investment the city should expect to receive from the event.

1504 - Jonathan Kingston-Smith

For events such as concerts. If the attendees can't cover the cost of the event, (with increased ticket prices) then it shouldn't happen, which should taxpayers pay for events that only a small amount of people actually attend. Make them self sufficient

1517 - Felix Harrison

Decrease it. It is a waste of money

1589 - Barry Miller

Should be along the line of user pays . Not sure how cost benefits are worked out and if they are a true reflection on money actually spent .

16 - Andrew McKay

Once again, just two cherry picked options. I want option 3. Reduce funding. By competing for these events, we just drive the price up, costing ratepayers more, with the result the CCC and ratepayers lose.

1613 - David Browne

Work better with Waimak and Selwyn to ensure their residents are paying for events that are in CCC!!

1623 - Oliver Mould

I would prefer you to REDUCE your major bid funding. Sail GP for example was an embarrassment - we don't want events like that in our backyard please. They jam up traffic and only benefit a few people. If an event cannot afford to come here under it's own finances, then there is no merit in having them.

1646 - Dale McGregor

Leave until the Stadium and Water Centre are completed, and then a review of the needs and amount of use of those facilities are required, then look at the costs. Even look at a private operators for the venues.

1648 - Andrew Bowman

You should reduce bid funding for major and business events far below the levels in the draft LTP

1711 - Eluishia Hart

How does this help the city? I get how this can help businesses but how does it help the average person paying rates. How does this make our life easier.

1736 - Jeremy Phillips

1. Sports and events play a pivotal role in defining our city's image, supporting our recreation, culture, and community cohesion. 2. These activities provide significant economic benefits through tourism and local business engagement, and they should be actively promoted and robustly supported to enhance our city's exposure. 3. International events are crucial for our city's tourism and business sectors, benefiting those who rely on the influx of tourists and local spending. 4. We are concerned that the current requirement for event organizers and supporting partners to fund or underwrite these events is unsustainable. It is imperative that the city resumes responsibility for funding these events to ensure the ongoing promotion of sport and recreational well-being for our residents. 5. For example, significant costs have been incurred in attempting to schedule major sporting events, which is a financial model that is not sustainable. 6. Furthermore, these funding responsibilities fall outside the typical objectives of sports organisations, many of which are non-profit or charitable, and thus should not be shouldering commercial funding burdens. 7. Essential funding for the development and growth of various sports at the community level should not be diverted to subsidise city responsibilities. Other councils around New Zealand already undertake this support. 8. We strongly urge the council to allocate dedicated funds for the development of sports and cultural events from its resources, ensuring the growth and vitality of these crucial community activities. 9. There are instances of concerning financial allocations within the city's budget that warrant re-evaluation to align more closely with community priorities. 10. We encourage the council to reconsider its funding strategy for major events to align with its stated policies, enhancing the city's vitality without compromising future prospects. 11. Investing in city events is a strategic move, with projected returns of $650M over the next decade, justifying a modest increase in rates. 12. Reflecting on the council's commitment to build a multi-use arena, this aligns with fostering a strong community, celebrating identity through arts, culture, and sports, and ensuring a vibrant, thriving central city. 13. The current lack of budget allocation for events contradicts the city's goals of enhancing livability, competitiveness, and attractiveness as a modern urban centre. In conclusion, as the council deliberates on its long-term plan, we urge a renewed focus on supporting and funding sports and cultural events directly. This will not only preserve the vibrancy and appeal of Christchurch but also ensure a sustainable and prosperous future for all who call our city home.

1761 - Elaine Dunlop

Try to gain more sponsorship before aiming for payment thru the rates

1766 - Jan Edwards

Dont have events that we cannot afford, and by 'we' I dont mean the CCC, I mean we ratepayers

1819 - Gavin Millar

The fact that your choices here are to leave the funding as it or to increase it is extremely telling. Shame on whoever designed this survey for not including the suggestion that "bid funding" should be reduced. We waste a lot of money in "attracting events" that really just means a subsidy to corporations in the hope that we'll somehow benefit from visitors, except we know that the supposed benefits are very overstated. And then combine that with the attitudes of those running these events when things are 100% going their way (see: sailing events that agree to conditions then complain when they have to follow them).

1825 - John Davies

Small impact on rates but can have significant benefits. We should only be bidding on events that show at least a dollar for dollar benefit ie break even.

1833 - Mary McKeown

if you have any comments on the additional event bid funding proposal:

We should be reducing major event bid funding.

1855 - Michael Liu

No. Reduce the funds

1865 - Tina Bond

Please assist wolfbrook arena to enable more artists to perform without any sound/display issues.

1893 - Elizabeth Sinclair

Reduce major event funding.

1920 - Jennifer Down

NZ council funding for NZ festivals rather than other country festivals.

1927 - Donna Gillatt

Events are luxury spending. This should be totally user paid spending only.

1928 - James Daniels

The lower, the better.

1938 - Alice Busbridge

We're not a big enough city and don't have the infrastructure to host big events anyway. Save some money

1944 - Peter Salvesen

We always want events here that will benefit our economy. There must be an adequate return for the city if we wish to host major events. Once Te Kaha is completed we can do that. Right now though there are more important things like no rates rises to actually support people living here and those who are already struggling.

1959 - Brad Waldon-Gibbons

the bid funding for major and Business events should stay at current levels and not be increased, unless it supports our climate change action and targets.

1968 - Kelly Osborn

I actually think that you should reduce funding in this area but you didn't give this option. If big event want to come here and local business get the benefits they should be supporting bid not the rate payer who don't see the benefits of more money in the economy.

2071 - Paul Broady

• I do not support an increase to bid funding. I would favour an overall decrease in this funding. • I am in favour of funding to produce events for the local community but not for attracting visitors, especially from overseas. Transport emissions contribute the most to our total emissions. We should not be encouraging additional travel.

2093 - Rachael Hemmer

How about decreasing it!

2103 - P Stark

get the infrastructure event locations and roads to a better level before embarrassing the city with the state of distepairbits currently in

2119 - Andrew Cooper

Reduce bid funding

214 - John Hinchey

[Coder note: Context for the next sentence: area submitters feels we should be reviewing to reduce our costs throughout the Draft LTP 2024-2034]

[Resource Recovery > Resource Recovery (Operations)], [Three Waters > Water Supply (Capital)], [Strategic Direction > Climate Change]

Reduce bid funding. We have more important areas to spend our ratepayer dollars on. Better solid waste processing away from Bromley: reducing the waste in our water supply through constant leaks: encouraging business to convert to electric vehicles to drive down city air pollution: etc.

2153 - Chiara Anderson

As long as all the bids aren't for rugby, that's not the only sport that matters. Keep the Sail GP in Christchurch would be a start

2198 - Andrew Smith

Reduce this spend, not a core function of Council.

2200 - Janna Robinson

I dont think it should increase the rates to do this.

2214 - Paul Kruger

Let the events be self-supporting, far fewer $$$ for rugby or sailing GP

2263 - Scott Babington

When budgeting for funding big events/one off projects - it would be nice to consider equity - many of these events have no benefit for Māori/the socially disadvantaged.

2267 - Redacted Redacted

Each funding proposal should be on its merits. If it isn't self funding should the CCC be supporting it. Bringing people to the city does not reduce our rates, it increases it.

2287 - Alice Johnson

No, don't spend people's money on funding these bids. People are struggling to pay bills as they are, don't make them pay more rates for this extravagance.

2297 - Andrew Walker

Why not wait until the stadium etc are up & running, then look at increasing funding. I'd rather pay 0.42% less for 2 years until it is finished.

2301 - Ian Douthwaite

Funding for event bids should be left to venue operators. Arguably the city already supports this through the commercial activity of CIAL, LPC and VO. Potentially there should perhaps be a joint venture event company including VO, Te Kaha and Te Pae which could also invite equity from other stakeholders, i.e. neighbouring councils, sports franchises.

2302 - Lisa Dockery

Major events for Chch should be funded by the Council
Promoters & businesses should be paying for their events (tax deductible?)
Enter into profit that Council can make from use of these venues.

2305 - Monique Maynard

EVENTS SHOULD BE SELF FUNDED /SPONSORED OR USER PAYS FOR SPARKS IN THE PARK ETC. WE ARE ALL CUTTING BACK ON EXTRAGAVANCES IN OUR HOMES - IS THIS NOT A CCC ONE? AS MUCH AS I ENJOY A FREE CONCERT, I WOULD PREFER MONEY SPENT ON THINGS THAT ADD VALUE TO OUR LIVES 365 DAYS A YEAR

2308 - Sarah Elicker

It makes sense to invest now for future gain, ONLY if the benefit goes to the rate payers directly. Some of this benefit should go in the climate adaption fund. We've got to get some benefit from our overly expensive potential white elephant of a stadium. Perhaps add a fee onto out-of-town ticket prices to go to the climate adaption fund.

2312 - Christian Schipani

I do not need new major events in Christchurch, we have plenty. Please allocate this funding to other areas.

2313 - William Godsoe

Personally, I got no value from the sail boat race, other than walkin up the bridle path and seeing a few boats in the distance. In contrast my family and I get immense value from events in Hagley park and the CBD. I'm not opposed to these events, if the market will bare the cost. That said, when Christchurch is competing with every other place to get an event it like the sailboat race, it feels we are pegging ourselves as just another place. This is not how I see our city. I think rate payer's dollars should be used to emphasize that our city is unique, not just another contender.

234 - Jocy Kidd

User pays for big events.

2358 - Carolyn Moffat

I would like to see the new stadium and pool etc used. But we can cut costs, for example, it is great to have an event in town, but perhaps we don't need to spend thousands of dollars hanging nice flags advertising the event around the city.

2377 - Hannah Maxwell

DECREASE bid funding.

2385 - Ezra Mussa

We should decrease this funding. The current rates do not met the requirements to provide base services, therefore this "nice to have" fund should be slashed.

2403 - Andrew Woodfield

DONT leave the funding at the same level (and where was that choice in your survey?) Once again, you choose NOT to listen to the ratepayers.

2406 - Chris Archer

Major events cost a lot of money, and given the current fiscal environment, should be left or reduced. The country is small - people can and do travel to attend a major event.

2407 - Dave Evans

Should be lesser, not the same. If we have the facilities and make the city look like the quake did not happen 1.3 years ago instead of 13, the events will come.

2422 - Debora Mora

Keep in mind needs v wants, and costs

2429 - Neil Ricken

Yes, why is there not an option for REDUCING bid funding?

2432 - Mark Morley

In these more challenging times, aging assets, prudence not frivolities is needed.

2442 - Paula Bevilacqua

Concerts still sell out now, there is the population in CHCH to fill these events and therefore bring the money in for events as long as ratepayers have excess in the pockets and not paying fees for everything.

2474 - Lerk Shih Poh Stedman

Reduce bid funding

2476 - Reuben Scott (Simeon Park Community Group)

Why is there no option to reduce the bid funding?

2485 - Lucy hill

i think protise what people actually want and what effects them daily, i think big events are gimmicky and pointless, protise smaller things that have a bigger impact on more people or communities

2507 - Bronte Barber

If we dont have a thriving functioning city - It wont matter short or long term. Focus on our city and important needs first. See what is leftover in the budget and re-discuss. Te Kaha should start to show a base figure once built - focus on this first before looking at over events.

2521 - Stuart Jones

NO MORE BID FUNDING !!

2522 - Rosa Hughes-Currie

Decrease the bid funding, business events don't help most everyday people.

2528 - David Cooper (Netball New Zealand)

[Other/Special Interest Topics>LTP Consultation]

I think this question would have had better balance to have also outlined the return to the city that major events bring in economically, rather than just talk of the increase to rates...especially compared with other spend choices council has in front of them. See my opening remarks on major event funding.

2529 - Bernard Newman

you have not provided a "reduce bid funding" option - this ought to be a choice for us as rate payers so that we have the ability to communicate to the Council that yes, even this funding ought to be cut to reduce rate increases

2533 - Steven Muir

event funding is low priority to me

[Strategic Direction>Additional Savings & Efficiencies]

reducing funding for major events would be first priority for saving money.

2540 - Jocelyn and Caroline Pappill and Syddall

We would have liked the option of reduction in bid funding. Overall though we would have liked to have understood more about the nature of current bid funding and how the city is utilising the natural assets the city already has to attract a greater diversity of visitors. There could be more promotion of 'slow tourism' whereby tourists engage authentically with our city's natural features i.e. the 360 Trail, Port Hills, river, estuarine and coastal environments. We also question the need to bid against other NZ cities for major events (we're a small country!) and the fact that the city often has to pay to bring events to our new stadium or to our harbour.

2557 - Malcolm Warren

>>> There should be reduction in expenditure on items that benefit small but loud interest groups, e.g. sailGP benefits a tiny percentage of ratepayers and the benefit is concentrated on vendors of liquor and accommodation. Those who benefit the most should pay for the additional benefit. (not picking on sailGP particularly, could have chosen Crusaders as an example of CCC funded corporate welfare)
[Spending > Our Proposed Spending]

2579 - Simone Hindin

Frankly I'm sceptical about the value of these big events, if they're such big money makers for the city then they shouldn't need the city to pay for them.

258 - Kevin Clarke

Reduce the bid funding and leave it to private enterprise

2580 - Michael Neville

Yes, how about decrease bid funding? Why is that not an option?

2583 - Lois Moore

Reduce the bid funding to attract major business, sporting and music events.

There is too much emphasis on providing entertainment from sports, music etc rather than on how a community can be supported to provide and participate in their own entertainment and local sporting activities.

2585 - Susan Macann

Personally I don't see any benefit from bidding for events, but that doesn't mean it's not important. More people like me might mean the amount spent on bid funding could be lower.

2611 - Papataitua Harrington

If we don't book things now for Te Kaha and other spaces, will they just sit empty?

2624 - Colin Ong

Just ensure that the bids go on viable events.

2678 - Fiona McKenzie

We need people to want to come here, that's by being attractive in many other ways - ease of access around the city etc

2682 - Scott Savage

If we do things right as a city we can entice events here based partly on our reputation and ways of working

2690 - Robbie Dobbie

Do you have any comments on the additional event bid funding proposal?

VO needs to accept cash. Income loss from this. All CCC facilities should accept cash, including buses. Sporting events can bring a lot of money to the city. Need to do assessments on each event to determine the real value to the city.

2693 - Tanya Markman

Do you have any comments on the additional event bid funding proposal?

I suggest a reduction (from current levels) for bid funding of major and business events. Costs of events such as these cannot guarantee any level of fiscal benefit. If rates are to follow an increase similar to that of inflation ($\approx 4\%$) then events such as these need to become more 'user pays' oriented. StatsNZ predict a 1 in 4 chance that the NZ population will be less in the 2050s than it is now, or that increasing population rates are declining. How then can council justify spending in these areas with a less than anticipated rate take?

2699 - Graham Beswick

No comments at this time maybe big business could be approached for funding

2702 - Wendy Dick

Finding other ways to pay for events. Increased alcohol price's at events, increased transport costs for tourists etc

2705 - Ian Le Page

Reduce the big funding events. look for second level events.

2715 - L.F. Blake

Actually, the choice of REDUCED bid funding is what I would like to see. Good facilities will attract events.

2734 - Sharon McDonald

Finish what you have started and then see.

2738 - Patricia (Patsy) Eastwood

Hopefully if the bid funding is successful, then our rates will be able to be reduced due to the additional income generated by the success of the events.

2750 - Helen Johnstone

Expect major sports, business and other organisations to contribute more to their event bids (and major new sports grounds eg. NZ Rugby). They seem to request a lot, but not contribute much, while they get a large share of the major benefits.

2768 - Suzanne Wallace

Reduce.

2770 - Sarah Lassche-Jones

Cancel bid funding!

2771 - Suzanne Antill

No funding of events. All funding should be done by private business.

278 - Robin Curry

Leave bid funding at current levels and review in three years, once Te Kaha etc are fully operational.

2823 - Aurora Garner-Randolph (School Strike For Climate Ōtautahi)

Bid funding should consider the climate.

2824 - Hannah Mason

Investment in attracting major events can be great, but we need to be conscious that they can be disruptive as well, and prioritise events that will be particularly good for our city and/or a significant return on investment.

2826 - Dan Scott

There is no harm on increasing the bid funding ON THE CONDITION that the events we bid for are ones that both provide utility to the community (e.g. they are not events promoting industries harmful to people or the environment) and that we can afford (it's not feasible for us to host the Commonwealth Games - we know that the games don't bring in as much revenue to the local economy as they cost to host, and have significant repercussions on host cities as a result. Please don't keep looking into this).

2829 - Jennifer Dalziel

how does funding this earn revenue for the Council? It earns revenue for hospitality and associated businesses Let these businesses provide their own bid funding eliminate the major event bid funding, see below.

2831 - Sebastian Denize

I believe it should be axed. The business trickle down effect is a proven myth, and it benefits business. Let business fund business, and if it cant, then it shouldn't happen

2834 - Geoff & Liz Carter

Ideally it would be reduced while the cost of living is so high. Most families would not be able to attend the high end events that might come to the city, but have to pay through their rates to get them here.

2835 - Emma Rodriguez Dos Santos

CCC should consult properly with relevant communities before assuming that those residents want the events happening in their area, e.g. the recent Sail Grand Prix. Chch attracts lots of events etc. and we all pretty much accept we have to go to Auckland, Wellington or Dunedin if we need to see major music artists etc.

2838 - Graham Erikson

Increase funding in later years.

2840 - Matthew Carter

The primary focus should be on encouraging community development and providing and maintaining services to benefit all ratepayers. Attracting "new major international sports, business and music events" and building and operating venues to accommodate such things has a rationale in so-called trickle-down economics, however it is increasingly clear this often fails whole segments of society. In additional, it depends on tourism, broadly conceived, which appears vulnerable to climate change effects and political and economic developments in this period. Further, these events incentivise and depend on air travel, a not insignificant contributor to anthropogenic climate change.

2842 - Ants Field

Bid funding is not as important as climate resilience and emissions reductions.

2856 - Rachel Puentener

I am not convinced that Sail GP and other international events actually benefit that many people but cost a lot. Should we be encouraging international events in the face of a climate crisis??

2868 - Jonty Coulson

Events that occur in Christchurch should prioritize local bands and businesses over international. This will minimize emissions and establish Christchurch as a center for New Zealand Culture.

2870 - Melanie Luckman (Cubbin Theatre Company)

Use the money to invest in local arts and cultural events. Then you will be building communities not just cash.

2876 - Sarah Hastie

Could we look at reducing it? It also worth noting that events such as the commonwealth games are not affordable and not further money should be spent investigating this. The average ratepayer is already dealing with the significant infrastructure costs building the new sports stadium and recreation facility, we can not be burdened with further cost increases for events we may not be able afford to attend and may only receive marginal wider economic benefits from.

29 - Hayley Young

[Grants & Funding > ChristchurchNZ Funding]

Stop bidding for events. It is a cost of living crisis we cannot afford this.

2902 - Prawindra Mukhia

Council should supply the Business Case for supporting major events. The Business Case should include benefits (tangible and intangible), associated costs, risks and opportunities. This information will help residents to provide better feedback.

2906 - Donna Thomsen

A levy discount or fee discount for rate payers on events that they have helped subsidize?

2913 - Amanda Ovenden

I notice there was no option to decrease funding for events. Stop wasting money on Xmas in the park, sparks in the park etc if it's a viable business opportunity help entrepreneurs get schemes licensed more easily so tax payers don't need to fork out.

2919 - Hayley Guglietta (Avon Ōtākaro Network INC)

remove it and focus on finishing anchors projects and invest in a join up biodiverse city to naturally attract events to come here

Bid funding should be left to the commercial operators. CCC should be concentrating on a liveable city and infrastructure, this then goes on to support the attraction of more visitors to events and to experience our wonderful city.

2923 - Amanda Peter

tricky need big events as a draw card - and even though I hate Te Kaha & feel like developing existing stadiums at Addigton was a much more effective option - the right thing brings millions into city but hard to know, with fragile economic state - whether it will be relevant.

2928 - Lucy Hone

No. I can't see any provision for investment in major and business events in Council's Long Term Plan. I thought, given the incredible investment in infrastructure in event spaces like Te Pae and the stadium, you'd have explicitly included intention to bring more events to town in the LTP.

Council is making large capital investments in events infrastructure. Operational investment in events is needed to fully activate this infrastructure and maximise return on investment. In the 22-23 FY $2.9m was invested in major events which generated $35.8m in visitor spending and a return on investment of 11:1 In the 23-24 FY $500K was invested in business events returning $25.8M over 5 years to 2028 (ROI 35:1) The forecast ROI for the fund over ten years is $670 million Major events provide other benefits beyond economic impact including city brand profile, visitation, legacy outcomes including infrastructure and community benefits Business events provide other benefits beyond economic impact including business attraction, knowledge sharing and support in developing clusters of interest Destinations must match 1:1 funding from Tourism New Zealand when subventing (attracting) international conferences. No CHC bid fund = no TNZ bid fund to attract international conferences. Business events attract 87% of international delegates in off peak months (March – November)

I've been so excited and grateful to Council for making the massive capital investments in events infrastructure they have. It's so exciting to see these incredible new venues transform our city - for ourselves, for visitors, but also for those watching through multi-media globally. In order to fully activate this infrastructure and maximise return on investment, operational investment in events is needed. What's the point in having these venues if we haven't got the ops budget to promote and fill them? The data speak for themselves: every dollar invested has significant ROI for our new city; the forecast ROI for the fund over ten years is $670 million. Beyond economic impact, major events also attract migration to the city (a great place to live), add to our global brand, and add visitor nights.

Business events are important for business attraction, knowledge sharing and support in developing clusters of interest and collaboration. Business events attract 87% of international delegates in off peak months (March – November)

2932 - Julia Wartmann

Event funding could be reduced if at the expense of core services.

2934 - Monica Richards

LOWER any spending on event bids. Events will come to Chc if it has good environment, water and mass transit systems.

2936 - Ian Lochhead

[Grants & Funding > ChristchurchNZ Funding (General)]

There is no option for reducing major event funding. This is a nice to have that should be left till more urgent and essential goals are achieved. As Sail GP demonstrated in 2024, these events shine a brief spotlight on the city but can also generate significant negative publicity. So-called income generation is never balanced against actual costs. Much of the income generated by these events disappears off-shore while locals end up with the crumbs.

2942 - Will Taylor

I agree with not bidding for big businesses ventures as this often has significant environmental and social cost.

Major events make money for private businesses, but cause harm and costs to the community.

2947 - Katia De Lu

[Recreation, Sports & Events > Events]

Big, expensive "major events" only really benefit the few who can afford to pay to attend them. Instead, please prioritise the somewhat smaller community events that are free to all and truly bring the community together like: -

South Island Lantern Festival, - Buskers Festival (esp. the daytime street acts that are open to all), - Christchurch Art Festival, - Santa Parade, - Street Art Festival, and - Christmas in the Park. Let the big corporates pay for their big, expensive "major events", while ensuring CCC receives a cut. When making any decisions about major events, please consider the environmental impact, for example: - If an event draws lots of visitors from far away, their travel will produce lots of greenhouse gas emissions. On the other hand, if (say) a band is already visiting another NZ city, bringing them to Ōtautahi | Christchurch could prevent the emissions of lots of Ōtautahi | Christchurch residents flying to another city to see them.

2957 - Lisa Keen

Find different ways to fund these things! Rates hikes will cripple our already-struggling working class

3011 - Annette Marchant

NZ is at the end of the world, we probably should not be getting TOO MANY people to travel here, using fossil fuels.

3016 - Zarah Green

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Commonwealth Games]

Events are essential to creating a vibrant city. I do not agree with the investigation into the commonwealth games though. We should only look at events that attract reasonable returns on the investment.

3031 - Lee Osborn

[Spending>Te Kaha]

I would have ticked "Reduce event bid funding" had it been an option. This is frivolous spending which helps businesses not Christchurch people as a whole and increases emissions by encouraging travel. The cost of Te Kaha was ridiculous but adding to it by expensive bidding on top adds insult to injury.

3037 - Robert Fletcher

It makes sense to fund certain things that benefit a broad range of society and would be difficult to charge for, like big musical performances and Tīrama Mai. I think conferences and sailing competition don't meet the level to warrant funding from the council.

3046 - Gisela Faber

Don't need it, potentially wastefu.

3055 - Josephine Drysdall

I believe this should be axed. These events primarily benefit only small sections of the business sector, and the trickle-down effect has long been established as a myth. Additionally, many of these events are out of line with climate change targets. Let business fund business.

3060 - Georg Ludwig

Do we need to fund business related events ?

3066 - Tony Simpson

The Screen CanterburyNZ Grant should also be considered as an event bid. It attracted 9 finished project with 2 more approved. Projects that would otherwise have gone to other major film centres.

3085 - Jacqueline Sullivan

Don't. No more funding.

3090 - Trudi Bishop

Do not bid for commonwealth games nor excessively large sports events that are only available for the few in the community due to excessive ticket prices. Concentrate on longer term locally supported arts and sports instead.

We should not bid for expensive sports events as these are a waste of our rates and end up being only for those in the community who can afford to attend so do not benefit the broader community.

31 - Gary Durey

[Other/Special Interest Topics > LTP Consultation]

As you only give 2 options and NOT a third option to reduce or stop event bids, this is evidence of fraud. Event bid funding must be reduced. Try to give options that don't show this consult process to be fraudulent and dishonest and disrespectful to the people of Christchurch.

3165 - Adrienne Baxter

To attract more visitors to our city it needs to be run by business not rate payers. no point spending millions to have music concerts if we don't have enough hotels, restaurants and public transport to cater for the people coming. we are only a small country and can't run like a big one.

3174 - Gary Morrison

If increased bid funding can bring real improved returns then by all means invest. Look for ways that events can become a revenue stream for council as well as business.

3231 - Colin Foster

We should focus more on getting our new facilities completed so that the existing bid funding that we already use is more effective

3235 - Thomas Caspari

Keep as low as possible, please.

3248 - Dave Edwards

Don't fund these, businesses will fund them if there's money to be made

3256 - Ian Goodwin

[Spending>Te Kaha]

Building the Stadium should have been conditional of NZ rugby giving 1 All Black Test each year for 10 years to Christchurch without any payment.

3317 - Nik Kneale

It's not all about sports. Fund the arts.

3325 - Adele Geradts

the events industry is in turmoil post-pandemic and due to the financial situation of the world (not just NZ). A good example is the A and P show not running in 2024 due to financial losses; it hopes to be back in 2025, but without support from the public, sponsors and companies, I don't think that will be the case. The economic impact of the A and P show on Christchurch is huge, with over 100 exhibitors, many from out of town, coming and staying in Christchurch for at least 3 nights. Another example of an event with a huge impact is the Armageddon expo at Te Pae, with over 100 exhibitors from around the country coming to Christchurch for three nights. Events that appeal to the public are affordable to attend and provide enjoyment, and entertainment for families is important for Christchurch and many related businesses in the accommodation and hospitality areas. Major events like SailGP expose Christchurch to the world but are not affordable events for people to experience. I would look at how an event, be it sporting or entertainment (like the show or Armageddon), is accessible for the average family to attend and buy tickets. If not, then I don't think the council should bid on or support it coming to Christchurch.

3338 - Alison Cowie

I'm assuming this does not include a bid for the Commonwealth Games. If they are run at the same Level as previously this would be far too expensive for Christchurch.

3341 - Maria Bartlett

Part of injecting life into the city and supporting local businesses

335 - Wayne Bates

Cut it back

3361 - Ali Cameron

No bids if we are in huge debt .

3364 - Alison Murray

Bid funding events are of no benefit to me. They are only for the rich and the business of the City.

3371 - Malcolm Frost

Events 'bidding' tends to infer a 'corporatisation of costs' - but 'privatisation of profits'.

340 - David Wilkinson

Now is not the time to spend money attracting people to ChCh. manage city well and they will come. should be a reduction option.

3412 - Alicia Harbison-Price

Funding increases should coincide with the completion of Te Kaha to ensure we can compete for sporting and music events. Bids for international conferences at Te Pae are also beneficial to businesses and help create a busy and exciting feel in this area just north of the Cathedral.

3419 - Michael Allan

The people who benefit from it should be the ones who pay for it.

3426 - Ann Richards

Seek monies from adjoining councils such as Selwyn. Rate-payers from other areas in Canterbury would appear to benefit from events that are funded by Christchurch rate-payers.

3435 - Alex Cornford

Reduce bid funding, I don't see why ratepayers should fund rich businesses

3464 - Serena Smith

As well as the rate % maybe look into doing charity work where people can put in money if they feel the need too.

3466 - Mark Stapleton

Less bid funding not more wastage..

347 - Catherine Webber

Not one cent should be spent on attracting events. I was so disgusted to hear that $5 million was spent on bringing Bruce Springston to Christchurch. That sort of thing should never happen.

3474 - Timothy Lambert

I would not do any. Bid funding only favours a few

3490 - Peter Minten

If the council can negotiate with Rugby New Zealand that ratepayers of Christchurch are at the front of the cue when All Blacks tests are played in Te Kaha, then I will appreciate the money paid by me very year, $80, through my rates. Example: At every All Black's test 10000 seats should be offered to Christchurch ratepayers only FIRST!!!! We contribute through our rates one third of the full founding costs so I believe Christchurch ratepayers should have the front seat. Rugby NZ can on sell those tickets not picked up by the ratepayers. Same applies for future Taylor Swift concerts. I am serious about the above. This is not some kind of joke and I am looking forward to your reply.

3501 - Malcolm Long (Ōpāwaho Heathcote River Network)

We believe that there is greater priority for funding in environmental areas. The current proposal is more than sufficient and could even be reduced to enable funding for other areas.

3510 - Michael Horgan

Reduce this waiste. Not everyone is interested in this

353 - John Mayhew

If the event won't make a BIG profit it should NOT happen at all. So no funding from rates.

3542 - Beatrix Gilling

A moderate increase is not unreasonable, but if the money is needed this would be fine to be cut.

3550 - Sam Hewitt

Major events are rarely worth it, in my opinion the city does not currently have the infrastructure to benefit from holding major events.

I think until te kaha stadium and mrt is built, only then should we consider increasing the bid funding to attract larger events.

3552 - Alice Neylon

Auckland has already proven they cannot be trusted to host all major events, Christchurch needs to step up so we stop being overlooked and losing out concerts to Dunedin.

3556 - William Tuckey

Reduce the bid funding. Of course spending money stimulates economic activity so please don't commission. Reports telling you favoured expenditure will stimulate economic activity.

3575 - Anna Hansson

The additional events need to be inclusive though to the city overall and not just super niche.

3581 - Steven Barbour

Reduce bid funding. Get business to pay for the bids - they are the ones who will reap the financial benefits. Spend your money on convincing them of that.

3604 - Caroline Burt

Major event bidding should be left to the Central Government. They are the main recipients of outcomes through the increased tax etc.

3610 - Eric Stierna

Look for ways to offer variety in the event funding instead of just chasing large expensive events. Strive to increase the diversity of events and support the promotion of the events by combining complementary events and partnering with the community to create more grassroots support for the events that are held in Christchurch.

3615 - Janine Clarke

I think we need to see the return on the investment in this bidding. I think these events should also see a level of public / private investment Currently they feel like a "nice to have" not a need to have, so a more robust demonstration on the returns to the community and rate payer would need to be demonstrated

3616 - Mark Webster

Why is there no option to REDUCE the funding ?

3626 - Connie Christensen

Business who gain financially from increased turnover due to big events coming to town need to get real and put their own money forward to help successful bid funding to bring large events to Christchurch.

3633 - Joanne Tindall

- Bid Funding for major and business events: o Council is funding events for community benefit through events such as the Summertimes Programme o We need to pull back on investing in additional major events if it requires Council money when Council gets little benefit. o Council has a significant part in funding infrastructure such as Te Kaha, Canterbury's Multi-Use Arena, Parakiore Recreation and Sport Centre, and Naval Point, to ensure we can host world class events in Christchurch. o Council must go out to our neighbouring Councils for funding assistance for those projects as it is not just being used by Christchurch City Council residents, but also Waimakariri and Selwyn District Council residents. This is even more apparent as developments close the gap between Selwyn District Council and Christchurch City Council in the south of the City. o I believe in public services for the public good, not private profit. o We must leave bid funding for major events at current levels, no increase

3634 - Peter Cooper

Leave events to the businesses that will benefit

3636 - Kay Robertson

There's no option to reduce funding? See my comment above. Look at the money we spent on Sail GP and Sir (gag) Russell Coutts complained because they couldn't mow down the Hector dolphins. I'm sick of subsidising sports. I know that many of these events supposedly bring in visitor numbers and their dollars - that's what much of our city was built for. If we don't subsidise this, then we lose out to other cities - frankly I feel it's a race to the bottom. So I'm sure this will go ahead because we've got to recoup our massive investment these expensive venues. I don't want to support these spoiled, pampered, ungrateful sods (I want to say worse, but I'm trying to keep this clean). It's 'Socialism for the Rich, Capitalism for the Rest' as far as I'm concerned. That stupid Te Kaha is more of the same. The whole CBD rebuild was basically for hospitality and tourism - we got that carbuncle of a convention centre in Cathedral Square as well. We've now got the weirdest, and also probably one of the most expensive, CBDs I've ever seen, thanks to CERA. So no, I don't want to fund 'events'. However, I do support Identity Fund, that supports community for the public like the Matariki lights in Victoria Park, things like that. Commercial events can fund themselves.

3652 - Andrew Hamlin

In time we can attract more sports music etc events. I think that we should focus on putting the funding in the other important parts of the LTP. Work the bread and butter, once there is a good foundation established then put in the filling.

3657 - Ruth Bullen

I understand the need for the city but where is the assessment of the number of people who benefit from the events - only the wealthy who can buy tickets??

366 - Namalee Kodikara

There is no option to reduce bid funding. Bids should be for events where there is a clear financial payoff and bid funding should be part of those calculations.

3660 - Alice Shanks

Reduce funding for major events to enable private investment to manage events.

3679 - Janet Perry

Unsure of benefits of some major events, where accommodation is problematic etc. Shouldn't we be building into what makes Christchurch an attractive option for visitors as well as for our local community to benefit from all year round.

3692 - Jen McKinnel

Leave the funding for the major hotels, restaurants ect that get the proceeds from the event.

3695 - Pamela Pye

No, decrease the level of funding provided for any commercial events that should be able to be financially viable without additional support. This does not apply to community or non-profit enterprises or activities where Council support would benefit residents.

370 - Elliot Smith

Decrease event bid funding

3700 - Ian Cumberpatch

We need to balance the success of winning bids and the potential financial gains against doing this at the expense of other required items of works, ie housing and social and community growth.

3705 - Glenis Youngman

With all the staff employed at the CCC I am sure they can attract events without increasing funding. Businesses can help out as it should not lie at the feet of ratepayers who cannot afford to go to these events. Big business can help out!

3708 - Joan Simpson

The completion of Te Kaha, Parakiore the swimming complex and the already completed conference centre should all in their own right encourage events in Christchurch without the city having to spend more on attracting events.

3712 - Zeta Pringle (Coalition for safe accommodation in Christchurch)

Bidding for events is all well in good if the whole community benefits. Accommodation providers did not see many people stay because of sailgp in Lyttleton nor for conferences at te pa . We are not again at this but would appreciate hearing more and being in the loop. We are small fish compared to Melbourne Sydney, Gold Coast Fiji . We need to be realistic in our expectation. We must congratulate them on securing SailGP. Conferences at Te Pae do not affect most accommodation providers hence we reserve our support to increase funding

3714 - Harry Stronach (Akaroa and the Bays - Community Response Team)

Reduce bid funding

3723 - Don Babe

Events are good to have but they seem to be coming of their own accord like Sail GP and the number of conferences at Te Pai.

3724 - Terence Sissons

My only comment is that we should not fund bids unless we know we can deliver

3726 - Cliff Mason

Or reduce bid funding. International travel for business conferences is unacceptable in a climate emergency.

3727 - Carl Fox

We need to support and encourage the local economy as this has flow on effects for employment and investment (potential for a virtuous cycle) plus it provides social and cultural benefits for the broader community.

3729 - Jennifer Ross

Think there needs to be wider consideration given to the tourist/ out of town spend that comes when these events are held and the benefit that brings to the city as a whole

3730 - Ian Mason

Increasing visitor numbers will likely increase GHG emissions. Please think carefully about alternative ways to enhance the city.

3732 - Harry Stronach (Akaroa Ratepayers & Residents Assn Inc)

Reduce bid funding

3752 - Simon Blackburn

Christchurch is majorly under resourced when it comes to attracting international sporting events such as the xgames. We have a reputation for xtreme sports and adventure capital. However chch doesnt have the facilities to attract international visitors or events. Skateboarding bmx etc is hugely under resourced despite both now being olimpic sports.

3758 - Mads Churchhouse

I don't think CCC should spend its money on this when it can't fund public services, these major events don't bring long term sustainable income.

3759 - Ben Connolly

I dont support additional funding for large events, such as SailGP, or to activate the stadium.

3761 - Fiona Henderson

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Commonwealth Games]

The critical piece is here is the selection of the events that will be bid for. For example, the suggestion that Chch bid for the commonwealth games was ridiculous. That would have been an absolute waste of money. The level of funding ok as long as it is used wisely.

3770 - Jane Higgins

If there had been an option to reduce this funding I would have chosen it.

3775 - Kate Latimer

Reduce bid funding as this is up to commercial interests operating in the space - global accom partners & event operators.

3779 - Layling Stanbury

this is such a hazard. why do we even want these major events. I do not want ANY "world class events" in Otautahi; this is not going to do the climate crisis any good. We need to make sacrifices so that future generations can exist. the stadium should never have been proposed. this is such a waste of my money. stop this, concentrate on what you can do about the climate crisis.

378 - Chris Arnold

[Strategic Direction > Additional Savings & Efficiencies]

You need to look at how you can still bring in the events at no extra cost to rate payers, perhaps a Levi on the event organisers ticket price like they do in Canada. Thinking outside the box is needed.

3787 - Deb Donnell

After the debacle of Sail GP, which was held to ransom by iwi and activists, we have become a joke for attracting international events, etc. Rather than increase funding, or even leaving it as it is, you could get rid of all this virtue signalling and appeasing activists, which I am sure costs the city in significant koha and other "gifts".

3789 - Samantha Astin-Brown

Sure business should be paying for this, Hotels, Retail and tourism?

3791 - Sandra Beltman

[Other/Special Interest Topics > LTP Consultation]

[I wonder why there is not a further option given to us here - to reduce the spending on major and business events? ..as we have had in other category areas.

3800 - Rachel Barker

Suggest REDUCE funding of major and business events. This is a luxury in comparison to core functions of CCC.

3802 - Matthew Baird

[Grants & Funding > ChristchurchNZ Funding (General)], [Recreation, Sports & Events > Events]

"Major events" that are big and expensive only benefit the few who can afford to pay. Please prioritise funding for the smaller more community-oriented events that are free. Some examples: - South Island Lantern Festival - Buskers Festival (especially the daytime street acts that are open to all) - Community festivals like 'Culture Galore' - Christchurch Art Festival - Santa Parade - Street Art Festival - Christmas in the Park The big expensive "major events" can be paid for by the big corporates, with the CCC getting a cut for facilitating. It's also important to consider the environmental impact of large events. For example: 1. If they draw large crowds from far away, there are the high emissions from the travel of attendees to consider. That said, if bringing an event here means locals do not have to travel (e.g. to Auckland for a concert) that would have a positive impact on reducing emissions from travel.

3805 - Antony Lawrence

No evidence that bidding for events works.

3817 - Melissa Macfarlane

I support additional event bid funding for major and business events but not in 2024/25 – the rates increase is already high enough.

3820 - Rowan Sprague

[Recreation, Sports & Events > Events]

I think the bid funding should be decreased - why is this not an option above? I don't think the CCC should be spending as much money on bidding for major events, but I am supportive of continued community events (such as for Matariki).

3827 - Ken Morison

[Recreation, Sports & Events > Events]

Large events have large associated CO2 emissions. We need to think more locally for events that don't encourage large amounts of transport.

383 - Louise Woolley

Charge extra for people outside of CHCH to attend events (ie discount for locals)

3831 - Rick Jones

Why is the council even considering bid funding? Classic example: we spend hundreds of millions then get charged a targeted rate for Te Kaha only to have to pay the rugby union to play a game there - total BS.

3844 - My-Linh Dang

There is no option to reduce bid funding - this is what I would have selected. What evidence is there that these events help the financial position of the city? Some of these are vanity projects which should not be pursued at the cost of increased rates rises.

3846 - Rebecca Finch

There is no option to stop or reduce big event funding so I see this as a very sneaky thing to do, a kind of propaganda by omission, and very uncool. How much will you save if you dont do big event bids? How many emissions will you save by not promoting international travel? How could that money then be used to promote sustainable/local business and events for local people? How much could we then put into planting trees in streets!

forget about bids for big international events and put that money into trees in streets, cycleways and climate adaptation and mitigation projects.

3852 - Chris Coey

The reverse, all events that are currently funded should be reviewed. Do we need fireworks as an example in light of the move to reducing carbon emission??

386 - Christine McPhail

This is not the time to increase the pressure on ratepayers for unreliable returns outside core business.

3868 - Don Gould

Very poor!!! You should have included 3 options. Stop making predetermined outcomes. I would like to see a reduction in council funding for bidding for events. If events won't come then we need to rise up our own. For example don't 'buy the auckland flower show', make our own flower show.

3869 - Cam Parsonson

REDUCE THE BID FUNDING to 75% of current levels and reduce yearly by 5%.

3876 - Dave Evans

Events that encourage international travel are to be avoided due to the resulting carbon emissions. It will be a difficult adjustment for local businesses that rely on tourism, but as fossil fuel prices increase it is something that will happen whether they like it or not. Events and tourism spending should be focused on domestic, low-carbon tourism.

3877 - Hilary Quayle

Only bid on the things CHCH could host not what councillors think we should host.

3881 - Anne Scott

I think there should be some funding but not the level suggested.

3883 - Colin Meurk

we don't necessarily need the most expensive overseas performers, but rather increased support for local talent in concerts in the park for everyone. more music and dancing in the park. this is what brings communities together and relaxes people. we have so much talent and much of it disappears bcos of lack of support.

3893 - Joe Pope

Why was there no funds put aside to attract events to Te Kaha? To build a stadium that expensive and have no money to bid for events is absolute bullshit and an example of institutional failure

3895 - Margaret Trotter

Funding major events are one offs-put the money into facilities that are already in our city. Especially for children and families. This creates a vibrant caring city. Major international events need to be cost neutral-how much do they cost the city and at the expense of our underfunded facilities. Not just the projected costs. If they do not cost us then they should not be taking money away from the city. No to any additional funding.

We need to know how much we are paying for the bidding of these events. What the real cost is eg traffic management, staffing, environmental issues, waste disposal etc. They should be a profit for the city not a funding drain. We need more transparency on the total costs as I understand about commercial sensitivity but do not hide behind this as an excuse.

3896 - Coral Denize

Reduce the bid funding

3907 - Graham Muir

If these events are so beneficial, why are the sectors that gain from these events not prepared to pay for the 'promotions' rather than expecting the ratepayer to contribute year after year.

3908 - Cathy Harlow

I'm a bit bemused that it's apparently normal to bid for events. To a layperson it sounds like we've been conned into paying people to allow them to make money using our facilities. But, okay, let's say this is sensible, why should this be a ratepayers' expense? I get that a city is a complex system and events are part of that etc but why not think about a mechanism where event bids are funded by those who are actually interested in the particular event, whether because they want to attend or make money from it? For example, could you ask people to invest in event bid funding via bond that could pay them out if the event is profitable? Or, people could invest in event bid funding for a discounted ticket price for that event.

3910 - Joshua Jones

Strategic bids, stealing a concert from another city isn't a great option in itself, tourism sector could do well to drive exclusive world specialties in events. How do we do fewer but bigger events

393 - Kathryn Russell

Look to international cities not putting forward bids for to cost to ratepayers..

3944 - Lyn Dawson

Corporate welfare - why should ratepayers pay to have major entertainers and sports events come to Chch? Apart from a short benefit for hospo, does anything get returned to the council coffers? (Yes, I love attending some of these events)

3949 - Fay Brorens

Should we bid for events? It seems strange to me. But yes we want a vibrant city and we want facilities to be used.

3951 - Steph Walker (Christchurch Arts Audience Development Trust)

Having major infrastructure finally open to the public is incredibly exciting and offers great opportunities. However, we need to set these new resources up for success. If increasing the bid funding means less likelihood of these new venues requiring further funding from the Council at the expense of other smaller spaces, places and organisations then we believe this investment should be made. We would, of course, prefer that this bid funding be directed towards music and other creative/cultural events. Increased events of this nature, alongside a plan to promote the city's other cultural attractions, would benefit both visitors and arts organisations.

396 - Daniel Jackson

Inside the fund if there are more bids should be an allowance for environmental management and reduction of sound travel (for concerts). It was good to see the sail GP paused for the environments sake. Ensuring low impact and clean events is pretty important so they cost us less in the long run.

3961 - Paul Robertson

Councils record not great so far. Dont want to pour more money into this Need to focus on sorting things out so that we dont lose the events that do come, as we did with the Sail GP

3967 - Graham Wagener

I think bid funding should be cut from the proposed amount in the draft LTP.

3969 - H Bloomer-Law

I think we get more cultural value from supporting local events and artistry. We can lose the bid proposals and save money and environmental impacts from hosting huge events, it seems like a no-brainer.

3975 - Suzanne Walker

Reduce!!

3986 - Chris Kelly

Do you have any comments on the additional event bid funding proposal:

We dont want these events or major attractions. They are not climate friendly with all the Air miles used, and Air NZ is planting pine forests on farmland in NZ - bullshit Carbon offset.

3988 - Jerry French

I WOULD LIKE TO KNOW IF WE MAKE ANY MONEY (THE COUNCIL) OUT OF EVENTS HELD IN HAGLEY PARK - I HOPE WE DO!! THIS SHOULD BE HANDLED BY PRIVATE ORGANIZATIONS - NOT COUNCIL STAFFERS.

3994 - Sarah Boje

Don't support bid funding for major events, run our own and user pays

4005 - Janet Lockyer

I think that the events should be reduced or stopped while we all have to “tighten our belts”. Covid has affected many in going to mass events anyways. Once we are through this recession a celebration will mean much more.

Reduce event funding

4020 - Brian Turner

Business should be paying more given they gain more from major events.

4027 - Rona Buttimore

Get rugby to pay

403 - Paul Davis

Bid funding should be lowered. Why is that not an option?

4032 - Paul Dietsche

Less bid funding

4037 - Jo Kidd

As businesses benefit the most from these activities the majority of funding should come from commercial rates.

417 - Jackie Astall

Definitely leave major events to private organisations. Costs too much for home owners, they are the only ones paying rates

430 - Kate Porter

We are going to ruin the events with red tape anyway (just like sail go) Any future events the CCC needs to look at ways to make it easier and less expensive for events to look at Christchurch as an option

433 - Derek Phelps

We should not be buying event's, they should all be self-funded with cost being taken from the income generated by the businesses running the events

450 - Allison Husband

Why not take out the 'competitive' aspect and let Christchurch attract people for what it is: a beautiful, accessible, friendly city with easy access to beaches, ski fields, Banks Peninsula, Hanmer and Kaikoura.

452 - Mark Penrice

CCC could attempt to get events that will encourage repeat tourism over a long period of time rather than an unmanageable spike in numbers. Rotorua have done this with crank works, Queenstown did this with a DH world cup and Christchurch could do this with a round of the MTB Enduro World Series.

458 - Christine Cockle

Get rid of it altogether.

464 - Mary McCammon

[Strategic Direction>Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities]

I believe that big international events are not the correct focus for a council, in terms of sustainability. The council should be (1) providing, maintaining and improving infrastructure (2) supporting community through libraries and swimming pools (3) maintaining the city's built and natural heritage (4) making climate change adaptation and resilience a feature of every decision.

482 - Graham Townsend

The wording above seems to assume that "attracting new major international sports, business and music events" is inevitably a good thing. If commercial interests want to do so, let them pay for it, NOT ratepayers!

526 - Stephen French

Best hold off additional funding until inflation has steadied.

546 - Lisa Boyce

Wait until the stadium's built?

550 - Colin Mansell

Aim to attract. Tourism, local and international, rather than headline attracting events that are just ego boosting

572 - Brian Nelson

Im sure International and National Events Managers are well aware of the facilities on offer in our city. We do not need to spend vast sums to attract them here as largely they respond to their own needs in fulfilling their clients expectations.

577 - Donna Tse

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters]

Council funding should come from the reduction of consultancy fees to allow the continuation of the bidding due to return cost of benefits to the area.

578 - Susanne Trim

However, I do think that there could be provision to review this once the stadium and the metro sports centres are open. It may well be to our advantage to increase the level and so I think that there should be a review date of 2026 set to see if an adjustment is required.

652 - Sharon Howells (Sharon Howells School of Dance)

If people in Ch Ch want to see international events they travel, they make a weekendaway out of it. But why can not the Council look after the Local talent and organizations to provide them with Events still at a World class standard, but do not gain by ticket sales at the door and can offer all ages in Christchurch an event.

657 - Murray Peacock

The event funding needs to be reduced , all activities need to be costed and if the organisation cannot do it themselves, with their own finance the event does not take place, you cannot increase rates by 13.24% and give money away to event procurement

663 - Sam Chow-Tan

Dont fund too many events. Allow other agencies or businesses to fund these.

665 - Rene Arthur

We are banking all our money on this slow return...are the infrastructure i.e. transport, accommodation being considered for this event bid funding?

670 - Sue Orpwood

The Sail GP event part cancellation over some dolphins and the huge power of part Maori to effect this was embarrassing to Chch. This area needs to be sorted out before we bid for anything else.

687 - Anna Laurenson

[Recreation, Sports & Events > Events]

If anything bid less. We can't afford to spend a fortune every year on light shows, fireworks, Christmas in the park etc. These are nice to haves not essential and should be charged for.

692 - Tony Ward

We should decrease the bid funding. This is not a core council activity

702 - Tim Stedman

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Commonwealth Games]

Reduce bid funding for major and business events especially any thoughts around hosting the Commonwealth Games

708 - John Allen

Reduce funding for Major events why should big business prop up private enterprise!

712 - Liz van Montfort

Could that be with private partnerships?

[Coder Note: regarding additional event bid funding]

715 - Hayley Barrett

Stop paying for events to come to Christchurch. This is not your job. If an event wants to come here and it is a viable business option, the private sector will make it happen.

There is no option to reduce it, but in the current economic environment, this is what needs to happen. The people that pay for these events to come here (rate payers) see no personal benefit from holding these events. If bringing events here resulted in income that then reduced our rates, it would be a great idea. Instead, certain businesses benefit, and the poor rate payer bears the cost.

718 - Sharon Pheasant

This needs to be held until Te Kaha is finished.

727 - Donal McEvoy

Provide a list of activities that CHCH was unsuccessful in attracting to the city due to having insufficient bid funding so the people can review and make an educated decision on it.

733 - Tania Thompson

why does it cost rate payers to have events, shouldnt it just be that its available and they want to come here so locals spend..?

742 - Mark Holland

Reduce the bid funding council is already short of money.

747 - Euan Gutteridge

Again not essential. Ideally we should be reducing the funding

751 - Genevieve Robinson

I don't support the eco events funding to be used for SailGP

eco events funding should not be used for sail gp

I don't support the eco events funding to be used for major events such as Sailgp -

752 - Vivienne Hewson

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

Investing in adapting to climate change is a bigger priority in my opinion than events

759 - Rory Kinahan

Review all bid funding for major and business events. If events are profitable, then companies will stage them and the ratepayers won't have to pay.

760 - David Palmer

Ratepayers should not be subsidising major events like sport or music concerts. SailGP for example should not have received any ratepayer assistance . I would opt to slash that budget if possible.

768 - Volker Nock

Given the impending climate crisis, Christchurch should only actively promote events that are climate neutral.

782 - Áine Smyth

YOU SHOULD LOWER IT. WHY ARE YOU SPENDING MONEY ON GAMES AND ENTERTAINMENT WHEN YOU COULD BE INVESTING IT IN OUR FUTURE

799 - John Ascroft

Reduce this nonsense

8 - Justin Yudistira

We should have a moderate increase in bid funding, the more events we have in the city especially once Te Kaha is done, the better for our economy. But, for every event, there should be a special charge and the monies collected is given for the Cathedral rebuild.

810 - Susan Mullord

I realize that events benefit local businesses however I question whether some events are of much interest and joy to most ratepayers. I would like funding to be provided on a "how many people will come to and enjoy this event" rather than "how much will this increase local business turnover"

812 - Matthew Fagan

[Three Waters > Operations]

There is no way this should be prioritised over the maintenance of failing water infrastructure. I am happy to have this budget increased slightly, as long as the maintenance and replacement budget for our VITAL water infrastructure is increased.

814 - Malcolm McKellar

Bid for events with low carbon footprint

865 - Kelvin Duncan

Lower it?

868 - Lucas Moreno

Make sure the new stadium being built has the required resource consents for running at least 20 concerts per year, and multiple events. We need this city to be vibrant again, rather than wasting money or not wanting to bother the people living next door to the stadium too much. Listen to the majority, and take examples of other overseas strategies.

877 - Helen Hessey

I feel that big business should provide the majority of funding for big events

881 - Katherine Doig

Focus on investing at a local level in sports, business and music events produced by your residents; leave the international events for now and be fiscally prudent, there is no need to grandstand in the current fiscal climate, it's irresponsible. Enjoy the fact that our home grown talent is, in fact, world class, and focus on encouraging and celebrating it.

885 - Denise Kidd

More rigour applied to ensuring "economic benefit" for events. Lyttelton business sector has not benefited from your cruise ships or Sail GP event in Lyttelton.

935 - Rob Davies

Major event bid funding

Should we leave bid funding for major and business events at current levels in the Draft LTP, as proposed?
Or should we increase the bid funding?

- Leave the bid funding for major and business events at current levels in the Draft LTP, as proposed.
This expenditure is included in the proposed rates increase. While it may not have an impact on rates, it could have implications for our ability to attract major and business events in the short term.
- Increase the bid funding. This means we will be able to continue to attract new major international sports, business and music events, but would also mean an additional rates increase of 0.42% in year one of the LTP, 0.04% in year two, and 0.14% in year three.

Do you have any comments on the additional event bid funding proposal?

Major events if you want
To justify such an excessive rate hike are
NOT justifiable -

DO NOT BID if it is costing us! Eg heard a bid for Commonwealth games may be in the pipeline. This cost $4.661 000 mill in 1974. Houses will be displaced for accom etc NO NO NO! We can't afford this in any way shape or form and you put up rates to \approx 27%!?? LOGIC PLEASE

966 - Sarah Lunam

Yes bring a league football to Christchurch. Bring more football games here.

977 - Bridget Stokes

I think at present the Council should be concerned in fixing the City so major events will want to come. We actually have bigger problems and stormwater and finishing the City off from the earthquake is very important. The inner city needs more magic appeal.

982 - Craig Newbury

But only if the increase of 0.42% in year one of the LTP, 0.04% in year two, and 0.14% in year 3 are funded thru cutting something else. No new spending!!

989 - Dave Renison

Why is "Reduce bid funding" an option. Trying to bias the outcome maybe?

990 - Wendy Fergusson

I liked to have my share of what's going to the cathedral go to this area

Not Stated

1098 - Eric Pawson

this is getting near the margins of local government responsibility in my view

1551 - Philippa Curtis

I was very surprised to see the relative spend between what goes to the ChristchurchNZ ($15.9million), and the community events ($4million). Why so much to business. A $67million ROI is mentioned (I assume this is for both community & business events), so is this not self funding? And should it not be self funding for business. Why the massive discrepancy ($4 vs $15.9 million)? And why do business events require so much of a council subsidy to host them here?

161 - Sam Apps

Unsure what the right answer is here as I feel the stadium isn't big enough to begin with.

1694 - Tamsin Page

Should never have gone ahead with Te Kaha in the first place >>> in terms of constantly paying to try to attract events to justify its existence. [Spending > Te Kaha]

1699 - Dominic McKeown

be mindfull of the events and what benefits it does bring to everyone. how accessible will it be. the sail GP limited access to a restricted amount and at a cost. dunedin has seen the benefit of a covered stadium by geting various events there and this should be considered for christchurch. even having a yearly stadium challenge event thats a run around outside up some stairs and then around the filed approx 5km.

1717 - Mark Doyle

Get cleverer people in the room.

1750 - Edel Loughheed-Deane

The bonus of hosting these types of events is only really seen by commercial businesses hotels, restaurants etc. Events like Electric Avenue are still expensive to the average person.

1788 - Sandra Ward

Generally the rate payer gets nothing financially out of these events. Some businesses will make some money, no doubt some of it will go off-shore due to businesses being overseas owned, eg Hotels.

188 - Tony MacHarper

Unclear exactly to what extent are other councils increasing event bid funding? If other major centres are effectively out spending Christchurch the case for an increase may be proven (particularly if the new stadium and Convention Centre finances were to be significantly improved).

1913 - Liz Meek

You still have many areas of funding which hold value to the community which will miss out if you drop them to fund this. It's a gamble and there are other priorities eg climate change

2087 - Emma Norrish (Waipapa Papanui-Innes-Central Community Board)

The Board does not have a steer on this from the community as yet, and has heard compelling rationale for both options. It looks forward to learning the community's views on this.

2189 - James Riddoch (Property Council New Zealand)

Property Council recognises the work done by Council, Venues Otautahi and ChristchurchNZ in securing major and business events for the city. The economic impact of such events is significant and there is a real sense of momentum gathering. As such while Property Council supports the Council's preferred option to spend $4 million for major and business events, we would not oppose additional bid funding in the first three years of the plan. Council has a key role in leading and driving growth meaning such an investment will continue to see investment by the private sector into the regeneration and recovery of the city post-earthquakes. We look forward to seeing Christchurch appropriately unlock the benefits of its anchor projects once open – including Te Kaha and Parakoire.

2310 - Helen Broughton (Waipuna Halswell Hornby Riccarton Community Board)

There are mixed views within the Board and the community on the appropriate level of bid funding.

2751 - Helen Holyoak

Why is 'mayor event funding' assumed to be something of need to future generations. It's a luxury for future generations!

2799 - Dot Lovell-Smith

Capitalist enterprises should not be publically funded. Public funds should be spent on the public good.

2849 - Patrick Dunford

These events mainly benefit tourism companies, promoters and event hire companies and do not create benefit for the vast majority of ratepayers.

2861 - Laila Jansone

large events do not benefit all city, just a CBD

2948 - Peter Borodin

Are the events bringing money to the city council???

2953 - Quentin Kelly

The SailGP is gone and never coming back. That was someones only job to get and keep that here and they failed. Christchurch event funding needs to mature a whole lot. More things that people can take families to, that they can be proud of when tourists visit. We have some amazing things to see here, not much to do though. The adventure park is one of the best things, and the hot pools at Brighton, but limited and niche. That aquatic center needs to be demolished and the people on the project jailed for abusing tax payers money. Get as much into the new convention center as possible. Beautiful building, top class. Have lots of quirky events there to get people in the door to utilize the space. Technology expos (you wont do a Cisco Live! thats for sure) would be good other than smelly Armageddon dwellers. Make it affordable, make it accommodating, remove trouble before it begins.

3115 - Jane McCulla

This will build over time with the new stadium and conference centre up and running.

3299 - Phil OMalley

Where possible, provide the costs of these events. What are the costs for events for SailGP? When (or do they already) does NZ rugby charge for hosting a test match?

3451 - Sarah Lovelady

I don't know. You have a lot to balance, but don't forget our heritage and cultural buildings and needs.

3453 - Zeta Pringle

Bidding for events in Christchurch is a necessary cost to the city. Rate payers need to see the benefits rather than reterocic and lots of words of the events to keep business on side as many never receive any benefit from events. The way to keep business and rate payer inside is good communication and taking the community with you. Sponsor are a huge plus and will be very important with the new stadium

Yes events are important but the effect is not felt in Hornby redwood or Riccarton from a conference in at Te Pa only the hotels close by benefit catering is part of the conference so not all hospitality facilities are part of that visitors to our city. Funding needs to be kept in check . Bidding against Melbourne Sydney Gold Coast places where they have so much to offer. We must be realistic in our expectations. Not all the city see the benefits so I bro no additional funding is required . communication is the key to bringing the whole city on board not just the city centre few whom going from events in the city centre.

3455 - Craig Steele

more money = more jobs for the many thousands who work in the entertainment industry

3479 - Rhys Glenjarman

Christchurch does not jave anywhere near appropriate infrastructure to hold major events like Olympic games, especially with the modern issue of social media increasing tourist influx for major events. Niagara falls recently declared a state of emergency to handle the influx of tourists to the area during tje recent solar eclipse. Although this was not an organised event, Christchurch would need incredible infrastructure improvements to accommodate organised events of a larger scale than is already planned... you just watch the central city shut down every time you open the doors to that eyesore of a new stadium first, before we make any bigger plans.

3577 - Marie Byrne

While I hesitate to recommend any increase, I also acknowledge the increased economic benefit that major events bring to the city.

3618 - Chrys Horn

We shouldn't be encouraging people to travel across the world in high carbon emitting tin cans to meet here (sigh).

3694 - Jane Pairman

I am unconvinced how much benefit Christchurch residents receive from hosting major events.

3737 - Elsie Stockman

I am not concerned with events and find other issues more pressing

3771 - Paul Bacon

Use our facilities

3840 - Liz Horton

We shouldn't be hosting international sports events at the cost of the rate payers.

3891 - Christopher Gauci

Big events are nice, nice to have, but can't be to the detriment of basic infrastructure

3931 - David Moorhouse

Hosting the sail gp while dolphins are active was very short sighted

397 - Merrick Brown

No point bidding on events if we can't actually run them properly e.g. day 1 of Sail GP.

4038 - Jodi Wright

423 - Linda MacIntyre

Consider our small mostly financially struggling residents here, when only a tiny percentage of people will benefit financially.

459 - Aaron Watson

We don't want backhanders and corruption, our city will sell itself

467 - Anna Scheirlinck

Some serious cost benefit analysis needs to happen. Who benefits? Is it everyone or just neighbouring big business?

489 - Barry Livermore

Again the ratepayer is being pinged.Perhaps survey each household to see who attends these events.You will be surprised.

624 - Emma Velde

But don't stuff up hosting major events with climate / environment and iwi conflicts. Sail GP is the perfect example of what not to do.

631 - Cynthia Roberts

While I enjoy the events that the event bid funding bring (eg SailGP), they do feel like a sugar rush and that the millions spent could be better used to build a cycleway, a library, fund the arts centre and activities and services that are there permanently bringing communities together.

ChristchurchNZ Funding (General)

General Comments

96 submissions were received regarding the proposed level of funding for ChristchurchNZ.

13 comments were supportive of the proposed level of funding, 18 were opposed.

52 provided alternative proposal for funding, and 14 comments were general.

Officer Response

Mixed views from submissions, many focussed on particular events rather than overall ChChNZ funding.

- Individual submissions generally criticised Sail GP and suggested reduced spending on major events.
- Business/Tourism submissions generally supported retaining ChChNZ funding at this time and outlined the benefits of doing so.
- Few submissions supported increased funding.
- ChChNZ's involvement in the New Brighton regeneration project was supported.
- Other specific requests mentioned was for reinstatement of the Business Events bid fund ($500,000), and the Screen Canterbury NZ production grant was included in the funding package of $1.5m over 3 years.
- Several suggested ChChNZ was over staffed.

ChristchurchNZ's involvement in urban regeneration is subject to a separate review and its role can be assessed following Council's consideration of the review.

Staff recommend that ChChNZ continue to develop its model for cost benefit return on investment in events and projects and prioritise its funding based on its analysis, and this be shared with Council.

The Letter of Expectations and Statement of Intent are the primary means for Council to provide direction on priorities to ChChNZ.

Dear Mayor Mauger and Councillors

Draft Long Term Plan 2024-2034: Submission from Tourism Export Council of New Zealand

On behalf of the Tourism Export Council of New Zealand (TECNZ) we are writing in support of ChristchurchNZ (CNZ) for ongoing funding in the event any proposed funding cuts in the Long Term Plan 2024-2034 are being considered for ChristchurchNZ, and in particular, with major event and business event funding.

Our understanding is that Major and Business Events (“the event ecosystem”) investment has not been included in Council’s Long Term Plan but has been included in the consultation material asking whether the community wants to include it funded through additional rates increases.

ChristchurchNZ is currently tagged to receive $15.9 million funding from the Council in 2025, of which $1 million is allocated to supporting major and business events. This amount largely covers operational overheads, staffing and marketing and leaves little remaining for major and business event bid funding.

As an integral national stakeholder with an interest in the visitor economy (particularly with attracting international visitors), we wish to advocate for ChristchurchNZ to retain its major event and business event funding levels in the Long Term Plan 2024-2034.

Some key points:

- Council has made large capital investments in events infrastructure. Operational investment in events is needed to fully activate this infrastructure and maximise return on investment.
- In the 22-23 FY $2.9m was invested in major events which generated $35.8m in visitor spending and a return on investment of 11:1.
- In the 23-24 FY $500K was invested in business events returning $25.8M over 5 years to 2028 (ROI 35:1).
- The forecast ROI for the fund over ten years is $670 million.
- Major events provide other benefits beyond economic impact including city brand profile, visitation, legacy outcomes including infrastructure and community benefits.
- Business events provide other benefits beyond economic impact including business attraction, knowledge sharing and support in developing clusters of interest.

The Tourism Export Council of New Zealand is the private sector national tourism organisation that influences visitor flows in the international tourism sector. Our primary members, Inbound Tour Operators (ITOs) act as the commercial conduit with tourism businesses in your community with offshore markets (like Fonterra does). ITOs package up New Zealand tourism suppliers into an itinerary and sell offshore to tour wholesalers and travel agents to make it easier for prospective visitors to New Zealand to ‘buy’ a New Zealand holiday.

ITOs work very closely with regional tourism organisations like ChristchurchNZ. ITOs rely on RTOs to keep them updated with new visitor experiences, new products and new infrastructure development like city assets and attracting new investment to the city with hotel chains. This is important so when ITOs go to sell the region offshore they are fully up to date with what businesses can be included for Christchurch City.

Tourism operates 'in advance' of when visitors arrive and spend money in the city and from an international perspective the RTO is marketing the city one-two years in advance. With regard to international events and conferences, sometimes they are marketing two-five years in advance.

Christchurch's assets, visitor products and experiences are promoted through the great work the RTO does and also by larger businesses and accommodation chains. When you think of all the international visitors your city sees, every business (like event venues like Te Pae and the new Stadium, motels, hotels, Riverside Market, supermarkets, cafes, petrol stations, golf courses etc.) must ask themselves, how does an international visitor know to come to our city or walk through my front door? Does an event venue or service provider, restaurant, bar, café or motel owner go offshore to market their business to international visitors? In most cases, the answer is no.

Visitors find their way to the front door of event venues, accommodation providers, gondolas, adventure parks, restaurants, cafes, and retail outlets because of the following parties promoting and marketing your district.

- ChristchurchNZ (RTO) has been investing and promoting the city offshore
- ITOs have been investing, promoting and packaging up your visitor products and experiences
- Local city businesses have invested with international marketing to promote the city e.g. international hotel chains like Accor, Crowne Plaza, Novotel, Distinction, Sudima, Heritage etc. along with larger tourism businesses like RealNZ (International Antarctic Centre) and Christchurch Attractions etc.

The collective investment by these parties has resulted in Christchurch City having a strong profile in many countries resulting in offshore travel agents putting Christchurch on their New Zealand itineraries.

It is often hard to measure the ROI of the work the RTO does because their 'work' is done in advance of the visitor arriving in the city. Some of the tangible measures are:

- Increase in visitor numbers
- Increase in visitor spend
- Increased employment and workforce

Some of the intangible and harder to measure indicators are:

- Global reputation the city has as a vibrant visitor destination
- The links the RTO has with other industry sectors promoting the city in a City Inc. perspective
- The role the RTO has with promoting the University of Canterbury and the education sector along with Christchurch Airport as the major gateway to the South Island
- The role the RTO does with promoting all the city assets and infrastructure to help deliver a positive ROI

Without having a fully resourced RTO capability in the future who can objectively continue to promote all the paid and free experiences visitors can do attend events, attend conferences, walks, reserves, cycling, visiting heritage sites, gardens, etc., there is potential for less international visitors to put Christchurch on their NZ itineraries.

After the huge recovery effort Christchurch NZ has done with promoting the changing face of Christchurch after the 2010 and 2011 earthquakes, and in attracting international events like SailGP and promoting Te Pae and the city as New Zealand's newest business event destination (and the best), it would be counter productive to the ROI the city needs with their infrastructure investment if there was a reduction in event bid funding or operational funding.

CNZ is a fully functioning RTO that undertakes marketing activity and destination management in the following areas:

- Event marketing (events that attract visitors from outside the region)
- Conference and incentive marketing (high spending conference delegates)
- International marketing (holiday visitors)

- Domestic marketing (leisure)
- The RTO is one of the primary marketers of Council assets
- The RTO works with airports, transport providers, Iwi and government agencies like Department of Conservation, NZ Transport Authority and other national organisations that help influence improved services and infrastructure for ratepayers as well as for visitors.

If funding is reduced, some marketing activity and engagement with destination management planning will be affected.

- Reduced funding = reduced marketing activity
- Working with travel trade (offshore travel agents and tour wholesalers) takes years to establish reputation. Once the relationship the RTO has with offshore travel trade has been severed (if the RTO no longer is able to do in-market training with agents) it can take years to rebuild a new relationship.
- A dilution of the RTOs message could see less visitors in the future. The RTO is the primary voice in attracting visitors in a competitive market to your local area.
- If there are less visitors there is the potential for job losses within the community

ChristchurchNZ is highly valued within the New Zealand tourism industry and with offshore trade. Through its exceptional leadership by Loren Heapy (General Manager Destination and Attraction) and the great work that the team does offshore with bidding for events, training agents, and onshore with Inbound Tour Operators, they have built strong, credible, and valued relationships with industry. The CNZ team are great ambassadors for your city and wider region, and they work with pride in representing and promoting Council's visitor services, products, and experiences.

We (TECNZ) are mindful that Councils have enormous pressure on budgets as you face many planned and unplanned expenses and costs in order to serve your community well. It is a challenging time economically and that affects some of the services you provide ratepayers.

We hope in the event with your budgeting you can retain the same level of funding for ChristchurchNZ. We know you will continue to be served well by the CNZ team in the future.

We would be happy to speak to this submission in person. We wish Council all the best with its deliberations and future planning. Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions.

2850 - Neil Cooper (Greater New Brighton Community Leadership Group)

We support the Council's continued funding of ChristchurchNZ's Urban Development Team to continue leading New Brighton's regeneration and supporting the community and private sector to get involved.

2990 - Darryl Jan Atkinson

We went to sail GP and it was a fantastic event. So well organized and a great buzz around the city before and after racing. Does great things for the entire city.

3574 - Paul Ballantine (UC Business School)

I am writing to you today to advocate for maintained or increased funding in the 2024-34 Long Term Plan of our local economic development agency, ChristchurchNZ (CNZ). The UC Business School, and the University of Canterbury as a whole, has witnessed firsthand the positive impact that CNZ has had on stimulating entrepreneurship and innovation, particularly in leveraging the wealth of ideas generated at our local university. Christchurch's economic growth is contingent upon fostering an environment that nurtures and supports local entrepreneurs and innovators. Growing modern, scalable businesses here in Canterbury results in increased GDP and high value jobs. For example, Christchurch software company Seequent, which employed just one person in 2004 has been bought in April 2024 for NZ$1.46b. This is repeatable, sticky, long term, sustainable economic growth. By allocating resources to our economic development agency, we are investing in the future prosperity and resilience of our community. It will act to cement Otautahi as New Zealand's premier city. There are high level outcomes which have resulted from the Council funding CNZ to develop the innovation ecosystem:

- By providing resources, mentorship, and networking opportunities, CNZ empowers aspiring entrepreneurs to turn their ideas into viable businesses.
- CNZ helps to release the potential of university generated deep tech IP and groundbreaking ideas and inventions
- By supporting local entrepreneurs, CNZ creates new employment opportunities, attracts talent to our city, and stimulates economic activity. Furthermore, successful start-ups have the potential to attract investment and put our city on the map as a hub for innovation and entrepreneurship.
- By fostering a vibrant ecosystem of start-up firms across various sectors, CNZ is helping to diversify our economy and make it more resilient to economic shocks. This diversification is essential for long-term sustainability and prosperity.
- CNZ builds collaborative capital by serving as a catalyst for community engagement and collaboration. By bringing together entrepreneurs, investors, educators, and government officials, CNZ creates synergies that drive innovation and collective problem-solving. To their credit, CNZ has turned these high level outcomes into a measurable reality. Startup Blink now rates Christchurch as a rising centre for innovation. UC and CNZ have built a collaborative and impactful partnership over the last five years, enabling the delivery of economic disrupt challenges, early idea Valuation programmes aimed at filling the pipeline of new startup ideas, and joint initiatives which complement CNZ cluster and investment attraction activities. UC is a great ideas generator. It helps students and staff turn those ideas into a new venture, but we need the help of CNZ to connect these emerging changemakers with the industry connections and systems which CNZ are actively developing.
- The university's Centre for Entrepreneurship and the Research & innovation Office have helped launch and shape significant companies such as Zincovery, KiwiFibre, Kea Aerospace, MedSalv.
- CNZ's Screen Office will be a vital partner in leveraging UC's $120M investment in the Digital Screen Campus.
- As a result of the rise in awareness of the innovation system supported by CNZ the university is receiving approaches from benefactors and cashed-up entrepreneurs who want to reinvest in the startup cycle in Otautahi. There have been incredible gains in the last three years as a result of the application of CNZ resources to collaborative projects in the innovation ecosystem. CNZ acts as a bridge between the university and the business community, facilitating the transfer of knowledge and technology from academia to the marketplace. CNZ amplifies the outputs of UC and vice-versa. In conclusion, we cannot allow the previous investment in CNZ to become sunk costs. I urge the City Council to prioritise the continued and hopefully increased funding of CNZ. By doing so, we are investing in the future vitality and prosperity of our community, which improves the base from which to fund all of Council activities. Let us seize this opportunity to unleash the full potential of our local entrepreneurship and innovation ecosystem.

4051 - Lisa Hopkins (Business Events Industry Aotearoa)

1.0 INTRODUCTION

- 1.1 Business Events Industry Aotearoa (BEIA) welcomes the opportunity to provide a submission on Christchurch City region's Long Term Plan (LTP) consultation document.
- 1.2 This submission supports ChristchurchNZ, and specifically the work it does marketing, promoting and selling Christchurch as a premium business events destination. BEIA believes a material reduction in support for the ChristchurchNZ and the work it does to future-proof the pipeline of conferences and events coming into the city and region over the next 10 years will be to the detriment of the economic and social prosperity of the city.
- 1.3 Reduction in spend to ChristchurchNZ is counterintuitive to the objective the Council is seeking to achieve. This is an economically driven division which can demonstrate a financial ROI. For every $1.00 spent by the ChristchurchNZ to acquire a business event, $35.00 is generated. This includes spending on accommodation, hospitality, transportation, excursions, and retail, not to mention the cost of the staging of the event and the multiple organisations involved.
- 1.4 Since COVID-19, the business events industry has become more considered yet competitive. While it was suggested that during the pandemic, face-to-face meetings were to be a relic of the past, the opposite has occurred, with a resurgence of conferences and events due to the pent-up need for human connection. This has meant the tactical use of subvention or financial incentives.
- 1.5 As a sector, the Business Events industry delivers the highest daily yield of any sector across the visitor economy. It is high-quality, fast-growing, and with events of scale, it will bring delegates who are higher-net-worth individuals and professionals with costs of their travel often covered by their employer.
- 1.6 These visitors are typically more likely to return to the host destination with family as a visitor.⁴

3.0 BEYOND ECONOMIC AND TOURISM BENEFITS

3.1 Business events deliver beyond economic advantages and should be given the strongest consideration of the broader benefits the sector provides to support the ongoing need of ChristchurchNZ.

- a. Community Legacies: Major business, academic, and professional events generate key legacies within their communities. They provide a destination profile, transfer skills and knowledge, create new networks, and enhance image. Any of these can be shaped and aligned to address community needs that align with Christchurch City's priorities.
- b. Talent and Investment: Business Events are magnets for individuals and investment resources that drive key development and professional sectors. They boost education, innovation and professional development of existing talent and attract new talent.
- c. Path to Sustainable Development: Business Events lead the "renewed" economy toward sustainable development (environmental, educational, social equity) that requires productive integrations to succeed. This supports many of Christchurch City own sustainable priorities.
- d. Image and Reputation: Prominent business events are another lever towards generating destination profile and prestige, working hand in hand with tourism and destination management.
- e. Multi-Sector Impacts: Business Events can drive activation, renewal, and re-engagement across a range of economic (trade, investment, talent, reputational etc.), social (health and wellness, education, housing, transportation, planning etc.), professional, academic, and business sectors.

CONCLUSION

Around the world, business events are used as part of a destination's strategic economic plan and to align with specific economic objectives. They are an investment in long-term planning and the future of a mature city.

Here in New Zealand, the industry is launching its first industry strategic direction, Piata Mai. This direction is designed to ensure that over the next 10 years, the sector is building towards a more aligned, more sustainable industry.

From a central and local governance perspective, this will also offer a framework to align the business events industry as a strategic imperative. The purpose is to use the sector to advance key priorities, whether access to international experts in specific subjects or using the platform to present New Zealand experts on a global stage. Christchurch City AND ChristchurchNZ play a critical role in this strategy.

Oh Why do you all hide from the fact that ChristchurchNZ should be reviewed immediately with a view to closing it down Rate payers need to be made aware we contribute $17 million to this And for what really? For over 100 years promoters and entrepreneurs have brought ballet, circuses, choirs & pop stars etc to Christchurch NZ without the need to have a ChristchurchNZ type organisation involved. And don't start me on their research regarding the value of this , because the motels & hotels are fully occupied when events are here anyway it's the way it's always happened. Any essential Serviced Christchurch NZ carry out ie Canterbury tourism should come back under the CCC Hereford st umbrella That's where huge savings should be made

[Grants & Funding > Events Ecosystem Funding]

Really, we've just lost the opportunity to host sail GP going forward. Why increase funding when CCC can't even retain bids that you've previously won?

1519 - Matthew Williams

Why should Christchurch NZ funding be maintained at 15.9 Million. Why not $14 million for instance, allowing for other activities or less of a drain on the general rates

1612 - Emma Johnson

I feel that Major Events like Sail GP do not bring the economic benefits to the city that they are meant to. So we should not bid for them.

[coders note. Do you have any comments on the additional event bid funding proposal?]

See above. Certain events bring questionable benefits to the city.

No Stop funding activities and events. All profits from these are to private individuals or business and they should meet all costs (including infrastructure)

Do not fund promotions events, activities etc

Sail GP has not given back to the Lyttelton community

2438 - Courtney Bennett

Do not continue to financially support Sail GP. I am a huge sailing fan, but the way Russell Couttes disrespected our city and the hard working people from ChristchurchNZ, Council (via the Harbour master), mana whenua, and DOC was unacceptable. We don't need to fund people who disrespect our city and it's people.

[Strategic Direction > Additional Savings and Efficiencies]

I recently found out we spent $2 Million on the SailGP yacht race! What a waste of tax payers money on an elitist rich people's sport - no pensioner should have to pay for that - let the rich yacht owners pay for their own events.

As above! We should not be funding elitist events for a very small percentage of the city's population.

2712 - Imogen Maxwell

Please no more funding for sail gp

Similarly whilst it is nice to have big events, these are luxuries rather than must haves, so some consideration needs to be given to whether we should have them and who is actually benefiting from them.

The Council does not need to be supporting business startups as the Govt does this. Business that are committed to staying here shouldn't need inducements or specialist help/subsidies from the Council to stay.

3169 - Barbara Brown

Do we actually need to be paying for bidding for events? I question the value ChristchurchNZ delivers for ratepayers. There must be other mechanisms the Council can use to promote the city, instead of funding this dedicated organisation.

3287 - Claire Fletcher

I believe you could reduce the rates if you reduced funding for some projects or used borrowing to pay for some projects. For example reducing the amount of funding for Christchurch NZ >>>

Sustainable Economic Development
Ensure Christchurch businesses have access to comprehensive advice and support to grow competitiveness, resilience, and sustainability Target: 800 businesses access business support or advice (per annum)	Do not support A much lower target is appropriate. Businesses should be responsible for accessing and funding this business development advice. There are many private sources of business development advice.

[Spending > Our Proposed Spending]

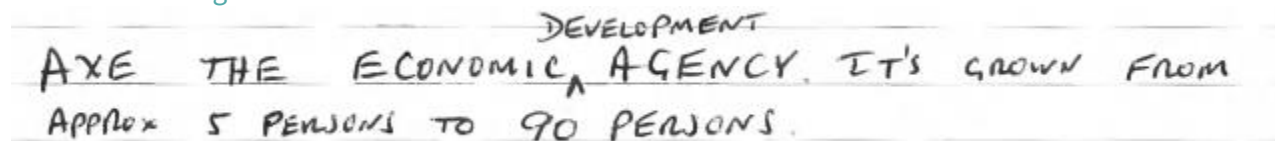

As a ratepayer, I agree that we need to keep the core infrastructure maintained, but due to the generally high cost of living, I think the council needs to limit additional funding to Chch NZ, for example, as there should be a level of sustainability with such an organisation. It's only fair if CCC expected community groups to see a diverse range of funding, that its own companies do the same.

1395 - William Wallace

In almost every case when major events have been proposed and consultants brought in to make projections as to the financial benefit to the region and our city, those 'guestimates' have invariably fallen short of predictions, but the consultants still walk away with their fees with no comeback for getting it wrong. Any future contracts ought to have a 'clause 13' that stipulates a return of any fees paid if predictions aren't forthcoming, or that payment is made if and when said predictions bear fruit, with a bonus if exceeded.

1431 - Carissa Ptacek

[Grants & Funding > ChristchurchNZ Funding (General)]

I assume this will go to Christchurch NZ, Te Kaha is already a waste of money and Sail GP is a group of snivelling entitled men which limits locals ability to enjoy their facilities. I'm not interested in more of that "calibre" of guests. I like Electric Avenue and those types of events but if that means that the funding to maintain the Town Hall and the like is reduced I don't think that's worth it.

Conferences produce more than just economic impact. Deliberately targeted conferences are a tool to amplify our regions strengths and enable solutions to challenges we face. Conferences foster innovation, have lasting social impacts, encourage the exchange of knowledge and ideas, and facilitate lasting partnerships. Te ao Māori and cultural integration in conferences provide an opportunity to grow outcomes for the Māori sector and to share a new and valuable perspective with international manuhiri (visitors).

Conferences can also resolve challenges in a way that moves past the baseline and into something that is a real strength. Ōtautahi Christchurch can be the place known for mitigating and adapting for climate change; where business events are consciously chosen to ensure positive outcomes for people and place; where the mode of delivery supports sustainable growth; where equity, diversity and inclusion principles make everyone feel welcome and comfortable within the meeting environment. All of this creates a more attractive and desirable city.

Business events or conferences align with the LTP Strategic Framework outcome, a thriving prosperous city, in fact, it is recognised within the explanation:

Our city is a great place for people, business, and investment where we can all grow our potential, where enterprises are innovative and smart, and where together we raise productivity and reduce emissions. What this means for our district:

Business events: We have a focused approach to attracting high-value business events that build a strong profile for Christchurch and Canterbury, nationally and internationally, attracting visitors throughout the year, leaving a positive legacy for the community and wider region.

So, while it is recognised specifically in the LTP that business events will assist our city to be prosperous, the previous bid funding allocation of $500K from FY2024 has been taken away so that there is no funding allocation for business event bid support for the first three years of the plan being FY2025 - FY2027. As mentioned in the 23-24 FY the council through ChristchurchNZ invested $500K in a business events bid fund support, this fund has returned conference wins for our city to the value of $25.8M over 5 years to 2028 with a return on investment of 35:1.

Bid support is crucial to attract conferences to Ōtautahi Christchurch, almost every international conference and some national conferences require bid support to attract it to our city. Tourism New Zealand have available additional bid support however they will only support bids for conferences by matching the city contribution. By taking away our city's business events bid support funding, we take away the opportunity for our city to obtain Tourism New Zealand bid support funding for events to Christchurch leaving our competitors, mainly Auckland and Wellington, with a major advantage in conference bids over the next three years.

It has to be noted, the bids our city are currently pursuing over the next three years will be hosted not within those years but in the future, conferences know which city they are hosted in next year and most likely the year after, we are bidding for the years after that, say 2026-2028.

With Takina Wellington Convention Centre now open and NZICC Auckland opening in 2025, the competition for International and National Business Events in New Zealand is much more fierce. These cities understand the economic and social prosperity business events provide, by removing the modest bid fund for Christchurch, we are providing our competitors with a distinct advantage to prosper from conventions to our detriment.

Large conferences require significant funding which Te Pae does not have the scope to support directly through bid funding. Te Pae does support conference bids for Ōtautahi Christchurch through rental rebates, usually to the same value as the city bid support. This means there is usually a three-way contribution to attract these conferences to our city, Te Pae Christchurch Convention Centre rental rebate, ChristchurchNZ support through the bid fund which is matched by TNZ bid subvention. If there is no business events bid fund for Christchurch NZ, these bids would not be possible.

This past year or so we have won 18 conferences that have been supported by Te Pae, CNZ and TNZ, without which support we would have 7,000 less delegates, 28,000 less hotel room nights in winter, 7,000 less people in our restaurants, bars, taxis, Ubers and shops during the winter months.

Ōtautahi Christchurch has only recently started to leverage itself back on the international business events stage following a long hiatus without supporting infrastructure. If Christchurch City Council business event bid support is not continued, we stand the risk of not only losing our momentum, we will also be providing our competitors the impetus to displace our hard earned momentum to their cities.

It is vital we maintain our competitiveness, so we implore the council to reinstate the business events bid fund of $500K to ChristchurchNZ for each of the first three years of the LTP. This will allow our city to compete with Wellington and Auckland and continue to build Ōtautahi Christchurch's reputation and standing, allowing us to bid to host international and large national business events in our city and add to our cities prosperity with all of the benefits conferences bring.

The bid fund should be available to ChristchurchNZ to allocate so that a best for city approach can be maintained. The return on the bid fund (currently $35:$1) is guaranteed because if a bid is not won no payment is allocated.

With rates levied in the plan at $777,449,000 for FY2025, $500K business events bid fund would add 0.0006% if it was passed on to the ratepayer. The amount should be reinstated in the budget and absorbed in the current plan with no increase to the rate base.

I appreciate your consideration, if you require any further information or wish to discuss further, I am happy to present on this submission.

We are surprised that the LTP seems to contain little financial support for ChristchurchNZ and would ask that more be allowed given its vital role. Greater funding of our economic development agency (Christchurch NZ) to support economic development seems imperative. This is a Council body after all charged not only with stimulating economic activity but with attracting events and visitors to the City and beyond. No one will deny its success in regenerating the post-quake Central City. With the upsurge again in foreign tourism the role of ChristchurchNZ becomes even more pivotal to our future success. Support for them will ensure that the progressive Destination Management Plans do not remain just dust ridden documents but do become true blueprints for a wider Christchurch and its playground of Banks Peninsula. Support is needed for Christchurch's vast acreage and countless Bays of Banks Peninsula. An investment in Destination Banks Peninsula will drive economic benefit for the city. The whole area can truly become the city's and visitor's playground - a food and wine paradise with cultural experiences, art and adventure on the side! We see Akaroa long touted the Riveria of the South, becoming a year round destination. This is something we are working towards. Such an achievement would be a game changer. Any investment in off season activities or entities in Akaroa will assist this aim. We can not do it alone and therefore we seek increased budgeting for ChristchurchNZ so it can bring to the wider Council's territory the promise of the Destination Management Plans. Haere whakamua

Tourism is highly cyclical. It seems obvious to industry experts that now is not the time to be decreasing destination marketing and event attraction when, internationally, destinations are competing for visitation and international travel movements return to normal/pre-COVID levels. A recovery in tourism and visitation is unquestionably going to be a significant contributor to Christchurch's overall economic recovery after the upheaval of the last three years. - Central agencies carry out event attraction and destination marketing because it delivers positive ROI. - It's not just "marketing for hotels". Hotels typically receive only 10% of visitor spending. It is hotels/accommodation that makes a thriving visitor economy possible. - Central agencies carry out event attraction and destination marketing to deal with market failure – central agencies can solve free rider and coordination problems. - Marketing is like the "software" that supports council investment in amenities/infrastructure (the "hardware"). - A thriving visitor economy is a key ingredient in economic recovery. It's short-sighted to reduce event attraction & destination marketing at this point in the cycle.

There is no option for reducing major event funding. This is a nice to have that should be left till more urgent and essential goals are achieved. As Sail GP demonstrated in 2024, these events shine a brief spotlight on the city but can also generate significant negative publicity. So-called income generation is never balanced against actual costs. Much of the income generated by these events disappears off-shore while locals end up with the crumbs.

2947 - Katia De Lu

- The recent Sail GP event in Lyttelton Harbour threatened the highly endangered Hector's dolphins. We shouldn't be putting endangered wildlife at risk full stop, but this is particularly irresponsible when one considers that Hector's dolphin tourism generates $19.5 million in the Canterbury region annually (not even counting all the extra spending from tourists while they're in the region) - far more than the Sail GP races did [source: <https://metronews.co.nz/article/hectors-dolphins-sail-gp>].

3717 - Sam Hampton (Te Pātaka o Rākaihautū Banks Peninsula Geopark Trust)

To have Banks Peninsula as a destination we need to manage, deliver and attract visitors. The recently developed Destination Management Plan for Banks Peninsula is aligned with the development and delivery of a Geopark on Banks Peninsula. By combining natural values, heritage, intangible and tangible cultural values, communities, conservation, farming community, ecotourism operators, the Geopark can celebrate the places unique to Banks Peninsula and in doing so provide a recognition of values (or assets) that should be supported by the Council inputs into drinking water, waste water, stormwater services, and climate change programmes, to create resilient communities.

3802 - Matthew Baird

[Grants & Funding > Events Ecosystem Funding], [Recreation, Sports & Events > Events]

"Major events" that are big and expensive only benefit the few who can afford to pay. Please prioritise funding for the smaller more community-oriented events that are free. Some examples: - South Island Lantern Festival - Buskers Festival (especially the daytime street acts that are open to all) - Community festivals like 'Culture Galore' - Christchurch Art Festival - Santa Parade - Street Art Festival - Christmas in the Park The big expensive "major events" can be paid for by the big corporates, with the CCC getting a cut for facilitating. It's also important to consider the environmental impact of large events. For example: 1. If they draw large crowds from far away, there are the high emissions from the travel of attendees to consider. That said, if bringing an event here means locals do not have to travel (e.g. to Auckland for a concert) that would have a positive impact on reducing emissions from travel. 2. The recent Sail GP in Lyttelton Harbour that risked the highly endangered Hector's dolphin. Hector's dolphin tourism generates $19.5 million in the Canterbury region annually (excluding extra spending from tourists while they're in the region), far more than the Sail GP races did.

741 - Ursula Ryan

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

It is unconscionable that the CCC is proposing to cut all funding to the Arts Centre. The Centre is the centrepiece of Christchurch's heritage buildings. When so much was lost after the earthquakes (and prior to them also), to have this suite of buildings in the cultural precinct of Christchurch, Te Whare Tapere, is simply stunning; it needs to receive adequate funding to remain as a community asset and a key piece of what the city offers. The proposal to fund ChristchurchNZ to the tune of $15.9m could include financial tagging that enables the Arts Centre to at least meet current costs while maintaining current services. While ChristchurchNZ may be called an "economic" development agency, such development necessarily goes hand in hand with attractions that Christchurch offers to visitors/emigrants/new economic ventures. This is made clear by the promotion on the ChchNZ website of various arts and cultural entities where, unsurprisingly, the Arts Centre is the second item featured. The Arts Centre has similar charitable trust status to the Canterbury Museum and should be treated in a similar manner. Like the Museum, the Arts Centre has always had some support from the Council and that needs to continue. It is imperative to protect what we already have and look more carefully at what is proposed for the future as new items may just not be feasible/affordable at the moment.

2284 - Anna Western-Bell

Great to get events here but would be nice to provide proper support for visitors once they arrive. We were far too long without an information centre.

2528 - David Cooper (Netball New Zealand)

As you will see, I live out of Christchurch. However, I have an affinity with Christchurch from my university days where I enjoyed playing sport in the city and also returned to the city many times for both sport and work reasons. The recovery of Christchurch post 2011, while unfinished, has been a real pleasure to see. Christchurch is coming back to being a fantastic modern city, still with its charms of yesteryear on display. To continue to grow and achieve recognition for the return of Christchurch, major events play a big role. This is twofold. It is important for the people of Christchurch to have this aspect of big city life back in their lives and it is an important part of the economy in and around Christchurch for major events to be held. Nothing triggers growth more than large live events and without these I am not sure where Christchurch's recovery would be at. It would be a shame for Christchurch to now turn its back on major events coming to the city after they have played such a big part in normalising life again in the city. As a recipient of major event support, through netball, I can tell you that major event funding from ChchNZ is a vital component of our commercial decision on what venues we will play at. While we aim to spread our Silver Ferns games across all New Zealand, we do lean into commercial support and hence over-indexing in some cities. The Christchurch major event funding was instrumental in the Fast5 Netball World Series being held in Christchurch the past two years (2022 and 2023). Christchurch must continue to support major events at a time where other cities (and countries in some cases) have prioritised spend in this area. Simply, Christchurch will lose this trigger for economic growth in the city, resident satisfaction will decrease and the city will fall off the map for any future events.

Balance environmental with business needs, ie the Lyttelton Sail GP

354 - Vivienne Allan

ChristchurchNZ might be a bright idea, however, it would be better to have an idea of how much money is spent on staff and travel compared with the return on investment. What major events have come to the city through it's efforts?

As I have said earlier, there is scant information about ChristchurchNZ - what they do, how they do it, what the benefit is to the city. There are some excellent event organisers operating in Christchurch. Let them do the work.

Funding for other CCOs

General Comments

5 submissions were received on the funding of other CCOs.

1 provided a comment in support, 2 were opposed, and 2 more provided alternative proposals.

Officer Response

A submission supporting investing in CCHL to grow funds for the next batch of assets for Christchurch and one supporting revisiting the CCHL decision.

One submission suggesting closing CityCare and bringing the Council work inhouse.

CityCare would need to be removed from the strategic assets list, which would require public consultation, if selling was contemplated. Just bringing Council work inhouse would not require this, although a full cost/benefit analysis would be performed beforehand.

The continued use of CityCare is just another financial impost given it carries an additional level of overhead and is known to be one of the least effective contractors. Close it up and recreate the city works department which existed previously.

Arts Centre Funding

General Comments

4158 submissions were received relating to funding for the Arts Centre.

4164 comments supported the Arts Centre receiving funding from Council this LTP cycle, with the centres cultural significance, heritage value and community-building role being highlighted by submitters.

19 comments opposed the Arts Centre receiving funding from Council, and 24 provided alternative proposals in relation to the Arts Centre.

Officer Response

Many submitters recalled an important or significant personal connection with the Arts Centre over the course of their life. Equally submitters tended to regard the Arts Centre as quintessentially Christchurch.

Generally, submitters who supported Council continuing to fund the Arts Centre were not specific on the amount.

Submitters who had alternative views were concerned with the cost to the community and a need for sustainability.

Historically Council have supported heritage building outcomes in the Arts Centre through an annual grant of approximately $400k p.a. From time-to-time Council has made additional contributions for specific works such as seismic upgrades or post-quake reinstatement. Similarly, Council supports arts and creative outcomes through the Strengthening Communities Fund, Discretionary Response Fund, and the Events & Festivals Fund.

The Arts Centre are seeking an annual grant from Council of between $1.83m and $2.5m to cover their currently forecast operating deficit of $1.83m, additional grant funds requested would contribute to activating the Centre.

Due to the size and nature of the heritage-building portfolio staff believe the Arts Centre will always require some external financial support from Council or other sources. However, the Arts Centre have the opportunity to review their operating model to lower the reliance on external funding primarily through considering their creative function, staffing, strategies for funding replacements & renewals and a focus on financial sustainability. All of which are permissible within the governing legislation.

An option available to Council:

- Retain funding of $110k in years 2024/25, 2025/26 and 2026/27 to support creative programming and the venue. - Funded from the Strengthening Communities Fund at no additional cost to rates.
- Contribute $400k in years 2024/25, 2025/26 and 2026/27 to support building and heritage outcomes including insurance. - Funded from the Capital Endowment Fund at no additional cost to rates.
- Remit Rates of $100k in years 2024/25, 2025/26 and 2026/27. - Funded from the existing provision for rates remissions at no additional cost to rates.
- Total value $610k p.a. for three years.
- Encourage the Arts centre to adopt efficiencies to the nett value of at least $300kpa for three years. - This figure was identified in the Deloitte report and is considered an achievable target in the short term.

The nett effect of the above will negate the risk of insolvency based on the Arts Centre's financial projections and provide the Arts Centre a multi-year opportunity to secure its financial sustainability.

Long-Term:

Request that Council ask the Finance & Performance Committee to oversee a review of Council's approach to supporting the Arts Centre (and potentially other major organisations) including a sustainable approach to funding depreciation and/or capital renewals. Changes, if any, would be considered in the 2025/26 and 2026/27 Annual Plans.

Funding for the Arts Centre should be included.

Funding for the Arts Centre should be included. This is an important part of Christchurch's character and it has been wonderful to have access to this since it reopened following the earthquakes. There is no other centre like it in the city and it has important historical significance to the city. Given the number of services and activities at the Arts centre which draw people constantly (every single time I have visited in the past 3 years, it has been busy and humming with tourists, visitors and activities. Events such as the WORD festival and outdoor movie theatre draw people to this space and having visited with a tourist recently, she commented on how lucky we are to have such a beautiful historical place like this. If the rebuild of the cathedral is no longer certain, this would leave the Arts Centre as the most accessible historical building in central Christchurch. To jeopardise this would be a huge mistake.

146 - Ray Spring

It appears the Arts Centre is to lose its funding from Christchurch City Council. This is about NZ$2 million a year. I cannot see the Arts Centre can replace this amount of cash. I would think that Christchurch City would then take over the site on behalf of the Ratepayers. Is this what is proposed? If not, what are the City Council proposals for keeping the Arts Centre Open. Or is it to be closed? Please advise me.

1546 - Robert Fleming

More critically, I think that the Art's Centre issues need to be addressed.

1696 - Natalie Brannigan

The Arts Centre is an important heritage building which needs to be maintained.

Worthy of note in relation to this is the 980,000 visitors to the Christchurch Arts centre each year. This continues to pay a critical role in making the city a vital and continually interesting and engaging place to be.

Hi All. I have been part of the Art Cntr's Restoration team for almost three years as a security guard when former staff member Chris Whethey was in charge at the helm alongside Richard Lee. My former job was Loss Prevention ensuring the property and staff were safe on site. Right at the very beginning i hadcalways expressed my cobcerns about prioritising prpjjects related to the rebuild of the Arts Centre when the first project was restoring Building BA BB BC and BD. In my opinion the Dux Deluxe should have been the first and foremost building to be restored and retained as to which it would bring customers and tourists back to the Rolleston Worcester St frame in which public confidence would be rebuilt alongside bringing money back into the Arts Centre in which money would be coming in to fund the rest of the precinct thus supporting and paying off the debit to finish all buildings within the campus

4052 - Peg Morgan

The Arts Centre must be funded and saved.

4053 - Jason Morgan

4054 - Ella Waswo

The Arts Centre is so much more than just a venue or a heritage space, it is a place to gather with our creative community, and foster the next generation of artists and projects. Defunding this incredible institution is a massive mistake.

4055 - Poe Tiare Tararo

Arts is the heartbeat of our nation and our people NEED a home for the arts. Without a home we are displaced and our dreams begin to wither till they are no more. By funding The Arts Centre we shall continue thrive for generations on.

4056 - Libby Vincent

It's a historic, important link to former Christchurch and it has been the central point in our without our Cathedral. It is a unique and special part of our city that needs to be funded.

4057 - Keiren Nelson

It's a place to build communities, the school holiday and other festival programmes are excellent. It's uniquely Christchurch and is always full of visitors to our city. It's our city's taunga

4058 - Flynn Robson

I used to work at the Arts Centre, and the community that the Trust created was vital to having the Arts Centre thrive as a centre for tourism, art, learning and experiences. The work the trust does to initiate, host, and facilitate events, created a strong sense of community and connection with the arts that drives social and economic investment. It is vital that the council continues to fund the Arts Centre, in order to develop the space and community for Arts in Ōtautahi.

4059 - Ana Crow

The Arts Centre is very special to Ōtautahi Christchurch. There are no other spaces within the city that organises frequent arts and culture events like they do. It would be a huge loss if it was to go.

4060 - Terri Staniland

This is a huge tourist attraction for Christchurch, funding should continue to allow up keep and maintenance to continue providing the best quality experience for visitors!

4061 - Janaina Moraes

Arts Centre is the heart of Ōtautahi's cultural activities. Why damage a place that brings the community together? #SaveArtsCentre

4062 - Kuldeep Deshmane

It is a peaceful place and heritage

4063 - Simon Leckie

This is a gem of the city that won't be the same on a fully commercial model. Be it through spin-off economic benefits, or intangible benefits, funding the arts centre is a great investment for the council.

4064 - Amy Henry

The arts centre needs help!!! It is a cornerstone of Christchurch's cultural fabric and is part of what set us apart from the rest of Aotearoa - keep fund the arts centre!

4065 - Tegan McGowan

Here I am spending my whole day at the Arts Centre - it's such a special time. There are SO many people milling about, shopping and exploring. The sun is out and the vibes are extremely high. I sit down and catch up with a friend at France's Nation outside, I purchase some NZ made notebooks at France's Nation store, I get a little Tamborine for my nephew from the Tiny Toy Shop. Everyone loves it here, tourists taking photos, people gliding by on the tram. Off to the art gallery and back for a drink at Cellar Door. A couple of weeks ago we were here for the Sound of Muslim free event in the Arts Centre. It's with an iconic spot and we MUST invest in it

4066 - Brittany Wyatt

It's an important hub for cultural activities. Christchurch has already lost so many spaces for art and creativity don't ruin this one too

4067 - Ruby-Isabella Reedy-Land

The arts centre is important to our community! it creates a sense of belonging and drives people into our city. The arts is an important aspect of Christchurch, especially after the quakes! The arts deserve more funding, please don't get rid of the art centre!!

4070 - Matthew Duff

The Arts Centre is something Christchurch should cherish as no other city has anything like it.

4071 - Lose Moala

The Art Centre is a hub of culture creativity and diversity. It brings so much joy and expression to those in Waitaha region. As someone born and bred here in Canterbury part of my identity has been intrinsically connected to the Arts sector and this building. As a young child we would frequent this building, and I have many fond memories of visiting the old Bead workshop with my now late Great Grandparents and adding to the small business community by showing up to the weekly markets. This building and the facilities and events offer the chance for new and existing artists to thrive and with it the opportunity to invite the wider public into their spaces to broaden the minds while enjoying the education art brings. Please save the art Centre so I know my future children can be free to express themselves and be safe in knowing there is a council supported facility dedicated to the arts in our region.

4072 - mihirangi freeman

It is thriving, we love it the way it is. The arts centre represents kotahitanga - a beautiful quality that we will forever seek in our community.

4073 - Guy Pask

Please keep funding the arts centre, it is the cultural heart of Christchurch

4074 - Janelle Sanson

It's a key iconic part of the city, and should be independently owned to preserve the arts.

4075 - Ella Maguire

It's a beautiful heritage site in CHC, CHC has lost so much already - why lose another site like this!

4076 - Tiara Esera

It's historic and a piece of CHCH

4077 - Rosa HibbertSchooner

Some of my fondest memories lay at going to the arts centre right from a young age to an adult. I grew up in humble beginnings where we didn't have much putea to do much in the city. We would come over from the east side every weekend almost for the Sunday markets at the art centre to visit uncle Riki at his shop. My connection to the arts centre was my main connection to my taha Māori and where I was able to learn about Toi Māori. It was the beginning of a journey of reconnection for me and my whānau. The arts centre without a doubt has always been apart of my life and I have such a connection to this place. Whether it's markets, shows such a Dracula (amazong) movies, Matariki markets, shows and busking, cella door, the beautiful hot chocolates at the cafe, the fudge cottage and its lady bug chocolates and now whare tapere. The arts centre is on beat of where the city needs to head and needs to be acknowledged of the rangatiratanga it has and the mana of this place.

4078 - Julia Miles

It's fabulous

4079 - Nopera Te Rupe

It has Te Whare Tapere

4080 - Michaela Murray

The arts centre provides so many memories for Cantabrians as well as being an amazing example of architecture as well as an area to visit that is so unique to Christchurch. It would be a shame to see funding for the art centre reduced which would only see a heritage facility be unable to keep up with the maintenance required for a heritage building.

4081 - Lydia Berryman

It is iconic to Christchurch. It's what I tell all tourists to go and see. It's a beautiful safe space for everyone no matter your income. To take away funding is a clear message to the people of Christchurch that our peace and coming together as a community is not a priority.

4082 - Stephen Mccarthy

Arts are vitally important to the culture and well being of the city ... the ac is an important part of tbia city . I think you are being short sighted in stopping funding for this and will actually cost money when the ac trust stops. It could be a disaster ... please continue to fund and try to find places elsewhere to save money .

4083 - Jordan Willan

The arts are important to our culture. They enrich people's lives. Gives them oppportunity and fulfillment. We need as much funding as possible to keep our centres up and running!

4084 - Rupert de Pauls

It's by far the most interesting place in town!

4085 - Ruby Allsop

The art centre is an iconic and historic place in Christchurch. It has been a space for creativity and community before the earthquake and after the earthquakes, and it will continue to be an important space for generations to come. Cutting funding for the art centre would be short-sighted and a terrible mistake.

4086 - Alice Bevin

The Arts Centre is an integral part of not just the central city but Christchurch as a whole. It's hard to imagine Christchurch without picturing The Arts Centre and the fabulous events that go on within it. I have so many incredible memories of it and the fabulous Court Theatre shows, Fudge Cottage and now places like Bunsen, the Great Hall etc. The Arts Centre is a beautiful building, a taonga and a building that holds the history and tells the story of Christchurch. It is unthinkable to me and genuinely shocking that the Council's LTP would not include funding for The Arts Centre and I can't help but feel that this is another blow for the arts in Chch and NZ as it gets superseded by sport, stadiums etc. #SaveTheArtsCentre

4087 - Amy Allen

The Arts Centre is a taonga in our city - beautiful heritage buildings and running some many awesome events for the whole whānau to attend. Please ensure it stays part of our city!

4088 - Natasha James

I don't understand why so much money would be out into rebuilding it if they weren't going to continue to fund it. It makes that area so vibrant, is a great place for people of all ages to explore.

4089 - Tamika Briggs

It's the heart of Christchurch. Christchurch is already limited on activities and things to do. The art centre is vital and needed for tourism and the community

4090 - Adrian Sanchez

The Arts Centre is one of Christchurch's most beloved community treasures and is thriving under current management; it would be a grave shame to throw its current thrust off-course.

4091 - Jenny Partington

The Arts Centre is a vital part of Christchurch's history and culture. It is a hub of tourism, arts, music, theatre, retail, hospitality, and it provides so much to the arts community of Christchurch. To stop funding the Arts Centre would be a huge disappointment and an immeasurable loss to Christchurch.

4092 - Sofiya Romanenko

The Arts Centre is one of the best spots in Christchurch, full of amazing local businesses, creatives, and just character in general, bringing thousands of tourists and residents alike into the city, so it is imperative the council continues to fund its operation

4093 - Will Brown

Historical significance

4094 - Gina Moss

The Arts Centre has always been a key cultural institution in Christchurch. It is an exceptionally valuable historical and heritage site as the original home of the University of Canterbury and its function as a home and hub for the arts for decades is precious. My mother completed her Bachelor of Arts in those buildings, and 30 years later I had the privilege of studying theatre in the same spaces when UC's theatre course was based in what is now the cinema. We have moved back to Christchurch after 20 years away and I can't tell you how special the whole area encompassing the Arts Centre, Museum, Christchurch Art Gallery and Botanic Gardens is. When so much of the city's old stone buildings were destroyed in the earthquakes it truly is a blessing that we still have these ones. It is due to the forward thinking of the Arts Centre that they were earthquake proofing those buildings for many many years before those earthquakes happened and it worked. Keep supporting the arts and the use of these beautiful old buildings. They have a magic that very few places in this city still do.

4095 - Olivia Flamank

It's such a special part of Christchurch's history and present. I really hope hope it's still such a special place in the future

4096 - Melanie Brown

The city needs a space where we can gather for markets, music, art, community. The arts centre has been restored for this purpose.

The Arts Centre is part of Christchurch's history, and future to come. It is such an important space in the city

4101 - Sally Fail

It is such an important part of Chch. It is well used and loved by everyone. It means so much to so many people. It is unique to our city and a point of difference. As the oldest heritage building in NZ, we need to make sure we keep it and look after it for the future.

4102 - Benoit Wynn-Williams

When I was growing up in Christchurch, being involved in and experiencing the arts was so important to my upbringing. I played the trumpet, acted, and did technical support (lighting, sound etc). Having the arts Center as a central location for all of this was a huge inspiration. Please keep funding this icon of Christchurch.

4103 - Stacey Ellis

This is one of the few historic Chch buildings still standing. The Arts Centre should be a place to take your family in the weekends and for tourists to visit - like it used to be. Bring back the good trucks on the weekends along with the market, food will bring people. We miss it.

4104 - Laura Manhire

Because it's the heart of Christchurch. You cannot take away what keeps the city vibrant and alive.

4106 - Joshua Kelleher

I cannot fathom why this wouldn't be included in the City budget

4107 - Leila Davies

Ōtautahi Christchurch has been developing a unique and colourful identity in the past few years and the arts have played a huge role in this! Please keep funding the arts for a more vibrant Christchurch!

4108 - Lucy Cooper-Dixon

Without the arts centre and Hagley Park, Christchurch would be Hamilton. The arts centre serves such a huge purpose in Christchurch

4109 - Hinn Hobeyn

It's a community hub ! Not only a place for people to come together, but also houses many local businesses and has a deep history integrated into Canterbury !

4110 - Marg Braggins

The Arts Centre adds huge cultural value to Christchurch and I cannot see why the CCC would consider removing funding - other than diverting it to a massively expensive sports stadium. Very disappointing that councillors cannot see the benefits to the local community, the arts community and the the tourism economy.

4111 - Rachael Brass

The Arts Centre is such an awesome part of the Christchurch CBD. There is so much history behind the buildings within the art centre that bring so much vibrancy and character to Ōtautahi.

4112 - Izzy France

Kia ora! The Arts Centre needs to stay! I am a student at The University of Canterbury and the Arts Centre acts as one of my campuses as a collaboration with the Teece Museum where I also volunteer. The arts centre is a big part of my passion, my future, and my time in Christchurch. The Arts Centre also provides a space for tourists, business people and students alike to explore the arts and culture of Christchurch in a personal way, hosting a multitude of galleries, cafes and more for people to navigate their way around. The Arts Centre makes Christchurch what it is - a beautiful city rich with an important history that needs to be preserved. Without this, Christchurch loses a part of itself causing local connections with the city and city life to be broken and visitor experiences to be weakened. The Arts Centre is rooted in the city's heritage and I know fellow students would agree which means it must be saved.

4113 - Lijian Song

4120 - Josie Lambert

The arts center is the heart of the city, after years rebuilding it and preserving it for future generations please don't now moth ball it. The city needs to respect the heritage for its future wellbeing

4121 - Josie Hepburn

This is a cultural landmark - we have so little left after the earthquakes, this would be a devastating loss. We always take visitors to Chch here!

4122 - Isaac Hana

I like the arts centre and would be very disappointed to see it lose funding. It's a staple of Christchurch and part of our very limited character.

4123 - annie pexton

The Arts Centre must continue to be paid by the Christchurch City Council who are paid by the Christchurch rate payers, now and in the future! For the future of Christchurch, the CCC must continue to fund the Arts Centre, now and forever! The Arts Centre must be funded by the CCC now and in the future, otherwise Christchurch City will begin to die! Please continue funding the Arts Centre for this generation and all future generations, from a grateful ratepayer! The Arts Centre is a valuable asset for the people of Christchurch and our increasing tourist industry! The CCC must continue to fund it, now and in the future! For Christchurch's future, the Arts Centre must be funded by the CCC now and in the future!

The arts centre is a core part of chch's identity!

It's an iconic landmark of Christchurch. After the earthquake we have so few of these places left. Would be a huge shame to the community if The Arts Centre was no longer in use.

4127 - Linda Henshaw

Please reconsider funding the arts centre so this wonderful asset to the city can survive .

4128 - Eloise Angland

Kia Ora, I have just moved to Christchurch from Auckland and the arts centre is one of the things I have loved most about the city!! It is so beautiful to sit in the square and enjoy a coffee on an autumn day, watch a performance, see a movie, go to the wine bar. We are even considering getting married there. This is a great part of Christchurch and it's a feature that sets Christchurch apart from other cities. There is nothing like it in Auckland. Please please don't let this place go. Without the beautiful buildings this city offers it will look burning and normal and could end up just as sad as Auckland cbd.

4129 - Julia Hipango

Because it's literally the Christchurch arts centre?!

4130 - Emily Hayman

This is a important part of Christchurch for both the arts and community

4131 - Esmail Fathi

Art Centre buildings and the organising team are essential for helping the art groups in the city. The programs and unique projects done in the buildings couldn't be done anywhere else. We need to keep them alive. Art in general is low funded in this country.

4132 - Ross Devereux

The performing arts are vitally important to the Christchurch Arts Centre. They serve as a means of cultural expression, community engagement, and economic stimulation. They contribute to the city's identity (and have done for decades hence the costly rebuild of this centre....), they provide opportunities for creative expression and collaboration, and attract tourists and visitors, thus supporting the local economy. Additionally, performing arts events often bring people together, fostering social connections and a sense of belonging within the community.

4133 - Matthew Rose

The Arts Centre MUST be funded by the CCC in its LTP. The Arts Centre is part of our city's DNA, delivers heritage and culture, is a peaceful sanctuary to explore and a unique destination for all, both locals and visitors to enjoy.

The Arts Centre is part of what makes Christchurch so special. It's a link back in history, made into a space that serves both locals and visitors alike. These public spaces are so important socially and economically. I would've never have guessed that the council would even consider not funding this!

4137 - Cleo Dubois

The arts centre is a hub of creativity in ōtautahi and should be kept alive!

4138 - Gemma Freeman

The Arts Centre is the most unique blend of historic building, independent business and public spaces that I have encountered in NZ. It is an absolute treasure, my favourite part of the city, and the place I take ever my visitor to see. Losing it would be frankly embarrassing.

4139 - Olivia Silby

To not fund the arts centre is to distinguish the flame of Christchurch. I urge any council member to take a moment from your day and visit. It's just around the corner. I think you'll find that the people who spend their time there do so because it is a refuge, a relief, from the uncompromising stress of living in a time of pandemic, war and economic crisis. Take a moment to really think about what you are taking away from the very people you are meant to be protecting.

4140 - Laura Starling

It is an important community space filled with hungry and culture that is important to Christchurch!

4141 - Yvonne Booyesen

I support funding the arts centre as I believe an urban environment can't thrive without support for the arts and creative pursuits.

4142 - Brian Feary

It's the coolest place in the city

4143 - Liam Oliver

As a local multicultural music school and performance group, we have had the pleasure of working with the creative team at The Arts Centre over the last year on a couple of events and are so grateful for the work they have done in supporting music and art from a diverse range of cultures, recognising the importance and value it brings to our city. The Arts Centre has provided a stage for multicultural musicians who may not have had such opportunities otherwise. Musicians who struggle to find a platform for their artwork. Christchurch has a diverse range of professional level musicians with backgrounds from places such as Afghanistan, Iran, Morocco, India, Kazakhstan and more, who deserve to be treated as professional musicians the same way everyone else is. The Arts Centre has recognised this, and we could not have been more pleased with the success of Sounds of Salaam - Music from the Muslim World festival which they organised, and also attracted some world-class Turkish musicians from Melbourne. We certainly hope that the first event was not also the last. Christchurch is still very much in the earthquake-recovery phase. Because of this we have a unique opportunity to decide what sort of city we want to live in going forward. There is so much room for the city to grow and establish its identity. We are far from our full potential but have been heading in the right direction. Now is not the time to do a u-turn by cutting the arts. Liam Oliver, From: Simurgh Music School UC Gamelan Ensemble The Norwesters

Save the arts centre! We just moved here from Auckland and immediately fell in love with the arts centre and everything that happens there. We don't want to lose this!

4145 - Lucy Dunshea

The arts centre brings a well needed depth to the city

4146 - Sam Marshall

This is one of the most incredible buildings and venues in Christchurch. It's a vibrant space, iconic

4147 - Annabel White

That is simply the BEST building complex in Christchurch. Adequate funding MUST continue!!

4148 - Daniel Ho

Cutting funding to The Arts Centre would be like cutting funding to the Cathedral or the Museum; it's an integral part of the city's culture, both historically and presently, that continues to enrich its denizens.

4149 - Sarah Rowlands

It's a beautiful heritage set of buildings that is part of our living history. It's a success story of the earthquake rebuilds and houses some fantastic galleries, shops, cafes and industries. The Arts Centre is too important to not support.

4150 - Daniel Neville

Without things like the Arts Centre, Christchurch City is a car park for big box stores.

4151 - Jessika Mann

ART IS IMPORTANT IT CONNECTS AND INSPIRES AND SHIT

4152 - Laouena Le Louer

Such a beautiful building serving as a place of arts and culture is important and should be protected and fostered so it may continue to do so.

4153 - Cat Lovett

Such an important artistic hub for decades that is woven into the fabric of Christchurch.

4154 - Abby Meakin

Christchurch is not Christchurch without it. We have lost too much history we can't lose any more

4155 - Christopher Waugh

The Arts centre is a very powerful symbol of the city's commitment to the arts. When put in the frame of the support of sport and popular entertainment demonstrated by Te Kaha the council funding of the arts centre should be unquestioned

4156 - Chris Lierheimer

Please save the art center funding, it is a beautiful heritage building, and I take all of my out-of-town guests there

4157 - Sarah Shaw

The buildings are beautiful and it's a beautiful workspace

4158 - Polly Wenlock

Supporting arts means supporting growing all facets of society, this is to say that supporting the Arts Centre, is instrumental in that it provides a developmental space for all ages wherein one is able to grow oneself in artistic expression or ones individuality, to learn not just new art methods but fundamental and crucial social skills and collaborations that may not have been supported in other more regimentally structured but fully funded programs. Sports, education, public spaces are all instrumental to the development of a healthy common, but removing funding from the arts is a disservice to those who might best develop in that space and not find the same connections in other community spaces. Pushing those who benefited from a properly funded Arts Centre into less comfortable spaces, marginalises those who learn a certain kind of way.

4159 - Nuha Fathina

The Arts Centre is a fantastic resource for local musicians, local artisans and business owners who have created a diverse space for people from different ethnicities and nationalities to enjoy. From locals to tourists, many say that there is no other place like the Arts Centre. Cutting its funding will be another detrimental blow to the city that already has almost nothing for entertainment and tourists.

4160 - Penny Moffat

This is one of the most special and beautiful parts of the city. This space should be celebrated and supported as the heart of our city.

4161 - Kane Quartly

Why wouldn't you fund it? This is an important building, in the centre of town, with constant foot traffic and things happening. There's no reason not to let it continue prospering. Don't be daft.

4162 - Chloe Chinnery

Chch city has already lost so many iconic buildings and areas. Let's not lose this one too.

4163 - Ian Cumming

Iconic, historic, major tourist attraction, innovative small businesses.

4164 - Karen Stevens

The Arts Centre is an irreplaceable and unique part of the history of Ōtautahi/Christchurch. Continued funding is vital in order to maintain and sustain this tāonga for the community.

4165 - Gina Heidekruger

I recently had a series of events at The Arts Centre. The team at The Arts Centre is exceptional, and the commitment that they all have to facilitating diversity, connection and well curate live performance is incredible. It would be such a shame to lose a well loved venue and team/.

4166 - Georgia Ritchie

The arts centre is a core part of Christchurch's history and one of the very few historical places post earthquakes. The council should absolutely continue to support this critical piece of history that not only supports so many local artists but is also a key tourism driver for the city.

4167 - Stevie Woolfe

I am not from Ōtautahi - but just recently visited with the specific interest in visiting the arts centre. I was in town for four days, and spent over $1000 in local shops, cafes, restaurants, and venues. Funding the arts centre has a wider impact on the local economy and tourism, and helps keep the beautiful city of Ōtautahi alive.

4168 - Claire Langlands

I am an art student and I would like to grow an artistic future in Christchurch, having the arts centre funding would support me in that.

4169 - Sofia Miernik

The arts to so many people is life. It's keeps me alive, breathing and excited for life. If you take it away think about how many people it will affect and how badly it will affect those people

4170 - Leigh Greyling

The Art Centre is a central hub for tourism, and the culture of the city. To lose it would be a massive blow for the people and the economy of the city. It would also be an incredible waste after all if the money that was poured into its repairs. The arts are vital to healthy communities.

4171 - Grace Greyling

The Arts Center is a crucial part of Christchurch city, a central hub for tourism, and for the culture of our city. It is important to list money into our city and our history, to stop funding the art centre is to take away one of the biggest draws to our wonderful city

4172 - Lily Roling

It is important to fund arts in the city centre. It is a beautiful place that many people love to enjoy and without funding from the council it won't be able to continue to run.

4173 - Hugh Finlay

I believe it is a important space for the chirstchurch art and music community

4174 - Chloe Reynolds

I'm a born & bred Chch local, and The Arts Centre is my favourite place in the city, and always has been. We need to pump more events into The Arts Centre and utilise this beautiful space - Canterbury has nowhere else quite like it. I will always support it and take and friends from out of town to visit it

4175 - Toni Masters

a beloved place by many, an amazing place for community, a huge appreciation of art in Christchurch and an inspiration for artists from Christchurch, and an attraction for tourists

4176 - bambi hawthorn

the arts are a crucial part of human self expression, history and development. to have a plan without them is just preposterous.

4177 - Bianca Duncan

Save the Arts Centre - it's an historical location that brings people together for enjoyment, learning, remembrance, and the formation of new memories!

4178 - Rollo Wenlock

The arts centre is a key part of the Christchurch Experience. To lose so many elements of the art centre would be to lose a lot of the feeling the town has.

4179 - Glenda Bailey

Very, very necessary, the Arts Centre must be kept working and progressing for the city under the same operating business plan with the same funding. It is necessary to sustain this as it is with separate management, it cannot be absorbed into the council as it will never be able to serve the public as it was intended. I can not stress this enough, it is so important to retain the current funding policy for the future of The Arts Centre & the city.

4180 - George Waterhouse

This arts centre is one of the things that would draw me to visit Ōtautahi again in the future and I would love to see it supported through any funding necessity

4181 - Izzy Wilkie

the arts centre is an integral part of our community and to take it away would be a huge loss to so many creative individuals of all backgrounds. Art brings people together, removing this will be removing the possibility of so many beautiful connections and chances to help our city grow and thrive

4182 - Finley Butcher

A thriving community centre doesn't deserve to be ignored.

4183 - Lucy Child

Art is one of if not the best expression of emotion and thought. It is an incredibly important and helpful tool in assisting mental health care and self expression. There is no reason it shouldn't be funded by the council.

4184 - Megan Rei Tan

It adds so much character to the city and opens up options for people to do things in the CBD that don't necessarily involve spending a lot of money. The cultural and aesthetic value of something cannot (and shouldn't) necessarily always be quantified, things like that are what helps to make a place feel like home. the arts have always been vital to society - it is true that while the sciences help us to live, arts give us something to live for.

4185 - Matt Clarke

Really important for the community and creativity to have a place to exist. It is a place for everybody

4186 - Laura McFarlane

So many of my best childhood memories include the Arts Centre. An absolute treasure of the city that is so worthy of funding! It must be retained!!

4187 - Ainsleigh Nijssen

For our tamariki 😊

4188 - Gemma Hart

The Arts centre cannot survive without funding and will surely suffer a slow and painful closure. As a home for Ōtautahi's artistic community the Arts centre is a key part of the lifeblood of creativity that keeps the city vibrant and evolving. It's a draw for tourists and international money alike for these very reasons- without providing spaces for the arts to flourish, we'll end up with a dull and forgettable city just like any other. Be bold and value the arts for their significant heritage, cultural and social contributions. It's the right way forward.

4189 - Charlotte Boyes

The Arts Centre is a key cultural treasure and so important to the city and everyone who uses it

4190 - Tamara Dick

The arts bring people to Christchurch/Ōtautahi, it keeps people in the area and helps with mental health and inspiring our creative young people too. Without funding the arts as we know it will die in Christchurch.

4191 - Sarah Welch

Unique, special. The heart of our city.

4192 - Hannah Terry

It's a lovely place that brings people together

4193 - Ella Kalmakoff

Art is so important for culture, community, and so many aspects of wellbeing.

4194 - Matt Hay

It is a fundamental part to old Christchurch and has been a central point of heritage and healing as we transform as a city

4195 - Ella Monk

It's a core part of chch

4196 - Annabelle Kerr

Why fund the cathedral that offers absolutely nothing and not fund the art centre that offers so much more to the city? Home of events and small businesses. Wtf!!!!

4197 - Jacqui Freeman

Our Arts Centre is incredibly important to the health of our city being only second to the Cathedral at the heart of our culture here in Chch. This cannot be allowed to die in favour of the flash new things.

4198 - Katie Dunbier

I went to writing classes at the arts centre as a kid. My grandma took me to see Alice in Wonderland there. Now I take my daughter to play classes at the arts centre. It's the heart of town to me and contains so many memories. They need to be supported.

4199 - Issy Redmond

This place is part of Christchurch , the heart!!! It makes Christchurch the cool way it is!!!

4200 - Kathy Guard

The soul of Chch and great for visitors and image.

4201 - Maree Hawtin-Morrow

It is the most beautiful space for people to meet and experience amazing performing arts and visual arts experiences. Ōtautahi has always punched above its weight in the arts and the Arts Centre has been at the centre of that especially during the Buskers Festival. The Arts Centre is an accessible place for all people of Ōtautahi and tourists to enjoy and experience music and arts that they may not be familiar with. It brings people together and is a focal point of our beautiful city and one to be proud of. The Arts Centre has been a very important place for our family over the years. We absolutely cannot lose the Arts Centre as a facility for artistic excellence! Please continue to fund it's existence!

4202 - Jake Harrison

Its one of the main attractions in the city, always has people visiting as it's well known and has great shops and services in side

4203 - Eve Barnsley

I loved going there during my school years as it was a great place to learn

4204 - Sophie Clark

I've been going to see the arts centre since I was a child I'm now 22 years old and wouldn't know the city centre without it!!!! It holds history and is a treasure.

4205 - Jane Acland

This is one of the best parts of Christchurch City. It has heart and soul and is so important to our community, much more than most people realise. What is the point of a city without the arts?!

4206 - Nate Tauwhare

The Arts Centre is an iconic and important part of Christchurch and history. Funding places like this keeps the community together and creates spaces for all

4207 - Grace McEwen

It's a fundamental part of Christchurch, not only as a heritage site but as an educational one. It's a safe community space

4208 - Dino Spiteri

It's an amazing asset to the community

4209 - Kaya Lasseter

The city's already bleak enough don't make it worse bro

4210 - Alex Jay

The arts centre is a tourist attraction along with a classic piece of our city, whilst moderation post quakes is great keeping some heritage allows for interest and variety within our beautiful city

4211 - Lola Pharaoh

The Arts Centre is the coolest place I've ever been, I always tell people about it at home and they're always so amazed and jealous we don't have something like it. It's one of the highlights of every trip back to Christchurch, I go pretty much every time, and usually get a tattoo and some fudge while I'm there. I've been there for full day tattoos before, I can tell there's a big community around with the food trucks, the store staff and the regulars. Art is so important, I love that there's somewhere to go in CHCH with so many different kinds of art, including a cinema. Some of the food trucks are so unique too. It's genuinely one of my happy places I think, despite not living in the city anymore.

4212 - Val Diaz

The arts centre is essential to nz economy and social status

4213 - Bella Cooper

It is a vital part of the community and holds a lot of history

4214 - Phoebe Utteridge

It's an iconic part of our city, would be so sad to see it close.

4215 - Holly Malcolm

The arts centre is such a special place, it's iconic and holds so much history and beauty, an ode to pre earthquake Christchurch. It's the home of many creative and fun spaces, and wonderful markets. It's my favourite place in the city to visit. It would be devastating to let this incredible living piece of history go

4216 - Peche Young

It's the largest historical centre in New Zealand. It's a cultural epicentre and deserves funding.

4217 - Sam Hickford

The Arts Centre has been a part of my life since I was very little. My aunty used to take me into town and show me the exhibitions there, take me to the fudge cottage and the markets, and tell me stories about the building's history. And I still find myself there most weekends today! I would be deeply saddened if it wasn't able to continue running and creating a rich community environment as it always has.

4218 - Jono Odom

The AC is truly the heart and soul of Christchurch, to defund from it would be a travesty for the people who breath this southern air. Look not at how to line your own pockets, but how you can do your duty to protect what matters most in the city that has given so much of itself to its people.

4219 - Leigh Mason

WE NEED ART. EVERYONE. YOU INCLUDED.

4220 - xander hill

it's an important structure for christchurch and presents a variety of businesses and shops that are held dearly by locals

4222 - Andre Maasjosthusmann

The Arts Center is an icon and integral part of Christchurch. Removing funding will stifle creativity. It is like amputating a vital organ required to function as a whole - this being Christchurch.

4223 - Rachael Irwin

It's a fundamental spot for Christchurch history and culture... it's the place that we show our tourist friends and something that the city can be proud of.. we don't have many heritage buildings left now - please let us have this and embrace it!!!

4224 - Zinnia O'Brien

The Arts Centre is an essential part of what Christchurch means - not only in what the architecture evokes and the place it holds in residents hearts - but because it provides a unique community and retail space. It's a beautiful alternative to malls and modern commercial spaces. It's a place people can enjoy local shopping, markets, music, events, accomodation, art and food in a significant historic environment. It is a draw card for tourists which showcases our city at its best and if access was limited or overly commercialised it would be a shortsighted tragedy for the city. Ccc funding allows the Arts Centre to continue to be used and enjoyed by all residents and visitors.

4225 - Harry Mahoney

SAVE THE ARTS CENTRE

4226 - Emily Gray

The Art centre is one of the most beautiful spaces in Christchurch. It's a place to continue to fund because it's a space for businesses to thrive as tourist pass the building walking from cathedral square or riverside to the botanic gardens. Removing funding will stop restoring and maintaining this piece of history which links us to the past (a limited thing in the city)

4227 - Mark Mockridge

Don't let Christchurch become even more of a cultural black hole than it already is thanks

4228 - Silke Konnerth

Creativity is so important and brings community together. The arts centre is a gorgeous building, its one of the buildings that makes Christchurch special.

4229 - Sarah-Jane Rennie

The Arts feed the soul of the community. Stories that transport the soul through Art, Music, theatre and Dance are told at the Arts centre. Artists deserve a platform and their audiences need a place to satisfy their curiosity. The Arts centre is an inspirational hub for brilliance and creativity. Please Keep the Arts Centre in Christchurch alive and strong. The Arts Centre is the heart of our city. A place that draws artists, its audience, and supporters to share unique opportunities in a heritage site. Funding the Arts Centre is of pime importance to the cultural and historic aspects of Canterbury. The Arts Centre plays host to tourism, hospitality, and entertainment, providing a unique surrounding and cultural soul for all.

4230 - Marela Glavas

This is a vital hub for the arts community and provides a distinct space for inspiration and creativity. So important to the arts graduates of Christchurch.

4231 - Sam White

Christchurch struggles enough as it is with culture. Removing funding for the Art Centre risks Christchurch losing its soul.

4232 - Anne Ginivan

You should save the center because it part of our city it's part of our culture and it's known overseas as part of our city

4233 - Peter Hope

It is a critical part of Christchurch's cultural history and life

4234 - Lesley Dobbs

The Arts Centre IS Christchurch! It is the original University and now it's the heart of the city which has lost so much. It must have the funding to continue to be an amazing tourist attraction and an iconic building for present and future generations

4235 - Casper Karst

Beautiful and historic public space that continues to inspire awe within all that visit it. Great businesses and atmosphere.

4236 - ashleigh fell

Art is what makes christchurch so unique and beautiful, it brings people together and brings happiness to so many. I think an arts centre is needed everywhere in every city/town.

4237 - Travis Matthews

Its apart of our history

4238 - April Omelvena

Funding of the Arts Centre supports creatives, learners, teachers, and most importantly, the community. Stop taking away our third spaces. Encourage community and the building of relationships. I hate how individualistic decisions like this are forcing our society to become. Please, let people of Ōtautahi have spaces to come together.

4239 - Guy Ellis

Shutting down the local arts centre in Christchurch, New Zealand, could deprive the community of a vital cultural hub that fosters creativity, expression, and community engagement. It serves as a platform for local artists to showcase their work, enriching the cultural landscape and attracting tourists, thereby contributing to the city's economy and identity. Additionally, the arts centre provides valuable educational opportunities and serves as a space for community events and gatherings, promoting social cohesion and well-being.

4240 - Amy Couling

The Arts Centre Te Matatiki Toi Ora has always been an integral cultural institution of Ōtautahi Christchurch and we need to make sure it continues to be for future generations to come. We lost so many of our beloved buildings and landmarks in the earthquakes and it has been heartening for the soul of our city to see the magnificent buildings of The Arts Centre be restored to its former glory. There are so many artistic and cultural events that take place in the buildings which need to keep going for the creative welfare of our people and central city. Like many locals, I have very personal memories of The Arts Centre, from learning ballet, attending art classes and Kids Fest events there as a child, to holding my debut solo exhibition in the Pūmanawa Gallery as a visual artist in 2020. The buildings are a cultural taonga and need to be protected and funded by the Christchurch City Council, so that our city's creative community can keep using them for our people and city. We are not losing another arts and cultural institution to the cuts that keep coming for the Aotearoa creative community. We are the beating heart and soul of the country and we will keep fighting for what we need and what our communities and city desperately needs to protect!

4241 - Hamish Childs

It is an integral part of the city

4242 - Summar Connelly

Its one of the only truly unique spaces in Christchurch and hosts the best retail and hospitality the city has to offer

4243 - Bonni Tamati

The Christchurch Art Centre is a cultural hub and icon in the city. There maybe major costs to maintain this particular architecture but its rich heritage and value is priceless. This centre has provided significant cultural value and is a reflection of growth and connection through time for our city and its people. Christchurch's art centre should be protected at all costs, and after loosing so much in recent years, council should be championing the restoration, celebration and promotion of our collective historical taonga. Build more accessible and free community events and appeal to our diverse communities. Align cheaper tram rates with events, bring back night markets and live music again and outdoor art markets. I appeal to you, replacing historical buildings with fancy new ones is not progress. Finding space for both demonstrates dual existence and is inclusive and beautiful! PLEASE DON'T FORGET CHRISTCHURCH COMMUNITY AND CHRISTCHURCH HISTORY, WE HAVE CREATED SO MUCH HERE!

4244 - Jane Swinard

The art centre is the soul of the central city and architecturally significant - it should be saved!

4245 - Emily Wallace

Taking this down will not only make the community upset but those who work there!

4246 - Jorge Ponce

Because it is an amazing resource to have in the city

4247 - Charlotte King

It is a Christchurch city Icon!

4248 - Linda Wright

The arts centre is a special part of the history of our city

4249 - Ainsley Holden

It's unique to Christchurch! We need to keep it it is beautiful!

4250 - Zarah Armstrong

It's a part of Christchurch and the history of the town and essential to artists, visitors and locals as a hub for community and creativity which more important now than ever

4251 - Jess Hamilton

Funding the Arts Centre is an essential if Christchurch wants to foster a sense of community within the city. As an artist and a worker in town, I have had the pleasure of working for multiple businesses in the arts centre and I can say that area is bustling with creativity and bloody good people. It would be a MASSIVE shame to stifle the process of community building that has been happening in this area. The businesses in the centre will not be able to survive without the councils support

4252 - Rose Cody

It is an essential part of Christchurch

4253 - Lauryn Wood

the arts centre keeps our culture alive

4254 - Jennifer Rendall

The Arts Centre is an invaluable asset for not only the Christchurch public and Christchurch artists and artisans, but is also popular with tourists, (including the value to tourists and locals who visit, and also their support, by spending money there). Additionally, school aged young adults and children have been able to experience a range of events, music lessons, art lessons and other learning here. People visiting, and locals alike, enjoy movies and Concerts in the Great Hall. As a place of learning, my (late) father recalled (long ago) going to university there when he studied geography. Also, its proximity to the Christchurch Art Gallery, and having an art gallery there also in the Arts Centre, consolidates the area as important for the arts, and artisans, bringing value to associating the area as an important arts and culture centre of Christchurch. Thank you for reading my submission.

4255 - Kenna Taylor

Art is everything and everywhere. Creative people have fought for so long to have spaces where they feel belonged and valued. This will take away so much for so many people. Not to mention people's jobs/careers. Art isn't seen as a proper job and by doing this you are contributing to that. The Art Centre is one of the best places I know that I love to go

4256 - Charlotte Potter

The Arts Centre is such an important space not only for the history of the buildings but the influence it has on students from UC and who study art. It's a creative place full of creative people and it would be a huge shame to lose.

4257 - Hana Pera Aoake

It's wonderful what the fuck

4258 - Holly Gemmell

Please keep funding the Arts Centre! It's part of the heart of Christchurch and so important to the Arts Community!

4259 - Michal Bush

I grew up learning music and performing at the Arts Centre. As a teenager this was a safe, vibrant and inspiring place to spend time and the years spent learning, performing and growing in this beautiful and culturally rich place was so fundamental to leading me into the arts as a career. I performed my first gigs at the Dux and the Great Hall and truly grew up there as a young musician. It has been a joyous thrill to see the Arts Centre retuning as a vibrant, busy, artistic space over the past years since it's reopening after the earthquake took it from us. Now as an adult working full time as a music artist - the Arts Centre continues to inspire and support me. I've performed to hundreds of families at my children's music shows in the Great Hall, and recently have been running weekly mindful music classes for preschools in the Maker Workshop. The affordability of hiring the Maker Workshop has allowed me to invite families to spend time each week at this very special place. Inspiring a new generation of children towards the arts. To lose the Arts Centre would be a devastating blow to our city that has spent YEARS rebuilding our artistic spaces. I struggle to understand why funding would be withdrawn - especially after the huge efforts put into the incredible events like off-centre - which was hugely successful and had crowds of families enjoying a weekend together surrounded by local artists doing what they love. As a parent I look forward to seeing my own children find opportunities to express themselves and find inspiration just as I did. From a musician, performer, parent and life long proud Christchurch dweller - I ask you to reconsider your funding and allow the Arts Centre to continue to exist as we know it. Thank you

4260 - Christy Martyn

To lose a space that invites one and all to discover a peice of the cities history, discover unique businesses and practices, and enjoy what New Zealand artists and practitioners have to offer in the now. To lose a key attraction to those travelling and seeing the sites in a city where we scarcely have such things and have lost through time and disaster. To cut off a space where Christchurch artists and artisans, young and old, can exhibit, produce, and take pride in their work. The arts and creative sector made 14.9 billion dollars in 2022, and the potential to increase that total in the coming years can only be bolstered with programs and events held in spaces like the Arts Centre. To lose this, to smother the spark of creativity, while the hard work of those who often rely on this funding is also lining the walls of your very council buildings and facilities. This can only be a fraction of what happens when you cease to provide the funding to spaces like this. Even though thousands went into the Arts Centre repair and restoration, to lose current events and programs, along with whatever future projects that could have been in store, would be like turning that building back into a ruin. To lose that, to paint over that connection between art and the audience, remove a space where people have the chance to create and enjoy the process of doing so, and lose the chance to spark a new idea, or make someone's day just a little better than it was before. Well, then you lose everything.

4261 - Liza Sparrow

Heritage building central to the life and vitality of inner city Christchurch.

4262 - Ashleigh Clutterbuck

Not only is the arts centre a beautiful building that offers our city heritage and culture, it is also a place of peace and calm and a place I remember as a child always being in such awe of. It would be deviating to see this place lose its funding for so many reasons

4263 - Emma Gilkison

I am truly amazed that the arts sector (which is thriving) in Christchurch is again subject to daftness and having funding potentially cut. There are plenty of talented people around that need places to perform and mostly at their own cost. Let's just stop this madness and allocate the budget before the whole city is strangled again for the benefit of sport.

4265 - Joel Dixon

Please keep up funding for The Art Centre. It's an important part of the community.

4266 - Andorra Heffernan

It is iconic just like the trams. A space everyone can use.

4267 - Carmen Kenton

It is part of our heritage and should be available to our community. It offers our community a huge range of workshops and experiences. The business community gathering in the Arts Center since the Earthquakes are creating a vibe in the Art Center that fits with the culture of the Art Center.

4269 - Jen Braithwaite

This is crucial to the heart of our city. It must be included in the future planning for Christchurch

4270 - Lucy Hawker

it's such an important cultural hub for the city!! the funding is vital to ensure the heart and soul of our city lives on and survives. it is an essential part of our cities character

4271 - Duncan Hunter

An important part of the Christchurch identity is art. We spend millions on sports facilities and the arts seem to play second fiddle. Put some effort into this area and make it hum again. Reopen the dux de lux , have a unique market and promote the area!

4272 - Charis Naylor

It's an important piece of our history, we already lost so much during the earthquakes, why lose more? There is so much potential in those buildings and I would hate to lose them!!

4273 - Marek Bungard

A vital part of any city

4274 - Amelia Sykes

I may have no interest in the arts however the arts centre is such a loved and key place to visit when exploring Christchurch. I have many memories walking around the diverse art the galleries have to offer. It would honestly be such a shame to stop funding the arts centre as it draws in so many people from all over New Zealand

4275 - Iris Aitken

it's beautiful

4276 - Madeleine Martin

The Arts Centre is such an incredible place for both Christchurch locals and visitors to Christchurch. It is thriving and it would be such a shame for it to go backwards after all the amazing restoration and activation. We need to protect it for future generations to come.

4277 - Isobel Light

The arts centre is an amazing feature for Christchurch. It is a place for people of all people young and old to get out and enjoy the creative arts Christchurch has to offer. It has slowly made a great return post earthquake to improve the city's morale and positivity. It would be a great disappointment to lose funding.

4278 - Anna Hardwick

It's an important part of the city's history and a huge tourist attraction, not to mention a favourite place of ours to spend time, especially when we have family visiting.

4279 - Andrew Kitchingham

I've had a work relationship with the Arts Centre for almost 40 years, as a rate payer I would be happy for a portion of my rates to fund the Arts Centres continued operation.

4280 - Martina Cepeda

The Art Centre is an iconic part of Christchurch. It has hosted various community events and it such a beautiful space. Please continue to fund this Christchurch gem!

4281 - Ryan Cornish

The arts centre is a beautiful area that brings a sense of safety, belonging and community to the citizens of Christchurch. There are few areas left that are promoted for foot traffic, and to see it diminish with reduced funding would be detrimental to the numerous frequent enjoyers who use the centre for social engagements, amenities, alternative shopping and other engagements. An area full of history gives life and colour to an otherwise dulling city.

4282 - Kelli Williams

The Arts Centre is such an iconic part of Christchurch and what has been restored looks amazing. Locals and tourists alike should be able to continue to enjoy it, this is absolutely something the council should be funding.

4283 - Kera Sherwood-O'Regan

The Arts Centre is a wonderful place with so many services and activities that make the Christchurch city centre interesting and unique. I love being able to bring visitors from out of town to the Arts Centre and show them around and they have all really enjoyed it, and on top of that I appreciate being able to shop at the stores around it and support New Zealand made products and businesses. The Arts Centre really is a great hub full of character that really helps to colour our city centre and it would be a massive loss to the community if it was to not be funded and be unable to continue as it is. I am sure that - as things hopefully improve with the pandemic - people will make more and more use of it and it will really show how valued and unique it is. Personally due to having immune issues I have not attended as much as I would have liked due to Covid concerns, but even still I regularly go there for massage, to buy gifts, and to pick up New Zealand made home essentials, and I hope to be able to attend more events in the future as there are always advertisements for events that look really interesting and productive for our society and social cohesion. Please restore funding so that these can continue and we can all continue to enjoy this space for learning, community, and creativity.

4284 - Abi Higgins

it is apart of the history of the city. and it is a beautiful building.

4285 - Karin Craine

To lose an asset like the Arts Centre would be very short term thinking with very long term consequences. To lose this would be devastating to both local and tourist communities !!

4286 - Louise Knewstubb

It's such a beautiful space that is extremely iconic to Chch. The heritage value alone is worth the funding, not to mention the creative, artistic and educational benefits to our city.

4287 - Hsannah Soakai

It is a pillar of our community!!

4288 - mia peters

it's thriving and provides a sense of community in christchurch

4289 - Lydia Bailie-Belles

I volunteer within the arts centre and I can see first hand the importance of publicly available art experiences - they are integral to the well-being and culture of Christchurch. Please fund the Arts Centre!!

4290 - Shaylah Kesha

ARTS

4291 - Hannah Hardy-Jones

The Arts Centre is part of the heart of Christchurch, it's a place where people feel proud and connected to the city. It's a picture of resilience- a reminder that Cantabrians can come through anything. The events and the shows that are put on, the shops and the artists and the heritage and tours bring the city to life. On a daily basis I witness people interacting with the arts centre in the most positive way. Working at the arts centre offices has been integral in the way we have grown our business from an inspiration and connection perspective but also bringing our customers in here and inspiring them.

4292 - Finbar Adams

The Arts Centre is one of the few places left in the city that maintains the old style pre earthquake. It's also the largest collection of Gothic Revival buildings in NZ. This should be cherished and promoted.

4293 - Sebastian John

I have visited The Arts Centre as a teacher with my school students and with my own family, including nephew's and nieces. We would love to see it continued to be funded. My students were absolutely taken with the Art centre and the students who were science-minded were thrilled with the experience. This is an investment in our future.

4294 - Chelsea Smylie

Cultural and historical importance to our city

4295 - Nathan Gull

Please don't strip away all that makes Christchurch unique.

4296 - Marion Smith

This beautiful historical collection of buildings being used and enjoyed by the Christchurch community is essential. It must continue as a multi use entity maintained perfectly so that all can appreciate it.

4297 - Emma Haines

Part of Christchurch's history. So much was lost in 2011, we need this!

4298 - Miranda Fraser

The arts centre fosters a sense of community and creativity for all ages in Christchurch. I have very fond memories of going there as a child and other young people should have the same opportunity. It's an iconic part of the Christchurch city fabric, and should remain.

4299 - Bernadine Oliver-Kerby

This is of far too great historical importance to step away from.

4300 - Drew Rees

It is a stunning building and is essential for promoting arts and culture in Christchurch

4301 - Heidi Hu

yes

4302 - Harriet Ellerm

The arts centre is an incredibly special part of our city, I want my children to grow up enjoying it just like I have, please continue to fund it

4303 - Anna Sheehan

Cities without art and heritage are dull and lifeless. Support the art centre and our Otautahi heritage

4304 - Charlotte Dogterom

It's an important aspect of historical Christchurch and provides many events for the community

4305 - Holly Kelleher

Places like The Arts Centre that provide a space for people to express, explore and engage with local community and themselves is too important to not support. It also drives tourism and therefore is beneficial in a financial sense, as well as just on a human level.

4306 - Julia Maclean

The arts centre is a chch icon. Housing a plethora of creative spacing and holding potential for amazing future projects.

4307 - Clare Hairs

Please continue to fund this beautiful building and support the Arts , a unique place that deserves to stay part of Christchurch and all its varied beauty

4308 - Joe Young

Because it forms a vital part of our city's culture.

4309 - Reuben Pemberton

The arts centre is important to Christchurch city's history and future

4310 - Lucy van Berlo

Such a cool building and adds a good vibe to the city. Will leave a massive hole in Christchurch if it's gone 📍

4311 - Lauren Clayton

The art centre has always been a drawcard in Christchurch and deserves to stay that way

4312 - Philip Cameron

A must have in the city.

4313 - Seonaid Burnie

As one of the largest heritage sites in Aotearoa, The Arts Centre Te Matatiki Toi Ora does not only hold a precious place in the history of Ōtautahi but is the beating heart of our creative community. A unique space that allows creativity flourish in our younger generations, supports our indigenous artists, provides opportunities and spaces for learning, exhibiting, showcasing and entertaining. This special place is flourishing along with the rejuvenation of Christchurch and has the capacity to hold world class festivals, events and artists. It's a taonga of our city, let's invest in making it a space where we can bring together our strong and resilient community to celebrate, learn and enjoy this exceptional place. Keep up the funding.

4314 - Gina Russell

It's the best place for creative people to enjoy their free time. How can you even think of cutting funding? It's iconic and should be a solid fixture in this City.

4315 - Giselle Weir

The arts Centre is a vital hub of culture in a city that's generally really lacking. The arts Centre is for all ages, all people, it's for the community. Spaces such as this are becoming harder and harder to find and to preserve what we have is so important.

4316 - Ted Spinks

It is a wonderful cultural hub in the centre of Christchurch that adds significant value to the people of Christchurch and those who visit

4317 - Liam Cavanagh

I've lost my schools, my old homes, my old work places - I can't visit these places anymore. But I can still visit the Arts Centre! A place I can take visitors, maybe take my kids one day, like my parents took me in the 90s. I have so many happy memories of this place - the food, the entertainment, the artists, the crafts people.

4318 - Danny Syme

I'm Danny. creative director and artist at Altiora (the Gymnasium) at the Arts Centre. I'm currently in my first year of business running this performing arts venue. The management team at the Arts Centre have been vital to my success with this project, I literally could not have done it without their support. Altiora gives me and my extended community a good reason to stay in this city. A city that has a long history of supporting the arts. In my opinion it is the CCC's responsibility to support the Arts Centre with funding to ensure it lives up to its reputation as a place to attract artists, scientists, and entrepreneurs. It would be a huge failure on the councilors part if the Arts Centre became just another commercial enterprise and 'property management' bore, due to lack of ongoing funding support.

4319 - Jade Bentham-Szreider

This area of the city is a special and unique place that brings not only tourists but a community of creatives, whanau and friends. In a city that is becoming rebuilt with new, it is important to save the older beautiful spaces that bring a great history and pride to the city.

4320 - Lisa Oc

Yes please we cannot lose this amazing place

4321 - Jo Bull

Arts are a core part of any community! It might not always be profitable, but it's beautiful and brings joy to any city. :)

4322 - Louann Sidon

The Arts centre is a huge part of Christchurch's history and future for the arts. It attracts a lot of tourism and is vitally important to Christchurch residents and artists. Please keep funding going!

4323 - Casey Bell

Please reconsider, the arts centre is such an important part of our city.

4324 - Tiki Taane

The Arts Centre has always been an incredible space for music, food, art, entertainment, culture and connecting with old and new friends of all generations

4325 - Sara Shaughnessy

To support our history, and community access to Canterbury rich history and the NZ icons who attended when it was a university who have influenced the world. It will allow our future generations to critically think and dream big, great tourist access and provides a much needed centre to beautiful Christchurch.

4326 - Beth Anderson

The Arts Centre is an iconic, historic location in Canterbury. The area is always buzzing with tourists and locals. To not continue funding would further limit the amount of historic buildings, particularly post-earthquake.

4327 - Jackie Plato

It has so much historical significance in Christchurch, a place still intact since the earthquakes. It should definitely be saved as a historical place.

4328 - Bridie Morell

This historic site is a hub and focus point for creativity and should be prioritised for funding over tourism subsidies/operator incentives. A thriving arts centre with exciting events and top quality artists-in-residence will attract the tourist dollar so it's a no brainer to swap the investments

4329 - Lara Mumby-Croft

It is an important community hub that promotes local small business, brings people together, both local and overseas and is incredibly important to the culture of Christchurch, both historically and for the future.

4330 - Richard Beauchamp

It's a focal point of Ōtautahi Christchurch's creative community. Fund the Arts Centre!

4331 - Natalie Peters

It's a great place to let children and young people explore and experience creativity.

4332 - Eva Cambourn

I think art and culture is important, especially to those who may not be able to afford it

4333 - Lauren Drummond

Great tourist attraction that brings lots of people into the city

4334 - Celia Wevers

Because every city needs and deserves to have a space dedicated to the many expressions of Art. The world we know today wouldn't be here if it weren't for creations of every mind. For locals and tourists it's an important space historically for delivering Art.

4335 - Zoe de Lautour

It's an incredible place for our community

4336 - Jillian Marriott

I am a frequent visitor to Christchurch (6 times in 2023). I always make time to visit The Arts Centre. It always feels like a familiar and welcoming place to be. Staff and the volunteers are so friendly and informative they are fabulous ambassadors for Christchurch and the environs. In a city that has started to feel busy and less intimate, The Arts Centre is a welcome respite. I have been to concerts, talks and dance events at the centre, and it has the community feel that keeps me coming back. I often follow a visit to the centre with a quick meal or coffee and when the sun is shining really enjoy grabbing a bean bag and sitting in the courtyard and watching the world go by. This is so much more than just a building - it's a place that feels like a small haven. There are often mothers with small children there during the day - recently a volunteer was blowing bubbles which a toddler was enjoying and another baby in a pram being pushed by a possible grandad, and I noticed young travellers smiling at the scene. These are perhaps the moments that visitors to the city as well as those that live there remember and value most. The Arts Centre in Christchurch has a unique heritage and is a place that is not mirrored elsewhere in the city. Please consider carefully what it means to the elderly, to those missing home, to the young and so many more to have access to not only the buildings, but perhaps more importantly to those that provide such a fabulous facility. I believe it would be a huge disservice to so many if The Arts Centre was no longer funded and a loss that cannot be replaced.

4337 - Mike Harmon

The Arts Centre is always on my list of go to places when I visit Christchurch along with the Farmers Market and Hagley Park/Botanic Gardens, all in close proximity to each other. Christchurch needs all these attractions to attract tourists from this country and abroad to continue the earthquake recovery process even after all these years. Please keep funding it. If not, what will be next?

4338 - Chloe Rose Taylor

The arts centre in the true heart of our city! Visitors to Ōtautahi always remember the arts centre its beautiful architecture and surrounding attractions. It's a no brainer to keep it funded.

4339 - Catherine Woods

I have lived in Otautahi for all of my 55 years. The Arts Centre has been in my top 3 places to take visitors to. It's so important to the heart of our city. Since the quakes it's been coming back to it's full best life slowly but surely and if you don't fund it, then what? It is unique to our city and has so much heritage as well as being a place for people from all cultures to perform and thrive. We need somewhere for the increased number of visitors to go, those who WILL come once the Stadium is built. Please listen to our local voices. Thank you

4340 - Erica Wilkinson

This is the heart of the city & would make a lot of younger people leave

4341 - Bridget Baldwin

It has and always will be the hub for creativity in central CHCH. All that history and soul makes it an iconic place for artists and creators.

4342 - Julia Holderness

A space for the arts, creativity, a place for connection. A part of our identity, heritage. So important for the city.

4343 - Gwen Sugrue

The Arts Centre is a hub of creativity and performance, it creates joy and ideas. Please continue to fund The Arts centre.

4344 - Adam Cairns

Makes no sense as to why the council would not fund such a historically significant area of the city

4345 - Rachel Gunn

The most significant piece of Christchurch's architectural and visual history. It would be a crime to defund it.

4346 - Case Ornsby

It's the cultural hub of the city and one of the few remaining historic buildings we have.

4347 - Kate Grimshaw

It is one of the most beautiful parts of the city and chch is not chch with it out , it draws crowds of people and now with a new market starting will be like it once was. Chch can not make do with out the arts center it is an icon of chch .

4348 - Rachael Hefferman

Iconic Christchurch building it's part of the culture of the city and where we have lost so much already to earthquakes surely we should do all we can to preserve the history that remains. It brings tourists and locals alike to the many varied business housed in the building. It would be incredibly short sighted of any council to not fund the Arts Centre.

4349 - Colin Hefferman

Much of the fabric of christchurch was damaged during the earthquake. Like a Phoenix from the flames the Arts Centre has risen to take centre stage on the tourist map. Retaining part of the local history of christchurch is important as this was once the cities university. It is an important cultural hub for the city and it would be a travesty to not support it.

4350 - Gaynor James

The Art's Centre (along with the Museum and Cathedral) are buildings that are "Christchurch". Yes the new sports stadium will be amazing, but it is the history of the Arts Centre that makes it so important to ensure it will be around for future generations. Please Council members consider this when making the decisio regarding future funding

4351 - Louise Riley

Because it's an important place in our community. It's a beautiful space with amazing creatives. We NEED the Arts Centre!

4352 - Asheley Elizabeth

As an artist, The Arts Centre has been a vital hub for exploration & learning of creativity- for sharing experiences and forming community.. there is nothing more powerful than the arts- especially in relation to mental health. Please keep the arena of expression alive!!

4353 - Millie Stringer

The art centre should stay as its a good attraction to tourists and even locals to come visit, gives us something fun and interesting to go around and share support to local cafes and businesses, also gets people put to the city having the art centre there

4354 - Katie Duncan

The Arts Centre is an iconic part of Christchurch! It's so uniquely historical in a city that lost so much of its history. From events at The Great Hall to movies at Lumiere, sculpture exhibits, outdoor movies and more. Please save our Arts Centre.

4355 - Zachary Friesen

Art is cool

4356 - Michelle Bennetto

The art centre is a fundamental part of Christchurch city and its heritage. A beautiful tourist and local spot which should be treasured for its history

4357 - Leiali Al-Afrangi

Arts are essential to maintaining strong culture & creativity within the community, and are an outlet of expression for so many. It would be a great loss if funding was to stop.

4358 - Marcel Peek

The arts centre is a very important part of Christchurch's identity, with the loss of so much of the cities heritage after the earthquakes it is even more important that we take care of what we have left. Keeping it open as a place where residents and tourists alike can come and enjoy it matters a lot. Not to mention the tourist $$ it brings in to the city. As a Christchurch ratepayer I am more than happy for a portion of my rates to go towards supporting it.

4359 - Catherine Watson

The Arts Centre is a massive part of Christchurch history. The buildings and businesses within it are some of the heart and soul of Christchurch. We need to keep the funding going!! Christchurch needs this history after all we have been through.

4360 - Alex Golding

The Arts are a central and crucial part of Christchurch. We should be striving for our city to attract more people, create a happy space and encourage creation and innovation. Don't let it become some industrial hole that pushes its people away.

4361 - Spike Marshall

The arts center is one of a kind and a vital community space that needs to thrive! We cannot risk to lose such an important space for the arts in Ōtautahi - Cutting funds is an insult to the creatives who put in so much time to keeping it going.

4362 - Janine Manson

The arts centre is an icon of chch and a piece of our history. It draws tourists and it would be so sad to lose it

4363 - Seán Mulvany

The city lost heaps of its original character during the quakes. I believe it's recovering well and love that the CBD and bars are humming. But, that doesn't mean that these buildings and the work they do both for residents and visitors is vitally important in a progressive 1st world city. Or do we not want to be that?

4364 - Bron Marshall

The Arts Centre is critical to Christchurch, with so much of our history lost, once being the city's University and Rutherford's playground, my father studied there too in it's last years before it moved out to Ilam. I have fond memories of browsing the crafts and boutiques on weekends and grabbing a bite to eat from the International caravans with my then boyfriend, now husband. The Arts Centre is the romantic gothic heart of Christchurch.

4365 - Holly Arrowsmith

As a local musician I am appalled that the council is proposing a funding cut to the arts centre. Not only is it one of the most beautiful collection of spaces in our city, it holds space for independent makers, business, local craft, art exhibitions and the incredible great hall which is one of the the best venues available in Christchurch. Save the arts centre!!

4366 - Claire Slee

Its an amazing place for tourists and locals to visit

4367 - Dan McGregor

We have lost our heritage through the quakes, we cant lose more

4368 - Mariza Antonopoulou

The arts centre is a staple in the centre of Christchurch. It needs funding for people to enjoy.

4369 - Emily Anderson

Please continue to fund the Arts Centre. It's a wonderful asset to our city. It's a place for our people to gather and learn together. My sister and I have enjoyed attending many workshops and events there! The architecture and space is so unique and special to Christchurch. We love to bring family and friends here when they're visiting from out of town/overseas. I hope I can continue to bring my son here in the future, for him to attend events, be inspired, and feel engaged.

4370 - David Watkins

It is one of the nicest places in Christchurch

4371 - Chantal Bennett

Art has proven time and time again to celebrate community, engage with our minorities, and give a city a sense of self. Stopping this funding is denying Otautahi of this.

4372 - Sophie Stewart

The art centre is a vital part of Christchurch. It's a host to all of the creatives in our amazing city. Please reconsider your plan.

4373 - Ella Rielly

Because it is an attraction that brings me to the central city.

4374 - Malaea Mcfadyen

I bring all my friends visiting chch to the arts centre. It's a beautiful heritage building that should be open for the public!! It's an important piece of Christchurch art culture!!

4375 - Andrew Brackett

Arts are pretty cool, and they allow a lot of people to express and discover themselves. I'm not from around here but I think it's important to support human expression throughout every country, city, or college.

4376 - Lanita Singh

For one, the 'Arts' in general is hardly funded as a whole, throughout ALL forms of education. Funding is CONTINUOUSLY taken away, creating a HUGE divide in a student/persons mental and spiritual wellbeing — believing that there's no point in pursuing one's passion/dream. Taking funding away from the very place us a lot of us grew up with, whether that be artists, children, students, or people of Canterbury from ALL walks of life; I believe this would be SUCH a huge loss not only for us, but for U too. If this lack of funding makes this Arts centre run into the ground, so will the people :). This centre brings people of all different backgrounds, as well as many people from overseas, enjoying what they have to see. Without the Arts no one would be where they are today, creative forms allow us ALL to communicate, no matter who you may be. Without the creative industries, e.g. visual art, music, dance, there'd be no substance of inspiration. Every human being would mindlessly run themselves into the ground with 0 'grounding'. This is TAONGA, this IS the people. Take what you may from this, but know that there's so much power in keeping this place alive. This space has so much potential, the potential to be so much MORE than it already has been. Take one for the team, do the mahi, get the treats. The Arts Centre is for ALL.

4377 - Cayden Hagenaar

It's a place for all people of all different walks of life to come together and share likeminded ideas with unique forms of art, whether it be music, painting and so on

4378 - Joshua Bottomley-Clapp

The Arts Centre is an institution that needs funding to stay alive. Support it PLEASE

4379 - Georgy Stikhanovskiy

It's a fun and an interesting place in Christchurch

4380 - Nick Lawry

Such a special place in our city, rich in history that needs to stay alive, not just for locals, but for tourism too.

4381 - Olivia Moore

The Arts Centre is an important part of Otautahi culture and heritage. The new shops, galleries, cafes etc in the centre create such a welcoming environment and is probably one of my favourite places to go in town. Please keep the arts centre alive! Not to mention the beautiful architecture.

4382 - Julia Moss-Pearson

Arts is a fundamental cornerstone of society. When the white collar population are tired or sad they turn to the arts. Defunding the arts is defunding a crucial emotional safe space of our society.

4383 - Joshua Lee

My mates and I visited the art gallery today and I personally found all of the art work super fascinating and intriguing. I strongly believe that the council should continue to fund art centres so that others can experience what I have.

4384 - Dylan Guillemot

It's a beating heart of Christchurch

4385 - Fletcher McClelland

The art centre is a special and iconic place that stores a large variety of art, where artists go to get inspiration, public go to enjoy art. A treasured place that would be a great loss for not just the people of Christchurch but for all the people of New Zealand

4386 - Arama Lyall

I really like art and it is always nice to see art.

4387 - Abigail Phua

Christchurch cannot not have The Arts Centre

4388 - Cole Anderson

Because as a fine arts student at UC, the art centre is an integral part of our school and the connections we make to the wider Christchurch area, it has helped me meet new people, explore ideas, be inspired and understand the artistic world of Ōtautahi.

4389 - Ame Gordon

It's a critical piece of the city and it's brilliant culture. It's one of the most interesting and beautiful locations in the city and its home to several fantastic attractions.

4390 - Johanna Tennant-Lingens

Because it IS Christchurch!! It's withstood so much and is an absolute icon. Christchurch wouldn't be Christchurch without it. Especially after all we've been through.

4391 - Niamh Matthews

The arts centre is a beautiful place that brings people together. It's such a lovely and historic building that draws people in, it's one of Christchurch's most welcoming and inspiring places. All of the businesses in it are small and ran by lovely people who want people to be able to enjoy the art centre as much as they do. I think the art centre is a very important part of Christchurch, it makes it feel like home for so many people.

4392 - Josette KLAUSEN

The Arts Centre has been an absolute staple for my family. I remember being 4 years old sitting in the courtyard eating hot honey roasted peanuts with my Mum while we wait for my brother to finish his Clarinet lesson. To see it damaged in the earthquake was so sad, but with it being such a staple of Ōtautahi, though the repairs were slow, it never felt in question that the Arts Centre would be brought back to life and take its rightful place as a hub of community and creativity in the city. To hear that the Council has no plans to fund the Arts Centre is dumbfounding. Right after its completion it feels more important than ever to bring it back to life completely. I currently work in the centre and witness the hundreds of tourists walking through and by everyday to take photos, ask questions and look around. It brings so much foot traffic to the city and it's absolutely vital that energy and money is put towards keeping it a lively and looked after place. To have it funded by the Council makes it feel a true part of the City's foundation, as it culturally is. This feels so wrong. Please reconsider.

4393 - Hayden King

It brings charm and culture to a boring city

4394 - Alex Polydorou

It's a beautiful part of our history in Chch and it should be saved!!! It is part of what makes our city beautiful!

4395 - Christine Lamb

Creativity is going to be a huge part of nz future. Places like the art centre are a important asset for our future creative people.

4396 - Rebecca Brown

The Arts Centre is vital for many and it would be sad to let it die.

4397 - Millie Holmes

The art centre is an important and historic part of Christchurch central. The small business within it are unique and what makes Christchurch such a special place. Funding is necessary for this significant and historic building to remain the happy and inviting space that it is!

4398 - Oli Aikawa

The arts centre is one of the nicest places in chch. It's what makes chch special.

4399 - Russell Devlin

The Arts Centre is a proven asset to the City of Christchurch. Its value has and will last for generations for our Residents and our Visitors. Certainly, for lot longer than the spectacular but fickle commerciality of Sail GP. Investing in the true heart of the City will reap real returns as we already know. It supports local businesses, jobs and suppliers. The work on the Centre is not complete and indeed will be ongoing. So will the value of the asset to our City and to the broader Arts Community in Aotearoa.

4400 - Jack Freeman

I have attended and worked at many events at the arts centre over the years and I truly believe it is a very important asset to our community. Through these events I was able to get involved with and meet new people that meant my sense of wellbeing and belonging in a city that is otherwise lacking in that department was improved. I think not choosing to fund the arts centre in the future would be a big mistake.

4401 - Stella Masters

The Arts centre is a place for creativity to thrive and inspire, and personally it's the most beautiful part of Christchurch and it deserves to remain loved and cherished.

4402 - Alicia Erceg

The arts centre is the biggest asset this city has, it's the heart of our city. Not funding this would be such a shortsighted disappointing decision.

4403 - Meg Roberts

Such epic spot in Christchurch beautiful buildings and great spots for tourist

4404 - Kirsten Clement

The arts center is a vital part of christchurch and needs funding to bring life back to the heart of the city. I remember going as a kid seeing all the cool shops and markets and music this wad always a highlight of mine and will always remain fond memories. I want to show our next generation that christchurch is bright fun odd and entertaining in every shape and form.

4405 - Sally Thompson

Far too important a place to let go. After all we have been through and with the over budget stadium and sports facility sucking the city dry, why not put money into the arts centre, culture. It is a big draw card for tourists and locals and is just finding it's feet. It is historically important and we few these place since the earthquake. Ludicrous decision. It's a drop in the bucket for council but too much for inviduals. You are playing a dangerous game.

4406 - Steve Welch

Because of the historical context

4407 - Kat Welch

It's important that councils invest in historical buildings in order for other generations to enjoy and understand its history and importance on the community.

4408 - Xinran Yu

The Arts Centre is a significant building for historical, social and cultural heritage of Christchurch and University of Canterbury

4409 - John Stroh

It's of course possible, that someone is spreading false information and please accept my apologies if this is the case. If however it is correct that the Christchurch long term plan does not include funding for the Arts Centre, then the Mayor and Councillors who approved this should be asked to resign. If this is another example of the extremist right wing Atlas Group's influence on NZ politics then this needs to be exposed. Funding the arts is a way of life. Abandoning the arts is myopic materialism.

4410 - Rima Herber

This is a taonga. This city needs the Arts centre to function as ... a centre for the arts. It's hard to put a monetary value on the contribution it makes to our city and the arts will always need public support. Without a functioning artistic community, the city has no soul. This venue for the arts is worthy of support on an equal footing with the stadium as a venue for sport.

4411 - Jordyn Hawthorn

I love the arts centre, it's part of the Christchurch I remember from my childhood and still one of my favourite spots to this day.

4412 - Anuraj Lillykutty

Art is something that connects human race without any barriers of colour, language, ethnicity or gender. Art is something that connects human without any barriers

4413 - Gordon WADIE

It's just such an awesome heritage asset for Ch/ch (and it needs the Dux De Lux back)

4414 - Jack Breurkes

The arts are such an important part of Christchurch, the garden city, and is especially important now as we have recently had a number of new spaces pop up after the earthquake rebuild that are still finding their feet in being part of a vibrant city centre. funding arts now will go a long way to making Christchurch seem like a more inviting city for the long term.

4415 - Nick Sepie

Keep funding it is a city treasure

4416 - Daniel Hutching

To Whomever, I know you probably won't read this but I'd still like to say my piece. When I was younger I broke my arm, and my Mum took me to the Art Centre after I had the cast put on to distract me. It was awesome, and now we go once a year. It's important to me, and I'm sure to a lot of other people, so I'd rather it didn't get cut off. That's all. Thanks, Daniel

4417 - Sofia Goodin

When going into the city I always make sure to visit the arts centre because I find it the most interesting and calming place to visit. To lose the funding for this area would be a vital loss for Christchurch and would take away people's access to important art, businesses, and architecture.

4418 - Solomona Davis

Funding the Arts Centre is an absolutely essential piece of revitalising our city and bringing it into the future while maintaining the cultural heritage of Ōtautahi Christchurch... Not only does it house beautiful local businesses and frequent markets that reliably attract locals and tourists alike, but it is also a premises where the arts is finally thriving again in CHCH... For instance the artist residencies and APRA kaupapa that bring nationally and world renowned artists together to determine the aesthetic future of our city and country. They are heritage buildings that deserve maintenance and they are being run (by current owners) with utmost respect and integrity, they have brought about a space that was long damaged and unutilised and turned into a thriving space... Most significantly, of late, Te Whare Tapere - a whare to house Māori Indigenous art in a space where it has long been neglected, is an exemplar of the beautiful potential that the Art Center is currently growing into. I believe to omit the Art Center from the current plan is to stunt this growth, and therefore to stunt the growth of the city, and its culture.

4419 - Thomas Akolo

It has been a meeting place for creatives, both past and present. It has been the birthplace of cultural and artistic memories for many cantabrians. The world needs art, especially Christchurch. The future generations should be able to see such a beautiful place thriving as it once was before. I remember having Polynesian markets there and it was such a core memory of artistic and cultural expression. It is a place filled with fond and happy memories to myself and I just feel like the generations after me should get that chance to experience it.

4420 - Bec Sutherland

It is a beautiful piece of history & architecture that should be preserved and enjoyed for generations to come

4421 - Yvonne Yang

This landmark is a treasure to the city. It brings people together with so many cool activities, especially for families. It will be sad to be taken away - imagine you live in a city with road bumps every where but not this place giving people so much joy which provides valueless mental benefits.

4422 - Steph Cheah

I would like to see more art and projects from New Zealand artists

4423 - Penny Henley

As firstly a tourist and now a proud citizen and resident on the north island, the Arts centre is the premier place that I recommend to visitors who come to Christchurch. It is a vibrant thought provoking and inspiring place totally different from the usual visitor destination. It stops them (me) in my relentless thirst for seeing and doing and reconnects with my creative self. Not to fund it will forever be a stain on this council and a step away from creativity and the true expression of humanity

4424 - Karen Jackson

It's part of our whanau

4425 - Jonathan Hood

The arts centre is such a vital part of Canterbury - needs to live on forever!

4426 - Liza Rossie Tong

If the council are using our rates for funding two huge expensive sports centres they really should continue funding the arts centre so the heritage buildings restoration can be finished. Balancing needs and uses, plus there is not much left of old Christchurch, so it is still a priority!

4427 - Rosina Bond

We use the gardens and art centre at least twice a month and would protest to protect it. This council has very bad priorities such as boat races. It's time they protected what matters. The art centre is one of the hearts of CHCH. Do what's right!

4428 - Alastair Boyes

The historical significance, and importance the Arts Centre as a tourist destination cannot be understated. The need for proper and continued funding to maintain the heritage elements of our city is hugely important to me as a rate payer.

4429 - Elodie Mazoyer

Hub for activities. The arts. Performers. Movies. Nice place to hangout. This is for places like this that we live in a city.

4430 - Andrea Roberts

Please fund the Arts Cente. It is such an important part of our community.

4431 - Rogelio Estacio

Arts should always be preserved as it uplifts the wellbeing of the people. Please continuously promote NZ and Christchurch arts to people.

4432 - Eloisa Barbin

The Arts Center is an iconic structure that has to be preserved.

4433 - Zabra Yu Siwa

The Art Centre is one of the most iconic place I visited in Christchurch. It's a shame it is at risk! It needs more support.

4434 - Libby Carmichael Venning

It's an important heritage site, not to be sold to foreign investors

4435 - Geoff Venning

Iconic, historical, important part of Christchurch history. We've been through enough.

4436 - Phil Patey

The Christchurch Arts Centre is a valuable asset to the local community, and it is also of great international interest for tourism.

4437 - Leon Greig

The Arts Centre is a taonga The Arts Centre is vital The Arts Centre is ours

4438 - Beth McGregor

This amazing series of buildings deserves to be kept. I would rate it above the Chch Cathedral. It was a centre of the community when I attended university and when my 95year old mother in law attended university...at the site! Keep funding the arts centre...

4439 - Daniel Harris

The arts center is a great cultural hotspot in Christchurch, and also a lot of valuable history would be lost if it were to go.

4440 - roxanne gapuzan

this is so important please let us have access to this, art is vital in keeping our city alive and vibrant

4441 - Barbara Behal

Arts is a global attraction for all generations and a significant draw for tourism which brings revenue. Beyond this, supporting the arts has proven to be a community strengthening element that enhances and improves the emotional and psychological health of citizens.

4442 - Lucy Kelly

Christchurch doesn't need more disasters

4443 - Jess Peart

So much culture has been lost in Christchurch.... let's not make it even worse folks

4444 - Rhys Jones

The best cure for anxiety and stress is self expression.

4445 - galadriel cass

I loveeee art yayyy

4446 - Michael Bache

Christchurch has been witness to enough disasters for one life time.

4447 - Holly Neilson

A gem of christchurch

4448 - Sofia Ruiz

The arts should always be appreciated

4449 - Sarah Parry

Arts is important

4450 - Saana Ramaekers

The Arts are so valuable to a society's health and happiness!!

4451 - Sian Hassan

The arts are something that can do easily go unnoticed and unappreciated in our city, and funding this public asset is a responsibility that I think the council should take on. Culture and art is worth funding!

4452 - Valentina Marqez

Art is the food for the soul, it gives us joy and help us dream. Since the dawn of humanity w have made art, now more than ever we should appreciate it and promote it.

4453 - Leilani Matai

Because it's part of Christchurch's history and I love going there to support the art

4454 - Emma Fraher

It's an iconic part of Christchurch and such a beautiful place to go and spend time while also supporting the community

4455 - Cameron Davis

The arts centre buildings are beautiful and should be protected as part of Christchurch history.

4456 - Libby McTavish

A beautiful building and home to so much History in Christchurch. After the earthquakes and many buildings being damaged the efforts that went in to keeping the arts centre up and running, it would be a shame to see all that hard work and what it offers now, go to waste.

4457 - Daniel Ido

Dear CCC, keep funding the arts centre. It is a significant cultural hub to Christchurch exploring different cultures, the arts, and allowing people to see the inner workings of their community.

4458 - James Kerr-Shaw

It is a creative community space that brings people together. Without it we are losing a vital part of our city that fosters creativity, education, and a space for indigenous art. By removing funding from the arts centre you are removing a key part of what makes the Ōtautahi community a place we can all feel safe and included in.

4459 - Henry Shipley

I think the arts centre is an iconic part of the city that's been here for generations. The opportunity to develop it into a really amazing market place that draws crowds cannot be missed due to a lack of funding.

4460 - Matthew Abbott

It's an amazing facility for locals and tourists

4461 - Georgina Abbott

It's the most amazing and beautiful collection of buildings

4462 - Eleanor O'Neill

The Arts Centre is my favourite part of the city. It celebrates learning, community, art, heritage, and so much more. It would be a real shame for funding to be cut.

4463 - Stephen Jaeger

The Arts centre is as much Christchurch as the Botanical gardens or the Cathedral if we the rates payer don't help with the up keep we will lose an amazing part of Christchurch.

4464 - Courtney Collins

The Arts Centre is a magical place, one of the few true heritage centre's in Christchurch, an attraction that is cherished by both locals and tourists. I have the pleasure of working in the ground floor of the engineering building and the Health Tech Centre. I work for a tech startup that provides wellbeing support software to schools in New Zealand and beyond. The Arts Centre champions more than just art, its a space of education and innovation. It's an inspiring place brimming with people who have so much love for all things arts, creativity and beyond. We need to nurture the spaces that bring people together and any space that preserves the history of the city.

4465 - Ariana Marsden

It's a great space for families and vital to the heart and culture of any city. No culture or art and you have no city.

4466 - Tonya Maxine

4467 - Milly Ware

The arts centre is a Taonga of our community and I can't bear to see it die. Since the quakes, our community has been losing places like this which encourage people to come together and be creative. We're seeing the rise of malls and distinct suburbs which decentralise our community - many people identify as being from the papanui or ilam communities, rather than from the Christchurch community as a whole. People don't see the need or desire to come into town anymore, and the city centre is dying because of it. But the arts centre is one of the few community hubs that can revitalise the city centre. Just the other week I meet some lovely people there while we listened to a man play piano in the evening. It is connections like these that simply would not happen without a place to facilitate this unity. The arts centre centralises Christchurch and brings people together, in a way that empty parks or town squares do not.

4468 - Elizabeth Ashby

The Arts Centre has always been an integral part of ChCh which was made more evident by its closure after the earthquakes. It's important not only for ChCh residents but for the many tourists who visit daily. I personally would visit one part or other of the Centre at least on a weekly basis.

4469 - Lydia Joyce

I am a visiting tourist and came here with my family. The arts center is a lovely place and we all thoroughly enjoyed stopping by here after having a walk through the botanical gardens. Especially since the museum and cathedral were out of action we really loved being able to enjoy the historical buildings the arts center are in.

4470 - Candy Ng

I came with my family on holiday over Easter and had a look around and found a lot of the stuff here very cool. I think it would be a shame to defund this place as we really liked it and it was one of the reasons we came to Christchurch in the first place.

4471 - Caroline Rusk

This is such an important part of the history of Christchurch, as well as an attraction for tourists. It is well worth preserving for generations to come.

4472 - Aidan Kays

It brings a lot of revenue for the city but it needs funding to stay that way.

4473 - Daisy Moulinou

The art centre is a beautiful heritage for Christchurch City and without the funding it won't survive and will never be the same as we know it today

4474 - Genevieve Easingwood

Beautiful buildings with fabulous shops. As tourists we enjoyed wondering around and it is a fantastic cultural asset to Christchurch

4475 - Sandie Brown

The Arts Centre is an iconic beating heart of the city. The heritage buildings are of historic significance, and tell part of Christchurch's story in a unique way. It has always been a centre for art and provided an affordable venue for artists, but won't survive as such without continued funding. As an artist who at times works in the Arts Centre, I implore the Council to consider the folly of leaving the Arts Centre to struggle on its own. It is unthinkable to neglect this important aspect of a well balanced society.

4476 - Lucy Turner

this centre is vital for creatives and art students to help with their career and getting their art seen. it's very important to keep centres like this as without them it can be hard for artist to get their work noticed and better their career

4477 - Erin Spencer

None of this will be news to you all but the arts center has provided so many opportunities for families to come together. The events for kids to have access to community and the arts are so crucial for their upbringing and sense of place here in Christchurch. Please consider helping to find the arts center.

4478 - Charlotte Thornton

The Arts Centre is an incredibly valuable and irreplaceable facet of Ōtautahi Christchurch. The arts are slowly but surely being shut out of public planning in favour of big business - disestablishing culture and community. It breaks my heart to see The Arts Centre be shut out in this way and it must be rectified.

4479 - Iryna Melnyk

The Arts Centre is a fantastic space for events, art and community. I can't image Christchurch without it.

4480 - Mylene Cheng

This place is vital for every passionate artisan.

4481 - Carolina Kiminami

It's an amazing place, where it's rich in culture and art that brings people together.

4482 - Janet Klass

This Centre is a city treasure. Please continue to support it.

4483 - Kate Holmes

We have been working at the Arts Centre for many years as a stylist and planner for weddings and events. It is such an important and special space for us, and our clients and we want to continue to delivery such beautiful events, in such an iconic space. Funding is absolutely necessary to do this - and to help continue to bring people from near and far into The Arts Centre.

4484 - Peter Stanistreet

It's a natural way to support the Christchurch community, to retain vibrancy that the arts bring for everyone, new and old. It will draw tourism too and complement other features of Christchurch. Thank you.

4485 - Jon Holmes

The Arts Centre is a valued building in Christchurch not only by the public but also by businesses. It's a huge asset to the city and would be a huge shame to see it ever disappear. It's one of our only heritage buildings and we need to keep the history of this city alive.

4486 - Pippa Macklin

It's an integral and iconic part of our beautiful city. A treasure that needs to continue to be restored to its former glory.

4487 - Eric Knapp

This is historic. Great memories never forgotten. Great memories to have.

4488 - Stephen Viles

The Arts Centre runs a fantastic mix of uses for a superbly maintained and preserved suite of historic buildings. The comparatively small amount of funding the trust requires is well worth it.

4489 - Sarah Young

It is an essential public service for the people of Christchurch, a beautiful space for everyone to enjoy

4490 - Louise Millar

The arts centre is essential and requires funding! I

4491 - Nicola Barclay

They need to help complete the re build as it is an important building in our city. It is also a major tourist attraction, and will help to bring more revenue into the city center.

4492 - Lauren Sturm

it's a beautiful place for expression and appreciation of the arts. to defund would be to squash new zealands art

4493 - Dallas Boyd

It's special and a community asset to receive investment.

4494 - Sharron Maree

The Arts Centre is an irreplaceable icon of Christchurch and NZ. FAILURE to protect and keep this national treasure functioning is inconceivable.

4495 - Nicola Allan-Caney

This is such a special resource. Please continue funding, the work that has gone into restoring and rebuilding the Art Centre to be the vibrant place it is cannot be wasted. As a lifelong citizen of Christchurch, and rate payer, I strongly feel that funding should continue so the Art Centre can continue to operate.

4496 - Steve Thomas

A long association over 40 years with the Arts Centre as a tenant in Chemistry block then Physics block allows me insight into its history since being saved from demolition in the early 80s. I recall a number of Directors from Brett Riley, through Chris Doig, Paddy Austen and Philip Aldridge as well as the ground crew who have put so much into this facility. Christchurch has an absolute gem to be treasured and the Council owes it to the legacy of current ratepayers to support it. I am a ratepayer on two properties in the town.

4497 - Karyn Butler

The Art Centre is a beautiful landmark for our City and invaluable as a destination for visitors and locals. To have tenants struggle and potentially close would be a sad public image to portray. I have little interest in Sports and Stadium events. I see the Arts Centre as a focus for alternative interests and others who value Arts and history.

4498 - Amber Mohsin

This place has already made me want to come back and visit christchurch,

4499 - Sonia Mijatov

The Arts Centre is a vital part to Christchurch. Historically and architecturally, its so important to keep up and preserve our historic and architectural spaces. Culturally, it's a mecca for artists, designers, creatives, writers, makers and doers. Economically, it houses retail businesses, hospitality, creative studios, galleries and events that boost this little corner of the city. It would be a disappointing shame for the council to turn a blind eye to their duties as kaitiaki of our people, our places and our spaces.

4500 - Fleur de Thier

Pure and simply because it's an Arts Centre. It advocates and supports local artists. It is well known nationally and a massive asset for the city. It is run by people who know the Arts and its had decades as an arts institution. I would be massively disappointed with the council if this went under, especially knowing where other funds have gone ie Move centre.

4501 - Russell Flint

As a full time uni student, the Lumiere provides an escape from the stresses of work, at least for a few hours. The quality and quantity of the films shown are something unique to the lumiere, so if the council is serious about making Christchurch cool they'll see the lumiere and the arts center as an invaluable asset in that plight.

4502 - Matt Maude

The Arts centre is one of the few remaining heritage buildings in Christchurch. Forward thinking and a huge effort was put into strengthening and saving these building prior to and following the quakes. The place is a hive of activity and is just getting back on its feet. To remove funding to the Arts centre seems incredibly short-sighted and a mus-understanding of the importance of Art, Culture and Heritage to citizens.

4503 - Cerys Pickover

Art makes people feel connected and seen, if someone is feeling lonely or sad or anything really they can find comfort in art. And without funding and possibly with the art centre dexisting we will lose the sense of community through arts.

4504 - Claire Shatford

Our arts centre is pivotal to the history and fabric of our city. It represents the very heart of our city and is thriving as a tourist attraction as well as a place that Cantabrians visit with pride. How could you possibly consider snubbing the Arts Centre, whilst throwing millions at the A&P show , a weekend fair which surely should recover its own costs. It is a shameful proposition that must be reconsidered

4505 - Anna Mathieson

Please continue to fund and support the arts centre it is an amazing place that elevates Christchurch's art and cultural heritage. The arts overall continues to get less funding in many areas of New Zealand when its impact and importance not only culturally but to society is huge. I urge you to reconsider your position in retracting funding to such a significant organisation.

4506 - Anna Mathieson

Please continue to fund and support the arts centre it is an amazing place that elevates Christchurch's art and cultural heritage. The arts overall continues to get less funding in many areas of New Zealand when its impact and importance not only culturally but to society is huge. I urge you to reconsider your position in retracting funding to such a significant organisation.

4507 - Jan Mathieson

Please continue to fund and support the arts centre it is an amazing place that elevates Christchurch's art and cultural heritage. The arts overall continues to get less funding in many areas of New Zealand when its impact and importance not only culturally but to society is huge. I urge you to reconsider your position in retracting funding to such a significant organisation.

4508 - Dave Mathieson

Please continue to fund and support the arts centre it is an amazing place that elevates Christchurch's art and cultural heritage. The arts overall continues to get less funding in many areas of New Zealand when its impact and importance not only culturally but to society is huge. I urge you to reconsider your position in retracting funding to such a significant organisation.

4509 - Sonia Wilson

Arts are at the heart of what makes a city worth living in and visiting. They are at the heart of urban wellbeing and a boon for economy. The arts centre is what inspires me to come visit Christchurch. Please preserve this treasure of a place...

4510 - Dave Mitchell

The Arts Centre is important for our cultural heritage . Please keep funding it so our culture continues.

4511 - Kate Brand

The Arts Centre is an asset to our city with fabulous heritage and architecture a public space with a wide range of users. I believe funding should be provided by the CCC to support the running costs of the Arts Centre to ensure it can continue to be an icon of the city.

4512 - Fiona Timms

I first lived in Chch in 1990 and the Arts Centre was like nothing I had ever seen in NZ. Little did I know that I would return to live in Chchn permanently in 2004. The Art Centre continues for me to be one of the most magical parts of this city not just for me but now my children. I would support a proportion of my rates going to keep the Arts Centre going for the generations to come

4513 - You Mie Kim

Art is a basic ingredient for sound community. We need to put out first priority in keeping arts and our community healthy.

4514 - Matt Innes

The Arts Centre is a rare and precious area, along with the many businesses and arts endeavours it supports – which all help define Christchurch's distinct character. While it's a tough funding environment right now, once these things go they're hard to get back. It would be a real shame to see The Arts Centre get defunded.

4515 - Gael Abraham

The Art Centre is part of the cultural heart beat of Christchurch Central, a place I take all of my visitors to show case what I love about here. A wonderful place to show case arts and crafts usually locally produced. An absolute essential element of Christchurch

4516 - Angela Mote-Andrews

I know I won't be the first to say this - the art centre is a vital organ in our city - for me it was a sanctuary when I was a teen - I had lessons in the building that is now a hotel - I performed in the great hall more times than I can remember - I have been transformed, unlifted and inspired by performances in that space - this is a place that I feel belonging and connection as with many others - just as some people feel this in a church or a stadium. Us humans need art and expression and beauty - the art centre needs the city's support - please treasure our taonga

4517 - Bob Weatherford

To preserve history, support small businesses and provide our people a place to connect to our past. This is an important part of Christchurch and the council should not need to be convinced of the social and cultural significance of this place.

4518 - Sally Hogan

Because it's fundamental to the heart of Christchurch

4519 - Glyn MacDonald

The art centre needs to be funded, because a city with no funding for the arts is a city with no life, and no creativity and no joy. Funding the arts has a massive impact on the community of artists that use the space as well as the people who come to enjoy the arts on display. I believe the net effect of funding for the arts is way greater than its dollar input.

4520 - Penny Ashton

The Arts Centre has been an absolutely pivotal role in my development as a fulltime arts practitioner and provider of joy to hundreds of thousands of Cantabrians and global citizens over my 24 year professional career. (And before that as an arts and craft maker and student.) I first attended the Court Theatre in 1979 or so to see Bad Jelly the Witch and pretty much decided on the spot that was my career choice. I then grew up attending so many incredibly memorable productions there like The Three Musketeers, Little Shop of Horrors and The Crucible. I was also heavily invested in Scared Scriptless in the early 90's attending countless times. And since 2000 I have been a full time professional improviser and have represented NZ in Theatresports. And tho the Court is no longer there, other arts organisations can provide the same inspiration. The restaurants through this time were also so formative. Who doesn't remember the Boulevard Bakehouse's famous muffins. Le Cafe's chicken nachos and Annie's Wine Bar. Then I studied drama and University which involved long sessions in the Free Theatre. I have spent countless hours in that space workshoping, rehearsing and developing theatre which again has informed my career. Then to save money for my OE I had a stall in the Arts Centre market in its heyday making decoupage objet d'art. I loved interacting with the general public and having Dimitri's souvlaki for lunch. I moved to Auckland in 1998 but every visit home generally involved browsing the shops etc.. at The Arts Centre. And then in 2005 I was programmed in the Buskers Festival and again spent countless hours watching my fellow performers in the quad. The Buskers had golden times at the Dux de Lux and in the quad. Though many of these institutions have moved on others will fill the space. Bunsen is a new cafe hub of the past decade. Shows now regularly grace the Great Hall and arts residencies will inspire new generations. It boggles my mind so much work would go into restoring something to suddenly cut it off at the knees. I am well aware the whole world is suffering from lack of funds in every conceivable way, but The Arts Centre is the heart of Christchurch, historically with Rutherford's Den and the former home of the Court, to the architectural jewel it is to what new things may come. And if it passes to council ownership, as other festivals and cultural icons have done, only to languish without the dedicated specialists to look after it, well that would be a waste too. Not to malign the council who have far too much to do already, but it makes the most sense to leave it in the hands of those who know it best. Thanks

4521 - Mark Hobson

The Arts Centre is as iconic as the Cathedral and Botanic gardens and needs the support from the council so it can't be ruined by commercialism.

4522 - Jeff Hunter

Without funding, this iconic ChCh venue will not survive as we know it. Stop doing stupid cycle lanes and help the Arts Centre!!.

4523 - Sophie Ricketts

The Arts Centre is a valuable asset in city, engaging with wide stretches of the community and making Ōtautahi a more vibrant place to live. To lose it, or to compromise it, would have far more than a financial cost. It would affect our mana as a city.

4524 - Richard Hamilton

Because it's our cultural heritage!

4525 - Eve Davidson

Amazing spot with beautiful people and local businesses

4526 - Akari Kitajima

I'm working around The Arts Centre, there are lots of people who come and enjoy artistic architectures. It's definitely one of the most important sightseeing spots in Christchurch. It should be kept and developed by city council.

4527 - Susie Ryder

The Arts Centre is unique to Christchurch. It is the heart of our cities culture, music, concerts, food, exhibitions, etc. We need it as cantabrians as it is part of our DNA, without it we would be lost.

4528 - Oliver Sloan

First reason, it is a significant place of history and is a known landmark and to complete it and fund the revitalisation of the area. By bringing people back to the Arts Centre by indulging in workshops, council events and by simply having the centre available to everyone.

4529 - Hollie Fullbrook

Dear Christchurch City Council, My name is Hollie Fullbrook, I represent my band, Tiny Ruins, based in Tāmaki Makaurau. We are concerned and disappointed by the news that The Arts Centre is under threat. We were lucky enough to be able to perform and stay at The Arts Centre last year, and were so impressed by the quality of the festival (Off Centre Festival), the beautiful atmosphere and richness of performance offered to the general public - as well as with how amazing the premises and accommodation was for artists in residence. We all felt what a great city Christchurch was blossoming into, in its support for the arts, and what a great path it was on. I have also spoken with my friend Bic Runga about how incredible a space / what a treasure it is. I ask the Councillors to now seriously try to save The Arts Centre by including it as a matter of priority for the city's Long Term Plan. The alternative route seems like a drawn out and complex process with little to no actual benefit to ratepayers. Know that The Arts Centre was a real drawcard for the current feeling of positive change and growth for the city, and that we are really sad to hear of its current crisis. Please do all you can to secure it for future generations of musicians, writers and artists. Ngā mihi nui, Hollie Fullbrook

4530 - Jessica Williamson

The Art Centre needs to be funded as it is a space that brings together community to celebrate art and culture. If the Art Centre were not to survive, it would be a detriment to the heart and soul of Christchurch.

4531 - Poppy Milroy

Its a taonga for chch, means a lot to our people our whanau our community, our heritage

4532 - Hannah Rich

Culture and heritage are a huge part of any city and post quake there's not much heritage left! Also there's no great other places to take tourists/visitors it's a gem

4533 - Kirsty MacDonald

The Arts Centre is an essential part of the arts scene in Christchurch and provides a vibrant and pivotal role for Christchurch musicians.

4534 - Max Lowe

Because it brings life to the city and creates a sense of community that cannot be found anywhere else

4535 - Maritza Jewitt

It would be irresponsible not to fund the Arts Centre. The Arts Centre is like a pair of lungs for the city. A immense treasure that we must protect at all cost. I take a lot of pride in working at Cellar Door and getting to work in such a magical place, but I also take great pleasure in experiencing with my daughter the different activities that are on. Lumières is our go-to for movies. The great hall is our go-to for concerts and photo exhibitions. Altiora is our go-to for acrobatics. The Arts Centre plays a crucial role in the city and it's just so important that it receives the necessary funding to keep giving to the community.

4536 - Mel Blowes

4537 - Fraser Hooper

The Christchurch Arts Centre connects thousands of people to the city they live, work and play in. It is more than just another location for art and entertainment, it is a place to feel proud of when we refer to this great city. Sharing art and culture together in a beautiful welcoming environment makes us all feel human. If we lose this great treasure the city will lose it's heart and hopes for a brighter future.

4538 - Jade Wilson

The Arts Centre is an incredibly significant hub of culture for Ōtautahu Christchurch - it celebrates so much of our art and our people, brings us together, holds our history, and educates and delights us all. Losing such a wonderful place for lack of funding would be an embarrassing failure of the Council to recognise the things that truly make the city of Christchurch such an incredible place to be - our complete and utter love for art, culture, and coming together to celebrate Cantabrian pride.

4539 - Annika Wolter

Dear Christchurch City Council, I hope this message finds you well. I'm writing to stress the importance of continued funding for the Christchurch Arts Centre. It's a vital hub for cultural expression, community engagement and economic growth. The Arts Centre serves as a beacon of creativity and inclusivity, enriching the cultural landscape of our city. Its presence not only supports local artists, but also attracts tourists, boosting our economy. I urge you to prioritise funding for the Arts Centre to ensure its continued impact on our community. Your support is vital to maintaining the vibrant cultural fabric of Christchurch. Thank you for your attention to this matter. Yours sincerely, Annika

4540 - Camilla Rosenfeld

The Arts Centre is an incredible piece of Christchurch history that also houses so much of its culture. Funding it isn't just the good thing to do, it's the right thing to do.

4541 - emma summers

What the heck council?! you're better than this! The arts centre is such a hub for creativity and hauora!

4542 - Heidi Cooper

The Arts Centre is really a building and place that showcases the best of Christchurch. It has music, food, the arts, education, beautiful architecture and it is finally after years of restoration truly coming alive. It is home to the University, a host of community organisations (including the girls choir that I accompany) and has a wide range of facilities for the community. If they don't get the funding they need we may lose many of the above things and it will be such a shame. The council should really really think hard about this decision as it will greatly affect a wide range of communities, ages and cultures. Now more than ever we should be funding places like these.

4543 - Lisa Patterson

The Arts Centre is a vital part of Christchurch. It is the heart of the city and must be funded by the council. This valuable cultural asset gives so much to locals and visitors alike. Every dollar spent on it by the council is more than justified by the benefits it provides to us all.

4544 - Huiqi Fei

Without art in the world, people will live only with their body.

4545 - Gemma Harris

the arts centre is a crucial taonga for otautahi, it's iconic and such an inspiring place for artists of all kinds!

4546 - Rebekkah Pickrill

The Art Centre is an integral part of Christchurch. It offers a huge array of amazing multi cultural and multi purpose events and opportunities for the Christchurch community and is an amazing destination for national and international tourists.

4547 - Samantha Sunderland

The art centre is an important part of central Christchurch it has so much potential to enhance the vibrancy of the city and attract tourists to central Christchurch

4548 - Sue Larkins

As an “out of Towner”, the Art Centre is the place that identifies Christchurch for me and is a major drawcard. Sadly there is little public built history left in good condition in chch. If there is anything worthwhile saving and supporting, this is it. It contributes significantly to chchs rich cultural, educational and social history.

4549 - Trinity Dellabarca

Because it's a really neat spot, and I love going there with my friends

4550 - Susan Morgan

It is an absolute icon for our city and should be funded by the city council for current and future generations to be able to utilize as it is today.

4551 - Abbie Pickrill

Please fund The Arts Centre so it can continue to offer cultural experiences and artistic exploration for all of the Ōtautahi community and visitors but especially for our tamariki. In the past 7 years my two tamariki have had the opportunity to take part in countless events and activities including writing, art and music workshops, star gazing in the Observatory Tower, they have enjoyed Matariki and Off Centre Festivals, added their voices and art to public works, learnt about architecture, made ceramic bowls, watched puppet shows, laughed at buskers, watched their first opera, heard classical music, sung along to carols, learnt about Rutherford, enjoyed Halloween in the heritage buildings PLUS countless offer activities. The Arts Centre has nurtured their creativity and provided a space for them to learn and explore. It plays an invaluable role for arts in Ōtautahi. Please ensure it can continue to offer enriching experiences in the future by providing the funding needed to keep the Centre running. Thank you.

4552 - Sarah Geary

Please keep funding the Christchurch Art Centre, it is actually the heart of the City, it's a cultural centre of creativity and learning of history and beauty. Without funding it it won't be able to offer all the fantastic projects and activities that entertain inform and delight so many especially tamakiki. Without a fully functioning Art Centre Christchurch centre will become an anodyne metropolitan city without that special area that distinguishes us as from other cities - where it is just about shopping, restaurants and bars. We are so much more than that as a City and the Art Centre is and always should be the vibrant beating heart of our evolving, wonderful City.

4553 - Abigail Watson

It is a beautiful building full of historic significance and provides a wonderful experience for tourists and those who live here

4554 - Amy Doran

The arts centre is the beating heart of arts and culture in Christchurch. The arts sector is in crisis, funding for creative projects is hard to obtain. Creative people are living paycheck to paycheck. We can't lose this cultural hub.

4555 - Anna Kelly

The Arts Centre is akin to the heartbeat of the city, providing amazing venues for all things creative and life giving.

4556 - Ami Muir

Invaluable resource for our community

4557 - Brigitte Thomson

Is an important part of Christchurch, a place where the arts community can come together. A designated arts area. The buildings should be preserved and made available for the general public to enjoy.

4558 - Mikala Stokes

As someone in the event industry, I have seen The Art Centre used as a magical spot for many people's special day. The venue has been great to us and ensuring that someone's wedding, gala dinner, fundraisers all go smoothly. As a parent I have taken my son through The Art Centre many times and every time we find something new, he loves exploring and seeing the history that these buildings hold. It will be shame if they are no longer funded and loose the opportunities that have been had and could be had in the future.

4559 - Beck Robson

SAVE IT

4560 - Jessica Camm

The art center is such a highlight in Christchurch being such a beautiful place. I love visiting it and I know so many people who do too.

4561 - Matthew Talbot

Public value warrants public money. There are countless individual stories where the Arts Centre has made lives richer, and the impact is far reaching. Heritage isn't just pretty buildings - a gem to look at - heritage is a cultural engine - a gem to use - drawing in talent, creating opportunity, inspiring the future. Kill this and CHCH becomes a dull city, and (to many) a dead city. When $ is tight, all the more reason to spend where it matters.

4562 - Courtenay Feck

The Christchurch City Council has proposed a Long Term Plan that doesn't include funding for The Arts Centre. Without funding, The Arts Centre as we know it won't survive. That is unacceptable.

4563 - michael pacey

The Arts Centre is a special area which provides an area to celebrate artistic expression, our heritage and celebrates the place of Rutherford's education in an accessible format creating life and identity for Christchurch. Funding should be provided by the city as it is easily accessible for all

4564 - Andrea Ward

The mental health of each person who attends the Lunchtime Concerts each Monday is increased considerably due to the music, the venue and the friendship which each attendee receives. People who attend these concerts also enjoy time with others prior to the concert having a coffee with others. A simple act but one which is so beneficial giving a feeling of belonging. This is only one benefit of the Arts Centre as a whole. This was a gift to our city and the Concerts for Christchurch provide such an amazing programme of music. In return those who attend are given the gift to spend an hour in beautiful surroundings experiencing local and international artists willing to share their talents.

4565 - Evie Cameron

The arts centre is a historical, meaningful part of Christchurch! We don't have many of these buildings left, why would you even consider this? Not only is it home to many businesses but in the summer is a thriving atmosphere for the public, you love making more money don't you???????

4566 - Pippiana Voakes

Save the arts centre !!! Please keep funding it! It's such a safe haven for people.

4567 - Emily Dodd

It is one of the most important places in Christchurch and cannot be forgotten. We need to make sure it stays funded and stays open please.

4568 - John Williams

Because it brings economic value to the city

4569 - Emma Johns

The council needs to continue to fund the arts centre because it provides a space for the community to gather and learn. I've recently had an incredible experience at a workshop for singers run by an international group at the Arts Centre. It's also just such a beautiful public space that provides an opportunity for people to experience Christchurch.

4570 - Jy Boyo

Because its for community, it embraces imagination and its part of chch culture

4571 - Raemon Greenwood

Such an important venue for performing arts and concerts . The heart of who our city is and a tourist attraction . An integral part of the city's makeup

4572 - Peter Vangioni

The Arts Centre is a central part of the fabric of our city's culture and heritage. It's always been a place that I have been proud to bring visitors to Christchurch for a unique and joyful experience. It is also a place that I have enjoyed visiting regularly since moving to this city over 30 years ago. Surely it's a crucial part of this town's tourist attraction infrastructure and has played a key role as such for decades. As such why would you stop funding it? Please continue funding the Arts Centre.

4573 - Jono Teague

This place is a vital part of the heart of our city. It provides a range of activities for families and all sorts to enjoy, and is unique and something that sets our city apart from many others. The Art Centre has so much potential to continue to grow and showcase our local talent. Please continue to fund the Art Centre, giving our city more opportunities to thrive.

4574 - John Hare

The Arts Centre is one of the most immediately recognizable and valued institutions in Christchurch for residents and visitors alike. Partly for its unique heritage setting but also for its vibrant mix of people and activities. All of which are testament to the vision of the people responsible for starting it; and the tenacity of those that have maintained it, saved it from disaster and generally supported it. It is unique in New Zealand and it is a fallacy to assume that it can continue to be the asset it has become without public support, in the form of funding from the City Council. The return to the city, whether measured in financial returns or cultural capital, rewards us all many times over and once lost, will take generations to recapture. It is essential that the Arts Centre is funded and it is one of the best uses of our rates (speaking as a rate payer). Please don't cease the wonderful legacy that the Arts Centre represents - we owe it to future generations to preserve all aspects of the Arts Centre, lest it could become a set of dusty old buildings, closed to the public, an historical footnote, and nothing more.

4575 - Lucy Arnold

It's incredibly important for the city to support and encourage a thriving arts sector, for the social and economic benefits to everyone.

4576 - Eloise Clark

Because it's a beautiful historical place that is still being used to this very day! It's incredibly important to the people in New Zealand, especially after the Christchurch earthquakes destroyed a lot of historically significant places.

4577 - Erin Duck

Please include arts centre in funding thanks

4578 - Lujane Shabbir

Christchurch is a beautiful city full of wonderful creative people who deserve a space to engage in art, culture and community. We need the Arts centre to be a hub for the community.

4579 - Brittany Hewitt

It provides some of the most important facilities and art opportunities but also the historic buildings are what give Christchurch its sense of place and if we lost that, we'd lose apart of our sense of place.

4580 - Michael Campbell

Cmon, common sense people it's the heart of bloody Christchurch. Fund the damn place

4581 - Mel Warren

The council should fund the art center because it would provide a creative space for the community, support local artists, and promote cultural enrichment. It would also attract visitors, boost the local economy, and enhance the overall quality of life in the area. Plus, art has the power to inspire, educate, and bring people together! 🗣️👉🏠😊

4582 - Stephanie Defregger

This is a an important institution and needs to be supported. Thank you.

4583 - Mary Holba

It forms a core part of the city, encourages tourism and conveys heritage.

4584 - Kate Eilken

It's a one of a kind place for Christchurch, we can't lose it!

4585 - Anthony Taylor

It's outrageous that this Gothic Revival masterpiece is under such threat. If there's one building the CCC should preserve its the wonderful Arts Centre. Make it as economically sustainable as possible but the balance must be properly funded by the people of Christchurch!

4586 - Steph Pryce

Pivotal part of christchurch, heritage, culture, education, beautiful part of our city

4587 - Tegan Porteous

The Arts Centre always provides great events and community that I have attended with friends and family since I was a child. It is an integral part of Christchurch and should continue to be supported.

4588 - Mae Woods

The Christchurch Arts Centre is one of the only places in the city where the arts are encouraged and shared with our population. While almost always undervalued, art is an integral part of a cities vibrancy and without it our central city will become increasingly unappealing to both its inhabitants and tourists. I strongly advise that the decision to cut funding is repealed, and instead that we as a city invest in the assets that make Christchurch a wonderful place to live and visit.

4589 - Gary Adin

We need organisations like this in our community in order to foster prosperous arts and artists.

4590 - Zoe Lovell-Smith

The arts centre is such a big part of the Christchurch. I am inspired going to the building itself, the shops, the galleries and love all the events they host. It is a place for creativity to flourish and be showcased. It would be very disappointing if the council did not fund the arts centre.

4591 - Hannah Aualiitia

The Arts Centre is an important historical gift for our city and it's our collective responsibility to make sure it's accessible now and into the future. The trust work tirelessly to provide valuable events and spaces for our local community to enjoy and be inspired and they are already doing it on a ridiculously tight budget. Assist them with their rates and insurance costs, fund their programmes and events and DON'T cut funding. It will end up being the CCC's problem in a round about way anyway and what will be the total cost if that is the case? Short-term thinking for long term pain. I love The Arts Centre and support them wholeheartedly.

4592 - Izzy Logie

Take away the arts from our central city and all you are left with is business. The world is a better place with art, and other venues that showcase there is more to the world.

4593 - Amelie Thorpe

The Arts Centre is such a key part of the heritage of our city. My first interaction with it was on a school field trip, where we learnt about the history of Rutherford and the important people of Chch. By cutting funding, you will be responsible for future generations lack of understanding about abd connection to local history and their place in it. My second encounter with the arts centre was for a winter night market, which was of the first moment I saw Chch as a community. The open nature and quiet atmosphere of the Centre promotes connection and requires people to stop and look up from their phones. The most recent time I have been impacted by the Art Centre, was at a poetry workshop, which promoted conception to history. The historical venue was such an important part of the workshop, and by providing youth a link to the past, creates a more meaningful connection with their city. In such an individualized world, we desperately need more third spaces in which people can congregate, learn, and feel connected to their history, and continuing the funding for the Arts Centre, is one of the vital steps towards making Christchurch connected, and beautiful city.

4594 - Gerald Johnstone

The Arts Centre is a national jewel and we are fortunate enough to have in Christchurch. It has great history and is a vital part of the essential spirit of Christchurch. Following the devastating Canterbury earthquakes in which it was severely damaged, it has been rebuilt and repaired at huge expense. It is not only stunningly beautiful but it is a safe and reliable venue. It attracts locals and visitors alike and is full of happy and excited people. To even consider stopping Christchurch City Council funding of The Arts Centre reveals a Council that does not care for its priceless assets and its residents and visitors. This ridiculous proposal needs to be rejected out of hand.

4595 - Ashley Cherry

Its Iconic, it brings in tourists, there are cinemas, restaurants, events, and 3rd party customers who run out of the artscentre. It is a whole city block and it is a hertigate building/site which millions has already been spent on restoration over many years.

4596 - Suzi Bailey

The art centre is so iconic and the heart of Chch - it fulfils so many purposes, is a joy to visit from a heritage, educational, theatrical, artistic, cultural point of view as well as indulgent retail and hospitality It's unique and reflects so many different facets of our heritage - please do not risk this disappearing from our or future generations lives - thank you

4597 - Mark Lewis

Its an integral part of the history of our city.

4598 - Sam Tam

Art should be part of the lives in making people rich in spiritual world.

4599 - Elizabeth Hodgson

The effort and money that went into the restoration was well worth it, look at the treasure we have that is The Arts Centre - buildings and people. The money for the earthquake restoration came from insurers, grants, and donations; the council funded none of the restoration. Through the last Long-term Plan the council was given the green light from the people of Christchurch to provide funding to The Arts Centre. This needs to be an ongoing annual contribution to ensure this treasure is there for further generations. Council long term plan states as one of the community outcomes that it wants to 'protect their heritage and pursue their arts, cultural and sporting interests and contribute to making our city a creative, cultural and events powerhouse' - protect and pursue it by putting your money where your mouth is and fund the Arts Centre.

4600 - Laura Curtin

the arts centre is such an important part of christchurch culture!!!

4601 - Robyn Medlicott

Preserve and important historical landmark - its history and attraction to locals and tourists alike is too important.

4602 - Joanna Pitt

The art centre is an important part of Christchurch and the city as we know it, without it, it wouldn't be the same. The arts and creative industries value this space

4603 - Justin Kelly

Art is worth funding

4604 - Stephen Penfold

It's an amazing, beautiful space that attracts many people and part of the heart of Christchurch City

4605 - Christine Whiteman

It is a very important part of our heritage and it is essential to retain what historical buildings we have left after the earthquakes. We don't have a lot left and this collection of buildings should be looked after and funded by council.....instead of funding cycle ways.

4606 - Jayde McIlroy Wattam

The Christchurch arts centre is both a place of great historic and cultural value. Where the arts, culture and food combine and are shared with not only locals but tourists as well. It would be a sad day to see a place like this lose out on the chance to provide for our communities and continue to be the hub that they are. As both a student at Canterbury University and an artist I would happily say that the arts centre is my favourite place in the city. It should be fostered not hindered! I hope there is the chance that the Christchurch City Council can reconsider.

4607 - Linda Street

It is imperative the CCC continues to fund the Arts Centre it is almost all that remains of pre earthquake Christchurch forming a precinct with the museum, provincial building and Cathedral. Why bother restoring the buildings to now kick it to the kerb? The Arts Centre is the heart of Christchurch and a must do experience for visitors. It is being sacrificed for a rugby stadium! This is so wrong.

4608 - Allyce Campbell

It is a cool space for lots of people! Don't take it away

4609 - Lily Benton

Fund the Christchurch art centre!!!

4610 - Jessica Fleming

It's a great place for all people to connect and we don't want to lose that connection within the younger generations of Christchurch

4611 - Maia Wilkinson

They have the best - safest - piercing studio in the South island. Brilliant food spots. A great outdoors area used for events and markets. A brilliant building of history in the heart of the city. The city relies on art. Don't let us lose it.

4612 - Nikki Fox

It is an important part of Christchurch that if this is taken away the city of Christchurch will not just lose a building but part of its history and a place that brings people together.

4613 - Mark Hayes

The council should fund and continue supporting the Art Centre. I strongly believe the decision to not fund the Arts Centre is embarrassing and short sighted. It is an important part of the city and I personally enjoy spending time there. The residents of Christchurch don't deserve to have uncertainty put upon one of their heritage sites again.

4614 - Jinwei Shi

People need Art. Why not fund it.

4615 - Brydie Crates

It's a highly valuable building and loved by many, it is historical and beautiful and needs to stay

4616 - Taigen Clegg

This is such an important part of Christchurch's city centre and a hub for such amazing small businesses and a great place for like minded people to meet.

4617 - Lucy Gregory-Meunier

An important historical place with so much value to the community- culturally, spiritually and financially!

4618 - Tyne Gordon

Please keep funding the art centre, it's a special historical gem which needs to be used with in our community in a affordable manner.

4619 - Bruine Blanco

Having art be accessible is more than just pretty pictures. It's the way we share humanity with one another - through cultures and generations. Defunding this centre is an act of silencing

4620 - Karol London

The Arts Centre is the creative heart and spirit of the city. Without the Arts Centre, Christchurch would be a collection of buildings and businesses with a few struggling arts facilities trying to hold on at the periphery. The city needs the Arts Centre!

4621 - Jack Nolan

Art is of the fundamentals of culture. Why potentially loose that in a growing city after all we've been through and lost so much?

4622 - Richard Pickrll

The Arts Centre is the cultural and historic hub of Christchurch. The current use respects the history of the buildings and their historic architectural Beauty. They are absolutely unique in New Zealand, and rare on a global scale. To see them used for other commercial uses would be sacrilegious. Written as a former student (and Boys High alumni) who spent my graduate and undergraduate life here in the 60s, under the shadow of Rutherford ... he would turn in his grave. Please respect the vision of the City founders in developing such an historic and iconic site by maintaining it as a cultural heritage.

4623 - Elizabeth Braggins

The Arts Centre has huge insurance and rates bills each year which in the past your funding has paid for. They will be insolvent within 2 years if you don't fund them as you have done in the past. The arts centre is vital to the heart of the city and must be helped now to avoid a costly situation down the track. Reconsider.

4624 - Susannah Robertson

Please fund the arts centre it is an amazing resource for the city and my kids and I visit regularly for events and workshops.

4625 - Andre Hopping

It's a special place and every local loves it, for childhood memories and its post-quake revival as well. While it's not perfect, please keep funding it, the cost is a drop in the ocean compared to the council budget and the arts centre as we know it is irreplaceable and doesn't deserve to have its fate up in the air

4626 - Ellie Kay

The Arts Centre is such an important part of our heritage and it would be a huge loss to see funding cut. The arts aren't just a luxury, they teach our people very important lessons and are a great place to visit for international tourists

4627 - Dianne Pickrill

Please continue with funding for The Arts Centre. The Arts Centre gives people of all ages, ethnicity, countries and all walks of life the opportunity to participate in countless activities and events including art, history, music and science to name a few. I used to work in these heritage buildings. It is an excellent use of the old Canterbury University currently at a minimum cost to the Christchurch ratepayers. The Arts Centre staff have made that happen for and on behalf of the people of Christchurch.

4628 - David Sampson

The Arts Centre is an important part of the central city and I believe it is important to fund.

4629 - Craig Cannell

The Arts Centre is an extraordinary building that offers you the chance to learn about the history of Christchurch and the fascinating students that attended such as Ernest Rutherford. Its deep history is something that should be nurtured for future generations and it now boasts a modern design that hosts many cultural performances and experiences to all. I have visited many times and I love how they offer many free performances allowing everyone rich or poor to enjoy the facility. This facility must be kept on its current course or New Zealand will lose a piece of its heart. Save The Arts Centre x

4630 - Andrea Abrams

The Arts Centre is the heart and soul of central Christchurch and would be a disaster to all New Zealanders and visitors if it can't survive.

4631 - Bex Murphy

The arts are important to so many different groups and roles of people. They need to be supported or will be lost.

4632 - Jonathan Graham

The Arts Centre is a community institution and therefore requires a permanent presence in the Council's annual budget.

4633 - Katie Britten

Art washes away the dust from the soul...

4634 - Chris Ecker

It's one of the last remaining and important parts of old Christchurch

4635 - Fraser Fitzpatrick

With so many of our city's heritage buildings lost in the quakes, it is more important than ever that we adequately preserve and treasure the buildings that we still have. The Arts Centre is a vital aspect of our city's cultural landscape and it should be funded and preserved.

4636 - lucia stoneman

I have seen more tourists than I can count you absolutely can't get rid of the arts centre

4637 - Chessie Henry

I back an independently run Arts Centre! Creative spaces in Chch are few and far between and we absolutely can't mess with the thriving ones we do have. Please reconsider the funding for The Arts Centre.

4638 - Angela Patrick

We have lost so much of our heritage in our once beautiful garden city, DONT lose this iconic building. We had to fight to keep our beautiful cathedral, we will fight for the Art centre too. Stop wasting money on your pet projects.

4639 - Geoff Fraser

This is essential that they contribute with funding, it's an important part of Christchurch

4640 - Patricia Currall

Precious facility for locals & tourists. Should not be list.

4641 - Lara Donaldson-Scott

The arts centre is an important landmark in Christchurch and deserves funding to keep it alive.

4642 - Louisa Reschenberg

I visited the arts centre for the first time and had the chance to go to a concert and see all the exhibitions - it is so nice there, it should not have to change! Please fund the arts centre!!

4643 - Shaun Hogan

Funding for arts center is crucial for fostering creativity, cultural enrichment, and community engagement. These centers serve as vital hubs where artists can innovate, collaborate, and showcase their work, contributing to the cultural vibrancy of society. Financial support enables these centers to provide accessible programming, workshops, and exhibitions, ensuring that diverse voices and perspectives are represented and celebrated. Additionally, investing in the art center stimulates economic growth by attracting tourists, spurring local spending, and generating employment opportunities in the creative sector. Beyond economic benefits, these institutions play a pivotal role in education, offering valuable learning experiences and fostering critical thinking skills among patrons of all ages. Ultimately, funding for art center is an investment in the soul of the community, enriching lives, inspiring imaginations, and promoting social cohesion.

4644 - Hebe Gibson

It's hub of activity that's good for the arts, culture, heritage, social connection and the economy.

4645 - Rachel Cross

The Arts Centre is a piece of local history. NZ has a very young history and we have very few buildings of architectural value such as the Art Centre. The building and the activities it attracts are a focal point of CHCH and should be valued and preserved. The council should remain contributing custodians of the building.

4646 - Coral Thomas

It is the heart of christchurch , truly beautiful historical site.

4647 - David Cooper

I would like to live in a city of culture. Art nourishes the mind, and make us better people.

4648 - Chelsea Thomson

Cutting funding to such an integral part of our city is honestly just demoralising, and shows just how out of touch the council is with the people of Christchurch. The Arts Centre is a key location not just for locals but for tourists and visitors as well. It's part of our history and part of our image; if anything funding should be increased. Please do the right thing by the residents of Christchurch and the wider Canterbury region, and continue funding our Arts centre.

4649 - Brendan Johnstone

The Arts Centre is a historic landmark, removing funding is short sighted especially when it is already home to private, rent-paying businesses. The Council seems to be happy using public funds propping up the stadium that the public has to pay exorbitant amounts of money for tickets to visit for half a day, yet balks at funding a centre for arts and education open to everyone.

4650 - Sally Thomson

Because the Arts Centre is an integral part of the city's history, heritage, and art scene; a much needed space going forward for current and future generations of Cantabrians!

4651 - Jessica McKenzie

It's such an integral part of our history and culture

4652 - Maggie Tarry

This is a central cultural hub that brings life and identity to Christchurch.

4653 - Mo Jamieson

It's the most beautiful architecture in Chch, absolutely breathtaking and a great thing for tourists to experience. It's a creative hub for so many people and a fantastic place for local events!

4654 - Angela Stevenson

It's an asset to the whole of Christchurch, with the events they provide and with the tourists that come to Christchurch due to the beautiful buildings.

4655 - Helen Woods

The Arts Centre is the most historical building we have left in Christchurch after the earthquakes. It an attractive building for many tourists to visit, also bringing near by business for the botanical gardens and the museum. It is a key part of Christchurch City.

4656 - Lucy Handford

The Arts Centre is absolutely essential to Christchurch both for residents and tourists. It would be a tragedy if it closed and a real loss for the city. This important cultural and artistic hub must be preserved.

4657 - Mark Hornby

Please preserve this heritage building for our city

4658 - Jessica Strong

The Arts Centre is iconic, much loved historical and cultural part of Christchurch for those people who grew up here. I personally spent a lot of time there from a young age right through my 20s. Having gone to Ballet, modern dance and art classes there it made me appreciate the historic buildings even more. As an adult in my 20s I regularly visited the markets and worked at Le Cafe for 2 years from 2001-2003. My best friend growing up, her father had his office/business on the Hereford Street side of the Arts Centre and I always enjoyed visiting him there because it usually meant treats from the market. Every Cantabrian I know has benefitted in some way from the what the arts centre gave them culturally and personally. No funding will mean less children learning the arts and in turn more screen time and poor behaviour giving a negative effect. Children should be well rounded and the arts is an important aspect of this.

4659 - Dominique Craigie

It gives city culture. When I have guests I always say to visit arts centre. Gives people a reason to be in city centre rather than horrible malls. Please don't deprioritise history and culture

4660 - Aleesha Jayce

Art is freedom, art is opportunity, the theft of art is the theft of individuality. Every age group, every race, every gender, every identity needs art for expression, for mental health. To lose a center like this will feel like it is all being stripped away. Kids who don't have these opportunities in school, or in home, need this outlet.

4661 - MinChul Park

It is important to Christchurch City and valuable for its citizens. Drop in funding will make you lose artists!!! The arts centre should be funded continuously.

4662 - Grant Hadley

The Arts Center is a vital part of our city. And why rebuild it then not support it?

4663 - Antonio Di Prinzio

Having visited the center numerous times in the past, I have personally witnessed the immense value it brings to our community. It is not just a building, but a vibrant hub of creativity, inspiration, and learning. It is a place where people of all ages come together to explore, create, and appreciate art in its many forms. The Arts Center has played a pivotal role in fostering a sense of community and belonging. It has provided a platform for local artists to showcase their talent, and for our community members to engage in enriching cultural experiences. I firmly believe that the loss of such an institution would be a significant blow to the cultural fabric of our community. Therefore, I urge you to consider the profound impact the Arts Center has on our community and to take action to ensure its survival.

4664 - Sophia Brooking

Why rebuild a city and then take away its heart??? Whats the point in having a city with no culture??? A city where noise and culture are questioned, its a fucking joke! What are we supposed to do, just watch all these buildings get rebuilt for a decade and then take the funding out of them when they're ready for life... What a joke.. what a fucking joke..

4665 - Emma McMullan

We lost so much in the quake. Please don't let this be another thing we lose.

4666 - Isaac Gendall

The Arts Centre is a major tourist attraction for the city and place for the arts to thrive. No funding is robbing the community and the future.

4667 - Benesia Smith

- Art holds a pivotal role in human life, offering many benefits that profoundly impacts our Taha tinana (physical health), Taha wairua (spiritual health), Taha hinengaro (mental health), whenua and Taha whānau (social wellbeing). Art serves as a powerful medium for expressing emotions and sentiments that often elude verbal communication. Whether it's through painting, sculpture, music, or dance, art provides a unique avenue for individuals and collectives to convey their deepest feelings to others. The Arts Centre supports our collective taha whānau, taha tinana, taha wairua and taha hinengaro. - The Arts Centre actively fosters creativity and nurtures the imagination. This stimulation contributes to innovative thinking, the development of problem-solving skills, and the cultivation of a mindset that embraces unconventional approaches. We want a community that brings diversity of thought and the Arts Centre has a role to play in supporting a thriving and diverse community. - The Arts Centre provides a focal point for the city's art and crafts community. As Heritage NZ notes - It is significant as the site of one of the earliest of New Zealand's university colleges and as a splendid collection of Gothic Revival buildings designed by a variety of Canterbury architects. Without support from Council the Arts Centre would diminish as a focal point for the art and crafts community. - The Arts Centre is good for the Christchurch economy. When artists make money from their hard work, it all comes full circle. They spend more money on art supplies, frequent surrounding places like bars, pubs, restaurants, and events, making it good for the economy, small businesses and more. Also, when a community is bustling with creativity and has a vibrant art scene filled with attractions like the Arts Centre, tourists will come from all over to see. The Arts Centre is vital for supporting Christchurch's art and crafts sector in greater Christchurch and should be supported in every way possible. Christchurch City - please continue your funding support for the Arts Centre.

4668 - Henry Webster

The Arts Centre is wonderful for the community no matter from what demographic you are from, everyone is welcome, there is something for everyone. Prior to visiting Christchurch many times told friends, they also visit the Arts Centre every time and experience several things they have on offer, even the shows in the Great Hall, forever amazed at what is going on, and to see it humming again after earthquake is truly great. For the grandchildren it has many education programmes and school holiday programmes, which children enjoy, the performances in the Great Hall is superb, been to many, including the puppet show with the grandchildren. To take all this away, would be a great loss to the community and tourists !!

4669 - Andrea Cochrane

The Arts Centre is a place of history, learning and culture. One of the most recognized buildings in the city. Everyone has fond memories of the Arts Centre. It is a space that belongs to everyone. Where we can gather to socialize, learn, attend a show and so much more.

4670 - Lottie Savage

The Arts Centre is a beautiful and historic venue that hosts modern creatives. In the heart of the city centre, it is a highlight of each of my regular trips to Christchurch, being the main attraction that draws me into the city centre.

4671 - Siobhan McNulty

The Arts Centre is the jewel in the crown of Ōtautahi. Its galleries, hospitality venues, shops, market, and architecture are well loved and the restoration post earthquake was a phenomenal achievement. Please don't let the Arts centre be lost to us. What a tragedy that would be. Please continue to fund it. Don't be the council whose legacy would be to let it go.

4672 - Jude Ryan-O'Dea

The Arts Centre is a huge draw card for both tourists to the city and to us the locals. Please CCC continue YOUR SUPPORT and also take action on reinstating the iconic Dux Du Lux. The arts centre complex is a huge asset to our city.

4673 - Audrey Ellis

Christchurch has already lost so much of its heritage, the Arts Centre is iconic to the history of Christchurch. Tourists don't want to see another city of high rise buildings.

4674 - Sarah Trevethick

The Arts Centre has always been central to the development of arts, music and culture in Christchurch. This is crucial in building a rich cultural community and provides an opportunity for Christchurch to connect together in rich and diverse ways. A community without culture is stagnant. We need to develop opportunities for innovation and creative thinking and the Arts Centre is a direct contributor to this. There is clear international research evidence to support this. The city has invested in keeping it, so keep it and support it. I have sung in the Arts Centre many times throughout my life. I'm now a member of Voices NZ, NZ's top chamber choir, and my experience at the Arts Centre contributed to this. It's important that my children and your children also have the opportunity to develop their musical and artistic abilities. My life would not be the same without this. You must continue supporting this.

4675 - Kim Williams

I believe that the education, academy, galleries, museum and performances/events that the Art Centre offers are an important part of Christchurch's artistic future, just as they have been a treasured part of the city's history. They add depth and diversity to Christchurch's culture. It would be a loss for the community if the beautiful heritage buildings that make up the Art Centre were used for something else.

4676 - Ruth Nathan

The Arts Centre is an integral part of the ChCh identity and needs to be funded. As a tourist for a few days we haven't strayed far from the Arts Centre. Such an asset needs to be supported as it a unique asset in its current form.

4677 - Faith Fisk

The arts centre is the beating heart of small businesses, artists and art lovers in chch! Not only for locals either - my travelling family and friends always make a point to visit the arts centre (and spend some dough in the CBD as a result).

4678 - Gemma O'Neill

The Arts Centre is a crucial part of the creative and wider community of Christchurch. Choosing to halt its funding would be a disservice to our community and a misrepresentation of its true value.

4679 - Niklaus Schmutz

My daughter loves coming to explore the arts centre. It's a beautiful venue enjoyed by so many people, locals and visitors alike.

4680 - Clare Paynter

The Arts Centre is a wonderful, inclusive space that reflects Christchurch's heritage. It's got some wonderful momentum at the moment - It would be a real shame to see it close.

4681 - Breda Williams

It's the jewel in the crown of Christchurch.

4682 - Doug Brush

The Arts are an absolutely essential part of a healthy society! If you can find the ridiculous amount of money for the new unnecessary stadium (and the cost of its yearly upkeep) then surely the Arts Centre can continue to be funded.

4683 - Angela Haffenden

I've so many wonderful memories at the art centre growing up. From the beautiful shops and galleries to the weekend markets, the dux on a Sunday afternoon and many shows, movies enjoyed there. A cultural icon in ChCh which we are missing and need back again

4684 - Kate Collins

The Arts Centre is a huge asset to our city and one of the biggest tourist attractions. It would be very short-sighted to cease funding this important place which has played a major role in the arts and vibrancy of this city for many decades. Come on CCC! You must see the value of this place! Cut some costs elsewhere!

4685 - Glen Brien

The fact you are cutting funding to this CHCH institution is disgusting

4686 - Lizi Reese

It is part of our history and so loved and valued by our people. Surely Christchurch has lost enough by now? Please fund it.

4687 - Tony Miles

The arts centre is amazing for tourism

4688 - Jono Kidson

The Arts Centre is not only a cultural stalwart for Christchurch, but it is also a hub for creatives and artisans alike to thrive. Not funding the Arts Centre and allowing it to shut down would be a massive loss

4689 - Adam Van Oijen

One of few places left of our heritage

4690 - Sue Quinn

Everyone loves the Arts centre, one of the jewels in our crown, for locals and tourists alike. Please allocate enough of our rate payer money to ensure it is all done up and nsintained well.

4691 - mike quinn

the are very few examples of heritage buildings left in the city so the continued funding of such a heritage asset makes sense both historically, socially, culturally and from tourism viewpoint

4692 - Tafi El Saka

Why should we save the Arts Centre? Allow me to address this question from two perspectives: as a young member of the Christchurch community and as a small business owner. Upon starting my small business and navigating life as a young student in Christchurch, I encountered significant challenges in connecting with the food community and felt isolated. As a food truck operator, finding a welcoming space to trade was very difficult and often seemed it was incredibly hard, and often impossible at times. However, the Arts Centre offered a great contrast. From its leadership to fellow food vendors, security team, and volunteers, we were embraced with open arms. Our dream of operating a food truck was truly realized within its welcoming environment. The support and sense of belonging provided by the Arts Centre are unparalleled, benefiting both the community and small businesses alike. We are immensely grateful to consider the Arts Centre our "home" for our small business and take great pride in being part of its community of talented vendors, staff, managers, and artists. Having travelled all around the world during my childhood, I experienced countless work, educational, and social settings, and I can attest to the extraordinary passion and dedication shown by the Arts Centre staff in serving the community. I resonate deeply with that sense of passion and commitment for what you do and this highlights the importance of fostering such qualities in any community. So, why should we save the Arts Centre? Because if an organization can profoundly impact someone like myself—a young woman, student, and small business owner—in such a short span of time, it speaks volumes about its value. The Arts Centre serves as a beacon of opportunity for diverse individuals and enriches the community with positivity. Failing to fund the Arts Centre sends a disheartening message to young people and current/future business owners, suggesting that their dreams, creativity, and sense of community are not important.

4693 - Liana Donovan

Arts centre is the cultural backbone of the city for generations. This has been a huge tourism draw card for the city for many years ! This is our city as rate payers ,listen the the people.

4694 - Olivia Lamontagne

The Art Centre is a big draw for tourists and enhances our city's culture and appeal. It would be extremely short-cited and unwise move to pull the funding when it will be worth well worth it economically. Arts and culture enhance local wellbeing, tourist dollars and happiness. It is so important economically and socially for Christchurch.

4695 - Matthew Prince

It's the cultural center of Ōtautahi and deserves to be supported

4696 - Claudia Guerra Smith

It is part of the soul of our city!!! It is irresponsible do not include our Arts Centre in the funding!

4697 - Nico Van Sande

The arts centre has always been a great and lively place to come and hangout, whether it's learning or simply going for a walk it's always enjoyable. It's now a part of our city that can't be taken away. Keep funding the Arts centre.

4698 - Bronson Tallentire

You don't need to, they should have done a deal to bring back the Dux and bring in the people!

4699 - Tom McLeish

Save the Art centre give the Cathedral back to the church

4700 - Stuart Victor

It's one of the most iconic and historic cultural facilities in Christchurch and should always be funded by the Council for all generations and visitors to enjoy.

4701 - Katerina Juriss

The arts centre is iconic and historical, beautiful architecture, a hub for arts, students, tourism and the command large

4702 - Nicos Samios

Art Centre deserves same treatment as the Cathedral.

4703 - Nicki Zeitel

It's an important tāonga for our City. Holds a lot of history and it is a place we take our children and ourselves to experience art, education, culture and a shared sense of community.

4704 - Mariana Reinoso

The arts don't make money, but are part of our humanity. Let's save it!

4705 - Katerina Juriss

We are saving the cathedral over the arts centre? Why?

4706 - Randa Abbasi

This is one of the most iconic land marks of the city centre, steeped in history for many of us locals (my grandfather attended university here) and it must be saved. It was thriving before the earthquakes, it will thrive again. Please keep it alive.

4707 - Christine Abbasi

The arts centre is an integral part of our city that must be saved.

4708 - Rose Isbell

Yes

4709 - Erika Huang

Arts Centre is the heart of ChCh loved by locals and tourists. Without Arts Centre, ChCh lost an important treasure.

4710 - Rindy Heintz

It is a beautiful and important place for inspiring and connecting people. Please continue to fund the Arts Centre.

4711 - Lynn Gillison

We need to save what history we have left in this city. The Arts Center is Iconic. The council should think long and hard where the money is spent. I'm sure more tourists will be going there spending money than the covered stadium or the Metro sports facility which has more than doubled in price and still not finished

4712 - Jo Dobson

Think long term , next generation . Something to hand on . So worth saving as we won't have any historical buildings left and the arts centre is a vibrant attractive buildings worth saving . We don't have anywhere else on the city that's like this . Great for tourists and local community to enjoy . All the hard work to date will be wasted time and money . Goes hand in hand with the cathedral as a beautiful example of historical architecture.

4713 - Edward Kwon

The Arts are IMPORTANT!!!

4714 - Jan Paolo Fernandez

the arts centre is one of the few places i can always proudly recommend for visitors and tourist to see and without fail has wowed visitors. Building must be restored and preserved as it is very appealing in photos however events and activities be supported to keep it alive and vibrant.

4715 - Henilton Junior

Is a beautiful place, full of stories and really attractive for tourists.

4716 - Yuya Watanabe

The arts center is the heart of creators and the city should save it. We don't want to lose our culture.

4717 - Rhonda Kearney

The arts centre is fundamental to Christchurch's identity, its visitor population and its local community. To see this iconic part of Christchurch fail would be a travesty

4718 - Kelly Fenton

Arts are a fundamental human need, The Arts Centre is historically significant to Christchurch, we need to preserve the arts

4719 - Brittany Bartelheim

It's essential for learning experience and lifelong knowledge.

4720 - K. Henning-Hansen

Such a civic and historical asset. We can't let it go!

4721 - Justine Kime

Essential city resource that requires our protection and money to maintain its success after all the wonderful restoration work completed to support our arts and community assets.

4722 - Janina Konia

So many opportunities to experience arts and culture here... city needs the arts as a repository for creativity for the region and the development of diverse pathways for future generations.

4723 - Niamh Bennett

The Arts Centre is a vital part of what makes Christchurch special and is so important to so many different groups of people. This beautiful precinct should be funded to continue to support artistic endeavours in the city.

4724 - Marc Johnson

You should fund the arts centre as it is a vital arts and culture that everyone should have the opportunity to visit and experience

4725 - Sarita Stapley

The Arts Centre is a local treasure which must be kept functioning as it has with financial support from the city council, for the people, for the future.

4726 - Craig Stapley

The Arts Centre must be preserved as the community treasure that it is and supported into the future by the city council.

4727 - Miranda Bailey

This sort of history and architectural beauty should at all costs be retained for new zealand

4728 - Alison Boxley

Demolish the cathedral and save the Arts Centre. Far more important as a tourist attraction and amenity for locals

4729 - Sammie McGuire

the arts centre is one of the most beautiful creative spaces left in christchurch. it's one of my favourite places to visit. the building itself is enriched with history and one of the last buildings that feels like christchurch pre earthquake. it's a time capsule filled with creativity and light. taking away the arts centre takes away a part of christchurch's identity and the history of who we were before the day the quakes hit.

4730 - David Hercus

As a ratepayer, I've been following this discussion in The Press. The Arts Centre is a fantastic facility in the heart of the city. I might be living on a fixed income, but I am more than happy to pay a wee bit extra in terms of annual rates in order to see the Arts Centre continue to thrive. Ongoing CCC funding in the Long Term Plan is a small price to pay & It needs to be paid.

4731 - Sigrid Campbell

Please save this wonderful Art Centre PLUS the DUX DE LUX an essential and historic fabulous meeting place to add millions to retain a vibrant unique ongoing rich part of Chch.

4732 - Abi Rayner

We need a centre for artisans to gather & inspire the community

4733 - Mitchell Phillips

The tourist value that the Arts Centre brings in, international visitors come to learn about New Zealand art and culture which the arts centre is a massive part of. To not find the Arts Centre would put an end to the valuable tourist dollars that this attraction brings to our city.

4734 - Emma Richardson

It's a great attraction for the city- I grew up here and moved away but am now considering moving back to work at the hospital as a doctor. One of the reasons I am thinking about moving back is the cultural scene that is developing here, one of the places that is vital to this is the arts centre. It holds history as well as future potential and it would be such a terrible loss for it to lose public funding and for it to become an exclusively private facility that is just shops.

4735 - Mary O'Donoghue

This is an absolutely stunning and irreplaceable place in Otautahi's environment and history. Please please continue to prioritise this. Surely if you can build a great big ugly stadium that will barely get used you can choose to support this incredibly unique icon. Thank you in advance! Mary

4736 - Amy Bowie

The Arts Centre is a vital part of our city's heritage that should be available and accessible to all in the city. Personally, the Arts Centre has held an important role in my own education as an artist growing up from violin lessons to drama and music performances from the age of 9 and beyond. A more recent workshop in the arts centre provided me with the confidence to put myself forward for and get a composition role for an international TV series I might not otherwise have had the confidence to put myself forward for. The Arts Centre plays a vital role in the development of our local artists and is central to our creative industry in the city and beyond. In my part time day job I work for a software company that provides service to the Arts Centre. Having that job allows me to maintain my practise as a singing teacher for the next generation of young performers many of whom have gone on to work professionally in the arts.

4737 - Jeannie Milne

We value using the Arts Centre and that it is free. We value being able to bring ourselves and younger generations through to see our culture, arts and science. If we were charged to enter or if it were private it would be like charging for the Gardens. It would take away from the charm and use of the facility. It would be good if there were other options listed than just "ceasing to exist as we know it". Could there be a partial venue hire income along with exhibition fees for special events? Could we look to incorporate more market days, or make them permanent? Bring back the Dux with music performance space? We love this place so much and have watched it transform post earthquake into something we adore.

4738 - Charlotte Borcoskie

The arts centre is an amazing place full of historic value that is loved by many. I personally have seen a range of amazing and creative performances in The Arts Centre and would be thoroughly saddened for this not to continue. The Arts Centre is a very special part of our central city and we must continue funding it.

4739 - Emily Jackson

Because people like me - a mere traveller passing through Christchurch - found a really sense of something deep within the piano drifting sun trap of the arts centre architecture. I've never come across something like this before, spatially, in New Zealand or Australia - it's a piece of European history that works beautifully here. Keep it going,

4740 - Sophie McLoughlin

A beautiful building and community of Ōtautahi

4741 - Geraldine Molloy

Please don't stop the funding. Christchurch needs its Arts Centre!

4742 - Richard Drysdall

To paraphrase Winston Churchill, if we're not going to fund then arts, then what are we doing this for?

4743 - Kevin Murphy

One of the few historic areas left in Christchurch., and important to retain in a viable funded condition. Central tourist attraction, in close proximity to Art Gallery, & Museum More open access than Cathedral which is Anglican only (& Currently forced to fund in rates).

4744 - Annie Hay

It means something to us all here. It's still standing after the quakes and makes us feel grounded. It's a very special, iconic place.

4745 - Kate Woodley

Such an iconic part of Christchurch

4746 - Georgie Baxter

It's essential community asset

4747 - Trudy Hunt

As a visitor from Auckland to Christchurch last week the arts centre was my favourite discovery. It would tragic is funding stopped for this wonderful place.

4748 - Donny Prentice

Publicly funding the arts center means that the city has a reliable social space in which everyone can participate. Christchurch is already lacking in collective spaces, and withholding funding from the arts center will deny the city's population of a reliable means of community engagement

4749 - Bear Heart

Art is the soul of humanity! The art centre provides humanity to an city centre largely full of car dealerships!

4750 - Wladimir Padilla Silva

It is the hotspot of culture for the city, the one that still keeps alive the old and the new.

4751 - Kate Edge

A unique hub for all in a fantastic setting, a major attraction for tourists esp as t cathedral square is a mess , and an inspirational centre for all creative arts.

4752 - Jenny Slater

Please keep funding the arts center, it has helped me get through some really tough times and inspired me to paint.

4753 - Anita French

We live in the UK and have visited the Arts Centre on both of our visits to Christchurch. Found it very interesting on a personal level and think they provide a wonderful service educating the children who visit the Centre. We would love to come back on our next trip to NZ.

4754 - Robert French

We live in the UK and have visited the Arts Centre on both of our visits to Christchurch. Found it very interesting on a personal level and think they provide a wonderful service educating the children who visit the Centre. We would love to come back on our next trip to NZ.

4755 - Desray Lithgow

Without the arts we are nothing. History, present, future it is important to enrich our community.

4756 - Tilly Walbom

So much has been lost to the earthquake and I felt like I was bought up in a broken city. The Arts Centre is a part of Christchurch history and it would not only be sad but utterly stupid to stop funding it.

4757 - Hayley Stewart

I work at the hospital and if I get a chance in my busy day, I walk to The Arts Centre and back. Tourists everywhere. It's free to visit and a major attraction for the city. The CCC should fund it. Locals love it too of course. The Arts Centre is the heart of Christchurch. Like our Museum, it's been here 'forever'. So many memories. A great venue for events and meetings. Tourists flock. A star at every angle for photos. It's home.

4758 - Nicky Bennett

I am writing to express my strong support for the funding of the Christchurch local arts centre. I believe that investing in the arts is essential for fostering creativity, promoting cultural diversity, and enhancing the quality of life for all residents. The arts centre plays a crucial role in our community by providing a space for artists of all backgrounds to showcase their talents, collaborate with one another, and engage with the public through exhibitions, performances, workshops, and educational programs. These activities not only enrich our cultural landscape but also contribute to the economic vitality of our city by attracting visitors, stimulating local businesses, and generating revenue. Furthermore, the arts centre serves as a hub for social interaction and community engagement, bringing people together from diverse backgrounds to share experiences, exchange ideas, and build meaningful connections. By supporting the arts centre, the Christchurch city council can demonstrate its commitment to fostering a thriving and inclusive community where everyone has the opportunity to participate in and benefit from the arts. In conclusion, I urge the Christchurch city council to allocate funding to support the continued operation and expansion of the local arts centre. By investing in the arts, we are investing in the future of our community and ensuring that it remains a vibrant and culturally rich place to live, work, and visit. Thank you for considering this important petition.

4759 - Linda Pickrill

Wonderful asset for the city and a great place to visit

4760 - Chris Pickrill

Study at what is now the Art Center, such an asset for Canterbury.

4761 - Kathy Kember

The arts centre appeals to so many people of all ages. It's vibrant, exciting and relatively inexpensive to watch live performances. It appeals to a wide range of people, visitors and locals and showcases local talent.

4762 - Peter Kember

Access to the kind of events and exhibitions they stage is really important for the city. Why is so much money being spent on the Cathedral rebuild, which will have much less of an impact for most Christchurch residents.

4763 - Mike Arthur

Because it is a huge historical part of our history as a city and the arts are just as important as sport and economics it's what gives beauty to our special city. Also young talent need to have places to express their talents none better than at this iconic spot

4764 - Rachel McCaffery

It's so important to keep the Arts Centre The arts centre has so much to offer especially now many of the spaces have been renovated. Also with such a variety of regular uses it provides opportunities for both locals and tourists, making it a unique venue.

4765 - Sophie Brinkers

Because it is integral for arts and culture in our city, and the Sth Island. It's part of our history and identity!!!

4766 - Alex Gonzalez

Please keep funding the Arts Centre. They make the art accessible for many people that doesn't have enough budget to attend other venues. With their work I'm been able to make contact with a lot expression of art. Thanks, Alex

4767 - Ben England

For the sake of building/supporting our community and general artistic expression, our arts centre must be successful. In order for the arts centre to be successful, it requires funding!
#SaveTheArtsCentre!

4768 - Kelynge Samasoni

It's good for tourism and community building.

4769 - Isla McKenzie

The arts centre has been a part of my life since I was born in 1998 in the port hills. The events, activities and art engaged me over the past 25 years and made me feel like I belonged in the community. If you take away the funding for this I hope it's for very good reason because this arts centre is a necessity to our community as much as Turanga and the city libraries.

4770 - Jasmine Hopkinson

For the people

4771 - Shams Elhanafy

Art is beautiful we need to see art.

4772 - Tom Owens

It's the most iconic precinct in Christchurch from an arts and also from an architectural standpoint. It is crucial for generations to come. Only last week my brother and I were talking about how fondly we remember the hanging sculpture: 'Echo' by Neil Dawson in the quad from our very early years. And how pleased we are to see it restored. This type of appreciation for architecture and artistic expression has shaped our identity and careers and everything should be done to preserve the arts centre experience for generations to come.

4773 - marco england

i have great memories there as a child and it should stay for future generations to see it

4774 - Rose Hubble

The Arts Centre is a vital part of Christchurch City. Not only is it a beautiful heritage site, but it is at the heart of the city's future, fostering community and creativity.

4775 - Brianna Archer

Arts are a crucial part of a thriving community. It brings people together and ignites empathy, love and passion. Arts are often underfunded and put on the back burner. This hurts the community.

4776 - Kate Cameron

The council is helping fund two brand new stunning stadiums. These are used for people to show their talents and for others to come and watch and engage with like minded people. It's a huge community aspect and will be such a great addition to our city. The Arts Centre is ALSO a place where like-minded people gather to explore their passions. Art and sport (concerts etc) go hand in hand with artists displaying their art. The Arts Centre is such a beautiful historical place in Christchurch. The Art Centre still serves function after the earthquakes. One of the main reasons people want to restore the Cathedral is because of its beauty and history. In terms of tourists and keeping history in a more affordable matter, it's essential to keep finding the Center which is already functional. The markets, shops and cafes are a highlight for many visitors and residents especially as it's so close to the Botanical Gardens. It's large size is also very attractive as you can spend so much time getting submerged there. My friend and I were eating at a cafe there recently and she commented how, on an overcast day especially, the Art Center as a whole is like a wee slice of uk country living. It's beautiful, functional, historical, and a huge addition to Christchurch so it's super important to continue funding!! Especially without the use of the museum at its long-standing location. Thank you for your time :)

4777 - Austin La Tour

It is my girlfriend's uncles work, and he talks very highly about the people and environment. It would be a shame to see the liveliness go away for many individuals.

4778 - Fatin Sharif

The Arts Centre has always been a place where community come together - building relationships.

4779 - Jonathan Auton

Please fund the arts centre - for all people of Christchurch who love the arts and all visitors who also appreciate the arts -fine art , music , history , film , food and drinks -the reason some of us thrive at all -our rates are better spent here than a rugby stadium I will not go to .

4780 - Casey Harris

The arts centre is a special place for the community for the arts, one of a kind! Please don't shut it down

4781 - Nicola McKenzie

The Art centre has been the heart of Christchurch for as long as I can remember. It is a place where community events occur and where people gather. The funding it receives enables the community to use and explore its wonderful spaces, and without this its soul will disappear. The art centre needs ongoing funding to keep it as a place that can be accessed by locals, where music and art can take place. This must be prioritised.

4782 - emme wyatt

it's apart of history, what else are you gunna do on your first date, school trips and literally where else can you look at incredible art ????

4783 - Michael Albertson

The art centre is an important part of Christchurch's history, I wanna show my future children the fantastic architecture of this city rather than 30k signs, inconvenient speed bumps and empty cycle lanes. There's already been an influx of cookie-cutter buildings been blotched into Christchurch's landscape. Our society needs creativity and individualism. A city without art is dull and depressing. (it'd be nice for the CCC to do something that's not incompetent for once)

4784 - Honey Brown

This is a hub that brings communities together. The arts is an important space for minority groups to express their culture openly and honestly, it brings people together and adds so much to people's lives. The Arts Center is a Space for everyone!! It is such an important part of Christchurch that DESERVES to keep its funding!!!

4785 - Stu Brownlie

This is the hub of a vibrant city which must be sustained

4786 - Mirek Bartosek

City need Art Center for our Future generation.

4787 - Helen MitchellShand

It is a nationally and internationally recognised part of Christchurch cuture and historic architecture. The community and vistors love and use this centre.

4788 - Michaela Cook

We need to honour the things that were built for Christchurch

4789 - paul whelan

I was born in Christchurch - my family have been there for generations (first four ships) and are still there. The arts center is possibly the most important place in Christchurch for me. I started my musical life having viola lessons and orchestra there, I used to go to the market, bars, court theatre and dux de Lux all the time my whole life. I have attended exhibitions and performances and have rehearsed and performed myself there numerous times including my first public opera performance ever. I have had a 40 year international music career as a proud representative of Christchurch and I got a lot from the arts center. The idea of not supporting and growing it as one of the best things about Christchurch would be a betrayal of history and a huge loss. Please support this absolutely vital and wonderful place and the work they do running it so well. Thank you

4790 - Izzy Honeston

For the sake of history and education

4791 - Margaret Dawson

The Arts Centre in Christchurch must be funded by the rate payers as it is essentially one of the main personalities, like the Square and the Cathedral, of Christchurch. Personally I have attended several workshops in the Arts Centre, I am a regular at Lumiere Theatre and the Art Gallery, as well as the cafe and the Great Hall. A fitting memorial for the WWs. I always bring visitors into the Arts Centre and see many tourists every time enjoying the vibe. More broadly speaking the Arts Centre is historically significant. The Neo Gothic Architecture worthy of always being on display. Please fund

4792 - Shawn Salam

Because the arts reflect the city and its people through such varied mediums that everyone can enjoy. Arts are ever evolving and help create awareness on various social issues and impacts past and present. Arts should be accessible to all people to enjoy and the arts centre needs adequate funding to continue telling Christchurch's rich history and beyond

4793 - Dani Boxall

The arts Centre is such an integral part of Christchurchs central hub.. Especially with the cathedral damaged and closed. The arts Centre brings people together and brings them into the city, from there we adventure further out to the gardens and the art gallery and eventually the museum when it reopens. It signals Christchurchs identity.. Culture, heritage and creativity. It needs to stay.

4794 - Jan Hance

The Arts Centre is part of the fabric of Christchurch. It is a beacon for activities on the weekend and a wonderful spot to shop, browse and relax. 40 years ago, I worked at the Court Theatre and evenings were spent at the dux de Lux - I wish we could go back to those days.

4795 - Theo Loretz

The arts centre is a historic and necessary cultural hub for the people of Christchurch, and a fantastic site for the arts, events and just to experience the unique heritage of Christchurch. Funding is more than necessary for this hub to continue to benefit future generations of kiwis and tourists alike.

4796 - Veronika Miller

It's honestly such a shame that such a beautiful communal area may be closed. I may not luge in new Zealand but this is very important!!

4797 - Susanna Tooth

The Arts Centre is a Christchurch City treasure and icon, and I would like to see it continue to receive CCC funding on behalf of all Christchurch residents.

4798 - Fay Wardrop

I live in Australia but visit Christchurch regularly. I enjoy what the Arts Centre offers and tell all my friends how wonderful the programmes are so they visit also.

4799 - Lauren Cayford

The Arts Centre really has become the heart of Christchurch city ever since the Cathedral was damaged and still not repaired. The Arts Centre needs funding to keep going, so that we can continue being proud of our city and tourists can enjoy our beautiful history.

4800 - Megan Queree

What an absolutely ludicrous proposal - the Art Centre is an integral part of the city. It brings so much joy and community to people. Why on earth would you not fund it? We need more joy and connection, not less.

4801 - Alisha Ungerboeck

It is a core part of christchurch with so many functions good for the city's well-being! It would be silly to get rid of it!

4802 - Murphy Davidson

It helps foster a vibrant city and is a stalwart of the arts and culture scene in Christchurch. It would be detrimental to the economy and community to remove a valued hub for creatives and consumers

4803 - Linda Buss

As a young city (globally speaking), we have precious little in the way of heritage, and what we do have should be protected. The Arts Centre is one of these few places. It is a refuge from the commercial bustle of the CBD, a place whose beauty evokes a smile in all who cross its threshold. It is a place of learning and of joy. Please, ensure its future for generations to come

4804 - Brad Hurren

This is an incredibly important space and part of Ōtautahi - to allow it to languish would be an astonishingly poor decision.

4805 - Mary-Beth Scott-Weekly

It's an essential space for incubating talent, creating vibrancy and a sense of belonging, lifts wellbeing, and contributes to a growing economy here in Ōtautahi.

4806 - Jake Spooner

Tourists come to see culture and art, removing this will lead to our city losing more money

4807 - Laura Bates

I love this precinct and use it every week. I'd happily pay more rates to keep it.

4808 - Katie Curry

In respect for the arts and musicians.

4809 - Jessica Sewell

The Arts Centre represents everything that is beautiful and unique about our city. Tourists and locals alike are drawn to it and spend many hours soaking up the sense of history, and meaning and timelessness embodied in this special place. It is a crying shame to withhold funding and leave it struggling to repair itself

4810 - Lindy Cai

it attracts many visitors to see how beautiful christchurch is!

4811 - Juliet Moore

This is one of the core parts of our city. It's one of few old public spaces which is still around post quake. It's always an open space to all. The spaces which are available to use are beautiful and suit a wide variety of activities. The different businesses there and the whole environment are really great and add to the cultural vibe of our city.

4812 - Elmore Jones

One of the few outstanding parts of Christchurch must continue to be looked after

4813 - Krys Pawlikowski

The Arts Centre is the treasure of Christchurch. Its existence must be secured for now and for future!

4814 - Debra Li

I believe the arts are an essential part of Christchurch city. Without arts we would not have the creative space, the social space, and an outlet for people who want to create, or view creative works.

4815 - Naomi Harmer

The Arts Centre is an important feature of central Christchurch! It benefits everybody to have a vibrant central city centre for art and culture. It generates a lot of tourist interest and is key to our history, both pre and post-European settlement. It is more key to Christchurch than the stadium that has cost and will continue to cost Christchurch rate payers a lot of money! To not support the Arts Centre is short sighted - please think longer term and keep this support in place. Sincerely, Naomi Harmer.

4816 - Xin Ren

Arts Centre has been and will always be a highlight of Christchurch. Without its beautiful vibe and gorgeous building, and the phenomenal culture it has cultivated, Christchurch will be a lot less special. Lots of people including me will be devastated to see it vanish.

4817 - Liam Leitch

The Arts Centre is a vital part of our city and it's a huge part of our identity. Going to the museum, then the gardens and then ending at the Arts Centre is what I imagine when I think of our city.

4818 - Eleonore Scholzen

The Arts Centre is one of the city's landmarks, it needs your support

4819 - Alfonso Lofredo

I would rather go to the Arts Centre than the Art gallery down the road. We only have a few old buildings left and would hate to see this one go. Keep Christchurch Beautiful.

4820 - Edgar Derrick

The Arts Centre is a very important part of Christchurch central city. Not only is it a historical building, but it also serves to host many creative projects and endeavours. It is very important that it gets funding as a huge part of Christchurch creative life.

4821 - Rachel Smart

It's the heart of the city!

4822 - Chris Clifton

As someone from outside the region, it was one of the first places I headed to when I was down with my wife for our anniversary. It's the jewel in the crown and should be something to cherish. Artists need places to showcase and create. When like-minded individuals gather, the process of creativity increases. Don't be short-sighted. Keep the funding going and help promote the arts and culture of your region.

4823 - Rosemary Giblin

The Arts Centre is a national treasure which should always be looked after!!!

4824 - Dayle Hunt

The Arts Centre is a special place and a massive part of the Arts in Christchurch. The work that has been done to restore and have it back and reused by Artists of Christchurch is wonderful. I was there recently involved in the Off Centre festival and the hive of activity even when we were rehearsing and the festival wasn't on was wonderful. Clearly the people of Christchurch love the Arts Centre and what it does for the community. I have spent a large part of my performing life in and around the Arts Centre and it would be an absolute travesty if it was to lose funding and go under. The team running the Arts Centre do a fantastic job. At Off Centre as a group of local artists we felt very looked after. The Arts will always be central to the heart of Christchurch and the Arts Centre is central to that so please continue to support the Arts Centre the City of Christchurch needs it.

4825 - Jackie Broom

Because it's an iconic part of our city's heritage. The Cathedral rebuild is a joke and who knows if it will ever be finished...the Arts Centre is there and people are visiting it...my daughter got married there just last year. Please preserve it.

4826 - Sarah Scrase

The arts centre is a unique heritage site, in a city that has lost so much, this is important to fund. The location fosters creativity and community, and showcases local talent, many hundreds of local people enjoy the events held here throughout the year.. The Arts Centre is an important location for tourists to visit, and in turn helps generate economic return for Christchurch. Much of Christchurch's recent planning is soulless and produces lacklustre, poorly functioning buildings, with businesses barely surviving in them, with far too many To Let signs. Please value the special character of the Arts Centre, an adaptable building that references Christchurch's past, and serves the community in so many ways, enriching Christchurch, its many visitors, and its citizens.

4827 - Amanda Dick

The Arts Centre is a national treasure, right here in Christchurch. Its heritage is on par internationally. The precinct is inclusive for everyone to freely enjoy its beauty and its home to fantastic independent small businesses.

4828 - Melanie Abbott

It's the heart of our city. Original Canterbury university, ratherford split the atom, it should be liked after for generations!

4829 - Rosalie Souter

If the Arts Centre is not funded what / where will replace the functions it performs ? The current usage should be expanded and therefore funding should be added to not reduced in order to encourage expansion of its functions. The CCC should be helping new initiatives get up and running and using these wonderfully accessible buildings

4830 - Ana Crow

I love all the events run at The Arts Centre and I don't want them to go!

4831 - Renata Rubini de Carvalho

The Art Centre is such a part of Christchurch! I can't imagine the city without it. The world is becoming such a sad place and we should be opening Art centres, not closing them!

4832 - Noelle Evans

It's vital for the evolution of our culture to allow people of all backgrounds access to the arts and heritage. We must look after and invest in such amazing precincts as the Art Centre for the benefit of society. Whether we personally visit the Art Centre or not, we are all better off for it due to the greater impact it has on society as a whole.

4833 - Sarah-Jane Stringer

The Arts Center is an important part of our city, it brings community & people together & has provides so much for our Tamariki

4834 - Janneke Duister

Art s d music are just as important as all the other subjects. Yes we need roads etc, but we also needed relaxation and happiness.

4835 - Shelley Eccleton

The Arts Centre is so important to not only the culture of our city, but also for tourism.

4836 - Simon Vincent

Good for community and visitors

4837 - Ler Young

Historic and upholds a place of learning and gathering. Beautiful buildings worth saving. Good memories

4838 - Meg Stuthridge

A tourist attraction to Christchurch. The arts core of the city. A colossal loss of opportunity and a heritage building spanning decades of history.

4839 - Harriet Van Tongeren

This is an integral part of Christchurch. Don't forget the arts

4840 - Tim Ogle

As a tenant of The Arts Centre, I and my 28 employees are fully in support of the Arts Centre Trust Board and the current management in their request for City Council Funding. The programme of arts activity managed year-round is interesting and diverse and draws in people from around the world, and considered by many to be one of the best things about living in Christchurch. If the council forces the current trust board to resign, it will result in a monumental mess that will be far more expensive for the public in just the lawyers fees than the modest amount of funding being requested. For the centre to be managed any differently requires a change in the law! We are committed to our special place here and do our job by bringing people into the centre and by paying our (full, commercial) rent. We urge the Councillors to consider how popular the festivals, concerts, exhibitions and all of the other activity in the arts centre with the public, and to conclude that it is a modest funding proposal considering the astronomical public cost of letting the Arts Centre Trust fail.

4841 - Duncsn Wilcox

This is an utter travesty - it definitely fits the phrase of folks who know the price of everything and the value of nothing. You cannot manage to offer the Arts Centre $1.8 million dollars in operational funding but magically find $650 million for an effing stadium . The Arts Centre as am sure you know is the largest collection of heritage buildings on New Zealand and they don't nor can they build them like that today...it is a critical hub to the City acting as a great anchor & gathering place situated near the Art Gallery, Botanical Gardens and the Terrace & Riverside market. If I was one of the Christchurch rich listers I'd get my cheque book out ASAP....do the right thing Council.

4842 - Paige Botfield

Creates community and resilience in Christchurch. Shows we can survive and thrive after the earthquakes

4843 - Jolie Hammond

It's a precious and unique part of our Chch heritage. My mother went to University there, I spent my teenage weekends at the market and my 20s at The Dux. It is beautiful and historical

4844 - Belinda Donaldson

I am 48 years old and The Art Centre is and has been one of my most special venues in Christchurch for decades! We always bring visitors to the city to the Arts Centre as part of our 'showing off our city' tour. I frequent the Art Centre most weeks, whether it's just to wander and marvel at the architecture, grab a coffee or purchase at Frances Nation, dine at Cellar Door. We always suggest to customers to visit the Art Centre when they ask what to do in our city. The Arts Centre is iconic and I believe the heart of our city. Its buildings are stunning and its collection of businesses are unique and special.

4845 - Daniel Phillips

Heritage and character to the city

4846 - Stephen McGowan

Art is life!

4847 - Rebecca Kemp

The Arts Centre is an iconic precinct and one of the most important heritage buildings in Christchurch. Christchurch City Council should continue to fund the Arts Centre in recognition of its importance to our city. It doesn't sound like any savings would be made by withdrawing funding as the Trust would fold and the Council would have to pick up the insurance bill anyway.

4848 - Cassia Jackson

The arts centre is an integral part of Chch- just a few weeks ago we hosted a visitor who lived here 20 years ago and his one request was to revisit the Arts Centre in the 24 hours he had in Chch

4849 - JAMES VALENTINE

There are so many reasons why the Arts Centre should be funded by CCC, but here are 3. 1/ Most of the historic built heritage of the city has been lost due to the earthquake process of rushed demolition. The Arts Centre is the historic architectural heart of the city. 2/ The Arts Centre precinct is the perfect counterbalance to the new stadium. Sport and big concerts one side of the city, balanced by Arts and Culture on the other side. Residents and visitors to Christchurch want both. 3/ The value the Arts

Centre provides to the city is far beyond the cost of its upkeep. James Valentine

4850 - Lynn Nicol

This area is becoming a thriving financially viable community for the small to med business and I as food trailer business owner would hate to see all the efforts made to date, go to waste.

4851 - Alexandra Adank

Please find the Arts Centre because this is a unique place and resource for so many!! Have been going there regularly my entire life and want my children to enjoy it in the future.

4852 - Lou Tini

it is such a monumental part of ōtautahi that connects so many different people to the heart of our city

4853 - Camila Wood

Where to start? We have the opportunity of creating a beautiful art city, and the Arts Centre provides the space needed for it. A public haven where you can watch a movie, do some shopping, get a glass of wine or attend one of the dozens of amazing events held at this place. Not even mentioning the heritage material and the fact is one of (if not the only one at the moment) heritage building that is open to the public for free on a daily basis. We've been coming regularly (at least once a week) since my daughter was born, and I have attended several events before and after this. From art based events to family friendly gigs, this place is a vital part of our Otautahi Community and my household requests the council to reassess their idea of not funding it. On my political opinion, we are all contributing for things that make our city more beautiful/liveable and make our community thrive, and cannot think of a better place than the Arts Centre to do this.

4854 - Jan McKeogh

It is an integral component of what Christchurch is about. If it is not saved this will remain a regret for generations to come

4855 - Donald Weston

The Arts Centre is an iconic piece in Christchurch and world history. It should be an accessible and vibrant place for the future generations of Christchurch to be inspired. Without funding this would be impossible. Please reconsider the funding of the Arts Centre with honouring the past and future generations in mind.

4856 - Anna Vinięgra

As both a current tenant, and a long time visitor to the Arts Centre (since before the quakes) I feel very connected to The Arts Centre, the creative energy it brings to Christchurch, and the passionate, dedicated and responsive team who run things behind (and in front of) the scenes here. I strongly feel the momentum the management, tenants and community surrounding The Arts Centre have gathered over these post-quake/post-pandemic years is astounding, and to pull the plug on baseline funding would be very counter-productive and even disastrous. I am confident in the efficiency, sincerity and quality of the team running the show and the trickle-down effects of lack of funding would undoubtedly result in a significant disruption. The loss of creative vibrancy that reaches all ages and stages, across all the Arts, will be felt acutely by the greater Christchurch community and other New Zealand-wide and international visitors alike. Please do the right thing and reinstate funding in support of this special treasure, The Arts Centre.

4857 - Louise Palmer

Immense value financially and culturally to Christchurch. The Arts Centre currently is stronger than ever, with support for the arts sector as well as great small Christchurch based businesses. It would be a shame to not build on this and see the site fulfil its potential.

4858 - Julien Maries

Prioritising a stadium for sports events over arts does not look very good, does it?

4859 - GEN PACKER

Ever seen a movie, listened to music, visited a gallery, appreciated good design, admired a mural, read a book, listened to a podcast...? hmmm, how do we foster that, I wonder?

4860 - Ann-Marie Fleming

Please help to fund the Art Centre. Of all my core memories living in this beautiful city - the Art Centre is at the core of SO many of them!! It's such a special place and I can't imagine Christchurch without it.

4861 - Leani Columbus

Because it's art. Duh.

4862 - Rupert Gates

Provides culture and an atmosphere in Christchurch Central

4863 - Karen Norton

It is an amazing space & brings visitor dollars to a very drab, city that has nothing else worth seeing or visiting.

4864 - Christine Reitze

Without the art centre will we lose our biggest cultural hub. This will have an impact on the wellbeing of New Zealanders but also will bring in fewer tourists and revenue.

4865 - Keri Grant

HISTORY TOURISM. The Art centre simply needs a Guide to take tour groups through to tell the history, all the while tourists can see the vendors who tenant the building. Why not broker some deals with tourism providers to turn a profit? To turn the back of the council on something with extreme potential would be very unfortunate. There are options, to pull funding isn't one of them though.

4866 - Abi Hutchings

The arts centre is a bustling vibrant part of the city for both tourists and locals. It is a connection from cbd through to Hagley Park. It is such a beautiful attraction to this city that cannot be lost.

4867 - Steve Taylor

The Arts Centre is simply put, the best thing about Christchurch. What more reason do you need?

4868 - Kevin Thomas

I feel the Arts Center is a vital asset to the vibrant city and the culture of our community.

4869 - Chris Dabinett

It seems like Christchurch is heading towards a city full of apartment buildings with nothing much else to do. The Art Centre with all of its activities gives the city a vibe, some culture and is a focal point for tourism too. Losing that along with losing live music venues due to noise will make Christchurch a pretty sterile place to live.

4870 - Holger Heinzl

Dear Christchurch City council, As a visitor to the city, I always enjoy spending time at the arts centre. What a wonderful institution and place of inspiration. I'd would like to congratulate those who have made this possible up to here and hope it does continue into the future. Kind regards.

4871 - Dale Annear

This is such a wonderful asset to the city. Please invest in this in lieu of more suburban cycle ways or city care changing our gardens seasonally, surely we can plan ahead with perennial plantings.

4872 - Meaghan Li

I've lived in cities like London and New York that I thrived economically by attracting and retaining creative people. Christchurch needs a thriving arts scene to be attractive to young people who will bring wealth, opportunities, ideas, and most importantly - character - to the city. Already, people are leaving Christchurch because of the lack of things for metropolitan people to do. Weekend evenings are quiet and insular in Christchurch compared to places like Auckland, Wellington, Melbourne, even Dunedin. It only makes economic and sociological sense for the Council to continue investing in arts funding. Do you really want Christchurch to have an aging, stagnant population instead of a diverse, vibrant, and innovative one?

4873 - Lisa Phelan

Is a regional treasure, and great tourist attraction. Where else do you tell visitors to go in the city, if not the arts centre and the botanic gardens.

4874 - Margot Button

Christchurch City Council in a city that has lost so much of its heritage and identity The Christchurch Arts Centre Te Matatiki Toi Ora stands as a beacon for so many. It is the heart of our cultural and educational history, the heart of our cultural diversity and accessibility, the heart of our cultural and artistic future. It is 'OUR' VIBRANT HEART. A heart that is beating due to the careful and caring stewardship of the dedicated team who do so much to keep it healthy. So much more could be said but it is not necessary. It simply boils down to the Council's responsibility to its constituents. Save the Arts Centre. In fact perhaps consider increasing its funding base! That loss would not only be an unfortunate legacy of your tenure but a great tragedy for future generations! Do better.

4875 - Kiran Marshall

Without the arts and culture, a city I'd a very sterile and boring place to live. It decreases the draw for tourism and ultimately encourages young people to move away to somewhere they find more engaging. Christchurch NEEDS to protect its arts and culture scene. The earthquake has had an impact on it that continues to be felt, and the erasure of yet another arts institution is another step further away from what the city both deserves and needs to be.

4876 - Kate Fielder

I've attended so many wonderful events at the arts centre over the years. Had the pleasure of working there briefly, and taken my children to a number of workshops and events. It's an integral part of the creativity community in Christchurch and is to be treasured and supported. Any cut to funding is short sighted and will be devastating for all who appreciate history, art, culture and community.

4877 - Pariya Behnami

Please continue to fund the Arts Centre. It is an amazing space that is loved by locals and visitors alike and we need to ensure the community still has access to this taonga.

4878 - Sharon Arlow

As well as being a beautiful and historic building, the Arts Centre is an icon of Christchurch. It would be very sad if the businesses had to close and the building sat empty.

4879 - Lynne Simpson

Without this funding our Arts Centre will slip off our radar and be “less than”. We daily see the people hovering taking in the spectacle and it’s only just starting to age and give credence to our history. The cathedral to be is not who we are. The arts centre is central to my version of home.

4880 - Anita McDrury

The Arts Centre is a treasure for Christchurch City. I am nostalgic about visiting the various small studios over the past 35 years. We have saved the buildings following the earthquakes, but do not want to now lose the heart and soul of what makes this place interesting and special for locals, and for visitors to our city. Fund the Arts Centre, this is more important to me than a stadium. It represents the cultural and historical heritage of our city.

4881 - Mikaela Gilbert

This is the BEST testament to ChCh culture and history. As a rate payer, this is the last place I could imagine you disconnecting with Very very sad.

4882 - Pip Goldsbury

The Arts Centre holds so many precious memories for me throughout school and uni, and today it’s a place I still love to go. I hope you will keep up the Arts Centre.

4883 - sam parish

BECUASE WHY WOULDNT YOU!!

4884 - Erika Wilson

The Arts Centre is one of the few older series of heritage buildings that add character to Christchurch Central. It’s a special urban space that sparks the imagination and fuels discovery and learning. I believe all spaces within The Arts Centre should be made accessible to the public to ensure the majority of our citizens can enjoy it. Stopping funding means it will need to be made private or into retail which is non accessible to people with little income. This would be very sad. Please support public access to heritage buildings in our city and provide funding to The Arts Centre.

4885 - Mick Goodwin

This is a precious taonga. Must be preserved at all cost.

4886 - Kate Heap

It’s a place for community, markets, arts and history. My children go to activities here during the week, we wander the beautiful buildings on weekends and eat from the food trucks in the evenings. It makes zero sense not to continue to fund this part of Christchurch. What value was in restoring it ?? I'm so confused as to why you would No longer fund it .. its literally a Christchurch institution, Part of the historical and culture fibre of our city. There is tourism value, historical value, cultural and artistic value to our city, the city you govern..

4887 - Sarah Churchward

We have lost enough of our City's history without losing this as well.

4888 - Tiff Gilbert

I attended music lessons 50 years ago at the arts centre .. and although I no longer play instruments the feeling of being in such an awesome learning space has never left me. I continue to support arts and music in Aotearoa. There was ballet, chch school of instrumental music, orchestra and creative space for artists.. and who could forget Rutherfords den and the great hall .. majestic. To a small child the smell of wisdom and creative energy was incredible

4889 - Liam Sue-Tang

The Arts Centre is more than just an outlet for artists and performers, its a place of togetherness. Its a place for people to feel connected, unique, whole. The Arts Centre is a childs first field trip, its the second date you were dying for, its memories with friends and loved ones. How can we let these moments be stolen from our future? After everything we've been through, the suffering and love, anger and kindness... How can we let our place of community die? The Arts Centre is hope.

4890 - Glenda Evans

Currently the Arts Centre is required by a Parliamentary Act to support the arts for the people of Christchurch. It has consistently provided a dynamic programme of community activities from market stalls through to operatic productions all year round for both residents of Canterbury and visitors. These activities are often funded by external agencies which the City Council isn't able to apply for so all of those programmes will cease to operate. Instead, we will be left with a heritage building that echoes its emptiness. If the Board folds and the Council assumes responsibility to run it, it will surely cost the rate payer far more than the requested subsidy. In my opinion, CCC should fund the Arts Centre.

4891 - Charlotte Galpin

It is an important place for many people who live here and an attraction that draws in visitors to chch.

4892 - Diane Calvert

The Arts Centre is one of my favourite Christchurch destinations. It attracts both local and international visitors, and without it, Christchurch would lose one of its major tourist drawcards.. I remember the bustling markets and artisan shops before the earthquakes, and all the effort and money spent on post quake restoration and repair.. I am concerned that we may lose some of our shops, cafes and galleries if they have to supplement any lost council funding through their own resources. Without the people, these buildings have no life, and I think it will negatively affect tourism numbers. The buildings need the people, and the people need the buildings.

4893 - Ashley Mosen

The arts centre is an institution for community, creativity, art, a hub for gathering, a market place for ideas and action. Invest in this one, don't turn it away. I've been coming to the arts centre for my whole life, I believe in its ability if only funding and facilitation were aimed in the right direction here.

4894 - Amanda Vale

I saw the note from Cellar Door on their Facebook about possible funding cuts resulting in the Arts Centre not being financially sustainable. I'm sure I'm not alone in feeling the Arts Centre is a special place for Christchurch people. I absolutely love a visit to the Arts Centre - it's one of my favourite places. Frances Nation, Cellar Door, the cinema, the Central Gallery, Bunsen, Custard Square book shop, Teece Museum, the perfumery and The Observatory Hotel - they would be a massive loss to the city.

4895 - LEA BENTLEY

I believe the Christchurch City Council should be supporting our Art Centre with the beautiful Heritage buildings and the buzz to our city. This is one area that is repaired and up and running and full of life compared to many other areas in our city .

4896 - Mary Goulter

It's unique in nz, and such an important hub for so many community activities.

4897 - Donna Willocks

The Arts Center is a very important part of the Christchurch landscape and must be supported and preserved for future generations.

4898 - Ashleigh Broadhurst

What is life if it's not filled with art. This art centre brings together communities of people and love. Save the art centre!

4899 - PAUL MULLANY

ARTS CENTRE IS GOOD GOOD

4900 - Claudia Lloyd

It's what makes our city unique - it should be cherished and protected

4901 - Annabel Ahuriri-Driscoll

The Arts Centre is a Christchurch icon, part of our whakapapa and heritage. It is a home for markets, and for showcasing local artists and performers works.

4902 - Ania Truman

With its historic buildings that have stood since the early 1900s, the Arts Centre holds huge value in preserving our city's history and culture. By continuing to invest in the restoration of these iconic structures, we can attract more tourists to Christchurch, who will be drawn to explore this unique and vibrant hub of creativity. Funding for the Arts Centre will not only support tourism but also ensure the preservation of our cultural heritage.

4903 - L Whittaker

Such a beautiful and inspiring place for artists to be and create - it's a hub for creatives to be together and for the public to connect to these creatives. I have memories spanning a lifetime from plays to music, buskers, art workshops not to mention the gorgeous aromas of the food trucks! I think this space can still provide for the locals and our tourism. After the earthquakes we lost so much - this old Christchurch has a place in our future

4904 - Richard Raymond KC

It is without doubt a ChCh treasure. It attracts life to the central city, is the home of many arts projects, and it would be extremely short sighted to cease funding and see it decline. CCC will inevitably acquire it and end up paying twice as much to fund it.

4905 - Abigail White

The Arts Centre is such a beautiful and vibrant place. After the earthquakes we have a lot of great new architectural buildings going in, but we don't have as many heritage buildings still being used which makes them even more precious. The Arts Centre is a key part of our history and our city. Please don't let it die! Go to the centre yourselves, do some shopping, have a meal, see a show, you will fall in love with it too.

4906 - Annabelle Wesselingh

The arts centre is a vital part to the heart of the city community, provide tourism opportunities for overseas visitors as well as domestic.

4907 - Kalle Valimaki

Dont let the iconic and beautiful arts centre go under!

4908 - Daniela Vanickova

I can't believe that the funding is being cut from such as important cultural institutions. Is the new government mean to raise people ignorant to art and non-creative dumb people ? This it horrendous. Council needs to support these institutions to have open minded and creative people to provide space for people to to gather and discuss to enrich they day to day life's with items which can wake up their mind and let them think freely outside the box.

4909 - Christy Greenall

The Arts Centre is a core part of what makes Christchurch City the vibrant, amazing, lovely city that it is. The beautiful buildings are a wonderful link to the city's past, a place to take our children to, and so many precious memories are linked to the wonderful buildings. To visit the Arts Centre as a child knowing this was the university Ernest Rutherford studied at, to see the desks with 100 year old graffiti carved into the wood, to sit in the quads and listen to music... all these are core memories of mine growing up, and it would be a tragedy for next generation's children to miss out. Ōtautahi has so few historic buildings to enjoy, and to have such an iconic Arts Centre that is both a beautiful historic landmark, and at the same time filled with new and vibrant artists and creative experiences is irreplaceable and should not be lost.

4910 - Hayden Clarke

The Arts Centre has been a fabulous creative hub for Christchurch for as long as I can remember - long may it stay that way!

4911 - Jean Bonner

Please support the Christchurch arts centre

4912 - Ben Patton

It's a cultural hub and one of few architectural gems of the city. There are many other areas of wasted spending that should be investigated before cuts are made to the Art Centre funding.

4913 - Matthew Cairns

The arts centre is an absolute treasure in the centre of the city. It is a jewel of Christchurch and would be a tragedy if it was to lose funding!

4914 - Jan Tedesco

The Arts Centre is a premier location for citizens and tourists to visit. All the hard work done by the citizens group to save it fifty odd years ago will be completely wiped out. Christchurch will never be the lovely accessible small city to all citizens if local government funds are not allocated. It would be a huge loss to all. Help save the Arts Centre.

4915 - Kathryn Roy

The arts centre is a magical part of the city, I absolutely adore going to Luminaire Cinema on a regular basis. I also check out shows/events in the arts centre so I feel it's a very valuable part of the city.

4916 - Emma Aronsen

U should fund the art center because with out the funding there won't be a arts center. It's what makes chch recognizable alot to people use the art center it draws in the crowds and overseas visitors. With out the art center chch would be a shitty place

4917 - Vanessa Well Varjer

Short term vision guys!!! This is a vital part of the city's ongoing success. Must be supported

4918 - Afton Surwillo

The Arts Centre is a treasure to be cherished.

4919 - Frank Coppens

An iconic and vital part of Christchurch's heritage. This should have been completed years ago including DuxDe Lux. This should have been funded ahead of the white elephant stadium project.

4920 - Sydney Graham

We love exploring our city and the Arts Centre is so full of life and brings joy and delight in the exploration. We think it would be a real loss if funding was cut as it is a wonderful hub in Ōtautahi

4921 - Margaret Robertson

Because it is an integral part of our city. Dont be so shortsighted.

4922 - Amy Sinclair

The Arts Centre is an iconic part of Christchurch and is absolutely integral to our arts scene. From music, to buskers, to movies, to performances and so much more- the Arts Centre is a cultural hub that contributes so much to our city. A loss of funding would be devastating.

4923 - Lesley Airey

Too few heritage buildings remain. An important tourist destination

4924 - Mark Wilson

The Arts Centre is as much a vital part of the City as the Square and the Cathedral are. Or were -- we have largely lost them. My wife and I have always loved the Arts Centre and go there often. We eat (Bunsen, Frances Nation, Cellar Door), we visit the Central and Pūmanawa, sometimes The Physics Room. We love the peacefulness, the architecture, the history. And we know we're not alone. Plenty of Chch residents love it too, but even more, the tourists! It's a destination, and we don't have that many. Please find a way to provide funding for the Art Centre!

4925 - Melissa Coe

What an iconic and important part of the arts scene in Christchurch. My tamariki have loved going there to explore shops, see shows and concerts and their holiday activities.

4926 - Maranatha Pizarra

The Arts Centre is what brings people together! It is the jewel of our town that is unearthed daily by many visitors and fellow kiwis. It is a celebration of many cultures and our most precious history! Do not give up on the Arts Centre!!

4927 - Reuben Boiser

Why does it matter to us? Because The Arts Centre wasn't just a venue; it was our sanctuary. It provided a stage for our small business to flourish, but more importantly, it offered us, migrant entrepreneurs, a platform to share our cuisine, culture, and stories with this beautiful community.

4928 - Susanna Finlay-Smith

The Arts Centre is a wonderful feature of Ōtautahi Christchurch. It is the site of many fabulous community events, it tells us of the city's past, and it draws in visitors to our city. To allow it to fail on your watch would be a significant blight on this council

4929 - Erin Callanan

The Arts Centre is the beating heart of Christchurch NOT the Anglican cathedral.

4930 - Kathryn Kallady

A healthy society requires the arts to bridge connection within the community. Without spaces like this individuals missed out on engaging not just with spaces but innovators. As a newly minted resident from Australia - I have found the arts centre as a means for me to engage and understand Christchurch's identity. It is far more meaningful and engaging compared to a sport stadium or a shopping centre. It would be a great loss to Christchurch to risk losing this space when considering that this is a city that has experienced so much loss. This is a centrepiece and needs love and care.

4931 - Charlotte Reutzel

It is an important institution, making art available to everybody. Arts are at the center of a society's heart and it should be shared and cherished. The funding of The Arts Centre needs to continue!

4932 - Fynn Heinzmann

Funding The Arts Centre means funding the creativity, freedom and passion of New Zealand's citizen. Art is a universal language that helps us to understand, to question ourselves and the world around us. Through Art, we as a community can learn, grow, unite and express ourselves. The Arts Centre must be funded!

4933 - Tori Wilby

The Centre is an essential part of Christchurch's heritage and supporting the arts is a pivotal part of a vibrant and healthy city.

4934 - Camille Chèze

It's the main place for arts now that the museum is closed! It's the most beautiful part of Christchurch! Such charm and history!

4935 - Rachel Watson

I can think of many reasons. It's a place that is iconic to Otautahi, Christchurch. Thankfully it has mostly been restored and is a place for the arts and artists of all sorts. In the past it was such a happening place and as the new city has been emerging the Arts Centre it should be very much a part of our future too. It is worth funding too, keep it working. I would choose the Art Centre over rebuilding the old cathedral any day.

4936 - Jackie Greenbank

Don't be dicks! We have lost enough heritage already. Save our heritage.

4937 - Gareth Bayliss

Culture is everything.

4938 - Madi Broome

Christchurch is built on community and culture, funding would be essential to keep this going. Please, all of NZ needs this.

4939 - Giles Wood

The Art Centre is an essential resource for a healthy city with healthy citizens and satisfied visitors. Every bit as important as the Museum or the botanical gardens or the Cathedral. Failure to ensure it's properly funded would be an act of criminal negligence.

4940 - Carl Woolley

Having accessible spaces like this one for the arts are extremely important for building community.

4941 - Lucy Corry

As a visitor to Christchurch, I loved the various things the art centre had to offer. The buildings are beautiful and reflect the more historic side of Christchurch. There were a lot of people around that were enjoying the space, food, the caravan bookshop, and the arts centre as a whole, which adds a lot to Christchurch

4942 - Mirabel Oliver

It is unquestionably the most beautiful and unique part of our city. Surely one of our biggest tourism assets.

4943 - Rebecca Ogle

The Arts Centre is such an important part of our city. It is more than beautifully restored historic buildings but a vibrant hub with creative and social purpose to serve our community and visitors. It is so important that it is funded to ensure this heart of the West End is activated with events, artist residencies and educational facilities which also support the small local businesses within the Arts Centre.

4944 - Emma Mettrick

It is a magical part of Christchurch's limited history & would be a crime to not fund it.

4945 - Nicolas Koster

An integral part of our community connection in the past and into the future.

4946 - Bianca van Leeuwen

So much history and such a great hub for the community and for tourism in chch to be left unfinished.

4947 - Lucy Caney

Every family in Christchurch will know The Arts Centre, it has added value to Otautahi communities across generations. Please continue to fund this, it's worth it!

4948 - Devin Brooks

The Arts Centre funding is ESSENTIAL to a Christchurch that is thriving. Not only does it meet the creative and connecting needs of our community but it also provides social health needs for our people. It's a place to explore, communicate and gather, to feel a sense of belonging to history and a story that encompasses our place we call home. For any modern city to cut its funding for their necessary and important centre for culture and arts is a big mistake.

4949 - Jacqui Bennetts

I think that the council should fund the Art Center and support its continued existence. It is an iconic part of the inner city fabric and when we have lost so much it would be dreadful to lose another cultural icon. Not only that many people use the art center and in many ways. We need to maintain places and activities for Canterbury people that are not just about sports. Finally an empty boarded up Art center would make a most unattractive eyesore in the center of the city and to lose it to developers would be a disgrace. This city council should reconsider its decision to not fund the art centre in my opinion.

4950 - Kaylene Wakefield

The arts centre is Christchurch's premiere venue and location for so many local events, and it's a Christchurch icon.

4951 - Terilee Wickens

It is one of the key parts of the city, an historic keystone. I run through the arts centre several times a week and it always has people around. Many, many tourists. It is a perfect transition for tourists from the botanical gardens to the city

4952 - Rebecca Swanson

Please keep funding the arts centre!

4953 - Bea Sky

Please reconsider and give funding to the arts centre. It is a vital part of the Chch community. Chch has been through so much - don't take this from us. Have respect for the history of the city. We need the arts centre.

4954 - Natalie Seagar

The arts centre in my eyes is the most important space in Christchurch, a melting pot of creative energy mixed with impressive historical architecture that the city simply can't do without!!

4955 - Darren Jenkins

I visited the Art Centre when on holidays from Australia and I found it to be a priceless part of the city. Will definitely recommend friends and family to visit.

4956 - Linda Norris

This facility is the jewel in the crown of Christchurch and must be protected at all costs, please

4957 - Christine Stuthridge Smith

It is such an amazing community asset. A place to meet, learn, be entertained , eat and drink. As a Canterbury family we treasure it dearly !!

4958 - Beatriz Sousa

This place must to be open and keep this vibrant atmosfera in Christchurch!!!

4959 - Melissa Parker

The Arts Centre is the most inspiring, memorable, beautiful building that we have left and it would be heartbreaking if it doesn't get restored. There is so much history in that building that we need to protect. It also has potential to be a real hub and attracting the tourist.

4960 - Sebastian Stapleton

Dear Council Members, I am writing to express my complete support for the continued funding of the Arts Center. As a shareholder of Lumiere Cinemas, a principal tenant within the Arts Center, I have firsthand experience of the exceptional management and operations conducted by Philip and his team. Their professionalism and commercial acumen have been evident in our lease negotiations, ensuring fair market rent while also providing support during challenging times, such as the COVID-19 pandemic. The success of the Arts Center extends beyond mere space rental; it fosters a vibrant community of tenants and arts organizations, each with unique and ongoing needs. The management's efforts in nurturing this community have been instrumental in attracting public engagement, which is crucial for the city's vitality. Given the inherent characteristics of the buildings, such as their age and design, it is unrealistic to expect the Arts Center to be self-sustaining solely through rental income. The current management has adeptly maximized revenue opportunities, a testament to their effective stewardship. Furthermore, the Arts Center is more than a commercial entity; it is the cultural heartbeat of Christchurch. Its unique role in our community cannot be understated, and any changes to its operation risk undermining the progress achieved thus far. The Arts Center operates as a charity, allowing it to benefit from grants and funding sources unavailable to the Council. Should the Council assume direct operation, it would inevitably incur higher costs compared to the current model of funding the Arts Center as requested. The citizens of Christchurch expect and deserve the continuation of support for the arts. Any regression would not only be financially detrimental to the Council but also to the surrounding businesses and the cultural fabric of our city. For these compelling reasons, I wholeheartedly endorse the Arts Center's request for funding. This support could be realized through grants and the remission of rates and insurance within the Council's portfolio. Thank you for considering this appeal. Warm regards, Sebastian Stapleton
Lumiere Cinemas

4961 - Maggie Crow

It is one of the only historic buildings left in Chch, we need to protect it

4962 - Hannah Tabak

I grew up enjoying the arts centre and would love to see my children and grandchildren benefit from this crucial Christchurch treasure. Please fund the arts centre!

4963 - Emma Middleditch

The Arts Centre is such an important part of Christchurch history and future. My husband has recently been in hospital and I wandered round there many times in the last couple of weeks and the amount of tourists and locals blew me away. There were so many people taking photos of our beautiful buildings. This whole place needs to be funded - all the activities that are put on regularly would be such a shame for them to be discontinued especially for kids future.

4964 - Rob Kay

It is a an amazing area of Christchurch central city, keep the funding going, it's a piece of Christchurch history.

4965 - Rachel Burrell

This is an iconic site, and holds so many memories for Cantabrians. It is our responsibility to continue with this legacy

4966 - Katherine McLean

Iconic part of Christchurch social life . Adds so much to the city . Frequently use the cinema, restaurants and enjoy concerts in the Great Hall . Must continue as it is .

4967 - Louise Topping

The Arts Centre is the beating heart of cultural Christchurch. Support the Arts and the future of the arts scene in New Zealand.

4968 - Llyween Pepper

It offers a lifeline for a number of people whom ART is their life's Passion, Hopes & Dreams, closing The Art Centre destroys everyday peoples life & ChCh would lose some of its soul.

4969 - Jorn Flyvbjerg

The Arts Center is the true heart of the city and the city energy an vitality

4970 - Síle Mannion

They are the life blood of any society and the only form of free expression left to us.

4971 - Anita Akehurst

To save the Arts Centre so it can continue to thrive. Save the Arts centre by continuing funding to keep the history for our next generation!

4972 - Brianna Collins

Please save our arts centre

4973 - Rachel Fernando

The Arts Centre is a Christchurch institution. A Christchurch without the beauty, quiriness, and originality of The Arts Centre is unimaginable. It will send an undesirable message that Christchurch no longer values heritage and culture if The Arts Centre loses its funding. I strongly support continued funding for The Arts Centre.

4974 - Robyn Peers

Such an important complex, architecturally, creatively. I use facilities here, cafe, wine bar, movie theatre, shops most weeks and regularly attend events in art gallery and Great Hall. The Arts Centre is alive and busy. It must remain so. A huge loss for the city, and for our tourism if it goes.

4975 - kay sevier

I can't believe the council would spend money on so much roading which never seems to start or finish just causing a huge inconvenience to the public and not spend money funding the Arts Centre which is such an iconic place and one where all the people of Canterbury and visitors can come and enjoy. Something like that should be a priority. .

4976 - Laurence Young

They need the money

4977 - Erika Paern

I support funding for The Arts Centre for this to be accessible for everyone

4978 - Betsy Macdonald

The Arts centre is at the heart of what makes Christchurch so special. It is a must see destination for tourists who love it, and a cultural hub for locals as well. They have always managed to maintain a high standard of quality while remaining relevant to a wide range of the public. We need the Arts Centre!

4979 - Susan Collins

Over the years we have relied on the Arts Centre from courses and entertainment for our children and grandchildren to being a place to go to for that special gift that's a wee bit different, from somewhere to take our out-of-town and foreign visitors to just calling in there ourselves for a coffee, food, an ice-cream, from taking the chance to make our own jewellery to watching artisans at work, just to soak up the unique atmosphere there. We now live out of Chch, but visit often and would be terribly disappointed if it was no longer able to be on our visiting list.

4980 - Pat Whitman

It is essential to fund the restoration and ongoing work of of the Arts Centre. It has historic significance and is also a good tourist attraction.

4981 - Katherine Waines

The Art Centre is an important heritage site for locals and tourists. It's so important for the progression, encouragement, education and expansion of the amazing, talented artist in Christchurch. My sons Caleb and Ethan Waines are young musicians and played in the Great Hall this year. It would be a shame to lose this beautiful hall and take away opportunities to showcase talents in music and art in this special heritage centre.

4982 - Jane Omalley

It is a jewel in Christchurch that needs to be supported

4983 - Lily Ping

The Arts Centre have played an important role in supporting ethnic communities, providing a good platform for us to exchange culture and arts and showing great sense of social inclusiveness. The Arts Centre is the second home of Chinese artists. All in one and one for all!

4984 - Gordon Hossack

The Arts Centre is vital to a vibrant city centre.

4985 - Jackie Hossack

The Arts Centre is worth saving for the city's future.

4986 - Kate Burt

The Arts Centre is the heart of Christchurch. It draws tourists, local residents and visitors to the many events, facilities, venues and retail shops in its precinct. It is always peaceful but alive echoing the past but very contemporary and stylish in its current presentation. The Arts Centre is a fabulous environment which the whole of Christchurch could emulate. Accessible, welcoming and with opportunities for everyone. Our city would be the poorer without it and the vibrant energy which it generates. The creative activities for the community - hospitality, movie theatres, performance spaces, art gallery historic and educational opportunities are second to none. Our Arts Centre is unique and we as a city need to value it.

4987 - Rae Stott

The Arts Centre is an integral part of Christchurch and supports so many local businesses. It's also a centre for tourism with the courtyard commonly covered in travellers touring and admiring the sights. We've lost so much heritage in Christchurch because of the earthquakes, how could we even consider losing The Arts Centre and its rich history and culture.

4988 - Michelle Cambie

Because I love it as a place to go and be inspired and entertained for the last 30 years. I have NEVER enjoyed watching rugby and am not supporting the new stadium being built. Places for the arts must hold equal weight with sport. Maybe let the rate payers have some say in what they pay for in their rates.

4989 - Charlotte Vanhecke

I am gobsmacked that the council even considered stopping the funding for the arts center. My family, visitors, friends all love the arts center and what it offers. It is a very important part of the arts in Christchurch. Arts are not to be funded based on revenue generated, it is so much more than that!

4990 - PJ Heller

The Arts Centre is a true gem in the city of Christchurch and the City Council should continue to fund it in its Long-Term Plan. The small amount of funds for the Arts Centre can easily come from other areas in the Long-Term Plan.

4991 - Christine de Felice

The Arts Centre has been an integral and immensely popular feature of our city for locals and tourists alike. To see it having to shut down through lack of council funding would be a travesty in a city that has already lost so much of its heritage and character due to the earthquakes. Christchurch is a special city and the Arts Centre is a truly unique and special part of its fabric. It must be enabled to continue operating with council funding.

4992 - B GOWLAND

It is an integral part of the city and there is nothing else like it

4993 - Vanessa De Castro

It is critical for this city to maintain and honour the heritage of our beautiful Arts Centre. There is no future without honouring our past.

4994 - Jan Cross

Please keep the arts centre going. Such a lovely part of Christchurch.

4995 - Barbara Eisele

please support the art centre. I am as a rate payer like to see the city to keep our treasures and historic places for future generations. If you can afford a stadium that will allow only a small percentage of christchurch inhabitant to use the council should be able to support existing buildings of value. Kind regards Barbara Eisele

4996 - Jacqui Wilkinson

The Arts Centre is an incredibly important asset for the people of Christchurch and visitors alike. It is a unique community space in Aotearoa that represents a wide range of artists, artisans, collections and boutique business owners. It allows them to have a voice in the heart of the city. It's also a unique visitor attraction in NZ that stands proud as a symbol of the past, present and future direction of the city. Without the community groups, museums, galleries, businesses and artists that call this space home, the precinct will be nothing more than a desolate cluster of old, cold buildings. Those who inhabit The Arts Centre breathe life into the walls. The funding that goes to help keep The Arts Centre running is vital to keep this precinct alive. It must continue if Christchurch City Council wants to continue to attract people to the city to live, work and play.

4997 - Julia Johnstone

The Art Centre IS Christchurch. As simple as that. All my childhood memories centre around that place. Music, food, dancing, movies, art, family and friends. It is our home. We can not lose it. To do so will be the end of Ōtautahi as we know it.

4998 - Bruce Bridges

Find the money for the art centre without making it commercial.

4999 - Wayne Turp

Please do not discontinue the funding to The Arts Centre. Doing this is not only short sighted in terms of the cost but completely fails to recognise both the economic and social cost to the citizens of Christchurch in the long run. A city is not a thriving city when it is devoid of social, artistic and educational facilities. The Arts Centre contributes to all of these.

5000 - Gabrielle Wall

I support CCC funding for the Arts Centre. We have so little of our heritage architecture left following the quake that it would be a shame to lose this from a human disaster rather than a natural one.

5001 - Hannah Wilson Black

The council should definitely fund the arts centre. What would visiting the centre city be like without it?!

5002 - Saige England

It is hard to write this without showing my rising anger. The arts are vital to the development of this city as a tourist centre, as a flourishing vibrant centre of activity and the Arts Centre is the centre, the beacon of diversity, a vibrant and sometimes tranquil space, a place of harmony. You bleed us dry for sports, but arts is life-saving, soul-saving, it is our culture and our identity, it is not violent or aggressive. Saving the Arts Centre is vital to the integrity of this council. I have little heart or faith in a council that causes me to write a submission to this effect. We shouldn't have to beg. We shouldn't have to plead. It should be a no-brainer. And I wonder at the mind-set of a council that fails to prioritise this vital space that represents our past and our present and which must represent our future.

5003 - Amy Sheehan

I support funding for the Christchurch Arts Centre. If you want to keep young people in Christchurch you need to keep the arts alive.

5004 - Janet Ensor

I believe the Arts centre is the hub of the city, not the cathedral. In my opinion funding the Arts centre should be a priority.

5005 - Nichola Shanley

The Arts Centre is the heart and soul of Christchurch especially since the 2011 earthquake. It has some of our cities most authentic retailers, for example Frances Nation & Lumiere cinema. Two examples of what a city can offer in terms of quality products and the experiences offered. The Arts Centre is one of the few places in this city that is more often than not humming with happy visitors. Compare it to most of the CBD.... dead in the water because the architecture is soulless and the products for sale are made in China rubbish. I am happy for a rates increase to help run the Arts Centre. Think of your favourite international cities, they are a blend of old and new architecture. Keeping the Arts Centre vibrant is essential to the success of all the new builds which surround this complex.

5006 - Erina Telford

The Arts Centre is so important to have within our community. The opportunities it gives children and adults. Especially in the most recent years with all of the workshops. Things we would not normally do at home. Educating and expanding the mind of all ages. Please do not cut the Arts Centre or drop funding. Please invest in the next generation!

5007 - Carla Humphrey

The Arts Centre is incredibly important to our City for both local use and history and tourists. As a ratepayer I would be happy to pay extra.

5008 - Marita Broadstock

The Arts Centre is the heart of the city. It is one of the few buildings that was properly repaired after the quakes and with the Museum and Cathedral out of action for years we need community support for this heritage site through our rates.

5009 - Te Rautini Sheridan

Without the Christchurch City Council funding Te Matatiki Toi Ora-The Arts Centre they will not be able to run the many many community led projects, including the artists residency programme that I am a recipient of for later in the year. This is a short sighted decision and one which will have everlasting impacts on the creative sector in the heart, te putahi, of Otautahi/Christchurch. Keep funding the Te Matatiki Toi Ora - The Arts Centre.

5010 - Geraldine Pickles

Christchurch City Council should fund the Arts Centre as it is historically important and is an important part of our lives because of the range of activities and facilities that can be found there. Rutherford's Den is world class and important for locals and visitors

5011 - Joanna Fox

I support funding for the Arts Centre. It is an iconic part of Christchurch and is a place we love to visit and take visitors too.

5012 - Ana Seixas

In a world that is all about profit and commercial gains, let's not forget the amazing impact of arts in our lives. Please don't refund it.

5013 - Redacted Redacted

I full support funding the Christchurch Arts Centre. This centre is of huge importance to the people of Christchurch particularly as a post-quake icon and a beacon of hope amid the historic destruction of our city. The cultural value is highly significant, enriching the lives of Cantabrians and all walks of life from far and wide. There is no other historic centre in New Zealand that compares to its architectural beauty, purpose, history and meaning. It is the past and must be treasured for the future. The people of Christchurch have lost so much, we emphatically do not want to neglect this icon as the proposed withdrawal of funding would do. The council needs to step up and honour the people and their place.

5014 - Jo Eason

The Art's Centre houses the extremely valuable space of the Rutherford's Den programme. We have used this every year to teach our senior students about; the history of Christchurch, the study of early university students, including Rutherford, Rutherford's tenacity and drive to find out about our world, the Periodic table and other chemistry knowledge through hands on experiments.

5015 - Hans van der Voorn

The Arts Centre is a unique part of Christchurch. In my opinion it is far more important than the Cathedral, or the stadium. The restoration to date has been done really well and seems to have been a far more efficient use of funds than the Cathedral in particular. I expect that in time, the commercial utility of the space will improve. For my part I use the facilities regularly, more than once a week. I take visitors there, attend seminars there, eat, drink and attend films and concerts. Last week I bought some art there at an exhibition. The amount of money required is relatively small in the scheme of things and if the Trust becomes insolvent the likely cost to the Council would be far higher.

5016 - Hutoxi Philips

Please support funding for the Art Center. The center means a lot to so many people in Christchurch and I am one of them. I've enjoyed many concerts and programmes held there and it would be a shame to see it all go. Thank you

5017 - Alyssia Zhang

The Art Center is a landmark building in Christchurch. It is a feature of Christchurch. We should not erase all the historical memories.

5018 - Tjun Theng

Please will you continue to fund the Christchurch Art Centre. This incredible place of historical and architectural significance is such an asset for our city. It is a warm and welcoming space hosting events and art and I always bring visitors to it. It is wonderfully situated next to the gardens and museum, and a short walk to the square and Turanga which are all some of the best parts of the city. It seems completely nonsensical to withdraw funding for this space when it has been so beautifully restored. We have lost such a lot of heritage buildings and now with the Cathedral likely to be too expensive to finish, we need to hang on to the Arts Centre. There is no other space like it in the city.

5019 - Vic and Nic Evans

The Arts centre has always been an integral component of the CBD with respect to the "food for the soul", children and adults education and tourists' attraction, this place is "gold under your feet", just bend and pick it up.

5020 - Cian Curtin

It is an integral part of the city

5021 - Aaron Tily

Because it's an important part of Christchurch and it's history.

5022 - Lynn Sutton

The arts centre is an iconic part of Christchurch, providing wonderful cultural events for everyone to enjoy. It deserves funding to continue to provide a vibrant and diverse range of activities, for both locals and tourists to take advantage of. Our city needs to continue to support creativity on all levels.

5023 - Julie Cunningham

The Arts Centre has become a major attraction for Christchurch citizens and visitors. It is a collection of heritage buildings of great importance to our community. For me it has special significance, as I graduated as a student there in the 1950s. I seem to remember that it was the Christchurch City Council that saved the complex from being demolished, and dedicated it to the citizens of our lovely city. It would be tragic if the Council were to withdraw its support now! I am writing this at the last minute, because I cannot find a record of the submission which I think I already sent! I would be devastated to see the Arts Centre being denied funding by the Christchurch City Council. It is a focal part of our lovely city.....a place where citizens and visitors can enjoy so many divergent entertainments! A place where you can learn new skills, find accommodation, enjoy concerts, go to movies, partake of food and a host of other things. It is the place where I attended University in the 1950s and gained my degree, so it has a special place in my heart. The buildings have been carefully repaired since the earthquake damage, just over a decade ago.....and there is still more to do, which is costly, I know, but worthwhile for such a heritage site. If I remember correctly, it was the Christchurch City Council which purchased the site to save it from being demolished! WHY WOULD THEY ABANDON IT NOW?????????

5024 - George Philips

Please continue funding the Art Centre as with the cost of living going up atleast people in Christchurch can enjoy subsidized concerts and other programmes. It will be a shame if funding were stopped. Thank you

5025 - Fenn Shaw

How can anyone even consider not funding the Arts Centre to continue the amazing job of restoration and maintaining the buildings and the small business contained therein in this world of job cuts etc. I am so proud to take our overseas visitors to the Centre, to have a meal at Bunsen, visit the Gallery, and the individual hand craft shops displaying a formidable array of crafts so well done. The Arts Centre was gifted to the city and it is the city's job to assist with the year by year maintenance and governance.

5026 - Susan Blakely

The Art Center is a vital part of life in Christchurch. It provides a very important gathering place for people. And look how far it had come since the Earthquake! It makes no sense to have it closed. It would be a tragedy, where would we all go??

5027 - Sharmalee Panagoda

The Arts Centre is part of Christchurch's heritage and we have an obligation to look after it for generations to come. Without funding, it will not be maintained as it should and we will lose yet another iconic piece of Christchurch. It's not just a group of old buildings. It played an important role in our history and can still contribute as much in Christchurch's future. Please continue to fund and support the Arts Centre.

5028 - Lyndelle Parr

ART has the power to transform, to illuminate, to educate, inspire and motivate. Please save the Arts Centre so we can continue to enjoy it and embrace it as a performing arts venue. So many memories and many more to come. Thank you Lyndelle Parr

5029 - Fiona Gordon

Please please continue to fund the Arts Centre! It has huge significance to Christchurch and myself personally. I regularly visit and can't tell you how many visitors to Christchurch I have taken there! It is a real taonga :)

5030 - Jules Hutchison

As visitors from Australia, we stayed at the hotel, saw a film at the cinema, wandered the stunning grounds and enjoyed the lingering piano notes and galleries - a highlight of our holiday. Can't believe the short sighted attempt to destroy such an amazing tourist asset. Pls save this center - the arts bring a sophisticated and enriching environment to all.

5031 - Jim Pollard

Visit the Arts Centre after hour or two exploring it, do the same at the Canterbury Museum. Neither could afford to maintain the buildings from income. In terms of their contribution to the culture of Christchurch they are at least equal. Why does Council support one and not the other

5032 - Cindy Mendonca

I support funding for The Arts Centre as it is a key part of our community

5033 - Moira Hofsteede

Please keep supporting the Art centre 🙏

5034 - Fiona Leighton

I support the ongoing funding of the art centre through council. The art centre is a beautiful heritage space where few exist post quake. It has tremendous appeal as a tourist attraction and is used by the people of Christchurch as a destination for eating, coffee, art, market days and culture.

5035 - John Henderson

I regard more significant feature for Christchurch than the Cathedral in terms of any ratepayer return on investment as one example.

5036 - Jon Harcourt

Please advance with confidence the continuing development of the city's fabulous Arts Centre. Having spent so much time in the past promoting old buildings along side old people of the Historic Places Trust, don't let this time slip by and become submerged in cost increases and all the potential lurking contingencies. The Cathedral is a sore point right now (though I believe a much smaller scope is warranted). The new stadium sought feedback on an enclosed roof meanwhile the horrendous time/cost to grow it to 25,000 seats was already cooked in.) Please save our history for access and enjoyment by residents, visitors and future generations. Thank you

5037 - Kate Gibson

Christchurch is finally becoming a modern city to be proud of. The arts centre is a vital part of this - a vibrant hub and brilliant use of our few remaining heritage buildings. Please continue to fund

5038 - Katharine Kitto

Funding the Arts Centre is essential for Chch to continue to provide its services Its function is both to benefit tourism&the art&culture scene &I enjoy the Monday concerts so much & would hate to lose them

5039 - Denise Lock

The Art Centre is such a unique and iconic place in Christchurch that it needs to be saved. It's part of Christchurch's history and has brought joy to so many people over the years. It would be a tragedy to lose this beautiful area and I'm sure future generations will regret the decisions made now, if it isn't saved. I would rather monies were spent on this than on the cathedral.

5040 - Linda Goodwin

Please continue to support funding for the Art Centre! It is Christchurch's most important historical icon, way finder, meeting place and brings cultures together, enables collaboration with community groups, a tourist stop, highlights the creative expression of the city as well as its history. I was shocked to hear that the Christchurch City Council is considering reducing funding to this important taonga within our City. It is important that funding continues to go towards the Art Centre. It is our legacy which we have been awarded as a city and one we must protect into the future. It is visited by a wide range of people, from all cultures, ages and walks of life. It is part of the foundations of what makes Christchurch a beautiful city and a place that is welcoming. Perhaps compare this to the stadium, which is an 'eye sore', will only attract a limited amount of people and is already becoming a huge burden to the ratepayers, without any visible return. Please stay strong as a Council with what is important and makes us a City - the Art Centre is a significant part of us - we all connect and love the Art Centre. Give it the support and attention it rightfully deserves. Continue to fund and preserve the Art Centre, it is not only just about saving an important part of our community shared by many, but also about the values that this important legacy upholds. Do not hesitate to support this historical and internationally acclaimed icon, that we uphold as a jewel in our crown - as a city.

5041 - Carol Killoh

The Art Centre should continue to receive funding from the Christchurch city council as it is of significant historical value to the city, a huge tourist attraction and well used and enjoyed by many of the locals. The city is starting to come together now after the earthquakes and is looking great. I always feel so proud now taking visitors around and they are always so impressed with the redevelopment and the merging of old and new. The art centre is of huge interest and forms an integral part of our beautiful city.

5042 - Anna Ryan

It is extraordinary that the CCC isn't wholly reasonable for funding the Arts Centre. The fact the Trust exists at all is a huge benefit to the city, and an arrangement that the CCC should be heavily invested in seeing continue. The Arts Centre is an essential asset to the city and it is hard to understand why we are even having to have this conversation.

5043 - Cathy McPherson

It is a national treasure that benefits locals out of towners and tourists. Very short sighted not to fund. I am quite happy for my substantial rates to go towards this.

5044 - Monique Anderson

Save the art centre

5045 - Mandy Nelson

The Arts Centre is an integral part of the central city as a tourist attraction, venue, architectural gem and retail hub, built on a remarkable history. It must continue to be supported – and the refurbishment completed. I request the CCC continue its financial support.

5046 - Anna Maksymova

The Christchurch City Council should continue to fund the Arts Centre because it's such a key place to the local cultural life. Once the funding goes, the events and the life that has just started to come back to normal after the earthquakes will have as big an impact as the earthquakes, because so many things will change. Most importantly, all of the activity that is there now will grind to a halt while the managing people sort out paper work. Currently the Arts Centre is becoming a little hub of very well curated activities, where people know they'll get high quality culture. I'd love it to stay that way. As a musician myself and as someone who has performed in the lunchtime concert series at the Great Hall, it's also in my professional interest that that series remains for the future engagements.

5047 - Jimmy Haysom

It is a great tourist attraction

5048 - Louisa Ashby

As a multi-purpose inner city centre important for the ongoing culture and community of Chch, the CCC should continue to stay involved and fund the Arts Centre.

5049 - Fiona Harman

It is vital for the health of the Art Community and also a vital part of the history of Christchurch. It would be a tragedy to see it non-functioning. Because it is the heart of the historic city with a wealth of heritage behind it. It is vital that all this does not suffer.

5050 - Iryna Maksymova

Christchurch needs The Arts Centre. It's one of the most beautiful places of a city to visit. It's our heritage.

5051 - Sue PEPLQE

The Arts Centre is vital to tourism in Christchurch and needs to be funded by council. After the Earthquake restoration work why would this jewel not be supported??!

5052 - A.G. Talbot

I fully support Council funding for The Arts Centre. It is a vital cultural hub for the city and a significant tourist attraction, generating millions of dollars for the Christchurch economy. It is also an important site of historical and architectural significance, not only for the city, but also nationally, e.g. Sir Ernest Rutherford, Sir Apirana Ngata (first Maori graduate) It would be a national disgrace if the Centre ceased to function as a cultural hub for Christchurch, because of lack of Council support. Maybe there should be a separate CCC funding levy to support the Centre? I also suspect there there may be excessive administrative and managerial costs under the current structure, which should be reviewed and changed?

5053 - Amy Hill

Kia ora, I support the council providing ongoing funding to the Arts Centre. The Arts Centre is a significant set of public buildings which has a very important place in the city's heritage. It now operates as a core part of the city's cultural landscape and it is home to a range of small local businesses. The Great Hall in particular is an important music venue, it is more affordable than other venues in town for smaller artists and groups. So it fosters a healthy local music and arts community which in turn makes for a vibrant and pleasant civic life in Christchurch. The Arts Centre attracts and retains tourists in the city centre, and also attracts locals to the city centre. I think the Arts Centre is a really valuable component of the city and it is worth investing in. It is a point of difference for Christchurch and enhances the city. Letting it close and having the buildings slowly return to a dilapidated state would conversely create a dead area in a key part of town. Please continue to invest in this asset.

5054 - Valeriy Maksymov

This the great place, definitely Great Hall. Historical heritage building with nice acoustics for all musical events. We need to thinking about our future, new generations. What we give them now that's what we receive later, on future.

5055 - William Menzel

CCC must step-in to assist The Arts Centre financially (and merge its insurance policy coverage to lower costs). The Arts Centre is one of the major attractions for Christchurch (for locals and tourists alike) and especially after all the years of renovations! We attend the concerts regularly at The Great Hall. Their programmes are tremendous. We cannot afford to lose this in our city.

5056 - Matt Parrett

Kia ora, I am a home owner and rate payer based in Sydenham. I would like the council to continue to fund both the ongoing operational needs and to see through the completion of the rebuild/repairs of the Art centre including the old Dux de lux location. My reasons are that it is a valuable historic location and provides a connection to other key areas such the art gallery, museum and botanic gardens. It is a unique heritage site, unlike any other in ChCh and adds to our other fabulous areas in town. It is used by locals and is an attraction for visitors. Please ensure not just its survival but find it to flourish.

5057 - Rosemary Smart

The Arts Centre is a vital part of central Christchurch. It is one of the few areas left steeped in history and available for a multitude of purposes. It is a draw card for tourists and as an ex-student a place where I love to visit and take my friends from out of Christchurch and guests from overseas. Please continue funding and leave Harewood Road alone.

5058 - Lorraine Larcombe

To continue to fund and support The Arts centre . It means so much to the people of chch

5059 - Peter Paterson

Save the Art. Cente.This type of action highlights the power of council employees and the lack of authority and calibre of elected councillors .

5060 - Matthew Cromey

The Arts Centre is a vital part of the Christchurch community. Nowhere in the world can such a place be completely self-funding. The board do an amazing job at running the centre and at fundraising. If the council remove funding, then management and operations will revert to the council anyway if the Centre goes into receivership. The overall cost to the council will increase, but most likely with a poorer service to the ratepayers of Christchurch.

5061 - Diane McAllister

It's an icon and should be treated as such.

5062 - Phil Light

I support continued funding for the Arts Centre. The Arts Centre plays a pivotal role in enriching my life through diverse cultural experiences. The Arts Centre thrives as a hub for creatives, artists, and cultural enthusiasts, ensuring a dynamic and inclusive future for all.

5063 - Victoria Sinclair

Please continue funding the Arts Centre. The Arts Centre is iconic, a place for people to come together and it is also an historic building with so many memories for so many of us. It is like the Cathedral, a truly historic part of our town.

5064 - Sara Clarke

It is vital that the Christchurch Arts Centre is saved and continues to be properly funded by the City Council. Arts build community and support good mental health which Christchurch badly needs just now.

5065 - Beverley Hill

I strongly suggest that the City Council financially support the Art Centre.It`s a unique building, which my family have enjoyed visiting over the years for all sorts of functions. My daughter won a 3-month Arts Residency there recently and was so thrilled to have had that experience in such beautiful surrounds. Please help!

5066 - Kate Madden

Visitors to the city, along with residents, want to see Heritage Buildings that have been restored, rather than being fenced up and held together with concrete bollards. Don't stop with it being half finished, these stunning buildings need life again.

5067 - Hannelie Bergmann

I urge the Council to steadfastly maintain its financial support for The Arts Centre. My wholehearted endorsement for the funding of this vital institution cannot be overstated. The Arts Centre is not merely an asset; it is the pulsating heart of our community, enriching the lives of residents and attracting tourists to our beautiful garden city, Christchurch. This cornerstone of cultural and social enrichment plays a critical role in both our local identity and our appeal to visitors from around the globe.

5068 - Elizabeth Roxborough

This is our city's best asset. It is known internationally as THE place to go when visiting Christchurch. The ratepayers should support this complex. It is now the HEART of the city and a symbol of its history. If it goes under, so does Christchurch.

5069 - Ihaia Hascha

Because only a moron would let it go!!!

5070 - Mary French

The arts centre is a core part of our central city - both physically and emotionally. The events held there make significant contributions to the global wellbeing of Christchurch rate payers.

5071 - Beth Smith

I support funding for the Arts Centre. There should be no question that we need the Arts Centre in Christchurch. I have lived here 20 years and can't imagine the city without this space. Avoid the legal issues. FUND THE ARTS CENTRE.

5072 - Robyn Hunt

I was in among of the last groups of students to study on the old Townsite, and have visited the Arts Centre many times since. The Arts Centre is a wonderful part of the history of the University and Otautahi, Christchurch. But, more importantly it is a huge asset to the city as an arts centre and a destination in its own right. It is a place for tourists and locals to visit and enjoy. It is an important arts resource for the city and the nation at a time when we need the arts more than ever for our wellbeing as a community. Artists and creatives need a place like the Arts Centre where the arts can thrive and develop in a nurturing environment But the arts and creative sector also contributed $16.3 billion to New Zealand's GDP in the year to March 2023. The Arts Centre is an important contributor to the economy of the region. The loss or diminution of the Arts Centre would be a disaster, considering the losses Christchurch has already suffered from the 2010 and 2011 earthquakes. Not to fund the Arts Centre would be long term loss for short term gain. The arts, and the arts centre represent both bread and roses.

5073 - Haruko Furukawa

The art center is an important place that helped me become an artist. In 2002, a friend of New Zealand organized an exhibition at art center and I decided to move to Christchurch. It was also at the Great Hall that I held my first live painting concert in 2022. This year I am also planning a joint exhibition of New Zealand and Japanese artists. No other place contributes to culture and art like this. This historic and beautiful building should definitely be preserved. This is a place that will continue to enhance the value of Christchurch. Artist Haruko Furukawa

5074 - Frances Pickrill-Kay

I think we should keep the Arts Center because it is an amazing piece of Christchurch, it shows amazing arts and cultural things and is such a cool place.

5075 - Jacqueline Gibson

I support the continued funding for the Arts Centre - this is an integral part of the CHCH city, and a much needed/wanted/loved part of ours and the wider NZ history

5076 - Lucy Gawn

To me, the Arts Centre holds a more valuable place in Christchurch than the Anglican Cathedral. I used to go as a teenager to the weekend market, sit in the sun, listen to the buskers. As now a new mum, I am sharing the space with my daughter, we have recently attended a special kids Halloween night and a children's day. She knows that it used to be a school and University, it holds some amazing history and it would be a shame not to continue to fund it after how far it has come.

5077 - Renee Blackburn

The Arts Centre is a cornerstone of culture in Ōtautahi Christchurch. For as long as I can remember, it has been a source of pride, a hub of activity, an historical treasure, and a haven for creatives and artisans. And at the same time it is OUR PLACE — the public are warmly welcomed in, without pretension, without barriers, to enjoy the wide range of happenings, from a family-friendly event, to a romantic evening with a partner. I can't think of another example that is enjoyed in equal measure by both locals and tourists alike. Outdoor movies, buskers, food trucks, mākete, artisan retailers, concerts, theatre, stargazing, expos...the diverse range of events that take place here is unparalleled. The constant presence of people enjoying The Arts Centre also keeps its history alive, as we appreciate and inhabit the beautiful stone buildings and courtyards. By comparison, I have all but forgotten a certain cathedral, which was never as dynamic, open, and enjoyed by everyone. How can we justify funding a dying relic, and yet turn our backs on another piece of history that is already thriving, living, and giving itself to this city and all its people?

5078 - Vanessa King

I support funding for the Arts Centre. It's an integral part of the culture in Christchurch and cannot be replaced.

5079 - Bernadette Hewson-Martini

The arts centre is such a treasure. I'm over 50 and the arts centre has always been a part of my life. You must continue to find it. The trust has done an amazing job of restoring it, don't jeopardise it now. As a rate payer I say you must continue to find it.

5080 - kelvyn stevens

I fully support funding for the arts centre. They are heritage buildings and along with the Botanic gardens across the road they are a major attraction for visitors to Christchurch.

5081 - Helen McLagan

I call on the Christchurch City Council to continue funding The Arts Centre because the Centre is a valuable city asset and would be sorely missed by artists and the public alike if it were to close or be depleted in funds.

5082 - Claire Oliver

Christchurch needs The Arts Centre as it is an integral part of our city and the arts community. I started having clarinet lessons there when I was 9 years old and still visit the Arts Centre one a week. It is one of my favourite places in this city.

5083 - Sara Pennington

I support funding for The Arts Centre. It's a beautiful building full of history and houses unique art experiences and retail stores that can't be found elsewhere.

5084 - Jo de Seriere

The Arts Centre is one of the few significant heritage complexes left in ChCh. It belongs to the community and it's the CCC's responsibility to ensure it is supported with adequate funding. It attracts many overseas tourists and is an absolute icon. If you can allocate $'s for a stadium, you can certainly find funds in the long-term plan for the Arts Centre.

5085 - Katherine English

The Arts Centre is the heart of our city, the most beautiful creative and historic heart. When visitors come to Christchurch it is what they most love, and see as valuable and integral to our city, as do many foresighted local people. Please as a council recognise this value and the part it plays in the fabric of our city by funding it. Without the council's support it's future is not secure. I really believe that it is as important to our city as our gardens, and other facilities are, and I hope that the council is wise enough to see this too. Thank you.

5086 - John Vale

The Art Centre is part of the heart of Christchurch and must be preserved. Its central to many other City attractions the Riverside Farmers market, Museum. Tram, Art Gallery. Gardens and Hagley Park. Significant monies have already been spent on restoring the buildings so far and its disappointing that significant parts remain unfinished. I am sure there are always more that can be done to retain the interest and for tourists to want to come and explore it. The CEO is tasked with lowering running costs, increasing rentals and encouraging more sustainable use of the facilities. It would seem there has been a good start to this but an option to consider should these roles be contracted to private enterprise to create and drive this more cost effectively? It does seem that regardless of any savings that can be made there will always be a short fall so unless the Council considers the ideas put forward as a start I can only see the Trust being wound up and the Arts Centre the potentially insolvent. The question then is what happens, does the CCC then become the management of its own asset and will funding be provided?? I am positive I know the answer to this in which case the CCC should be thinking ahead to avoid the mess and fallout of such short sighted decisions

5087 - Lynn Seed

The Arts Centre is a thriving busy hub of the city that provides much to both residents and tourists alike. It is an absolute treasure and an historical centre for Christchurch.

5088 - William David Morrell - Rev Canon QSO

If the City Council wishes to withdraw funding it should undoubtedly negotiate with the Arts Centre Trust to find and agree a phased process. At present it appears not even to know the full consequences of an immediate full withdrawal. Mr Aldridge is after all on my understanding a former banker and does therefore understand such processes.

5089 - Ruth Cochrane

My place of creative fun. Community gatherings. Belonging

5090 - Leo Gao

We need the Art Centre.

5091 - Colin EATON

The city needs to fund the arts centre, in conjunction with other contributors. The Dux needs to be restored and reopened to add life to the area. The market will grow, empty studios need to be tenanted. Get the centre trust out of their head in the sand heritage thinking. The centre needs life to survive as well as funding.

5092 - Wendy Hollyer

The Arts Centre is vital heritage part of Christchurch City and important historic beautiful buildings in Canterbury. The Arts Centre is home to a huge range of cultural activities and events, wonderful Art Gallery, the fabulous Great Hall for concerts and events, the popular Lumiere Movie Theatre and Wine Bar, plus the Classics section of Canterbury University - we can't lose this wonderful collection of buildings which have been lovingly repaired post earthquake. It is so important the City Council funds the Arts Centre to enable it to continue providing a wonderful iconic and historical place for Christchurch people to enjoy a wide variety of activities and events .

5093 - Jocelyn Davison

I understand the Council has many financial pressures. The Christchurch Arts Centre is the architectural Cultural star of its period in Christchurch. We have many overseas visitors and always take them there. It is one of the most important attractions in Christchurch which, if it is to become a serious tourist destination, needs to show off its past, its soul, as well as its future. The Council must take some responsibility for maintaining it. Please do the right thing here. It is a series of buildings very close to Canterbury's heart.

5094 - Mark Soltero

The Arts Centre is a cultural treasure, a jewel in the heart of the city. It is something to be truly proud of. Attending an event, eating out, taking visitors to show off what our city has to offer all rate as highly valuable. For us the most treasured jewel in the jewel of the Arts Centre is Lumiere Cinema, there simply is no parallel, no comparison. Places like Lumiere rate as possibly some of the best niche experiences (in cinema) in all of Aotearoa and really demonstrate what we have to offer to visitors.

5095 - Kirsten Vaughan

The Arts Centre is part of the heart of Christchurch & used by many community groups. It would be a tragic shame to have this beautiful & integral part of Otautahi unavailable.

5096 - Deborah Walton-Derry

Funding of The Arts Centre should continue. The Arts Centre has been a valuable part of my life for over 40 years. As it reemerges from the devastation caused by the earthquakes it is a place to visit with friends and family - it has history, beauty and provides so much in the way of art and entertainment. It is at the very heart of what makes Christchurch such a beautiful and cultured city. What's more it's a place for ALL people no matter their background. Please save The Arts Centre.

5097 - Natasha Grieve

Best heritage buildings in Christchurch hands down..save this..not Cathedral..it will be used so much more

5098 - Kate Bracefield

I support funding- we must

5099 - David Coles

We have watched the fantastic restoration work proceeding over the last few years post earthquake. We are also watching the rapid return of tourists and overseas visitors to our beautiful city. Fantastic. However, it is an embarrassment to see the job incomplete and much still to be done. While we recognise the pressure on rates, we also recognise the key importance of a completed restoration. We are being recognised as the most beautiful city in the country and as a rate payer, I for one will be supportive of an increase in order to get our Arts Centre restoration completed and showing its former glory!

5100 - Sophie King

There is no Christchurch without the arts centre, I can't believe I'm even having to make a submission on this! Sort it out CCC.

5101 - Bing Dawe

For the Ch Arts Centre to be a place for arts excellence in the visual and performance arts it cannot be totally reliant from these sources to fund itself. By asking the Arts Centre to use its precious spaces for commercial enterprises for this funding will eventually see it disappear. Perhaps some middle ground could be sought and already exists with the opening of a hotel but this must be strictly limited and it's prime purpose as a centre for the arts maintained through City Council funding. A place we are proud of and can remain proud of because the citizens of Christchurch have financially supported it.

5102 - naith morrow

as both a long term local, and a tenant of the arts centre, i have a long and diverse history of formative experiences that revolve around the site. i would very much look forward to enjoying a stable, vibrant and positive creative future as a core piece of the arts centre puzzle. my studio has just passed 6 years in the boys high building, and the support and freedom i enjoy as a tenant have enabled me to grow my business through some uncertain times. i cannot understand the thoughts behind pulling funding for something that has only just found it's legs as a(n almost) complete arts, retail, hospitality, learning, public service hub. i sincerely hope to see the council reconsider their decision in this regard. naith morrow. owner, absoluton. the arts centre.

5103 - Alison Kuiper

The Arts Centre is a vibrant historic centre for residents and visitors to the city of Christchurch. Continuing Council funding will keep faith with those who contributed over so many years to its unique and central nature and position in Christchurch. It must remain supported by the Council for its citizens. I have long links with the Arts Centre, first as a student and staff member, then as a parent of children attending music lessons there, as a citizen of Christchurch attending over many years, the Dux, watching movies, having meals there, showing visitors around with pride. Since I have moved away the Arts Centre is always an essential part of my visits to Christchurch, my home city. It's more important for the Council to support this heart of the city than for example the stadium though that matters to some. The restoration of the Arts Centre buildings was more important than restoring the Cathedral and that effort must be celebrated by continuing support from the Council.

5104 - John Suggate

I would like to see the funding for The Arts Centre continued. It is one of the things, amongst others, that makes me happy to pay my rates. The Arts Centre is helping keep alive important elements of our history and our culture, contributing to the varied life of our city a place where people can peacefully gather to experience together some of the riches of our city's artists in a tranquil environment away from the more bustling commercial aspects of modern city life... It would impoverish our city's life and heritage and if The Arts Centre was unable to continue to provide such enriching activities.

5105 - Helen Wilson

I strongly urge further and realistic support for Arts Centre funding from CCC. This facility is integral to the Christchurch brand for tourism, and the sense of belonging and ownership of our city for residents. I am frequently using several parts of this building throughout the year, and always feel a sense of belonging when there.

5106 - Gillian Redden

We are not all about Rugby, Racing and Beer. We need to have these beautiful buildings and all the arty things inside them helped. The Arts are never as able to stand alone without funding as left brain, financial or law or sport things are. Attending events here, helps us with our hearts, helping keep our softer side, more able to get on with others, to be more empathetic, more able to 'look outside the square'.

5107 - Joseph Bary

As a graduate of the Ara music arts program as well as being a professional Jazz musician who specializes in percussion I think it is very important to keep the options open for authentic jazz jam nights where musicians from across the city (and sometimes country) can have a place to improvise and bounce ideas off each other. As well as having a place that means something to everyone whether that is art, film, busking, traditional street food, history of the actual arts centre (and the achievements of kiwis) and also the supreme architecture of this wondrous place and all that strives to collectively keep the culture and vibe alive

5108 - Elisa Lanau

The Arts Centre is an amazing creative place for community to connect. Essential to our wellbeing and identity.

5109 - Jeremy Wynston-Richards

The Arts Centre is fundamental to the vibrancy of the city. The money already invested since the earthquake has produced a stunning centrepiece for tourists and inhabitants. The arts are more relevant to the majority of this population than the Cathedral. If we have to choose, the Arts Centre should win. It contains multiple businesses showcasing Christchurch at its best. In addition to being part of the historic legacy of this city, I would consider it very shortsighted of the council not to support its future.

5110 - Graeme Yardley

No funding will mean the closing of the Arts Centre in practical terms leading to the goal of privatization. short sighted and doomed to Failure.

5111 - Hanafi zwart

We moved to Christchurch two years ago and have been exploring what the city has to offer relentlessly. The arts centre has been part of that exploration and builds on the growing reputation of the city we have been sharing with friend's regularly. We've watched movies at the cinema (including the Film Festival), we've gazed at stars, we've perused the shops and tonight ate at the Laneways at dusk. This centre is run exceptionally and continues to bring us over to the western side of the city. It's gained momentum in recent years, thriving energy and It would genuinely be a loss to the vibrancy of the city to loose the arts centre.

5112 - Arnika Knight

I've lived away from Christchurch for a long time but every time I come back to visit, the arts centre is the place that makes it feel like home. Please prioritise and fund this special place!

5113 - Solvejg Ruarus

The Council should enhance the arts ,the cultural events , the crafts ,concerts ..and all other activities that find a space in the ArtsCentre !!! Also make possible that the Dux is back !!!!!!! Cutting funds and pull back is a shocking move !!!

5114 - Lexi Poulsen

We have been coming to this historic location for years. There's not many well kept gems in Christchurch it this is truly one of them. It would be a shame to see future generations miss out on experiencing the atmosphere and beautiful building

5115 - Amanda Hare

This is and has been an integral component of the arts history in Christchurch, the centre allows all to enjoy our heritage, our arts and culture across all art forms.

5116 - Heidi Dore

In a world that is becoming more and more homogenous in its retail experience, it is always a delight to come across local artisans and unusual crafts. The artist in residence was delightful. Also the Lumière Cinema was a fabulous experience. Lovely setting. Do you really want to get rid of the character of Christchurch?

5117 - Lorna Luciani

The Arts Centre is a huge asset to Chch, especially to tourism. It's an iconic part of the Chch experience.

5118 - Marilyn Hore

The Art Centre is an icon in Christchurch. It's always busy with both locals and those visiting. Not helping with funding would lead to its demise. Christchurch, in many ways, will be off the itinerary of many of our visitors. Look at the numbers from cruise ships who enjoy the market and lovely stores in the old boys' high building, the Teece Museum, and Rutherfords Glen. A cuppa at Bunsens, a wine at the Cellar, Door, movies at Lumiere, and who wouldn't want fudge from Fudge Cottage. We need to have an Arts Centre to have this.

5119 - Tyler How

It's a centre of Christchurch culture and it's history is so rich!

5120 - Paul Hewson-Martini

The Christchurch Art Centre is an asset to the community, providing a cultural and historic setting at the heart of the city. All major cities in the world have such a facility and if the Council considers Christchurch to be a city worth visiting and living in, it should continue to provide a cultural, historic and artistic venue. The Christchurch Art Centre is such a venue and once lost the city will never regain it. Please continue to fund the Art Centre.

5121 - Kim Tenebaum

While we appreciate the CCC has a range of areas it funds, and that our city has been on an interesting journey in the last decade plus and we have exciting new spaces and projects - there is still a need to support some traditional iconic Christchurch spaces such as the Arts Centre. From the wonderful architecture, to the public spaces to the retail areas and toilets etc, the Arts Centre is a jewel within the central Christchurch area. Both my local family and the regular overseas visitors I host think the Arts Centre space is something very special.

5122 - Jen Orange

I support funding for the Arts Centre in the Long Term Plan. It is of significant cultural and historic importance to our city.

5123 - Rae Taylor

The Arts Centre is an important centre for creativity. It has amazing heritage buildings that are rich in history and are pivotable for showcasing events in Chch. It is a beautiful centre for tourists to visit and for locals to be proud of.

5124 - Cameron McLeod

The Arts Centre is a necessity for this city and must be protected at all cost. Not only for the arts, but for its historical significance and community.

5125 - Lyn Gallagher

The Arts Centre is the heart of our city -beautifully restored heritage buildings that are base for performance artists, musicians and artisans. I regularly visit the Arts Centre to see films, concerts and to support the markets. It is a place for local people to enjoy and a tourist attraction too. Please continue to support the Arts Centre.

5126 - Natasha Chernousova

Save the Art Centre

5127 - Edith Devonish

Having immigrated from Germany, being a former member of the Sydenham Heritage Trust before the Church was demolished without consent, I am incredulous and find it inconceivable that the City Council should even consider leaving its unique and historically so fascinating asset, the Arts Centre, to its own devices. The consequences are obvious. There is not much left for visitors to see of the historic pre-earthquakes Christchurch. As New Zealand economically benefits enormously on tourism, this beauty's preservation should be a priority in the plan.

5128 - Bronwyn Wiltshire

The Arts Centre is an integral part of Christchurch. My family has been involved in activities here since my two uncles were at Canterbury College. My mother sat her Matric exams in the Great Hall. My son and daughter have sung and played in Youth Orchestra there. My husband has worked in the Court Theatre, the Great Hall and the Southern Ballet. My daughter-in-law attended and worked at the Southern Ballet. I have attended many many concerts and events there. It is for us and so many others a highlight of any City visit for friends and family. To me it is unthinkable that the Christchurch City Council would even consider withdrawing funding when they are prepared to spend millions on sports facilities.

5129 - Katarina Teepa

I support the retention of the arts Centre in CHRISTCHURCH. You must continue to keep this alive and running for our next generation to connect to Chch past and present. I ask you to keep funding the arts centre. It's a must to keep. Ngaa mihi

5130 - Hannah Fyffe

That the notion not funding the continued operation and maintenance of the arts centre is even for up for debate seems outstanding to me. As one of few heritage secular buildings still accessible to the public, and huge tourism attraction, it also plays a role in the Cantabrian psyche with our population having grown up in its stone walls and courtyard. It's a place we should continue foster to allow music in our grand hall, artisan businesses, foreign film, antiquities, to name a few, to all have a place to thrive and be experienced. At a minimum, the existing facilities should be funded to allow ongoing use, at a maximum we should be redeveloping the dux to bring a greater variety of nightlife back to this precinct. Funding of the arts centre has this ratepayers support

5131 - Laura Harding

The Arts Centre has been a key part of my memories of ChCh since visiting as a kid from Nelson. Consequently it's where my fiance and I have chosen to get married in September. All our guests are so excited about the venue with many traveling from out of town as well as former chch residents with fond memories of the Centre. Hosting private events is one way in which the centre has evolved towards becoming self sufficient. However, the Centre will struggle to run purely as a business in its current state and as an important place for the arts in ChCh deserves funding. Perhaps when the Centre is completely restored with a complete set of tenants (businesses) funding can be reconsidered and discussed but it is not there yet.

5132 - Lisa Tui Jonathan

Te Matatiki Toi Ora is a source of community and professional artistic engagement with skilled and competent, up to date and at the leading edge of understanding the Arts in Aotearoa ... personnel. They have regained audiences challenged by the earthquakes, killings and Covid... and as such they have grown relationships key to generating engagement, connection, restoration, encouraging and up skilling artists not only in Chch but from around the country and internationally. There would certainly be a dramatic loss should these people and plans be changed. The momentum that has been gained would be lost as well as the confidence of its audiences locally and nationally. It's historic, inclusive and unique nature as an iconic feature of Otatahi which would be at risk of loosing those qualities without the special skills, the accumulated knowledge and relationships maintained by its current curators, managers staff, systems and knowledge of the land and buildings. Funding the Arts Centre in its capacity to serve its community meets many socially functional activities that yield both artistic productivity and well being. If the value of the Arts is in question the following information acquired via years of scientific research is available to absorb - NeuroArts Blueprint: Advancing the Science of Arts Health and Wellbeing Through Neuroarts:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=1fRPRIwiwkl>. As such if providing well being services for our Otatahi community is a value sort to be achieved then the activities and function of Te Matatiki Toi Ora is already being provided through its programming and hosting. Also on its current path the Arts Centre has been diligently strategising to balance community needs and wants as well as meeting its ability to offer excellence in Artistic fields making it Nationally and Internationally relevant and iconic. Such a demand is challenging but the skills and current systems enable that to be achieved. Shifting to another structure will jeopardise what has been learnt and gained fundamentally. My thoughts are to consider a longer term strategy and problem solving in an inclusive way, that utilises and builds on the gains achieved. The wheel then would not be required to be reinvented down the track.

5133 - June Peet

Please continue to fund the Arts Centre, it is one of the best things we have in Christchurch .

5134 - Zoe Nicholson

The Arts Centre is a critical part of the Christchurch community and cannot survive without funding. There MUST be continued funding for this community hub.

5135 - Tina Harrison

Please increase the funding for the Christchurch Arts Centre. It has made it through turbulent times with the earthquakes and is the most beautiful campus with a rich history we must support. Personally, my family use it often with visits to the Observatory, holiday program workshops, outdoor theatre. I love taking my children there as my parents did for me when I was younger.

5136 - Jacqui Overton

The Christchurch City Council needs to fund the Arts centre as this will continue to give Christchurch residents and visitors another link to our past history as well as a creative space now right in the city centre. It is a vital piece in the landscape along with the museum, gardens, art gallery and more to help nurture a city hub. A vibrant city needs more than sports venues. Retaining our cultural and art buildings and spaces are essential for the present and future generations.

5137 - Caroline Lalahi

Central to Christchurch identity and a hub of art and knowledge.

5138 - Michael Ellis

it would be catastrophic to Lose rhe Arts funding as the centre is one of the jewels in Christchurch's crown

5139 - David Fyffe

We must continue to fund and preserve our cultural identity

5140 - Lily Skinfield

How can Arts survive if it's ignored The only way to keep our sense of community is to share our interests and struggles. As the world grows there will always been a strain on money and time. We must ensure all parts of society is represented, even if it takes longer to support the Arts Centre it must be included in the long term plan of the Council. Other wise what's the point of anything!

5141 - Wendy Dalley

The Arts Centre has been central to my life since the 1960s. I sat my exams there in the 1970s, left from there when I graduated MA Honours from UC in 1977. Le Cafe was my haunt from the 1970s and now Bunsen. A favourite thing for my husband and I to do was to go to the movies at the Academy and have a meal at Le Cafe or Dux de Lux afterwards, until the earthquake. I am a Walk Christchurch guide, and regularly take tourists around the complex, with pride. The Arts Centre is most important to the city. It is a unique set of heritage buildings, which must be funded adequately.

5142 - Vaughan Wilson

Keep the Art Centre as it is. We visited from north island and this is a real asset (as it stands) to the city. Also great for tourists to visit as well. #savetheartscentre

5143 - Daniel Milligan

The Arts Centre provides a central hub for many excellent activities. The lack of an alternative plan to keep this continuing to provide for Christchurch is a lack of vision by the Council.

5144 - David Adcock

I believe the Christchurch City Council should fund The Arts Centre as it is the 'jewel in the crown' in Christchurch. Daily and weekly I support; concerts in The Great Hall, films at Lumiere and meals or drinks at The Cellar Door, Frances Nation and Bunsen. A major reason for choosing to live in the central city was because I can walk with my partner through the park and gardens to The Arts Centre.

5145 - Christine Hickey

I support the Council funding the Arts Centre. It is an extraordinary facility or fabulous heritage buildings and is vital to the cultural life of our city. Our city needs the arts at least as much as we need the sports that will be housed by the Stadium.

5146 - John Blunt

I strongly support the demands that the City Council continues its funding of The Arts Centre.

5147 - Jenni Prisk

Prevent an enormous loss for Christchurch by funding and saving the Arts Centre. It is a vital and dynamic place for citizens to learn and grow. It's an icon in Christchurch and the Council would be doing huge long term damage to the city if you don't fund! FUND THE ARTS CENTRE NOW!!

5148 - Kim Lowe

Please continue to fund the Arts Centre. I would prefer that the portion of my rates that is designated towards Te Kahu and or the Christchurch Cathedral be spent on funding the continued restoration and upkeep of The Arts Centre. Especially considering that if The Arts Centre needs to go into liquidation the CCC will end up having to take it over anyway. The Arts Centre brings important tourism and community projects into the city, is vital to many businesses and community groups and is much further along in its restoration. It's also an important heritage site.

5149 - Holly Alpine

This is an awesome resource for residents and visitors and should be funded! Thanks for hearing our voices.

5150 - William Alpine

This is an important part of my tourist experience.

5151 - Jo Ewing

The Arts Centre is a vital part of the beating heart of Christchurch and must remain alive and thriving

5152 - Danielle Cooper

The Arts center is vital for Christchurch. Not only does it symbolise resilience, as they stood against the damage of the earth quakes to pay cuts, but also as a beacon of joy for the people of Christchurch as we navigated everyday life through the rubble and trauma of the many hardships Christchurch has faced. The arts centre is a place I would like my child to see in the future as my koro did for us as children. Not only for the historical value but also the genuine creative excitement that flows through that building, that makes you crave for more knowledge. It would be a shame to dismantle such a great place in the name of funding as we spend billions on buildings most Christchurch residents won't live/afford to see the inside of. Save the arts centre, if not for the people for the heritage and historical value it holds. It shouldn't be about the money, it should be about what's right for the people of Christchurch and the Arts center is very much that.

5153 - Claire van Beek

I grew up in Christchurch, and now live in Auckland. When I visit Christchurch, what is the first thing I do? I go to the Art Centre. I go there and I sink back into all that I loved about growing up in Christchurch, and all that I love as an adult - now. Culture, heritage, community. It is a place as relevant to me now as it was long ago, as it was a vital part of forging who I am today. I get off the airplane and I go to the Arts Centre and relax in a cafe. I go to the Art Centre and I go to the galleries. I see a show at the cinema. I take part in all the events that I can. There is a beating heart in those buildings, alleyways and courtyards which is a vital and irreplaceable. I go the Arts Centre and I feel SO LUCKY, SO DANG HONOURED that I can walk on those worn down pavers, as thousands have done before me. There is no where like it in Christchurch or New Zealand or the world. As a child, I saw theatre and bought treats in the market with my family. In my teens, I would visit the Arts Centre EVERY WEEKEND. I'd bus there from nearly an hour away and shop at the market, and get fudge from the cottage, and eat at the food stalls. I'd see live theatre or song in the courtyards. I'd wander around Rutherford's Den in awe. . As a teenager, I'd go to Scared Scriptless every Friday night. As a school student I'd perform in The Great Hall as part of the Sheila Winn Shakespeare Company (then going on to the Globe Theatre in London... performing the same piece we'd performed at Arts Centre's Great Hall on the very Globe Theatre itself!). I felt so PROUD to be able to watch shows and participate in events in that treasured space. As a young adult, I performed in the Courtyards, and even the Court Theatre. As students at the nearby Theatre company, we'd go to the Arts Centre every Friday and joined together to relax and laugh at the Dux de Lux and Le Cafe. Some of my favourite memories. My love of cinema was forged via the festival films that I saw at the Arts Centre. I have since gone on to make my own career in the film industry... recently assisting Jane Campion on The Power of the Dog, which was nominated for 7 Academy Awards. I have two young friends - whose father has recently passed away - who go the Arts Centre to participate in the Cloud Workshops. They are 8 and 10 year old, and they join with other bereaved children to process their indescribable, life shattering grief through art. These memories and experiences and opportunities are an indelible part of who I am, and they should be available to all current and future children / teenagers / adults in Ōtautahi. Do you not realise what is at stake? I wish to return to live in Christchurch in the future. Why do I want to do that? Because of THE ARTS CENTRE!!! For the rest of my life I want to be part of the Arts Centre. It is a part of me. To rip away its funding is to rip away what is the heart of Ōtautahi for many, many people. And honestly, it is to rip away a part of our hearts themselves. Christchurch City Council must continue to support and fund The Arts Centre as part of its long term plan. In fact, why not even give it a little bit more.... Thank you.

5154 - David Hann

I've learned that the Council is considering cutting off funding for Te Matatiki Toi Ora The Arts Centre. I have to say, I strongly disagree with is and believe that the Council should continue funding the Arts Centre. Good communities are vibrant and active places with locations that suit the need of all members. I believe that the Arts Centre, like the new stadium, serves a role in meeting the needs of members of our community. Providing a space where like-minded people can meet and interact should be a major driver for council decisions, and the Arts Centre certainly meets this criteria.

5155 - Kate Stallworthy

It is such an important part of Christchurch and pulling CCC funding puts their independence at risk

5156 - Mary Crowe

Because of The Arts Centre's contribution to the city's history, architecture , arts and social well-being it is essential that Christchurch City Council continues to fund it. So much money is spent on sports-related building and activities and so little in comparison on supporting creativity and the Arts which are essential to the vibrant life of a city. The architectural and social value of The Arts Centre cannot be underestimated and deserves future funding. It is a hub for visitors and locals and provides a range of services and products not found elsewhere in Christchurch. The staff work very hard and efficiently to maximum use of the funding they do have . I'm sure a majority of ratepayers would support part of their rates supporting the Arts Centre (a choice they could not make in regard to the Anglican Cathedral!)

5157 - Julie Hill

The Arts Centre is the beating heart of arts in Christchurch, where I wrote my first play and absorbed so much wonderful art over a lifetime.

5158 - Sheryn Turner

It is a vital connection for our city for our history and tourism

5159 - Rebecca McAllister

The Arts Centre has been a part of my life since I was a child. I visited there as a child, had music lessons there as a teenager and have socialise, eaten a lot of delicious food and great drinks there as well. I take friends and family to the Arts Centre when they are in town and have appreciate cultural and theatrical events there many times. It has been a consistent place in my life and I hope it will be for my children. I hope that The Arts Centre that continues to exist is not just a building to look at but a place where arts, food and culture continue to be alive and well.

5160 - Janet Blackman

The Arts Centre is an iconic area of our city, as much if not more so than the Anglican Cathedral. For many people it is much more important than the covered stadium will ever be. It is a centre of the cultural precinct along with the Christchurch Art Gallery and the Canterbury Museum. I visit 2 or 3 times a month for movies, concerts and spend money at the shops and cafes on most visits. Its value to the city for residents and tourists should not be underestimated. It would be a tragedy if the City Council did not continue its financial support to The Arts Centre.

5161 - Maureen Stone

Please commit to continuing the essential supportive funding for the Arts Centre in long term funding. This complex holds the deep spirit and heritage of our city and community. There is vital educational history here for many. This place of majestic beauty is the rare jewel restored post earthquake and is adored by both the people of Christchurch, and National and international visitors to our city. It must be allowed to continue to hold this position.

5162 - Elaine Chilton

The Arts Centre has been a part of my life since teenagehood when I attended university there. As an adult I have appreciated being able to use the various venues - eg The Great Hall for music and theatrical functions. I would hate to see it disestablished because of lack of funding and would be very happy for a portion of my rates to be used for continuing financial support of this valuable and historical complex.

5163 - Natalie Simôn

The Arts Centre have supported my business for several years by being incredibly accommodating landlords. The community that has been fostered between the tenants is incredible and the community events that are regularly available are bringing more locals in (not to mention the huge burst in tourism recently. Without the caring team at The Arts Centre, my small business would fail to thrive. I hope you will reconsider the support you offer.

5164 - Rebecca Swindells

It's been part of Christchurch for along time! We need more funding into the arts, not taken away, the art center is a great place for tourists and the community to come and it would be very sad to see it go.

5165 - Margaret Hawkes

It's a historical hub of creativity and learning.

5166 - nicola may

I would like to see this remain open I'd rather other services were cut. arts are integral to people's well being and it's one of the only beautiful buildings left in chch

5167 - Kate Taylor

It reminds us that we survived the earthquake and the arts is so important in a digital and isolated world

5168 - Anne Moody

The Arts Centre has been a huge part of the history of Christchurch and relevant to all who live here. It is essential it continues to a part of our future for our children and grandchildren and beyond. The Council must continue to support the Arts Centre. We have lost too much already.

5169 - Regina Speer

The Art Centre is one of the few vibrant places in Christchurch. It's important for a flourishing city to celebrate art and have a cultural hub like that. The offering is exceptionally varied, interesting and attracts locals as well as international visitors. The arts centers funding brings jobs, joy, creativity, music, art, performance, culinary delights and much more to the visitors and people of Christchurch and I urge you to maintain or increase your funding levels.

5170 - Alba Crisan

It is necessary for cultural advancement (ours and our childrens'). Also, from your point of view it is good for tourism - $$$$. Privatizing this (which is the end effect) will mean we lose the character and knowledge; so even more lost lost when compared to other countries.

5171 - Karen Sekeris

The arts centre has been best place around for years, for everyone,

5172 - Christine Weston

With the Christchurch Cathedral in the state it is please don't let more iconic city buildings fall into the abyss.

5173 - Leah Phillips

Art is essential. It provides a forum for expression and empathy. We learn about ourselves and others through art. Art can create understanding when nothing else can.

5174 - Jazmine Murray

The Arts Centre is a cherished space for Christchurch. It is both a beautiful tourist attraction, beloved piece of history and an amazing venue to foster arts and community. The Arts Centre is a hub of creativity. I have been living in Christchurch for just over a year, but it already has a place in my heart. I send my family postcards of the arts centre, I've been to concerts and plays there, and it just generally a truly beautiful and unique part of our city. As a performing artist, I've seen firsthand how much artists are struggling due to lack of opportunities and funding in Aotearoa. However, as the musical theatre capital of New Zealand, Otautahi has the opportunity to foster the arts. The arts centre is a valuable venue that we cannot afford to give up.

5175 - Bina Shurety

If we lose the arts center we lose a hub for artists to play/show their art and we have nowhere that will replace it. I know a lot of people are struggling, but we lose so many amazing things when we lose the arts.

5176 - Philomena Brennan

It such a hub connecting the Museum. Botanical gardens to the Square. A beautiful place for people to wander around. Connect share and develop grass roots culture and heritage. A superb space to foster love of the Arts.

5177 - Jo Bean

Historic buildings and iconic arts and craft hub, important for Cantabrians and tourists, central to Chch city recovery.

5178 - Shannon-Aimee Bradley

Arts is crucial to the fabric of the city

5179 - Jackie Marsden

The arts centre is so about Christchurch please help them stay.

5180 - Holly White

It's an important historic site within christchurch that tourists love to see and locals to remember what christchurch was before the earthquakes. It also houses many interesting, unique & creative stores that people like to visit to see a different side of christchurch.

5181 - Kaylene Worrall

Christchurch needs this gem in the crown....for ordinary rate paying residents to enjoy affordable cultural events for a diverse range of audiences and participants who otherwise face economic barriers to inclusion....

5182 - Phil Tindall

Are you kidding? The Arts Centre is central to Christchurch's identity. Defunding it is a bean counter suggestion. Use more imagination or it'll turn into an Air B&B

5183 - Dennis Gallagher

We need art more than sports!

5184 - Joanne Ducrot

The Arts Centre is our city's treasure with a great atmosphere for people to gather and enjoy the architecture, history, culture and art of the city. We cannot lose this!

5185 - Robyn Simpson

As a cultural and historical part of the city centre it provides a vital space for the city of Christchurch and visitors alike. By providing adequate funding it ensures the future of a treasured and unique part of our city

5186 - Josie Welch

The Arts Centre are not only significant heritage buildings that need this funding to maintain them, they are also an important community centre. There are many opportunities available to make them more so. The Council would be foolish not to invest in developing their potential further.

5187 - Amy Iddles

A Christchurch institution, a great place for creatives ,tourist and locals

5188 - Paige Officer

All the work that has gone into restoration would have been for nothing, the art centre is the heart of Christchurch now, so need the art centre, it is our history, we need art!

5189 - Anna Greenslade

The Arts Centre is a crucially important part of Christchurch, for the arts, tourists, and residents. People come to Christchurch to see our history and how we have developed as a city. It's part of our history and it's important to keep our historic buildings. It's part of our identity. Please don't remove this beautiful and valuable part of our city.

5190 - Jane Rogers

If The Arts Centre cannot make enough money to support itself, then, of course CCC should help fund it. It is a central, iconic, important part of Christchurch. It needs promoting not demoting!

5191 - Noah Lewis

My grandmother and grandfather met here, my mother spent her childhood here, and I studied here.

5192 - Sue Hauser-Deakin

I am writing to express my support for the council to continue funding The Arts Centre as it plays a crucial role in enriching the lives of Christchurch residents and visitors alike.

5193 - Sue Cutforth

It is a taonga for ChCh and a haven for the performing arts. There is so much history in the architecture and the artistic endeavours that have been going on in this centre for many many many years. I started at a 7 year old learning musical instrumentals at CSIM. I played in the orchestras in a number of the venues. I have sung in the Great Hall in Operas and choral concerts. I have conducted concerts in different buildings in the Arts Centre. I now have a career in music - might this have happened if the Arts Centre didn't support music and all other arts? The Arts are the Life Blood of a city. You are the city councillors. Protect the taonga and support it so my children can grow up learning and performing in this marvellous Arts Centre. PLEASE!

5194 - Jennie Gough

The Christchurch Arts Centre is a defining part of Christchurch. It cannot survive without council funding. What is the council's solution? To pass on this cost to the rate payers? Rates are sky rocketing as it is. Please recognise the unique relationship between Arts Centre and council and reinstate funding for this beautiful treasure. It will be national embarrassment should you not.

5195 - Rachei Taylor

The arts centre was a iconic to Christchurch it would be a massive blow to the culture of the city ... the city has already lost so much of its identity. Prioritise the arts they are your point of difference.

5196 - Belinda Andrews

CCC you should not only continue to fund the Arts Centre but you should increase the funding! I am the National Coordinator of ICDFANZ (International Christian Dance Fellowship of Aotearoa New Zealand) and were looking to hire dance spaces for a 6 day global dance conference to be held in Christchurch at the Arts Centre in 2025. We are now unable to do so because the Arts Centre requires the hire fees to be paid in full well before our event starts and with no return of our monies if our event has to be cancelled for any reason due to their lack of funding and cashflow. This makes it impossible for community arts groups like us to function there at all. We are so disappointed as the Arts Centre is iconic historically and is at the heart of the city and has some excellent dance spaces that were available. Many tourists visit the Arts Centre at no cost to wander around and view art spaces where the Arts Centre cannot collect fees so it desperately needs CCC funding to function.. Art is important for the mental health and well being of our citizens - do not neglect the Christchurch's Arts Centre!

5197 - Fiona Caughley

The Arts Centre is iconic in Christchurch, its architecture tells an important part of the story of early Christchurch . So much of our history has been lost. The Arts Centre is part of who we are and worthy of our care and investment for the future.

5199 - Sarah Englefield

I have many happy memories of The Art Centre over 30 plus years, from regular weekend visits to the market when I was a teenager to friends' wedding celebrations in my 20s/30s. In more recent years, it has become a place I often catch up with friends and now my daughter gets to enjoy The Art Centre by participating in the fantastic school holiday programmes. It would be such a shame for Christchurch, which has already lost so much of our past, to lose another Christchurch icon. Please consider funding The Art Centre. Thanks.

5200 - Marlon Villareal

It is a way to know more of the culture, tradition, history of the City/Country especially to those who are tourists or new to the country. Also, it is a way to preserve the history and showcase what the city has.

5201 - Ruth Killoran

To not help fund the Arts Centre is so short sighted. This is so important to Christchurch and brings so much to the city like nothing else in NZ .

5202 - Susan Penfold

I strongly support the funding of the Arts Centre by the Christchurch City Council so it will ensure it's survival. The Arts Centre is very important to me. I live in Christchurch Central and often go there. One of the reasons we moved to where we are living now is that we are within easy walking distance from the Arts Centre. I love going to a film at Lumiere, having a coffee or lunch at Frances Nation, Bunsen or Cellar Door, going to a concert in the Great Hall or just contemplating and enjoying the beautiful architecture and all the amazing restoration work. I have noticed there are many visitors to the city that enjoy the Arts Centre so it is very important for Christchurch.

5203 - Liam Gill

The Arts Centre is a wonderful lively place for both Christchurch citizens and visitors. Its location helps to form a hub with the Art gallery, the Museum, and the Botanical gardens/ Hagley park. One of the city's treasures that should be supported by the CCC always. Its value to the city and the region is immeasurable.

5204 - Paolo Pischiutti

I'm Italian and I know how precious is knowledge of your past. STORY has to be showed, known and learned. Please save the Arts Centre

5205 - Tracy Porteous

Iconic architecture where I go every Saturday and take visitors to see when they are here.

5206 - Lisa Williams

This is such an important tourist attraction for the city and rest of the country that it should be recognised through funding in the long term plan.

5207 - Grant OBrien

Redirect all funding from the ridiculous church rebuild to the arts centre as it actually has some meaning to NZers

5208 - Sal Strati

The Arts Centre represents a singular contribution to the culture and architecture of this city. Ongoing support enriches citizens and visitors with a set of experiences that is both unique and irreplaceable. Large sums have already been expended on the restoration of this globally significant site and the ongoing operational costs are reasonable when compared to the sums expended on the sports stadium and the christchurch cathedral. The site is an anchoring element to the entire Arts Precinct. The arts sector is always placed at low priority, yet imagine the colourless life we would all be living without the richness that the arts bring? These buildings and the activities they support are necessary for any modern city that seeks to offer a diverse range of attractions. Just take a look at how often this site is presented within the marketing of the city, and then imagine having to remove all of those references? Closing these buildings would significantly reduce the attractiveness of this entire zone.

We've lost enough of our built heritage

5209 - Lorraine Pearce

It is a beautiful part of our cultural landscape.

5210 - Michael O Connor

The only way to get the best out of life is to enjoy art

5211 - Nataliya Oryshchuk

The Arts Centre is, in many ways, the symbol of Christchurch. It links rich architectural and cultural heritage of our city with our present and future. It inspires residents of the city and wows visitors from all over the world. It brings life to our city. Its funding is vital for our present and future; it is deeply surprising that this question is even asked. Our taonga must be supported and treasured.

5212 - Steffen Klink

The Arts Centre is a vital part of Christchurch and part of our city's history. I consider the funding a priority, as a contribution towards and continuation of an integral part of Christchurch's fabric.

5213 - Sofia Kennedy

Arts are a necessity not a luxury

5214 - Jorge Anaya Peidro

It's one of the best elements in Christchurch city and the council should ensure it's available for all the citizens to enjoy

5215 - Amelia Howard-Hill

One of the few places worthy of my exorbitant rates!

5216 - Andy Johnson

So much money and energy has been spent on the Arts centre getting it to where it is today. To any visitors coming to Christchurch we always take them to Cellar Door and Francis Nation. There's nothing else like the Arts centre for the atmosphere. It needs to be invested in and I want to see more visitors and more occupants. To see it fail would be an absolute shame.

5217 - Sally-Mae Hudson

The Arts Centre adds such vibrancy to the city by supporting lots of small and local businesses. It is a key part of Christchurch City!

5218 - Calida Jackson

The Arts Centre has always been and should continue to be a place of interest and togetherness and for families and visitors to enjoy. The history of the area and buildings alone should be enough to keep them going.

5219 - Rachel Innes

This is an important landmark for Christchurch. It's disgusting that funding is being poured into yet another stadium and an egomaniac's dream of hosting the commonwealth games which we don't need and not into the existing landmarks that bring important history and culture to the city

5220 - Judy Robertson

The Arts Centre should still be funded as it is a very important part of Christchurch both historically, at present, and in the future. A wonderful attraction for visitors to the city, it helps to keep the city vibrant and appealing and therefore brings more money into the city. After the earthquake people fought long and hard to retain the area and now there are many businesses within its walls and surrounds that are New Zealand made, another reason to encourage visitors to the area. If financial assistance is not given to the Arts Centre it would be utterly disastrous and a real tragedy. The beautiful restoration of the buildings need to be maintained otherwise it would have all been a waste of time and money. I have lived in Christchurch all my life, worked at the University town site in the 60's and 70's and still enjoy wandering around the gorgeous surrounds of the Art Centre. The Christchurch City Council must assist in looking after it through financial assistance.

5221 - Helen Clear

The Arts Centre is a vital resource for Christchurch. It provides a vibrant space for artists. It is a key tourist attraction. It has historical importance to the city and it is simply beautiful. It adds immense value to Christchurch City centre (and the South Island) and funding for it should be prioritised in the long term plan.

5222 - campbell langford

Come on... we've lost enough. This is the heart of our city. Strengthen, not weaken it.

5223 - Elaine Vallender

The Arts are an integral part of wellbeing. Participation in creative activities uses a different part of the brain to sport or normal thinking. The Arts Centre is part of Christchurch's heritage. It is a huge tourist attraction in the centre of the city. It needs to have a financial commitment from the Council to maintain this vibrant attraction.

5224 - Margot Holcroft

The Arts centre is a beautiful hub of artistic and scientific activity. It is thriving and growing singers, artists and astronomers of tomorrow. Why waste more money on structures that haven't even been completed or used yet, the Arts Centre is already working and needs our support.

5225 - Lucy-Mary Mulholland

The art centre is one of the few pre-quake icons left in the city centre. It is so essential for the sense of identity and belonging it brings to people of this city, not to mention it's important hosting role for art, festivals, cafes, bars and workshops. It means so much for so many people and funding it is a true investment into the heart of our place Ōtautahi Christchurch.

5226 - Cate Hampton

Please save the Arts Centre - without art & creativity we are nothing but animals

5227 - Donna Cullimore

It's an iconic part of Christchurch and NZ. Beautiful historical buildings need to be saved.

5228 - Morag Cullimore

Is a wonderful place. A place to meet and relax.

5229 - Christine Sewell

As a long time rate payer and once tenant of the Arts Centre I am very concerned at the prospect of losing the complex through lack of funding. To me the Arts Centre is far more important than either the costly new stadium or the money eating cathedral, and at a fraction of the cost we locals and tourists can continue to enjoy its many important pleasures and pursuits.

5230 - Lucy Hamilton

It is such a beautiful place with wonderful history and heritage in Christchurch and local vendors. To get rid of them would be a total shame and loss to this end of the CBD. Especially with new māketes being introduced it will increase popularity. I remember being younger and wandering around the arts centre with my school and it was incredible to admire the buildings and how they all interweave with many cool things inside.

5231 - Lewis Wayne Trembath

In 2019 I approached my social housing provider to hold an art exhibition for all the artists/ social housing Tennant's. This was televised on tv one news and I was interviewed by Ali Pugh. Otautahi community housing trust now hold this as an annual event. It led to otautahi creative spaces trust networking with the housing provider to make more artistic opportunities for their mental health whaiora in the community. Which had a massive positive public relations response and many vulnerable community members benefits. This was held in the pumanawa exhibition space. Closing the arts centre would be devastating to such vital community providers and members of the public.

5232 - Philippa Dale

The Arts Centre is a beautiful space and is part of Christchurch's rich heritage. It's one of the very few buildings still standing as it was before the earthquakes and offers so many different things for the citizens of the city. I got married there in 2007 (in the great hall) and so for me personally it holds special memories as it does for many. But it can also be part of people's lives going forward! Funding is essential to keep the arts centre alive for generations to enjoy. I hope the council will rethink their current plans. Thank you.

5233 - Mary Luteyn

The arts centre is part of the heart and soul of the city. It's a sad day.

5234 - Bruna Guslandi

It is vital that we have an Arts centre

5235 - Barbara Dixon

The Arts Centre as it is, is such a community treasure. Performances in The Great Hall, surrounded by history, are a great pleasure. The courtyards host summer treats like the buskers performing. When I venture upstairs, I discover talented, awesome artists and artisans. Queens Park Brownies were thrilled with their recent visit, especially to the historic telescope. My Ara students have studied the gallery of bronze heads outside for a project. We also bring all our out-of-town and international visitors here for science (Rutherford) and ice cream (yummy). Future generations deserve to have the chance to appreciate this unique place so please, please find a way to fund it to continue.

5236 - Madeleine Finch

Kia ora, I truly hope that those reading the plethora of submissions made to save the Art Centre are regarded with careful consideration and understanding. If I am honest, I am incredulous at the fact that the Council would consider cutting funding to the Arts Centre. This is on par with refusing to support the Canterbury Museum or Art Gallery. The Arts Centre has long been one of the main cultural hubs of the city, providing free or koha based activities, exhibitions, concerts, markets, and events for locals and visitors, including out tamariki. I myself, having grown up in Christchurch, have garnered many fond memories here; outdoor cinema with friends, solo visits to my favourite cafe, concerts in the hall with my Grandmother, going to the markets, reading in the quad, frequenting the galleries. Markedly, I remember thinking that the re-opening of the Arts Centre post Earthquake meant that my city was finally getting its spirit back after so much destruction. Its vitality over the past few years has been such a pleasure to witness. Seeing this hope, energy and vitality dissolve because our council didn't think it was worth funding would be gut-wrenching. For the past 2 years, I have worked at the Teece Museum of Classical Antiquities in the Arts Centre. Every shift, I come face to face with locals and tourists who fall in love with the place. For them, the Arts Centre is the highlight of their visit to the central city - not Riverside Market, the shops, or the Botanic Gardens. It exists as the biggest tourist attraction here - certainly the most unique - and is one of the oldest public spaces. No other city in Aotearoa has something comparable. Sure, they might have world class museums, amazing galleries, beautiful botanic gardens, or great restaurants, but to have a heritage facility as exciting and accessible as the Arts Centre in addition to all of this is rare. It is a vital component of the city's identity, especially in the 5 year absence of the Canterbury Museum. Furthermore, it is key to marking Christchurch not only as a 'gateway' to the rest of the South Island, but as somewhere worth living and visting. These factors mark the facility not only as a taonga for it's status as a Category One Heritage Landmark the largest in the country), but for its ability to nurture and inspire our people. Therefore, the proposition by the council to drop Art Centre funding does not communicate as a simple solution to save money, but as a slap in the face to the generations upon generations of people who value it. Please, please listen to the experts who are communicating that other forms of governance won't work, and continue to support this mainstay of the city. As someone

5237 - Elizabeth Hepburn

The Arts Centre is one of the few uniquely beautiful buildings we have left in Christchurch. We lost so many historical and heritage buildings in the earthquakes that it would be both devastating and shortsighted to lose any more. Surely as a city we can brainstorm on ways to fund and utilise this incredible place. In my family alone we can think of precious family memories connected to the Arts Centre. Over 60 years ago my mother went to university there. Approximately 30 years ago I attended an outdoor Shakespeare performance and took my 4 month old baby with me. We have visited frequently with out-of-town friends. More recently we have taken graduation photos there and celebrated our son and daughter-in-law's wedding reception. The Arts Centre is woven into the fabric of our city. Please value it and fight to fund, preserve and utilise this special place.

5238 - Kath Patel

Out of all the heritage buildings in Christchurch the Arts Centre is the most iconic. It sits in the most revered part of Christchurch, next to the Botanic Garden. As parts of it are already restored it would be a shame to not complete it. I have to question why the decision was made to start renovating a perfectly operational museum when funds were not secured to complete the Arts Centre.

5239 - Tim Gillies

Fabulous centre that is a cultural icon of Christchurch. Part of the reason I chose to move to the city from the UK

5240 - Sophie Cameron

It is a central and unique place in Christchurch where locals and visitors alike can come to enjoy culture, good food and the rich heritage of our city. The restorations to date have been vital in rebuilding a post earthquake city and it is such a special place. It would be a shame not to complete the job to give Christchurch its own world class attraction. Please don't cut the funding!!!

5241 - Rebekah Weatherby

The arts centre provides a rich artistic and cultural contribution to the city and is integral to the heart of Christchurch.

5242 - Yeni Choi

It is a place where the the community comes together

5243 - Henrique Rupp

The Arts Centre is the soul and identity of Christchurch. One of the most beautiful Victorian Era Buildings in the world. We should strive to make it a humankind cultural heritage.

5244 - Ana Monteiro

The Arts are needed. They inspire people, they stimulate us, provide a break from the monotonous life, instigate thoughts and discussion. If you decide to not fund the Arts Centre, you're also not funding the people. It's a disservice to artists and lovers of arts

5245 - Francesca Thurlow-White

The arts centre is an incredible asset to the city of Christchurch. I have lived here my whole life and still visit the arts centre almost every week. The small businesses that call the arts centre home are incredible and the loss of funding would greatly impact their livelihood and future as businesses. The arts centre won't survive without survive without funding. To cut this funding would be a huge mistake.

5246 - Megan Parr

I am from Auckland and The Arts Centre is the main attraction for me when I visit Christchurch. Such an amazing space that the Christchurch City Council should continue to fund!!!

5247 - Robin Sutton

5248 - Hele Tulett

The arts centre is a central part of New Zealand iconic culture and also a hub for all kinds of learning in Christchurch. As well as being a historic place, I call on you to continue to restore this gem in our city.

5249 - Anne Murray

The Art Centre is a testament to the people who worked on it original and to the people that rebuilt it after the earthquakes. It is of immense historic importance to the people of christchurch. As if that is not enough, it showcases wonderfully talented artisans who work there. We have spent a fortune on the cathedral, when those that owned it let it sit and fall into disrepair. In contrast those in charge of the Arts Centre got on with the work and saved our precious history and our future. We are all custodians of this beautiful landmark.

5250 - Jacqueline Storey

Greetings to you. The Arts Centre is a stunning iconic piece of history in Christchurch. Its value is immeasurable. Fortunately it was repaired following the devastating earthquakes. So why waste that work and money? Please fund this special place so that we and tourists can continue to enjoy and utilise it. Thank you. Jacqueline

5251 - Jo Johns

This a fabulous group of buildings of historical significance to Christchurch and to all who live in Canterbury. Christchurch city is so beautiful the rebuild is a credit to all and the Art Centre is an integral part of this. Surely the council must realise this. The Arts Centre should be funded.

5252 - Adrienne McGowan

This heritage area - the site of the first state secondary schools, Christchurch Boys' and Girls' High Schools, and then the first site of Canterbury College, now the University of Canterbury, in the fledgling city of Christchurch, is why the Christchurch Arts Centre should be supported by the Christchurch City Council, representing the people of Christchurch, and kept as a working organisation, keeping the museum status of the 21 buildings that have NZ Historic Places Category One designation and having them open for local arts businesses to function in this wonderfully historic setting.

5253 - Libby MacGregor

To help show the importance of art in a community.

5254 - Iain Haysom

Arts are a vital component of a healthy functional society (and I write as a scientist). The Arts Centre is a vital community hub, bringing together locals and tourists and deserves to receive funding from the City Council.

5255 - Julie Bolt

Have you been there lately? It such a special place! A huge part of Christchurch history. A beautiful place for people to congregate/ meet up/ contemplate. Lots of tourists and locals enjoying the architecture and shops. So close to the beautiful botanic gardens that it is almost an extension. Not many historic buildings left in the city anymore. Important that it keeps it's funding.

5256 - Laura Heron

The arts centre is the best it is so vital to the culture and community in chch and it would be a huge loss to the community if it lost funding

5257 - Margaret Flanagan

The Arts Centre is an important part of the uniqueness of Christchurch. I take all my visitors there and I am a regular user of the cinema, the restaurants and cafes and the market. I wish there was a solution to repair the Dux Delux. Yes money is tight but keeping the Arts Centre going is a long term investment in the future of Christchurch as a destination.

5258 - Xenia Sekeris

The Arts Centre is a very special part of Christchurch, I have so many memories here as a child and now I am making new memories with my own children here every week! After all that's been done to restore this beautiful place we need to do what we can to keep it ours.

5259 - Jane Marshall

It is iconic!! We live it!!

5260 - Kerrin Brizzell

the arts centre is so important as a central hub to chch - if it is gone the city will lose appeal and interest. The buildings are amazing and have such valuable history, and this gives character and context to the city. The place gives venues for the arts, for artists and artist groups and there are so many studies that show the value of this in a city. The Arts centre means so much to me, having grown up in chch, - it has been a real central hub with many places and events to go to for many years. It would be a real missed opportunity for the future appeal of our city, if you were to let it go.

5261 - Catherine Stowell

I have been a regular member of the Concerts for ChCh Monday & Tuesday for years & I think it is ChCh 's secret that we have such wonderful entertainment at a an affordable price oh. Please give them your funding & as a ratepayer have no objection to a rates rise to save these wonderful buildings
Thank you all Cath Q

5262 - Colleen Linnell

Please fund the Art Centre because the things that happen within that precinct are important to the wellbeing of the community

5263 - Ingrid Wood

Because it is iconic it is history it's a tourist spot it's a local spot, and I had my first date there 30 years ago.

5264 - Peter Griffin

Love the Arts Centre and I value it as an important part of Christchurch's social fabric. Please fund it's ongoing existence.

5265 - Vanessa Scholes

I want The Arts Centre to be funded. The Arts Centre was a destination for me as a teenager and young adult, and now is a destination for my children and our family as a whole. I want to see it flourish, not diminish.

5266 - Jill McCaw

The Arts Centre is part of the fabric of Christchurch and one of the few historical areas remaining in the city. I understand nearly $140 million went into restoration post earthquake. Why on earth would you let that go?

5267 - Sue Jenkinson

The Arts Centre is an integral part of the new city. It needs to be funded and filled with tenants and events not just for Christchurch residents but as a tourist destination. The rebuilt city is not a draw card for tourists but what remains of the old city certainly is,

5268 - Chris McGill

The Arts Centre is one of the iconic buildings and central city locations remaining post quake in Otautahi. It is the home of many artisan businesses and activities essential to making Otautahi a living city for both residents and visitors alike. It is a taonga of Otautahi, funding must be integral to any long term CCC planning.

5269 - Kirsten Anderson

The Arts Centre is fundamentally important to the community and as a rate payer with an Invested interest in the arts it is vital that Christchurch City Council supports them to stay open.

5270 - Barb Allen

This is an iconic Christchurch building loved by locals and tourists. The council should be contributing to this funding. I spend many hours at the centre visiting cafes and shops and notice how many tourists are there taking photos. They take the tram down and stop specifically for the Arts Centre and the gardens. Once the museum reopens this foot traffic will increase. How amazing it would be to enhance Worcester Street and make this area the jewel in the crown for Christchurch.

5271 - robert young

The Art Centre is the heart and soul of Christchurch (my birth hometown)

5272 - Kate ten Bove

Loosing this space will kill so many buisnesses. The arts Centre has so much to offer, especially bring in revenue from tourists that provide a financial support for a city still trying to rebuild itself

5273 - Alexis Mavromatis

The Arts Centre is incredibly important to this city. It's unique to Christchurch and full of history. Christchurch central is already becoming a ghost town. Please don't allow this place to close and become another reason for people not to go into town or visitors to come to Christchurch. It's one of the few places that has family friendly activities too. Christchurch wouldn't be Christchurch without this place.

5274 - Leeanne Campbell

Because it is the heart of chch

5275 - Leanne Baird

The Arts Centre speaks of Christchurch, it is without doubt one of the primary anchors for the city. I am in the city a lot. Countless times tourists have come up to me asking where is the Arts Centre? It is magnificent series of architecture and needs to be resourced logically as why wouldn't you? It is the Jewell in the Crown. There is the journey over the bridge down Worcester street, or walking past the river, past the Art Gallery, down to the Arts Centre, leading to the Museum and then, finally the Botanical Gardens. You have an opportunity to make this whole area, a fantastic tribute to this city, there has to be a solid dedication from the council to do this, as to neglect to do so, future generations would be questioning the rationale behind the reasons not to. You have something that should be cherished and restored fully to its original condition, so future generations who live here can experience it and be grateful that the council we have now, made the right sorts of decisions when it came to preserving our historical architecture that remains, especially one of the most crucial parts of the city, the Arts Centre. Also why don't you establish a market like the one in Nelson in the Arts Centre? (The market there at present is somewhat lacking) There are plenty of opportunities to get the general public to this area, along with the Art Gallery the Museum, the gardens. You must fund the Arts Centre, it just makes sense, it has to be preserved.

5276 - David McDonald

It a icon of Christchurch. Tourists flocked there as did locals. You had the market food stool.

5277 - George Sinclair

The Arts Centre is a vital attraction for the inner are of Christchurch for both the local community & visitors from abroad. The centre unfortunately I don't think would survive in the currant economic climate without additional funding. It would be a tragedy to see this most beautiful precinct to not be able to continue.

5278 - Celia Grigg

The Arts Centre absolutely needs funding! As a rate payer i would hate to see it lost as a result of short sighted Council decision making. It is iconic, beautiful and a very important tourist (and local) destination. It's heritage is undeniable, both locally and nationally. It is important culturally, socially and economically!

5279 - Michael Gorman

It is a treasure owned by the rate payer and we have a duty to support the ARTS Centre. It is beautiful and historic and also useful. All Christchurch benefits by having such an asset and while we are living in difficult economic times we must look after the centre and use it to foster the arts, encourage an awareness of our history and enjoy the wonderful possession.

528 - Eva Chevallier

Amazing place ! Tank you

5280 - Christine Ussher

The Arts Centre is pivotal to Christchurch. It offers so many opportunities and is at the heart of the city. This is what brings life to Christchurch- and so many visitors. I am very happy to contribute through my rates.

5281 - Neeraj Painuli

please don't do this

5282 - Dan Agnew

If you remove funding for the Arts Centre you'll succeed at being the most hated and disgusting local council we've had. You'll rip a part of Christchurchs soul out and that'll cause permanent damage.

5283 - Lucy Alborn

The Arts Centre is a critical and significant place historically, socially and economically for the city of Christchurch. Whilst it is very expensive to repair it must happen, it can happen slowly and steadily but it must happen. The fact that the management have been so slack in getting a high revenue hospitality establishment such as the reinstatement of The Dux is outrageous. The people of CHC want it, it's seen as an institution and could have contributed significantly to the income stream to make the Arts Centre sustainability and viable. Whoever is in charge of these decision needs to be removed and replaced by a person or people that have commercial acumen.

5284 - Melissa Tau

We are losing the original culture of Christchurch and we have hardly anything left from after the earthquake We need the arts centre we need art or we will become the most heartless city in New Zealand

5285 - Caroline O'Donnell

It's one of the few interesting places left in town. When ever I've been there there have been far more tourists than any other area in town. It's an essential part of chch

5286 - Lauren Steel

The Arts & Culture in Chch at the Arts Centre need to be supported in order to provide alternative options of entertainment for people to enjoy. Not all rate-payers in Chch and the surrounding areas are sports enthusiasts. The Arts Centre has historically provided a locale where art, theatre, music and cultural activities are celebrated; this needs to be supported by Council to maintain an equity in funding. The Arts Centre is also a big draw in terms of Tourism. Visitors appreciate the uniqueness/history of the Arts Centre and this won't continue to be a draw to visitors if the lack of funding means the centre will decline in opportunities offered and/or general appeal to the public to visit. Loss of revenue will also have an impact on employment for those people who are working in the Arts. The Arts Centre provides a balance in Christchurch to our community and should be supported by it's Council.

5287 - Margo Angland-Boerop

It is a beautiful center that draws in visitors and provides opportunities for locals. A real draw card for the Central city that keeps you coming back.

5288 - Elena Jung

The Arts Centre is one of my favorite places to go to. It has such a unique atmosphere to it. It is also an important historical place that has to be kept the way it has been. I have only seen improvements done to it over the past years. To stop the funding would mean a huge step back.

5289 - Nina Seiterle

Irreplaceable for Christchurch residents and tourists

5290 - Joshua Gojak-Duymel

Are you daft?? Why would you not support one of the most beautiful pieces of architecture in the city? This is nonsensical.

5291 - Elena GOLUBKOVA

I'm a leader of Russian speaking community in Christchurch. Many of our fellow members have an experience using the programs here and being a part of the Art Community. In the desperation of saving money we still need to think about why we are here for.

5292 - Kate Burdes

The Arts Centre is a fundamental and integral part of our city and shows our city's history! I'm a teenager and I want to grow up and my children to grow up with The Arts Centre just like generations before us.

5293 - Alex Major

The Arts Centre is the heart of our city.

5294 - Amanda Grindle

As a tourist in to christchurch this is an incredible spot to visit and enjoy. It would be a shame for the arts centre to lose its funding. I would recommend tourist visiting this area if it remained the beautiful spot it currently is.

5295 - Mike Crawford

The arts centre has been our destination many weekends with many rich attractions: music, theatre, and art. To lose this for Christchurch families would be devastating. Please reconsider and give the funding it deserves.

5296 - Vong Retome

In a world full of digital content, it is refreshing to know that art centres and galleries still exist to serve as a platform for artists to showcase their works and to promote cultural awareness, and CHC doesn't have a lot of this kind of institution. Please CHC City Council give the thriving The Arts Centre a chance.

5297 - Stuart Broughton

The Arts Centre is at the heart of Christchurch city, culturally, emotionally, commercially, and historically. CCC should continue to fund its rebuild.

5298 - David H Ivory

This vibrant space is a great asset to Christchurch - we go regularly and recommend tourists visit. It's a shame council did not accept commercial funding of the Dux renovation - so that means the rest of the Arts Centre needs funding.

5299 - Katie Gehrke

Arts funding is essential to allow creative expression for generations to come.

5300 - Graeme Wood

These are the buildings that helped the forming of the city of Christchurch, the same as the Christ Church cathedral.

5301 - Masi Shiran

It is one of the unique features of Christchurch

5302 - Kiera Joblin

Our city needs some heritage and soul, post earthquakes there is little that feels like it has soul around the city. It's vital we keep a part of our rich history

5303 - Hannah Pressman

The Arts Centre has only just started to provide arts and entertainment to Chch again in the last few years and is such a huge asset to the cities residents, as well as attracting tourism and artists to the city. Don't waste it now!

5304 - Glorianne Koh

The Arts Centre brings people together; it's a catalyst for human connection, sharing and appreciation of knowledge, history, culture and for small and local businesses to thrive. It is very much the essence of what Christchurch is all about.

5305 - Mia Griffiths

Please keep funding this iconic building in Christchurch. After all that we have been through and the beautiful buildings we have lost, the Arts Centre needs to be kept. It is a thriving community for all the talented artists and musicians we have in our city.

5306 - weili tsai

Here is the cultural hub always open for Chch to both citizens and tourists.

5307 - Jennifer Stone

The Arts Centre is an iconic Christchurch venue attracting visitors to the city . It has both historic and cultural value. It is unique and should be funded and maintained. Please reconsider the decision to cut funding.

5308 - Adam Duchac

The Arts Centre is a pillar of Christchurch, for both locals and tourists, and deserves funding to remain the thriving community space it is. Not funding the space is unacceptable.

5309 - Svetoslava Aleksieva Bryant

Please support the Arts Centre - it is such an iconic part of the city! We love visiting it as a family.

5310 - Annette Rotherham

The art centre is the heart of our cultural heritage and has so much potential for bringing the community together. After all the waiting and restoration post quakes it needs to be completed and made use of. The great hall, the cafes, the galleries, and the quad area all hold treasured memories of living and growing up here in Christchurch and everyone needs to experience that. A must see for tourists too.

5311 - Jeanie Rickerby

We lost so many of our lovely old buildings because of the earthquakes we do not dare let these beautiful Mountfort buildings fall into disrepair. They are part of our heritage and are much loved by Christchurch citizens and tourists. We need the Arts Centre to be fully functioning again.

5312 - Evelyn Lalahi

One of the primary historical sites which is actually visited and used by many locals and many visitors

5313 - Brynlea Hunter-Morpeth

It's an amazing resource for the people of Christchurch that makes the city unique and special. Don't let it go.

5314 - Chrissy Mansbridge

Our city has lost so much. Enough already.

5315 - Meg Falconer

The Arts Center is an absolute Taonga - it is both a treasure to residents and tourists alike. It is only getting better and better and it would be an incredible shame for it to go unfunded!!!

5316 - Tineke Matthewson

the art centre is one of the cities true joys. it's such a hub, it's allowed so many small businesses to flourish, having it survive the quakes only to fall apart due to a lack of funding would be heartbreaking.

5317 - Graeme Ferguson

Christchurch needs a vibrant and accessible Arts Centre for the cultural, artistic and spiritual life of the city. Lunchtime concerts at the Great Hall, films, performance festivals, places to relax and recreate with family and friends, boutique shopping and galleries all in important heritage surroundings make valuable contributions to the life of Christchurch city. It shortsighted to cut funding to such essential and enriching activities.

5318 - Andy Brigden

The Arts Centre is vital as a hub of creativity in Christchurch. It provides the community many opportunities to engage with a wide range of arts activities, and for artists to develop new work and sustain their practice. The Arts Centre enables connection and collaboration.

5319 - Emily O'Connell

Please continue to fund it - it's well used, love and treasured in Christchurch. It's also one of the last standing older buildings.

5320 - Katherine Moody

The Arts Centre is a crucial part of the city's appeal, both for locals and tourists. They have worked so hard to rebuild, and to be defended would be a big blow for the city's economy.

5321 - Robert Bisquera

The Christchurch City Council needs to fund The Arts Centre as a part of their Long Term Plan. Being one of the few refurbished historic sites, The Arts Centre is a proud nod to Christchurch's heritage architecture and requires funding to maintain its aesthetic and functional needs. It is one of the major landmarks for tourists visiting Christchurch and helps define itself against the other major New Zealand cities. The numerous events, markets, performances and exhibitions that occur there all add to the lively feel of the CBD. Without funding, I fear that any amount of scaling down of these events will eventually kill off the community atmosphere and limit the options of city dwellers and tourists alike. One can only go to Riverside Market so many times. I acknowledge that the council only has limited funding and therefore I would like to propose that Te Kaha have some funding reallocated to the Arts Centre. Te Kaha, while an ambitious and potentially lucrative project, will require so much more infrastructure and service changes around the CBD that for it to be effective, its 2027 completion should be dragged out in co-ordination with transport plans, better road infrastructure and more substantial accomodation options.

5322 - Stephanie Rolinson

The Arts Centre is an Iconic Christchurch destination for locals and tourists. As a Christchurch local I feel we need to invest in our beautiful character destinations. Isn't it great to have the Museum, Arts Centre and Art Gallery all in close proximity. We deserve to have beautiful character features alongside modern buildings and a sense of optimism and vibrancy in Christchurch.

5323 - Jesse Rubenstein

Artist residencies are important. Free movies on the lawn are important. The businesses and shops at the arts centre are important.

5324 - Marianne Richards

Ever since our family arrived in Christchurch almost 30 years ago, it has been the Arts Centre that has drawn us in for events, buskers, markets and concerts. It's unique feel and the proximity to the botanic gardens and the museum (and the Art Gallery) all contribute to the feeling that Christchurch has a heart. Please don't kill it! We need this heart more than ever before. Thank you

5325 - Juliet Sullivan

It is such an important part of NZ and a priority. Don't waste money on Harewood rd cycle way.

5326 - Avril Lockhead

I was at the Arts Centre today where we spent several hours being entertained by both a public performance and enjoying restaurants, shops and atmosphere. The place was buzzing with locals and tourists. The Arts Centre has a special place in my heart having worked there for many years.

5327 - Paul Paul Brown

Keep the art's, balance with sports.

5328 - Linda Creed

Please continue to fund the Arts Centre. It is one of our few remaining historic precincts. It is accessible and relatable to everyone. The arts should not have to compete for funding with sport. The arts broaden minds, feed the soul and promote reflection and diversity for all ages and abilities. The Art Centre is looking stunning (except for our poor Dux Delux - please let Richard Sinke do his thing). It is clearly well managed and well cared for. Located close to public transport and the museum and botanic gardens it is an uplifting destination where we can gather, share, and entertain guests and each other. Privatising or mothballing would be yet another loss to those of us who will always mourn our beautiful old buildings. The history embodied in the Arts Centre adds substance to our bright buzzy new central city.

5329 - Alina White

My family go to so many amazing events in the Arts Centre, and enjoy visiting the museums. It's just such a beautiful space and in such a great location. I can't understand why you wouldn't fund it?!

5330 - Kathleen Himiona

It's vital to the heart of the community.

5331 - Lisa Burdes

I was lucky enough to grow up spending huge amounts of time at the Arts Centre. To me it's the heart of our city - and watching tourists' love of it makes me proud to call this home. I want my children and grandchildren in the future to experience the joy of our beautiful Arts Centre. Please prioritise funding it.

5332 - Ren Sykes

One of Christchurch's top tourist attractions and the council won't fund it? Beggars belief really. They didn't mind spending millions on stuffing up Rolleston Avenue, must have blown the budget eh!

5333 - Clare Goodwin

The Arts Centre is the best thing about Christchurch. It has history, art, beautiful buildings, a place to hang out, shops selling quality New Zealand made items and lots more. It is my favourite place in the city. Without the Arts Centre, Christchurch would be a much less interesting place.

5334 - Bridget Whitteker

It's an important part of Christchurch heritage.

5335 - Ezra Prattley

The Arts Centre is a hub for so many different arts programmes and groups. Arts are incredibly undervalued in New Zealand, and provide a valuable form of expression and communication between groups in an increasingly diverse and divided society. CCC should prioritise funding for the Arts Centre, so that it continues to be a place for artists to practice and to show work; and to increase the attraction of Christchurch as a location for artists to practice their craft.

5336 - Jadene Irvine

This is the culture of Christchurch. It adds benefits to tourism - it's the heart of tourism Chch. It's the heart of Chch humble beginnings so has historic significance and importance. I want my children to know where I grew up doing dancing concerts and have their own child hood experience also.

5337 - Lila Wright

it's an important cultural symbol of christchurch

5338 - Marja Blom

The Art Centre is the most beautiful building in town It is important for the people of Christchurch and tourism

5339 - Megan Barnacle

It means so much to so many. Generations have felt meaning there. It deserves preservation as a public space that upholds the arts.

5340 - Warwick Aiken

The centre is part of the soul of Christchurch

5341 - Rebecca de Haas

The Arts Centre with all its businesses and events are a crucial part of Christchurch's creative precinct. It's a unique local scene with vital educational, cultural and social offerings. Far more to offer than an old cathedral.

5342 - Holly Ramsay

We have lost so many historic beautiful buildings due to the earthquakes 2011. The art centre is one of these. The weekend art markets have drawn people from all over into the cbd for unique and culturally significant opportunities to enjoy arts and craft and to purchase beautiful gifts. The food markets and artisan outlets all in one place have brought people from all over the world. The millions spent elsewhere on architecture and sport arenas will not replace our colonial history. The history comes from the original build of the university of Canterbury on site. Education given to people such as Rutherford who split the atom happened here in these Gothic revival buildings. Taught by Bickerton the renowned physicist brought in the late 1800s from England. So much of Christchurch's colonial history was centered in these buildings please do not destroy this treasure. Much of the historical content regenerated in the cbd is now linked solely to Maori history. I'm a 6 generation Cantabrian. My grandfather arrived here in 1825. These buildings represent the incredible belief that this place was a powerful place of learning. So sad and wrong to let it go.

5343 - Sari Tokona

Historic buildings filled with so many memories. Always take visitors to view.

5344 - Yulianna MATVIETS

It's very important to save the building to the Art centre as the place where parents can introduce art for their children. With rising prices and financial struggles for many families, any actions towards self-funding of the Art centre will take off any chance for these families and their children to be culturally aware of the Art.

5345 - Karen Fincham

The CCC should support the Arts Center financially as this corner of Christchurch is an important collection of buildings with immense history and beautiful character. The post earthquake restoration has been impressive and made me love and admire this place even more than beforehand. I have always considered this area of the city to be the heart of Christchurch where there is something to interest everyone, so this centre needs the support of CCC and its ratepayers.

5346 - Mark Palmer

The Art Centre is an integral part of the city, it has an important place in world history, the Rutherford room is just one. As a council you cannot afford to not fund this amazing complex.

5347 - Amanda Perry

This place has been a special home to so many people in Christchurch. Far more than the Cathedral. It feels like home for people in the arts community many of whom have no use for a sport stadium. Keep the art in the arts centre. Please help it to flourish and survive.

5348 - Jenny Penter

One of the last areas left in. Christchurch like this and most of the work is done it's a Taonga for our city!!!!

5349 - Pam Shanks

Please please fund the Arts Centre - the cultural heart of Christchurch city

5350 - Harriet Bowker

The art centre is a monumental part of the central city and gathering space for communities, as well as housing a number of small Christchurch businesses that support artisan makers and counter fast retail with a tailored and unique experience. The Art Centre brings energy and opportunity to this historic site.

5351 - Ruth Leslie

The Art centre has been part of Christchurch's soul for many years.. An important historic area and meeting place. The earthquakes destroyed so many amazing architectural and historic buildings. Please continue to fund and look after such an important area. Alongside the Arr gallery both very special places I love to go too regularly. The Arts are so important for everyone.

5352 - Harrison Macpherson

It is an important part of the city centre for not only tourism but the city's identity. From my understanding, it makes more fiscal sense to fund the arts centre so it can remain an independent entity and receive donations/grants. Otherwise, if the arts centre goes into liquidation and the council takes ownership, they can no longer take donations and grants so it will end up costing more in the long run.

5353 - Jo Musson

This is a place residents of all ages and levels of fitness can enjoy. Unlike the pool, rugby stadium and bike lanes. It is our heritage and a beautiful place.

5354 - Ellis Hare-reid

Don't be utterly useless as per usual and keep a piece of Christchurch history up for everyone to see and love. It's a piece of beautiful architecture and my family love going there in any season. It would be a great disappointment if the council were to no fund it

5355 - Jason Ware

The Christchurch Arts Centre is one of the last remaining historical areas. The Arts Centre has provided us with entertainment, cultural engagement, hospitality, art and music for ever. It is still one of our favourite places to go for hospitality, and the arts. Much effort has also gone into rebuilding the damaged site. Please don't lay it all to waste.

5356 - Kathryn MacCallum

The Art Center is hugely important for the community. It is my son's favourite place to visit when in town. Christchurch needs the Art centre and I can't see it being the same without this. It's not just attracts tourist but it's a place for young children to engage and learn. Christchurch would be much the poorer without it.

5357 - Kay Hobson

One of the only significant historical buildings that remain after the 2011 ChCh earthquake. It embodies the past, present and future as our most important unifying art centre in Christchurch and Canterbury.

5358 - Katie Russell

It's a totally unique place and so special for Christchurch

5359 - Beth Ataria

A piece of old Christchurch, a taonga.

5360 - Isabella Dennis

To the Christchurch City Council, investing in The Arts Centre is not just about supporting culture; it's about nurturing the heart of our city. Ultimately, the Arts Centre is a hub of creativity, education, and community engagement. By funding it, you're not just supporting the arts; you're investing in the wellbeing of Christchurch as a whole. - Isabella

5361 - Jesse Main

We have lost enough of our heritage city, do not take away the art center way as well.

5362 - Kris Poulter

The Arts Centre is such a unique part of Chch; Its buildings and the atmosphere it creates is incredible -such an essential part of the City's history. Funding must be made available to secure its future for generations to come,

5363 - Michelle Hurnik

There is very little funding for the arts overall. The Arts Centre is the Historical Heart of the Arts and Music in Christchurch, to cut them off will be very detrimental to the Artistic and Musical culture of Christchurch.

5364 - Mitchell Klein

With the cathedral's completion uncertain, it is ever more imperative that Christchurch protect the heritage it has left. The Arts Centre and little remaining heritage Christchurch has sets our city apart from others in New Zealand - it's the most beautiful city centre to hang out and work in. When you walk past the Arts Centre any day of the week, you can also see the enormous value it has as a tourist attraction and community centre, obviously generating economic activity. The cost of retaining the Arts Centre is essential spend if we want Christchurch to be a great place to live and visit. Cut funding somewhere else, slow new projects down for example. Christchurch has lost so much heritage by way of earthquakes, don't destroy even more through dumb decisions.

5365 - Luke Belcher

You'd be putting not only the staff at the arts centre out of work but all the artists who use the space also. Christchurch is already underrepresenting the arts, we need more vibrance in the city which is something only the arts can achieve.

5366 - James Burt

Please don't close our beautiful art centre. It brings tourists and life to the area

5367 - Karen Villareal

The Arts Centre keeps the city's culture alive with events and exhibitions that everyone can enjoy. It's a place where people of all ages and backgrounds can meet, learn, and have fun. Tourists love visiting the Arts Centre, which means more money spent in local businesses. It's an important part of Christchurch's history and needs funding to keep it in good shape for the future. By funding the Arts Centre, we're helping local artists and creatives thrive. With council support, we can keep ticket prices low or even free, so everyone can join in. Investing in the Arts Centre helps make our city center more vibrant and attractive to residents and visitors alike.

5368 - Maybelle Dellow

Art centres are so important to our communities, especially in a time where everything else sucks. Life is hard, everything is expensive and people need a safe outlet for their thoughts and feelings.

5369 - Bob Gillard

The Arts Centre is a Heritage icon of our City and a drawcard for tourists and locals. The Arts Centre must be supported by CCC for the ongoing future as an important part of the City's cultural heritage. I make this submission to CCC as a ratepayer of the City and a proud Cantabrian being a direct descendant of my family who arrived in our City on the Sir George Seymour in December 1850.

5370 - Ness Arps

I like the arts centre

5371 - Dave Adams

Such an important part of Christchurch! Save it now, don't spend truckloads trying to restart it later.

5372 - Annabel Gilchrist

Beautiful, trendy vibes. A huge attraction.

5373 - Larah Morrison

I love art. This is an icon in chch

5374 - Carlo Gomez

Save the Art Centre, such a crucial part of the Arts and our city.

5375 - Rudyanto Witaria

We should save this magnificent place of art

5376 - nick bromhead

i bet you more people use the arts centre than your bike lanes.

5377 - Maria Gill

Kia ora, I heartily agree that the Christchurch Arts Centre should get funding. I had the wonderful opportunity to spend time at the Arts Centre when I was given a 3-month residency in 2022. It enabled me to write a children's book on Sir Ernest Rutherford, one of the world's greatest scientists, and it has since been published (by Upstart Press). I was able to visit Rutherford's Den, wander the grounds where he attended university, and have valuable time just writing. This opportunity has also been given to other talented authors, artists, and actors. It makes a huge difference to creatives' productivity and makes them feel valued when given a residency at the Arts Centre. It is also a valuable resource for the Christchurch locals to see and hear artists from all over New Zealand in such a creative environment. Please give them the funding they need to keep the Arts Centre going.

5378 - Liam Spring

Over the last 5 years since I've moved to Christchurch I've seen the arts centre spring into the unique community hub that it is today. Whether it's a simple coffee at Bunsen, a visit to the classics museum, a stroll through the Victorian-era patio, or a live performance on the green, I constantly find myself being inspired. It's also fossilised what Christchurch may have been prior to the earthquakes, a place to escape the modernity of cashel street. Cutting funding to arts centre would mean displacing cultural experiences that are yearned for in modern suburbia, and therefore stripping part of the city's identity.

5379 - Maria Khait

Because we need the Art Center

5380 - Caroline Stockman

These buildings are an iconic and irreplaceable part of what Christchurch is. They are functional and functioning. As a tourist attraction they have the ability to draw people to the inner city and already support the arts within Christchurch.

5381 - Federico Liaudat

It is an amazing place to visit and stay, which will need funding to continues the development

5382 - Reuben Derrick

A substantial part of cultural life in Ōtautahi Christchurch has for decades depended on the facilities and services provided by the Arts Centre. During my life I have attended countless performances, films and exhibitions there, and as an artist it has been a place where I have worked in so many different contexts during the past 30 years. There is no other local site that draws in such creative diversity, thus providing unique opportunities for bothr artists and audiences. The Arts Centre is therefore absolutely crucial to the cultural life of the city and In order to continue to thrive, its management must remain in safe hands requiring Christchurch City Council support. If this support is abandoned as planned, then the infrastructure and services The Arts Centre provides for the city will fail. To effectively destroy this infrastructure would be a profoundly regressive decision. How can it make fiscal and cultural sense to defund something that is so important and yet, in the grand scheme of things, only a modest expense? To proceed with this poorly considered and short-sighted plan to defund the Arts Centre would be a devastating, soul-deflating and ultimately fiscally stupid move for the cultural life of this city.

5383 - Andrea Birchner

Because the art is the connection with liberty.

5384 - Allison Love

We love coming with the kids to arts workshops here. Christchurch needs to do all it can to boost its vibrancy to stop young, cool families moving to bigger cities in NZ or to Melbourne etc.

5385 - Gavin Fantastic

The arts are already underfunded and struggling to exist. Without the arts, who are we as a civilisation? The arts center is an important part of the community in Christchurch City and the greater New Zealand arts scene. We need it to be funded and saved from dissolution.

5386 - Anne Aiken

This is an iconic destination for tourists and residents alike. It's historic past as our original university and connection to Rutherford is significant. The architecture is a beautiful nod to our history. The thought of losing The Arts Centre in it's current role and the associated loss of maintainance is unthinkable.

5387 - Marion France

Better to save and fund the Art Centre, after all that beautiful stone work etc and used by many people. Don't put any of MY MONEY INTO CATHEDRAL, not used as much as Art Centre. what happened to the three designs we voted on? Could have been finished now. Knock it down now before bleeds more money, so the rest of the Square can get on with their lives and get some colour back there

5388 - Kylie D'Alessandro

It would be a major management failure on behalf of the council to lose the arts centre. It's a wonderful, diverse space that has given me, my family and friends joy for many years. A creative hub, tourist attraction and evidence of the growing cultural landscape of Christchurch. We can't be known only as a city that hosts sporting events. It's too one dimensional. Find the funding - surely you haven't applied my significant rates increase to senior staff salaries instead? Thankyou for your attention.

5389 - Rachel Dick

It's of historic importance, we must keep it. It's utilised by so many. Young and old. I'm sitting on a bench today and soaking up the atmosphere of tourists taking photos, children playing activities on school hols and for me it's a moment of peace and serenity during a busy work day where I can enjoy my lunch. Please save the arts centre. Christchurch has lost so much of its history in recent years, we can't lose this too!

5390 - Catherine Drayton

The Arts Centre is a tourism asset: the museum, the gardens and the arts centre need to be considered as a synergistic group. Arguably that synergistic group includes the art gallery. As we saw, when we lost it after our earthquakes, tourism is very important to Christchurch and wider Canterbury. The community also consider these three assets (arts centre, museum and gardens) as an important community asset. Finally, all three of these assets are of historical significance. So important from a tourism, community and historical perspective. The funding for the Arts Centre is primarily dependent on grants from organisations other than CCC and rental income. However, if the CCC funding stops then other, larger funding may fall away. It is important that the CCC adopts a more multi-generational perspective to their planning and funding decisions. As a general comment, if you have to cut funding then you need to give substantial (multi year) notice so that organisations have a genuine opportunity to find alternative sources. In the case of the arts centre they have been very active in finding alternative funding sources. To fail to acknowledge that, and to give such short notice, is inappropriate. Finally, a) do you have an under-performing CEO at the arts centre. Far from it: he has a proven track record of running organisations profitably (such as the court theatre) where the rest of the nation has struggled and he dealt with the rebuilt post EQs. b) do you have an under-performing Char? Far from it: you have the CFO of Naylor Love who is also a fellow of CAANZ. Bottom line: This asset is important from a tourism, community and historical perspective. It has a synergistic relationship with the gardens and the museum (and possibly the arts centre). You have a very competent CEO and Chair. The CCC funding is important to enable the much more substantial "other" funding. If that "other" funding falls away, the arts centre will default. CCC needs to take a multi-generational approach to funding community/tourism/historical assets. From a personal perspective, I consider the combination of the arts centre, the museum and the garden far more important than the Cathedral (which the Anglican Church knowingly under-insured). I am a former director and chair of a CCHL subsidiary. I write this with full knowledge of the funding issues that both CCHL and CCC face. Catherine Drayton

5391 - Rachael Hudson

The arts centre is one of the best things about Christchurch.

5392 - Elizabeth Johnston

It is such an important historical and cultural place at the heart of the city! In a Christchurch that lost so much in the earthquake, this gem MUST be funded and continue to be the special place it is for people to gather, explore, learn and enjoy.

5393 - Hollie Schwass

This is the heart of our city. Without arts, Christchurch wouldn't be what it is. Our city needs this. It is a place of community, expression and individuality. As a musician and someone involved in the arts heavily, this place is necessary to our ecosystem as a city.

5394 - Rick Hallifax

Please fund the Arts Centre it is the best thing about Christchurch - history, beauty, practical and unique. What a treasure! Cheers Rick Hallifax Rate payer 1 The Spur Sumner

5395 - Martina Van den Heuvel

Please support the Arts Centre

5396 - Alex Hallifax

The Arts Centre is a vital historical piece of Christchurch's history. This is a community building space that needs your support!

5397 - Ella Pountney

As well as being a tourist hot spot for local art. When we have family and friends who visit they all go to the Arts Centre and rave about it! The education program is awesome and losing that for the Canterbury schools would be a shame.

5398 - Paul Murphy

The arts centre holds more relevance for Christchurch visitors and locals than any other city building. It must be funded allowing people from all groups, nationality's and backgrounds to visit, express forms of art and enjoy the cultural heritage of Christchurch.

5399 - Nilufar Nuthall

To raise the culture in the city of Christchurch. Christchurch is becoming a more vibrant and exciting place to visit and settle. In the future it's going to be very important for Christchurch to have invested in the arts, a vital and integral part of tourism. The arts represents current affairs, the status quo.

5400 - Aimée Aiken

It is one of the great treasures of Christchurch

5401 - Arielle Heslop

The Arts Centre is an important part of Christchurch's history as well as an important cultural staple in the city. The space it provides for students, artists and the like cannot be overstated in it's impact on the community.

5402 - Natasha Melley

The arts centre is a local treasure for young and old alike.

5403 - Philip Norman

Why should the Christchurch City Council continue to fund The Arts Centre? It beggars belief that this question should even be asked, let alone be in urgent need of answering. The Arts Centre is an architectural gift from the past to all who live and visit here now. As current custodians of the gift we owe it to those who come after us to preserve what was given us and what we have enjoyed for so long. The Arts Centre is a stake in the ground symbolising that Christchurch is a city that cares about the Arts, and acknowledges that they are an essential component of a healthy, happy and stimulating society. The Arts Centre offers a hub and a haven for talents and skills that help colour Christchurch and mark it as a city that encourages creative thought, individuality of expression and uncommon achievement. Remove that haven, and the energy and inspiration that comes from the meeting of minds will quickly dissipate. The Arts Centre is also a social hub, where people can interact with each other in countless ways and provide an antidote to the isolating effects of a world increasingly dependant on technology for communication. The Arts Centre needs to be a priority in the City Council's financial planning. It must not fall victim to short term frugality. It is too valuable an asset to squander.

5404 - Susan Henson

The Arts Centre is an important part of life in the central city providing festivals, music, theatre, exhibitions and other creative activities to many. Please continue to provide annual funding for this vital place which provides so much joy to so many people.

5405 - Amy Walker

It's not only a heritage building it adds so much community value to the city.

5406 - Katie Watt

Defunding this space is a disservice to people in Christchurch. People need art and communal spaces, ESPECIALLY during times of hardship.

5407 - Martin Exon

Because you will bugger the city of not.

5408 - Karen Contencin

The Arts Centre is an iconic internationally renowned venue which, if promoted correctly, could bring in professionals, artists and tourists = $ to this magnificent city. The functions of Arts Centre offers more versatility and usable venue space than a singular Cathedral.

5409 - Michelle Zhang

It is impotent to history

5410 - Grant Johansen

The Arts Centre makes an incredibly valuable contribution to the culture and personality that makes Christchurch a city with heart and soul.

5411 - JP Bolton

I am writing to express my deep concern over the recent decision to withdraw funding from the Christchurch Arts Centre, a decision that threatens the future of this historic and vital cultural institution. The Arts Centre is not only a cornerstone of the city's cultural identity, but it also plays a crucial role in the community by fostering creativity, education, and tourism. Its unique blend of artistic, educational, and historic offerings enriches the lives of residents and attracts visitors from around the world, contributing significantly to the local economy. I urge you to reconsider the withdrawal of funding. Supporting the Arts Centre is an investment in the cultural wealth and economic vitality of Christchurch. By sustaining this iconic venue, we preserve a cherished heritage and continue to inspire both current and future generations. Thank you for considering this appeal to ensure the Arts Centre remains a vibrant part of Christchurch's cultural landscape.

5412 - Nicole Turner

Kia ora Christchurch council members, I am adding my voice to the call for reconsideration of the future funding of the Arts Centre. I am a resident of the Far North, but I have family who work and attend school in Chch and when I visit them the Arts Centre is always an important part of our time together. On every visit to your fair city I have gone to the Arts Centre to attend art exhibits, listen to music, shop for unique and thoughtful items, enjoy delicious food, and I learn about the history of Christchurch and the upheaval and resilience of its architecture and residents due to the earthquake. Although I live far away, I follow the news of events and happenings there and I plan my trips around special events taking place. I know there are many demands on the council's funding, but the arts give inspiration and hope and joy to residents and visitors and immeasurably add to quality of life in a city. Artists need a place to gather and share and create and we the public need a place to soak it all in. Please please help the Arts Centre retain their funding and keep an iconic Christchurch destination inspiring us New Zealanders across the motu. Respectfully, Nicole Turner

5413 - Eden Thomson

A great place for the arts and community initiatives - a must for Christchurch

5414 - James DalbyBall

It's a focus for the community and an iconic heritage building . It's a focal point for the town centre with tourists using this as a starting point within the town. After all the money that has been put into the renovation post earthquake , stopping funding is an insult to the people of Christchurch who have lived within the city during this time. The funds for this should have been ringfenced before the council decided to co-fund the cathedral rebuild or the sports stadium. It is also high time that the people of the districts that surround Christchurch contribute to the facilities they enjoy within the city

5415 - Annabel Phillipson

Our family have felt passionately about the Arts Centre for the last 40 years. We regularly took our children to the market, and supported it in every way we could, and still do. We would be devastated to lose any part of it. Please continue to fund it for the future generations of Christchurch to enjoy it as much as we have 🙏

5416 - Marilyn Slater

The Arts Centre is an iconic part of the Christchurch landscape and is well worth support from the Council.

5417 - Jo Burzynska

Commenting as an artist, arts manager and an arts academic, I am of the opinion that the Arts Centre is an important, and now world beating hub for the arts in Ōtautahi. It has been revived to a level that in my opinion surpasses its pre-earthquake standing in its deeply relevant, much valued and inclusive arts programme. The Arts Centre needs to be supported by funding to allow it to continue its crucial work, continue its positive momentum, and maintain and further develop its position as a shining beacon for the arts that makes the city a better place.

5418 - Lucy Dolan Kang

Having grown up in Ōtautahi the Art's Centre is the place of many of my happiest experiences! I am so grateful to see it repaired since the quakes. We lost so much architectural and cultural history with these quakes. Please continue to fund it, it continues to be my favourite part of the city!

5419 - Charlotte Lamb

It is important and historical for Christchurch. We need arts spaces like these in our city

5420 - Stu Kawowski

I spent a lot of my time as a young man in and around the arts centre. I was a student at School of Fine Arts but I rented a studio there. I had exhibitions there. I saw movies there, live music, I played live there with my band the AXEMEN, I have eaten there, had fun there, it is the life blood of the city of Christchurch. Fund it or regret that decision eternally.

5421 - Anne Heffernan-Dale

Because the Arts Centre provides an ideal spot for cultural activities, including concerts, choir practice, drama & ballet classes & exhibitions I beautiful heritage buildings in the central city.

5422 - Jan Daley

The withdrawal of funding support is disastrous. It will limit many community arts activities, shows disdain for the mental and spiritual health and wellbeing of the city, demeaning this jewel of tourism. Please care for the ratepayers, the youngsters, families and older people who regularly access it. Earthquake repairs are still to be finished - please take some pride in this centre of entertainment, activity and pleasure.

5423 - Sophie Hallifax

its an iconic part of Christchurch. that holds a lot of history

5424 - Tom Karstensen

The current management structure has clearly failed, and the trustees have made terrible decisions adverse to the interests of the arts centre, causing the decline of a once incredibly vibrant and cherished part of Christchurch. It could be that again with proper funding and a revised operating model that has competent governance and management that understand how such a precinct should operate, and make headway to becoming commercially viable in its own right. Funding and management changes now will enable revitalisation of this marvellous precinct, adding significant value to the city and preserving the legacy of the arts centre as a unique space for Christchurch residents and visitors to enjoy.

5425 - Christiana Taigel

The arts centre is a massive piece of chch history and a wonderful venue it would be a shame if it becomes neglected.

5426 - Marie Lawrence

The arts centre is a vital fixture to the city of Christchurch, artists and visitors to the city. It would be a tragedy to lose any form if it and I would recommend more funds towards it rather than less.

5427 - Elissa Mah

We lost so much of our city's history in the quakes, should we not protect what we have left? The Arts Centre is a beautiful collection of not just buildings, but memories and culture and it deserves to be funded for the future of Christchurch.

5428 - Kiran Dass

The Arts Centre is such a widely respected and culturally valued assets to our city. It would be an embarrassing and backward tragedy to lose this taonga.

5429 - Anita Cox

Art is fundamental for wellbeing and growth. It is essential. The Arts Centre is a well established place and much loved place where art can be shared in many forms and activities that include participation, another vital element for our individual and collective wellbeing. Please reconsider the decision to remove funding for this vital community offering.

5430 - Alex Hallatt

The art centre is one of few truly unique building complexes in New Zealand. A repository of history and craftsmanship that is far more impressive than the cathedral and is secular too. It has demonstrated a versatility of uses that would continue for another hundred years if given the chance. I love this place and I want to see it given the kind of money we are investing in sport – a stadium will have far less uses in the future. And it probably won't last as long either.

5431 - Eugene Huston

This rather than cathedral square is now our hub. Do what both necessary and right .

5432 - Ross McAllister

The Arts Centre is too valuable for our cultural heritage and current city vibe to be thrown to the wolves of commercialism.

5433 - Rory Mainwaring

the Art Centre is one of the central community places for Christchurch- a way for tourists and locals to engage with the city.

5434 - Darren Pickering

The Arts Centre was once the beating heart of the city (pre earthquakes) & is rapidly becoming this again. It encompasses every aspect of the arts in so many ways - but needs appropriate funding!

5435 - Gavin Bishop

The Arts Centre is the heart of Christchurch.

5436 - Lana Kennett

I am a resident of Christchurch. I am gutted that funding for the Arts Centre is on the line. With the world being such a difficult place to live in right now, we need to give artists a platform and a space for being able to help us collectively process the human experience. Artists are so important for progressing us forward as society. Every person is influenced by art in some form in their life. The Arts Centre is the heart of Arts in Chch and it will be a massive loss to present and future generations if their future is in doubt. Please fund the Arts Centre for our community's benefit. I am a rate payer and would be happy to see a few extra dollars on my rates for this.

5437 - Lhizz Browne

Please keep funding the Arts Centre - it's such a crucial part of Christchurch's tourism infrastructure. I visit on a regular basis from Dunedin and I love how varied and ever-changing the shops, markets, and exhibitions are at the Arts Centre, not to mention how beautifully it has been restored. It's an icon of Christchurch, so it should be treasured.

5438 - Marlene Trounson

So much is spent on sports. Art is so valuable to have balance in life. We are all different but the Art Centre caters for everyone. I love going there.

5439 - Alastair Watson

Let's protect and cherish our iconic City treasure!

5440 - Darren Harris

The Arts Centre is a very special place for Christchurch and the number of overseas visitors is massive. Plus I just spent 10 years working on the place as a stonemason for the people of Christchurch please don't let the Art Centre go under the funding is so Christchurch has some Heritage which is important. The cost of insurance and maintenance will be more than the funding they are asking for .

5441 - Georvie Yates

The Arts Centre is so important to our city and it's people. It is a place I have spent my whole life visiting, from seeing movies with my mum at the cinema when I was 7 and eating delicious food from the food trucks beforehand, to frequenting the beautiful stores that bring life to the buildings now. I am so frustrated that this is where the council has decided to cut corners... It's always the arts that go first; never the multimillion/billion dollar sports facilities. From a Christchurch artist that hopes to share the beauty and history of the Arts Centre with my son as he grows, please do not let our city lose something this important. Please don't let not only the arts community, but also the wider community down like this again.

5442 - Victoria Hay

I wholeheartedly support continued funding for The Arts Centre. The Arts Centre is an iconic part of the Christchurch landscape, history, culture and the arts. It's a gathering place, a place for artists and musicians, a place to eat out, discover new arts and crafts, a museum, accommodation, cinema, a place for people to visit...there's just so much to enjoy in the amazing historic buildings and site. It makes no sense for the CCC to not support The Arts Centre on an ongoing basis.

5443 - Nicola Bennett

Because it's history it's where art music dance a place of remembrance more so the a cathedral it offers opportunities and it's not religious it's the Arts

5444 - Callum Baker

-The christchurch arts centre is an iconic building -After losing so many heritage buildings to the earthquakes, we have to preserve whats left -the events at the arts centre bring people into the city.

5445 - C Muir

Historic, beautiful part of the city— a draw card for visitors and locals.

5446 - Nigel King

The Arts Centre is a community arts centre and should be funded by the City Council so it can remain open and available to all citizens.

5447 - Melva Gill

Please don't lose our special building after all we have endured since the quakes.

5448 - Wally Pearson

The council should not fund the arts centre. They have made many poor decisions, and way over staffed.

5449 - Chelsea Bloomfield

The city has no soul, no heart, without the Arts Centre. Its continued presence is absolutely integral to the heartbeat and vitality of Christchurch, not to mention a true bona fide attraction for tourists both current and future.

5450 - Blake Tolmie

I think the events they run are great for the community

5451 - Monique Aiken

Creative hubs are essential to enhancing peoples lives. Christchurch would lose its heart without the Arts center.

5452 - Jacqui Wagener

The Art Centre is historical important and the Art is the last bastion of freedom and expression. Please ensure my rates go towards continuing to fund the Christchurch Art Centre.

5453 - Daniel Marriott

The Arts Centre is a part of what makes Christchurch great, and in a world where even funding entertainment is hard we should put the centre first for its contribution to our vibrant and creative community.

5454 - Megan Rorke

Please don't cut the funding. Art and culture are everything to a city and to the people who live there!! Our world would be so incredibly dull without hubs like this one and without funding the Arts Centre simply won't survive. So please, please don't cut their funding!!!

5455 - Eroica Ritchie

The Arts Centre has always been such a huge part of why I love my city- from watching skilled artisans when I was a child, enjoying the buzz of market days, soaking up the ambience of the beautiful old buildings - and I still love it today as much as I ever have. I would be so sad to lose this taonga- it would be such a backward step for our beautiful and vibrant city centre. Please reconsider the funding cut.

5456 - Charlotte Robb

It is heritage, there is so much life that happens there!

5457 - Matt Smith

It's an absolute cultural institution and breeding ground for creativity

5458 - Hera Hjartardottir

Please save the Arts Centre, the absolute heart and soul of our city.. It holds an abundance of cherished memories for me; dating back to when my family first arrived in New Zealand in 1991. My mum worked and sold T-shirts at the market during the weekends, I played my first concert there on the lawn - followed by many more; from playing in the stairwell; the boulevard bakehouse, to performing at the great hall, and at Annies' wine bar while my mum had her art exhibition. The Arts Centre has been a hub where friendships flourished, a must-visit spot for every guest from abroad, showcasing the vibrant tapestry of our city with its bustling artists, captivating performances, and stunning architecture nestled close to Hagley Park, our art gallery, and museum. Its loss would be immeasurable, as it embodies the very essence of our city's spirit and vitality.

5459 - Jessica Garrett

These buildings are the heart of Christchurch, and have so much rich history and necessity. Since I can remember, The Arts Centre has been a place of belonging for me and gave me an opportunity to express myself, not only as an artist, but as a child learning about the buildings and history itself.

Please continue to fund this site and bring back business into these beautiful buildings to continue to make new history for Christchurch!

5460 - Sophie Crawford

The Arts Centre is a haven for so many of us. Don't take that away!

5461 - Aliasha McGilligan

It is a jewel in our community, a place to come together like no other, affording opportunities for art, artists and audience!

5462 - Thomas Louis Bigelow

The Christchurch Arts Centre is a heritage landmark for all who visit Christchurch and all who live here, which should be continued to be enjoyed in cultural splendour.

5463 - Jody Liedeman

It's a great place, I've been bringing my toddler for the past year and I love letting her know it's part of Christchurch's culture! It would be a disservice to the city if the council stopped funding it.

5464 - Briar Hubbard

It's the most beautiful piece of history in our city and an essential community hub.

5465 - Margot KORHONEN

The arts centre is not only a building of historic significance but it's a place for culture and creativity. The value is unable to be quantified for the community, for tourists and visitors and as an asset to Canterbury.

5466 - May Stuart

How could you even contemplate not continuing to help fund the Art Centre building restoration. These historic buildings along with the Museum and Christ College form the nucleus of the blue stone historic part of Christchurch. The Cathedral is not the center of the city and neither are the 2 new sporting facilities. Priority should be to restore the Art Centre. It's already been 13 years since the earthquakes that did the damage. Come on Mayor and Councillors - get this project finished and add to our City's heritage and beauty.

5467 - Joni Bigelow

The Arts Centre is a historical and beautiful part of Christchurch. CCC should fund the arts centre. As a rate payer I would prefer my rates went towards this than to a sports stadium I will never attend. Sadly the arts centre has post earthquake been under utilised as the newer places like Riverside Market developed. The CCC should help fund it and help it to come back to life - pre earthquake the dux de lux , markets, shows, cinema and many unique shops within the arts centre were alive and a huge attraction. The arts centre and the musuem have beautiful architecture and are in the beautiful part of the city with the botanical gardens over the road. This should be enjoyed as the treasure that it is and funded so it can be enjoyed for generations to come. The arts centre was once the university and it has so much historical value and beauty that could never be recreated, compared to the newer modern developments. Christchurch was always beautiful because of its old world charm, and the arts centre is a heritage landmark that needs to be saved to be enjoyed by locals and tourists alike.

5468 - Josephine Rout

The Arts Centre is the cultural heart of Christchurch and one of our few material sites of continuity from life before the earthquakes. Defunding the Arts Centre will have such a negative impact on the city when it has been such a vital attraction for both locals and visitors.

5469 - David Whale

There are so few historic buildings left. A big tourist attraction. Who wants more cycle ways? It seems that the 'new world' countries do not value their heritage as the old world does. You rarely appreciate anything 'til it's gone!

5470 - Rosalie Goman

It's one of the very few heritage building left, that brings joy to the community would be ashame to loose this.

5471 - Adam Wild

Use the money for the failed Cathedral and put it to better use on the Arts Centre where people actually benefit from the experience.

5472 - Morgane Merien

The Arts Centre is a vital community space. The funding of it is a no-brainer and should be non-negotiable.

5473 - Aisling O'Connor

This building is timeless and a perfect place to remember the beauty of architecture. It's pedestrian and human friendly, calm and inspiring. It's a beautiful place to shop, recreate, be entertained and learn. This building is historic and lovingly restored. It's a place I can be that's not influenced by fads or current fashion and the only place that transcends and outlasted all the changes Ōtautahi has been through.

5474 - Carly Mailhot

Public access to arts is essential for a functioning, healthy society. It aids in creating a well-educated, egalitarian city.

5475 - John Bown

The arts center provides a valuable space for the people of Christchurch to interact with art

5476 - Lidija Raletic

The Arts Centre should be funded by the Council because it's such an important community space for many people, it has a rich history and it has been a part of Christchurch for so long and it should stay that way! The Arts Centre is for the public

5477 - Lidija Lovett

The Council should fund the Arts Centre because nurturing a community is what cities are for. Many artists have found a haven in the Arts Centre and it's proven to be an indispensable part of many people's lives.

5478 - William Thomson

The alternative will end up costing ratepayers more in the long run...

5479 - Jenny Andrews

The arts are equally important as sport

5480 - Ben Reed

It is part of our Christchurch and an asset in so many ways.

5481 - Mel Simmonds

Ōtautahi needs to keep the arts & culture alive, for the public benefit of our locals and as an attractive destination for tourism. The Arts Centre plays a big part in this! Please keep this funded 🙌

5482 - Glenda Carson

The Art Centre is the heart of Christchurch from the past to the now to the future

5483 - Joe Evans

Either way Christchurch, the council will have to pay in the long run. It may cost them more because I will have to stay it themselves. Over the past couple of years, the Arts Center has become a tourist attraction again.

5484 - Wade Cook

The Art Centre is the only remaining pre-earthquake building attraction we have left.

5485 - Matty Visser

The arts centre is so important to Christchurch, please keep it alive!

5486 - Lisa Suapopo

The Art holds amazing memories for many. Since my teens now in my 50's I had the opportunity to enjoy so many drama workshops, lunchtime concerts, art exhibitions, theater, weekend markets during quick nursing breaks. Student days spent at the Dux even though separate was the place to be. Friends even recently celebrating their wedding at the Great Hall. It's a place that international visitors flock too. Court yard entertainment the rich history of Ernest Rutherford. So much more...such a shame I suspect you have over spent somewhere else.

5487 - Florence Anderson

its an amazing place full of amazing activities and people

5488 - Marnie Barrell

The Arts Centre is a precious heritage building, repurposed very successfully over many years as a valued community asset and tourist highlight. Supporting it is a crucial role for the City Council, and a high priority in public estimation. It would be shocking if it were allowed to fail for lack of funding.

5489 - Maggy Tai Rākena

Ōtautahi has lost the bulk of its historical buildings since the Earthquakes took their toll and it feels really important that the Arts Centre is preserved and used actively. It will need CCC support to remain sustainable and I highly commend it to your consideration. The Arts Centre is a taonga for all us citizens and provides a multitude of opportunities to enjoy its offering. CCC cannot allow the Arts Centre to founder. Ngā mihi Maggy Tai Rākena

5490 - Fabriani Putri

It's a beautiful and historical building and has been one of the landmark in Christchurch. I always love taking my tourist friends over around there whenever they visit. Please keep the Arts Centre.

5491 - Ann-Maree Graham

The Christchurch earthquakes changed so much of this city, and took a certain amount of its flavour and character with it, but the Arts centre has remained standing as a hub of arts and culture in a city that thrives on its reputation as a place of beauty and culture. To lose the artist hub may encourage those creative skilled people whose diversity make our city the cultured centre that it is to seek other communities where such hubs thrive.

5492 - Charlotte Ivey

Ceasing funding to this remaining Christchurch landmark and adored arts institution and tourist hotspot seems truly, truly bizarre to me and extremely saddening. What on earth is the council thinking here????

5493 - Peter Drake

The Arts Centre is an important part of Christchurch to ensure a diverse city where all interests are supported. Not everyone likes sport!

5494 - Nicole Crozier

The Arts Centre is a major attraction in Christchurch. It's a vital gathering space for our diverse communities to come together and share ideas. It offers something for everyone and is a major heritage site for Christchurch, too. I don't want to see it full of 2 dollar shops and run down because the current tenants aren't able to stay. We also can't afford to lose important venue and exhibition space either if we want to foster a diverse community. Also, what impressions do we want to leave for tourists without it? If we want to be a progressive city that is not the same as everywhere else we need to support our artists and communities and offer space where we can come together. Aside it's the Hogwarts of the Southern Hemisphere and it's only just gotten back to its full glory. Why would you want all the hard work and love that went into its restoration to go to waste, that would be a waste of money.

5495 - Kaye Clyne

This is an iconic part of the city, we can't let it become another cathedral! We need to keep some of our heritage

5496 - Hannah Wood

I have so many memories as a kid of the arts centre, it's an integral part of the arts and cultural uniqueness of Ōtautahi and I would be very sad if this reduced or disappeared with the lack of funding from the Christchurch City Council. I've already started bringing my tamariki to events held here and love to see the joy on her face, making memories of her own in this beautiful city we call home.

5497 - Ksenya Park

Because it's awesome and finally restored and ready for more events and use for the public with the right vendors

5498 - Penelope Wilson

Dear Christchurch City Council, I am writing to add my voice to the calls to save Christchurch's iconic Arts Centre. As a professional creative based in Wellington, I have seen first hand how councils can make or break a city's art scene with wise or unwise funding decisions. Although I love my city, the council has dropped the ball in terms of supporting the Wellington Arts scene. The mismanagement of the former Cuba Street Carnival, as well as the decision to open Manner Street to traffic, are two examples of this but there are many others. Distressingly, the council continues to trade upon its local arts scene - while doing virtually nothing to support it. This is relevant to Christchurch, because the Arts Centre is a unique location. The fact that it is housed in the former Canterbury University buildings shows that Christchurch - unlike other cities such as Wellington - prizes creativity beyond merely paying it lip service. The mana and beauty of the location, and its long tradition of being a centre for learning and the pursuit of creative excellence, makes Christchurch a national example for other cities of how to actively support the Arts. I am studying at Whitecliffe College as part of their 2024 Postgraduate Diploma in Creative Therapies cohort. As part of this, I regularly attend weekend intensives at the Christchurch Arts Centre. On both a professional and personal level, the honour of being able to study something I care about so deeply is intensified by doing it in such a special and historical place. I have an appreciation and respect for Christchurch directly as a result of seeing the space it has made for its art scene and the vibrancy of the same - Christchurch is a city the rest of the country could learn from in so many ways. Christchurch Arts Centre is the intersection where the richness of its history directly reaches into the future, as it provides hallowed and special ground for the training of creative professionals determined to use their powers for good. Please, do not make the same mistakes that Wellington City Council has and continues to make in terms of safeguarding what makes it iconic and unique. You have an opportunity to continue being a city council that actually DOES care about its local arts scene, rather than just talking about it and skimming the profits. The Arts Centre shows that Christchurch knows how to truly integrate and support an arts scene with the local community in a way that inspires and informs the future, while showcasing its rich history. Please make the wise decision, and keep the Arts Centre just as it is - and Christchurch City Council making good decisions. Yours in hope, Penelope Wilson

5499 - Harriet Owens

It's finally hitting its stride post-quake and home to some fantastic, quality, local businesses with longevity. It connects the city centre to the Botanic gardens (and the museum). It's one of the only gothic architecture structures in Christchurch that's open and for public use.

5500 - Rachel Hay

It's an amazing community space. Would be an incredible loss to the community to see this space not utilised to its fullest potential. Creative spaces like this bring life to a city and are incredibly important. Please do all you can to keep this running.

5501 - Heather Lunn

It's a Christchurch icon.

5502 - Laura Tuhou

The Arts Centre is a cornerstone of Ōtautahi. Some of my fondest childhood memories are of family outings to the Arts Centre - the weekend market, the bead shop, Fudge Cottage, the cinema, the observatory. For several years until the 2011 earthquake I lived opposite the Dux and visited the Arts Centre every weekend. The entire site is a home away from home for me and so many other people who are lucky enough to live in Ōtautahi. It's a space that needs and deserves public funding through city council.

5503 - Cricket McCormick

Art is fundamental to societal and social growth. To take away the arts or funding for the arts is sudden death to exploration, discovery and shuts down a lot of voices that could otherwise change the world. I do not think you should cut funding- but I do think that funding could be better used spread among the many other diverse art sectors that have been keeping this city thriving, like Exchange Christchurch, without the help of the council funding. These are the places that are fundamental to the cultural and economic growth within the arts in Ōtautahi. There is more out there that supports artists than the arts centre, but you need to be willing to look for it, and support it. If these places have been incubators for ideas, spaces for growth, showcasing, business development and developing creative direction, and have done it for years without the help of funding, imagine what would be possible with the councils help.

5504 - Scott Perry

It one of the staples of Christchurch city centre

5505 - Robin McKee

Save the Art Centre

5506 - Amy Clark

It is an integral part of our city, its funding should be a guarantee

5507 - Will McGillivray

The council should fund the arts centre as it's the beating heart of creativity in Christchurch. Following the earthquakes, venues for creatives are extremely scarce, and ones that do exist are sterile and too expensive for artists. The Art Centre not only provides space for artists but is also one of the few remaining buildings that showcases the heritage of Christchurch, the only other example being the private property of Christ's College which isn't able to be enjoyed by the public. Save the arts centre.

5508 - Andrea Bartlett

On a recent holiday to Christchurch from Auckland visiting the Arts Centre was one of my absolute highlights. I have fond memories from childhood holidays visiting the Centre and I was so pleased to see it restored so beautifully. It is a major asset for the city for tourists and for the local community. Please fund the Arts Centre and keep this wonderful place open.

5509 - Jelena Meiklejohn

The Arts Centre is a pillar of the community in Ōtautahi. It's a vibrant space where people come together for lunches and birthdays and movies and joy. To lose funding for this space would be so sad and detrimental to our city. We've had a slow return to normalcy after the earthquakes, we are only just getting people back into the city and to take away funding from one of the centres of that would be a huge misstep.

5510 - Julie Williamson

A world without art is not a world we should be moving towards. Art has brought people together for as long as humans have existed, from cave dwellings to murals on the side of a building. FUND ART

5511 - Nakoda Tamaira-cooper

The Arts - performing, visual and any other kind is more than necessary. They are essential. To not fund the arts takes away so much from a city that's already divided and broken. With the arts, there is a chance to come together and bond with others over anything and everything sewing the tears within Christchurch. The arts provide so many opportunities for people of every age to mix and mingle and celebrate the good, the sad, the bad and even the ugly in a positive, safe and welcoming environment. We bond over the music that is shared at the art centres, the paintings and sculptures displayed around town and Te Puna o Waiwhetū. It gives Māori, Pasifika and many other cultures opportunities to come together, share stories and celebrate, creating a bond stronger and safer than anything else currently offered in this city. There's a chance to continue supporting artists and community, driving home the importance of togetherness by supporting and funding the arts. Otherwise all we basically have is binge drinking and gambling. Support the arts. The positive choice for a choice Christchurch.

5512 - Rachel Bradstock

Because without art life is just survival. If you've enjoyed a book, a film, music, a picture then you can surely see why it's worth preserving.

5513 - Isaac Nalder

Don't kill art

5514 - Jessica Down

The Arts Centre is an important community resource - we are planning to spend much of the school holidays at organised events there. My three young children will benefit hugely from not just the activities, but the opportunity to spend time at such an important historic site. The Arts Centre is a huge part of our city's identity and it contributes to our culture and our ability to attract tourists. We must protect it as a community and as a rate payer, I would like to see council funds go towards its funding.

5515 - Tracy Scott

As a dancer, performer and long time resident, the Arts centre is the essence, the heart and the story of arts in Christchurch, it must be saved and supported by the council we elected for us, by us. Save the Arts Centre

5516 - Maria McEntyre

The Arts Centre is an historic building for our city and country. So much work has gone into its restoration so that current and future generations can enjoy it. There used to be more Artisans there. We need to bring more back there to display their skills and work. Support from the Council means more residents can access the place and attend events there.

5517 - Annette Faulkner

The loss would be too great for both residents and tourists.

5518 - Kiri Lord

The arts centre is an important piece of chch. A tourist attraction but also a place of events and community gatherings

5519 - Harley Williams

Losing the arts centre would be like removing the heart of the central city.

5520 - Ciara Rock

With all the money gone in to rebuild the cathedral, why are we sacrificing another heritage hero? This is contradictory and doesn't make sense. The Arts Centre is beautiful and a major tourist hotspot.

5521 - Claire Turner

It's a Critical pillar to the future vision of Christchurch that has been pushed by local and central government since the earthquake it would be foolish to abandon it now just as momentum is gaining around the new city

5522 - Marg Watson

Please save our iconic arts centre it's important to keep our beautiful old buildings after losing so many in the quakes.

5523 - Helena Olsen-Arts

It's a special place for so many and holds historical, architectural and cultural importance.

5524 - Rosie Fea

Andy Warhol said "everything has beauty, but not everyone sees it." Be the ones to keep seeing it, please. Without art we have no lens on the good, the true, and the beautiful. In a city with such stories, what a waste it would be to shut your eyes....

5525 - Hannah Anderson

It's so important for people to be able to see art, involve themselves in art and just having it available is so important

5526 - Elizabeth Taylor

The Arts centre is a vital community resource and one of the few heritage listed buildings left in Christchurch. The council has an obligation to provide funding for arts and heritage.

5527 - Artemis O'Reilly

The Arts Centre and the Art is the reason I love this city if you take that away where will the artists go?

5528 - Tay Duff

It's a hub, a social gathering spot where the community can gather, one that I've visited every time when I come to Christchurch. It'd be a true shame not to have it there where the neighboring independents benefit from the foot traffic and the old historic building celebrates craft in its different shapes and forms.

5529 - Peter Empson

Please continue to fund the Arts Centre. It is a remarkable place and would be a loss to the city should it become private or be closed

5530 - Despina Kerdemelidis

Please fund the Arts centre restoration. It's vital for the city.

5531 - Stephanie Cusick-Thompson

The arts bring people together. They help to create more vibrant and diverse communities. My memories of visiting the Christchurch Arts Centre go back to childhood. Now, at 37, I cherish the countless times I have attended public events at the various performance spaces and gathered socially with family and friends at nearby cafes. We need the Arts Centre. It sustains us - locals and visitors alike.

5532 - Lindsay Dell

The arts center is a jewel to Christchurch, all of the money spent on restoring, and the last couple years it's just starting to come to life. We need it to be a public space so everyone can enjoy

5533 - Christos Merentitis

It brings an essential feeling of heritage and culture to the city and provides opportunities for small business owners. Many tourists have already visited the arts center these holidays, these numbers will only increase as time goes on.

5534 - Janet Rowlands

Please invest in this historic precinct with its proud tradition in arts and science and ensure it remains a compelling reason to visit the central city for residents and visitors alike.

5535 - Leanne Armstrong

It's a historic sight, which we lost so many of during the earthquakes. It's also a great tourist attraction. Please open your financial books to the public so we can see where all our money is going and then let the people decide all spending.

5536 - Janice Taylor

Christchurch has already lost so much of its history. Having been born in Christchurch and always lived here, I have always been so proud of our heritage and our uniquely special buildings. We need to keep these sites for our next generations so they can also be proud of our history.

5537 - Connor Armstrong

It is a historical hub for the city as well as the nation as it was the original UC campus and holds places such as Rutherfords Den which are so important to world history.

5538 - Kimberly Mccall

Unique and needed to nurture the talent in Aotearoa

5539 - Fiona Chandler

It's iconic Christchurch. We must preserve our historic buildings.

5540 - Bridie Cassidy

The arts centre is one of the cities greatest assets. It is a place to come together and celebrate the many creative personalities in Christchurch.

5541 - Harriet McCubbin Howell

The Arts Centre is the heart of our city, full of history and culture. It is a huge draw card for tourists coming to our beautiful city.

5542 - Phoebe Wilding

The arts centre is a destination and one of the few reasons I am drawn to visit chch from Lyttelton. If we had a night market at the artcentre I would go all the time! Make things easier for food vendors and people will visit.

5543 - Hamish Allan-Caney

The Arts Centre is the cultural hub of our city. Its historic value is a special place for Christchurch residents and visitors to meet and enjoy. To withdraw funding would be like selling an organ. The Chch body might still be able to function but at a significantly reduced capacity for a cheap gain.

5544 - Kieran Haymes

The Arts Centre is an important cultural hub that provides invaluable benefits to our city. As the director of an Ōtautahi arts non-profit, I see the exposure, recognition and opportunity that Arts Centre provides my community with. The Arts Centre is our city's artistic living room and allows people to engage with arts and culture in accessible ways, enriching their lives and empowering those who tell meaningful stories through art.

5545 - Sapphire Switalla

It is a historical place of beauty, fond memories and a treasure to the city.

5546 - Gillian Ashurst

I am a Canterbury based filmmaker who grew up enjoying the Art Centre space. This included the cinema, art events, markets, Friday night Observatory sessions, bars, theatre and the Den. As a space it incorporates all that is good about Christchurch. In 2004 I lived at the Arts Centre as the Artist in Residence for six months. This time led to two funded documentaries, about William Pickering and Ernest Rutherford, that brought work for filmmakers in Christchurch. I am now working on a feature film inspired by the location, with the potential to bring even more attention and funding to the area. All of this came about because of the arts friendly nature of the Arts Centre, which incorporated an Artist in Residence program, and allowed us to film at the location. I fear that without public funding the nature of the Arts Centre would change, and arts and the associated activities would be pushed out in favour of more commercial ventures. The Arts Centre is just that - a centre for arts. Please stay invested and keep this treasure for the people of Christchurch.

5547 - Ariel Linklater

I believe The Arts Centre is a crucial foundation stone of the culture of Chch and an important connection with our Past as we move forward to the future. Central city location next to a highly regarded Botanical Gardens makes it an obvious Tourist drawcard for our City. Christchurch has lost so much during the Earthquake years I think it vital we upkeep and persevere the historic buildings still standing.

5548 - Krystal Dunham

The Christchurch Arts Centre should be funded by the council as its an integral piece of this city's culture, I'd much rather keep the Arts Centre thriving than build a new sports stadium...

5549 - Barbra Pullar

The Arts Centre as it is now has been a very important part of our family life. I probably go there at least once a week. Lumiere, Cellar Door, Frances Nation Cafe and shop are among our favourites. The Central Gallery and other galleries in the Arts Centre. We have attended many events in The Great Hall and around the whole centre always enjoying the atmosphere of these beautiful buildings. Whenever we have extended family and friends staying then the Arts centre is our go-to. The restoration of the buildings post-quake has been incredible to watch and can remember the emotion when the Great Hall was opened to the public one winter's weekend. Please, please reconsider your funding to this Christchurch icon. Barbra Pullar and family.

5550 - Joel Lawry

The arts centre has been an iconic and important part of Ōtautahi's social and touristic landscapes for years, and it deserves support to continue

5551 - Deborah Armstrong

It's a massive attraction to Christchurch, it brings in so many people into the CBD and museum

5552 - Halley Thompson

Heart and soul of Christchurch

5553 - Julie van der Velden

The Arts Centre is one of the keystones of Christchurch and needs to be funded so we can continue to use this beautiful building.

5554 - Renee White

The Arts Centre is a hub for lots of people who are in town, who work in town, tourists! Lots of different types of people. There is history there as well as so many new and cool places popping up within the arts centre.

5555 - Simon Hart

Please do fund the Arts Centre!! This place is an iconic spot for Christchurch City. It creates a point of difference for Christchurch when compared to NZ's other cities. The wonderful events they put on are great for not only musicians and artists but families as well.

5556 - Jane Groufsky

When I think of Christchurch I think of the Arts Centre. One of the biggest draw cards for tourism in the city, thanks to the interesting and diverse tenants who bring it to life.

5557 - Reuben Woods

The Arts Centre is both a beautiful physical space that reveals aspects of our city's heritage, but also a supportive beacon for the arts and creativity in Otautahi. The range of events and activations, from public artworks and murals, to exhibitions, concerts, performances and installations, allow our city's creative communities to shine and our wider communities to feel engaged. As the founder of The Little Street Art Festival, the support given by The Arts Centre team to situate a work in the centre allowed us to create a powerful juxtaposition of art and environment, highlighting the ability of the area. I also host many groups on tours across the city and the Arts Centre is always well-received - whether for its architectural splendor or the surprising and often whimsical interventions throughout. I support funding for the Arts Centre, to ensure it can continue to operate in a dynamic manner that embraces its role in supporting creativity and community.

5558 - Sela-Maria Talanoa

It is a free wholesome activity for tourists and residents. A place you can go and learn and absorb education, appreciate talent and there are so many special memories for so many people.

5559 - Henrietta Camilleri

Art centres are the hub of creative energy and optimism and beauty of a city, take the NGV in Melbourne or the National Gallery in Canberra or the stunning MAGNT Museum and Art Gallery of the Northern Territory (I'm Australian). The heart of a city. They provide a place for all cultures and histories and peoples to be represented, to have a voice. So important. I cannot understand why the council would not fund it, or continue to fund it at a level which ensures its ongoing viability. We need optimism in this day and age of cynicism and fear about the future. Please reconsider, and fund it on an ongoing, secure basis. (I do have a connection to Christchurch via my great aunt Jessie Rhodes, wife of Sir Heaton Rhodes, who both dedicated much to the improvement of Christchurch so I'm appealing also on their behalf!)

5560 - Jean Court

This is a place of insights and inspiration to all ages. Doesn't have to be a money making enterprise, enlightening all members of the public to the prospects of artist impressions is priceless

5561 - Holly Nevitt

The Arts Centre is part of Christchurch's preserved history, it's one of my favorite places to go. After the Christchurch earthquakes a lot of these historic buildings were lost, I know the Arts Centre holds a very special place in many Cantabrians hearts, a piece of the old Christchurch, funding is crucial to keep this beautiful historic area running, we need to preserve these areas for future generations. Please don't take another piece of Christchurch away from us, we've already lost enough.

5562 - Claudia Hammond

The arts is an integral and essential element of Christchurch city, which deserves to be treated with respect and funding.

5563 - Carlene O'Brien

The art center is the heart of Christchurch. It is a vibrant hub of community and creativity. So many childhood memories of school holiday programs and in my teens free events to meet people and now as a parent it continues to be a "go to" for inspiring fun things to do. We need it !

5564 - Sverre Vogt

It's a wonderful place showing a wide range of arts. The Arts Centre is really drawcard for both visitors & locals. Would be sorely missed if gone, or turned into just a business park. Please save it!

5565 - Olivia Demir

The arts centre is in my opinion the heart of Christchurch a lot of the time. Most tourists and locals always stop by here to explore or grab a bite to eat. It is a place of life and laughter and it needs to be able to stay open with the help of funding from the city council.

5566 - Abbey Yeoman

The Christchurch arts center is an integral part of Christchurch central. It draws a community of people that otherwise might not venture into the city. The building itself hosts a number of niche small businesses that you wouldn't find else where in our city. Losing funding would be blow to the Christchurch community.

5567 - Tim Ferguson

Because we need the art centre and it's programs

5568 - Sang Kyu Moon

The Arts Centre is a historical landmark that continues the atmosphere of Christchurch's charm from Hagley Park towards the city centre. I feel that great opportunities that would be lost for Christchurch with the discontinuation of funding to the Arts Centre.

5569 - Belinda Currie

I cannot believe this is an issue. The arts centre is the heart of our city. The short term plan should be to fund it and finish the repairs and the old dux de lux building. Come on ccc. Funding the arts centre is crucial to our city. No question.

5570 - Duncan Swiffen

Fantastic buildings and lots of great things to experience. Keep it open!

5571 - Alice Groves

This is a wonderful resource for the city that holds a lot of the city's history. It must be funded to ensure it is maintained.

5572 - Kim Fowler

The arts Centre is a cultural hub for chch - a place where we can come to hang out, to see art & shop & enjoy. It's important we have spaces like these in our city, and this one is particularly unique & part of our history! If we were to loose access to it, it would be a real loss.

5573 - Sarah Seeley

The social culture of chch city revolves around it I used to come as a child to see the fairytale shows every holiday. It should be open to kids now for the same things

5574 - Deborah Howell

30 years ago The Arts Centre was a huge draw card for the City, and featured as a destination in almost all our trips into Christchurch from the far reaches of The Hurunui . It's demise and the failure to re-fire it has resulted. in a duller, less attractive city " experience ". A major contributor to its attraction was the Dux de Lux. I stronger recommend that the CCCouncil should fund it in its own best interests

5575 - Jamie Price

Kia Ora Christchurch City Council I'm writing to you to express my deep concern for the future of The Arts Centre in Ōtautahi. I was born and raised in Ōtautahi and as such have been a long time member of the community both pre and post quake. Having experienced the loss of the city and the surrounding culture during formative teenage years, it's rare to have such beautiful and historic places that are accessible to the hapori. It's a location of rich culture and community, which I consider to be an absolute treasure of the city. Losing such a space would prove to cause in my opinion, more trauma the culture and community that is still struggling to find it's feet since the Earth Quakes. Please reconsider funding such an integral space Ngā mihi nui, Jamie Price

5576 - Reuben Turrall

The arts centre is my favourite thing in this city

5577 - Ashleigh Min

The Arts Centre is just as much of a special contemporary space as it is historical. It plays a huge part in provisioning several notions of Christchurch's arts culture.

5578 - Hannah Everingham

The arts centre is iconic! As a young artist working in Christchurch the last ten years, the arts centre across the whole post quake period has provided me with so many opportunities to perform, network, meet with friends, study, grow, be challenged, be changed, eat(!) and share, to be nurtured and to nurture others, to create a life with the arts in this city that would not exist without this place. A special taonga in the map of Christchurch and New Zealand. I've witnessed many wonderful performances in these walls, and wholeheartedly believe the arts centre should only be supported more to achieve more magic.

5579 - Anthea Prentice

This space is a unique welcoming space for everyone So many community groups utilise it Ability to see art and enjoy the rare collection of buildings and history Large and small spaces for events and gathering Enhances the special essence of our city the old and the new the coloniser and the indigenous the young and the elderly the traditional and the truly modern and contemporary I urge you to reconsider and keep the funding for such a precious Tonya in our central city

5580 - Clare Mackey

The Arts Centre provides a vital hub of creativity, entertainment and culture for our recently renewed city centre. To remove funding to the organisation would rob the city of its artistic heart and soul. 'The Arts' need to be nurtured and supported! Music, visual art, performance and cultural connection are essential to the well-being of humanity. It would be CRIMINAL of the Council to turn their back on the Arts Centre now, after years of rebuilding. The Christchurch City Council should ABSOLUTELY continue to fund this organisation and send a clear message to their constituents that they care about and value the role of the Arts in our community.

5581 - Marilyn Ponsford

This is disgraceful if you do not fund this amazing space. Not only for the money tourists bring in but for the locals as well. I would ask that Councillors look toward their conscience before voting.

5582 - Donette Healey

They should fund it, as apart of Christchurch, still life in it, arts need this

5583 - Duesvh Wilkes

Because It is a beautiful action that lill benefit e every one

5584 - Sandy Mettrick

The arts centre is iconic. You will regret losing one of the very few historic sites in Chch. We go to Europe looking for beautiful historic reminders of our past. Once it's gone, you can never get it back.

5585 - Robyn Burgess

Community heritage asset, irreplaceable

5586 - Josie Dee

Amazing community asset and where we always take visitors to Christchurch. Kids do Activites there every holidays. It would be heartbreaking to see this go.

5587 - Benjamin Hunt

Integral part of the local and international arts community which I believe is the backbone to any thriving city. This needs to be funded by the CCC!!!!

5588 - Eva Urlwin

I can't believe we have a council that cares so little for our city's heritage and arts. Great cities everywhere else in the world prioritise these things because they help make up the unique culture of a place and it's what makes them attractive to visitors. The arts centre is a beautiful part of our city both visually and in its spirit and to let it go would be a short-sighted tragedy. I remember growing up in and around the arts centre and still love being there now. Don't take this away from the next generation of Christchurchians.

5589 - Bern Haylock

I think Chch needs an Art Centre

5590 - Courtney Reid

The Art Centre is one of the only venues (if not only!) that fosters and contributes to new and emereging artists, giving them a stage to host their art to a wider audience. The heritage aspects and pivotal part of Christchurch culture, the Art Centre has become a hub for people who want to be in the central city, but experience art, music, peace and serenity within its walls. Not funding would be a huge detriment to the people of Christchurch, and the Artists who grow and are established within this space. Chris Archer notably is one of the driving forces in all of this, of inclusion and diversity in the art space and creating a thriving environment for art to be crafted.

5591 - Robin de Mandeville

The Arts Centre is a huge part of the fabric of life in Christchurch, it adds a dimension of culture, European quality, heritage, something to be very proud of.

5592 - Amelia Taylor

The arts centre is always a highlight on my visits to Christchurch and I would hate for this special place to lose one of its most iconic and creative areas

5593 - Tim Ellis

Christchurch arts/hospitality has suffered a lot since the quakes and the Arts Centre is a great location to meet, celebrate and be inspired. A beautiful attraction for tourists too.

5594 - Olivia Yeoman

Because it is a long lasting piece of beautiful ōtautahi history that should be continued on, learnt in and learned about

5595 - Marie Hudson

Christchurch without the Arts Centre funded by its Council is unthinkable, especially considering the time and effort and money spent on bringing it back after the earthquakes.

5596 - Frances Scrimgeour

It's a beautiful cultural hub that holds history's hand and our current community together. It is integral to preserve and promote spaces like these. VITAL the Arts Centre continues to receive funding. Life is more than money, it's about community and stories and art and music. However in this world money if necessary to enable spaces to operate and this place is worth spending money on

5597 - Chris Wethey

The Arts Centre is an important creative hub for Christchurch and provides enormous value to the city for both locals and visitors alike. It would be an enormous loss to see it go for the arts community of Christchurch. Protect the Arts Centre at all costs!

5598 - Blake Dixon

It's a place for people to gather together, why would you want to get rid of that... there's not many left today. Also it is a part of Christchurch's rich history that we also don't have much left of either.

5599 - Niki Fisher

We need to value our heritage spaces, public spaces and community arts spaces if we wish NZ and Christchurch to continue to be a vibrant, inclusive and interesting place to live in and visit. Please don't let a short-term economic concern equate to the loss of our long-term sense of community and in a wider context, nationhood. Christchurch has already lost so much - surely we can take lessons from the past to protect the future.

5600 - Waitaiki Mason

Why in the fuck would you even think about shutting the arts centre? We have lost so much in the way of our creative arts and night life since the earthquakes. Obviously you don't give a fuck about it but it isn't just you that lives here and contributes to the economy. Pull your fuckin heads in and consider the fact there is nothing else to do activity wise in this city for families, kids, tourists, visitors, ARTISTS X MUSICIANS. You take this away and this city has literally NOTHING TO DO.

5601 - Yvonne Wati

We are proud Tangata Whenua and proud of our Artist. Save the Arts or we stop paying ur wages and taxes.....

5602 - Pip Austin

The arts centre is a prime opportunity for tourists to explore the history of Christchurch. With the close location to the botanic gardens and city, along with the great restoration it could attract visitors to the area. It needs to have more dining options like it used to with the dux de lux, it used to be a vibrant hub of activity every weekend and it would be awesome to have that again for visitors and locals.

5603 - Sarah Burnett

Don't lose this.

5604 - Natasha Querlyn

The Arts Centre provides comfort and a supportive environment for artists and their families. Arts also improve healthcare, arts are an effective resource in reducing depression and anxiety!

5605 - Anne MacVicar

This is one of the most iconic areas of Christchurch. Like the cathedral. The architecture reflects our history regardless of whether one likes it particularly or not. It is the hub of the city and can't be closed down.

5606 - Wen-qi Toh

Art is integral to the growth of our community in shaping and expanding our imagination and facets of thinking. Without art, creativity, and the Arts centre to fuel this, our Christchurch would no longer be the vibrant magnetising city that is currently is.

5607 - Sanjana Khusal

Arts are essential to community. Christchurch has a rough history and deserves a creative space for this outlet. Funding would give artists the opportunity to grow their careers in their hometown without having to escape to Auckland. Its better to out the money into their community and bring art to the space.

5608 - Ethan Chapman

The Arts Centre is a staple of Christchurch and a brilliant use of the old University campus. It is a great place for children to learn and experience things during the school holidays, tourists to discover things about Christchurch, and all citizens to enjoy. My favourite part of the Arts Centre is Rutherford's den, as Rutherford is my great great uncle and I love that I am able to learn about his work for free in the very buildings he studied in.

5609 - Pip Stephenson

It is a vital for growing and celebrating the arts in Ōtautahi. If not funded by council it could fall into private hands and who knows what they will do with it. This has been part of the community for many many years. It is part of the heart of the city. Arts and culture bring vibrancy to our city. DO NOT GIVE THAT AWAY

5610 - Sarah Griffin

It's such a cool place. Whether its markets or just for a browse/food. It really feels like the only historic buildings that are actually useable in Christchurch, making it nostalgic for those of use who used to go there before the quakes

5611 - Kit Doudney

A crucial part of our cultural life. Please fund it appropriately - if we chose to fund the stadium, you can't renege on what we need to fund first!

5612 - Ruth Borrie

To help preserve beautiful historic buildings that offer many public amenities such as an outlet for art & crafts, various businesses, movie theatre, hotel, markets and a wonderful tourist attraction.

5613 - Laura Hunter

Because it has so many educational resources for children.

5614 - Kate Hartnell

Saving the Arts Centre is non-negotiable - simple as that.

5615 - Janelle Brown

Asset to Christchurch

5616 - Antonia De la Tour

Because it's ridiculous not to. All this money going towards certain areas arguably far less valuable and meaningful than the arts centre is a terrible look and stance. The art centre isn't just about what goes on in it, it's about all that has ever gone on in it and will continue to. Don't be the reason that stops I run donation based life classes at the art centre and so many people mention how special it feels to do it at the art centre. Christchurch lacks historical buildings as is

5617 - Spencer Rockville

An essential part of Christchurch, historically and currently. Would be heartbreaking to lose it

5618 - Layla Moutrib

It is an important venue for events and activities in Christchurch. It is a tourist attraction.

5619 - Kat Lang

Galleries across the country are closing, public funding keeps being and working as an artist and within the arts an achievable reality for those who do not come from an excess of wealth. The prospects of contemporary art within New Zealand are already extremely limited. Many of the artists around myself are seeking opportunity elsewhere - Australia, Germany, America, the UK and it is heartbreaking to see their talents stifled for lack of opportunity. We have many brilliant people here and to pull funding does nothing but lead many of our most valuable career artists out of this country. I earnestly hope that funding for the Christchurch Art Center is treated as integral to Aotearoa, and included in the long term plan.

5620 - Kaden Cox

It's a crucial piece of our city's culture.

5621 - Del Trew

It is part of our cultural heritage.

5622 - Rashaedah Laurier-Cammock

One of the only special heritage places left in Christchurch Central, it needs funding, to protect & preserve for generations to come. It would be a travesty if it was left to deteriorate like the old Dux de Lux building. So many of my core memories are intertwined with the Art Center, as I'm sure the same is for many Cantabrians & hopefully for many more!!!

5623 - Hilary Coles

The Arts Centre is a Christchurch institution and should be funded in order to keep it fabulous for us locals and visitors.

5624 - Shannen Commons

I adore the arts Center! It's absolutely beautiful and a special part of Christchurch's history: we lost so much in the earthquake we need to look after what we have

5625 - Margaret Basil-Jones

There's not many 'old' buildings left or still standing in the city now. Surely a few cycleways could be put on 'hold' and thus money could be put towards saving the Arts Centre.

5626 - Rachel Wilson

It's important to have a space for the people of Christchurch to express their creative skills and profession. This space brings in lots of different people around the world to see the community of Christchurch.

5627 - Sarah Bichan

Please save our beautiful Arts Centre. It's home to so many wonderful events, workshops, cafes, shops, markets, and more. It's an icon of our city. Please continue to fund it so we can all enjoy it together.

5628 - Lora Sewell

It's a cultural and artistic melting pot. It's significantly historic and also just part of everyone who lives, lived or grew up in Christchurch's history. We always saw the buskers here, I've done dance classes here. I have such fond memories of eating giant cookies here with my dad. Don't steal this gem from the next generation! If you have to defund something, defund the cathedral. The arts centre is far more valued by far more ppl

5629 - Holly Phillips

Because it's an important part of this city!

5630 - Bridget Henderson

I support the funding to keep the Arts Centre. It is simply one of the most iconic parts of Christchurch and especially in light of the devastation of the Chch Earthquakes, I think the need to honour the history within the city, (which is the Arts Centre in it's entirety) is imperative!!

5631 - Jania Galletly

The Arts Centre is a cultural cornerstone of Christchurch. It provides a crucial need for arts and connection for our community. It brings in people from other places to share in those connections. The arts are fundamental to a healthy society and must be protected. Funding the Arts Centre guarantees that this continues. We lost so much culturally due to the earthquakes, it would be a real blow to the psyche of our city if we lost that too. Please continue to fund the Arts Centre.

5632 - Bri Reid

I haven't been in Christchurch long, but in the time I have been here the arts centre has proven to be a valuable and central place where some of my best memories have been had. The arts centre holds decades of memories and space for the people around Aotearoa, and deserves to maintain that role in the community For love bro

5633 - Lisa Babcock

Its a resource that's beneficial to so many people.

5634 - Karen Hooper

The Arts Centre is an amazing venue putting on events that are easily affordable for all people, and all inclusive for all people.

5635 - Meagan Duston

The Arts Centre is a social and cultural hub of Christchurch. It is an attraction to visitors and locals alike. It is part of Christchurch's history which was deemed to be saved following the earthquakes. It is a proud set of buildings again. I pay rates which support the Art Centre and all it provides. I am happy to pay rates so this valuable hub can continue to be part of our local community and our city. Keep funding it CCC.

5636 - Vicki Fahey

I took my young grand child to the Art Centre the other day. We went into the great hall where we grazed at the beautiful stainglass window and the amazing interior. I would like them to be able to show their grand children. Save the Art Centre

5637 - Tess Liautaud

By defunding the arts centre a major hub for art and creatives will be taken away and the community overall will suffer from that! By nurturing our arts we nurture our society.

5638 - Marlene McNaughton

I feel that the Arts Centre is a vital part of Christchurch City which so far, has not been replicated by any other development. Visit at anytime to find something exciting going on. Not only is it historically important but it is close to museums, art galleries Te Pae and Tūranga. It keeps us in touch with our history and also what is happening today.

5639 - Margaret Currie

The Arts Centre is the beating heart of our city. It preserves our history, provides a central meeting place for those of us living in Christchurch, and is an important site for visitors. Without it Christchurch is just another city.

5640 - Yayne Banga

This is a very important and necessary part of the ōtautahi/Chch creative arts. Also being of heritage it is extra important.

5641 - Grace Clark

The Arts centre is a huge foundation for so many bright and creative people, don't take this away from them.

5642 - Glenda Murphy

The an Arts Centre is iconic and a fantastic asset.

5643 - Megan Millichamp

Please help fund arts centre chch. So valuable for Canterbury small businesses, wellbeing for chch people, somewhere really great to go to & for canterburies tourism.

5644 - Samara Blair

Because it's a wonderful place for people to experience all forms of art

5645 - Dianne Dwight

Absolutely fund The Arts Centre. All of it. Bring back the Dux reatauabd bar too Perfect for tourists too being near the gardens and museum.

5646 - Meira Smith

Please support the Arts Centre which is much loved by us and tourists. My walk ChCh group supports them too via our volunteer walkers.

5647 - Patrick Whiting

The Arts are an integral part of the culture of any city. To defend the arts is to defend creating a positive culture for your people, which the council should not stand for

5648 - Joanne Billesdon

A fundamental and historical place that is a public gem.

5649 - Mary Lovell-Smith

The Arts Centre is a regional treasure, a rare piece of heritage which once lost can never be regained. As a ratepayer, I would rather my rates go to help this rather than the huge new stadium and convention centre, and ill-fated sports complex and cathedral.

5650 - Hazel Langford

The art centre is an important part of our history, the building is one the few large heritage buildings we have left, if we can put millions into restoring the cathedral why should we be so quick to give up on the art centre.

5651 - Rebecca Lovell-Smith

The Arts Centre is an iconic set of buildings in Christchurch, an important part of our heritage especially since so many other Neo Gothic buildings that Christchurch was known for were destroyed as a result of the quakes. It is a huge drawcard for tourists too, more important than the Convention Centre and stadium. We would hope that the Arts Centre will be here in centuries to come, but it is doubtful that the stadium and convention centre will be. Our council owe it to the present and future citizens of Christchurch to continue to fund it.

5652 - Graeme Woodward

The Arts Centre is an important community asset - part of the character of the city. It is not aligned with any Church, nor any major multinational organisation. It is there for everyone. It sits right across from the Museum and the botanical gardens, a centre for tourism and for local residents. It needs to be retained as a vibrant community asset

5653 - Rebecca Radford

I ask that the CCC please continue to fund The Arts Centre to an extent which would enable The Arts Centre to continue to operate at least in the way that it currently does.

5654 - Stephanie Spain

This is a beautiful hub to our city that offers so much history and facilities for the arts.

5655 - Sebastian Wilberforce

So many people depend on the arts centre to add colour to their lives and as a place of connection. In the face of such drabness and at a time of such worry about the state of the world and New Zealand we need it to lighten our lives.

5656 - Chris Manning

It would be tragic after the awfully destructive earthquakes if we lost this Christchurch icon by neglect too. Please continue to fund its upkeep.

5657 - Trudi Bouman

I believe it is imperative to save/fund the Art Centre. It is the very essence of the heart of the city, Otautahi. Tourist and locals alike benefit from the many spectacular events that take place in this historic Centre, and gives vibrancy to our community. A society builds on its heritage and legacy and by allowing to let this legacy 'crumble', we are denying future generations to experience, the multiple talents and gifts that make up a robust and well adjusted society by way of the Arts. I'm hoping and believing there will be wisdom and understanding within the council to save the Arts Centre by continuing its funding! Thank you!!

5658 - Libby Rodda

The arts centre is such an integral part of our city's history. I think it should be run differently, but it should stay funded. Needs a wider range of services

5659 - Victoria Mackay

This is an integral part of Otautahi's historical, cultural, social and creative framework. A local treasure while offering significant interest for national and international visitors. It would feel like something was drastically missing without The Arts Centre within the heart of the city.

5660 - Jessica Shackel

The Arts Centre is a gem in the City and brings so much joy and creativity to the surrounding area. I have been visiting since I was a kid and there is always something for me there. I could not imagine the city without it and it's ability to continue to support local stores, vendors and events. Without this funding I fear cuts will have to be made, doing valued local people out of business that enriches the city so much. I believe the Arts Centre is a rewarding investment for the city and would it be a lost opportunity to not support it now and see it continue to thrive.

5661 - Grace O'Carroll

It is literally part of what makes Christchurch, Christchurch. We the people of Otautahi LOVE going there and are so proud that it has been kept well this long. Please don't end that!

5662 - Amy Broadstock

We need to keep the arts alive as much as possible in chch, it's already so hard to find venues and spaces for artists. A big tourist attraction, brings people into the city.

5663 - Ursula Salzer

The Arts Centre is the Heart and Soul of Christchurch. A place to connect, to find refuge during challenging times, to be inspired, to get involved and to appreciate what this diverse community provides. The Arts Centre is the place I can take my family, friends and overseas visitors, because there is something interesting for everybody to explore and enjoy. The Arts Centre supports diverse and budding artists, and provides a space and opportunities for young people to engage in meaningful activities. Please SAVE THE ARTS CENTRE !!! With my taxes I pay for the new Stadium. It is unlikely I will ever make use of it. Please SAVE THE ARTS CENTRE!!

5664 - Margaret Ripley

Please save the Arts Centre to be used for all the ChCh public, and provide the funding needed for this beautiful place. It is well worth it and needed for this city

5665 - Maureen Thompson

The Arts Centre has been my favourite part of the City since I arrived here in 1990. I go there two or three times a week to attend events, go to the movies, stroll through the amazing architecture and always take visitors there to appreciate our early history. It is a place that caters to all ages and interests and feeds the soul. Far more worthwhile than spending money on an ugly sports stadium.

5666 - Suzanne Taylor

Stunning architecture and heritage value.

5667 - Arabella Spoors

With much of our culture and history gone after the earthquakes, it is vital that we preserve what we still have.

5668 - Clare Greasley

It is a wonderful unique space that is a huge part of Christchurch identity. What a waste of all that hard work get it back up and running. Don't make short sighted decisions!

5669 - Olivia Connell

The arts centre is an integral part of our cities heritage - it holds so much history!

5670 - Matthew Robinson

It's a part of our history and brings art and culture to the city.

5671 - Sally Reid

The Art Centre is the centre of Christchurch art and culture. It provides space and opportunity for artisans and small retailers to experiment and break beyond generic commercialism found elsewhere. The regular events in the Great Hall, along with other cultural festivals, run in conjunction with the Christchurch City Council bring people to the heart of the city and they provide much needed escape from individual stresses. The Art Centre must remain a place which we can all share and enjoy as it contributes to our collective well-being and allows our city to develop artistically and creatively.

5672 - Kelly Quiney

Please fund the Arts Centre, it is an important part of the city. We will lose a hugely valuable resource without it.

5673 - Neil Thornton

The AC is essential to the life of our city, a core business, a unique gem for all to continue enjoying.

5674 - Richard Quiney

Fund the arts please

5675 - Emily O'Neill

Because it's a city historical landscape. It had to potential to bring in so much revenue if invested in properly. It's so important to so many cantabrians

5676 - Marijke Welch

Save the arts centre! It is an iconic and historical piece of christchurch which is even more important post earthquake. It is a safe place for all...keep it....build it up....save it forever!

5677 - Briedi McCrostie

The Arts Centre is an integral part of CHCH identity, it offers incredible resource inspiration and heritage. It is the heart of the city. I can not imagine why there is still discussion over saving the cathedral when something as vital as the art centre is at risk!

5678 - Ermes Ortiz

The Arts Centre plays a pivotal role in the community, fostering creativity, education, and cultural enrichment. Funding The Arts Centre will not only preserve the cultural heritage but also stimulate local economy through tourism and arts-related businesses. Investing in The Arts Centre is an investment in the heart and soul of Christchurch. And it has to continue to grow for a healthy community.

5679 - Shosh Cleary

Arts are the foundation of creativity in any vibrant city. Keep Ōtautahi vibrant!!

5680 - Fenella Hemm

A place which represents the diversity of a modern Christchurch is essential. The current trust has demonstrated it can do this using grants which would not be available under a different structure- with no multiplier effect. The art centre should be upheld as an example of promoting the city while saving it money. Don't allow this to change !

5681 - Margaret Winter

Invaluable for community cohesion

5682 - Amélie Harris

The Arts Centre is an integral part of Christchurch's history and culture. It has houses and continued to house many vital parts of our heritage and arts venues and events. To not include it in funding plans is an abysmal oversight of the importance of the arts and culture to the wellbeing and life of a city.

5683 - Margot Nicolau

Are you all lunatics? Christchurch is not Christchurch without the Arts Centre. It is why people/visitors come to Christchurch! The Arts Centre is Christchurch.

5684 - Jeff McLay

It is enjoyed by all Christchurch citizens, New Zealanders and tourists and is one of the finest landmarks in Christchurch.

5685 - Ceridwen Jones

Extremely important for a thriving creative city and makes Christchurch way more attractive to visitors and locals alike.

5686 - Georgina Lyes

The Art centre is invaluable to the community of Christchurch.

5687 - Pauline Taylor

The Arts Centre is an essential part of the heritage, life and cultural life of this major city and it provides a focus for tourists in its newly revamped state, which cost a great deal. We must save this for posterity and the sake of all citizens and their culture. it was saved once and it can be saved again for its major contribution to the life of our beautiful city. Thank you.

5688 - Ruby Perring

The arts centre is an essential and Valueble space that has created and strengthened so many diverse communities in our city!

5689 - Kylie Tremain

Amazing heritage buildings.

5690 - Marty Muller

Can't ever imagine you wouldn't! Incredibly important to the very fabric of the city. An appalling misstep.what are you thinking?

5691 - Monika Becker

The Arts Centre will not survive without government funding. At the end the City council of Christchurch will be the owner of the Arts Centre and will have to bear all the costs. That would be much more expensive than the past funding.

5692 - Rob Voss

This fabulous heritage architecture, a tourist attraction, needs to be CHCH Council funded forever!

5693 - Jo Lang

Christchurch City won't be the same without the Arts Centre

5694 - Robyn Perkins

My first memories of the arts centre go back to when it first opened and I went to the market. It was lively. Vibrant. It felt European with all the colour amongst the grey gothic stonework. In the 40 plus years since it has been a huge part of my life. I have worked in its buildings (for the SRAC), attended weddings and functions in the great hall, been to concerts, live theatre, films and exhibitions. My children learned ballet and drank fluffies. They visited Rutherford's Den, the Fudge Shop, the kite shop, the bead shop. We took visitors from out of town, and of course the Court Theatre and the Dux de Lux! If we lose the Arts Centre we lose more than just another block of buildings and tenants. We lose the lifeblood of our city. The Cathedral, Arts Centre and the Museum - Christchurch's trifecta of USPs

5695 - Nick Edwards

The Arts Centre is an important part of our city, being one of the few major heritage buildings left in the city, and our city would be a much poorer place without it. Cutting funding now will only end up costing rate payers more in the long term. If the Arts Centre closed it would be a massive waste of the millions of rate payers money spent over the recent years restoring it so beautifully.

5696 - Jan Suckling

We absolutely cannot lose the Arts Centre.

5697 - Vicki Hall

Once a taonga - architectural or otherwise - is lost, it is lost. These are difficult times but it is so important to look to the future and beyond. Christchurch has lost so much. Courageous, considered and correct decisions need to be made.

5698 - Zella Stevens

The Arts Centre is in the heart of the central city and hosts so many events and brings people into town

5699 - Susan Butler Thompson

We need it in our city... Our grandchildren need the art centre Our great grandchildren need the art centre Keep it alive ...

5700 - Michael Drawbridge

With New Zealand being such a young country with few buildings of real historical significance, the Arts Centre needs to be treasured. It's an iconic complex, and the restoration work since the earthquakes surely makes it a valuable asset for tourists and locals alike. The diversity of tenants that use the various spaces is a testament to the space's appeal, and I have attended numerous cultural/artistic events, outdoor cinema, talks and markets here over recent years. The staff are passionate about their work and their much loved centre, and I know this feeling is shared by everyone that I know. We can't afford to lose the Arts Centre!

5701 - Jill Baxter

Please support the Arts. The Arts Centre is not only a wonderful group of heritage buildings, they focus the arts in Christchurch. So much is housed there. Without financial support they are not yet ready to fly alone!

5702 - Nicola Caney

This centre means so much to me. It is central to my memories of growing up - my first job, Saturday markets, Busker festivals, outdoor movies, Rutherford's Den, star gazing, a friend's wedding, taking my children to enjoy festivals and ballet performances. Overriding all of this-it is the moments of wonderful connectivity that I have enjoyed here. That moment when a performance is happening that magic happens between the audience and performer. The uplifting of the soul, the restoration of faith in life. These moments have often been with singers/dancers/performers I have never heard of prior to seeing, but through the support of the Art Centre they are able to perform. These are the moments I treasure. This is what I want to keep funding with my rates. Please reconsider. Listen to the people you serve.

5703 - Maryana Deneva

Its not only about the building. It's also about all the events and opportunities we have with venue.

5704 - Sissi Stein-Abel

The Arts Centre is one of the main attractions of Christchurch, a magnet for locals and visitors alike. It would be devastating and an embarrassment of huge magnitude to not be able to run it properly without some funding by the City Council. We have lost so much, don't add the Arts Centre to the list after all the great work that has gone into it.

5705 - Gemma Keene

The arts centre is a historical landmark to Christchurch, one that is specifically not religiously based. This holds great history and should be funded by the CCC and rate payers at the same monetary value the council has poured into the cathedral.

5706 - Jason Briody

I've been to many events at the arts centre and I think it's a crucial part of a thriving city. Fund it so we have a space for the events, music, and art that calls the Arts Centre home!

5707 - Morgan Blixt

It's the heart of the arts community in chch.

5708 - Hilary Mercer

The Arts Centre is Christchurch's cultural hub. It is also extremely important historically. Please continue to fund this important city location. I am more than happy for my rates to be spent here.

5709 - Lisa Allan

The Arts Centre is part of the fabric of the city. It holds memories of the past and facilitates the creation of memories for all who encounter it. The Arts Centre contributes to the identity of this place and its people. It matters. We need it!

5710 - Helen Down

Such a precious asset for our city

5711 - River Wenmoth

The Arts Centre is an Iconic Christchurch institution. Without it we are just like everywhere else. Who wants that?! Christchurch has already been through so much in the last few decades. Don't we want to help preserve what makes our city truly ours?!

5712 - Margot Bowen

Investing in established, culturally and historically rich buildings needs to be prioritised in a city which has lost so much character. The arts centre is synonymous with Christchurch and it deserves to continue to be looked after appropriately, well used and freely enjoyed things that may be compromised without the support of the local body purse.

5713 - Sam Hood

The city should not lose any more cultural or heritage precincts, as there is very little as it is. Also, being a music student at the UC, it is great to have the facilities available at the Art's Centre.

5714 - Mel Geddes

It is so important we value the beautiful original buildings we have in Ōtautahi and share the beautiful arts with our tamariki

5715 - Bryony Lastovicka

It is a well-used space for a variety of creators to share their projects as well as a great place for tourists who are looking to see what is happening in chch within the arts circle.

5716 - Karen Shields

So much of the charm and character of Christchurch was lost in the earthquakes. I believe we need to do all we can to preserve the buildings that have survived. The Arts Centre is a stunning piece of architecture which has been widely used by the community over the years. Please keep funding it for our future generations to enjoy and not let it be spoiled by hideous commercialism in order to survive.

5717 - Vicki Ferguson

I would rather see you put money into a publicly owned building than the privately owned cathedral.

5718 - Polly Moffitt

I have been volunteering in the arts centre for an artist in residence for the past couple of days. When I see how much these people care, and how beautiful of a setting this place is, and I hear the kids laughing, and the music playing, I almost feel as though the earthquakes never happened. I'm 22, my entire life has built up to the rebuild of the city, and after being gifted new car park after new car park, to see the arts centre thrive now, and to be threatened for it all to be taken away or changed, it's devastating really. This week is the first week of the school holidays, the amount of kids and adults enjoying themselves at the arts centre, I think it's fantastic our council would facilitate that. Heavy on the "WOULD". Need I remind you this is the same group of people, essentially, that brought tourism to this city after the earthquakes (when there was only car parks) with giant murals. Making those works is no mean feat, a lot are still up from when I was very young. I remember heavily noticing as a teenager if there were new murals popping up. It's disrespectful that even though the arts centre is thriving, and only becoming more popular, it's funding may be changed. I remember as a child one of the only times I ever came into town The Arts Centre market, I don't think I've seen that many people since before the earthquake. These people want it to be how it was, want to facilitate change and inspire art into the younger generation, and it would be such a shame if our council were to decide not to support these people anymore. This is an investment into the future of Christchurch and it's artists. Adding this to the long list of things I'd been told to care about by the council my whole life, that are now not important enough too.

5719 - Kirsten Anderson

It is central to the ChCh Arts community/ future generations and the city's public identity.

5720 - Robyn Hurst

The Arts centre is a crucial historic building in the centre of Christchurch. Beautiful architecture with history so close to other historic places. It's been amazing to see the progress of restoration over the last few years. We need to embrace the beauty and support the Art centre and what it has to offer our community.

5721 - Zara Cummings

It's an iconic part of Christchurch history that has been restored and should continue to be used to its full potential

5722 - Margaret Simpson

We have lost so much of our heritage, the Arts Centre needs to be supported to become a vibrant hub of events, community activities and markets once again. When the Museum upgrade is completed these two valuable buildings should complement each other and be vital to tourism and ratepayer-funded activities throughout the year

5723 - Celine Frost

After the earthquake it's one of the only buildings left in the city with beautiful architecture and is equal to the cathedral as to what makes Christchurch. It's also cool for tourists to see the old with the new! How a city can overcome complete devastation but beautiful buildings like the art centre still stand.

5724 - Dani Hardy

An iconic and historic heart of Christchurch, such a stunning building. Home to many wonderful businesses, this also generates tourism. If it was easier to access with parking it would be more popular for sure

5725 - Amiria Grenell

The arts centre has held so many events throughout my whole life as a child growing up into an adult in Ōtautahi, then as a musician & actor performing at many spaces and the different theatre in the arts centre. Please fund this beautiful piece of our history and keep the creative world alive here in Ōtautahi!

5726 - Amber Connole

It's an important resource for the arts and is so much more than just the beautiful buildings that make up the Arts Centre.

5727 - Annabel Sandison

This historic space needs to be protected PLEASE! It's the heart of Christchurch. Plus all the beautiful businesses it is home to. It's filled With memories from most people in the city and should be saved!

5728 - David Ovendale

As a long standing Christchurch rate payer, not funding the Art Centre is a poor decision and one I would like reconsidered. It is a community asset for the benefit of all Cantsbrians, is an excellent tourist attraction bring people and money to our city and should not be defunded. Listen to you electorate and do the right thing.

5729 - Aleshia Ingham

It is a beautiful attraction to the city and what other city in the world doesn't have an art centre? Life isn't all about saving costs, people need enjoyment and reason

5730 - Sarah Kennedy

Wonderful place for the chch community

5731 - Selena Mantey-worrall

The artcentre is if historical, educational and social value

5732 - Katie Shanaher

This is where I bring everyone who is visiting Christchurch, it is a staple to the city

5733 - Chantelle Parsons

The arts is one of the things that sets Christchurch apart from anywhere else in New Zealand. We have a place on the world stage because of how we embrace the arts. The Arts Centre must continue to be funded by the council so that it doesn't become just another victim of capitalism and that it stays being an incredible place for community, creativity and culture. I am a rates payer and the bill gets more and more every year and I take issue with that being the case but The Arts Centre not being the list of funding.

5734 - Jennifer Pope

The Arts Centre is a historical complex that attracts tourists & local citizens, therefore an important revenue for Christchurch.

5735 - Sam Haehae

Dear Christchurch City Council, I'm writing to oppose the proposed cuts to the Arts Centre's funding. The Arts Centre is more than a collection of buildings; it's the beating heart of our city's cultural life, a cornerstone of our economic well-being, and a vital source of support for our most vulnerable citizens. Defunding this essential institution would be a grave mistake with far-reaching consequences. Protecting Our Wellbeing and Mental Health Christchurch is no stranger to hardship. In the wake of the earthquakes, we've grappled with some pretty hefty mental health challenges. Studies conclusively demonstrate that a thriving arts scene plays a vital role in fostering community well-being. Art as Therapy: Engaging with the Arts Centre, whether through artistic expression or simply appreciating exhibits, provides a powerful outlet for stress and negative emotions. Art therapy has been shown to significantly reduce anxiety and depression symptoms. A Community Anchor: The Centre fosters a sense of belonging and connection – crucial antidotes to social isolation, a major risk factor for mental health struggles. Theatre groups, workshops, and events create a space for shared experiences and community support. Jeopardizing Our Economic Engine A vibrant arts scene is not just about creativity; it's a significant economic driver. Tourism Magnet: The Arts Centre attracts visitors from around the globe, generating revenue for hotels, restaurants, and shops in the surrounding precinct. Local Business Catalyst: The Centre fosters a thriving creative sector, with artists, designers, and performers contributing to the city's unique identity and economic ecosystem. Struggling Artists, a Struggling City Christchurch's artistic community is already under immense pressure. Artists are often underpaid and face limited opportunities. Defunding the Arts Centre would further disadvantage this vital sector. A Platform for Expression: The Centre provides a platform for local artists to showcase their work, connect with audiences, and contribute to the city's cultural tapestry. Investing in the Future: Supporting artists fosters creativity, innovation, and a dynamic city image – all crucial for attracting talent and investment. The Arts Centre is not a luxury; it's an investment in our city's soul. Let's prioritize our cultural vibrancy, mental well-being, and economic prosperity. Let's ensure the Arts Centre continues to be a beacon of hope, creativity, and opportunity for all. Ngā mihi Samantha Haehae

5736 - Carrie Zhang

When the body/mind loses balance, it stops to function properly and dies. When a city loses balance, it damages its reputation and deprives its residents. When the planet loses balance, our existence and the whole civilization is threatened. What is there to gain when you take away an arts organization's blood line? What will happen to the people, our future generations, this city when we lose that balance?

5737 - Claudia Silva

Hi team, Chch really needs to invest in heritage buildings like the arts center to help build a sense of place in the city that is still severely lacking. While this doesn't necessarily need to be JUST an arts center this is such a central hub for the arts which is so necessary for a thriving and vibrant city. Perhaps there could be some thought around using the building more for business and office space as well as an arts space - by having people there for their day to day work this will expose them to the events on in the art dedicated space and this feed back into the engagement of the art center. We don't need to be building "new and more" all the time when we can invest in the beautiful places we already have

5738 - Jane East

This is a very important Christchurch icon. Huge tourist attraction

5739 - Paige Cain

No funding means what? Another empty abandoned building? Plus the arts Centre hosts so many lovely businesses, ones that bring in a lot of tourism and money. The council are STUPID if they stop providing funding. Don't be stupid. It's not cute.

5740 - Sophie Dillon

The Arts Centre is such a beautiful and necessary space for locals and visitors alike to appreciate the heritage and history of some of our architecture. There are also some amazing and popular local businesses using the Arts Centre, so it would be such a huge detriment to them, their success, and customers if the funding was to cease

5741 - Helen Amer

The Art Centre is such a valuable resource for Christchurch that is used by locals and tourists alike. Funding for it must be prioritised!

5742 - Jorge Calderon

I think is indispensable for a city to have a public space dedicated to the arts and culture. I have been living 4 years in Christchurch and seen many different cultural events, arts exhibitions and movies in the arts centre, lots of them for free, which attract more people and make them more interested into culture and art. The Art Centre has also work as a public space for people to gather and meet each other in a beautiful space that it need to keep maintained and working trough the development of cultural industry in Christchurch

5743 - Melissa Roberts

The Earthquake already took so much of our history, we should be funding these amazing spaces.

5744 - Kimberley Wood

Shows I have performed at the Arts Centre have been among some of my absolute favorites. Seeing the arts thrive in Christchurch is a passion project of mine and without funding needed, it is another blow for the arts and the children of New Zealand who need these shows and opportunities to engage in the arts to have a balanced education.

5745 - Kate Ericksen

Taonga of chch. Historical and cultural significance

5746 - Rose Hurst

It has been a central part of my life and my family's life for 50 years. My children learnt music here, great educational opportunities.

5747 - Alicia Scroggins

We love the arts centre, such a great space for our young family we go all the time as we live in the central city. We love the events and the beautiful heritage buildings.

5748 - Elizabeth Rayner

The Arts Centre is an historic public space which is, for many kiwis, their first or only experience of the English architecture on which early English Chch was based. It is a fabulous compact space that can be used indoors and outdoors by all ages of people. If it can be used or continue to be used by artists and crafts people this is wonderful support for that part of our lives which fulfills the human spirit. I think it is the right thing to do for Otōutahi. As opposed to the cathedral which has narrower use and a lower value proposition.

5749 - Sarah Beal

The Arts Centre is literally my favoirite place in Christchurch - not only for thr beauty and history of the buildings but the art contained within them. Have been to many of my friends exhibitions there and was hoping to have 1 myself - there are limited places in the city where you can stage your own exhibition. Without the Arts Centre (and quite possibly the cathedral) Christchurch would become just another boring city.

5750 - mary Carnegie

Keep supporting the arts centre it's important to keep it going as it is

5751 - Chris Smith

This is crazy for the City Council to think of canceling funding for The Arts Centre. The Arts Centre has so much to offer Christchurch and tourists. It's a wonderful place to visit, especially on the weekends, offers great concerts (especially the lunchtime concerts for older adults), activities for children during school holidays, and great cafes. Please think twice about this in the Long Term Plan. If I missed this in my recent submission for the Long Term Plan, I don't recall it specifically being mentioned.

5752 - Richard Swanson

Save the Arts Centre. This is a valuable resource.

5753 - Livvy Pride

The art centre is an important part of Christchurch's culture, not just in a historical sense but as a space to promote the arts in the present and future. The arts centre attracts tourism and brings vibrancy to the centre city. Small businesses benefit from the space the arts centre provides.

5754 - Kerim Hadfield

Not only is this and historic and iconic building This is a place for the people and of course the arts Not funding The Arts Centre is disappointing and a mistake

5755 - Jane Pickrill

It's an incredible asset to our city and it would be devastating to not have it available for all the amazing events it hosts. Let's stop funding the cathedral that offers nothing and spend the money on an already established space for the people of Christchurch.

5756 - Odin Pickrill-Kay

Because there are lots of fun things to do there. I love going there.

5757 - Rebecca Millar

This taonga is a stunning drawcard for locals and tourists. It must be prioritised for funding as a matter of pride and common sense.

5758 - Liam Hartshorn

Save it

5759 - Carlyn Keulen

It's part of the cultural heritage of Christchurch

5760 - Scott Bolton

The Arts Center always has been, and always should be an institution for the arts. The social and cultural value of an arts hub like this is immeasurable, and an invaluable asset to the city.

5761 - Sarah Higginson

The Arts Centre is the real heart of this city. It holds the greatest of memories and experiences for generations and for generations to come. It was a place where I was able to complete my university study, create theatre, work at Le Café and form life long friendships, watch my best mates play in multiple bands, watching endless movies. It is a creative haven for all. It's beautiful. It's essential to Christchurch and our future as a city with creative presence.

5762 - Chris Woods

Please continue funding the Arts Centre. It is the heart of the city. So many great things going on there. It would be a bid SHAME to have this icon down graded.

5763 - Simon Teague

Are we just going to forget all of our heritage? This is a supreme example of the beautiful architecture that is no longer prevalent in Chch. I wouldn't mind betting that what Chch earns from this stunning part of the city with tourism etc more than pays for its upkeep. It would be even better if someone actually pulled you-know-what out of you-know-where and got the Dux up and running again.

5764 - Samuel John Rinald

So cool don't lose it

5765 - Hazel Semple

The arts centre is the heart of the city! Love visiting, have a coffee, try something new!

5766 - Megan Dickson

The Arts centre is an important location in Christchurch for many community events and probably the most frequented heritage building by locals and tourists alike. It is an important hub for creativity and helps create a sense of "community" in Christchurch. I think it would be a real shame if the city council didn't fund it anymore and a real loss to the Christchurch community if it could no longer afford to be maintained.

5767 - Ali McCormick

The Arts Centre is a community centre of wellbeing, where we can slow down and connect with our creativity to appreciate the work of our peers, our community and a life of meaning beyond ourselves. The Art Centre is a reminder that materialism is not enough. The Arts form a critical vein in the body of a well soul. It is a place that inspires new ways of being a place of mental wellness. In a time when mental health is at an all time low we need to retain our community places of warm gathering and celebration that exist for reasons beyond financial profit. Christchurch without an Art Centre would be a sad and soulless place.

5768 - Fran Pashby

Because it is a premiere location for the arts in Christchurch and also a fantastic tourist destination.

5769 - Jessica Duirs

The Arts Centre is truly a jewel in Christchurch's crown. With the decimation and deterioration of so many heritage spaces all over Aotearoa, this has a direct trickle down to the Arts, as so many of these venues are entwined with the cultural heritage and arts industry of our country. NZTrio has been fortunate to perform in the Great Hall at The Arts Centre many times, and the loss of this venue would have a huge impact on the availability of Christchurch venues for their hirers and audiences. More pressure would result on other venues, and fewer concerts as a consequence. Christchurch needs The Arts Centre, so please fund this vital and essential venue.

5770 - Zoe Dibb

Without a doubt my favourite place to visit when I come to Christchurch and also the first place I recommend to others. It is not only an invaluable space for the considerable artistic talent in this super cool city, but a valuable tourist attraction.

5771 - Gretchen Smith

History, the Arts , Tourists, shops the market are a vibrant part of our city . It is part of who we are as a community and as a city

5772 - Kirsty Robinson

The Arts Centre is an iconic destination in Christchurch - so many locals and visitors to our city have fantastic memories of visiting there and we need to ensure future generations can enjoy similiar experiences. It showcases heritage architecture, important local history, and is a fun place to gather to enjoy local arts, design, food, and community events. It would be a really sad day for our city, residents, and visitors if it ceased to exist due to funding shortfalls. I think it is short-sighted to cease funding, especially with the redevelopment of the Canterbury Museum and thinking ahead to futher revitalisation of this heritage area within Christchurch - we have so few central city heritage spaces to enjoy post-earthquakes.

5773 - John Coker

The arts centre is one of the reasons that I came to Christchurch on holiday with my family.

5774 - Euan McGuffie

The Arts Centre brings so much to ChCh. I particularly enjoy Lumiere, Bunsen and the bakery. It's a unique and vibrant place and surely a side of our city we should promote for all to enjoy.

5775 - Cate Laurenson

The Arts Centre is the heart of our city -it's that simple

5776 - Juliet Hughes

Art saves people.

5777 - Kerren Langdon

Please reconsider. The Arts Centre is so valuable to ChCh.

5778 - Sue Wilkinson

Funding the Arts Centre should be a priority, particularly in such hard economic times when there's so little to enjoy which isn't barred to most due to cost. And supporting & encouraging artists should be one of council priorities.

5779 - Rose Kirkup

The arts centre is a huge asset to the city and the arts industry. As a 2022 artist in residency at the arts center I found this time invaluable as a professional. The connections I have made there are life long, as well as sharing the space with my friends and whanau. We were gobsmacked and humbled by the care taken to ensure this space for our people. It is a sad day for the city when the arts are taken out of the arts centre. As a college for some of our most influential thinkers in the past, I fear this knowledge will be lost to the next generation. Because we all know the Centre will be further made into retail and apartments. I don't feel that the people who lived and passed during the earth quakes, want to see this treasure lost to privatisation. It took me 34 years to visit the arts centre it took my parents 70, don't make this an opportunity that isn't there for the community to discover and learn from. Let the city heal more, the building has just been reinstated. If you care about the community don't take spaces away that bring people together, in a post covid world we need these types of places more now than ever.

5780 - Nicki Ashby

The arts centre is a beautiful piece of Christchurch history and deserves to be looked after and kept as it is one of the few historical buildings left in the city since the quakes. Losing it would be so sad.

5781 - Karta Hewitt

We need to save some of Christchurch art and history. Will be devastating if it has to close down.

5782 - Lynne McDonald

The Arts Centre is one of the jewels of Christchurch. To many of us, it represents our past, the place where we attended university, and learnt to love the beautiful surroundings. Since the earthquakes, so much has been done, and so much achieved. It is now a place that can be visited with much satisfaction. But it is not finished, and this is not the time to stop funding. What is done, has to be kept up, and what is yet to do has to be persevered with. Please, for the sake of the city, continue funding The Arts Centre.

5783 - Lily-Mae Baird

Funding the Arts Center or not shouldn't be up for debate! While you cut funding for the arts centre people will be losing jobs, community, connections, opportunities and support. If you want Christchurch to be a place known for its lack of (support for) creativity, curiosity and general freedom of expression then have your city of singularly minded people, but please know that artists are sick of feeling unwelcome in this city - I urge you to consider whether this is a message you really want to strengthen. If you don't support artists you will lose us, plus all the social and economic contributions we offer.

5784 - Rosa Sullivan

it's a place where people can express their creativity.

5785 - George Fraser

Its a hub of activity for the community . One of the only heritage buildings remaining in Christchurch. Its a beacon in a pretty beige inner city where all new buildings are homogenous this is a necessity for our city

5786 - Bronté Perriam

The Arts are a vital aspect to Christchurch, and helps bring in tourism. Without The Arts Centre, how can we encourage creativity in our city? How can we tell creatives that they matter, then show no support for them?

5787 - Olivia Watts

The Arts centre is a vital part of the Christchurch Arts scene. So many performances and events just wouldn't happen without it. And Christchurch would be worse off for it.

5788 - Hannah Crichton

The Arts Centre is a vital aspect of the community, from the shops, to lunchtime events, to exhibitions. To not have the culture and heritage would be a shame and reduce the vibrancy of Christchurch. At the crux, it is a space for the community, and should remain available through continued funding.

5789 - Jessica Swarbrick

Without art our cities and communities are miserable. You might save a few dollars but you will end up killing what makes Christchurch a wonderful city to live in.

5790 - Zusje Law

Chch sucks without art.

5791 - Thysje Arthur

Christchurch and surrounding areas have a very healthy art following. All forms of artistic pursuits should be welcomed and catered for. In this stressful age, the artistic pursuits are a healthy way to combat what ails us in this world - for all ages. Not only for the artist but for the general public who are at the receiving end and for many it's a lifeline. Please think again as I strongly feel the Arts Centre needs the Council's support.

5792 - Mia Anderson

Save the Art Centre!

5793 - Sandra Bell

Save the Arts Centre

5794 - Denise O'Donoghue

The Arts Centre is iconic and has brought so much pleasure and joy over so many years to all that have visited from here in Christchurch to people from all over the world. I couldn't imagine it not being here and encourage all at the council, who are involved with not contributing to keep this fabulous place open to reconsider and do the right thing for many years to come, so our future generations can get the pleasure out of all it has offer. Thankyou Denise O'Donoghue

5795 - Karaan Tucker

As one of the most beautiful group of buildings left after the Quakes we have a duty to keep this wonderful space maintained and vibrant. If current Manager is not up to the task we need to look at how it can go forward. I would like to know why the current management are hell bent on NOT reopening the Dux and why despite the wonderful efforts of many the place is stagnating. Funding allows for options that may not be viable predicated on a purely profit/loss modal

5796 - Salina Fisher

The Arts Centre is absolutely essential to the cultural life of Ōtautahi. It would be a devastating loss to the community, and for New Zealand, if The Arts Centre was to close. I am a Christchurch-born composer, and many of my formative musical experiences took place there. Please do not pull the plug on this taonga that plays such a meaningful role in the life and wellbeing of the city.

5797 - Harriet Collins

It's a beautiful, historic place filled with culture! An incredible asset to our city.

5798 - Helen Willis

It's one of the few attractive historic buildings in the city which has great events to attract tourists and residents into the city. We can't afford to lose it

5799 - Adelma Matthews

After losing so much previous heritage to the earthquake, this is the heart of our city! It needs to be funded.

5800 - Farah Ali

Chch won't have a museum for 4 more years, the art gallery doesn't get travelling exhibitions, and now you want to take away the arts centre and the cultural richness it brings to the kids in our community, not to mention something we can be proud to showcase to tourists, such a shame turning Chch into a cultural wasteland. It gives character and culture to the central city, it would be a great loss not to use the space as it's being currently used in Chch

5801 - Brenda Scott

The arts centre is the soul of the city and should be adequately funded for its survival

5802 - Eko Mai

Art might seem useless or unnecessary to our daily life like supermarkets. BUT it is the essential component to our human nature! It is already very difficult for an artist to continue create and perform activities, without the fund and support, what else can Christchurch leave for its resident and for travelers! Please make chch more active and interesting! We need more art and cultural activities especially after the trauma on both the earthquake and the pandemic! We need spiritual power to encourage people!

5803 - Matt Fennell

It is one of the most interesting and enjoyable public spaces in this city. It is a super unique place that I often take friends and family to go explore when they come from out of town - Heaps of cool stores and spaces that would be a shame to lose.

5804 - Tracey Jones

The Arts Centre is an important part of the City. Please continue to fund and look after it!

5805 - Hannah Thomas

Historic buildings

5806 - Grace Bevin

My music groups and creative expression helped me be comfortable in the world and has literally saved my life. Multiple groups that I'm a part of rehearse and perform in the arts centre and I know that it brings me and so many people joy to attend performances there.

5807 - Martin Van zonneveld

Art reaches the soul, it is beyond reason, a necessity for the essence, the spiritual health of humanity.

5808 - Rose Fauth

We had the most amazing "Harry potter" morning at the center. We made the trip up from Timaru especially. It was a magical experience that enriched our children, full of imagination, investigation and fun. It would be so sad to see the situation change with a lack of support from the council. It makes sense to power volunteers with council funded staff to stretch rate payers funds. And would be non sensible to continue the successful model. Thank you for the special experience, we can't wait to bring our friends and more family here next time.

5809 - Anna Coppens

The Arts Centre is so important to Christchurch, leaving it unfinished would be such a waste of a wonderful space.

5810 - Phil Taylor

It is 'the' iconic heritage precinct in ChCh and there is a real vibe to the place. It would be a disaster to see it go backwards.

5811 - Lorena Cárdenas corrales

Without Art we can't progress as a society. Art is at the centre of Christchurch. Without an art centre the cbd will be a lot more grey, liveless!

5812 - Dean Mooney

Hello, My experiences with the Art centre date back 40 years, when I use to help work on a stall under the cloisters in the quadrangle (then later in the car park area behind the Dux de Lux) for my parents selling antiques and collectibles as part of a diverse market. Living on Gloucester st, we were regular patrons of the DdL, and I even worked there casually in the old bar and restaurant. Sundays would often result in a visit to the Bakehouse cafe for coffee and treats. Throw in regular visits to the Court Theatre (especially Friday night improv night), lunch at the food caravans, Movies at the Academy theatre and ofcourse dinners at Jumbalaya and late night suppers at Le Cafe. There seemed that at different times over the decades there were far more reasons to visit the wider Art Centre area, and that since then (and namely the earthquake) it has lost its heart. The complex should offer better around the clock attractions to compliment the wonderful businesses like The Cellar Door, Observatory Hotel (of which I have been a guest recently) and Lumiere. I believe that the Art Centre and Dux de Lux are bound to one another on that sight ...and that any new tenant will always be in the shadow of the former. The Art Centre needs people! People who eat, drink, shop, watch, laugh, relax, perform and teach. I believe the Councils role is to facilitate an infrastructure to allow many of these attractions and boutique businesses to establish and provide investment to assist these.

5813 - Isabella Shatford

I've grown up with the Arts Centre, pre and post earthquake. I consider it one of the most special parts of CHCH. Our city has already suffered enough with multiple events damaging our economy and tourist industry. The Arts Centre is home to restaurants, cafes, and a cinema which draws in both locals and tourists. Its a historic hotspot and should be supported.

5814 - Nikki Fraser

You have an obligation to fund this historically significant setup that is a centrepiece for visitors to Christchurch upon whom you are so very dependent. CCC has been so incredibly fortunate to have received so much money and so many innovative enterprises from private sources and from public that this is the least you can do to support the city. Rates are considerably lower than many places around the country so it would be great to see chch supporting itself better. The benefits are to Christchurch alone.

5815 - Caroline Williams

The arts centre is the heart and soul of Christchurch and after so much loss its crucial it remains free to continue its journey. An artistic community hub, full of so many wonderful events and happenings which aren't destroyed by glitzy commercialism.

5816 - Annette Hobby

How can the Council even think of not including funding to keep our Arts Centre a viable proposition. The earthquake cover and immediate commencement of repairs puts other Council projects to shame. What is Christchurch without the Arts Centre? We have so few of our Heritage Buildings left. It is Christchurch and it deserves better than to be put on the discard pile. Would choose the Arts Centre over the Cathedral for funding any day!

5817 - Kieran Brewster

Te Matatiki Toi Ora has been a place of significant personal education and professional development for myself, and many of my friends and associates. From participating in performing arts works both on stage and behind, to attending workshops and educational seminars at the site, learning about the early achievements of the Cantabrian scientific faculty in the very rooms the achievements were discovered and made. The open and unspoiled nature of The Arts Centre is one major aspect of its value to the city as an attraction and cultural centrepiece. It's a living museum of our local and natural scientific history, as well as an accessible stage in itself to the arts community - whatever medium is being presented. I worry that exclusion of City funds to contribute to the operational and ongoing maintenance/restoration costs will have a serious detrimental effect to the future of the centre, and to its availability and accessibility to future generations of arts patrons as a place where they can experience the wonder and enrichment that Te Matatiki Toi Ora provides to its visitors. Please continue funding for Te Matatiki Toi Ora.

5818 - Lena Tiebosch

Its a great place for tourists and locals!

5819 - Aleshia Edens

Don't know why you would want to destroy more history when Christchurch has already lost so much after the earthquakes !

5820 - Sachi Summerlee

The Arts Centre is such a vital part of the cultural life of Christchurch!! Any loss of funding to The Arts Centre would be devastating for all of the wider Ōtautahi area.

5821 - Peter DYHRBERG

It is my submission that it is vitally important that the City Council maintains the pattern and scale of its funding contribution to the Christchurch Arts Centre which has prevailed in recent years. Such a contribution deserves to be high on the list of priorities within the proposed Long Term Plan budget. There are at least two very significant aspects to the value of the Arts Centre to the City. FIRST there is the social and cultural value of the assembly of spaces and functions within the Centre. These have been creatively curated by the Centre and are enormously appreciated by a wide range of locals and visitors alike. They are well maintained and their imaginative administration ensures the ongoing attraction and vitality of the Centre as a whole within Christchurch. SECONDLY there is the unparalleled architectural and heritage significance of the buildings, including the post earthquake re-instatement work which has been devoted to the majority of the edifices on the site and the competent and protective shoring up of those structures yet to be fully re-instated. Having emphasised those aspects, I turn to another and I would submit, overarching reason why continuation of the pattern of funding contributions from the City Council should be continued. The Arts Centre is a key component in a matrix of Gothic Revival landmark buildings which, collectively, generate a great proportion of the distinctiveness which marks out and gives the City its identity, its point of difference. (Other contributors within that matrix are, for example, the Christchurch Cathedral, the Museum, the former Trinity Congregational Church on the corner of Worcester and Manchester Streets, the Provincial Buildings and Christ's College, to name the obvious contenders.) It is acknowledged that there other and more modern contributors to the identity of Christchurch. However the matrix just outlined is a key to the whole which it is submitted constitutes a central core to the city, the maintenance of which deserves to be accorded the highest priority.

5822 - Robin Farmar

The arts centre is vital to our city. It's our heritage our heart and too precious to lose.

5823 - Jillo'Malley O'Malley

it is essential the Art Centre is funded as it is the biggest entertainment asset in the central city. In fact, more funding would mean they could give us a wider variety of entertainment

5824 - Shana Sinclair

We use this space so often, it's so beautiful and would be such a shame to see it no longer

5825 - Matilda Fraser

I think the threat of defunding the Arts Centre is really disappointing! I have had the privilege of living at the Arts Centre for three months during 2021 and I have witnessed first-hand the careful and prudent stewardship of the team there, who carry out a huge amount of work and really punch above their weight to deliver a wide-ranging programme in service to the community - all kinds of community. The Arts Centre is really the heart of Christchurch - everyone knows it, has visited, has fond memories, and it has instant name recognition around the country and further afield. It sure does a lot more than the Cathedral ever did for tourism! A perfect system works invisibly; like the weather, you only notice when something is awry. When an institution has been thriving for so long, it's easy to assume that it does so without effort. I can assure you, there is a lot of effort. The return on investment is staggering. To disrupt the status quo - such as it is - will open the door to years of ballooning costs as the inevitable transfer of assets to Council is all but guaranteed to be a horrorshow. Imagine the hole in the city if all of the healthy businesses residing in the Arts Centre are forced to close down. After years of rubble and rebuilds, Christchurch deserves to have nice things! That's it from me. I hope you'll reconsider.

5826 - Lisa Begg

They shouldn't contribute more than they already have contributed It's a private matter for Anglican Church. The impact on the broader Cathedral Square reinstatement is irrelevant as the plans around were decorative rather than things that would potentially draw people to the Square.

5827 - Sally Neame

Such a valuable asset for Christchurch. It must be funded.

5828 - John Marris

The Arts Centre is the jewel in the crown of Christchurch's heritage architecture. As a rate payer I want to see the Christchurch City Council provide financial support to help restore the Arts Centre and allow it to become the city asset and tourist attraction that the city deserves.

5829 - Lauren Brent

Why would you bother coming into the inner cbd if we lost the Arts Centre? You wouldn't. The Arts Centre is one of the few remaining icons of the city's heritage and the CCC has a duty to ensure it remains for future generations to enjoy.

5830 - Andrea Musgrave

This is the most beautifully iconic building in Christchurch. It's a hub of art, music, play and fascination. It just really wouldn't be Christchurch central without it.

5831 - Astrid Priest

Christchurch history, heritage, and heart. Don't be "that Council" known for destroying it.

5832 - Lynn Kelly

I feel the Arts Centre is a beautifully restored building in the center of a city which has lost the majority of its historic heritage. It is used by a marvelous selection of both Canterbury residents and visitors for a diverse range of events and is able to present them at accessible prices helped by the financial support given by the Christchurch City Council. It is excellent use of Council money for a wide selection of the community.

5833 - John Mote

The Arts Centre is a critical part of our City, it helps define our identity, it is a living celebration of our history and provides an essential support service to many people who enjoy the quiet pursuit of a wide range of passive recreational activities. The Council has a responsibility to provide the level of funding necessary to ensure this treasure not only survives but thrives.

5834 - Dee Gibbons

The Arts Centre is one of the few iconic parts of the city left following the 2012 earthquake and is a fabulous multi-use area. It offers spaces for events indoors and outdoors alongside huge historic significance and unique features which tell a story about the city's history. Yes it requires cash to upkeep but council has a responsibility to the people of Christchurch to allow for reasonable restoration and preservation of historical buildings.

5835 - Emily Close

It's the heart of the city. The most wonderful place to meet friends and family. It's part of our social rituals. The fabric of life.

5836 - Mikaela Dewar

As a rates payer I can't state strongly enough the need to fund The Arts Centre. It is the cultural hub of our entire city, providing central spaces for music lessons, performances, Toastmasters and numerous local groups to meet and collaborate and share ideas. Christchurch would be an incredibly dull place without these groups and it is part of our local DNA. There is no soul to a city without arts and artist collaboration, and it would be an absolute travesty for the Christchurch City Council to not fund it.

5837 - Paula Brankin

It is a very important part of Christchurch's history, and is well used. So lucky to still have these buildings which are so interesting. This to be funded by the Christchurch City Council for us all to use and love the Arts Centre

5838 - Tania Smith

Please reconsider funding the Arts Centre. It's a gorgeous site that requires ongoing maintenance and insurance to keep it alive as the amazing creative hub that it has become, again, after great destruction. It's so much more than just a collective of buildings. It is a community and a place that draws overseas visitors and locals alike. Do the right thing, continue to fund the Arts Centre.

5839 - Gregor Munro

It's a historic icon and must be preserved.

5840 - Ciaran Fox

The Arts Centre is also a centre for joy, for families, for culture, food, film, music, theatre and learning. It will forever be a better investment than the stadium and the Cathedral combined. Tourists will never come for our mediocre and overbudget stadium (of which they have bigger and better) but they will cherish unique experiences at the Arts Centre. Please explain for future generations why you would not fund the true cultural icon of the central city. I guess they can just go to malls.

5841 - Annika Nebel

Foster culture and connection with different communities. Provide Education and offer free events to all people.

5842 - Karen Andrews

The Arts Centre has beautiful historic buildings that are iconic to Christchurch and it's people and funding should continue

5843 - Jane Batchelor

It is the cultural hub of Christchurch, a precious heritage feature of our city that engages our community and visitors with a multitude of experiences on many different levels, the arts, science, social and hospitality.

5844 - Mike Howse

Far better option than the Cathedral in the Square, and, used by more people than would use the Cathedral.

5845 - Jennifer Hearne

It's a delight to see the many visitors (and locals) at all times of the day/night admiring the buildings and the restorative work being undertaken. It's such a vibrant hub filling up with culture, arts, food, even accommodation. I know things are tough but I think it would be very short sighted of the Council to stop the funding.

5846 - Kat Jordan-McGrath

The Arts Center is one of the top icons of chch. It is a great place to explore, has my fave restaurant in it, the great hall, movie theatre, art galleries, the classic museum and event venues. It is crucial these things all survive. We need arts. We need art spaces. Art spaces bring in money and people to chch. It's history is important to chch and its people and I want it to stay. So if it needs help to stay. Please please help it to stay for my sons generation and beyond. Anything else in its place would not have the grandure, mystery, history or iconicness that the current Arts Center has. Keep it. Please.

5847 - Chingyee Pang

L'art est un miroir de la société. People should have free access to art. The Art Centre is great gateway

5848 - Che Wilkinson

Please consider that the Arts Center is an integral part of our City, and a huge part of its character. Many visitors from overseas comment on how wonderful it is, it defines us on a global level.

5849 - Deborah Lean

The Arts Centre is part of the natural flow of the central city that connects the Botanic Gardens and museum to the Art Gallery, to the river, to the increasingly vibrant Cashel Mall, Riverside and hospitality areas. Apart from being an ICONIC Ōtautahi site for those of us who grew up and continue to live here, it is interesting to visitors to our city. It is an asset that should be supported by the City Council. It has been a centre for the Arts and continues to be a meeting place for the community. And while I'm at it bring back the Dux!

5850 - Anna Pain

It would be such a travesty to lose the arts centre- we need arts in Canterbury- surely we can be smarter about this?

5851 - Emily Cropp

The Arts Centre is an incredible space for people to be creative, learn, and connect. It is invaluable

5852 - Michael Franks

It's a Christchurch land mark and a great place to visit

5853 - Greg Hamilton

Such an important part of Christchurch. Please support the wide range of activities that bring people into the heart of the city

5854 - Rebecca Dooley

It is a part of the collective Christchurch identity. Ratepayers have not questioned its worth nor given a mandate for the council to change the funding model- which is what is happening. The trust has the arts centre's interests at its core and needs to remain.

5855 - Niamh Fanning

It's one of the most beautiful attractions in Christchurch. It's unique and interesting, on a beautiful street where the tram goes by. Its proximity to the botanical gardens and art gallery. It brings richness to the city.

5856 - Michael Bolch

It would be truly embarrassing to leave The Arts Centre in a state of disrepair, considering its historic, cultural and architectural importance. It's a tourist drawcard, and would say a lot about us as a city leaving such an important building in ruin, in the heart of our tourism district. Not to mention, the old Court Theatre is inside The Arts Centre, which would be extremely valuable to Christchurch as a performance space. The lack of vision from this Council is truly embarrassing, this should be a crown jewel project for Christchurch, which undoubtedly deserves full funding, urgent backing, and vocal support.

5857 - Sarah King

It provides a creative outlet for smaller businesses, boosts local economy as a popular tourist site and, showcases the previous stages of Christchurch history.

5858 - Nicola Brooker

It would be a massive disservice to Christchurch, Canterbury & New Zealand if this beautiful, historical, art hub was unable to continue. Please continue to fund it Christchurch City Council!!

5859 - Jake Sionemale

If the arts centre buildings aren't worth funding, I am not sure any of our buildings are. This city does not have a lot of history and certainly not a lot of architectural history. These buildings have the most character in the city without question. I cannot conceive why the funding for the building might be cut, with all of the new, soulless buildings being erected every week it is important to keep those which have meaning and a sense of place.

5860 - Amelia Page

The Arts Centre is a building that is near to my heart as I have been coming to it since I was a child for things such as music lessons, the Court Theatre, the cinema and Fudge Cottage. I now come to it for performances that I sing in or attend, to enjoy the eateries and shops, and to appreciate the beautiful architecture. The Arts Centre continues to be a vital centre for the arts and allows so many projects to happen by providing a venue. We need funding for it so that it can continue to be a place where artists can afford to be and where people who enjoy and consume the arts can do just that. Furthermore, it provides a place for community and connection, which we all need more of in these times.

5861 - Carmin Beck

It's a unique, one of a kind resource for Ōtautahi Christchurch which marries the heritage and historical aspect of the city with the vibrancy of current shops, artists, cafes, and more. The spot is absolutely marvellous and we cannot afford for it to be gone. It is a great resource for occupants of the area as well as for visitors and tourists looking to get to know the area.

5862 - Yvonne Yates

The Arts Centre is a very special place for many people. It is one of the few historic buildings left after the Christchurch earthquakes. It is part of our history and part of our future.

5863 - Katy French

The Arts Centre is a historic treasure for New Zealand and even valued on a world stage. The council should support The Arts Centre financially so that it can continue to do what it does best! It is a centre for the community, all are welcome, manaaki forms the basis of all it strives to do. No matter if you have lots in the bank or nothing at all, there is something for everyone. Music, dance, theatre, art, sculpture, history, science, education, creative wonderful workshops, eclectic events, the list goes on and on..... The Arts Centre is many things to many people. Schools visit every year, thousands of students embarking on programmes that ignite their passions and undergoing an unforgettable experience that will change them forever. Families visit creating cherished memories. Cultural groups have a second home there. All my family from overseas have visited many times and have experienced many different things there, a craft workshop, an astronomy talk, a concert, a puppet show with their grandchildren, Rutherford's Den, burlesque and cabaret, these are but a few of their experiences. My own experiences would need an essay in itself. Having lived in Christchurch now for nearly 20 years and being a NZ citizen my memories are vast of The Arts Centre. It was a part of my life in my twenties and is still a part of my life in my forties. The council needs to help fund and support The Arts Centre and all it stands for and all it continuously gives to all.

5864 - Steph Mangan

Art and culture brings vibrancy to the city and gets people onto the CBD. Christchurch has almost no spaces for arts and it would be a huge loss to the city to lose the arts centre.

5865 - Tessa Chisholm

Historic buildings that offer so much to the people of chch. Why wouldn't you provide funding to save the centre?

5866 - Tracy Keith

The arts centre is a highlight of the city centre. It has been a place of connection for me as a new mother in a new city. I have fond memories of time spent there for events, as a child coming to visit from outside the city and would love the next generation to experience that same joy. Of all the heritage building areas in New Zealand, this is one to prioritise and work hard to keep in my view. Having this unique space for appreciating art and culture, for meeting people and hosting events brings the city alive and the arts centre is an asset to Christchurch worth saving.

5867 - Tayler Greenem

I don't really see why you shouldn't, it is such a massive part of Christchurch

5868 - Christie McKenzie

The Arts Centre is a Christchurch institution and provides a space for families coming together, collaboration for art and artists, houses multiple small businesses and in the absence of the cathedral is one of the remaining beautiful buildings in the central city.

5869 - lisa butterfield

its a piece of old christchurch and holds wonderful events

5870 - Joel Alcorn

We need more art locations not fewer. They are a fantastic place for culture and learning. They are a piece of Christchurch character and I have enjoyed attending many performances and markets there. If places like the art centre go, the city loses its attraction for visitors and locals. One of the reasons I moved here was for the blossoming arts culture and the beautiful art centre is something that other large nz cities just doesn't have (Auckland, Wellington etc). It would be such a shame if we lose it.

5871 - Peter Abbott

The centre is an amazing hub of activity for the community. A multi purpose venue everyone can utilise. Every time I am there it is full of people making use of the space. Down there most recently for school holiday, children were every where taking in the museum spaces and other activities put on. The cafes spaces are great, Francis Nation does the best coffee!!

5872 - Rosa Borg

The Arts Centre is a true icon of Ōtautahi Christchurch and a stalwart in supporting the local art scene. It at once holds so much history while also proving to be an organisation that really moves with the times, showcasing the innovation and creativity in our city. SUCH good bang for buck team!! The centre is of huge pull factor for so many young people in this city. Please PLEASE don't cut the funding on this one. It seems so short sighted considering the direction I am sure you want our city to move in - one that is creative, innovative, buzzing, attractive to tourists and residents alike. Please maintain the funding for the Art Centre!!

5873 - Sara Satterthwaite

The Arts Centre is an iconic part of this city's history. We already lost so much with the earthquake, it's imperative we treasure and preserve what we have left.

5874 - Rommel Principe

Please save this heritage site

5875 - Kate Coles

We have so little of our heritage left - the arts centre is central to the identity of the city and needs to be supported to be a thriving centre for the arts and culture. Enough goes into sports - let's also support the arts.

5876 - Matt Lang

The arts centre is an extremely important establishment for arts culture. The massive benefits in funding the arts should not be dismissed. Removing this funding will be a big detriment to the arts community, and have flow on effects to all artists trying to work or seeking opportunities here. And that's not even considering all the chch public and tourism that rely on things actually being able to happen in and around the arts centre.

5877 - Liz Schutte

The Arts Centre is so important to Christchurch, for the arts, for tourism, education, and it adds so much to the fabric of our city. We have lost so many heritage buildings in Christchurch, and the Arts Centre has had so much work completed. This can't all be for nothing. As we try to rejuvenate our central city, the Arts Centre has to contribute to that. We can't risk having another mothballed set of buildings. It will also cost the council in legal fees if the Arts Centre Trust has to be wound up. I absolutely support the council funding the Arts Centre.

5878 - Andrew Deyell

We need to save and protect the art and cultural heart of our city

5879 - Joanne Hay

Critical facility for chch central city. Iconic buildings, huge tourist attraction.

5880 - Trudy Beatson

Maintain the funding please

5881 - Arthur Ryan

Maintain the funding please

5882 - Marit Dieters

The best and most inspiring place I visited. Christchurch

5883 - Paula Koller

It's a beautiful and iconic part of the city.

5884 - Chris and Cilla McVeigh

The foresight and vision of the original founders of the Arts Centre should not be terminated by the short term inadequacies of available funding. Their noble dreams and aspirations saw beyond the limitations of the balance sheet and the boundaries of the bottom line. They could see that for future generations of New Zealanders, in all walks of life and of all creeds, this legacy must prosper despite the temporary strictures that might apply to other areas. It is too important a mission to weigh in the daily balance of routine consumables. The mere fact that the importance of the legacy being bestowed should be enshrined in the permanence of legislation is sufficient indication of the significance of the project being undertaken. It must endure.

5885 - Michael Lindroos

The Arts Centre is a magnificent heritage precinct and is a very worthwhile Council Investment. Council can obviously not afford to fund all the requests that are made of it, so must prioritise its spending to reflect the wishes of ratepayers and the best outcomes for the city. So please transfer the money you are taking from my rates for the largely unpopular and overpriced Cathedral restoration that surely is the responsibility of the Anglican Church and pay this money to the Arts Centre that belongs to all citizens, not just to members of one religious sect.

5886 - Peter Sutherland

Such historical places should always be saved and appreciated.

5887 - Kate Burt

Submission on behalf of ICON to CCC LTP supporting the CCC funding of The Arts Centre
ICON – Inner City West Neighbourhood Association supports the proposal that the CCC continues to support the Arts Centre of Christchurch financially. • The Arts Centre is the current heart of Christchurch and also ICON. • It is a vibrant stimulating environment for tourists, visitors and residents to visit and enjoy. • The Arts Centre has been beautifully and painstakingly repaired to a magnificent standard attracting tenants and businesses who enjoy the atmosphere and surrounds. A model that the rest of the city could emulate. • The Arts Centre is always busy but not crowded, it provides a peaceful and relaxing atmosphere to meet, hear concerts, see a movie, stay in the Observatory Hotel, have coffee or a glass of wine or a meal. Enjoy art, creativity, retail ,educational and historic experiences. • The Arts Centre is a unique oasis in our city which adds immeasurably to lives of all who visit, work, perform or exhibit in it. • Our city would be the poorer without the Arts Centre which is providing professional, quality venues, shopping, hospitality and educational occasions which reflects the twentyfirst century in a beautiful authentic nineteenth century setting. • Where else can this be done- nowhere !

Arts is good for the community.

5889 - Katy Parker

The arts centre is an important and beautiful pillar of our community. It should continue to be funded but the ccc.

5890 - Leane Prentice

Please save the Arts Centre, it is the heArt of our city. We love it, and go there every week. It's our greatest treasure next to our Botanic gardens. Now is not the time to abandon art and culture. It is part of the ecosystem that supports our businesses. Please find a way to keep it, help it thrive and keep this heartbeat of the city going.

5891 - Samantha Uhrbom

Christchurch is a beautiful city filled with the arts And being something directly next to the botanic gardens, next to the Rutherford museum, heart of town, lumier theatre and christs college is amazing

5892 - Steve and Sue Sugrue

We strongly believe CCC should be financially supporting the Arts Centre. It is a surprise to us that CCC would not support the Arts Centre (AC) given the significance the AC has to the city and Canterbury. The AC is an absolute treasure to the city and perfectly blends in with other similar Buildings in the immediate area. Of the neighbouring Buildings nearly all have been faithfully restored since being severely damaged by earthquake including parts of the AC. This restoration work is of the highest calibre and needs to be continued. The omission of CCC not funding the AC highlights the fact that Canterbury Museum's near entire financial survival is a combination of local and central government funding. I would suggest the Art Gallery also receives significant funding from local and Central Government. There is no doubt a fine line separates who does and does not receive funding and we can understand there is a criteria for receiving funding. Does the AC not have the distinct nature and benefits to meet this criteria? We believe the Christchurch AC is distinctive, it is a draw to local citizens and tourists alike and it should be categorised similarly as the 2 examples above and therefore deserves funding from CCC as well. Thank you for reading this submission. Steve and Sue Sugrue.

5893 - Hannah Dent

It's a historic part of the city and important to the Christchurch culture

5894 - Georgia Rose

The arts in general add such an amazing addition to our community, if you take this away how will we continue to enrich our community in many different areas?

5895 - Abigail Redman

The arts centre is so important! There's no good reason to not fund it anymore. Integral part of Christchurch city

5896 - Tina Jarden

The Art center provides a space for NZ artists, from local crafts, workshops, music, theatre, painting. Selling and performing to locals and tourists. It has been part of the Christchurch scene for so many years. It's a must visit place. Christchurch pre-earthquake had a vibrant creative feel that drew visitors to its center. Major cities around the world have their art, history, parks that entice visitors. Let's not take that away from Christchurch. We want to keep Christchurch a place where people can have many experiences.

5897 - Brendan Dyer

The arts centre is an integral part of our inner city heratage. To lose it would be a travesty. Before the earthquakes it was a great place to visit for a Sunday brunch or whatever. Personally I have been there many times, as a child and as an adult. The place needs to stay, it needs to be preserved and it needs to thrive! It is a huge part of our heratage, second only to the Cathedral! Please continue to fund it

5898 - Abdirahman Abdi

I believe the art centre to be an important place yo Christchurch. Brings life and energy to a very corporate CBD.

5899 - Kirsty de Heer

To whom it may concern, The arts centre is one of my favourite places in Christchurch. The historic buildings, cafes, shops, galleries etc make this an essential community hub in Christchurch that celebrates art and creativity. The Christchurch art community is thriving, and this space plays a huge role in that, showing wider Christchurch and Aotearoa what we have to offer. Without its funding, we fear this important staple of the community will be lost. Please consider funding the arts centre so that this creative and cultural hub can continue to grow, educate and inspire. Thank you.

5900 - Bridget Compton-Moen

The Arts Centre is iconic to Chch. We need more in the city centre, not less.

5901 - Maria Van Haandel

I believe the arts centre is intinsic to the culture of our city. It is one of the few old accessible places we have left since the quakes. To pull funding or endanger it in any way is a dereliction of duty and huge mistake. CHCH will not forgive you I believe. To me it is of more worth than the cathedral. Art is important to our wellbeing, mental health, our joy. Don't do it!

5902 - Emily French

Arts is the beating heart of the city. And the heart is one of the most vital organs of the body. Cutting the heart off will not benefit the body of Chch, it will do the opposite. When i was a little kid i would have art classes at the centre and now as an adult i fondly walk the grounds and remember how my time there has shaped me as an artist. The world is turbulent and unrelenting and arts is the one thing that keeps us grounded. Whether its humming along to a busker on the street or fiddling with a homemade bracelet bought from the local arts market. Please support the centre, so many people benefit from Art and its crucial we do what we can to support its longevity.

5903 - David Lloyd

The arts center has been the home of the arts for many years and should continue to be so. It is a pity that the sports arena has taken priority. Not everyone is sporty and not everyone is arty. It is with great disappointment that the CCC has decided to stop funding this amazing asset that is one of the jewels of Christchurch, the tourists love it and it is one of the original parts of Christchurch that is still standing after the 2011 earthquakes. The decision is incredibly short sighted. My fears are that this neoliberal act will turn the Arts Center into something it was never meant to be. The Arts center was given to the people of Christchurch to encourage the arts. The market for many years has been a significant part of our community. We have been to many fantastic concerts and art exhibitions there.

I would like to see the Dux Deluxe reinstated to bring adhesion to the area.

5904 - Hazel Walker

Its so important to keep our heritage buildings

5905 - Rata Holtslag

The Arts Centre is an important part of Christchurch's cultural heritage identity and deserves funding to maintain its care and ensure access for our people.

5906 - Gina Paterson

The Arts Centre makes Christchurch so special. It gives the city a soul. The location across from the Botanic Gardens and the redevelopment of the Canterbury Museum makes an appealing destination for locals and tourists alike. Funding the Arts Centre ultimately means that Christchurch can continue to generate revenue as a beautiful centre of culture.

5907 - Lauren Ellis

This space is important for so many reasons and is an amazing space that is being utilised for so many amazing things!

5908 - Hannah Kraft

It's an exceptionally unique place with so much history and creative ideas - as a tourist I loved and love this place and I would come back

5909 - Claire Campbell

The Arts centre has always been an important place in Christchurch for me, when I was young and my family used to come up here from Dunedin the Arts centre was my favourite place to visit, and now that I live here I still enjoy going there just as much.

5910 - Lottie Ward

KEEP FUNDING this is such a lovely building that has so much history within the city and shows the character of christchurch. To stop funding it is to stop supporting christchurch and its people.

5911 - Lawrence Patchett

I'm a self-employed trader (editor and report-writer), and I work in an office near the Arts Centre. I visit it every day, walking through, using the facilities, buying coffee at the cafe. It's very obvious how heavily the centre and its facilities are used by domestic and international tourists. To me the Arts Centre seems to have very significant economic importance to the central city and the city as a whole. The school holiday programmes are lively and attract lots of families too. It is also very important to me as a hub of cultural life in the city. I enjoy the concerts in the Great Hall in particular. I think it would be very foolish to allow this thriving and vital centre to lose its funding and momentum.

5912 - Kris Stanley

The arts centre is an important centrepiece in the creative identity of the city. An important visual counterpoint to the sterile look of the rebuild

5913 - Natalie Perzylo

Use my taxes to help. This centre. It attracts tourists.

5914 - John Dewa civilized city requires an arts centre.

The CCC has a generational responsibility to maintain the Arts Centre.

5915 - Taylor Jongsma

To keep culture alive in Christchurch!

5916 - Breanna Wilson

It's an amazing educational centre for youth

5917 - Shayla Goles

It is a beautiful space where different people can gather and enjoy one big thing and find and support small businesses in christchurch

5918 - Nick Hurdley

I have called Christchurch home for the past 7 years and started a business here which I have run for the past 5 years. I recently had my parents come and visit and I took them to the arts centre along other places over the weekend. The arts centre captured the very essence of what I believe Christchurch is aiming for on a wider scale. There was a real vibrancy with multiple events on at the same time and a real intermingling of various cultural and ethnic elements which brought to life this beautiful taonga of Otautahi and what I believe the city as a whole is striving for. I think when you compare it to the lens of supporting the cathedral there is no real comparasion, as this centre is truly a place for all, irrespective of your belief system cultural or ethnic background. I strongly encourage the council to continue to support this wonderful, exciting melting pot and hub/hive of life and activity. We need and want more of what the arts centre represents and provides to our city and community. Thankyou for your consideration.

5919 - Taylor Rhodes

Our city's landmark

5920 - Leon Beumelburg

The Arts Centre is a beating heart at the centre of our city. It is one of Christchurch's proudest institutions, and the Christchurch City Council must, absolutely fund it. Why it needs funding, goes without saying. It is thriving, and needs support to maintain itself. Otherwise, the Arts Centre could enter a decline that would pose hugely negative effects to our community.

5921 - Jan Rogers

A important part of Christchurch

5922 - Felicity Redmile

Brings tourism into the city center and needs more stalls and markets. Imperative while the museum is being renovated over such a long period. The arts center is iconic to our city. Forget spending on slowing roads and cycle ways for now and focus on the important things.

5923 - Jacqui Stevenson

The Arts Centre is an important part of our heritage and stands in an area that is frequented often by tourists. It compliments the Botanic Gardens and the development of our Museum. Without funding Christchurch loses a large chunk of not only heritage but its diversity in being able to attract people to our city. Our new events centre will attract people to shows and events but once those are over it will be the architecture both modern and heritage that sits in peoples memories. The what did you see and where did you go while you were in Christchurch are questions others will ask. Our trams go past The Arts Centre which once finished will become part of our tourist route by the museum and gardens. It would be shortsighted to not support the continuation of our Arts Centre.

5924 - Aidan Murphy

the arts centre provides a central community space for the people of Christchurch. post earthquakes Christchurch was one of the most beautiful example of the arts bringing together the community, and since the quakes a decade ago we have kept the arts as a common ground for all people. the arts centre is not only an important tourist attraction, it is the soul of our city.

5925 - Emma Newman

The Arts Centre is a critical jewel in the crown of Central Christchurch, I am lucky enough to host events in the spaces offered and it breaks my heart to think of it gone, It is short sighted to think we can do without this amazing place. The staff have done everything asked of them to trim costs and keep the lights on. I think it is appalling that this is even up for discussion.

5926 - Emily Stace

The arts centre needs to stay open as it's got a lot of Christchurch's history in one place along with breath taking architecture, it would be a major loss for the character of the city

5927 - Zoe Donald

The Arts Centre is a beautiful part of Ōtautahi where locals and tourists both enjoy the rich history, hospitality and newer additions. It's a spot that I have fond memories of visiting as a child and due to the earthquake, there are few of these spots left in Chch these days. The Arts Centre is a taonga.

5928 - Grace Liang

It's a historic heritage building and it's playing an important role as the centre for art organisations and local communities. It will be insane to lose it

5929 - Diane Cross

Art Centres history needs to be preserved.

5930 - Morrin Rout

The Arts Centre is invaluable, essential and a vital part of the city. It provides inspiration for all ages, interests and cultures. That it is fighting to survive is a dire indictment on our values and priorities. It is of National as well as local importance - an architectural and cultural taonga.

5931 - Lily Wenmoth

It's a treasure, it's a vibrant hub of connection, humanity, growth and creativity, and its a culturally significant site! It is one of the main reasons I chose to live and stay in Christchurch. Other than my own living room, is the main place I connect with friends, whanau, and other like minded artists.

5932 - Justin DeHart

It is a vital cultural hub providing excellent performance spaces and gathering venues.

5933 - Pippa MacKay

The Arts Centre is the heart of Christchurch and it is essential that it be adequately funded so it can thrive and prosper.

5934 - Tracey Osborne

It's integral to the life of our city. If the arts centre, the Anglican cathedral and Phillip Carters site on Gloucester St all sit vacant what does that mean for our city? All of our hard recovery work and hard spent rates will be for nothing. Do better CCC

5935 - Paddy Ryan

Its an amazing Heritage site thats been well run with the support of council funding. It has provided my family with great experiences down through the years that wouldnt have been open to us without the council funding.

5936 - Vanessa van Hoof

Tēnā koutou e hoa mā. I ask that you continue to fund the Arts Centre Trust. The Trust has done a great deal of work to revitalise one of our few remaining heritage spaces, and they know best how to keep this process going. As a kaikao/ teacher, I regularly bring classes to the Teece Museum to help with their study of the classical world. With my whānau, we regularly attend the outdoor theatre screenings and the excellent movie theatre. My tamariki have benefited from Rutherford's Den and other resources around the Arts Centre when studying for Children's University. This is a space of great value that should be managed by people with a passion for the space. Defunding the trust would be a short-term financial gain for a long-term loss, as the Council would end up footing the bill for things that the trust funds through donations and sponsorship.

5937 - Claudia Pennell

The arts centre contains wonderful restored buildings. The Great Hall is a magnificent concert venue.

5938 - TANYA MICHILS

The Arts Centre stands for the cultural and artistic past, present and future. A true gem for our community.

5939 - Naomi Milner

The Arts Centre is just that - the centre. The heart. It's all that has contributed to the rising of Ōtautahi Christchurch from the rubble. Its heritage is rich and rooted in the culture and tradition of this beautiful place. It must be preserved and maintained by the council on behalf of the community.

5940 - Elizabeth Moffatt

The Arts Centre is one of the few venues that provide both excellent entertainment and shopping experiences for both tourists and locals. I have visited the Centre so many times over the years to eat, drink and watch; it is a beautiful gem that deserves wider recognition and protection. It caters to almost all citizens of Christchurch from 0 to 100 as well — so many parents take their children their for both free and sold-out performances.

5941 - Ronelle Bianchet

The Arts Centre is the cultural backbone of Christchurch. It's a place where locals and visitors feel included. It's inspirational, historic, prestigious yet grounded and assessable; The Arts Centre is the 'Covent Garden' of our beautiful city and it needs to remain that way.

5942 - Lucy Hudson

The Arts Centre is one of the single, most iconic hubs our city has on offer. As the owners of Canterbury's leading Wedding Planning platform, and one who has worked in with the dedicated Arts Centre team, not a single event goes by where I haven't been told stories of its history. Time and time again, handfuls of guests speak of experiences of their time at the Arts Centre and their connection to it. From lectures and exams, to relocating the plaques post-earthquakes that line the walls, this rich history is often what draws people to wed and celebrate the most important occasions of their lives in the heart of our city. Being able to have the Arts Centre as a wedding and event venue isn't just about the building, it's about the entire city and helps forge our sense of community. I see my clients book in Tram loops for cocktail hour entertainment, I see them encourage guests to stay local, to head out and drink/dine in their favourite locations and get a taste for the city they adore so dearly. Our stunning Arts Centre supports not only local talent, but our entire tourism, event and hospitality industry and it must be cherished and looked after for future years.

5943 - Lynette Gallagher

The City Council must continue ongoing funding to The Arts Centre - the centre is part of the heart of our thriving creative city and heritage, we need to honour this for our wellbeing!

5944 - Alice Sai Louie

Love the Arts Centre - such a special place. If only the Arts received a small fraction of what is spent on funding sports facilities

5945 - Kerrie Bartlett

The Arts Centre is an iconic landmark for the city of Christchurch. For locals and tourists alike. It would be a shame to see it close or work still to be done, abandoned. It's a beautiful place to wander through, relax and enjoy the atmosphere. I always bring visiting whanau to come see it, walk through to the Museum (when it's open), Botanical gardens or catch the tram, etc. The historical value is priceless. Please reconsider your decision on future funding.

5946 - Sarah Bowman

The Arts Centre is a treasured part of our children's collective memory. So many wonderful events, school holiday plays at the Court Theatre, Busking Festivals and so on. Now they are starting their own families and continuing the tradition of the Arts Centre being central to the rhythms of their lives. We have opened the tiny toy shop at the Arts Centre to support families with high quality resources for creative play. We also run Heuristic Play Classes in the Maker Space each term for families with babies and toddlers. This would not be possible if the Arts Centre was not a charity and able to offer this wonderful community space at affordable rates, so we intern are able to offer families a rich curated open-ended play environment each term. The Arts Centre then becomes central to our families weekly rhythm and they go on to enjoy coffee at FN Cafe and support the other retailers each week. The Art Centre is all about the arts and the community. It is absolutely vital to our wellbeing as a city that has suffered so much stress post earthquakes. What on earth would it become if it were not the Arts Centre? The shopping center? Please support this valuable taonga so that our grandchildren and their children can enjoy it in the future.

5947 - Sarah Armstrong

I certainly expect the CCC to continue to support The Arts Centre. It is a superb example of Gothic Revival architecture and offers opportunities for locals and tourists to enjoy its facilities. Arts and cultural events are a cornerstone of society.

5948 - Kirsty Lewry

It is somewhere myself and my family visit every time we come to Ōtautahi.

5949 - Alan Griffiths

A historical and community supported living Arts Centre or corporate sport?

5950 - Jane Patterson

Please continue to provide financial support for the Arts Centre. We are so fortunate to still have these buildings after the earthquakes and I believe the Arts Centre is much more important to most Christchurch residents than the Cathedral.

5951 - Sue McLachlan

The Arts Centre has such a rich history - from being the University and then fully an Arts Centre then back to being part of the University again. It is an amazing resource for the Arts and has been a hub as well as a Heritage site for so long. We need this venue and all of its richness and it should be funded to keep it as the fantastic resource that it is.

5952 - Patricia Morton

The arts centre is truly unique and inclusive for creative expression for young and old

5953 - Louise Saurin

Having recently relocated to this part of NZ, we discovered the Arts Centre thanks to the Easter Sunday activities. Wow, what an incredible and truly unique space, a jewel in the crown, I don't think there is a place like this in the whole of NZ, do not neglect this national treasure.

5954 - Clive Antony

The activities and kaupapa of The Arts Centre are best delivered by the community via the Arts Centre Trust and not under the wing of a council owned entity. It will be cheaper for the ratepayer for The Arts Centre not be under council control and just as importantly, the quality and breadth of arts opportunities for the community will be significantly higher than if The Arts Centre was run by the Council.

5955 - Kate Kitchingham

The arts centre is an important cultural and social hub for Christchurch. It has important heritage links while also being a key way that people explore creative pursuits and interact within the art community.

5956 - Amelia Yiakmis

Without the arts, what are we fighting for? Keep this incredibly vibrant centre funded and open for community

5957 - Pam McGregor

Please let's keep our Arts Centre vibrant and alive. It's very dear and special to us all. What's the point of repairing it post earthquakes only to have funding stopped, hence moth balling the project. We like our Arts Centre. It has history and atmosphere.

5958 - Graeme Cox

It is such an important heritage complex that represents the English origins of the city!

5959 - Louise Moore

The Art Centre is not just about the arts or being creative. It is also a place where people come together, share experiences, and make memories. It is a central part to a city that has endured so much hardship and it's a place that brings with it a sense of belonging and community for both old and young.

5960 - Poharama Nopera

Dont do it! It needs to retain its significance as it is, which is what makes it so special and unique.

5961 - Pauline Dann

The Arts Centre is an absolutely essential part of Christchurch. It is an anchor for the city.... For the arts, community groups, festivals, events, concerts, retail, tourism, hospitality & heritage. To cut funding and see the domino effect for Christchurch would be disastrous, short sighted and really, to my mind criminal. Please continue to provide funds in your budget for this wonderful resource. As a rate payer I would be happy to see an increase in my rates to save the Arts Centre.

5962 - Linda Rutland

The Arts Centre is an incredibly important part of the cultural and historic fabric of our city. It fully deserves the Council's continued financial support and must not be left to the vagaries of discretionary funders.

5963 - Sylvia Kim

The Arts helps us chronicle history, express and embody societal values and vices. Its value roots deeply into the core of our society's identity. I would hope the council finds interest in continuing its funding to the much beloved Arts Centre that makes Ōtautahi shine.

5964 - Katherine Townend

The Arts Centre has always been a focus for creativity and the Arts for the whole city - it is a resource, a valuable place for our community to work, learn, display, and share. A lack of funding would leave our city a much poorer place without the Arts Centre, and would reflect badly on the Council for what is valued within our society.

5965 - John Du Four

It's simple. Some cities are lucky enough to have an exceptional facility in a renowned architectural setting. Few overseas would let such a boon slip away. Don't let Christchurch be the exception. Save The Arts Centre funding in its entirety!

5966 - Penny Soster

Grow the culture grow the city

5967 - Robbie Thomson

The Arts Centre is a wonderful and beautiful place. It's situation right by the gardens and the Museum and Art Gallery is superb. Please don't bail on this civic asset now. It is a much more accessible part of Christchurch's architectural heritage than the cathedral

5968 - Saara Holland

Surely every Cantabrian has enjoyed The Arts Centre in some shape or form. These buildings are in great condition thanks to all the earthquake repairs - they deserve to be used, not mothballed. This network of buildings is one of our city's jewels that the council has a responsibility to look after. Save The Arts Centre!

5969 - Michelle Callingham

The Arts Centre is an important part of Ōtautahi's rich history. It's architecture, outstanding renovation to date, community, location and an iconic landmark are only some of what the Arts Centre represents. It's a beautiful legacy to Christchurch and an exceptional attraction for international tourists. Following the earthquakes, this centre must remain and continue to thrive!

5970 - Lucy Kittow

The arts centre, has an awesome health tech centre which we have used for work purposes multiple times. Its such a special space to work in, would be very sad to see it go.

5971 - Melanie Whitworth

Save the Arts Centre as it's part of our Culture and Heritage. It's a place where people of all walks of life come together. I love going there to relax and look at all the amazing architecture. And to see an outside movie . 'PLEASE SAVE THE ARTS CENTRE'

5972 - Beth Howell

A cultural hub in the heart of the city that celebrates the old and the new. Support and fund!

5973 - James Elliott

So creatives have a space to display their work

5974 - Ed Cromwell

The Arts Centre is really important to the Christchurch community - they have tonnes of great events and it would be a travesty if it was to close. Please continue to fund this important institution in our city.

5975 - Jan Frampton

The Arts Centre has been an iconic feature of Christchurch for a long long time. It's part of the fabric of what make our city unique. Please don't let our city become another boring place where people don't want to visit.

5976 - Christopher Hundleby

This is a prized cultural taonga for our city with invaluable tourism benefits. All the groups of North American visitors we bring here are enraptured by it.

5977 - Barbara Harris

The Arts Centre is a symbol of hope and resilience as well as being a beautiful gathering place. Kia kaha Christchurch.

5978 - Roy Lu

The Arts Centre is a platform for ethnic artists to showcase their art and make them recognized by the local art community!

5979 - Ina Johann

The Art Centre plays a vital part in facilitating and contributing to the landscape of high quality and diverse creative activities in Ōtautahi. Especially in the aftermath and the destructive effects the earthquakes (...and also more recently Covid) had, which left the inner city and the affected creative venues in need to be rebuild and recover over time. It is essential that the Council includes the centre in their long term plan for Ōtautahi and continues to support this unique Centre (located in one of our most iconic historic buildings and settings in Ōtautahi) in all their efforts to provide resources and spaces for an exciting range of workshops, festivals, galleries, creative and educational events. Art and other forms of creative activities give so much to the quality of life in a city. We need the arts in all it's shapes and forms to stay healthy and connected human beings. It is one of the most iconic and significant treasures in our city. Please support it to save it! Thank you!

5980 - Clare Clayden

We lost so much in the earthquake. Please fund our iconic, historic and beautiful Arts Centre. It is loved by the Christchurch community and admired by tourists. It is the hub of the arts and creativity. It is a cultural legacy which we cannot afford to not fund. It is the heart and soul of Central Christchurch.

5981 - Genea Instone

This is part of Christchurch's fabric. It's an amazing and under utilised space that we are proud of as cantabrians. This brings culture and flair to our city as well as some much needed and loved history. When so much has fallen down we need to lift up what is left from our past

5982 - Daisy Broom

This is such a stunning and iconic centre of Christchurch. I personally got married at the Great Hall Dec 2023 and it was perfect.

5983 - Rochelle Flavell

Please help keep our arts centre open, it is an amazing space to be! For all ages.

5984 - Alison Paterson

The Arts Centre is interagile part of Christchurch for both Cantabrians and visitors alike. Christchurch without the Arts Centre is like having an arm cut off!! Imagine our young people and all they learn without the Arts Centre. That would be shame on the City Council

5985 - Elizabeth Dixon

Such a special place .My son and I came to a lunch time concert here,while my husband was having open heart surgery and it was so calming to sit in the Great Hall,listening to the music.Far too valuable to let it go.More small fundraisers needed. Elizabeth Dixon.

5986 - Christine McGloin

The Arts Centre is beautiful and potentially useful place. It could and should be a focal point. There are too few areas that are interesting to browse and spend time in around in our city. There was no point in restoring half of it if the other half is to remain a derelict eyesore. Why build a stadium most of the population of Christchurch will never visit, but leave the Art Centre unfinished? Also why reburish the Museum now, when there are so many other projects incomplete?!

5987 - Elisha Gilmore

The Arts Centre is an important part of Christchurch heritage, it is fun and vibrant and a tourist destination.

5988 - Dr Vincent O'Donnell

I am the producer and presenter of the Australian radio program, Arts Alive, heard nationally on the Community Radio Network. The Arts Centre Christchurch has been a key reason for me to visit Christchurch, which I have for at least half a dozen times, before and after 2011. Content that has run on Australian radio has frequently been of or about the Arts Centre which is one reason I always stay at the YMCA, and that content included annual updates on the restoration process. So, from my point of view, a vibrant Arts Centre is also informing an Australian radio audience about Christchurch as a New Zealand destination. That flow of information and influence that would slip away if it becomes moribund due to funding cuts.

5989 - Jane Barry

It's an iconic hub of social, artistic, musical historical connection for Christchurch and its visitors. An integral part of the city, it's past, present and future.

5990 - Lauren Douglas

The Arts Centre provides a vital space for local artists across many disciplines to connect, practice, perform and share their craft with others. It's such an important place for building community and bringing people together and it would be a devastating loss for Christchurch.

5991 - Laurel Jefferson

Have attended many things at the Art Centre and would like to think I will continue to do so, especially after all the wonderful restoration work that has been done since the earthquake.

5992 - Thomas Young

Arts are critical to the health of a city, and the Arts Centre is a hub in Christchurch for the arts, and a meeting place for local people and tourists alike. Shuttering it would leave a big hole where life and activity thrive today, and would send a very visible signal to visitors to Christchurch that we have nothing beyond the banal. Perhaps though to be funded by this council it needs to be renamed the Arts "Stadium"?

5993 - Anna Pearson

The arts centre should be funded by the CCC because otherwise commercial interests will override things with community interests at heart, for example: affordable (or even sometimes free) exhibition spaces for emerging artists and event venues for affordable music shows and performances, such as Music with Michal kids' shows. Also the rents will no doubt go up rendering it untenable for local businesses such as it's locally-owned coffee shops and the cinema. Funding the Arts Centre is also about signalling what is important for our city. The quakes showed that people crave culture for mental health and connection reasons. Please, fund the Arts Centre. I believe people will treasure it even more, knowing it could have been spoilt forever.

5994 - Rosemary Du Plessis

The Arts Centre is a crucial component of the life of this city. It is a place that supports a variety of artistic endeavours and offers the people of this city free events that showcase the arts and bring people together. Base funding from CCC is absolutely necessary for its ongoing function. We can manage without an Anglican Cathedral but not without the Arts Centre - it is our taonga!

5995 - Catherine Bell

This is a beautiful part of our history and sits perfectly in the area. Please save it.

5996 - Katey Woodhouse

Art is vital for human well-being, education, and encourages diverse ways to understand and engage with the world which is proven to be neurally beneficial for cognition - which in turn benefits other sectors of society. As well as that, it provides a rich foundation for fostering community. For these reasons, it is highly important the Arts Centre maintains funding.

5997 - Sonya Yates

The Art Centre is the jewel in the crown of Christchurch! It is Christchurch's creative & artistic hub, a major historical landmark & of great importance to those who were born & raised in Christchurch! It holds huge mana & many lives have been touched by its presence & by the events & opportunities held there over the years. It is one of our few historical landmarks to survive the earthquakes & should be preserved as an important piece of our history for new generations to enjoy & experience. Christchurch & its people need the Art Centre - it represents both our past & our future as a city & it is unthinkable that it will not go on! Please, please, please fund the Art Centre!

5998 - Jejay Sen

The arts center is the beating heart of Christchurch. Even more so than the Cathedral. I have come to call chch home and have been here for 12 years. We need the city to be alive and not dominated by boring apartments and private buildings. Having something that belong to all of us gives us pride in the city. Please keep it.

5999 - Jenny Reeve

I attended university in 1970 in the Arts Centre. Lectures in the Great Hall and Room D. 6p in a saucer in the Student caf for a cup of instant coffee! My Great Uncle attained his degree in the early 20th century. I saw his name, carved into the desks near Rutherford's Den. I've tried to find it subsequently, but was not able to. My Grandfather attended Boys High in the Arts Centre. Our daughter attended dance classes at the Arts Centre. I was a Board member of the Court Theatre Trust Board and a regular attendee of their shows. My former business regularly delivered hire items to several Arts Centre venues, mainly the Great Hall. Many happy times at Annie's and Cellar Door, Le Cafe/Bunsen. We attend exhibitions at Central Gallery. Returned, for photos in the quad and cloisters, after my MFA graduation in 2023. We take NZ and International visitors to the Arts Centre, and they comment that we are so fortunate to have this amazing group of buildings and that they have been restored after the earthquakes. COME ON CCC, you can't stop now. Christchurch history has been made in these spaces. PLEASE DO THE RIGHT THING. Don't just continue funding. Increase funding, so that what is still to be restored can be demothballed and stand again, complete and proud. As a community we have all been through so much. CCC, you just can't stop now. Thank you for the opportunity to make this submission. I love this place, and so do many other Cantabrians.

6000 - Leissa Price

The Arts Centre is a fundamental anchor for our city for arts, tourism and public activities. The arts centre group provides a year round attraction which brings people to engage in the Arts, shopping, creative spaces and enjoyment of the architecture. Losing this would be a loss to the soul of the city.

6001 - Gillian Carter

It's just such a fantastic place . . . the jewel in Christchurch's crown

6002 - Tracy Chen

Art Centre is the best place to show our friends of worldwide. We should keep it for heritage culture.

6003 - Oliver Walker-Whelan

It is a pretty awesome looking spot for tourists to visit, which is very important in my opinion.

6004 - Taylor Edwards

It is the best thing about Christchurch! Such a great spot not only for tourism, Christchurch culture but our children

6005 - Helen Mongillo

The Art Centre has been one of my favourite destinations in Christchurch since moving here in 2008. We were so sad when it was unavailable during the earthquakes and when we heard people's studios were destroyed. We missed the artist market on the weekend where we often shopped for gifts. As the centre has come back to activity I have enjoyed beautiful concerts in the cathedral, shopped at the unique gift shops, taken workshops in basket weaving and dance, and have enjoyed multiple dance events with the Swingtown Rebels at Altiora. A thriving arts community is an essential part of what makes Christchurch a wonderful place to live. Not being into sports, I won't get much benefit from the new arena, but any funding for the Art Centre will be a huge benefit and enjoyment for me and my family. I look forward to bringing my granddaughter there as she grows, showing her the historic building, and the sculptures, and tasting the delicious fudge and gelato. We may go to the movies, shop for crafts, or watch performers. I can't believe that the City isn't keen to fund such a treasure and I hope they find a way to keep this incredible resource in the heart of the city, available for us all to enjoy.

6006 - Ian Chan

It is such a nice historical place to learn more about Rutherford and the arts. We learnt a lot coming from Auckland.

6007 - Trevor Grenon

Too much of the LTP budget has been set aside for theoretical environmental issues. The Arts Centre is a 'real' asset and an important attraction for the city. It must be funded.

6008 - Christina Stachurski

The time I have spent in The Arts Centre (working on theatre productions and a regular visitor and patron of the arts) is a significant and valuable part of my life. I imagine this is the same for very many people. The cultural, artistic and social richness provided by and in the Arts Centre is even more valuable for those affected by the earthquakes and EQC. Please fund the Arts Centre so its fundamental role in helping to keep us mentally healthy can continue.

6009 - Bleuette Hille

I love using the arts centre as a place to take out of town friends, enjoy the majestic pre-quake architecture, and enjoy local food and entertainment. It's an important part of our heritage. In my view, it's much more important than rebuilding the Cathedral.

6010 - Karen Cooper

Please continue to fund the arts centre - its a wonderful place to visit as a local or for visiting tourists, provides such colour for our city.

6011 - Mairi-Clare Mckendry

This place draws us into the city centre on a regular basis. It hosts so many events for adults and children and without it the whole city centre would suffer. It would be a tragedy if it closed.

6012 - Leo Petty

Without the arts are we no more than drones? Without art and appreciation and learning to create, we cannot lead our young people to succeed. We inhibit the joy that can be found all around is through observation and self discovery. The arts centre has been a part of so many lives and should be for thousands to come. Do not let it fall by the wayside to pander to companies and profit. Without art, are we anything but drones?

6013 - Fiona Pears

The Arts Centre has been a huge benefit to my musical career. I started playing in orchestras and doing concerts there 44 years ago. It is special to so many artists. Without it the heartbeat of our arts culture will suffer a massive loss.

6014 - Dianne WOOD

In these times the arts need to grow and arts centre is a wonderful place to visit, listen and participate. As a newcomer to canterbury, we have visited often and plan to to visit more often. Please fund the arts centre.

6015 - Jess Smale

The Arts Centre is a wonderful asset to CHCH, and success story of our city's rebuild. I use their amazing community facilities weekly, and would dearly miss it. Please don't reduce any funding! It would be a devastating loss to so many, when it's one of the remaining parts of our city's history post quake and an ongoing community asset!

6016 - Hazel Lee

I think the Christchurch City Council should fund The Arts Centre because it is an important cultural space for the community to gather, as well as for musicians to connect with the community and bring people together. It is also a great tourist location, for visitors to see this part of Christchurch's history. In addition, this is also a platform where budding musicians begin, grow, and further develop their career.

6017 - Joke van Staveren

The Art Centre is an fantastic asset for Christchurch. It was an emotional moment when the Great Hall was re-opened after the earthquakes and there was finally something beautiful again in the city. I attend art performances and exhibitions in the Art Centre several times per year. These visits contribute to wellbeing, give a sense of belonging and being part of an appreciative community. Art is much more than a "nice to have". I was concerned when the decision was made regarding new stadium, that money would run out. I don't think it's sensible to invest in a stadium, convention centre, and not in the ArtCentre. One is not more important than the other. Huge effort has gone in the restauration of these beautiful buildings, and the atmosphere is close to being back. It would be such a shame to see all this wasted. I value the Arts Centre highly, and would support to continue funding it in the long-term plan. Thank you for the opportunity to submit.

6018 - Anne Ogilvie

Dear Christchurch City Council. I am writing in heartfelt support of continuing to fund the precious Taonga of our Arts Centre in your longterm plan. This funding is crucial in providing the programmes and staff who make the events and are there to give us the fantastic programmes we see coming from our Arts Centre. If this disappears it will be a dismal and sad day for our city. My parents were graduates of Canterbury college and I feel their footprints in many ways. That is why I signed up to be a volunteer at the Arts Centre, because I was excited to show this special place to visitors, after the earthquakes and the long dry isolation from our inner city, I wanted to be part of the city and its flowering. I have seen and been involved with the committed staff and they are incredible at making the volunteers feel appreciated and involved. We are invited to see every new development and at the last "Off Centre" event which was enjoyed by many Cantabrians, I felt, Wow, this is really feeling like the Old Christchurch. People were sitting watching a fabulous busking act, children running through bubbles enjoying the heritage buildings that have mostly been meticulously repaired. But the Beautiful buildings need the soul, the people there enjoying them This is impossible without Christchurch City Council to continue their long term funding. I can't imagine the alternative. We need this unique and beloved Arts Centre to continue its good work, and for visitors to enjoy the jewel in the Arts precinct.

6019 - Jenny Wilson

I am a long term resident of Christchurch (have lived here for 40 of my 60 years). The Art Centre is one of my most cherished parts of Christchurch. I remember when it was a thriving hub for visitors - with food, art, crafts, music in abundance. I have visited recently and love the restoration. Just last week I recommended a visitor to Christchurch to check it out as it is a unique and memorable place to visit. With so much spent on restoration, the Art Center can continue to add to the unique character of central Christchurch enticing tourists and locals alike. It needs good funding to survive, please continue to support the Art Centre financially so that it can continue to make Christchurch the special place that it is.

6020 - Max Lucas

Christchurch/ Arts Centre... one and the same.

6021 - Liz Grant

The Arts Centre truly is a taonga of Christchurch. (Far more so than the Anglican Cathedral. Not my rates!) Just to wander around the Arts Centre is good for the soul but of course it offers so much creativity for us to enjoy. It's wonderful for locals and is surely a really attractive offering for visitors. I believe the Council should include support of the Arts Centre in the long-term plan for the city. I'll go further - it would be outrageous not to. Liz Grant

6022 - Gillian Kirby-Fyffe

If the earthquake taught us anything, it should be to honour our heritage, and the history of the Art Centre and what it offers is our heritage. It also offers a future of sharing of every genre, creativity on many levels but most importantly a meeting place, a sharing space, and in current times and global change, this must be protected. Councils may be elected in democracy and representative of the "majority," but they come and go, our heritage should not, and we should uphold and protect it for future generations.

6023 - Peter Hart

I believe it to be extremely important that the Council should continue to support The Arts Centre Te Matatiki Tai ora. My wife and I settled in Christchurch 8 years ago. One of the things that has always attracted us to Christchurch in the past has been the strong commitment to seeing a strong theatre and arts sector operating in the heart of the city. We have been impressed by the way The Arts Centre Te Matatiki Tai Ora brings life and vibrancy to the artistic hub of the city around the Art Gallery, bridging the structures of the amazing heritage buildings of the old university, with people, activity and life. For there to be any question of that vibrancy and life being lost to the city is a real concern. People (residents and visitors alike) engage with the Arts Centre, and it is a place which people flock to. Surely that is what we want for our centre city? The theatre and entertainment precinct is operating well, and the relocation of the Court Theatre to that zone will be a huge bonus. The retail and business hubs are bringing their own sense of life in the city - obviously, though, with a commercial focus. It is important that the arts, also, are not lost sight of, with the interactive and engaging programmes of The Arts Centre adding huge value to our community and Tamariki alongside the more static displays in the Art Gallery and (soon to be) refurbished Canterbury Museum. For the council to be considering stopping funding The Arts Centre without some clear indication of what the plan is for the city in relation to arts generally, and without open consultation with its many users, feels short-sighted. The arts are important to life and well-being. Mechanisms for continuing funding The Arts Centre should be being actively considered. We have amazing heritage buildings alongside Worcester Boulevard. Let's ensure that they are filled with people and activity for years to come.

6024 - Natasha Hay

It is a taonga

6025 - Sarah Borrell

Christchurch is lacking historical buildings, to take this away you're removing history in the heart of our city.

6026 - Ann Voyce

Please reconsider. The Arts Centre is such an amazing space!

6027 - Rama Port

Amazing artlab community class and matariki event held in themakerspace. This provided Koha based art for every one! We cannot do without this amazing centre.

6028 - Doc Ross

The arts centre provides a facility to the arts and wider community that no other entity can, it is essential that both creatives and lovers of the arts have a place where all levels of participation can be practiced and enjoyed, without the arts centre we will have no such place. For me the arts centre is more an icon of the city than the old church in the square, and as such should be funded by the community it serves!

6029 - kate watts

Every time I go to the art centre it is buzzing with locals and tourists. It is such a vibrant hub of our city, and such a great place for small businesses to start out with food trucks, stalls, shops and collectives. It would be a huge loss to lose all of this vibrancy in the city.

6030 - Nikki Roberts

The Arts Centre has to be one of the most beautiful areas we have in this city. I understand the cost to maintain and/or repair but please don't give up on it. We simply don't have much in the way of stunning architecture and the ambience there is really special

6031 - Belle Mayston

This space is essential to the community

6032 - Walter Raymond

These buildings are special to me as the former campus of Canterbury University, where I did my undergraduate studies. It is not for nothing that the entire complex survived the 2011 Earthquake. The Arts Centre is a worthy successor and needs to be saved at all costs.

6033 - Jasmine Stone

Culture is the spirit of a city and Arts Centre is the symbol of Culture! We do need this historical Arts Centre in Christchurch!!

6034 - Natalie Sweetapple

The Arts Centre is an invaluable and integral part of Christchurch and its communities, both permanent and temporary communities, the Botanical Gardens, the Museum, the Hospital, the Avon

River, the Sporting Grounds, the list grows. The CCC must ensure its funding supports it into the future.

6035 - Jade Wilson

It's an integral part of the culture and history of our city. Since the earthquakes much of this has been taken away from us. Please let us save the arts centre

6036 - Michael Lawrence

I cannot imagine our city's cultural life without the Arts Centre. We have enjoyed so many events in that space, covering art, drama, dance and of course music. We love the cinema and the restaurant too. So much heritage exists in this complex, which my wife and I both attended as University of Canterbury students to complete our Bachelor of Arts degrees. I have performed on many occasions onstage in the Great Hall. No Arts Centre of this size can possibly survive alone. Public funding is an inevitable part of an enterprise like this. We urge to Council to reconsider its no-funding decision without delay. A hugely important part of our city life cannot just founder and disappear. Michael and Elizabeth Lawrence

6037 - Jeff Roberts

The most attractive part of our city must be kept maintained. Not only for the locals but tourists get so much pleasure from it too

6038 - Nachiko Schollum

We can't afford to loose other Christchurch icon like Art Centre. Wonderful art activies at beautiful and histrical building is priceless. Please remain funding for not only for local people but also all of New Zealander.

6039 - Ken Couling

You should continue to fund fund the Arts Centre because it contributes so much of vital value to the fabric of Christchurch City.

6040 - Brett Riley

A much needed facility to support the community with their essential arts programmes.

6041 - Ralph Woodham

Iconic history is irreplaceable once gone.

6042 - Cici Yu

I want you to keep this beautiful building, because this place gave me a great memory of Christchurch.

6043 - Ems Ambrose

The Arts Center is a staple in Christchurch's past present and future.

6044 - Monika Rastogi

This is next generation future, hope. Please find

6045 - Ursula Rack

At the meeting on Monday, it showed that the Arts Centre is more than a hub for performers, teaching, exhibiting, and creating. It is the heart of the cultural life in Christchurch and a big part of the well-being for the people they work there (performer, creator, retailer, hospitality) and the audiences and people who find a relaxing space within the area of the Arts Centre (and is a great "counterweight" to Rugby or Cricket, etc.). There must be more culture than only sport. I grew up in Austria with lots of cultural events, theatre, concerts, exhibitions, etc. and it is a big part of my education and my spare-time activities. I live now 18 years in Christchurch and have settled in very well and I am involved in many societies, clubs, they have to do with history, arts, and so much more. One thing that always gives me great pleasure is being in the Art Centre. When I arrived in Christchurch, the first I visited was that place and bought my first book in the former bookshop and attended many talks, exhibitions, performances and the weekend markets. If this will become a shopping centre or something worst, then it will kill the cultural heart of Christchurch. Visitors are coming back to our city and come to see the Arts Centre not the many glass boxes they are built right now. After the earthquakes, we lost most of our heritage buildings. It was such a great relief to see the renovations going on in the Arts Centre. Shall this all be now for nothing? I am not sure why that is happening, but as a historian I see it so often that history is for some people uncomfortable. Buildings alone are not building awareness, but it helps to keep the story alive, to re-interpret it to make it better understandable. We cannot rub the past off. We have to be aware of our history and learn to live with it. If the Arts Centre does not get the support it got the last few years for a good reason it will take away many positive things from our society, our cultural life and our past. It will be a sad moment when the Arts Centre has to close and becomes a ghost house (even when there is some commercial enterprise in there that cannot replace arts, creative culture, theatre, arts exhibitions, cultural events that also shows the diversity and inclusiveness this special place offers now). As a woman who moved to Christchurch 18 years ago and is now a part of the Christchurch fabric, please, consider your decision and keep the Arts Centre this special place it is now - the cultural heart of Christchurch. Ngā mihi nui!

6046 - Charrette van Eeeken

Christchurch we need to be encouraging Artist and supporting the arts equally to the other areas such as a giant stadium which is costing us an arm and a leg one idea is that the money that was going towards the water could be used instead for the Arts Centre.

6047 - Emile Reiser

Art is essential to the city and the Arts Centre provides a space for it to thrive and flourish.

6048 - Tom Freedman

The Arts Centre is one of the few cultural hubs of Christchurch. If we lost it, a huge amount of the city's identity would be gone. It is imperative that the council allocates funding to continue operating this vital space for future generations. As a young person, I recognise and applaud the many different efforts to revitalise our CBD, and urge the council to recognise that these efforts should be prioritised. And one of the biggest components of this revitalisation has been the presence of the Centre. Providing a space for artists from many different backgrounds to create, and for members of the public to be able to engage with local art in so many different ways is an incredibly unique thing, and the council must realise this.

6049 - Cynthia Guo

It's a great place for music students to develop

6050 - Aya McLarty

The Arts Centre is an integral part of Christchurch as it provides a space for artists to perform and share their craft. To take away this space would be harmful to the Christchurch community. Art is necessary for well-being.

6051 - Susan Horne

The Arts Centre is one of the very few, fully functioning heritage buildings in our city post earthquakes. The proposed withdrawal of funding is astonishingly shortsighted. The Arts Centre must be one of the most popular tourist destinations and the multiple internal and external areas and galleries host a fascinating and eclectic mix of activities, functions, stores and eating areas. This idea of Ōtautahi Christchurch City Council must be surely a perfect example of that age old adage "short term gain for long term pain.."z please do not do this. Susan Horne

6052 - Edmund Grant Read

I absolutely believe that the CCC needs to make sure that that the Arts Centre not only survives, but thrives, by whatever means may be necessary. I realise that budgets are tight right now, but the critical issue is one of vision, or lack thereof. More pragmatically, visitors need reasons to actually spend time (and money) in Christchurch, and citizens need reasons to live here. Sorry, but we don't have a naturally stunning environment. We can't even compete with Auckland, Wellington or Dunedin on those grounds, let alone Queenstown. Mostly what we once had were our heritage cityscapes, add now, post-quake, we absolutely need to retain the few landmark buildings that are left. When it comes down to it, I'd much rather pay higher rates to support a lively cultured city than live in a dreary utilitarian cultural wilderness, no matter how cheap it might be to live there, or how good the footpaths or cycleways, for that matter. As an economist, I don't even think there is any economic loss for ratepayers, when they "invest" in public goods like parks or public buildings. Such investment does need to be carefully scrutinised and managed. But the value of our properties ultimately depends entirely on what people are prepared to pay in order to live in Christchurch, and that depends very much on the lifestyle the city has to offer. And the value of our businesses depends very much on what the city offers to citizens and visitors alike. Towns that fail to provide attractive living environments ultimately stagnate, and property values fall. So, I believe that providing adequate support to institutions like the Arts Centre will not just increase the enjoyment of ratepayers, but their nett wealth too.

6053 - Maggie Horrell

The Arts Centre is an integral part of Ōtautahi. It provides fantastic services to locals and those passing through. Without it, Christchurch is just an empty husk lacking culture.

6054 - Robert Sweeney

This should be a higher priority than many of the council's commitments.

6055 - Colleen Dowie

Definitely please keep this funding going. The Art centre is one of the jewels of Christchurch.

6056 - Sacha Montgomery

This is at the heart of the city's creative district - it deserves a strategy to maintain it and inspire future and developing artists - a venue for entertainment, education, reflection and events

6057 - Anne Dewar

The Arts Centre is for all people to enjoy. Given the amount of effort given to restore it following the earthquakes, it would seem crazy to not support it fully going into the future. It would be sad to see it boarded up due to lack of funds.

6058 - Martin Munks

You'll end up subsidising it anyway. It's the largest collection of heritage buildings in the city.

6059 - Ping klongthanakit

: The Arts Centre. It's such a gem in our community, don't you think? I've seen firsthand how it brings people together and sparks creativity in everyone who walks through its doors. I believe the Council's support for The Arts Centre is crucial for keeping our community vibrant and connected. Whether it's hosting workshops, putting on performances, or showcasing local talent, the Centre adds so much richness to our lives. I've had some unforgettable experiences there, and I know many others have too. It's a place where people can come as they are and feel inspired. That's why I'm really hoping the Council will continue to fund it. Thanks for listening, and here's to keeping our arts scene thriving!
Best, Ping

6060 - Lorraine Harrison

The Art Centre is one of the most important buildings in Christchurch. It sits in the centre of the city amongst beautiful architecture and gardens. It is itself a architectural gem and has incredible history including its link to Rutherford. It is a place where people meet to socialise or use the facilities such as restaurants and cinema, and where performances happen. It is a mecca for tourism including the boutique hotel. It is a city icon. It is admired by all cantabrians. The loss of the Art Centre would be devastating. We must retain and maintain this beautiful complex whatever it takes. If the trust can't run it properly perhaps it is time the Council took over. WE MUST SAVE THE ART CENTRE.

6061 - Richard Hamilton

The Arts Centre has provided substantial support and opportunity to a wide variety of artists and crafts people over many years. It is a core venue which enables a multitude of genre to educate, entrance and entertain a wide public. Not only does it serve the arts community and their audiences but it is a very strong draw for tourism having a world wide reputation for its intrinsic historic significance and its enlightened re-purposing as an arts amenity. For both cultural and financial reasons the city council should continue to fund its survival. It would be a serious loss to Christchurch, its people, and to the hundreds of thousands of visitors from abroad who make it part of their itinerary, for it to lose its function as The Arts Centre of Christchurch.

6062 - Siobhan Collins

It is a responsibility to fund the arts. I am a long term multiple property ratepayer and I want my rates to be used to support the Arts Centre

6063 - Lucy Coutts

Dear Christchurch City Council Members, I am writing to advocate for the funding of The Arts Centre in Christchurch. As a vital cultural institution within our city, The Arts Centre plays a pivotal role in fostering creativity, community engagement, and economic development. Here are several compelling reasons why the Council should allocate funds to support this invaluable asset: Cultural Enrichment: The Arts Centre serves as a hub for artistic expression, offering a diverse range of programs, exhibitions, and performances that enrich the cultural fabric of our city. Community Engagement: The Arts Centre is more than just a venue for artistic expression—it is a gathering place where people from all walks of life come together to connect, collaborate, and celebrate the arts. By funding The Arts Centre, the Council can ensure that it remains accessible to all members of our community, fostering a sense of belonging. Economic Impact: The Arts Centre plays a crucial role in driving economic growth and revitalizing the local economy. Through its programs and events, The Arts Centre attracts visitation from locals and domestic tourists stimulating spending at local businesses and supporting jobs in the hospitality, retail, and tourism sectors. Heritage Preservation: The Arts Centre occupies a historic landmark—the former University of Canterbury campus—that holds significant cultural and architectural value. By investing in The Arts Centre, the Council can contribute to the preservation and restoration of this iconic heritage site, ensuring that it remains a cherished asset for future generations to enjoy. Education and Outreach: The Arts Centre offers a range of education and outreach initiatives that engage youth and foster creativity. By supporting these initiatives, the Council can invest in the next generation of artists, innovators, and cultural leaders, enriching the educational landscape of our city. In conclusion, funding The Arts Centre is not just an investment in the arts—it is an investment in the vitality, vibrancy, and resilience of our community. By allocating resources to support this cultural institution, the Christchurch City Council can help ensure that the arts continue to thrive and enrich the lives of residents and visitors alike. Thank you for considering this proposal. I am confident that by working together, we can ensure a bright and vibrant future for The Arts Centre and the city of Christchurch as a whole. Sincerely, Lucy Coutts

6064 - Kristin Hoskin

So much work has gone into post earthquake work and it has huge history. It is part of the character of our city. It is a place known to many of us for exhibits, crafts, education, dance, gathering and much more. If we lose the things that represent our cultural history and the city's character we become just another city. Don't let something that makes us unique and special fall away. Save the Arts Centre. Save the city's soul.

6065 - amy Sutherland

its a part of our history and a tourist visiting spot

6066 - Louise Aubin

Kiwi art is an expression of self-awareness and allows people like me - frequent or one-time foreign visitors to Aotearoa - to understand and become open to the new ideas and different perspectives that New Zealanders offer. The Arts Centre in Otautahi Christchurch, in the way it evolves and embraces New Zealand diversity, brings people together in ways that no other monument in the city centre can. Keep funding the Art Centre, a sound investment.

6067 - Alex Hayward

As a long term residents of Leeston we have always appreciated the attractions of the Arts Centre . We consider the Centre to be an integral part of what makes Christchurch attractive to not only Christchurch residents but to those from surrounding areas let alone international visitors . When considering what is being spent on new facilities in Christchurch failing to support this iconic and historical area must be seen as short sighted to say the least .

6068 - Bryan Taylor

The Arts Centre is a jewel in the city's crown. If you have to choose then prioritise this over the Cathedral restoration.

6069 - Natasha McLean

Home of over 70 entites

6070 - Michael Prentice

The Arts Centre must be funded for 4 key reasons: 1. The Arts Centre is a defining intergenerational gift to the city. It's world class neo-gothic architecture connects us to our city past. At the same time recent restoration work, latterly activated by a contemporary programme of arts and cultural activities, is connecting us to the future. Considering what the city has lost as a result of the earthquakes, The Arts Centre's unique intergenerational story commands that it be preserved. 2. The Arts Centre is well-managed and cost-effective in the value it extracts for rate payers. It balances the leasing of spaces at commercial market rates to minimise the cost impact upon ratepayers, while also retaining spaces so that it remains accessible to the wider arts and cultural community. It arts and cultural programme a run frugally - and often enabled by the generosity of a community of donors and supporters who are committed to the Arts Centre's purpose. As much as any arts organisation can, the Arts Centre 'pays its way' - and while, like any other community of cultural asset, it still requires Council funding, Council's investment is more than amply returned by the economic and reputational value it creates. 3. The Arts Centre has innovated to remain relevant, and in the way it has attracted new income. The establishment of a Healthtec Hub complements the City's health percent, and adds to the innovation ecosystem that Christchurch has become known for. The Observatory Hotel provides an accommodation experience unlike any other in the city. 4. The Arts Centre is a key feature of the Christchurch visitor experience. Visitors today expect more than 'buildings' - they expect experiences that tell them stories of place, and create deeper memories that they can share with other future visitors. The Arts Centre's arts and cultural programme tell those stories and enliven the building that house them. Not supporting the arts and cultural programme at the Arts Centre would weaken Christchurch's visitor experience.

6071 - Ben Glossop

The Arts Centre provides a heritage heart to the rebuilt city. It is the first stop for any visitors from out of town. We have been to many events there, and put on a couple of musical theatre shows there as Enchanting Productions. Losing the feel and purpose of this area would be a disaster. I fully support use of my rate payments to fund the Arts Centre, and would be willing to see an increase in my rates for this purpose.

6072 - Julie Colombus

For 30 years I and my family have been going to the arts centre, to dance classes at southern ballet, court theatre and the wonderful weekend. It is an integral part of our city and is the most deserving institution in our city. I attend many performances at Lumiere and just love that theatre. .I object strongly to any of my rates money going to the cathedral but would be more than happy to have a donation taken out for the arts centre.

6073 - Jocelyn Humphreys

I recognise that there are funding difficulties for many of our historic public buildings. However, if the Arts Centre were to close it would create a hollow in the centre of the city that would be hard to fill.

The centre provides a diverse range of experiences from the market stalls to the Great Hall, the Centre Gallery and the Teese. I regularly visit when in the city and always show the Centre off to overseas visitors. I would see the money spent on its restoration and earthquake strengthening as a great waste if it were to close. The Worcester Street precinct, from the Art Gallery to the Museum (once restored) would be diminished by the closure of the Art Centre. I submit that the Christchurch City Council should continue the existing support for the Arts Centre pending a collaborative review by the Council of the funding and structure of the Arts Centre Trust to ensure that it continues to be viable in the future.

6074 - Maree Williamson

The Arts Centre is so much part of our history and so valuable in the present. It has received Council funding in the past and deserves Council support now and in the future. The variety of tenants and uses are evidence of good planning on the part of the Trust. I am a ratepayer and I insist that we support the Arts Centre generously. It benefits a much wider range of people than, say, Te Kaha!

6075 - Peter Payne

It's an iconic precinct with huge tourism potential but, importantly, it serves as a hub for locals who have a deep and enduring interest in all aspects of the arts. It's loss would negatively affect the soul of Christchurch. The Dux restaurant also needs reinstatement as an integral part of the Centre.

6076 - Elissa Weissman

The Arts Centre makes Christchurch a vibrant place to live and visit! Devoting iconic heritage buildings to creative endeavours, especially in such a central location, affirms and celebrates the importance of the arts to the community--and the arts ARE vital for every community. Please make sure this unique, essential institution is able to remain afloat.

6077 - Veronica Anderson

Most important centre for chch and vistors to meet in and enjoy the many facilities. Arguably the most important hub in chch.

6078 - Margreet Stronks

The Arts Centre, its history and purpose are unique. The pleasure of beauty, design, aesthetics, variety of purpose, calm and relaxation is unequivocal. As is Its placement next to the Botanic Gardens which enhances its purpose. I want my contributions to Christchurch through my rates to go to the Arts Centre for the benefit of fellow citizens, residents and tourists.

6079 - Bryan Wang

The Arts Centre has its unique identity to attract visitors and tourists to the city, as well as providing educational purposes to to the locals to connect with arts. I will consider it as an asset to the city and LTP should definitely include the consideration of funding the arts centre.

6080 - Rose Hindson

The Arts Centre must be CCC funded. The buildings and spaces are unique. The upgrades so far are world class. The Arts Centre is an iconic venue for we Christchurch residents! It is accessible to everyone and has so many wonderful events. CCC must provide funding to retain the our Arts Centre.

6081 - Nigel Anderson

This taonga is part of the very soul of Christchurch. The Great Hall in particular has been vital to me throughout my life in Christchurch. Firstly when I went to the lunchtime concerts as a schoolboy. Then as a part of the Arts side of the University of Canterbury (I was at both campuses). More recently I have been helping Trish Rainey at the outstandingly successful lunchtime concerts- these are frequently sold out. They draw many into the arts centre. The rest of the Arts Centre is just as important. It provides a space for social gatherings whether in small or large groups. It has a special ambience quite different from the riverside and other areas of Christchurch. It is a natural companion to the Museum and the Art Gallery- showcasing the creative arts thriving in Christchurch. Music and singing are a particularly strong component of Christchurch culture. Our schools are known for their fostering of music. And the Great Hall is a wonderfully acoustic venue for showcasing the best of musical talent within and from outside Christchurch. One Auckland pianist told me he comes to the Great Hall to play whenever he can get an invitation because it “is acoustically better than any venue in Auckland.” Then there are the other activities in the arts centre cultivating yet more of the creative arts in the city. A city is the poorer without a thriving cultural heart. Which carries on daily. The City Council is the appropriate body to not only support the Arts Centre but it should be actively promoting it as a jewel of Christchurch, the Council should be showing pride in the Arts Centre. Don't penny pinch over an institution which will long outlast the current council. History and future ratepayers will judge the council very poorly if it abandons the Arts Centre to lower a rates bill for current ratepayers. Financially supporting the Arts Centre should be a no-brainer.

6082 - Lara Garmonsway

The Arts Centre is such an integral part of Christchurch as a city. If we were to lose the Arts Centre, we would lose one of the few remaining cultural icons in our city. It's been part of the cityscape for so long, it's unbelievable that it wouldn't receive council support to remain viable. There are so many businesses that would be affected by its closure. Not only the businesses that operate in and around the Arts Centre, but many tourism and other peripheral companies would lose an important part of their itineraries or interesting places to visit. There is so much history in the Arts Centre, which you can see by the wear patterns in the stone steps! How many people have walked on those steps since they were laid? It's crazy to me that the Arts Centre was restored following the earthquakes, only to be excluded from the Long Term Plan to keep it alive! We have lost so much history and special Christchurch features because of and since the earthquakes, please don't let the Arts Centre become another casualty.

6083 - Murray Hindson

Christchurch must retain our Arts Centre in its present form. The Christchurch City Council must fund this valuable asset. The Arts Centre cannot be lost. It is an irreplaceable part of our City! CCC funding for The Arts Centre must be a " yes."

6084 - Kirsty McMillan

The Arts Centre is the cultural heart of the city - education, creativity, history, 1st chch uni, the Dux, the Great Hall, the cinemas and art galleries, shops etc. it is vital to keep TAC. The arts centre is a crucial part of chchs history, culture, education, art, music, films, concerts, shows... it is the cornerstone of chch and should be cared for as a treasure for the city and nz. Fund it.

6085 - Rachael Geddes-Scott

Safeguard our artistic home - The Arts Centre is the only place in Christchurch we can share the music of our culture, our heritage.

6086 - Aimée McLeod

The Arts Centre is a huge draw for visitors, from NZ as well as overseas. We have never missed a visit to the Arts Centre on any trip to Christchurch. The buildings are beautiful, deserve to be filled with art. Having taken part in the Arts Centre Sculpture exhibition I can see how this is a huge asset for Christchurch which totally deserves the support of the council

6087 - Cushla Mahoney

This is a taonga that needs protecting and funding to survive as a vital cultural and architectural asset for our community

6088 - John Hill

I think we need the Arts Centre more than a stadium or a crapped out old church! While I would not support a rates increase for the Cathedral restoration AT ALL, I would be happy for an increase to support the Arts Centre. I have been to the Arts Centre on numerous occasions over the years and have been part of exhibitions there as well. I think the council MUST RETHINK the funding strategy so this fantastic facility can continue to exist.

6089 - Drea Muller

We have been so excited to finally move to Christchurch and purchase a house here. Mostly because of the vibrant arts scene. We have been visiting the arts centre since prior to the quakes and have appreciated the venue in so many ways. We've been to many gigs and exhibitions. Since moving to Christchurch earlier this year we have embraced this stunning series of spaces. To not continue to support this centre is tantamount to cultural denigration. This series of spaces provides access to interesting cultural and art events and community interactions for all races creeds and religions and people from all walks of life and socio economic backgrounds. Christchurch is a multicultural city. We must continue to support and celebrate this diversity. Arts and associated events and services are beyond important and truly build the fabric of a society which has suffered and is still suffering. Calm, thought provoking and accessible places are what we need more of. Please please continue to fund this centre. We moved here because of places like this.

6090 - Kay Solomon

The Arts Centre is full of memories and in many ways emotionally much more the centre of Christchurch than the square. It links The Botanical Gardens and Hagley Park to the great new developments in the city around Riverside. Please keep funding the Art Centre.

6091 - Graeme Anderson

Please fund the Arts centre not only to preserve what's there but ongoing creatives who need a place to enrich all our lives. I am willing to pay extra in my rates for the beating heart of arts in Christchurch

6092 - Georgi Waddy

No brauner! Best part of Christchurch support it!!

6093 - Carl McGregor

In the late 1970s, my father said it was a good idea to knock the old Uni buildings down.. it would make a great carpark. It was probably the First time I disagreed with my father.. it would be a disaster if after all that has been done to the Rebuild Of The Arts Centre for that to happen now. It is too precious to waste. Carl McGregor

6094 - Alex Barton

The Arts Centre makes a valuable contribution to the Christchurch community and culture that deserves to be funded.

6095 - Geoffrey Rice

The Arts Centre is not just a group of precious heritage buildings but a living cultural centre for the city. I was appalled when I read that the LTP had omitted the Arts Centre. Please reinstate and even increase the grant!

6096 - Mandy Mee

The Arts Centre is an integral part of Christchurch. There has never been a greater need to keep art and history in the city given the impact of global issues we face and the loss of so very many buildings in Christchurch. The sense of familiarity that remains for those of us who grew up with this institution means so very much. Please kindly consider the continuance of funding to support these wonderful buildings and all they offer.

6097 - Grace Carpinter

Because the Arts Centre provides space for a variety of businesses and creative spaces, including one of the best cinemas in Christchurch, and I'd hate to see that jeopardised.

6098 - Fiona Joice

The Arts Centre has been an important focus for creative and tourist/visitor events throughout my life. Since the quakes it has been gradually coming back to life and promising to fulfil that role once more. The historic significance of the buildings is part of the package that makes the Arts Centre an irreplaceable component of Christchurch's arts and visitor scene. This asset to our city should be funded by the CCC, as it is part of Ōtautahi's fabric and has been for generations.

6099 - Hillary Rock Harnden

For the cultural future of our beautiful city

6100 - Edwina Palmer

The Arts Centre pre-EQ was the cultural heart of the city, housing ateliers and studios for artists of various sorts. The buildings are a Victorian heritage unique in NZ. They are also a major tourist attraction.

6101 - Reuben Ishrahm

The Arts Centre of Christchurch is a haven for the creative mediums and methods that spark life into our city - please reconsider your funding allocations to support this pillar of our creative community!

6102 - Al Joice

The Arts Centre is a key part of the Christchurch Arts scene and culture. It needs to be funded by the Christchurch City Council in the Long Term Plan. It would be a tragedy if Council funding ceased and the focus was on it being privately funded and profit driven. Financially supporting the Arts Centre helps make Christchurch a better more interesting and vibrant city that people want to live in and visit.

6103 - Nicola Baird

As a person who grew up in Christchurch I am horrified that the art centre is at threat of losing its funding. I am a fine arts graduate but had it not been for the art centre I doubt I would have ever embarked on a creative career. I visited the art centre most weekends as a teenager as it was the only place in Christchurch that made me see and feel what is possible for creatives like myself. The working studios, the markets, the exhibitions and the grandeur and historical weight of the buildings and dynamic spaces inspired my curious mind and encouraged me to be so much more than ordinary. The Art centre is a unique and utterly vital part of our city that needs to be supported and respected for all it has done and will do for future generations. Sincerely Nicola Baird

6104 - Kim Ramsay

The Arts Centre is an amazing and unique facility for Christchurch. It is a fabulous facility for local people and visitors. Our family has recently benefited from visits to the Teece Museum and the Rutherford's Den. Both of these visited were so enhanced with educators/ curators delivering us an absolute wealth of information, including some of the Arts Centre history, which brought the details so much more 'to life'. Our Rutherford's Den visit included watching experiments in The Maker Space by a physicist from UC. It was so great this ideal and flexible space was available for this entertaining and inspiring display to primary and intermediate aged kids. A brilliant early introduction. We also visited this space for a very brilliant stained glass art workshop, delivered by a local artist. At the end of this we visited the Great Hall to learn about the stained glass there. We had to wait and queue to get in while very happy-looking people, who had been to a lunchtime concert inside, filed out. Yesterday, we met friends at Fudge Cottage where my daughter, and friends, decorated some fudge in a holiday workshop. We then ambled through the spaces admiring the sculptures /environs and talking about the history of the place (more of which we learnt on our recent learning trip to Rutherford's Den). The Arts Centre is vital for Christchurch and not only for showcasing and enjoying the arts. But as a centre for a many other reasons such as creating, gathering, meeting, teaching, learning, shopping, dining and entertainment for all.

6105 - Sarah Taylor

The Arts Centre adds so much to Christchurch for the community, artists and musicians. Christchurch would lose so much if this was to close. After going through such a lot to get to the place it is in now that would be tragic. I would be willing as a rate payer to pay a little more to have it there. I submitted on the long term plan and did not notice this lack of funding. Had I done so I would have asked that the council continue to support the arts centre that provides this creative space to our community. Please support on going funding.

6106 - Anthony Cavanagh

There are far too few places like it left. I walk through there and have a sense of nostalgia. I think about the family stall that sold goldfish, I think about souvlaki, and how at the time, it was one of the only places to get ethnic food in Christchurch. No other place exists like that now, how could you consider letting this place lose it's heritage.

6107 - Christiane Nordt

The Art Centre is the most valuable Christchurch asset. There's no comparable place in New Zealand, it is truly unique & very beautiful. The Art Centre brings people together & enables them to create precious memories. It is the beating heart of Otautahi, it is lively, gets used by all ages, is a tourist attraction & loved by all. PLEASE KEEP ON FUNDING IT!

6108 - Maureen Calder

The Art Centre is the soul of the city. Art, music & drama are integral to the pulse of the city. Visiting tourist remember the city because of the Art Centre. To lose such a treasure would be unforgivable.

6109 - Trish Hourigan

Please let us continue to enjoy this amazing facility. The history and grandeur should be for the people of Canterbury and greater New Zealand to enjoy. What better place could there possibly be for an Arts Centre?

6110 - Suellen Beaman

I have lived in Chch for many years of my life and the thought of the Arts Centre not being funded by the Council beggars belief .Please think long and hard before resorting to turning this area to an unwanted, underfunded iconic area of this beautiful Citu

6111 - Jane Barrett

The Arts Centre is an intrinsic part of the cultural fabric of our city. These Gothic revival buildings are instantly recognisable, & steeped in history, having been the seat of the university in its heyday - the Arts Centre houses many local enterprises, which are cocooned in its historic walls. The Arts Centre is accessible, & supportive of local artists, through its residency scheme - these are examples amongst a myriad of positive things the Arts Centre nurtures. What more reason is needed to provide funding for this jewel in Canterbury's crown?

6112 - Rosemary Cartwright

Support the Arts Centre. All that money spent after the earthquake on the beautiful buildings. I miss the Dux too, support the Dux too!

6113 - Bele Malik

The Arts Centre has many memories and my own memories as well. It is a great tourist spot and gives character to our Christchurch. We can keep the Beckenham library as is and put that money in the Arts Centre. What would Christchurch be without the arts centre or even worse with a run down Arts Centre. How does that represent Christchurch?

6114 - Jo Biggs

Please keep funding this amazing artist space. We have lost so much with the quakes. Please don't take the the art center aswell. Most people from Christchurch have had something to do with the art center. I learnt how to dance there. And have done lots of theater shows there. So please keep it going

6115 - Ross Calman

The Arts Centre Trust has done a wonderful job to fix up the Arts Centre in the wake of the earthquakes and to create vibrant, inclusive spaces that cater to the needs of the diverse communities of Ōtautahi Christchurch. It's such a key asset for Christchurch I'd like to see the council continuing to support the present management of the Arts Centre to continue to oversee the administration of this absolutely crucial asset for the city.

6116 - Rudolf Nordt

The Arts Centre is a precious taonga and requires CCC funding to function properly.

6117 - Mark Palmer

The Arts centre represents the most amazing and unique piece of architectural history the city has. It was always and always will be an amazing place for events, markets etc. it is of far more value to the city than a bike park. It is a fine example of gothic architecture and its history is such a part of Christchurch, we can't lose it and need to support it.

6118 - Eileen Marciana Reid

Please do not stop funding the Arts Centre. The Arts Centre is the cultural heart of our city. It was broken once with the earthquakes, don't break it again just as it is emerging so beautifully for our community, wider NZ and visitors from all over the world

6119 - Jenny Adams

The Arts Centre is a major point of culture for Christchurch city. I regularly visit it for a range of reasons; high quality shopping for myself or great nz-made gifts, beautiful toys for my child, art displays & special exhibitions, brunch with my family or a wine tasting at The Cellar. It's probably one of the most regular places I visit in the city, so I just can't understand why this isn't planned to get the funding it normally does, and absolutely deserves as a highly functioning, seemingly well run part of the city that's enjoyed by many tourists and locals alike. This decision should be revisited.

6120 - Milda Valantiejute

It is an absolute gem of a resource for home educating community. Without it, insurmountable number of families will lose a chance to explore art in person as a part of their curriculum.

6121 - Jenny Hargreaves

It's a taonga of Christchurch

6122 - Rachel Young

Without arts and culture we have nothing. We have lost so much in Ōtautahi following the quakes. The loss of the arts centre would be a travesty both for residents and for visitors.

6123 - Rosemarie Hughes

One can not imagine Christchurch without the wonderful Art Centre..along with Hagley Park they are the jewels in the crown...of a City that has withstood so much destruction...The Art Centre history must never be forgotten.

6124 - Alberta Hall

The Arts Centre is not only a place of historic significance, but also one that is deeply important to the Community of Christchurch. It is a space valued by people from all over the city, young and old. It is one place I am so grateful we have in Christchurch and would be heartbroken to see it change for the worse. Art matters, culture matters, history matters, community matters. #savetheartcentre #dontstopthefunding

6125 - Peter Carney

I am a structural engineer and worked on the strengthening and rebuild of the Arts Centre following the earthquakes. It was a career defining, inspirational project to be a part of - by no means straightforward but made worth it upon seeing the Arts Centre gradually reopened with the public welcomed back in. We need to preserve such a place and its mission of fostering the arts and wider community of Christchurch. Please continue to provide council support to the Arts Centre.

6126 - Bruce Reid

We MUST keep funding The Arts Centre, the only venue that caters to all levels of our community arts, our creative and cultural activities.. to stop funding it would be very short sighted and a huge mistake at every level

6127 - Logan Walsh

Not only is The Arts Centre one of the campus locations of University of Canterbury where I am currently studying but is also is home to many fond memories of days spent down in the old Court Theatre or visiting the markets on the weekends as a child. The Arts Centre has continued to be a fantastic place to visit for tourists and Cantabrians alike looking to learn/explore arts, crafts or to just soak in the gothic architecture that used to make up so much of the Christchurch so many grew up with. To lose The Arts Centre would take away so many learning opportunities and precious memories.

6128 - Kat Salceda

Arts Centre have been in Ōtautahi for ages and what will the city be without the Arts Centre?

6129 - Yanli Zhou

Arts center is for everyone, especially a delightful experience for children. We are proud of the past glory and the survival strength from earthquake. Wish to see it would be still shining in the future.

6130 - Helen Lowe

The Arts Centre is part of the "living heart" of Christchurch and a "jewel in the crown" in terms of heritage, culture, visitor attraction, and a vibrant inner city vibe. Plus, following the earthquakes, far too much of our remaining heritage is either still awaiting repair, eg the Provincial Chambers, or lost to ready public access (e.g. the former Our City.) The Arts Centre remains readily accessible and represents a long term commitment from both the Christchurch council and citizens to retain and ensure its continuance. This also implies a constant financial commitment, which I believe must be maintained or risk blighting the Worcester Blvd / Botanic Gardens precinct. I ask the council to reverse this ill-advised and extremely shortsighted proposal.

6131 - nicholas eady

it is one of the only reasons i'd move to christchurch. as a non-local, it was my favourite part of visiting the city. chch needs this arts space

6132 - Glynnis Clarke

I have had the good fortune to travel the world over my lifetime and from that experience have learned that your heritage is a precious gift. The arts centre is just that the heart of our heritage.... Don't throw it away! Most countries go to extreme lengths to subsidise, support and sustain their heritage and it is vital that we do the same for what little we have left in Christchurch.

6133 - Sofia d'Aubert-Phillips

The Arts Centre is an important place for both the local art and general community, and also a large attraction for tourists visiting Christchurch (especially given its proximity to both the Botanic Gardens and the art gallery).

6134 - Helen McLeod

The Arts Centre is iconic to Christchurch especially with its distinctive architecture. It is the one thing that I wanted to be saved after the earthquakes. The Arts Centre holds so much of our history and it is also carrying its unique atmosphere into the future to inspire my mokopuna and beyond. I admire the Arts Centre Board for starting to raise funds early after the quakes to restore this our heritage. It gave me hope to rebuild my life. Although I have contributed to funding its restoration, as a Superannuitant my contribution is limited. However I would rather my rates be used to assist the Arts Centre than the Cathedral or any of the other large projects. I was watching a play there at the Court Theatre when an after shock hit. Someone screamed but we all sat ready for the next part of the play. Another larger aftershock hit. Then a different person stood and gave a standing ovation. Next we all stood and joined in, clapping while we walked out in an orderly relaxed manner. Many of us have wonderful stories of the Arts Centre. Let's hold on to our unique centre which continues to bring our heritage to life and is a sustainable competitive advantage for our city.

6135 - Yulmi Hong

I love the arts centre!!

6136 - Colin Brownie

Beautiful piece of our cities history. Such a unique space which hosts a range of events. As it continues to be repaired it holds a lot of potential for that corner of the city

6137 - Sara Daly

The Arts Centre is an essential part of life in Christchurch and it is wonderful to see the amount of use and the connection with so many of our inhabitants. Our CCC should make funding accessible to The Arts Centre and I would be happy for a part of my rates to be used in this way. NO FURTHER FUNDS MUST BE GIVEN TO THE RESTORATION OF THE CATHEDRAL.

6138 - Karla Bedggood

The Art Centre is beautiful and a treasure! It is a place for great shows, exhibitions & a cultural hub for the city.

6139 - ERIC TRACEY

Having ensured that the Christchurch Earthquake Appeal UK supported the recovery of the ARTS CENTRE after the Earthquake I am greatly disappointed by the notion of the Council not continuing to provide adequate funding. All that effort going to waste! Poor Christchurch, poor people of Christchurch. A city without an Arts Centre is no longer a top-rate city,

6140 - Ingrid Hardie

The Arts Centre is our visible cultural hub, fostering and showcasing and appreciation of our talented and gifted artists - a place that we can be proud of and enriched by - what is a community without the tangible support of cultural life?

6141 - Nathan Hyde

The Arts are an important part of any society.

6142 - Samantha Blennerhassett

It gives so much character to the city, it's a place to converge and be proud of Christchurch's culture, and I personally would be devastated to see it replaced with soulless buildings.

6143 - Patricia Manning

Having spent so much money on restoration why would you even contemplate closing it

6144 - Nicole Bass

Being born and raised in Christchurch, The Arts Centre is the heart of the city. There are so many fond memories over the years of the old weekend markets, food trucks, buskers festivals and movies under the stars. It's a beautiful heritage site that offers so much to residents and visitors to the city. I now have an 18 month old Daughter and have already attended music classes and a family day continuing the experiences and memories for her. It would be extremely short sighted to not provide funding and risk losing such a huge part of the city and one that is regularly used, visited and wanted. Do not let future generations miss out on amazing facility for our city.

6145 - Amy Beloved

National Treasure, Heritage, Future of the City, Last Standing Monument to our past*

6146 - Gayle Heine

I believe Christchurch will lose its large group of Creative people from Christchurch. How's this going to help with council costs? I wouldn't stay as much as I love Christchurch if there was no art center.

6147 - Gloria Moyle

This is an incredibly important asset to the city - both for locals and tourists. Many of us have life long memories from these buildings - they are a part of who we are as a city.

6148 - Philip Pickering

The Arts Centre is an important part of Christchurch's history that links to important figures of New Zealand history and should be supported and funded. It's an important landmark of the city and an architectural gem. It's amazing legacy of Karl Popper, Ernest Rutherford and Canterbury University is worth its future being preserved.

6149 - Sylvia Smyth

The Arts Centre is fantastic! I find myself there every second week or so. I have two preschoolers who have enjoyed so many different events there. Recently we attended a free concert in the great hall and I have never seen my three year old so quiet. She was amazed by the stained glass windows, the spotlight, the height of the ceilings, the balcony, the sound of the drum from the stage. What a disaster it would be to lose access to such a treasure for her, her children, all of us.

6150 - Fiona Taylor

The Arts are at the centre of Christchurch and the Arts Centre is pivotal in both its history and its future. It is unfathomable that after all the effort to rebuild and create a space for locals and tourists alike that funding would be cut. "When Winston Churchill was asked to cut arts funding in favour of the war effort, he simply replied, 'then what are we fighting for?'"

6151 - Janee Le heux

It's a Christchurch icon and a hub for tourists, it's aesthetically beautiful and filled with memories for many of us. My question is, how and why is this the council to fail on this? After the arts centre has been a Christchurch institution for a very long time. One of our heritage sites that is still standing, please don't be the council who lets it go.

6152 - Karen McCrostie

To support the well being of the people of Christchurch and beyond. Art gives insurmountable pleasure to us all.

6153 - Susanne Anderson

Apart from the love of the local community for these beautiful buildings and the institutions they house, the Art Centre is a MAJOR tourist destination. It will be absolutely shameful and misguided if the council does not choose to continue its support. It survived the earthquakes so let's make sure it survives the council chopping block !!

6154 - Ellen McClay

Why save the arts centre to have it lie empty it is so short sighted. I am feeling the cost of living crisis like everyone but why does that not matter for the stadium or the convention centre

6155 - Liza Workman

Historical place in chch, visitors flock to the area, great tourist attraction, lovely place I frequent regularly with friends and family and when ever our friends come over from overseas. Please please juggle funds to allow this we don't want to loose yet another beautiful area in chch !!!

6156 - Jenna Ellis

I am writing to strongly advocate for the continued funding of our local arts centre. This institution plays a crucial role in our community and deserves ongoing support for several key reasons. The arts centre serves as a vital hub for creativity, cultural expression, and inclusivity within our community. It contributes significantly to the local economy by attracting visitors and supporting local businesses. Moreover, it plays a critical role in education by inspiring and developing artistic skills in our youth. Continuing to fund the arts centre is an investment in our community's cultural richness, economic growth, and educational opportunities. I urge you to prioritize this funding to ensure the enduring benefits it brings to our city.

6157 - Clyde Smith

The Arts Centre is a treasure to all people of Christchurch. The spaces provide a sense of history along with valuable teaching, learning and performance spaces. It is a haven of tranquility with its cloisters and quadrangles . It is a vibrant part of Ōtautahi that simply must be funded by the council for all future generations .

6158 - Francis Davis

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on the council's long term funding not including that for the Arts Centre. In a nutshell, this is an absolutely appalling proposal by a bunch of Philistines, who certainly do not represent my views as a rates payer. The old Canterbury University site is a jewel in what little is left of historical Christchurch. Its diverse roles in the culture of our community is vital to our city's wellbeing, which is what you as a Council were elected to protect. Do your job and ensure the continuation and growth of the ARTS Centre. I am gobsmacked that my Council should even consider not funding the Arts Centre on a long-term basis. My family has enjoyed it's various functions and resources over four decades and some of them have performed there. It is a jewel in this city's crown and as a rate payer for over 40 years I strongly demand that you reverse this proposal. Whatever cost-cutting measures you take in these difficult economic times, this is one that must not happen.

6159 - Pam Smart

It's too beautiful a building not to have anymore

6160 - Michael Ellis

I am writing to strongly advocate for the continued funding of our local arts centre. This institution plays a crucial role in our community and deserves ongoing support for several key reasons. The arts centre serves as a vital hub for creativity, cultural expression, and inclusivity within our community. It contributes significantly to the local economy by attracting visitors and supporting local businesses. Moreover, it plays a critical role in education by inspiring and developing artistic skills in our youth. Continuing to fund the arts centre is an investment in our community's cultural richness, economic growth, and educational opportunities. I urge you to prioritize this funding to ensure the enduring benefits it brings to our city.

6161 - Cathy McPherson

Please provide on going funding to the Arts Centre. Also please bring the Dux back to the Arts Centre!

6162 - Rebecca Smallridge

Please fund the Arts Centre! Such an important part of our cultural heritage!

6163 - Ruth Blane

What a beautifully restored building and centre that is available for all and supports our creative industries and access to them for all residents

6164 - Claudine Fraser

The Arts Centre is a beautiful, vital and much loved part of our city, much loved by locals and tourists alike. Please don't destroy one of our last remaining stunning buildings. 🙏

6165 - Michael Collins

I love the Arts Centre. I enjoyed my 11 year tenancy in The Old Physics Building and only departed because an earthquake forced me out. The restoration is so well done. I always take visitors, especially family and friends from overseas, there to enjoy the peaceful courtyard and the beautiful Neo-Gothic architecture. To me it is well worth supporting this iconic cultural landmark. It's the perfect counterpoint to all the cheap, often ugly commercial buildings so plentiful around Christchurch. Honestly, I find it difficult to believe that I am having to write this response - of course you save the Arts Centre.

6166 - Ruth Van der Eb

It is a vital part of Christchurch's history, present and future. And we need to find the money to keep this special place going.

6167 - Lorna Leonard

The Arts Centre is a wonderful asset to the city and must be able to continue to do so. I attend lunchtime concerts, films and other events in the magnificently restored heritage buildings there. I hope the Christchurch City Council will reconsider providing support by funding The Arts Centre in the Long Term Plan

6168 - Whit Spectre

Arts and culture are the life blood of Ōtautahi Christchurch, without it we will be a sad, dull community with little heart. Strongly suggest whatever funding you have put toward the cathedral is reallocated towards the art centre - let's face it, the Anglican Church has enough money to fix its assets without a handout from rates payers.

6169 - Marion Fernee

We can't lose the Art Centre...the buildings are stunning, it's the old Canterbury University, it has restaurants, shops, The Great Hall, Rutherford's Den etc. We can't afford to not have it. There are so many modern monstrosity like the Convention Centre...hideous!! No, No. It must be saved!!!!!!

6170 - Shay Horay

The Arts Centre was my starting point. And as an artist from chch. I went on to tour the world, 34 countries to date. I would like to keep being able to make events here and work here. I am assuming if the CCC takes it over I will have to become an architect and probably rent an office. I would prefer I don't have to do that.

6171 - Kareena Olsen

I have such fond memories of the art centre as a child. We went there regularly and now it is a place my young family love to visit. It is enchanting yet calm. Fools to not including the art centre. No one wanted their money going into the cathedral which is all dead money now, I'd much rather it came here. Might I add we also don't have a functioning museum at present. The art centre is one of the places for cultural connect in the city

6172 - Holly Parfitt

The arts centre is a special space that connects the city and our beautiful botanic gardens in Hagley Park. When I approach the arts centre on Worcester Boulevard I am filled with pride and a spark of joy. I feel so fortunate to have this divine, historical and enjoyable eye candy in my city. Sadly post-earthquake I don't often feel this way. The arts centre is Christchurch, please fill it with more delightful events to fill the senses, let's get it brimming with people by making it even more fabulous and provide a space to nurture the arts, music and creatives.

6173 - David Chambers

Dear Councillors, Please, please, continue to use ratepayer income to contribute toward funding both the operations AND the capital needed to keep the Arts Centre as the centre of our cultural and creative civic fabric. I cannot imagine a city without the Arts Centre as a focus for all that is good about your cultural legacy. I have been here since 1977 and have used it constantly - as the Gilbert & Sullivan rehearsal rooms, my daughter's ballet education, the Great Hall as a venue for hundreds of kids who perform in High School Drama Festivals and the Sheilah Winn Shakespeare Festival, a place to eat like Annies, Le Cafe, Bunsen, Cellar Door; favourite movie house first Academy and now Lumiere; to say nothing of the food and artisan markets that sustained many many weekends for both our family and our visitor outings; the galleries near the ginkgo tree, the new galleries in the Centre Quad. The Arts /Centre provides a natural link between the Inner city and riverbank through to the Gardens and the Art Gallery and the Museum (currently restricted to CoCA and Ravenscar, all of which are linked by the Tram. The Arts Centre, even without The Court and the Dux, is valuable as a link between the past and present. More importantly it is a fundamental cornerstone of our future as a modern city with a great optimism based on our best traditions and our rich and diverse cultural capital. David Chambers

6174 - Greer Garnham

The Arts Centre was an integral part of my childhood with many a fond memory. It housed my grandmother through her high school years and now boasts some of my favourite people as employees. Please don't take this special space away from them and future generations to come.

6175 - Sue Chappell

The Arts Centre is part of the history of Christchurch and of New Zealand. And it's a significant support for the Arts, as well as being a great destination for tourists.

6176 - Joshua Wright

Christchurch arts centre is a place of gathering for a number of creative people living in Christchurch. it plays an integral role in the creative community , offering facilities and venues to perform, watch and experience the arts in chch from music to visual art. it would be a big hit to the creative communities that use these facilities to see the funding disappear.

6177 - Elizabeth Gardiner

This city of Christchurch and it's Community cannot afford to lose The Arts Centre. I believe this would have a devastating impact on not just the local creative community but a vast swathe of our wider community both here and across Aotearoa New Zealand who enjoy, participate in activites and events, shop, share kai and engage with others. We need to protect this special slice of our unique heritage for the future generations.

6178 - Henare Nathan

The Arts Centre is the jewel in the crown of Christchurch's culture scene and would be a grievous loss to the city.

6179 - Fiona Garlick

This group of heritage buildings is a beating heart of creativity in the city of Christchurch. It should be nurtured and taken care of so that it can keep fostering the arts from now and into the future.

6180 - vita flood

The arts centre is such a gem in christchurch and is very special to a lot of people it deserves to be funded and cherished.

6181 - Phillipa Joyce

Because it is a huge part of our heritage, Christchurch Art center needs to have funding from the Christchurch City Council so it can still be here for future generations ,it so important

6182 - Imke Janus

I am surprised that the option to not support the Art Centre is considered.This architectural treasure, has been a hub for the community for a long time. Most of the significant buildings in the centre of the City were destroyed and demolished. However the Art Centre was restored needs to be preserved to show case local arts and crafts. Fine Arts, hospitality and entertainment are what societies thrive on supporting healthy relationships. The Botanical Gardens close by, provide ample opportunities to combine visits to both and make this a destination of good quality City experience. The Dux de Lux, was one of the best venues in the city and could be again. Rent and Leases will finance upkeep.

6183 - Paul Knight

Everyone has the right to artistic experience, having their own unique encounter. Our communities are strengthened by artistic diversity and inclusiveness. The Arts Centre plays an integral part of that experience.

6184 - Donna-Mae Acton

Prior to the 2011 Earthquake it accommodated a thriving community of artists, craftspeople, musicians, food outlets, entertainment etc.etc. It needs your support to return this iconic centre to its former glory.

6185 - Anna Moriarty

The heart of Christchurch will be lost without this funding. The Arts centre is an incredibly creative space for any age and has "community" as its core and foundations. I'm currently London based and about to travel back to Chch to holiday with my 6mo old; the Arts Centre is absolutely always forefront of the mind as a place to be, visit and explore. Frankly and honestly, I just can't understand how this submission is even needed. C'mon, think about it team! What a ridiculous idea to get rid of this beautiful historic place.

6186 - Briar Linn

It is one of Otautahi's most special remaining buildings. Means so much to the community and attracts tourists to our city

6187 - Nicola Turner

These are beautiful heritage buildings. The people of Chch and tourists love them. The small businesses and the services they provide are unique and add character and arts to Chch. They provide unique creative educational opportunities and experiences for adults and children in the heart of the city. For some reason they have always been under utilised. Please support the arts centre as a now rare heritage area of Chch and help it to thrive and meet its full potential.

6188 - Geoff Cackett

Yes

6189 - Judith Foster

The Arts centre needs to be saved and funded. The heritage buildings are unique and provide history and character to Christchurch. The arts centre is a focal point for locals and tourists alike and is a beautiful gateway to the Botanic gardens and Museum.

6190 - Moon Drury

One of the symbolic/historical place in Christchurch

6191 - Monique Tongia

Common man!! This place is beautiful. It's a classic. It's our city history. Everyone has memories of this place from their childhood. It needs to stay, and y'all will be making a big mistake not funding it!!

6192 - Sue Ogilvie

Please continue funding the Arts Centre! I can't imagine Christchurch without it. My parents, Gordon and Libby Ogilvie, studied there in the 1950s. It is a wonderful place filled with history, the arts and generous people making a huge contribution to the city. I know my parents would want me to make this submission.

6193 - Jesse Muir

Within the heart of this beautiful city rises up a collection of buildings enveloped in history and grandeur, not only a testament to generations past, also a symbol of what is still to come. A performer in the Grand Hall this week captivated their audience not just with music. As he finished his first song, looking across to the stain glass and stone, words so few could of uttered, " the first time I sang here was in 1964" Here he was over half a century later recalling memories from the same stage, still GIVING with music to the many peoples of Christchurch. In a world that takes so much away, let the Arts Centre continue giving.

6194 - Aaron McGlinchy

The Arts Centre is an important public space that must be supported. We can't save it from Earthquakes only to let the life and activity within it dwindle and die.

6195 - Sophie Bartle

Going to the Arts Centre improves people's wellbeing and their understanding of different cultures, making them better citizens of Christchurch.

6196 - Amanda Findlay

The Arts Centre is an integral part of Christchurch's history. The buildings are beautiful and the city has lost too many heritage places. My memories of the weekend markets are wonderful- great place to meet friends, the variety of stalls, and the live music. My uncle was married in the Great Hall...the whole place, including the Dux, is magical, please save it.

6197 - Caroline Dawson

It's part of Christchurch's history

6198 - Nichola Densem

It is an iconic, vital part of the Christchurch physical and cultural landscape.

6199 - Michele Duval

The Arts Centre has been a focal point of Christchurch my whole life. A place for locals and visitors to mingle and enjoy the Arts and refreshments. Our city would be less vibrant without it.

6200 - Nell Rice

This is one of the few remaining examples of neo-Gothic architecture in the city. It is essential we keep this for our children to enjoy, plus tourists love it. What would replace it? A Wilson's carpark? It's irreplaceable.

6201 - Elizabeth de Lambert

The Arts Centre is part of our City and our Heritage We have done so much to save the Arts Centre It must continue to be available to our people and visitors Such a wonderful facility To be shared with future generations

6202 - Michael Balmer

people need the Arts for mental wellbeing

6203 - Alison Boone

It's a place that is in the centre of our cultural lives over many generations, it hosts multiple spaces, events, artists, performances and businesses. It brings the past into our everyday lives there isn't much left of that in Christchurch. It's a place to be proud of and show off.

6204 - Antoinette McKay

The Arts Centre is such a beautiful part of the Centre of the city. Due to earthquakes we have lost so much history so it would be devastating to lose this history and without council support, maintaining the Arts Centre will not be possible.

6205 - Henrietta Hitchings

The Christchurch arts centre has been a cornerstone to my love for art and has shaped my life for the last 30 years. I would not now have worked in film and theatre production or have the same love for live music or for handcrafts had I not encountered these things first at the Christchurch arts centre. It brings the arts to people's lives in a way that galleries alone don't do and I strongly believe that funding priority should be given to The Arts Centre. It is unique in New Zealand and losing it would be a heartbreaking loss to those in and outside of Christchurch.

6206 - Kathryn Doig

The Arts Centre is one of ChChs icons, arguably more so than the Cathedral. Having been lucky enough to travel to Europe this year and seeing how historic places are honoured and respected has made me feel that we need to preserve our history - our story. The earthquakes took so much history away from us. The Arts Centre has had a place in history through different eras - as a university, a meeting place and architecturally and is fundamental in bringing people into the city. There's nowhere else like it in the city.

6207 - Jan McKay

The Arts Centre links us back to our past, and provides a unique space for current and future creative people to gather, to learn, to thrive, and to encourage others to do the same. We have lost so much to 'progress' and soulless modern facilities in our city, please don't let the Arts Centre go the same way.

6208 - Rachel Richards

The arts centre is so important to the people of Chch. It's heavily patronised, and far more popular with tourists than the cathedral. It's proximity to the Gardens mean it's available for everyone

6209 - Lucy Wallis

After all this time and money spent to rebuild it after the quakes, it seems like an absolutely silly move to not fund it moving forward. The refurbishment of the Museum will all be for nothing as there wont be anything to support the area if the arts centre goes down the drain. Christchurch needs to hold onto its culture, with the arts centre being at the heart of that. An absolute shame if all the hard work was to be undone.

6210 - Sue Turner

The arts contribute significantly to the health and wellbeing of communities, we saw this after the earthquakes when the arts community contributed hugely to the recovery of our city. The Arts Centre is iconic in this city and has contributed so much to its cultural identity. Please continue to fund it.

6211 - Jo Symon

I can't imagine (and don't want to) what the city would be like without the beautiful, elegant, and historic buildings that make up the Arts Centre. Christchurch is becoming a city covered with boxy little apartments. Please save our soul!

6212 - Benjamin Arnold

It's a Chch staple that Cantabrians are emotionally connected to and strongly aligns with CNZs pillars of Chch

6213 - Tia Matchitt

I've lived in Ōtautahi less than three years and that's long enough to recognise the arts centre as an unparalleled hub for showcasing excellence in exactly that which this city prides itself on: culture, diversity, unity, creativity and innovation. Should the arts centre close, to where would this go? What would be done with this iconic, dignified building? Closed off to the public to become private offices? reopened as a hub dedicated capitalism as a shopping mall? either would mean throwing out all the previously mentioned values. This is simply too embedded in and with the fabric of Ōtautahi to lose. I urge you to buck the suit which our current government is leading and say yes to celebrating the arts, celebrating diversity, celebrating unity of all peoples. Save the arts centre.

6214 - Maureen Pearman

The arts centre is a regional and national treasure that should be preserved for future generations. It is part of Christchurch's character. It makes far more sense to respect & preserve our great achievements than to build a stadium in the middle of town creating future traffic issues. Please take action about investing in our unique heritage & character.

6215 - Paul Kean

If not the Christchurch City Council then Christchurch NZ should fund (subsidise) the Arts Centre. Many Christchurch residents think of the Arts Centre as OUR heritage treasure and a welcoming place to engage with our arts and arts community through film, music, dance, theatre, crafts, exhibitions, our history, visual arts. That means we as rate payers are happy to support it if it needs subsidising. Millions are being spent on the "trophy" projects of the new stadium and the Anglican Cathedral. These will continue to be subsidised once in use. Especially the stadium. THEN why not the Arts centre? Many tourists absolutely love it. I've witnessed many busloads exploring and taking photos. We want tourists for our economy's health and cultural exchange.

6216 - Belinda Callaway

This amazing group of buildings and its tenants need more support to remain as the jewel in the crown that is the Gothic center of our city. A living testament to our history here in Canterbury.

6217 - Kathleen Liberty

The Arts Centre is an iconic and unique part of our city- appreciated and much photographed by locals and tourists alike. It is part of the beautiful stretch of our city from the Botanical Gardens to the Riverside. With more visitors anticipated from the stadium and convention centre, there is an obvious need to have the current arts precinct shine. It will be there on all the days when there aren't stadium events or conferences as well. It would be short-sighted to deny this funding, which is but a fraction of the funding being spent on the stadium.

6218 - Mike Sheppard

The Arts Centre is essential to Christchurch, for many reasons and to even consider it could go broke and possibly close is something we cannot allow to happen. If the arts Centre Trust went broke potentially the City Council would need to pick up everything and run it which is something the City Council needs to stay well clear of. I can also see the City Council is being asked by everyone for funds, Orana Park, you have already done a sweet deal for the A&P Show on its rent, money for St Albans pool, Isaac Theatre Royal, all of which is just increasing Rates in the city at a time when people can least afford it. The City Council cannot be seen as the funder of all of these organisations. I think if the City Council is to consider giving money annually to the Arts Centre which i would support, I think it needs to get concessions from the arts Centre Trust. It needs to review its cost base on staffing levels, wages associated costs, but it also needs to go to all of the building tenants to help keep it open. I have heard but do not know for sure that the OPEX paid by these tenants does not cover all costs, why when with all other commercial buildings we have to cover OPEX in full do they not, is the insurance sensible, in todays financial environment we all have to look at costs and sometimes we have to remove the nice to have, and just revert to the must have. I do not think funding should just be a blank cheque with no changes in the Trust business plan.

6219 - Pam Walsh

Without the arts centre there will just be another hole in the heart of Christchurch.

6220 - Georgina Hall

The Arts Centre brings people together across ages, backgrounds and interests and is a focus for citizens, visitors and overseas tourists. As such its difficult to know its real value and is worth fighting to keep!

6221 - Dianne Fenwick

The Arts Centre is a central arts and cultural hub for locals and tourists alike. It is a gathering place for friends, families and tourists to relax and enjoy the historical and beautiful buildings of a by gone era.. after the earthquake CHCH lost so many his buildings it was heartbreaking.

6222 - Louise BArnett

The Art Centre is so iconic to Christchurch and such an amazing place to go to, for the markets, movies or coffee

6223 - Alex Wright-Lee

The Arts Centre provides an amazing creative space for people of all ages and abilities to be able to enjoy all sorts of crafts. It would be an absolute waste and abomination to not have this anymore.

6224 - Lesley Clouston

It's a vital part of the life Of The city. Entertainment, tourist attraction, history

6225 - Andrea Heffernan

Its a pivotal part of heritage chch

6226 - Urvashi Sharma

Major and the one unique attraction in Christchurch in the absence of unpredictability, uncertainty and slowness of surrounding renovations and reconstruction of the Cathedral and other infrastructure projects. Arts Centre is a crucial part of Christchurch for maintaining its history and future.

6227 - Anne Zwart

Please keep this icon going. It's integral to the heart of Christchurch, it's imperative that we have a centre for the arts in the city. Evidence shows that it's not a nice to have but feeds the soul. It also is an extremely popular tourist attraction with all the benefits that come with this. Also what a down right waste of money not too. Please don't shut this down. It's a short term measure.

6228 - Peter Zwart

The council must make long term plans not short term responses. The centre is a long term asset for the city and must be maintained

6229 - Yvonne Hall

The Arts Centre must continue to be funded in my opinion given the crucial part it plays in the fabric of the city. It is a unique part of our city's heritage. Personally I have loved being able to participate in the Sculpture Festival as a jeweller in the last few years. This has been a wonderful and enriching experience.

6230 - Gabriella Albers-Greenway

The arts centre is the heart of Christchurch. It's a great area to display art, visit art, see touch,hear, and feel art. It has ambience. We love the facilities and events especially the great hall concerts. It's a great tourist attraction. It brings people together, has community spirit. It and its programmes needs to keep being funded by the council. It's also great to have art spaces to see artists at work. Please bring back the full Sunday arts market too. We can't lose it or it's importance to Christchurch! To us its more important than funding the stadium (we,ve only gone there 3x in 50 years or the Anglican church, not churchy). It is the heart of the city. Don't lose it. We go there at least once a fortnight for music, art, movies, dinner and shows. Please increase your funding in the council plan to keep it active and thriving!

6231 - Val Greenslade

Please save the Arts Centre a very popular place for local residents and tourists to visit.

6232 - Carolyn Heyward

The Arts Centre is architecturally and culturally significant to our community. It provides a hub and a visual centre to this area of town. Please fund it

6233 - Rebecca Polachek

The Arts Centre, much like the Cathedral, is a Christchurch icon. Instead of wasting money on useless things like bike lanes popping up everywhere because a few councilors wanted them, the people's money should be used on things that benefit the community and more people in general. The arts centre brings many people enjoyment and a creative space to work and design and express themselves. Council people must consider other people's wants and needs when deciding what things to fund and frivolous spending on unnecessary mundane things like bike lanes and traffic easements at roundabouts should take a back seat to cultural and entertainment funding. Thank you.

6234 - Azusa Takenaka

I am a mum of two, we go to the arts centre regularly and enjoy the beautiful space there. We have gone there for events, school trips and holiday programmes. I consider the arts centre to be an essential space for Christchurch, please continue to give it funding that it needs.

6235 - Maggie Alley

The Arts centre and the Cathedral are historic, beautiful buildings and pretty much all we have left from that era. They are significant and meaningful to an enormous number of Christchurch residents. If it's a choice of priorities, then use money for the restoration and maintenance of these two icons and drop the pointless, grossly expensive and hazardous cycle ways currently being installed. Suggestions that the Arts centre is no longer financially supported is the most small minded, culturally ignorant and imbecilic idea to come from the CCC. Appalling.

6236 - Jenni McLaughlin

The Arts Centre is iconic Christchurch. It is our history and a beautiful tourist attraction. We're so lucky it was already strengthened to the degree it was, so we didn't lose it in the quakes like so many other historic buildings in Chch. Let's keep funding out to the degree required to retain it for perpetuity.

6237 - Kristen Spencer

Hello, considering pulling funding for the Arts Centre is quite unimaginable. Chch has produced such a high proportion of NZ talent for the population, these spaces are crucial for artists to find encouragement and to thrive. Please bin this idea. It's rubbish. Thank you

6238 - Hannah Fox

It is a crucial hub of creativity for this magic city :)

6239 - Emily Napolitano

The arts are vital, full stop. The city council needs to fund The Arts Centre. I am deeply disappointed that the city council doesn't understand the importance of the arts and the important role The Arts Centre plays in supporting the arts and making access to the arts in all forms available to everyone. The Arts Centre is crucial to the arts and culture of Christchurch and needs to continue to be able to continue to provide the wonderful services it supports and offers.

6240 - Akiyo Ellin

Because it is one of iconic building which contribute to create atmosphere what is Christchurch. We lost so many valuable historic buildings at the event of earthquake such as Cathedral, Churches etc. We know that once it has gone, we never re-get it as exactly same what it has the materials, texture, smell and layered history which attached people's life in Christchurch. Pleas take care of it to exist.

6241 - Mark Forsyth

The Arts are the soul of a city. We have an existing facility which provides excellent venues for film, exhibitions, lectures and the like - not to have it would produce a void. It doesn't cost a lot in the overall scheme of things and yet provides so much enrichment for so many. Are we a civilised city or a cultural wasteland?

6242 - Helen McDermott

This is an intregral part of the city, can the city council pay the rates and insurance please.

6243 - Kerry Caird

Heritage of Christchurch. Fabulous architecture /culturally important

6244 - Lynne James

The Arts Centre is an essential part of the fabric of the city. If it is not funded, the buildings may not be maintained. We now have a very fine group of unique buildings right at the heart of the city, we should cherish these; it would be criminal to let this go.

6245 - Nicola Arndt

Loosing the Arts centre would be like losing part of Christchurch's heart. It's worth saving!!!

6246 - Georgia Brown

The arts centre is fundamental to the city and funding should be prioritised.

6247 - Wendy Perrott

The Arts Centre is a vital part of the city, for locals and visitors.

6248 - Bree Jones

The Arts Centre is an institution for Christchurch and a place where both amateur and professional artists and creatives have had a place to grow. It is also a key connector of our city to Hagley Park/Gardens which is important for the attraction, and movement, of tourism throughout the city.

6249 - Georgina Rees-Stevenson

Before I moved to Christchurch, I used to visit my parents here and the Arts Centre was about the first place we would visit. My father remembered studying engineering there and was just thrilled that the buildings had been used for such a wonderful purpose, and were still so alive. Since I moved here 18 years ago there has barely been a month when I haven't been at the arts centre, whether performing in musical theatre, big band, or classical music, or bringing my students to perform, to visiting the shops, to showing visitors the buildings, the markets, the shops, the eateries - the list goes on. The Arts Centre is a taonga of Ōtautahi and the idea of it not continuing is horrifying. It is a beautiful and integral part of our whakapapa, our heritage, and it must be saved. Georgina Rees-Stevenson, Musician, teacher, performer, on behalf of myself and also Forte ITM unit (Te Puna Wai o Waipapa), All Girl Big Band, Christchurch School of Music, New Zealand Secondary Schools' Symphony Orchestra.

625 - Daniel Belton (Good Company Arts)

More money is needed for the arts and cultural sectors in Aotearoa. The Christchurch Arts Centre Te Matatiki Toi Ora, carries a significant role in the community as a leading light for cross cultural exchange, inter-arts sharings, arts education, and as a nexus for international arts influence to the wider community. Funding for Te Matatiki Toi Ora to continue is vital.

6250 - Theresa Waugh

Please continue to fund the Arts Centre - it is a place worth prioritising. You have listened to the city as you rebuilt after the earth quakes, please continue to hear what the people are saying. We want the Arts Centre funded, supported and prioritised. Thank you!

6251 - Andrew Taylor

The Arts Centre represents a unique historical heritage for Christchurch. From the city's historical support of higher learning to the architectural heritage that has been repaired following the Earthquakes. I love that the university classics and music departments retain some real connection to the heart of our city. Teaching physics means the lecture hall and Rutherfords Den a wonderful venues not just for my students but for visitors from beyond our shores. We should be celebrating the most famous students from our past, not putting their heritage in doubt with no supporting funding. With the restored telescope in the Arts Centre we can look out into the universe we inhabit at the same time as celebrating the transit of Venus observations that permeate the history of scientific expeditions to New Zealand. We need a well funded Arts Centre as a hub to bring the people of Christchurch, not just tourists, into the centre of our city. To celebrate and enrich community. Regards, Andrew Taylor.

6252 - Ed Burak

The Arts centre is a critical CHC cultural icon - Every visitor we have to Christchurch is taken to this stunning historical experience that showcases not only the history of our place, but also the tasteful and sophisticated contemporary restoration of the entire block. It houses some of the better independent retail and hospitality experiences in CHC and is culturally fulfilling without ramming outdated and offensive christian principles down our throats (looking at you Cathedral) - Not funding this jewel is a shortsighted, illiterate and frankly stupid strategy. The Arts Centre shows the best of Christchurch - Our kids have grown up enjoying the area, its adjacency to the gardens and Hagley Park, we see tourists spending significant time in the grounds and need to support all of the incredible work done so far. Pause the Cathedral funding, and if anything increase/accelerate the completion of this space. Thankyou Ed Burak

6253 - Debby Schefer

The Arts Centre is a crucial part of Christchurch, historically and for the services and events provided now. It attracts locals and tourists alike and without it Christchurch would be much the poorer. The Arts Centre needs council funding to be able to continue. Please reconsider your funding plans.

6254 - Jordi Elvidge

Because it's fantastic and a great part of Christchurch!!

6255 - Esperanza Stuart

It's a great hun for so many different forms of art. A beautiful space with a heritage building where memories are made

6256 - Yun Siau

The place is nice and staffs are friendly, the way they expressed the art here were soft and detailed that really showed the value of the city, show your support to last the wonderful place.

6257 - Sue Hamer

The Arts Centre is an integral part of Christchurch. Having grown up here and then returning to live as an adult it has a huge place in my history of Christchurch. The old Court Theatre, the Boulevard Bakery, The Great Hall, the art galleries, the Lumiere movie house and Cellar Door , the Antiquities centre... Plus the old markets and grassed spaces where bands could play. It is a vibrant community in the centre of Christchurch and it needs to continue.

6258 - Dylan Lardelli

The Arts Centre is undoubtedly one of the most vibrant areas of Christchurch, bringing together locals and visitors, and is an assured sign of a city confident of its identity, maturity, and place in the larger ecology of Aotearoa. The Arts Centre encapsulates the creative energy and spirit of a place valuing ideas, artistry, and aspiration for cultural prosperity, the loss of which would be a tragic severing of character and optimism.

6259 - Michael Cope

I would like the Council to continue funding the Arts Centre. This funding does not just continue a thriving arts, education and community facility (about 1 million visitors each year, local and visitors, creating a key attraction in the city) but also supports an entire city block of heritage buildings (costs will otherwise likely fall back on Council anyway, though potentially without the present support systems, e.g. sponsors, donations and volunteers). The centre is a gem within the Christchurch community.

6260 - Tania Burns

As a rate payer of rates that get increasingly more and more expensive-I would like some of the money we pay to go to funding the restoration and upkeep of this integral piece of Christchurch history (one of the view remaining)...it is also a huge draw card for tourists to our city.

6261 - Sarah Van Eyndhoven

This is a crucial and central part of the Christchurch landscape. To deny it funding it tone deaf to what the city needs now and in the future.

6262 - Jessica Napper

The arts centre is the most welcoming and wonderful space. It is the first place I share with visitors to Christchurch because it is an inclusive and vibrant place. The history and modern shops and spaces blend together beautifully.

6263 - Richard Burt

Why would you not support a central hub like the arts centre? The whole complex has the ability to have multiple functions and continued uses for many years to come. It would be a shame to lose an iconic place when it adds so much to the whole city and has the potential to provide so much more. Once we lose something like this it is gone forever as it is not replaceable. Perhaps the complex as a whole needs to provide more to the wider public as well as more private business operating within the complex.

6264 - Sharon Moreham

Please continue to fund the Arts Centre. The Arts Centre offers a 'heart' to the city. The arts are significantly undervalued for the wellbeing and development they offer citizens and visitors (who will tell others to visit Christchurch) - which is documented by research. Would you do this to an equally significant sports venue? I doubt it. The ability to 'see' ourselves, to be challenged, to be seen and heard, to ask questions, to offer a place of connection and community makes a significant contribution to the wellbeing and understanding and development of citizens of all ages. The Arts Centre is a beautiful and much-loved venue for these activities and is being much used by a wide diversity of members of the community. The Arts Centre is iconic for Christchurch and provides a significant attraction for both locals and national and international visitors. It is gaining significant momentum after earthquake recovery. So much has gone into this facility which is of huge importance to the community, it would be poor financial management to moth-ball it and all that involves financially, legally and practically. It will be fool-hardy not to continue to fund the Arts Centre.

6265 - Sheryl Rule

The Arts are vital and beneficial for all. There is much rich history within this area and can only benefit generations to come. Once something is lost it is almost impossible to restore. Therefore, I urge you to consider how you can keep this wonderful establishment open and operating for now and the future. The Arts are just as important to society as is sport and recreation, it opens avenues sport cannot. I have been impressed by the wonderful opportunities to use this facility over the holiday break opening our grandchildren's minds to beauty and history. I see the heritage of what has gone before to be remembered while being able to access the now allows minds to explore so many diverse arts related activities, information and pride of all that we are as a community. We are fortunate what we have let us not lose what remains! The Arts benefit all here are some reasons I researched and agree with why we need to nurture and keep funding the Arts Centre: Creativity –the arts fuel our ability to imagine, devise original ideas and think outside the box - we need this in our changing world. Confidence – learning and mastering skills builds confidence. - building resilience in a busy world Critical thinking – through the arts we can learn how to analyze a situation from different angles. Perseverance – the arts can motivate us to work until we accomplish a task or achieve a goal. - we need to learn how to stick at something to push through life difficulties Focus – investing attention to an artistic discipline builds our ability to concentrate on tasks. Expression – the arts provide an outlet for self-expression and can help us to connect with our feelings, emotions or mood. Adaptability – art gives you the opportunity to make errors (which is a great way to learn) and provides opportunities for you to find new ways to overcome challenges. - we all learn in different ways which can help us all learn to be nonjudgmental and kind to one another. Collaboration – many art forms rely on people working together to create a final product or performance which builds our ability to cooperate and interact well with others. Please reconsider your stand on how to financially support The Arts Centre as you plan for the future to ensure it can continue to provide a place for education, an appreciation on life experiences and is inclusive to and for all.

6266 - Louise McGrath

The CCC has an obligation to the city, to continue supporting the Arts Centre. I do feel that a lot more could be done to make the Arts Centre even more of a destination for locals and visitors. There need to be more attractions to draw people to the site. I don't know if this is a priority or not but it should be, in my opinion.

6267 - Jonty O'Connor

It makes the city a better place to be in

6268 - Lily Duffy

From my 6 year old Seán Óg - 'because I like the music.' From my 3 year old Annabelle, ' because I liked the person who was dancing on the stage'. It's so important for our children's future. A place to nurture the arts is essential. What is life in Christchurch without that? Lily

6269 - caroline senior

a city treasure that is seeped in history tourist attraction, and irreplaceable. used by many and the architecture is amazing, I bring all my visitors here to appreciate the buildings and see what has-been raised from the rubble. it is a real community hub, having had the pleasure of attending class in the building learning new skills, enjoyed food there, films. it cannot be lost to the community.

6270 - Sophie Orsbourn

It's vital to the community. This place brings people of all ages, cultures and identities together ❤️ without it, we would lose the iconic heart of our city!

6271 - Nicole Bourke

A place rich in history which connects people to the arts. We cannot lose this!

6272 - Kathryn Tsui

The Arts Centre is an iconic and important arts and heritage destination for Ōtautahi that can not be lost. After the earthquakes Christchurch has lost some many heritage buildings it can not afford to loose this iconic place in the City.

6273 - Caitlyn McMillan

The Arts Centre is such a pinnacle part of Ōtautahi's heritage and life, and since the earthquakes, has been one of the only places that reminds me of the Ōtautahi city centre I loved as a child! It would be a right shame to rob Ōtautahi's children now of experiencing such a wonderful area, and would be shame to stop supporting the AWESOME businesses at home in The Arts Centre! There's nothing else like it in this city so why would we stop funding it? When the museum reopens too in a few years time, and with the botanic gardens right there, it will be an amazing area for tourism or for family days out.

6274 - Frances Irvine

I spend so much time at the Arts Centre with my two toddlers. There are always fantastic adult and child based installations, events and exhibitions on for us. We couldn't live without the Arts Centre as it is without feeling a huge loss to our weekly routine.

6275 - Birgit Zirn

The Arts Centre is essential for cultural and tourism in Christchurch and needs to be funded!

6276 - Diana Barbu

The community needs this space.

6277 - Janah Christiansen

This is an icon of the city - a beautiful attraction for locals and visitors alike. To see them struggle in areas where they should flourish due to lack of funding would be a crying shame. This centre showcases so many creatives who need support - and if they can't do it here, they'll go elsewhere, which means losing our greatest talents.

6278 - Helen Watkins

The Arts Centre is a vital part of Christchurch city life. I regularly attend events at the Arts Centre, and my grandchildren receive valuable musical instruction through the centre. We always take visitors, national and international, to visit the Centre and they are wowed by the buildings and the variety of artistic activities that take place there. It's a real treasure and must be supported by Christchurch City Council so that it remains a centre for artistic development and performance.

6279 - Lupe Asi

Funding the Arts Centre enables our creative people and artists to have opportunities provided for them. Pathways to empower their craft and shared creativity for growth and development in Canterbury Arts.

6280 - Asti Renaut

The Arts Centre is part of the heart and soul of our city. The history here and the opportunity for dynamic creative spaces is so important to protect, maintain and nurture. A flourishing city needs the vibrancy of a cultural space like The Arts Centre. It is precious!

6281 - Sandra Cunningham

Because art is essential to collective wellbeing. It's like oxygen for the soul.

6282 - Anna Smith

This is such a vital part of our inner city, and history considering how much was lost during earthquakes!

6283 - Linda O'Brien

It's the heart and soul of Christchurch! Interesting little places and performance venues! Much rather keep this than the Cathedral!

6284 - Bill Frame

Because it is one of the most important strands of our collective history, it needs to be kept for all our futures - for generations to come.

6285 - Viv Wotton

I arrived in Ōtautahi as a 20 year old... weekends meant going to the Arts Centre market... buying goods and produce and feeling a part of a vibrant community. The Arts Centre has always been an integral place for people to connect, create, and learn. After 9 years in the North Island (returning in 2004), I realised how much I missed that piece of community. The precinct from the Cathedral, to the gallery, Arts Centre and Museum is what made/makes Christchurch special. In 2013 I returned to arts studies, gained a BFA at 46, and as a creative, the Arts Centre (and its history) has been highlighted even more (and especially following the earthquakes and rebuild). I feel so overwhelmed that Arts and the creative industries are overlooked. Everything you see, everything that you purchase was designed and crafted by someone in the arts... whether it's a brochure, a logo, a building, the cup you drink from or the movie you went to last week...!! Everything that we enjoy about the city is crafted by someone in the arts and without an arts centre and the facilities it provides, there is no anchor. I would explore you to reconsider taking funding away from the arts. We NEED the creative industries and a place that connects like minded people in its history and its future. Christchurch, I would argue, has its identity 'in' the Arts Centre history... and without it, you undervalue the city's heritage, the people who helped create and establish this city. The Arts Centre has the capacity to do much more for the city... the locals need it and visitors / tourists expect and want to find the real Christchurch in that heritage. Please help to keep it alive and allow it to thrive.

6286 - Shannon Prouse

It is a wonderful piece of architecture we should be able to enjoy for generations to come

6287 - Dominic Ellett

The Arts Centre is not just a collection of nice buildings. It is the very pulse of creativity in this city. People come from all over the country and the world to participate in the programs that The Arts Centre put on. Programs that are leading the way in terms of cultural and societal relevance for example their disabled dance classes and Pacifica programs. Not funding it is extremely short sighted. A dollar saved not funding it will result in a much larger cost in the future, both financially and socially.

6288 - Julia Harvey

Christchurch's Arts Centre stands as a cultural beacon, embodying the city's spirit and heritage. Saving it isn't just about preserving historic architecture; it's about nurturing creativity, community, and identity. The Arts Centre fosters artistic expression, providing a platform for local talent to flourish and attracting visitors worldwide. Its restoration isn't merely an investment in bricks and mortar; it's an investment in the soul of Christchurch. By preserving this iconic landmark, the City Council ensures future generations inherit a vibrant cultural hub where imagination knows no bounds. It's not just a building; it's a testament to Christchurch's resilience and enduring love for the arts.

6289 - Carl Donovan

It's a great tourist attraction!

6290 - Julia Scott

The Arts Centre is an integral and important part of Christchurch's history and culture. The bones of our make up.

6291 - Jessica Proft

It is a loved and used space... Look after the facilities you've got instead of creating glory projects.

6292 - Hazel Agnew

Please continue to fund the Arts Centre - it is a jewel in the Garden City's crown.

6293 - Yuka Maehara

To save old nice buildings are important. Because you can't rebuild the same again. I think these buildings are worth to save. As you can see many tourists love to visit here. Thank you for your budget for saving these.

6294 - Michelle Osborne

This is a significant architectural precinct. It is also beautiful, uplifting and vital for the wellbeing of the city in the future.

6295 - Paul Cragg

Please fund the Arts Centre. It's very special/unique, and is a drawcard for both locals and tourists.

6296 - Glenn Weston

The Arts Centre is an outstanding legacy of inspired leadership, foresight and decision-making and represents a fitting tribute to the founders of our city. It is incomprehensible for the present Council to cease support for this icon when it has a long-standing history of supporting lesser priorities. A 10-year plan is not long-term; it's short at best. A long-term plan needs to be based on a 50-plus year horizon not the next few election cycles. How will we know we've got what we wanted when we get there in 50 years if we don't plan for that now? Without question, the Arts Centre must continue to prevail as a vibrant and integral part of our city.

6297 - Emma Hill

The arts centre is an important part of our culture and education in Christchurch to lose or diminish it in anyway would be an incredible loss to the community and future generations

6298 - Hans Wouters

This is an iconic city attraction as much as any of the new city attractions the CCC are investing in

6299 - Gavin Shepherd

The Arts Centre is a vital component of ChCh. Now the Cathedral is on hold, support the Arts Centre is even more important. To propose abandoning supporting the Art Centre is a shameful and shortsighted idea. The CCC has a moral, cultural, artistic and historical obligation to continue support. I am utterly opposed to funding being stopped.

6300 - Jayden Lenz

As a visitor to the city this was a beautiful and inspiring space to spend our time and money. It would strip away the cultural beauty and tourist appeal from the area to lose this arts centre.

6301 - Matthew Lenz

As a visitor to the area The arts centre breathes life into this city!

6302 - Janet Carter

Please do not reduce or stop the funding to the Arts Centre. I understand financial pressure but sincerely believe that stopping funding for the Arts centre is short sighted. The Arts Centre is important historically and very important regionally and internationally as an arts and culture precinct for Canterbury. I attend concerts there frequently. I have attend numerous workshops and other educational opportunities. I socialise there often in hospitality venues. I also notice many tourists there and it is clearly an important part of the Canterbury/Christchurch experience. The Arts Centre is a very special venue and stands out very positively compared to other new modern venues. I can't and don't want to imagine Christchurch without the Arts Centre where is.

6303 - John Thompson

The Arts Centre is a premium attraction in Christchurch for residents and tourists alike. It is unbelievable that the funding could be stopped. It is a point of difference for Christchurch. It gives CHCH part of it's soul. Worcester Boulevard is a major center of town and CCC has invested millions to make it like this - its far more inviting, vibrant and pleasant than the Square. I personally would visit the Arts Centre three times a week on average to meet friends, visitors we host from outside of Christchurch, go to the movies as well as Francis Nation, the Cellar Door and Bunsen. Why would CCC let this become "an office building" - we have lots of those. Please - use your common sense.

6304 - Nicholas Sutcliffe

The Arts Centre is a gem of Christchurch which has been a nucleus of creative arts performance and social gathering for such a long time. The earthquakes proved almost too much for this special collection of buildings to survive, but it continues to bounce back and show its pivotal role as both a venue and a tourist attraction in our city. As an active musical performer, the ability to have varied and appropriate performance spaces is essential; the Arts Centre provides several such spaces that are so valuable to all. I add my voice strongly in support of funding this unique organisation now and into the future.

6305 - Hannah Burnard

This is an important place for the city and its value to the community cannot be overstated! It should be funded!!!

6306 - Brooke Georgia

The Arts Centre needs to remain a public space for multiple forms of creativity in Christchurch/ Ōtautahi. Please remember how much spiritual, emotional & financial wealth is generated through the arts for all our people. Having a hub for that is really important, especially through this well respected & historic space.

6307 - Praneel Lal

Extremely important part of our city and our children.

6308 - Annette Walker

The Arts Centre is, of course an integral part of Christchurch. It is the centre of our city, without the Cathedral. It connects the city to the Botanical gardens. The Council has decided to spend millions of dollars of our rates money on a stadium that not everybody wants. At its peak it was a vibrant inner city experience that everybody, not just the tourists or one select group, revelled in. As the council of Christchurch I think you are obligated to defended, to support and enhance the gems of our city, and the Arts Centre is one of those gems.

6309 - Rosie Belton

I have had more than 50 years of association with the Christchurch Arts Centre as a university student, a long-term tenant, a visitor, an audience member, a film-goer, a diner, a shopper and a frequent observer of the sheer beauty of the place here for us all to enjoy. This stunning group of outstanding buildings has seen changes of use, from primarily educational to primarily Arts to now a mixture of high-quality uses retaining its emphasis on providing Christchurch with a wonderful array of Arts offerings. Having the Canterbury University music department in residence is an added bonus both for the students and for the city allowing participation in exceptional events. These buildings have risen again following the devastating earthquakes of 2010 and 2011. Due to Arts Centre leadership and management this is one of our cities treasures that have succeeded in not only being meticulously restored and refurbished but parts of it up and running as early as 2015 and 2016. And now 8 years on despite the Covid years disruptions, it is a thriving community again. Full of life and energy and events and PEOPLE. It is a hub, a focal point of local and tourist interest and activity. An ongoing focus for all who go there for Arts, Music, Theatre, Film, Hospitality. We must not lose the current leadership and Trust structure which has proved itself to be so successful in the current climate. The Arts Centre has, until the earthquakes, received annual CCC funding allowing it to fulfill its mandate to provide Arts for the Christchurch and Canterbury Community whilst preserving and protecting the heritage buildings for all to enjoy and for future generations. It needs that ongoing support from our council to fulfil its obligation to protection and preservation and its offerings on an ongoing basis to the community it serves. There needs to be an ongoing support from the CCC in order to give stability and surety to the current and future running of this Christchurch treasure. This ongoing annual support we MUST NOT lose.

6310 - Kahu Gray

Christchurch needs art. New Zealand needs art. The world needs art, without it, what's the point?

6311 - Janine Winterboer

Important part of Christchurch city for locals and tourists

6312 - Robin Bautista

its one of the reasons i love visiting christchurch

6313 - Alex Seay

The arts centre is an important cultural part of Christchurch. It's funding should not only be retained but increased to help flower the seeds of community and help support local business.

6314 - Sheryl Hayman

The Arts Centre is one of most iconic and precious places in Christchurch where many locals and tourists visit. It is a sanctuary of bespoke art, craft and eating venues. If businesses can't survive as a result of the Arts Centre being left out of our Long Term Plan NZ will surely lose what we have now, a taonga.

6315 - Julie Mccaw

Because its part of history still standing in christchirch. So much money has been spent on it already !!!!

6316 - Nic Inglis

I'm a visitor to Christchurch and I always visit the arts centre when I'm here. It's such an important part of the cultural scene here.

6317 - Anna Peterson

It's the cornerstone of Canterbury's heritage.

6318 - Michael Davis

A community's artistic and creative life is essential for healing, for nurturing and maintaining unity and harmony. It is especially critical in these uncertain and difficult times, to support, foster and encourage safe, comfortable, pleasurable and accessible spaces where our community's artistic and creative spirit can thrive and endure. The Covid pandemic, the remaining traumas from the Christchurch massacre, and the precarious world we inhabit - these all speak to an urgent call to keep and support the Arts Centre, including the beautiful Great Hall as a superb place that can showcase and bring wonderful and diverse creative and artistic and performances to the community.

6319 - Brian Robertson

It is a central piece of Christchurch. It stands along side the Cathedral in identifying Christchurch. If the previous council had not spent up large i.e. the sports centre, rugby stadium in a very expensive real estate zone, grandiose conference centre design and other? We probably or wouldn't require massive increases in our rates.

6320 - Mishka Smorfitt

Because the Arts Centre is for everyone. It is a historical building and should be saved. I remember going to the Markets here when i was a teenager in the 80s and always loved it. Love the buildings and what they have done with it so far since the earthquakes.

6321 - Joanna Humphries

The Arts Centre provides so much - a place for gathering and community; economic benefits for the businesses and market stallholders; the built environment and gardens/courtyards are a place of beauty and heritage; and it's a centre for creativity and a place that people LOVE. Please don't let this go.

6322 - Brooke Gardner

The Art Centre is one of the many historical places for creativity and community in Christchurch left. Please fund it and keep it as a special place for all .

6323 - Tamara Moriarty

Our children go weekly to sing in the voices co choir. It has been beautiful to go back to the arts centre and see it more like when I grew up. I have loved seeing the food trucks return and just to see people walking around enjoying the amazing spaces. Hearing the children's voices echo around the areas is just magical and really needs to continue. Please keep the arts centre going - it is a beautiful part of Christchurch and we need to honour its history.

6324 - Simone Freeman

This is an important heritage & cultural hub in Christchurch which needs to be saved for New Zealanders and Tourists alike.

6325 - Michelle Trusttum

The Arts Centre is the gateway to arts and crafts appreciation in Canterbury, a beautiful aesthetic hub for many, diverse community groups, and a window on our architectural past. Its historic significance as a university, original home to the Southern Ballet and Court Theatre is also of significance. While not everyone can access sport and recreation or wants to, the Arts Centre is an internationally and nationally recognized jewel in our cultural crown. It must be funded!

6326 - Shelley Erskine

I was disappointed that The Arts Centre was not allocated any funding in the draft Long-Term Plan. The Arts Centre must remain independent and fully funded. It's a thriving community space. The heart of arts and culture in the city centre. A space where connection and creativity shine. I have worked there for nearly six years and experienced first-hand how it impacts the community. It's more than a collection of beautiful and nationally significant heritage buildings. What's really special are all the people that call this place home and the many artists, performers and musicians that present work here and engage with the local community - it's a place brimming with unique experiences and activities that truly enrich our society. Ōtautahi is incredibly fortunate to have a thriving Arts Centre. To see it disappear would have ripple effects out into the wider community and impact the future of the Arts in our growing city. We need to fund The Arts Centre.

6327 - Katharina Jaeger

So little Ōtautahi heritage architecture left. Please find a way to keep fundig this gem, thank you.

6328 - Hayley Barnes

The Art Centre like a central point of chc, as a teenager Le Cafe was a hangout 😊 later was the Court theater and pumpkin and chocolate Muffins upstairs. I used to stage manage the summer Shakespeare's!!! Also climb down the stairs for our graduation gowns.... bring back the dux too.... our rates are so high surely we pay enough for keeping the Art Centre....

6329 - Shar Davis

The Arts Centre is incredibly important for the long term vision of the city, her citizens and visitors alike

6330 - Victoria Swaney-Hanna

The Arts Centre is an important part of our city where creatives can come together, not just in the form of fine arts, but also crafts, dancing, music, food, culture, theatre, fashion and more. It survived through the earthquakes because the people of Christchurch worked so hard to keep it safe and stable throughout the 2010's, the Centre is left as one of the only historic architectures of our city with a unique neo gothic theme. In our society, we are moving so fast paste that it is crucial to take moments for our own health to slow down and to allow ourselves to be creative and to appreciate and understand other people's artwork. For the longest time, Christchurch has lost its soul and it is no longer being the garden city; instead being replaced with roadcones and empty townhouses for people to be boxed into. If we take away an outlet of uniqueness, creativity and expression, my homecity would become an even sadder place to live in. If you care and respect the history, culture and people, please fund The Arts Centre.

6331 - Kenneth Henderson

The Arts Centre is a Priceless Gem which we must preserve as an operating venture for generations to come.

6332 - Sarah Pownall

Humanity needs the arts, otherwise what is the point of anything else. Please keep funding the Arts Centre and they are part of the lifeblood of Christchurch.

6333 - Rachael Hemmer

Because it is a central hub for Christchurch, gets many visitors every year, and is a much needed venue, shopping space, arts and cultural centre, and much-loved icon.

6334 - Joel Clark

The arts are intertwined with the trades, science and creativity The arts teach us to think outside of the box, not to overdo our projects and they reflect upon us taste and matters concerning what it means to be human. Techniques learned and taught in the arts cross over into engineering, architecture and even the sciences. From arts problem solving, Drawing technique and alternative thought processes I myself have done a lot of work I am proud of in my trade of Sheetmetal Engineering here in Christchurch To me it seems like it would be a waste of money to defund The Arts Centre because the arts teach us so many techniques and processes that cross over into every day life and work. I personally think it would be a real shame if young up and comers did not live in a city where there is no art centre or an abysmal excuse for one instead of what we have at this current point in time. We used to pride ourselves on being the "Garden City", lets make our garden flourish again. Sincerely, Joel Campbell Clark

6335 - Sarah Lovell-Smith

the CCC should provide annual funding to the Arts Centre as the whole centre is an asset to the city with its beautiful heritage buildings and as a tourist attraction to many NZ and overseas visitors.

6336 - Andreas Wesener

The Art Centre is a vital cultural hub, which is essential to the cultural life of the city centre and Christchurch as a whole. The businesses play an important role in the cultural life of many citizens and communities. They are more than just commercial entities and need all the support they can get to keep Christchurch culturally alive. Being the second largest city in NZ, Christchurch has a comparably poor cultural offer. Cutting down funding for the Arts Centre would make it worse.

6337 - Janine Grundler

This is a very special building and it should not be allowed to fall into neglect and disrepair.

6338 - Jessica Eaton

Seeing the Arts Centre grow and flourish has been one of the highlights of living in Christchurch post-earthquakes. I think of it as one of the defining features of the city and and incredibly valuable for both residents and visitors. I especially appreciate it as a venue/space for creatives for performances and workshops. Ceasing funding seems very pessimistic about the future of Christchurch, I think any support is well used for such beautiful buildings and fantastic offerings for the city.

6339 - Charlotte Montgomery

This is the most beautiful iconic place in Christchurch. Beautifully restored and needs to be saved

6340 - Nadine Muir

The arts, in all of its forms, needs community and our community needs access to the arts. The Arts Centre Te Matatiki Toi Ora is a unique hub bringing together the work of artists and creatives, its historic buildings, and the wider Ōtautahi Christchurch community. Protect The Arts Centre Te Matatiki Toi Ora; protect our community's cultural and holistic well being.

6341 - Mahalia Leighton McNeill

The christchurch arts centre is surely one of the very best assets that this city has and should absolutely be a priority to fund. Anything else would be a huge loss for christchurch city. It is the very best of christchurch and should be at the heart of our cultural life.

6342 - Monique Fleming

Historic asset, tourist attraction, Valuable city hub for craft, astronomy, music, food, gathering place for the community and beautiful to boot

6343 - Ambrose McNeill

Historic centre for arts and would be a huge loss to Christchurch's culture

6344 - Rachel Dahl

The Arts Centre is part of the cultural core and vitality of Christchurch and its people. A treasure of national importance. Continued funding should continue and be an absolute priority.

6345 - Robin Anderson

It is the most important centre of architectural reference in Christchurch. A must visit for tourists and locals. To neglect this set of buildings, as well as the Cathedral, would reflect badly on Christchurch. However, a more commercial approach to the uses and running of the complex is needed.

6346 - Tyler Sutherland

The Arts Centre enriches our city as a creative hub, its legacy spanning generations. The events that are held here offer the public a window into the vibrant world of the arts while giving our creatives a place to learn, share and perform. Please take into account the invaluable role that the arts centre plays in fostering inspiration, community engagement, and economic vitality in our developing city.

6347 - Vita Goertgens

The arts centre is a vital part of the city making it cultured.

6348 - Rowan Prior

A city without arts is soulless.

6349 - Anjali Budhia

It's an inspiring place for creatives to go and for non creatives to appreciate

6350 - Nika Adams

The Arts Centre is a heritage part of our city. It needs funding by the City Council to provide a space for creativity, arts and community for our residents and tourists. City funding should include the arts, community projects and culture

6351 - Bridget McCarthy

Please find this vital and brilliant part of our city!!!

6352 - isabelle russell

It is one of the most inspiring places for the University and allows musicians to flourish. It attracts attention from every tourist and visitor that visit the area which leads to economic support for the businesses in the near vicinity. It is also a leading cause for students to choose the University of Canterbury over other Universities. To lose the arts centre would mean losing a piece of Christchurch heritage which would be devastating. Please continue the funding or look into alternatives.

6353 - Emma Barker

Such a beautiful heritage space needs to be used as a place for learning, creativity and inspiration. It's a unique piece of Christchurch and needs supported to keep going as a place of art and artists in the midst of urban mundanity.

6354 - Jan Anderson

The Arts Centre is an intrinsic part of Christchurch and internationally recognised as such. Arts tourism is a central requirement for a growing city.

6355 - lucy powell

I am writing to you today to advocate for the critical funding support of The Arts Centre in Christchurch. As a cornerstone of our cultural landscape, The Arts Centre not only preserves our rich history but also celebrates the vibrant diversity of cultures that call our city home. One of the most compelling reasons to invest in The Arts Centre is its role as a cultural hub, where people from all walks of life come together to share their unique traditions, languages, sexualities, genders, and art forms. Through its diverse range of events and programs, The Arts Centre fosters understanding, appreciation, and respect for the multicultural tapestry that enriches our community. Furthermore, The Arts Centre holds immense historical significance, serving as a testament to Christchurch's resilience and spirit. Despite the devastation wrought by the Christchurch earthquake, the majority of repairs have been diligently undertaken, preserving this architectural gem for future generations. To let it fall into disrepair now would be a disservice to our city's legacy and a loss for generations to come. Moreover, investing in The Arts Centre is an investment in the economic and social prosperity of Christchurch. As a cultural destination, it attracts visitors from near and far, boosting tourism, stimulating local businesses, and creating job opportunities in the arts and hospitality sectors. In light of these reasons, I urge the Christchurch City Council to prioritize funding support for The Arts Centre. By doing so, we not only safeguard our cultural heritage but also reaffirm our commitment to fostering a diverse, inclusive, and vibrant community.

6356 - Nicki Jackson

Art is not a luxury, it is an essential. Communities need it. Spaces dedicated to history and cultivating art are hard enough to come by as is, so please don't remove funding for the art centre. I took a life drawing class at the arts centre in 2020 with my cousin when I had just been made redundant due to the pandemic. It gave me a focus and something to look forward to each week. I can say with confidence that art got me through one of the most difficult periods of my life. Now it's a habit and part of my wellbeing. By investing in the arts centre you are directly investing in us.

6357 - Ellie Adams

The arts centre is a fantastic place that allows all people of Christchurch to come together to enjoy and upskill in the arts. There is all levels and ages of people participating, performing and observing. It is a huge oversight to not include the arts centre in the long term plan.

6358 - Vivienne Sinclair-Phillips

The Arts centre is of huge cultural significance to the city. It has been host to all number of performances and drawn in people from all over Otago. To stop funding this would be an obscene oversight for one of the jewels of our city, for locals and visitors alike.

6359 - Holly Hooghuis

I visited Christchurch for the first time recently and was absolutely amazed by this special art centre. Looking around it was clear that others appreciated this space just as much as I did, and it was a highlight of the area I have seen so far. It would be devastating to see this go in the future.

6360 - Kadie Geradts

The Arts Centre is a vital, beautiful part of our community, providing many different experiences that is an asset to our tamariki and future.

6361 - Leni Niechziol

Because I love art

6362 - Helen Ackroyd

It's one of few historical places left in Christchurch that oozes charm and is a total tourist attraction.

6363 - Mary Oleary

This is an iconic relic of the city open to all without prejudice, the possibilities this site represents for the people of Christchurch and for tourists are endless. I know there's not enough money for everything, how about sacrificing a few cycle lanes that serve a minority for something that is for everything, our beautiful arts centre.

6364 - Joseph Austin

The Arts Centre is the cultural heartbeat of Christchurch. If it closes, artists and artisans will not have a home and will go elsewhere. We will be left with a group of "dead" buildings in a very prominent part of this city much like what the cathedral is now. Future visitors to this city will ask why the arts centre was closed, and no doubt wonder about the lack of foresight by the city fathers in allowing the decline of attractions. People like to see heritage places being used or repurposed, not sitting unused and crumbling away. New flashy projects are all very well but there must be a place for heritage.

6365 - Iranti Verrian

I work there

6366 - Jessica Dunbar

The Arts Centre is iconic, beautiful and oh so important to remain where it is!

6367 - Tamarisk Wright

Creativity of the past present and future lays here . If the walls could talk they would sing , play and dance away! This place brings community together to celebrate and to just be, a magical place that must be treasured .

6368 - Jack Grinsted

This awesome venue needs events to keep it alive. Council funding is needed to pay help pay for these events.

6369 - James Murray

it's a taonga that will enrich chch for generations to come

6370 - Miranda Parkes

The Arts Centre is enriching the life of my child as she grows up in Ōtautahi, just as it did for me!

6371 - Rob Derecourt

It's an important space in the inner city that makes me want to spend time there

6372 - Christine Scott

Please retain the Arts Centre, part of the creative life and soul of our city.

6373 - Elizabeth Taggart

I was able to go to one of the evenings at the Observatory last winter and to one of the guided walks of the centre recently. Both events showed what a great asset the Arts Centre is to the city. How the city council thinks it can discontinue funding for this iconic set of buildings is beyond belief. This decision needs reversing NOW.

6374 - Michelle Crombie

Please save the Arts Centre. It is a beautiful place to visit with friends and family. It is an asset to Christchurch.

6375 - Sharna McQuoid

Chch needs places like the arts centre for community and creativity to be encouraged, safe spaces to explore and encourage art and creativity in a city that desperately needs it! Please fund the arts centre

6376 - Rachel McIntosh

Preserving arts and historical relics as a part of the city is so important to cultural value and preserving the artistic value of the city! Industrialism is lame and ridding a place of art can only worsen the value of an area!

6377 - Jayne Marriott

This place is so important to our City - in the face of adversity - Don't overlook the sheer importance of the Arts Centre. We need this place & we need the support for a place that does represent our city

6378 - Felicity Williams

A wonderful positive place to spend time in, full of history and just an amazing vibe. It makes Christchurch unique.

6379 - Lisa Marsh

I sing with voices co. weekly at the Arts Centre. This has been something I chose to do for me after becoming a mum and it has helped my mental health immensely. I know that there are many other things held there that I'm sure have the same impact on the mental health and happiness of other humans as well. I also want to start my son doing singing there once he turns 5 this year so would keep the family tradition going

6380 - Patrick Mckendry

I'm a Anaesthetist with three children who has lived in Christchurch for seven years. I have lived and travelled extensively through Europe, Asia, America (North and South) and Australia. I feel that the unique nature of the Arts Centre complex makes Christchurch a premier destination for tourists in New Zealand and Australia. My visitors love the ambience of Rolleston, Hagley, and once the museum reopens the area will be world class. Surely the council can recognise that the arts centre provides great mana for the city? Finally it is important to say that the benefits to community cohesion far exceed the financial input, despite these effects being difficult to quantify.

6381 - Sarah Stanley

It's a key part of the city's history and present. What an iconic place. Needs to be looked after and kept safe for us and future generations!!! So many buildings and businesses have disappeared don't add the arts centre to that sad list.

6382 - Kate Spencer

Are you kidding me? Has it been that long since you enjoyed something at the Art Centre that you have forgotten what a jewel it is for the whole city to enjoy? An what about the tourists? Does tourism matter to you? Most tourist spend less than twenty-four hours in Christchurch. They arrive on a plane and leave in the morning. They have a few hours here, and generally go to the Arts Centre and the Botanic gardens. A small fraction make it as far as the Gondola, or New Brighton, some go to the Quake Museum, to a few the tram appeals, but most of them go to The Arts Centre. They won't be going there to see a movie theatre and a wine bar, they rarely go into a gallery. There doesn't need to be anything in particular happening at the time, they want to get a sense of the city. Tourist will go shopping, but they need to feel they have had an experience first. Most people say that they would like to come back to Christchurch and spend some more time next time. They get the sense that things are happening here. Give the Art Centre staff specific outcomes they need to fulfill if you want certain value for money, but don't kill the goose that laid the golden egg.

6383 - Michelle Edlin

Christchurch needs an art centre - stop spending money on cycle ways , and spend it on something that more people will use

6384 - Kevan Wilde

The Arts Centre represents an important part of Christchurch history, is an architecturally significant taonga, a creative & commercial hub & an attraction for domestic & international tourists & locals alike. Not to continue funding it would be a gross oversight by Council & a retrograde outcome for our city.

6385 - Vanessa Hamman

The arts is an integral part of city life, the whole community would be poorer if it was lost, as we all know once something is discontinued it is almost impossible to reinstate it. We need communities more than we need monuments or expensive buildings.

6386 - Jane Anderson

Artists and public's commitment to the precinct of The Arts Center is never uncertain, but it is infinite.

6387 - Caitlin Kanis

The denizens of Christchurch desperately need spaces like this dedicated to history and to the arts.

6388 - Angela Dawson

It would be shameful for Christchurch to lose the art centre. My parents attended it when it was the university. My son and I spent many weekends enjoying the shops and spaces. With all the modern boxes now in the city, the heritage buildings become even more precious. Save the Arts Centre!

6389 - Alexandra Smedley

The Art Centre is not just a tourist attraction but also a much loved place for Cantabrians to enjoy a movie, good food and drinks and soak up the atmosphere at special events. We would miss it a lot. And bring back the Dux de Lux!

6390 - Ntege Dorah

I support funding the Art Centre

6391 - Robin Bout

The heart of culture and creativity must continue to thrive.

6392 - Amy O'Kane

It is apart of our history

6393 - Christine Bett

It's of great historical importance the architecture alone is amazing I have so many fond memories of my childhood going to the arts center and as a adult. Would love to have the same opportunity to pass on to my children

6394 - Ben Norris

Artistic expression as a means to self-definition is an intrinsic part of New Zealand's culture, and few places epitomise that better than Christchurch. For that to remain the case, the Arts Centre needs to persist as a cultural hub for the city.

6395 - Pamela Mathews

The Arts centre in Christchurch is such an integral part of the whole feel of Christchurch. As well as being such an historic area in itself it complements and connects the Botanical gardens, Museum, Art Gallery, Avon river area and down to the square. Without the Arts centre kept in its traditional role the community aspect and the character of this area would be completely diminished. Please keep funding this brilliant amazing area for the benefit of the future of Christchurch.

6396 - Louise McDermott

Please do whatever you can to ensure the future of the Arts Centre is secure. It is a Christchurch taonga that needs all of our support with a strong message of continuing funding led by the CCC

6397 - Koji Miyazaki

We need The Arts Centre.

6398 - Gaye Herriott

Because the Arts Centre is Christchurch & essential & special to tourists.

6399 - Sophie Claridge

If we lost the arts centre as we know it, a beautiful part of our city would be gone. It brings so much joy and connection to all ages, cultures and identities from all over.

6400 - Janine Mills

It is iconic and a great tourist attraction. It is what makes Christchurch stand out from other cities. It's our heritage and identity.

6401 - Nicolette Elia

It's part of Chch's legacy and iconic tourist attraction, it would be a shame (and embarrassment) if it becomes a white elephant and derelict due to insufficient funding.

6402 - Gina Thomas

it is iconic, a community hub for all and such a massive part of our growing city. Within the walls and broken bricks are layers of history and stories to tell. The Dux started off careers and bought overseas visitors, local bands and promoted small business, the arts centre showcased artists and talent, festivals and was the heart of the city. We need this space activated again

6403 - Janet Walker

The complex is a magnet for both locals and city visitors and plays an important people in Christchurch's history.

6404 - Ana Olykan

Please invest in completing the restoration of the Arts centre. Once the work is done the tenants and public will follow. This is a place for all people and a significant local asset.

6405 - Jeremy Spykerman.

It provides a hub to enjoy Art and events in the city.

6406 - Frank Sew Atjon

Yes

6407 - Tamara Rookes

It's a vital part of Christchurch, it is the heart of our city ❤️

6408 - Ruth Harvey

Christchurch isn't Christchurch without the Art Centre — as a Dunedinite, it's the only place I consistently go when I visit. It's one of your biggest tourist attractions — it's unbelievably short sighted to not fund it. And cruel after the many tough years artists have had to suffer during Covid and beyond.

6409 - Claude Hidber

It is an institution and a vital element in the Christchurch City Centre Life.

6410 - sara bellamy

It is an institution and a vital element in the Christchurch City Centre Life.

6411 - milla hidber

Please keep it

6412 - Emily Reizinger

It brings so much energy to our city, a beautiful place to be.

6413 - Sammy Bolton

I've found art as a way to relieve my self from day to day pressures, to have a way to self express and to meet new people in Christchurch as a new member of the community. It would be a damn shame to see this facility not supports it's an iconic piece of chch that brings people together

6414 - Daniel Reizinger

Paint n sip

6415 - Andrew Hagel

All its history, the earthquake, all the money gone into repairing it for a decade. Then what? Just stop funding? I don't understand why this is even a debate. Fund the art centre.

6416 - Kelly Burt

The Arts Centre is a valuable asset to the community, it brings people together and is a hub for the kind of creativity that is necessary for innovation. No city is healthy without a thriving arts scene.

6417 - Stewart Callaway

It is an essential part of our city and deserves CCC support to ensure it remains viable

6418 - Ri Williamson

The Art Centre is vital to the life of the city. It provides an important historical and pedestrian link to other CCC assets, such as the Christchurch Botanic Gardens, the Canterbury Museum and the Christchurch Art Gallery. In protecting the Art Centre, CCC will be protecting the value of its other assets in the adjacent precincts as well as the cultural life of the city.

6419 - Molly Campbell

It is infinitely valuable for education and tourism as well as community connections and Christchurch culture

6420 - Di Lopez

The Art Centre is a unique community space that is enjoyed by both local and tourist and is the beating heart of Arts and cultural aspects of Christchurch. To quit now before it even begins is short sighted.

6421 - Marcel Carroll

Please keep funding the arts centre so that I can keep doing activities like watching music performances or plays, making pottery and other art, watching busking, doing workshops and going to the off centre festival. Thank you Marcel age 12

6422 - Lina Stroud

It's the heart of Christchurch

6423 - Rod Turner

A jewel in the crown of our city

6424 - Susan Gordon

This area is unique in New Zealand. The whole block of heritage buildings is irreplaceable and a great tourist attraction. I feel this area could be a Christchurch icon if things don't work out for the Cathedral. I support our rates contributing to maintain the Arts Centre. Thanks.

6425 - Mira Wallace

It's a place which unites people in joy and awe, offering creatives a place to feel inspired and connected with each other. The Arts Centre is a treasure for so many artists and the sense of community it brings together is beautiful.

6426 - Anneke Bedford

The Arts Centre is one of the few remaining heritage building complexes left post earthquake Christchurch. It serves a really wide section of the community both locals and visitors. It supports small businesses and creative initiatives which are enriched by the surroundings and in turn energises the community. It must be possible to look at other areas for cost savings which are less likely to leave yet another gap in the central city streets.

6427 - L Fraser

The Arts Centre provides so much value to inner city Christchurch - to local residents, the business owners, their employees, the surrounding community, and to those many people and groups visiting the area. The variety of activities, business offerings, services, and community connections and opportunities that it avails and provides the community and our visitors is vast and diverse. It provides the space for a range of small businesses to operate, providing livelihoods to them and their teams. Their unique offerings may be lost without this unique venue for their businesses to operate out of. It homes the spaces for people to meet, and foster creative pursuits, art and performance projects. These spaces are crucial for our arts communities and those who enjoy them. It's a truly iconic historic jewel in the central city, and has so much aesthetic beauty and mana that needs protected and kept alive. Please fund this vital part of our city.

6428 - Barbara Wilson

There will no longer be a heart of the city if the Arts Centre changes its function in any way. Cantabrians are proud of the Arts Centre in its current form & the very place we always direct visitors to the city to go to. The Lumiere is the only cinema I go to. Will be so sad to lose it.

6429 - Jan Chaffey

it is an absolutely magnificent treasure part of the soul of the city

6430 - Paul Tebbutt

These days we have very few places left from before the earthquakes that instil a feeling of gratitude towards those wise people who built these magnificent buildings. In order for the next generations to have the same enjoyment that we have, we need brave decisions to be made by those in power. I urge the Council to fund the Arts Centre and to support the long term future by including funding on a long term basis. Thank you.

6431 - Jillian Wordsworth

The Arts Centre attracts so many visitors to the area. Now that repairs have progressed so far, this is becoming a very usable and popular space. It is beginning to fill the void left by the absence of the Cathedral, so far as public engagement with history and architecture. As a regular user, I have noticed an increase in out-of-town and foreign tourists meandering through. These are visitors who wander and enjoy looking, but continue on elsewhere. These visitors are drawn to our city to see its historical architecture and enjoy the atmosphere of the Arts Centre, but it is other venues (hotels, restaurants, tour guides, cruise-ships etc) that capitalise on their presence. Without council $ the Arts Centre would need become completely private and self-funding. This is unfair if it generates income elsewhere. Or do we put a fence around it, shut it off to non-paying visitors? Christchurch needs for this area to remain public. Irony is that without continuing public funding The Arts Centre could financially collapse, with the City needing to step in and take over, at a much greater cost to ratepayers.

6432 - Lara Cassidy

The Arts Centre provides community engagement that will be lost without funding and will have a devastating impact on the community.

6433 - Lisa Barron

It's a valuable asset to both locals and tourists and we need to keep it going.

6434 - Alex Mark

Holy good god you fucks don't you dare not fund the arts centre what the everloving christ is wrong with you.

6435 - Florence Carroll

Please keep funding the Art Centre. I love spending time at the Arts Centre. Enjoying activities including pottery, childrens uni, circus school, off centre, puppets shows, hip hop dance and heaps more. Thank you Florence, aged 8

6436 - Laura Barker

The absolute creative core of our Christchurch. A cornerstone of my childhood memories attending workshops, shows and programmes, and now a fundamental part of my children's upbringing in this city. We NEED a home for our diverse creative community and to support them all the way, please.

6437 - Anita Riach

It's been there forever, for everyone. Bring back the dux, which was a family place, for all.

6438 - Miriam Geddes

It is a super cool place! Lots of childhood memories! Amazing small businesses!

6439 - Niamh Cooper

It is an integral part of christchurch city, and has incredible historical value and tourist value.

6440 - David Holliday

Heritage and beauty

6441 - Olivia Ogilvie

Long term cultural resilience in the digital and AI age requires art and the support of creative outlets.

6442 - Bek Markham

It is an integral part our our city. All that history.

6443 - Denise Robertson

The Arts centre is our culture-it is historically and socially an integral part of this region. It is also a huge drawcard to tourism into our city. Christchurch Attractions actively promote the centre on its many tram tours... The Arts Centre is exceptionally important to Canterbury's business hub and hospitality sector growth... This plea comes from not only an emotional aspect but a business and economic development prospective... The CCC will reap the benefits of the regeneration project for years to come... both local market and overseas markets.. Keep up the good work Council - you are doing an awesome job and let the Arts Centre be amongst your finest work yet 😊 Denise Robertson

6444 - Derek Flores

The Arts Centre is vital to the city. It is the beating heartbeat, the pulse, the dreams, the desires, the aspirations, the quiet corner for reflection. It is all these and more. A city without a centre of arts is still asleep.

6445 - Lily Holliday

It's one of the most beautiful places in christchurch and connects so many people, it's the one of the last pieces of christchurch history that has been restored beautifully... Why wouldn't they?

6446 - Ava Nakagawa

Please do NOT cut funding, the art centre is integral to our city

6447 - Paula Rowell

The Arts Centre is the heart and soul of the city for art, music, film, theatre, architectural experiences, history, community, food, drink and leisure. It is a destination for locals and tourists. Please keep funding this amazing place. How boring Christchurch would be without it!

6448 - Sahra Ahmed

Please fund the art centre.

6449 - Kat Douglas

It's shortsighted not to continue to fund the Art's Centre - it will cost the CCC more should they have to fully fund it because the Art's Centre Trust dissolves- The Art's Centre is one of the few iconic buildings that has small businesses, cafes, actors and more and that continues to draw tourists.

6450 - Justin Galligan

The Arts centre is a huge tourist attraction and community events place that would be missed. It is a great reason to visit the city.

6451 - Louise Ayling

Without the facility of the Arts Centre, experiences and achievements in my musical and shoemaking visual practices would not have been able to be celebrated. The Arts Centre has been a place for creative endeavors and achievements for those who did not follow the sports focus narrative of this country. It gave us hope that we would be seen and heard. My experiences will be shared by others whom will have valued this space for their own creative reasons. In times of economic uncertainty, art and creative platforms are really important for the wider community; for both the practitioner and the audience. It will be tragedy if the Christchurch City Council chooses not to fund The Arts Centre by choosing to follow a mindset that shows a lack of long term vision: the preference for a short term mindset. The Council is urged to welcome a mindset that values the long term social and artistic benefits of nurturing and supporting The Arts Centre for the future life of creative art practices.

Christchurch City Council, you have a choice. Please use it wisely.

6452 - John Bennett

As an experienced Architect who has lived and worked in Chch all my life (including working on a number of the key Historic buildings in Chch) I can say that the Arts Centre is an absolutely unique and integral part of Chch and its Heritage and enriches the community. It is also a very significant visitor attraction. It is imperative that the CCC keep funding such an important collection of historic buildings and the urban space it creates. Chch doesn't have many historic buildings left and this is the best.

6453 - Bethan Fletcher

The Arts centre is a beautiful place that is an important, creative community hub. Christchurch has become known as an art focussed city. Since the earthquakes other places in NZ have watched Christchurch find its feet again - in awe of what it has accomplished. To lose The Arts Centre is to lose a vital piece of this creative energy, that so many now associate with Christchurch city.

6454 - Sarah Shipton

The Arts Centre is an extraordinary building that adds character to the city and tourists LOVE it. It would be so sad to see it diminish.

6455 - Louise Webster

The Arts Centre is not only part of Christchurch's and New Zealand's history it's a huge part of bringing community together and fostering important art initiatives. In addition artesian throughout history have played a huge part in changing the hearts and minds of society, something sorely needs when we face social issues such as climate change. Art reflect the zeitgeist if the time and has the ability to change societal opinions.

6456 - Evan Vertue

It's an integral component of the cultural fabric of the City.

6457 - Chris Aynsley

The arts centre is one of Christchurch's most significant assets, it is internationally recognised as one of the finest gothic revival architectural masterpieces. To ignore this is a travesty and the council should do all it can to support and preserve this heritage masterpiece.

6458 - Lucy Evatt

The Christchurch Art Centre is an iconic piece of history that is still serving a functional use, thus allows many people to access it and enjoy the beauty of the buildings.

6459 - Emma Pratten

This is an amazing, important cultural attraction and is invaluable to the tourist economy in Christchurch.

6460 - Craig Whitnall

This is perhaps the most important community asset in the city. It's nearly the only thing that isn't gives the city culture, and it's just a peaceful place to rest and feel a part of something that isn't just another tacky bar. Please do not let this asset degrade or prevent it from being able to offer vibrant services because of lack of funding. Your support is critical. Do not build a library in every suburb, that is utterly wasteful, build community centres - multi-use spaces, but not both. Building a library full of books in the year 300,000(ish) is just Absurd. We're far beyond that. Take 90% of funding from libraries and redirect it to areas in need. And for the love of mother nature, please plant several hundred more trees in the city 🌿

6461 - Steph Oxford

The buildings and the history comprised in the complex are a vital link with our past and deserve to be in our future. Time spent in the art galleries and cafes, the leafy courtyards, the theatre and concert halls, the architectural inspiration gave me much pleasure over the years. My personal links are deep rooted through learning and performing with the then CSIM and many other groups and also attending Court Theatre shows. I would very much like to think that others will be able to enjoy similar experiences in the future. We have lost so much of pre-quake Christchurch. Please don't add The Arts Centre to that loss list.

6462 - Sian Doole

The Art Centre is the creative heart of Ōtautahi. It represents freedom of thought, diversity of expression, and the value of creative risk. At a time when we need these things more than ever, a decision to not fund the Arts Centre is a decision against the resilient spirit of this city. It is a treasure; it should be treated as such.

6463 - Brendan Prendergast

The Arts Centre is a key part of the fabric and history of our city and must not be abandoned by our Council. Drop the cathedral for sure, but save the Arts Centre!

6464 - Morgan Schroeder

The arts centre hold such a nostalgic and beautiful place in my heart and feels like the heart of Christchurch. Without it, our city's culture will dissipate. We pride ourselves as a city, and as a country too, on our artistic attributes and talents, and without places for us to create or consume art we will lose that crucial part of our individuality.

6465 - Lance Woods

It is a key part of the city's charm and history. Happy to pay through rates or allow some buildings to be sold for commercial purposes contingent on maintaining their history

6466 - Tessa Waters

I can't believe you are even contemplating not funding this space: it brings a beating heart to a city that has crawled its way back to life. It is a place for community, for coming together, for celebrating, talking, sharing our lives. It's a place to learn, to engage, to listen to one another. I have seen best friends say I do, I've shared food and laughter with loved ones, I've taught workshops that empower and uplift and seems lives change. I've sat in the winter sunshine contemplating how luck we are to have a place like this. How important and unique it is. Christchurch needs this. The world needs more spaces like this. Do not cut funding to the Art Centre. Do not cut funding to your community.

6467 - Nina Manson

The Art Centre is a source of inspiration for me. Every time I visit I feel uplifted by its many art forms. It's vital for our mental health to have performances, exhibitions etc. accessible at an affordable price. It also supports upcoming artists and those on the fringe a platform. PLEASE KEEP THE ART CENTRE FUNDED. Thank you

6468 - Kerrie Clarke Harris

Because it's a lovely spot for all to enjoy.

6469 - George Clough

My wife and I were visiting Christchurch from the UK and were so pleasantly surprised by all the art centre had to offer. Over the course of 3 days we visited it multiple times, enjoying wine at the cellar door, brunch at bunsen and the second hand book stall. It has so much to offer, in such a beautiful setting! It was by far the highlight of the city for us, it was a joy to support smaller businesses as a tourist.

6470 - Sonya Donaldson

So much money has been spent on the repairs post quake, the centre is just starting to come alive again with a wonderful cinema complex and shops and gallery's. It is Christchurch's quintessential historical gothic centre, a tourist destination, recalling it being the first place I visited many years ago on our first visit to Christchurch.

6471 - Alys Hill

It would be horrendous to let this beautiful place not be supported. It is the heart of our city

6472 - Andreia Cruz

The Arts Centre is an unique historical educational entertainment multicultural place in Christchurch that welcome everyone who lives or just visit the Garden City. It is a tourist venue that serves the all ages residents all seasons.

6473 - Irenie How

The Arts Centre has historical value that does not only sit in the past. It's benefit to Christchurch, residents, and visitors is a potential that stretches long into the future. As a site it nurtures countless businesses, creative ventures, memories of our past, and hopes for the future. It is a legacy and a constant reminder of the things we do and do not want in our collective future. It would be a mistake to neglect its long-term value and beauty for the sake of short-term crunch. Now more than ever we need initiative that recognizes the importance of community and public places and the protection they require to benefit all. The council, now more than ever, has an opportunity to step up and recognize all the arts and the Arts Centre has done for our city.

6474 - Cate Woods

The Arts Centre is one of Christchurch's truly unique gems! Without it, our city loses some of its charm and history.

6475 - Laura Carbone

Beautiful area that has both history and supports emerging arts and culture

6476 - Caitlin Olsen

It is an important taonga that should be protected for future generations

6477 - Dillon MacIntyre

It is important to maintain this important precinct for current and future Cantabrians and visitors

6478 - Anna Williams

The Arts Centre is the heart of Christchurch!

6479 - Maria Gregori

I visited the Arts Centre when visiting Christchurch on our tour of NZ from the UK. My husband and I absolutely loved the different businesses and stalls set in such a beautiful setting. We only had 3 days in the city but kept coming back to the Art's Centre, we bought books from the second hand bookseller, had wine at the cellar door and brunch at Bunsen. We enjoyed it so much, and sitting in the lovely grounds whilst a talented passerby played the piano was brilliant. I'm very sad to not have more time in the city to book a Paint and Sip class! Having visited a lot of cities in Europe and across the world, it's this kind of welcoming friendly environment with local businesses that serves to draw in tourists and show them the real people of the city - I haven't visited a place quite as hospitable and varied in its appeal. To shut the arts centre down would be a travesty, I will recommend it to all my friends visiting NZ in the future.

6480 - Robert Lovelock

It is a critical part of Chch culture and history. Without activities there for public to enjoy it will become an empty shell. This would be tragic

6481 - Vicki Mangan

It's the vibrant heart of the city. For locals and tourists. It's always busy so a really shortsighted idea to defund it. Tourism is a big earner for the city, esp art centre and gardens. Keep community involvement, don't bankrupt it and then have to run it just on rates anyway. As ratepayer also pissed off at your scare tactics of higher increase if disagree with the plan.

6482 - Jo Zwart

Save the art centre it's such an important part of our city and its culture

6483 - Siobhan Read

The council needs to fund the arts centre as it is a quintessential part of the Christchurch arts community. Christchurch needs to have the arts centre as a space for all artists to feel heard and seen

6484 - Kate Clements

Arts is an expression of culture. Cities that are culturally rich have happy citizens that connect with their city and want to stay. Christchurch is losing cultural areas where groups can come together for various reasons and celebrate for events enjoy public spaces. The cost of living is so high here, lack of these places will lessen people's attachment to the city and therefore reasons to stay here. The art centre is beautiful and one of the few remaining heritage buildings in the city. Preserve our culture! Keep our art centre

6485 - Amanda Richards

Historical value, the original CBHS and Canterbury University and the Dux Deluxe. The Cloisters and the Academy pictures threatens. Plus I survived the February Earthquake in the Cloisters.

6486 - teani tapper

Art is important for expression

6487 - Sally Bremner

The Arts Centre is the pivotal part of the central Christchurch city. For residents and tourists alike it is a gorgeous place to wander around and admire all the beautiful I painstakingly restored Gothic buildings. It would be a travesty if any part of this was lost. Please reconsider your funding plan for the sake of future generations and also the visitors to our city

6488 - Raewyn Willocjs

The people of Christchurch pay rates so it is our money and we want you to support the Arts as much as you do the cyclist. They get everything and it is time that things balance out and that others get funding.

6489 - Sarah Joseph

Christchurch. The Arts Centre is one of the few heritage buildings left in Chch after the Quakes. It needs to stay for our children and their children.

6490 - Redacted Redacted

The arts centre is an integral part to the culture and arts for Christchurch and it will bring an increasing loss in tourism and room to attract people from outside if town

6491 - Tim Stokes

A vital part of both the city heritage and also big draw for tourists

6492 - Tony Anthony Richards

Part of our history. Losing too much to new architecture. Christchurch is too changed. We gave too little left of Pre - Earthquake

6493 - RICHARD BURTT

ChristchurchThe Council must fund the Trust. This is the civic duty the Council has. The alternative is that the Centre ends up under Council control and at the Council's expense. This is contrary to the interests of all ratepayers of the city. In saying this I am fully aware of other requirements for Council funding, but this one is imperative .

6494 - Joe Szreider

The art centre is a beautiful space, bustling with business and life! It's become a hub for local businesses, markets, events, welcoming whānau and tourists alike. After all the dedication from skilled crafts and tradespeople to restore this unique building, it would be very sad to see it lose its vibrancy. SAVE THE ART CENTRE!

6495 - stella Milsom

A no brainer, such a lovely and important part of the city

6496 - Denis Wilson

A place of culture and history

6497 - Emma Campbell

The arts centre is such a great resource to the city and a draw for tourists also. As parents to young kids we have also loved attending holiday events such as Music with Michal and Loopy Tunes and being in such a beautiful and central space has made these events even more special. This is Chch history that needs saved please!!

6498 - Rebecca Jellie

The Arts Centre, has been a pivotal building and Arts community, a marker, throughout my life span, in the Arts, in childhood and currently in Adulthood That is, through, its inspirng delivery of the Arts in my life and many other New Zealanders in Music, Dance, Visual arts, and the entertainment industry. It is a beautiful historical venue, delivering, multi-cultural events, financial and educational opportunities, at low cost. I have benefited personally as most others, in Christchurch, througout my life. It has entertained and helped countless people, like myself, deliver, opportunities, to the Christchurch community, through, personal funding, paid and volunteer employment in the Arts The Arts Centre, is filled with many talented, gifted people, in arts education, at low cost. Volunteers and those with a genuine interest in the Arts in Nz. I can't see, how this facility, can reach is full potential, if it becomes a venue, like many other buildings for hgh rents, administered by those, with less of an interest in the arts. The Arts Centre, is currently a beautiful historical, low cost and financially viable venue , for all in Nz and the Arts community. It should remain the same!....

6499 - Stuart Ralston

It a a beautiful celebration of art, food, people together and historical places and buildings.

65 - Marie Bristow

I believe it is vital that Christchurch City Council continues to provide funding in the Long Term Plan 2024 -2034 for Te Matatiki Toi Ora, The Arts Centre. Te Matatiki Toi Ora is the aesthetic and cultural soul of our city. Its magnificent architecture provides an important connection to the history of our newly rebuilt city. It physically links the Botanic Gardens and Canterbury Museum to the CBD. The vibrancy it contributes to Christchurch as a venue for festivals, concerts, forums, hospitality and retail is invaluable. The Trust continues to do an excellent job of the restoration and promotion of the iconic Arts Centre but it needs the on-going financial support of Christchurch City Council. Without such support the Trust faces insolvency.

6500 - Polly Debenham

It's a beautiful building with many events that are great for Christchurch city. It won't be the same without it. I support funding for the arts centre

6501 - Russell Chambers

I ask that the Christchurch City Council continue funding the Arts Centre because it is the most important cultural centre of Christchurch. Its closure would be a very sad moment for a such a large number of people in Christchurch and New Zealand. We note there is a very large amount of funding going to Sports Please keep the balance by funding the Arts

6502 - Karlis Velde

This is a historically important asset and is used productively and creatively to promote the arts and to contribute to the growth of the city and its character

6503 - Rose Croft

The Arts Centre is a special, magical place. I have lived in Christchurch all my life and cherish taking time on a Sunday to walk through and feel like I'm in another world. It's so good for the soul when facing the Sunday scaries of returning to work for the week. Please save the arts center! It's a gem and a rare find in our beautiful city. I was in the arts centre on February 22 2011 when the earthquake struck. Returning to it in its restored beauty reminds me that there is beauty after tragedy.

6504 - Nicky Hodson

Keep the arts alive. If you can find money for a stadium find it for the arts.

6505 - Janette Chambers

I want the Council to support the Arts Centre. Why? Can you imagine Christchurch without the Arts Centre? Because I cannot - countless others would feel the same. An Arts community cannot survive without funding. This centre is so important to the development of young artist. Please think again. Surely this is more important than funding the commonwealth games.

6506 - Michelle Shields

Art is not free. Architecture is not free. It has never been free. As a tax payer I expect a portion, however small, of my rates to go toward things in our city that are hallmarks of a civilized, endowing society.

6507 - Julia Latter

They should keep the funding up for this wonderful place. It is a wonderful place for Christchurch to have. The amount of money they need is very little compared to what it would cost if we the rate payer had to run the place completely. The company running it. Are doing a great job. Please give them there funding.

6508 - Patrick Fitzgerald

Yes thank you for the opportunity to make comment. As a regular visitor to the precinct I feel that more community interaction with more community on show may enliven the area. Foremost in my mind is the Saturday market which at present clogs up the pathways, public spaces and surrounding streets of Dean's Bush. This could be moved back to the Arts Centre on a weekly basis and with it a large crowd of people who would be happy to interact with all that is happening there. Of course the Dux building would add the jewel to the crown if it were open and operating . Thank you. Regards
Patrick Fitzgerald

6509 - Lydia Willcocks

The Arts Centre is a huge asset for Ōtautahi Christchurch. A real cultural hub for locals and visitors to our city. It should receive more funding, not less!

6510 - James Thomas

Please save the art centre because i like going to the events

6511 - Charlotte Mason

Because it's a very important part of Chch!!!

6512 - Jane McGowan

Please keep and help fund this wonderful community space that is an essential part of our city scape.

6513 - Kate Shakespeare

The Art Centre is an integral part of Christchurch, an icon that has survived the earthquakes.

6514 - Sandra Georgeff

The Arts centre is a crucial part of the creative heart of the city. I have been going there for various events and classes more than once a week for the entire time I have lived here-more than 30 years. Please keep this heart beating!

6515 - Caitlin Penhey

why not?

6516 - Ellie Rice

The Arts Centre is a hub and celebration of arts and heritage drawing in many tourists and locals. This is particularly key to maintain and celebrate at a time where Christchurch's iconic structures and places of heritage such as the Canterbury Museum and the Christchurch Cathedral aren't open to the public. The Arts Centre serves as one of the few places in Christchurch where one can go and enjoy a wide variety of arts, not only local art from around Christchurch and Aotearoa, but from visiting artists. Aside from the benefits the Arts Centre provides Christchurch and the public, the Arts Centre is run by people extremely passionate about what they do, who are dedicated to ensure the prosperity and future of the Arts Centre. I have doubts that the Christchurch City Council could improve on the benefits that the Arts Centre provides to the public and to arts, while on the same or lower budget with the same passion and efficiency. If it costs ratepayers more for the council to own the buildings then I struggle to see how council taking over this public hub of arts would provide any benefit to the public. As someone who is passionate about arts, the Arts Centre is incredibly unique and valued. It adds a key aspect to Christchurch's identity and is a place I am proud to have in my city.

6517 - Sally Lawson

The Arts Centre. One of our local, and national treasures. This place that tells the story of who we are as a city, the things that matter to us, the personality and culture of who we are in our creative selves. The markets, the local producers, the stores inside, ALL unique to Christchurch. They all tell the story of who we are, and what we value in this city. The tourists that visit, whether domestic or international, WON'T find this in any other city in New Zealand. It's not 'just another sports stadium', or 'just another stone church', or just another beautiful Botanic Garden', or just another Art Gallery, or just another museum. Fabulous though all those things are. Every city has them, or something like them. But the Arts Centre, the life it supports, the creative expression it brings to the world. That is UNIQUE to us. To who we are. It's absolutely vital that this life-blood of our city continue to be funded.

6518 - Dave Margetts

The Arts Centre Trust was set up to save the heritage buildings from demolition and to provide subsidized cultural uses. The Arts Centre is the largest built heritage site in the Southern Hemisphere and of Category 1 heritage status, and is a cornerstone of local and international tourism. Mature cities that value their built past with contemporary uses, are prepared to contribute by incentivising this cultural activity for the benefit of all.

6519 - Anna Rochford

The incredible community that the art centre facilitates. It is a beautiful and important part of chch's history in the heart of an ultra modern city centre.

6520 - Jane Peddie

Please fund the arts centre.

6521 - Hamish Peddie

Please fund the Christchurch Arts Centre, a critical part of the arts and cultural history of Christchurch

6522 - Rosemary Linterman

Not only has the Centre been wonderfully and carefully restored and is therefore safe and visually outstanding, it houses a variety of tenants and arranges a large number of activities to educate and entertain all ages, ethnicities and interests together with increasing numbers of tourists to the city. It is the cultural heart of the city which in turn attracts hundreds of people who will then visit and support all the other outstanding attractions in the central city. The amount sought from the Council is a small sum to save the experience for all citizens.

6523 - Isla Gilmer

It is a cultural icon of the city, a tourist attraction and makes me proud to live in Christchurch. The events that the arts centre provides are integral to community relations.

6524 - John Macdonald

The Arts centre is one of the City's greatest assets used and loved by both local residents and visitors. It is just re-emerging as a new centre for community, creativity and proudly representing the city's heritage. This needs to be supported and further developed at this crucial stage and for the City Council to consider abandoning funding for this centre at a critical time is short sighted and out of touch with what the city residents want and the whole community can benefit from. To the contrary it is a wonderful large site which could accommodate more investment and activities to bring the creative energies together and help to further build this unique asset for Christchurch. The Tram project was designed around this destination and all these facilities are interrelated, please build on this base, which takes time and adopt a mature long term vision for our city.

6525 - Albertus Viljoen

As one of the few heritage sites still standing it should remain funded, it is Christchurchian History and serves as a massive community hub for our family and adult communities.

6526 - Kylee Amer

Don't defund the Arts Centre. It's the most spectacular, vibrant and beautiful place not to mention original Christchurch. I love this place with all my heart. I spend a lot of time there with a lot of tourism people too! It's a hub and we need these places to be together and create

6527 - Lance Pearce

The arts centre is an icon of christchurch's past, and especially post earthquake where so much of our older heritage buildings fell, torn down, or are still under repair, does the arts centre still stand out as the cornerstone of christchurch history. Its historical value as the old university, and the current use for the UC classics department is of high value to show that this building is tied to our growth and it is a safe haven for classics students and all sorts of unique businesses that operate out of the buildings in the arts centre

6528 - Beth Bradley

Of course the wonderful facility should be funded. It is a great asset to our city especially as many of our heritage buildings were lost in the earthquakes. It adds character and interest to our city, offsetting many of the modern buildings elsewhere in the centre of town, It is a great tourist attraction as well as a drawcard for local people. The weekend markets, permanent shops, cafes and the movie theatres are a great feature in the centre of the city even on the most unpleasant of days. Do not let short sighted thinking get in the way of funding this integral part of Christchurch. It has stood for many years and served the city so well, first as the University, then a part of it housed the Court Theatre and now as home to many other things. To me it is Christchurch and has so much more character and interest than the new Stadium for example. The Dux de Lux should also be re-opened as it too completes the Arts Centre and was very much it's centre in the past. It would be a tragedy if this incredible assets were lost. It must be funded and continued on for many more years to come.

6529 - Gabrielle Gill

The arts centre is an important icon of Chch it is often filled with overseas tourists and out of town visitors. It also provides exciting exhibitions and events for locals

6530 - Melissa Coles

Doesn't the Council have a duty to look after Chch's old character buildings?

6531 - Katie Gluyas

I have many fond memories of the Arts Centre. As a child I came to the Arts Centre for school holiday art classes which I really enjoyed, and for the last four years I have been a student of the University of Canterbury where the Arts Centre was one of my campuses. I have enjoyed coming back weekly for piano class in the beautiful university building and really hope that more students in the future will be able to enjoy studying here too.

6532 - Julia Deans

As a child, I cut my creative teeth in The Arts Centre. From dance lessons as a tot, to music lessons after school, to kickstarting my musical career busking within its grounds, the Arts Centre has been a prominent feature. Its galleries are vital for artists & art appreciators alike. As a child I attended exhibition openings with and for my father (Paul Deans) & grandfather (Austen Deans), and I love swinging through to check out the latest exhibitors. Christchurch – and New Zealand as a whole – need places like this to help foster artist development, whether upcoming or experienced. Providing a space where the two can meet is integral to a thriving community. Post quakes, it is one of the few remaining landmarks for many. But The Arts Centre is more than just a beautiful collection of buildings, it is a place for people to gather and create and be inspired – a much loved hub for the people of Christchurch and visitors alike. And with all that is going on in our world, local & global, we absolutely need to support The Arts Centre.

6533 - Della Goodinson

It's is part of Christchurch heritage and has been part of Christchurch's art scene for 40 years, fund festivals, activities and events, incorporate it into an events calendar, sponsor an events co-ordinator, from food, dance, voice, sculpture, performance etc. Hold international events that can link to the convention centre and townhall. Think big and show case. From small community to global, bring people into our beautiful city where they can stay and walk to all the events. A creative approach we don't want to lose his great asset.

6534 - Sophia Daellenbach

It is a crucial part of culture and heritage in Christchurch. To have these new innovative spaces that currently live in the Arts Centre, a historic building for Canterbury, creates such a sense of community and belonging, whilst also being exciting and inspiring.

6535 - Cailey Hollard

The Christchurch Arts Center is essential for small businesses to flourish, with its events attracting so many people from within and outside of Christchurch. It represents everything we should aspire towards as New Zealanders - such as creativity, community connection, ambition, and supportiveness. It is a place of so much learning and a key contributor to the wellbeing of Christchurch students and residents. It is an incredibly important part of Christchurch and its positive impact will be restricted greatly if it does not receive adequate funding.

6536 - Joanne Davidson

The Arts Centre is an iconic part of Christchurch attracting tourists into the city centre. It is important for the future of our city that it is rebuilt to its former glory.

6537 - Jono Stone

Creativity is important for our wellbeing, the arts centre offers that for our community in many forms

6538 - Toar Dotulong

It's part of the heritage of Christchurch and great for tourism. There is nothing left in Christchurch!!

6539 - Anna Erskine

Community engagement and unique opportunities, plus the loss of jobs

6540 - Paige Odonnell

Because the arts centre is a historical institution that has been established for decades. It is a core part of our city and offers many opportunities for various businesses and visitors.

6541 - Akiko Yoneda

I really love the art centre for all of its artistic feel. It makes me feel more calm and fresh.

6542 - Joan Gane

Special and unique to chch. Growing up in chch I used to love coming here as a child, something I would love to be able to do with my children. It's great for locals and visitors to our city.

6543 - Charlie O'Brien

The arts centre provides the community free weekly concerts, a museum, and a gallery. It provides a vital service for lower income people to experience it. I know personally I attend most concerts. I cannot afford to attend most of the performances here.

6544 - Melanie Jones

The Art Centre is an incredibly special place for the arts. Our city has invested so much to restore it post quake. Please keep CCC funding and get the right people involved to ensure the Arts Centre is managed responsibly while keeping its focus on the arts. There must be a way.

6545 - Bree Cooke

Keep it!!!

6546 - Clara Peddie

The arts centre is an incredibly important place full of art, music, and beautiful architecture that christchurch could not do without. Please save it!

6547 - Angie Williams

It's a beautiful historic place, but also one of the beating hearts of the city. Supporting a hugely diverse range of arts, businesses, and important creation. Plus it is a wonderful place to take young kids exploring. A key link between the botanic gardens and the city. In my mind, it is one of the most important historic places in our city. It must be supported for the future, in order to keep this amazing space available for all.

6548 - Lilly Peddie

The Arts Centre is fundamental for Christchurch. It is culture and art and history and music. Save the arts Centre.

6549 - Ruth Snape

The Art Centre is one of the most precious and valued landmarks of Christchurch. It attracts tourists from around the world who love visiting it, the Botanical Gardens and Hagley Park along with the Museum, all in the same close area. It is a wonderful resource for concerts, craft activities and just enjoying being there relaxing. We have said many times to each other that we are HAPPY TO PAY MORE RATES if we can continue living in such an incredibly beautiful city - and without a doubt the Arts Centre is one of the real jewels in the crown of Christchurch. The Council will be failing us badly if it doesn't support the Arts Centre financially. PLEASE DON'T FAIL THE PEOPLE OF CHRISTCHURCH...

6550 - Aimee McKay

It's the best place in Christchurch!

6551 - Nohah Forde

The arts centre is unique to Christchurch and is such a vivid addition to the arts and culture scene is an otherwise very lacklustre city !!

6552 - Linda Hogg

The Arts Centre is part of the fabric of Christchurch and as a ratepayer I want my rates to go towards funding it. It is a cultural hub, dras tourists & locals in & adds to maintaining 'life' in the city centre.

6553 - Danielle Jelley

The Arts Centre is an important part of Christchurch's past, present and future, and should be protected as a place for the community of all ages.

6554 - Megan Ward

A beautiful place at the heart of the city. An amazing restoration, it is the place to go experience chch and what it has to offer. Has some thing to offer for all no matter age, or taste. Would be disappointing to see this come to an end.

6555 - Varit Ovadhana

Save the Art Centre

6556 - Leon Joslin

Beautiful buildings steeped in history and linked to culturally significant events for New Zealand and the world. Once lost, never recovered!

6557 - Amanda Meuldijk

The arts center is a wonderful and truly special place. It shouldn't be taken away. It's is an amazing tourist attraction and place that is very important to our community. Please don't destroy it.

6558 - Linda McGilvary

The Arts Centre is an iconic heritage building where musicians, artists and creatives work and inspire others. The building contributes to what makes our city special and different. It is much loved and is visited regularly by local citizens and tourists from around Aotearoa and the wider world and generates income for the city. In my opinion the CCC has a duty and should do all in its power to preserve the cultural heritage that remains, given that so many special buildings were lost or demolished as a consequence of the earthquakes.

6559 - Olivia Spencer-Bower

Creativity is at the heart of our vibrant city. To lose such a precious part of our creative home would be detrimental to all aspects of our city. The arts centre without a doubt should be subject to huge support from the CCC.

6560 - Barbara Wendt

As a Tourist it was my favorite place in Christchurch - a true gem!

6561 - Skye Anderson

I grew up going to the art centre and love it there!! It would be devastating to lose that beautiful building.

6562 - John Kelland

It is essential that the Arts Centre is well funded.

6563 - Phillipa Robinson

Our family love the arts centre. It's so beautiful and brings so much to our city

6564 - Sydnee Wallace

Because it's historical

6565 - Dominika Nova

Iconic part of Christchurch. Definitely should be supported.

6566 - Tilly Flood

The CCC should fund the arts centre because it is wanted by the people of Christchurch. In the past it has been a thriving centre of Film, Theatre, education, visual arts, music, festivals, food trucks, markets. Not to mention the memorable hospitality of Christchurch institutions like the cafe, boulevard bakehouse and the Dux de Lux. It is now home to the wonderful Lumiere theatre: perfectly positioned across the road from the botanic gardens. Post earthquake there have been some worrying developments such as ripping all the trees out of the Hereford st carpark and installing a first class hotel. It is starting to look very corporate and barren. It needs to get back to its bohemian roots and be a place for artists. A good start to this would be the trust board co operating with Richard Sinke and getting the Dux up and running again. In Christchurch we have lost so much. The arts centre must be saved. Altiora Peto : I seek higher things. We all need Art. We all need the Arts centre.

6567 - Julia Mallett

The Arts Centre is, and should always be, the cultural and creative heart of Christchurch. The buildings and what they house are a taonga and it would be a disgrace to defund it.

6568 - Isabella Stone

Don't be assholes

6569 - Lizzy McLennan

It is an integral part of chch. We have moved back from Australia and are blown away by the cool businesses in the Art Centre. It is our favourite spot and we are always bringing our overseas friends here, who are amazed. It would be an absolute shame to not have it.

6570 - David Elms

The Arts Centre is an essential part of our heritage centre - part of the heart of Christchurch. It is also a central attraction to tourists. We MUST save it. I don't mind paying higher rates either. I want to live in a city I'm proud of.

6571 - sage scott

Art is what the garden city is made of. Look around you, so many local artists and art installations make our city center THRIVE

6572 - Cat Mulgrew

It's the heart of our city, our huge part of our history and we need to protect what we still have pre quake

6573 - Chaniele Erasmuson

It is the essence of Christchurch and losing this heritage would be so sad for future generations and tourism.

6574 - Evie Pitt

Save the arts centre

6575 - Anna & Duncan Patchett

The Arts Centre is an amazing place to visit and helps keep the city vibrant. It's a space needed in the city and is always busy with people enjoying the beautiful spaces, buildings and exhibition.

6576 - Stanley Palmer

Has the Council considered the number of young people who work, or perform, at The Arts Centre? The Council not supporting The Arts Centre is intellectual and emotional abuse. The Arts Centre was often the first, and only, job that these young people will have. I've been exhibiting at The Arts Centre for decades and I'm appalled. - Stanley Palmer, 87 years.

6577 - Michelle Chapman

The arts centre is a unique part of the city. It is a good walking distance from the gardens and museum and both locals and tourists would enjoy to wander around the historical buildings with its shops and cafes.

6578 - Edward Taylor

Infrastructure like the arts centre are crucial to a diverse and city that people want to visit.

6579 - Katie Cowan

The Arts Centre is a vital piece of the Christchurch community infrastructure. It is a public good that demands protection and funding, for the whole community's benefit, both direct and indirect. Commons like it are precious, and very hard to re-establish once dismantled. Defunding the Arts Centre will represent an enormous, and likely permanent, loss to the city, its people, and the systems that support wellbeing. Please, PLEASE, reconsider removing its funding.

6580 - K Dunn

The Art Centre is an important piece of Christchurch history and facilitates many community events that ensure that the citizens of CHCH feel that sense of community that has been so important for everyone post quake. Losing the Art Centre would feel like losing another piece of the soul of Christchurch

6581 - Reed Taylor

The arts centre I feel is a super important asset to Christchurch city. I really enjoy visiting either for a performance or even just a casual coffee. I don't understand why the council would want to drop it. Honestly it's such a beautiful building and a massive part of the history in the city, why would you not want to look after it!

6582 - wolfgang fassbinder

home of culture & heritage

6583 - Katherine King

It is the most fantastic, building and history. Loads of quirky shops, galleries and some great events. It is the first place I take out of town friends and family, great market with local artisans and walking distance to botanical Gardens, art gallery and much more. It is vital for our tourism industry and local community. Please continue funding 🙏

6584 - Sophie Whitehead

The Arts Centre has become a wonderfully vibrant area where people from all over Christchurch meet and get together. The restoration has been immense and brings a fantastic heritage side to Christchurch that we are lucky to have post 2011. Losing this would be hugely sad, as it gives Christchurch a different view, and options to include the arts and a wonderful place for everyone to visit.

6585 - Tiffany Hamilton

The Arts Centre us one if our most precious buildings and I explore the Council to support its ongoing life.

6586 - Sarah Diener

You should find the arts centre

6587 - Cathi Kernot

Why on earth would you not fund such an amazing piece of history and architecture as the Arts Centre. It is the centre piece of Christchurch bringing the community together - the Sunday market, cafes, Rutherford's den, the Great Hall with its beautiful stained glass, the cinema. This place is iconic and central to community and a draw card for tourists. Central to the Botanical Gardens, Harley Park, the Hospital and the Art Gallery. As a rate payer I should have a say in where my money is spent. Please support the Arts Centre and withdraw payment for the cathedral. Get rid of the waste of money that is the cathedral and support the Arts Centre that brings so many more people together!

6588 - Emma Douglas-Clifford

It's home to so many wonderful memories growing up in Christchurch- even after the Earthquake it still is a wonderful place to visit, dine and be a part of

6589 - Maria Barron

Please keep funding this beautiful space that's so important to our city.

6590 - Fiona Rice

A integral part of Christchurch heritage- drawcard for tourists and locals but also a vibrant arts hub. Have really enjoyed using it post earthquake- a jewel in Christchurch's crown that needs nurturing.

6591 - Leith Skinner

Historically, the most important collection of buildings left in Christchurch post earthquake. More important than the cathedral and should not only have funding to continue to operate but funding to complete the remaining buildings and return the entire centre to its former glory.

6592 - Madeleine Clarke

This is such an important piece of architecture and community - we need it!

6593 - Felicity Windleborn

Beautiful heritage buildings, history and a tourist highlight.

6594 - Tom Collins

The Arts Centre is an important part of my life. I go to movies at the Lumiere with my friends, have coffee at Bunsen or Frances Nation with my family and check out cool new clothes at Indigo & Provisions. It also feels like a social hub of the inner city community and makes Christchurch special. Please keep funding it.

6595 - Janet Bertram

The Arts Centre is such an important part of Christchurch's heritage and its current arts scene. We visit often to see a movie, do some shopping or to bring visitors. Please continue funding. It would really be a pity to lose this precinct after all the hard work to restore it after the earthquakes. We have given several donations to help, as we really think the Arts Centre is important to Christchurch.

6596 - Maxine Williams

I work for the University in the Teece Museum. I have seen the numbers of visitors grow within this year. I see people sit down at the piano by the art gallery in the Art Centre and play phenomenally amazing music that the general public would only get to hear if they paid to attend a concert. I've seen the appreciation of those who stop, sit and just take in the beauty in people's talent and music. I've seen hundreds of people bring their children through to participate in the free children activities offered within the art centre and at the free teece museum. Our education system is failing badly everyday despite the dedication of the front line staff. What the art centre has on offer gives parents a space to show their children another avenue of areas of interest that our school staff may struggle to offer. The Asian visitors that stream through that space is also phenomenal. You, the council have wasted millions on parakiores major issues. Therefore all your judgements of choices with our rate payer dollars is highly questionable at the least. De-funding the Art Centre given the value it has across many demographics of society is ludicrous in comparison to continually pouring our dollars into a sinking rec centre. Get a clue.

6597 - Ash Bolt

The arts centre has provided so many opportunities for all kinds of artists to show their craft, hone in on their creativity and learn new things. A large social space in the heart of the city buzzing with life. Why allow something so integral to the community to diminish to nothing. A beautiful place which is being used wisely.

6598 - Carolina Sarinho Mais

A place as the Art Centre is extremely important to the City

6599 - Gallien Chanalet-Quercy

The arts and the Art Center is one of the most important, prestigious, iconic elements of Christchurch. Stopping the support and funding, or any action that would be against supporting such a vital part of what connects us as people is beyond understanding.

6600 - Miranda Hales

It is unthinkable that The Arts centre should be sidelined...like waste material. It is a necessary part of our cultural fabric in this city. It is an anchor for so many arts related happenings in its centre and in our city surrounds. Places like this are vital to our cultural health, they foster and nourish our creative juices. I cannot imagine that the Christchurch City Council could not realise it has an obligation as representative of the city's citizens to keep this alive for our children's children and beyond.

6601 - Gail Clarke

Stop spending our money on unbelievably bad city roading (example park terrace and more recently Linwood avenue intersection humps) and use our rate money on important infrastructure and heritage like the art centre - shame on your road planners ... show some respect for where your budget comes from ... US

6602 - Charlotte Newman

This collection of buildings and what they represent are so unique to NZ. I have been coming to Christchurch for 30 years and always visit the Arts Centre. It survived the earthquakes along as did my mother and their resistance is part of this city's strength.

6603 - Brenda Wills

Why not ? Such a draw card to the inner city ... such a beautiful location and vibe - isn't that what we want -? Stop funding endless road works putting in cycle lanes and fund the art centre instead so we can all enjoy the investment.

6604 - Anna Bloomfield

As someone who grew up in Christchurch, the Arts Centre is an iconic part of the city and supporting the arts is fundamental to a vibrant, thriving city culture.

6605 - Scott Pearson

Dear Councilors, I was surprised when I first learned that the CCC would be dropping the $1.8m funding of the Arts Centre. The reason I was shocked relates to the importance Cantabrians clearly attached to the Arts Centre, after the Christchurch earthquakes and the significant amount of money invested to restore the buildings - on a clear community mandate to do so. The Arts Centre has been a symbol of the city's resilience and it doesn't make sense that after spending over $100 million restoring the buildings, for the ongoing running and maintenance costs to be stopped or passed onto another organisation, without the means. Keeping the Arts Centre vibrant is critical for the Art's community, but also for the reputation and pull this Christchurch & Canterbury icon has from a destination management perspective. As a former CEO of Destination Great Lake Taupo and GM Hurunui Tourism, I'm well aware of the value this icon has in attracting visitors to the region and the multiplier effects of their spend on things like accommodation, food & hospitality, crafts and services in the region. Over the past 8 months, I have been working as a business founder in the Health Technology Centre (HTC) within the Arts Centre. As a new business, Calmly Limited has benefited from the ability to work in a vibrant space with excellent support of the Art Centre staff and HTC Manager. It is evident that a well run Arts Centre can facilitate collaboration well beyond the Arts. While I appreciate the Council has many competing priorities in it's long term plan, I ask that you consider how much has been invested, how much the community values this space and the potential for additional costs down the line, if regular maintenance and management funding is cut. I think the CCC should take a solutions based approach, where they try to make the Arts Centre more cost neutral over a 5-10 year period, rather than what appears to be a sudden and rash decision to cut the funding altogether. Thank you for reading my submission. I am happy to be contacted, should that be of assistance. Yours faithfully Scott Pearson Community member and Business Founder

6606 - Marilyn Rea-Menzies

The Arts Centre is an iconic and wonderful asset for Christchurch, well known around the world. So much has been done to put it back together after the earthquakes, that I can't understand why that would be stopped now. The Art Centre is Christchurch!!!

6607 - Sarah Wood

The Arts Centre is a treasure in our city for locals and visitors - it's central to our history as a city

6608 - Alexia Walker

the arts centre is a beautiful asset to a beautiful city. It's the first place I take any friends visiting Christchurch and they always love it! Such history, a neat selection of shops and a beautiful building.

6609 - Charlotte Schofield

Such an asset for Christchurch

6610 - cathy ilagan

arts center has been part of Christchurch history it reflects the past and the continued interest of people. Arts centre should always be there to cater not only to locals but for tourists as well my daughter loves it here the future is with our youth and your continued support to arts centre will give hope to our future generations

6611 - Helen Moran

REASONS FOR PRESERVING THE ARTS CENTRE Heritage Entertainment Hospitality Tourism Arts Education The Arts Centre is rich part of Christchurch's heritage. Architecturally it is impressive and unique. For decades it has been a public space - open for all of the citizens of Christchurch to use, and a well-known and desirable tourist destination. I went to University there. When the University of Canterbury moved to Ilam there was discussion over its future and a fight to save it. Since then it has been a vibrant home of the Arts and a place of meeting, culture, hospitality, tourism, entertainment. The Court Theatre and Southern Ballet, cinemas and workshop spaces have operated there for decades. In the 1990's it was the home of Fringe theatre festivals and physical theatre/street theatre workshops. The Buskers' Festival took off there and ran for many years. While some of these specific ventures have moved to other places, the spaces have been redesigned and offered resonant spaces for other arts enterprises. The Free Theatre operated in the wonderful space that has now been redesigned as Christchurch's best Art cinema - Lumiere. The University School of Music has returned and enlivens areas of the precinct. This Arts Centre has continued to reinvent itself and will do so for decades to come. The Great Hall continues to host wonderful music and performance events, including visionary celebrations for Matariki, Christmas, summer. The markets and galleries are vibrant and varied, homes for craftspeople, artisans, artists, performers, musicians. The Artists in Residence programmes have been instrumental in creating wonderful original work, and there is theatre training, and workshop space available. Enormous efforts of planning and considerable resources have been expended on its maintenance over the years -before the 1990's and in the rebuilding after the Earthquakes. The fruits of these efforts need to be retained for the public, for visitors from other NZ cities and international visitors - while simultaneously benefiting local business offering hospitality, food and beverages and other entertainment and arts. This is a civic space, historically rich, and relevant still for the people of Christchurch and known as an innovative, accessible centre for arts by travellers and other people all over the world. We look to the Council for foresight and vision in terms of fostering and preserving the unique flavour of this city. It would be shortsighted indeed to pull out the blanket from under this vibrant and rich precinct at a time where the city is undergoing a renaissance with the new sports stadium and the reinvigoration of the central city with the huge development of inner city housing. The Council will be applauded for efforts to maintain, preserve and develop the Arts Centre. The Arts are central to a city's identity and to the cultural and spiritual wellbeing of humans.

6612 - John Sanchez-Lloyd

The Arts Centre is one of a small handful of historic jewels in the crown of the city as far as I'm concerned. I can't believe we are having this discussion regarding its future. For too many years we have displayed an appallingly cavalier attitude to our heritage, unfortunately accelerated in the immediate post quake era.

6613 - Peter Graham

A fairer question would be why the council should cease to fund the Arts Centre. The Council has long taken the view that an important part of its function is to allocate ratepayer-generated funds to support cultural assets and recreational and leisure facilities for the benefit of citizens and as enhancements to the city. Examples of these are the library (TUranga), the art gallery, sports facilities such as the stadium, parks and reserves including Hagley Park etc etc. I am sure the council does not need me to explain this. Without these facilities Christchurch would be a very poor place to live. The CCC has always in the past used its ratepayer-generated funds to help maintain its important heritage buildings. All cities of any worth all around the world shoulder this burden as a duty to past and future generations and a matter of civic pride. All over the world it is found that given maintenance costs these heritage buildings cannot be self-sufficient. The amount of ratepayer money supporting the Arts Centre, as I understand it is quite a modest amount of money given that this is a truly defining building for the people of Christchurch and a huge attraction to the countless visitors interested in our cultural history. The council will be aware that the Board of Trustees is bound by statute to keep the range of buildings properly maintained. I suppose that if they could no longer afford to do this or had any doubts about solvency, they would have to wind up the trust. In my view the Arts Centre has an appealing mixture of interesting commercial tenants (coffee bars, wine bar-cafe, retail, cinema etc) and arts-related less profitable tenants, such as Rekindle was. I beg the council not to take any decisions that will jeopardise our beloved Arts Centre.

6614 - Meg Fisher

This is a pillar of the Ōtautahi community. It is a part of our city. It is so valuable for the arts, food, historical experience and general joy and history. It is worth every penny! What do you value in creating experience in our city if it is not this.

6615 - James Fisher

Such an important place for all of Christchurch with such a wide range of benefits.

6616 - Lydia Muschamp

To the Christchurch City Council, The Arts Centre is not just a building; it's a cultural cornerstone, a vibrant hub of creativity, and a source of inspiration for the entire community. Its absence would create a void in the city's cultural landscape, impacting residents, visitors, and future generations alike. Investing in The Arts Centre is an investment in the heart and soul of Christchurch, preserving its heritage and ensuring its continued vitality. Please reconsider and prioritize funding for this invaluable institution.

6617 - Theresa Koorey

It came to me as I am sure it did to many others when they heard this news an absolutely huge shock when i heard that the CCC may not fund the Arts centre. I genuinely thought it was a joke. It just didn't make sense. It truly sunk in when I went there to see an absolutely incredible show (Me and My nana) and saw the signs everywhere did it truly sink in. To me The Art Centre is the heart of the city, more than Cathedral Square has ever been. Past, present and future it is so important. Past - people watching while having a wine in Annie's wine bar, scared scriptless and pints in the Dux. Boulevard Bakehouse and Court Theatre ghost tours. Present - the sheer quality, variety and universality of shows, retail and experiences there. Performances in the Great Hall from preschool music to chamber music. The recent Off Centre Festival was one of the best days out with my 3 year old. The vibe truly felt electric and it was amazing to see everyone smiling and having a good time. It felt like days of old but also updated to days of now. It feels modern, current and allows performances, theatre, art and cinema to occur that doesn't anywhere else in the city. The buildings and location itself is one of the highlights themselves. I worked in tourism for a long time and along with the BOtanic Gardens, the Arts Centre was one of the places and experiences that I told every tourist to go to. It is such a unique architecture and amazing to walk through even when there aren't performances. The retail, cafes and vibe are not replicated anywhere else in the city. I love my city and the Arts centre is a big reason why. I would be heartbroken to see these buildings be allowed to sit and crumble and not be used to their potential (especially after all the skill and expertise and money that has been spent so far painstakingly restoring it) Future - it needs one. Enough said. Too important to let go.

6618 - Cindy Frost

We love going to the Arts center. So do my family that comes down from the Bay of Plenty, and when the museum reopens its going to busy. What will happen to that beautiful place if it shuts down? We don't have alot of old buildings left. Please fund the arts center more people can then see how beautiful it is as well as our city

6619 - Caro Davidson

Absolutely why wouldn't you?! It is the most important place in Ōtautahi /Christchurch - for locals, our tamariki, visitors. Arts, food, dance, choirs, local crafts, residencies, stone work, history, education spaces. It would be a loss of our cities soul. Far too much to contemplate loosing. This is where our Council needs to put money. Ngā mihi. Long term resident, business owner, mother, educator, ally.

6620 - Marie McGuigan

The Arts Centre sits as a most beautiful example of hope in its restoration after our earthquake destruction. But a building is as good as the spirit and strength of its people within. The council must continue to fund our Arts Centre to maintain this spirit of creative hope for our future citizens. Please do not prioritise the physical (sport centres) over the creative wellbeing of the arts . Both are essential aspects of a healthy city.

6621 - Henriette Reutzel

Because education should be free and for everyone!

6622 - Hayden Graham

The Arts Centre is my family's favourite place to visit. As artists ourselves, we love being amongst creatives and having a space where we can fuel up creatively and contribute to the community. If you don't fund the centre, you will lose a beautiful place that actually gives our city some culture!

6623 - Shana Graham

The Arts Centre is a beautiful place where my young family and I visit and get inspired. I've lived in Auckland and Hamilton before moving to Christchurch a few years ago and have struggled to find creative communities here, except when I get amongst what's happening at the Arts Centre. You'll lose such a vital part of Christchurch's already fledgling cultural sphere. Do the right thing and fund this amazing part of our home!

6624 - Jennifer Hamlin

A city that is alive with creativity and vibrancy is a huge drawcard not only for the local community but for tourists. One need only look at the numerous cities around the world that have thriving arts districts. Proactive funding is essential to provide opportunities for the arts to thrive.

6625 - Nicole Reddington

If you choose to look at the city you want Chch to be in 5, 10, 20 etc years time, what do you want for everyone? What will the city look like, what will people be doing and how will we be addressing and supporting our social, cultural and artistic communities? If you value these things, I would strongly recommend we continue to support the use of the Arts Centre. It's the most inclusive, architecturally stunning and future-looking precincts of our city's creative culture. If you look at the gigs and events that have been happening there over the last few years, you will see a broad range of programming and support for a huge range of both upcoming and established artists and creators from all over the city. It would be more disappointing than you can imagine for hundreds of thousands of people to see this taken from them. Everybody holds such great memories of the Arts Centre, what would you gain from compromising that? Most memorable cities have arts centres of some sort. Please don't reduce us to being an ordinary, banal den of mediocrity. Help save our Arts Centre.

6626 - Leo Reschenberg

It is unbelievable that the arts centre will be cut off the funding but so much money will be spent on new stuff rather than keeping something good. So many different people can meet at the arts centre, more than in any other place in town, it is always fun to go there. You have to keep funding them!

6627 - Marianne Hargreaves

If you mention 'arts' to anyone in Christchurch, the majority of people would think of The Arts Centre. It was such a thriving hub of the creative arts, (music, theatre, dance, visual art, craft, literature, food) before the earthquake. I know – I worked there as the Arts Advisor for five years and then had offices on the premises working for the Christchurch Arts Festival and the Writers Festival (WORD Christchurch). It was the engine room for planning and presenting cultural events in the city. The Arts Centre is vital to complement the larger venues in the Performing Arts Precinct. It serves the community in an accessible way and needs to continue to grow to be a part of the next generation of creative people in the city. Over the years The Arts Centre is the place where I have seen the coming together of different ethnic groups – it is a neutral ground where they can interact with and educate the local population on the changing face of our city. It is such an important feature for all of us – please support them so they can continue their efforts to maintain and grow the facility to be the best heritage and cultural hub in the city again.

6628 - Anu Khapung

The Arts Centre is more than just a place for art; it's a vibrant hub for our entire community, both old and new, here in Christchurch. From supporting local artists to hosting events and markets, The Arts Centre has quickly become a cornerstone of Christchurch's cultural scene. As someone who has performed and attended events there, I've witnessed firsthand its growing impact. By investing in The Arts Centre, the council can further nurture this vital community asset, benefiting both residents and visitors alike.

6629 - Faye Greenwood

The City Council is trying to encourage more people into the Centre of the city. We have moved into the Central City district and love the vibe but need this area of the Arts Centre to continue to provide craft renewal, cultural, artistic and musical events that we love. We don't just want shops and museums. We bring our friends and grandchildren here because of the value provided. Without funding this will slip.

6630 - Sara Kupa

The Arts centre is an iconic and beloved addict of our city. Not to find it wouldn't be a major misstep.

6631 - Nicola Williamson

The Arts Centre includes many well loved and iconic buildings in Christchurch. Build a cheaper Cathedral and there will be enough money to go around

6632 - Steph Jung

The art center is a cultural heritage of this city, more then ever we need public places were people can come together, for inspiration, art, music, performance, family people to people contact. Iam signed up and recieve automatically all upcoming events happening at the art centre and enjoy going there. keep the funding

6633 - Susanne Rometsch

We came to visit Christchurch on a journey and wish we had more time there. While the whole city was great to discover, the most impressive time was at the Arts Centre. We had the pleasure of going on a tour with lovely staff, came for a concert in the Great Hall and saw many exhibitions. All on one property! Absolutely fantastic what the team of the Arts Centre is managing to do. There was so much going on and we did miss many events because we had to leave too early – next time we will check the Arts Centre website first and plan our visit around it so we won't miss anything!

6634 - Jan Alyssa Lamberte

Arts Centre NEEDS funding as it is a crucial part of community life

6635 - Patrizia Skott

The Arts Centre is the reason why I learned so much about so many different cultures. I went to Te Whare Tapere to learn about Māori culture, to Sounds of Salaam to listen to Persian music and visited every exhibition on site, Roman and Greek antiquities and Asian arts exhibition. Where else can you see so much of the world? Absolutely special. KEEP FUNDING IT!

6636 - Amanda Newall

The art centre was a cultural hub for me since i was a teenager. The film club, music theory lessons-cultural events/exhibitions and the cafe where we ate nachos as youngsters. It's wrong to let such an important place/core to the city go to waste. The Olivia Spencer Bower award residency' has always been hosted there ... it's so important.

6637 - Michael Skott

We travelled New Zealand and saw so many different special spaces. When we visited Christchurch, the arts centre was the best place. Such good food for lunch, so much so see, someone was playing the piano in the courtyard and the staff put a bubble machine out for kids. everyone had a great time and we stayed longer than planned - worth it! You should keep funding the space, they do a really good job.

6638 - Maggie Rillstone

The question is why the hell you wouldnt fund the Art Center the rate payers have shelled out multi million to fund sporting facilities that budgets had the arse blown out while multiple rounds of consultation ate up funds and more consultants got bigger pay packets....the Art Center has been restored its a valuable heritage and arts space that has a right to some respect from our current over priced council

6639 - Jo Hempseed

Because it's iconic, so many amazing memories here, plus it's part of chch history.

6640 - Karen Feltham

In its way, the Arts Centre/Old University Site is as iconic as the cathedral, Provincial Chambers, or Sign of the Takahe or Kiwi. We have lost a lot of Christchurch in the past 14 years and we need to preserve the Arts Centre and bring it back to the thriving place it once was for the next generation.

6641 - Tracey Fowler

The Arts Centre is a precious taonga. It was saved from dilapidation and demolition by an incredible community movement. It is a sanctuary, a symbol of survival and resilience. It houses so many stories - my father went to university there in the fifties and I think of him every time I walk through one of the grand doorways. It is irreplaceable architecturally, it is an anchor point in the arts precinct, it brings together the community, art and history lovers, tourists, families - it is a fine example of some of the ways we can, to heal from some of the wounds of our colonial past, move respectfully backwards and forwards as partners to Te Tiriti. We need our City Council to remain committed - in every way - to the sustainability of this treasure.

6642 - Pauline Oliver

Having supported the Arts centre for many years for various organisations utilising this amazing facility I am disappointed that ccc is considering not funding the arts centre yet pours money into sports oriented facilities - please think again and find a balance

6643 - Ian Cowan

One of Christchurch's special places! And we haven't got that many. Please continue to support it including getting the Dux back on track. Some good news would be very welcome among all the bad stuff.

6644 - Juliet Sullivan

This Must be a priority. Stop spending on wasteful nonsense and think in terms of hundreds of years ahead. Be legends CCC. Think of a big future for Christchurch which includes the arts centre.

6645 - Juliet Tyler

I consider that Christchurch City Council should fund the Arts Centre because it is an important part of our history and heritage. Christchurch needs to protect and keep the remaining older historical buildings because so many have been either replaced by tacky tacky characterless boxes, or there's just wasteland areas where buildings were previously. I also believe that the Christchurch Cathedral should be saved. Perhaps the Council could make cutbacks in other areas or charge user's of some specific services more? And in my opinion we do not need any more cycle lanes. It's about priorities. Do we want to have a culturally bland city or do we want to protect Arts, culture and historically important buildings? I believe these buildings contribute to what makes Christchurch unique. Yours

sincerely, Juliet Tyler.

6646 - Margaret Weiss

I wish to support the continuation of Christchurch City Council funding for the Arts Centre, without which the city of Christchurch might lose one of its finest taonga. The Arts Centre is an intrinsic and vital part of the Christchurch arts environment, being located in close proximity to the Christchurch Art Gallery, COCA, the Canterbury Museum and the former Robert McDougall Art Gallery and it needs to continue to play its part. The current Arts Centre carries on the legacy of the University of Canterbury's BA and MA degrees of the past where students studied subjects such as languages, literature and history. Lumière Cinema caters for foreign language films, literature carries on in drama performances, history is expressed in The Teese Museum. What a loss it would be if all this cultural richness were to disappear. For me personally, the Arts Centre continues to be a significant part of my life in all the above aspects, and in art and music too. A student in the 60s, the University of Canterbury is my Alma Mater. I have precious memories from those days. I attended many lunch time concerts in The Great Hall, free in those days, and the importance of music has also carried on with many concerts still being held there, and with the venue being the platform for fostering young talent. I attended many lectures upstairs in rooms on both sides of the clock tower entrance. One memory lingers. Gordon Troup, already a legend in his time, had a second marriage and a young family. A small group of us had MFS, Mediaeval French Studies, in his study, and on certain days we would hear running up the stairs and a little boy, I think in a Cathedral Grammar uniform, would burst through the door and make a beeline for the cupboard where his dad had the biscuit tin. I was often in Rutherfords's Den, I was often in the library where there were nooks and crannies and desks for two so that it was not only a place of study but a place where affections developed. In the current Arts Centre, I appreciate the creativity of different artists and craftspeople Last year, for instance, I sourced most of my Christmas presents there, finding unique handmade gifts for my family, including the grandchildren. We, the people of Christchurch, can be proud of our Arts Centre which serves both locals and visitors. Long may it continue to do so.

6647 - Ally Darcy

Please save the art centre! It's hugely important to have a place for community engagement. Honestly, it's so important for us, the public, to have access to these creative places. What more do we want to do in our free time but to create, engage, make, explore and be!

6648 - Annalise Myers

I visited the art centre on my trip to the South Island. I took my overseas friends who brought many New Zealand artwork. Without the art centre these tourists would not have wanted to stay in Christchurch but move onto another South Island City. The centre is a key part of your city economy. The is a good return on investment for all the other business around visits.

6649 - Jordan Dyer

How ridiculous that you are even considering pulling funding from such an integral part of Christchurch's City scape. As a ratepayer on multiple homes I fully consent to my money being used in such a way. Thank you very much

6650 - Lily Batt

It's the heart and soul of Christchurch! An iconic place for both locals and tourists.

6651 - Ruby Oakley

The arts are important to me & I believe enrich all our lives. The arts center covers such a diverse range of the arts & is pivotal to the arts 'quarter' of the city. Including the city art gallery. The arts centre rose again from the quakes it can't now crumble & become more apartments!! Fund the arts centre please

6652 - Alice Fruean

It's part of the history of the city, it brings people together and it is symbolic of the culture that chch was built on. So much of all of this has already been lost and what is left lives on in facilitates and services like the arts centre.

6653 - Ivan Polson

Not only is the Arts Centre the former site of my old University College where I studied for my Degree it has also acquired in its present form a well deserved iconic status as a unique symbol of Christchurch and Canterbury's history and national significance In my view (and I believe many others) its importance as that -as well as tourist and commercial potential - rates it at least the equal of the maimed and neglected Anglican Cathedral and- superior to the Covention Centre and football stadium etc., which have benefitted from the City Council's unwarranted largesse with Ratepayers funds

6654 - Anja Clarkson

It's one of the best assets we have in Christchurch. It's the most stunning building and finally near completion, unlike the cathedral.

6655 - Isolde Peterson

Community engagement

6656 - Isabella Aldridge

Community

6657 - Annie Lovejoy

Because the art centre is currently thriving and has just had a big restoration.

6658 - Cameron Wells

The arts centre is a treasure within Christchurch and an important part of its history. Please continue to fund it.

6659 - Rebecca Thompson-Looij

I really enjoy and value this space and frequently visit.

6660 - Hanne te Raa

Please save The Arts Centre!! Visitors like me, while staying with my son and daughter in law, like to join the lunchconcerts!!!

6661 - Cisca FRANZMAYR

It is so Christchurch as it shows visitors how Christchurch looked 100 years ago.

6662 - Stephen Clark

The arts centre is a set of heritage buildings gifted to the people of Christchurch and important to the cultural fabric of the city. They provide a variety of public spaces where citizens and tourists can experience some of the arts that the city has to offer while providing an architectural link down Worcester street from the cathedral to the museum.

6663 - Paula Le Compte

I would prefer as a ratepayer to see the Arts Centre funded than the cathedral. The Anglican Church can fund the cathedral. The Arts Centre is for everyone & is diverse & far more appealing & useful. Tied in with the Museum & Gardens, it is more dynamic & interesting offering both domestic & tourism opportunities. Please review this spending decision in the LTP.

6664 - Amanda Emberton

The Art Centre should be funded because art is for everyone. It feeds the soul. It's a place to help relieve mental stresses, anxiety of daily life and experience peace in art and creativity & stimulate & nurture those senses in our brain. Art is subjective but also nurturing and a release from the daily grey weight of life. The Art Centre is awesome for individuals, families, groups, tourists learning NZ culture, it's a place to just be & lose yourself, no electronics required. Art is for all. Art is healing, nourishing, entertaining, thought provoking. We need art in our lives. Please fund it. Thank you

6665 - JulieOO O'Rourke

It is steeped in history and a beautiful place to take visitors to the city. We will lose the character and soul of the city without the arts centre.

6666 - Annette van Dongen

This is the most beautiful and wonderful part of Chch that needs CCC support into the future... more than stadiums or religious buildings!

6667 - Melissa Reid

The Arts Centre should be funded as it's a fantastic facility and needs support so our children and future generations can also enjoy it

6668 - K Buck

The arts centre is incredibly important to Christchurch community, attracting tourists as well. This doesn't just serve Christchurch but places around like Selwyn and Waimakariri. This place is important for people to learn, explore and appreciate others art and it's somewhere I visit alot to be inspired or just for something to do that is low cost. If this isn't funded it'll affect so many people, especially in a world where everything is so expensive this place is inexpensive and is something people can do, and you'll be taking that away

6669 - Rea Daellenbach

The Arts Centre is a beautiful unique community resource that needs the city's support. I go there regularly and enjoy all the people that come through there. It is especially important for us after loosing so many old heritage buildings in the Earthquake.

6670 - Nicola Nolet

This is a once in a life time venue. This is a Christchurch iconic arts venue.

6671 - Emma Trott

The Arts Centre is a taonga. A treasure for our city. We need to look after it. It is silly to have brought it back from rubble to now think about not supporting it. The Arts Centre has a variety of uses and purposes, that allow tourists and locals alike to enjoy it. Please Christchurch City Council include the Arts Centre in your long term plan.

6672 - Nicky Quinn

This is a cornerstone heritage property appreciated through NZ and indeed the world. With Christchurch having lost so much this cannot be one of them. Prioritise this building. Make cutbacks elsewhere. Living on Ilam Rd and seeing roadworks for 1 year!!!!!! So as to install a bike line feels like a preposterous waste when considering the loss of the Art Centre.

6673 - Simone Squires Brown

I explicitly support funding for The Arts Centre

6674 - Rebecca March

It's an iconic part of our city and brings so many people into town. The atmosphere is always so wonderful.

6675 - Mark Pitt

Seems ill informed. Ilam road and memorial ave should have been part of the cost cutting. The arts centre can be far more commercial than it is. Get some proper leader in there. Look at valuable options. You must save a large part of NZ history.

6676 - Stella Daube

The arts is such a vital form of expression and communication. To remove that funding, and therefore the vessel that carries this expression, te Matatiki toi ora, you are dampening a community that is welcoming and inclusive and incredibly creative. How, in this day and age, is that not a priority? Please reconsider funding plans. What is a city without the arts?

6677 - Jane Lush

The Arts Centre is a vital part of christchurch community and cultural life, offering many activities and experiences that wouldn't otherwise be available to citizens. It also helps support interest in local history, as well as tourism.

6678 - Ali Green

I think removing the ability for people to freely express themselves in the field of arts through funding that is currently provided will have a huge effect on the passionate arts community in Christchurch. A very important part of the arts centre is that it brings about community engagement which we as a country and as humans need more than anything in the years to come and following on from COVID. Community creates support and when you feel supported your confidence comes through which not only allows people to create beautiful pieces of art but it also encourages them to be themselves and engage with others which we all really need right now!

6679 - Briony Bonisch

It is a very important historical area and asset to Christchurch. If we do not have the Arts Centre functioning well within the city the heart of city will not function.

6680 - Jess Cribbens

Great asset for the city and helps provide culture/experiences to boost tourism/encourage cantabs to come into town

6681 - Kath Duncan

This is the real iconic cultural heart of the city. It is our tangible history especially now with question marks over the cathedral. Bring back the Arts centre as it was prior to the earth quakes - a happy meeting place for all people to congregate and celebrate living.

6682 - Jayden Elley

The Arts Centre is a crucial part of our city that supports heritage, arts and creativity. Funding should continue.

6683 - Kate Lanauze

It's one of the only wonderful buildings and things Chch has to offer! It's a very special place to us all

6684 - Louise Glossop

Dear Christchurch City Council, Well done for doing a superb job of keeping this city functioning, providing large public events and supporting local groups- thank you. But I urge the Council to reconsider its decision regarding discontinuing its funding of The Arts Centre. The Arts Centre is of vital importance in this city- now even more than prior to the earthquakes. We have lost so many heritage buildings which made Christchurch "Christchurch", and to have The Arts Centre up and running again since its restoration and thriving with public events which suit those of us who prefer smaller crowds, has been the most wonderful, heartwarming thing. I grew up going to performing arts classes in The Arts Centre as a child, then worked at the old Court Theatre for years. In 2021, The Arts Centre made it possible for me to fulfil a dream of producing "The Secret Garden" in the Great Hall, and then "A Little Night Music" in 2022. They work hard to help theatre practitioners bring performing arts to the stage for the people of Christchurch to enjoy. They protect the beautiful buildings for future generations, and support artistes to be creative and thrive. We want our families to have the pleasure of sitting in the quad watching a free movie on a summer evening and laughing with hundreds of others- what a feeling of community! (Shades of "Cinema Paradiso"!!) We want it to survive so our children can continue loving the place they've been coming to for years and can one day bring their own children to enjoy the arts on offer. We want to feel proud of these extraordinary buildings and the warmth within them when we have visitors from overseas and are looking for beautiful, quintessentially "Christchurch" places to take them. The Arts Centre gives Christchurch a heart. I hate to think what it would be like if it lost its funding. Please keep it beating. Thank you.

6685 - Kate Darby

The Arts Centre is at the beating heart of Christchurch. As a long term resident of Christchurch, it's been one of my favourite places. I've now just stayed here to celebrate my wedding, and bringing friends and family here from overseas, they've been captivated by it as well. Funding for the Arts Centre is critical to maintain and grow Ōtautahi for our residents and visitors.

6686 - Georgina Papageorge

The Arts Centre, is a Historic Building Complex, we have very few of these left in ChCh. These buildings and the Arts can not be separated, if we are to use our integrity. The Arts have always been an important part of Society, A city without the Arts is a lack lustre city. The Arts Centre is an important part of the Tourist Map, of things and places to go. We would be at a great loss without it. Please consider this carefully, with respect Georgina Papageorge.

6687 - Ali Collins

To give inspiration, love and light to everyone

6688 - B Schrick

I strongly oppose any cuts to the support of The Arts Centre. Retaining funding for the Arts Centre will ensure that cultural initiatives can continue and influence the city's citizen's culture and well being. This is especially important now that the Arts Centre has nearly completed restoration. Citizens now have expectations that the facilities are being used accordingly. Cutting the funding will render one of the internationally acknowledged key icons of the city meaningless.

6689 - Kelly Thomson

It's important for our city

6690 - Mark Frost

It is where our city began

6691 - Jude Parker

It is a special place that needs to continue to receive publicly funded support by the council. It is wrong to withdraw funding , our ever increasing rates should ensure it is ongoing, it's our collective home!

6692 - Camille Balducci

No arts centre this size, especially in heritage buildings, can survive without public funding. Insuring, maintaining, and operating an entire city block of heritage buildings costs money. Without Council support, The Christchurch Arts Centre Trust will be heading towards insolvency. The Arts Centre brings so much life to Ōtautahi, which has an otherwise rather dull city centre. The range of community-funded, multi-cultural events year round - from kapa haka to opera, music from the Muslim world to jazz, hip hop dance to ballet, Sculpture and Matariki festivals to children's theatre and circus arts - offered by the Arts Centre are of huge value to Ōtautahi

6693 - Chelsa Sinclair

The Arts Centre is a strong part of Christchurch's history and one of the most attractive structures that we have left in our city. We spend most weekends visiting The Arts Centre, it brings us into the city.

6694 - Sarah Stewart

As one of the few publicly accessible and well-used areas (by residents and visitors alike) of Heritage and character buildings in Christchurch, The Arts Centre is a key feature and brings a focus to our city and its past. For visitors to Christchurch, there is need for physical areas to connect with when they are here. The Feb 2011 EQ removed a number of these. I support the provision of funding to keep The Arts Centre in operation as it caters for a wide range of people through the activities, businesses and organisations based there. I acknowledge there are sections of the community who do not use this part of Christchurch, as with other parts of the city. As is always the case, not all residents will use all locations or services a city council provides. Ensuring the provision for Arts spaces, Educational spaces, and other spaces that give the opportunity for community connections are part of a healthy vibrant city.

6695 - Christine Bastin

The Arts Centre is one of very few beautiful historic stone buildings left after the Christchurch earthquakes. It has been home to many arts, theatre, music and craft groups in more recent times and is loved by locals and visitors to the city. If left to fall into decay (or be demolished) it would be another ugly scar in Christchurch as a reminder of the destruction caused by our earthquakes, and a unique historic building would be lost forever. Personally I have many precious memories of concerts, plays, lunches and happy times spent in the Arts Centre. Please continue to fund this important facility.

6696 - Malcolm McClurg

The Christchurch Arts Centre is the most important and oldest amenity in Chch (Provincial Chambers currently mothballed) that serves both Christchurch and tourists, NZ and International, with a stunning environment. Since the earthquakes the redevelopment has injected new life and activities that I have discovered and now make the effort to regularly visit and take or recommend visitors to see. While the centre has many tenants, much of the spaces and buildings are there to see and enjoy with out charges and for such a large collection of unique individual structures the costs to preserve and maintain together with the huge increases in insurance, the costs for this jewel in Christchurch cannot be sustained entirely by the Arts Centre. It is a Christchurch asset that helps define our city and therefore city must help it survive and prosper.

6697 - Clare O'Regan

This is an invaluable public space with historical and community, as well as economic value

6698 - Emma Camden

It's one of the MAIN reasons why I would and do still visit Christchurch. It's iconic and should be supported.

6699 - Holly Vaihu

Please continue funding the arts centre

6700 - Freya Colley

The Arts centre is an iconic attraction and treasure of our beautiful city, it breathes creativity and life to everyone who visits, please consider this carefully

6701 - Laraine SHARR

My family and I are very concerned to hear of our City Council's intention to withdraw annual funding for upkeep to our Arts Centre, and we urge the Council to reconsider its proposal and to retain the current funding model. The Arts Centre is a gem of a place with significant historical significance - a taonga; and, importantly, is one of the very few heritage sites left in our city. As such, it deserves to be and remain a generously-funded site. To continue the funding model will ensure the Centre's buildings will not only retain their pristine condition into the future, but will also assist its many artisan business operators to thrive in a central city location that we citizens and thousands of tourists all love to access and support. To withdraw same funding risks a private ownership model, intent on profit-making that would surely ensure a steady deterioration and decline of the Arts Centre site. It might also prevent public access to the site. We therefore, urge the Council to continue to fund heritage and this site, in particular. So much has already been spent on salvage and reinstatement of the site to its present splendid condition. Withdrawal of funds would send a signal that Council simply does not place a value on the heritage area that the rest of us love and value highly.

6702 - Anne Kemp

This is an iconic part of Christchurch culture and plays it's part in finances an visitors to Christchurch funding. It must continue to be funded

6703 - Josephine Wise

First visit to Christchurch last year and spent much of a day in and around the Arts Centre- to not fund it lessens the cultural heart of a city that has relied on the arts to rebuild tourist engagement.

6704 - Claire Noble

For our health, community connection and nurturing talent that will leave the city if the arts centre closes

6705 - Rochelle Wong

The arts centre is vital for our the Chch community, enriching our culture, boosting the local economy, and providing educational and social benefits.

6706 - Christine Winterbourn

I urge you to please keep supporting the Arts Centre. It has been beautifully restored at considerable expense and an attraction for locals and visitors alike within the city centre. It should be considered as a real asset. It does, however, need more attractions, such as cafes, bars with outside music (like the Dux Delux used to be) to encourage people to stay for reasonable lengths of time.

6707 - Dan Langman

Funding for the provision of cultural activities such as the Arts Centre operations should be included in LTP Funding. Council should support the cities goal to be a place of cultural attractions to support the well-being of ratepayers, as well as tourism.

6708 - David Murray

You have an outstanding example of Christchurch heritage that houses interesting business.

6709 - Trudie Walter

This is such an integral part of Christchurch. PLEASE FUND

6710 - Rachel Gillman

The Arts Centre is a wonderful facility that provides an incredible experience for many of us Cantabrians - it is such a shame to hear that the council isn't seeing its worth. Firstly, it is a beautiful historic building which deserves to be preserved and loved, with a loss of funding we could risk the building not getting the maintenance it needs, and at the heart of the city by the tourist attractions such as the cathedral, art museum and gardens, it would be such a shame to waste the potential of the wonderful building. Its amenities have served me and many others well - I completed an internship at the classics museum, I use the UC study spaces within for my degree, I visit often for the weekend markets and the lovely cafés and restaurants. It is one of my favourite places to take visitors to show a piece of Christchurch and its history. Now that it has been quake repaired and upgraded with a lovely hotel - it would be an absolute waste to stop funding the arts centre. By stopping funding to the Arts Centre you send the message that creative, communal, historical and educational spaces aren't worth the councils time or money. It is not too late to make the decision to keep backing the arts centre!!

6711 - Stig Renwick

It is a landmark of the city, one that very much comes instantly to the eye when one thinks of Christchurch and the CBD. More so than the cathedral. It is a rich part of our history and adds much to the culture of the city with all its unique quirks and exhibitions.

6712 - Stuart Cooper

Disgraceful that this is happening. All the money you waste of unimportant items and issue. Shame on you if you stop the funding. My rates, so I should have the right to decide where they go.

6713 - Grace Ballantyne

The arts center makes the arts accessible and involves and engages the wider community through their great activities. It is a space of academics, arts, community and connection that is very valued and cherished.

6714 - Robbie Young

This institution is an incredible asset to the city- its vibrancy and diversity of audiences and programming is incredible given the scarcity of funding it operates with as a non profit. The challenges it now faces due to the increased operating costs they're faced with shouldn't mean the end of this incredible institution. We as a city need to ensure its continued delivery - not just as a historic collection of buildings but with the programming that impacts so many hearts and minds. The precinct is so much more inclusive and a heart to the city than it ever was pre-earthquakeLike the gardens, is THE jewel in our city. There is no way that the same level of programming can be achieved for the same cost if the council end up taking over the facility...it will cost US (the ratepayers who pay for your budget) more. Please ensure a sustainable operational funding model in support of the Trust.

6715 - Michelle van Zoelen

The Art Centre is such an important hub for the Christchurch community. The city has changed so much since the earthquake and is looking wonderful but is also necessary to hold on to the old for generations to come. Please keep supporting the Art Centre!!

6716 - Jean Went

It's a grand place for locals and tourists alike. What would be put in its place that would have the same impact. The whole surroundings are lovely to look at and enjoy, with the museum and gardens over the road it has impact.

6717 - Nicki Douglas

Please Preserve our heritage buildings. We don't have many left due to the earthquake.

6718 - Joan Spinks

It's obvious!! An icon for the city

6719 - Alice Norton

Growing up in Christchurch, my memories at the Arts Centre are treasured and lengthy. From school visits learning about science, to my first theatre productions, to days out with grandparents trying fudge samples, this is a special place that gives so much to the community. It was the Arts Centre that taught me about culture, science, art, and the importance of supporting local. This place is a cultural icon, and is at the centre of who we are as a city. After losing so much of our history as a city since the earthquakes, the Arts Centre plays a vital role in connecting the present and past. No one does it like the Arts Centre does. Funding will allow this legacy to continue, as an important heartbeat in our beautiful city.

6720 - Kim Nichols

It is a critical cornerstone for Christchurch's yesterday, today and tomorrow. It is not only fabulous for locals, but an attraction for tourism- domestically and internationally.

6721 - Jennifer Toki

It is a valuable resource and has served Christchurch well over many years. It is a wonderful tourist attraction and the Great Hall is a cultural heritage centre.

6722 - Anton Tritt

The Arts Centre is a vital and important part of Christchurch, Canterbury and New Zealand. It is a very beautiful and tangible link to our shared past, incredible important to our present lives and vital to our exciting future. We have lost so much of our heritage architecture and the Arts Centre is a beautiful restored architectural precinct. It anchors and calms the city centre with its exquisite forms, alleys, courtyards and interrelated spaces. It can house and support a wide range of artistic and creative endeavours. It is an increasingly rare shared experience for all of Canterbury's peoples and our visiting family and guests. It is imperative that the Christchurch City Council continues its financial support for the Centre and ensure its continued survival. The Arts Centre must survive and flourish, anything less is dereliction of our duty to past and future generations.

6723 - Tiana Verweij

It's such an important and beautiful part of Christchurch that deserves to remain open and funded for all to enjoy

6724 - Sara Pearson

It's such a beautiful and important part of Christchurch and always on the must see and do list for visitors to Chch.

6725 - Noel Anderton

This precinct is an iconic destination. For tourists. And locals- it's what makes Chch a great place to live in. Part of why I've lived here for 26 years

6726 - Faye Alcantara

The Arts Centre provides a safe platform for all the local artists and creative people in Christchurch.

6727 - John Rogers

Scrap the cathedral. The Arts Centre is the beating heart of the city

6728 - Finnzarby Richwood

This place has harboured some of my most founding experiences as a person consuming and working in the arts. I fear that without it, people such as myself would not find a path into what has become the most important part of my life. This is not simply a building with cool activities - this is somewhere that encourages and supports the arts in Christchurch as a whole.

6729 - Ellen Mitchell

Considering that the arts centre and Christchurch's cultural hub are MAJOR draws for tourists, cutting funding will be extremely detrimental to the welfare of christchurch's culture. Trust and believe that these decisions will reflect in dropping economic gains on the council's end.

6730 - Phil Anderson

I view the Arts Centre as one of our most important historical cultural sites. It must be retained and preserved.

6731 - Redacted Redacted

The Arts Centre has provided many multicultural interactive events that are accessible and affordable for most people. It is a vehicle for promoting diversity that is much needed in Christchurch and sets the city apart from most others. The Arts Centre is a cultural hub that has helped develop artists in Christchurch that further promote the city's identity. It would be a huge loss to Christchurch if the Arts Centre were to close as it would be hard pressed to find something that would suitably replace it that as the same values.

6732 - Anna Walters

The Arts Centre is a tourist attraction, and part of a limited number of historic buildings in Christchurch that locals and tourists can explore and not just look at from the outside. Funding arts and history is just as important as sports stadiums How many tourists visit empty stadiums every day, compared to the daily visitor numbers at the Arts Centre? Its survival is important to the small business that surround the art centre as well. If you want to revitalise the CBD, fund things that keep the tourists and locals going there.

6733 - Chloe Henderson

The arts centre is the most important historical building/ buildings in Christchurch. All other buildings have already been destroyed. Please prioritise funding for these buildings over all other Christchurch buildings!

6734 - Daniela Grimberg

Keep finding the arts centre, it plays a key role in Christchurch culture

6735 - Ariel Waldron

The Arts Centre is essential to the history and layout of the arts district. It would be devastating to both the cultural and aesthetic identity of the city to lose this iconic complex. Removing this attraction would also have a devastating effect on tourism and spending in the northwest of the CBD. Especially with the museum being under construction, losing the Arts Centre as a focal point would drive spending to other quarters of the city such as Riverside, which already receives plenty of business.

6736 - Vera Richards

One of few old buildings left. It needs to be saved. Such a great tourist attraction and an asset to the city.

6737 - Reuben Jelleyman
