

Long Term Plan 2024 – 2034

Thematically coded submission content
& staff responses

Full Report

May 2024

How to use this report

This report summaries the submissions received on the Long Term Plan by category. Officers have responded to submissions by category, and their responses and advice is provided with the relevant submission content for each category.

Support: Submitters who support what we have proposed in the draft LTP

Oppose: Submitters who oppose what we have proposed in the draft LTP

Other: Submitters who want us to do something different or look at adding something new/additional General/Other Comments: Any other or general comments provided on that category. Where a submitters comment is ambiguous, it has also been included in this category.

Areas where the use of the positions (support/oppose) is different include:

- Funding for the Arts Centre
- Funding for Orana Park
- Events Bid Funding
- Additional proposals to invest more in adapting to climate change

Table of Contents

- Strategic Direction 16
 - Have we got the balance right?16
 - General Comments16
 - Financial Strategy.....203
 - General Comments203
 - Officers Response.....203
 - Infrastructure Strategy210
 - General Comments210
 - Officers Response.....210
 - Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities219
 - General Comments219
 - Officers Response.....220
 - Performance Framework319
 - General Comments320
 - Officers Response.....320
 - Our Treaty Relationships.....331
 - General Comments331
 - Officers Response.....331
 - Climate Change343
 - General Comments343
 - Officers Response.....344
 - Additional Savings & Efficiencies467
 - General Comments467
 - Officers Response.....467
 - Other Policy Matters.....531
 - General Comments531
 - Officers Response.....531
- Rates.....548
 - Residential Rates548
 - General Comments548
 - Officers Response.....549
 - Business Rates741

General Comments	741
Officers Response.....	742
Remote Rural Rates.....	756
General Comments	756
Officers Response.....	756
Uniform Annual General Charge	764
General Comments	764
Officers Response.....	764
Rates Remissions	768
General Comments	768
Officers Response.....	769
City Vacant Differential	793
General Comments	793
Officers Response.....	793
Visitor Accommodation	839
General Comments	839
Officer Response.....	840
ECAN Rates	889
General Comments	889
Officers Response.....	889
Other	891
General Comments	891
Officers Response.....	891
Revenue.....	961
Dividends.....	961
General Comments	961
Officers Response.....	961
Development Contributions.....	962
General Comments	962
Officers Response.....	962
Central Govt Grants & Funding	966
General Comments	966
Officers Response.....	966
Excess Water Charge	975

General Comments	975
Officers Response.....	976
Disposal of Council Owned Land	985
General Comments	985
Officer Response.....	986
Disposal of Red Zoned Land.....	1113
General Comments	1113
Officer Response.....	1113
Other	1246
General Comments	1246
Officers Response.....	1247
Borrowing & Debt Management	1256
Borrowing & Debt Management.....	1256
General Comments	1256
Officers Response.....	1257
Fees and Charges	1280
Car Parking (Parks)	1280
General Comments	1280
Officer Response.....	1280
Venue Charges (Parks)	1427
General Comments	1427
Officer Response.....	1427
Venue Charges (Libraries).....	1430
General Comments	1430
Officer Response.....	1430
Resource Consent Fees.....	1431
General Comments	1431
Officer Response.....	1432
Building Consent Fees.....	1434
General Comments	1434
Officer Response.....	1434
Libraries Charges	1440
General Comments	1440
Officer Response.....	1440

Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)	1445
General Comments	1445
Officers Response.....	1445
Community Halls & Spaces.....	1482
General Comments	1482
Officer Response.....	1482
Other	1484
General Comments	1484
Officers Response.....	1484
Spending.....	1511
Our Proposed Spending.....	1511
General Comments	1511
Officer Response.....	1511
Te Kaha	1642
General Comments	1642
Officer Response.....	1643
Capital Programme (General)	1746
General Comments	1746
Officers Response.....	1747
Grants & Funding.....	1830
Strengthening Communities Fund	1830
General Comments	1830
Officers Response.....	1830
Capital Endowment Fund	1845
General Comments	1845
Officer Response.....	1845
Other Contestable Funds.....	1845
General Comments	1845
Officer Response.....	1846
Events Ecosystem Funding.....	1871
General Comments	1871
Officer Response.....	1871
ChristchurchNZ Funding (General).....	1987
General Comments	1987

Officer Response.....	1987
Funding for other CCOs.....	2015
General Comments	2015
Officer Response.....	2015
Arts Centre Funding.....	2016
General Comments	2016
Officer Response.....	2016
Orana Park Funding	2786
General Comments	2786
Officers Response.....	2786
Other Community Grants & Funding.....	2986
General Comments	2986
Officer Response.....	2986
Requests for Additional Grants & Funding.....	3015
General Comments	3015
Officer Response.....	3015
Other	3100
General Comments	3100
Three Waters	3121
Three Waters (Operations)	3121
General Comments	3121
Officer Response.....	3122
Waste Water (Capital).....	3149
General Comments	3149
Officer Response.....	3149
Water Supply (Capital)	3192
General Comments	3192
Officer Response.....	3192
Stormwater & Land Drainage (Capital)	3215
General Comments	3215
Officer Response.....	3215
Waterways Quality & Compliance (Operations).....	3263
General Comments	3263
Officer Response.....	3263

Waste Water Treatment Plant (Insurance & Repairs)	3275
General Comments	3275
Officer Response.....	3276
Taumata Arowai Requirements	3283
General Comments	3283
Officer Response.....	3283
Other	3308
General Comments	3308
Officer Response.....	3308
Transport.....	3332
Transport (Operations)	3332
General Comments	3332
Officer Response.....	3332
Roads (Capital).....	3439
General Comments	3439
Officer Response.....	3439
Cycleways (Capital)	3545
General Comments	3545
Officers Response.....	3545
Footpaths & Streetscapes (Capital).....	3824
General Comments	3824
Officer Response.....	3825
Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)	3877
General Comments	3877
Officer Response.....	3877
Carparking (Capital)	3963
General Comments	3963
Officer Response.....	3963
Other	3975
General Comments	3975
Officer Response.....	3975
Resource Recovery	4021
Officer Response.....	4021
Resource Recovery (Operations)	4025

General Comments	4025
Resource Recovery (Capital)	4073
General Comments	4073
Ōtautahi Christchurch Regional Organics Processing Facility	4093
General Comments	4093
Parks	4098
Parks Maintenance	4098
General Comments	4098
Officer Response.....	4098
Playgrounds & Play Equipment	4132
General Comments	4132
Officer Response.....	4132
Sports Grounds & Facilities	4142
General Comments	4142
Officer Response.....	4142
Parks Paths & Walkways	4170
General Comments	4170
Officer Response.....	4171
Foreshore	4179
General Comments	4179
Officer Response.....	4179
Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration	4196
General Comments	4196
Officer Response.....	4196
Public Convenience.....	4250
General Comments	4250
Officer Response.....	4250
Wharves & Jetties	4258
General Comments	4258
Officer Response.....	4258
Heritage (Capital)	4264
General Comments	4264
Officer Response.....	4265
Ōtākaro Avon River Corridor Regeneration	4297

General Comments	4297
Officer Response.....	4297
Other Red Zone Areas	4311
General Comments	4311
Officer Response.....	4311
South New Brighton & Southshore Estuary Edge	4318
General comments.....	4318
Officers Response.....	4318
Tree Canopy	4324
General Comments	4324
Officer Response.....	4324
Sports Field Network Plan	4354
General Comments	4354
Officers Response.....	4355
Parks Spending (General)	4476
General Comments	4476
Officer Response.....	4476
Parks - Other	4515
General Comments	4515
Officer Response.....	4515
Libraries.....	4576
Libraries (Operations)	4576
General Comments	4576
Officer Response.....	4576
Libraries (Capital)	4672
General Comments	4672
Officer Response.....	4672
Temporary Facility for South Library	4733
General Comments	4733
Officer Response.....	4733
Community Facilities.....	4739
Community Facilities (Operations).....	4739
General Comments	4739
Officer Response.....	4739

Halls & Community Centres (Capital).....	4747
General Comments	4747
Officer Response.....	4747
Service Centres (Operational)	4754
General Comments	4754
Officer Response.....	4754
Recreation, Sports & Events.....	4756
Rec & Sport (Operations)	4756
General Comments	4756
Officer Response.....	4756
Events	4771
General Comments	4771
Officer Response.....	4771
Pools (Capital).....	4786
General Comments	4786
Officer Response.....	4786
Recreation Centres (Capital)	4800
General comments.....	4800
Officer Response.....	4800
Stadiums (Capital).....	4811
General Comments	4811
Officer Response.....	4812
Community Arts.....	4814
General comments.....	4814
Officer Response.....	4814
Art Galleries & Museums	4845
Art Gallery (Operations)	4845
General Comments	4845
Officer Response.....	4845
Art Gallery (Capital)	4854
General comments.....	4854
Officer Response.....	4854
Museums (Operational)	4860
General comments.....	4860

Officer Response.....	4860
Museums (Capital).....	4867
General Comments	4867
Officer Response.....	4867
Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration	4873
City Planning.....	4873
General comments.....	4873
Officer Response.....	4873
Population, Household & Business Growth.....	4939
General Comments	4939
Officer Response.....	4939
Strategic Transport	4941
General comments.....	4941
Officer Response.....	4941
Coastal Hazards Adaptation & Adaptation Planning.....	5013
General Comments	5013
Officer Response.....	5014
Urban Design.....	5036
General Comments	5036
Officer Response.....	5036
Urban Regeneration	5042
General Comments	5042
Officer Response.....	5042
Heritage (Strategic)	5055
General Comments	5055
Officer Response.....	5056
Greater Christchurch Issues	5065
General Comments	5065
Other/Special Interest Topics	5067
Creating a Climate Fund & Accelerating Climate Adaptation.....	5067
General Comments	5067
Officer Response.....	5067
Vertical Capital.....	5250
General Comments	5250

Officer Response.....	5250
Social Housing	5258
General Comments	5258
Officer Response.....	5258
Yaldhurst Memorial Hall	5271
General Comments	5271
Officer Response.....	5272
Asset Sales.....	5393
General Comments	5393
Officer Response.....	5394
Tarras Airport.....	5407
General Comments	5407
Officer Response.....	5407
Commonwealth Games	5417
General Comments	5417
Officer Response.....	5417
New Brighton Suburban Master Plans / Oram Avenue.....	5425
General Comments	5425
Officer Response.....	5425
Civil Defence and Emergency Management	5435
General Comments	5435
Officer Response.....	5435
Public Transport	5447
General Comments	5447
Officer Response.....	5448
Cathedral.....	5492
General Comments	5492
Officer Response.....	5493
LTP Consultation	5536
General Comments	5536
Officer Response.....	5536
Engagement & Communications (General)	5569
General Comments	5569
Officer Response.....	5570

CCHL Matters.....	5587
General Comments	5587
Officer Response.....	5587
Governance	5595
General Comments	5595
Officer Response.....	5595
Staff Matters.....	5631
General Comments	5631
Officer Response.....	5631

Strategic Direction

Have we got the balance right?

General Comments

1215 submissions were received on the overall balance of our Draft Long-Term Plan.

315 provided comments in support of the balance, with some acknowledging the tough balancing act required by Council.

539 submitters provided comments in opposition of the proposed balance, 251 provided alternative proposals, and 131 provided general comments about the proposed balance.

Support

1027 - Bruce Shalders`

Yes

1031 - George Tylee

Yes.

1035 - Jean Peneha

Yes

1037 - Lisa Barnes

I believe so

1056 - John McDonald

On the right track

106 - Crispin Garden-Webster

Yes I think you have.

1067 - Iarene Jelley

Yes, but sort out the issues we have before bringing in more projects.

1081 - Joe Clarke

Yes

1087 - Julie Hansen

Yes

1094 - Katie Godman

yes

110 - Frank Spiewack

ok

1112 - Sarah Anderson (Friends of Christchurch Art Gallery Te Puna o Waiwhetū)

I believe the Council are working hard to find the right balance between the really key infrastructure projects, (water, roads, transport, climate resilience and so forth) and the heart and soul infrastructure (Galleries, Theatre, Festivals, Parks, Recreational Facilities and so forth).

1116 - Stephan Lloyd

Yes

1123 - Dean Walker

Yes

1126 - David Maciulaitis

Yes

1133 - Julie Stewart

On the whole yes

1143 - Stuart Berryman

Yes

1160 - Chichella Cook

Yes

1165 - Corey Sampson

Yes

1168 - Annie Pattison

[Transport > Transport (Operations)]

Yes, but you also need to advertise what you are doing because people just see road works and don't know what's going on. It's not advertised anywhere that infrastructure is improving. It's not automatic that seeing road works means that infrastructure is improving.

1173 - Hannah Landers

Yes I think so. It's important to invest in the basics

1212 - Saru Bhandari

Yes

1224 - Amanda OBrien

Yes

1246 - Tim Elstob

Yes

1265 - Jill Banbury

[Transport > Other], [Three Waters > Taumata Arowai Requirements], [Other/Special Interest Topics > Cathedral]

Yes, fairly much - times are tough as we will see from our rates increase in the future.

127 - Judith Clarkson

Yes basic needs need priority

1272 - Sarah Hogan

Yes

1281 - Jason Lathe

Yes

1290 - Aric Thorn

Yes

1295 - Ali Shafahi

yes

1298 - Jason Reekers

Yes

1304 - Kevin Stanley

Generally I think so.

1364 - Matt Sayer

Yes, I believe so

1380 - Sharon Lee

Yes

140 - Linda Harriswilliams

Yes.

1405 - Justin Standring

Yes

1422 - Tim Reed

Yes

1428 - Conor Keena

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Public Transport], [Transport > Cycleways], [Grants and Funding > Arts Centre], [Recreation, Sports and Events > Community Arts]

I think so. I think there should be a bit more going towards public transport, but I also recognise that's up to ECan. The budgets for cycle ways are good, but I think they can be prioritised in terms of timeframes. Ultimately, the cost of transport will reduce with more lighter, low power vehicles (including bikes), or with more people on buses. This will also help out with climate resilience. I am also concerned with the lack of funding going into the Arts Centre and other arts outlets (it might be there, but I didn't see it in my reading). I know it's always an easy cost to reduce but I think the arts are key part of a happy city.

1483 - Robert Zimmerman

Overall your got it right balance

1486 - Fabio Valle

Yes

1490 - Carolina Nery

What you all have achieved for the city is truly remarkable. My family has been part of the community-building efforts, and we couldn't be prouder. Coming from São Paulo, a city enriched by its free arts and entertainment, I've seen how it connects people with their identity, fosters relationships, and encourages learning. It fills life with meaning and diminishes loneliness. Those who learn are empowered to grow in every aspect of life. When I hear someone undermine these opportunities, I see them infringing on people's rights, which is truly disheartening.

1499 - Ben Davidson

[Three Waters > Water Supply (Capital)]

[Three Waters > Stormwater & Land drainage (Capital)]

[Strategic Direction> Have we got the balance right?]

I agree that investing in infrastructure for water security and reducing the impacts of flooding etc should be a priority.

1507 - Briar User

Yes

1512 - Denis McMurtrie

Yes very much so. Roads and transport as well as water infrastructure are all wery important.

1516 - Kerrie Young (Kāinga Ora – Homes and Communities)

1. Kāinga Ora - Homes and Communities ('Kāinga Ora') provides the below submission on the Draft Long Term Plan 2024 – 2034 ('LTP') for consideration by the Christchurch City Council ('CCC').
2. Kāinga Ora would like to indicate broad support for the draft Long Term Plan 2024-2034 and would like to see this adopted.

[Coder Note: Full attachment available]

1523 - Jonathan Burn

Yes

1525 - Caroline Mason

I think so

1535 - Robert Fleming (Wednesday Wheelies Bike Group St Albans)

Yes.

1540 - Isabel Carlyon

Yes

156 - Julieanne Giles

Yes

1589 - Barry Miller

I think so.

1593 - Rick Houghton

Yes

1636 - Sandra Thomson

Seems alright to me.

1647 - Barry Linwood

[Borrowing & Debt Management>Borrowing & Debt Management]; [Strategic Direction>Infrastructure Strategy]

I think you have. By borrowing now for infrastructure it is only fair that future generations of rate payers contribute to the upkeep of it. Also for all the generations to contribute to unforeseen costs on expansion or replacing infrastructure in the future is taken into account

1672 - Dickson Wong

Yes

1678 - Sarah Bonnington

Yes

1683 - Anne Forne

Yes

1689 - Josiah Morgan

The balance is pretty good

1714 - Caitlin Busch

Yes.

1715 - Geraldine Schaumkell

Yes

1724 - Jo Hikuroa

Yes overall.

1726 - Gavin Umuhuri

Yes.

1727 - Pumal Fernando

Somewhat right.

1738 - Aaron Clapham

yes

1742 - Graeme Hodge

Yes

1748 - Bee Prinsloo

Yes

1756 - Kieran Sweetman

Yes

1772 - Mark Bradley

I believe the overall plan is sensible.

1805 - Leigh Cunningham

Yes

1812 - Cathy McMillan

Overall it looks okay

1816 - Sarah Cook

Pretty much borrowing helps complete projects that will hopefully generate income to help pay that off

1817 - Qyana Curry

Yeah

1824 - Karen Banwell (Cass Bay Reserve Committee)

Yes

1832 - Greer Nakaroti

Yes

1838 - Charlotte Holland

It is a hard ballance but yes I think you have it right in light of the renegeged Zwaters ~~4~~ bill. This seems to be

1869 - Bill Cowen

Yes

>>>

Considering the cities position, I believe most of the LTP will be supported.

188 - Tony MacHarper

Overall - yes.

190 - Darian Troon

Yes, this is right.

191 - Jenny Harlow

Yes

194 - John Lieswyn

Yes

1940 - Enrica Sciarrino

yes

196 - Daniel Harris

Yes

1976 - Amanda Henderson

Yes

1979 - Julie McCloy

Yes, in general. It must be a hard balancing act.

2 - Zed Potgieter

Yes

2022 - Claudio Schill

[Strategic Direction>Climate Change]

Yes I believe the balance is mostly right, thinking long-term is crucial especially when it comes to transport options and addressing climate change.

2029 - Stefan Florea

Yes

2036 - Nathan Kirkness

I believe the balance is correct and the plan looks sound

2041 - Brian Burrell

Yes

2057 - Alicia Moggre

In general looks reasonable.

2058 - Janita Patrick

I think the overall plan sounds good as I too appreciate Christchurch as a place to raise a family.

2087 - Emma Norrish (Waipapa Papanui-Innes-Central Community Board)

The Waipapa Papanui-Innes-Central Community Board ('the Board') thanks the Council for the opportunity to submit on the Council's Draft Long Term Plan 2024-34. It does so in accordance with its role to represent, and act as an advocate for, the interests of its community in the Papanui-Innes-Central area. The Board fundamentally supports keeping the cost of, and any increase in the amount of rates charged, as low as possible while not losing sight of the priorities for the city that the Board understands to be important to residents. The Board supports the overarching proposal to focus on a deliverable capital programme to help drive the city forward, and acknowledges the efforts to ensure that debt repayments are spread fairly across the generations of ratepayers who will benefit from them where there is borrowing for new projects that have long-term value. The Board also supports the efforts to maintain enough financial flexibility to be able to effectively respond to unplanned events, agreeing that this is very important. As a city, region and country, we have much experience in recent times of needing to respond to, and recover from, a range of adverse events. The Board broadly considers that the overall proposal has got the balance right, reflecting that in the 'what matters most' early engagement residents in our Board area prioritised: drinking water, climate change, road and footpaths, travel choice, and parks and gardens, as being important to them.

>>>

The Council and our staff face significant and conflicting pressures in regard to minimising rates rises, while also recognising that residents provide feedback reflecting that they do not support lowering levels of service, and expect the city to thrive in ways that require continued investment and operational spending to be maintained.

2096 - Kate Divett

It is largely okay

2126 - Elfi Spiewack

Yes, as long as the cultural sector is not forgotten!

214 - John Hinchey

Generally you have a good balance.

2143 - Vicky Anderson

Fairly right.

220 - Sarah Young

Yes

2200 - Janna Robinson

I think so

223 - Rhiannon Mason

[Transport > Transport (Operations)]

Overall, the balance seems helpful especially with regards to improving transport.

2243 - Catherine Birch

Yes

2276 - Joshua Wells

Yes

2310 - Helen Broughton (Waipuna Halswell Hornby Riccarton Community Board)

Overall, the Board considers that the Council has got the balance right and that focus on a deliverable capital programme that helps drive the city forward, with particular investment in roads and transport infrastructure and in protecting and upgrading water networks reflects the feedback provided in response to the “What matters most” consultation.

2322 - Dillon Drummond

Yes

2345 - Deirdre Cottrell

Yes

2371 - Anna Wang

Yes

2387 - Jed O'Donoghue

About right

239 - Tiffany Thornley

Yes

2411 - Rachel Montejo

Yes

2435 - Johanna Borella

Yes

2453 - Bruce Gordon

yes

2455 - Ben van Opzeeland

Yes I think so. The inclusion of green spaces and the urban forests are good to see alongside community hubs and initiatives.

2457 - Hayden Johnstone

Yes, I think the overall balance is right. A big part of the budget is water expenses which need to be done/ cant be avoided and all other spending is about what I expect for healthy growth and sustaining the services we expect to have in a city like CHCH.

2463 - Rebekah Tregurtha

Looks ok.

2497 - Carolyn Lynn

Seem to.

2515 - Jane Hopkins

Yes

2516 - Robin Palmer

Overall, have we got the balance right?

Yes

2535 - Anne Batchelor

Yes

2565 - Neet Subraman

Mostly yes

2570 - Marie Gray

Kia ora koutou, thank you for the opportunity to comment on this draft long term plan.

Rates rises

I appreciate that councillors need to weigh up different priorities, the urgency and importance of action and issues of affordability. I am an ordinary person who is struggling just like everyone else.

The cost of food and insurance in particular is biting and we've had to make significant cuts. Of course, it would be nice to have more money in the pocket but then I look at the world that we are leaving for our kids and I think how can we afford not to take action. There has been a long history of successive governments, local and central who have been prepared to kick the can down the road, who have thought we can't afford that now, we will leave it for the future. Look at us now, we are facing multiple crises – biodiversity loss, freshwater quality, climate change, deficits in infrastructure. What a mess.

Despite the financial pressures, I am more than prepared to pay the projected rate rise. In fact, I am prepared to pay a lot more in rates – if I know that it will go towards addressing these challenges and improving the future for my kids. I know there are many people who genuinely can't afford any more and no amount of household cuts can make it work. But there are also many people who can pay more. I genuinely think that if people understand the challenges ahead and they know the money will go directly to the programmes that make a difference, they will understand the need to increase rates. People love their kids and they want the best for them. They want kids to grow up in a world with clean rivers and lakes, flourishing nature and a stable climate. They want their kids to have a sense of belonging, to participate actively and to experience the many benefits of living in a city like Christchurch. When we delay action because of affordability we also need to consider the costs of inaction.

We know with the increase in the severity and frequency of extreme weather events, ratepayers of the future (which are ourselves and our children) will have more costs not less. Things are never going to be cheaper than they are now.

2574 - Matthew Pont

Overall close enough.

Even though the cost of rates will go up, it is important that you continue to spend and invest. And cuts now are just greater costs for future rate payers. Don't screw over the next generation

2589 - Timothy Seay (Save the McDougall Campaign)

yes

2602 - Dorothy Jordan

Seems like you have because spending on the big stuff is critical eg reading, but it is interesting to read the public's view on what is important to them which as well as the "big stuff", what is important are the things that provide a customer service such as libraries, and our organisation CAB, does exactly that and that is why it is important to be included in funding for providing service to the community.

2633 - Steve Potter

Yes

2651 - Finn Blanchard

Overall I think so, I understand that some money needs to be saved.

2655 - Michele Mccaw

Yes >>> vulnerable people/communities

2671 - Julia Bradshaw

Probably,

2673 - Ben lamond

Yes you do

2691 - Ian Ebbs (South West Sports & Recreation Hub Inc)

yes

2699 - Graham Beswick

For the present time the balance seems right

2717 - Jacinta Maguire

Yes

2737 - Valerie Sloss

Mostly, yes.

Mostly, yes.

2742 - Caroline Dagger

Yes, I think so. The plan seems balanced and well considered.

I enjoy the vibe in the city and think we are on the right track.

2747 - Mark Thygesen

Yes, the balance between services and rates is good.

Thank you for a thoughtful, well reasoned plan.

2760 - Steven Verhoeven (Steve Shuttles)

Yes

2800 - Ellena Cameron

IF this is what you are doing now, I agree.

2811 - Nikora Nitro

[Other/Special Interest Topics > LTP Consultation]

looks good so far.

Congratulations for the great consult programme.

>>>

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Governance]

doing good.

great vibes

mayor is active + awesome.

2824 - Hannah Mason

For the most part, the balance is right. I understand the core reasons behind the rates increases and I am pleased to see investment in so many important things for the city.

2833 - Robbie Peacocke

The balance appears to be ok.

>>>

Investing in the city and the organisations that help to run it will pay off in the long term. Thinking beyond the short term is needed given the infrastructure and climate challenges the country will be facing over the next few decades

2852 - Aaron Ghattas

Generally, yes. >>> [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Urban Regeneration]

2855 - Kat Forrester

You are getting it more right now than what it was ten years ago. Just maintain the high standards of living, not cutting corners and making exciting developments and changes and intelligent urban planning choices.

2880 - Emma Martini

Overall yes,

2892 - Graeme Foster

I think so,

2898 - Jack Allan

Generally, yes.

2905 - Vida Zelenka

It's looking good

2912 - Shari Walker

Yes

2929 - Peter Cook

The balance seems appropriate, but there are inconsistent applications in the detail. For example, significant expenditure on Botanic Garden facilities but no support for the Arts Centre.

2935 - Tina Christians

Yes

2949 - Graeme John Marriott

Yes. I think you've got it about right.

>>>

I like the LTP

2972 - Ewan Baron

Overall, yes

2979 - Zac Beckett-Knight (Late Knight Productions Limited)

In short I'd say yes the balance is good

2987 - Penny Raid

Yes

2990 - Darryl Jan Atkinson

Yes

3000 - Simon Emett (Thin Tanks NZ)

We believe you have, focusing on this infrastructure sets up the city for future expansion and longevity.

3001 - Clive Howard-Williams

[Three Waters > Three Waters (operations)]

The balance overall appears right with three waters having a major influence

3008 - Wanda Kingma

Yes

3012 - George Laxton

I just want to straight up start this with I am more than happy for rates to rise, I think I may be in a minority, but I also realise that rates are great value for money, we get so much for our rates that we pay each year and I want the council to continue to provide the services that they do, and I want them to continue to provide more and the only way they can do that is by increasing rates so we can invest in our city for the long term (50 years), not just the 3 year political cycle.

3016 - Zarah Green

Yes about right

3029 - Rodrigo Gomez Fell

Overall, it seems OK. >>> But it should also consider the pressure towards infrastructure due to the future growth of Selwyn and Waimakariri districts. [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Greater Christchurch Partnership]

3033 - Linda Morgan

Yes

3037 - Robert Fletcher

Yes

3040 - Claire Wichman

Yes

3042 - Elvira Cheng

Yes

3056 - Carolyn Elcock

Yes

3058 - Robin Clements

Yes, sustainable future has to be the objective

3059 - Jarrod Coburn (The Ferrymead Trust)

You are doing your best in a tough situation. We think you have done well.

3073 - Christine Bradley

Yes

309 - Alice Huang

yes

3115 - Jane McCulla

Yes

3117 - Jamie Pratt

Yes, but it does come at an expense to smaller funding projects

3119 - Patricia Paul

Yes

3123 - Kate Markman

I think that's a good summary

3129 - Skye Arnopp

Balance seems good.

3142 - Ruth Jardine

Mostly .

3145 - Leah Wild

Yes

3187 - Debbie Hamilton

Yes

3193 - Allan Greenall

Yes

3197 - Viv Patton

Yes

3203 - Vic Daniel

no

3207 - Ariana Tune

Yes

321 - Tom Williams

Yes, this is a good balance focusing on climate adaption, transport, water and core services

3210 - Zara Anderton

Yes

3221 - Kenneth Dsouza

Yes, I am supportive of the council plans

3262 - Charlorte Verity-McCormick

[Spending > Te Kaha]

All in all, yes....EXCEPT the $286 million on Te Kaha...what a waste!! There are many, many Chch people who will never venture into the arena. Further more, while it may bring revenue and visitors to the city, this definitely is far too much to spend on a stadium which we don't really need (we have plenty of venues already!)

3263 - Allan Wood

Yes

3295 - Rachel Du Val

Yes

3296 - Sharon Gail Powney

Mostly, appreciate it is a tough job to balance it all

3301 - Anna Wilkes

Good to see focus on critical infrastructure - water, stormwater and wastewater as well as roads and transport links.

3336 - Margaret Lovell-Smith

On the whole I think so.

3349 - Rob McDonald

Yes maintenance of existing services and infrastructure is important

3351 - Derek Goring

Yes

3364 - Alison Murray

No.

3384 - Robert Biggs

Overall the balance is right.

3392 - Stephen Wood

Overall I think the balance is about right. I don't agree with cutting core services, and also need capital investment to maintain infrastructure and allow for growth. I think we should be putting money aside for some future contingencies.

3395 - Amanda Harris

I think so

3397 - Patrick Delahunty

Mostly yes

340 - David Wilkinson

Overall a rates increase of c21% over 3 years is bad but not as bad as some so yes you must have done well balancing up the pros and cons of culling certain services etc. I am assuming the Te Kaha components are single year charges only and not cumulative.

3403 - Shelley Keach

Sounds good

3431 - Phoebe Maguirr

No

3441 - Graham Kennedy

yes

3476 - John Fletcher

Pretty good - much as I would do.

3480 - Martin Robertson

Yes

3490 - Peter Minten

Yes, you have for most.

3500 - James Wallis

Yes, please keep investing in the city and infrastructure

3519 - Fiona Fenton

Yes

3525 - Andrew Hey

mostly alright

3531 - Chrissy Aguirei

Yes

3551 - Mika Muramatsu

Yes ❓❓

3581 - Steven Barbour

Within the restrictions of the present funding mechanism - yes, just about right.

3589 - Roxanne Brassington

Mostly probably

3601 - Bridget Allen

[Grants & Funding>Other Community Grants & Funding]

I think it is good to fund community groups that are working in Christchurch, as well new adventures.

3612 - Stephanie Noble

Yes

3629 - Marie Graham

Good intent

3630 - Julian Glyn

Broadly this looks like a sensible plan.

3632 - Judith Bell

I think so.

3638 - Patricia Frankland

Overall, yes

3640 - Angela Neal

This balance looks ideal

365 - Wendy Burton

yes these things are important

3661 - Steph Walker

I think so, yes.

3663 - Connor McIver

Generally, yes.

3672 - Neil McKenzie

Yes.

3679 - Janet Perry

Yes I think so.

3681 - Tara Daellenbach

Generally, the balance isn't too bad,

3698 - Clive Beaumont (Canterbury Basketball)

I believe so My concern is an equitable use of facilities for sport bearing in mind participation by tamariki and rangitaha

3700 - Ian Cumberpatch

Generally BUT we need more consideration for funding support for the community based assets

3704 - Logan Cane

I think so, in terms of overall proportions. It is no secret that most of the investment needs to be in transport and in water services. How the balance within these main categories (e.g. transport) is something I think needs more work.

3715 - Jason Bridgwater (Linwood Rugby League)

Yes

3751 - Tom Rainey

[Rates > Residential]

Absolutely maintain services, and and implement small increases in rates as required. Inflation and increased cost of living is an accepted evil at the moment. Rate payers expect a prudent, well balanced long term plan that equitably addresses the needs and requirements of the city and rate payers.

376 - Mattias Wieland

Yes,

3768 - Tracey Klatt

Generally about right, as there are a lot of things that need spending on in Christchurch.

3783 - Arthur McGregor

[Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Transport > Public Transport Infrastructure], [Transport > Roads (Capital)], [Strategic Direction > Climate Change], [Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right]

Overall I think the balance is about right. However, I would like to see increased focus on reducing our carbon emissions by improving active and public transport modes and reducing the spend on roads for cars.

3789 - Samantha Astin-Brown

Yes, get the basics (roads, water etc.) right and the rest will follow.

3798 - M-Webb User

Yes and understanding especially the needs of water and other infrastructure projects around Banks Peninsula.

3818 - Ali Moore

I think so.

3820 - Rowan Sprague

Overall, yes I think the balance is right.

>>>

I agree with maintaining the existing level of services.

384 - Susan Yardley

Yes

3842 - Reuben Davidson

I support the overall direction of travel of the Long Term Plan.

3859 - Sally Widdowson

Mostly yes.

3862 - Katharine Metherell

The overall proposal is ok

3865 - Maxine Donovan

It sounds right and hopefully right mix. With Christchurch definitely getting on top of earthquake damaged areas which involves safer bridges, but also cleaner non-chlorine, non-nitrate water important.

3871 - Philip Buchanan

[Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Transport > Public Transport Infrastructure], [Parks > Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration], [Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

I agree with the sustained funding levels for core services and infrastructure renewal. I believe there should be higher investment into areas that will help combat climate change - building a convenient and grade-separated cycle network, increasing public transit, revegetation on the Port Hills, and building a climate resilience fund.

3887 - Michael Patterson (Commodore Airport Hotel Ltd)

Yes, we believe so.

3889 - Jessica Rees

It seems so, for the most part. Libraries, parks and recreation services make our city a wonderful place to live.

3891 - Christopher Gauci
On face value yes

3892 - Megan Bissett
Yes

3894 - Greg Siddells
Yes

3926 - Hannah Powell
Yes!

3930 - Peter McCarthy
Yes

3942 - Soongseok Yoon
Yes.

3970 - Allannah Lovelady

[Transport > Roads (capital)]

Yes, however it would be great to see the largest proportion of transport investment (capex) on a walkable central city, and green transport options. We do not need more motorways.

3977 - Defyd Williams

Some good strategic thinking.

3980 - Marlene Rohan rail, have we got the balance

Yes

3992 - Sue Piesse

Overall, have we got the balance right?

Yes, definitely infrastructure spend!

4001 - Jennifer Porter

Yes

4005 - Janet Lockyer

This seems to be to be good,

4013 - Benjamin Kelly

Yes

4016 - Joanne Zervos

Overall, have we got the balance right?

Yes, but focus on must haves not nice to have.

4018 - Winston Howison

I am happy with overall Council Services.

>>>

I have faith that the Council will set good priorities. I believe it is important to future proof our city which requires investment.

402 - Cynthia Charron

Regarding the Alternative opportunity and options, I believe it is important NOT to reduce services; many residents from all walks of life rely on the varied series provided by the council.

4022 - Ann Margaritis

Yes

4024 - Richard McCaskill

Yes

4025 - Robin Wynne-Williams

Overall you have the balance right

4036 - Mike Baeck

Sounds about right.

4037 - Jo Kidd

Yes

4040 - Rebecca Robin

Yes

407 - Bic Runga

Overall yes, wonderful.

417 - Jackie Astall

Yes.

434 - Adam Hutchinson (oVRcome)

Yes

471 - Lynette Harris-Hogan

Yes

514 - Dennis Foley

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre]

About right apart from Art Centre funding

526 - Stephen French

Generally, the balance is right re rates, water, transport, parks and climate, but issues such as the arts and education are lacking in attention.

569 - Malin Smith

Yes

571 - Judita Paulionyte

Yes

575 - Murray Walls

YES

590 - Grant Hartley

Yes

601 - David Ralph

Yes. I believe so.

608 - Patrick Clarke

Yes, it is important to spend on the infrastructure that enables the city to function.

617 - Gerard Loader

About as close as you can to keep everyone happy

623 - Linda Everett

Yes

624 - Emma Velde

Probably

63 - Jean Lindo

Looks ok to mr

644 - Julie Paterson

Pretty much

645 - Stewart Mckenzie

Yes

650 - Joseph Baxter

Yes, mostly.

652 - Sharon Howells (Sharon Howells School of Dance)

In the scheme of things yes

653 - Jane Cartwright

yes water, climate change, community

655 - Patricia Holden

For most things - yes

667 - Frans Jeldrick Oorthuys

Looks ok

682 - Louise Jolley

Yes

686 - Nicola Bush

yes

698 - Danica Gilmore

The proportion of spending in each area seems reasonably fair

707 - Chris Mardon (Ecobulb Limited)

Yes you have got the balance right.

749 - Sandra Pearson

Yes.

752 - Vivienne Hewson

Yes

756 - Jonathan Harrington

Yes, I support the proposal.

771 - Chris Foubister

Overall the balance seems ok

79 - Tiana MacDonald

Yes

799 - John Ascroft

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Asset Sales]

Yes, consider asset sales as well

810 - Susan Mullord

Yes Yes

813 - Jannette Stiven

Yes

819 - SIMON THOMAS

Yes!

83 - Murray Victor

Yes definitely!

896 - Ged Robinson

[Spending - Capital Programme (General)]

Yes i think you have the balance right, my major concern is areas where growth has happened substantially and infrastructure has not meet those needs. Halswell is a concern for me

897 - Jonathan Mathias

Yes

899 - Sharon Pavich

Yes, looking ahead and considering how it will affect future rate payers is great.

901 - Noel Meek

Yes - I am very impressed with the balance - particularly the forward thinking on climate change and the continuing investment in Libraries.

902 - Karen McElhinney

I believe you are on track to deliver the requirements of a forward-moving modern city.

916 - David Minifie

[Grants & Funding - Arts Centre Funding]

Generally yes. If you want our city to be a cultural powerhouse you will need to continue to support the Arts Centre.

939 - Alana Bashall

So far

943 - Coulton Finch

so far

953 - Sinéad Wise

Yes

967 - Audrey Baldwin

Yes, I think the plan is looking good over all.

969 - Rachel Brodie

Yes

Oppose

100 - Anthea Fraser

Lots of inefficiencies

>>>

Back to basics in general and fixing the EQ damage properly would be a good start.

1012 - Andrea Mcgregor

No. I dont believe the balance is right. Sports have taken a huge chunk of budget. Things like Orana Park that ALL people can enjoy are completely overlooked sadly.

1030 - Andrea Gosney

No

1034 - James Forde

No

1054 - Jasmine Neale

No

1068 - Redacted Redacted

no. spending too much! reduce road works. silly stuff like putting bollards on corners then taking them away because of feedback. its like you have teams out there spending millions building stuff willy nilly then reacting to public feedback. Just reduce spending. look hard at what is spent. You are planning to drastically increase rates.....think about the people paying for all this. whatever it takes stop spending.

1071 - Brian Donovan

I am concerned about the lack of communication and transparency with the wider public. We have a very good Coastal Councillor in Celeste but there is so much she can do.

As for the LTP balance, it really is a bit of a have as having completed previous feedback along with thousands of others we find the same problem arises. The plan never sticks to the schedule of the LTP and projects repeatedly get pushed out.

Overall apart from New Brighton, I believe far too much attention and money has been ploughed into the inner city at the expense of the suburbs, there needs to be some balance... stadiums, streets, convention centre, town hall etc. Well over a billion whereas the rest of the city has languished.

>>>

Stick to it...particularly relating New Brighton and the east which has been neglected at the expense of central CHCH.

1079 - Gayle Johnston

There are certain things that need to be adjusted

11 - Bridget Latimer

No I dont believe so. The rates rise is unsustainable and I believe we need to look at cutbacks to reduce this.

1100 - Alistair McKinnon

[Transport>Roads (Capital)]; [Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]; [Three Waters>Other]

No, emphasis needs to be on core water / roading infrastructure first rather than adding new things such as cycle lanes etc. And this must be in a coordinated way

1113 - Graeme Plank

No

113 - Sarah Cragg

Not really

1131 - Kirsty Smith

No

1132 - Gavin Fitzgerald

No

115 - Dean Milroy

No

1174 - Wendy Morton

[Rates>Other]

No. Christchurch has an increasing aging population who cannot afford to pay the sort of increases in the rates to support your proposed expenditure. You need to rethink and cut your cloth to suit your purse on behalf of the ratepayers

1175 - Jonathan Ludgater

[Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]

No too much emphasis on cycleways that benefit very few and hinder everyone

1191 - Ava Johnson

The current approach doesn't quite align with my vision for a sustainable, equitable, and vibrant Christchurch. As a resident, I'm eager to share my ideas for improving our city's future through a more thoughtful Long Term Plan.

1192 - Shannay Henning

No

1194 - Aaron Tallott

No

1210 - Dianna Koorey

No

1216 - Glenn Maguire

No

1217 - Ila Couch

No

1218 - Eva Rogatski

[Transport > Cycleways]

NO- I haven't heard of anyone who agrees with the cycle lanes. I am not willing to see my rates increase for something that I see absolutely no value in. There are many areas that we should be putting projects on hold rather than borrowing more money or expecting rate payers to have to pay and even larger sum.

1220 - Jake Slaney

[Recreation, Sports & Events > Community Arts]

No. After the earthquake, a fundamental aspect of the city was lost. This was inexpensive space for art and artists to flourish. While rebuilding infrastructure for the economic aspect of the city is vitally important, so is helping to revive what is essentially the soul of any city... its arts community.

1244 - K Stanley

Not if it's costing this much

>>>

Need to find a way to make it cheaper cut the luxuries

>>>

Need to realise there won't be future generations here to plan for if we can't afford to live here now with the current increase proposed

1274 - Phillip Bewick

No. I'm all for making our city better but there is a lot of wasted tax payers money going to things that very few people use.

1278 - Tim Marsh

No, tighten the belt like everyone else is having to do currently

1287 - Felicity Price

No. There is no allowance for continuing to fund valuable city assets such as the thriving Arts Centre, which is not only great for tourists and locals but also valuable to the city's heritage and history.

129 - Barbara Harding

No, I do not think you have got the balance right at all.

1291 - Christopher Bowen

No - preserve the cultural capital of this city by maintaining cultural spaces

>>>

Prioritise learning, arts and music. These are our life blood

13 - David Thorn

No you are completely ignoring the ability of rate payers to finance the capital programme and the services. If this was a business you would be cutting the expenses to suit the expected income. Not just using the ratepayers to prop up poor financial management over years by councilors and poor advice given to councilors by council staff

1300 - Barbara Dunne

No you have not got the balance right. The Mayor has been an abysmal failure. Wasteful spending. The East of Christchurch is a shameful blight on Christchurch and Mr Fix it All Phil and his finance committee do not give two shits about the East.

1309 - David Simpson

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund], [Spending > Te Kaha]

No. How can you tell me you've already committed $286 million through 2025-2027 to complete Te Kaha, and then suggest that possibly organising a climate resilience fund that could 'amass as much as $127 million' over ten years!? If my rates are to rise I expect you to prioritise the health and safety of future generations over sporting corporate profit.

131 - Helen Peate

No

1311 - Peter Lynch

No

1312 - Andrea Bromley

No. This council should not go into further debt to fund anything right now. We have to tighten our belts and everyone I have spoken to agrees the council should too. Focus on the things that need fixing, but if its not broken, don't fix it....yet.

1319 - Luke Sweeney

No you need to reduce spending. How much money is continually being wasted.

1322 - Kelly Robertson

No.

1326 - Allison Oneill

no. you are spending money you do not have year on year. you cannot run a business this way, you get away with running a city that way by not caring about ratepayers, continuing to try and milk us as a endless source of income for choices you cannot afford. businesses dont have access to such "unlimited" income.

1330 - Gary Bint

No

1332 - Liam White

[Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Transport > Transport (Operations)]

Lol no. You spend money on pointless cycle ways and bus lanes and speed bumps. You make the city worse

1333 - Daniel Roome

No, too much spending

1334 - David Cowie

Hard to tell, I don't see much happening with road repairs nor do I see projects being kept within the budget given to them. I would say no realistically.

1335 - Julie Turner

No spending money we haven't got

1340 - Tim Roulston

No

1341 - Moore Todd

No. Too much spent on pet projects re: cycle lanes. Just get the basics right. Roads water rubbish mowing the grass occasionally.

1342 - Martin Ansley

no.

1344 - Sean Lally

[Spending > Capital Programme (General)]

No, cost of living is too high and we seem to be finding project that have gone well over budget. Why are we allowing costs to increase from initial quotes..?

1358 - Rob Noster

No wasteful spending on non essentials,

1362 - Pablo Rodriguez

Not quite. I am writing to express my vision for a more sustainable, equitable, and livable city.

1377 - J Scandrett

No, $4million saving is peanuts compared to 1 Billion year spend Stop being inefficient with council resources, improve performance output

>>>

Focus on the essential services and leave" the nice to have stuff" OUT Start paying attention to what ratepayers are saying and not treat public feedback as fulfilling obligations and totally ignoring their opinions and thoughts

1402 - Martin Smallman

[Spending > Our proposed spending]

No. Far too much spent on non essential infrastructure. Fix our horizontal infrastructure. Everything else is secondary.

1406 - Eve Lafferty

No. Cycleways and public transport and sustainability are not prioritised

1407 - Scott Butcher

[Strategic Direction > Climate Change], [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Strategic Transport]

No I think the budget does not reflect the urgent climate and biodiversity crisis that we face. The proportion of money spent on road renewals and infrastructure for cars vs other forms of more sustainable transport seems disproportionate.

141 - Ann Coates

No, too much money being spent on nice to haves and not the basics.

>>>

deal with the basics and get that right.

1418 - Wayne Biddorff

No

>>>

Eliminate all dogs from The City area to get back Christchurch city for people
(ie: dogs do not pay rates)

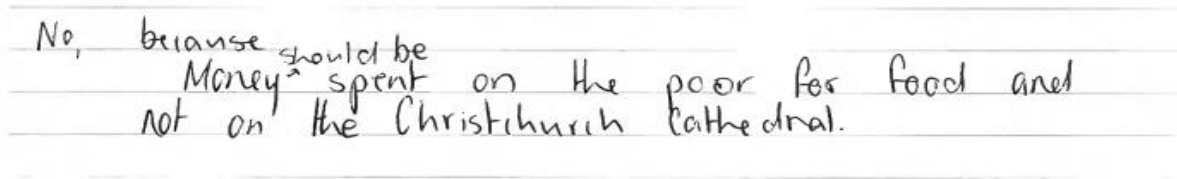

Thank you for your submission.

142 - Carolyn Neame

Focus on the urgent stuff and put things like cycleways etc aside for the time being!

1420 - Luis Jimenes

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Cathedral]

No, because Money should be spent on the poor for food and not on the Christchurch Cathedral.

1446 - Emma Waddell

No, you are going to make families that are already struggling, struggle more.

1449 - Thane Tremewan

This budget is an insult to the people of Christchurch. It prioritises short term gain over long term investment. It tries to hide the impending—and necessary—rates increases that the next few years will demand.

147 - Colleen Eason

Not completely

1491 - Lindsay Richards (Westmorland Residents Association)

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?]

[Transport > Roads (Capital)]

Pretty close, but I believe too much money is spent on roads and transport infrastructure - not so much "spent" as "wasted". The cost of just about all projects regularly balloon out from that budgeted, and if you did away with all the road cones, the road closures, the detours, the "stop/go" people, the attenuator trucks and miscellaneous worksite experts who stand around watching while one man actually digs the hole, and went back to basics, you'd save millions. Compare the cost of building a simple roundabout today, with what it would have cost 10 or 20 years ago. Maybe focus on road conditions, rather than all the speed humps, traffic calming measure, superfluous and conflicting speed signs every couple of metres (at $1000 a pop, according to the Mayor), and just fix the roads.

1497 - Alice Zhu

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?]

[Rates>Residential rates]

No, everyone is suffering from financial difficulties, raise this amount of rate is putting maximum burden on people's lives! Stop taking so much money from people and spend it on place where majority do not agree.

1498 - Charlie Due

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?]

[Spending>Our Proposed Spending]

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration>Coastal Hazards Adaptation & Adaptation Planning]

I feel as though CCC could be prioritising mitigation of flood risk as much as possible to ensure managed retreat strategies have minimal effect on Christchurch residents. I also believe the New Brighton/CHCH East ward should receive even more focus from Council given the amount of work required to bring it to the standard CCC is upholding in other parts of the city.

150 - Jeremy Foate

No, cultural and heritage projects hugely undervalued.

1500 - Warwick Schaffer

Proposed rates rises are well ahead of inflation and in fact contributing to it. This show the balance is not right, council need to downsize.

1501 - Jason Middlemiss (Waimāero Fendalton-Waimairi-Harewood Community Board)

The Board thanks the Council for the opportunity to submit on the Draft Long Term Plan 2024-34. While acknowledging the effort invested in the draft LTP, the Board regrets that this process hasn't delved deeper into assessing levels of service to identify potential cost-saving measures. In the current climate of escalating living costs, where financial strain is palpable for many, it's imperative that we leave no stone unturned. Unfortunately, the thorough review necessary to discern where savings could be realized seems to have been overlooked. This oversight is concerning as it leaves us without a clear understanding of where efficiencies could be made. Consequently, it's premature to affirm that the balance has been struck correctly. Given the absence of essential information, it's difficult to justify the current rate. Moving forward, it's essential that we conduct the required analysis to ensure our financial decisions are informed and equitable for all stakeholders.

>>>

[Strategic Direction > Additional Savings & Efficiencies]

The Board's preference is for the Council to explore other ways to bring down our proposed rates increases. The Board reiterates its concern at reports that a number of opportunities for operational cost savings were not explored by the Council. While it is possible that many of these options would not have been acceptable to the community, we cannot know for sure without asking them. The Board is concerned that this has undermined our community's ability to provide feedback on ways they would like the Council to save money. This reinforces our previous comment about lack of trust in the Council.

1515 - Andrew Douglas-Clifford

No - there is a lot spent on road renewals, and not enough spent on alternative (and cheaper to maintain) modes of transport such as cycleways. We are also not spending enough to mitigate climate change - we need to be doing more and sooner, and it is also likely that the impacts will arrive sooner than we are ready for.

1517 - Felix Harrison

[Parks > Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration], [Strategic Direction > Climate Change]

No. This Council's main priority should be investing in regenerating and enhancing its Biodiversity and using nature-based solutions to protect against natural disasters brought on by the climate crisis.

1519 - Matthew Williams

No. The overall position should have been, how can we reduce the rates compare to previous years and deliver MORE long term capital investment. Why are we spending ~15 million on say the art gallery versus ~65 Million on waste water.

1520 - Wendy Butcher (Canterbury WEA)

Forward thinking by any organisation is vital and reduction in projects which minimise our climate change impact is not getting the balance right.

1543 - John Mowat
not yet

1547 - Graham Allan
no you have not got the balance right.

1568 - Kathryn May
No, to have our rates increasing every year is not right, we need to cut some services.

1570 - Stephen Dynes
No

1572 - Olive Easterbrook

[Strategic Direction > Climate Change]

No. I don't think the council is doing enough about climate change. The council has said it won't be able to reach it's own emissions targets. This is not OK. It is not good enough. This is my future you are talking about

1573 - Oliver Denman
No. I don't feel that we can become a cultural powerhouse by allocating 1% to the arts.

1574 - David Cassidy
No you haven't and you are costing the rates more than they should be paying

158 - Nathan Foord
No

1581 - Ann Kleiss
No

1585 - Rachel Smith

No.

1591 - Leo Adriano

No

1594 - Lisa Geary

No

1600 - Sharlena Chapman

No

1613 - David Browne

[coders note. Overall, have we got the balance right?

No I do not believe so.

162 - Christine Wehrmeier

No

1634 - Emma Cameron

No

1637 - Megan Andrews

Not really.

1640 - Veronica Leigh-Ogden

No

1641 - Win Douglas

Np

1646 - Dale McGregor

No,

165 - Brett Painter

No.

1657 - Victoria Panckhurst

No

1660 - Sophia Bidwell

[Libraries > Libraries (Capital)], [Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

Not really. Those things are important but you have forgotten about things like the libraries and the Arts Centre. I was horrified to see you are cutting their funding. This is a very culturally important place for me and my family and one of the few links we have to pre-Earthquake Christchurch.

1670 - Juliet Robertson

Not enough towards arts and culture

1676 - James Boland

[Strategic Direction>Climate Change]; [Grants & Funding>Arts Centre Funding]; [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration>Greater Christchurch Partnership]

No. Need to commit more to climate adaptation works. Need to retain funding for the Arts Centre. Where is the mention of funding for feasibility of mass rapid transport? Should that be listed in the LTP?

168 - Brydie Lauder

No

1682 - Ruby Perring

[Grants and Funding>Arts Centre Funding]

No, fund the art centre

170 - Jeff Clark

No

1701 - James Friend

Absolutely not. We need to minimise rates increases as much as possible. We are in a cost of living crisis so a 12.4% increase is completely unacceptable.

1702 - Laura Xavier

I feel you have not, the roads are poorly built and require re-work after a short while. I'm not convinced that spending half a billion dollars on carriageway will make any difference. [Transport > Roads (Capital)]

1709 - Aaron Cumming

Stop putting our rates up there is a limit where this can take you. Stop adding charges for stuff that was already supposedly included in our rates because you and previous councils have mismanaged the funds. Stop paying over priced contract companies and negotiate them down or kick them to the curb.

1710 - Ashwin Kurup

No. I strongly disagree. cut down the spending and help people.

1711 - Eluishia Hart

No you haven't!

172 - Bronze Templeton

Your priorities are wrong. If you want to increase rates by that much then your priorities are wrong.

>>>

Yet again if you are proposing rate rises like you are, then your priorities are wrong

>>>

dissapointed

1736 - Jeremy Phillips

No

1740 - Rosalie Hughes

No I don't think you do.

1746 - Nigel Vine

No

1751 - Matthew Tolan

No, I don't think so. The Council acknowledges that the proposed LTP breaches the "balanced budget" benchmark.

1755 - Jenny Heffer

Perhaps the council could stop all the grandiose plans and get back to basics. The multi purpose stadium is a prime example. Although this will bring in revenue we have to get the teams, shows etc to come here

1760 - Angus Bromley

No

1761 - Elaine Dunlop

No

1764 - Chris Conwest

No, you have been focusing on political reelection.

1766 - Jan Edwards

No, you have not got the balance right! The Councillors need to understand they are spending our money, not theirs! Please listen!

1771 - Jimmy Hua (Cantebery Court Motel)

Not at all.

1778 - Jane Houghton

I don't know; Three waters = 24%, others = 22%, transport 16% etc. What is others at 22% !?!?! It's the small things that matter.

1780 - Alison Griffith-Collins

No.

1788 - Sandra Ward

You need to have a re-think and concentrate on the most important requirements. The majority of people are struggling and a huge rates increase doesn't help anyone. For example the Harewood Road Cycle Way, I realise it will never be cheaper to do but you need to fund fixing existing roads, traffic flow issues, potholes etc as a priority.

179 - Bridgette Smith

No I don't believe you have.

1790 - Hayley K

Far from it

180 - Kevin McSweeney

No

>>>

Too much focus on "nice to haves"

>>>

Focus should be on essential items

1810 - Phil Thackwell

No

1814 - Jenny Atkin

No, you haven't got the balance right.

>>>

Reset your targets. You have climbed too high with unachievable goals. Put more common sense and prioritize the essentials. Listen to what people want. Be more attentive for the majority of the people rather than to loud minority groups. It is our money that your are dealing with, and we are already stretched to the max.

1819 - Gavin Millar

No.

1825 - John Davies

No you have not. Rate rises of that scale are unacceptable. Until we can build up reserves etc to fund 'nice to haves' please only spend on 'must haves'

1836 - James McGregor

No. You are spending excessively.

1852 - Jessica Lamb

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Public Transport]; [Parks>Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration]; [Strategic Direction>Have we got the balance right?]

No there needs to be better funding for services. We need a better bus system ~~so that that~~ is more efficient so that it doesn't take me 1 hour to get to the Port Hills. There is also a HUGE mental health crisis in Ōtautahi - this is partly due to the lack of native bush areas that are key to our overall health. We need more native bush in urban areas - e.g. green corridors like in Palmerston North.

Rates

1864 - Kylie Williams

No you dont. Everyone is struggling and you want to money into bike lanes which most cyclists dont use.

1871 - Marlina Cooper

No

1882 - Anna-Marie Browne

[Transport>Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)]; [Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]; [Recreation, Sports & Events>Community Arts]; [Three Waters>Stormwater & Land Drainage (Capital)]; [Grants & Funding>Arts Centre Funding]; [Other/Special Interest Topics>Public Transport]; [Transport>Transport (Operations)]

Has CCC got the balance between its services and rates right:

No, the CCC is not doing enough in services. I think there should be more funding for bus lanes, bike lanes, flood protection, the Arts Centre, cultural and entertainment, ^{and} mental health initiatives. The CCC should also fund more electric buses ~~and~~ establish free public WiFi in the bus interchange ^{and create more electric car charging stations.}

Rates

Should the council increase rates in order to maintain existing services?

Yes No

1884 - Sophie Robb

Its too much to onboard during a recession

>>>

Cut some of it to make rates cheaper

1889 - Grace Rotherham

No! It's more important to focus on a sustainable future than keeping rates low!

1904 - Maria Lee

No,

1913 - Liz Meek

No

1921 - Harry Lawrence

No the balance has not been struck right in this budget. 'Driving our city forward' does not mean abandoning institutions like the Arts Centre for new builds like the stadium that have overblown budgets that ratepayers will be paying for generations. The fact that the council have completely withdrawn funding for key cultural institutions in favour of 'looking modern' in flashy new buildings is disgraceful and needs an immediate review and reconsideration.

1927 - Donna Gillatt

No. All non essential services should be on hold during a recession.

1932 - Cynthia Carey

[Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Transport > Transport (Operations)], [Three Waters > Water Supply (Capital)], [Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Mattes]

No, we do not need cycle lanes, we do not need speed bumps, we do not need it want chemicals in our water, we do not need nice to haves and you council need a clean out with no pay rises

1938 - Alice Busbridge

No, we're not planning far enough into the future. Things are getting to a dire situation before anything is being done about it. Projects are then rushed and poorly executed - a band aid fix which then needs to be properly fixed again at a later date.

1939 - Mary Sefton

No

>>>

No way Over spending out of control

1945 - Lucy Howell

[Strategic Direction > Climate Change], [Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

No. Not enough money is being put towards climate mitigation. More funding should be put into public transportation and cycle ways. The current plan would not reach the emission goals of the CCC (halved by 2030). It also does not support enough community spaces such as the arts centre.

1950 - Shanae Kirk

[Parks > Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration], [Parks > Sports Grounds & Facilities], [Art Gallery & Museums > Museums (Capital)]

No. Allocating just $23 million to museums and art galleries over the next 10 years, compared to $100 million to sports fields is not an adequate balance in money allocation to our cultural environment. In terms of our natural environment, allocating just $2 million to biodiversity is extremely unbalanced, as conservation of our native species is vital. To work towards our 'Predator Free by 2050' goal, we need to allocate more time and monetary resources.

1968 - Kelly Osborn

No - you need to stop spending on non essential services.

1996 - Iain Nicholls

[Three Waters > Waste Water, Water Supply, Stormwater & Land Drainage], [Strategic Direction > Climate Change]

Overly ambitious, particularly with regard to water infrastructure and climate change provisions.

1997 - Justine Wright

No, the balance is weighted heavily towards very high long term debt with no configuring in the projections for the running of the council, the implementations costs of the projects and the continued running costs of the planned projects. The necessity of the projects is far outweighed by the medium to long term debt that will be rested upon the rate payers.

2007 - Olivia Wesley

No

201 - AJ Wade

No.

2028 - Karyn Haugh

No

2038 - Colbie Van Dyk

[Transport>Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)]; [Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]; [Recreation, Sports & Events>Community Arts]; [Three Waters>Stormwater & Land Drainage (Capital)]

.....
No we need more art ^{funding} ~~funding~~ bus & bike lanes and flood protection.

2039 - India Johnson

[Transport>Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)]; [Recreation, Sports & Events>Community Arts] absolutely not, we need more funding put toward art funding & bus lanes

206 - Shane Morrow

No.

2073 - Peter Cook

Absolutely not. More should be spent on infrastructure instead of flash expensive stadiums and fossils like the Cathedral

2074 - Andrei Kardos

No

2075 - Kevin McGuigan

No.

2099 - Eli Watson

has CCC got the balance between its ser

No, we need more services

2105 - Tawhai Darnielle Te Karu

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration>City Planning]

No - make more houses, so rental properties rent prices can lower not heightened.

2108 - Briar Rotherham

[Transport>Transport (Operations)]; [Three Waters>Stormwater & Land Drainage (Capital)]; [Recreation, Sports & Events>Community Arts]; [Strategic Direction>Have we got the balance right?]

has CCC got the balance between its services and rates right:

No. We need more funding in transport, Flood
Protection and arts funding.

2109 - Te Aomihia Te Huia

Nope.

2110 - Jennifer McMaster

[Parks>Tree Canopy]; [Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]; [Other/Special Interest Topics>Public Transport]

Definitely not. ~~The council needs~~ The council needs to be spending more on reforestation of the port hills, and general greening of the city, as well as more and safer ~~by~~ bicycle lanes and more busses.

2112 - Matt Easterbrook

[Strategic Direction > Climate Change]

No. The council said it will not be able to meet its own emissions targets. This plan needs to change to prioritise actions that will allow us to meet our emissions targets. We need to do this for the next generations who will live in Christchurch and be living through the impacts of the climate crisis

2137 - Paula Densem

No

2142 - Simon Cutler

Too much focus on things that are nice to have and not what we need. Times like this focus on the NEEDS

2151 - Dominique Pope

[Transport > Other], [Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

No. There is so much money going into working on main roads that upsets and worsens traffic flow when many roads in the city, such as Barrington Road, is lumpy and uneven. The arts are an essential part of the heart of the city, drawing people in with art, culture, shows and exhibitions. Everyone of every age can engage. There is already a huge lack of support for the arts and defunding the art centre would be a failure on the behalf of our council to uphold our heritage and culture as a city.

2153 - Chiara Anderson

No, there is not enough in the cultural and arts.

2157 - John Quayle

No. Too much is being spent on vanity projects

2180 - Amy Elliot

Has CCC got the balance between its services and rates right:

Services must be pulled away from stadiums and other high cost projects and be sent towards urgent employment concerns

2187 - Rylee Single

No. What about the continuing projects that you have going currently? Or the ones that have been started but put on hold because of lack of funding?

2189 - James Riddoch (Property Council New Zealand)

Property Council advocates for the creation of a well-designed, functional and sustainable built environment. While we understand that Council is operating in a tough economic environment, we are concerned that some of the Council's proposals, such as the vacant site differential, may negatively impact businesses and property owners in Christchurch. We ask that Council be transparent on the impacts on such issues, specifically given that one of the Council's strategic priorities for 2022-2025 is building trust and confidence in the Council through meaningful partnerships and communication.

2190 - Stacy Rendall

Not really

22 - Grace Colcord

Fundamentally, I think that money is not being used in the right spaces. Which may be easier to say from my perspective of not having to deal with these budgets. But I do think that is a reflection of long evolving issues within our society in Aotearoa. We keep pushing our people further into despair, which makes other issues significantly harder to bear. When instead, if money was invested into community enriching, well-being enhanced, future safeguarding initiatives, there would be mental shift of gratitude and enjoyment.

>>>

Does not promise a future for now, or later. Rather feels like a struggle that the people of Otautahi will face and have to undo in years time after the spend timeframe.

2202 - Patricia Jamieson

[Transport > Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)], [Transport > Carparking (Capital)]

I don't think so. It seems there wasn't as much forethought in the city planning when it comes to congestion and rejuvenating interest in the city center, with public transport being under-funded and car parks taking over the city center and creating a barrier to entry. People would rather not visit the central city with the heavy road usage, exorbitant parking fees and unreliability and availability of public transport, which leads to more funding being poured into campaigns to bring people back to the city center that could have been spent on other things.

2207 - Ian Thomas (Athletics Canterbury Inc.)

[Recreation, Sports & Events > Events]

Unfortunately not, the need to slash funds to keep rates as low as possible isn't an easy juggling act, but reducing money available for things like events will harm the long term economic growth of the city, visitor numbers and also not help organisations bring national and international events to the city.

2215 - Gretchen Smith

No, arts and culture matter to people and the Arts Centre is an important part of Christchurch.

2227 - Megan Officer-Christmas

No

2262 - Rowan Prestage

No, you need to know where the value is. Don't spend so much money on things to make the city pretty - it won't be pretty until the existing infrastructure is dealt with

2267 - Redacted Redacted

No - there is a commitment to large projects that need to take second place to repairing/replacing important infrastructure such as underground services, power water and climate change. In our opinion what follows repairing/replacing important infrastructure is maintaining the facilities and operations that benefit and support families.

2273 - Jessica Cunnold

No, there needs to be more consideration for art and cultural aspects of the city.

2282 - Nicola Columbus

[Grants & Funding>Arts Centre Funding]

No. Without the Arts Centre the city will have no soul

2308 - Sarah Elicker

No, I don't believe you have. While I appreciate the considerable work by staff that's gone into the plan and the financial strain many of us are facing, I think too many compromises have been made that will limit our city's livability and functionality in the future.

2313 - William Godsoe

I do not think you have the balance right

2326 - Amanda Booth

No. There needs to be more on areas that promote a healthy natural environment and healthy people. Less money should be spent where continued or increased use would lead to more climate emissions per capita.

2330 - Bradley Conder (Novotel Christchurch & Ibis Christchurch)

I don't believe so We need to prioritize investments with a return on investment where possible

2333 - Fiona Lynch

No

2336 - Alastair Nicol

No

234 - Jocy Kidd

No

2350 - Jack Bisset

No We need more up front capital investment in the city.

2355 - Iain Sanders

I do not think you've got the balance right. I think the plan is highly aspirational and impressive in what it seeks to achieve, but unfortunately, we are not in a position financially as a Council or economically as a nation to implement this ambitious plan.

The country is already struggling with an economic downturn, unemployment is up, the cost of living is increasing and salaries are not keeping up with inflation or interest rates on borrowing to service the debt.

2358 - Carolyn Moffat

[Transport > Roads (Capital)], [Transport > Transport (Operations)], [Three Waters > Three Waters (Operations)], [Spending > Capital Programme (General)], [Spending > Te Kaha],

No. We need to invest in roads, transport and water network. We need to invest in the basic infrastructure that keeps the city running. This includes repairs which still need to be completed after the earthquakes. I consider these to be essential items. However some things are simply extras, and we need to consider whether things need to be done immediately, for example a $13 million update to the roads around the new stadium, or the upgrades to Gloucester St. These are nice to have items and we can't afford them at the moment.

>>>

[Rates > Residential Rates], [Spending > Capital Programme (General)], [Other/Special Interest Topics > Asset Sales]

I would like to make it very clear that ratepayers cannot continue to fund everything, and we expect the council to find ways to reduce costs. If that means selling some assets, then do that. The difference between this council and a business owner or private person is this - if a business or private person cannot afford something, they go without, or sell assets to afford it. This is exactly what I expect of council, yet, the council seems to think it is OK to continue with these exorbitant increases. It is not OK. This council seems to be able to push forward with projects it cannot afford, as it seems to think ratepayers will be happy to pay increased costs. We cannot carry on like this. The council needs to prioritise projects and we need to go without others. Concentrate on the core business.

2367 - Stephen Conti

no

2381 - Kim Franicevic

No

2385 - Ezra Mussa

No

>>>

CCC should not just maintain its current levels of service, but it should also increase them, and raise rates as necessary to do it.

2389 - Aurora Garner-Randolph

No.

Rates must go up to fund vital infrastructure, and important city enriching projects must NOT be cut. it is inequitable for the council to prioritise keeping rates low. CCC needs to raise rates to a reasonable level, comparable to ECans 24 rate raise.

>>>

The balance is not right on services- CC needs to increase its services, and raise rates to pay for them.

>>>

INCREASE COSTS, PROVIDE MORE SERVICES.

>>>

not good enough. climate action must be prioritised more. we need better funded services

2396 - Sam Jenkins

[Rates > Residential Rates]

I don't think so - if we agree that artificially low rates over a long time period is the reason for now forcing the hand of a large increase, I don't understand how we think in only a few years the rates will have increases of only 4% again.

2403 - Andrew Woodfield

[Grants & Funding>Arts Centre Funding]

No. The funding for the Arts Centre must be maintained. I wrote to council when the funding for the $1billion (projected) stadium was proposed that the stadium (for a rich minority) would result in increased rates (That's come true), underfunding for critical services like road and path repairs (That's come true) and for valuable assets and services used for the wide benefit of the Chch ratepayer. And here now you are proposing cutting funding for the Arts Centre.

2407 - Dave Evans

No, not even close. Reasons:

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Staff Matters]; [Other/Special Interest Topics>Governance]

1. Staffing numbers and percentage of budget have increased significantly under the previous CEO and former mayor. However, service has decreased.
2. A 10 year plan is being implemented, yet it has been 6 months since the CEO left. Granted that person was ineffective (to put it mildly), but having no replacement or their input prior to this plan being adopted is a horrible business decision.

[Grants & Funding>Other]; [Strategic Direction>Financial Strategy]

3. The council continues to complain that they have no money, must raise rates far above the % of inflation, and continues to give grants to organizations that are incapable of balancing their own budget. More horrible business decisions.

[Rates>ECAN Rates]

4. ECAN and their even more massive rates rise. They continue to push empty buses that are too big for the very few people that use them -- and will use them. They do not know how to get polluters to pay for their damage because they almost never enforce their own rules. And they and the CCC have utterly failed to get the rest of the province to financially support the local white elephant, the stadium. CCC should stand up to them.

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Staff Matters]

Balancing a business budget that provides both action and services is possible. It has been many years since a team was in place that was capable of such a review. And it cannot be possible without a CEO part of the process.

2439 - Callum Turnbull

[Transport > Cycleways (Capital)]

No, too much is being spent on cycleways at a time when we have very little excess. This is a crazy waste of money.

2442 - Paula Bevilacqua

No, the balance is too far weighted towards very high long term debt with no thorough thought to how much it will cost to implement, and run for generations to come. These projects do not need to be delivered at the expense of ratepayers.

2448 - Barrie Uren

No you do not have the balance right - Excess and wasteful spending and bad decisions from some councillors and some heads of department

2461 - Marjorie Manthei

Inadequate short-term funding for effects of climate change, unless funding is brought forward (commented on in relevant section below).

2475 - William Porter

No

2477 - Rachael Ann

No, the arts is crucial.

2499 - Amanda Ray

No, i dont think you have the balance correct.

2523 - Simon Hodgkinson

No

2529 - Bernard Newman

Overall, have we got the balance right:

No - in a time of national austerity (ref inflation, interest rates, cost of living increases beyond the typical wage earners ability to redress) I would expect the Council to regroup and look at a bigger picture, a non-partisan view and reflect on what you are asking of us as rate payers to fund at a time when discretionary income is tight indeed for many of the citizens you serve.

2530 - Clare Thompson

[Grants & Funding>Arts Centre Funding]

No Arts Centre funding!

[Coder note: later expresses support for AC funding]

2548 - Melissa Young

no

2559 - Michael Campbell

No. There's been an excessive allocation of funds towards road maintenance ($591 million specifically for carriageway renewals). It's imperative we divert some of these resources towards enhancing cycle infrastructure, which demands significantly less upkeep, thereby alleviating the strain on our road maintenance budget. Furthermore, increased investment in climate mitigation is essential. Merely falling short of our current targets isn't acceptable. This necessitates greater financial commitment to bolster public and active transport initiatives. [Transport > Roads (Capital)] [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)]

2572 - Sarah Vili

Have you got the balance right? Short answer NO!! With the cost of living and mortgage rates on the rise, your now putting more added pressure by increasing our rates, I'm a solo mother to 3, I have a child with a traumatic brain injury and barely scrape by to pay my current rates, you grossly over estimated the cost oh my home already and hiked my rates up, when I contacted the rates team and offered the valuation I had done just a year prior they wouldn't accept it and said I needed to pay another $800 to get a new valuation, this is criminal ! All I see is your forever digging up roads unnecessarily and now expecting us to foot the bill for a new stadium etc Not to mention your ever increasing salaries, why are we paying for that?

Think about the residents, think about the burden these rate increases will place on us all

2580 - Michael Neville

No, you have not. Far too much emphasis has been on wants, based on the ideals of a few councillors, and not the needs of the ratepayers in general.

2584 - Susan Stevens

No. There is too much development on 'feed good' projects that require large loans, and too little emphasis on maintaining and upgrading our core infrastructure services.

2599 - Susan Miller

No

2608 - Simon Henry

No. Your soending too much money on sports arenas and such. Also far to many cell phone towers. When will it stop. The city is being ruined with woke idealism. Not balanced at all.

2610 - Keith Harris (Akaroa District Promotions (ADP))

Not on everything.

2621 - Caroline Gray

No

2622 - Rob Murfitt

No

2623 - Andrew Cockburn

No.

2631 - Anna Canton (Annakey Productions Ltd)

No

2637 - Hannah Herchenbach

No.

2640 - Wayne Hawker (New Brighton Museum)

No not completely as there are some areas that are not part of the core role of council so money should not be allocated to it

2652 - Katie Gallagher

no, lots of unnecessary spending eg huge upgrade at Elmwood park for irrigated fields meanwhile streets in the same area eg Brenchley Ave suffer repeated flooding during a heavy downpour

2668 - Emma Geldard

We all need some space to ride out the storm. Focus on doing the basic services well without unnecessary spending on new things and/ or highly paid staff. Look at the previous rises published in the LTP and the new increases are too high.

>>>

Please just stick to the basics. Let's finally finish the earthquake clean up, provide great essential services, and cut costs as much as possible

2672 - Ian Flatley

No

269 - Zara Potts

I don't think so - given the immense cost of spend for stadiums and sport, I believe there should be more money devoted to arts and retail - things that actually bring in economic benefits.

2690 - Robbie Dobbie

No. We are overspending on consultants costs particularly for Climate Change, greenhouse gas emissions + sea-level rise/ coastal adaptation. The advice you are getting is modelling based on faulty models + not based on science. Educate yourself - happy to help anyone interested.
Need to stop spending + stop borrowing money. You are heading into a dangerous hole.

27 - Warner Wilson

[Transport > Operations, Roads]

No, our roads are terrible, and the costs and holding contractors to account for poor workmanship has been appalling. After road resurfacing pot holes appear not long after. Piles of stones litter pathways and drain ways, making it dangerous for cyclist and difficult to walk particularly for those with prams and in wheel chairs our network has never been worse

2701 - Blair Smith

Nah not really.

2706 - Jan Bierman

No. Your Draft LTP is unsustainable for ratepayers. Investment must remain within cost of living index. Reduce your work programmes to make affordable for ratepayers. Ratepayers are in a cost of living crisis & cannot sustain investments of the magnitude CCC (or ECAN) are proposing. As a person on a fixed income in a single person household I am being penalised for owning a home. There must be a better way to fund future development. Keep it real for the people you serve!

>>>

Core services should be the priority - cut out the nice to have. Don't threaten the soft targets, the public facing services, like libraries, when it is the bureaucracy that is weighing the organisation down. Rates must be kept with the cost of living index. Keep it real for the people you serve!

2708 - Rob Beechey

No. The balance cant be right with a 13% rate increase.

>>>

Trick question re "should we be maintaining the same level of service?" If you stopped wasting money on nice to haves and just focused on the basics.

>>>

stop wasting money on nice to haves and get back to providing the basics.

2731 - Anna Barber

No. Ever since the earthquakes the most impacted areas have said focus on basic infastructure. Here we are all these years later the feedback is the same

2736 - Pamela Campbell

No.

274 - Mark Christensen

[Grants & funding - Arts Centre Funding], [Parks > Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration]

No, we need to increase rates further to better provide for: - supporting the Arts Centre so that it remains financially viable; and - ecological regeneration, including pest eradication, both on Banks Peninsula and across the rest of the City. Both of these are critical in supporting the wellbeing and prosperity of Christchurch ratepayers.

2746 - Helen Taylor

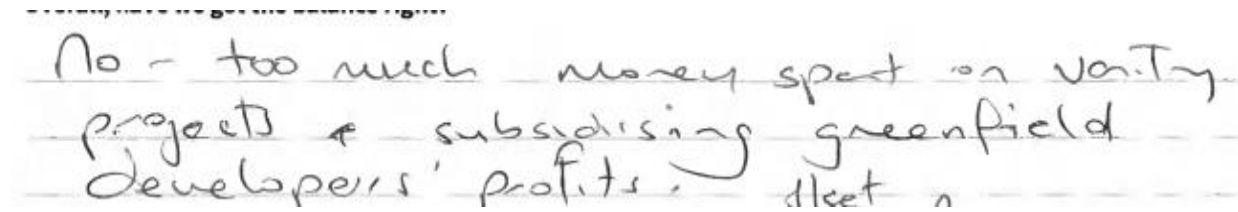

You appear to be deciding on our behalf what matters. Yes infrastructure is essential. But your balance is out. Unnecessary cycle ways and sports stadiums have swallowed up everything it appears if you can't support the arts & cultural heritage of our city. We've lost too much. Don't be the shortsighted Council that decides to destroy more. To put the 'new' ahead of the 'old'. The Arts Centre has 'long-term value' don't cut it's funding when it's only just got back on it's 'feet'.

2758 - Christopher Seay

No. The LTP focuses far too much on outdated thinking around keeping rates low and investing only in roading. The council should raise rates as high as necessary to fully face the climate crisis, including both mitigation and adaptation. This includes robust investments into active and public transport, and finding ways to reduce single passenger automobile use.

2768 - Suzanne Wallace

No - too much money spent on vanity projects & subsidising greenfield developers' profits. direct n

28 - Geoff Egan

Budgeting for ten years when you don't have an accurate crystal ball seems irresponsible.

2806 - Tony Fraser

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?]

[Spending > Capital programme (General)]

No. Maintain current levels of service but need to reduce the proposed capital programme. In Particular the transportation and parks/reserves areas. Too many new initiatives which we cant afford.

2823 - Aurora Garner-Randolph (School Strike For Climate Ōtautahi)

No.

2827 - Carley Dove-McFalls (Generation Zero Ōtautahi)

“NO” Reason 1: Because too much money is being spent on road maintenance which encourages car dependency and leads to a burn pit of money going towards road maintenance. Reason 2: Because not enough money is going towards climate mitigation projects. We believe more money should be going into funding public and active transport and mode shift from personal vehicle use towards active and public transport. Reason 3: The plan, as it currently stands, would not reach the emission goals of the CCC (halved by 2030) and still focuses on continued growth.

2828 - Thomas Kulpe

No, the balance is not right. The LTP is not just a financial planning instrument, it should provide detailed information about community outcomes and allow for integrated decision making. Most of the non-financial outcomes described in the proposed LTP are desiderata, statements of intent, that do not provide a basis for accountability of Council to the community.

Since it is not clear what outcomes Council's ten-year budget actually achieves it is impossible to say if a the residential increase provides value for money. In stable times the general assumption may be based on a business-as-usual rolling forward of service levels of the past. However, Council has declared a climate emergency, these are exceptional times. Council has adopted a number of policies and targets (e.g. emission reduction to 50% of 2016-17 levels by 2030) and it is not obvious how these policies (sustainability, resilience, biodiversity and derived targets) map to CAPEX and OPEX.

2834 - Geoff & Liz Carter

No - the proposed rates rise is too high.

2835 - Emma Rodriguez Dos Santos

I don't feel the balance is right, there appears to be a major focus on capital projects - including increasing rates and borrowing to make those things happen - and less importance on ensuring good public services are maintained and improved. Transport funding is unclear - as pointed out by the auditors and decisions made by the Mayor have tied us to a water services reinvestment programme that very few local councils can afford, and means less flexibility for other local priorities.

2845 - Erin Todd

Rates have been kept artificially low by underinvesting in infrastructure. Lowering rates seems appealing to voters in the short term and this has been exploited through electoral promises, but it comes at the cost of compromising essential services and disproportionately affecting residents who rely on council facilities. The city is interconnected and austerity measures negatively impact all residents, even affluent ones.

2846 - Olwyn Ferguson

No

2847 - Colleen Philip (Sustainable Ōtautahi Christchurch)

No. Enhance climate preparedness and consider equity issues.

2867 - Elyse Middleton

I would prefer to see a focus on building community and protecting the environment. The above statement feels to focus too heavily on corporate growth and debt reduction

2871 - Kristen Stewart

No, I do not believe so

2875 - Paul Andrew

No

2878 - Robert Shone

No

2882 - Erin Andrew

No

2890 - Finn McIntyre (University of Canterbury Sustainable Design Society (UC SUSD))

The UC Sustainable Design Society (SUSD) was founded on the principals of innovating for the future in accordance with the United Nation's Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Although SUSD understands the critical nature of the Te Kaha Stadium project and the requirement for functional water and transport systems, the plan currently only shows superficial investment in the Christchurch people with a budget approximately 60% of proposed corporate spending, where communities that need access to support are being overlooked.

2891 - Martin Fraser-Allen

No. Specific reference to the funding of arts and culture has been omitted.

2894 - Lesley Burkes-Harding

No. I don't feel that we can become a cultural powerhouse by allocating 1% to the arts.

29 - Hayley Young

No, I think in a cost of living crisis you focus on the basics only. Roads, transport, waterm infrastructure. Long term projects should get bare mininum funding. The stadium has already had hundreds of millions thrown at it. I as a rate payer should not be asked for more. I am not prepared to fund arts programmes and heritage programmes either in the current climate. Pare it all back. Stop overextending yourselves and the ratepayers. I can barely make ends meet as it is.

2931 - Kevin and Annette Broadhurst

No

2951 - Les McKay

No you haven't. Council needs to be fiscally responsible and keep within it's budgets. Projects MUST be completed on time and within budget.

2953 - Quentin Kelly

Adding debt to future generations is not the way to go. Work within the budget or scrap the project. If it is not helping the people of the city, then it is a vanity project which is a waste of rate payer money. Infrastructure and utilities like roads, water, electricity, rail need to be paramount. The city cannot grow without them and currently there seems to be no plan. Are people still paying quake tax in their rates? It seems as if the council is just squeezing as much money out of people as possible while very little benefits in return.

2957 - Lisa Keen

[Grants and Funding > Arts Centre]

Absolutely not!! Arts is so closely tied into our culture in chch, without the arts centre we will lose it. The arts centre Has been the heart if chch for so long, as a meeting place, place of learning, discovery, entertainment and do much more. Removing it from the budget tells us the council dosnt value anything it stands for!! Clearly too many road signs and poorly budgeted aquatic centres mean more to the council than our artistic and cultural heart! Disgraceful!

2975 - Carrie Keith

No

2993 - Nikki Staskiewicz

[Strategic Direction > Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities]

Not quite, need more community focus and input

2997 - Simon Trotter

No

3002 - Rachel D'Arcy

No.

301 - Ngarie Worsley

No

3012 - George Laxton

No >>> [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)]

3013 - Imogen Clark

No. We should be supporting Orana park. We need to continue to fund the arts centre. >>> [Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding] [Grants & Funding > Orana Park Funding]

3015 - Alexandra Cox

[Transport > Roads (capital)]

No, the funding allocation for transport will force more residents to be dependant on personal automobiles. As a young person who will never be able to drive due to disability it is more than disheartening to see that not even the biodiversity crisis is enough to finally create an accessible city. The improvements to Chch metro over the past few years have literally been life changing, I know not everyone can use the bus, but more of us can ride public transport than drive, it just takes incentive. I find it hard it to believe this will allow us to read the 2030 emissions goals and tempts the lower classes to dispose of their income on unsustainable cars and petrol/diesel.

3018 - Kristal Jenkins

No it is not right. Too busy focusing on bike lanes, roads and art centres. We need to put more money into park, sustainability and conservation

3023 - Carolyn Brown

No, I think the Council needs to stop chasing rainbows and focus on preserving and promoting the assets they do have.

3034 - Ameer Hurrell

[Transport>Roads (Capital)]

No , too much going in to roads and everything is being forgotten about

3038 - Slavko Martinov

[Grants & Funding>Requests for Additional Grants & Funding]

No. How can we become a cultural powerhouse by only allocating 1% to the arts? Our fight to develop screen production in Ōtautahi now looks to be in serious jeopardy even though it was been a resounding success: the Screen CanterburyNZ Production Grant had an initial investment of $1.5 million dollars and has generated a return of $12.5 million dollars - that's $12.50 for every dollar spent! This money stayed in the region through crew salaries, transportation, accommodation, hospitality and other businesses. It has been incredibly successful. It isn't in the Long Term Plan and as an investment that generated a return, it confounds me that its measurable success isn't included. I strongly feel it needs to be.

3039 - Paula Allen

No, I'm sick of being used as a line of credit. Council should do the basics and do them right.

[Parks>Parks Maintenance]

I want to see clean public toilets, no weeds in the streets, a city that we are proud of.

[Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]

Im sick of paying for councils over engineered bike lanes and vanity projects.

3043 - J Elliott

NO

With all the additional housing that has been built in Christchurch, and thus additional ratepayers, our rates should be going down not up. Quote "Diversity, Equity and Inclusion has morphed into Division, Exclusion and Insanity. " The council should stick to productivity not ideology and stop wasting rate payers money on the likes of rainbow crossings etc The Gifting of Maori names should be in addition to, not replacement of English names, being the language spoken by the majority of the population. ie Christchurch Stadium / Te Kaha

3055 - Josephine Drysdall

No. >>> [Transport > Roads (Capital)] [Three Waters > Water Supply (Capital)] [Strategic Direction > Climate Change] [Spending > Te Kaha]

3068 - Vanessa Wells

No. I believe we can become even more of a cultural powerhouse by allocating more than 1% to the arts.

3072 - Mark Soster

[Grants & Funding>Requests for Additional Grants & Funding]

No. I don't feel that we can become a cultural powerhouse by allocating 1% to the arts. We've worked hard to develop screen production in Ōtautahi and that is now in serious jeopardy. The Screen CanterburyNZ Production Grant had an initial investment of $1.5 million dollars and has generated a return of $12.5 million dollars - that's $12.50 for every dollar spent. This money stayed in the region through crew salaries, transportation, accommodation, hospitality and other businesses. It has been incredibly successful. It isn't in the Long Term Plan and as an investment that generated a return, I feel it needs to be included. I'm not an money person but even I can see this is a no brainer.

3076 - Melvin Anderson

No

3087 - Lucie Masselink

Not always.

3088 - Heather Brown

No.

>>>

It is future focused, has justifiable reasons and is seeking feedback - hopefully this will be listened to.

3089 - Trevor Lord

No. Whilst there is a need to address aging infrastructure and maintain present infrastructure, the balance errs toward a city with little acceptance of the value of cultural, heritage, and civic amenities in the daily life and enjoyment of its Citizens and visitors.

3092 - Kitty Moran

No, I don't think the balance is right. Too much is being spent on the Cathedral rebuild and on Te Kaha in the shorter end of the plan. Better planning should have been conducted. I believe that in a time when everyone is struggling to make ends meet we should be focusing on the immediate needs rather than long term goals: immediate needs being the water situation (drinking, stormwater, wastewater, etc etc), transport, and ensuring our arts and heritage facilities can stay afloat. This will ensure that for the next few years tourists will still have places to explore and things to do, which we could then use that income to fund the other non-essential projects.

3096 - Hamish Mitchell

No, you have not got the balance right and this is why the council and the government of this country are in such a diabolical financial state.

31 - Gary Durey

No. In this time of multiple crisis the CCC must STOP it's out of control spending.

3103 - Philippa May

I don't think so.

3106 - Kim Georgine (Te Puna Matarau)

No. I don't feel that we can become a cultural powerhouse by allocating 1% to the arts. We've worked hard to develop screen production in Ōtautahi and that is now in serious jeopardy. The Screen CanterburyNZ Production Grant had an initial investment of $1.5 million dollars and has generated a return of $12.5 million dollars - that's $12.50 for every dollar spent. This money stayed in the region through crew salaries, transportation, accommodation, hospitality and other businesses. It has been incredibly successful. It isn't in the Long Term Plan and as an investment that generated a return, I feel it needs to be included.

311 - Peter Clark

No. Several years of irresponsible financial vandalism (as described by the PM) and the will to create 'monuments' to councillors and management have left the city broke and unfairly punished ratepayers. I'm fact ratepayers have become nothing more than cash-cows to fund projects based on ideology rather than real need.

3110 - Michael Beard

No.

3111 - Jeanie Cochrane

No

3112 - Dr Edward Simpson

No.

3128 - Chris Smith

No, less nice to haves, more must haves.

>>>

Less nice to haves, more must haves should be prioritised.

3131 - Johannes (Hans) Van Oyen

These come at the expense of the (unglamorous) basics that EVERY rate payer benefits from, such as 3 waters, roading & infrastructure etc.

>>>

As a city we are still recovering from the quakes. We need to focus on the basics now. This is not the time for grand ideas and gambles.

3136 - John Hynes

No

3148 - Viv Cotter

Just concentrate on the basic fundamentals

3152 - Neroli Fornasier

No!

316 - Margaret Whittaker

No.

3170 - Derek Doddington (Top Dog Theatre)

No. What's the point in having lovely roads if there's nowhere of interest to drive to..? As technology advances, the youth of our community continue to turn to historical spectacles the Arts Centre was thriving hub of the city. But not only for our community but an attraction for tourists who bring wealth to the city.

>>>

I think the money proposed for each project needs to be examined closely

3188 - Tony Kettle

No. Investments should benefit the majority of rate payers and not involve ongoing costs. The stadium, for example, is an enormous expense and is unlikely to ever pay it way.

>>>

Core investments are good. But not extravagant expenses.

319 - Fay Stickley

Not at all

>>>

A lot of wasted money. Even with public feedback you still won't listen.

3195 - Redacted Redacted

No

3200 - Georgina Woods

No we need to balance our history with our future

3223 - Tina Kwang

No, there are more important projects

3232 - Margaret Slack

Probably not.

3237 - Diane Leighton

No

3239 - Lynette McGrath

No

3248 - Dave Edwards

No

3257 - Fiona Jones

No as there is too much spending going on, you say you are saving money but borrowing more on the debt which will be higher to pay back. It doesn't look like anything has really been pulled back to save the rate payers any money but looks like you are spending money on ego projects.

3260 - Sofie Hampton

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

[Rates > Residential Rates]

Not entirely, i think limiting costs as much as possible besides future proofing for natural disasters and weather emergencies should be the priority. Rates are extravagant

3266 - Renee Mark (Italian Film Festival)

[Three Waters > Taumata Arowai Requirements]

[Grants and Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

Absolutely not! 3 waters was an opportunity to find water infrastructure WITHOUT the heavy burden being placed on ratepayers and now we the people have to pay for this and we miss out on heritage and community buildings like the art centre.

327 - Roland Harrison

No.

3280 - Megan Cassim

No

3283 - Elizabeth Clarke

No

3286 - Jaz Hector

No

329 - Alice Kavet

You have closed libraries, plan to cease funding for arts projects and centers, while building $683 million stadiums. The priorities of the council seem absolutely unbalanced and not through through

3291 - Jess Kikstra

No

3298 - Deborah Parker

Too much emphasis on roading and transport. Not enough on quality of living environment.

3304 - Donovan Harris

[Rates > Residential Rates]

No. The rates rises are eay too much

3305 - Angelita Schwalger

They are necessary and standard issues that will always be addressed and in the ongoing strategic plan. However it is lacking the need for the public to have enjoyable experiences that caters for all groups, genders, abilities and diversity. Somewhere where people can go to have fun and enjoyment as a family and or with friends/groups etc that is inclusive for ALL to have access too. That is why it is vital to Canterbury that Orana Park remains open and receives the necessary funding to keep operating.

3307 - Richard Griffiths

No

3310 - James Lunday

No you haven't got balance right. To much emphasis on debt reduction whilst wasting funds on roads .

3319 - Ryan Moore

No, too much of the long-term plan is allocated to roading infrastructure, and not enough is allocated to cycling and active transport infrastructure as well as climate mitigation efforts.

3322 - Christine Nicoll

No

3340 - Ric Summer

[Grants & Funding>Arts Centre Funding]

I don't think so. The arts centre is one of the best spots in the city (visitors from Sydney (a city largely with the balance right) also had this view). The charitable trust should be adequately funded so that it can continue to function. Cardboard Cathedral to replace the broken one.

3344 - Yumeka Hildreth

No

335 - Wayne Bates

No, definitely not,

3353 - Janna Gresham

No there is a lack of regard for the soul of a community which is nurtured by attention to the arts, access to gathering places, availability of familiar and loved events

3366 - Robert Manthei

No.

337 - Debbie Jones

No.

3376 - Barry Lee

No. In this time of financial crisis Council must rethink the whole plan. and focus on needs not wants especially in the next 2-3 years.

3379 - Mike Currie

[Transport > Roads (Capital)], [Transport > Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)], [Planning & Strategic transport, Urban Desig, & Urban Regeneration > Strategic Transport]

No, because: Reason 1: Because too much money is being spent on road maintenance which encourages car dependency and leads to a burn pit of money going towards road maintenance. Reason 2: Because not enough money is going towards climate mitigation projects. We believe more money should be going into funding public and active transport and mode shift from personal vehicle use towards active and public transport. Reason 3: The plan, as it currently stands, would not reach the emission goals of the CCC (halved by 2030) and still focuses on continued growth.

338 - Jennifer Riley

I'm afraid not. Basics are not good enough. For example we have a chronic puddle in front of our house because the slope of the road does not allow for the water to run to the storm water drain. The city is funding tacky outdated attractions such as the tram (our driver said he'd like to run down Palestinian protesters), the gondola (which has a racist 'ride'), orana park which possesses depressed, non-native species which would be better repatriated to a sanctuary in their native land). I don't think it's reasonable to ask people to fund 'entertainment' when you don't have the basics right.

3380 - Victoria Lukiyanyuk

Absolutely not

3381 - Karen Amyes

[Rates > Residential Rates], [Rates > Remote Residential Rates], [Rates > Business Rates]

Probably not as there is a significant increase in rates. I believe some projects should be put on hold so that rates stay the same.

3390 - Penny Westwood

No.

3404 - Maureen Heffernan

No,, nt if the Arts Centre is unfunded.

3410 - Boubey Black

No.

3411 - Marian Krogh (Protect Our Winters NZ)

No. POW feels that the LTP doesn't invest enough in mitigating climate change.

3415 - Allan Taunt

No.

3417 - Jack McConnell

No

3420 - Jade Mulcahy

No

3425 - Hugh Dacre

No. The big problem with the way you present this budget is you do not show clearly what you spent money on last year or the last 10 years. Comparison is difficult. I can only go by the cases that I have seen raised and I am appalled by what you have chosen not to do. There are of course many things that are sensible in my opinion, such as spreading capital cost across generations, but our current situation is partly due to the failure of many previous budgets to address infrastructure in a timely way, though this is made worse by earthquake issues. The spreading of cost should have started much further back! I am not convinced you are doing enough. Nor am I at all convinced about the appropriateness of projected expenditure. What I have seen done to roads in my area recently indicates expensive and unnecessary projects which could have been carried out without expensive and superficial additions. So it is difficult to say that the balance is right when there is what amounts to waste of money in delivering services. Council planners need to adapt their "visions" to deliver essentials rather than "nice to haves". The minimal savings you have identified, $41 million in a $16.8 billion budget (about 0.25%?) seem to have been achieved by not doing things you should be doing, such as supporting the Arts Centre and Orana Park which directly benefit all of us and are attractive to tourists as well, as against the notional benefits of costly short-term subsidised entertainments which never quite seem to put us "on the map".

343 - Aaron Pero

No,

3435 - Alex Cornford

no. too much money spent on luxury items like stadiums which benefit rich rural Selwyn and Waimak residents. too little spent on clean electric buses which will save CCC money over the long term and give us all cleaner air free of stinky diesel fumes and dangerous particulates.

3436 - Sara Campbell

No. Climate mitigation needs greater priority (more investment). There needs to be less money spent on road maintenance and more spent on active transport (cycleways and walking infrastructure) and public transport. This would also lead to less road maintenance needed overall.

344 - Aaron Herriott

Not really

3444 - Jo McGregor

NO. You are overspending. I even heard a councillor say at a meeting earlier this year.. "I like spending other people's money"!!!! Shame on her.

3448 - Nadia Maxwell (Overactive Imagination)

No, the Draft Long Term Plan is missing support of key Christchurch creative institutions.

3466 - Mark Stapleton

No ...

3471 - Murray Irvine

No you have not.

3479 - Rhys Glenjarman

There are significant oversights of local institutions funding within the budget.

>>>

The lack of funding to major tourist attractions (chch cathedral, arts center and orana park) and the addition of fees to public parks is clumsy and appalling. It diminishes trust in local government and implies that there is no dedication to reestablishing chch as a major city, desirable to visit and live in. Loss of major attractions and poor funding will loose chch significant economic investment from international tourists, such as cruise ship tourists.

3488 - Julia Page

No

3493 - Brendon Lee

No! CCC questions why rates have gone up so much and blame it on inflation? I am sure many would say the stadium was not required which is why we have a budget blow out. The REAL problem is we never 'broaden our revenue sources', particularly increasing the density building.

>>>

We've been left behind when compared to other countries. We simply didn't put the investment where it was needed and instead had placed restrictions on land developments. Only just now the National Gov't is looking to allow foreign building materials for approval use in NZ without the red tape / testing BRANZ etc. rig-moral. Canada allows US building materials as of right and vice versa. The also recognise European testing standards. We've been too slow here in NZ to adopt what other countries have done. Did you know some 44,000 of our skilled NZ citizen had left in this past year? Only to be replaced with low skilled migrants in a greater #.

3497 - Cerys Fletcher

No. Spending has been raised on road renewals, while deferring the implementation of the full rating for renewals policy, and cutting spending on walking, cycling, and public transport. The balance is clearly tipped in favour of a car dependance which we know cannot continue if we are to mitigate our climate impacts as a city. Supporting a 'green livable city', one of Council's 2023-2024 outcomes, cannot be met if spending is cut in these areas. This cut also fails our youth, and those who do not drive, and limits their ability to engage with our city and its culture. Investment in water infrastructure doesn't happen soon enough, and is reactive rather than proactive - plugging leaks as they pop up, rather than replacing old pipes due to be replaced before a leak occurs, fails a supposed goal of taking care of our city and its ratepayers. There must be more investment in cycle infrastructure, something which requires little maintenance and which we know has numerous positive health and environmental impacts. Increasing use of active transport, like cycling, and public transport, also reduces wear on our roads, providing better value for ratepayers. Finally, ideally Council would have provided a longer submission period for the public. I absolutely understand the need to get things moving quickly, but the LTP is a significant (and lengthy!) document with a lot of areas needing attention, and as such deserves a longer period for the public to form their submissions.

3510 - Michael Horgan

No i do not believe the balance is correct. I see huge wastage from what i believe to be miss management in many areas. Have been in the civil and 3 waters for decades. Money is being waisted by poor management. Get that right first.

3520 - Gabrielle Racine

No. The rate increases are unsustainable and already completely too high. The roads are shocking, the service is shocking and the proposed increase is only going to make people face a further financial hardship than they already are.

353 - John Mayhew

no

3535 - Anna Harper

No I think there is an imbalance on the transport infrastructure, with too much emphasis on cycle ways in wrong areas, stifles traffic flow, and hinders businesses operating effectively on these routes. There is no need for 15 min city infrastructure, as one can get easily anywhere in 15-30 mins when traffic flows. Water investment mainly should be upgrading pipes, not investing in adding toxins such as chlorine and fluoride, both neuro-toxins and health hazards

354 - Vivienne Allan

No.

3541 - Ashleigh Smith

Absolutely not. You've put millions into a pool that hasn't opened, yet the ground has been sagging underneath. The stadium is constantly costing more money. Our water is chlorinated more than ever. You're proposing charging parking at the gardens and reducing library hours. If anything, you're taking money out of our community and focusing on things that will only benefit a select few

3550 - Sam Hewitt

No

3567 - Rachel Briggs

No. There is too much focus on securing overseas events and not enough focus on current areas in the city that are here all the time and can attract visitors in their own right and with the right support

3568 - Brendan Kerr

No

3572 - Tania Dirkze

No the balance is not right...on anything. If the funds are not available to be spent stop spending them. The majority of us home owners cannot afford another rate increase while you council workers are sitting on exorbitant pays making lousy decisions. The new stadium is a perfect example of poorly spent money. Consultation fees and terrible designs wasted so much money.

3573 - Joyce Yager

[Transport > Roads (Capital)], [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Transport > Public Transport Infrastructure]

No, the balance is very wrong. Overall, there is far too much spending on road maintenance and not enough spending on cycleways and bus lane infrastructure. In addition, there should be more spending on important projects that are relatively low cost (compared to the entire budget of CCC) that have major impacts on the vitality and wellbeing of the city.

>>>

[Strategic Direction > Climate Change]

Overall, too little spending has been proposed on climate change and emissions reduction and community projects. Please greatly shift the ratio of transport maintenance focused on cars to more low-cost bike and bus infrastructure (e.g., road paint) which will improve the safety of cycling, reduce traffic, and reduce emissions. There is no indication of being on track for any emissions reduction targets and the LTP needs to address how emissions will be reduced by 2050.

>>>

I support rate increases and funding for projects that make this a more vibrant city

358 - Tamara Dauvergne

No you certainly have not

3582 - Cody Cooper

No, we need to see greater focus on the basics - enabling housing supply, making it easier to get around, having safe & secure water supplies and making Christchurch an attractive city.

>>>

Council loves to focus on big capex where you can cut the ribbon then puts zero care into the opex required to maintain that same standard.

>>>

More tree, more house, less road.

3593 - Jill Rothschild

No as needs to include funding for the Arts Centre.

3596 - Susan Lau

No.

3604 - Caroline Burt

The balance is close to being right.

3611 - Sharon Dowers

It is heartening to see the Council focusing on roading and water services within the plan, as these are essential services within the city, however the rates burden is already too high and this increase is absolutely unacceptable. The Council needs to reign in its projects and spending to bring rates into line with affordability for all rate payers.

3613 - Catherine McLeavy

No. When the proposed rates increase is far in excess of the CPI then the balance is obviously wrong.

3621 - Morgane Honore

The current long-term plan of the Christchurch City Council exhibits some imbalance in resource allocation. Cutting cultural funding isn't the right step. It's essential to recognize the intrinsic value of cultural investment in enriching our community fabric and fostering social cohesion. While road maintenance is undoubtedly crucial, there appears to be an overemphasis on it, detracting attention from other critical areas. It's essential to rebalance this allocation and prioritize investment in cycle infrastructure, which not only promotes sustainability but also offers active health benefits and requires less maintenance. There's a notable gap in climate mitigation investment. Encouraging the use of active transport and public transit can also alleviate pressure on our roads, extending their lifespan. To address this, we must allocate more resources to renewable energy, green infrastructure, and climate adaptation strategies. Achieving a more balanced approach will ensure the long-term resilience and sustainability of Christchurch.

>>>

Flexibility and Adaptability: The long-term plan should be flexible and adaptable to changing circumstances and emerging challenges. Incorporating mechanisms for regular review, evaluation, and adjustment will ensure that the plan remains relevant and responsive to evolving community needs and priorities. Overall, the Draft Long Term Plan 2024-2034 presents an opportunity to shape the future of our city in a way that reflects the aspirations and values of our community. By prioritizing sustainability, equity, and resilience, we can build a city that is vibrant, inclusive, and resilient for generations to come.

3622 - Jono de Wit

No. Too much capital funding has been allocated to road maintenance ($591 million on carriageway renewals) and funding for cycle infrastructure has been moved to later years or projects have been removed entirely. I believe that we should be prioritising investment in cycle infrastructure and reducing our investment in roads for vehicles. This is because vehicle infrastructure has taken up the majority of investment over many decades and we are still trying to catch up investment in cycling and walking even with the good investment in cycleways in recent years. I believe we should be trying to reduce the amount of money that needs to be spent on road maintenance in the city by reducing the width of many residential roads to more appropriate widths and investing in active and public transport to get more people out of cars which will reduce the wear and tear on the roads. I believe the draft LTP does not do anywhere near enough in terms of investment in climate mitigation. The council declared a climate emergency a number of years ago, but this draft LTP suggests that was nothing but rhetoric. Real money must be spent and real decisions must be made to actually make a big difference in reducing the carbon emissions of the city.

3631 - Charlotte Sparrow

No.

[Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]; [Spending>Our Proposed Spending]

The Council is spending way too much on the nice to have eg, excessive spend on cycleways. The Council is trying to do too much. Just stick to the basics and lower the rates burden on residents.

[Spending>Te Kaha]

I'm disappointed in the management of the stadium delivery and funding. It is a regional asset and the cost burden should be shared with neighbour councils.

3633 - Joanne Tindall

I have concerns over the level of rates increase over the coming two years of the current plan and know that even through the rates increase near the end of the ten year period is more manageable, this will change as the years progress. Council is making it so that those citizens of Christchurch that have stuck by this city through the hardships since the earthquakes and more recently the pandemic cannot afford to stay in their homes.

3636 - Kay Robertson

No,

3642 - Olivia Wilson

No, because the arts centre is missing out.

3646 - Thomas Blakie

I don't think Council has.

3655 - Dan Manton

No.

3658 - Tom Logan

No. Insufficient investment in climate mitigation and climate adaptation and natural hazard resilience. Insufficient investment in active and public transport options, with too much funding allocated to improving private vehicle options. We need a greater focus on enabling well-planned density that is sustainable and improves the quality of life of residents, enabling them to lead lifestyles that don't entirely rely on private vehicles.

>>>

As a young homeowner and business owner, I choose to live in and grow a business in Christchurch because of the opportunities it has to be a sustainable, vibrant, and resilient city. I hope the council's planning reflects this vision that is shared by so many of our residents:

<https://www.stuff.co.nz/opinion/131348606/density-done-well-can-bring-the-vision-of-many-residents-to-life-for-christchurch>

366 - Namalee Kodikara

No I think that the long term focus is too narrow on the types of infrastructure that are being supported. It's clearly important for roads and transport to be the subject of investment but a broader view of cultural contributions should be taken. For example the balance between the sports stadium and other cultural and historical sites such as the arts centre is not the right balance to me.

3671 - Linda Nicolson

No

3678 - Terry Smith

No

3680 - Bridgit Anderson

No.

>>>

So my answer to this question is no.

3688 - Paul Crooks

No - rates rise is far too high

3689 - Catherine McClean

These rates rises are not sustainable . Council should be looking seriously at any partial assets that it could sell so can reduce debt repayments .

3692 - Jen McKinnel

Nope not at all, cutting costs internally re catering and all the added extras and bonus. Use that money on new infrastructure.

3694 - Jane Pairman

No. There is too much money allocated to roads and other infrastructure that adds to climate change. You need to allocate more money to infrastructure that alleviates climate change like cycle lanes, public transport. You should tax activities that increase emissions (such as the use of private non electric cars). More investment please in climate mitigation adaptation. I love the new wetland reserves being made.

>>>

Far too much on transport.

>>>

There is far too much being spent on this area. Focus on what people really need - clean water, (I agree with Three Waters). Solid Waster (yes must have this) and recreation and library services.

>>>

Reduce spending on roads, introduce charges for activities that increase climate change. Reduce funding for reinstatement of heritage - it can wait or be privately funded by wealthy individuals. I support a congestion charge for non EV vehicles.

3697 - Jennie Brittenden

No I don't think the balance is right. The burden is too great to bear for current rate payers at a time of a financial crisis. The rate increase should be in line with inflation.

3701 - Rod Hay

No - not quite.

3703 - Greg Hay

No, you have various items included in the plan which I feel are unnecessary, and items which should be included have not been.

13.24% increase is simply too expensive, when the community is already suffering under the cost of living crisis. I do not feel that you've considered all potential savings which could be achieved, either by cancelling the spend or delaying.

3706 - Ellie Stevenson

No. When the city is not working even now, let alone growing its capacity fast enough to run even with the rising pace of demand in the future, we can't let inertia rule. Change looks like two main things: one, we should invest more in cycleways. >>> Two, we need to both mitigate and adapt to climate change more. >>> [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)] [Other/Special Interest Topics > Accelerating Adaptation]

If Council seriously believes that every dollar of ratepayer money it collects is being more wasted than used well, then they might as well vote to disband. We will have to choose between cutting what needs to be done from the program, or cutting down on rates rises. Rates are going to keep rising anyway, sooner or later, and those problems aren't going away. The sooner we get the city on a secure footing, the sooner we'll see a secure balance sheet follow.

3722 - Rachel Thwaites

[Parks > Otakaro Avon River Corridor Regeneration], [Parks > Parks > Other Red Zone Areas]

No you have too many nice to haves mentioned which you are trying to fund eg Red Zone Instead focus on essentials only eg infrastructure

3724 - Terence Sissons

No!

3729 - Jennifer Ross

Honestly, I haven't had a chance to look through all the information related to the long term plan, but for no other long term plan do I ever remember the number of not for profits requesting people to submit on their behalf regarding the long term plan. From this viewpoint, I believe the balance can't be right.

3731 - Heather McHarg

No

3735 - Natalie O'Connell

No, there needs to be more spending in climate change related infrastructure and less spending on road renewals.

3739 - Trish Rainey (Concerts for Christchurch Founation Trust)

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre]

No. The balance needs to cover the arts and creativity in our city, Christchurch, which is nationally and internationally recognised as a cultural hub. The Arts Centre represents our history and future and people are amazed at the accessibility of the centre, all the offerings there, the non elitist nature of the buildings the activities and all that is encompassed in the Arts Centre zone since rebuild and reconstruction post quake.

3746 - Quinn Ledgerwood-Gee

CCC needs to increase its operational spending in order to ensure that its staff are not disadvantaged in the current inflationary environment and to maintain services for residents.

>>>

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?], [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Three Waters > Stormwater & Land Drainage (Capital)]

CCC Needs to massively increase its capital spending program ASAP. There are many individual projects which need increased funding to safeguard our future: -Major cycle routes specifically Nor'West Arc finished by 2025, Northern Line finished by 2025, Wheels to Wings finished by 2025, South Express finished by 2025. -Memorial Avenue bike lanes must be built by 2025 for the safety of school students. -Heathcote floodplain management implementation must be brought forward to 2025 in order to protect the residents of heathcote from further flooding. --Project 1 "Conduct Multi-Value Analysis on Stormwater Treatment Methods and Technologies for Consideration in Future Projects”, must be funded for project completion in 2025, because the produced information is critical to climate adaptation. --Project 2, “Installation of Stormwater Treatment Devices to Reduce Metal Contaminant Discharge and Monitoring of Effectiveness”, must be funded for project completion in 2025, because Council is under a legal obligation to meet resource consents and should not be responsible for contaminating waterways. --Project 3, “Undertake Analysis of Stormwater Outfall Blockage and Discharge Potential Risks with Respect to Climate Change Effects and Identify Mitigation Solutions”, must be funded for project completion in 2025, because the stormwater system isn’t getting enough funding, so it’s important that the current system is used wisely. --Project 4, “Identification of Properties At-Risk of Above Floor Flooding”, must be funded for project completion in 2025, because CCC has a responsibility to all residents of the city, who only live in areas that CCC zoned for residence; it can’t now abdicate its responsibilities to those residents.

3758 - Mads Churchhouse

No.

3764 - Jack Gibbons

No

3765 - Courtney Currey

No

3767 - Donna Faucher

No

3780 - Jack Halliday

No. - I am disappointed to see a swath of project removals and delays

3781 - Trevor Spiers

No

3787 - Deb Donnell

[Strategic Direction > Climate Change], [Parks > Heritage (Capital)], [Transport > Operations], [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Borrowing & Debt Management], [Other/Special Interest Topics > Governance], got the balance right?, [Strategic Direction > Climate Change], [Parks > Heritage (Capital)], [Transport > Operations], [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Borrowing & Debt Management], [Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters], [Other/Special Interest Topics > Governance]

No, you haven't got the balance right. There is too much focus on ideology and nice to haves, and not enough of maintaining our infrastructure and existing heritage (zero on heritage which is shameful). All spending on so called safety and calming measures such as speed bumps, 30 km zones, cycle lanes, and barricades need to stop immediately. As does any "climate change" / "net zero emissions" which is total nonsense and scaremongering. We cannot afford to be getting into debt further to meet regulations and taxations imposed by global organisations. The balance is being weighted heavily towards the above, and requiring rates to increase in order to service the debt from past and present vanity projects. Rate payers cannot be continually expected to cover costs. We are not a bottomless pit. As councillors and CCC employees, you are not here to build your legacy or to put added pressure onto the households of the people you serve. You are employed by rate payers to deliver the basic infrastructure, and your focus should be on this, not on world class stadiums, convention centres, sports centres, playgrounds, vanity projects, virtue signalling, and so on.

>>>

As per my previous comments, anything that is beyond maintaining and providing services for basic infrastructure for the city, reviewing all the costs of public servant roles, contractors and consultants, and making each person accountable for the work they are doing. Basically running the council like a profitable business, not a charity or socialist utopia.

3788 - Robin Laing

Not at the expense of supporting arts/culture/heritage which have both immediate and ongoing value to the community - and especially in times of economic stress and strain.

379 - Alex Rowe

[Rates > Residential Rates]

No, more could still be done to reduce rates. Overall there is still an unnecessary level of spending on areas that will not be used by ratepayers.

3791 - Sandra Beltman

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Vertical Capital], [Grants & Funding > Orana Park Funding], [Parks > Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration]

I feel that there has been overinvestment in sports facilities and big ticket new building projects generally, when more needs to be done for managing the base health of our environment, and existing flora and fauna. Including Orana Park, a place that many of us identify with from childhood and as parents, and an amazing achievement for a city the size of Chch, it is one of places of pride.

3794 - Somnath Bagchi

No.

3802 - Matthew Baird

No

3805 - Antony Lawrence

No.

3814 - Rob Battersby

No. The council is overspending in almost all areas.

>>>

Make sure the Council understands what the Rate payer wants from this plan.

3815 - Dianne French

No, I don't think the balance is right.

383 - Louise Woolley

No

3831 - Rick Jones

No. The 2024 residents survey you carried out shows a dissatisfaction with some of the council services.

3837 - Dermot Coffey

No. The draft plan highlights emissions reduction and climate resilience as key outcomes, but fails to take the necessary funding decisions to achieve these.

3844 - My-Linh Dang

The community is under a lot of financial strain - particularly after the reckless spending during the COVID response and subsequent inflation. The primary focus of the LTP should be to ensure that additional strain is not put on the community. To this end, Council needs to ensure that rates DO NOT INCREASE or, at worst, increase only in line with CPI. To that end, NO, the balance is not right. The plans are heavily weighted towards very high long term debt. The projects are not necessary in light of the debt burden that is rested upon rate payers.

3846 - Rebecca Finch

I don't think a focus on roading and transport is a good focus in a climate emergency, unless this focus is on bicycleways and increasing trees in streets. It is not CCC responsibility to provide roads for industry to travel faster. The climate emergency is escalating at break neck speed and I think this LTP is in a kind of denial about the challenges an unstable climate is going to bring to us. We should be solely focused on the climate and ecological emergency and all thinking should have this as the priority lens, ie: quickly reducing emissions and quickly helping our tangata prepare for an uncertain future. This plan does not do that, instead it pretends we can continue with a growth economy, which is simply not viable if we are going to care for our future people in a way which respects nature. We can't eat money.

3850 - Stephanie Remington

No, the balance is not right. >>> Thinking about the necessities we need when we have the next earthquake, good roads, quality water and power infrastructure. We don't need money spent on over engineered and wasted cycle ways, clogging up our roads more.

>>>

Stick to your knitting! Look at sensible options of where you can save money ie. red zone disposal and mowing the lawns!

3854 - Michael Laurensen

[Rates>Residential Rates]

No. Rates rises are unsustainable and high in both absolute and growth rate relative to other regions

3856 - Portia Bishop

No. - Poor investment and vision surrounding climate mitigation and adaptation.

386 - Christine McPhail

No

>>>

If you mean maintaining core functions I may agree but there is waste and low competence in many areas which are not necessary for a well run, thriving city. Street parties and fluff projects.

3868 - Don Gould

No

>>>

I also urge you to put more focus on turning our local economy back to an export and tourism lead space. I currently feel like we have, as a community, taken an easy road by running up debt with to many 'internal' projects and our community has lost it's direction. For example, we have to much focus on 'the climate faith concerns' and not enough focus on activity that brings international currency into the city and country.

3869 - Cam Parsonson

No.

3877 - Hilary Quayle

No.

3882 - Jodi Gauci

No

3893 - Joe Pope

No, the council has once again been tone deaf to the constituency and lined the pockets of those involved in their scam.

>>>

This is a short sighted funding plan geared more towards pandering to certain groups than to bettering society and is a shameful effort

3895 - Margaret Trotter

NO

3898 - Richard Smith

NO TOO MUCH FOCUS ON STUFF WHICH WE CAN'T AFFORD AT THIS TIME

3906 - Sarah Bennet

I do not feel the balance is right.

3908 - Cathy Harlow

At this particular time: no. Given how the cost of living is impacting people, this is the time to maintain what we have.

3915 - Redacted Redacted

No, as it stands the LTP -Does not prioritise climate mitigation and adaptation to the extent necessary to meet CCC's current emission goals. -Does not allocate enough capital for public and active transport. -Provides insufficient funding for arts and culture, specifically The Art Centre Te Matatiki Toi Ora.

3920 - Malcolm Clark

No the council has been over ambitious with its plans for Christchurch with too many non essential projects and with very little actual cost forecasting that has resulted in rates increasing far outside what is reasonable.

>>>

Start focusing on core functions not all the nice to haves we cant afford them.

3922 - Ian McIntosh

No!

3924 - Rachel Purcell

No

3927 - Wendy Marshall

No

393 - Kathryn Russell

No. Focus on core services such as water, wastewater and roading maintenance.

>>>

Financial challenges mean needs a back to basics approach

3933 - Joanna Gould

No.

394 - Lisette Williams

No.

3945 - Callum Snell

No

3948 - Stefanie Innes

Absolutely NOT,

3961 - Paul Robertson

No, too much debt, too much spending on non-essential activities Too much focus on raising rates to make of for councils lack of prudence, planning, care and over involvement in soci-political issues
Stick to core council tasks of maintaining infrastructure, less socio-political

3963 - Jillian Scott

No.

3965 - Dean Banks

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

No. I think that there needs to be more focus on address the ongoing effects of climate change. I understand that raising rates to fund that action is unpopular but so will continued wildfires and other extreme weather events. I am greatly concerned that Christchurch will not reach its net zero carbon goal so more action needs to be taken.

3967 - Graham Wagener

[Transport > Roads (Capital)]

[Transport > Cycleways]

Given the number of intersection safety improvement projects that have been deleted in Papanui, no, the balance is not right. Fortunately, funding has been maintained for cycling infrastructure in Papanui, which is very important.

3968 - Joseph Fullerton (UC Climate Action Club)

[Transport > Roads]

No. CCC doesn't just need to maintain its current services; it needs to increase them. Borrowing for projects is unjust when it is not future generations that have caused the climate crisis, the biggest strain on infrastructure at present. Roads are a luxury investment that should not be prioritised in the climate crisis, considering their contribution to emissions.

397 - Merrick Brown

No.

3971 - Joseph Fullerton

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

[Spending > Our proposed spending]

[Three Waters > Stormwater and Land Drainage (Capital)]

No. This Long Term Plan is vastly insufficient in every regard. The LTP notes huge population growth, but it does nothing to prepare for densification for increased population. It does not do enough to increase levels of service, and it over-invests in roads, which contribute to the climate crisis and put undue strain on CCC's finances despite CCC's claim to manage ratepayer money wisely. The remaining debt headroom is minuscule considering that the probability of unplanned events is high. The focus on borrowing unjustly allocates costs to future ratepayers despite the LTP's focus on reducing rates for current ratepayers. Not enough money has been given to stormwater asset management and activity, which includes flood protection. All projects requesting funding under the Stormwater Activity Plan and Asset Management Plan must be funded for 2025 completion.

3974 - Amanda Jenkins

[Grants & Funding > Requests for additional grants & funding]

No. I don't feel that we can become a cultural powerhouse by allocating 1% to the arts. We've worked hard to develop screen production ✓ Draft Long-Term Plan 2024-2034 from Jenkins, Amanda in Ōtautahi and that is now in serious jeopardy. The Screen CanterburyNZ Production Grant had an initial investment of $1.5 million dollars and has generated a return of $12.5 million dollars - that's $12.50 for every dollar spent. This money stayed in the region through crew salaries, transportation, accommodation, hospitality and other businesses. It has been incredibly successful. It isn't in the Long Term Plan and as an investment that generated a return, I feel it needs to be included.

3975 - Suzanne Walker

NO!!!!

3976 - Elizabeth Pugh

No, I think the balance is not quite right

I think savings could be made in some areas by scrapping some plans altogether or deferring some others

3978 - Sandra Bragg

ratepayers who will benefit from them. We're maintaining enough financial flexibility to be able to handle unplanned events, and we're finding permanent efficiencies in our day-to-day spending. OPERATIONAL AND CAPITAL

Overall, have we got the balance right? NO. FOR REASONS I AM OUTLINING IN THIS SUBMISSION
OBVIOUSLY I ENDORSE, ESPECIALLY IN THE FIRST 3 YEARS, THE NECESSARY SPENDING ON DAILY NEEDED COMMODITIES - DRINKING WATER, STORM WATER & FLOOD PROTECTION, WASTEWATER, WASTE & RECYCLING,
OF EQUAL IMPORTANCE, IN MY OPINION, LOOKING AFTER OUR NETWORK OF ROADS AND FOOTPATHS, ENHANCED SAFETY FOR OUR RESIDENTS, AND NEW BUS INFRASTRUCTURE.
NO COST CUTTING ON OUR RECREATION AND SPORT FACILITIES WITH PROPOSED CAPITAL EXPENDITURE FULLY FUNDING THE NECESSARY IDENTIFIED WORK AT JELLIE PARK. THE 20 LIBRARIES AND LIBRARY SERVICES, SUCH AN ESSENTIAL
AND APPRECIATED PART OF EVERY DAY LIVING FOR OLD AND YOUNG, WITH AMAZING RESOURCES, EDUCATIONAL AND EVER EXPANDING SERVICES TO BENEFIT FROM AND ENJOY.

3982 - Duncan Taylor

Probably not! % increases are too easy!

Every single dollar has to be spent as the most important spend ever

3993 - Hans Jorgen Andersen

DONT THINK SO

3994 - Sarah Boje

Get rid of the debt, stop increasing rates, live within your income

4 - Diane Heather

No.

4014 - Stephen Hill

Debt payments are dead money. Basic services need to be kept and streamlined. A plan to get debt down.

4023 - Bethan Sommer

Overall, no this personally feels contradictory to the hope I had for our city. I grew up amongst the rubble of the earthquakes I looked forward to seeing what would rise through the rubble, it gave me so much hope back then. I'm now in my 20s, none of my fave childhood places exist anymore even the ones that were saveable. The city feels like a ghost to me and there is very little left under Council care or not that still makes me feel at home.

4026 - Helen Van den Bogaert

No

>>>

Just do the basics right

403 - Paul Davis

If the only thing that I have any real knowledge about is typical, then the council is wasting a great deal of money at ratepayers' expense. This does not give me confidence that they have got the overall balance right.

4030 - Jenna Hayward

No

4032 - Paul Dietsche

No, there needs to be more focus on climate change mitigation

4034 - Remy Barbier

No

4035 - Simon Ashby

No

4038 - Jodi Wright

No

4039 - Tammy Hay

No

404 - Annelise Bryant

Not at all.

406 - Angela Burrill

No. Spending is way too high.

413 - Kim Roebuck

No

422 - Nias Kitchin

No you do not , currently most households are bearily scraping by. At this current point of time it seems that the bare necessities to keep are city going is what is needed until things even out. The over spending the last few years has been unacceptable yet nothing is learned from it. Families are still struggling with the rate increases over the last few years. Now to continue your over ambitious goals u want to charge 50 percent more over ten years. You absolutely have not got the balance right.

425 - Laura Bates

No. The balance isn't right in this economy to bleed your rate payers dry.

430 - Kate Porter

No- the services are great but not at the expense of rates rises that will push most households further into struggle central

433 - Derek Phelps

No, for a start Why is the city spending Millions on over-designed cycleways in the outer suburbs when they are hardly used Why does the Council use cheap pothole fill instead of doing the job properly

437 - Chrystal Gray

No people are struggling as it is. Money stays the same and everything is going up i can barley afford to pay my mortgage as it is

441 - Bianca Jamieson

No you definitely do not. There needs to be more thought on where the Christchurch people can actually afford this. I understand infrastructure and the council needs money for this that will people be able to actually afford to use these facilities these rates prices keep becoming more horrendous.

People can't even afford homes.

443 - Keryn Roberts

[Rates > Other], [Spending > Te Kaha],[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

Not at all, I am deeply concerned about the 8% other spend and the fact it seems to be increasing. I also think it is highly important that council removes its running costs out of this 'other' portion and is honest about its allocation. If you are proposing Museums and Galleries can be run on 1% and Libraries on 7% then surely the administration and counsellors can work on ensuring their operations can be run on something in-between AND BE TRANSPARENT about this. I also question your rationale for keeping some larger projects, like the stadium, but not others like the Arts Centre. Personally, I would like the arts centre and not to pay an extra 6% rates (over three years) on building a stadium when we already have good alternative venues available.

452 - Mark Penrice

I think the city is building too many new things and not focusing on maintaining what we have.

455 - Deborah Dyer

No because you are going to raise the rates and in this cost of living crisis that we are in, it is outrageous

457 - Wendy Murray

[Grants & Funding>Arts Centre Funding]

By removing funding from the Arts Centre you do not have the balance right. This is our most important cultural asset in Christchurch. It needs to be supported by your Council. Do not abandon our treasure.

458 - Christine Cockle

No. Many ratepayers are already struggling financially. The council needs to attend to core tasks and leave the extras to private enterprise.

>>>

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Tarras Airport]

We are already paying for a lot of large projects so it beggars belief that we are also funding an airport in Otago!

>>>

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Social Housing]

Sell all council owned social housing to alternative providers. It's ridiculous that struggling ratepayers are funding housing for non-ratepayers when much of social housing is better than their own.

>>>

Time to put all the "nice to haves" on the back burner and get back to basics, at least until the economy improves.

459 - Aaron Watson

[Strategic Direction>Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities]

No, infact you are not in touch with reality. Everyone I speak to seems to feel the same way. All we see is money being wasted and the council spending more energy on very small groups of people who would rather waste our money on unproven theories with climate change and stupid social engineering experiments with gender and LGBTQ groups. We pay our council for services, we want roads fixed, footpaths fixed, better right hand turn signals at busy intersections. We don't want chlorine or fluoride in our water. We want less contractors working for stupidly high rates. We want less debt. We want more city owned businesses that produce real income for the city. We want less bike lanes in suburban streets but with more speed bumps in quite suburban streets. We want stupid speed bumps that slow the flow of traffic on busy roads like Lincoln road to be removed. We don't want to pay tolls to use roads in the city that we have already paid for. Hopefully you are picking up the Common sense that I am putting down.

460 - Karina Arana

I am sorry but you have not got the balance right at all. How do you expect a normal person or family pay the rates and live modestly with basic food like milk and bread. How? Instead of paying hundreds of dollars $$$ to Managers/Specialists/CEO you can have less of them (and I am sure you will have enough money to provide the community with good services). And, leave the normal citizen at least to have a decent meal to put on the table for their family. This is honestly outrages. The normal citizen does not even have the money to enjoy any of your services because you charge for everything. Outrages. So sad.

468 - Genevieve Bergin

No

48 - Kean Mitchell

We are too focused on costs... Not enough investment for future revenue

482 - Graham Townsend

In my view the balance is NOT right. 1. What is meant by 'drive our city forward'? The word 'forward' implies a goal. What goal? Does it mean growth in population, area, or what? If so, have the costs and benefits to citizens been quantified?

483 - Narelle Gilmour

Not at all!

51 - Zoe Brock

Short sighted, right-wing, lazy, greedy, stupid.

525 - Bruce Bascand

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre]

Your balance is not right - regarding cutting your support for the Arts Centre.

A 'no' because The Arts Centre is missing. I support spending money on water & waste infrastructure - owned by the CCC; on parks & heritage (and that definitely includes The Arts Centre; on Te Kaha; on The Court Theatre new complex; on libraries; on rubbish collection & treatment.

529 - Don Reekie (Parkstone Musical Appreciation Group)

No

533 - Judith Livingstone

No you don't have everything in balance

534 - Russell Hignett

[Grands & Funding> Arts Centre Funding]

No - I am concerned with the omission of funding for the Art Center Trust. The Art Center is an icon asset of our city. It is essential we preserve it for its historic value, its architectural and hereditary value and as a working asset for our community. I attended University at this venue and have attended functions there regularly ever since.

570 - Greg Partridge

No. You've pulled funding from the Christchurch Arts Centre, an historical and cultural site which is not only beloved by Christchurch residents and visitors to our city, but also economically beneficial for Christchurch. In addition to that our Mayor, Phil Mauer, committed to ensuring that the Dux De Lux would reopen and operate under its former management. That hasn't happened.

<https://www.stuff.co.nz/national/129671313/bid-to-restore-famous-dux-de-lux-pub-not-over-yet-after-shortsighted-rejection>

577 - Donna Tse

No

595 - jeffery Thackwell

No

604 - Shona Cole

Too much precedence on sports

619 - Ron Dubin

No. Council is going to raise our rates to waste a huge amount of money on a sports stadium instead of improving services - especially for the disadvantaged.

622 - Stephanie Cullen

No

639 - Paul Clark

No

640 - Peter Cottrell

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

No, not if you're not supporting the iconic Arts Centre.

643 - Annemarie Prendeville

[Rates > Residential Rates]

No, not if you have to increase rates

660 - Lyn Cotton (Jolt Dance)

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

No - this focus places emphasis on transport, roads and infrastructure and ignores our cultural/social heart. Places like the Arts Centre are ignored. The Arts Centre has become a space that is not accessible but celebrates diversity and inclusion

662 - Cameron Taylor

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters]

No! Stop using consultants, stop with all the unnecessary spending, go back to bare basics and essentials!!

672 - Edwin Du Plessis

No

673 - Chris Adams

No.

688 - Christina Duncan

No

692 - Tony Ward

No The above ideas are good but its not followed thru with the proposed detail.

702 - Tim Stedman

No

708 - John Allen

No

725 - Tyler Robbins Robbins

No too much cost at a time when everything is out of balance

730 - Doug Allen

No, I don't think you have the balance right at all. You treat the rate payer like an ATM machine, your ability to manage a budget is appalling and most of the council appear to be out of control with very little leadership.

742 - Mark Holland

13% rates increase clearly you have not.

761 - Carol Groves

No, there are a few important things missing for our area on the Banks Peninsula

763 - Nicola Fagan

no

769 - Julie Kidd

[Revenue > Central Govt Grants & Funding]

No. Need to take account of reduction in Government funding for planned projects such as cycleways. Funding is being cut for some items/services like the Arts Centre which is not specifically mentioned in the plan but is an important omission.

780 - Kirsten Templeton

[Grants & Funding > Events Ecosystem Funding]

Not if you are planning to cut bid financing to bring large scales events to the city. Surely the balance is out of whack then with the investment in the stadium only for it to sit empty?

782 - Áine Smyth

Strategic Direction>Climate Change]

No. You need to focus on climate change way more. Specifically green energy.

789 - Stuart Sanderson

[Spending>Capital Programme (General)]

No - Rates are increasing too high, too quickly and need to be curbed. Projects should be reduced to essential maintenance until spending is under control.

793 - Erica Stokvis

No

811 - Campbell Turnbull

The budget does not take into account that we are within a recession and a cost of living crisis. To up rates by 13% is to add extra pressure to struggling people. With good management of your budget you could easily save 13%

812 - Matthew Fagan

Managing ratepayers money is essential, but that doesn't mean you shouldn't raise rates to pay for the necessities. It also doesn't mean that you should get rid of the nice to have things either.

[Three Waters > Operations]

We should be investing more into the maintenance of existing infrastructure, mainly the water infrastructure.

818 - Bevan Phillipson

[Rates > Residential Rates]

Not yet. RATES RISES you are proposing are unacceptable . So, spending must be reduced

>>>

PLEASE, do try your best to stick to the BASIC DUTIES,ROLES. Council has taken on far to many things, and although i enjoy many of them, spending must be reigned in.

823 - Kym East

No.

825 - Duncan King

[Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]

No you have not. Stop with the cyclelanes that are intentionally designed to create traffic congestion.

Stop trying to create a city by following a politically driven ideology. It won't work. Its time that the council and its employees worked for the citizens and rate payers, not ideology from overseas institutions such as the United Nations. They have no right to dictate what and how we live our lives.

843 - Ngaire Donelda Bacon

Absolutely Not.

847 - David Bromell

[Rates > Residential Rates]

I strongly object to the proposed average rates increase for 2024/25 of 13.24%, noting that in addition, Environment Canterbury is proposing an average rates increase across the region of 24.2%. I am disappointed that the only alternative Council offers in the consultation document is "potential to reduce or cut services" (p. 47), with no commitment to reduce operating costs through efficiency and productivity gains (just asking ratepayers to identify "where there could be an opportunity for efficiencies"). Or is Council implying that there is zero "fat" to trim and that efficiency improvements and a tighter focus on goals and objectives are impossible at this time? So no, I don't think Council has got the balance right, and before appointing a new chief executive, I would have liked to see Council committing to reduce operating costs (in consultation with the public via the LTP), as part of setting performance expectations for the new CE.

853 - Gavin Low

No

855 - Anna van Haastrecht

I realize that the Council needs money to operate; however, I believe that a lot of spending is unnecessary.

>>>

[Spending>Te Kaha]

The council should stick to core-services, like water and waste removal, and not engage into prestigious projects such as the aforementioned expensive stadium

857 - Kate Munro

[Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]

more on sustainability in transport for cycling

858 - Thomas McNaughton

[Strategic Direction>Have we got the balance right?]

[Transport>Transport (Operations)]

[Strategic Direction>Climate Change]

I would want to see more urgency and priority on delivering sustainable travel over the next 3 years. I'm not seeing enough urgency on mitigating climate change.

860 - Gaynor Stanley

No

874 - Arna Morton (Morton Music)

No

893 - Peter Murphy

No

9 - Julia Henson

[Rates > Residential Rates?]

No. Considering we are in the midst of bordering on a cost of living crisis how can you justify spending on non essential upgrades, community events when the average home owner/occupier struggles to make ends meet and will be forced to make further sacrifices to pay your absurd rates increase. To think landlords to not pass this onto tenants at the detriment at the working class is absolutely abhorrent

915 - Mark Pearson

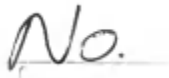

[Rates - Residential Rates]

No, debt is too high and associated costs in servicing the loans. Percentage increase in rates in significantly above inflation and unaffordable for the majority.

918 - Gina Dellabarca (Show Me Shorts Film Festival Trust)

It is vitally important for a city to have the infrastructure it needs to survive. It is having a rich cultural and artistic landscape that makes a city an enjoyable place to live though. We think the balance has tipped too far towards the former, and would like to see more investment into the cultural heart of Christchurch.

935 - Rob Davies

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "No." written on a horizontal line.

936 - Whitney Blair

No

985 - Nancy Gibb

Not quite.

989 - Dave Renison

No

996 - David Smith

No. Cut costs

>>>

No funding..

>>>

? Leave us alone to get on with life. Your job is to service us, not bleed us.

Other

1098 - Eric Pawson

[Strategic Direction>Climate Change]; [Strategic Direction>Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities]

pretty much but for a city that declared a climate emergency in 2019, there is very little on that

1107 - Claire Gullidge

[Grants & Funding>Orana Park Funding]

Yes, I am happy with the balance, but I am concerned about Orana Park.

1148 - Emma Turner

Mostly

1157 - Justin Rogers

[Spending > Te Kaha]

Yes, seems reasonable, except for the stadium.

1180 - Glenn Matheson

Yes but I think we need to bring stuff forward, I will explain later on

1203 - David Moore

There is a good balance here.

1229 - Cassandra Albert

While acknowledging the substantial investment required, I firmly believe that these priorities epitomize conscientious stewardship of resources and pave the path towards a more promising future for Christchurch. This is our opportunity to sculpt a city where every individual flourishes—a beacon of sustainability, equity, and unwavering dedication to its inhabitants.

[Coder note: for context, these priorities refer to the submitters priorities outlined in the submission, e.g. sustainability, equity, waste minimisation, cycleways, public transport, parks, the environment, climate resilience, etc]

1232 - Heather Young

The overarching scheme is a good one, but it does not detail specific projects, which is what matters to community.

1235 - Alex Edge

Yes and no.

>>>

I really feel like people are hurting financially which has a huge impact on everyone's family, health etc. I believe council should be prioritising lowering costs everywhere and delay future proofing until our economy has stabilised a bit in 5-10 years. Does that suck? Yes. But we have to be able to live now.

1280 - Victoria Mitchell

Almost, it would be good to see more support for the arts.

1325 - Millie McDonald

More public transport infrastructure, more cycle ways, more environmental projects including native planting on the port hills.

133 - Alan Mears

Overall Yes. Priority must be given to essential services e.g 3waters, transport rather than nice to haves (against additional funding for Cathedral refurbishment, Art Centre redevelopment)

1339 - Carol Marie Ferrier

[Parks > Heritage (Capital)]

75% right, essential that existign iconic heirtage sites that continue to be the heart and soul of The Garden City's identity are properly funded.

1354 - Ivo de Vocht

[Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Transport > Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)]

Yes, I think the balance is generally right. However, I feel a higher emphasis and priority should be placed on improving active travel infrastructure (cycleways) and public transport, as these are the low hanging fruit in terms of reducing our carbon emissions and the sooner this is in place the better.

1370 - Jeremy Kaye

We should maintain existing levels of investment in core infrastructure, could possibly reduce spend on some services and then cut out any nice to haves to reduce the rates increase.

1394 - Michael Clemens

[Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Transport > Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)]

I think the balance is pretty good. I would like to see more cycleways, bus shelters and bus priority and I'd be happy to pay slightly higher rates to fund this.

1397 - Andrew Sprouse

Mostly,

1416 - David Laughlin

There is no such thing as a perfect balance, but by inviting residents to make submissions in this way, and taking those into account in the long term plan, ensures that it can be as balanced as it can be.

1442 - Elisha Blogg

I live out East in New Brighton and as always, we seem to get a much lower level of service than most other suburbs of Christchurch however we still get a significant rate rise. I believe yes if the services provided are spread fairly across the city, however, I am yet to see this out our way.

1464 - Jeffrey Packard

[Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]; [Transport>Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)]; [Transport>Transport (Operations)]

Not quite. I think we should prioritize more bike lanes and public transport. This reduces parking demand, traffic congestion, improves air quality, and promotes healthier living.

1474 - Céira Dernhagen

It's not quite right. As a resident of Christchurch, I am writing to express my vision for a more sustainable, equitable, and livable city. I commend the Council's efforts toward a thoughtful Long Term Plan and offer my feedback focusing on the following priorities:

[Transport>Cycleways(Capital)]; [Transport>Roads(Capital)]; [Transport>Public Transport Infrastructure(Capital)]; [Other/Special Interest Topics>Public Transport];

Prioritizing Public Transport and Bike Lanes: A modern city prioritizes safe, efficient public transport. This reduces traffic congestion, improves air quality and promotes a healthier lifestyle. I urge the Council to: Why it's personal I find myself in dangerous situations daily, due to the lack of comprehensive cycle lanes. A few weeks ago a woman was run over by a car on the very route I cycle almost everyday. My roommate was one of the people that helped lift the car off of her until emergency services arrived. Please invest more heavily in bike lanes. Solutions Create an interconnected, protected cycleway network throughout the city that makes cycling a safe, attractive alternative to driving. Design all road development/renewal projects with bike lanes and pedestrian safety as the primary objectives, not an afterthought.

[Parks>Parks Spending (General)]; [Parks>Playgrounds & Play Equipment]; [Parks>Other]; [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration>City Planning]

Equitable Green Spaces and Food Forests: All residents deserve access to nature. I support: Why it's personal I work at a desk. I am lucky enough to have a park very close to my house. My mental health, connection to nature and source of play is greatly enhanced by the green space outside my house. Foraging is one of my greatest pleasures and helps mitigate the soaring costs of groceries. Solutions Increased funding for parks, playgrounds, and natural reserves in every neighborhood. Development of a comprehensive food forest program on public lands, promoting community self-sufficiency and food security.

[Three Waters>Stormwater & Land Drainage]; [Three Waters>Waterways Quality & Compliance]; [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration>Coastal Hazards Adaptation & Adaptation Planning]; [Other/Special Interest Topics>Creating a Climate Fund]; [Other/Special Interest Topics>Accelerating Adaptation]

Clean Water and Climate Resilience: Water protection and climate change adaptation are essential. I encourage: Why it's personal I am originally from a place that has experienced and is experiencing an increase in wildfires. A little over a decade ago almost my entire town was wiped out by a runaway wildfire due to poor management and climate change induced heatwaves. I want to make sure our home is ready for our changing climate. Solutions Rigorous protection of waterways through stormwater management, reduced pollution, and natural filtration systems. Increased investment in infrastructure designed to withstand the impacts of climate change (e.g., flooding and sea-level rise), including nature-based solutions. Accelerate Adaptation efforts - invest much more than the laughably small 1.8 million per year Climate Resilience Fund - Expand the program. Start the plan immediately and invest more than the current proposal. We have created enough climate debt for our Rangatahi. It's time to properly invest in their future.

[Resource Recovery>Resource Recovery (Operations)]

Responsible Waste Management: Christchurch should be a leader in waste minimization. I propose: Expanded curbside composting programs to significantly reduce landfill waste. Increased support for recycling initiatives and education on reducing single-use plastics.

[Strategic Direction>Community Outcomes and Strategic Priorities]; [Other/Special Interest Topics>Public Transport]; [Parks>Parks Maintenance]

Lifting Up Underserved Communities: A truly livable city ensures equity for all. I recommend: Addressing affordable housing shortages through mixed-income developments and support programs. Targeting public transport and green space improvements in neighborhoods that have been historically underserved. Partnering with community organizations to ensure that solutions reflect the needs of marginalized residents.

1500 - Warwick Schaffer

No nice to have and non performing services and people need to be axed.

1508 - Mb Brennan

-That-s a maybe.. could cut out some nice to have projects and live with existing structures. slow down the lofty ideas and change that goes with them -

1546 - Robert Fleming

I think so. I'd like to see costs trimmed as much as practicable but don't wish to see any services suffer in the area of city aesthetics, maintenance, nor services which assist those who are disadvantaged. I'd like to see more emphasis placed on a more liveable city, even as the population density increases as it will do in the future.

>>>

We need to do what benefits the city as a whole. We cannot knee-jerk respond to those who feel aggrieved that their unfettered use of cars and parking is under threat. Programmes which improve our natural environment cannot be scaled back.

1558 - Tania Graham

Mostly

1583 - James Pomeroy

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding] , [Strategic Direction > Climate Change]

Yes but I feel there needs to be greater focus on funding for Arts & Culture, climate change/resilience.

1618 - Zachary Imhoof

yes and no. There are many promising projects but they are a drop in the bucket of what we could achieve in creating a healthy, diverse and prosperous city.... There is a lot more work to do though.

1619 - David Hera

I recognize that these priorities demand considerable investment, yet I see them as a reflection of prudent resource management and a promising future for Christchurch. We have an opportunity to craft a city where all can prosper—a city celebrated for its commitment to sustainability, equity, and its residents.

1648 - Andrew Bowman

[Spending > Te Kaha], [Grants & Funding > Orana Park Funding]

Overall, I believe the plan strikes a good balance with the exception of spending money on Te Kaha. This seems like a boondoggle and a fraction of that money could be used to provide Orana Wildlife Park with the funds it needs to continue.

1649 - Tony Smith

Focus on core infrastructure and forget the nice to haves. Sewerage systems, water quality, roads etc

1650 - Deb Osborn

[Other/Special Interest Topics > LTP Consultation]

I started to read the draft LTP but my eyes glazed over early on. I can only say it looks like there are a lot of things to weigh up, and your pie charts and graphs will seem balanced to one group and not balanced to another. It depends on so many demographic factors as to whether the balance is right.

1709 - Aaron Cumming

The Christchurch City Council has never had it right and now we are faced with rate increases, costly projects that the general public don't want and playing catch up on infrastructure repairs that should have been spread over previous decades. Instead the council spend money on over paid executives that delivered nothing but a toxic work environment. The councils over previous years have shown nothing but short sightedness and lack of vision and all we are left with as rate payers is the prospect of endless rate increases. This is a road to nowhere. >>> [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)] [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Strategic Transport]

1760 - Angus Bromley

We need to catch up on deferred maintenance

1781 - Charlotte McGregor

I'm order for Chch to feel like change is happening they need to be able to see it. It's been over 10 years since the earthquakes and we still have patches of rubble and empty buildings. Chch has no tourism value and it just a pit stop to other places in the South Island. Can we put money into making chch a nicer city to live in with benefits people can feel and see?

1784 - Joanna Chan

We should not be spending more on the stadium than our libraries and resource recovery. Conservation and education is a lot more beneficial to the community than rugby.....

180 - Kevin McSweeney

I clicked don't know as you should be doing all of the above

[Coder note: Delivering the draft LTP, exploring ways to bring down the proposed rates increase across the LTP and Accelerate work on some projects and programmes, with a focus on balancing the needs of today's residents with the needs of future generations.]

1803 - Guy Faes

Almost.

1811 - Mick Stephenson

Yes, but I would like to see sport and recreation prioritised

1832 - Greer Nakaroti

Think long- term: aging population; Auckland reaching capacity (how can we draw more people here?!);

1837 - Rosalie Griffith

Just about as long as Water / sewerage / Road + Rubbish are prioritised.

1839 - Catherine Grima

Our water pipeline network is in desperate need of renovations, fixing and modernizations. I think a lot more so than yet more investment in roads, unless this is mostly for public transit and cycleways, or improving road safety.

1868 - Sara Rennell

In short the budget sound ok but we can lose the heart and soul of our city

1903 - Grant Dickson

Existing services are good and should be maintained. However, post EQ, with the exodus of residents from Chch City Council areas to outlying Councils (eg Selwyn and Waimak) this has obviously created issues with lost CCC revenue, while still subsidising those outlying Council residents who regularly utilise CCC facilities and services. Something needs to be done here to even up the playing field so CCC residents don't carry all the weight.

1910 - Cynthia Muir

Ok

1949 - Tessa Marshall

No. The council must fund better public transport, bike lanes, arts funding, flood protection, NOT roads, new houses,

1959 - Brad Waldon-Gibbons

The current balance seems to reflect a "maintain the status quo" and replace/renewal of assets with slight glimpses of innovation and forethought related to our future. This LTP proposal does not show the appropriate action and investment related to the climate and ecological emergency declaration that was signed in 2019 by CCC.

1977 - Nicholas Lealand

It's not quite right. As a resident of Christchurch, I am writing to express my vision for a more sustainable, equitable, and livable city. I commend the Council's efforts toward a thoughtful Long Term Plan and offer my feedback focusing on the following priorities: Prioritizing Public Transport and Bike Lanes: A modern city prioritizes safe, efficient public transport. This reduces traffic congestion, improves air quality and promotes a healthier lifestyle.

2005 - Barbara Stewart

THE COUNCIL IS STEADILY WORKING TOWARDS ENVIRONMENTAL IMPROVEMENTS - KEEP THE PACE MANAGEABLE FOR OUR CITY IS STILL COMING WITH EARTHQUAKE CONSEQUENCE. THIS YEAR AND INTO THE FUTURE YEARS ARE GOING TO HAVE GREAT PRESSURES ON THE RESIDENTS AND COUNCIL HAS TO BE EXTREMELY CAREFUL OF A WIDE RANGE OF DEMANDS ON CITIZENS AND NOT UNNECESSARILY ADD TO THEM BY AN ENDLESS "WISH" LIST.

2011 - Lauren Sturm

Working on it - We can help point them in the right direction

2046 - Nathaniel Herz Sardine

[Rates>Other]

Has CCC got the balance between its services and rates right.
More of both please. Use targetted rates to raise money from carparks

[Coder note: more of both services and rates]

2055 - Joanne Byrne

Prioritise the communities east of Cranford.

2078 - Barry Williamson

Probably yes, but with this reservation. Chch is a great city to live in BUT it has to be affordable to all members of the community. As a retiree who has contributed to the Government coffers by way of income tax and GST since emigrating here in 1998 and who now has limited income and capital, the real concern is, having worked hard, are we going to be able to afford to continue to be able to live here? Equally, for young people who having studied, are now making their way in the world, many are finding Chch an unaffordable city to live in which is very sad. Therefore, those in charge of governance, it is critical that cost increases are kept at manageable levels. The suit has to be cut to suit the cloth. Big ticket expenditure items within the budget need to be very carefully considered, controlled and managed. Nice to have but unaffordable projects MUST be rejected. An analogy is the Anglican Cathedral. While it would be marvelous to save and restore it, it is simply costing too much. It should have been demolished or partly demolished and a new but potentially magnificent building erected in its place with significant savings and still delivering the function it is intended for. I'm sure God would be equally pleased. To summarise, don't tip the scales to the extent that the decision to live in Chch causes stress to those who have made this city their home. At present I feel then level of stress is increasing!

2089 - Serge Ratten

Has CCC got the balance between its services and rates right:

it should be about the environment
such as birds and trees people

2111 - Vaughan Wright

[Transport > Cycleways (Capital)]

I believe we are getting a reasonable balance, one of my concerns is the investment into cycleways that are now reducing road width and eliminating on street parking, I'm also very concerned about the amount of rate payers money being spent on minority groups rather than things that benefit ALL rate payers as a whole

213 - Diana Plesovs

Unbalanced priorities

>>>

The city needs to be able to function on basics such as core infrastructure

2144 - Amy Mcnaughton

Generally right but some redistribution of spend would help assist important assets to city

2183 - Hali Stauffer

As a resident invested in the future of Christchurch, I appreciate the Council's efforts to shape a Long Term Plan that steers our city toward progress. However, I believe there's room for refinement to ensure we strike the right balance.

>>>

In conclusion, while strides have been made, there's an opportunity to enhance the Long Term Plan to better reflect the diverse needs and aspirations of Christchurch residents. I urge the Council to consider these suggestions to create a more sustainable, equitable, and livable city for generations to come.

2198 - Andrew Smith

I like the focus on renewals and maintenance of existing assets. However, the rates rise on top of the cost of living crisis is not affordable or sustainable. I encourage council to look hard at the increased level of service projects and consider deferring or removing some of these. We should focus on maintaining what we have and only implementing essential projects. Rates increases are not sustainable

2201 - Eddie Hayes

[Grants & Funding > Strengthening Communities Fund]

On the whole, yes. However, with the rising cost of living it is ever more important that community organisations have more access to funding than in previous years. Please continue to allocate at least the same if not more funding to Strengthening Communities and Discretionary Response funds so that we can continue to deliver the community development projects we currently deliver. The charitable sector is currently under stress due to rising costs and increasing needs in our community.

2206 - Nikki Rogers (Hospitality NZ)

General Comments:

4. Hospitality New Zealand welcomes the opportunity to comment on Christchurch City Council's Long-Term Plan 2024-34.
5. Hospitality is important to local communities. We offer vibrant and diverse options for food and beverage, enhancing any community's quality of life and visitor experience. We provide safe and responsible accommodation options that contribute as rate-paying businesses to the local economy. We present job creation, development opportunities and career pathways for young people joining the workforce. And we support entrepreneurship through small business ownership in local communities.
6. We value strong relationships with local government as key partners. As with Central Government, the industry by and large looks to local government to set the right parameters to inspire business confidence, attract skills and investment to their region.
7. We support the general direction of Christchurch City Council's Long-Term Plan – the emphasis on refocusing on core delivery of services, reducing wasteful spending, avoiding unnecessary overheads and more efficient value capture are priorities we are pleased to see.
8. We have a number of general concerns on issues that we believe will rear their head in the next ten years. These include infrastructure funding, local alcohol policies, and short-term rental accommodation.

2223 - Jill Turner

Mainly except more funding for Orana Park

2234 - Jane Edens

But dint get rid of fun things just to “fix” our roads coz you say you ate but they are just not being fixed

227 - Megan Hopkins

Mostly, yes

2284 - Anna Western-Bell

Projects that are a 'want' should be postponed and needs projects that bring financial benefit/business and tourism to our province completed or maintained.

2295 - Katja Charmley

Overall, I find the proposed Long Term Plan for Christchurch commendable, especially its focus on crucial aspects like water supply, waste management, and climate change adaptation. However, I believe there's room for improvement in certain areas.

230 - Peter Elliott

Mostly

2305 - Monique Maynard

Improved in areas, but the cost of what's being lost and not revealed that concerns me.

2309 - Margaret Austin

[Recreation, Sports & Events > Community Arts]

Apart from lack of recognition on the importance of the arts and creativity to citizen well being which ought to be a significant priority - yes

233 - Luciana Orr

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

Not if council no longer plans to support the iconic arts centre.

2357 - Cori Sanders

I don't think so.

>>>

The vanity projects the Council is supporting would be great to invest in for the future but right now, people are hurting and we need to focus on the essentials like public safety (on and off the road, in houses, businesses, schools, and places of worship), public health, and food and water supply.

2369 - Rachele Allan

Need balanced capital spend not too much to meet the requirements of a minority or this with the modest voice or money. We can't fix things overnight.

2375 - John Reilly

Overall yes but... there are opportunities for discretionary support for activities other than the basic council obligations (roads, libraries, water, rubbish, parks for example).

2382 - Sean Scobie

[Transport>Transport (Operations)]

Less on CBD transport, but yes

2383 - Kirsty Macnab

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration>City Planning]

Yes but I believe that the port noise overlay in the District plan needs to be amended and residential / commercial housing needs to be allowed on Norwich Quay. When the Lyttelton Port noise overlay was introduced the LPC was mostly operating in the inner harbour. Now its operations are more out east. We currently have a number of large sites on Norwich Quay that sit vacant because the current zoning forbids any kind of residential development or apartments to be built.

2391 - Mitchell Rogers

Overall, yes. Although it is important to fund critical infrastructure rather than fancy stadiums or 'want's first.

240 - Bella Zilber

[Strategic Direction > Climate Change], [Art Galleries & Museums > Art Gallery (Operational)], [Recreation, Sports & Events > Community Arts]

Yes but I'd like to see increased and going support for the arts and environmental issues

>>>

[Strategic Direction > Climate Change], [Art Galleries & Museums > Art Gallery (Operational)], [Recreation, Sports & Events > Community Arts], [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)]

I support the ongoing maintenance of projects which enhance the liveability of this city. Eg the environment, arts and cycleways

2406 - Chris Archer

Whilst this is admirable, there needs to be equal primary focus on the social wellbeing of communities.

2417 - Victor Vergara

Almost

2467 - John Ogier

Are you expecting a Yes or No? I appreciate you have a balancing act and while I would prefer my rates not to increase as much as they will need to, there are some important features and services of our city that can't be under-resourced.

2476 - Reuben Scott (Simeon Park Community Group)

[Transport > Transport (Operations)]

Yes road and transport options if it is oriented towards climate resilient transport options is a good focus however we are not convinced this is your focus. We need to be ensuring our LTP is laser-focused on our commitment to 2045 zero emissions. Centering transport without specifying what type of transport gives too much room for abuse of power and not following through on our necessary commitments to the climate. If the LTP is specifically focused on buses and active methods of transport then we support that focus.

2504 - Sarah van der Burch

Keep it as simple as possible.

2519 - Charlotte Withington

Yes, but we also need to consider residents of today that have lived with broken paths, bumpy roads and deteriorating playgrounds for many years

2522 - Rosa Hughes-Currie

[Spending>Te Kaha]; [Transport>Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)]; [Three Waters>Stormwater & Land Drainage]

Too much being spent on Te Kaha, not enough on flood protection and public transport.

[Grants & Funding>Arts Centre Funding]

The Arts Centre should be funded.

[Rates>Other]

Higher rates increases that enabled funding arts, culture and libraries would be fine.

2525 - Adrienne Kimberly Georgine

[Grants & Funding>Requests for Additional Funding]

No. I don't think you have. You have stated that you want Christchurch to be a "Cultural Powerhouse" but have literally nothing that I can see in the budget for the arts or artists. If so, which category is it under? 1% in Art galleries and museums? Cultural powerhouses don't create themselves, nor do they come from artists working for free but come from artists who choose to live and practice in their city. No investment certainly means that we will not be a cultural powerhouse. We've worked hard to develop screen production in Ōtautahi and that is now in serious jeopardy. The Screen CanterburyNZ Production Grant had an initial investment of $1.5 million dollars and has generated a return of $12.5 million dollars - that's $12.50 for every dollar spent. This money STAYED IN THE REGION through crew salaries, transportation, accommodation, hospitality and other business. It has been incredibly successful.

[Three Waters>Other]

Three Waters is another issue. That is a lot of money being poured into something that I'm still not clear now how it will be managed. Entity A will surely have the lion's share of shares... How does this impact the rest of us? I don't think anyone is clear on this. It's an absolutely exorbitant share of the CCC budget. Water management is absolutely critical but so is land management, housing, and other climate change initiatives. I think in principal it's great to ensure City Council's spend appropriately on clean drinking water, but surely there are other management structures that can be considered to ensure this happens.

2532 - Ken Begg

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Creating a Climate Fund]; [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration>City Planning]; [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration>Coastal Hazards Adaptation & Adaptation Planning]

No.

I would support spending more on climate change adaption and focusing on properties at risk from climate change. I would like legislation to prevent further development in areas of greatest risk.

2537 - Suzanne Montocchio

[Strategic Direction>Financial Strategy]

In the current climate of recession, most households have had to find ways to manage their outgoings. Most of us have had very little increases in money coming in, but large increases in money going out. This requires management of what we spend our money on, regulate and pull back. Can the council not look at their department in this same manner. Save 5%, per department? Surely this is the first option, look at your current spend, reduce this first, before you ask us. Look at your internal spends! We are all having to. We have limited resources.

2554 - Paul Schwalger

[Other/ Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

For the most part, although I don't think we can look to defer work within the adaptation planning and climate resilience space for later.

2571 - Anna Walker

Some of it.

2576 - Matthew Polson

Developing infrastructure is the councils most important role, for me. I think the balance is good, although I would lean more to the arts and culture and less to roads

2583 - Lois Moore

Sustainability and environmentally friendly need to be considered and any effects on climate change.

2611 - Papataitua Harrington

Sure. There are many groups asking for significant financial support in addition to the current proposal and that is concerning.

2639 - Callum Ward (Waihoru Spreydon Cashmere Heathcote Community Board)

Our Community Board Plan's vision is that our people are actively engaged and contribute to thriving communities and environments, where they feel they belong and are safe and connected with each other. The Board appreciates the difficulty in balancing the needs of current residents and providing security around the reasonably foreseeable needs of future. We strongly support the proposed capital and operational investments in our communities. We also ask that the Council make a small number of changes (referenced later), particularly for transport, parks and facilities, so that the budget can better achieve our vision for our communities. We also strongly support the stated focus of the budget to reduce greenhouse gas emissions through making changes to the way we travel, the waste we create and the energy we use, and will comment further on this in sections 4. Capital Programme – Transport, and 9. Climate Change. We expect this budget to make the capital and operational investments needed to deliver the Council's Climate Resilience Strategy.

2656 - A Pratap

But why is there not enough funding for arts and culture?

2666 - Kathleen Crisley

As a resident of Christchurch for the last 26 years, I have decided to submit on this Plan because it is time to challenge the status quo. By status quo, I refer mainly to the operating model used by Council and its reliance on ratepayer funding. I am particularly concerned that ratepayers have been presented with another Plan document which does not disclose budget information to the level required for us to identify 'efficiencies and savings.'

2680 - Graham Fear

I am objecting to the proposed use

2682 - Scott Savage

The concept is fine, I have concern with the delivery to date and the cost blowouts that have occurred. Also please differentiate between 'needs' and 'wants'. Now is not the time to be implementing costly 'nice to haves'.

2700 - Selena O'Brien

This is a time to spend money on the necessary not thousands on consults.

2705 - Ian Le Page

Impossible to tell as considerable expenditure is non specific. However clearly greater emphasis on upgrading existing infrastructure as apposed to creating additional facilities in areas of little expansion is required.

2711 - Denise George

Seem to have it right though I would like to see more transparency about what and when large scale projects are planned at the appropriate time also that if these works will be contracted out they will be closely monitored by Council staff.

2723 - Laura Greenland

7/10

2751 - Helen Holyoak

I am not sufficiently expert to answer that, nor have I had time to consider the whole and complete document. I have focussed on areas of interest to me. (Really - who can digest and analyse that whole document in a month)

277 - Jane Harrison

I would like to see more climate change/adaptation spending, particularly on Banks Peninsula. It is difficult to reach a good balance, but I would not like to see spending on people and communities reduced.

2791 - David Dockery

Overall, have we got the balance right:

No stop doing big ticket items and ~~let~~ user pays fund. these.

Stop funding all things outside Councils core jobs = Get Back to what Council main jobs is maintaining infrastructure and not businesses

2821 - Dave and Denise Falls

Happy with services.

2838 - Graham Erikson

Year 1 rates increase needs to be spread into the following years.

2840 - Matthew Carter

I have reservations about the focus on "new projects that have long-term value", and would prefer the council to be giving more attention to community and resilience, especially in view of the uncertainties around climate change and the global economy. I am pleased that current service levels of services will be maintained under the proposed plan, and that the programme of infrastructure renewal and repair will not be set back and not be a bad legacy for ratepayers in future.

2841 - Hunter Craig

This feels like a loaded question, that leads to a no answer when the rates numbers are in bold and the services are not

2848 - Glen Koorey

Generally yes, especially acknowledging the likely investment required in 3 waters infrastructure over the coming years. However, greater acknowledgement of the role of climate change mitigation/adaption needs to be in the Plan, including more funding for this space and continuing to invest in good climate-mitigating transport solutions such as better walking/cycling facilities and rapid public transport facilities. There are also other opportunities for additional user-pays funding from increased parking charges and excess water use charges.

2857 - Jo Blair

I believe it isn't too bad - however small relative increased in investment to Arts and Major Events is essential at this stage.

2899 - Victoria Nebbeling

It's important to invest in our 3 waters, transport (including alternatives to driving is important!) and community facilities. There should be a bigger focus on Climate Change preparation initiatives and community led project support.

2902 - Prawindra Mukhia

It is difficult to answer this questions without fully understanding what the outcomes, the benefits of the projects/programs are and how they are aligned to the vision. I suggest that this information for at least the top ten (highest costs) should be provided.

2919 - Hayley Guglietta (Avon Ōtākaro Network INC)

Somewhat

Feedback on the CCC 2024/2034 Long-Term Plan

We appreciate that the Council has a very difficult task ahead of them to keep the rates rises down with so many demands placed on them, by the economic environment, by the community, by regulation and by the central government.

We would like to see greater austerity on projects that have not started and nice-to-haves. We are very concerned that the Proposed LTP is disconnected from the Draft Ōtākaro Avon Stormwater Management Plan; the Ōtautahi Christchurch Climate Resilience Strategy and Biodiversity Strategy. The disconnect is within the department silos as well as in action and support funding for internal resources and community organisations such as AvON to fulfil a role in participatory action of these strategies.

This is not the time for reducing funding and resources to support this mahi, we would rather see projects that haven't started pushed back until the stadium is finished so that the community funding is not impacted.

2921 - Ana Pickering

At the end of last year, I moved from Wellington to Christchurch, purchasing a home in Central Christchurch. I last lived here as a university student in the 1980s when the evening air was full of smoke from domestic fires. How the city has changed! The Christchurch City Council can be thanked for its role in delivering many successful and significant projects for the people of Christchurch, especially in the post-quake decade which has resulted in Tūranga, road and pipe renewals, the restored Town Hall, and Te Pae. There is more to look forward to including Te Kaha, the Court Theatre, Matatiki Hornby and Ōmōkihi South Library and the Robert MacDougall Art Gallery. "What a vibrant city!" our visitors exclaim.

2922 - Zak Morrison

I appreciate the opportunity to provide feedback on the Christchurch City Council's Draft Long Term Plan 2024-2034. After reviewing the proposed plan and considering the focus areas, I believe that while the plan makes significant strides towards addressing the needs of our city, there are areas where the balance could be improved to better align with the community's long-term interests, particularly in terms of sustainable transport and climate change mitigation.

2934 - Monica Richards

It is good to focus on water and transport but only where that is compatible with lowering our carbon footprint. The transport focus is too much on roads and road surfaces. Where is the focus on light railway and buses which are much easier on our roads than 1000s of cars.

2942 - Will Taylor

Overall the balance is not bad.

2943 - Maurice Gaskell

close

3004 - Philip Arndt

I'm not sure.

3015 - Alexandra Cox

Our city is turning into one big glorified retirement home - please listen to the youth. The previous generations connected with their community by sharing physical places (trams, buses etc) - they got to open new, creative venues like bars instead of being forced to close them due to noise complaints. Ask any young adult - everyone's current plan is to escape Christchurch, despite its affordability. The low cost of living here simply isn't worth it when the dying generations refuse to give over any control over our future and climate to those who will be the ones experiencing it. What's the point in aspiring to become any sort of expert when our legislators and councillors seem to ignore them anyway?

3017 - Heather Venis

Just listen to what the community wants and stop spending money on consultations where CCC have already decided the outcome. Listen Listen Listen and action accordingly

302 - Bronwyn Roberts

Nearly

3021 - Viane Makalio

I am leaning toward exploring other options. I am finding it difficult to understand this budget and in particular the cost of implementing three waters. With a blowout on staffing in the past it is hard to understand why we would need to focus a third of our budget on this in the next ten years. I would prefer to see a bit more focus on community and even more toward rebuilding our economy, bringing new events into the city and addressing the Eastside issues which include: bad odour in the air, water quality, constant road issues, pauses on building etc. I would also like to see more empathises on Pacific throughout this document and other ethnicities we are currently under "other" or "community" but with a fast growing population i think it is important to select key populations to highlight a certain level of focus.

3028 - Steve Taylor

Insure

3031 - Lee Osborn

[Strategic Direction>Climate Change]; [Parks>Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration]

Not with regards to the environment. In a climate crisis and with central government reducing funding for predator control and conservation in a short-term thinking way for political expediency, it is imperative that any long term planning focuses on this. It is much more important than events, flash buildings and other nice-to-haves which won't be much use on a damaged planet.

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration>Strategic Transport]; [Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]; [Transport>Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)]

Transport initiatives such as more reliable public transport and facilitating safe cycling are good but even more could be done. Christchurch is perfect for cycling, being flat and with a mainly dry climate. We should prioritise cycle lanes that physically protect cyclists and promote our city as a "cycle city" for sustainable tourism. Currently we would be inviting tourists to risk their lives on most of our roads. Cycleways are expensive but they will never be cheaper and reduce car travel.

3046 - Gisela Faber

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration>Strategic Transport]

Christchurch needs to follow centres moving away from individual car transport.

3083 - Peter Joyce

[Grants & Funding>Arts Centre Funding]; [Art Galleries & Museums>Art Gallery (Capital)]; [Other/Special Interest Topics>Creating a Climate Fund]

Not quite; insufficient support for the environment and for the 'arts' - ChCh Art Gallery & ChCh Arts Centre.

3094 - Daniel Smith

We need to be investing heavily in critical infrastructure

3095 - Helen Dawson

Also need to make it a fun, thriving place to live

3098 - Craig Bowen (Halswell United AFC)

The club believes that funding infrastructure and facilities via borrowing is a correct approach. Public / private partnerships could also be considered, so too user pays with regards cost contribution for repayments

3127 - Dianne Downward

Council needs to look again at all their spending processes in how they do things. Ratepayers are being forced to spend less, and are struggling to survive in many cases, council needs to follow suit and cut their spending, cut their 'nice to haves' and stick to necessities.

314 - Vaughan Kirkland

Generally about right. I think a more needs to be put into replacing , upgrading, and building new infrastructure.

3163 - Simon Cobb

The balance is about right, but you should be funding the restoration of the Arts Centre as a priority.

3172 - Sara Shea

Yes but I am concerned about the lack of funding for the Arts Centre. Doesn't sound like enough balance on history and the arts, compared with infrastructure.

3178 - Libby Newcombe

Can't comment on the overall picture but the Arts Centre is a positive jewel in Christchurch's crown and fully deserves to be supported by our council.

3189 - Susan Pearson

So long as borrowing for new projects with long-term value is not at the expense of (borrowing to) maintaining existing facilities that have current and long term value. Such as The Arts Centre.

3191 - John Massie

No, fund the arts centre.

3192 - Janene Burnett

[Spending>Our Proposed Spending]; [Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]; [Transport>Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)]; [Grants & Funding>Arts Centre Funding]; [Grants & Funding>Orana Park Funding]

Almost, I would like to see more funding for Orana Wildlife park, the Arts Centre, and green forms of transport i.e. bike lane/routes and public transport.

3214 - Sue Trayling

I don't know about the balance, but am concerned about (in my view) overspending in some areas.

3231 - Colin Foster

Largely the plan is good but there are some areas that could be amended to make it a better fit.

3234 - Rhys Pryde-Wall

Tbd

3254 - Tracey Jury

[Grants & Funding>Arts Centre Funding]

Firstly, thank you! Yes, for me the balance is mostly right and I realise that financially things (for everyone) are tough right now. However, support for our Arts Centre is an essential part of life in Christchurch and it needs to be supported and funded. To me this is paramount.

3287 - Claire Fletcher

Overall I think the highest priorities are correct however for some of them I think the funding needs to be reduced or redistributed

3314 - Esther Scott

No, please go back to basics, focus on roads water and water infrastructure, and basic gardening / tree maintenance. No cathedral spending, no more cycle lanes, no more frivolous spending on arts or feel good projects.

3325 - Adele Geradts

The long-term plan needs to be ambitious and bold.

3350 - Davina McNickel

Yes but some of the smaller costs have large impact on those activities.

3359 - Mark Elicker

Not quite. I think the plan needs more focus on making it safer and nicer to live in Christchurch.

3363 - Brodie Marra-Stevenson

There is still work to be done getting the balance right.

>>>

Just seriously get more radical, let's stop catering purely to wealthy Pākehā.

3377 - Roderick Syme

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

I support most of the proposals, but have a serious concern at the proposed omission of ongoing support for the Christchurch Arts Centre.

3383 - Tania Aspey

No

34 - Jean Flannery
Sort of

3419 - Michael Allan

The balance is roughly right

>>>

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Governance]

Everybody will have a different priority. Simply strike one and stick with it, but remember, keep b politics out of it.

3423 - James Upton

I agree with the general priorities of the plan. There are two areas that I think could better align with the vision and strategic framework.

One is a bolder move to reduce the cities energy, transport and waste. An example could vision messaging about considering where to live, work, and shop. Standards around natural light/heating, open spaces and waste-water and green waste flows within communities are examples that could be explored.

The second is interactions with dormitory towns close to Christchurch (outside the city boundary) who benefit from the capital spending on facilities such as Te Kaha, Parakiore, and Te Whare Tapere. Other councils need to help fund these. and - more that just adapting to change

3424 - Taylor Johnskn

Would be nice to dept reduced as well as wasteful spending (at the very least prioritised better).

3430 - Philippa Upton

Given Te Kaha dominates a large proportion of recreational spending along with water and other infrastructure requirements, the draft plan makes a good attempt to balance differing demands and expectations, but is light in support for some areas of heritage and culture. I strongly support retaining all community services such as libraries and recreational facilities including parks, and request that funding levels are retained for the Arts Centre as a key cultural and arts hub in the central city.

3452 - Sabine Handel

I would like to see some of the rate payers money to go to family and cultural aimed places, eg The Arts Centre, Orana Park, football greens.

3460 - Jasper Van der Lingen

Balance is of course tricky to get right but some projects like heritage and arts funding should be higher up the priority list. It is important to make our city a quality, desirable, liveable place that retains and attracts people to be here.

3462 - Digby Symons

From my perspective you probably have got the balance about right. However, my main concern is that the building of safe cycling infrastructure is not being prioritised highly enough.

3464 - Serena Smith

No, I think we need better transport ie the busing system needs to be better, and work better with Ecan on this.

3474 - Timothy Lambert

give council 70% on balance on this LTP

3483 - Jo Bethell

Generally speaking, yes - there is a need for spend on capital assets - A greater component of funding set aside for solid waste management going into waste minimisation initiatives, an increase for funding urban forest initiatives, and an increase in the provision for improving cycling and cycling safety in Christchurch would be good. A focus on finding savings, in particular through increased efficiencies in particular through sustainability initiatives eg savings on energy use etc are to be encouraged.

3484 - Prue Stringer

I want to see more spending on Climate Change issues, both mitigation and adaptation. The Council has acknowledged that there is a crisis, and we must spend NOW to avert further damage, and to change people's habits. Transport is a major part of our emissions, so more needs to be spent on reducing that, by improving public transport, improving facilities for active transport and making services in neighbourhoods more accessible without the need for cars. Spending on roads only encourages more motor vehicle use, so the money needs to be spent on public and active transport and making facilities/services closer to where people live.

3501 - Malcolm Long (Ōpāwaho Heathcote River Network)

We appreciate that in the current economic climate, the Council has a very difficult task to perform in balancing its limited income against all demands placed on it, by the community, by regulation and by central government. Other than where we have raised particular comment, we believe that the Council has made realistic choices given the circumstances. We are, however, concerned that the Council's strategic response to biodiversity issues is missing the mark in several ways which we highlight in this submission. Against a backdrop of increasingly worrying and obvious climate change effects, now is not the time to be minimising biodiversity issues

3507 - Gary Barber

[Transport>Roads (Capital)]; [Transport>Transport (Operations)]; [Three Waters>Waste Water (Capital)]; [Three Waters>Water Supply (Capital)]; [Three Waters>Stormwater & Land Drainage (Capital)]

Infrastructure investment appears visually skewed to unnecessary road & transport changes but support water infrastructure upgrades.

3526 - Keith Bond

[Grants and Funding>Orana Park Funding]

Yes but you need to fund Orana Park better.

[Parks>Parks Maintenance]

Stop mowing the red zone, and plant it in wild flowers.

3528 - Mark Wilson

More emphasis needs to be placed on laying providing for the future, putting in place infrastructure that can be built on and added to.

3592 - Lucy Altaner

[Strategic Direction > Climate Change], [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Libraries > Operations], > [Transport > Public Transport Infrastructure]

More for climate change, bike paths, libraries and public transport.

>>>

If you are prioritising libraries, public transport, and places that are there to help to community then you are doing it right.

3602 - Lorraine Woodfield

[Grants & Funding>Arts Centre Funding]; [Other/Special Interest Topics>Cathedral]

Driving the city forward is maintaining the efficient restoration of the Arts Centre. Hagley Park and the Arts Centre are the HEART of Christchurch to me. They are the CENTRE of wellness, movement, bringing together, education, fun, laughter and creativity. The Anglican Cathedral is NOT the HEART of Christchurch, as it suggests authority and power by a few and silence which are the worst aspects of our city. Celebrate the restoration of the ARTS CENTRE FOREVER through its continued annual funding. DON'T WASTE the hours and expertise involved in the restoration, value it.

3606 - Mark Dowers

In general, I think there is a reasonable balance. However, our rates are already so high; between our mortgage, food costs and rates we are really struggling. Do we really need so many new infrastructure projects? Could some of these be delayed until a time when other costs aren't so crippling?

3607 - Mike Percasky

yes but needs some tweaks.

3610 - Eric Stierna

The deliverable capital programme is an important part of achieving our goals, but it appears that the LTP overemphasises the capital programme delivery and lacks a clear plan for supporting and growing community organisations that create and sustain a rich, diverse culture within the Christchurch community. There should be more priority and funding given to working in partnership with community non-governmental organisations to grow their capability and support their activities to create a broader set community services than those provided by the council. This would be reflected in a written commitment to increasing the funding and support for community non-governmental organisations proportional to the forecasted growth of the city. Challenging our Christchurch NGO leadership to grow services with council support as we grow the community together is a win-win for the council, the taxpayers and the NGOs.

3614 - Lin Roberts

Nearly, but still too much short term thinking. Humanity faces existential challenges in the form of climate change and biodiversity loss, and socially inequality is driving divisions and imposing hardships. We therefore need to give priority to climate mitigation and adaption, biodiversity protection, and maintaining services that allow equity of access (e.g. libraries, swimming pools and low cost transport options, such as public and active transport). To help us achieve our climate change goals, we need to invest more money into public and active transport. For example, rather than pouring money into maintaining the status quo of a fossil fuel based transportation system (e.g. $591 million on carriageway renewals), we need to invest a lot more in cycle infrastructure, which requires very little maintenance and will lead to reduced need for carriageway maintenance (along with health and financial benefits). Many in the community are highly aware of the challenges facing us, and give many hours of volunteer time to positive local projects, but they require support to make this possible – the Community Partnership Fund, Sustainability Fund and Biodiversity Fund are critical multipliers of volunteer work and need to be enhanced and/or reinstated.

3618 - Chrys Horn

No - I'd like to see more focus on projects that help us mitigate and adapt to Climate Change and less on projects that are going to keep us trapped into spewing out emissions, and setting ourselves up for a worse future than necessary. The balance between road renewals and active and public transport is not good balance. I'd like to see more money spent earlier on in the Long Term plan getting the cycle network around the City built. Cycles have little impact on the quality of the roads and cycle facilities will have a good long life as long as they aren't driven on by cars or trucks, or dug up. They are an excellent investment which allow people to cut car running and car parking costs significantly without having to risk their lives doing so. In addition, as has been found overseas, the more trips are completed by bicycle or on foot, the less road wear and tear we will have and the more we are moving towards meeting our emissions targets.

362 - Christine Stiles-Pickard

Not enough emphasis on the arts

3626 - Connie Christensen

Not quite...

3627 - Patrick O'Kane

I don't think you will ever get the balance fully right as all ratepayers will have different priorities. My feedback is just my opinion and should the majority disagree with me, then that is fine.

[Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]

I think there is too large a push on new cycleways when from what I have seen, they aren't overly utilised in the city and in some areas (corner of tuam st and Montreal st), they appear to cause more congestion due to poor timing at the traffic lights.

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration>Strategic Transport]

I have small children and work in the hospital so really need to use my car to commute. The plan does appear to not support car use in the city long term and only support cycling or an inefficient public transport service. While I appreciate the need to expand these long term, it should not be at the expense of people just trying to get through day to day (the days are long enough without adding more to the commute time from getting the bus after work and collecting kids from daycare). I think some balance should be brought back to helping people access the city.

[Transport>Carparking (Capital)]; [Fees & Charges>Car Parking (on-street & off-street parking)]

Stop removing free car parks and the offer more reasonable pricing in council run car parks (eg $1-$2 per hour for first four hours) to encourage people into the central city. Also maybe subsidise or offer parking support to hospital staff to make the commute easier. (Currently I park at daycare if I can get a spot, drop my kids and then walk 20 mins to work which means I am late almost every day).

3644 - Yvonne Dixon

[Spending>Te Kaha]

I think too much money is going into Te Kaha Stadium. Mostly the overall budget for Council looks fine to me

3645 - Sophie McKenzie

I think there are positives proposed for the city but is lacking crucial needs for a sustainable future that will support generations to come.

3657 - Ruth Bullen

Balance is about right with the exception of te kaka , why hasn't it been funded differently and spread over time, the risk management of overspend is not right. Funding for arts and museums is not right, more important to maintain more over a long period of time, that many benefit from thoughtout the year instead of a one off event that a few gain from, sail gp is a good example

3659 - Alex van den Broek

It's pretty good!

3666 - Clarrie Pearce

No, need better social balance

3673 - Theo van Woerkom

Not far off but some services could be cut to limit rates increases.

3676 - Ash Mcneur

Focus on upholding Te Tiriti- something the current govt seems uninterested in, or actively reeling back. Examples of urupa being in danger through sea level rise- this connects both with importance of these sites, the Māori people, and the environmental changes. More focus on environmental concerns, and processes to begin to combat our impact.

3690 - Jono de Wit (Greater Ōtautahi)

We believe there has been too much priority in allocating capital to road maintenance ($591 million on carriageway renewals). Due to changes made to the revised Long Term Plan (LTP), there is now a desperate need to invest in cycle infrastructure, which by comparison requires very little maintenance and has numerous active health and environmental benefits, rather than sinking more money into carriageway maintenance. Increasing the rate at which active transport and public transport is used within the city will have the knock-on effect of reducing wear on our roads, which will result in less repairs being needed and less capital being required.

We believe the LTP fails to meet the bare minimum levels of investment in climate mitigation. There is little to no scope for future requirements, and it has been consistently noted that the current investment will not even meet our existing goals. There must be a concerted effort to properly allocate capital to these ends. The GNS report released to Council in December 2023, indicated that: “Christchurch could see 14 to 23 centimetres of sea-level rise over the next 30 years. However, in places where land is subsiding at about 8 millimetres per year, such as parts of Brighton Spit and parts of Lyttelton Harbour and Koukourarata Port Levy, sea levels could rise by 38 to 47 centimetres – twice as much over the same 30-year timeframe.” (GNS Science Consultancy Report 2023/81) Without adequate funding to mitigate or adapt (including investment in retreat), this leaves little room for the Council to appropriately respond to the estimated $17.2B worth of property that Council estimated would be impacted by sea-level rises in their October 2023 Submission to the Environment Select Committee’s Inquiry into Climate Adaptation. While we are not advocating for Council to foot the entire bill, it must be noted that at least $3.2B of that $17B in property is the Council’s Infrastructure. This is an unacceptable risk for Council to shoulder without sufficient capital and is a burden that should be shouldered from now on rather than being deferred.

3693 - Lynette Wills

No, the costs are too high for ratepayers. The rates should be no more than the rise of inflation

3696 - Jim Porteous

Cut the bike lanes and support the arts centre, which compliments CHCH in so many ways

3726 - Cliff Mason

Yes, but see attachment

[Coder note: Attachment has been coded into its appropriate categories but is available]

3733 - Helen Reason

No one wants to see rate increases at the moment, so whatever can be done to alleviate further rises needs to be seriously considered; including putting some 'nice to have' projects on hold and focusing on basic services for the next few years. Would a public ballot system on large projects be worth considering?

3761 - Fiona Henderson

Overall I would say it is close

3763 - John Graham

I don't believe so as this long term plan is setting up our young generations to be crippled by this staggering debt.

>>>

We have to be realistic going forward, Is this long Term Plan going to put the residents of Christchurch forward or backwards & also considering our future generations are we making the right choices for them.

3770 - Jane Higgins

Given the climate emergency we are in, I encourage the Council to frame its planning more in terms of a green transition. It's clear that the current government is not interested in this, but it's also clear that cities have a hugely important leadership role to play in the transition to a sustainable green economy, in addressing biodiversity loss and ecosystem collapse and in planning for the wellbeing of future generations. Christchurch should be one of those cities.

3800 - Rachel Barker

The balance isn't quite right as there is not enough emphasis and funding provision for protecting indigenous biodiversity, parks, Port Hills protection, river rangers, and climate change. However, I acknowledge the difficult task to achieve a balance.

3801 - Victor (aka Vince) Eichholtz

Very difficult to evaluate the appropriate proportion of funding across the various categories, and level of urgency associated with the demands for the available funding, but in general yes, the balance seems right, given the overriding and looming threat of climate change and that it's likely impact should be considered in all funding decisions,

3807 - Graeme Remington

I believe the CCC needs to take more care with LTP projects and the cost of these project on Rate Payers.

>>>

I think that the Operational spending is probably pretty much on the mark. Stopp some of the crazy spending on 'looking good' projects and concentrate much more on city infrastructure.

3809 - Johnathon Ridden

[Spending > Te Kaha]

Generally the balance is good, expect pushing the stadium costs onto all ratepayers, that have to bear it, without getting a proper. The particular issue with this is it will run at a perpetual loss.

[Strategic Direction > Additional Savings & Efficiencies]

We need to continue to fund and invest in core services. Ratepayers the the primary mechanism for this. Other revenue gathering strategies should be investigated to support this (such as ecotourism and carbon sequestration credits).

3810 - Caleb Buchanan

So far I believe so, but I would prefer to see more frugality from the council now that major projects such as the rugby stadium are underway or completed

3817 - Melissa Macfarlane

I am concerned that the balance is too heavily weighted towards capital investment in roading, transport and infrastructure and not enough into community events and supporting the running costs of a wider scope of community assets.

382 - Stephen East

[Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Strategic Direction > Climate Change], [Other/Special Interest Topics > New Brighton Suburban Master Plans / Oram Avenue]

No, I believe more needs to be done to ensure we have safe cycle ways for ALL Chch residents (NOT just those outside of the East). More needs to be done to address the long term impacts of climate change. The less we prioritise this now the more it will cost us in future and it will be younger generations carrying the cost of the current selfish decisions. More also needs to be done to support and revive our eastern suburbs. They took the brunt of the Earthquakes and are still waiting on so much to be repaired. The revitalisation of New Brighton, and particularly the mall, should be a top priority for council.

>>>

I think there needs to be some serious improvements in fiscal management. With that said, it is vital we maintain our infrastructure and core council projects

3825 - Justin Barton

Rather than cutting existing levels of service, new projects should be deferred or re-evaluated. Especially if the new projects are not driven by immediate needs.

>>>

[Strategic Direction > Climate Change]

Climate change should be low priority especially compared to global financial uncertainty and demographic change.

3826 - Kate Cleverly

[Grants & Funding > Other]

Kind of. Without investment, we cannot improve our city and quality of living through increased services. However, Council does need to invest at a grassroots level to empower local communities to develop local initiatives for their own neighbourhoods and community. It is not just about citywide events and facilities, local facilities and investment in community groups lead to community led development, a sense of wellbeing greater capacity for caring,volunteering and support.

3827 - Ken Morison

The plan is much too silent on the environment of all of Chch, especially Banks Peninsula. It's concentrating on costs rather than actions.

3829 - Tamzin Roe

[Parks > Heritage], [Parks > Parks Spending (General)], [Transport > Roads (Capital)], Resource Recovery (Operations]

There are some clear straightforward plans in terms of parks, roading, infrastructure, wastemanagement etc. But I do have serious concerns around heritage funding changes.

3830 - Brenda Banning

There is a lot to balance.

3835 - Hiren Patel

Not quite.

3840 - Liz Horton

There is too much emphasis on roads rather than alternate forms of transport. I also think more funding needs to go to climate resilience and reducing the city's carbon/environmental footprint

3855 - Bree Loverich

Long-term planning across various sectors needs to give more consideration to street art and the screen industry via the Screen CanterburyNZ screen grant due to their significant impact on cultural development, economic growth, and societal well-being. As pillars of cultural expression, both art and the screen industry not only enhance our understanding of diverse human experiences but also drive substantial economic activity through job creation and tourism. Moreover, they serve as crucial platforms for innovation and technology, with the screen industry at the forefront of advances in digital media and virtual reality. By integrating these fields more thoroughly into strategic planning, governments and businesses can harness their potential to stimulate not only economic but also social and creative progress, ensuring a more vibrant and sustainable future.

>>>

Long-term planning should pay greater attention to street art and the screen industry, recognizing their vital roles in cultural enrichment, tourism and economic stimulation. These sectors are not only central to our cultural landscape, offering deep insights into various human narratives, but they also generate significant economic benefits, including employment and tourism. Furthermore, the arts and screen industry are hubs of innovation, pioneering developments in digital media and virtual reality. By incorporating these fields into strategic frameworks, governments and corporations can leverage their potential to foster economic, social, and creative advancements, contributing to a richer, more sustainable future. For instance, a screen grant exemplified their economic impact by returning $12 million from just $1.5 million in city investment, and this financial leverage extended beyond production to support countless non-production businesses.

3861 - Alex Robinson

The balance is close to being right, and there clearly has been a lot of thought and effort put into this.

3867 - Gemma Dioni

No more needs to be done for climate change and to protect our environment for the future of our tamariki and mokopuna

3869 - Cam Parsonson

council should return to provision of core services

3897 - J E Thomas

In theory yes but the roading projects and some of the big projects seem misplaced and not well managed.

3907 - Graham Muir

Need to keep to the 'basics'.

3935 - Michael Healey

In my opinion, no, I would like to see (i) sustained innovation in the urban environment through public arts and culture. >>> (ii) On the grounds of access and cultural equity, I suggest that the proposal is not targeted toward supporting ethnic communities' intersection in full participation in the institutions funded by ratepayers.

3958 - Emma Turner

Almost!

3998 - Ben Alder (Christchurch Envirohub)

Concluding comments:

We advocate for continued public input, imaginative responses, and sound analysis of environmental impacts as the Council confronts the challenges of the next decade. We need to move beyond 'same old' thinking, to embrace agile and innovative ways to respond to climate change and biodiversity challenges that are exacerbated by the growing city.

Listening to, and putting in place a Long Term Plan that enables a 'strong' green sector (reduced obstacles, collaboration, imaginative think tanks, consultation) means Christchurch Envirohub and the organisations we work alongside will help enable the Council to meet future environmental challenges.

402 - Cynthia Charron

Except for the money tied up with Te Kaha (which I believe is not necessary), the balance is probably about right.

4021 - Cornelis F De Jager

Sounds about right, I would like to see a focus on back to basics for the Council, no funding of "nice to haves" during a time that we cannot afford them.

447 - Zoelle Davies

[Rates > Residential Rates]

The plan sounds great, but the horrible high rate increase is unacceptable. I can't afford that.

450 - Allison Husband

There is a very important aspect that is missing from the long-term plan and that relates to the preservation of our historical buildings.

464 - Mary McCammon

It all sounds good, but the key statements about supporting the arts, building community, guarding architectural heritage and promoting tourism are NOT borne out by the apparent intention to discontinue support for the Arts Centre!

467 - Anna Scheirlinck

[Strategic Direction>Climate Change]

There needs to be more spent on climate adaptation & resilience, otherwise we'll all end up paying more for it in the very near future

469 - Amira Aman

[Borrowing & Debt Management>Borrowing & Debt Management]

No, reduce borrowing. It's too costly for rate payers.

481 - Tommy Ng

The LTP can talk about the new "initiatives" and services when the inflation are lower or people are less pressured by cost of living.

486 - Neil McConachie

Close to getting it right.

506 - Conal McCarthy

In a recession the last thing local and central government should do is austerity. Beware the call for economy in rates...people want services

510 - Eleanor Sim

[Strategic Direction > Additional Efficiencies], [Parks > Other], [Grants & Funding > Arts Centre], [Libraries (Operations)]

We MUST continue to priorities, parks, libraries and places such as the Arts Centre. The Council staff do a GREAT JOB !!!! I understand that these things cost money and money is limited. Efficiencies must be sought at all levels where possible. There must be activities/ facilities that add to the heart of a city.

536 - Marilyn Yurjevich

[Grants and Funding>Arts Centre Funding; Other/Special Interest Topics>Cathedral; Parks>Other; Spending>Te Kaha]

The balance is sort of reasonable, given our circumstances. HOWEVER THE ARTS CENTRE is not mentioned. It needs about $1.5 million to keep it going. Please include that! We don't need the bells and whistles on the arena and the Anglicans, a wealthy segment, can pay more for the cathedral in the square. Please ensure there is provision for an ECO-SANCTUARY IN THE RED ZONE. Christchurch sorely needs one.

540 - Ross Allen

[Borrowing & Debt Management>Borrowing & Debt Management]

The rates increases are front loaded, such that by far the biggest increase is in 2024/25 which is when we are facing a huge increase in cost of living, and the lowest annual increases kick in later when mortgage interest rates and inflation will have eased. Doesn't make sense from ratepayers point of view. Please reprioritise projects and or bring forward some borrowing to spread the impact over say three years. There is headroom available for some extra temporary borrowing in the first year.

550 - Colin Mansell

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre], [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Strategic Transport], [Three Waters > Other]

Not all of it. Yes the water must be safeguarded and public transport improved but you need to protect people's well-being and mental health. So fewer cars, more outdoor activities and more protection for culture, in particular the Arts Centre. Christchurch must not be turned into yet another car dominated anonymous City like Auckland or Melbourne.

>>>

[Rates > Residential]

But a large increase will be necessary if Christchurch is to be protected as a place worth living in so protect the services that enhance health (particularly mental health) and well being and don't worry so much about the motorists.

555 - Jemma Balmer

[Strategic Direction > Additional Savings & Efficiencies]

It already feels so slim. Please don't reduce our services.

585 - Danny Rood

The overall topics are reasonably well prioritised, the subsets of these topics needs to change.

587 - Diana Holderness

[Borrowing & Debt Management > Borrowing & Debt Management]

Concentrate on what is essential in these hard times. That includes maintaining what we have now. I wouldn't borrow for new projects myself and would not have done when I was younger either.

>>>

As I said concentrate on what we have and maintain and repair when necessary.

>>>

As I say maintain and repair what we do have.

615 - Michael JasonSmith

[Three Waters > Three Waters (Operations)], [Spending > Te Kaha], [Transport > Roads (Capital)]

I think the proposed Draft Long Term Plan achieves a poor balance between the investment in roads and investment in other transport options. The water network need upgrading, and the Draft Long Term Plan rightly puts emphasis on updating and maintaining the drinking, storm water, and waste water systems. The Draft Long Term Plan seems balanced in other areas. However, the spending on Te Kaha seems disproportionate compared to the benefit.

632 - Juliet Reynolds-Midgley

Yes infrastructure, roading, water networks etc are important but we also need places to gather as a community. Places that uplift us whether that is green spaces or places that have history and can hold artistic endeavours.

670 - Sue Orpwood

I believe there is too much put aside for compliance and governance. Hopefully with this government savings will be able to be made in this area.

684 - Louise Morrison

Mostly

727 - Donal McEvoy

The overall plan is too far reaching, with the cost of living the way it is currently everybody needs to watch spending, including the council. Over the next 5 years maintenance to key services should be undertaken in order to alleviate further increases to rate payers

732 - Alexandra Hartevelde-Turnbull

No, if you cut funding for the Arts Centre, you have not got the balance right!

750 - Simon Walker

Somewhat

774 - Frank Webster

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

Yes, in some respects. Specifically, though, I strongly feel it should be possible for the Arts Centre to stay in its present form and the Dux de Lux Restaurant resurrected.

784 - Sian Carvell

While I accept there needs to be ongoing maintenance and/or improvements of existing roads and transport infrastructure and in protecting and upgrading our water networks, I am disappointed investing (assuming growing) in these are seen as priority in driving our city forward. When I think of forward, I think of future, and the focus of your current 'deliverable capital programme' is not future focused, but more past focused, and will fall short of what is needed for current and future generations. BAU is no longer an option. The future, both near and far, is going to be vastly different from the past and now. Climate change, regional, nationally and globally, will influence us economically, socially and environmentally. To drive our city forward, we need an innovative, flexible plan that not only maintains current needs, but invest in future needs.

792 - Jennifer Small

Nearly but not quite. If we fund new projects we must fund ongoing upkeep. To de fund the finest set of heritage building in no (the Arts centre) to build new is an example of what we should avoid. The benefit to future generations of such a place is of immense benefit.

8 - Justin Yudistira

if you increase spending for public transport infrastructure and climate resilience, yes

>>>

No, I don't think so, because there is too much investment on roads, and to little investment on public transport infrastructure and active transport.

822 - Gavin Scott-Petersen

The emphasis on roads, transport, and water networks is crucial for our community's growth and well-being. However, I seek clarification and reassurance on a few points within the proposal, particularly regarding the scope of road and transport infrastructure upgrades. The proposal mentions significant investment in roads and transport infrastructure. Could you specify whether this includes the expansion of cycle ways or other non-essential projects? While I understand the value of comprehensive transport solutions, it is essential to prioritize investments that meet the immediate and broader needs of the majority of the city's residents, especially in times of financial constraints.

>>>

I appreciate the council's efforts in developing a deliverable capital programme that reflects the community's priorities. The focus on essential services such as the three waters and transport is commendable. However, I have concerns regarding the allocation of funds in certain areas, which I believe warrant a re-evaluation in light of technological advancements and the need for fiscal efficiency.

While the investment in three waters and transport is crucial for our city's sustainability and growth, I urge the council to rigorously assess other spending areas to ensure they align with the 21st-century realities and the community's evolving needs.

>>>

In conclusion, I encourage the council to adopt a forward-thinking approach in its budget allocations, prioritizing technological innovation and digital services. This not only aligns with the global move towards digital transformation but also ensures that the council's spending delivers maximum value to the community, enhancing both efficiency and accessibility of services.

856 - Ralph Hobbs

[Strategic Direction>Have we got the Balance right?], [Transport > Footpaths and Streetscape (Capital)], [Strategic Direction>Climate Change]

Think the balance is good, would like to see more budget for footpaths (especially new ones) and more climate change focus.

865 - Kelvin Duncan

Depends - if the economy is going to continue to deteriorate (due to China's economy declining, our current trade deficit continuing, or physical disasters etc) then no. There does not seem to be contingency plans in the event of natural or economic disasters. Nor do you prioritise expenditures. For instance, everything seems to be given equal weight, but in the event of financial strictures then this is a bad policy. Every expenditure should have a priority rating, so that if cuts become necessary, the public is aware of what has to be cut. You must do the essentials: roads, three waters, development approvals etc. But sports fields should expect to be reduced if things go really bad (the sporting organisations may have to contribute in extremis). Major development works may have to be deferred. Then the nice-to-have expenditures may have to be trimmed. E.g., closing 5 libraries in a fair and reasonable way. The trouble is that the general public have an inverse ranking to what I suggest, and this has been a millstone around your necks for decades. They care more about libraries than they do about sewage, which is just crazy. How you correct the public's rankings is up to you guys, but you aren't doing a good job of it at present. You MUST do better as disasters, economic, political and physical, will strike sooner or later. INCOME: you assume your income stream is going to stay the same into the future. I have always thought rating systems is unfair on many people, so I favour broadening your income base: 1. A share of GST based on the economic activity in the local body's economy. So, there would be a mix consisting of rating income, local tax income, fees, and dividends. The local tax would gain additional revenue from visitors and non-ratepayers. This is fair enough as they consume or use the goods and services the city provides. 2. Increasing income for assets. The dividends presently obtained are pathetic. To address this there are three things you could do: a. Do nothing. b, sell the assets. I do not favour this as it is a one off money grab and better solutions are available; c. Change the management by offering "Rights to Manage". Have a good contract that enables some control over decisions, and the right to terminate. You could aim at 5% of earnings pa. FINALLY, plans should be indications and set goals. They should never be set in concrete. You should develop a management or strategic plan, not just a financial plan. Consider at least three case: best case, most likely case, and worst case. Then we can go ahead with confidence that all bases are covered.

868 - Lucas Moreno

Almost, but not quite.

870 - Lis Stevenson

Some but not all

912 - Sophie Hartnell

[Strategic Direction - Climate Change], [Transport - Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)], [Strategic Direction - Infrastructure Strategy]

I strongly believe more investment in green technologies, biodiversity and climate mitigation; public transport and infrastructure, needs to be an absolute priority. If we don't spend the money on this now the cost down the line will be astronomical and untenable. This is our current reality.

916 - David Minifie

Overall maybe pretty good. Specifically by not continuing to support The Arts Centre you may find that it would be more expensive in the long term.

977 - Bridget Stokes

[Grants & Funding > Orana Park Funding]

We have 4 properties and obviously pay 4 rates. What is important to us is that yes you start to fix the very old and damaged water infrastructure- culverts but balance that with keeping our treasures in a city that is loosing so much spark. Such as our historic buildings, art galleries but for us with children Orana Park - we visit this amazing place that Christchurch is very proud of - the amazing breeding programmes for endangered animals and a place where our children can experience seeing them - many who won't get see such animals in the wild ever.

990 - Wendy Fergusson

Almost,

Not Stated

1018 - Gerry Whitter

Prioritize the people, always think of them/us first. Be wary so we won't be like Canada that their having housing problems

1105 - Lana Shields

maybe, it's hard to say

1144 - Lisa Renton

A focus on new projects for long term value is important, however there also seems to be a huge lack of focus on previously completed projects of significant historical and public use nature.

1158 - Sheryl Elson

To a degree

116 - Jarrod Coburn

You are doing your best I think. It's tough for everyone right now, and CCC has been through its challenges as well.

12 - Jalori Mathias

No not quite. It should be easier to build houses and get building consents, as well as easier for renters.

[Transport > Cyclelanes]

There should also be more of a focus on bike lanes especially on busy roads and near schools and more systems that make it easier to get around without a car.

1200 - Lisa Mazey

Not sure

1221 - Lynette Sessa

Perhaps

1249 - Sally Michael

I really just want to believe that our council is always operating with empathy and grace and care. that they are always making decisions that consider all classes and look to improve the way all of us live as a community. that's the power you have, and that's the trust I am trying to hold

1282 - Kelvin Lynn

As the economy - national and local - is under strain it is important that Council spending recognises this. Please concentrate on the things that matter to all citizens - climate change, public transport and cycleways, libraries, parks, swimming pools, and safe and effective Three Waters. The government might want more roads (and cars) but we don't have to follow that path of pollution and increased CO2 emissions. Time to pull the plug and some of the "bread and circus" stuff. If a promoter of an event wants to come to Christchurch let them pay their way like most other businesses. It's great that you are proposing to save money for the inevitable costs of climate change.

1297 - Deborah Kapohe

Vision is what is needed. Not cost cutting.

1315 - Robyn Peart

I hope so as there are so many needful/essential programmes and projects

1351 - Elsie Burt

Not bad

143 - Kenneth Palmer

What matters most: focus on provision of services for people - water & sewage, & such essential infrastructure, but not primarily cars. Aim for the very sound notions of 1. "15 minute" city/neighbourhoods, & 2. "doughnut economics" of sustainable development.

1452 - Maraed Riley

It's not quite right. As a resident of Christchurch, I am writing to express my vision for a more sustainable, equitable, and livable city. I commend the Council's efforts toward a thoughtful Long Term Plan and offer my feedback focusing on the following priorities:

Prioritizing Public Transport and Bike Lanes: A modern city prioritizes safe, efficient public transport. This reduces traffic congestion, improves air quality and promotes a healthier lifestyle. I urge the Council to: Why it's personal As someone who cares for and works with children for my job, I think it is incredibly important to prioritize clean air and reducing emissions from cars for our future mokopuna. So I think cycleways and buses should be a priority. Establish a cohesive network of protected cycleways across the city, fostering a secure and appealing environment for cycling as a viable alternative to driving.

Equitable Green Spaces and Food Forests: All residents deserve access to nature. I support: Why it's personal Rising food prices and lack of access to affordable fresh fruit and vegetables is effecting many of my lower income whanau and community members, I see the stress and struggle they go through to feed their family. Solutions Allocate additional resources to enhance parks, playgrounds, and natural reserves in all neighborhoods. Implement a holistic food forest initiative on public lands to bolster community self-reliance and ensure food security.

Clean Water and Climate Resilience: Water protection and climate change adaptation are essential. I encourage: Why it's personal I live right next to the red-zone, there are many areas around the red zone that could be prioritized to re-wild into natural flood barriers and to increase carbon capture. Increasing biodiversity of native flora and fauna should be prioritized to support the health of our natural environment for the future. Solutions Rigorous protection of waterways through stormwater management, reduced pollution, and natural filtration Enhance curbside composting programs to markedly diminish landfill waste. Bolster backing for recycling endeavors and provide comprehensive education on minimizing single-use plastics.

Advancing Underserved Communities: A genuinely livable city champions equity for every citizen. I propose: Tackle the scarcity of affordable housing by fostering mixed-income developments and implementing supportive programs. Prioritize enhancements to public transport and green spaces in historically underserved neighborhoods. Collaborate with community organizations to tailor solutions that directly address the needs of marginalized residents.

[Other/Special Interest Topics > LTP Consultation]

Make decisions based on empathy for those less privileged, for those most marginalized, for the rangatahi of our future, for Papatuanuku, and for those who find these submission processes inaccessible.

1456 - Henry Bersani

I don't think this is the right question - by focusing on the percentage differences we are distracted from the point of what the rates are spent on - if the increase needs to be 10 % to accommodate for costs around things like climate resilience, accessibility etc, then that should be the increase, if it's 20% it should be 20%

1475 - Courtney Henderson

[Rates>Other]

What matters most is that we are in a recession and every household is feeling the pinch. We need to look at ways to reduce rates so people can continue to afford to their expenses.

1477 - Janey Hughes

[Grants & Funding>Requests for Additional Grants & Funding]

No, the previous investment in the Film Industry opened up new opportunities for local residents and ratepayers. Provided experiences that have been woefully missing. Keep the industry vibrant in Canterbury by continuing to support financially in your Long Term Plan. No. I don't feel that we can become a cultural powerhouse by allocating 1% to the arts. We've worked hard to develop screen production in Ōtautahi and that is now in serious jeopardy. The Screen CanterburyNZ Production Grant had an initial investment of $1.5 million dollars and has generated a return of $12.5 million dollars - that's $12.50 for every dollar spent. This money stayed in the region through crew salaries, transportation, accommodation, hospitality and other businesses. It has been incredibly successful. It isn't in the Long Term Plan and as an investment that generated a return, I feel it needs to be included.

1488 - Mel Brown

Mmm somewhat. I appreciate we need to pay for things but I'd like to see ccc pull out of housing - this is a government issue and could free up money.

149 - Kristie Agnew

I'm unsure, Art and culture, environment and making good use of the redzone is important to our family sports arenas are not

1493 - Erin Hindmarsh (Adelphi Motel)

Mostly

1499 - Ben Davidson

Its always difficult to get the balance right but I would like to see more money going into recreational infrastructure (parks, coastal environment, natural spaces). These are the things that add the most quality and quantity to life. With stress and anxiety so high in our communities we need to focus on those things that bring people back to whats important - community (libraries, public spaces), nature (parks and open spaces) and exercise (recreation).

151 - Marg Flyvbjerg

While some of the focus is required, a council needs to be aware how much individual city assets contribute to the mental health of the community, namely the Art Center and not neglect them

1510 - Jan Whitehead (Banks Peninsula Sports & Recreation Inc)

Hard to comment given we don't know all the detailed information

1533 - Mark George

Make sure the real goals are visible. My dealings with council staff of late leads me to believe there are hidden long term agendas but the short term cost is a high price to pay. Not sure the planet can wait while their grand plans mature.

1545 - Jasmine Arps

We need to be clearer about what the city's wants are vs the city's needs.

1734 - Fergus O'Neill

Keep up the swimming pools, libraries and other services, to allow services that people rely on to be continued to be used.

>>>

[Transport > Cycleway (Capital)], [Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund], [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Strategic Transport]

No, the long term plan should have more emphasis on public transportation and active transportation. This also includes a need to invest in cycle infrastructure which requires little maintenance and has numerous active health and environmental impacts. There also should be some more investment in mitigating climate change.

1792 - Laura Parkes

I recognise that many of these services are necessary for our standard of living to continue. I believe it is the government's responsibility to assist with funding for these and keep costs capped in order to reduce spending. Not the responsibility of any individual council or resident. The companies contracted to carry out most of these services can handle a pay cut.

>>>

I believe there needs to be a greater focus on things that directly benefit lower income families rather than such an intense focus on helping landowners.

1793 - Pamela Hughes

[Spending - Te Kaha]

While that does sound sensible. I am concerned over the new projects, for example, I was, and still am, against the Stadium, and I am so annoyed that I am paying for it in my rates, and will be until I die!

1799 - Sue A'Court

Perhaps?. Christchurch has suffered a lot in recent years. It's been very difficult. It is vital to ratepayers to feel rates and borrowing are used sensibly and not wasted. The Council needs to preserve what we have already, eg Arts Centre, Christ Church Cathedral Museums, Please don't waste money, we are paying our rate and taxes for the Council to provide us with a City that we can all enjoy, historic features must be retained, and yes, new things added, but please spend wisely for the future of our City. Preserve what we have.

1828 - Robert Jelley

- NOT COMPLETELY WRIGHT -

1833 - Mary McKeown

Important to get basics right.

189 - Julie Coleshae

I would have to do extensive research to answer that

191 - Jenny Harlow

I don't think we should focus on overall cost reduction. I am more interested in ways of redistributing the burden so that it does not most adversely affect our most financially vulnerable residents. Speaking for people like me - I am very lucky and I did nothing to earn my luck. I don't like paying higher rates but I recognise the need and in the end I can do it. The same it not true for everyone in our community.

1928 - James Daniels

Uncertain at this stage

1962 - Sophie Jensen

1982 - Alana Brown

no

202 - Anne Spicer

It is hard to tell because you don't say what you are not funding. These are worthy projects but roading may not be top priority compared with something else??

2024 - Janet Reeves

Haven't studied the document sufficiently to answer

2037 - Beverley Nelson

Sort of.

2061 - Charlotte Hollywood

Fix shit for the future

2069 - Christine Whybrew (Heritage New Zealand Pouhere Taonga)

4. HNZPT acknowledges the challenge of preparing this Plan in a period of change and uncertainty, with legislative reforms and current financial pressures.

5. HNZPT recognises that the Long Term Plan is a high-level document to provide direction for development initiatives and funding within the city and wider district. Within that, the Council has a responsibility to acknowledge the various tangible and intangible aspects of life that make up its heritage and ensure that these are appropriately represented within the Plan. Cared for historic heritage is essential in creating an engaging and vibrant region that fosters local identity, draws people in and helps to sustain the local economy. It is a fundamental part of the fabric of the community.

2079 - William Muir

There has not been every effort made to reduce rates rises and there is a lack of cost cutting across the board from council

2087 - Emma Norrish (Waipapa Papanui-Innes-Central Community Board)

However it may not always be readily apparent to residents how community development is fundamental to making our communities the vibrant, safe and supportive spaces they value living in. The Board obtains and maintains this insight through its work, advancing community development to further advocate for residents' interests, amenity, connection and overall quality of life. Supporting the development of our communities in partnership with them is vital. With the labour of community groups and our council staff often unseen in this respect, there's a risk that the role and significance of community development is not fully understood when it comes to the importance it plays in helping a city flourish and supporting the growth of what really matters to our communities.

2102 - Laura Hayrick

I think that it is hard to balance all the different funds for all different things that should be funded and I know that if one thing got funded more than another thing will lack ~~up~~

2147 - Fiona White

On some things

2166 - Wendy Everingham

Some of your priorities seem sound ie Three Waters and Libraries.

2167 - Terry Frost

Difficult to say

2174 - Ivan Andrews

It is a bottom line for a council to create a safe, sustainable, livable city for all income brackets. increase rates until you can fund this

2354 - Chantelle Chalmers

I am writing this submission to make sure that the proposed rate increase is spent in a way that is beneficial for everyone and the environment.

2437 - Caroline Whittaker

Don't forget that we have to have the balance also of things that bring joy and pleasure and connection to the people who pay the rates. This means places that allow connection.

2443 - Greg Urquhart

I think the balance is what it is.....after years of an ever hungry for debt council we are now paying the price for overspending.

2509 - Angela Nicol

[Rates > Residential rates]

I understand how hard finding the balance is, and its taken me a long time to send in a submission because I'm very conflicted. My preference is to slow down for another couple of years and have the rates lower instead of starting new projects in the short term, while we are all adjusting to this financial living cost crisis with the increase of prices for nearly everything. else.

2520 - Graeme Fraser (Diamond Harbour Community Association)

I am pleased to see that environmental projects are still retained, despite too much having been spent on large construction projects with unproven economic benefit. I agree that infrastructure has to be maintained and hopefully improved, and I hope this is done on the basis of longer-term planning than is evident in this draft plan.

2557 - Malcolm Warren

[Three Waters > Taumata Arowai Requirements], [Resource Recovery > Operations]

Lianne Dalziels legacy is chlorine in our drinking water and years of stench from refuse and compost. This plan appears to improve on that BUT it is up to individual councillors and CCC staff to execute the plan through actions and decisions that are best for the majority of ratepayers and the long term wellbeing of the region. This means ignoring the lobbying from liquor sellers, polluters, and those proposing sale of our strategic assets.

2586 - Leeann Watson (Business Canterbury)

Cutting costs and cutting services are not the same thing. Much has been said in the draft LTP about 'getting back to the basics,' but unfortunately this has been a line used many times and with a focus on external rather than internal 'basics,' without much success or obvious changes or impact. Like businesses, the focus for the Council should be improving efficiencies, removing bureaucracy, and ensuring that staffing levels and capability are aligned with efficiently delivering core services and driving Christchurch forward into the 2030s. But we cannot let the current economic environment cloud our ambition as a city. Business Canterbury understands that the Long Term Plan process is highly mandated by central Government but the lack of ambition and long-term thinking in the draft LTP, particularly when considering sustainable economic growth, is concerning. Throughout this submission, we have pointed out areas where embedding 'sustainable economic growth' into various strategies, goals and plans could start to shape thinking and action that will enable the Council to play its role in our city's growth and its future.

Taking the lens of working on efficiencies and mitigating rising costs, this should also be balanced with more transparency and clearer accountability on the delivery of outcomes and improved levels of service. Few targets, measures or strategies in the document properly inform ratepayers about the level of service and ambition required to grow. For example, we might expect that over time a measure of growth activity could be that GDP per capita grows by 5% per year, while house prices stay at or below 10% of the national median house price, and the average commute time remains 20 minutes and so on. While we appreciate that some of these measures are not all within local government control, that should not stop the Council having a clearly outlined ambition to help guide decisions and set a future vision and aspiration.

2657 - Jillian Davis

Hopefully

2664 - Peter Galbraith

Cost reductions cannot come from service cuts, outright sale of assets, or cuts to Climate Change or Biodiversity programmes (including all cycleways). We believe that more can be done to extract value from existing assets that are not currently generating sufficient returns: Sell the land purchased to build Tarras Airport (Otago Central Airport). Introduce small levies on Domestic and International Flights to and from Christchurch International Airport. Increased charging for parking in Council facilities. A Congestion Charging area within the Central City during hours of high traffic (Mon-Thu 9am-5pm, Fri-Sat 9pm-2am)

2761 - Annette and Michael Hamblett

We appreciate it's a hard balancing act and there are competing interests amongst Councillors and the communities they represent. The area that concerns us most is further delaying work to reduce emissions and to get better prepared for climate change.

2786 - Redact Redacted

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Governance]

Will explained in neighbourhood meeting
by Mayor & those Councillors in attendance

2789 - Veronika Mealings (Wainui Residents' Association)

The Wainui Residents Association (WRA), an incorporated society founded in 1974, represents the community of Wainui, which is a small rural coastal community located on the western side of the Akaroa Harbour, 30 minutes drive from the nearest township of Akaroa and 90 minutes from Christchurch. We own and operate the Wainui Community Centre on the site of the former Wainui School on Wainui Main Road. >>>

For us, 'our community spaces and facilities' include not only our own community centre and grounds, but also CCC assets such as the Stanbury Reserve and main beach foreshore, public toilets, tennis courts, slipway and breakwater, and wharf.

Our reflection on the draft LTP is that it is very 'city' centric, with all four 2024-34 Community Outcomes referring to the 'city'. Priorities and values for the small communities of Banks Peninsula differ from those of a city. We don't have the same services or infrastructure as the city however, we do expect a reasonable standard in our essential services, such as safe drinking-water, well-maintained and safe rural roads, and well-maintained and safe public facilities. There are several projects the Council has told us they are considering for Wainui, but none are specifically mentioned in the LTP. There was no explicit mention in any of the detailed project and capital expenditure documents about the Wainui slipway and breakwater repairs, the replacement public toilet block on Stanbury Reserve, the demolition and removal of the derelict changing sheds on the Wainui main beach, nor for drinking water treatment improvements to add a protozoa barrier as required by Taumata Arowai (<https://www.taumataarowai.govt.nz/assets/Council-Supplieswithout-a-protozoa-barrier-updated-13-10-2023.pdf>).

2850 - Neil Cooper (Greater New Brighton Community Leadership Group)

This submission concentrates on the greater New Brighton area and the work that is proposed to be done here by the Council for the benefit of the local community.

As this submission does not consider all proposed actions by the Council, we will comment only on those aspects that will impact on the greater New Brighton community.

2856 - Rachel Puentener

The Council does a great job across its wide range of work. In particular libraries, the botanic gardens, community facilities and free community events are essential for the well being of our communities.

2870 - Melanie Luckman (Cubbin Theatre Company)

We strongly encourage the Council to consider the cultural strength of our city. We want Chch to be a strongly artistic city. That means supporting the people that are here trying to bring the arts to our communities. Those that are live in and are invested in this city, not just passing through.

289 - Julian Springer

just do the basics well and efficiently.

2923 - Amanda Peter

I use a lot of these things, water, waste water, rubbish/recycling/green waste libraries, art gallery great parks and rec centres, would love to catch the bus more but bus to Rangiora/work is rubbish and goes nowhere near the High School - on balance I have enough income and privilege to take advantage of the great things on offer.

2963 - Carolyn Roos

Still feel there are 2 sidesvto city

300 - La Wanda Cowan

Unsure

3026 - Tony Smail (Canterbury Rugby)

A rates rise of 13% is difficult to answer as having the balance right - can residents deal with that in a recession is the major question of the plan

3121 - Janet Foley

We would like to see the emphasis placed on

3125 - Gabrielle Humphreys

Effective and efficient use of resources could be a solution to this situation.

3217 - Abdirahman Abdi

yeah, I think the overall balance is right though i do think it's not including aspects that truly make Ōtautahi Christchurch special namely odd but important areas like the art centre and Orana Park to be supported. without these places, Christchurch will struggle to be the cultural powerhouse city that the council wants to continue to be.

3230 - Suz Guthrie

Our young people have little of beauty in their lives at the moment. Infrastructure is important but must be balanced by a thing/s of beauty. Carefully managed a thing of beauty can last for a very long time whereas infrastructure will always need updating. This needs to be reflected in balanced planning.

3240 - Sarah Brunton

[Transport>Roads (Capital)]; [Three Waters>Other]; [Resource Recovery>Resource Recovery (Capital)]

I support council focusing on basic services e.g. water, roads, waste

3250 - Hannah Murdoch

[Coder note: shrug emoji]

326 - Greg Dodds

There has to be a balance between those essential (kind-of invisible) things you describe, and the other more visible council-funded things that make a vibrant city that is fun to live in. Otherwise, there's no fun, and that's not 'life'. Talking about parks, libraries, swimming pools, festivals, etc – often taken for granted when they are there, but need to be retained, and funded.

3261 - Helena Campbell

Safety

3408 - Warren Feeney

The details provided are a familiar inventory of Christchurch city's resources and services for its communities. There isn't enough detail to state that you have got the balance right.

3414 - Chrissie Williams

I accept the Council has significant demands put on it by regulation, by central government and by the community so I understand why the proposed rates increase for 2024/25 is over 13%. But I think it is disingenuous to say the increase will reduce to over 7% the next year, before settling down to ~4% or less after that. My submission mostly addresses the changes to budgets, especially by pushing out spending for the first three or so years. The effects of deleting or deferring some of these projects will mean they will be even more costly when you do get around to doing them, and for some the cost of planning and consultation put into them will be void, and that is significant sunk cost. My main concerns are about the changes to programmes that would : • Help us mitigate and adapt to climate change • Reduce sediment entering our water ways especially Whakaraupō and the Ōpāwaho • Protect and enhance indigenous biodiversity and habitat • Improve safety for people walking and cycling

355 - Lynda Clark

Although I agree with fiscal responsibility

357 - Charlotte Gray

The arts sector and libraries should never be pitched against basic needs and a balance needs to be struck.

>>>

The surveys should not be wholly relied upon, otherwise the libraries and arts sector would get nothing. The information from the surveys needs to be considered alongside other relevant evidence.

3570 - Emmy Guthrie

Kind of

3575 - Anna Hansson

Ish

3586 - Rachel Geddis

[Rates > Residential]

>>>

All these things have to happen, but the rates increase is significant at a time where everyone is under financial pressure.

>>>

I think libraries and recreational facilities are critical to the community. However 13% is a potentially life changing increase for many home owners.

>>>

The intention is right, but the execution at the grass roots hasnt been addressed, wo further blowouts are inevitable.

3603 - Murray James (Food Resilience Network Incorporated)

We appreciate that the Council has many demands placed upon it by the community, by regulation and by central government. Austerity measures resulting from local political pressure (re-election prospects) to keep rates rises in check should not dominate council budget allocation in our view, particularly when developing the Long Term Plan for our city.

We echo the position presented by Avon Ōtākaro Network that greater austerity on the not yet commenced and nice to have projects is appropriate in this current recessional environment but also wonder if now is not the best time to progress projects when pressure on capital and labour resources in the market place is reduced.

3615 - Janine Clarke

Priority investment needs to be in ensuring that the basics are well managed and effective - water and environment. If we look after our environment it will look after us.

363 - Nathan Carroll

I am ok with investing in infrastructure investments as long as it is not at the cost of services and organisations that help with the general well-being of the people of Christchurch

3714 - Harry Stronach (Akaroa and the Bays - Community Response Team)

See attached letter

3723 - Don Babe

Almost. The compromises made and choices considered are impressive. There are a couple of areas that I think the council should look at closer.

3727 - Carl Fox

I believe Council has achieved about a 80-90% good balance but I disagree with the remaining 10-20% of expenditure.

3732 - Harry Stronach (Akaroa Ratepayers & Residents Assn Inc)

There has been no change in what the ratepayers and residents of the Eastern Peninsula want most – the efficient delivery of basic services. We have no particular interest in the grand projects happening in the city for stadiums, cycleways, civic centres, or whatever.

But we are intensely interested in our own local projects, and we want to see common sense prevail. We look forward to working with the Council to achieve outcomes that we can all be proud of.

3734 - Catherine MCKellar

Libraries, swimming pools and parks should be a priority, not stadiums.

3741 - Kevin Spaul

Find a better plan half of the this plan is unaffordable and not required by all

>>>

Spend money on what is important but remember rate pays are not money pits and you need to keep them down

>>>

It should be the services that people want and use and not the airy-fairy things that only a few people want

>>>

Some of these need cutting back

3811 - Greg Canton

[Rates > Residential rates]

No, rate increases above inflation are not fair if sustainable, I am also questioning decision making in regards to what the money is spent on. Like everyone else we have to ensure that value for money is here.

3812 - Nick Paris

A pass mark within a hair's breath of disappointment

3816 - Annette Bolton

Given the cost of living and low wage economy that we live in, rates should remain as low as possible without impacting on essential services.

3832 - Karen Atkinson

Depends on your values.

385 - Francesca Brown

I can see that a lot of work has gone into this and that is a very complex beast and likely lots of competing priorities. I do just remain concerned that there is still a lack of understanding about what it really means to address environmental decline and also the connected impacts of actions and the real costs of actions. I don't know all the answers but what I do know is there are opportunities for some deeper systems thinking and braver decision making to really make a difference. I don't want to present my submission but if anything I have talked about needs clarification then I am happy to be contacted to provide clarification.

3860 - Kate Cleverly (Halswell Community Hub)

Yes - Without investment, we cannot improve our city and quality of living through increased services. However, Council does need to invest at a grassroots level to empower local communities to develop local initiatives for their own neighbourhoods and community. It is not just about citywide events and facilities, local facilities and investment in community groups lead to community led development, a sense of wellbeing greater capacity for caring, volunteering and support. It is vital that council maintains or increases funding to community groups active in their community - particularly in Halswell which has grown so rapidly post earthquake and continues to do so.

3870 - Vernon Bunn

In the current state. Never know how the strategy will need to change depending on the next challenge.

3969 - H Bloomer-Law

[Recreation, Sports and Events > Community Arts]

Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund}

I would like to see more emphasis on funding for local arts rather than trying to draw in larger events and artists. The council should be focused 100% on making Ōtautahi a liveable city that is on track to meet its climate targets and looks after its environment and disadvantaged people.

I would like to see more emphasis on funding for local arts rather than trying to draw in larger events and artists. The council should be focused 100% on making Ōtautahi a liveable city that is on track to meet its climate targets and looks after its environment and disadvantaged people.

3976 - Elizabeth Pugh

Putting "people" first - With clean, fresh water - keep our aquifers for the people of Christchurch. Our people in warm and dry homes. Let the traffic flow around the city in a "orderly" but manageable way. Fix St Asaph to the hospital = it's not wide enough for an emergency route - looks pretty but very impractical. Plant more trees and don't allow the canopy to decrease. Replace vehicles with "hybrids" (initially), until New Zealand has an electricity network that is capable of handling all electricity needs. Then electric - perhaps hydrogen maybe available by then.

4004 - Nathalie Le Bras

Make Christchurch an attractive city to live and work for all ages, groups! (Single, young families, remote working).

4006 - Hana Saemon-Beck

Have foresight!

>>>

Focus on needs and not wants.

4009 - Michelle Whitaker (Flourish Kia Puāwai)

No - more funding and support for community and climate change

4020 - Brian Turner

[Transport > Transport (Operations)], [Three Waters > Three Waters (Operations)]

Not unless the underlying bottom line is mitigating the emerging climate crisis.

Council declared this to be a priority and investment in roads, transport infrastructure and sustainable water supply has to be directed at achieving a mitigation of the climate crisis we are facing.

>>>

The priority should be mitigating climate change.

423 - Linda MacIntyre

Where are the environmental issues?

>>>

Just progress with this proposed set of schemes now please. Enough money has already gone into these consultations. Proceed as soon as possible. Time waits for no woman...

46 - Karin Lange

Not entirely sure on the above but I do like a lot of the good things CCC has been funding.

472 - Alessandro Grida'

my perception is about the waste of taxpayer money not used in a proper manner. Also, every council business should break even or generate a sort of positive revenue.

490 - Linda-Jean Kenix

Not sure, but I appreciate your work!

498 - Kaye Rae

generally

499 - Michael Sumpter

The city needs to focus on the basics of provision of services to ratepayers and provide a solid but cost-effective level of services. The CCC has a tendency to spend significant sums on 'nice to haves' rather than core services.

500 - Jan Gregor

Living in a small rural community on Banks Peninsula as I do, I feel the LTP and its projects is very 'city' centric, city-first. Priorities for small communities are different; we don't have many of the services/infrastructure of a city, but we do expect the same standard as the city in the services we have such as safe drinking-water, well-maintained and safe rural roads, well-maintained and safe public facilities (eg, public toilets, wharf, boat slipway) for our visitors (many from metropolitan Christchurch, other provinces and international)

505 - Laura Jones

too soon to say

523 - Andrew Eadon-Jones

[Grants & Funding > Arts Center]

Yes. But you seem to have forgotten the Arts Centre..?

532 - Chris Abbott

[Grants & Funding>Arts Centre Funding]

There is one glaring omission - there is no ongoing funding mentioned for the Arts Centre. I have 2 main gripes about this 1) the cessation of funding is not mentioned. This is unethical - I expect the CCC to mention variances from one LTP to another. 2) the proposal not to assist the Arts Centre, the should-be vibrant centre of the city, is not what I want to see as a ratepayer. Many visitors include the Arts Centre as a must-see destination when visiting Chch. With the Museum currently closed, it is even more important to keep this collection of gothic buildings open and vibrant.

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration>Strategic Transport; Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]

It is good to see money being spent on cycling facilities - but there is always more that could be gained. Cycling facilities help Chch in many ways - reducing traffic congestion for those who insist on using cars, - doing a bit towards the CCC and government-recognised climate emergency - as attractions to visitors - helping residents get fitter and healthier, both mentally and physically

559 - Neville Ross

Maybe.

618 - Natalie Dixon

I'd like to see more funds for arts, events (why is the Arts Centre not included), cycle and walking facilities.

683 - Mark Vanilau

Getting there

6900 - Geraldine Jellyman

Overall, have we got the balance right?

Generally but not enough forward thinking re transportation.

720 - David Leafa

There is no right balance, as no matter what you decided, ratepayers will pay!

733 - Tania Thompson

at least i have water, power and my rubbish gets collected

781 - Jenene Parker

That sounds all very nice.... but can you do this without significantly raising our rates. Stop the 'nice to have' projects until you can

810 - Susan Mullord

We are a diverse group of people with some using the recreation centres, some the sports grounds, some the libraries, art galleries and museums. All need council support and encouragement for all residents to try them all.

814 - Malcolm McKellar

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Strategic Transport]

No. Too much emphasis on car transport. Need better public and active transport options. Need to keep in mind that the council encouragement of cars has a direct negative impact on health

815 - Sophie Ryan

[Funding & Grants > Arts Centre]

No because you are cutting funding to the Arts Centre.

816 - Murray Dickinson

We need to prioritise the essential services. Cycleways have had unprecedented levels of funding for the last 10 years and we need to rebalance this priority.

848 - Jan Harrison (-)

Probably.

873 - Rachel Palmer

Not if you're going to defund the important Arts Centre

982 - Craig Newbury

As long as the long term projects are actually projects that matter and not follies or driven by ideology. It is about time you set the 'means' and live within them. It would be great to have a council that treats the ratepayers money like their own. Live within a budget and if you cannot do something don't!

Financial Strategy

General Comments

24 submissions were received on our proposed financial strategy.

Two supported the proposed strategy, one opposed.

15 submitters provided alternative proposals, and six provided general comments about the proposed financial strategy.

Officers Response

Several submitters criticised the proposal to reduce rating for renewals by incurring further debt, claiming it is just 'kicking the can' down the road.

- Reducing rating for renewals does effectively defer rates increases into the future and also causes additional future debt and debt servicing costs which impact future ratepayers. The balanced budget benchmark is one warning signal that costs are being pushed onto future ratepayers. While this is currently not balanced in the short term due to the slower trajectory of increased rating for renewals, it is balanced in the longer term as rating for renewals is increased materially after 2026/27. For 2024/25 Council plans to rate for $204.7m towards renewals of $297.9m, i.e. 68.7% (or 66% of average LTP renewals of $312.3m). The difference is funded from subsidies and debt. The recommendation is it would be imprudent to reduce rating for renewals further, with the possibility of extending the period of an unbalanced budget. Other disadvantages include further borrowing at a time of higher interest rates, future higher rate increases, further degradation of the debt servicing benchmark, and potential risks to Councils credit rating.

Several submitters supported publicly listed company type reporting of financial and non-financial KPI's.

- Council does report financial and non-financial KPI results in its Annual Report, similar to public companies.

One questioned why we continue to grant money to organisations that are incapable of balancing their own budgets.

- The $1,212 million debt financing refers to the amount of debt repaid to LGFA. It is based on 30 year repayment and increases annually as Council borrows more.
- It is noted that based on a 5.3% interest rate over 30 years the amount paid in interest is approximately the same amount as the amount borrowed, ie the total amount paid to the lender is approximately double the original amount borrowed. The extension of debt repayment schedules would also result in increasing the level of debt, and, over time, impact Councils debt headroom. As a result, staff do not believe it is prudent to extend repayment beyond 30 years as the interest payments quickly become greater than the principal amount borrowed.

Support

2807 - David Close (Christchurch East Labour Electorate Committee)

We consider that the Financial Strategy (Vol 2, pages 4-17) is a fair and informative statement of the rationale of the Draft LTP. We will discuss the extent to which the LTP as a whole reflects the priorities as stated in the strategy.

The strategic priority of being an inclusive and equitable city is achieved in most respects:

☑ The LTP continues the Christchurch tradition of a progressive rating system based on capital value, with minimal recourse to uniform charges or user charges. This helps narrow the gap between high and low-income groups.

☑ Differential rates for residential, remote rural and business properties aim to maintain equity among ratepayer groups that make different use of Council services.

3704 - Logan Cane

I support the move to borrow money to cover capital projects that will be enjoyed by generations of people.

Oppose

3291 - Jess Kikstra

Financial settings: No, I support following the existing financial strategy and avoid spending more on interest payments which could otherwise be spent to help the community. Residents benefit from great services so we should pay for them. I understand measures are in place to reduce equity risks, such as postponement options for elderly residents.

Other

1541 - Maurice Adler

[Spending > Te Kaha], [Recreation, Sports & Events > Recreation Centres (Capital)], [Libraries > Libraries (Capital)], [Spending > Capital Programme (General)], [Strategic Direction > Additional Savings & Efficiencies]

What matters most. Over the last few years, the Christchurch City Council has had a field day on think big projects which is contributing towards the rates raised we are looking at now. To mention just three, the stadium which was pushed for the Canterbury Rugby and the Crusaders which can't fill the one they have now. We will be paying it for years. It will be a liability for years to come and it will be the ratepayers who pay, not the Canterbury Rugby or the Crusaders.

The second is Recreation and Sports Centre. This is an embarrassment. The Council received a quote to build it and didn't even obtain a good engineering report on the ground. The result is a huge cost overrun. Who has to pay for it. The ratepayers with a rate rise.

The third is the Hornby Centre. Of three, this is the most sensible. But considering the vast amount of money been spent on the other two projects, was it wise to build this. From memory, once again they didn't get a good engineering report because there was a blowout with that too.

In short, The Christchurch City Council needs to treat their finances the same as one would treat their home finances. If you can't afford don't do it. Ratepayers are tired of being used as a never ending source of funds with rate increases. My recommendation is, don't plan to have anymore large projects that we cannot afford.

2009 - CW Young

[Strategic Direction>Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities]; [Other/Special Interest Topics>Tarras Airport]; [Other/Special Interest Topics>Staff Matters]

The plan does not explore the potential savings, without compromising critical services, in reducing bureaucracy and cutback on staff members, as well as increasing efficiency of works performance. It also lacks timely, visionary and strategic investments by the ChCh Holdings (eg Tarras South Island Airport project).

2404 - Grant MacLeod

[Recreation, Sport & Events>Recreation Centres (Capital)]; [Strategic Direction>Additional Savings & Efficiencies]

Look at your carry forward and how you can realistically deliver projects and when. Also I question if you really need to continue to provide gyms directly or if there is a better model. When was the last time this was really tested independently?

2407 - Dave Evans

[Grants & Funding>Other]; [Strategic Direction>Have we got the balance right?]

3. The council continues to complain that they have no money, must raise rates far above the % of inflation, and continues to give grants to organizations that are incapable of balancing their own budget. More horrible business decisions.

2523 - Simon Hodgkinson

[Spending>Our Proposed Spending]; [Rates>Other]

The proposed budget over 10 years is $16.8 billion. Proposed savings are $41 million. The fact that this is highlighted as a “win” is embarrassing. Especially when you are proposing a rate increase of double inflation! Overall, it smacks of the entitled attitude of management at CCC. While employers are shedding jobs, and ratepayers are battling to make ends meet, your proposed budget is not supportive of the needs of the community.

>>>

[Spending>Our Proposed Spending]; [Rates>Other]

The proposed budget over 10 years is $16.8 billion. Proposed savings are $41 million. The fact that this is highlighted as a “win” is embarrassing. Especially when you are proposing a rate increase of double inflation! Overall, it smacks of the entitled attitude of management at CCC. While employers are shedding jobs, and ratepayers are battling to make ends meet, your proposed budget is not supportive of the needs of the community.

2537 - Suzanne Montocchio

[Strategic Direction>Have we got the balance right?]

In the current climate of recession, most households have had to find ways to manage their outgoings. Most of us have had very little increases in money coming in, but large increases in money going out. This requires management of what we spend our money on, regulate and pull back. Can the council not look at their department in this same manner. Save 5%, per department? Surely this is the first option, look at your current spend, reduce this first, before you ask us. Look at your internal spends! We are all having to. We have limited resources.

2565 - Neet Subraman

[Strategic Direction>Performance Framework]; [Rates>Residential Rates]

The important bit here is maintaining the existing level of service. This cannot be compromised. However, please explore if the level of investment can be staggered a bit more so that the rates increase can go up as inflation cools down.

2574 - Matthew Pont

I am a fan of land value tax concept. Focus on the land value, less on improvements. However, please investigate hiking rates for abandoned and decrepit buildings so that owners don't leave them to rot (I. E. Antonio Hall

2586 - Leeann Watson (Business Canterbury)

A sensible and transparent approach to communicating finances, and narrowing the conversation about cost control, would be through reporting against financial (and nonfinancial key performance indicators) each year, similar to a publicly listed company

2588 - Brendon Miller

A sensible and transparent approach to communicating finances, and narrowing the conversation about cost control, would be through reporting against financial (and nonfinancial key performance indicators) each year, similar to a publicly listed company.

2606 - Asif Hussain

Standard Chartered, KPMG and the United Nations Office for Disaster Risk Reduction (UNDRR), with contributions from more than 20 additional organisations, have collaborated to develop the Guide for Adaptation and Resilience Finance (April 2024). Research shows that there needs to be a rapid move towards adaptation and resilience action. At COP28 in Dubai, the UAE Framework for Global Climate Resilience recognised that the current levels of finance for adaptation were insufficient and called for larger and more flexible financing from a diverse range of public, private, and philanthropic sources. A Call for Collaboration was issued by a broad stakeholder group, to accelerate the mobilisation of private finance for adaptation and resilience.

I urge the Council to incorporate the Guide for Adaptation and Resilience Finance (April 2024) into its Climate Change adaptation programme and policies. The guidelines would potentially support local councils in managing risks and building resilience to climate change impacts. This roadmap provides clear guidance on how costs will be distributed among individuals, communities, or nationally and highlights the importance of collaboration between various sectors, including public and private, to achieve systematic transformation towards climate resilience.

2835 - Emma Rodriguez Dos Santos

Quick research on LGNZ site shows that most residents are used to rates rises of 5-10% per annum (since 2002). Why would CCC think that the local residents would accept such an accelerated rates increase for 1 year 24/25 and then it drop to half this the next year, then half again the next...would it not make more sense to even it out a bit more over the 10 year plan and cause locals less pain?

>>>

Why would we encourage borrowing $93m more which is suggested in relation to balancing the budgets - if this means we WILL NOT MEET the Balanced Budget benchmark, which is used by DIA to decide on further lending - why would we endorse that?

3028 - Steve Taylor

It's what is needed, value for money is what we need

3633 - Joanne Tindall

o Council has a significant part in funding infrastructure such as Te Kaha, Canterbury's Multi-Use Arena, Parakiore Recreation and Sport Centre, and Naval Point, to ensure we can host world class events in Christchurch. o Council must go out to our neighbouring Councils for funding assistance for those projects as it is not just being used by Christchurch City Council residents, but also Waimakariri and Selwyn District Council residents. This is even more apparent as developments close the gap between Selwyn District Council and Christchurch City Council in the south of the City.

3796 - Danielle Millar

Nope. I'd rather my rates raise and live in a fantastic world class city!

Not Stated

1623 - Oliver Mould

You say that you had a "challenging financial strategy". Is this because you did not charge enough rates in previous years or think about increased demand sufficiently perhaps? Start to play hard-ball with rate payers and don't sugar-coat the truth in an effort to keep rates down. Find alternative sources of income such as means tested rates, more parking revenues, and reduce costs by making sure new housing is in-fill, not greenfield, etc, etc. Looking at your planning for new demand, I feel you may not be making large enough allowances for this aspect, so futures years may require larger rates rises again.

2391 - Mitchell Rogers

Reduce the amount of debt as much as possible, means that there will be 7% more money spread elsewhere.

2570 - Marie Gray

To this end, I do not agree with putting off increasing the rating for renewals for a couple of years. It's another example of kicking the can down the road. We just need to bite the bullet and increase the rating for renewals now. When we delay, it costs more. Our kids are going to have enough problems to deal with

4005 - Janet Lockyer

I wonder at the 1,212 million debt financing which changes little over the plan. Is this just paying interest and keeping it at that level? That is what it looked like to me but I couldn't get the details.

>>>

Servicing debt is a shame, but I suppose it's necessary.

4020 - Brian Turner

But can't the Council engage in a higher level of borrowing given it can borrow at a cheaper rate than joe public. This should enable rate increases to be no more than 10% pa.

789 - Stuart Sanderson

[Resource Recovery>Resource Recovery (Capital)]

Leaner strategic procurement policies should be considered

>>>

[Spending>Capital Programme (General)]

Leaner strategic procurement policies should be considered

Infrastructure Strategy

General Comments

43 submissions were received on our proposed infrastructure strategy.

11 supported the proposed strategy, two opposed.

26 submitters provided alternative proposals, and six provided general comments about the proposed infrastructure strategy.

Officers Response

Most submissions that relate to the Infrastructure Strategy, were supportive. Themes that stand out include:

- Sustainability Focus: Many submissions call for prioritising environmentally sustainable infrastructure, aligning with the Council's climate change goals and ensuring long-term resilience.
- Investment vs. Maintenance: There's a divide on whether to emphasise infrastructure renewal or invest proactively in new projects. Some highlight deferred maintenance as a cost-driver, while others stress the need for bold action.
- Funding and Affordability: Opinions differ on raising rates to support infrastructure. Some advocate for increased developer contributions, while others highlight the need for cost efficiencies and project prioritisation.

- Climate Change Urgency: Submissions underscore the need to factor climate change into infrastructure planning, with some arguing the current plan is insufficiently ambitious to meet the Council's Net Zero goals.
- Balancing Needs and Expectations: Feedback reflects a tension between maintaining core infrastructure, investing in "nice to haves," and adapting to future challenges within a constrained budget.

The feedback received generally aligns with the principles outlined in the Infrastructure Strategy, and warrants no immediate changes to the Strategy.

- Sustainable Focus: The emphasis on environmentally sustainable infrastructure demonstrates support for the Strategy's objective of building long-term resilience and meeting climate goals. This reinforces the current direction.
- Proactive Investment: Calls for increased investment and minimising deferred maintenance show alignment with the Strategy's commitment to a balanced approach, ensuring both the upkeep of existing assets and proactive development to meet future needs.
- Fiscal Responsibility: Diverse views on funding highlight the community's awareness of the financial challenges inherent in infrastructure development. The Infrastructure Strategy highlights the need to balance investment with long-term affordability (looking after what we've got). This emphasis on fiscal prudence aligns with the feedback received and warrants no immediate changes to the LTP.
- Climate Imperative: Submissions stressing the urgency of climate action reaffirm the Strategy's strong focus on adaptation and mitigation measures. This warrants continued attention and proactive steps to implementation.

Support

1249 - Sally Michael

if it is beneficial to the overall community in terms of infrastructure then yes. definitely don't decrease. just benefit the spaces that need it the most for functionality and quality of life

1396 - Robyn Wilson

Support long term thinking on major infrastructure including debt raising spread over long term if possible.

1429 - Mike Harvey (Christchurch Metro Cricket Association)

[Strategic Direction > Performance Framework]

It is important to maintain the current level of services and ensure that the infrastructure is available to support a growing population

1647 - Barry Linwood

[Borrowing & Debt Management>Borrowing & Debt Management]; [Strategic Direction>Have we got the balance right?]

I think you have. By borrowing now for infrastructure it is only fair that future generations of rate payers contribute to the upkeep of it. Also for all the generations to contribute to unforeseen costs on expansion or replacing infrastructure in the future is taken into account

2241 - Francesca Hayes

Priorities should be in infrastructure to manage the rising population of the city, and parks and recreation - things to do.

2586 - Leeann Watson (Business Canterbury)

Recognising that long-term planning is foundational to building a pipeline of work and an appropriate workforce to support it, it is vital that Greater Christchurch has a clear, actionable roadmap with buy-in across Canterbury. This is particularly important now, with many centres across the country gearing up to bid for city/regional deals where having an infrastructure plan with regional support and appropriate funding commitments by local government will be a competitive advantage.

Business Canterbury supports the four key action areas outlined in the Infrastructure Strategy but recommends the recognition of sustainable economic growth as a crucial focus area, separate to water supply, wastewater management, stormwater systems, transport, facilities, parks, and waste management.

3035 - Claire Coveney

Costs have been inflating and the projects have taken too long and I think of our future generations needs, basic needs.

3291 - Jess Kikstra

Support infrastructure strategy. Particularly the focus on sustainable growth, ensuring infrastructure investment supports active transport over roading.

3421 - Mary Clark

There seems to be a reassuring amount of maintenance of the city's infra-structure.

578 - Susanne Trim

I support the focus on infrastructure security.

794 - Yanny Webb-Walker

We definitely need to focus on infrastructure.

Oppose

2586 - Leeann Watson (Business Canterbury)

Asset renewal is important for maintaining the levels of service and lifespan expected of public infrastructure. However, our view is that the draft LTP places too much of a focus on renewal, at the expense of proactive infrastructure delivery. Business Canterbury understands there is some uncertainty now from changes in Government policy – but if we want to continue being a “leading New Zealand city” we will need to be bold about the projects we invest in and advocate for as a city.

260 - Manu Hepi

Infrastructure is important but means nothing if the city has no charm or novelty.

Other

1180 - Glenn Matheson

[Strategic Direction>Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities]; [Rates>Residential Rates]

Rate rises are not great but as a country and city we just do infrastructure so bad, somewhere along the line we all have to pay the piper and delaying new, replacement and needed infrastructure is short term thinking and just costs more in the long run to solve. Be visionary, cut costs where you can, focus on the core responsibilities and creating opportunities for our kids and their kids that will keep them off the street and out of trouble, And investing in sport and culture facilities will go along way to achieve this.

1603 - Sandra Cunningham

Infrastructure first and foremost

1695 - Jordan Wyatt

Thank you for listening to us Broadly: I'd like more long term infrastructure in an environmentally friendly way

I'd like to see more prioritisation of environmentally sustainable infrastructure

1764 - Chris Conwest

The only reasons the maintenance of the core infrastructure is costing so much is the insistence on patching and repairing over and over again. Instead you should focus on replacing it. The council should allow more subdivisions with increased cost. This will allow property developers to fund replacing core infrastructure.

1833 - Mary McKeown

Wells, sewage, Patholes
Pipes aren't sexy - they are out of sight but very important.
We do not want to end up like Wellington

1866 - El D'Arrioso

Do you have any comments on operational spending?

Put more money into building resilient infrastructure in the face of climate change!

2404 - Grant MacLeod

[Strategic Direction>Performance Framework]; [Rates>Residential Rates]

Deferred maintenance only saves today, you'll end up spending just as much operationally, meet the levels of service, but perhaps be mindful that not all communities need built infrastructure in such a small city.

2481 - Paul Leighton

[Rates > other]

Raise rates more and fund more infrastructure.

2796 - Annelies Pikelharing

[Strategic Direction > Climate Change, Other/Special Interest Topics > Tarras Airport]

Climate Change. This is of most importance, and though the country declared a Climate Emergency it is not apparent that the Council thinks there is. The building of a Conference centre, a Stadium and other major structures indicate the mighty dollar has priority. By so encouraging overseas visitors we encourage intensive flying with the emissions this creates. Plus the additional footprint of tourism and the pressure on our precious habitat. How is it possible the Council can even consider building an airport in Otago. The Think Big ideas that Councils pursue are out of touch. They mean more habitat loss, concrete structures, loss of biodiversity, pressure on wildlife, and less quality of life for citizens. And more extracting of minerals and increasing need of energy. None of these will contribute to our genuine wellbeing.

2832 - Riley Neupauer (University of Canterbury Green Party)

[Strategic Direction > infrastructure Strategy, Strategic Direction > Climate Change, Spending > Our Proposed Spending]

No, on the contrary, the UC Greens are quite disappointed with the proposed spending allocated towards infrastructure, particularly in regards to environmental protections. The Council posits the needs of today's residents as if they are separate from those of future generations, a deeply misguided sentiment. Flooding and the many other consequences of climate change are not some far-off possibilities that could potentially arise decades from now, only affecting our descendents. They are incredibly pertinent issues that will undoubtedly worsen as time progresses, and this exacerbation may come much sooner than we expect. Even the most senior Christchurch residents are liable to be negatively impacted by these environmental challenges. It is not a question of "if" climate change will impact us, it is simply a matter of how soon our reckoning will come. But let's be idealistic and say that the current residents somehow won't be affected. Does that mean we shouldn't strengthen our infrastructure to the best of our abilities? Are we simply to wait around for the worst to happen before we decide it's time to take action, which by then will be too little too late? Do we only develop Christchurch for posterity's sake? The fallacious nature of this logic is self-evident. And that's not even to mention the services that aren't directly related to climate change, most of which are also underfunded, despite having self-perpetuating repercussions. The Council is understandably concerned about reducing costs, but they need to remember that monetary spending isn't the only cost we face.

2942 - Will Taylor

It is important not to further delay investment into infrastructure as the harm to future generations is huge. To delay investment means that the real cost is worn by others

2996 - Stephanie Damm-Logan (Guardian Films)

I think likely there is a lot of waste especially in infrastructure which needs to be managed closely.

3148 - Viv Cotter

Infrastructure needs to be prioritised above the "nice to have". The important stuff is water, drains, rubbish disposal. Ultimately, these are the only issues that actually matter

3617 - Bronwen Bisley

Infrastructure is a long term investment. The more it's delayed, the worse off Christchurch will be in the future. We are already seeing in NZ the impact of reduced investment in infrastructure - this needs to be remedied.

3700 - Ian Cumberpatch

We have major infrastructure demands that cannot be ignored, we have some developments that could and should have been fiscally managed better, and some projects that should be scaled back. We expect a city of world class standard - maybe we need to relook at this and set our own standards. Having just returned from 40 days overseas in Europe, UK and Singapore we need to heed the good and bad of their developments.

3703 - Greg Hay

Maintaining infrastructure is imperative, however all potential savings should be considered before proceeding

3738 - Finn Jackson

While the financial situation is tight, this is not a suitable reason to defer the investments we know need to be made. Delaying work on water and transport infrastructure will leave our city poorly equipped for the growth that we know is coming, particularly in the face of our local, national and international targets to reduce greenhouse gas emissions 50% by 2030 and the urgent need to adapt to the impacts of climate change. Deferred investment is part of why we have ended up in the situation we are in now - with an infrastructure deficit and bumping up against our ecological limits, coinciding with a period of financial pressure. We need to grit our teeth, take ownership of our responsibility to address these problems and get on with it rather than waiting for someone else to solve our problems for us.

3758 - Mads Churchhouse

[Strategic Direction > Climate Change]

Secondly, there is no possible way for the council to meet its ambitious (and necessary) goal of Net Zero by 2045 with this current plan, particularly if rates are reduced. It's like this plan exists in another plane of reality from the Net Zero goal. Net Zero requires immediate and radical investment in mass public rapid transit, denser social housing, community services etc. as well as climate change adaptation. I welcome the money being put forward to adaptation, but these funds don't go far enough. Either CCC invest in robust public infrastructure things now, or you face a far greater expense in the next 50 years as infrastructure crumbles in the face of the rising climate emergency. Just look at the fact that Stormwater can't even meet their own mitigation commitments under current funding.

376 - Mattias Wieland

[Strategic Direction > Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities],[Transport > Other]

Mode shift in transport and upgrading our infrastructure should be key priorities

448 - Nick Campbell

[Strategic Direction > Additional Savings & Efficiencies]

A lack of funding in many vital areas has occurred over a long period of time, and I think a large focus target on vital infrastructure is required, not spread funding across all areas to keep the maximum amount of people happy. If you focus solely on roading/infrastructure of 3-5years and really hit the nail on the head with a good budget you will have much more success.

572 - Brian Nelson

[Parks > Heritage (Capital)]

Need more emphasis on Maintaining current infrastructure and heritage.

579 - Rosemary Neave

Maintaining levels of service is important, but we also need to step up and invest in our infrastructure and instigate plans to be a climate ready city.

>>>

7. Further work and detailed planning on infrastructure that will be impacted by climate change.

655 - Patricia Holden

[Strategic Direction > Climate Change], [Recreation, Sports & Events > Recreation Centres (Capital)], [Recreation, Sports & Events > Community Arts]

I think that we are coping now with years of underfunding in infrastructure and we also need to future proof for climate change (need to be proactive, not reactive). It is also necessary to put money into recreation - arts, sport etc. A city is not just bricks and mortar. We need to feed the heart.

665 - Rene Arthur

"Infrastructure" is a common term used throughout the LTP, are we also anticipating over the next 10 years a rise of underserved communities and vulnerable ratepayers and the infrastructure we need in place for this due to unequitable opportunities and accessibility.

912 - Sophie Hartnell

[Strategic Direction - Have we got the balance right?], [Strategic Direction - Climate Change], [Transport - Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)]

I strongly believe more investment in green technologies, biodiversity and climate mitigation; public transport and infrastructure, needs to be an absolute priority. If we don't spend the money on this now the cost down the line will be astronomical and untenable. This is our current reality.

Not Stated

1838 - Charlotte Holland

is: We seem to be behind on infrastructure investment so reducing ~~the~~ the level of investment further will have notable impacts on LOS now and in the future when trying to catch up with demand + climate implications. If anything spend more.

262 - Maria Mendoza Nieto

Invest in higher quality infrastructure and repairs rather than doing quick poor jobs of infrastructure and repairs (particularly roads) by investing in companies who want to do good in the community rather than just maximising profit. If rates do increase, begin to incorporate more climate infrastructure for resilience and longevity in the changing climate

3826 - Kate Cleverly

We need to invest in the current infrastructure in order to future proof the city and prevent massive rates increases in years to come when things start to fail

4024 - Richard McCaskill

We have to maintain and invest in our infrastructure.

4032 - Paul Dietsche

Stop kicking the can down the road and start addressing the infrastructure shortfalls

825 - Duncan King

Fix and maintain the current infrastructure,

Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities

General Comments

537 submissions were received on the proposed community outcomes and strategic priorities.

138 provided comments in support of the outcomes and priorities, and 36 submitters provided comments in opposition.

259 provided alternatives to the proposal, and 122 provided general comments about the proposed community outcomes and strategic priorities.

Officers Response

Submissions under this category covered a wide range of points on different specific issues. This summary and response covers the major submission themes raised in connection with our strategic priorities and community outcomes.

Submissions generally supported the overall Strategic Framework and offered comments on specific aspects of the Framework. A large number of submissions advocated for specific projects and activities that submitters believed the Council should fund or be involved in, noting their alignment to one or more elements of the Strategic Framework.

Green and liveable

Many submitters identified this as the most important priority or the priority that they liked the most. Some submitters also highlighted the inclusion of biodiversity and asked that the Council do more to protect or enrich indigenous biodiversity.

Reduce emissions as a Council and as a city

Many submitters expressed strong support for the climate-related elements of the Strategic Framework. Several submitters also asked for a stronger emphasis on emissions reduction in the Framework.

Champion Ōtautahi-Christchurch

Several submitters highlighted the value in the Council working to make Christchurch a vibrant city to attract visitors and residents.

Be an inclusive and equitable city

A wide range of comments were received related to this priority. Many submitters suggested the Council should be thinking about all ages including older and younger groups, and should plan for the next generation. Submitters noted the importance of community cohesion and working with community groups, with some feeling community partnerships were overlooked in the drafting of the Strategic Framework. Several submitters expressed support for the inclusion of wellbeing. While some submitters expressed support for the diversity and inclusion aspects of this priority, others disagreed.

Build trust and confidence in the Council

Several submitters noted the importance of this priority but thought the Council should do more to engage with and listen to the entire Christchurch community. Some of these submitters expressed concern that the Council was too focused on the views of certain (often loud and articulate) interest groups.

Manage ratepayers' money wisely

Many submitters expressed general concern about the cost to implement the Strategic Framework and wanted the Council to focus on getting the basics right. Several submitters believed that the "manage ratepayers' money wisely" priority was inconsistent with the rest of the framework, suggesting that the other priorities (particularly the climate change priority) were focused on the long term and this priority was focused more on the short term.

Deliverability of community outcomes within current LTP

Many submitters noted the importance of the Council being able to deliver on the outcomes it has identified, ensuring sufficient funding was invested in delivery. Some submitters expressed concern that the draft Long Term Plan would not deliver on the outcomes.

General drafting comments

Submitters also made general comments on the drafting of the Strategic Framework. The key themes are summarised below:

- concern that the community outcomes and strategic priorities are too vague or generic.
- a desire for the community outcomes and strategic priorities to be ranked in order of importance.
- highlighted that sometimes trade-offs would be required.
- thought the vision was unrealistic, particularly the reference to a city “where anything is possible”.
- requested Framework be amended to include explicit reference to Banks Peninsula
- requested the inclusion of reference to the Council partnering with community groups or businesses.
- requested inclusion of safety and crime reduction
- thought the Framework required stronger reference to the Council’s commitment to working with mana whenua

A lot of the submissions received were very specific and detailed. Submitters discussed ways in which the community outcomes and strategic priorities should inform Council decision making and identified projects they considered aligned well with the Strategic Framework.

The Strategic Framework by its nature is a high- level document. It is intended to provide the foundation for our long-term plan and guides the allocation of effort and resources.

The strategic priorities are intended to reflect key areas of focus this Council term and highlight issues that many Council work programmes could impact. The community outcomes describe what the Council wants to achieve for the Christchurch district and are intended to be aspirational and reflect long-term thinking.

The strategic priorities and community outcomes are not listed in order of priority or importance. There are inherent tensions between the priorities and trade-offs, at times, will be required when the Council makes its final decisions on work programmes and budgets.

In terms of ensuring the Long Term Plan 2023-34 can deliver on the Strategic Framework, the building blocks of the LTP (activity plans) have been developed on the basis of the Strategic Framework. Each activity plan has a Strategic Framework section, which articulates the ways which the strategic priorities have influenced the development of that activity. The Strategic Framework is also well aligned with existing Council Strategies and their respective work programmes, which will contribute to the outcomes sought in this Framework.

The Council adopted the Kia tūroa te Ao Ōtautahi Christchurch Climate Resilience Strategy in 2022 and is committed to implementing it, being mindful of the carbon targets we have set and ensuring our land use planning supports our climate goals. The Council is working towards targets for reducing emissions and has set a goal to halve emissions by 2030 and achieve net zero greenhouse gas emissions by 2045 (with at least a 50% reduction in methane emissions by 2045). The Strategic Framework is aligned with the Climate Resilience Strategy.

The Council is committed to building inclusive, safe communities, as set out in Te Haumako Te Whitingia Strengthening Communities Together Strategy 2022, adopted in 2022. The Council is working to partner with the community, and work in ways that mean people feel heard and feel that they belong. The Council also adopted the Equity and Inclusion Policy in 2024, which recognises Council's responsibility to ensure decision-making reflects its commitment to foster equity and inclusion for all Christchurch and Banks Peninsula residents.

The Council's community outcomes monitoring programme tracks progress and reports on key indicators identified for each of the community outcomes.

Support

1095 - Paul Bingham

[Strategic Direction>Climate Change]; [Parks> Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration]

Banks Peninsula, including the Port Hills, is a real gem when it comes to biodiversity, playing a key role not just locally but for the greater Christchurch area and beyond. It's like a biodiversity superhero, spreading the good stuff around and locking away carbon, making a massive contribution to Christchurch's dreams of being a greener, more climate-resilient city. Plus, the perks of preserving and boosting biodiversity are something everyone, now and in the future. A big shoutout to the CCC for already throwing support and funding behind important projects like Te Kakahu Kahukura and Pest Free Banks Peninsula, which show just how much can be achieved when we all work together. When it comes to the big plans for 2024/2034, it's all thumbs up for making the city and the Peninsula greener and more liveable, with a strong push for climate resilience, better care for the environment, and giving the nod to nature-based solutions and indigenous biodiversity. Special props to strategies aiming to green-up the city, look after our water, and keep our tree canopy lush. There's also a plea to not forget about the little guys—the private landowners—who are super keen to do their bit for biodiversity and could do with a bit more financial help to make even bigger strides.

1112 - Sarah Anderson (Friends of Christchurch Art Gallery Te Puna o Waiwhetū)

I commend the city's desire to become a 'cultural powerhouse' and hope that the appropriate funding required to achieve that is maintained.

1126 - David Maciulaitis

A well rounded achievable vision.

116 - Jarrod Coburn

I like them, they are appropriate.

1191 - Ava Johnson

I like the values currently outlined, but would like to say its important to live into these values

1230 - Carlana Limmer

[Grants & Funding > Events Ecosystem Funding]

Community Outcomes are fantastic - investing in major events would only increase to all of the below outcomes: A collaborative confident city A thriving prosperous city A cultural powerhouse city

1282 - Kelvin Lynn

I like it. It's the delivery that is the challenge.

1290 - Aric Thorn

Support green liveable city

1352 - Lin Klenner

Looks good to me

1362 - Pablo Rodriguez

I acknowledge that these priorities demand substantial investment, yet I firmly believe they exemplify responsible management of resources and pave the way for a promising future for Christchurch. We have the opportunity to mold a community where everyone flourishes—a city renowned for its sustainability, fairness, and dedication to its residents.

1391 - Anna Gruczynska

They all sound very nice. If we achieve a thriving, prosperous city, we are more likely to achieve the other three outcomes.

1394 - Michael Clemens

I support the community outcomes and priorities

1452 - Maraed Riley

While I acknowledge that these priorities demand substantial investment, I firmly believe they embody conscientious management of resources and offer a promising future for Christchurch. We have the opportunity to mold a thriving community—a city renowned for its sustainability, equity, and unwavering dedication to its inhabitants.

1462 - Sue Piercey

I agree with the vision, community outcomes and strategic priorities.

1464 - Jeffrey Packard

I commend your effort in making a better future for Christchurch - it is still a city rising from the ashes like the phoenix , and will take a lot of work; what you are creating is a place that can be known for its pedestrian and cyclist friendly streets, mass transit, sustainability, and dedication to improving life of the residents of this City.

1522 - David Alexander

I like them

1567 - Sarah Pritchett

Sounds good

1612 - Emma Johnson

I agree with them but would like to see more actions to support them.

1637 - Megan Andrews

Really like the community outcomes

1734 - Fergus O'Neill

Good vision for the city!

1751 - Matthew Tolan

I like it

1780 - Alison Griffith-Collins

Yes. Sport is not the same as Culture. There needs to be more support for non-sport culture and heritage.

1838 - Charlotte Holland

I support all the other community outcomes & priorities

1844 - Shelley Washington (Rod Donald Banks Peninsula Trust)

- The strategy documents that underpin the Draft LTP especially where nature-based solutions and enhancing indigenous biodiversity have been given preference: Open Space Strategy; Ōtautahi Climate Resilience Strategy; Ōtautahi Urban Forests plan; Te Pātaka o Rākaihautū/Banks Peninsula Destination Management plan; Banks Peninsula Community Board Plan 2023-25; and Whaka-Ora/Healthy Harbour Plan.
- All the community outcomes 2024-34

2060 - Liv van Workum

I think it is great.

2069 - Christine Whybrew (Heritage New Zealand Pouhere Taonga)

HNZPT supports the strategic framework within the Plan in which communities are supported to understand and protect their heritage and contribute to making the city a creative, cultural and events powerhouse. Importantly this will mean that heritage is more accessible to all and be inclusive to all the cultures and distinct communities of the district. HNZPT supports the pledge to ensure that Ōtautahi Christchurch is an inclusive multicultural and multilingual city that honours Te Tiriti o Waitangi.

2121 - Cassie Welch (National Public Health Service (NPHS) Te Waipounamu)

Our Community Outcomes and Priorities

Do you have any thoughts on our vision, community outcomes and strategic priorities?

44. NPHS Te Waipounamu strongly supports the Council's strategic priority: to be an inclusive and equitable city which puts people at the centre of developing our city and district, prioritising wellbeing, accessibility and connection. We encourage the CCC to take an integrated planning approach to all Council decisions to support this strategic priority. Integrated planning involves taking a holistic view of health and wellbeing to plan in ways that build stronger and more sustainable social, environmental, and economic outcomes.

NPHS Te Waipounamu recommends the CCC use the Integrated Planning Guide for considering how determinants of health are affected by decision making.⁴⁰

45. Additionally, NPHS Te Waipounamu notes that Council's strategic priority to be an inclusive and equitable city, is supported and enabled by Council's commitment to work in partnership, particularly with mana whenua but also with other agencies and non-government organisations, including Pacific organisations. In terms of health and wellbeing outcomes, Māori and Pacific people and people living in areas of high socio-economic deprivation still experience inequitable health outcomes compared to non-Māori/Pacific people and people living in areas of low socio-economic deprivation⁴¹. Through partnership with communities, mana whenua, Pacific peoples, and other community groups and non-government organisations, Council can support more equitable outcomes for Christchurch residents.

[Coder Note: Full attachment available]

213 - Diana Plesovs

Ok

2136 - Clara Carey

I support the strategic priorities and vision

2201 - Eddie Hayes

Prioritise community outcomes - continue to support the organisations doing the mahi in the community.

2235 - Cara Paterson (Creative New Zealand)

We welcome Council's commitment to supporting community wellbeing, and support the inclusion of ensuring Ōtautahi is 'A cultural powerhouse city' as a community outcome. In its work to achieve this outcome, we encourage Council to recognise the importance of ngā toi Māori in the LTP for its contributions to community outcomes and strategic priorities.

>>>

We welcome Council's commitment to support community wellbeing, and encourage it to work closely with creative communities as valuable partners for helping deliver community outcomes to Christchurch's diverse communities.

>>>

We welcome Council's commitment to promote the social, economic, environmental and cultural wellbeing of Christchurch with the community outcome of 'A cultural powerhouse city'. It's fantastic to see Council's intention to celebrate and support a diversity of artforms and cultures, and ensure Christchurch is an inclusive city that honours Te Tiriti o Waitangi.

>>>

We encourage Council to also recognise the strong contribution investment in arts, culture, creativity and ngā toi makes to other community outcomes, in particular:

- 'A collaborative confident city' – artistic and cultural activity increases social cohesion through connecting people and communities
- 'A thriving, prosperous city' – artistic and cultural activity equips people with the skills needed to create a more highly-skilled workforce, and has a strong 'multiplier effect' by attracting economic activity and investment into the city.

2238 - Sarah Dean

Perfectly fine.

2263 - Scott Babington

Love it, especially the engagement/working in partnership with Māori - vital to have leadership in this area.

2308 - Sarah Elicker

I'm fully supportive of these outcomes and priorities.

2310 - Helen Broughton (Waipuna Halswell Hornby Riccarton Community Board)

The Board overall supports the vision set out in the Council's Strategic Framework 2024-34 but is concerned that the guiding vision emphasises the new without recognising the value of what already exists in Christchurch.

2326 - Amanda Booth

They look great on paper!

2388 - Guy Tapley

i think the balance is about right.

24 - Kaaren Mathias

Priority for social connection, active transport and social inclusion is important. Support these

2442 - Paula Bevilacqua

Some are very good, not a lot of money required for some as they are common sense outcomes.

2445 - Joseph Davidson-Labout

It's a great vision that can help bring back life to the city and build a strong feeling of community

2457 - Hayden Johnstone

I think that they are good aims.

2540 - Jocelyn and Caroline Papprell and Syddall

What matters most for us is a liveable city that has plenty of accessible public green spaces, adequate public and active transport options to enable residents to get to the wonderful activities the city has to offer. In that respect the community outcomes 2024-34 are acceptable to us.

>>>

Generally we agree with the vision, outcomes and strategic priorities particularly with an emphasis on balancing the needs of today's residents with the needs of future generations.

2574 - Matthew Pont

The visions are good, but they need to be actively lived up too, including when some people want to oppose progress for the sake of it

259 - Margaret McEvedy

Agree we/you are required to build a thriving, inclusive and sustainable city for the people. It is true though that we have lost faith in your ability to do that. It appears the Council flits from one idea to another never really doing a great deal. A return to fiscal responsibility and transparency would serve both the Council and the people well.

2610 - Keith Harris (Akaroa District Promotions (ADP))

We support these in principle but would add that the Community funding seems to have become an industry in itself.

2611 - Papataitua Harrington

Sure.

262 - Maria Mendoza Nieto

More walkable cities and hubs for people to gather and be that aren't necessarily for the purpose of making money for business but to bring communities together. Invest in lower income communities as this will decrease crime, mental health challenges and overall make the city safer and healthier for everyone.

2639 - Callum Ward (Waihoru Spreydon Cashmere Heathcote Community Board)

support

2655 - Michele Mccaw

Agree

2699 - Graham Beswick

I agree with the proposed priorities outlined in the 2024-34 plan

271 - Jim Veitch

Mostly very sound thanks

2745 - Kate Latimer (Eastern Community Sport and Recreation Incorporated)

keep as written

2747 - Mark Thygesen

Generally excellent balance of vision - costs versus outcomes.

2803 - Sarah Walters (Rewi Alley Chinese School)

[Full attachment available]

We support the Community Outcome to be a cultural powerhouse city and the strategic priority of being an inclusive and equitable city which puts people at the centre of developing our city and district , prioritising wellbeing, accessibility and connection

2808 - Kate Whyte

[Full attachment available]

I support the Councils “Key Community Outcomes” as identified on Page 15 of the “Consultation Document”. As such I found it surprising that Banks Peninsula was barely identified within the plan. Banks Peninsula, which includes the Port Hills is a large part of the City and an asset of enormous potential.

Within the Outcome of “A green liveable city” all the goals relating to climate resilience, protecting and regenerating the environment (especially indigenous biodiversity), water bodies, and tree canopy, apply to all of Banks Peninsula (including the Port Hills) as well as urban Christchurch.

>>>

Banks Peninsula also carries its weight by contributing to the other key community outcomes of the plan: - The wealth of natural, biodiversity and cultural experiences or “ecotourism” in the Banks Peninsula region of the City contributes to “A Thriving Prosperous City” by raising productivity in smart and innovative ways, whilst native habitat regeneration contributes to carbon sequestration and reducing impacts of climate change. - Protecting our natural heritage is also an important aspect of growing “A Cultural Powerhouse City” - Supporting a rich heritage of native habitat and wildlife throughout our City contributes to “A Collaborative Confident City” where our resident can actively participate in community and city life, have a strong sense of belonging and identity, and feel safe.

2833 - Robbie Peacocke

These look good.

2848 - Glen Koorey

They are all good, worthy outcomes - the key is to make them happen! That does require reasonable investment (and hence rates increases)

2850 - Neil Cooper (Greater New Brighton Community Leadership Group)

The greater New Brighton community has, arguably, been the least favoured community in the wider Christchurch City area. For various reasons, past proposals – including a plan agreed in 2015 for a major upgrade to the New Brighton area – has failed to materialise. Currently the community are distrustful of promises or even indications of proposals to upgrade the facilities. Council owes it to this relatively disadvantaged community to carry through with proposals for a major upgrade. This is particularly important now, given the current convergence of community 3 and commercial interests to upgrade the New Brighton Mall, together with work that City Council staff are working in conjunction on. Many promises have been made to this community in the past. It is now time for positive action that is carried through to fruition.

We support the vision, community outcomes and strategic priorities. However, as is often the case, the devil is in the detail. In relation to this proposal, the understanding of the vision, community outcomes and strategic priorities as applied to the greater New Brighton area, have a hollow ring. Too often, the Council has proposed major works to overcome many of the issues that plague the local area. And all too often these promises have been broken or never carried through to achieve what has been promised. >>> [Other/Special Interest Topics > New Brighton Suburban Masterplan / Oran Avenue]

2857 - Jo Blair

I think your vision and 4 outcomes for the 10 year plan are refreshing and for the first time in decades, inspiring. However the plan to deliver on them doesn't seem true? I don't see any proper investment in us being a cultural powerhouse? It seem vacuous. Now is the time to lead culturally and creatively - take the space that Wellington held for decades, Auckland was on the road to own - but now is facing major cuts. Now is our time to fill our city with diverse artistic talent - where we can make it here - rather than have to import other city's talent.

2866 - Samantha Cook

These outcomes and priorities seem well-aligned with things that will improve the environmental, cultural, and business lives of Christchurchers.

2869 - Josiah O'Neill

I support the outcomes and priorities listed in the plan. In particular a green lovable city, and cultural powerhouse.

2887 - Linda Keall

These all seem great

2896 - Marian McCurdy (Free Theatre Christchurch)

Free Theatre is in full support of the Community Outcomes and Priorities contained within the CCC LTP 2024-2034 to build a thriving, inclusive and sustainable city for all. Free Theatre has produced theatre and educational opportunities here in Christchurch for 44 years with opportunities for participation in the arts that meets the need for a sense of community engagement and identity that emerges from responding to the shared concerns of our artists and audiences contributing to the building of a collaborative, confident city. We work together with local artists to make avant-garde art theatre which means theatre that breaks away from escapist entertainment and conventional ways of thinking and acting to explore new ways of responding and adapting to social and environmental challenges. Based at the Arts Centre for 36 years in 2018 we found a home at Seven Oaks in Waltham and more recently a base for our Education Programme at the Climate Action Campus in Avonside where we share its aims to give young people hope, joy, courage, confidence and the tools, in our case using theatre, to question and take action in a world that is quickly changing and can make young people especially anxious about the future. We make our offerings, at the Campus and in local schools and libraries, accessible by keeping costs to a minimum and offering scholarships to low-income families. As much as possible we use outdoor environments to teach theatre and all of our students show us that they care about and want to live in a green, liveable city. Our theatre projects for adults reimagine space often taking place in environments that are not conventional for theatre – churches, old tanneries, in the ruins of bathhouses, Port Hills battlements, high country stations, unused commercial greenhouses, Cathedral Square - we recently found a home for our performance work at the heritage Pump House in Phillipstown and our musicals and cabarets there examined the conditions of poverty and oppression in unusual, entertaining, and thought provoking ways. By creating affordable theatre which is physically and socially embedded in our communities; particularly in communities where arts opportunities are scarce; that contributes to the understanding, enjoyment and protection of our heritage; that learns from and engages with our shared history; that is entertaining and accessible to audiences who want something outside of the "mainstream" and who might normally never consider that the arts have anything to offer them; that excites young musicians and performers who would normally leave the city to find more innovative work elsewhere; that brings together artists who would not normally work together; we complement and enrich Christchurch's arts scene and contribute to a diverse, creative, and social life that follows the city's ambition to be a cultural powerhouse.

2919 - Hayley Guglietta (Avon Ōtākaro Network INC)

We support the four community outcomes, like a number in our environmental communities we would like to see these reordered in priority with 'A Green, Liveable City as priority 1.

- A green, liveable city
- A collaborative, confident city
- A cultural powerhouse city
- A thriving, prosperous city

293 - Monique van Veen

I support the city's LTP and vision

2930 - Jo Bethell (Te Aratai College Board)

We support a green liveable city, and strategic priorities to reduce emissions - and view the latter particularly important in terms of encouraging active modes of travel to school, in particular cycling.

2949 - Graeme John Marriott

Ok by me

2998 - Jane Higgins (Christchurch Methodist Mission)

We support the Community Outcomes and the Strategic priorities, particularly 'being an inclusive and equitable city'. However, it is not obvious from the Plan how inclusion and equity will be achieved.

3029 - Rodrigo Gomez Fell

I agree with the vision, community outcomes and strategic priorities.

3059 - Jarrod Coburn (The Ferrymead Trust)

We support the vision, community outcomes and strategic priorities of this Council.

3094 - Daniel Smith

They are good and agree with my values as a Christchurch citizen

3123 - Kate Markman

I like the community outcomes and don't disagree with the strategic priorities

3129 - Skye Arnopp

Green & liveable is the ideal.

3166 - Arwen Sommer

On outcomes for diverse communities, it would be great to have some specific wording in the the LTP. Diverse communities is a good catch all term but leaves a lot of room for argument. Specifically, I would really like to see some council involvement with the LGBTQIA+ community around events, policy, and safety. I would also like to see more work with Ngai Tahu as well as the Islamic community to help combat unhelpful stereotypes.

3287 - Claire Fletcher

I like them

3291 - Jess Kikstra

I support the outcomes. How will you assess trade-offs between community outcomes? Are all outcomes of equal priority? I support prioritising the first three outcomes over focussing on improving productivity and investment. Support strategic priorities being inclusive and equitable, intergenerational equity, building trust and reducing emissions. I'm not sure what is meant by championing Christchurch as a "leading NZ city" or if that's a key strategic priority. Instead I would support a stronger focus on creating a green, liveable city and doing more to protect and regenerate our precious natural environment. Ōtautahi's green spaces are one of the things I love the most about Christchurch and I think this sentiment is shared by others. Promoting green space and the natural environment is likely to support other key outcomes and strategic priorities- such as a confident city with a sense of belonging and improved wellbeing.

3341 - Maria Bartlett

Ka pai

3359 - Mark Elicker

I like them a lot.

3369 - Brent Thompson

These sound great!

3392 - Stephen Wood

They look good to me - I want to live in that place.

3415 - Allan Taunt

Fully agree with the vision, community outcomes and strategic priorities. There has been a trend of late, where people have become disconnected from society. If this continues, it will lead to a dysfunctional society and many social problems (crime, addiction, loneliness, poverty, homelessness, etc.) The vision, community outcomes and strategic priorities help build stronger more connected communities, this in turn leads to a reduction in social problems. Support and understand all the people in our communities.

3416 - Sarah Roberts (Canterbury Society of Arts Charitable Trust (CoCA))

[Recreation, Sports & Events > Community Arts]

A key Council community outcome is to create a 'cultural powerhouse city'. Galleries, such as CoCA, are inclusive spaces that provide free or low cost access to art, and support a vibrant community of artists. CoCA is grateful for the funding opportunities the Council provides the arts sector. Further investment in the arts, culture and creativity of our city will truly fulfil the spirit behind the Council's stated strategic priorities.

3456 - Sam Steven

They look good

3474 - Timothy Lambert

all good

3483 - Jo Bethell

I particularly support collaborative confident green liveable city, and the strategic priorities of inclusive equitable city with a focus on reducing emissions and climate adaptation/resilience - these priorities and outcomes are underpinned managing widely and listening and involving residents

3550 - Sam Hewitt

I think the community outcomes and priorities are largely quite good. Although I think they should be more concrete and ambitious. For example, a goal could be the elimination of poverty, or of food insecurity in Christchurch. I think this would be more important of an outcome than the quite vague language used that sounds like consultant-speak.

357 - Charlotte Gray

Making Christchurch a cultural powerhouse is a wonderful idea.

3573 - Joyce Yager

Strategic priorities and outcomes are vague but good. However, it is unclear how this plan relates to these priorities. I see very little actual solutions for emissions reductions, for example. Hopefully the next version of the LTP will live up to the priorities and outcomes outlined.

3576 - Noeline Allan (Cass Bay Residents Association)

The 4 community outcomes are important to make Christchurch a great place for everyone to live in. As the "Garden City" our environment is important to regenerate with initiatives like CCC continuing to support the Whaka Ora Healthy Harbour project in Lyttelton Harbour, supporting trapping programmes like Pest Free Banks Peninsula to help bring back our biodiversity and supporting planting projects such as those by Cass Bay Reserves and other committees.

3601 - Bridget Allen

it looks good

3603 - Murray James (Food Resilience Network Incorporated)

The Food Resilience Network strongly supports the priorities and outcomes identified by the Council within the overarching framework of the long term plan. They are both clearly and beautifully articulated and when brought to life by Council in proactive action, will make Ōtautahi a better place for all its inhabitants, human and other.

3606 - Mark Dowers

They look great. I hope that there will be opportunities for the Council to partner with different community groups on this work, rather than doing it all out of the rates.

3615 - Janine Clarke

These appear to be appropriate

3618 - Chrys Horn

The LTPs strategic priorities look good

3625 - Angela Brett

I think this looks fine.

3626 - Connie Christensen

Sounds great! A lot of collaboration, hard work and vision beyond individual ambition will be needed.... and a lot of money of course. Let's work together to make Christchurch a city where people from all over the world want to live, work and spend time!

3661 - Steph Walker

Thank you for acknowledging the importance of arts, creativity, culture and ngā toi Māori in our city by making one of the 4 community outcomes about Ōtautahi Christchurch being “a cultural powerhouse city”. I strongly believe a thriving, inclusive and sustainable city needs to ensure the culture of the city is also thriving, inclusive and sustainable. Arts, Culture, Creativity and ngā toi Māori can lead the way, and often does when it comes to showing Ōtautahi in a new light. I urge the Council to look at gradually building their support of the sector through infrastructure, partnerships, and funding.

3669 - Rachel Howells

Specific responses to directions signalled in the Draft LTP 2024/2034

In support of Council working towards a green liveable city and advocates that all goals relating to climate resilience, protecting and regenerating the environment (especially indigenous biodiversity), water bodies, and tree canopy, apply to all of Banks Peninsula as well as urban Christchurch.

3679 - Janet Perry

"a thriving, inclusive, and sustainable city for all." Approve

3706 - Ellie Stevenson

These are nice, principled statements, they sound good to me and like a positive reconciliation of the differing perspectives across our city. Our priority remains ensuring families struggling to put food on the table or to keep up with the changing times and who are vulnerable to the next Cyclone Gabrielle or to their lives falling apart the moment an accident, illness or injury happens - and this is a lot of Christchurchers we're talking about here - know they can turn to the city's services and not find them wanting.

3723 - Don Babe

The vision, community outcomes and strategic priorities are very inclusive which adds strength to the commitments. Our city will be better if everyone feels they are part of it and making contributions and enjoying the outcomes.

3748 - Greta Bond (Age Concern Canterbury)

If we can do what we plan, Christchurch will be a great place to live for people of all ages.

>>>

In the context of delivery of services that support older people, the idea that "no one is left behind" is absolutely critical. Accessibility is key to this, and as I have said previously, needs to be considered at the very start of all projects, and prioritised. I am aware that it is a balancing act to provide services for everyone, and to protect more vulnerable rate-payers from high rates rises that can really adversely impact their quality of life. Christchurch could be the best city in Aotearoa to raise children, it could be the best city in Aotearoa to live and work, and it could be the best city in Aotearoa to age with dignity in an integrated society that leaves no one behind. I hope that this plan is the start of the future.

>>>

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Urban Design]

The draft plan promotes community participation, and involvement in city life, which is great. It also aims to make Christchurch "accessible" although this accessibility is included under the "green, livable" city. An accessible city benefits not only older people, or people living with disabilities, but families with young children, and many others. As such, accessibility (in terms of walkability, public transport and even regulations about building access, signage, and spaces that are accessible to those with hearing or visual impairments) must be top of mind in all planning. It is easier to design this into Council spaces and public areas, rather than try to retrofit them down the track. We love the idea that "no one is left behind" - but would like to emphasize that this cannot be an afterthought, but, as with cultural safety, must be top of mind as projects are begun, not tacked on later. Too often accessibility is jettisoned where projects run overbudget, and considered as a "nice to have". Future Christchurch should be accessible -and welcoming - to everyone. Yes, this may cost more, but an accessible Christchurch for all ages, all abilities, all cultures is worth prioritising. with expertise and consultation occurring with stakeholders (including a wide range of ages, abilities and cultures) AT THE BEGINNING of the process, and additional costs as they arise budgeted as a must-have on all civic projects.

375 - Alex McNeill

I like that we have the aim to leave no one behind, and the emphasis on a green city.

3753 - Helen Shaw (Lyttelton Reserves Committee)

We believe the Lyttelton Reserves committee's objectives align well with the CCC's outcomes.

3768 - Tracey Klatt

They're all really good thoughts - what we need in this city!

3770 - Jane Higgins

1. I support the community outcomes, particularly that we become a green, liveable city. This requires a real commitment to climate change mitigation and adaptation, and it is achievable - there are plenty of examples of cities striving for this. We can too. 2. I support the strategic priorities, particularly that we are an inclusive and equitable city. Being inclusive and equitable requires us to support those working at grassroots level, especially in vulnerable neighbourhoods. While the impact of this work may not appear to be spectacular, it is essential work for enabling people to connect, feel that they belong, and navigate pathways to have their needs met.

3783 - Arthur McGregor

These sound really great, although it doesn't always seem like the vision and the reality match up. eg being a green liveable city conflicts with the amount we're spending on roads for private vehicles :- (eg being a cultural powerhouse conflicts with not funding the Arts Centre :- (

3799 - Morgane Honore (Richmond Community Garden Trust)

Growing Communities

We support the four community outcomes, and like a number in our environmental communities we would like to see these reordered in priority with 'A Green, Liveable city as priority 1.

- A green, liveable city
- A collaborative, confident city
- A cultural powerhouse city
- A thriving, prosperous city

In order to achieve these community outcomes we wish to see the continued support of community groups to execute the important work of community development, local events and food security initiatives. This work creates connected communities, captures systemic issues reducing downstream effects and establishes safer, more vibrant spaces.

3800 - Rachel Barker

Support these- well done

3809 - Johnathon Ridden

Thoroughly support a green, liveable city and continuing to grow the city into something novel and awesome, i.e. not the same as everywhere else. This is anchored by being a cultural destination e.g. Funding the Arts Centre, Libraries and Museums. This is generally the right direction, nice one!

>>>

Cultural heritage and the natural environment are what makes the city resilient. We need to continue to invest in these core pillars of Christchurch.

3874 - Simon Gray (The White Room)

As a creative arts organisation, that works with people experiencing barriers to participation in art and creative activities, we would support the community outcomes and priorities.

3875 - Maureen McCloy

Looks great on paper - can we bring it to life through this LTP period?

3890 - Michele St George Waugh

Most we speak with are delighted at what the city is becoming with all the work and the focus on creating great 'people places'

3913 - Mark Darbyshire

Looks good

3916 - Laila Jansone (Renew Brighton Charitable Trust)

We support the Council's investment into community strengthening and wellbeing.

3958 - Emma Turner

I think it is great that we will continue to have the same level of services.

396 - Daniel Jackson

Ensuring a green and livable city is great to see.

3970 - Allannah Lovelady

I like them, and I hope we work towards seeing them actualised.

4001 - Jennifer Porter

Well expressed in the statements of the Consultation Document.

422 - Nias Kitchin

Manage ratepayers' money wisely, delivering quality core services to the whole community and addressing the issues that are important to our residents. The best thing I've read

4264 - Sam Newton (Recreation Aotearoa)

76. We further commend the work of Christchurch City Council to prioritise inclusion and equity as a strategic priority for the development of your LTP, and the aspiration to be an: "Be an inclusive and equitable city which puts people at the centre of developing our city and district, prioritising wellbeing, accessibility, and connection."

[Full Attachment Available]

526 - Stephen French

They are all ideal goals provided there is enough funding and resources to make some headway within a reasonable time period.

563 - Tobias Meyer

Sounds good

588 - Ariana Winikerei

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre]

Most my whole life I have lived in Christchurch and as long as I have The Art Centre has played a fundamental role in our city's culture. It is a place of community, creativity, education and expression. It was a healing tool for Christchurch city post earthquakes and if you lived here through during that time, you'll know firsthand how Art played a massive role in rejuvenating the city. It's more than an Art Centre and deserves the councils continued support. Please don't stop funding a fundamental part of our city's culture. If "a cultural powerhouse city" is what you want the Arts Centre needs to stay.

597 - Ashleigh Dickson

These are aspirational but appropriate goals

608 - Patrick Clarke

They look good and align well with the city.

618 - Natalie Dixon

Looks good.

636 - Ben Taylor

strongly support the green liveable city vision

637 - Bernice Swain

I agree with them

653 - Jane Cartwright

like them

769 - Julie Kidd

I approve of them.

771 - Chris Foubister

what we do is good

824 - Penny Carnaby (Banks Peninsula Conservation Trust (BPCT))

This partnership between BPCT and CCC contributes significantly to indigenous biodiversity and climate resilience outcomes being achieved for Greater Christchurch. Regular meetings between the Trust and CCC senior staff and councillors' has helped ensure that these outcomes align with the Council's regulatory, strategic and policy directions, and the Trust's 2050 Ecological Vision for Banks Peninsula (including the Port Hills).

>>>

The BPCT supports the following: • Council working towards a green liveable city. The Trust advocates that all goals relating to climate resilience, protecting and regenerating the environment (especially indigenous biodiversity), water bodies, and tree canopy, apply to all of Banks Peninsula (including the Port Hills) as well as urban Christchurch

[Full Attachment Available]

840 - Kim Morton (Ōtautahi Creative Spaces)

We are excited about the Council’s proposed community outcome of being a “cultural powerhouse”. We particularly endorse the principles of inclusion and experience where “our diverse communities are supported to understand and protect their heritage, pursue their arts, cultural and sporting interests, and contribute to making our city a creative, cultural and events powerhouse.”

894 - Ben Liebing

- the community outcomes are well thought throw. I support them - I support the 'Our strategic priorities 2022–25'. The only item I suggest changing is: From 'protecting our indigenous biodiversity' to 'enriching our indigenous biodiversity'

899 - Sharon Pavich

Happy with the vision for the future

967 - Audrey Baldwin

[Recreation, Sport & Events > Community Arts]

Great vision. Please keep supporting and championing our Arts Communities and arts ecology as a whole, to ensure we become a cultural powerhouse city and a thriving one.

990 - Wendy Fergusson

seem fine

Oppose

1074 - Janette Branson

No

1210 - Dianna Koorey

Some of the priorities need to be reviewed

1323 - Mark Hubbard

Stop all vision and community outcomes. Again, you're woke lunatics, cancelling Lineham was a disgrace, just provide basic services in the REAL world.

1335 - Julie Turner

In three years time review it then will decide then

1358 - Rob Noster

Your vision is in the future of at least 20-30 years time. Fix the now.

1415 - Rebecca Macpherson

Positive Community outcomes would mean you were listening to what your community wanted - perception from reading this and living in Christchurch is the agenda our Council seems to operate under which doesn't seem to take into account what the community wants

1439 - Bryan Preston

1 The promotion of the maori name before the proper name of our city (Christchurch) is patently wrong and quite insulting .

This great city was founded and developed by the early European settlers. Maori at the time of the arrival of the settlers a small group of stoneage people occupied a small pa on the riverbank.

Without the ensuing colonisation this city would never have existed.

It is Christchurch.

1497 - Alice Zhu

Your vision is putting residents into a harder to survive position, as majority are struggling to meet the end and we don't need more burdens.

1527 - Rob Beechey

[Rates > Residential Rates]

Dear Phil Mauger and Councillors.

Before I composed my response to the LTP draft, I thought, what's the point?
How receptive will the council be to my concerns? However, being an eternal optimist here goes.

Your Strategic Priority to MANAGE RATEPAYERS MONEY WISELY rings hollow as you burden we residents year after year with outrageous increases twice the inflation rate. The compounding impact is criminal. The 13% you are threatening us with this year doesn't go away. It remains baked in forever.
Are you not aware of the everyday hardships the current population is facing today? What sacrifices did you make to accommodate the council's 10.3% wage increase? Any at all?

Have you ever recklessly thought to replace the current Strategic wording with "To Achieve a Zero Rate Increase?"
What would stop you adopting this vision where your entire team questions every projects commitment to this new strategic priority?

16 - Andrew McKay

Your vision is screwed up. Your role is to provide core services, such as infrastructure, at a reasonable price to the community. To achieve these community outcomes you should keep costs down while providing core infrastructure services. Businesses and citizens will want to flock here then because, costs are lower, and we will have a competitive advantage. And council butts out as much as possible.

1766 - Jan Edwards

Yes, get real about what ratepayers can actually afford

1927 - Donna Gillatt

If your vision is of spending copious amounts of rate payers money to fund non-essential services then cease. Communities actually function really well with less government and local council interference.

1968 - Kelly Osborn

You say you're managing rate payers money wisely but you're not. A 13% rates increase is not managing our money wisely. You need to stop spending money!!!

2005 - Barbara Stewart

I wonder that if Christchurch citizens had known not only about the earthquake and consequences, followed by 3-4 years of Covid and its consequences - would the city have gone ahead with the major building projects primarily of sports centres and the conference centre. But the city didn't know and the city did go ahead with outcomes of endless major costs.

However one of the bad and sad outcomes of all these decisions and builds is that older unique institutions to New Zealand and Christchurch are now being faced with possible failure as supported or not by our council because they cannot give them on going financial support - very key support in their purpose. i.e. Orana Park, The Arts Centre.

2006 - Aaron Mcloughlin

Reduce costs of running council and reduce/postpone projects that do not immediately contribute to the sustained running of the city

2355 - Iain Sanders

Yes, start with the end in mind, creating a story around what success looks like in 10 years from now from the perspective of rate-payers and other residents and visitors to Christchurch. Then, focus on what we have to work with now: assets, resources, capabilities to make the most with what we have. Then, develop our strategic priorities around leveraging existing resources etc. to achieve these ends, by deliberately placing constraints on what we can do such as, for example, having a 5-year rate freeze. This will force creative and innovative solutions to emerge. These solutions will break us out of the mentality we need more to do the same mentality. This approach has been demonstrated again and again in many situations to solve intractable problems like doing more with less.

2521 - Stuart Jones

Do you have any thoughts on our vision, community outcomes and strategic priorities:

UN REALISTIC WORK LEFT ARE RUINING OUR BEAUTIFUL CITY WITH THEIR "COMMUNIST" AGENDAS !!

269 - Zara Potts

Strategic priorities need to be fit for purpose and in an environment of financial strain - the absolute priority must be on NOT increasing financial pressure for citizens. If this means delaying expenditure until the economic situation improves, then you must do that. Ratepayers cannot keep living with increase after increase - council must consider selling assets before taxing people.

2862 - Gill Weavers

No. I don't feel that we can become a cultural powerhouse by allocating 1% to the arts. We've worked hard to develop screen production in Ōtautahi and that is now in serious jeopardy. The Screen CanterburyNZ Production Grant had an initial investment of $1.5 million dollars and has generated a return of $12.5 million dollars - that's $12.50 for every dollar spent. This money stayed in the region through crew salaries, transportation, accommodation, hospitality and other businesses. It has been incredibly successful. It isn't in the Long Term Plan and as an investment that generated a return, I feel it needs to be included.

2894 - Lesley Burkes-Harding

If we want to be a cultural powerhouse city, we need to focus on the arts which includes screen production activities.

3043 - J Elliott

Priorities are all wrong. The Focus on 'Climate Change' and 'ideology' is disproportionate to the cost burden on ratepayers and potential risks.

3092 - Kitty Moran

Not convinced that the arts and cultural interests are as fully supported as sporting interests in this draft LTP. Our artsiness pulls people from all over and is often overlooked/underfunded as it is.

3152 - Neroli Fornasier

I'm not convinced about your 'vision'

3635 - Jane Lila McKenzie

WE CAN NOT AFFORD THESE.

3869 - Cam Parsonson

Too expensive and consists of vague handwaving statements that are unmeasurable and are simply proselytising on an ecoreligion;

3893 - Joe Pope

The priorities are completely wrong and the public is losing faith

3965 - Dean Banks

Sustainability might be a focus but that does not seem to be coming through in many of the actions in the plan especially around cutting funding for bike lanes.

4035 - Simon Ashby

Out of touch

466 - John Pryor

This is a woolley concept that is not pivotal to the city. People make the city, not the Council. just do your job to the best of your ability, cut out Council internal operational waste. Become more sensible in decision making and eliminate unnecessary ESG spending.

662 - Cameron Taylor

Stop spending rate payers money on this sort of rubbish!

666 - Stephen Palfrey

Too much small politics, too many outcomes and priorities proposed.

865 - Kelvin Duncan

Be honest and research your facts before communicating. Priorities should be ranked as to importance. Be flexible as General Montgomery advocated and executed. I know that democracy works best when we are all equal and the people determine what our public servants should do, but the public is not being told the truth. Good decisions can only come if based on full information.

885 - Denise Kidd

Should have a greater commitment to social wellbeing and Council's role in achieving social wellbeing for its residents. Social wellbeing should be more strongly articulated through one of the outcomes

893 - Peter Murphy

Reduce costs

897 - Jonathan Mathias

We need more urban intensification for the city to become more sustainable, livable and walkable.

900 - Bill McElhinney

Concentrate on the Council's core business and leave the nice-to-haves until funding allows.

>>>

Keep our community as one and don't prioritise one group of people over another as my culture is as dear to me as I am sure the culture of others is to them.

Other

1 - Aidan Sheard

More community patrolling and investing in crime reduction.

106 - Crispin Garden-Webster

Change the vision statement to a future present tense. "We are a thriving etc. " that is more compelling as a target... are we there yet? Put the status quo in a place where it doesn't block your view and describe the future as up close.

1098 - Eric Pawson

[Strategic Direction>Have we got the balance right?]; [Strategic Direction>Climate Change] pretty much but for a city that declared a climate emergency in 2019, there is very little on that

>>>

[Spending>Our Proposed Spending]; [Rates>Residential Rates]

I guess we just have to wear it. Agreed that the city has made huge investments in the last decade, but now is not the time to underfund community facilities (eg parks, libraries, galleries, museums): these assets are vital in a time of democratic stress and societal division

>>>

[Parks>Tree Canopy]; [Strategic Direction>Climate Change]

the climate change mitigation component of the LTP is pathetic. The two big items (public transport and cycleways) are business as usual and really belong in the transport section. That leaves $18 million for the urban forest (which over ten years is peanuts). Even the LTP document says this allocation won't enable the city's climate change goals to be met. But it won't even generate movement towards those goals (as we've seen already since 2019). So is the council giving up on its climate goals?

1102 - Robyn Warburton

More attention to entertainment venues and attractions that are used at a local level as well as for visitors (sports grounds, local community hubs, zoos etc) less on roading

1105 - Lana Shields

[Strategic Direction>Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities]

I'd like to see more reflection towards Pacific People who live in this city and also contribute a great deal

1109 - Sarah Hosking

[Spending>Our Proposed Spending]

Prioritise what brings the ratepayers pleasure and protects the environment without costing ridiculous amounts of money,

1133 - Julie Stewart

If the Council can spend millions on a sports stadium then funding should be spent to support The Arts Centrw

116 - Jarrod Coburn

More consideration needs to be given to ways of putting Christchurch on the map. This is in many ways the first major city of New Zealand, with the first public railway, the planned settlement programme, etc. Auckland is a gridlocked mess, and Wellington is no longer as cool as it thinks it is. Christchurch can offer international tourists and our younger domestic visitors a real insight into the history of Aotearoa New Zealand. Forget Waitangi, Akaroa is where it was all at! We have Ferrymead Heritage Park, the Antarctic Centre, hundreds of little museums, the beautiful Arts Centre and much more. A focus on investing in these strategic and unique destinations will in turn draw people to visit and stay in Christchurch - and perhaps move and live here.

1164 - Andrea Davis

Allow the access to basic needs and family support. Free recreation and child care is so important.

1175 - Jonathan Ludgater

[Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]

Stop doing things around Diversity, Maorification, Cycleways, ie things that benefit the minorities, we all live here!

1180 - Glenn Matheson

[Strategic Direction>Infrastructure Strategy]; [Rates>Residential Rates]

Rate rises are not great but as a country and city we just do infrastructure so bad, somewhere along the line we all have to pay the piper and delaying new, replacement and needed infrastructure is short term thinking and just costs more in the long run to solve. Be visionary, cut costs where you can, focus on the core responsibilities and creating opportunities for our kids and their kids that will keep them off the street and out of trouble, And investing in sport and culture facilities will go along way to achieve this.

1191 - Ava Johnson

Emphasizing collaboration with community organizations to ensure solutions meet the needs of marginalized residents. In summary, I urge the Council to consider these recommendations for a more sustainable, equitable, and livable Christchurch.

>>>

While I acknowledge that these priorities necessitate substantial investment, I firmly believe they embody responsible resource management and offer a promising future for Christchurch. We have an opportunity to mold a community where everyone flourishes—a city renowned for its dedication to sustainability, equity, and the well-being of its residents

1309 - David Simpson

Your visions sound nice, but they only mean anything if they are backed by actions - lots of green sustainable talk there but you need to match that with actions. Prioritise mass transport, accurately count emissions and work to reduce them, and put in place protections for future generations. Get native trees planted, fix the rivers, that has more value than Te Kaha stadium.

133 - Alan Mears

Important to have a vision but make sure it is region wide (include Waimakariri and Selwyn) don't just forge ahead like a Bull at a gate

1331 - Robyn Lynley Capon

Please consider the well being of the environment and animals in all plans.

1334 - David Cowie

Trying to please everyone is going to leave everyone upset. Commonsense approach is what is needed, Democracy should be priority.

1339 - Carol Marie Ferrier

Future proof and strategically steer ChCh to be a preferred destination, gateway to Te pounamu! Board Maui's waka!

1350 - George Ambridge

They are good, however there should be more of an emphasis on safety.

1386 - Daphne Mc Curdy

More people settling in ChCh will mean the cost burden is shared by larger group. There is a need to market ChCh as a place to live. eg Dunedin is university city .etc Currently Christchurch has no real identity. Maybe we should be the TRADIES city. We have many tradies living in our coastal area where they can have surfing/ work balance . If we set up more trades training centres/ plus places for trainees to near airport and encouraged young people all over NZ to come to ChCh to train we would be building education industry, hospitality and many qualified trades may stay and raise families

139 - Paul Tait

Keep it simple also build and think on a international level use all resources available.

>>>

Keep it simple you cant fight everything

1418 - Wayne Biddorff

The city is already thriving. We need to eliminate ~~the~~ dogs.

144 - Michael Fairhurst

Somehow bring down the cost of living ie groceries.

1474 - Céra Dernhagen

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Public Transport]; [Parks>Parks Maintenance]; [Strategic Direction>Have we got the balance right?]

Lifting Up Underserved Communities: A truly livable city ensures equity for all. I recommend: Addressing affordable housing shortages through mixed-income developments and support programs. Targeting public transport and green space improvements in neighborhoods that have been historically underserved. Partnering with community organizations to ensure that solutions reflect the needs of marginalized residents.

1498 - Charlie Due

Generally, people who work are less able to make the most of a lot of council provided activities/assets (community events, libraries etc) - if more research could be done into the use of these things and determine benchmarks as to whether or not they meet the needs of their communities and justify additional investment thereafter. I'd assume this is done, however CHCH seems to have more of this stuff available where the population doesnt really justify it.

1499 - Ben Davidson

In regards to the Vision you can have a place where anything is possible, new investment, new ideas etc but none of this mentions a place where people are healthy, where they feel they can live their best life in terms of health and well being, a safe place to raise a family, a sense of belonging. It would be good to see this in the vision. The community outcomes and strategic priorities cover some of the above, I particularly like the prioritising of wellbeing, accessibility and connection. We need to be mindful to not increase productivity at the expense of the environment and peoples wellbeing

1508 - Mb Brennan

People first , projects can wait, cut your cloth to suit ie if you cant afford it it can wait

1512 - Denis McMurtrie

A happy, safe vibrant city where all people are able to enjoy a comfortable living is what we ask for. Keep it simple.

1575 - Hollie Hollander (Pest Free Banks Peninsula)

This Strategic Priority should be at the top: Reduce emissions as a Council and as a city, and invest in adaptation and resilience, leading a city wide response to climate change while protecting our indigenous biodiversity, water bodies and tree canopy.

Specific responses to directions signalled in the Draft LTP 2024/2034

- In support of Council working towards a green liveable city and advocates that all goals relating to climate resilience, protecting and regenerating the environment (especially indigenous biodiversity), water bodies, and tree canopy, apply to all of Banks Peninsula (including the Port Hills) as well as urban Christchurch.
- In support of the following strategy documents that underpin the Draft LTP especially where nature-based solutions and enhancing indigenous biodiversity have been given preference: Ōtautahi Climate Resilience Strategy; Ōtautahi Urban Forests plan; Te Pātaka o Rākaihautū/Banks Peninsula Destination Management; Banks Peninsula Community Board Plan 2023-25; and Whaka- Ora/Healthy Harbour Plan.

158 - Nathan Foord

Crime prevention? Or is this a government issue?

1581 - Ann Kleiss

Put hold on spending for this

1618 - Zachary Imhoof

I think the big thing missing in all of this is the human to human interaction. focus more on being out there with the communities and asking them what they want rather than expecting people to spend hours at home trying to decipher what it all means. Look to the community gardens, they are making the best movement in these areas but they need a lot more support. They are connecting and enabling communities but they are limited in their capacities. help them out!

1619 - David Hera

No, simply act in ways that embody those values.

1644 - Abigail Sykes

Please listen to community and what they need - I see lots of praise for ideas but the process for these actually getting any kind of action is zilch - make processes easier and more transparent

1658 - Justin Fletcher (Predator Free Waimairi Beach)

The vision is a good one: A green, liveable city (community outcome 2024-34) and reduced emissions as a Council and as a city (strategic priority 2022-25) are sensible goals. My concern is that the draft LTP is not fit to achieve this vision, not that the vision is misdirected.

1690 - Richard Suggate

Strengthen local communities.

1702 - Laura Xavier

What's the point of having a interconnected city if everything needs to be done by car? What's the point of saying we want to be a cultural powerhouse if little finding is being allocated to arts centres? (Transport > Other) [Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

1712 - Sharon Howells

Please support the Christmas parade as an important annual event for children and the entire community.

[Coders Note: Full attachment available]

1756 - Kieran Sweetman

Prioritising the city's health and safety plus its cultural heritage is great news

We want Christchurch to be a destination and attract more and more visitors.

1770 - Richard Davies

We need to bring more people into the central city and to our venues, look into incentives for venues and unique events to get people into town spending.

1838 - Charlotte Holland

Strategic priority - "Champion Ōtautahi Christchurch & collaborate to build our role as a leading New Zealand city".

↳ I don't like this one and the way it makes chch out to be "better". ~~However~~ But if we follow the other proposed priorities I think the city will become known for the right things if done well.

1839 - Catherine Grima

more renewable energy sources. Transition away from oil and natural gas. Support residents and businesses in doing this, across all sectors.

1866 - El D'Arrioso

Think ~~to~~ the future! We want vibrant, walkable cities without giant deadzones!

>>>

FOCUS ON THE FUTURE

1923 - Matilda Moran

Focus on the māori rights.

1932 - Cynthia Carey

Treat everyone and everything the same no priorities for minorities

1933 - Aidan Moody

More investment in marginalised communities, indigenous communities and multicultural investment

1945 - Lucy Howell

This does not contain enough specifics about how the CCC is going to be active to Tiritiri partners or how they are specifically going to support marginalised communities. Certain community outcomes are good but aren't reflected by budget allocations such as climate and environment. We need to focus more on supporting communities, valuing community spaces and being responsible carers of our environment rather than focusing on "becoming a leading New Zealand city" that is more of a bonus outcome of listening and supporting community.

>>>

The CCC needs to consider supporting community spaces such as the arts centre rather than focusing only on sports and events that only support a subset of the community (tend to have limited accessibility and only benefit those who can afford it and only exist for short periods). It feels like the CCC plan is more concerned with competing with outer NZ cities rather than supporting its own community, in particular marginalised members of its own community. The CCC seems to support sporting events over the value of arts spaces (such as museums and galleries) and environmental spaces despite the latter two being more accessible to a wider range of people and more consistent and available.

1952 - Xin Yi Wong

See previous comments. Ōtautahi for the people and the environment! (not the car!)

1960 - James Beck (The River Ōpāwaho)

Community partnership is much overlooked in this document. How can the Council work with community orgs to achieve its goals more effectively?

2055 - Joanne Byrne

We need more diversity in Community groups.

2071 - Paul Broady

• It is encouraging to see that the importance of reducing emissions and of climate resilience is an explicit part of community outcomes and strategic priorities. • Climate change and the actions we will need to take in its mitigation and to adapt to its impacts are going to increasingly dominate our lives. • This will challenge all the stated community outcomes as climate-associated costs increase. Presently we seem to be underestimating those costs and the speed at which they will increase. Our responses are only now starting to gain some momentum but are inadequate. • The need for a deeper and quicker response should be emphasised and explained more than it is presently.

2109 - Te Aomihia Te Huia

ALWAYS ALWAYS ALWAYS have space for our rangatahi

>>>

MOKOPUNA VISION
LOOK AFTER OUR RAUMĀTUA

2198 - Andrew Smith

Need to be realistic with what can be achieved with reduced rates. Focus should be on maintaining what we have

22 - Grace Colcord

Our communities are in pain, the other day we grieved on the 5th anniversary of the mosque shootings. Everyday there seems to be some sort of protest within the city centre. Our people are crying out, maybe not through this survey, but they are out there already telling you what we need. Meet them there, because most likely they have low faith in services with power and will not meet you where you are.

2213 - Nathaniel Herz Jardine (Living Wage Aotearoa)

Living Wage and Long Term Plan Community Outcomes (page 4 - 6)

“A Collaborative, Confident City”

The Living Wage is calculated to enable workers to participate in their community. This makes it essential to the outcome that “residents have the opportunity to actively participate in community and city life.”

“A Thriving, Prosperous City”

The Living Wage allows people to thrive and contribute to the local economy, and bolsters Christchurch's reputation as New Zealand's most liveable city.

Resident Satisfaction

Staff in CCC spaces represent the Council, and hospitality staff are the most frequent touchpoint for many ratepayers. It is vital that these workers are fairly remunerated, in line with CCC procurement policy, in order to attract high-quality staff and to ensure a positive experience for ratepayers.

[Coder Note: Full attachment available]

2225 - Geoff Tobeck

align with the real world, match the current economic climate and reduce wasteful spending

228 - Martin Tatchell

A vibrant city needs culture day and night for all ages and ability provide for a wide range of social groups diversity is the key

2289 - Leonie Jackson

[Spending>Capital Programme]; [Spending>Te Kaha]

Overall, have we got the balance right:

The maintenance of buildings and services is vital, as is delivering clean water and safe, effective infrastructure. These are important to focus on. However, a bit of 'greed' is creeping in - eg. the Te Kaha stadium - an expensive build. Keeping our green image in mind on every project, might stop excessive spending, and improve wellbeing.

2301 - Ian Douthwaite

The single best thing the Council can do to build a thriving city is to reduce it's footprint and drag on the city's economy and its residents. They build the city.

2302 - Lisa Dockery

The council funding model is outdated & can't keep increasing rates year on year as our population is ageing & limited income. If council keeps increasing rates however, on fixed incomes will have to fall & will require government housing - so less rates.

2309 - Margaret Austin

Make sure you achieve them and add Arts Centre funding at its recent level.

2313 - William Godsoe

I love a great deal about our city. As a university lecturer at Lincoln I'm grateful all the time that students in New Zealand and across the world go out of their way to live here. As such public infrastructure downtown is crucial to my industry. It is also crucial to my family.

2327 - Charles Shaw

The vision is good, but community outcomes and strategic priorities need to be fleshed out to ensure equitable results.

2344 - Sarah Elicker (Te Huarahi Linwood Avenue School)

The Board at Te Huarahi Linwood Ave School would like to see greater emphasis on the safety of children and more investment in their futures.

>>>

They are very good currently. We particularly like: "A green, liveable city: Our neighbourhoods and communities are accessible and well-connected, supporting our goals to reduce emissions, build climate resilience and protect and regenerate the environment, especially our biodiversity, water bodies and tree canopy." and "Actively balance the needs of today's residents with the needs of future generations, with the aim of leaving no one behind."

2350 - Jack Bisset

Yes they are too high level and there is no compelling package of actions under them that gives them credibility. I would be pleased to share ideas and discuss building out into immediate actions rather than words.

2354 - Chantelle Chalmers

[Strategic Direction >Climate Change]

I fully support your vision and priorities for our city. Thank you for your leadership and dedication towards making Christchurch a great place to live. However, I urge you to follow through on your promises. As someone who is building a family here, I want to know that the taxes I pay are being used to fund causes that will make our city healthy and sustainable.

Climate change is not some distant threat, it is happening now and the Christchurch City Council has the power to do something about it. Although some people are still unaware of the reality of climate change, the data shows that it is indeed a real and pressing issue.

2380 - Ben Comfort

Making sure young people are included

2406 - Chris Archer

How can you achieve on your vision and the 'cultural powerhouse' outcome without including The Arts Centre in your plan? It was in the last long term plan, and The Arts Centre received ongoing funding prior to the earthquakes.

2410 - Lydia Thomas

Stop gatekeeping money and keeping funds within the council. Communities have proven their ability to create remarkable projects in this city with very limited funds. Just look at the incredible initiatives undertaken by organisations like Gap Filler and Life in Vacant Spaces over the years, all with minimal resources. It's possible, but it requires collaboration with clever, community-minded people and organisations. The funds you hold onto in the council often seem wasted, thrown at unnecessary assets. Assets don't build a community; the community itself does. Stop keeping everything in-house and work with us

2418 - Hannah Harrison

[Transport > Transport (Operations)]

More on public services and water infrastructure.

2443 - Greg Urquhart

Go back to basics and provide services needed- water/waste/parks etc.....stop anything that is warm fuzzy stuff being driven by ideology

2476 - Reuben Scott (Simeon Park Community Group)

These are great outcomes and priorities to have but they don't match the original proposal focus of: "Our overarching proposal is to focus on a deliverable capital programme that helps drive our city forward, with particular investment in roads and transport infrastructure and in protecting and upgrading our water networks." We would like to see better languaging of this proposal to include these outcomes and priorities. Question around why we need to have a focus around "to build our role as a leading New Zealand city". This seems to be a nod towards making Christchurch a commodity to be sold rather than us focusing on looking after our whenua and tangata which will lead to positive outcomes.

2491 - Heidi Warren

please be sensitive to religious faiths and more appropriate and appreciative of our cultural diversity and inclusion of differently abled ppl.

2504 - Sarah van der Burch

It is very good to have a vision, a set of desired outcomes and strategic priorities. However, two things are concerning - where are the Climate Emergency Priorities as announced in 2019? and these words all sound like corporate speak to me. They need to be less generic and more for driving decisions and clarifying priorities because we can't do it all. The vision feels like milk toast to me.

2507 - Bronte Barber

Reach more of our community for engagement - 0.1% is not enough for big financial decisions - thriving / inclusive does not mean focus on minority and waste money. Please be proactive - see what needs to be fixed - then attended. Stop creating contradicting projects.

2508 - Oliver Hutchison

The community outcomes and strategic priorities are good. However they are not well implemented by this LTP. It is disingenuous to say you want a 'green liveable city' while defunding / deferring climate action (such as cycleways), and continuing to waste money on roading upgrades / maintenance. Or saying we want to be a 'cultural powerhouse' while completely cutting Arts Centre funding.

2518 - Claire Mulcock (Deans Avenue Precinct Society Inc.)

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration>City Planning]

Strategic priorities and community outcomes should take specific account of the anticipated new high density residential areas in Riccarton (and other places) and ensure that funding is allocated to retain amenity values in these areas. Riccarton already has low tree density and limited public parks in much of the proposed high density area. Funding should be available to purchase land in key areas before it is too late.

2520 - Graeme Fraser (Diamond Harbour Community Association)

Please ensure that the suburbs, environment, and ratepayers are not negatively affected by projects that mainly benefit the central city.

2524 - Ruth Falconer

Work towards inclusion not division.

Don't let loud minority groups dominate.

2525 - Adrienne Kimberly Georgine

[Grants and Funding>Requests for Additional Grants and Funding]

If we want to be a cultural powerhouse city, we need to focus on the arts which includes screen production activities. I feel that the Screen CanterburyNZ Production Grant allowed filmmakers, TV creators, and game developers to get the support they need to create projects that will be created and produced in our city and region. I feel this grant must be added back into the budget.

2533 - Steven Muir

[Grants and Funding>Other Community Grants & Funding]

funding for community groups is a high priority for me. local community groups provide amazing personal support and build social trust which is essential for the cities wellbeing

2538 - Libby Ornsby

[Strategic Direction > Additional Savings & Efficiencies]; [Other/Special Interest Topics>Governance]

Instead of making decisions for the city based on personal ideologies, get back to basics and make sensible decisions the majority of the city support, not just the noisy minority. Stop wasting time and money going back to decisions because they aren't the ones certain people want.

2540 - Jocelyn and Caroline Papprell and Syddall

With respect to the outcome of a green liveable city, we would like to see a greater focus on the importance of biodiversity restoration and conservation efforts. Increase funding and support for predator-free initiatives and the protection of significant natural areas.

2586 - Leeann Watson (Business Canterbury)

Business Canterbury broadly supports the Council's Strategic Framework 2024-34, but recommends some modifications to appropriately recognise the role that businesses play in our communities, and to ensure that as a city we have a dual focus on externally positioning ourselves, as well as being, the best place in New Zealand to live, work, play, and invest:

Stated strategic priority "Build trust and confidence in the Council through meaningful partnerships and communication, listening to and working with residents" should be modified to "Build trust and confidence in the Council through meaningful partnerships and communication, listening to and working with residents and businesses."

Stated strategic priority "Champion Ōtautahi Christchurch and collaborate to build our role as a leading New Zealand city" should be modified to "Champion Ōtautahi Christchurch and collaborate to build our role and reputation as a leading New Zealand city."

2608 - Simon Henry

Stop trying to be so woke. Just look after what we have.

2640 - Wayne Hawker (New Brighton Museum)

Reality is the heart of any city is not the CBD it is the surrounding communities and the people who live within these communities that provide the life blood of the City as a whole so we need to be thinking more about what we are doing to promote living in sustainable communities instead of promoting buildings etc that are a major contributor to climate issues such as Te Kaha

2650 - Alexander Amies

I would prefer if cost-saving measures were less of a focus, and having a liveable city was prioritised

2658 - Finn Jackson (Summit Road Society)

Community Outcomes and Strategic Framework

We support the community outcome of a “green, liveable city”, but consider that it could be strengthened, particularly in relation to biodiversity.

At present, the outcome states that a green, liveable city means that “Biodiversity is supported: Ecosystems supporting biodiversity are protected and restored”. We consider that this is brief, vague, and not sufficiently ambitious. We would like to see this point fleshed out to include reference to protecting existing indigenous biodiversity, eliminating plant and animal pests, and regenerating specific ecosystems, like the coastal marine area, river margins, Banks Peninsula and the Port Hills. It should refer to Christchurch taking a leading role as a champion of urban biodiversity at a local, regional and national level.

We also consider that the point around climate resilience could be strengthened. At present the outcome states “we build climate resilience: We understand and are preparing for the ongoing impacts of climate change; we have a just transition to an innovative, low-emission economy”. This should include a reference to improving the resilience of our unique, local indigenous biodiversity in the face of climate change, and of maximising the co-benefits of carbon sequestration and biodiversity restoration through the use of nature-based solutions and green infrastructure for mitigation of climate-exacerbated hazards.

We support the strategic framework of policies that underpin the Long-Term Plan, including the Ōtautahi Climate Resilience Strategy; Biodiversity Strategy 2008 - 2035, Ōtautahi Urban Forest Plan; Te Pātaka o Rākaihautū/Banks Peninsula Destination Management Plan; Banks Peninsula Community Board Plan 2023-25; Waihoru Spreydon-Cashmere-Heathcote Community Board Plan 2023-25; and Whaka- Ora/Healthy Harbour Plan.

[Full attachment available]

2672 - Ian Flatley

Leave the woke stuff (Te Reo emphasis and social engineering)

>>>

Call us Christchurch - Not Otatahi or Whakaraupō (with respect to the Harbour).

2690 - Robbie Dobbie

When I read the statement above then look at the Strategic Framework it appears to me like the phrases used are developed from the UN Sustainable development goals - "major themes of globalisation".

This concerns me. I am into inclusiveness though also believe it is important for us to retain our New Zealand culture. I have many Māori friends & have always had. Many of my closest friends are Māori yet they are just like me New Zealanders. Please do not lose our country into the culture of global. We are New Zealand.

2695 - Dave Gardner

A green, liveable city, is better for everyone, which will help people be healthier and feel better and give a better economic outcome. Focus on footpaths, shared paths, cycleways, busways, as they are cheaper to maintain than roads.

2697 - Laura Molles

I support the council's vision and community outcomes, particularly the desired outcome of a green, liveable city. Achieving this will certainly require all of us to be, as expressed in the vision, open to new ideas and ways of doing things. The strategic priorities appear to support these desired outcomes. However, there are several proposed funding cuts in the LTP that run counter to the stated vision, outcomes, and strategic priorities.

2701 - Blair Smith

We're facing a need to make massive changes to how we organise life in our city - away from cars, while also responding to climate change and growing social inequalities. Making that change through the collective investment in our City Council is still the right thing to do.

2705 - Ian Le Page

The above statement is a lot of words that achieve nothing. Outcomes will only be achieved by caring out the works not wasting time and money in holding discussion workshops.

2715 - L.F. Blake

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > City Planning]

'A green liveable city' is definitely to be strived for. Maintaining our green suburbs and reputation as a Garden City requires action to protect our suburbs from intensification and high rise buildings which reduce greenery coverage and gardens, privacy, sunlight and solar power. The central city, within the four avenues, is the place for intensification, for those who chose to live in close proximity to others and do not want gardens and outdoor space to maintain. What is CCC doing to direct intensification into that central area, and let those who chose/choose suburbs to live there in peace and not under threat from losing their lifestyle?

2730 - Clare Daubney

Help the disabled

2731 - Anna Barber

Honestly i dont have faith that the community are being accurately represented

2750 - Helen Johnstone

Have the main focus on essential services.

2751 - Helen Holyoak

Services that encourage and maintain social connections across diverse societies is valuable spend.

2756 - Stephanie Defregger

More focus on community. On community gardens. On using the commons for planting and food forests. Make Christchurch a city of food parks. Lead the way. It has so many green spaces and is easily to be set up.

2758 - Christopher Seay

The council must not strive for the lowest rates possible. That contradicts the following priorities: * Be an inclusive and equitable city * Reduce emissions as a Council and as a city * Actively balance the needs of today's residents with the needs of future generations Low rates will lead to a less equitable city, as services used by lower income citizens will be subpar, higher emissions through less transport options, and a large bill to pay in the future, as we continue to underfund and underinvest in services and capital expenditures.

The council must not strive for the lowest rates possible. That contradicts the following priorities: * Be an inclusive and equitable city * Reduce emissions as a Council and as a city * Actively balance the needs of today's residents with the needs of future generations Low rates will lead to a less equitable city, as services used by lower income citizens will be subpar, higher emissions through less transport options, and a large bill to pay in the future, as we continue to underfund and underinvest in services and capital expenditures.

2771 - Suzanne Antill

• Look after the vulnerable.

2772 - Janice Antill

* Social cohesion and wellbeing is most important for everyone's security and mental health and physical wellbeing.

for your submission.

* Emotional case! NOT increased financial burden!

2780 - Maree Hemingsen`

Before you can have inclusive you have to provide for the needs of those with mobility issues.

2786 - Redact Redacted

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design & Urban Regeneration > Urban Design]

The city has no 'heart' anymore.
Redevelopment is too slow.
What happened to the smaller shop retailers now that larger corporate stores are becoming dominant.

2815 - Douglas Shaw

Include the words "safe city" in the vision statement.

Need to consider social issues + costs + what the role central govt is eg housing

2816 - Susan Eleanor Peake

The guiding vision is slightly unrealistic - eg. "a place where anything is possible"

I would like to see the word "safe" included eg "a safe place of opportunity...".

2820 - Brendan Ross

MAINTAINING OUR EXISTING SERVICES ESP. LIBRARIES AND OTHER COMMUNITY FACILITIES SHOULD BE A PRIORITY

2822 - Angela Leatherby

I would like to see all future visions, outcomes and strategic priorities represent our Te Tiriti partnership in a more authentic way.

2828 - Thomas Kulpe

We have beautiful policies but they are very expensive waste paper if there is no will to implement them. The LTP states for instance: "Our parks deliver biodiversity..". What are the agreed biodiversity targets, what adaptive measures are taken when we don't meet them?

2829 - Jennifer Dalziel

A new community centre for 10 Shirley Road to replace the one lost in the Earthquakes is planned for 2031. Could the council please release some of the money budgetted for it in 2025 so that interested parties can begin planning and designing this community facility.. that way when the bulk of the funding is available the groundwork will be completed

2832 - Riley Neupauer (University of Canterbury Green Party)

[Grants and Funding > Arts centre funding]

The Council also wants Ōtautahi to flourish as a collaborative and confident city, and yet it has withheld vital support from community hubs such as the Arts Centre, a beloved and well-trafficked venue which would face complete closure if the proposed spending is not altered. There is a clear pattern of cognitive dissonance here.

>>>

[Spending > Capital programme]

The Council seeks to improve our coastal city of Christchurch - and they evidently know the steps necessary to do so. Yet they severely limit the quality of implementation by adhering to a stagnant, conservative monetary policy that will prove to be thoroughly insufficient as the years unfold. The Long Term Plan only outlines the agenda for the next decade, but the implications of these decisions will impact Ōtautahi's residents for generations, and unless the CCC actively invests in better infrastructure, their communities will continue to bear the consequences. The UC Greens implore the Council to consider a more forward-thinking approach to its spending, so that Christchurch is adequately equipped to fully support its residents.

2835 - Emma Rodriguez Dos Santos

The Council has some work to do on - being inclusive and equitable and - building trust and confidence in itself - for east-side communities. In principle the plan has good strategic priorities.... In terms of the community outcomes - I don't think a community has been anywhere near writing those! This whole section is a lot of soundbites and does not appear to have been written by down-to-earth people.

2838 - Graham Erikson

The CCC vision, community outcomes and strategic priorities are not reflected in failing to provide substantial support for the Cathedral restoration or Arts Centre funding. >>> [Other/Special Interest Topics > Cathedral] [Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

2844 - Albert Nisbet

What if we added a very specific outcome: become a cycling Mecca for the country?

2847 - Colleen Philip (Sustainable Ōtautahi Christchurch)

Climate - number one. Libraries and community spaces - very important. Valuing our natural features and assets - look after, protect and utilise in a sensitive way. Develop an ecosanctuary - this has been well supported in repeated consultations including on the future use of the Res red zone. Help with the transition from Jobs for Nature. So much good work is being done through this scheme and we need to keep the gains. Port - environmental levy on cruise ships. Make the 'hold' on Tarras airport permanent! One asset we do support selling is the land bought for that. (We know it is ChCh Airport but Council have some role here.) Keep Orion in public ownership. So important, and they have a good record vis a vis engaging with community. [Other/Special Interest Topics > CCHL Matters] [Other/Special Interest Topics > Tarras Airport] [Strategic Direction > Climate Change] [Libraries > Libraries (Operations)] [Parks > Other Red Zone Areas]

2856 - Rachel Puentener

It looks positive but I think there could be a stronger emphasis on equity and ensuring no one is left behind. Inequity is bad for everyone, not just those that are suffering from it directly. With climate change impacts and increasing inequities due to the housing crisis, for the city to be positive, the Council needs to actively address these issues as much as it can.

2865 - Natalie Henderson

No mention of partnering with Māori which i think is incredibly important. Other than that, page 15 looks good

2890 - Finn McIntyre (University of Canterbury Sustainable Design Society (UC SUSD))

The LTP is contradictory when viewing the strategic priorities and community outcomes in a balanced vision. Specifically where emission rduction targets are concerned as these have been under-represented in the LTP, which instead prioritizes coreperate spending over de-carbonization initiatives.

2899 - Victoria Nebbeling

The community outcomes sound great, it talks about climate resilience and reducing emissions so the draft plan needs to show how the council will be putting these words into action - which I don't think the plan is doing enough in these areas currently.

29 - Hayley Young

That's great but only if it can be done at a low cost. This is not the time for high cost initiatives.

2902 - Prawindra Mukhia

The current vision does not align with the community outcomes. The community outcomes are excellent. I'm not sure what it means to be a "leading city in NZ is. (Strategic Priorities). My suggestion for the vision is " A thriving prosperous city that embraces sustainability".

2911 - Penny Moore

Continue to make Chch great again

2922 - Zak Morrison

I think the vision and community outcomes are on the right track however it is important that when the council considers well-connected communities they are doing so with active and public transport as it's main choice.

>>>

The Draft Long Term Plan (LTP) 2024-2034 for Christchurch City Council outlines a comprehensive strategy for the city's development over the next decade. While the plan is ambitious and well-intentioned, there are concerns regarding its alignment with the Council's stated values and strategic priorities, particularly in terms of fostering a green and liveable city with robust connections and transport options.

2923 - Amanda Peter

We really need to have good options for young people to embrace the city and not end up a city of extremes by not offering enough cultural options and decent affordable housing for people to stay.

>>>

Terrific if you can pull it off, a lot of the new infrastructure with collaboration of Ngai Tahu have been marvellous and dragged us out of dark ages, love the cultural narratives.

2941 - Peter Thelning

There comes a time when not everyone can have their wishes met to much emphasis is placed on culture concerns

2945 - Lynne Lochhead

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

The community outcomes and priorities are all worthwhile but as noted previously it is unfortunate that the glaring omission of support for the Arts Centre and lack of progress on restoration of the Provincial Buildings threaten the goal of making our city a creative, cultural and events powerhouse. The lack of any funding for heritage grants until 2031/32 is certainly not consistent with supporting our diverse communities " to understand and protect their heritage". The lack of meaningful heritage grants available to heritage building owners has had a significant influence on the number of successful applications to demolish listed heritage buildings over the past several years. The complete absence of any funding can only worsen that situation.

2946 - Florence Green

[Strategic Direction > Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities]

I can't see the point of charging for parking in the Botanic gardens and Hagley Park. It makes hardly any difference to the rates (maybe $15). I'd rather pay this to maintain accessibility, and participation in this prime green space in our city. Free parking meets two Community Outcomes: "A collaborative confident city (residents can actively participate in community and city life) and "A green, liveable city (our neighborhoods and communities are accessible..)".

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

I support the vision, community outcomes and priorities. I support funding the requested contribution towards the operational costs of the Arts Centre to further the Community Outcome "A cultural powerhouse city". I do not support charging for parking in the Botanic Gardens or Hagley Park because it does not further the Community Outcome "A collaborative confident city". It does not support residents to actively participate in this prime green space in our city.

2951 - Les McKay

Concentrate on need to have and NOT nice to have.

2957 - Lisa Keen

Greater emphasis on our healthcare system!!!

2990 - Darryl Jan Atkinson

[Grants and Funding > Orana Park funding, Grants and Funding > Arts Centre funding]

Support Orana Park and assist the Arts Centre. Both far too important to let go.

2993 - Nikki Staskiewicz

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?]

Not quite, need more community focus and input

[Parks > Biodiversity and Ecological restoration]

Green Liveable City is the priority. Without green space we foster resentment, exclusion, isolation, and negative health outcomes.

2995 - Ronnie Davey (Citizens Advice Bureau Christchurch Area)

Need for increased support for vulnerable people. CAB advocacy for individuals in the community who have been digitally excluded is well documented (https://www.cab.org.nz/assets/Documents/Face-to-Face-with-Digital-Exclusion-/FINAL_CABNZ-report_Face-to-face-with-Digital-Exclusion.pdf). Currently our volunteers engage every day with clients who are experiencing a wide variety of issues because they can't afford access, don't have the technology or are struggling to navigate digital systems. We advocate for improvements to be made by the government to ensure universal access. In addition, our data shows us that Covid and the increase cost of living has hit communities hard. Last year we had 40 calls regarding lack of access to food and requiring information about foodbanks. 20% of those calls came from Māori.

>>>

[Strategic Direction > Community Outcomes and Strategic Priorities, Grants and Funding > Strengthening Communities Fund, Grants and Funding > Requests for Additional grants and funding]

There is an ongoing need for migrant support. Increasing equity, wellbeing, empowerment, community resilience is needed for at risk, often marginalised and culturally and linguistically diverse (CALD) communities. CAB provides language support services so that clients can get the information they need in their native tongue. During the last 12 months over 1000 clients from CALD communities accessed our service, with top enquiries relating to legal and government services. When Work Connect and Skills Connect ended their programme for new migrants, CABCHA began a monthly CV writing workshop and translated more pamphlets into other languages to help fill that gap. In addition, the MBIE funding cuts for migrant programmes have not been supplemented locally to support new migrants.

Ensuring the Strengthening Communities Funding remains and is well funded is imperative to support this growing population. The Citizens Advice Bureau service is dynamic, innovative and responsive to community need. CAB has been in Christchurch for 54 years and has been ongoingly innovative to address needs. Our service organisation is one of the few that: provides the opportunity for individuals to share their concern on ANY issue; provides well researched information; invites discussion about the various options, and encourages clients to choose options to suit. We have built relationships with specialists for our free clinic services. These weekly or twice weekly clinics include: General Law, Immigration Legal, Employment Law, ACC, JP and Tech Support clinics. Our monthly CV workshop is aimed at migrants and clients re-entering the workforce. All of these well attended clinics have been set up in response to community needs. CAB has special access to other specialists as well to help clients who are facing particularly challenging situations. For example, our volunteers have direct access to local WINZ managers for each CABCHA office and a special number we use to access Immigration NZ allowing CAB to side-step long queues.

Ensuring that the funding portals are available in the long term will mean that CAB can continue to help the community understand their rights and explain any recent changes in government policies/services. Citizens Advice Bureau connects with other bodies and organisations to create new opportunities and enhance effectiveness. CAB NZ Bi-cultural organisation is imbedded in the Kaupapa of our organisation <https://www.cab.org.nz/what-we-do/our-kaupapa/>. We have been engaging with the community for over 54 years and have support and encouragement for our work from National organisations such as MBIE, MSD, Department of Internal Affairs, Inland Revenue and Immigration NZ. Locally we have a long list of organisations that support our services. Our services have been well utilised and we have been vital in giving support to clients in times of need, especially through periods of community stress such as Covid, the Christchurch Earthquakes and other natural disasters. To ensure we can continue to provide these services, the long-term plan must include funding for organisations like CAB.

2999 - Reuben Woods (Watch This Space & The Flare Street Art Festival)

[Grants and Funding > Requests for addition funding, Recreation, Sports & Events > Community Arts, Strategic Direction > Community Outcomes and Strategic Priorities, Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Urban Design]

We believe that with specific investment towards a strategic street art programme, the city will grow its global creative profile, provide meaningful pathways for young people here in Ōtautahi to thrive and contribute, while also engaging diverse communities. Street art reflects a collaborative and confident city by utilising our surrounding environment to tell our stories in lively and engaging ways - creating a sense of belonging and making spaces memorable and welcoming. Street art has already proven its ability to position Ōtautahi as a cultural powerhouse city - where freely accessible creative expressions empower our communities to reflect on what makes us unique and in doing so has attracted attention from around the globe, placing us at the forefront of urban creativity. Street art thrives when creating partnerships between private, public and community-centred participants. Recognising the potential for innovative and wide-ranging initiatives and outcomes by harnessing different networks, street art's benefits help a wide cross-section of our community and reflect a thriving city. Street art is dynamic and allows for constant participation, refreshing and re-imagining the urban landscape in surprising and powerful ways. This ensures generations are continually able to contribute and ensure the cityscape reflects the contemporary experience in a way that is distinct from other types of public art. Street art is incredibly accessible and aims for inclusivity and connection, ensuring the voices and expressions of our people are clearly evident in our shared landscapes, providing well-being through visibility and participation. Ōtautahi has established itself as the leading destination for street art and urban creativity, drawing the eyes of both Aotearoa and the world to its walls and streets. This submission will deliver on the vision, community outcomes and strategic priorities of the Long Term Plan - providing opportunities for future generations through embedding urban creativity and creating dynamic pathways for development and growth that will cement our status as a cultural powerhouse destination. The submission prioritises accessibility, participation and community development through street art, reaching wide audiences and providing continuous and thoughtful activation and programming.

30 - Brendon Tate

My hope/ vision for this city is in years to come i will be able to get on a modern heavy rail train to get to a destination the bus interchange in town could become a train station with underground tunnels from existing track linking tunnels to exchange as central station like Australia. Or a new central station built on Moorehouse ave where old one used to be back in the day. Basically it would be nice if the city got to a point where residents felt like they no longer need a car to get around.

3017 - Heather Venis

It appears the vision is a fluffy version taken with rose coloured glasses. 1. 'Be an inclusive and equitable city which puts people at the centre of developing our city and district, prioritising wellbeing, accessibility and connection'. Thoughts: CCC do not listen to the community in developing the city 2. Build trust and confidence in the Council through meaningful partnerships and communication, listening to and working with residents. Thoughts: CCC do not listen to the community and vote of no confidence 3. Manage ratepayers' money wisely, delivering quality core services to the whole community and addressing the issues that are important to our residents. Thoughts: CCC needs to get real and address our issues, not go ahead on their own agenda.

3021 - Viane Makalio

I believe this needs to have more detail as to what is meant. I believe the cultural powerhouse needs to be separated into two parts one pertaining to people, community and ethnic groups and the other pertaining to arts etc. People need to be at the centre not put into a list under a title. Cultural powerhouse is vital and great but people and communities can't be in the same breath as events, arts and heritage. Be more specific and separate these two under the same title.

There is a lack of any mention (in the LTP) of Pacific as one of the fastest growing populations here in Christchurch i think it is important to mention this and not only in community but strategy, housing and governance.

3031 - Lee Osborn

Page 15 mentions "protecting and regenerating the environment, especially biodiversity, water bodies and tree canopy" but this is hardly mentioned elsewhere. When thinking long-term, this should be top of the list because if underfunded the damage is usually irreversible. Other things are important but this should come first.

>>>

Please prioritise environmental issues for the sake of future citizens.

3036 - John W. Thacker

Christchurch must retain its image as 'The Garden City' There are many small things tat can be done to improve this image.

3038 - Slavko Martinov

[Grants & Funding>Requests for Additional Grants & Funding]

If we want to be a cultural powerhouse city, we need to focus on the arts which includes screen production activities. I feel that the Screen CanterburyNZ Production Grant allowed filmmakers, TV creators, and game developers to get the support they need to create projects that will be created and produced in our city and region. I feel this grant must be added back into the budget so it can continue to build on its proven success.

3055 - Josephine Drysdall

At present, it seems like the Council has paid lip service to climate change without truly recognising that climate change and sustainability need to be considered in every aspect of its decision-making. For the kind of holistic approach needed, I would refer them to Wales' ground-breaking Well-being of Future Generations Act for inspiration, which requires the needs of future generations to be considered in all government decisions.

3072 - Mark Soster

[Grants & Funding> Requests for Additional Grants & Funding]

If we want to be a cultural powerhouse city, we need to focus on the arts which includes screen production activities. I feel that the Screen CanterburyNZ Production Grant allowed filmmakers, TV creators, and game developers to get the support they need to create projects that will be created and produced in our city and region. I feel this grant must be added back into the budget. Either that or I face the wasting 23 years of effort.

3125 - Gabrielle Humphreys

Be creative

3148 - Viv Cotter

Please, concentrate on infrastructure

3169 - Barbara Brown

I agree with the strategic priorities. I think we need reporting against these so ratepayers can see where we are having success and where there may need to be changes to activities so that we do achieve our strategic priorities.

3217 - Abdirahman Abdi

the strategic priorities sound great please keep up with communication to the public for those things. For the community outcomes

3261 - Helena Campbell

Safety and crime are a huge cost to communities and people don't feel safe

3310 - James Lunday

Be more ambitious

3315 - Jill Hargreaves

As a citizens advice bureau worker I can tell you the Christchurch is nowhere near a thriving and inclusive environment. Increasingly large sections of the community are disempowered and in need of urgent and immediate help.

3325 - Adele Geradts

Our vision is a strong one - A place of opportunity for all...open to new ideas, new people, new investments and new ways of doing things – a place where anything is possible. but we need to ensure we are honouring that ideal and working positively towards it. Our strategic priorities need to be at the centre of all future planning and decision-making. Be an inclusive and equitable city which puts people at the centre of developing our city and district, prioritising wellbeing, accessibility and connection. here we need Events and public transport for everyone to enjoy. Champion Ōtautahi–Christchurch and collaborate to build our role as a leading New Zealand city.

3336 - Margaret Lovell-Smith

Community outcomes: I agree that understanding and protecting our heritage, while also pursuing our arts and cultural interests, are vital for our city. >>> I wholeheartedly agree with the strategic priority 'Reduce emissions as a Council and as a city; invest in adaptation and resilience, leading a city wide response to climate change while protecting our indigenous biodiversity, water bodies and tree canopy'. The council has not, to date 'led' a city wide response to climate change. As the Secretary General of the UN recently reminded us, we have just two years in which to avert runaway climate change which will be a catastrophe for everyone. It's time to get serious about it.

3363 - Brodie Marra-Stevenson

We need to think more radically about how the future of this city looks. This plan is pretty beige.

3364 - Alison Murray

The ideals sound good but they are not being put into practice. Our city is very discriminatory where the old, sick, and disabled are concerned.

3366 - Robert Manthei

Of course we need a thriving, inclusive and sustainable city for all, but we must also aim for a reduced footprint on the land, and less consumption overall. There is not the time to plan long-term for changes in these areas.

3371 - Malcolm Frost

If the city is so 'inclusive' then why does one hear of so many young people who were born here leaving for overseas? What is being done to help the small young entrepreneurs & ideas people who will help to take us forward?

3372 - Jenny Bond (Te Tuna Tāone)

A green liveable city I believe will be judged by the health of our waterways fresh and coastal, the ability to carry out mahinga kai, as well as reduced emissions and resilience to climate change. This community outcome is great, however I doubt the LTP goes far enough to achieving this with our rivers being some of the most polluted in Canterbury if not Aotearoa.

3373 - Michael Netto

[Spending > Our Proposed Spending]

I appreciate the vision laid out in the Council's Strategic Framework 2024-34 for a thriving, inclusive, and sustainable city. However, I urge a stronger emphasis on the basics—increasing operational efficiency, boosting productivity, and ensuring financial prudence to avoid wasteful expenditures. A transparent approach in all projects and initiatives is crucial to maintaining public trust and demonstrating that every dollar spent is aligned with our community's core needs and priorities. Let's focus on making our city not only sustainable and inclusive but also efficiently managed and responsibly governed.

34 - Jean Flannery

With the exception of my previous comments [Coder Note: Arts Centre Funding], I think you have it about right.

3415 - Allan Taunt

There needs to be more investment in the following areas:

- Improving the physical and mental health and wellbeing of people in the community.

3423 - James Upton

The guiding vision (p14) seems somewhat odd where it says 'where anything is possible'. It doesn't seem to recognise what is already here and not new. The vision could describe better what is achievable within a realistic possibility space. The community outcomes and strategic priorities are fine (p15)

3430 - Philippa Upton

This all looks good, but the guiding vision seems to have been written by someone on a sugar high! It doesn't acknowledge that we can only have such a vision for the future by building on the foresight and initiative of those that have gone before us to create so much of what we value today.

3447 - John Harding

[Grants & Funding>Requests for Additional Grants & Funding]

I am a Production Designer living on Banks Peninsula. After a 40 years career and 100s of productions I have only worked on 3 film projects in the South Island. Only 1 in or around ChCh. This is because we didn't have the infrastructure. Now we do and we have a lot more potential work booked in over the next 2 years which will employ 1000's of local crew. XXX So No. I don't feel that we can become a cultural powerhouse by allocating 1% to the arts. We've worked hard to develop screen production in Ōtautahi and that is now in serious jeopardy. The Screen CanterburyNZ Production Grant had an initial investment of $1.5 million dollars and has generated a return of $12.5 million dollars - that's $12.50 for every dollar spent. This money stayed in the region through crew salaries, transportation, accommodation, hospitality and other businesses. It has been incredibly successful. It isn't in the Long Term Plan and as an investment that generated a return, I feel it needs to be included.

>>>

[Grants & Funding>Requests for Additional Grants & Funding]

If we want to be a cultural powerhouse city, we need to focus on the arts which includes screen production activities. I feel that the Screen CanterburyNZ Production Grant allowed filmmakers, TV creators, and game developers to get the support they need to create projects that will be created and produced in our city and region. I feel this grant must be added back into the budget.

3452 - Sabine Handel

Make and keep the city family friendly!

3479 - Rhys Glenjarman

More investment in ensuring the mental wellbeing of Chch residents is needed. Cultural events and oppertunities, and heritage buildings must be developed further. Climate adaptation is a need not a want.

3501 - Malcolm Long (Ōpāwaho Heathcote River Network)

Community Outcomes 2024 - 34 and Strategic Priorities 2022 - 25

1. We support the four Community Outcomes, but as order can influence the response to such priorities, we request that the Community Outcomes 2024-34 be ordered wherever they are listed as follows to indicate the relative dependency of each outcome on the preceding one with the greatest priority given to "A green, liveable city":
 - A green, liveable city
 - A collaborative, confident city
 - A cultural powerhouse city
 - A thriving, prosperous city
2. In general, we support the Strategic Priorities 2022-25.
3. However, if these Strategic Priorities are to be more than just brief platitudes to colour a planning document, it is vital that the decisions made in the details of the Long-Term Plan echo and give effect to the Strategic Priorities.
 - 3.1. Currently, the explanation under "A green, liveable city" includes "We build climate resilience: We understand and are preparing for the ongoing impacts of climate change; we have a just transition to an innovative, low-emission economy." Missing from this explanation is reference to maximising the benefits of carbon sequestration and the use of nature-based solutions and green infrastructure.
 - 3.2. Of particular concern to OHRN is that while it is positive to read that "Biodiversity is supported: Ecosystems supporting biodiversity are protected and restored" as part of the Council's Strategic Priorities, the reality is that neither the detail in the Long-Term Plan nor current management and the operations of Council staff give real priority to biodiversity protection or to "indigenous" biodiversity as it is referred to in the CCC Consultation Document (but not in the LTP).
 - 3.3. Whereas technically, "biodiversity" does specifically mean our indigenous species (as distinct from species richness – of any origin), it needs to be emphasised that we are here referring to our unique contribution to global biodiversity, that is our native species which mostly are found nowhere else in the world. Aotearoa New Zealand has about 2500 native plant species (which are essentially endemic at least in terms of local genetic make-up) but we have about 30 000 exotic species. The Council has statutory responsibilities for protecting the "indigenous" biodiversity from being overwhelmed by exotic species.
 - 3.4. We request that all references to biodiversity should be to "indigenous biodiversity".
 - 3.5. We request that the elimination or control of pest plants and predator species should also be added to the explanation of the "A green, liveable city" Community Outcome.
 - 3.6. We strongly support the inclusion under "A green, liveable city" of "We improve the water quality of water resources to protect ecosystem health..." but note that this outcome, while excellent, remains unachievable for the Ōpāwaho Heathcote River in the

3548 - Dwayne McCormick

Must have are priority's not nice to haves.. Keep thinking of ways to reduce or people will not afford to live in the city

3552 - Alice Neylon

Community initiatives seem divided and temporary. A more cohesive approach needs to be taken. Perhaps look at developing clubhouses for sports fields that include commercial kitchens that can be used by community groups. Maybe integrate these into schools or other public use areas.

3577 - Marie Byrne

I encourage the strategic objective of an inclusive and equitable city which puts people at the centre of developing our city and district, prioritising wellbeing, accessibility and connection. I particularly would like to stress the words 'inclusive and equitable' to reflect equity in spending in ALL areas of the city. This may mean that Phillipstown will see the same level of development, spending, amenity improvements and effort as other parts of the city. I support the communication sentiments in the strategic priorities. In particular I would like to see effective communication to residents when projects cannot be delivered as promised. The failure to do so creates distrust in Council. Be clear about expectations. If we as a community know why something cannot be delivered as promised it is far more preferable than keeping a community in the dark. Safe pedestrian crossings for Ferry Road in Phillipstown that has not been delivered despite being repeatedly included in Annual Plans is one such example.

3596 - Susan Lau

[Grants & Funding > Events Ecosystem Funding]

Your "Community Outcomes" page shows that Christchurch is doing quite well in terms of its economic base, and where it is doing much less well is in terms of economic and social disparity and sense of social inclusion.

Bids to attract more major events and business opportunities are great but should not come at the cost of services that provide for our day-to-day security and facilities that provide social good - for example libraries and cheaper, carbon-neutral transport infrastructure (which have previously been suggested by some in our council as being expendable.)

I'm concerned that there is a tilt towards valuing planning that draws in visitors with money to a greater extent than planning that ensures affordable and community-building living for residents. The former is important, but not at the cost of the latter.

Your own measured community outcomes show that we are failing to a greater extent at the latter. I would also add that one reason why visitors like Christchurch and its people is not because it's an exciting, worldly hub, but because of how the way of life feels here and how people treat them and each other. By virtue of our location in the world we are never going to be London, but I have learned that what really impresses visitors about Christchurch is how we live, our relationship with our natural environment and how we look after each other.

Please don't destroy that simply to put in flashy big-ticket projects that make every social and cultural engagement in the city a matter of profit.

>>>

Please actually address the areas of our greatest weakness identified in the community outcomes. You already have this data.

3599 - Hayley Guglietta

A green liveable city should be number one

3610 - Eric Stierna

I recommend changing the "Build Trust" strategic priority to read: "Build trust and confidence in the Council through meaningful partnerships and communication, listening to and working with residents, businesses, and local non-governmental organisations."

3614 - Lin Roberts

- The 64p consultation document mentions 'biodiversity' three times – it appears in the Community Outcomes (p15), in the strategic priorities (p15) and in the Ngā Papatipu Rūnanga list of strategic priorities (p16), but there is no text at all indicating how this strategic priority would be advanced. Where does biodiversity management sit in the organisation and how well it is resourced?

CCC's guiding vision, with its focus on everything new (ideas, people, investment and ways of doing things) does not speak to me – yes, many new ideas etc are great (but some are idiotic and threaten our future, like Tarras airport), but so is the sense of place, stability and security that comes with connection with familiar landscapes, locations, people, practices and history. I would be much more comfortable with a vision that provides a greater balance between past, present and future, and that captures more the ideas in the small print below it about building "a thriving, inclusive, and sustainable city for all". However I like all the community outcomes 2024-34, particularly "A green, liveable city" and am happy with all of "Our strategic priorities 2022-25".

3616 - Mark Webster

Great clarity - your terms are far too broad, and no real substance. Impossible to comment without real substance to your statements

3636 - Kay Robertson

I want the Council to prioritise a Green, Liveable city. That means - Striving to be a '15-minute city' - Implementing the 3, 30, 300 rule: 3 trees from every home 30 percent tree canopy cover in every neighbourhood 300 metres from the nearest public park or green space and - Excellent public and active transport. Plus native birds as plentiful as Wellington has achieved within 20 years.

3645 - Sophie McKenzie

Yes, it is crucial that CCC engages with all aspects of the community, and it must be pushed even more for safe and inclusive communities. From youth and young people making sure they are inclusive in decision making, climate issues, and decision making for their futures, particularly in their own spaces in an informal way which allows for an inclusive environment.

3646 - Thomas Blakie

Very good. Should have strong commitments to working with diverse communities such as Māori and young people.

3651 - Kate Innes

They sound good but are not necessarily going to be achieved by what is actually proposed.

3653 - Andrew McDougall

I see the proposals are for a "green, liveable city". How can this be achieved when the community board have just rejected a long thought out plan which would have achieved this on Wyon St? This included greenery, but it was rejected due to cost. It's never ever going to get any cheaper than it is now - so when will the "green, Liveable City" happen if these well progressed plans have been rejected?

3659 - Alex van den Broek

Our vision needs to be held onto the long term plan. Not short term gains for developers.

3662 - Joan Blatchford

My comments on adaptation planning further on link to the need to "actively balance the needs of today's residents with needs of future generations"

3677 - Sophie Shannon

Biodiversity should be a priority. Reducing emissions is a good focus.

3681 - Tara Daellenbach

Improving our city to meet goals like the 15-minute city should be at the top of our list.

>>>

Generally, the city has been moving in the right direction we need to maintain that momentum and continue progress with upgrades such as transport improvements so we can meet the challenges of the future.

3683 - Max Sullivan

In terms of our strategic priority to have "accessible and well connected" neighbourhoods and communities, we should be using urban density as a way to accomplish this.

3686 - Suzanne Peddie

Need to control urban sprawl and loss of arable land. If this is not done, we will be short of food. Stop being bullied by developers who chop down every tree in sight and ignore council requirements for their subdivisions.

3700 - Ian Cumberpatch

Please remember the City is about it's people and it's cultures. We are changing and growing and need to be very careful that we develop the City that we need and want. Looking to overseas references we need to ensure that we retain our own values and uniqueness. I have recently experienced some of the larger and older overseas cities, and while they have their history and charm they also have in my opinion some of the best and worst social inequities.

3701 - Rod Hay

The vision and priorities are all good, but they don't seem to be driving significant development of an environmentally and socially sustainable city. An obvious exception is the excellent work being done in catchment management to mitigate flood risk while at the same time providing increased recreational, landscape and biodiversity benefits. What seems to be missing in the plan is investment in biodiversity restoration in the wider Banks Peninsula.

3708 - Joan Simpson

On paper the outcomes and priorities read well. The challenge is how to make them a reality. Please work in partnership with Maori in the first instance and then all ethnicities to ensure we do have a city that is inclusive and equitable. Where people are at the centre of the development but also at the centre of the benefit

>>>

I would like the city to continue incorporating Maori culture and language around the city.

372 - Kyle Bluck

The vision for Christchurch should be the most climate friendly, climate adaptive, cycling-mad city in the world.

3727 - Carl Fox

Good infrastructure is essential for livable and thriving communities, we need to invest in infrastructure that will last, is fit for purpose and supports growth. Rate payers need to be prepared to fund this but Council has to lift its standard of performance in procurement!

3758 - Mads Churchhouse

The vision and outcomes are really admirable and good and I welcome them. The problem is that the funding proposals in the LTP don't match up with making them a reality. For example, being a cultural powerhouse -- this makes no sense when the Arts Centre is being completely defunded, that's a gem in the city. Being a green, livable city -- this makes no sense when Christchurch is an urban sprawl that prioritises cars over not just other forms of transport, but actual liveability (ie. having walkable, dense community centres instead of swathes of tarmac). We have no light rail outside of a tourist tram, and cycle networks that are under attack from reactionary backlash at a time when they need rolling out en masse. There is nowhere near enough heavy funding in dense, upwards social housing, and in public transport to fund a mass modality shift from cars, to make this idea of a 'green liveable city' a reality. I really urge CCC to commit to these fantastic ideas by urgently upping spending in these areas, and using rents increases to do so.

3759 - Ben Connolly

I'd like more spent to deliver the first two strategic priorities

376 - Mattias Wieland

[Strategic Direction > Infrastructure Strategy], [Transport > Other]

Mode shift in transport and upgrading our infrastructure should be key priorities

3801 - Victor (aka Vince) Eichholtz

Back to "Have your Say" post-quake. More people friendly streets, less traffic, more things happening on the streets (events, cafe/restuarant seating, markets etc especially in Cathedral square), less traffic and parking.

3806 - Simon Green

Like this - "green, liveable city" resonates with me.

>>>

Very little mention of the importance of the Arts in our strategic vision.

3824 - Di Lucas

Ōtautahi Christchurch – a place of opportunity for all. A place open to new ideas, new people, new investment, and new ways of doing things. A place where anything is possible. This final sentence is excessive. It is an invitation to activities that might be socially, culturally and environmentally unsuitable. Please edit .

3825 - Justin Barton

Change a "green livable city" to "a healthy living garden city" Change to "inclusive and equitable" to "open-hearted and fair". Change the "reduce emissions" to "Reduce pollution"

3830 - Brenda Banning

I think the green, livable, cultural powerhouse will lead to a thriving city. Focus should be on community, livability and improvement of greenspace

3837 - Dermot Coffey

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Strategic Transport]

I mainly support the vision. I would however strongly advise incorporating the word "healthy" within the outcomes (perhaps a "green, healthy, liveable city"). Unless this is specifically included as an outcome, it may well be overlooked, despite the fact that many of the social and environmental determinants of health being directly affected by the decisions the Council will make on funding. This is particularly the case with respect to transport- recent studies in Aotearoa NZ have shown that the health impacts, premature deaths and health costs of air pollution due to vehicle use (exhaust particulates, nitrogenous gases and brake/tyre/road dust particular) are significantly higher than previously estimated. Across the country, this represents over 2,000 premature deaths and $10 billion annually due to air pollution alone, dwarfing the ~350 deaths and ~$2.5 billion costs due to road trauma. Funding active transport appropriately also improves public health due to reduced physical inactivity, reduced noise pollution, improved neighbourhood connectivity and improved independent transport for all (recognising that no children under 16 and a significant proportion of adults cannot drive, even if they can afford the running costs of a car)

3844 - My-Linh Dang

Council's number 1 priority is to listen to the people that it represents. With this in mind, Council should be hearing that citizens cannot afford rates increases - let alone the dramatic increases that are proposed. Its priority should be to ensure citizens can continue to live in this wonderful city and not be bankrupted by projects that do not benefit the people and, in some cases (e.g. chlorination), actually harm people.

3846 - Rebecca Finch

Yes, but your vision is not congruent. You simply cannot have a green and liveable city until we have a major shift in industry. What we need our low-key local business and communities working together to face the massive challenge that is reducing emissions. How will we work together to stop greenhouse gas emissions? How will we adapt? How will we do this and maintain social cohesion? I think we really need a vision which is created by each local community in 'citizen assembly' type democracies. Locally lead solutions for locals. So, more investment in getting local communities working together to come up with solutions for their areas, with a focus on de-growth.

3860 - Kate Cleverly (Halswell Community Hub)

The green liveable city is vital to restoring Christchurch's reputation as the garden city and investing in the wellbeing of its people. Regenerating the waterways and tree cover should be a priority.

3895 - Margaret Trotter

where is the money for our youth groups, community centres and building a vibrant Christchurch community. A very short sighted policies developments and disappointing vision from our council. It is the people who are the most important resource. Look after our younger generation.

who is the community you are supporting? Great community outcomes and strategic goals but little substance and examples of action.

3898 - Richard Smith

Sustainability considerations need to include affordability for residents Inclusivity considerations needs to be constrained, make provision for everybody but shouldn't look to promote or additionally support any group - Ray Blank Park culture galore is a great spread of investment but to e.g. paint rainbow crossings is promoting one group over another

3905 - Surinder Tandon (Christchurch Multicultural Council Inc.)

[Strategic Direction > Other Policy Matters], [Other/Special Interest Topics > LTP Consultation]

Continue the implementation of the Christchurch Multicultural Strategy - Our Future Together, launched in 2017. Christchurch Multicultural Council along with several ethnic community groups, CALD agencies, worked hard to support the CCC to develop its Multicultural Strategy - the first in Aotearoa NZ. It is surprising that there is no mention of Christchurch Multicultural strategy in the CCC Draft LTP 2024-34. Surprisingly, the word "multicultural" does not appear even for a single time in the LTP Consultation Document. Instead of staying with the label Christchurch being "a Multicultural City", it seems the CCC prefers to label it as "a cultural powerhouse city". The latter is a secondary description of the former label. CCC Strengthening Communities Together Strategy refers to Christchurch Multicultural Strategy in its Pillar 1. The latter is a living document and lists the goals and outcomes in detail. Christchurch Multicultural Strategy complements the Strengthening Communities Together Strategy.

3908 - Cathy Harlow

They sound great. Please put in place a system that shows us how every decision you make contributes. Not some generic placeholder that says the decision aligns etc. Tell us exactly how you expect every Council decision to positively contribute and how you will measure and evaluate those contributions. Otherwise, why bother?

3910 - Joshua Jones

Inclusive and competitive for businesses and more even learning outcomes for children across the city

3923 - Nina Oberg Humphries (Tagata Moana Trust)

This sounds reasonable however there is no place in the long term plan that specifies the place of Pacific Peoples living in Christchurch

3951 - Steph Walker (Christchurch Arts Audience Development Trust)

Thank you for acknowledging the importance of arts, creativity, culture and ngā toi Māori in our city by making one of the 4 community outcomes about Ōtautahi Christchurch being “a cultural powerhouse city”. We also see our sector contributing to at least 3 of the 6 strategic priorities. There is no doubt that arts & culture help build our role as a leading city. If the Council is serious about this, then building infrastructure is not enough and nor is a CPI-reflective funding increase. We need more investment in organisations and collectives so that they can continue to deliver world-class events, festivals and other engagement sessions and attract the talent this sector deserves to come, and/or stay in Ōtautahi Christchurch.

3961 - Paul Robertson

As noted above far too much on socio political issues, such as diversity. Less money and resource into the council building the community, more getting out of the way and letting the community build the community. Let focus on essentially meaningless so called "Community Outcomes" around diversity, climate resilience, so call "Green livable cities" aim to at restricting peoples movements. Let spending on so called "climate resilience"

>>>

Yes, mostly politically driven largely meaningless statement that seemed designed to further certain social and political agendas e.g. 15 minute cities The council meddling in things it shouldnt be, still with the basics, e.g. water engineering, not social engineering.

397 - Merrick Brown

They make sense but need commercial approach to achieving at a reasonable cost.

3988 - Jerry French

- CALL THE LIBRARY & OTHER IMPORTANT BUILDINGS/SERVICES BY THEIR EUROPEAN NAME

3989 - Mary O'Connor

On reading your community outcomes (page 15) I am dismayed that you do not consider residents' health and wellbeing to be a necessary community outcome. Further, while you mention wellbeing in one of your strategic priorities, you have failed to mention health. Your decisions and priorities for Christchurch City Council must include health and wellbeing in your decision making as the infrastructure, communication, travel, water supply, sewerage, flooding, disaster planning and parks and open spaces will all impact on all residents' health and wellbeing, some more so than others.

3998 - Ben Alder (Christchurch Envirohub)

The Long Term Plan contains aspirations but lacks creative, agile, well analysed and imaginative solutions to greater Christchurch's current and future needs. The emphasis on building traditional infrastructure and on growth, growth, growth will not, in our opinion, future-proof the city or align it with the council's Vision statement above nor its green/garden city ethos.

As the Council's latest satisfaction survey shows, only about one-third of rate payers agree that the Council "balances the needs of today's residents with planning for the future of the city". Results# also demonstrate the council needs to improve its governance and decision-making.

#<https://ccc.govt.nz/assets/Documents/The-Council/How-the-Council-works/Residents->

>>>

Transport

The Council's Vision states a desire for "well-connected communities and neighbourhoods" and a city that "is designed so people can take fewer and shorter trips to access goods and services, and have access to safe and reliable low-emission travel choices." We agree with enacting this vision, but cannot see how the current plan's emphasis on more/better roading rather than public transport and green solutions will bring about the desired outcome.

401 - Mariann Matai (Catalyst IT)

I'd like to see CCC to adopting the SDG framework and align to the 17 SDGs or subset thereof. By publicly aligning with SDGs and reporting on them, CCC could collaborate more easily internationally around climate solutions, take part in research projects part funded by the EU, etc. A good example of an SDG city is Brisbane (see: https://www.brisbane.qld.gov.au/sites/default/files/documents/2023-10/BCC.15375.Voluntary-Local-Review_Summary_A4-4pp_v4.pdf). It wouldn't be difficult for CCC to do something similar using already existing policies and the Canterbury Wellbeing Index (<https://www.sdg-cities.org/about-us>). As a second step, by becoming an SDG city (<https://www.sdg-cities.org/about-us>) aligning with the SDG framework could be formalised further if needed.

4016 - Joanne Zervos

Building more trust & confidence in the council is the main thing to overcome. Shortcomings are quite obvious to most residents and until these are addressed people will remain dissatisfied.

The older population (many still have a long future) seem to be missing from outcomes & priorities

4020 - Brian Turner

Wellbeing for all has to be a priority.

4025 - Robin Wynne-Williams

Accelerate work on projects and programmes with a focus on balancing the needs of today's residents

>>>

Listen to the ratepayers and citizens and be more willing to take lateral thinking on board, eg if not why not, and get back the “Pioneering spirit”, eg make things happen.!

Each suburb and constituency to be encouraged to have an attraction to bring visitors, tourists, students etc; - Burwood/coastal constituency- the events lake. -Harewood, the International Airport, The Antarctic centre. and the Orana Park. -Central Christchurch; have a REALLY POSH hotel to rival the Ritz and others, and attract the very wealthy, well to do, and glamorous folk, who bring wealth/ influence and other wealthy, influential people with them, eg quality tourism rather than quantity!!! And it is not difficult to think of a few names of such folk!! And run events to bring in these folk and the accompanying $$$$$$!! Eg invite the King or the Princess Royal or Prince of Wales to visit ChCh and NZ next year to hopefully make the NZ Merchant navy/ and the NZ Merchant navy association Royal as the King has been requested in 2023.

As so many NZ merchant navy men and boys participated in WW1 and 2, and King George Vth stated that “Merchant Navy was the 4th Service” of the huge service and so many deaths that occurred during these wars. Regrettably he didn’t finish the job and make the Merchant navy royal then. To do so now, would hugely resuscitate the NZ shipping which is needed due to the climate issues. There’s only three ways off NZ, fly, sail or swim!! And sailing and swimming could be the only options if the gas runs out!!

I am the Patron of the NZ Merchant Navy Assoc. -Halswell; education for students with learning difficulties and lost learning opportunities, etc. See previous information above. -Coastal; New Brighton has the disability sensory garden. Complete the coastal cycle/tramping trail to help complete the Picton south coastal trail. -Oxford, eg equestrian studs; lavender and hazelnut farms. - Kirwee-the Hazelnut processing plant. -Wiapara; truffel farms and wines, eg a wine/truffle tourist trail? -Lyttelton as previously mentioned. -Akaroa, tourism, the French connection and the cookery school, conservation measures Making ChCh and suburbs and Canterbury the first place thought about, to visit, establish research studies, tertiary study, investment and the establishment of business initiatives, events, conferences, MAKE CHCH THE PLACE TO VISIT, LIVE AND THRIVE; CAPITAL OF THE SOUTH ISLAND. If ChCh doesn’t sing their song, then no one else will and many folk want the South Island to secede from the North Island. What happened to the Lord Rutherfords, and other famous past and recent inventors, entrepreneurs, etc of early and recent ChCh. Encourage lateral thinking as it is the lateral thinkers who come up with way out ideas that might be a game changer!!! Suggest that ChCh work with surrounding regions to promote tourism, education, research (health, IT, primary industry, , sports, a sports/physiology academy similar to the US academy where Sir Peter Snell worked for years. Promote study in primary industry skills, cheesemaking, truffel production, and encourage Primary industry tourism, eg international farming, trips. Major support for Primary health/GP services, and assistance to keep local gps and nurses in ChCh and encourage more gps, practice and community nurses and paediatricians to immigrate to Chch because of the dire shortage of the health specialists to support the Primary health service but also the private paediatric service of which I use a lot in my work with my ADHD/autistic and other disabled child patients, and there is a very limited public service available. To possibly work with the Williams Corp to enable their Patton Street potential residential learning complex, the idea being learn to earn, for folk with disabilities, to live and study, short term in a safe environment. If the Council could work with Williams Corp which needs funding to get this important training/residential establishment established, if possible. I was very involved with the initial planning, and the complex has two commercial viable kitchens, with a view to teaching disabled folk, to learn to earn.

>>>

4033 - Juliana Venning

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Governance]

Respond to persons who care sufficiently for our community wellbeing. Do not set aside (as has been happening) submissions made with research and relevance in favour of the irrational or fantasy of the period. We need our elected representatives to act ethically not in their interests but that of the community, the vulnerable and here I again emphasise women and children's interests.

425 - Laura Bates

Your community outcomes need to address Christchurch residents being able to afford to live in our city. With continual rates rises, you bring increased poverty to our city.

443 - Keryn Roberts

I think these are great intentions but note there is no accountability in how they will be measured to ensure they are being attained.

452 - Mark Penrice

[Spending > Te Kaha]

We should be prioritizing keeping the city running efficiently over adding expensive new stuff. When the stadium is complete it should be sold for $1 to save the future operating costs when it makes a loss.

459 - Aaron Watson

[Strategic Direction>Have we got the balance right?]

No, in fact you are not in touch with reality. Everyone I speak to seems to feel the same way. All we see is money being wasted and the council spending more energy on very small groups of people who would rather waste our money on unproven theories with climate change and stupid social engineering experiments with gender and LGBTQ groups. We pay our council for services, we want roads fixed, footpaths fixed, better right hand turn signals at busy intersections. We don't want chlorine or fluoride in our water. We want less contractors working for stupidly high rates. We want less debt. We want more city owned businesses that produce real income for the city. We want less bike lanes in suburban streets but with more speed bumps in quite suburban streets. We want stupid speed bumps that slow the flow of traffic on busy roads like Lincoln road to be removed. We don't want to pay tolls to use roads in the city that we have already paid for. Hopefully you are picking up the Common sense that I am putting down.

467 - Anna Scheirlinck

[Strategic Direction>Climate Change]

You can't kick the can down the road with climate adaptation - let's prepare

468 - Genevieve Bergin

[Grants & Funding>Arts Centre Funding]

Not funding the arts centre would be a shambles and reflect poorly on the council

48 - Kean Mitchell

Christchurch is in growth that can accelerate with population growth. We are an attractive place to live, work and play. the councils need to work together more to make investment across the council boarders more efficient and effective to the benefit of all Christchurch inhabitants.

500 - Jan Gregor

The first thing that stood out in the LTP was the list of 4 community outcomes, all referring to 'city': • A collaborative confident city • A green, liveable city • A cultural powerhouse city • A thriving prosperous city. This big-city mindset didn't provide me any confidence that I would find much in the LTP that addressed the needs of those living in dispersed rural communities of Banks Peninsula. The more I read and delved into the detail of the many documents, the more I felt the inequities afforded to ratepayers outside of the city limits. We don't have the numbers to sway 'greatest bang for the buck', but we have every right to have equal opportunities in outcomes, which may mean having to invest more per person in rural areas, spreading the cost across all CCC ratepayers.

51 - Zoe Brock

More multi-cultural and diversity/inclusivity

540 - Ross Allen

[Strategic Direction>Climate Change]

The strategic priority of managing ratepayers money wisely is inconsistent with the CO2 climate change priority for 2022-25, for the reasons I have outlined above. Moving too quickly on this will inevitably waste ratepayers money. It should be a priority for say 2026-50. We should not be leaders in this as it will be costly. We should do no more than mandated by the NZ Govt.

550 - Colin Mansell

Too much emphasis on roads. Too little on culture.

575 - Murray Walls

Put people and community's first.

579 - Rosemary Neave

A thriving prosperous city - as a city and ChristchurchNZ focus too much on tourism and events - these are sugar hits. We instead need to focus on supporting and building innovation and research and development

585 - Danny Rood

[Strategic Direction > Climate Change]

Safe drinking water, storm water, and waste water need to be prioritised, along with emissions reductions.

615 - Michael JasonSmith

I have concerns with “Manage ratepayers’ money wisely” priority. Too often unwise short-term thinking has lead to deferring necessary spending. Through good management (and some luck) The City has kept up the spending required to provide drinking water, storm water, and waste water. The Council should be commended for this. Contrast this with funding for supporting active transport. This is often cut in the name of “delivering core services”. However, the reliance on motor vehicle transport places a greater burden on the community now and in the future.

623 - Linda Everett

I feel a 10 year Strategic Framework is too long. 2024-2029 should be better. Anything could happen in 10 years, we could even have 2 changes of Government!

63 - Jean Lindo

Climate change needs to be at or near top as we have little chance of beating it as is bigger than all of us

631 - Cynthia Roberts

Happy with the wording of Our Community Outcomes p15. However, the Guiding Vision doesn't mention nature. Recognising the role that nature plays in underpinning any healthy, happy, vibrant and connected community, must be central to a vision.

660 - Lyn Cotton (Jolt Dance)

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

The strategy clearly states Be an inclusive and equitable city which puts people at the centre prioritising wellbeing, accessibility and connection but the arts spaces you are supporting while accessible do not promote connection and accessibility to the extent the Arts Centre has. To deny funding to the Arts Centre is to return it to an elitist space.

670 - Sue Orpwood

I support making Chch an inclusive city but think we are moving too far in making it a Maori emphasised city. I like the idea of a real multicultural place, which by population, we are.

684 - Louise Morrison

No need to spend any money on lgbqt+

718 - Sharon Pheasant

Only that you plan often seems to ignore the very community you say you serve. You have a diverse community but seems like the loudest voices get heard.

756 - Jonathan Harrington

Be aspirational for our city. The current vision, outcomes and priorities need investment to be realised.

759 - Rory Kinahan

This: A green, liveable city. Our neighbourhoods and communities are accessible and well-connected, supporting our goals to reduce emissions, build climate resilience and protect and regenerate the environment, especially our biodiversity, water bodies and tree canopy. We need to do these things and more to protect our whanau and our future.

782 - Áine Smyth

Your priorities should be climate change

>>>

[Strategic Direction>Climate Change]

YOU NEED TO BE PRIORITISING OUR FUTURE. CLIMATE CHANGE IS A HUGE ISSUE FACING US.

785 - Ariana Tikao

[Strategic Direction>Our Treaty Relationships]

Continued support for making the city an inclusive place for all people, and more visibility of te ao Māori and te reo Māori in public spaces, and community settings.

800 - David Miller (Pest Free Banks Peninsula Project Management Group)

There is insufficient discussion or funding on pest control in this LTP, despite excellent progress made with CCC's help.

>>>

2. Our concerns

We are very concerned that the current draft of the LTP is at best muted about the need to control pests. With the removal of the Environmental Partnerships Fund from the LTP, Council's cash contribution to Pest Free Banks Peninsula elimination and feral ungulate programmes has been discontinued. When removing funding we have to consider the effect on the ground: reinvasion of animal pests will occur in areas which have already been cleared and the investment of CCC – not to mention the incredibly hard work of so many in our communities - will effectively be wasted. This negative impact will also be felt for years on land owned by the Council.

[FULL ATTACHMENT AVAILABLE]

835 - Darren Johnson (Coastal Spirit)

[Full attachment available]

[Spending>Capital Programme (General)]

[Parks>Sports fields network plan]

Summary Points

- Coastal Spirit Football Club (Coastal Spirit) strongly supports the Programme – Community Parks Sports Field Development (ID 61785) and the $85.6m investment planned.
- With increasing membership, strong community programs, and an under-pressure field network we would like to see the investment brought forward to ensure that new fit-for-purpose fields & facilities are established quickly.
- The proposed investment is a minimum required investment to bring Christchurch into line with other similar and neighbouring communities in terms of the level of investment made in sports fields.
- Coastal Spirit's interests would be represented by Mainland Football who we understand would like to speak at the hearing.

Coastal Spirit would like to make a formal submission on the Draft Long Term Plan 2024 -2034 (the LTP).

What Matters Most?

The establishment of quality sports field network is of the utmost importance. It is a critical part of any highly liveable 21st century city. Christchurch has already fallen well behind its neighbouring councils in providing safe, fit for purpose playing surfaces, and its main city rivals for commercial and visitor investment, and growth.

New infrastructure investment in Selwyn and Waimakariri already make these regions considerably more attractive to live and play, resulting in some having to / choosing to travel out of the city several times a week to participate in football. Wellington undertook its field network review a decade ago and now has a well-established network of high-quality artificial turfs. A collaborative confident city – improved sports fields will support more residents to actively participate in community sport and provide more opportunities to connect with each other. A green, liveable city – useable green space is critical to making Christchurch a liveable city. Much of our green space for sport is inaccessible during the winter months. A cultural powerhouse city – sport is a cultural unifier and football is a truly global sport, that connects communities. The recent FIFA Women’s World Cup demonstrated the power of sport and its ability to connect multiple communities together. A thriving prosperous city – a high quality network of all-weather pitches is a strong indicator of a thriving prosperous city and demonstrates innovation and willingness to make good investment in high-quality facilities. Football attracts people to live and work in a community, as it is a global sport.

847 - David Bromell

Of the proposed strategic priorities, my suggested priorities (in order of importance) are: manage ratepayers' $ wisely, delivering quality core services to the whole community; actively balance the needs of today's residents with the needs of future generations; build confidence in Council. To me, the rest is fluff, or debatable as to whether it's Council's core business, and when there are too many priorities, they fail to focus staff on delivering what matters most.

868 - Lucas Moreno

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

You are saying that “our Community outcomes 2024-2034” Is a “Cultural Powerhouse city”, yet you cut funding for the Arts Centre? It doesn't make sense. My daughter has had really good experiences here with their activities and so have I.

>>>

[Grants & Funding > Orana Park Funding]

On the same token, you have a “A thriving prosperous city” but don't want to provide funding for the only zoo in Chch (Orana)? This is not acceptable in my view, and both should be funded. The Zoo is a fantastic place to relax and go with family in a really big open and safe environment. its value to the city is significant.

>>>

Yes. Have provided these already. Make sure there are enough support to organisations that provide a good service to the community, like the Arts Centre, Orana Park, and others. No one wants to live in a city where the road is ok but there is nothing to do! There has been MASSIVE capital investment done over the last decade due to the quakes. Focus on making sure basics are covered (pipes, no holes, etc), leave unnecessary work for now (reducing speeds which is extremely expensive), and increase support to things that actually make people want to live here. Driving at 30km/h doesn't encourage people to live here, but having multicultural activities certainly does.

902 - Karen McElhinney

Care needs to be taken, when granting consents for new commercial buildings, that people with disabilities are able to gain easy access.

904 - George Cox

The vision looks pretty good to me. I would like to see a bit more stuff about the climate and ecological restoration.

918 - Gina Dellabarca (Show Me Shorts Film Festival Trust)

In order to become a cultural powerhouse funds will need to be invested into cultivating the local screen industry in particular. This sector requires to strands to keep it functioning - attracting foreign productions to shoot in Canterbury, and supporting local filmmakers to tell the stories of Christchurch.

968 - Nick Piper

We need to focus on making our communities safer with less crime

Not Stated

1071 - Brian Donovan

This has not been happening due to the billion plus spent in the inner city at the expense of the wider community

1100 - Alistair McKinnon

There is not a good link between the Community outcomes and the strategic goals.

1160 - Chichella Cook

Keep researching

1168 - Annie Pattison

If you have a city that is overly prioritised in one area it's not going to work. A city should function for many things; work life, going out with friends, recreation, safe for children and teens, safe for vulnerable people to be in (people with disabilities; wheelchair, deaf, blind), elderly, safe at night, low crime/hate crime, easy for first responders to get there

1175 - Jonathan Ludgater

Thus far it has been woeful

1229 - Cassandra Albert

As a Christchurch resident, I advocate for a sustainable, equitable city.

>>>

Nothing [Coder note: comment wise] aside from checking that you are genuinely living into the vision and underpinning values

1346 - Bianca McKinnon-Gee

Make sure people who have anti social tendencies are catered for, housed and supported to live their best life.

1373 - Luke Lagan

Bin it. CCC should simply focus on core infrastructure and stop trying to solve problems or pursue areas outside of what you're here to do. Get the basics right before focusing your attention to bigger challenges.

1448 - Josh Fiveash

Chch is still bouncing around trying to find itself and its direction. It's not the great city we grew up in with its proud heritage

1490 - Carolina Nery

Prioritise people's life is the most important than anything else.

1510 - Jan Whitehead (Banks Peninsula Sports & Recreation Inc)

Having a strong connected community working towards common goals that support as many as possible is always good.

1519 - Matthew Williams

Nice buzz words, but it overly simplistic and idealistic

1546 - Robert Fleming

It was inevitable that Christchurch would get its mojo back eventually; it is great to see that it is starting to happen. We have to build on what we've achieved so far and keep the momentum going. Sustainability over superficiality, slow and measured decision making, people focussed neighbourhoods, good transport choices, higher density living with good public space, inclusivity (most definitely) good community support for those who are struggling.

161 - Sam Apps

Just keep it simple and cheap.

1650 - Deb Osborn

Vision statements say all the right words but in my cynical view are meaningless

1654 - Jane Ross

Your vision should be for the citizens of Christchurch. The local businesses and local farmers. Not listening to global dictators. The City Council seems to thrive on red tape. Consents move so slowly. Some people get paid an awful lot for saying "no" to businesses.

1657 - Victoria Panckhurst

Yes, i find it utterly depressing.

1669 - Sandra Ballantyne

Common sense approach to not wasting money

1717 - Mark Doyle

Less personal vanity projects from Councillors or contributions to religious institutions like the Christ Church Cathedral rebuild.

1737 - Tim O'Sullivan

[Other/ Special Interest Topics > Cathedral]

This section of the document, in fact the whole document, leaves out any mention of the religious aspect of life for the citizens of Christchurch. Vast numbers of Christchurch people go to Church on Sunday. The current issue of the Cathedral in the square does not appear to have been mentioned in the Consultation Document (although it may be mentioned elsewhere in the voluminous documentation associated with this budget). A healthy society, which the Council does want, is not helped by the omission of the Christian religion as a factor in the community life of Christchurch. The vision of a "thriving, inclusive and sustainable city" needs to include Christianity as it is one of the dominant themes of life in Christchurch since the foundation of the city in 1850. The position of the Cathedral in the Square is a indicator of this importance.

>>>

The idea of partnership is a good one however no particular ethnic group should be singled out for special "partnership" over and above those opportunities given to all Christchurch inhabitants.

174 - Joe Cole

Vibrancy of a city is important.

1749 - Nicole Baxter-Warren

It will be represented in the actions taken by council. I still feel the representation within the council still needs consideration.

1773 - Thommy Jerneskog

Don't forget to make sure those that are now sitting wealthy as a result of cheap land in the past is also contributing to the future, and not just new into the housing market as an example. Realistically, Christchurch doesn't have a shortage of wealth to fund what we need to do, but we have a high inequity that isn't fairly balanced.

1793 - Pamela Hughes

Hopefully it will be achievable under this government (national not local)

180 - Kevin McSweeney

They are nice words but essentially meaningless

1814 - Jenny Atkin

My thought is that you completely ignored what the people want. You asked in your survey not long ago what matters to us the most. The people have put rates in the first place. Your vision and strategic priorities ignore it in the most blatant way. Why ask for our feedback if you are going to ignore it? This is laughing in our face and it shows you are acting unfaithfully. I am amazed at how disconnected you are from reality. It is very concerning to me how you abuse your power and how you ignore what the common person wants in favour of a small and vocal interest group that push their agenda. This is misuse of public money. It is called corruption.

1864 - Kylie Williams

We don't need to keep up with the rest of the country we were made to stand out.

1873 - Marjorie Manthei (Victoria Neighbourhood Association Inc)

The Strategic Priorities that match the VNA's objectives include "inclusive & equitable....prioritising wellbeing, accessibility and connection"; "addressing issues important to residents" and "balancing needs of today's and future generations". The Outcomes that match are "collaborative, confident city" and "green, liveable city".

>>>

Consultation with our members focussed on specific topics of most relevance to our residents' group and aspects that members were confident to comment on. From current and past consultations on these aspects, we can confirm our priorities are public transport, control of the proliferation of unhosted Short Term Accommodation, environmental issues (including climate change action) and incentives to use vacant sites productively.

1977 - Nicholas Lealand

Just do the right things to live into those values.

1997 - Justine Wright

Christchurch needs to stand out as one who does NOT fall down at the whim of a minority group. we are One-Eyed Cantabrians for a reason. stand firm stand your ground and don't bend at the will of fringe groups wanting to change or take things away from who we are. Cantabrians accept everyone. regardless of age, sex, religion etc. don't create divisive groups by giving something with a trend, time, control or money. I am proud to be an 'old fashioned' values person who treats those well who do the same to me.

20 - Ross Williamson

All well and good, but don't get bogged down in rhetoric, keep it simple.

2009 - CW Young

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Tarras Airport]; [Other/Special Interest Topics>Governance]

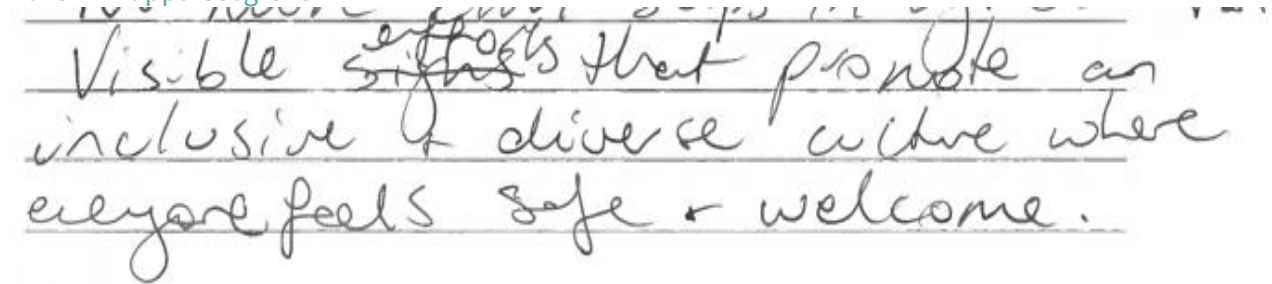

Investments which yield positive long-term outcomes, eg Tarras South Island Airport project. Let the savvy business people, instead of elected Councillors who have no business background and acumen, guide and lead the projects.

>>>

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Tarras Airport]; [Other/Special Interest Topics>Staff Matters]; [Strategic Direction>Financial Strategy]

The plan does not explore the potential savings, without compromising critical services, in reducing bureaucracy and cutback on staff members, as well as increasing efficiency of works performance. It also lacks timely, visionary and strategic investments by the ChCh Holdings (eg Tarras South Island Airport project).

2043 - Philippa Cosgrove

Visible efforts that promote an inclusive & diverse culture where everyone feels safe & welcome.

2097 - Marie Haley

CCC staff do not understand Banks Peninsula communities, history and priorities.

210 - Vicky Jones

I consider the Arts Center pivotal to successful community outcomes.

2106 - Courtney Reid (Pūharakekenui Styx Living Laboratory Trust)

That alignment of environmental community outcomes level of service needs to be reflected in aligned funding that supports that across all parks.

2110 - Jennifer McMaster

The council needs to make clear commitments to greening the city, increasing funding to public transport, honouring Te Tiriti, and reducing the impact of climate change for current and future generations.

2115 - Billie Kaine

No confidence

2183 - Hali Stauffer

While I understand that the priorities outlined may require significant investment, I firmly believe they represent responsible stewardship of resources and pave the way for a brighter future for Christchurch. We have the opportunity to shape a city where everyone thrives, characterised by sustainability, equity, and a strong commitment to its citizens. By prioritising these initiatives, we can build a community that not only meets the needs of the present but also lays a foundation for generations to come.

2289 - Leonie Jackson

Do you have any thoughts on our vision, community outcomes and strategic priorities?

Building a green, liveable city, as stated in the LGA, means the Council must: continue to build cycleways (despite the views of the Mayor and some councillors): *increase our tree canopy with more plantings: take the transport focus away from cars to reduce emissions and protect our waterways. * Our neighbourhood attended Community Board meetings to have trees reinstated in 'Talltree Avenue! we tried for 10 years! Polite listening, but NO ACTION.

2358 - Carolyn Moffat

[Transport > Cycleways (Capital)]

One sentence jumps out at me - manage the ratepayers' money wisely. We haven't always seen that recently ie the temporary cycle lane along Park Terrace, which was not really required when the pathway alongside the park could have been used, and Pedestrians directed to the adjacent pathway in the park (Park Tce section only - I support Rolleston Ave section).

2418 - Hannah Harrison

More priority on public services and equity initiatives

2422 - Debora Mora

I Didn't become freehold by the time I was 42 by spending beyond my means. I'd love the council to take this same spending philosophy. E.G If You Can't Afford It! And don't need it, don't spend on it!
SIMPLE

243 - Peter Townsend

Concentrate on ensuring Christchurch is New Zealand's city of choice. That requires a balance of leadership, support and a clear strategy which creates a community that is affordable but provides all of the components of quality living.

2462 - Mark Cox

Its box ticking with no real meaning.

2603 - Ron Brooks

forget about inclusiveness and indoctrinating our youth with gender confusion and ferrys.

268 - Kathryn McNeil

These areas shouldn't be immune from cost savings if there are savings to be had.

277 - Jane Harrison

These are good - there needs to be clarity around how they will be implemented throughout Council, not just by the community teams. Please don't ignore the needs of small, isolated communities - we don't all live in the city.

278 - Robin Curry

The 6 Strategic directions are good but of the Community outcomes, the Green livable city doesn't appear to take into account Searise NZ predictions within the climate resilience. In your background document (the how) your supporting growth does acknowledge searise levels, to some degree, but at D- Responding to climate change where you have indicated the council my need to contribute should read WILL need to based on recent events.

2783 - Sarah Wilson (Te Ahu Pātiki Charitable Trust)

We support Council working towards a green liveable city and advocate that all goals relating to climate resilience, protecting and regenerating the environment (especially indigenous biodiversity), water bodies, and tree canopy, apply to all of Banks Peninsula (including the Port Hills) as well as urban Christchurch.

2784 - Jenny Smith (Te Whare Roimata Trust)

We recognise that Otautahi/Christchurch is growing and appreciate that there is a need to contain and curtail urban sprawl. How we do this in a way that supports the Council's strategic framework of 2024 – 2034 and its guide vision as a place of opportunity for all is the subject of our submission – particularly in ensuring the city is a collaborative, confident city where all residents can actively participate in community life and have a strong sense of belonging and identity, especially if we are to be an inclusive and equitable city.

28 - Geoff Egan

Lots of words, I don't know what you are on about

2841 - Hunter Craig

We have a great music culture here, seeing that that thrive is important

2936 - Ian Lochhead

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

As stated in the consultation documents these are all unexceptionable. However they will not be achieved if institutions such as the Arts Centre are deprived of essential CCC funding to offset the dramatic increase in insurance costs. The Arts Centre is already a cultural powerhouse within the city and serves a large and diverse community. The suggestion that it should simply be a property leasing body is offensive since it contradicts the intentions behind the founding gift of this asset to the city which was reiterated in the current legislation. The Art Centre provides performance venues at affordable rates that allows for local groups to present their work in a supportive environment. Such groups would be excluded if the cost structures imposed by Venues Otautahi were in force at the Arts Centre. Management of the Arts Centre is efficient and cost-effective and the CCC would struggle to deliver the level of service provided by the Arts Centre at a comparable cost. Furthermore, the charitable status of the Arts Centre allows it to access funds that would not be available to CCC if it was to operate the Arts Centre. I strongly support the ongoing funding of the Arts Centre at the current level of $1.8 million per annum for the duration of the LTP to ensure that this jewel in the city's arts crown can continue the role it has played in the life of the city since 1979.

2963 - Carolyn Roos

Get more of the community groups involved

3012 - George Laxton

I think these are great goals to be aiming for, whether or not we hit them depends on whether the council chooses to fund cycleways, improve public transport, create safer streets for our tamariki and invest in our future generations by adequately setting rates today for the future generations.

304 - Timothy Sjoberg

[Parks > Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration]

I would like to see more biodiversity in Christchurch as this would increase peoples mental and physical health which would make our city more attractive to others, build resilience within our infrastructure and bring people together.

3044 - Tony Smail

Council staff have best knowledge on this

3077 - Mike Davidson

Words are meaningless without action - actually implement things instead of just talking about it.

3088 - Heather Brown

Overall, dont forget about what type of quality of life we want here, and that this is thousands of peoples lives who are affected by these decisions. Often it is the people who dont have a voice who are affected negatively e.g. the poor, mentally unwell, immigrants.

3099 - Stephen Miller

Think small and efficient.

3131 - Johannes (Hans) Van Oyen

"A thriving, inclusive, and sustainable city for all". Who wouldn't want these things ? It's just what we expect every authority to achieve. Meaningless ! How/when do we measure these, who will be accountable?

3231 - Colin Foster

Keep doing what we are already doing but much more effectively

3238 - Fergus McCallum

[Transport > Roads (Operations)]

to improve community structure, reduce car speeds and access through built up suburbs

3248 - Dave Edwards

This is lip service and a waste of money. Thriving communities will do this themselves

3307 - Richard Griffiths

Inclusiveness must focus on low income demographic over all cultural minorities.

3414 - Chrissie Williams

The four listed community outcomes are so vague, that any spending or reduction in spending could be justified. It is difficult to see how these are reflected in the LTP. >>>Two statements in particular are unlikely to be achieved under this LTP: Biodiversity is supported: Ecosystems supporting biodiversity are protected and restored - little priority to protection of indigenous biodiversity in the LTP We improve the water quality of water resources to protect ecosystem health will not be achieved without proactive efforts to stop erosion on the Port Hills and reduce the sediment discharge into waterways

3484 - Prue Stringer

Community strengthening is vital to our adaptation, in particular to climate change.

3498 - Lucas Tomasi

Community must come first to keep the city functioning. If people have access to housing and hygiene it will keep people in jobs and keep the economy turning. Public cultural and art events will help improve the mental health of the citizens. Greenery boosts mental health it will also help with offsetting carbon emissions. If we plant a more diverse range of non deciduous native trees it will help reduce the amount of leaves blocking gutters and road ways while increasing the cities tree coverage and helping to make the 'garden city' more attractive to tourists. Public community events will also help tourists believe Christchurch is a thriving and interesting city

3523 - Kate Hedworth

The aims are good. The implementation is lacking. We need more action on reducing climate damage, and making a liveable city (i.e. massively curtail our reliance on cars!)

353 - John Mayhew

Visions are all in the individual mind. If those individuals want to fund it let them. Not ratepayers.

3535 - Anna Harper

Retain Christchurch as an attractive garden city in both the CBD and also the suburbs, that is vibrant, cultural, and inclusive of all ages, races and cultures. One that is easy to move around and engage in community activities.

354 - Vivienne Allan

It's all very visionary as it always is. It would be good to see some idea of what has happened to the visions of the past decade and how they have come to fruition.

3575 - Anna Hansson

They are nice words and nice ambitions. Can you deliver though?

3581 - Steven Barbour

Given how both The Art Centre and Orana Wildlife Park are both screaming for money to survive, I do question how representative this document is with regards to the real issues of concern for the community.

3586 - Rachel Geddis

It's all lovely rhetoric. But here we are, many years on from the earthquake and we still have empty lots, derelict buildings, and a church that has gone bust. I think before we look forward, we need to catch up. You've left 10+ years behind in some areas when it comes to the earthquakes. And it would be good to not have to be reminded of how slow we are to respond to such significant events.

3613 - Catherine McLeavy

Chch will not be a leading and equitable city if no one can afford to live here. Or doesn't have any spare cash after paying rates to enjoy living here.

3615 - Janine Clarke

Utilise BIG data to demonstrate outcomes.

3693 - Lynette Wills

Christchurch should be the most desirable city that most NZ'ers want to live and work in.

3731 - Heather McHarg

Minimal support for Communities and Citizens,

>>>

No mention of community support

>>>

Reference the strategic priority: Be an inclusive and equitable city which puts people at the centre of developing our city and district, prioritising wellbeing, accessibility and connection. There are many non-profit organisations run by volunteers within the city to support a range of community needs.

3741 - Kevin Spaul

I don't think so but you need to Engage more with the residents more and get better feed back from them

3745 - Victoria Rathgen

Obviously the government doesn't care about the environment so therefore it's up to the ccc to step up and do its part more so than before, this is about our children.

3763 - John Graham

That sounds like a fairytale.

3798 - M-Webb User

A thriving and sustainable city with connected communities that priorities safer walking, cycling and public transport. Access for all to the great outdoors and clean safe rivers and beaches.

3807 - Graeme Remington

No immediate thoughts as such, am happy with our vibrant city.

3826 - Kate Cleverly

The green liveable city is vital to restoring Christchurch's reputation as the garden city and investing in the wellbeing of its people.

>>>

It is vital to put people first and invest in local communities. Connections are the base for a community. Without them, you simply have a group of people living in the same area. When we have those deep connections at a neighbourhood level, people have greater capacity for caring, volunteering and support which then enables those larger aspects of our vision such as events, transport, social capital, safety and community engagement in decision making. It is therefore vital that the council invests in local community development through funding for community organisations and facilities - such as the Halswell Community Project, Halswell Community Hub and others around our city.

385 - Francesca Brown

[Parks > Other]

Planetary Health and Human Wellbeing go hand in hand - parkland, coastal environmental are all essential to wellbeing.

>>

[Strategic direction > Climate Change], [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > City Planning]

I remain unconvinced that there is deep understanding on what sustainable means - its an over used word - we need to get clear on what we actually mean and do that. Be bold, be brave - we need to make really bold actions for planetary health. This WILL benefit human wellbeing and this will then have other benefits. The way we currently do things like the design of subdivisions could make a real statement towards this, yet we continue to build poor quality housing stock in poorly designed subdivisions. Places like the High Street School site in Dunedin give an example on a small scale of what the future of housing should look like. One small example.

3850 - Stephanie Remington

Stick to your knitting! Keep it to the basics and do that well!

3865 - Maxine Donovan

We all want the best outcome in a cost-effective and timely way, so hopefully that can be achieved.

3883 - Colin Meurk

we need to be more visionary and build our city on happiness, well-being, equity, ecological assets, attracting slow tourism and vibrant but modest economy. people want to stay and visit.

3899 - Harrison McEvoy

There needs to be a bigger focus on proactive community engagement. There needs to be a bigger focus on building a city that is accessible and active and there must be more consideration given to building a city that is sustainable

>>>

[Rates > other]

Invest. Without Investment there is no future. If it means a 20% rates increase then do it. There is no future without investment and if you want to keep people in this city it must be a city worth living in. I support the submission of Greater Ōtautahi.

4018 - Winston Howison

I value investment in social and community development projects

4032 - Paul Dietsche

Protect and support our most vulnerable

423 - Linda MacIntyre

He waka eke noa - we are all in this together. We all must work earnestly together now.

430 - Kate Porter

Not a heavy user of community based initiatives Prefer not to pay for this

437 - Chrystal Gray

Australia is a better to live than shit nz

450 - Allison Husband

Most important is maintaining a balance in community outcomes - across all fields of interest.

454 - Jude Rogers

What matters most is our planet: reducing emissions, sustainability, clean water, clean air, green environments in the city.

>>>

For me, the priorities are green areas and cultural institutions like Art Gallery, Arts Centre, libraries, museum.

458 - Christine Cockle

Yes, we are all one people. Like me, some are maori, most aren't, but we are all equal. I don't understand why maori are given such a big say in everything and it always costs money.

459 - Aaron Watson

Priorities should be roads, footpaths, water pipes.

460 - Karina Arana

The citizen is the right thing. You are sending us, the citizen to depression, anxiety and even considering suicide.

>>>

Prioritize the citizen wellbeing by not increasing rates. But reducing corporate areas where the real expense is.

464 - Mary McCammon

[Grants and Funding>Events Ecosystem Funding]

I believe that big international events are not the correct focus for a council, in terms of sustainability. The council should be (1) providing, maintaining and improving infrastructure (2) supporting community through libraries and swimming pools (3) maintaining the city's built and natural heritage

(4) making climate change adaptation and resilience a feature of every decision.

499 - Michael Sumpter

Communities will be too broke to care given continued rates increases

505 - Laura Jones

community cohesion is increasingly important and needs to be supported - Libraries , parks , etc.

529 - Don Reekie (Parkstone Musical Appreciation Group)

[Grants & Funding>Arts Centre Funding]

Services that ensure a quality of life and cultural and pleasure activities are important. The Arts Centre not only does this it is Iconic. For citizens and gives unique value in tourist attractiveness.

>>>

The Council has had it priorities about right. Now it is changing its values and priorities. It will be a lack lustre city if Art Gallery and Art Centre and Libraries have reduced services.

>>>

Climate and transport is important, water and waste is essential. However culture is of far greater significance than Council seems to appreciate.

531 - Cameron Bradley

Whatever makes the councillors feel good. The proof is in the pudding though - council needs to do much more to achieve these things.

533 - Judith Livingstone

Encourage houses to recycle water where possible, build sound community centres so you can listen to people better Previously you have held meetings with your own agendas and not listened!

570 - Greg Partridge

They look good on paper, however how you execute them is yet to be determined. Talk is cheap if there isn't the budget there to back up those goals.

657 - Murray Peacock

Once again money cannot be thrown away all money spent must create value

699 - Helen Reddecliffe

Nothing I haven't already said.

705 - John Hendrickx

Get back to basics

712 - Liz van Montfort

This vision is all very well if you can afford it - but I don't think you can

760 - David Palmer

Focus more on delivering and worry less about rates rises.

781 - Jenene Parker

[Spending>Our Proposed Spending]

ALWAYS DO ESSENTIALS FIRST AND THE 'NICE TO HAVES' AFTER. THAT'S WHAT BUDGETING IS!

814 - Malcolm McKellar

Plan for the next generation, not the wealthy loud voices of mine.

818 - Bevan Phillipson

Honestly, i dont know what Christchurch needs to beprioritising. Overall, How we progress may require The Basics to be the only tasks, at least until our city Economy "recovers". Water, Waste, Wonder, (my name for enjoy&healthy times.).

843 - Ngaire Donelda Bacon

Building a thriving inclusive + sustainable city will not happen until rate payers have full confidence in senior leadership. Unfortunately Council's vision never seems to come together as they stumble from one disaster to another.

845 - Cris Fulton

Protect our water, health services and education services

861 - John Cumberpatch

Further information on each community outcome and what it means for means for the district is set out below.

Outcome	Explanation
A collaborative confident city	Our residents have the opportunity to actively participate in community and city life, have a strong sense of belonging and identity, and feel safe. What this means for our district: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • We can actively participate: Residents and groups in the wider community are socially and actively engaged and can initiate, influence and make decisions that affect their lives.
	The reality is that unfortunately a majority of our community are ambivalent at best, and as with all consultations the vocal minority have too much sway based on statistics and not objective reasoning.

880 - Peter Kim

Great presentation, lacks substance and any hints of successful execution. No accountability. Overall great fluff piece

907 - Mandy Jarden

Balancing climate change impacts, infrastructure, events in the art/entertainment arena, and holding a vision for the future that is proactive rather than reactive

982 - Craig Newbury

Community outcomes and strategic priorities sound like waffle to me. But imagine how everybody would get behind you if you said and showed ways of reducing rates!

General Comments

50 submissions were received on the proposed performance framework.

13 submitters provided comments in support of the proposed framework, and 5 submitters provided comments in opposition.

19 provided alternatives to the proposed performance framework, and 14 provided general comments about the proposal.

Officers Response

The submissions on Performance Framework show a high / very high level of support for maintaining services at their current levels. This is especially the case for core levels of service.

There is a lesser degree of support for finding savings, and much of this carries the caveat that any savings should not be at the expense of levels of service.

There is however no clear indication of what 'core services' means and this may differ from person to person.

Support in submissions for keeping LOS at their current level is high and there is a strong focus in the majority of submissions on preserving services.

While there was support for savings, there was relatively little appetite for finding savings directly from service cuts.

There is a small number of suggestions for a specific level of service measure and these should be communicated to the responsible Head of Service for consideration.

Overall the approach to levels of service set out in the draft LTP 2024 is well supported by community submissions and could proceed on that basis.

Support

1516 - Kerrie Young \(Kāinga Ora – Homes and Communities\)

- 6. Kāinga Ora supports the proposed new levels of service to grow social housing and deliver on the Greater Christchurch Partnership's Joint Housing Action Plan.

1522 - David Alexander

The current level of service makes Christchurch a great city to live in. The council provides socialised services that cushion these difficult times.

2584 - Susan Stevens

Happy with the current level of service.

2639 - Callum Ward (Waihoru Spreydon Cashmere Heathcote Community Board)

The Board supports maintaining the existing levels of service.

2806 - Tony Fraser

Maintain levels of service

>>>

Maintain same level of service

>>>

Maintain same levels of service

2808 - Kate Whyte

[Full attachment available]

I support maintaining our existing levels of service and investment in core infrastructure and facilities where this contributes positively to future generations when looking through a climate change lens

3585 - Rachel Fulton

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Asset Sales]

Yes Cost reductions can't come from service cuts, or from the sale of assets.

3637 - Sam Davidson

The council's commitment to maintaining and enhancing service levels is crucial. For instance, the underachievement in safety audits of buildings and the shortfall in community housing are pressing issues. Only 3% of the targeted safety audits were completed, and there's a necessity to increase community housing significantly. These examples underscore the need for more robust investment in our city's resilience and public health, highlighting the inadequacy of the proposed funding levels.

3695 - Pamela Pye

Support rating to maintain existing levels of service and operational funding (especially for libraries)

3783 - Arthur McGregor

I value the services that the Council provides and do not want service levels to decrease, even if that means paying more in rates.

597 - Ashleigh Dickson

I don't believe council would be able to remove any services they offer.

601 - David Ralph

[Rates>Residential Rates]

No. We need to invest in Christchurch. Do not cut services. Increase rates more to pay to get ahead.

>>>

Cut backs cost more in long run. Keep services as is or invest further to be better and get ahead of the game. Prepared to pay more in rates if it makes our city a better place to live.

608 - Patrick Clarke

Its critical these services and infrastructure works continue or increase never reduce.

Oppose

1362 - Pablo Rodriguez

We should not cut back on the level of services already provided. I strongly disagree with the proposal to change the level of service for drinking water losses to 20% by 2030 and 15% by 2034.

1474 - Céira Dernhagen

[Three Waters>Water Supply (Capital)]

We should not cut back on the level of services already provided. I strongly disagree with the proposal to change the level of service for drinking water losses to 20% by 2030 and 15% by 2034

3672 - Neil McKenzie

Not cutting core services is absolutely essential. Long term support for infrastructure, libraries etc is a favourite thing to cut around 3 yearly elections. PLEASE don't do this.

>>>

Please continue to provide services so I can enjoy living in a well run city. Rates relief where needed but no reduction in core services that cities ought to provide for the residents to enjoy.

3673 - Theo van Woerkom

[Rates > Residential Rates]

The rates increases are becoming unaffordable. Please cut services!

812 - Matthew Fagan

[Three Waters > Operations], [Rates > Residential Rates]

Not according to the planned LOS changes regarding the proportion of residents satisfied with council responsiveness to water supply problems, and the drop in % of sealed road network that is resurfaced every year. Dropping the metrics because the council has continued to underfund maintenance does not mean you are doing an acceptable job. I understand road resurfacing is expensive, and the investments in public transit and cycling infrastructure will hopefully reduce wear and tear on the roads, but the lack of investment in our failing water infrastructure is criminal. Rates need to increase now to cover the actual cost of maintaining our water infrastructure.

Other

1302 - Melanie Forsyth

We need to decrease service levels then for the services that provide the least value to the masses. Its a difficult decision but most households are stretched already and cannot afford a rate increase at that level.

1391 - Anna Gruczynska

The same goes for the levels of service - the CORE levels of service that are demonstrably important to ratepayers need to be maintained, but not necessarily peripheral ones. Presumably satisfaction surveys track which LOS matter to people, and to which they are indifferent. I feel like it is assumed that every single thing that the Council decides to do is equally important and that maintaining LOS of every single thing is equally important, as evidenced by this question looking for a yes/no answer.

1436 - Victoria Andrews

Maintain and enhance the level of service (LOS) for council facilities and activities in Akaroa.

>>>

Akaroa is a rural, remote and isolated community located 80 kilometres from Christchurch. It is therefore critical to retain and enhance levels of service for ratepayers. In addition, the town must provide a professional level of service for domestic and international visitors since tourism underpins the local economy. Akaroa is also a major tourism attraction for the Canterbury region.

1456 - Henry Bersani

Re. provision of services, I highly oppose any reductions.

1734 - Fergus O'Neill

[Strategic Direction > Climate Change], [Parks > Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration]

Yes, cost reductions should not come from service cuts, or cuts to climate change or biodiversity programme.

2404 - Grant MacLeod

[Rates>Residential Rates]; [Strategic Direction>Infrastructure Strategy]

Deferred maintenance only saves today, you'll end up spending just as much operationally, meet the levels of service, but perhaps be mindful that not all communities need built infrastructure in such a small city.

2565 - Neet Subraman

[Rates>Residential Rates]; [Strategic Direction>Financial Strategy]

The important bit here is maintaining the existing level of service. This cannot be compromised. However, please explore if the level of investment can be staggered a bit more so that the rates increase can go up as inflation cools down.

2586 - Leeann Watson (Business Canterbury)

Economic development Sustainable economic development is seen by Business Canterbury members as a core deliverable for the Council, so consideration must be given across all services the Council delivers, oversees and funds as without a strong economy, the Council's ability to deliver their services is compromised as are the livelihoods of our residents and the future of business (and commercial rates payers).

Business Canterbury recommends that the Council has a stronger focus on internal economic development activity, supported by ChristchurchNZ and other stakeholders to ensure that all council decisions and strategies are aligned with economic development objectives. While we acknowledge the work that ChristchurchNZ does leading economic development, it should be taken into account across the whole Council when making decisions about priorities.

311 - Peter Clark

Focus ONLY on providing the minimum essential services. Leave the rest to private enterprise.

3325 - Adele Geradts

Snap send solve is awesome but issues are not always followed up by the council and then residents chase things but feel they are not heard. There needs to be more follow-up on things from the council side. More checking that things have been fixed. Actively balance the needs of today's residents with the needs of future generations, with the aim of leaving no one behind.

3550 - Sam Hewitt

Absolutely the existing level of service should be maintained, cost savings should be found wherever there is wastage. The current level of service should not be cut to appease those who sit on a giant pile of money in the form of a house.

3610 - Eric Stierna

The long-term plan should set specific, clear targets for the city to achieve to meet the community outcome of a green, liveable city. These targets should be linked to specific actions that ratepayers, residents, and visitors should take to support the outcome. Giving ratepayers, residents, and visitors specific actions to take aligns our entire community in achieving the community outcome

3697 - Jennie Brittenden

[Libraries > Operations]

There are certain services that could be reduced, for example libraries with less opening hours.

3724 - Terence Sissons

The Council should act as any prudent householder would and live within its means. If that means cutting expenditure on non-essential services or postponing improvements in service levels or new capital assets so be it.

>>>

Now is not the time to be improving service levels that are satisfactory now. When we've got over Te Kaha and started to receive an economic return on the council's underperforming assets will be the time to think about improving service levels.

>>>

My main concerns are about prioritising and timing. In particular the timing of improved service levels

3738 - Finn Jackson

[Three Waters > Operational]

In addition, I support: - Percentage of real water loss from Council's water supply reticulated network (DIA 2) (12.0.6) $\leq 20\%$ by 2030 and $\leq 15\%$ by 2034 - Median time (in hours) from notification to resolution of overflows resulting from network faults (DIA 3b) (11.0.1.6) ≤ 12 .

I am concerned by the proposed level of service "Percentage of total wastewater gravity network pipework length at condition grade 5 (very poor) (11.0.1.18)." This will allow our wastewater network to reduce in quality over the next ten years, from 17% in very poor condition in 2024/25 to up to 26% by 2034. I would prefer to see this amended to reduce this number to 10% by 2034 instead. We need to improve our water assets, not manage their decline.

3758 - Mads Churchhouse

CCC should not just maintain its current levels of service, but it should also increase them, and raise rates as necessary to do it.

4001 - Jennifer Porter

Not included in the plan but please review the noise control service. It is totally ineffective. Something more local would be better than working through Auckland – much time wastes with spelling of street names. Living in the vicinity of the university means many noisy out of control parties.

550 - Colin Mansell

[Libraries > Operations]

Can maybe cut back on some opening hours for libraries etc but not to the extent that use is discouraged

822 - Gavin Scott-Petersen

A clear, transparent plan outlining how these projects will deliver long-term value and how their costs will be managed responsibly is essential for public confidence. Maintaining financial flexibility and finding permanent efficiencies in day-to-day spending are positive steps towards sustainable governance.

It's crucial, however, that these efficiencies do not compromise the quality of essential services. Ensuring that operational savings are achieved through genuine efficiency improvements, rather than cost-cutting measures that could degrade service quality, is vital.

In conclusion, while I support the council's intent to advance our city's infrastructure, I advocate for a cautious approach in project selection and financial management. Focusing on essential projects that deliver widespread benefits, coupled with a commitment to financial sustainability and transparency, will ensure that our city progresses without compromising its financial health or the quality of services provided to its residents.

Not Stated

1429 - Mike Harvey (Christchurch Metro Cricket Association)

[Strategic Direction > Infrastructure Strategy]

It is important to maintain the current level of services and ensure that the infrastructure is available to support a growing population

2028 - Karyn Haugh

Existing levels of service area poor. Christchurch is not looked after like it was years ago.

2385 - Ezra Mussa

Examples of services which need more investment include: Auditing buildings for safety. CCC did not meet its target of 20% safety audits, instead doing 3%. Therefore, more funding is needed.

2389 - Aurora Garner-Randolph

For example, more safety audits are needed, because ccc didn't reach its target of 20 percent safety audits.

2807 - David Close (Christchurch East Labour Electorate Committee)

We were gratified to see that the number of performance measures had been reduced in number, and that past performance was provided in most cases. We had made submissions on these matters in the past.

Performance measures need to be clear and memorable – the sort of statistic that a Councillor can trot out at a community meeting to make a point. Some performance measures (evidently mandated by DIA) don't make sense. For example, the performance measure for flooding of houses in 2022-23 was 0.013 habitable floors per 1000 properties. By all means, report the incomprehensible statistic to DIA, but please convert it to a base of 100,000 properties for local consumption, or better, provide the actual number.

Submission

That performance measures be revised where appropriate.

Statements of service provision

We were surprised that the statements began, not with series of objectives, but a list of so-called 'negative effects'. It appeared that staff had obeyed an instruction to write lists of negative effects and were hard pressed to know what to write. For example, Water Supply Negative Effects Included:

Economic

Cost of operating a compliant potable water supply. (Inane – cost affects almost every human activity.)

Environmental

Salt-water intrusion in coastal regions compromises water quality. (Not a negative effect of the activity but a failure in service provision if it occurs.)

To list a set of alleged negative effects of an activity which has been of the greatest benefit to public health, without reference to the benefits, is incongruous.

Submission

That introductions to Statements of Service Provision be re-written.

319 - Fay Stickley

Council is not rated highly by average community. Might work for the rich but how about talking to the real workers

3581 - Steven Barbour

At the end of all this I would like to see clear, identifiable objectives, with clear indicators showing what is being achieved and whether progress is meeting those objectives as was intended (with relevant costs of course) - for the Christchurch population on an annual basis.

3679 - Janet Perry

Basic services have to be maintained as a priority.

3699 - John McCombs

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Asset Sales]

Do not support asset sales or service cuts.

>>>

The Council should not be cutting back on services to lower rates. This would be a retrograde step and disproportionately affect lower income groups.

3732 - Harry Stronach (Akaroa Ratepayers & Residents Assn Inc)

Satisfaction Survey Perhaps congratulations are in order. I see that in latest survey on the question of “General Satisfaction with Council Performance”, the results suggest that the downward slide of the Council’s standing with the ratepayers may have levelled off somewhat, having been fairly steady in the range 42-46 % for the last 3 years.

Mind you, other results make grim reading: - Only 16% of respondents believe that the council makes wise spending decisions - Only 32% believe that the council makes decisions in the best interests of the city - Only 26% believe that ratepayers have any real influence over decisions that the council makes.

It seems that most ratepayers believe that the council is making unwise spending decisions, that are not in the best interest of the city, and that ratepayers don’t have any control over the situation. So there is still quite a lot of work to be done to bring this council up to a performance level where we can all take some satisfaction in agreeing that we are on the right track.

4005 - Janet Lockyer

I read about changing the level of service for drinking water loss to 20% by 2030 to 15% by 2034 on page 43 (of 64). What does that mean? I could not find this information (right hand column on page 43).

416 - Mike Cleaver (Canterbury)

I find our current service levels acceptable.

>>>

I currently find the services that I use, are good. My focus has been on public transport, libraries, and parks. I find that there of course could be improvements, but maintaining these, is at an acceptable level and I wish for that to continue at the very least.

523 - Andrew Eadon-Jones

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre]

Your existing level of service includes funding aspects of the arts centre, but thats has disappeared from the LTP... its a very iconic piece of NZ heritage thats needs public funding.

608 - Patrick Clarke

Its critical these services and infrastructure works continue or increase never reduce.

Our Treaty Relationships

General Comments

49 submissions were received on our Treaty relationships.

11 submitters provided comments in support, and 2 submitters provided comments in opposition.

30 provided alternative comments suggesting what we could do differently, and 8 provided general comments about our Treaty relationships.

Officers Response

- -Honour the Treaty and Treaty obligations
- -Return land to Mana Whenua
- -More visibility of things Māori
- -Mana whenua in governance roles
- -Climate mitigation and Māori involvement
- -Climate Mitigation and Adaptation
- -More Te Reo/Less Te Reo
- -Uri Pa and cemeteries
- -Māori Ward
- -Working directly with marginalized communities

The CCC and Nga Papatipu Rūnaka continue to work toward determining where culturally significant land is located to ensure that any contended issues are addressed. In addition to our statutory obligations, Council has entered into a range of co-governance and partnership arrangements to advance the mutual interests of all parties. These reflect Council's commitment to engage and consult with Ngā Papatipu Rūnaka (representatives of Mana Whenua) about issues that are important to them. For example: The Council entered into a Relationship Agreement with Ngā Papatipu Rūnaka in 2016 and established a Standing Committee (Te Hononga Council - Papatipu Rūnaka Committee). Te Hononga comprises the Chairs of the Council and Ngā Papatipu Rūnaka, along with the Chair of the Multicultural Committee.

This has been mandated by the elected members of the council and Papatipu Rūnaka.

For its most recent Representation Review, in 2021, staff sought the views of Papatipu Rūnanga regarding the creation of a Māori ward. A Māori ward was not supported at this time. At the 26 November 2020 councillor briefing on the representation review process, the Council decided not to seek a formal resolution on whether to establish Māori wards. The Council provides other mechanisms for Māori involvement in decision-making, including formalising a relationship with Ngā Rūnanga, the establishment of Te Hononga Council Committee and Treaty Relationship Advisors, and reaching a Memorandum of Understanding with Mahaanui Kurataiao Limited.

Where and when possible the CCC and Papatipu endeavour to demonstrate the importance of mahi toi, toi whakaari and toi whakairo by incorporating these taonga in city design. The CCC has employed the services of a Treaty Team that comprises of Papatipu Rūnaka members that work in conjunction with the Council, Papatipu and wider community. The Council also partners with Mahaanui Kura Taiao and Whitiara, both of which when combined, represent the six papatipu rūnaka in the Christchurch catchment area. These two organisations partner with the Council to deal with Coastal matters, significant projects (such as Otakaro Avon River) environmental concerns and other impactful issues that not only affect Mana Whenua and the Council but the wider community also.

It is also important to note that CCC (through the Treaty team) work alongside and support providers in the community that work directly with marginalized communities, local iwi and the disabled.

Support

1859 - Lucy Gray

Fund Māori health and wellbeing, fund our whakapapa being upheld, fund Te Tiriti o Waitangi.

2121 - Cassie Welch (National Public Health Service (NPHS) Te Waipounamu)

46. NPHS Te Waipounamu recommends that the Council's responsibility and commitment to Te Tiriti o Waitangi is explicitly incorporated into CCCs strategic priorities. We recommend the following amendments:

- Be an inclusive and equitable city which honours Te Tiriti o Waitangi and puts people at the centre of developing our city and district, prioritising wellbeing, accessibility, and connection.
- Build trust and confidence in the Council through meaningful partnerships and communication, listening to and working with manawhenua, community groups, and other stakeholders, and residents.

47. NPHS Te Waipounamu note that CCC prioritises working in partnership with manawhenua and Māori, and that Ngā Papatipu Rūnanga shared their key priorities during the early development of the CCC Long Term Plan. We also note that many key priorities of Ngā Papatipu Rūnanga are related to environmental protection. We recommend that Council include Mana whenua in their community outcomes, particularly the outcome of: a green liveable city, as Mana whenua are kaitiaki (guardians) of the whenua (land), and mātauranga Māori can provide critical knowledge to support good decision making in protecting and restoring the environment.

[Coder Note: Full attachment available]

2810 - Kari Hunter

I support ensuring mana whenua have strong involvement with governance, support for appropriate housing, ability to protect the land and waters of the takiwa, and good adaptation planning.

2868 - Jonty Coulson

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Coastal Hazards Adaption & Adaption Planning], [Parks > Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration], [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Strategic Transport], [Strategic Direction > Our Treaty Relationships]

As previously stated in my submission (where relevant), I believe more funding and support should be provided for: - Climate Mitigation and Adaptation - Centering public and active transport - Creating a robust biodiversity plan with increased funding and emphasis on naturally regenerating forest. - Enabling Tino Rangatiratanga and Te Tiriti o Waitangi to be a core part of decisionmaking processes.

3035 - Claire Coveney

Yes we live today for our children/tamariki and grandchildren/ mokopuna future. I suggest following Te Tiriti o Waitangias also integral to our way forward.

3676 - Ash Mcneur

Focus on upholding Te Tiriti- something the current govt seems uninterested in, or actively reeling back. Examples of urupa being in danger through sea level rise- this connects both with importance of these sites, the Māori people, and the environmental changes.

3770 - Jane Higgins

I would like to add that I fully support the Council having a close, formal, on-going working relationship with mana whenua. I support the priorities of Ngā Papatipu Rūnaka listed on pg 16. I believe this partnership is essential for honouring Te Tiriti o Waitangi, and also provides Council with a vital perspective that reaches back centuries while also being focused on future generations.

3779 - Layling Stanbury

please ignore the fearmongering hatespeech of the far right and continue to collaborate and co-govern with local iwi. Support grassroots organizations, they're more cost effective longterm.

3889 - Jessica Rees

It is encouraging to see the role of mana whenua recognised and celebrated

3936 - Carley Dove-McFalls

Te Tiriti Principles must be upheld despite the current national government in power.

840 - Kim Morton (Ōtautahi Creative Spaces)

Centre Te Tiriti, Ngā Toi Māori and Ngāi Tūahuriri so that their language, culture mātauranga Māori and unique identity is expressed. We fully support the strong visibility of Ngāi Tuahuriri in our built environment and the Council having strong relationships with iwi and hapu. We've witnessed the enormous benefit the whole community gets from the visibility and pride in Ngā Toi Māori and purakau of Ngāi Tūahuriri – for our artists this included learning about the cultural narratives embedded into Tūranga which offered a richer and deeper experience of Tūranga as part of our Sanctuary project.

Oppose

2603 - Ron Brooks

please and stop with the Maurie language stuff everywhere

3787 - Deb Donnell

[Strategic Direction > Other Policy Matters]

Get rid of "inclusive and equitable" and any other racist priority. I have lived and worked in Christchurch all my life; I have been a strong supporter of the city, and have written and published books on its journey over the past few decades, from before the Earthquakes, and into the future (with one due to come out very soon). I am ashamed with the over focus on Maori and LGBTQI+ activism, with the DEI and climate ideology, safe, accessible, smart 15 minute cities, none of which reflects the people who live here, or the long history of our city. In fact, all of that does the opposite. I say shame on the city councillors who are pushing this agenda - you know who you are, and I fully support the ones who are doing their best to prevent us going further into socialist ideological utopian tribal rule hell. Listen to the community and your ratepayers, and stop chasing the impossible. You are here to provide basic infrastructure and services; anything beyond this is an expensive "nice to have" which in this economic climate we cannot afford.

>>>

The only other thing I want to mention is the over emphasis on Maori culture in Christchurch. Yes, the Maoris are part of our city's history; but this should not come at the expense of our colonial history. Maori, British and other European, as well as Chinese and other cultures, are all threads that weave together to make our city's history. This becomes a beautiful story, one I am proud to share with my readers, who are locals, visitors from outside of Christchurch and tourists. We cannot promote one at the expense of the rest, whether it is through policy, politics, activism (racial, gender, etc.) and so on. There should be no room for racism, ideology or activism of any kind, including climate change, in the running of the CCC. All this should be excluded from the Draft Long Term Plan 2024-2034.

Other

1362 - Pablo Rodriguez

I want the CCC to be working directly with marginalized communities, especially local iwi and disabled folks, in all decision-making.

>>>

Establish a Maori ward

1452 - Maraed Riley

CCC implements a Māori ward. While the Māori electoral roll acknowledges Te Tiriti for Tangata Māori, Māori voters in Ōtautahi lack the freedom to vote as Māori to elect Māori representatives. This does not uphold the principles of Toitū Te Tiriti.

1618 - Zachary Imhoof

CCC establishes a Māori ward The Māori electoral roll gives effect to Te Tiriti for Tangata Māori, but Māori voters in Ōtautahi aren't free to vote as Māori to elect Māori representatives. This does not Toitū Te Tiriti.

1859 - Lucy Gray

Add a Māori Ward!

1870 - Sharmilla Freeman

CCC to establish a māori ward - Toitū te tiriti. A voice for the youth.

1882 - Anna-Marie Browne

To better represent our diverse community, the Council should establish a Māori Ward.

1984 - Chenille Anderson

Keep māori wards.

1998 - Grace Robinson

Addressing language accessibility and fulfilling Te Tiriti commitments, including instating a Māori ward and establishing the Ōtākaro Co-Governance Entity, are essential steps for promoting inclusivity and partnership with mana whenua.

2105 - Tawhai Darnielle Te Karu

Don't get rid of Maori wards and if there are none establish one.

2109 - Te Aomihia Te Huia

KEEP MĀORI WARDS

2183 - Hali Stauffer

I'd like to highlight several critical areas that Council should prioritise: 6. Establishment of a Māori ward and commitment to Te Tiriti o Waitangi: Ensuring Māori representation in local governance aligns with the principles of Te Tiriti o Waitangi and promotes equity and inclusivity within the community.

2385 - Ezra Mussa

[Parks > Otakaro Avon River Corridor Regeneration]

CCC must be more serious about its Te Tiriti commitments. For example on Vol 1, page 126, it says that a mitigation for urupa being threatened by sea level rise is that historic confiscations took place. This is absurdly inappropriate, and CCC must immediately put money into protecting these historic sites as it would for Pākehā cemeteries. CCC must immediately instate a Māori ward. Since CCC has now had several years of preliminary work on the Ōtākaro Co-Governance Entity, and CCC has maintained control over an awa of significance to mana whenua for decades, the Ōtākaro Co-Governance entity should be established in 2024 or 2025 at the latest.

2389 - Aurora Garner-Randolph

CCC must be more serious about its Te Tiriti commitments. For example on Vol 1, page 126, it says that a mitigation for urupa being threatened by sea level rise is that historic confiscations took place. This is absurdly inappropriate, and CCC must immediately put money into protecting these historic sites as it would for Pākehā cemeteries. CCC must immediately instate a Māori ward.

>>>

[Parks > Otakaro Avon River Corridor Regeneration]

Since CCC has now had several years of preliminary work on the Ōtākaro Co-Governance Entity, and CCC has maintained control over an area of significance to mana whenua for decades, the Ōtākaro Co-Governance entity should be established in 2024 or 2025 at the latest.

2811 - Nikora Nitro

City keeps cultural well-being getting there.

2819 - Beth Rouse (Avebury House Community Trust)

[Three Waters > Waterways Quality & Compliance]

Avebury House lives on the OARC. Our local heritage revolved around its early development and today we have come full circle as our area is again shaped by the river's restoration.

Funding for the green infrastructure and community- and iwi-led development that will drive that restoration is a priority for the city. Bringing back health to our waterways and natural regeneration were the top priority of respondents to the Regeneration Plan many years ago; we do not believe those priorities have changed. The Christchurch City Council should be enabling such projects, not withholding the necessary funding.

We strongly encourage Council to embrace co-governance and allow the city to benefit from the widest range of knowledge and expertise around waterways and ecosystem recovery.

As we enter more climate uncertainty, water and how we manage it will only become more critical. An excess user charge seems very reasonable, while ensuring it does not disproportionately disadvantage lower socio-economic residents.

2823 - Aurora Garner-Randolph (School Strike For Climate Ōtautahi)

Our response to the LTP is simple. We want CCC to start taking its obligations seriously. Those obligations aren't just to current ratepayers or voters; they're to all residents of the city, current and future. Another obligation that CCC is failing to uphold is its Te Tiriti responsibilities. Examples of failures to uphold Te Tiriti include the LTP allocating the same amount of money to the Ōtākaro Co-Governance Entity for years that it isn't operating as in the years that it is, or on page 126 of vol 1 where the threat of urupa being washed away is "mitigated" by noting that the land was confiscated. CCC must toitū Te Tiriti.

2826 - Dan Scott

CCC must urgently put more work into meeting its Te Tiriti obligations and in implementing decolonising measures. These should include, but are not limited to: - Introducing a Maori ward - Taking its Te Tiriti commitments into account when allocating funding for climate mitigation - Establishing the Otakaro Co-Governance entity

2827 - Carley Dove-McFalls (Generation Zero Ōtautahi)

As young people fighting for climate justice, we urge the CCC to strengthen its commitment to Te Tiriti principles. Colonisation is a root cause of climate change and therefore, decolonisation must be at the centre of the council's kaupapa. We urge the CCC to increase its funding towards the protection of important historical sites for Māori, to establish a Māori ward and to inaugurate co-governance entities.

3123 - Kate Markman

Also, can you please focus more on highlighting Māori achievements, history and tapu or taonga locations. I think it's crazy that there is so much amazing Māori history in Ōtautahi and the surrounding areas, but all we have are a few billboards and installations. It's far better than it was, but it really needs to be higher more.

3363 - Brodie Marra-Stevenson

Return more land to iwi control.

3637 - Sam Davidson

Regarding the council's obligations under Te Tiriti o Waitangi, it is essential that these commitments are not only recognized but also strengthened. The establishment of a Māori ward and the immediate implementation of the Ōtākaro Co-Governance Entity would be significant steps towards honouring these commitments.

3724 - Terence Sissons

Mana whenua and iwi Maori - agree that some deference could be afforded to the views of mana whenua within their areas of expertise, in recognition of their long association with the region, but the views of other iwi Maori should have no more influence than the views of any other citizen. Any "transfer" of council owned land to mana whenua should be at market value.

3746 - Quinn Ledgerwood-Gee

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Governance], [Parks > Heritage (Capital)], [Three Waters > Taumata Arowai Requirements]

CCC must be more serious about its Te Tiriti commitments. For example on Vol 1, page 126, it says that a mitigation for urupa being threatened by sea level rise is that historic confiscations took place. This is absurdly inappropriate, and CCC must immediately put money into protecting these historic sites as it would for Pākehā cemeteries. CCC must immediately instate a Māori ward. Since CCC has now had several years of preliminary work on the Ōtākaro Co-Governance Entity, and CCC has maintained control over an area of significance to mana whenua for decades, the Ōtākaro Co-Governance entity should be established in 2024 or 2025 at the latest.

CCC must be more serious about its Te Tiriti commitments. For example on Vol 1, page 126, it says that a mitigation for urupa being threatened by sea level rise is that historic confiscations took place. This is absurdly inappropriate, and CCC must immediately put money into protecting these historic sites as it would for Pākehā cemeteries. CCC must immediately instate a Māori ward. Since CCC has now had several years of preliminary work on the Ōtākaro Co-Governance Entity, and CCC has maintained control over an area of significance to mana whenua for decades, the Ōtākaro Co-Governance entity should be established in 2024 or 2025 at the latest.

3758 - Mads Churchhouse

CCC must be more serious about its Te Tiriti commitments. For example on Vol 1, page 126, it says that a mitigation for urupa being threatened by sea level rise is that historic confiscations took place. This is absurdly inappropriate, and CCC must immediately put money into protecting these historic sites as it would for Pākehā cemeteries. CCC must immediately instate a Māori ward. Since CCC has now had several years of preliminary work on the Ōtākaro Co-Governance Entity, and CCC has maintained control over an area of significance to mana whenua for decades, the Ōtākaro Co-Governance entity should be established in 2024 or 2025 at the latest.

3771 - Paul Bacon

Ignore Māori influence

>>>

Forget Māori ideas

3815 - Dianne French

No co-governance.

3968 - Joseph Fullerton (UC Climate Action Club)

- CCC must be more serious about its Te Tiriti commitments. For example on Vol 1, page 126, it says that a mitigation for urupa being threatened by sea level rise is that historic confiscations took place. This is absurdly inappropriate, and CCC must immediately put money into protecting these historic sites as it would for Pākehā cemeteries.
- CCC must immediately instate a Māori ward.
- Since CCC has now had several years of preliminary work on the Ōtākaro Co-Governance Entity, and CCC has maintained control over an area of significance to mana whenua for decades, the Ōtākaro Co-Governance entity should be established in 2024 or 2025 at the latest.

665 - Rene Arthur

Yes, I would like to see transfer of Council-owned land of importance to mana whenua.

785 - Ariana Tikao

[Strategic Direction>Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities]

Continued support for making the city an inclusive place for all people, and more visibility of te ao Māori and te reo Māori in public spaces, and community settings.

Not Stated

1100 - Alistair McKinnon

[Other/Special Interest Topics>LTP Consultation]

There also does not seem to be any sign of the treaty in this plan, how does the council see this being a continued focus for the cities development. Page 16 does start to include this, however, it then is not clearly evident in the plan.

1876 - Mika Clapson

* Establish a Māori ward. Toitū te Tiriti!

2235 - Cara Paterson (Creative New Zealand)

To achieve this outcome, we strongly encourage Council to recognise the importance of ngā toi Māori in the LTP, as Council's support is a crucial part of ensuring ngā toi is being produced, enjoyed and celebrated.

To achieve this outcome, we strongly encourage Council to recognise the importance of ngā toi Māori in the LTP, as Council's support is a crucial part of ensuring ngā toi is being produced, enjoyed and celebrated.

Ngā toi Māori has ritualistic, cultural, historical, communal and spiritual significance for Māori and is deeply rooted in mātauranga Māori for the benefit of the community. Seven out of 10 Māori agree that ngā toi are an important way of connecting with their culture and identity.

Ngā toi ā rohe (the arts of a particular region, iwi, hapū) play a significant role in the protection, preservation and transmission of language, culture, and mātauranga, and express the mana motuhake and unique identity of people of an area, such as iwi and hapū in Ōtautahi.

Investment in ngā toi Māori also supports the revitalisation of te reo Māori and te ao Māori. It grows knowledge and value of the stories, values and places of importance to tangata whenua. Art making activities connect participants to their whakapapa, tīpuna, manga and awa, aiding wellbeing and a deep sense of belonging.

2391 - Mitchell Rogers

Include indigenous knowledge systems in these planning documents. This is currently a very Western system and won't fit the views of many kiwis.

31 - Gary Durey

[Coder note: For context "Do you have any comments on other aspects of our capital spend or capital programme?"]

Stop unelected iwi from controlling council in these matters.

338 - Jennifer Riley

I would like to see a partnership model with tangata te whenua.

3868 - Don Gould

I'm also pleased see more and more use of Te Reo. I accept that there is some public back lash from folk who are struggling with it but over all I feel the council is finding a good balance that gives respect to the language and we must continue with this program.

861 - John Cumberpatch

Greater Christchurch Partnership

Mana whenua are represented on the Greater Christchurch Partnership (GCP) to collaborate on planning and managing the impacts of growth and development in the Greater Christchurch area. This provides iwi and papatipu rūnanga further opportunities to actively contribute to and make decisions in areas of mutual interest, as a valued partner at the GCP decision table.

My observation is that there is a respectful relationship between the Council and Ngai Tahu, that in the main is positive for the City. I do not agree with the continual changing from English to Maori of building, street, and place names which is confusing to many and i believe patronising

Climate Change

General Comments

374 submissions were received on climate change.

117 submitters provided comments in support of the proposed strategic direction for climate change, and 54 submitters provided comments in opposition.

185 provided alternatives to the proposed strategic direction for climate change, and 45 provided general comments about the proposal.

Officers Response

The vast majority of submissions strongly supported greater levels of investment and more climate actions within the Long-Term Plan. These submitters requested the Council to:

- Be bold and act with urgency and to see climate action as an essential Council activity.
- Prioritise reducing greenhouse gas emissions and adapting to climate change over other types of spending.
- Invest now to avoid future harm and greater costs later and to equitably reduce burdens on future generations.
- Take the actions necessary to reduce greenhouse gas emissions in line with the Council's targets – with a focus on reducing transport emissions, renewable energy, energy efficient buildings, urban planning, and sequestering carbon through plantings.
- More adequately prepare for climate-related risks to community and Council, including more research into the impacts of climate risks, and improving the resiliency of community and Council assets to a variety of hazards exacerbated by climate change, in particular coastal hazards, flooding, and wildfires.
- Support the resilience of natural systems and prioritise nature-based responses that maximise co-benefits, with a focus on tree planting, the restoration of waterways, wetlands, coastal areas and regenerating native forests on the Port Hills and Banks Peninsula.
- Encourage central government to do more on climate change.
- Collaborate more across councils and with businesses and the community to accelerate climate action and continue to support community-led climate actions.
- Use levers available to Council to reduce emissions from high emitters in the District and seek out innovative technology to help solve the climate crisis.
- Address greenhouse gas emissions from cruise ships, shipping, and aviation.
- Increase climate considerations in Council decision making.

A small number of submissions requested the Council to:

- Spend less on everything, including climate action.
- Adopt a balanced approach, allocating resources across a range of social and environmental issues over time.
- Spend less on mitigation because Christchurch was seen as too small to have any impact on global greenhouse gas concentrations or it was seen as central government's responsibility.
- Not spend anything on climate action because they considered climate change is not real, is not happening, or is going to be less severe than expected.

A very small number of submissions requested the Council to:

- Provide greater levels of information and education for the community about the best ways to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and to prepare and respond to climate-related impacts.
- Give greater consideration to the human health impacts of climate change and the impacts on our vulnerable communities, including disabled people.

Response to submitters seeking greater levels of climate action in the LTP:

Climate change is one of the Council's strategic priorities and is a key driver of the 2024-34 Long Term Plan (LTP). The Mayor's Letter of Expectation for the LTP asked the organisation to incorporate meaningful climate actions within Activity Plans, Asset Management Plans, and the Infrastructure Strategy. A Council Statement of Expectations to Christchurch Holdings Limited also encourages climate action across our Council-Controlled Organisations.

As stated in the consultation document, this LTP proposes to invest $318 million over 10 years on projects that directly reduce greenhouse gas emissions (e.g., public transport, major cycleways, and urban forest) and over $1 billion over 10 years on projects that directly help us adapt to climate impacts (e.g., flood protection and the Ōtākaro Avon River Corridor Programme).

The Council has committed to taking climate action both internally and across the District, and has adopted the Kia tūroa te ao Ōtautahi Christchurch Climate Resilience Strategy. The Strategy outlines ten workstreams to reduce emissions and adapt to climate change. These workstreams align with many of the submitters' requests on how the Council should respond to climate change. Council is expected to receive a summary of the climate actions taken by Council since the adoption of the Strategy in June 2024.

A whole of Council response is needed to effectively address the complexity of issues and opportunities presented by climate change. Consequently, climate resilience is an integral component of these Council strategies and plans: Resilient Greater Christchurch Plan, Greater Christchurch Spatial Plan, Integrated Water Strategy, Council's Waterways and Wetlands Guide, Strengthening Communities Together Strategy, Smart City Strategy, Waste Management and Minimisation Plan, Ōtautahi Christchurch Urban Forest Plan, Draft Christchurch Transport Plan, and the Draft Infrastructure Strategy (developed in conjunction with this LTP).

Climate resilience considerations are also incorporated into Council procurement processes, Council decision reports and other processes. The Council recently resolved to continue to improve its ability to assess the carbon impact of capital projects and requested staff to develop a staged path for including this in future plans.

Response to submitters seeking climate actions that align with Council targets:

The Council has set science-based emission reduction targets for Christchurch District and the Council that align with information from the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change. Actions proposed in this LTP aim to reduce Council and District emissions.

The Council is working towards achieving its organisational target to be net carbon neutral for its operational emissions by 2030 through the actions proposed in this LTP, including an organisational emission reduction plan and carbon removals policy which are both in development.

Christchurch District is not currently on track to reach the target of halving emissions by 2030 (excluding methane). Reaching this target would require further investment and aligned actions across central and local government, businesses, and communities – especially in the areas of transport, urban planning, renewable energy, waste, and agriculture.

Transport is the source of 54 percent of the District's emissions. Actions to address this include supporting public transport, expanding the cycleways network, investigating rapid transit options, and working on the Greater Christchurch Spatial Plan to focus growth around centres and along strategic transport corridors.

Emissions from aviation and shipping are included in the 2023 Ōtautahi Christchurch Greenhouse Gas Emissions Inventory. Cruise ship emissions are reported in the Inventory, but not included in the District total due to concerns about data quality, which will be improved and included over time. The Lyttelton Port Company has been asked to investigate options for reducing the impact of cruise ships when they visit the Port.

Response to submitters seeking that the Council do more to prepare for climate-related risks:

In 2022 the Council released the Climate Change Risk Screening for the District which identified high-level projected climate impacts for the natural and built domains. More detailed risk assessments have also been completed for coastal hazards exacerbated by climate change.

Work is underway to help prepare our communities for climate-related impacts, ranging from preparing our communities for extreme weather events and natural hazards (e.g. Civil Defence and Emergency Management activities) to building community resilience (e.g. Community Support and Partnerships Unit activities). In Lyttelton and Port Levy, the Coastal Hazards Adaptation Planning team are preparing adaptation plans with local communities. Over time, community adaptation planning will be needed for all potentially vulnerable locations in the District and for a wider range of risks such as pluvial flooding, fire, drought, and slope stability.

Enhancing climate resilience is a focus of this LTP's Draft Infrastructure Strategy and there are many examples across the Council of projects incorporating resilience to climate risks, particularly within the Three Waters and Parks Units. Ongoing work will be needed to better understand the vulnerability of our assets to key climate impacts. Research and experience show that investing proactively to reduce risks is more cost effective than responding in a recovery process.

Response to submitters seeking that the Council support the resilience of natural systems and prioritise nature-based approaches:

The New Zealand National Emission Reduction Plan, National Adaptation Plan, Coastal Policy Statement and National Policy Statement for Indigenous Biodiversity recognise the role of indigenous biodiversity in mitigating the effects of climate change and place obligations on the Council to adopt nature-based approaches.

Restoring our natural environment and greening infrastructure are workstreams within the Climate Resilience Strategy. There are many examples of Council projects taking a regenerative approach while increasing climate resilience, including but not limited to the restoration of the Ōtākaro Avon River Corridor, Brooklands, Styx River, Travis Wetland, coastal sand dunes, and areas of the Port Hills and Banks Peninsula. Implementation of the Biodiversity Strategy, Integrated Water Strategy and Urban Forest Plan align with submitters seeking greater emphasis on nature-based approaches.

Response to submitters seeking that the Council do more on climate change in collaboration with partners and stakeholders:

The Council continues to work with central Government on climate change matters. As appropriate, the Council submits on policies, for example, the National Policy Statement on Natural Hazards, the National Adaptation Plan, and the National Emission Reduction Plan.

The Council is collaborating with regional, national, and international groups to address climate change, such as the Canterbury Mayoral Forum's Canterbury Climate Partnership, the Greater Christchurch Partnership, the Aotearoa Council Climate Network, the Aotearoa Climate Adaptation Network, and the Resilient Cities Network. These groups aim to accelerate climate action through sharing information, collaboration, and joint actions.

Response to submissions seeking greater levels of information about climate change and the actions people can take:

The Council provides climate-related information for the community on its Climate Action, Coastal Hazards, and Flood Management webpages. The Council's Learning Through Action Programme has a climate change module that is taught in schools. Guidance about natural hazards can also be found on the Canterbury Civil Defence and Emergency Management website. The Draft Canterbury Climate Partnership Plan is proposing to boost information on the It's Time Canterbury website and to provide practical guidance for households about improving resilience to natural hazards and to encourage actions that reduce emissions. The Council works with other organisations to support the sharing of information about climate change such as MfE, NIWA, EQC, and ChristchurchNZ. Central Government also provides advice and tools for businesses and households through its Genless programme.

Response to submissions seeking greater consideration of equity and climate impacts on human health and vulnerable communities:

Being equitable and inclusive is a key principle in the Council's Climate Resilience Strategy. Many climate actions in the Strategy also support health and wellbeing, such as promoting active transport and household energy efficiency. Through the joint work plan with Environment Canterbury and Te Whatu Ora, the Council collaborated on the development of a regional health impact assessment, with training for staff on how to consider the equity and wellbeing of the most vulnerable members of our community.

Response to submissions seeking to spend less or nothing on climate action:

The Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change concluded that human caused planetary warming is unequivocal. The response needs to be both global and local. The Council has resolved to provide a leadership role on climate action in our District.

The Council has obligations to respond to climate change under government policies including but not limited to the Resource Management Act, National Emissions Reduction Plan and National Adaptation Plan. Proactively responding to climate change will deliver many benefits for our community and Council that are aligned with our community outcomes. Climate resilience is a strategic priority for the Council and the actions proposed in this LTP aim to respond to these imperatives.

Implications arising from submitters' feedback:

Most submissions on climate change are in support of prioritising climate action within the LTP. Undertaking climate resilience activities in addition to those identified within the draft LTP and/or bringing projects forward would accelerate the delivery of our climate actions but with cost and resource implications.

If less or no investment was made in climate action as requested by some submitters, the Council would risk not meeting its legal obligations and Council commitments on climate change. Investing now in climate action can reduce future harm and costs, while delivering benefits aligned to our community outcomes.

Support

1071 - Brian Donovan

No brainer in respect to being prepared as we have been forewarned

1095 - Paul Bingham

[Strategic Direction>Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities]; [Parks> Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration]

Banks Peninsula, including the Port Hills, is a real gem when it comes to biodiversity, playing a key role not just locally but for the greater Christchurch area and beyond. It's like a biodiversity superhero, spreading the good stuff around and locking away carbon, making a massive contribution to Christchurch's dreams of being a greener, more climate-resilient city. Plus, the perks of preserving and boosting biodiversity are something everyone, now and in the future. A big shoutout to the CCC for already throwing support and funding behind important projects like Te Kakahu Kahukura and Pest Free Banks Peninsula, which show just how much can be achieved when we all work together. When it comes to the big plans for 2024/2034, it's all thumbs up for making the city and the Peninsula greener and more liveable, with a strong push for climate resilience, better care for the environment, and giving the nod to nature-based solutions and indigenous biodiversity. Special props to strategies aiming to green-up the city, look after our water, and keep our tree canopy lush. There's also a plea to not forget about the little guys—the private landowners—who are super keen to do their bit for biodiversity and could do with a bit more financial help to make even bigger strides.

1229 - Cassandra Albert

[Parks > Parks Maintenance], [Three Waters > Three Waters (Operations)]

Access to green spaces and food forests enhances mental health and community resilience. Solutions involve increased park funding and food forest programs. Water protection and climate resilience are essential, considering past experiences with wildfires. Measures include rigorous waterway protection and climate-resilient infrastructure.

1309 - David Simpson

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Strategic Transport]

Spend on low carbon transport and climate resilience - not stadiums and airports.

>>>

Your job as councillors is to keep the city's residents safe. Climate resilience should be at the very top of your priority list.

1346 - Bianca McKinnon-Gee

Plan for climate change and invest in things people need for quality of life.

1407 - Scott Butcher

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?], [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Strategic Transport]

No I think the budget does not reflect the urgent climate and biodiversity crisis that we face. The proportion of money spent on road renewals and infrastructure for cars vs other forms of more sustainable transport seems disproportionate.

1430 - Dan Hartwell

Climate change is real.

1513 - Hugh Wilson (Maurice White Native Forest Trust)

[Parks > Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration]

Really really make sure that you put climate change right up there as an urgent priority, and prioritize the protection and restoration of Banks Peninsula's unique biodiversity and ecosystems. This is HUGELY important.

1517 - Felix Harrison

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?], [Parks > Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration]

No. This Council's main priority should be investing in regenerating and enhancing its Biodiversity and using nature-based solutions to protect against natural disasters brought on by the climate crisis. Examples of these include riparian planting and conversion of low lying unsuitable areas to wet-land. Making more green spaces within the city as forests help to reduce the load on our storm-water systems. The Avon corridor is a good start. However more is needed. Planting on Horomaka should also be a main priority. Aiming to get this reforested as this will help protect against droughts and fires. Not to mention the animal life, carbon sink, tourist potential, local community asset, and intrinsic value in this goal. Ecan declared a state of Climate emergency in 2019. Let's treat it as such.

1551 - Philippa Curtis

HOWEVER, I would strongly prefer to see more money spent on meeting emissions reduction targets. I noticed buried in the LTP the words that it is "unlikely we will meet our emissions reduction targets as a council or as a city". If we spent more money on achieving these targets, we will need less money for the above 2 spends. This is very obvious.

>>>

More priority placed on meeting emissions reduction targets. I noticed buried in the LTP the words that it is "unlikely we will meet our emissions reduction targets as a council or as a city". If we spent more money on achieving these targets, we will need less money for climate mitigation. This will greatly help to address the priority to "Actively balance the needs of today's residents with the needs of future generations, with the aim of leaving no one behind".

1683 - Anne Forne

I support the Council working towards a green liveable city and advocate that all goals relating to climate resilience, protecting and regenerating the environment (especially indigenous biodiversity), water bodies, and tree canopy, apply to all of Banks Peninsula (including the Port Hills) as well as urban Christchurch. I support the following strategy documents that underpin the Draft LTP especially where nature-based solutions and enhancing indigenous biodiversity have been given preference: Ōtautahi Climate Resilience Strategy; Ōtautahi Urban Forests plan; Te Pātaka o Rākaihautū/Banks Peninsula Destination Management plan; Banks Peninsula Community Board Plan 2023-25; and Whaka-Ora/Healthy Harbour Plan. I support the Council's continued provision of the Christchurch Biodiversity Fund to support protection of high value indigenous biodiversity on private land. The demand for this fund is high with many private landowners highly motivated to protect and enhance biodiversity and I hope that this fund is increased to reflect this demand. Biodiversity is a public good and all current and future generations of Christchurch residents benefit from its protection and enhancement.

1734 - Fergus O'Neill

[Strategic Direction > Performance Framework], [Parks > Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration]

Yes, cost reductions should not come from service cuts, or cuts to climate change or biodiversity programme.

1751 - Matthew Tolan

While these proposals are a step in the right direction, more effort is needed.

1752 - Carolyn Boulton

We need to spend money sustainably.

1756 - Kieran Sweetman

We need to be more responsible in our management of climate change impacts. This has long-term implications for our citizens.

1778 - Jane Houghton

Spend money now (ensure it is efficient and proper) which will hopefully save in the future. I.e. if going to put in solar panels - whilst rebuilding/creating, do now to start the saving of energy costs straight away rather than leave it for 3 years then put them in which also means renovation costs.

Planning for the future/environment - great.

1784 - Joanna Chan

If we don't provide funding in regards to climate change we will have to spend more on infrastructure and everything else in the future.

1793 - Pamela Hughes

Pretty obvious really

1894 - Peter Moody

The climate is likely to become more violent. It would be prudent to have a fund to help any sudden costs from climate change.

1923 - Matilda Moran

Focus on climate change

1949 - Tessa Marshall

subsidise against cruise ships, invest in resilience against sea level rise, reduce emissions. We feel powerless and these are just some of the simple practical ways to take action.

>>>

the current Long term plan is much too focused on making the rich richer and supporting reliance on roads ~~to~~ cars are not the future and forcing the public to drive everywhere is disastrous. Climate action must be prioritised. I live in New Brighton and my community, my entire childhood neighbourhood will be underwater or deserted in 20 years time.

1996 - Iain Nicholls

Overly ambitious, particularly with regard to >>> climate change provisions.

2022 - Claudio Schill

Climate change is happening, the sooner we act on it the better, both adapting for it and reducing our emissions. Sticking our heads in the sand won't fix anything.

[Strategic Direction>Have we got the balance right?]

Yes I believe the balance is mostly right, thinking long-term is crucial especially when it comes to transport options and addressing climate change.

2041 - Brian Burrell

Climate change is important and needs to be managed.

2049 - Elsie Andrew

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Creating a Climate Fund]

The council should treat the climate crisis with the utmost urgency. We need to be working to reduce our emissions significantly, and working towards a more sustainable Ōtautahi. This is an emergency and should be treated as such.

228 - Martin Tatchell

[Spending > Our Proposed Spending], [Other/Special Interest Topics>Creating a Climate Fund]

It is essential to invest in projects that are better for the climate in all areas.

2337 - Kevin Parthonnaud

In support of Council working towards a green liveable city and advocates that all goals relating to climate resilience, protecting and regenerating the environment (especially indigenous biodiversity), water bodies, and tree canopy, apply to all of Banks Peninsula as well as urban Christchurch.

2354 - Chantelle Chalmers

I am optimistic about the next decade's emphasis on climate change.

>>>

[Strategic Direction > Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities]

I fully support your vision and priorities for our city. Thank you for your leadership and dedication towards making Christchurch a great place to live. However, I urge you to follow through on your promises. As someone who is building a family here, I want to know that the taxes I pay are being used to fund causes that will make our city healthy and sustainable.

Climate change is not some distant threat, it is happening now and the Christchurch City Council has the power to do something about it. Although some people are still unaware of the reality of climate change, the data shows that it is indeed a real and pressing issue.

2388 - Guy Tapley

I believe the overall balance is about right.

240 - Bella Zilber

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right], [Art Galleries & Museums > Art Gallery (Operational)], [Recreation, Sports & Events > Community Arts],

Yes but I'd like to see increased and going support for the arts and environmental issues

>>>

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?], [Art Galleries & Museums > Art Gallery (Operational)], [Recreation, Sports & Events > Community Arts], [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)]

I support the ongoing maintenance of projects which enhance the liveability of this city. Eg the environment, arts and cycleways

2506 - Logan Brunner

I am very supportive of the climate change programme, as it is our responsibility to reduce emissions and promote active and public transport in the city.

2514 - Jeannie Murtagh

[Revenue > Disposal of Council Owned Land, Other/Special Interest Topics > Cathedral]

I support this proposal and profit should go towards climate change initiatives and NOT repair of Christ Church Cathedral.

2533 - Steven Muir

reaching climate change/emission reduction targets is a high priority for me. finding ways to do this are important

2595 - Nicola Hely

There also needs to be more money put into climate mitigation as well as climate adaption.

264 - Raizel Reyes

I think this is something we shouldn't skimp on in terms of funding. We are laying the foundation for our future generation, let's not short change their future.

2647 - Penny Carnaby

Support: • In support of Council working towards a green liveable city and advocates that all goals relating to climate resilience, protecting and regenerating the environment (especially indigenous biodiversity), water bodies, and tree canopy, apply to all of Banks Peninsula (including the Port Hills) as well as urban Christchurch. • In support of the following strategy documents that underpin the Draft LTP especially where nature-based solutions and enhancing indigenous biodiversity have been given preference: Ōtautahi Climate Resilience Strategy

2648 - Helen Fox

It's a real issue and needs prioritising now

265 - Emily Anderson

I would like to see a bigger focus on climate initiatives

2655 - Michele Mccaw

Yes >>> commitment to climate

2659 - E Ackroyd

I agree with the focus on sustainability, adapting to climate change, and providing safe transport choices.

2677 - Jill Schroeder

For a start I think you are replacing too much green with concrete, this is going to create heat and water and air problems.

2682 - Scott Savage

As per the mayors comments, let's ingrain these in what we do

270 - Virginia Ferguson

Climate change is inevitable and we need to work now to ensure the future generations of Christchurch will live safely without the cost of adapting being put on them

2719 - Karen Betony

Need to take our head out of the sand and put plans and infrastructure in place that will allow future generations to live safely and productively no matter what climate change throws at us.

272 - Hugh Hawkins

Any investment made now will pay huge dividends over the coming years. We are very likely to face natural disasters and i think in Ōtautahi we've already seen enough to accurately apply this hindsight to the future. Building resilience is absolutely key.

2720 - Conal Smith

invest more in climate mitigation

275 - Phillipa Callick

Like planting trees, you should have started yesterday. Climate change is real we need to be resilient, ready and future thinking.

2783 - Sarah Wilson (Te Ahu Pātiki Charitable Trust)

We support the following strategy documents that underpin the Draft LTP especially where nature-based solutions and enhancing indigenous biodiversity have been given preference: Ōtautahi Climate Resilience Strategy;

2787 - Jean Drage

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

And these core services must prioritise work on adapting to significant climate changes alongside a climate resilience fund for dealing with major events and changes that will eventually include managed retreat. It is positive to see this emphasised in the current long term plan.

2796 - Annelies Pekelharing

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Tarras Airport, Strategic Direction > Infrastructure Strategy)

Climate Change. This is of most importance, and though the country declared a Climate Emergency it is not apparent that the Council thinks there is. The building of a Conference centre, a Stadium and other major structures indicate the mighty dollar has priority. By so encouraging overseas visitors we encourage intensive flying with the emissions this creates. Plus the additional footprint of tourism and the pressure on our precious habitat. How is it possible the Council can even consider building an airport in Otago. The Think Big ideas that Councils pursue are out of touch. They mean more habitat loss, concrete structures, loss of biodiversity, pressure on wildlife, and less quality of life for citizens. And more extracting of minerals and increasing need of energy. None of these will contribute to our genuine wellbeing.

2826 - Dan Scott

[Transport > other]

The balance also needs to be addressed in the climate space. We are dedicating a lot of spending to climate change adaptation measures, which is an important initiative. However, this is an "ambulance at the bottom of the cliff" approach. We need to make sure that we are also putting significant funding into mitigation measures to meet our emissions reduction goals, reduce the long-term environmental impacts, and reduce the cost of adaptation measures in the long run.

2829 - Jennifer Dalziel

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, Urban Regeneration > Strategic transport]

Take climate change seriously .

2830 - Fiona Bennetts

[Community Facilities > Community Facilities (Operational)], [Other/Special Interest Topics > Asset Sales], [Fees and Charges > Other], [Fees and Charges > Car Parking (on-street & off-street)]

- Climate Change or Biodiversity programmes should also be given protection as it is an essential investment in future generations

2831 - Sebastian Denize

[Transport > Road (Capital)], [Three Waters > Water Supply (Capital)], [Three Waters > Waste Water (Capital)]

We need to reduce spending on fossil fuel dependencies to meet our climate goals.

2832 - Riley Neupauer (University of Canterbury Green Party)

[Spending > Capital programme, Parks > Biodiversity & Ecological restoration, Strategic direction > climate change]

- Biodiversity, flood protections, and most other crucial environmental services are heavily underfunded, which calls into question whether CCC truly understands the gravity of the climate crisis. There should be a much greater emphasis placed on upholding the natural health of Ōtautahi; these environmental programs have the potential to greatly benefit our green city, but this improvement cannot be fully achieved without ample investment

[Three waters > Stormwater & Land Drainage (capital), Other/Special interest topics > Creating a climate fund, Strategic Direction > Climate change]

The stormwater system is not ready for the climate crisis, and things must change urgently to prevent Christchurch from having an Auckland Anniversary Flood. More money must be invested in stormwater systems immediately. As much money as possible must be invested, because the "criticality" approach in the current LTP is not good enough to build resilience. However, new pipes can't fix the problem — which is an under-equipped stormwater system. Pipes can only carry so much water, which means in a serious weather event they aren't going to be able to carry all of the water. Instead, CCC should start creating tree pits and rain gardens right now, and continue to fund this for the remaining 10 years in the plan. One significant strain on the stormwater system is how much of the city's surface is hard roads. Because roads, and especially roads for cars, have to be harder than nearly any other city surface (to take the weight of cars), car dependence in this city causes even more strain on the stormwater system. Therefore, to reduce strain on the stormwater system, the amount of road surface should be reduced. This can be done by "greening" the city (such as by expanding grass verges), by using more permeable surfaces not suitable for cars (such as brick or semi-grassed paving, appropriate for pedestrians and cyclists), and by ensuring that no road is wider than it has to be.

2847 - Colleen Philip (Sustainable Ōtautahi Christchurch)

Climate - number one. >>> [Strategic Direction > Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities] [Other/Special Interest Topics > CCHL Matters] [Other/Special Interest Topics > Tarras Airport] [Libraries > Libraries (Operations)] [Parks > Other Red Zone Areas]

Please make meaningful progress towards the strategic priority this council set which is to reduce emissions. You have set targets yet actions so far show there appears to be no real intent to meet these. This is not a way to restore public trust and confidence in Council. >>> [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > City Planning] [Other/Special Interest Topics > Vertical Capital]

2856 - Rachel Puentener

We are in a climate crisis. These proposals meet four of the six Strategic Priorities that the Council has agreed to for the LTP: build trust & confidence in the Council; champion Ōtautahi and collaborate to build our role as a leading NZ city (the Fund and engagement in Lyttelton Harbour are leading best practise); investing in adaptation & resilience; actively balance the needs of today's residents with the needs of future generations, with the aim of leaving no one behind. I am surprised that the Council has not included them in its proposals to date. It is essential that we accelerate all work to address mitigation and adaptation to climate change. The impacts of climate change are going to get worse, and we need to start preparing with our communities immediately. As a member of a coastal community with previous experience in climate change engagement, I am very aware that the more time provided to have these difficult conversations, the better the engagement and outcomes will be. It is a fantastic idea to establish a Climate Resilience Fund and I strongly support the Council leading this new initiative - it is forward thinking, practical and pragmatic. I don't want to pass this burden on to younger people who are already facing massive challenges with housing prices that older generations have not had. It is not ok to 'kick the can down the road'. Please support this fund!

2863 - Lynne O'Keefe

We urgently need to address climate change/climate resilience objectives.

2865 - Natalie Henderson

I support speeding up climate resilience projects and the climate resilience fund, knowing that we will pay more now - prevention is always cheaper than a cure.

As previous - more spending on climate resilience, climate fund and i thin more money into reducing emissions.

2870 - Melanie Luckman (Cubbin Theatre Company)

Our children are looking to you to do the right thing right now. Please don't wait until later.

2876 - Sarah Hastie

We should take the necessary steps to manage the inevitable impact of climate change, but there should also be consideration given to focus spending on what is strictly necessary. For example planning for and attempting to mitigate flooding is money well spent.

2886 - David Fleming

This is the time for sustainability until our economy recovers and businesses and resident ratepayers can afford rate increases to finance future development expenditure. Not - withstanding essential maintenance must be maintained for the current welfare of our residence and business infrastructure.

>>>

Any impact this will have on world change is very, insignificant. Currently the emphasis should be placed on essential priorities

2887 - Linda Keall

Like everyone else, I would prefer lower rates and smaller increases. But I really think we have a responsibility to start NOW, and in a significant way, to plan for, and mitigate climate change and all its associated issues. It's just not fair for current ratepayers to continue wanting the 'nice to haves - eg Te Kaha' but being unwilling to pay for work to begin on these issues now and leaving it to land on our children's shoulders, when it will be much more expensive and an even bigger issue.

2897 - Debbie Tikao (Ōnuku Rūnanga)

Ōnuku Rūnanga represents the hapū of Ngāi Tārewa and Ngāti Irakehu, who are the tangata whenua of the takiwā which covers the Akaroa Harbour, surrounding coastal environment and hills as defined by the Ngāi Tahu Claims Settlement Act 1998. Ōnuku Rūnanga believes the LTP represents a good balance of expenditure, with the exception of climate change adaptation measures and planning.

2901 - Hamish Fairbairn (Conservation Volunteers New Zealand [CVNZ])

CVNZ agrees with the following strategy documents that underpin the Draft LTP especially where nature-based solutions and enhancing indigenous biodiversity have been given preference: Ōtautahi Climate Resilience Strategy

[Full attachment available]

2905 - Vida Zelenka

We need to invest more in climate mitigation

2938 - Rhiannon James

[Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Transport > Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)]

Continue to take a long term approach that prioritises climate change, which means putting public transport and cycling at the centre of focus, rather than cars.

3055 - Josephine Drysdall

The council must address climate change at a systemic level, balancing mitigation and adaptation. >>> [Transport > Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)] [Parks > Tree Canopy] [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Coastal Hazards Adaptation & Adaptation Planning]

3068 - Vanessa Wells

The longer we leave climate adaptation the more it will cost. This is a no-brainer, start now. The only other best time to start was yesterday.

3094 - Daniel Smith

make sure it is climate resilient to do it once and right, the best time to start is today and it will never get cheaper or the need decrease.

>>>

The cost and need will not go away and just kicks the can down the road to delay things with worse results for the next generations

>>>

This will greatly affect the next generation and we haven't done well enough in the past. The time to act was yesterday and it can't be delayed. We all need to pay the costs that will come home to roost with climate change and it will never get easier or cheaper than starting to address this today so it is prudent for this to be brought forward before the next disaster strikes.

3102 - Paul de Spa

Every $1 spent now will save hundreds more in coming decades if we continue to postpone climate change adaptation.

3110 - Michael Beard

You need to consider climate change especially in relation to New Brighton.

3174 - Gary Morrison

[Three Waters > Water Supply (Capital)], [Other/Special Interest Topics > Public Transport]

Climate change considerations need to be real and central. As New Zealand's second largest city this should not fall on residents alone, central Government needs to contribute, or we will simply repeat Auckland's growth problems.

3188 - Tony Kettle

Keep these funded at a good level to ensure our society is well read and informed .

3585 - Rachel Fulton

[Parks > Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration]

There can't be any cuts from the climate change or biodiversity programmes. If anything these should receive additional funding. This includes public and active transport funding.

3657 - Ruth Bullen

Preparedness for the future, resilience, increased population, changing weather patterns, impacts, climate change bital

3677 - Sophie Shannon

Climate change mitigation is vital, and needs to be a focus (as well as adaptation).

>>>

CCC should consider the carbon footprint of every investment it makes. We need more resourcing for climate change actions.

3681 - Tara Daellenbach

Climate change needs to remain at the core of our plans for the future.

3693 - Lynette Wills

Climate Change must be kept central in all CCC Future Planning. However, scientists and experts must help shape our future plans.

3708 - Joan Simpson

Focusing on issues impacted by climate change is important.

3733 - Helen Reason

Both climate change mitigation and adaptation cause greenhouse gas emissions. This is the result of the construction of new infrastructure and equipment with the manufacture of these involving the 2/2 burning of fossil fuels. This is generally ignored or discounted, in the latter case often by the fiction that avoided emissions in the future in some magical way 'offset' present emissions. A widespread and fundamental confusion in the distinctions between emissions of fossil and biological origin is at the base of a failure to account for the emissions involved in emissions reduction. I recommend that the Council applies measurement of all 'embodied emissions' in new infrastructure and equipment and subtracts this sum from an established carbon budget that should be prepared in parallel to the financial budget. The carbon budget should also include operational emissions and an allowance for 'emergency' emissions such as may occur in addressing climate-related civil defence events

>>>

In summary I am advocating for:

The development of a carbon budget for the city and the incorporation as line items of embodied emissions in any new infrastructure or equipment.

3738 - Finn Jackson

I strongly support the proposal to begin work on measuring the carbon impact of capital projects.

3743 - Ben Ellis

Any money spent on climate change policy is money well spent.

3746 - Quinn Ledgerwood-Gee

[Rates > Residential]

Rates raise from CCC is inadequate to cover all costs needed for maintenance of services as well as climate projects which should be considered essential. A 13.24% rates increase only increases the average annual rates rise from 2013 to 6.38%, a value lower than inflation. This does not seem feasible with current need for spending especially when facing pressures to adapt in a climate crisis. Rates also do not effect rent prices and target those who can largely afford to pay them so this is a largely fair way to obtain the needed money for infrastructure maintenance and projects.

3762 - Nina Koele

[Transport > Cycleways (Capital)]

Cycling and climate change resilience are top priorities

3779 - Layling Stanbury

as a ratepayer I would love it if we actually took the climate crisis seriously and threw everything we could into addressing it. I will happily pay more for the council to do that job, rather than building more ecologically destructive highways and stadiums. who cares about the environment? we should, we live in it.

>>>

Prioritise the climate crisis above everything.

>>>

not reaching our emissions reductions targets is not good enough. this needs to be top priority

3783 - Arthur McGregor

[Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Transport > Public Transport Infrastructure], [Transport > Roads (Capital)], [Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right]

Overall I think the balance is about right. However, I would like to see increased focus on reducing our carbon emissions by improving active and public transport modes and reducing the spend on roads for cars.

3889 - Jessica Rees

We need to give greater priority to climate resilience, and protecting the things that make Christchurch special

Climate change resilience should be accelerated

4009 - Michelle Whitaker (Flourish Kia Puāwai)

Climate change as THE priority across all CCC activity.

454 - Jude Rogers

Climate change absolutely needs prioritising - to keep to a minimum and to deal with. I don't care about sport or especially about any huge venues.

496 - Simon Liddy

Great idea to be focusing on this and great to see it is key priority for the council

585 - Danny Rood

[Strategic Direction > Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities]

Safe drinking water, storm water, and waste water need to be prioritised, along with emissions reductions.

>>>

Actually do things that ensure we meet our 2030 emissions target. Be brave, be bold, use the power of our imaginations and it is still possible to achieve this. The status quo and margin-fiddling approaches won't get us there.

601 - David Ralph

[Other/Special interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

Climate change is important topic...do not delay and invest

631 - Cynthia Roberts

Support all the initiatives under Climate Change. This is a serious issue for us all to address. Urban forests, protecting and enhancing biodiversity, dealing to pests that are impacting on forests, increasing use of cycleways for kids and commuters, encouraging public transport by making the commute quicker than a car with dedicated bus lanes and making buses a priority in peak hour traffic. Support the work in OARC that will contribute to enhancing our resilience to climate change and provide a myriad of opportunities for the community.

635 - Ashley Campbell

No, I don't believe you have. While I appreciate the need to not overly burden ratepayers in times of financial stress, it is also important to show leadership and to act on those things that will only get worse, and more expensive, if we do not prepare for them now. Climate change mitigation is essential – much more essential than fixing the occasional pothole or paying millions to host some international show. If we don't invest now, the bills in 10, 20, 30 years' time will be so much higher. Please show leadership and do what needs to be done. Invest in the things that will cost so much more later if we don't attend to them now.

645 - Stewart Mckenzie

Where possible, prioritise climate change (both emission reduction and adaptation) into the budgeting

>>>

[Grants & Funding > Events Ecosystem Funding]

If necessary I would prefer more of the budget on areas that improve climate change (both emission reductions and adaptation) and drop levels of spending on the major events

727 - Donal McEvoy

Provide a list of activities that CHCH was unsuccessful in attracting to the city due to having insufficient bid funding so the people can review and make an educated decision on it.

[Coder Note: regarding climate change]

759 - Rory Kinahan

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Cathedral], [Spending > Te Kaha]

The CCC has unwisely and undemocratic-ally injected hundreds of millions of dollars into the cathedral (The Anglican Church in NZ has at least $3b in total assets) and into a stadium that we cannot afford to build, maintain or insure without raising rates continually and inter-generationally. What we should be spending money on isn't monuments to 'Gods' or giant, loss making concrete white elephants, but instead, into protecting ourselves from climate change...after all Christchurch is a flood plain next to the sea. I agree with those parts of the plan that deliver infrastructure and water network upgrades and anything that improves public access to public transport and safer cycling.

>>>

You need to think long term about risk. Climate change is real and accelerating; the risk to the city and to council infrastructure is massive and we can only mitigate some of that risk if we stop spending money on vanity projects and nice-to-haves and start spending it very wisely on Community-led retreat, moving services and roads higher, building and growing new protection, protecting our assets, building stop banks or sea walls, planting salt resistant plants on beaches, improving storm water systems, raising properties, rebuilding more resiliently and avoiding development in high-risk areas. The Council can be a nation-leading example of how to get all of this moving forward and to put it bluntly, the science shows us that we face ruination if it doesn't.

782 - Áine Smyth

Strategic Direction>Have we got the balance right]

No. You need to focus on climate change way more. Specifically green energy.

>>>

[Spending>Our Proposed Spending]

YOU NEED TO BE PRIORITISING OUR FUTURE. CLIMATE CHANGE IS A HUGE ISSUE FACING US.

>>>

[Strategic Direction>Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities]

YOU NEED TO BE PRIORITISING OUR FUTURE. CLIMATE CHANGE IS A HUGE ISSUE FACING US.

785 - Ariana Tikao

[Three Waters>Waste Water (Capital); Three Waters> Water Supply (Capital)]

I support the resourcing towards healthy clean water, and environmentally safe practices around wastewater management, and adequate resourcing being allocated for safeguarding future generations against the negative affects of Climate Change, and cutting down carbon emissions where we can.

>>>

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Creating a Climate Fund]

More opportunities should be created for children and families to become involved in learning about climate change and how we can create better adaptation as a community and minimise risks. There should be mitigations built into our everyday activities and processes and public and private resources such as transport, housing, water management, parks etc. The Council could provide more leadership in this area.

810 - Susan Mullord

I would like to see more money spent reducing the city greenhouse gas emissions.

820 - Shelley MacDonell

Creating a Climate Resilience Fund would like decrease costs in future due to increased resilience. It might be painful now, but we will likely be thankful in later years.

852 - Ben Tyas

[Parks > Other], [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Strategic Transport]

Given the damning stat that Christchurch's on road emissions only decreased 1% since 2023, there should be significantly more attention to encouraging lower emission travel such as focus on safe cycling lanes rather than improving roading infrastructure which will only encourage more unsustainable vehicle activity. Acting on the urban forest plan is an excellent step and maintaining momentum allowing large scale roll out will be an excellent outcome for the city. These two points should see long term returns for the city, reducing the need for expensive climate change adaption and associated costs.

856 - Ralph Hobbs

[Strategic Direction>Have we got the Balance right?]

[Transport > Footpaths and Streetscape (Capital)]

[Strategic Direction>Climate Change]

Think the balance is good, would like to see more budget for footpaths (especially new ones) and more climate change focus.

858 - Thomas McNaughton

Alongside core infrastructure maintenance this is the key thing you should be focusing on with passion and urgency.

865 - Kelvin Duncan

[Three Waters - Waterways Quality & Compliance (Operations)]

Support you efforts on drinking water etc. Sports and recreation is good for people, but if push comes to shove they may have to be cut. I am dubious about climate change. Mitigation of proven threats is necessary, but otherwise

>>>

You have been deceived if you believe that natural hazards have been increasing. They haven't. Good evidence is on the web. The US natural hazards and fire incidence people are unbiased. NA's records do not show an increase.

>>>

No, I think I have given a brief overview of my thinking. I would like to suggest more contingency planning be done given the decline in our economy, the pending collapse of farming, the loss of highly skilled people and their partial replacement by less skilled migrants who bring families with them. The pollution of minds by wokeness is a worry. And China is in for a miserable time, and so will its dependants which, of course, includes us. And the re-emergence of autarchy in much of the world is of great concern to a trading nation. As a city we can't do much to stop this, but we should be prepared for all eventualities. I would like to thank your building inspectors who went out of their way to be helpful during our hose building. Many thanks. I have attached a couple of good analyses of past temperatures. I have many more and critiques of the "climate scientists" analyses. A plunge back into a new ice age is inevitable. But when it will happen we just don't know. Enjoy the warmth. The cold will be dreadful as it has been in the past. Why is it inevitable? Because we are living in a short interglacial in an overall time of prolonged and intense cold.

890 - Kay Joyce

Leaving the city and surrounds in good condition for our mokopuna is the most important thing. We need a long term view of financial planning

902 - Karen McElhinney

Whether we like it or not, climate change is here and we have to have strategies in place to cope with these changes.

904 - George Cox

Overall, this plan is not focused enough on forward thinking works such as on the climate crisis. Personally, I would rather see more proactive spending sooner to get the ball rolling on climate issues and transportation, even if it lead to further rates increases.

[Spending - Capital Programme (General)], [Spending - Te Kaha], [Transport - Other (Capital)]

Overall, the capital expenses look good with three waters and transport being vital to keeping our city functional in a climate crisis. However, I would like to see more investment in transport and less in Te Kaha (but you should atleast finish what you started). Prioritise the climate crisis with the capital expenditure please.

>>>

I would like to reiterate my concern about the lack of set dates/targets and funding for climate action and mitigation.

>>>

These are excellent ideas, but the funding towards them is not enough. I would like to see a major funding increase to adapt to the changing climate as long term I believe that this will actually reduce future rate increases. Invest early into these projects and we will see better results and bare a much lower lifetime cost.

>>>

I would like to see more set in stone targets to making Ōtautahi more climate resilient. Get that started soon please.

>>>

Climate change is a colossal concern for me and many others. The best time to invest in fighting and mitigating the climate crisis was in the past but now is the best we can do. I fully support additional capital expenditure towards the climate crisis through transportation and mitigation plans at the cost of increased rates. Floods and other climate change induced events will cause major costs in the future that will necessitate major rates hikes to repair the damage. Funding for mitigation and reducing emissions now will get the best bang for buck. Furthermore, the current sustainability fund should be maintained and expanded as to fight climate change and make for a modern and ecofriendly city.

922 - Caitlin Rees (Next GEN Conversation)

Next GEN conversation is a coalition of climate activist aged 10 to 15 years old, living around Christchurch. We meet regularly to discuss climate change issues. As a generation that will be most affected by the impacts of climate change and the decisions being made now we feel you have not got the balance right. We believe that maintaining things are important, we equally feel that it is important that we invest in the future, our future.

>>>

More focus on climate change

>>>

Accelerating adaptation efforts. Picture this, another real possibility of a serious climate change event, much like Cyclone Gabrielle happening anywhere in Aotearoa New Zealand, an increasing possibility. In-the-now action falls upon the people of Aotearoa New Zealand. Let's be real, we can't broadcast an emergency alert if there's no power. At that moment, those experiencing the event need to be prepared. So how can Kiwis develop the know-how to protect themselves from such a climate related disaster? We need to plan ahead, be proactive, not reactive. Figure out now, where widespread likely climate disasters will be and match the right materials and resources for the emergency. Climate change places an incredible responsibility on all of us; we are the ones who can ensure the planet remains liveable for humans as well as all other living things. For us, as children and young people however, there is a clear sense of urgency and need for action. We face unprecedented changes in the climate that will affect every aspect of our lives. We are already seeing the impacts of climate change locally e.g., hotter and drier summers and flooding and erosion due to sea level rise in and around low-lying areas; nationally e.g., more extreme weather events, and of course globally. The decisions being made now will impact us the most and this is why we support accelerating adaptation planning and bringing forward funding to do so. Creating a Climate Resilience Fund While we like to think climate change denial is all but gone, questions remain around what needs to be done, when it needs to be done, and the biggie, who pays for it. As children and young people this is tricky, we don't pay for stuff – we don't know how it (taxes etc) all works. However, we want to understand and contribute and recommend this be part of an intergenerational education approach. This is our future we are discussing, this is 'our time'. We are the ones that really need this to work and start as soon as possible – for us and our children. Decision-makers can't keep kicking the climate change can down the road, focussing on what they (and those who vote) see as more pressing and important issues. Climate change IS important, and it IS here. We know some impacts are already locked in - we are already seeing the effects of rising seas and temperatures. But it could get worse. We absolutely, 100% support creating a Climate Resilience Fund. We believe an extra 16 cents a week to ensure our future is one we can look forward to, where we and all other living things are safe and healthy, is a pretty good deal!

929 - Oscar Webb

This long term plan does not focus on climate change enough. More funding and proactive resilience planning is needed if we are going to adequately deal with extreme weather events and other environmental effects of climate change; These will only get worse and more frequent as the feedback loops which drive climate change make an already bad situation worse. Flooding is already a problem every time it rains at my house, with even a short downpour overwhelming the drains and resulting in huge puddles all over our property and along our street. Based on the events seen in Gisborne not too long ago, it only takes one bad storm to destroy all everything I own. I don't make very much money, and therefore can only afford a pretty crappy flat which wouldn't provide much protection. I worry about what could happen this winter, and throughout the rest of my life. We must act as soon as is possible, and if we keep kicking the can down the road by putting off desperately needed infrastructure and resilience projects, we leave ourselves open to disaster. THE COUNCIL MUST BE MORE PROACTIVE. Christchurch has already experienced a poorly managed natural disaster response, we don't need another. Pull your fingers out and at least try and protect my future, please.

Oppose

1008 - Angela McPherson

Not enough emphasis on climate change and ways of mitigating the emissions from transport which is the major source of emissions in Christchurch.

1030 - Andrea Gosney

Climate change is a joke and should be put on the back burner. You are actually bankrupting our city even mentioning it

>>>

Scrap anything to do with climate change. The climate will change with or without us

1068 - Redacted Redacted

'Climate change' is ridiculous. It is a financial product. Markets are created to transfer burden etc etc. It has very little to do with science and actual eventualities and more to do with media hype and financial people wanting to take cuts on transactions. DON't spend a cent on it.

1312 - Andrea Bromley

The climate alarmism and demonisation of fossil fuels needs to stop. Reality check is needed here but I would hazard a guess that those who are contributing to this draft and planning have never suffered a hardship before.

1327 - Chris O'Brien

Get rid of all climate based initiatives that are based on anthropogenic climate change.

>>>

spending 1 billion over 10 years on fraudulent and delusive climate change projections is not acceptable.

1335 - Julie Turner

forget climate change we can deal with that when it happens

>>>

Climate will always be changing, deal with it when its here, we haven't got money to throw around

1341 - Moore Todd

Forget climate projects will make absolutely no difference.

1395 - William Wallace

Stop the idiotic focus on the climate change farce.

>>>

Climate change is a fallacy. Yes, sea levels have risen, minisculely, but that is more to do with earthquakes and other causes than rising sea levels due to climate change. Take the time to watch "Climate: The Movie" by Martin Durkin to gain a clearer perspective of what's going on.

1504 - Jonathan Kingston-Smith

NZ is extremely minor compared to the USA and china, if they aren't taking HUGE steps to reduce emissions, why should we?

1527 - Rob Beechey

[Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Transport > Transport (Operations)]

The second point I wish to make is your Strategic Priority to "REDUCE EMISSIONS AS A COUNCIL AND A CITY to achieve a NetZero goal!" Why?

This is just political theatre and is the very baggage I refer to. Wasting millions of dollars on over-engineered cycle ways and interfering with traffic flows in the name of climate alarmism has no place in local govt. I suspect sanity was outvoted by political extremists.

>>>

Reference to emissions reduction and climate alarmism ideology is a political distraction and has no place in local government.

1646 - Dale McGregor

there is too much spending on Climate change when there is NO actual peer reviewed research which proves there is such a thing as Climate Change. I challenge anyone within the council to show me actual real evidence of climate change that has not occurred before in the past 100 years. There has always been climate change where temperatures rise and fall but no more than 1 degree. It was hotter in the 1950's and 60's than it is now. Also the sea is NOT rising look at the example of "Plymouth Rock". Even the founder of "Greenpeace" admits there is NO such thing as Climate change. so why spend money on a non-existent thing.

>>>

There could be less spending in certain areas. If the coastal environment means climate change solutions, then NO as there is no need as "Climate Change" or "Global Warming" are a myth and there is NO evidence to prove the contrary.

>>>

Waste of Money.

1927 - Donna Gillatt

Unfortunately council or people within council have fallen into the Climate Crisis trap. Your experts have misled you and your need to follow the narrative around Climate Change is ridiculous. Please do your homework and don't follow the government appointed experts who have a clear agenda that we are all doomed.

1932 - Cynthia Carey

Drop the climate BS, it is not practical for everyone to take public transport or use cycle lanes.

>>>

Drop the woke climate have! Climate has been changing for millions of years and will continue to do so, over population of areas doesn't help when mother nature wants to do her thing.

>>>

Drop the woke priorities for minorities. Drop the so called climate change as you would like us to perceive it, to justify unwarranted spending.

1991 - Stevie Florent

No - Too much money is being spent on road maintenance and not enough on improving cycle pathways, which encourages car dependency. Not enough money is going towards climate mitigation.

2111 - Vaughan Wright

Climate change im sorry, when i moved to Christchurch we had hotter summers and colder winters, i believe that all weather patterns come in cycles, wasting money on a non measurable item is not a justifiable spend

2301 - Ian Douthwaite

Stop spending on global climate change.

2362 - Rosalee Jenkin

Overall I would say there is also not enough investment in emissions reductions to match the scale and urgency of the climate crisis.

2521 - Stuart Jones

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Creating a Climate Fund]

Do you have any comments on our additional proposals to invest more in adapting to climate change:

CLIMATE CHANGE IS JUST RIPING RATEPAYERS OFF!!
NO SCIENTIFIC EVIDENCE FOR CLIMATE CHANGE IS JUST AGENDAS!!

>>>

[Spending>Our Proposed Spending]

Are there anything else that you would like to tell us about the draft Long Term Plan 2024-2034:

WE CANNOT AFFORD WASTEFUL SPENDING ON "COMMUNIST AGENDAS" INCLUDING CLIMATE CHANGE ETC.
THE TAIL HAS BEEN WAGGING THE DOG!!
MAJORITY OF PEOPLE DON'T WANT THIS ONLY ACTIVISTS!!

258 - Kevin Clarke

Global warming is way better than global freezing and it's the planet doing its thing

2690 - Robbie Dobbie

Comments: ~~Cut all costs for climate change, sea-level & ghg consultants.~~ ~~Doing these things is okay, the urgency is not there though. Show me the~~ ~~evidence that there is urgency - it is heresy. Based on modelling~~ ~~that has errors.~~
CC is driven from global organisations. The Alpine Fault is a more realistic risk to Canterbury.

>>>

LTP 2024-2034? — ~~Real Smithsonian Institute report.~~
~~80% of GHG emissions come from 57 companies globally. #1 is China Coal -~~
~~if we are serious about Climate Change, why are we allowing our coal to be~~ ~~exported to the biggest polluter on the planet? It is hypocritical to have~~ ~~rates increases without stopping the exports of coal to China.~~

2708 - Rob Beechey

WE DO NOT HAVE A BLOODY CLIMATE EMERGENCY. This is political clap trap. Why is it that a number of community appointed councilors know more about this subject than world leading Physics and Atmospheric scientists? for gods sake stop drinking the Kool Ade and get back to the basics.

2813 - John Antill

~~climate change is a scam~~
~~we have always had climate change~~

2890 - Finn McIntyre (University of Canterbury Sustainable Design Society (UC SUSD))

Additionally, the dedicated funding towards climate change mitigation is far too small to be considered effective. We appreciate the plan being transparent in its ability to meet the emissions reduction targets but even so, this should still be a key priority of the Long Term Plan.

>>>

Considering the mounting climate risks facing Christchurch, it's prudent to accelerate our understanding by bringing forward the proposed $1.8 million spend to 2024/25 from the originally planned 2027/28. Currently, the city faces approximately $3.2 billion worth of infrastructure exposed to coastal hazards, with projections indicating a rise of 20cm in sea levels by 2040-2048. However, this estimation underestimates the true risk due to unaccounted climate-influenced hazards and indirect costs. Multiple studies highlight the urgency of action, showcasing substantial returns on investment for disaster risk reduction and climate adaptation. Delaying necessary measures only escalates costs and places a greater burden on future generations. By taking proactive steps now, Christchurch can position itself as a leader in climate resilience, attract new residents and businesses, and instill confidence within communities. Similarly, the creation of a climate adaptation fund is imperative to address the inadequacies of current council processes in funding climate resilience and adaptation. Adapting infrastructure and communities to evolving risks necessitates dynamic decision-making and specialized funding mechanisms, which are lacking in the existing framework. Delaying prioritization and preparation of funding exacerbates the burden on future generations and raises concerns of intergenerational inequities. Establishing a dedicated fund now not only supports a dynamic approach to adaptation but also aligns with long-term fiscal responsibility, ensuring that future generations inherit a resilient and sustainable city.

2953 - Quentin Kelly

Climate change is a scam. You are telling me that if I pay a tax that you will fix the weather. Get out of here. You have zero control over the weather (other than cloud seeding), and the only thing that makes the day hot is the sun. NIWA has been cherry picking data or using sensors in places that 'prove a point' but when asked about them its no comment. Consultants, the amount of money spent on them for climate change is ridiculous and could have been better spent elsewhere. Shoreline depletion is not climate change, this is a natural occurrence, and to say that this is proof of rising tides is an outright lie. Anyone promoting or repeating climate alarmism is not to be trusted and should not be on the payroll. There is absolutely zero proof, none, that climate change exists, and especially that forcing people to pay a tax for it will help in any way other than to fill councilor pockets.

>>>

As I have already stated, climate change is a scam, you and I both know taxing people will not change anything, there is no rising sea levels, and the temperature data is no different from 100 years ago.

>>>

Think less about climate change, you cannot control the climate, taxing people for saying can is absolutely wrong, and any changes you propose to make is a grain of sand on a beach compared to the rest of the world. The only thing that controls the climate is the sun and the rain. Manage the land and water properly and we wont be living in a dust bowl. Page15 says managing rate payers money wisely, and then also says build trust and confidence in the council. I would like to see that haha

31 - Gary Durey

Stop spending on climate and sea level rise as this is not proven to be an issue the CCC needs to spend time and money on.

3105 - Tracey MacArthur

Climate change is cyclical. Rate payer money should not be spent protecting/mitigating issues oncoastal properties with high value houses built on them. Buyer/builder beware!

3396 - Lucy King

Keep trimming climate change spend. Its not proven.

>>>

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

Watch Climate change the movie. Al Gore was not a physicist. It is a scam if u follow the money. Late Prof David Bellamy explained this years ago. Again follow those silenced. Science asks questions and seeks truth not $$$

3411 - Marian Krogh (Protect Our Winters NZ)

The current investment in LTP wouldn't reach the CCC's goals of halving GHG emissions by 2030. We feel the LTP doesn't even meet the bare minimum levels of investment in climate mitigation. More money must be allocated to reducing emissions.

3564 - Allan Grant

Don't waste money on virtue signalling climate change initiatives. What part of plant life needing a minimum of 2% CO2 to survive don't your people understand? And what about the 96/97% of CO2 that does not arise from human activities? Professor Ian Plimer in his recent book "Green Murder" states: I skimmed ahead to the end chapter wherein he likens Luther's refusal to recant for his 95 Theses and excommunication, leading to the establishment of the Protestant church's, as a warning to politicians - there being a groundswell of opinion amongst those who use common sense, whose Stop wasting money on virtue signalling climate change initiatives.

>>>

They could benefit from reading Professor Ian Plimer's recent book Green Murder wherein he likens likens Luther's refusal to recant for his 95 Theses and excommunication, leading to the establishment of the Protestant church's, as a warning to politicians - there being a groundswell of opinion amongst those who use common sense, whose livelihoods are threatened and who are sick of the lies. >>> Is there a more eloquent statement than his ' I cannot and will not recant anything, for to go against conscience is neither right nor safe' ?.

3599 - Hayley Guglietta

[Three Waters > Other]

I have strong opinions on some of the strategic documents that have been produced i.e Climate Resilience Strategy, Stormwater Management Plan are two that feel like tick boxing exercises to meet some sort of legislative requirement. I am involved in a number of organisations that are leaned on to undertake the action items in these documents we do this on contestable funding which is not always guaranteed. We deliver a return to the city that is 500 times the funding that we receive I am not sure this is sustainable.

3624 - Noeline Marsh

[Transport>Transport (Operations)]; [Strategic Direction>Climate Change]; [Spending>Our Proposed Spending]

I object to money being spent on climate change initiatives, especially making it more difficult to drive a car in the city. Carbon emissions is a hoax. The world is at 0.04% carbon dioxide in the atmosphere. If it is lowered to 0.02% then life will not exist because plants will die. Please do not waste money of climate change initiatives. Lowering speed limits and building expensive traffic calming barriers and narrowing streets is a waste of money. That money needs to be put into driver education and police enforcement of dangerous driving.

3705 - Glenis Youngman

Climate change does not exist so the council needs to stop investing in a proven fallacy.

3722 - Rachel Thwaites

Climate change is a huge money pit.

3763 - John Graham

I think climate change is a massive waste of money. It's another big game.

>>>

Climate Change is a big game & has been for a long time.

>>>

Big Money Game.

3787 - Deb Donnell

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

Do not spend another cent on "Climate Change" until you understand that the benchmarks and goals are built on false information and premises. This scam has been tried again and again over the centuries, and is just a money making exercise for the rich and powerful, at the cost of the rate payers.

>>>

Climate Change! Do some research so you understand that the climate has been changing for billions of years, and mankind has very little impact on it. We don't need to adapt, or spend $1 billion on projects which are at best, vanity, at worst, daylight robbery. You are worrying about things that are very unlikely to happen! This is Chicken Little fearmongering stuff. My grandfather lives 87 years on New Brighton Road, opposite the river. Before he passed away, I asked him if the Avon River had ever flooded in his life time. He said no! The only reason it has flooded is due to: a) The City Council stopped regularly dredging the river, and b) The February 2011 earthquake. So rather than all these flood protection and other "climate change" mitigation projects (major cycleways, public transport, urban forests, etc), why don't you focus on maintaining our rivers and flood banks (I hear time and time again from farmers and people that live near rivers that eCan do ZERO in this area, even though our rates pay for them to maintain them). Anything beyond that is virtue signalling and beyond the statute of the public servants employed by the ratepayers (i.e. the CCC, eCan, etc.)

>>>

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?], [Parks > Heritage (Capital)], [Transport > Operations], [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Borrowing & Debt Management], [Other/Special Interest Topics > Governance], got the balance right?], [Strategic Direction > Climate Change], [Parks > Heritage (Capital)], [Transport > Operations], [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Borrowing & Debt Management], [Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters], [Other/Special Interest Topics > Governance]

No, you haven't got the balance right. There is too much focus on ideology and nice to haves, and not enough of maintaining our infrastructure and existing heritage (zero on heritage which is shameful).

All spending on so called safety and calming measures such as speed bumps, 30 km zones, cycle lanes, and barricades need to stop immediately. As does any "climate change" / "net zero emissions" which is total nonsense and scaremongering. We cannot afford to be getting into debt further to meet regulations and taxations imposed by global organisations. The balance is being weighted heavily towards the above, and requiring rates to increase in order to service the debt from past and present vanity projects. Rate payers cannot be continually expected to cover costs. We are not a bottomless pit. As councillors and CCC employees, you are not here to build your legacy or to put added pressure onto the households of the people you serve. You are employed by rate payers to deliver the basic infrastructure, and your focus should be on this, not on world class stadiums, convention centres, sports centres, playgrounds, vanity projects, virtue signalling, and so on.

3815 - Dianne French

No spending on climate change.

3831 - Rick Jones

Stop spending on climate alarmism. The current buzz at the UN is that the planet is in a cooling phase however it appears the councilors heading up the climate agenda are using modeling based on discredited data from 5 years ago. This has to stop. A recent publication from the council stated that the sea level in Lyttelton Harbour had risen 100mm, but nowhere else along the coastline is this evident. FFS, the author should be sent back to school to learn about the physics of the planet.

>>>

Start by investigating the real climate science not the political climate science put out by the UN, WHO and WEF etc. The climate "cult" for want of a better word is a multi trillion $ industry making a few people rich but not making a jot of difference to the planets climate which is largely determined by the travel of the earth through multi millennia cycles around the sun and galaxy. Councilors like Templeton need to avail themselves of the real facts before opening their mouths'.

3844 - My-Linh Dang

No spending on "climate change" projects. In circumstances where there are increasing scientific evidence and views that challenge whether there are any real risks of climate change, Council needs to act responsibly. Halt any spending on climate change. $318m + $1bn spending on these projects is irresponsible and not acceptable. It is not fair to force citizens to bear the brunt of these projects.

>>>

There should be absolutely no spending to adapt to climate change. Council needs to bring in more diverse expert opinions on climate change and not force rate payers to bear the brunt of these projects. We, of course, should be protecting the environment, but the climate change agenda is increasingly questionable.

3868 - Don Gould

Stop spending on climate faith.

3869 - Cam Parsonson

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

Spend no money on climate in this LTP.

>>>

no provision for any climate fund at all in this LTP

>>>

[Strategic Direction > Additional savings and efficiencies], [Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters]

Disestablish the climate change team and defer to central govt

3920 - Malcolm Clark

Climate change again another waste of money the climates changes every minute of everyday and has done for millenniums, anything you do will change nothing.

3922 - Ian McIntosh

CCC's projected costs for climate change mitigation are wrong because facts do not support claimed changes in climate.

[FULL ATTACHMENT AVAILABLE]

3961 - Paul Robertson

Forget about climate change.

3994 - Sarah Boje

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund], [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Strategic Transport]

Waste of money. Climate change is political volleyball. Unrealistic expectations. I am not giving up my car to take a bus everywhere. Its not possible. People have things to carry that are heavy, and are time poor as it is. The science is nuts - fear porn.

>>>

No climate propaganda

4030 - Jenna Hayward

Its false

4039 - Tammy Hay

Dont give any money to climate change shit it is a waste of money and all a have no one can control the weather.

>>>

I dont care about climate change.

459 - Aaron Watson

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Creating a Climate Fund]

Until you can definitively prove that climate change is not a natural accruing event and that humans have no part to play and that this money will have any effect on changing the outcome stop wasting our money. Instead of looking at data over the past 100 years start looking at the data over 5000 years and it will debunk your entire theory.

489 - Barry Livermore

Stop the spend. You don't pay for WE do. It's not nyour money it's ours. Council goes out of it's way to tell us when Central Government is helping but it is still OUR money (This is why government has stopped much of this spending. Pay attention!.

662 - Cameron Taylor

Climate change.... what a joke! Stop with all the bullshit!

>>>

Stop spending money on climate change

>>>

Climate change is a joke and a scam! Stop falling for that joke!!

670 - Sue Orpwood

I also think there is too much emphasis on climate change when there is compelling evidence that things are not as bad as some would have us believe.

692 - Tony Ward

Less should be spent on Climate change issues. The whole matter seems to be driven by hysteria

>>>

we should back off the climate hysteria

825 - Duncan King

I don't beleive that sea levels will rise to the heights that are been claimed. A letter that I received from the council after consutation with a third party has been unable to provide any certainty that the area that I live which is in North New Brighton will flood from alledged sea level rises. I would love to know how much that consutation cost the rate payer.

942 - Stephen Tubb

As I have said previously. Our climate is getting cooler not hotter. There is no great difference from 1960 till now that I can detect.

989 - Dave Renison

Scrap funding on climate change. It is a discredited tax scam.

Other

1019 - Sarah Gabites

Listen to scientists and see what other cities around the world are doing in this area, make changes that do the job and are a future proofed investment

1098 - Eric Pawson

[Strategic Direction>Have we got the balance right?]; [Strategic Direction>Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities] pretty much but for a city that declared a climate emergency in 2019, there is very little on that

>>>

[Parks>Tree Canopy]; [Strategic Direction>Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities]

the climate change mitigation component of the LTP is pathetic. The two big items (public transport and cycleways) are business as usual and really belong in the transport section. That leaves $18 million for the urban forest (which over ten years is peanuts). Even the LTP document says this allocation won't enable the city's climate change goals to be met. But it won't even generate movement towards those goals (as we've seen already since 2019). So is the council giving up on its climate goals?

>>>

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Staff Matters]; [Three Waters>Stormwater & Land drainage (Capital)]

I'd like to see teams within CCC talking to each other. I've just come from a meeting about the stormwater management plan where the staffers said (openly) they knew nothing about what is planned for the OARC, where there is a huge level of expenditure intended that is pretty focused on stormwater management. My comments about climate change policy are partly prompted by the impression that this is an area of policy that falls between teams and no-one really prioritises it.

1100 - Alistair McKinnon

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration>Coastal Hazards Adaptation & Adaptation Planning]; [Strategic Direction>Additional Savings & Efficiencies]

We need to look at the climate change reducing features and maybe delay these, however, impact changes due to raising sea water do need to happen.

>>>

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Creating a Climate Fund]

We could bring forwards the 1.8million but should take it from the mitigation. More resilience as a priority at this point rather than mitigation (we are too small to make enough difference given our limited $, it is important but we can only live within our means and what is proposed is not for families)

1122 - Justine Essenberg

While you are trying to fix the outcome of climate change, maybe start fixing why we have climate change

1163 - Nichola Tyson

[Parks > Tree Canopy]

I'm for funds being spent on land mitigation etc but not projects that offset emissions ie cycle lanes but maybe plant some more trees in the huge red zone as we are the garden city afterall

1164 - Andrea Davis

[Transport > Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)], [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Greater Christchurch Partnership]

You have mentioned you are making management changes to your delivery of services. It is important you are honest with residents about what is coming and that is higher and higher costs as we try to move to more sustainable development. It seems the past 4 years of NZ green field developments and urban sprawl has turned up 4.9% rise in GHG emissions in 2021, by households with so much private car use to access work. The express bus lanes for morning and evening commuting along sensible routes is a must. The future is not to replace every car with an ecar it is to create a dignified rail system that brings Rolleston and Northlake residents into a dignified train stations within the city boundaries. The borrowing is not a good idea but decentralising services such as solar electricity for business for daytime use, sewerage and water treatment by subdivision not pumping to one big place that at capacity may leave all residents in the poo, rather than a small number when the smaller systems might fail. Spend the money as if you are thinking about the next 4 generations not as if you are fixing and reacting to problems from yesterday.

>>>

Again watch how much you spend on roads and business as usual systems which are not going to make the city any more sustainable. Prioritise getting all businesses and industry try to get the developers take on responsibility for the negative impacts and environmental externalities, like increased GHG emissions, and increased congestion due to not encouraging access to the public transport lines. Each development should offer up a percentage of affordable households. The lack of housing equity is going to ruin NZ and Christchurch in the long run.

1191 - Ava Johnson

. • Investing in infrastructure resilient to climate change impacts, such as flooding and sea-level rise, with a focus on nature-based solutions.

1203 - David Moore

[Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Transport > Roads (Capital)], [Transport > Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)]

Good to see $199m cycling infrastructure/$101m in public transport vs $1b in road expenditure... But if we are truly declaring a climate emergency, there should be even more invested in sustainable transport. Funding and convenience should be taken away from private vehicle use to disincentivize it.

>>>

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Strategic Transport]

If we are truly in a climate emergency, the ratio of spending should be changed to further favour more sustainable transport options over private vehicle use.

1260 - Andy March

[Transport > Transport (Operations)]

spending anything on Climate change initiatives

>>>

The only consideration that Climate Change should be given is on designing and building resilient infrastructure. What we do as a city in trying to minimise CO2 emissions is totally irrelevant and shouldn't even be a consideration going forward. Even as a country nothing that we do will make the slightest bit of difference to overall global warming, so until the major world contributors like the USA, China, India etc do something about their emissions we should just forget about it!

1278 - Tim Marsh

The contribution to climate change by the Christchurch community is insignificant. Let the NZ govt shift the focus to China, India and other major polluters first

1352 - Lin Klenner

[Parks > Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration]

the Need for greater integration of climate change and biodiversity objectives, More support for Community-Led resilience projects

1413 - Tania Brewer

Be smarter climate change damage can be from poor planning such as digging up same road several times. Be more proactive.

1452 - Maraed Riley

[Rates > Residential Rates]

This question is perplexing. I believe that simply adhering to the proposed percentage increases is insufficient. Instead, I advocate for raising rates even further to effectively address the urgent needs of climate resilience. Within this Long Term Plan, the Council's water engineers have expressed concern over the lack of funding allocated to climate adaptation initiatives. Meanwhile, transportation engineers have noted escalating costs associated with road infrastructure for automobiles. Regrettably, many climate-related projects are being continuously deferred, leaving Christchurch vulnerable to the looming threat of severe floods reminiscent of those experienced in Auckland.

1456 - Henry Bersani

[Spending > Te Kaha]

I find it amazing that we're continuing to prioritize the sports stadium over climate change. I realize not much can be done on this now but it's pretty hopeless.

>>>

I struggle to find any meaningful considerations of either climate change or food resilience. We are in a low lying flood plain and are highly susceptible. It is unconscionable that climate change is not being considered here.

1462 - Sue Piercey

More emphasis needed on preparation for the changing climate or a lot of the investment in roads and transport infrastructure and in protecting and upgrading water networks may be wasted.

>>>

Emissions. Christchurch City needs to count all the emissions produced in its territory. The council has Lyttelton Port Company and Christchurch Airport as part of its asset portfolio managed by Christchurch City Holdings. The emissions of the ships that use the Port and the aircraft that use the Airport have to be counted and reported to the Council. I am particularly interested in the emissions from cruise ships given the large numbers that have visited Lyttelton Port over this last season. It is all very well talking about climate adaptation and climate resilience but we have to reduce emissions as a matter of priority.

1509 - Charles Drace (350.org Christchurch)

Need funds set aside to invest in long term renewable energy for the city as fossil fuel and hydro energy disruption, as we've seen recently in Europe and America, can be disastrous for humans and businesses.

>>>

Because of the rapidly increasing global temperatures and the resulting rapidly increasing numbers of climate disasters, more emphasis needs to go toward preparing for the future and the expense of fine tuning today's needs.

1572 - Olive Easterbrook

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?]

No. I don't think the council is doing enough about climate change. The council has said it won't be able to reach it's own emissions targets. This is not OK. It is not good enough. This is my future you are talking about

1583 - James Pomeroy

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding] , [Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?]

Yes but I feel there needs to be greater focus on funding for Arts & Culture, climate change/resilience.

1585 - Rachel Smith

[Transport > Other]

Wee need to urgently invest in climate adaptation and mitigation, invest in public transport and all things that will decrease our emissions. We need to urgently reach our emissions targets

>>>

We need to have an urgent and strong focus on meeting our emissions targets. At the moment the long term plan does not and will not meet the councils own emissions targets

>>>

I am hugely concerned that we are not going to meet our emissions targets. I am so worried about what we are passing onto the next generation and the debt and mess they will have to deal with in the climate crisis. We need to be doing as much as we can now even if that means making our current lives less convenient

1609 - Johnathons Atkins

Climate change makes no difference what we do. Look at India and China. We are a drip in the bucket so what we do wont make a difference so why are we going out of our way to fund it

1617 - Jack Swannell

[Rates > Residential Rates], [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)]

Spend climate change money on things that will have tangible impacts. Report after report on how we are all doomed meanly scaremongers and then there is no money to build infrastructure/ mechanisms to help people in vulnerable area... again, all this money goes to consultants.

What do you mean by projects that directly help us adapt and build our resilience? More reports and external consultants? Spend it on climate change mitigation infrastructure.

1640 - Veronica Leigh-Ogden

Climate change is a load of rubbish. Its just another way to take more money off people and get more control. More money aient going to fix the problem. Besides its the earth going thru the chsnge like it always has in the past and always will in the future.

1672 - Dickson Wong

Focused on one or few aspect and work on it. Having this massive planning, expert panals input etc just add to cost and not necessarily much work done.

1676 - James Boland

[Strategic Direction>Have we got the balance right]; [Grants & Funding>Arts Centre Funding]; [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration>Greater Christchurch Partnership]

No. Need to commit more to climate adaptation works. Need to retain funding for the Arts Centre. Where is the mention of funding for feasibility of mass rapid transport? Should that be listed in the LTP?

>>>

[Grants & Funding>Arts Centre Funding]

As already said, need to prioritise climate adaptation works urgently, and retain funding for the Arts Centre.

>>>

[Libraries>Libraries (Capital)]; [Transport>Roads (Capital)]; [Grants & Funding>Arts Centre Funding]; [Spending>Our Proposed Spending]

No. Move money from Libraries and Road Maintenance program to climate adaptation works and funding the Arts Centre.

>>>

[Transport>Roads (Capital)]; [Transport>Other]

Spending too much on fixing potholes, need to think ahead and get some larger improvement works underway, particularly around climate adaptation. Record levels of warming happening, get ready for sea level rise urgently.

1766 - Jan Edwards

Only do what we can afford, by 'we' I mean myself and all other ratepayers! We are not cash cows to be bled!

1792 - Laura Parkes

I believe there could be more community involvement events run as I believe there are many residents who would happily offer physical assistance where they are unable to provide financial assistance. Also fundraising events could be useful.

180 - Kevin McSweeney

Too much emphasis on climate change (which is quite different to resiliency)

1824 - Karen Banwell (Cass Bay Reserve Committee)

Christchurch as a low-lying city is going to be vulnerable to increased intensity of weather and so should focus on climate adaptation.

1836 - James McGregor

Climate change need not be at an alarmist level. The sea level is not rising. So many meteorologists and scientists know this, but the media is enjoying the hype. No need for the ccc to jump on the bandwagon.

1859 - Lucy Gray

Yes. The city council is ignoring the Climate Crisis at current. There is funding being revoked from climate justice plans such as cycleways and put into roading. I want to see urgent funding being invested into climate change at a much much higher rate. This plan has failed young people, failed Papatūānuku and failed the future generation
AS IT STANDS.

>>>

Tell the Council how scared you are about the climate crisis

Very worried

1870 - Sharmilla Freeman

to climate change.

It should be the absolute top priority. Public transport is one investment in climate change, we need a "now" plan. Climate change is my biggest fear. We are the first generation that has to decide whether or not to have kids based on the state of the world. This is terrifying. This is unfair on us as we did not do anything. Papatūānuku is crying and sick. As an indigenous woman this pains me to see my mānā ~~in~~ in distress

1873 - Marjorie Manthei (Victoria Neighbourhood Association Inc)

[Spending - Te Kaha]

Comments re climate change included: (1) disappointed with CCC's perspective that climate change expenditure and action must be balanced by "what we can realistically deliver and what ratepayers can afford"--we can't afford to be timid or slow; (2) How can the same body agree to spend so much on additional seats for Te Kaha, which will seldom be full, but reluctant to take actions that could make a real difference? and "they should be ashamed" and (3) the Climate Resilience Fund should start asap, but CCC must also acknowledge that taking action to reduce / mitigate, not just adapt to the effects.

>>>

Please note that we did not fully consult on this topic, so the above responses are based on comments on those who commented on this either informally or as one of their own priorities.

1930 - Kate Yeoman

Climate action is critically important now & must be an absolute priority. It should be at the forefront of all planning & spending.

>>>

Do you have any comments on operational spending:

You are not prioritising climate change effectively.

>>>

All current & future planning must have climate change reduction as an absolute, practical, measurable focus.

194 - John Lieswyn

Reducing emissions as a city: there is an opportunity in the millions spent on the council's fleet to accelerate EV adoption - including in parks machinery and vehicles. Why not use low speed EVs (like the NZ Post Paxsters, but designed for parks use instead)

1945 - Lucy Howell

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?], [Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

No. Not enough money is being put towards climate mitigation. More funding should be put into public transportation and cycle ways. The current plan would not reach the emission goals of the CCC (halved by 2030). It also does not support enough community spaces such as the arts centre.

>>>

The CCC seems to be reluctant to acknowledge its responsibility as a council for the climate despite climate events increasingly affecting the community

1969 - Christine Dann

Overview

The rohe of Christchurch/Otautahi is facing increasing risks from a warming, more turbulent climate. Urgent steps to identify, mitigate and adapt to those risks need to be taken. Citizens and their authorities also need to play their part in doing whatever can be done locally to reduce the locally-produced greenhouse gas emissions which are causing risks both locally, nationally and internationally. Climate Risk Concern (CRC) has identified the relevant risk mitigation, adaptation and reduction issues which we feel need to be urgently addressed (see below) and has made recommendations for effective actions that must be taken as soon as possible to improve safety and security for those living here now and in years to come.

Preventing local disasters – effective climate risk mitigation and adaptation

As the planet heats up, the climate continues to destabilise, and weather events like storms and droughts become more extreme, the three major risks which Christchurch city residents already face – and will face in the next decades – are

- (1) Droughts and fire
- (2) Storms and floods
- (3) Sea level rise and coastal erosion

The city needs to adjust its land and water management policies, and its planning for housing, infrastructure, (re)planting, and vegetation management, to mitigate and adapt for potential risks in all of these areas. Climate Risk Concern has the following recommendations for each area:

>>>

4 Reducing greenhouse gas emissions

4.1 The Climate Resilience Strategy 2021 provides a good analysis of the greenhouse gases emitted by residents within the city's boundaries. But the climate elephant in the room – which is part of the problem now, and set to get worse in the future – is the failure to account for and limit the emissions of residents and non-residents arriving and departing by air and sea. Regrettably, Christchurch currently encourages and supports an increase in such emissions by making generous financial subsidies and providing the necessary (and expensive) infrastructure required for cruise ships, international flights, and international commercial sporting events such as Sail GP.

4.2 The Climate Change Commission is currently consulting on a Review on whether emissions from international shipping and aviation should be included in the 2050 target. Climate Risk Concern's view is that they should be included, and that local authorities should take them into account as soon as possible. This will involve asking some hard questions about the true costs and benefits of developing and promoting Christchurch as a tourist and big events destination, when these industries are major emitters of greenhouse gases. How much value does this provide for the majority of residents who pay most of the rates – even leaving aside the issue of the greenhouse gas emissions involved?

Recommendation 4 Christchurch City needs to do a true cost and benefit analysis of current expenditure which supports and encourages international travel to and from Christchurch, thereby raising the city's contribution to greenhouse gas emissions which are currently not accounted for, but may well need to be part of the city's GHG emissions budget in the near future. This analysis should include residents' perceptions of the value which promoting Christchurch as a destination provides to the city. (N.B. The most recent survey of residents' priorities found that in every ward 'promoting Christchurch as a destination' was given the lowest priority, whereas 'action on climate change' was given a very high priority.)

5 Climate risk reduction planning and budgeting

5.1 As outlined above, the failure of Christchurch City to take the appropriate actions to reduce and mitigate the local wildfire risk (which had increased when the climate was just over 1 degree C above baseline, and is even greater - and rising – today) led to a second major wildfire in the same place as the 2017 wildfire. It is past time that the Council develops a comprehensive work plan and allocates a suitable budget for reducing climate-change induced wildfire risk.

5.2 The different – but related – risks posed by damage to vegetation, soils, water sources, housing and infrastructure due to storm events also needed to be assessed and work plans and budgets for preventing them (where possible) or reducing them need to be developed.

5.3 Over the period of the last Long Term Plan, the city seems to have assumed that the huge risks to life, property, livelihoods and wellbeing posed by climate change impacts on the city lands could be mitigated or managed by voluntary effort – a hectare of native tree planting here, or wetland restoration there – done mostly by untrained volunteers in their spare time and financed by donations. It is indeed remarkable what citizens have done voluntarily to protect and enhance their whenua, and CRC applauds them for their effort and dedication, and appreciates what they have achieved. However, in terms of preventing or reducing climate change risks it is now clear that voluntary land restoration efforts are and always will be totally inadequate when the scale of action needed to have any real impact is beyond the skills, time and budgets of volunteers. It is past time for the City to step up and take its responsibility for whenua protection and restoration for its inhabitants much more seriously.

Recommendation 5 Immediate steps need to be taken to do a major climate event risk analysis for all parts of the city, and to develop a systematic work plan for an appropriately trained and skilled work force to start addressing what needs to be done to protect the land and reduce risk, in order of risk priorities. This will also require developing a permanent baseline budget for this work (which will be ongoing as the climate heats and risks increase thereby) and provision for emergencies (which are likely to also increase).

The replacement of temporary or permanent plantings of highly-flammable trees on hillsides near buildings and/or roads with low-flammability native or mostly native trees and shrubs should be given the highest priority, as this will address both fire and erosion risks. (It would also have the additional benefit of increasing biodiversity in the city, which is another valuable goal both in itself, and as an additional way of reducing climate change effects.)³

6 The time for action is now

6.1 When Christchurch's first Long Term Plan of the 21st century was prepared in 2004, the parts per million (ppm) of carbon dioxide (CO₂) in the atmosphere was 381 ppm, which was 31 ppm over the level considered safe by climate scientists. In 2014 it was 402 ppm. Today, in April 2024, it is 425.7 ppm – 76 ppm above the safe level.

6.2 When the second Christchurch LTP of the 21st century was produced, the annual average global temperature had increased by just under 1 degree Celsius above the safe baseline. Ten years later, it had increased by 1.47 degrees Celsius, and the agreed-upon international limit of 1.5 degrees C looks likely to be reached this year.

6.3 Every city on Earth must make planning for the effects of this unprecedented and ongoing heating and related climate destabilisation a top priority. Christchurch is better placed than most to do this. It has access to reliable clean water sources which can and must be protected; it has land which can be (re)planted in biodiverse low flammability species rather than flammable monocultures; it has residents with the necessary skills and expertise to create the transformation to true climate resilience which is urgently required.

6.4 Like every other city, Christchurch also has the responsibility of reducing its own greenhouse gas emissions. This means rethinking the size and shape of the city and its components to reduce the number of private motor vehicles and to increase human-powered mobility; and also rethinking the role the city plays in encouraging emissions from non-necessary travel of all kinds.

6.5 It is a big challenge. Climate Risk Concern wants our city – our home – to take it much more seriously than it has so far, and start taking big steps to address the issues now. For the good of all.

* * * * *

* Climate Risk Concern is an association of Banks Peninsula residents who

- are concerned about the local impacts of global heating,
- are drawing attention to local practices which contribute to that heating, and
- are working on proposing better methods of mitigating and adapting to the increasing risks posed by the rapidly changing climate.
-

[Coder Note: Full attachment available]

WHEN WILL WE SEE CLIMATE CHANGE
BEING ADDRESSED AS A REAL ISSUE?
FUNDING BEING PUT INTO THINGS
LIKE PUBLIC TRANSPORT? THIS IS THE KEY ISSUE! THIS IS PARAMOUNT
TO REAL CHANGE & PROGRESS. WE HAVE
SADLY ELECTED ~~THE~~ MOST REGRESSIVE GOVERNMENT ^{OUR} EVER!
THEY ARE NEGLECTING TANGATA WHENUA,
THE DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION,
HOUSELESS PEOPLE, CLIMATE ACTION
(IN ACTION), YOUTH, PEOPLE OF LOWER INCOME, REFUGEES, THEY ARE NEGLECTING
THEIR RESPONSIBILITY TO UPHOLD
INTERNATIONAL LAW IN PALESTINE.
SO YES, CLIMATE JUSTICE NOW! SECURE
US A SAFE LIVABLE FUTURE, AFFORDABLE HOUSING ETC...

BUT MOST OF ALL STOP TURNING YOUR BACKS ON THE MILLIONS OF INNOCENT
PEOPLE IN GAZA #FREEPALESTINE
#TOITUTETIRITI

I think these are things that should be funded but more focus should be on protecting our climate such as banning plastic, protecting nature by not cutting it down etc.

2026 - Rena Oliphant

a key focus on climate resilience
Carbon emission reduction, increased clean energy, more (electric) public transport and cycleways, shifting towards net zero agriculture & reduction of animal based product production + export in NZ. Increased resiliency in flood, fires, drought management, reduction of air transport emissions through mitigating / offsetting methods, no more airports, and going towards electric aircraft, investment in light rail, cleaning up our waterways
, storm water & waste management.

As you can see: There is a lot that ^{needs} to be prioritised.

Do you support the submission of Strike For Climate Ōtautahi?

I support the submission of School Strike For Climate Ōtautahi

2038 - Colbie Van Dyk

the council should prioritise climate crisis

>>>

Climate! should be prioritised

2055 - Joanne Byrne

People need to take responsibility for building in unsafe areas that will be affected by sea level rise. We can't buy them out in thirty years time when they knew the risk was there. Policy needs to direct this.

2060 - Liv van Workum

I believe more emphasis needs to be put against the conservation and protection of our environment for future generations, as well as safe guarding our current spaces against the increasing array of natural disasters occurring due to the planets warming.

>>>

I don't think there is enough priority being put to climate adaption, and management

>>>

Our people are important, as is their safety, health, wellbeing and future. How can we protect it for future generations to come?

2082 - Bluebell Barr

Personally I am terrified for the future, not just for our generation but for generations to come. I love Christchurch and it's my home, so it's really upsetting seeing the backwards direction we are going in' >>>

The climate crisis gets worse every year and I beg you to act now.

2086 - Hao Ning Tan

Education and awareness around climate change need to be facilitated among the general public

210 - Vicky Jones

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Tarras Airport]

No, the proposed Tarras airport comes to mind. Too much money has been unwisely dedicated to this unfortunate endeavour. Environmental Impact: The construction and operation of a new airport in Tarras could have significant environmental consequences. It may lead to habitat destruction, increased air and noise pollution, and disruption to local ecosystems. Given the global imperative to combat climate change and preserve natural resources, investing in projects with potentially adverse environmental impacts contradicts sustainability goals. Economic Viability: There are doubts about the economic viability of the Tarras airport project. Building a new airport requires substantial financial investment, and there's no guarantee of sufficient demand to justify the expense. With uncertainties surrounding the future of air travel, particularly in light of the COVID-19 pandemic and shifting travel trends, investing in such infrastructure may not yield the expected returns. Alternatives: Instead of investing in a new airport, resources could be allocated to improving existing transportation infrastructure or investing in sustainable development projects. Enhancing public transportation networks, promoting cycling and walking infrastructure, and supporting initiatives to reduce carbon emissions would benefit the community in a more sustainable and equitable manner. Local Opposition: There is significant opposition from local communities and environmental groups against the construction of the Tarras airport. Respect for local voices and concerns is essential in decision-making processes, and disregarding such opposition will lead to social unrest and further polarisation within the community. Opportunity Costs: Investing in the Tarras airport diverts financial resources and attention away from other pressing needs and priorities within Christchurch. Funds that could be allocated to education, healthcare, affordable housing, or cultural initiatives might instead be tied up in a project with uncertain benefits and negative impacts.

2105 - Tawhai Darnielle Te Karu

I think the council needs to do MORE for climate change.

2112 - Matt Easterbrook

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?]

No. The council said it will not be able to meet its own emissions targets. This plan needs to change to prioritise actions that will allow us to meet our emissions targets. We need to do this for the next generations who will live in Christchurch and be living through the impacts of the climate crisis

>>>

I think this plan does not go far enough to reduce our emissions. The council needs to come up with a plan that will enable us to reach our emissions target. I am happy for my rates to increase to enable this

2121 - Cassie Welch (National Public Health Service (NPHS) Te Waipounamu)

17. In addition, NPHS Te Waipounamu recommends that CCC continues to examine the risks of climate change, particularly sea level rise and flooding, to critical drinking water, stormwater, and wastewater infrastructure; and continues to develop investment plans and timelines to mitigate these risks.

>>>

41. NPHS Te Waipounamu also notes the importance of considering climate change impacts across all of CCC's capital and operational spending and work programmes, for example, the way that sea level rise and soil erosion may affect water infrastructure and water quality.

42. Climate change can affect health and wellbeing outcomes directly through exposure to climate hazards causing injuries and death; and indirectly through greater risk of food and water borne diseases, vector borne diseases, food insecurity, community displacement, lack of access or loss of critical infrastructure, loss of employment, and financial insecurity;

all of which have social and economic consequences.³⁶ A recent Te Mana Ora report further outlines the human health and wellbeing impacts of climate change in Waitaha Canterbury.³⁷ The figure below shows how climate hazards can cause health and wellbeing impacts through various impacts and pathways (Figure 3). CCC can lessen the impacts of climate change on the health and wellbeing of communities and households, by building resilience into the pathways within Figure 3, through critical adaptation planning and through initiatives funded by the Climate Resilience Fund.

43. In addition, we note the increased risk of vector borne diseases from climate change as habitat ranges of competent insect vector species increase due to warming temperatures. Christchurch has two points of entry of for exotic mosquitoes: the Lyttelton Port and the Christchurch Airport. Health Protection Officers from NPHS Te Waipounamu are responsible for regularly checking for evidence of exotic mosquitoes entering the country, as these may be a threat to public health.³⁸ Mosquitoes can travel between 400m to 1km from a point of entry and are more likely to breed in areas with surface water. To reduce this risk, NPHS Te Waipounamu recommends that CCC prioritises funds to be used to reduce surface and stagnant water on roads and Council property in the immediate vicinity of Lyttelton Port and Christchurch Airport.

[Coder Note: Full attachment available]

2214 - Paul Kruger

More work to ensure resilience against climate change induced damage

2312 - Christian Schipani

[Other/ Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

It is of the utmost importance to prioritize climate adaptation earlier than later. Christchurch has a mounting problem: The public media has noted Christchurch City has $3.2Billion worth of infrastructure exposed from coastal hazards at 20cm of sea level rise (expected to occur by 2040-2048 - NZSeaRise Project). This figure is an underestimate of our cities risk for two reasons - (1) it does not factor in other climate-influenced hazards (wildfires, river flooding, etc.), and (2) it only reports the direct cost of infrastructure exposure and does consider the indirect costs that individuals, communities, and businesses will face from the disruptions. This risk will continue (and has been shown) to increase overtime. While the accuracy of final numerical figures are not important, the order of magnitude of our issue is. There is no better time than now: Multiple research and practitioner studies have shown that for disaster risk reduction, climate adaptation, and general resilience investment we save 2-15 dollars for every dollar spent today (Society saves $6 for every dollar spent on climate change resilience, The CSIRO contended: A $1 investment in climate adaptation or disaster risk reduction saves between $2 and $11 in post-disaster recovery and reconstruction., Academic studies find every dollar invested in disaster risk reduction prevention can result in savings of $3 to $15 in disaster losses.) - a 2-15x RoI. The cost of inaction or delay is far too great to ignore, these costs will have to occurred by the city at some point in the future, the longer we wait, the higher the costs and subsequent rates bump. Equally, this work must be progressed to better inform future investments from the Council (e.g., landuse allocation) to ensure future assets are planned for areas that won't incur undue damages from foreseeable risks in future. This will have wider benefit on our city: This is a chance for Christchurch to be a leader of local governments by addressing this front on - giving further reason to attract new residents, businesses, and sectors to call Christchurch home. Bringing this work forward will address the mounting anxiety and build confidence within residents, iwi/Māori, communities, and businesses that the council is (1) taking action, and (2) supporting them to make better decisions on their own. The faster this work is completed, the sooner the amounted resources and evidence can be provided to rate-payers so that climate resilience can be built not just by the council but by communities. As stated above, the problem we face is not going away and will continue to grow over time. Current council processes are inadequate to fund climate resilience & adaptation: Adapting infrastructure and communities to these risks takes time, requires large stakeholder input, must chose from a wide range of possible options, and must be done dynamically (as required by National Policy & Guidance). This means that while we know community X and asset Y require some form of intervention, we often don't know which of the available intervention options should be used (and therefore how much it will cost), and when it will come off the cities balance sheet. For these reasons, it is difficult to provide concrete dates and budgets for adaptation options that is often expected for a three year LTP cycle. Having a dedicated climate resilience fund would support this dynamic approach which subsequently will allow communities, businesses, and the council to make adaptation decisions and investments at the appropriate time. A failure to prioritise and prepare funding now is a direct discrimination of future generations: As mentioned above, we know these challenges are mounting, and will continue to mount - this is our reality. The longer we leave adaptation decisions, the greater the burden we place on the future of our city. This raises concerns of intergenerational inequities - The Council needs to ask itself what burdens and opportunities it is leaving to our children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren. References/Sources: <https://www.searise.nz/maps-2> <https://grist.org/article/society-saves-6-for-every-dollar-spent-on-climate-change-resilience/> <https://nema.gov.au/sites/default/files/inline-> files/28605%20NEMA%20Second%20Action%20Plan_V10_A_1.pdf <https://www.voanews.com/a/un-report-investing-in-disaster-risk-reduction-saves-lives-money-/6269328.html>

<https://environment.govt.nz/publications/coastal-hazards-and-climate-change-guidance/>

2314 - Mitchell Anderson

[Other/ Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

Yes. Christchurch has a mounting problem: The public media has noted Christchurch City has $3.2 Billion worth of infrastructure exposed from coastal hazards at 20cm of sea level rise (expected to occur by 2040-2048 - NZSeaRise Project). This figure is an underestimate of our cities risk for two reasons - (1) it does not factor in other climate-influenced hazards (wildfires, river flooding, etc.), and (2) it only reports the direct cost of infrastructure exposure and does not consider the indirect costs that individuals, communities, and businesses will face from the disruptions. This risk will continue (and has been shown) to increase overtime. While the accuracy of final numerical figures are not important, the order of magnitude of our issue is. There is no better time than now: Multiple research and practitioner studies have shown that for disaster risk reduction, climate adaptation, and general resilience investment we save 2-15 dollars for every dollar spent today (Society saves $6 for every dollar spent on climate change resilience, The CSIRO contended: A $1 investment in climate adaptation or disaster risk reduction saves between $2 and $11 in post-disaster recovery and reconstruction., Academic studies find every dollar invested in disaster risk reduction prevention can result in savings of $3 to $15 in disaster losses.) - a 2-15x RoI. The cost of inaction or delay is far too great to ignore, these costs will have to be incurred by the city at some point in the future, the longer we wait, the higher the costs and subsequent rates bump. Equally, this work must be progressed to better inform future investments from the Council (e.g., land use allocation) to ensure future assets are planned for areas that won't incur undue damages from foreseeable risks in future. This will have wider benefit on our city: This is a chance for Christchurch to be a leader of local governments by addressing this front on - giving further reason to attract new residents, businesses, and sectors to call Christchurch home. Bringing this work forward will address the mounting anxiety and build confidence within residents, iwi/Māori, communities, and businesses that the council is (1) taking action, and (2) supporting them to make better decisions on their own. The faster this work is completed, the sooner the amount of resources and evidence can be provided to rate-payers so that climate resilience can be built not just by the council but by communities. Should we create a climate adaptation fund to set aside funds now to manage future necessary changes to Council assets, including roads, water systems, and buildings, in alignment with our adaptation plans? Yes. As stated above, the problem we face is not going away and will continue to grow over time. Current council processes are inadequate to fund climate resilience & adaptation: Adapting infrastructure and communities to these risks takes time, requires large stakeholder input, must choose from a wide range of possible options, and must be done dynamically (as required by National Policy & Guidance). This means that while we know community X and asset Y require some form of intervention, we often don't know which of the available intervention options should be used (and therefore how much it will cost), and when it will come off the city's balance sheet. For these reasons, it is difficult to provide concrete dates and budgets for adaptation options that is often expected for a three year LTP cycle.

Having a dedicated climate resilience fund would support this dynamic approach which subsequently will allow communities, businesses, and the council to make adaptation decisions and investments at the appropriate time. A failure to prioritise and prepare funding now is a direct discrimination of future generations: As mentioned above, we know these challenges are mounting, and will continue to mount - this is our reality. The longer we leave adaptation decisions, the greater the burden we place on the future of our city. This raises concerns of intergenerational inequities - The Council needs to ask itself what burdens and opportunities it is leaving to our children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren. References/Sources: <https://www.searise.nz/maps-2> <https://grist.org/article/society-saves-6-for-every-dollar-spent-on-climate-change-resilience/> https://nema.gov.au/sites/default/files/inline-files/28605%20NEMA%20Second%20Action%20Plan_V10_A_1.pdf <https://www.voanews.com/a/un-report-investing-in-disaster-risk-reduction-saves-lives-money-/6269328.html> <https://environment.govt.nz/publications/coastal-hazards-and-climate-change-guidance/>

2350 - Jack Bisset

Yes but we need to think more about spending even more in a way that is more positive, reduces emissions and is a smart economic idea regardless. This is electrification as demonstrated by farmer Mike Casey with his fully electric farm saving $60k in fuel costs per year. We import fossil fuel to run this city. We can run it from our rooftops instead at a lower running cost. This would bring jobs in solar and battery install. We could stimulate the market for battery recycling, car retrofits swapping engines for batteries, partnering with others and getting on top of our challenges with a positive and engaging story. To focus on adaptation as just sea level rise and a few other hazards is far too narrow.

>>>

This is one of the last chances to slash emissions as required by our commitments under Paris Agreement as a country. We have always thought of it as a cost. Really it is an investment. If we get it right we can do things that also provide resilience and cost of living benefit. This is called electrification and that is what communities in the US and Aus are desperately now pursuing. I work on this area and would be happy to discuss my knowledge, my own journey fully electrifying my home and vehicle, living a low emissions climate resilient life now as example for others to see. Thanks

2385 - Ezra Mussa

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

CCC says in the LTP “While climate change has not been caused by Council”. In future, CCC must be honest about its contributions to the climate crisis, and take mitigation seriously.

2386 - Gail Ingram

Also prioritise sustainable and climate change projects that feed the future, our wetlands and areas of natural beauty, such as our reserves and the porthills and natural ecosystems.

2389 - Aurora Garner-Randolph

[Three Waters > Stormwater & Land Drainage (Capital)]

There needs to be more funding for climate mitigation projects like stormwater drainage and land drainage.

>>>

the accelerated climate programs should be brought forward, and their funding should be increased by 100 times.

>>>

The climate resilience fund is good, but it isn't big enough. It should be a hundred times the size. The accelerated climate programs should be brought forward, funding should be increased.

>>>

[Transport > Transport (Operations)]

CCC must put implement a serious mitigation plan, including reducing car and truck traffic.

>>>

[Rates > Other]

It must levy greater fees for international travel coming into Christchurch Airport to fund further climate action

>>>

[Strategic Direction > Climate Change]

CCC says in the LTP "While climate change has not been caused by Council". This is not true, the CCC is complicit in climate change because it has not done enough to transition to a low fossil fuel low emission sustainable green city. In future, CCC must be honest about its contributions to the climate crisis, and take mitigation seriously.

>>>

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Coastal Hazards Adaptation & Adaptation Planning]

CCC says in the LTP that sea level rise threatening homes is “mitigated” by “homeowners [being] anxious and uncertain”. This isn’t good enough; CCC has a responsibility to residents who live in houses that CCC zoned to get built. It is disrespectful to homeowners who will experience flooding not to support them. Therefore, CCC must start a managed retreat program in 2025, with compensation for renters.

>>>

[Three Waters > Stormwater & Land drainage (Capital)]

Because the climate crisis will massively increase the scale of flooding, the stormwater system must be bolstered with rain gardens across the whole city. Because the climate crisis will massively increase the scale of rain events, concrete surfacing on roads will cause more strain on the stormwater system because of the non-permeable surface. Therefore, CCC should immediately commit to desurfacing many roads and replacing them with rain gardens.

>>>

[Grants & Funding > Other Community Grants and Funding]

The city council’s sustainability fund ends in the financial year of 2025. This fund is designed to help schools, social enterprises and small businesses focus their efforts on sustainability. We need to get this reinstated with increased funding in 2025.

>>>

CCC must admit responsibility in part for the climate crisis for failing to reduce city emissions, and increase funding for biodiversity, public transport, and cut restrictions on urban density.

>>>

council decisions should be equitable and act fast on the climate crisis

>>>

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Accelerating Adaptation]

CCC says in the LTP “While climate change has not been caused by Council”. This is not true, the CCC is complicit in climate change because it has not done enough to transition to a low fossil fuel low emission sustainable green city. In future, CCC must be honest about its contributions to the climate crisis, and take mitigation seriously.

2396 - Sam Jenkins

I don't see any plans directly relating to climate change, and the document even specifically says with the minimal work being done the councils own targets won't be reached. Cruise ships and industry should be contributing to work in this area since they are one of the largest polluters in the region.

2442 - Paula Bevilacqua

Climate change is always happening. Ensuring our environment is taken care of is more important, less development in known at risk areas is essential and keeping natural resources for NZ is a must.

>>>

There are always extreme events, history has shown us when housing is built on less than ideal areas, those people will suffer, when slash has not been cleared, it will cause catastrophic damage. These are not due to climate change, but to inadequate planning and expectations of clearing land. We need to make smart choices, not choices we are told to make.

>>>

Put it alongside your climate change goals as this is what we should be putting money towards.

2482 - Erin Stewart

I think there needs to be greater emphasis on climate and environmental resilience, implemented faster.

2559 - Michael Campbell

>>> I fully support the environmental sustainability and resilience goals outlined in the Council's level of service section but urge for more ambitious targets. [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Strategic Transport] [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)] [Transport > Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)] [Transport > Footpaths & Streetscapes (Capital)]

2563 - Kim Money (North Beach Residents' Association)

It is of great concern to us as coastal residents that the climate change planning by CCC is still predicated on the use of the most extreme Independent Climate Change Panels (IPCC) scenario, RCP 8.5 (Representative Concentration Pathway). The RCP8.5 was not intended to be used to create policy. The creators of RCP8.5 had not intended it to represent the most likely "business as usual". Therefore, the CCC planning around RCP8.5 must be removed and a more likely scenario used for planning. Plan Change 12 proposed by CCC is based on this and subsequently lead to "avoidance" of new building. We request that Councillors action this. These extreme planning measure will be even more detrimental than the Residential Unit Overlay (RUO) issues that coastal residents experienced some years ago. If PC 12 goes ahead, Council has intentionally removed the need for Coastal adaptation conversations. A more realistic planning approach will positively influence the LTP budget. >>>[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > City Planning]

2570 - Marie Gray

I am incredibly worried about climate change and more widely ecological overshoot. Anyone who follows the science is worried. It is scary. It is happening now and it will get a lot worse. We need to urgently lower our emissions and to invest in resilience. Transport is the main lever CCC can pull to reduce emissions. >>> [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Strategic Transport]

259 - Margaret McEvedy

I see an opportunity for waste in this proposal, “how this fund will be established, managed and governed, and the criteria for how the fund will be used all require further work” that sentence screams a big hole into which an awful lot of money will be poured. Wait and see what other Council come up with and adapt or adopt accordingly there is no need for CHC to invent the whole process.

2623 - Andrew Cockburn

More investment in climate mitigation is needed.

>>>

More priority needs to be given to climate mitigation and adaptation.

2658 - Finn Jackson (Summit Road Society)

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

In addition, we emphasise the importance of adaptation planning for the effects of climate change on the Port Hills, particularly in relation to the increased risk of wildfires. As the 2017 and recent February 2024 Port Hills Fires show, this is a real and present threat which is set to worsen. The Canterbury Climate Change Risk Assessment (2022) specifically identifies the Port Hills as an area where fire weather will increase over the coming decades. While sea level rise and coastal adaptation planning is important and we support its proposed acceleration, adaptation to land-based hazards like fire is equally important. We support the proposed climate change adaptation levy. We also request that the Council allocate funding to a recovery plan for the February 2024 fire, and investigate establishing an adaptation process for climate exacerbated hazards like fire on the Port Hills.

[Full attachment available]

2664 - Peter Galbraith

Not enough investment in climate mitigation.

2666 - Kathleen Crisley

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters]

Whether people work from home is dependent on a number of variables such as their employment agreements and the nature of their jobs. While some people work from home regularly, others do so on an ad-hoc basis, and some choose not to at all.

According to the Council's emissions tracker

(<https://smartview.ccc.govt.nz/apps/emissions/?transport>), 53.8% of total emissions are linked to transport. By requiring office-based roles to work from home, the Council will show leadership to other businesses by reducing the transport emissions of its own employees and save ratepayers in the process.

SUBMISSION POINT 1: Review all office-based roles and alter employment agreements with a focus on moving most office-based roles to working from home. This will enable CCC to use hot desking arrangements in headquarters for hybrid work and reduce substantially its need for office footprint.

268 - Kathryn McNeil

[Three Waters > Three Waters (Operations), Transport > Cycleways (capital), Transport > Public transport (infrastructure)]

Investment in transport infrastructure should focus on completing the cycleways network and improving public transport. The same goes for water services - these are essential and the money must be spent. It will all be for nothing, however, if the response to the threats of climate change are inadequate.

2693 - Tanya Markman

Note E

There is a big push by council to reach their own set emissions reduction targets. This amounts to many millions of dollars in costs over a year and many hundreds of millions over a 10 year planning time frame. However science, if it is good science, is forever changing and updating and the science on climate change is no exception. There is evidence to suggest that the level of climate warming is considerably less than that suggested by the statistics used by government and local councils to date. It goes without saying that a council, to be fiscally responsible, needs to use the most up to date science that it can. That is it's job.

If sea level rise is in fact less than predicted then the proposed $2.7 billion spend on water infrastructure can be reduced. So too can that associated with transport services. For instance, the IPCC predict a 1.7 mm increase/year in sea level rise – based on moderate levels of sea rise risk. That is 17 mm in rise (1.7 cm) over the whole 10 year draft plan time frame. Such predictions, if true, would necessitate a major relook at where council spend ratepayers money, especially in the arena of 'climate mitigation' works – a huge predicted spend by council.

2702 - Wendy Dick

Wind energy

2705 - Ian Le Page

Most of the fear of climate change is by the same supposed experts as was the 2yk bug. With simple understanding of culverts can then cope with storms saving failures to infrastructure. Have meetings (or workshops) will not solve any issues. By caring out works on upgrading infrastructure will do more to address climate change than holding discussion meetings

2733 - Georgia Macaulay

Climate change is already well advanced, at this stage unfortunately we need to look at how we will cope with the harsh winters, heat waves and rising sea levels.

2764 - Chris Ford (Disabled Persons Assembly (DPA))

Climate Change

As we have pointed out in past submissions to this Council and others around Aotearoa, disabled people will be - and already are - one of the most at risk groups from climate change impacts.

For this reason, climate change, the need to mitigate it and ensure that there are effective responses which incorporate disabled people at all levels is one of DPA's top priorities.

A recent article published by the journal 'Nature Climate Change'³ highlighted that governments were failing to take disability inclusive climate action and disabled people are disproportionately more at risk of higher mortality rates in climate emergencies.

This is underpinned by the fact that disabled people have been accorded lower priority in climate emergencies or other disasters and systemically excluded from receiving emergency healthcare and humanitarian support as a result.

The article also highlighted that slow onset climate change, including sea level rise, more damaging weather events, as well as rising water and food scarcity will all exacerbate the existing inequities experienced by disabled people.

Michael Stein, in a Harvard University Center for the Environment (2023)⁴ interview elaborated about the impact of climate change on disabled people:

“Climate change amplifies the marginalization experienced by persons with disabilities negatively affecting health, reducing access to healthcare services, food, water, and accessible infrastructure. People with psychosocial disabilities have triple the rate of mortality in heatwaves.”

DPA is pleased to see that $318 million has been earmarked for spending on projects which directly impact climate change mitigation. We are also appreciative of the proposal to spend a further $1 billion on projects that will help the city adapt and build resilience to climate related events in the form of flood protection work on the Ōtākaro Avon River Corridor.

An example of why disabled people benefit from protection works such as the creation of flood banks is the desire to avoid homelessness. Disabled people, especially those who live with mobility and other impairments, face a great shortage of accessible housing which is difficult to access even at the best of times, let alone after a natural disaster.

Following last year’s North Island storms, there were stories about disabled people who could not return to their homes for many months afterwards, and some disabled people (as we heard earlier this year) are still living in inaccessible housing over a year later.

DPA has been inspired by the model provided by the Bristol Disabled People’s Forum in the UK where the local council in that city has engaged (and continues to engage in) climate change planning and dialogue with their local disabled community through the forum. The city council co-developed a plan with the Disability Equality

Forum (a Bristol-based disabled people's organisation which is cross-impairment based like DPA) around climate change and its impact on disabled people.

DPA views the use of deliberative, decision-making structures like the Bristol Disabled People's Forum as one means through which Christchurch's disabled community could dialogue with both the CCC and ECan on the development of disability responsive climate change plans.

We recommended to ECan in our submission to their LTP that it takes the opportunity to forge a closer relationship with the disabled community around climate change and we now invite the CCC to do the same (jointly with ECan and other local councils), especially when it comes to planning a climate response which fully incorporates our issues, needs and aspirations.

DPA recommends that ECan and the CCC dialogue with the Christchurch disabled community (led by Disabled People's Organisations like DPA) over ways in which a closer partnership can be forged and where the issues that concern us in the environmental and climate change spaces can be aired.

The goal should be the development of disability responsive climate change and environmental plans for the Canterbury region through the CCC, ECan and other local councils.

DPA also recommends that emergency responsiveness plans for the Christchurch City area accommodate the needs of disabled people, especially in relation to both seismic and climate related emergencies. This should be undertaken in a co-design partnership between local disabled people and emergency management bodies.

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Civil Defense and Emergency Management]

Recommendation 11: that the CCC, ECan and the Christchurch disabled community (including DPA) dialogue over ways in which a closer partnership can be forged around climate resilience and emergency responsiveness.

Recommendation 12: that emergency responsiveness plans for the Christchurch City area accommodate the needs of disabled people, especially in relation to both seismic and climate related emergencies and are developed as part of a co-design partnership between disabled people and emergency management bodies.

278 - Robin Curry

Keep moving to eco friendly vehicles for all council services.

>>>

However, as mentioned, even spending $1 billion dollars on waste recycling etc will not meet the emissions reduction target as a council nor city.

2796 - Annelies Pekelharing

[Parks > Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration]

Plantations. I guess this is really ECan's domain, but I am too late for my submission. This really matters to me. We have just survived the logging operation of a bloc of pinetrees above us, which was extremely unsettling and disturbing. As we live in regenerating bush it was not a pleasant sight to have a bloc of pinus radiata grow next to our 104ha covenant. The emissions in roading, the travel to and from the site to the harbour, the gigantic machines operating, run off, all point to a totally wrong undertaking in a time where CO2 emissions need to come down drastically. It is incredible landowners do not need resource consent at present to grow a bloc of pinetrees, and the high value of carbon credits actually encourages this. Banks Peninsula is not suitable for the growing of pines. I submit that the consent to plant pine plantations will have to pass many more hurdles. And that carbon credits will be more lucrative for the planting of indigenous vegetation.

2799 - Dot Lovell-Smith

Concentrate on Stopping carbon change. All actions planned and taken by the CCC should be assessed on how effective they will be at lowering carbon emissions. -Make sure the CCC is itself running on carbon neutral as soon as possible.

2807 - David Close (Christchurch East Labour Electorate Committee)

What concerns us greatly is that, though the Council proclaimed a climate emergency, the Draft LTP provides very little evidence the Council is taking serious action to reduce its own emissions and the emissions of its citizens. There are references in the Transport plans to cycleways and to targets for residents to be within 15 minutes walking distance of certain services. We raise the following questions:

Does the Council recognise that current actions are having a minimal effect of emissions?

What plans are afoot to make fundamental changes to a city that has been built for the constant use of motor vehicles for the last 60 years?

What thought has been given to reverse the trend away from supermarkets and mega shopping centres to corner shops and neighbourhood centres?

Has consideration been given to differential business rates with a surcharge for the big centres and a rebate for the small?

Has the Council considered working with the Regional Council and employers for free bus passes for workers?

What work is being done to change 'waste minimisation' from rubbish collection and uneconomic recycling to genuine reduction of material into the waste stream? Computers still come in cartons half full of polystyrene.

Retailers import goods prepackaged in plastic of all descriptions. Why are milk companies not required to take back their empties from the Council? What happened to the refund for bottles? Home composting?

Is the Council replacing all standard vehicles with electric models?

We are concerned that current Council structures and processes are not suited to dealing with the climate emergency. We suggest that a special committee (perhaps the 'Futures Committee') comprising 6-8 elected members and supported by staff from several disciplines, should be set up. It should be tasked, in the first instance, with reviewing Council activities in line with principles for urgent and transformational reduction in CO2 emissions. The Committee, following thorough consultation with relevant departments, would make recommendations to the full Council for inclusion in the next Annual Plan.

Submission

That the Council:

(i) recognise the need for urgent action on the causes of climate change.

(ii) set up a special committee, as outlined above, to work on practical measures to reduce CO2 emissions.

(iii) report the outcomes of projects to reduce emissions in each year's annual plan.

2810 - Kari Hunter

The future will be different from the past. Change is coming whether we like it or not. We can't choose to go on as we are indefinitely – climate, biodiversity, and global systems will not remain as they have been during the Holocene and the recent period of human social organisation. We can choose how we prepare for and respond to the changes, and we can choose to go all out to prevent the worst outcomes. I urge you to prioritise the essentials of good human habitat under future conditions: clean water, sanitation, food security, low-powered transport system, libraries and gathering places. I encourage you to plan for retreat and transition. I encourage you to abandon plans for ongoing economic growth, since this is incompatible with ongoing human habitat.

>>>

As conditions become more constrained, and when there are more acute events, there are likely to be disruptions to supplies we are used to receiving from further afield and offshore. Also, as we phase out fossil fuels, we will need to become more reliant on local foods. Develop a plan to ensure everyone will have access to food.

>>>

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Public Transport, Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Strategic Transport]

In order to reduce transport emissions rapidly, we need to largely phase out combustion-fueled transport. We need to reduce ICE transport (that is, fossil fuels, “bio-fuels”, “SAF”) by at least 50% by 2030 and at least 70% by 2034. EVs cannot replace them all; “bio-fuels” emit GHGs; hydrogen cannot be sustainably produced on a scale to replace more than a small portion of current transport energy. To make this possible, we need you to:

- Rapidly modify the transport system so that active and public transport can quickly become the main modes for most trips. Make it workable to live well without owning a car.
- Rapidly reallocate more space from cars to active transport. Use separated lanes, filtered permeability, and where workable, consider super-blocks or similar. The major cycleways that have been put in place make a real difference. However, we need fully connected routes to enable far more people to have this option. The east side of the city is particularly in need of more safe cycle routes, especially to access the schools.
- Reduce urban speeds to 30kph or lower in all urban streets except for major thoroughfares where there are safe effective active travel options. of the city. The patchwork of slower speeds is an improvement. However, compared with that, 30kph more generally will be more cost effective and more affordable, and will have only a small effect in reducing car travel times.

- Support the local development of capabilities for designing and manufacturing appropriate human-powered and low-powered transport options.
- Do not build more roads or lanes for cars and trucks in the hope that this will reduce congestion. These measures will have multiple co-benefits, in health from more movement and less exhaust fumes, in less heavy metals to our waterways, in more space for people to connect, and in a more pleasant and inviting city that is less noisy, smelly and toxic. This needs to be planned in conjunction with planning towards more medium density housing, a 10 – 15 min city approach and an end to sprawl urban. This will also help reduce travel times. We need you have this largely in place by 2030, for consistency with GHG emission targets and with protecting our human habitat. The costs of prioritising these changes should be found by de-prioritising work on roads and lanes for motor traffic

2828 - Thomas Kulpe

How OPEX is spent affects GHG emissions, biodiversity etc. There is no direct correlation between for instance our 2030 emission target and OPEX. [Spending > Our Proposed Spending]

Less than 2% of the $10.6b ten-year budget is directed towards projects that have direct impact on climate change mitigation. We are on the half-way mark between 2016-17 and 2029-30. We should now emit about 25% less than 2016-17, but Christchurch's emission have not changed significantly since 2016-17 as the latest 2022/2023 Greenhouse Gas Emission Inventory for Christchurch shows. The CCC website states "climate change is the biggest challenge of our time", it seems the LTP almost completely fails to address this challenge. A justification for the proposed LTP and the embedded priorities is the feedback of the "What Matter Most" survey. However, climate change was one of the top concerns of the responders.

How do waste minimisation targets and methane capture at landfills help to achieve a 25% reduction of methane emission levels by 2030. >>> [Resource Recovery > Resource Recovery (Operations)]

What is the purpose of planning and budgeting (for world-class facilities) when we do not reach our destination – a survivable climate. Christchurch's LTP for the next 10 years must reflect and document the transition to a low carbon economy. It must reflect the commitment to fulfil our local, national and international obligations.

2832 - Riley Neupauer (University of Canterbury Green Party)

[Strategic Direction > infrastructure Strategy, Strategic Direction > Climate Change, Spending > Our Proposed Spending]

No, on the contrary, the UC Greens are quite disappointed with the proposed spending allocated towards infrastructure, particularly in regards to environmental protections. The Council posits the needs of today's residents as if they are separate from those of future generations, a deeply misguided sentiment. Flooding and the many other consequences of climate change are not some far-off possibilities that could potentially arise decades from now, only affecting our descendents. They are incredibly pertinent issues that will undoubtedly worsen as time progresses, and this exacerbation may come much sooner than we expect. Even the most senior Christchurch residents are liable to be negatively impacted by these environmental challenges. It is not a question of "if" climate change will impact us, it is simply a matter of how soon our reckoning will come. But let's be idealistic and say that the current residents somehow won't be affected. Does that mean we shouldn't strengthen our infrastructure to the best of our abilities? Are we simply to wait around for the worst to happen before we decide it's time to take action, which by then will be too little too late? Do we only develop Christchurch for posterity's sake? The fallacious nature of this logic is self-evident. And that's not even to mention the services that aren't directly related to climate change, most of which are also underfunded, despite having self-perpetuating repercussions. The Council is understandably concerned about reducing costs, but they need to remember that monetary spending isn't the only cost we face.

2840 - Matthew Carter

I am also concerned at the statement at the foot of page 33: "However, even with the level of direct and indirect investment indicated above, it will still be unlikely that we will reach our emissions reduction targets as a Council or as a city." This is not picked up elsewhere in the consultation document. No analysis, no proposals re emissions reduction. What has happened that means the targets are now unlikely to be reached? What are realistic targets now and how will they be achieved? How far does Christchurch and the Council's commitment to addressing carbon emissions actually extend, and what factors determine where it stops? Shouldn't the responsibility to control carbon emissions and the level of uncertainty around them as well as uncertainties around adaptation be central to the LTP? At least they should be prominent.

2842 - Ants Field

Please reduce greenhouse gas emissions.

2847 - Colleen Philip (Sustainable Ōtautahi Christchurch)

There needs to be a very serious conversation around private assets (including housing). There appear to be people banking on compensation rather than making sensible choices with regard to their assets and this must not be encouraged. We cannot socialise the financial consequences of bad individual decisions because of people refusing to accept the realities of climate change. [Transport > Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)] [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Coastal Hazards Adaptation & Adaptation Planning]

2868 - Jonty Coulson

Furthermore, the city council must take a more proactive stance on climate justice, including reparation and recognition of indigenous communities on the front lines. Ultimately the council must take the climate crisis seriously. My life, and the life of everyone else who lives and will live in Christchurch, is at stake. Heat waves disproportionately affect children and the elderly, flooding disproportionately affects low-income areas. Under the currently forecast warming, these extreme weather events will worsen significantly, with drastic ramifications for the city. The council is not responding to this with the urgency it merits.

>>>

I am also disappointed to see climate change being underrepresented in the plan as a whole. I would like to see more though given to the formatting of the plan and the submissions document, to clearly represent the scale of the threat of climate change.

2902 - Prawindra Mukhia

5. Climate action Disclosure Water services are likely to be one of the first and hardest hit by the impacts of climate change. Impacts include but are not limited to, challenges with water availability through increased incidence of drought, deterioration of drinking water quality (for example through increased incidence of algal blooms, and rapidly changing flow regimes, rising salinity of aquifers), more rapid deterioration of acids (for example through pipe cracking in drying soils, increased salinity surrounding pipes), increased incidence intensity and duration of rainfall inundating waste and stormwater networks. Currently, the water sector is a net greenhouse gas emitter. Energy and chemicals are consumed in the treatment and conveyance of water and there's considerable inbuilt carbon dioxide created in building new infrastructure. The wastewater treatment plant processes also release methane and nitrous oxide from their processes, both potent greenhouse gases. Managing climate risk must be given significant weighting and priority in the water service delivery plans. The information disclosure framework for both mitigation and adaptation action must be stronger. Council should provide information about: • Emissions and the transition to a low carbon circular economy. • Impacts, risk & resilience – aligned with the any regional spatial plans • Climate related financial disclosures (e.g. future offsetting costs)

>>>

Suggest an Investment Business Case to be developed for this purpose. This will better help public to make an informed decision. The investment should also be used to identify climate change risks, probability and impact. It should be made area specific, Proposed mitigation and adaptation plans are to be included. This document should be shared and consulted with the public.

2922 - Zak Morrison

Climate Change Mitigation: While the Draft Long Term Plan includes initiatives for climate change adaptation, I believe there is a need for a more aggressive approach to climate change mitigation. The plan could benefit from specific strategies and investments aimed at reducing the city's carbon footprint, such as transitioning to a fully zero-emission public transport fleet sooner than the current target of 2035 and expanding renewable energy projects. These actions are crucial in demonstrating the Council's commitment to leading a city-wide response to climate change, as outlined in the strategic priorities.

>>>

- Increase the investment in climate change mitigation projects, with a focus on reducing greenhouse gas emissions and enhancing the city's resilience to climate-related challenges. By making these adjustments, the Christchurch City Council can ensure a more sustainable and forward-thinking approach that not only addresses the immediate needs of the community but also safeguards the well-being of future generations and the environment. I trust that the Council will consider these suggestions as part of its commitment to building a thriving, inclusive, and sustainable city for all. Thank you for the opportunity to contribute to this important discussion.

2942 - Will Taylor

I feel further efforts maybe made around environmental protection and enhancement. It is pretty insane that further efforts to mitigate and prepare for climate change aren't advanced.

2947 - Katia De Lu

No. 1. CCC must do better for the climate. As a parent and educator, I am horrified to see that the plan, as it currently stands, would fail to reach CCC's goal of a 50% emissions reduction by 2030. Our kids deserve a bright future in which they can thrive. But right now, we are not on track towards that future. As adults, it is our responsibility to do better for them. In order to give kids the safe and hopeful future they deserve, it is essential that we take urgent, ambitious action on climate change. There is no time to waste. Every fraction a degree of warming we prevent represents lives saved and future suffering prevented. We must increase our ambition, not settle for a weak plan that fails to even meet existing targets.

>>>

- Consider climate change in all CCC decisions.

>>>

3. Climate justice Climate change is an existential threat, the most important issue of our time. I ask that climate justice, mitigation, and adaptation be considered across all council activities so that we can make Ōtautahi | Christchurch a healthy, safe place for our children and all the generations to come.

298 - Zya Gurau

[Our Proposed Spending > Our Proposed Spending]

There haven't been resources explicitly budgeted for projects surrounding sustainability projects. I would like to see climate related projects more explicitly budgeted in.

>>>

I would like to see more of a focus on sustainability.

3012 - George Laxton

- “However, even with the level of direct and indirect investment indicated above, >>> [Capital Programme] it will still be unlikely that we will reach our emissions reduction targets as a Council or as a city.”
- We need to be investing more, it is only going to get more expensive to make all these investments in our city to get us towards carbon zero (and hopefully a less polluted city as well)

3031 - Lee Osborn

[Parks>Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration]; [Strategic Direction>Have we got the balance right?]

Not with regards to the environment. In a climate crisis and with central government reducing funding for predator control and conservation in a short-term thinking way for political expediency, it is imperative that any long term planning focuses on this. It is much more important than events, flash buildings and other nice-to-haves which won't be much use on a damaged planet.

>>>

[Parks>Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration]; [Other/Special Interest Topics>Tarras Airport]

There should be more emphasis on predator control, climate change mitigation and reduction and conservation. If CCC was serious about environmental concerns (e.g. you are one of very few cities to include cruise ship emissions which is great) you would stop the ludicrous Tarras airport proposal.

>>>

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Tarras]

Climate change should be no 1 priority. Time has almost run out. See above re Tarris airport needing to be stopped.

3045 - Vivienne Wilson (Orion New Zealand Limited)

The current proposal is not to establish a climate resilience fund and fund climate adaptation related capital expenditure from the capital programme – noting that the risk of not including additional climate resilience funding is that future generations may need to contribute more to address climate resilience.

We do not have a specific view of whether the Council should establish a specific Climate Resilience Fund, however, we would like to work with the Council on local area energy planning that will assist the City to achieve net zero by 2045. Overseas literature suggests that collaborative local area energy planning enables a wide range of actors – from local authorities and other public sector bodies to businesses, charities and community groups – to establish an explicit shared purpose to achieve local commitments on net zero carbon emissions.

We have mentioned above our work on Future Energy Scenarios, and we are looking forward to engaging with the Council to review and validate our energy scenario framework and assumptions. This supports the Council's strategic priorities at page 4 of the Draft Long Term Plan which is to reduce emissions as a Council and as a city. It also supports the community outcome of a green liveable city as well as the Council's Kia tūroa te Ao Ōtautahi Christchurch Climate Resilience Strategy.

A collaborative effort will be a critical next step in local area energy planning for Mid Canterbury with other stakeholders such as Environment Canterbury, Selwyn District Council and ChristchurchNZ.⁴ This is reflected in the Christchurch Economic Ambition⁵ document, where it notes that “Businesses are taking action to reduce their climate impacts but will not be able to eliminate carbon emissions without national, regional and local support and investment in renewable energy and fuels, and re-designed resource and waste management systems”. Priority 5 of the Christchurch Economic Ambition notes that no single organisation will be solely responsible for delivery of the priorities. Delivery will be achieved through collaborative action by the private sector and partner organisations.

3055 - Josephine Drysdall

Growth should also not be a focus—emissions reduction is where we need to concentrate attention and funds if the Council is to have any hope of meeting its emission goals. >>> [Transport > Roads (Capital)]

3088 - Heather Brown

Move things around instead of charging more. Lobby central government for more substantial contributions. A national issue shouldn't all fall on local ratepayers.

3089 - Trevor Lord

Insurance industry will dictate this more effectively than CCC or developer investment.

31 - Gary Durey

It is a scam. Climate is always changing and should not receive any funding.

3129 - Skye Arnopp

Why are we not focusing on stopping climate change, rather than "adapting"?

3136 - John Hynes

you need to do a lot more about climate change and discouraging people from driving everywhere.

you really need to be preventing climate change,

3209 - Anouk Minnaar

[Transport > Public Transport (Capital)], [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Transport > Roads (Capital)]

NO. 1 The current plan won't reach the CCC emission goals and still focuses on continued growth.

3250 - Hannah Murdoch

[Spending>Our Proposed Spending]

Retain the sustainability fund. Do not focus on development and hard assets. That is not all that supports a community. We need green spaces, connected communities, sustainable living practices.

3315 - Jill Hargreaves

Climate change needs a higher priority.

3325 - Adele Geradts

Reduce emissions as a Council and as a city, and invest in adaptation and resilience, leading a city-wide response to climate change while protecting our indigenous biodiversity, waterbodies and tree canopy.

Climate change is happening, and we need to prepare;

3327 - Ann Godfrey

Take the people with you, more education about mitigation using hard science as the basis.

3336 - Margaret Lovell-Smith

It's clear that to reduce our personal and community levels of carbon emissions, we are going to have to change our way of life. I would like to see much more council-led education and assistance so that residents have more understanding of the gravity of the situation, and are offered pathways of change in small steps. I also think there should be more readily accessible information (.e.g. electronic hoardings?) around topics such as the tree canopy, and the percentage of hard ground surfaces in the city and the impact this has on drainage and waterways. It would be good if residents could feel they were doing the right things if they decide, for example against cutting down a large tree on their property; or they decide against introducing concrete or bitumen paths and driveways on their property.

3366 - Robert Manthei

The Draft Plan is woefully inadequate in relation to funding to mitigating/responding to climate change effects such as flooding, coastal erosion and extreme storm events. The adverse effects of climate change are already being felt (temperature tipping-point has already been reached worldwide) and will only accelerate over the next 10 years. The Draft Plan does not acknowledge this in a significant way. For example, if flooding wiped out even one of the bridges to Brighton (Central or South) there would be inadequate money to repair or replace them, or to repair or rescue the homes along the Brighton coast. The money set aside for mitigation (318m over 10years, or 32m per year) would not even have covered the 5000 extra seats in Te Kaha (cost = 50m). The 1billion for climate adaptation over 10 years (100m per year) might fund one rugby stadium (total cost not yet known)--it would be totally inadequate in the event of one or two extreme weather events.

>>>

There should be a sort of 'crisis mentality' guiding the Plan given the urgency of climate change events that could and probably will occur over the next 10 years.

3379 - Mike Currie

[Strategic Direction > Have We Got the Balance Right?]

Reason 3: The plan, as it currently stands, would not reach the emission goals of the CCC (halved by 2030) and still focuses on continued growth.

3411 - Marian Krogh (Protect Our Winters NZ)

We also need better integration of the climate change strategy and biodiversity strategy. There are currently no ecologists on the climate change working group. So consider whether to add 'biodiversity' to the climate change working group/ and support for funding of biodiversity out of the climate change levy? (so not just focused on adaptation - which may just be infrastructure)

3415 - Allan Taunt

There needs to be more investment in the following areas:

- Protecting and repairing the environment.
- Reducing greenhouse gas emissions.
- Preparing for and mitigating the effects of climate change.

>>>

Climate change is an impending and very serious challenge facing us all. This will have an even more detrimental effect on future generations. This has been made even more difficult with climate change deniers using techniques to delay action. If we want to make any progress as a society, we must ignore those individuals. Even though average global temperatures have increased, we still need to commit to reducing greenhouse gas emissions.

3417 - Jack McConnell

[Three Waters > Stormwater & Land Drainage (Capital)]

We need more money into climate and flood protection

>>>

[Three Waters > Stormwater & Land Drainage (Capital)]

more towards climate / flood protection

347 - Catherine Webber

Encourage people to privately invest in renewable energy like wind power and solar power. I would support the city investing in generating its own power for its people. As a city surrounded by sea we have an opportunity to generate power using wave turbines, similar to those used in Japan and the UK. I would not mind paying so much in rates if electricity was free because it was generated by the council.

3484 - Prue Stringer

In the council's emissions reduction plan I want there to be an inclusion of cruise ship emissions in our total.

3496 - Bindy Barclay

Create more opportunities for land owners to work in partnership with CCC and ecan to mitigate climate risk

3542 - Beatrix Gilling

[Transport > Transport (Operations)]

Transport makes up over half of Christchurch's overall greenhouse gas emissions. And we should be seriously looking to reduce that.

3573 - Joyce Yager

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?]

Overall, too little spending has been proposed on climate change and emissions reduction and community projects. Please greatly shift the ratio of transport maintenance focused on cars to more low-cost bike and bus infrastructure (e.g., road paint) which will improve the safety of cycling, reduce traffic, and reduce emissions. There is no indication of being on track for any emissions reduction targets and the LTP needs to address how emissions will be reduced by 2050.

3592 - Lucy Altaner

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?], [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Libraries > Operations], > [Transport > Public Transport Infrastructure]

More for climate change, bike paths, libraries and public transport.

>>>

It is great that you are investing in public transport. It really helps the environment and climate change. There hasn't been enough work on climate change.

>>>

Climate change is extremely important. I think we should invest more into making sure we don't reach 2.0. Making us resilient after the effects of climate change won't help. We need to act now.

>>>

We need to act and try to stop it as much as possible, what you a trying to do won't be enough. P.S. Have you read 2 Degrees?

>>>

MORE on climate change!!!

3596 - Susan Lau

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

Climate resilience should be considered a foundational aspect of long-term planning, not an optional extra. Money put towards supporting businesses, events and infrastructure can be wasted when we have not ensured our security in the face of ongoing major weather events and erosion.

You mention that a downside of not having a clearly ring-fenced fund for climate resilience and adaptation projects being slow to be completed is that it means future generations will have to pay more. This is inappropriate and immoral, particularly given that the younger generations are experiencing housing insecurity and a high likelihood of less financial support in retirement. A long-term plan begins now and looks to the future.

When it comes to matters of the climate and our city being livable, it is foolish to think that this is an area that can be postponed. The costs will not only increase in the future but they will increase by a much greater degree, and future generations are unlikely to be able to bear this cost.

3598 - Kyle Sutherland

Climate change should be prioritised, with a focus on meeting net carbon zero commitments.

3635 - Jane Lila McKenzie

Your wording 'it will still unlikely that we will reach our emissions reduction targets as a Council or as a city'.. Answer.. the only way to become carbon neutral.. is for ALL life to cease. :(

3651 - Kate Innes

We need to do more to meet the emissions reduction targets

3655 - Dan Manton

Investment in infrastructure that mitigates climate change impact is needed now, so the city will serve future generations.

3683 - Max Sullivan

In terms of adaptation this means more investment into resiliency for extreme weather events, and I'm glad to see investment into things like flood protection. One of the biggest impacts of climate change seems to be the way its effects are going end up accentuating our already prevalent inequalities in society,

>>>

Overall I would like to see much more spending on climate change, in terms of both creating a more sustainable city and adapting to the growing impacts we are going to see going forward.

3690 - Jono de Wit (Greater Ōtautahi)

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

[We also need better integration of the climate change strategy and biodiversity strategy. There are currently no ecologists on the climate change working group. So consider whether to add 'biodiversity' to the climate change working group/ and support for funding of biodiversity out of the climate change levy? (so not just focused on adaptation - which may just be infrastructure)

3706 - Ellie Stevenson

There's a reason even municipalities in parts of the world like China, hardly a beacon for progressive hogwash, are pouring funding into climate adaptation and mitigation: they smell opportunity and they see costs in lagging behind the rest of the world. Just being a city in New Zealand does not guarantee Christchurch a place in the future; we have to actively choose to take that for ourselves, and there's no sense sitting there passing symbolic resolutions about how it'd be nice to succeed without the money to back policies up.

3725 - Richard Smith

The GNS report released to Council in December 2023 (GNS Science Consultancy Report 2023/81), indicated that Christchurch could see 14 to 23 centimetres of sea-level rise over the next 30 years, with some areas having a larger increase.

>>>

This must be a high priority for the council. Even if there is success in limiting global warming to 1.5 - 2 degrees, there will be negative externalities (e.g. more extreme weather, higher sea levels) that need to be addressed.

There were 462 premature deaths attributed to human-made air pollution in Christchurch in 2016. The majority of this air pollution is caused by exhaust fumes by fossil fuel vehicles. The aforementioned solutions could help in mitigating this issue. –

3746 - Quinn Ledgerwood-Gee

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Coastal Hazards Adaptation & Adaptation Planning], [Grants and Funding > Requests for additional grants and funding], [Three Waters > Stormwater & Land drainage (Capital)]

CCC says in the LTP “While climate change has not been caused by Council”. In future, CCC must be honest about its contributions to the climate crisis, and take mitigation seriously. CCC says in the LTP that sea level rise threatening homes is “mitigated” by “homeowners [being] anxious and uncertain”. This isn't good enough; CCC has a responsibility to residents who live in houses that CCC zoned to get built. Therefore, CCC must start a managed retreat program in 2025, with compensation for renters. Because the climate crisis will massively increase the scale of flooding, the stormwater system must be bolstered with adequate green stormwater infrastructure across the whole city built to handle high intensity weather events. Because the climate crisis will massively increase the scale of rain events, concrete surfacing on roads will cause more strain on the stormwater system because of the non-permeable surface. Therefore, CCC should immediately commit to desurfacing many roads and replacing them with rain gardens or other green stormwater infrastructure. The city council's sustainability fund ends in the financial year of 2025. This fund is designed to help schools, social enterprises and small businesses focus their efforts on sustainability. We need to get this reinstated with increased funding in future years.

3758 - Mads Churchhouse

[Strategic Direction > Infrastructure Strategy]

Secondly, there is no possible way for the council to meet its ambitious (and necessary) goal of Net Zero by 2045 with this current plan, particularly if rates are reduced. It's like this plan exists in another plane of reality from the Net Zero goal. Net Zero requires immediate and radical investment in mass public rapid transit, denser social housing, community services etc. as well as climate change adaptation. I welcome the money being put forward to adaptation, but these funds don't go far enough. Either CCC invest in robust public infrastructure things now, or you face a far greater expense in the next 50 years as infrastructure crumbles in the face of the rising climate emergency. Just look at the fact that Stormwater can't even meet their own mitigation commitments under current funding.

3775 - Kate Latimer

Hold for 3 years on climate work.

3802 - Matthew Baird

[Transport > Cycleways (Capital)]

No, there are three reasons for this: >>> 2. Insufficient climate mitigation projects The quickest way to reduce our climate impact is by reducing our transport emissions. As above, more investment in public and active transport will encourage more people to make the switch. Personally, more separated cycleways mean I am able to safely and confidently bike more places with my 3 year old (who loves cycling!).

>>>

3. We will not meet the CCC's 2030 plan As it currently stands, emissions will not fall enough to meet the goals of the CCC: 50% reduction by 2030. I would love to see a city where active and public transport are the default, we have excellent biodiversity and healthy waterways, and happy people making the most of nature and green spaces.

>>>

Climate change impact needs to be considered in all council decisions.

382 - Stephen East

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?], [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)],
[Other/Special Interest Topics > New Brighton Suburban Master Plans / Oram Avenue]

No, I believe more needs to be done to ensure we have safe cycle ways for ALL Chch residents (NOT just those outside of the East). More needs to be done to address the long term impacts of climate change. The less we prioritise this now the more it will cost us in future and it will be younger generations carrying the cost of the current selfish decisions. More also needs to be done to support and revive our eastern suburbs. They took the brunt of the Earthquakes and are still waiting on so much to be repaired. The revitalisation of New Brighton, and particularly the mall, should be a top priority for council.

3824 - Di Lucas

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > City Planning], [Parks > Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration], [Three Waters > Waterways Quality & Compliance (Operations)]

Sustainable management is crucial.

Better protection of high value soils for food production is also needed.

Also both the climate crisis & the biodiversity crisis need to be better recognised, such as in management of council/public lands across the city including riparian areas.

>>>

[Parks > Other]

CCC needs to address climate change mitigation, resilience and adaptation. Resilience includes wildfire resilience. There are extensive areas of flammable landcover across the council area. I have seen no measures to address reducing their flammability to increase fire resilience. Plantations have been permitted or consented that pose serious threats as does extensive flammable vegetation connectivity. Measures to encourage, support and/or require increased wildfire resilience through vegetation change and ensuring adequate firebreaks as non-flammable areas are increasingly needed.

3825 - Justin Barton

Agree that Climate Change should not be driving factors, but also any mitigation costs should be up for public scrutiny and debate with justifications for cost/benefit.

>>>

[Strategic Direction > Additional Savings & Efficiencies]

review climate change mitigation costs

>>>

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?]

Climate change should be low priority especially compared to global financial uncertainty and demographic change. The climate science mainstream and its funding are currently undergoing increased levels of scrutiny & challenge, and maybe up for significant revision.

3835 - Hiren Patel

It'd be good to see more climate action initiatives to avoid climate disasters affecting the city.

3846 - Rebecca Finch

I think you need to ensure you are applying the lens of the reducing emissions to all your decisions, although you talk about climate change/reducing emissions some of the actions you suggest do not follow through.

385 - Francesca Brown

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > City Planning]

Climate change actions - always underdone and not prioritised nearly enough. Firstly lets move on from climate change as its a very narrow lens to view the problem (and propose solutions). Climate change is an outcome for a much bigger problem - look up 9 planetary boundaries (the problems that are forcing climate change is just one of the 9). In NZ we are overshoot on many more. Carbon trading, apart from being a farce, will not address climate change (no matter how hard it tries) and it won't even have a look in on the other overshoots. Without priority actions on planetary health, we can't be the vibrant place CCC aspire us to be. The revolting poor quality subdivisions is just one example - be brave - require only 10 star homes to be built, require all materials used to be non toxic, stop allowing the building of ridiculous monstrosities that only 2 people can live in (if they are for multigenerational families' all good - but they need building differently). If you really want to address planetary health and lead the world in it we need to do things really differently. Be bold, be brave - the people will thank you for it down the track.

>>>

[Grants & Funding > Events Ecosystem Funding]

As noted earlier I'm not a huge supporter of this - large events have a large planetary footprint - not just the people in the act/team coming and all the paraphernalia that goes with it, but the whole impact of people travelling in and only staying a short period of time, the waste produced - I could go on. We should be focusing on being a destination to live and work and play - and being a low footprint as we can.

>>>

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

We have to focus on planetary health - please consider changing your language - climate change is NARROW as detailed earlier. Yes we need to mitigate and change for climate change but its only 1 of the 9 planetary boundaries we need to address.

>>>

[Strategic direction > Community outcomes and strategic priorities], [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > City Planning]

I remain unconvinced that there is deep understanding on what sustainable means - its an over used word - we need to get clear on what we actually mean and do that. Be bold, be brave - we need to make really bold actions for planetary health. This WILL benefit human wellbeing and this will then have other benefits. The way we currently do things like the design of subdivisions could make a real statement towards this, yet we continue to build poor quality housing stock in poorly designed subdivisions. Places like the High Street School site in Dunedin give an example on a small scale of what the future of housing should look like. One small example.

386 - Christine McPhail

I support the tree planting programmes but do question the Council's part in in such large numbers of high density blocks with tiny areas not concreted and the future problems being created. There should be more information and encouragement to garden and plant sustainably as to cut water use but maintain and increase plant and tree cover.

3875 - Maureen McCloy

I think there needs to be a greater focus on climate change. Otherwise there won't be a future for the next generations of ratepayers.

>>>

We need to spend more on reducing our emissions.

3899 - Harrison McEvoy

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

The LTP fails to meet the bare minimum levels of investment in climate mitigation. There is little to no scope for future requirements, and it has been consistently noted that the current investment will not even meet our existing goals. CCC has $3.2B in property that will be affected by sea level rise alone in the medium-term and little in terms of forward thinking funding to respond.

3924 - Rachel Purcell

There needs to be more future proofing against climate-change for a sustainable equitable city.

3936 - Carley Dove-McFalls

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Strategic Transport]

Not enough money is going towards public and active transit and climate change mitigation

3945 - Callum Snell

Because not enough money is going towards climate mitigation projects.

>>>

The plan, as it currently stands, would not reach the emission goals of the CCC (halved by 2030) and still focuses on continued growth.

>>>

We need to continue investing in >>> climate mitigation projects and climate adaptation projects such as new stormwater infrastructure, as not doing so now will impact future generations.

3947 - Dave Kelly

[Transport > Cycleways (Capital)]

Needs more emphasis on climate change. A practical step in this regard is faster progress on the major cycleways.

3949 - Fay Brorens

Council must take >>> climate breakdown seriously.

3959 - Sarah Jackson (Plant Based Treaty)

I think more focus on climate action targets are necessary

3985 - Benjamin Lowe

Do you have any thoughts on our vision, community outcomes and strategic priorities:

There seems to be no real plan to reduce emissions. There is no goal or target except 50% reduction by 2030. This will not be reached, but there is no repercussion. Why are there no real steps or goals or repercussions?

>>>

It does not far enough to address climate change.

3986 - Chris Kelly

We have to target the Climate crisis at all costs. In Australia people are now living in tents instead of houses. This is a much more environmentally ideal way to live.

>>>

Council should use the Tāwhaki National Aerospace centre and runway at Kaitōreke to utilize existing weather modification programmes to prevent flooding and drought like they do overseas. This has no effect on lab grown food so it makes it a workable option.

>>>

The world is changing rapidly & with big concerns like Climate change & finances we need councils to be aware of a better future than ever before.

Things that need to be looked at are

* Sustainable diets = allowing the fast track process to build lab meat factories & lab milk, because vegan diet is the only way to eat to reach net zero 2030. For protein huhu grubs have been trialled in Otago study with great results. Eating insects is an affordable way forward. This way we can get rid of all farming and convert the land into native trees for our blue/green spaces, with no fertilizers, pesticides, water use or mowing and this will create habitat for bees & butterflies.

>>>

* Electric Future. We need to invest in 100% renewables as we won't be relying on fuels, and these can be owned by public, private partnerships so all risk & cost is owned predominantly offshore and not affecting Rates. Cartage & Roading won't be required since food will be vertically grown in place based local labs. We can even live on pills like astronauts with everything we need, zero food requirement.

* Smartcitys = these future Proof us for Carbon net zero. You never need to leave home except on foot as everything is place based with 15-20min walk zone. The idea is that most people work from home, education, entertainment & exercise all from home.

Oxford, UK is currently implementing this in UK with 6 Zones and each resident gets to apply for provision to leave their zone up to 100x each year in their car, and using licence plate recognition the driver can be fined immediatly, as funds can be deducted automatically from their bank account.

The modelling for zoning has been trialled in 4 provinces in China and have been effective using facial and Iris pattern recognition. Its now so sophisticated people can purchase goods in stores paying direct by facial recognition tech. It also serves to catch criminals & those with outstanding bills.

Geofencing & electronic gates are part of the smart network and help deliver Zone restrictions. Climate change lockdowns can then easily occur allowing for whole cities to remain inside to contain & limit CO₂.

Carbon capture stored below ground is the future, and is already happening.

* CBDCs = central bank digital currency is the future, a cashless society. All money will be run by a Centralized bank - digitally, and as we advance like China this will allow us to move to social credit scoring systems, which allows authorities to punish people who don't follow the strict climate rules. China does this well, tracks every public move and can penalise even wrong recycling bin use.

4020 - Brian Turner

It's meant to be a top priority for Council, not a nice to have!

>>>

Climate change mitigation my top priority.

4025 - Robin Wynne-Williams

More research encouraged into how to reduce climate changes, and the causes, eg research into breeding dairy, cattle and sheep that have lower methane CO2 and urea emissions; plants eg plantain and agricultural/ farming practices to reduce urea leaching etc; eg smaller more efficient animals, with the aim "less is more" Encouraging the resuscitation of coastal shipping to move primary industry products etc, rather than massive trucks using copious gas, and emitting huge emissions would help the climate issues, and be more economical. Why aren't all new builds required to have solar panels installed at the time of the building, and also the LED light systems

Why aren't all new builds required to have solar panels installed at the time of the building, and also the LED light systems.

Use old car tyres in road surfaces.

water storage lakes / dams to store water for use in times of drought.

What are the long term plans re the lithium batteries used in electric cars, bikes, electric planes and possibly farm tractors; there will be millions in the near future, and is there any thought to develop a battery that is not so likely to go up in flames which are almost impossible to extinguish.

4032 - Paul Dietsche

More focus on climate change mitigation

433 - Derek Phelps

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration>City Planning]

Review the climate change policy STOP issuing building permits to the eastern suburbs as we all know a two degree's increase in sea temperature will have the the new shoreline being at Hereford Street

467 - Anna Scheirlinck

[Strategic Direction>Have we got the balance right?]

There needs to be more spent on climate adaptation & resilience, otherwise we'll all end up paying more for it in the very near future

[Strategic Direction>Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities]

You can't kick the can down the road with climate adaptation - let's prepare

497 - Anna Taylor

I'd need to see more information about the fund and it's tangible benefits. Unfortunately, the council cannot work alone to create change and this should be a government initiative, not a local council one

540 - Ross Allen

[Transport>Cycleways (Capital); Transport>Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)]

Given that there is an increasing understanding by UN IPCC scientists that climate change is not in fact an urgent crisis but is more of a very gradual long term issue, which will no doubt permeate through to national policies in due course, the Govt and Council determined targets of 2030/2050 etc will be pushed out - eg what's happening in Europe right now. Hence the cycleways programme could be extended out some years in order to reduce costs in the earlier years. The same argument applies for public transport - I support investment in improving public transport but it's not necessary to upgrade to the extremely expensive electric buses so rapidly.

>>>

[Parks>Parks Spending (General)]

$820m on parks and foreshore over 10 years is a nice to have not an essential high priority. We already have excellent parks and gardens etc, unlike roads and three waters. I support all the projects listed, but not necessarily all to be completed within ten years. Also, the Councils earlier decision to fast track coastal adaptation plans for climate change is now turning out to be unnecessary. The impact of climate change is now recognised by scientists to be a very long term gradual process which means we have much longer to develop our plans as previously thought. A longer planning period would also allow much better public acceptance, and would also allow more time for improved data and evidence to support the plans. Rushed planning is likely to end up having to be redone later, hence money wasted.

>>>

Re climate change, see my comments above for transport and foreshore etc. The Council should recognise that climate change science and public understanding is progressing quickly, and it is highly likely that net zero targets will change. Spending money earlier than necessary could end up as wasted, which should have been foreseen by Councillors who have been elected to make prudent decisions with ratepayers funds.

>>>

[Strategic Direction>Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities]

The strategic priority of managing ratepayers money wisely is inconsistent with the CO2 climate change priority for 2022-25, for the reasons I have outlined above. Moving too quickly on this will inevitably waste ratepayers money. It should be a priority for say 2026-50. We should not be leaders in this as it will be costly. We should do no more than mandated by the NZ Govt.

Climate change should be an actual priority, which means we can not afford to continue with our status quo of driving everywhere.

575 - Murray Walls

Start working to mitigate climate change.

578 - Susanne Trim

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters]

I think that you need a new CEO for the CCC in place before bringing the expenditure forward to 2024/5 financial year. This strategy needs leadership at that level. I would support it being brought forward to the 2026/7 financial year.

[Coder Note: Regarding the Climate Change Strategy]

579 - Rosemary Neave

No, we are not focused enough on climate emergency, and on building a climate resilient city. We are pretty much at 1.5 deg warming already - well ahead of predictions. We must reduce our carbon footprint and build climate resilience into our planning

It is not acceptable that we are not even aiming to meeting our emissions reduction targets as a council or as a city. We need to prioritise work that will - help us to meet our targets - give us an active timeline to upgrade the infrastructure that is at risk by climate change

>>>

[Grants & Funding > Events Ecosystem Funding]

I support more spending on Climate change mitigation and adaptation but do not support boosting funding for major events - these two are contradictory.

>>>

We must increase our preparedness. 3. It is 2024 and it looks like we have already hit 1.5 deg warmer (not 2040), so many estimates of sea level rise are almost certainly out of date

>>>

Overarching principles behind my submission 1. Climate Change and biodiversity loss are our biggest risk factors in long term planning. This is not far off, it is now – action is needed now 2. Although this is addressed in the draft plan, it is not addressed urgently enough. 3. It is 2024 and it looks like we have already hit 1.5 deg warmer (not 2040), so many estimates of sea level rise are almost certainly out of date 4. 10 years of this plan takes us to 2034 - 4 years past 2030 predications. 5. Money spent now to prepare for climate events is cheaper than the inevitable heartbreak and loss cleaning up after an event. 6. I may not be here then, but others will be – I speak for them – the generations to come

621 - Sophie Morton

Yes, ideally I think we should be investing more in climate change adaptation and efforts to reduce our climate impact though

627 - Alex Lewis

Christchurch is a sprawling city, close to the sea at low elevation. It will need significant investment into climate -resilience in order to weather the changes that climate change is bringing, such as flood protection. Additionally, Christchurch is extremely car centric and continues to grow outwards due to new subdivisions. Without appropriate public transport links and cycling infrastructure, this growth will continue to increase the cities dependence on cars and increase our carbon emissions

631 - Cynthia Roberts

[Parks > Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration]

Not quite. More emphasis on climate change and the biodiversity crisis we face. The role Banks Peninsula can play in this is important alongside the role of park rangers and pest management.

636 - Ben Taylor

[Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Transport > Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)]

I would like to see more action on climate change mitigation with more money invested into public and active transport including separated cycle ways.

655 - Patricia Holden

[Strategic Direction > Infrastructure Strategy], [Recreation, Sports & Events > Recreation Centres (Capital)], [Recreation, Sports & Events > Community Arts]

I think that we are coping now with years of underfunding in infrastructure and we also need to future proof for climate change (need to be proactive, not reactive). It is also necessary to put money into recreation - arts, sport etc. A city is not just bricks and mortar. We need to feed the heart.

659 - Matt Dumont

[Rates > Residential Rates], [Borrowing & Debt Management > Borrowing & Debt Management]

I believe that higher rate rises to support climate change mitigation and adaptation are warranted and that this plan does not go far enough. I also believe that the council should reduce the use of debt, but ONLY by increasing rates rather than putting off projects.

>>>

I believe that we should further increase rates to provide a higher preparedness for climate change impacts and to support climate change mitigation. every dollar we invest now will be worth hundreds in the future.

>>>

[Transport > Cycleways (Capital)]

I believe we should be spending more on climate change mitigation and adaptation including bringing forward additional cycle infrastructure.

666 - Stephen Palfrey

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design & Urban Regeneration > Strategic Transport]

No new roads, no new cycleways just maintain the roads we've got and plan for climate change e.g. sea level rises - Diamond Harbour needs security of transport network

672 - Edwin Du Plessis

See above, don't set these in stone, there needs to be a means to deal with changing situations over the next 10 years

[Coder Note: previous comment discussed addressing global warming]

694 - Lucia Rivas

More education on climate change impacts and the need to change as a society particularly for transport and waste management

697 - Joanne Claire Eaton

more solar power

715 - Hayley Barrett

I notice you haven't asked about climate change spending. I assume this is because you are going to spend it anyway. $1.318 million. Stop. Just stop the spending. While there are items that should be done, like the flood work, you cannot spend this amount. People just can't afford it. If you are intent on spending as per the draft plan for climate change, you need to find 1.318 million in savings elsewhere. I know you think people want this, but when it makes such a huge impact on what we pay personally, you will find less people want it than you think - many less. Here's an idea. If you must support climate change initiatives, offer a voluntary rates charge then everyone that can afford it and supports it will still be doing their bit. You won't do this though because you know people won't want to pay it. Cut back on the recreation and sport spending. Cut back everywhere. You have to stop spending and make sacrifices.

>>>

Climate change spending needs to be cut back.

722 - Sinéad Horgan

Come back to us with a proper proposal without spending millions on consultants. This is an important area for the future

751 - Genevieve Robinson

More money needs to be spent on resilience of our environment. This is not reflected in this plan

757 - Scott McCormick

If it's Bess an army do it by reducing the non essential items you waste money on not by raising rates. You act like a out of control spend aholic

784 - Sian Carvell

Please place more focus and investment on the current and future impacts of climate change. Be innovative, world leading. We all want to live in a healthy, thriving city, one that feels connected and safe. A place that people are proud of, and others - nationally and globally - want to visit for its beauty and innovative response to climate change. For that to happen, we need to think differently and invest in the future.

8 - Justin Yudistira

reinstate the programmes cut from the Climate Response Fund.

858 - Thomas McNaughton

I'm not seeing enough urgency on mitigating climate change.

>>>

Please secure the funding but also the brave, holistic decision making to advance climate response activity with urgency at every step over the next 3 years.

883 - Elizabeth Steel

I am begging you to support The Arts Centre. Please. This space is a vital part of Christchurch for me, both professionally and personally. I spent a large amount of my time studying here, and now I work here, at the Teece Museum. So many people would suffer from your decision to not fund The Arts Centre, workers, locals, visitors, and students alike. The Arts Centre is of great historical importance to Christchurch, it is a space of heritage, creativity, history, education and arts. It is a place where various people, from various communities can rally together to appreciate the arts, to be inspired, to create and learn. It's where people come to express themselves and showcase their talents, where people come to reminisce about their time spent here as students, to learn about something new, to study, to exist. Please, please don't take this away from us.

>>>

This is an absolutely vital part of preparing for the future. I am strongly for both the bringing forward of the $1.8 million for climate projects (especially given the way that inflation is going, it's far better to spend it now that to wait and have things become even more expensive) and the creation of a climate adaptation fund. I would also put forward that investment in mass rapid transit to get around the city would be very beneficial. It would facilitate cheap and easy movement around Christchurch, thereby encouraging people to visit new areas and enjoy what our city has to offer. Medium density rental standards would also be beneficial to implement because this saves extra land from being used for housing projects while providing homes for people, and properties to pay rates to the council.

>>>

These are aspirational goals that do sound lovely. A bit cheeky to mention "together we raise productivity and reduce emissions" while not being on target to reach emission goals. It's good that you've mentioned climate resilience and protecting our biodiversity and nature areas. Please make sure that you live up to your vision of protecting it -- words are easy, actions are harder, and the latter is in your hands.

885 - Denise Kidd

Council originally allowed for properties to be constructed in what have now become at risk from climate change. LIMS did not mention climate / environmental risks for a great many homes. Council has some responsibility for these homes,

906 - Alister Ferguson

Fund it within your current income

912 - Sophie Hartnell

[Strategic Direction - Have we got the balance right?], [Transport - Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)], [Strategic Direction - Infrastructure Strategy]

I strongly believe more investment in green technologies, biodiversity and climate mitigation; public transport and infrastructure, needs to be an absolute priority. If we don't spend the money on this now the cost down the line will be astronomical and untenable. This is our current reality.

>>>

Much more emphasis on climate change mitigation, biodiversity, rewilding our city and creating plentiful green spaces/nature refuges within the city limits. Money will be saved in the long term if investment in these areas is prioritised now. Our city libraries are community hubs and absolutely need continued funding to keep these spaces operating. They are well used spaces, in my family 3 people use libraries every week for work. Not investing in these community hubs would fly in the face of creating cohesive, stable communities. Investment in art is also paramount to a vibrant, connected community, more so than we realise.

>>>

I agree with much of where the spending is planned to happen, but I see a massive hole in addressing biodiversity protection and enhancement, which will have a direct flow on effect on creating a climate resilient city and save the council in the long term. Part of this work is continued invasive weed work, which is a huge component of protecting biodiversity. This work is ongoing as new weeds start to become invasive outcompeting native species. Funding is also required for the southern Port Hills which will continually be a fire hazard without funding to plant the area strategically with low flammability native species and creating strategic fire breaks. Private landowners need to be supported financially to carry out this work to protect this high fire risk area from future devastating events.

Not Stated

1050 - Ken Lloy

Environmental spending is a bottomless it so a peer review is required and those with clear green affiliations should be nowhere near this spending ,in governance terms this is called a conflict of interest

126 - Julie Foley

The CCC must make urgent progress on reducing emissions and environmental protection.

144 - Michael Fairhurst

Long term environmental concerns should be addressed, moving from animal agriculture to plant based.

1490 - Carolina Nery

It's commendable that you have initiatives addressing climate change. However, when the question arises about investing in climate change programs, it puts people in a difficult spot. Investing in climate action should prioritize cultural change and education, ideally integrated into arts and culture initiatives. This approach encourages daily lifestyle changes, environmental stewardship, and fosters a better world for all.

152 - John Stickley

Costal environment threat from "rising sea levels / global warming" is a propaganda fear mongering tactic. Most scientists who have studied this subject matter will tell the facts from the fiction. I will agree there is a thing called costal erosion but "sea level rise" is a fairytale myth.

1533 - Mark George

[Strategic Direction > Climate Change]

Many of the roading investments are increasing the current environmental cost rather than decrease it. Do things simpler and think about the impact now alongside your hopes for the future

>>>

Globally we need to reduce our cost on the environment. All that you deliver has an environmental cost, so work on improving the way you deliver services. It is a global crisis so encourage investment in areas where it is needed like places where the likes of famine results in disregard for the environment. We need to help them before we spend large amounts making small and inefficient changes here

1546 - Robert Fleming

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > City Planning], [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Strategic Transport]

The next 10 years are going to be more challenging as the effects of a change in climate will see more extreme weather events and resulting damage. We have to work harder to reduce emissions and be smarter with mitigating the damage of weather extremes cause. Continued urban sprawl does nothing to help; in fact makes a mockery of the intentions. Increasing the living density in a managed way, which improves amenity and reduces the dependence on longer travel times and journeys is the only way forward. More stick, and carrot are required.

1578 - Lucia Campbell-Reeves

The LTP plan states it is highly unlikely that Christchurch will reach its climate goals, this is embarrassing and useless, but not at all surprising when barely any funding is going into anything climate related.

>>>

Focus on building a climate friendly, carbon neutral, and liveable city above all else.

1737 - Tim O'Sullivan

The section on page 33 under the heading "climate change" indicates that the proposed spend is "$1 billion over 10 years on projects that directly help us adapt, and build our resilience." Some of these projects have some merit but they have no relation to climate change. Cycleways, for example, with a projected budget of $199m will not have any effect on the climate. But cycleways, in general, may be a good idea to reduce traffic congestion. Please drop the excuse of "climate change" as there is no scientifically discernable effect of human activity on the climate.

>>>

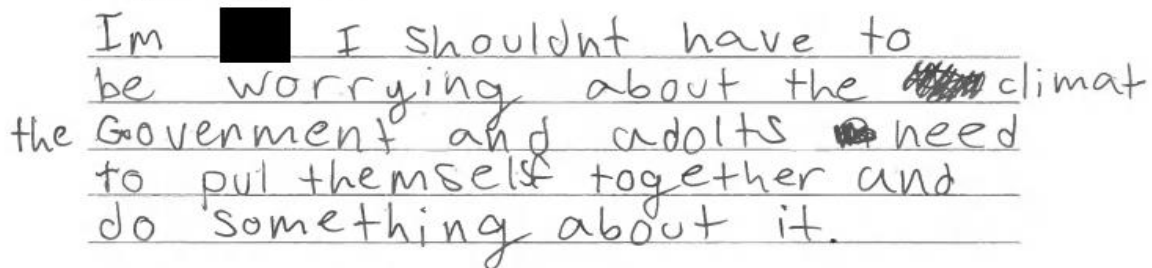

Cycling should not be used as a reason to "climate change mitigation" (page 33). There is no problem with fossil fuels or with climate change. Fossil fuels are a cheap and clean form of energy and many people make the choice everyday that petroleum is a cheaper option than cycling to fill their transport requirements. Climate change, apart from the seasonal variation from summer to winter, or the daily variation from day to night, is not a thing that the council can do anything about and removing it from the plan may well expose savings that can be made.

>>>

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

Please remove "climate change" from the plan. See my comments above. Climate change is a non problem. The weather forecast can not even tell me what the weather will be like at the end of the week, let alone saying that climate change will bring radical disruption in the future. Sea level rise will not be a problem in Christchurch, unless and earthquake drops the level of the land, as there is not enough water on the planet to increase the volume of water in the oceans necessary to raise the sea level. (The sea does rise every day at every high tide.) There is no prospect of Antarctica melting as it is too cold down there. Christchurch does not have to worry about this issue from a policy perspective. Anyone who would like to contribute to this fund should be able to do so but contributions should be voluntary and not tied to rates.

1941 - Olive Harris

Im [redacted] I shouldnt have to be worrying about the ~~climat~~ climat the Government and adolts need to pul themselves together and do something about it.

2071 - Paul Broady

• Your Plan provides hope in that one of six strategic priorities is to "reduce emissions as a Council and as a city". Statements throughout the Plan indicate that you are taking climate change seriously and are starting to respond in a way that has not been seen in previous plans. I applaud you for that. • However, the Plan needs considerable adjustment in order to enable the city to reach its targets of cutting greenhouse gas emissions by 50% (relative to 2016-7 levels) by 2030 and for the Council to be net carbon neutral by 2030. • It is not sufficient to just dodge the issue by stating: “...it will still be unlikely that we will reach our emissions reduction targets as a Council or as a city” (Consultation document, p 33). • I note that your strategy is to “increasingly shift our focus towards more proactive responses and interventions to climate change risks and impacts” (LTP Vol. 2, p6). That shift in focus should be accelerated considerably as global heating and associated impacts are accelerating in a manner that has not been predicted by the scientific consensus of the IPCC. • I also note that you accept the reality of climate change and that all service managers are seeking to reduce emissions (LTP Vol. 2, p24). It is clear that systems need to be put in place to enable this to happen more quickly and deeply. • We should follow the example of ten European cities that have demonstrated clear commitments, action plans, and investment plans to reach carbon neutrality by 2030. See: <https://www.weforum.org/agenda/2023/10/europe-cities-cut-carbon-emissions-greenhouse/> • You clearly recognise (LTP Vol. 1, p6) that if cities do not spend now to achieve carbon neutrality, then the costs incurred by climate change will soon be even greater, e.g. costs of repairs to damage to structures, costs of insurance, costs due to NZ having to spend billions $s per year on offshore carbon credits etc.

>>>

• The only statement about the effect of the LTP on emissions is that it is “unlikely” to allow us to reach our emissions reductions target. As effective mitigation of climate change is so important for our immediate future then this statement should be elaborated. • There needs to be a best estimate of the emissions reduction that this Plan as a whole is likely to achieve over the next ten years. We need to know how far from achieving our goals this Plan will take us. Has it the potential to take us say 10% of the way or 80% of the way? • A breakdown of the spending areas in which emissions reductions might result should then be provided. • If areas of suggested spending will likely have no effect on emissions or even increase emissions then we need to be told. • There then needs to be a detailed description of the actions needed and the estimated associated costs of making the reductions that will achieve our goals. • The emissions goals were set in 2019. We are now five years down the track and significant reductions should have been made by now – but they have not. The LTP is too important a document for these aspects not to be discussed in detail. We need to know what we have to do and we have to be made ready to pay the cost.

2087 - Emma Norrish (Waipapa Papanui-Innes-Central Community Board)

The Board is also committed to supporting the Ōtautahi Christchurch Climate Resilience Strategy's Climate Goals along with advocating strongly for active transport modes and networks to support walking, cycling, and public transport.

2108 - Briar Rotherham

SOLVE OUR FUTURE please

2109 - Te Aomihia Te Huia

Papatuanuku e Ranginui, and their children, ~~we~~ treat us as we treat them.

They nurture us as we nurture them.

KO AU KO KOE

KO KOE KO AU

>>>

FOCUS ON THE ENVIRONMENT

214 - John Hinchey

[Grants & Funding > Events Ecosystem Funding], [Resource Recovery > Resource Recovery (Operations)], [Three Waters > Water Supply (Capital)]

Reduce bid funding. We have more important areas to spend our ratepayer dollars on. Better solid waste processing away from Bromley: reducing the waste in our water supply through constant leaks: encouraging business to convert to electric vehicles to drive down city air pollution: etc.

2302 - Lisa Dockery

Climate change is definitely an issue however we are a small minority country. We need the big global centres such as China, America, India etc to deal with it for any great change to occur.

2337 - Kevin Parthonnaud

In support of the following strategy documents that underpin the Draft LTP especially where nature-based solutions and enhancing indigenous biodiversity have been given preference: Ōtautahi Climate Resilience Strategy; Ōtautahi Urban Forests plan; Te Pātaka o Rākahautū/Banks Peninsula Destination Management plan; Banks Peninsula Community Board Plan 2023-25; and Whaka-Ora/Healthy Harbour Plan.

2765 - Debra August-Jordan

4. Climate change - the climate is always changing!

2809 - Susan Thorpe

CO2 IS DANGEROUSLY LOW

The truth is WE ARE AT CRISIS LEVELS OF LOW CO2 AT 410PPM, which is exceedingly low in the history of the earth. IF CO2 FALLS TO 150PPM, ALL LIFE ON EARTH DIES. There is only one time in earth's history when CO2 was lower than it is now, when it fell to 180ppm in the Glacial Maximum. The truth about CO2 is the exact opposite of the official narrative. CO2 NEEDS TO INCREASE SUBSTANTIALLY, and by pure luck the burning of fuels by mankind has caused a slight rise, which is edging us into safer territory. Therefore the more fuel we burn, the better the result for Mother Earth, and coal is ideal both for this purpose and for bringing prosperity to the world's poor. The mayor is therefore 'off the hook' with his extended motor raceway plan! Australian Emeritus Professor Dr Ian Plimer makes mention of petrol head activities as being beneficial for this reason, thus silencing the moralistic finger wagging believers.

NASA satellite imagery shows that more CO2 has greened the planet by 25% in the last 35 years.

>>>

DEFINITIVE CLIMATE DOCUMENTARY

It is highly recommended that councillors and staff view 'Climate – the Cold Truth' movie, featuring eminent scientists who have dared to speak out against Zombie Climate Science. This documentary sets out the main scientific issues in impressive detail for the average person.

I can do no better than to quote Barry Brill in his article: 'RCP 8.5: A RECIPE FOR ENDLESS WASTE':

'What we can do something about is the "safetyism" of our public servants, who tend to grossly over-state risks and persistently regulate for gold-plated specifications...

These systemic exaggerations translate into hundreds of millions of wasted spending of scarce ratepayer/taxpayer dollars in every region.

Over-wide stormwater pipes, over-high wharf piles, over-built sea walls, indestructible power pylons, re-routed highways, restrictive zonings, refused resource consents, unnecessary migration of coastal homes, etc.

The great majority of the Ministry's false prophecies are based on a single imagined storyline – RCP8.5 – an obsolete 15-year-old scenario which is now almost-universally recognised as being highly unlikely, if not wholly impossible. Its probability distribution is about 1%.

RCP8.5 rests on assumptions that global emissions are sharply increasing, that no country anywhere has ever or will ever adopt a climate policy, that the world's population will double and that coal-power will be dominant by 2100. All this is plainly nonsense.

Yet the NIWA' website continues to describe this as its "business as usual case" – ie the most likely outcome, unless the world's current trajectory is changed. And NIWA is the Government's principal climate science adviser....

A US blog "Wrong Again" sets out actual newspaper clippings of outrageously misleading climate predictions over 50 years.'

I also refer to an economic review of the National Climate Change Risk Assessment (NCCRA) by Wellington's 'Tailrisk Economics':

<http://www.tailrisk.co.nz/documents/NCCRAriskassessment.pdf>

A Tailrisk Economics review of the National Climate Change Risk Assessment (NCCRA), which found it to be 'little more than a recitation of the "five horsemen of the apocalypse": more extreme weather events, more drought, more river flooding, higher sea levels, and more wildfires, followed by unsubstantiated claims that they will have either major or extreme consequences, with little regard to the underlying science.

2846 - Olwyn Ferguson

I think that there is too much talk about climate change as the climate has been changing for billions of years but i agree that some things do need to improve like we need to look after our city .

2860 - Ruth Grey

The climate has always changed. Keep an open mind about the hype one hears in the media because we all know they can't be trusted. Do not waste precious tax payer money on this latest fear tactic that we're all going to die. As a child I was told the earth would run out of oil by 2020. Well that didn't happen so I'm very sceptical of this latest climate catastrophising.

304 - Timothy Sjoberg

[Parks > Biodiversity and Ecological Restoration]

I would prefer to see more money going into increasing biodiversity and building resilient communities. Predator control enables restoration planting to grow faster, nature vegetation is needed to slow the increase of climate change and the impacts severe weather events have, and will continue to have on Christchurch.

306 - Beni Rae

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

So much of the councils funding is on adaptation. While adaptation is important, and we do not have much of an ability to mitigate, we do have a responsibility to support climate mitigation more than we currently do. Climate justice is not just about us "needing to adapt", we need to do as much as we can to mitigate our impact.

>>>

Climate mitigation.

>>>

Mitigation should receive more funding.

307 - Rata Jamieson

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

Not enough of the council's budget supports climate mitigation and adaptation projects - Otautahi is not a resilient enough city - especially as a coastal location.

>>>

The council is NOT addressing climate change at a systemic level - adaption without mitigation is pointless and will not serve our future generations. We are talking about a future for the children of Christchurch - your children and mine, will have no future unless we fund climate mitigation projects instead of merely adapting to our changing climate.

>>>

Christchurch deserves climate justice.

3444 - Jo McGregor

AND $20 billion to Aecom for consultants on Greenhouse Gas Emissions!!! What a joke.

3483 - Jo Bethell

We need to ensure that opportunities to reduce emissions and enhance climate resilience and adaptations are built in across all projects undertaken by the council.

3535 - Anna Harper

Climate adaptation as a result of the Solar Cycle, ready for the next Ice Age would be wise. There is changing climate not climate crisis.

3614 - Lin Roberts

Is the biodiversity strategy integrated with the climate change strategy and three waters strategy?

>>>

Climate change has to be an over-riding priority across all work streams

3616 - Mark Webster

You also mention Climate change - what do you mean by this

>>>

Greater clarity needs to be made around what you mean by climate change. And it needs to be from a fact basis, not rhetoric

3618 - Chrys Horn

This LTP also needs to invest more in climate mitigation work. The current investment will not meet our existing goals for climate targets. There is no better time than the present to be investing in reducing climate emissions This LTP fails to meet the bare minimum levels of investment in climate mitigation. There is little to no scope for future requirements, and it has been consistently noted that the current investment will not even meet our existing goals. There must be a concerted effort to properly allocate capital to these ends.

>>>

This LTP fails to meet the bare minimum levels of investment in climate mitigation. There is little to no scope for future requirements, and it has been consistently noted that the current investment will not even meet our existing goals. There must be a concerted effort to properly allocate capital to these ends.

3671 - Linda Nicolson

Surely if we build well using available research and experts this will mean we are already preparing for climate change.

3723 - Don Babe

[Parks > Other]

It must be remembered how the parks are great helps for climate change mitigation and adaptation as trees sequester carbon and provide shade. These cross benefits need to be considered together.

3733 - Helen Reason

Please read the following article: <https://www.nzherald.co.nz/northern-advocate/news/opinion-geoengineering-truth-darkens-horizon/ICD7WEAWK4JKT6EOIATR4IDYHA/> Has the council done a thorough investigation as to whether this is happening in our local area and in wider Canterbury?

375 - Alex McNeill

These are all very important. [Coder note: For context "Three Waters is immediately critical and requires lots of investment for future"], as does climate change adaptation.

>>>

Climate change is the big one for me. I've got a lot of years left to live in Christchurch (hopefully!) and I want this to be a city where I can feel safe. Investing in adaptation now is key.

3786 - Mark Nixon

[Other/Special Interest Topics > CCHL]

The council and its companies (Christchurch Airport Ltd, Orion, etc) need to all take a leadership role in reducing their carbon emissions.

3936 - Carley Dove-McFalls

Funding must go towards climate change mitigation projects (cycle lanes, public transport, greening, etc.).

452 - Mark Penrice

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Creating a Climate Fund]

CCC should spend more on adapting to climate change - its too late to fight against it.

482 - Graham Townsend

3. As a developed nation with an unsustainable per capita GHG footprint, we have a moral responsibility to significantly reduce our emissions profile. Road transport and aviation are significant parts of that profile. The draft LTP would NOT go anywhere near reaching the CCC's stated goal of halving emissions by 2030.

>>>

Globally, we are past peak prosperity. Our major trading partners will be seriously impacted in the next few decades. We have to be realistic in our planning. <https://phys.org/news/2023-03-simultaneous-climate-extremes-global-societies.html>
<https://www.bloomberg.com/news/articles/2023-03-27/record-heat-waves-push-india-closer-to-limit-of-human-survival> <https://www.independent.co.uk/climate-change/news/asia-heatwave-india-china-thailand-b2323666.html> <https://www.weforum.org/agenda/2021/06/impact-climate-change-global-gdp/> <https://www.theguardian.com/environment/2018/jul/31/chinas-most-populous-area-could-be-uninhabitable-by-end-of-century> This is no time for magical thinking.

531 - Cameron Bradley

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Creating a Climate Fund]

We are already screwing future generations by ignoring our emissions reductions targets. The least we can do is put a few dollars aside to compensate them for a fraction of it.

533 - Judith Livingstone

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration>City Planning]

In-building of units / houses without trees is not helping the climate. Concrete jungles cause flooding as the rain etc can't soak away into the ground therefore cause flooding

581 - Paul Amtman

Yes climate change is a problem but lets not get too transfixed on one problem.

762 - Julie Nelmes

no fix what is broken now

774 - Frank Webster

We should respond to global warming in a steady, measured pace.

814 - Malcolm McKellar

Plan for climate change Nolan for more pandemics. Foster young local talent. Encourage active transport.

817 - Paul Christensen

[Other/Special Interest Topics > LTP Consultation]

Effects on Climate change are not integrated into the documents. It would be useful if effects on emissions were included for the projects, as well as costs.

>>>

The documents would be more useful if effects on GHG emissions were included for the programs/projects so that ratepayers could judge on that basis, as well as costs

>>>

Reducing emissions to mitigate climate change has not been integrated into this document. The Council will not reach emissions reduction targets if they are not part of all planning.

>>>

The document does not show effects on green house gas emmissions for the programmes. Without this information, ratepayers cannot make choices based on emissions, only cost. This should be required for Council documents in the future, so the Council can work towards its climate change targets. Climate change is not built into the planning.

>>>

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Strategic Transport]

The document does not give information on effects on emissions for the transport program. The program will not have an effect on emissions from transportation. The Ōtautahi Christchurch

Greenhouse Gas Emissions Inventory, FY23 lists transportation as 54% of the city's emissions. It also states that on road transport emissions have decreased by <1% since 2019. To have an effect on emissions there needs to be a focus on active transport and public transport. The plan presented continues to focus on transportation by private car. $1billion spent on roading. Only $318million is proposed to be spent on projects that have a direct impact on climate change mitigation. That balance of spending will not result in the Council decreasing on-road transport emissions.

Additional Savings & Efficiencies

General Comments

332 submissions were received on additional savings and efficiencies.

All submitters provided suggestions for where they think we can find additional savings and efficiencies. All comments are reported on as being neutral due to this question not being directly aligned with any proposal in the Draft Long-Term Plan.

Officers Response

Several suggestions were mentioned by more than one submitter:

- Don't run gyms
- Review/reduce Library hours
- Cease/reduce climate change initiatives
- Cease/slow down cycle lanes
- Reduce Heritage spend

Two submitters suggested considering the advantages and disadvantages of a super-city approach for Christchurch, Selwyn and Waimakariri Districts.

Several submitters suggested increasing or new fees rather than cutting costs.

The only detailed cost saving response suggested by 2 submitters is:

- Hold staff vacancies for longer (to the tune of $2m)
 - Lift the overall staff vacancy rate by 2%, saving another $4m
 - Reduce strategy and policy unit operating costs by $2m
 - Reduce library services by 500k (operating hours and deferring operating costs)
 - Reduce social service grants by $2m
 - Reduce the annual operating budget of the climate change team by $1million
 - Reduce overall governance costs by 500k a year.
 - Reduce VO grants each by $1 million annually
 - Reduce CHCHNZ by 1.8m for urban development

- Ask CCHL to reduce its operating costs by $1m a year (and pay that as dividend)
- Deferred “growth capital expenditure not funded by DCs” by 2 years, just focus on asset renewals for the next two years - this would likely remove 50m of capital expenditure.
- Review the IT spending. I have reviewed some of the project headlines and some seem like ‘nice to have’ vanity ideas.

Waipuna Halswell Hornby Riccarton Community Board suggest a review to determine whether a reduction in Library hours could result in savings while still providing a good level of service . Reviewing Library hours has been considered by Councillors periodically in the past.

Cycle lane expenditure is being reviewed in light of subsidy changes.

The detailed submission would need to be examined for service level and other impacts, e.g. how much capital expenditure would be deferred and what would happen to levels of service, this would require extensive modelling to identify viable options, and as it would likely affect levels of service require consultation. Generally however, reducing the hours of services such as libraries and not running gyms is unlikely to save significant if any money, as many of the costs are fixed and do not change in respect of the hours operated, to make significant savings would require substantial savings in variable costs such as wages, and to do this will mean altering levels of service and this could not occur without consultation, and in the case of gyms foregoing the fee income which needs to be modelled against the costs saved. A number of the other suggestions relate to internal operations and a workstream is already underway to review all cost lines.

Not Stated

100 - Anthea Fraser

Suggest that the fundamentals clean water, stormwater, sewage, roads, public transport are given priority and rugby stadium and water sports complex have costs cut.

1002 - Riley Mahuika

Climate adaption. Lets get our books right first then deliver when its time, I will probably have passed away by then though and same for my children.

1009 - Penny Knowles

Cycle ways

1061 - Racheal O'Brien

Fix your internal management problems and look at services such as admin heavy answering phones for services like getting my green bin back work with people I stand for instead of against them. Stop being so bureaucratic in your approach fix those operational problems then you may gain better efficiencies across the board

1062 - Georgia van Zoelen

[Transport > Cycleways]

Stop projects like Wheels to Wings – Papanui ki Waiwhetū cycleway.

1071 - Brian Donovan

Cant think of any top of my head

1100 - Alistair McKinnon

[Strategic Direction>Climate Change]; [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration>Coastal Hazards Adaptation & Adaptation Planning]

We need to look at the climate change reducing features and maybe delay these, however, impact changes due to raising sea water do need to happen.

1103 - Murray Sanders

[Transport>Footpaths and Streetscapes (Capital)]

Prettying up street scape in central city a waste of money

1104 - Kate Bevin

[Fees and Charges>Libraries Charges]

Yes, some library services that are free could ask for a koha or small charge to cover costs.

1132 - Gavin Fitzgerald

[Recreation, Sport & Events>Rec & Sport (Operations)]; [Parks>Parks Spending (General)]

Money spent within sports and recreation and parks, heritage and coastlines.

1135 - Callum Wood

[Transport>Roads (Capital)]; [Transport>Transport (Operations)]

Operational funding All contracts for roading projects ; maintenance and renewals should be for only 2 years and retendered to avoid const escalations; in addition; cut year 3 of maintenance contracts completely and do nothing for a year regarding reseals and all roading renewals. sweating the assets one year will not make any difference but = huge $ benefits. review, cut and slash all traffic control costs by a complete overhaul of all traffic control (should be nationwide) as this entire sector has been hijacked by traffic engineers and gone too far. Cutting back requirements will save millions with no reduction in safety.

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Staff Matters]; [Grants & Funding>ChristchurchNZ Funding (General)]

Operational: the entire sectors of events, City Council Communicatons; CHCHNZ would benefit from a complete paradigm shift in how those sectors are staffed, funded and operated as there is a need to prune back the levels of all funding and staffing in these areas where the same can be achieved by less. and included in that is innovating ways to deliver comms but that is not going to come from an internal review

[Spending>Our Proposed Spending]; [Spending>Capital Programme (General)]

Operational and capital: review all areas with a complete review questioning " do we need to actually even do this " from a council perspective. there are many areas i would question why Council is actually doing them and scope creep has created many layers across all departments for no or little value

>>>

[Rates>Other]

as my previous comment; there is ample room to review how contracts are procured ; how assets are sweated to save millions each year with little impact on LOS

>>>

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Staff Matters]; [Grants & Funding>ChristchurchNZ Funding (General)]; [Spending>Our Proposed Spending]

as previous comment; review all levels of funding and staffing to areas of comms/ events/ CHCH NZ as there are many ways to review how these are delivered in different ways, or just cut them... Events will come anyway to a certain degree and comms depts need to consider a paradigm shift of how they operate. there is no need to have a growing communications sector/ staff if a different perspective is taken. but that requires bold and decisive governance decision making

>>>

[Spending>Capital Programme (General)]

as in previous comments: procurement ; contracts changed to avoid escalation - every single contract! and simply deleting some years completely

115 - Dean Milroy

I think there are areas that may fall under what that question was asking, such as some graffiti removal (rapid removal of protest graffiti against the genocide happening in Palestine being a good example)

116 - Jarrod Coburn

Massive sporting projects. Sports are not as important as they used to be. A lot of people don't participate in sporting activities but seem to subsidise those that do. At least increase the proposed charges for using the major sporting hubs/stadium that you are building so it becomes more of a user-pays thing.

1168 - Annie Pattison

Nothing specific but if a group of people and professionals are telling you to review it, listen.

1174 - Wendy Morton

[Transport>Transport (Other)]

Transportation

1216 - Glenn Maguire

[Three Waters > Stormwater & Land Drainage (Capital)], [Strategic Direction > 2.8-Additional Savings & Efficiencies]

Allowing the extraction of more river gravel this has two benefits it reduces flood risk and allows extra income to the chch economy. Our aggregate is awesome and we should be exporting it.

>>>

Pretty good but we need smarter income generation ideas. Let local industry come up with some and share benefits.

1230 - Carlana Limmer

[Grants & Funding > Events Ecosystem Funding], [Parks > Parks Maintenance], [Resource Recovery > Resource Recovery (Operations)], [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Libraries ? Libraries (Operations)]

Value the most - major event funding, parks and foreshore. With rubbish and recycling, some portion of these costs should be user pays on their rubbish collection to save some of the costs allocated here. Losing the investment into creating more cycle lanes, and reducing the spend on libraries as these are not utilized or needed as they were prior to the hugely growing on-line resources which people can access for free.

1292 - Gemma Phillips

Please don't up the rates. So many of us are struggling. Find better ways of cutting money. You are being robbed by contractors charging so much more than they should be. For example look at the proposed Thompson park plans- the cost of demolition of the old playground and the cost of the new one that nobody from the community wants. Just dismantle the current one and rebuild with wood and locally sourced resources making use of reusing things, using natural environment and making a cool playground that the community wants.

>>>

Yes everything seems to be costing a lot of money to do anything. We must think outside the square and not do things or use suppliers we have always used/done if they are costing too much. It's time for the people to step up and help more too to save money. Call upon community groups, volunteer, jobseekers, school groups, and people having to serve the community for disciplinary action to do some work that needs to be done. Keep it simple. Just the basics please- there will be time in the future to bring back more.

130 - Jennifer Nuthall

Move more rapidly to register unhosted visitor accommodation and apply strong penalties for businesses not complying. Without doing this you are foregoing a potentially good source of additional funds. Recognise the essential difference between people who host people in their own homes and those who do not live in the property they are renting out to people who do not contribute to our communities or the safety of long term residents.

1302 - Melanie Forsyth

Be more agile - stop works o things like Harewood Road cycleways when government has given a clear indication that it will not provide funding for it. Prioritise - do less in the heritage area and ofcus on core services like drinking water, wastewater and transport.

1332 - Liam White

The whole thing

135 - Jac Call

Have you thought of making a stop, say 2 year hold and then up for review of some the outgoings currently made.

>>>

Do we need Chch street judging? $27K spent on this, for what benefit to the city. Less and less members for Beautifying, less and less people having bright colourful gardens. Sustainable gardening should be the way to go, not spending money of $27K for a small group of people to go around and judge streets under really their personal beliefs not under sustainability

>>>

Yes: $27K spend a year of Chch street judging, for what. New developments will not have a choice to win as sustainability within the subdivision requirements is. Only judged on beliefs and ideas of 'what colour looks good!) believe with water costs this is a bit of a joke as not many can afford water costs and plants. A colourful plant over a loaf of bread for my family? I know my choice. Put garden judging on hold for a 2 year period and reduce my rates because of it and see if Chch become less because of it. I believe it will not as people Become more caring to environment, use less water but plant sustainably.

>>>

Don't do garden awards for the st, with $27K spent on this yearly what benefit is it to the rate payer, nothing, doesn't encourage people to do more for the street. Many people cannot afford garden plants now, this is the first thing to drop out of purchasing when times are tough.

>>>

libraries - less hours Green areas - plant grass that looks good but doesn't need as much mowing. More encouragement and community engagement opportunities to take care of environments.

1488 - Mel Brown

I'm not sure why the ccc is in the housing business. I feel this is a government role not a council. Sell all the flats we own to housing companies/government.

150 - Jeremy Foate

[Spending > Capital Programme]

The critical city services have been neglected in favour of grandiose projects such as the stadium and sports hub. They are the projects that should be trimmed to reduce rates.

1500 - Warwick Schaffer

- Transport busses and cycleways - The climate adaption team and the consultants.

1501 - Jason Middlemiss (Waimāero Fendalton-Waimairi-Harewood Community Board)

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?]

The Board's preference is for the Council to explore other ways to bring down our proposed rates increases. The Board reiterates its concern at reports that a number of opportunities for operational cost savings were not explored by the Council. While it is possible that many of these options would not have been acceptable to the community, we cannot know for sure without asking them. The Board is concerned that this has undermined our community's ability to provide feedback on ways they would like the Council to save money. This reinforces our previous comment about lack of trust in the Council.

1512 - Denis McMurtrie

[Transport > Footpaths & Streetscapes (Capital)]

As a caveat it is important we spend our money wisely with coordination with the various working groups and more buy in from the rate payer. For example simple cost saving ideas by owners rather than sit back and expect the council to do all the work. We already mow our berms but may I suggest we rake our leaves into piles for a possible mulcher at certain time known to the residents to mulch them up?

Keep to the basics. Be aware of new technologies as they evolve in so doing evaluate carefully with always the basics in mind. Be aware that often change in one area brings change in other areas.

1519 - Matthew Williams

ACROSS the board of nice to haves and idealistic goals. The goals in the LTP are self serving and lead to increased costs. We elect councilors to make the tough calls with the access to the information. The default position should be rates reduction and removing the bloat at the council. In the same way that individuals cut back on things like streaming services things have to change as ratepayers are not a bottomless pit.

1533 - Mark George

[Parks > Parks Maintenance]

From the outside it appears that services are delivered inefficiently. Too many managers and too few empowered to work properly. For example 3 staff taking an hour to mow a verge it would take 1 private person 20 minutes to do.

>>>

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters]

Look at more efficient management structures and remember that management is there to empower their staff to provide the best service possible. Encourage excellence

1540 - Isabel Carlyon

Council should focus on and prioritise delivering essential (statutory) services only to reduce rates increases as much as possible.

>>>

Focus on the essentials, and defer the "nice to have" services.

1567 - Sarah Pritchett

If we focused on top of the waste hierarchy and invested in support infrastructure maybe we could reduce waste disposal costs...

1568 - Kathryn May see comments on libraries as previous. Maybe someone look at a overall special price with power companies to use one provider.

16 - Andrew McKay

Just four cheery picked options. I want option 5. Reduce rates by: Stop all grants funding. Stop giving away out rates money. Slash projects scope and scale. Stop wasteful spending making chch an inaccessible city. Stop spending on roading that blocks the free flow of traffic; bus lanes, bike lanes, narrowing roads. Stop spending on major events. Sell assets such a the buses, city care, vacant land and property, central otago "airport" land. Close some libraries. Contract out the service centres and where rates can be paid.

1654 - Jane Ross

Roads and 5 G towers.

1671 - Wayne Mahan

Less unnecessary compliance on small business

1674 - Susan Galbraith

You should use people placed on PD to keep the city clean from rubbish and leaves, do gardening etc. That used to be their punishment and the city's reward. Has this stopped now because I never see them anymore like I did in the 1990's-2000's.

1691 - Jesse Newman

[Spending > Te Kaha], [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Strategic Transport]

Mothballing the stadium build and pursuing more efficient and sustainable modes of transport would significantly reduce council outgoings freeing money to keep rates rises in the low double figures.

172 - Bronze Templeton

[Rates > Other]

Reduce services and make people pay for services at market rate without any rate payer subsidies

>>>

Reduce or stop funding non-core services. It should be user pays without rate payer subsidies. If it cannot sustain itself without it, then stop the service because not enough people want it in order to keep it reduce non essential services

>>>

1737 - Tim O'Sullivan

The draft plans reliance on debt is not a healthy or sustainable financial model (see my comments above). The council should not commit to any more expensive projects that require debt. Even if that means not building any more cycleways.

174 - Joe Cole

There is significant opportunity to automate through AI to reduce costs which should accelerate over time, leading to an increasing reduction in labour costs over the next 10 years. Plan for it.

1761 - Elaine Dunlop

Check for inhouse cost savings...

1793 - Pamela Hughes

No especially not selling any assets

18 - Alex User

Were any cost saving identified ?

1825 - John Davies

Go balls out on essential services and eliminate everything else above maintenance. Perhaps float 49% of airport and port etc

1849 - Amy Brewer

Transportation, council services such as libraries.

1855 - Michael Liu

The spending on Te Kaha

1898 - John-Paul Kilkenny

Focus on core infrastructure and facilities. Don't waste excessive money on old buildings. Let the city evolve with new buildings.

>>>

Heritage buildings.

1927 - Donna Gillatt

Cut council staff. Focus on the basics. Learn how to say no. Everyone, group or organisation cannot always get what they want, just a reality of life.

193 - Anne Mahan

[Transport > Other]

Less transport trials it should already be known, the impact of some of the transport initiatives

1968 - Kelly Osborn

Council staff and facilities and spending on non-essential services.

2073 - Peter Cook

A cheaper more realistic stadium

2074 - Andrei Kardos

Climate. Money is going and never a report on achievement. Bike lanes when people struggle to feed their children. Better management of the costs and labour, contractors, council employees as right now every one is milking the rate payers money

2087 - Emma Norrish (Waipapa Papanui-Innes-Central Community Board)

Levels of service are really important to our residents, particularly the many who take a great level of pride in our city and make it a great place to live. While a review of levels of service is important to ensure costs are being managed well, the valuable interactions the Board have with residents highlight that the Council's investment in the city motivates residents to match it in investing their time in helping keep the city safe, beautiful and vibrant. The Board sees first-hand how partnering with community, and maintaining the investment in community spaces that levels of service represent, enables and motivates residents to participate and connect locally, enriching both their own lives and their neighbourhoods. Whether this be through community planting days, supported by Parks staff, community grants that support groups to facilitate community-led development countering anti-social elements, or the essential work of the Council's traffic engineers, community travel advisors, and road maintenance staff, who respond to our growing and changing city to make it accessible, functional and safe, it is not lost on the Board that where the Council invests in the city, residents pitch in to create compounding returns for community wellbeing.

2097 - Marie Haley

Prioritise the things that are logical and essential, that are vital to reduce loss of life, such as civil defence, resilience and connectivity and communications, rural roading, fix wastewater pipes to ensure a healthy Akaroa harbour to swim in, swim safety lessons for all city kids including Banks Peninsula rural. Reduce the spend on idealistic or nice to have projects that can be delayed or reduced in spend. Delaying these things is important as the economy recovers from Covid worldwide disruptions, just as households delay spend in tough economic times.

2120 - Clover Sullivan

the insane cycle lanes, and the "Temporarily" chlorination of water needs to end

2126 - Elfi Spiewack

Things like unnecessary stadiums

2166 - Wendy Everingham

I also don't see anything in relation to generating more green power from renewables. I just read that the price of power is going to go up. Why don't you try and offset this by generating your own solar energy from the thousands of roof tops that you own?

2171 - Mark Smith

Need to look at way you are sending. An Armguard Security vehicle over to Akaroa every day to check on freedom camping. Very big expense for what value

2198 - Andrew Smith

Consider reduced opening hours or community facilities or increasing user charges. Need to investigate alternative funding models - rates increases into the future are unsustainable.

2263 - Scott Babington

More of a focus on equity.

2269 - Lyn Leslie (Te Pātaka o Rākaihautū Banks Peninsula Community Board)

The Board believes that savings can be made on repairs & maintenance and capital programme works within Te Pātaka o Rākaihautū Banks Peninsula by using peninsula-based contractors.

2301 - Ian Douthwaite

Stop spending on global climate change, Antarctica, space, and events. Stop spending on handing out money. Stop producing thousands of pages of reports, briefings, minutes and plans: consider the millions of words that have to be written, read, reviewed and revised. Stop spending on ambitions, narratives, stories, and visualisations.

2305 - Monique Maynard

SPECIAL EVENTS ARE GREAT - BUT NOT AT THE EXPENSE OF THE ARTS CENTRE AND ORANA PARK AND GOODNESS KNOWS WHAT ELSE HAS BEEN CUT AS YOUR PLAN DOES NOT SHOW THIS.

2310 - Helen Broughton (Waipuna Halswell Hornby Riccarton Community Board)

The Board considers that the Council could review the opening hours of libraries to determine whether a reduction could result in savings while still providing a good level of service to residents.

2328 - Steven Gray

Sale of commercial assets that are not producing commercial returns

2355 - Iain Sanders

[Three Waters > Three Waters (Operations)]

We can do much more with less by leveraging natural resources available such as underground springs and aquifers and share resources.

2357 - Cori Sanders

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters]

I think that the council needs to look at their operational spending and think about where they can trim the fat. Are they using too many expensive consultants? Removing the top heavy numbers of administration employees at the council is a start to reducing costs and reducing rates increases. More projects, regardless of their apparent 'requirement' have a large team of employees and contractors attached to them.

2358 - Carolyn Moffat

We need to look for areas to make cuts.

>>>

[Libraries > Libraires (Operations)], [Three Waters > Stormwater & Land Drainage (Capital)]

Perhaps there are savings to be found -ie reduce operating hours of some libraries, or reduce the number of times per year the council crew come down streams, such as Old Mill Stream, to cut vegetation.

2362 - Rosalee Jenkin

Cost reductions should NOT come from service cuts, sale of assets or cuts to climate change and biodiversity programmes. Extra revenue could instead be generated by: - selling the land purchased to build Tarras Airport - increasing car park charging in Council facilities - a congestion charge within the CBD during peak times - increasing fees for excess water use

2368 - Alaine Percasky

Cycle lanes are not required at this time. Not enough people, who use these.

2389 - Aurora Garner-Randolph

no.

2390 - John Gibbons

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters]

However, I am sure that savings can be made in management rolls. The council should declare what increases in personnel have occurred over the past ten years in management rolls and front-line services. Maybe savings could be made.

2393 - Coralie de La fage

Start looking at the services and why they cost so much before taxing more - you're not addressing the core of the issue.

2403 - Andrew Woodfield

[Spending>Our Proposed Spending]

Focus on getting the existing expenditure under control rather than grand and wasteful non-core spending

2404 - Grant MacLeod

[Recreation, Sport & Events>Recreation Centres (Capital)]; [Strategic Direction>Financial Strategy]

Look at your carry forward and how you can realistically deliver projects and when. Also I question if you really need to continue to provide gyms directly or if there is a better model. When was the last time this was really tested independently?

2448 - Barrie Uren

efficiencies in RMA eg city roads maintenance and footpaths Do not sponsor sportsmen and women and sports teams as this is not city council responsibilities eg go back to their relevant sports and fundraise themselves

2507 - Bronte Barber

- I agree we should focus on things that will bring in money for the city (ie Te Kaha does but cycle ways don't). Overall for Christchurch net savings, focusing on what will bring an income is positive - demonstrate the value it adds in dollar terms. Need to know $20mil is effectively spent. - Need to be an inviting city first. If we run businesses down with rates/road closures (bus lanes that take out parking) - We won't be able to support and it would mean nothing.

2508 - Oliver Hutchison

Cost reductions should not be achieved by cutting services, or cuts to Climate Change or Biodiversity programmes (including all cycleways). Money could be saved by cutting spending on roading maintenance. Close roads to cars.

2521 - Stuart Jones

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Staff Matters]; [Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]

COUNCIL WORKERS AND COMMUNITY NEED TO WORK EFFICIENTLY.
GET RID OF CONSULTANTS. !!
NO MORE CYCLEWAYS

2524 - Ruth Falconer

[Other/Special Interest>Creating a Climate Fund]

Climate change adaptation has got out of hand.
Is there really sufficient evidence based science to require all this spending & fear.

2525 - Adrienne Kimberly Georgine

[Grants & Funding>Requests for Additional Grants and Funding]

I think we should explore taking some of the allotment from Three Waters and ensure grants that make the city money, like the Screen CanterburyNZ Production Grant, continue. This grant has provided an incredible $12.5 million return on a $1.5 million investment, providing jobs and spend in our region.

2529 - Bernard Newman

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Staff Matters]; [Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]

LIP 2024-2034:

No areas ought to be sacred in terms of looking at cost savings.

Maximising all aspects of staffing, spend much less on consultants do things once and properly, stop spending on the massively and unnecessarily over engineered cycleways.

2530 - Clare Thompson

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Cathedral]

Cathedral restoration is wasteful spending

2533 - Steven Muir

[Grants & Funding>Events Ecosystem Funding]

reducing funding for major events would be first priority for saving money.

2538 - Libby Ornsby

[Strategic Direction > Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities]; [Other/Special Interest Topics > Governance]

Instead of making decisions for the city based on personal ideologies, get back to basics and make sensible decisions the majority of the city support, not just the noisy minority. Stop wasting time and money going back to decisions because they aren't the ones certain people want.

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Governance]

Reduce the number of wards,

[Transport > Cycleways (Capital)]

stop the nonsensical cycle ways and simply have painted demarcation.

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters]

Stop outsourcing roles that can be better managed in house.

[Grants & Funding > ChristchurchNZ Funding (General)]

Is ChchNZ necessary? Do they need the space they use up?

2583 - Lois Moore

Reduce the funding for these events. With the huge increases in the cost of living, including rates, how will ordinary people afford to go to these events? The state of our water and climate change should be given priority over entertainment.

2621 - Caroline Gray

Toads

[Coders Note: Roads]

2625 - Danielle Leenders

Council work can be extremely inefficient which is costly. Explore ways to improve efficiency which will have limited effect on community experience.

2655 - Michele Mccaw

Even though I support long term plan I still want to see accountability and budgets running on time and not over budget

2695 - Dave Gardner

don't cut services.

2701 - Blair Smith

I don't see many ways for you to reduce costs without reducing services. But I do think you need to start thinking differently about how you get funds. Try look for ways to raise funds that also contribute to the type of transformation our city needs to make.

2702 - Wendy Dick

Putting tenders out to smaller companies or new companies that have not been used before

2705 - Ian Le Page

Council NEEDS to review the the time wasting compliance requirements which have no benefit to the public other than maintaining excessive staffing numbers and delivering no service.

2733 - Georgja Macaulay

Honestly the stadium. I know it will be nice but I don't think we really needed such a big monolith in the middle of the city. No stopping it now though.

2734 - Sharon McDonald

This should have been done, how much is it going to cost to explore ways to reduce our rates. Live within the budget you have set out for these things. Are these people already being paid to do a job? Why the extra costs? How many more major facilities are on your books to be built? Finish what you have started and then take a big look at what we have. The Council has had a lot of good ideas set before them before now, which would have been good for the city. eg a new lake for rowing?

277 - Jane Harrison

Looking at contractor costs - are they really giving us value for money or could others provide a better service cheaper?

2791 - David Dockery

LIP 2024-2034?

User pays Model. For large items
i.e. stadiums, shows, tickets for course ship.
get those who want these items to pay is the 9 councilors who keep passing these highly expensive items onto the ratepayer ATN.
Majority now cannot afford to live in central city now.

Major event bid funding

2836 - Jillian Frater

Yes. I consider Council should overhaul its policy for charging for parking so that is far more responsive and is lead by demand. This would require parking to be charged in a far more comprehensive way than its currently blunt form. Prices should vary depending on location and time of day, with high rates at peak times and locations to suppress demand. Parking charges should also extend beyond their current locations in relation to the central city but with greater provision made for residents parking in these areas. This could also be associated with congestion charging in the central city.

2848 - Glen Koorey

No, instead you should be looking at ways to increase some revenue streams

2857 - Jo Blair

General admin and procurement costs across all of Council.

2888 - Alistair Price

Street Lighting. Since the introduction of the new LED lighting, I notice that when the lights are switched on via ripple relay the lights come on for about 30 seconds and then switch off. The lights remain off for up to 18 minutes and then switch on via the light cells attached to the lights. My understanding is as there is no electricity meter on the streetlights everything is charged via the time the ripple relay switches on and off. I have completed a calculation based on the number of streetlights and the additional cost could be $50,000.00 per annum. More if the same thing is happening in the morning.

>>>

Last year I saw a contractor in a very large truck driving around inspecting wastewater sumps. One driving, one looking out the passenger window inspecting the sumps. Should have been one person on a road worthy type farm bike. We see CCC waste of valuable ratepayer's money every day. Excessive road cones, streets closed and not a worker insight. Expensive cycleways, poor choice of trees that damage footpaths, Poor planning. What about the contractor who advised CCC staff that there was a design flaw in a retention basin. CCC told the contractor to complete the contract as specified or they would not get paid. Weeks later the CCC issued instructions to correct the design flaw.

2899 - Victoria Nebbeling

I cannot clearly answer the above question because there are areas that costs need to be reduced, e.g. Te Kaha, excessively high staff salaries, but also places that you need to increase investment, like climate change adaptation.

292 - Ben Huang

transportation

2922 - Zak Morrison

Asset Utilization and Revenue Generation: While cost reductions through service cuts or the outright sale of assets are not considered viable options, especially for climate change or biodiversity programs, there are opportunities to extract more value from existing assets. These opportunities can help offset costs and reduce the financial burden on ratepayers. >>> The Christchurch City Council's Draft LTP 2024-2034 presents an opportunity to explore innovative cost-reduction and revenue-generation strategies that align with the city's strategic priorities and sustainability goals. By focusing on extracting more value from existing assets and introducing measures that also support environmental and transport objectives, the Council can enhance financial sustainability without compromising on essential services or commitments to climate change and biodiversity. This submission advocates for a balanced approach that considers the long-term benefits and impacts of each proposed strategy.

2924 - John Gibbs

Everywhere.

294 - Michael Brantley

Cultural virtue signaling. The cultural stuff wastes money. Hardly anyone cares. The pride huge spend up. Please. Stop saying our money.

297 - Michael Crabtree

No belt tightening seen, more reduced services required.

>>>

Only complete projects that ensures safety of public. Other nice to have should be shelved. We need more cost cutting controls in place. Stop the wasteful spending of rates, better priorities addressed

>>>

Cut back on services

>>>

[Libraries > Libraries (Operations)]

10% cost savings required

>>>

Less consulting

299 - Jane Nuttridge

Yes, stop spending money on these crazy intersections such as Lincoln Rd and Shirley raised platforms. Stop going ahead with the Dyers Pass roundabout work.. stop resealing Cashmere Road.. just stop with these intersections that the community feed back that they DON'T WANT!

3021 - Viane Makalio

three waters

3037 - Robert Fletcher

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Cathedral]; [Parks>Heritage (Capital)]

I think care has to be taken in funding for repair or earthquake strengthening of heritage buildings where the costs are prohibitive (especially the cathedral).

3039 - Paula Allen

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Asset Sales]

look at the council assets, sell off the ones that under perform, sell excess land

3042 - Elvira Cheng

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Creating a Climate Fund]

Climate change adaption, increase city's resilience

3046 - Gisela Faber

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Staff Matters]

Slim salaries of upper storey.

3077 - Mike Davidson

If you want to introduce a new parking fee, look within your own house first. The Mayor and Councillors currently get a free car park, which is not an entitlement, but a perk. This perk is a cost to the Council. The car parks should be used for CCC cars that are currently paying to park in other parking facilities or the Mayor and Councillors should pay a fee to use them.

311 - Peter Clark

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters]

Reduce staff and contractors by 20%. Freeze wages for 3 years. Stop building monuments.

319 - Fay Stickley

All written above. So much money wasted on many projects. I have seen main roads pulled up 2-4 times in 2 years same areas for different repairs. Why are these not done all together. Electrics, water pipes, waste pipes, work as a team.No more cycle ways. Stop big shot construction companies buying valuable land for crappy apartments that look ugly and congest parking for residents, all apartments should have off street parking no I think council services are great and everyone should have access to them.

3192 - Janene Burnett

324 - Richard Wesley

[Recreation, Sports & Events > Rec & Sport (Operations)]

Not running gyms, but putting these out for private businesses to take over.

3240 - Sarah Brunton

[Rates>Residential Rates]

Please find savings. The proposed rates rise is unaffordable. Please look into other areas (outside service levels) that have an impact on reducing rates.

3248 - Dave Edwards

It's a fertile document to find millions in savings

3256 - Ian Goodwin

[Parks>Sports Ground & Facilities]

Joint venture with Sports clubs to maintain and enhance facilities

3257 - Fiona Jones

Look at what is really essential what is the core purpose of the council, look at what extras are being paid for and pulled back on them to save tax payers money.

3310 - James Lunday

Roads

3317 - Nik Kneale

Stop throwing money at white elephants and invest it where it will make a difference to our people and our environment.

3340 - Ric Summer

[Spending>Te Kaha]

Te Kaha other councils chipping in even if this a bit cheeky after the fact

3361 - Ali Cameron

Every area needs review

3378 - SAHIF ALI

Christchurch city council should create plans in collaboration with neighbouring councils to get maximum benefits

338 - Jennifer Riley

Orana Park and wildlife park contributions Robert McDougall Gallery Parliamentary Chambers Tram Gondola

3392 - Stephen Wood

Just a general view to making existing services as efficient as possible, I.e keep an eye on cost management

340 - David Wilkinson

[Art Galleries & Museums > Art Gallery (Operations)], [Grants & Funding > Other]

art gallery - $13m a year. Need to charge bigger entry fee. community grants - are these a good way to spend money/priority?

341 - Paul Burbury

Cease all spending on 'Climate Change Initiatives'. These have consistently proven to be ineffective. There is a negative correlation between the amount of money spent and the results.

3411 - Marian Krogh (Protect Our Winters NZ)

Cost reductions can't come from service cuts, or from the sale of assets. There can't be any cuts from the climate change or biodiversity programmes. If anything these should receive additional funding. One way there there could be extra income generated could be from a congestion charge.

3415 - Allan Taunt

[Transport > Roads (Capital)]

If possible, consider delaying road resurfacing where a road is already in an acceptable condition.

3423 - James Upton

Not sure about Urban Forest spending.

3425 - Hugh Dacre

Accelerate projects only if it saves money. The cost increases on projects which have been dragged out for various reasons are a warning

3429 - Somnath Bagchi (Avonhead Community Group Incorporated)

See our earlier comment about decreasing or stopping funding for projects and organisations that are low value for money.

[Coder note: Earlier comment for context 'Alternatives to rates rises - such as asset sales and/or revenue through businesses where the Council is a shareholder - should be prioritised as sources of revenue for the Council. Funding of projects and organisations which bring low value for money should be reduced or stopped altogether.']

3430 - Philippa Upton

No I think there is always room to review processes and to try and find more efficiencies in the way things are done, but please retain the current services. This includes support for smaller cultural facilities such as Akaroa museum.

3435 - Alex Cornford

Withdraw from stadium funding to save me money. Those that want the stadium can crowdfund and shouldn't be picking ratepayers pockets.

3436 - Sara Campbell

Do not sell our assets. Increase funding in the following ways: increase parking charges. Sell the land in Tarras Add an environmental levy per visiting cruise ship passenger. Add a levy on flights to and from Christchurch Airport

344 - Aaron Herriott

Less "climate change" money waste. Less overpriced projects like huge cycle lanes and risen intersections

3471 - Murray Irvine

There are savings to be made by making the right decisions.

3474 - Timothy Lambert

some of capital expenditure as previously noted

3476 - John Fletcher

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Public Transport]

1. I think bus services need attention. Busses pass my address about every 10 minutes and most are almost empty. This is not good. Consider perhaps longer intervals between busses, smaller busses, or even changing of bus routes.

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Staff Matters]

2. I was unhappy with the XXXX debacle where a weak candidate was appointed to a job at great expense to the city ratepayers especially as I do not believe there were no NZers perfectly capable of doing the job she was given at a cheaper cost. I think there are too many overpaid staff within the council and rates of remuneration need attention. Furthermore priority should go to NZers not foreigners. 3. More careful planning so work is not duplicated. 4. Reduce work of consultants.

3483 - Jo Bethell

I encourage the council to continuously be looking at cost-savings through increased efficiencies and stream-lining of processes and projects.

>>>

I primarily encourage the council to focus on identifying savings through improved efficiencies in projects and processes -which may include doing things differently.

3485 - Dr Sally Price

Other options for keeping rates down, eg spreading the cost more evenly over the next 5 years instead of a large amount in 2024/25 and tapering off as per Our draft long term plan 2024-2034, Consultation document, p39. Also council could explore getting rates from Government properties, they still have water supplied/greywater removed and need to contribute (Dave Armstrong, April 2 2024, The Post). This would help to alleviate the day-to-day person with such high rates bills.

3493 - Brendon Lee

Deem what are essential services? Library? Or the CCC engineer working in building consents that spend a day sending few queries or letters and their day is done? I would strong advise independent productivity assessors (like my cousin does for Auckland City Council) and you will be surprise how much time is consumed sitting around or at the kitchen making cups of tea.

>>>

Again, employ independent efficiency experts into the CCC workforce. Every person's position should be assessed on their productivity if ie. they spend too much time having a cup of tea to how many email replies the civil engineer did today. If they don't perform to an acceptable standard, then make them redundant (regardless if they're Maori or not).

3497 - Cerys Fletcher

Yes. I believe that rather than cutting climate change or biodiversity programmes, or selling valuable assets, Council should consider selling the land purchased to build Tarras Airport, an asset which does not currently generate sufficient returns, whose construction and use would generate unjustifiable CO2 emissions, and the money from which could be put towards more urgent issues within Ōtautahi.

3498 - Lucas Tomasi

Cycleways! They sound good on paper but in reality its very expensive to keep tearing up and re making all our roadways. We already have a very good cycle lane network across the city. If public transportation is fast and reliable people will use their cars less.

3502 - Rach Wilson

Less money on public transport and less money on libraries

3507 - Gary Barber

[Transport>Operations]

Transport

3510 - Michael Horgan

Yes again. Value for money and not the blatant waist that i have seen by being involved in for years

3527 - James Stringer

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration>Greater Christchurch Partnership]

Consider the advantages/disadvantages of a super-city approach for Christchurch, Selwyn & Waimakariri districts. With geographical boundaries getting more blurred each year and residents of all districts simply referring to home as "Christchurch," it would seem opportune to look at how merging these would reduce longer term costs and improve the rating income allowing for the services that residents from all 3 districts use on a daily basis already.

353 - John Mayhew

A reduction in services is needed to keep rate costs at the high level they are already at.

>>>

Anything and everything that will stop an increase in rates is priority. Anything that means an increase must not happen.

3535 - Anna Harper

Focus on the basics, improved rubbish collection, safe walkways, better roads, and less waste on cycleways, closing streets off. Better water quality and infrastructure. Reduce the debt incurred the past 6 years by Labour policies.

3540 - Philip Robinson

Council creates its own works department to carry out work currently done by private contractors.

3582 - Cody Cooper

The introduction of the roving footpath crew has been a great success - fantastic response times, reasonable quality, very affordable price - they get the job done. Great job! We should see more of this, particularly around cycleway investment. Similar to what was done adjacent to the Museum / Hagley. More trials, more pilots, more often. Less cost.

3586 - Rachel Geddis

Why cant we look into more public-private partnerships to cover some cost.

>>>

I think we need more public-private partnerships to help reduce rates.

3610 - Eric Stierna

Adopt lean practices and principles to reduce the cost of the existing services delivered. Use the savings to increase the engagement, funding and support with local NGOs to broaden the delivery of services in the local community and enrich our Christchurch culture.

3613 - Catherine McLeavy

Do not give free EV charging in council car parks. Do not pay living wage if market wage rates are less. Stop messing with speed limits on roads, as this is causing confusion and not really adhered to. Co-ordinate services and processes so we don't have to deal with multiple people for projects. Review community funding.

3614 - Lin Roberts

As noted above, we need to maintain and/or enhance our investments in climate mitigation and adaption, including our cycleways, biodiversity protection, and any services that enhance equity. Public assets should be kept. The key exception – the giant elephant in the room with respect to CCC's climate change goals - is its significant indirect investment in the proposed Tarras Airport. Air travel and sea travel have to date not been captured within national emission accounts, but that is likely to soon change as the reality and enormous cost of climate change becomes harder to ignore. It will be decades, if ever, before international air transport becomes 'low carbon' so pressure against air travel is likely to significant increase over the next decade, and the idiocy of proposing a new international airport in Otago will be irrefutable. Steps to divest this asset and recover this investment should begin as soon as possible.

3621 - Morgane Honore

Asset Optimization: We can explore options to extract value from existing assets that are not currently generating sufficient returns. This could include selling surplus land or underutilized properties, such as the land purchased for the proposed Tarras Airport (Otago Central Airport). By divesting these assets, we can generate revenue and reduce maintenance costs associated with idle properties.

Aviation Levies: Introducing small levies on domestic and international flights to and from Christchurch International Airport can provide a source of revenue without directly impacting residents or essential services. These levies can be structured to minimize the burden on travelers while contributing to the city's revenue stream. Parking Charges: Increasing charging for parking in council-owned facilities can generate additional revenue while also encouraging alternative modes of transportation such as public transit, walking, and cycling. By adjusting parking fees to reflect market demand and usage patterns, we can optimize revenue generation from parking infrastructure.

Congestion Charging: Implementing a congestion charging area within the central city during peak traffic hours can help manage traffic congestion and generate revenue to fund transportation infrastructure and services. By charging vehicles for entering designated congestion zones during specified times, we can incentivize alternative travel modes and reduce traffic congestion in the city center.

3623 - Jessica Adams

Libraries, Transport, Community grants and rates remission to large "Charities" operating as businesses. The Council could also sell back Red Zoned land to previous owners on the condition that they maintain the land - that would save costs in upkeep.

3624 - Noeline Marsh

[Transport>Carparking (Capital)]

Wilson's parking. The council can run parking and keep the profits.

[Transport>Roads (Capital)]

Look hard at waste in every corner. Where a road is dug up and then dug up again for the next job in the same area, eliminate these double ups.

3625 - Angela Brett

[Fees & Charges>Other]

I think it would be good to explore further places where we could collect money from people using private cars as transport such as the proposed parking charges at Hagley and the Botanic Gardens, and increasing fees within the city.

[Parks>Parks Maintenance]

Also - I don't know whether it actually helps - but would it be worth exploring allowing more city parks to 'be wild' - requiring less grass maintenance work as well as being environmentally friendly? The areas I've seen where this has been trialled look great!

3627 - Patrick O'Kane

[Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]

As per previous, review the cycle way program.

[Coder note: wants cycleway network reviewed and scaled back]

3652 - Andrew Hamlin

Yes as prev mentioned on other questions . Dont get too hung up superficial parts of the projects. Cut off the fat and focus on practical ways to invest.

3653 - Andrew McDougall

Certainly don't reduce the cost of infrastructure projects - especially on the east of the city which is long neglected.

3657 - Ruth Bullen

Waste management seems high Review services to prioritise provision of services for the greater number of people to benefit , such as arts, events that are affordable/ accessible for more.

3658 - Tom Logan

1. Sell the land purchased to build Tarras Airport (Otago Central Airport). I am strongly opposed to the Tarras Airport as it will detour visitors away from Christchurch. Christchurch should position itself as the gateway not just to the South Island, but to New Zealand, and the airport should be seeking to appeal to international carriers currently serving Auckland. Introduce small levies on Domestic and International Flights to and from Christchurch International Airport.
2. Roading infrastructure that only serves private vehicles
3. Increased charging for parking in Council facilities.
4. A Congestion

Charging area within the Central City during hours of high traffic (Mon-Thu 9am-5pm, Fri-Sat 9pm-2am)

3681 - Tara Daellenbach

Places that we really could have saved money are in the past, such as the stadium, so ultimately we need to continue the investments the city needs to move forward.

3690 - Jono de Wit (Greater Ōtautahi)

We must stress that cost reductions can not come from service cuts; nor should it come from the outright sale of assets. Likewise there should not be room for cuts to Climate Change or Biodiversity programmes (including all cycleways) to meet these margins. We believe that more can be done to extract value from existing assets that are not currently generating sufficient returns. Examples might include: - Restructuring the use of the Tarras Airport (Otago Central Airport) site in lieu of the Airport to generate tenant rents as dividends for the Council. - Introducing manageable small levies on Domestic and International Flights to and from Christchurch International Airport. - Increased charging for parking in Council facilities. - A Congestion Charging area within the Central City during hours of high traffic (Mon-Thu 9am-5pm, Fri-Sat 9pm-2am) We would also like to see the Council legitimately consider structural changes to the ways rates are collected in this city (e.g. land value taxes), and to investigate proactive forms of consultation to see this happen outside of the LTP scope.

3705 - Glenis Youngman

Cut back spending on climate adaptation fund as is too much and ratepayers should not be funding it. The Coastal Adaptation Planning Programme can be halved and will reduce the impact on ratepayers. Stop making fancy plans for the roads around the stadium in town. Fix the damaged ones in the East. The roadworks need to be better organised as it is very hard to travel around the place. Putting road humps at traffic lights has been a waste of money and very dangerous, this needs to stop. Fix the roads once properly instead of patching them up time after time.

3708 - Joan Simpson

Please do not behave like the Government and believe that you can reduce staffing and expect the same level of output.

3710 - Kit French

The council itself.

3725 - Richard Smith

Any cost reductions should not come from cuts to community services. Alternative/additional sources of revenue such as land tax should be investigated further.

3733 - Helen Reason

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters]

Unsure of response but would like to ask - Are these services running as efficiently as possible - will staff members expect salary rises in the coming year?

3735 - Natalie O'Connell

I can go without road renewals.

3741 - Kevin Spaul

Reduced services that cost Keep the city going at lower cost to the rate payers Do what is important but don't into over kill

3745 - Victoria Rathgen

Remove the fireworks display or change like other countries to electric light displays..less cost and harm Cut wastage

>>>

Quality v quantity There seems to be so many reviews more reviews and surveys by consultants that by the time its time to start theres no money in the pot, streamline the process.

3747 - Nick Meeten

[Three Waters > Waste Water (Capital)]

Assess the business case for selling 'heating/cooling as a service' by recycling heating/cooling energy from wastewater.

3758 - Mads Churchhouse

Pretty much all of it - especially the proposals to lower rates, which will mean CCC can't adequately fund anything the city will desperately need in the coming decades.

3788 - Robin Laing

Extend the rollout of new projects. Maintain core services.

3798 - M-Webb User

around the peninsula using local contractors to save time and money and supporting local contractors that know their communities well.

3811 - Greg Canton

[Transport >Transport (Operations)]

Roads and footpaths, I also get cycle ways but consider that some common sense needs to apply in a country still likely to be highly dependent on cars , probably EV or hybrid. I see around me roads that seem to be tinkered around with all the time at huge cost. N

3825 - Justin Barton

[Transport > Transport (Operations)]

review Transport (traffic easing, cycle ways)

>>>

[Spending > Capital Programme (General)]

review other new capital projects, concentrate on delivering existing core services

>>>

[Strategic Direction > Climate Change]

review climate change mitigation costs

>>>

prepare rather for global financial uncertainty and demographic change

3844 - My-Linh Dang

Cut all spending on Three Waters and Climate Change. Cut all spending on new projects. Spending should be the minimal required to service existing debt. Look for ways to reduce spending by cutting the bureaucracy.

3846 - Rebecca Finch

Bids for big international events should be reduce markedly or stopped as they are not sustainable. This is where your talk on reducing emissions and your actions do not align, you are being logical. Local is good and sustainable is what is local, local business are sustainable when they rely on local money/people. Big events promote a boom/bust economy and that's not good for anyone. Sail Gp is a good example where your talk on reducing emissions does not align with what you do, Sail Gp only increased emissions and promotes a boom/bust cycle - that's not sustainable and not good for business.

3849 - David Peddie

could possibly make some savings with less council spending on public events eg fireworks, christmas in the park; building and maintaining a stadium; concentrate on essential services and infrastructure

3852 - Chris Coey

Putting a hold on new cycle ways or extensions of existing. Review Library hours. Reduce council management (staff) but not front-line staff who do the work.

3856 - Portia Bishop

Your proposed cost reductions do not have to come from the cutting of service, cuts to climate change and biodiversity programmes, or delaying cycleway programmes. Instead you can extract value from assets that already exist and do not produce sufficient returns. - Sell the land purchased to build Tarras Airport (Otago Central Airport). - Introduce small levies on Domestic and International Flights to and from Christchurch International Airport. - Increased charging for parking in Council facilities. - Congestion Charging area within the Central City during hours of high traffic (Mon-Thu 9am-5pm, Fri-Sat 9pm-2am)

3861 - Alex Robinson

We should be exploring options to increase Council revenue rather than reviewing services for cuts to reduce costs.

3862 - Katharine Metherell

Waste collection - Not all houses fill their recycling bins every fortnight perhaps this could shift to every third week with penalties applied to those who shift to putting re-cycling into red bins.

3865 - Maxine Donovan

It clearly is a fait accompli really. If the thought that if there was another way, then we would go that route.

3868 - Don Gould

I have already reached out to some of you for ideas.

- ☒ Hold staff vacancies for longer (to the tune of $2m)
- ☒ Lift the overall staff vacancy rate by 2%, saving another $4m
- ☒ Reduce strategy and policy unit operating costs by $2m
- ☒ Reduce library services by 500k (operating hours and deferring operating costs)
- ☒ Reduce social service grants by $2m
- ☒ Reduce the annual operating budget of the climate change team by $1million
- ☒ Reduce overall governance costs by 500k a year.
- ☒ Reduce VO grants each by $1 million annually
- ☒ Reduce CHCHNZ by 1.8m for urban development
- ☒ Ask CCHL to reduce its operating costs by $1m a year (and pay that as dividend)
- ☒ Deferred “growth capital expenditure not funded by DCs” by 2 years, just focus on asset renewals for the next two years - this would likely remove 50m of capital expenditure.
- ☒ Review the IT spending. I have reviewed some of the project headlines and some seem like ‘nice to have’ vanity ideas.

3883 - Colin Meurk

pull back on gold-plating - the world can't afford it let-alone chch. slow down, breathe and be content and happy with engagement with whanau, village, nature, art and be a model for the world

3889 - Jessica Rees

Savings and efficiencies should start at council itself. Thereafter, every effort should be made to reduce the burden for those least able to meet it.

3908 - Cathy Harlow

Maybe. But it's hard to say without more information. For example, I hear people say the Council should cut library hours or not offer gyms to cut costs but I don't have the information to understand the costs or the consequences. Could you give ratepayers some cost / benefit figures so they could make more informed submissions? For example, what about telling us how many people on average use the gym/library/etc across certain times and the cost of providing this service at those times. Then, for example, I could give my opinion on whether it's good value for money to provide X service at $Y cost during Z time.

3916 - Laila Jansone (Renew Brighton Charitable Trust)

The Council shall review efficiencies and services provided.

3920 - Malcolm Clark

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters]

Yes staffing. I bet you there are loads of employees working on projects that deliver very little if any value to rate payers.

393 - Kathryn Russell

Services and events used by non CCC ratepayers / residents

3936 - Carley Dove-McFalls

the stadium

[Coder note: the submitter commented "... too much money is going towards a useless stadium."]

3948 - Stefanie Innes

Roading the stupid and ridiculous spending like the bike way by Hagley Park, the roading by Harewood (Bishopdale New World).

3956 - Nicola McCormick

Stop funding unnecessary projects

3957 - Anne Scott (Spokes Canterbury)

There is room for further investigation of:

- o Congestion charging during busy hours.
- o Increases in car parking fees within the CBD.
- o Monitoring of illegal parking, (particularly on Thu-Sat nights) with appropriate penalties.

- o A climate levy for flights from airport, both domestic and international.
- o Ability for bus drivers and citizens to report illegal parking with photo or video evidence, and it be acted on with penalties.

397 - Merrick Brown

Reduce unneeded services, cut costs.

4003 - Kristine Jolliy

Reduce the Management salaries and also Consultant fees.

>>>

Decrease the Consultants and Senior Council Management fees and salaries

4004 - Nathalie Le Bras

Find savings

- More productivity
- Less services where possible (less lawns to mow)

4006 - Hana Saemon-Beck

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters]

There are staff that are not needed and paid too much. Hiring contractors may not be good, especially since you own a company under CCHL. Why double up?

4009 - Michelle Whitaker (Flourish Kia Puāwai)

[Grants & Funding > Other]

Explore other ways that don't include cutting grants

4012 - Fiona Garrett

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters]

Review all high level salaries and apply accountability to exorbitant pay packets.

4014 - Stephen Hill

Paying off debt

4020 - Brian Turner

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters]

Some Council staff salaries are far too high.

>>>

Greater coordination of services and costs with ECan and neighbouring Councils is essential.

>>>

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters]

Cut Council internal costs, especially excessive salaries.

4021 - Cornelis F De Jager

Cut out all the Council funded "nice to haves", focus on essential services only.

4023 - Bethan Sommer

[Grants & Funding > ChristchurchNZ Funding (General)]

Stop spending so much on making things nice for tourists but shit if you actually live here. Chch cbd is a beautiful façade.

4024 - Richard McCaskill

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters]

A full analysis of actual roles vs. benefit and need to minimize middle management positions.

4026 - Helen Van den Bogaert

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters]

Cut down office staff

4027 - Rona Buttimore

Too many people. Really. Super city. Get rid of all the extra people that are well paid parasites

4030 - Jenna Hayward

You should cut down on stupid spending.

>>>

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters]

Look at how top heavy city council are less wasted money on things that majority don't want

>>>

they also need to look at are the companies they use worth the money they spend or are ther getting ripped pf

4032 - Paul Dietsche

Clean up CCC operations.

4038 - Jodi Wright

Contract out some services

406 - Angela Burrill

Reduce costs. All services need to find significant cost savings with no additional infrastructure to be committed to after the completion of existing projects. Any new projects should be essential work, not "nice to have" projects.

>>>

Cut all new projects unless essential and find savings across every division of Council. Reduce current service levels as far too expensive for population size.

416 - Mike Cleaver (Canterbury)

I remember reading a report that Christchurch city council was one of the most inefficient in terms of duplicate work and effort for different departments to work together, I would be interested to know if the systems used are being/could be unified more. Using fewer, more modern systems is an obvious goal. systems that allow safe and simple sharing of appropriate files, and data makes a lot of sense. Having that system be accessible to more departments makes more sense again. And then being able to provide views of that data the the community makes the council more transparent and reduces confusion and misunderstandings about how the city operates, what impacts what and who has impact where.

422 - Nias Kitchin

With unsatisfaction in roads and putting money towards that. I still believe the overspend on new things is the problem. Currently I value the city we have and maintaining it. I could manage without all the new improvements and being able to afford to live in this city and enjoy it as it is.

423 - Linda MacIntyre

All council services must communicate and work on the same issues together. Example in a park, reserve etc one group does all of the maintenance on the same day, why waste time and expense coming back numerous times?

437 - Chrystal Gray

Reduce the cost. Who ever is in the chair of deciding is useless and clearly they are rich and dont give a shit about other people

458 - Christine Cockle

Yes, anything that is not essential should be shelved, at least until the economy improves.

48 - Kean Mitchell

NOTE the question above is not acceptable - this limits what should be the real response..... boosting funding to major events has nothing to do with investing for the future and investing in growth strategies..... it may or may not be pertinent.... Additional savings and efficiencies:- Efficiencies are not always savings..... Let us deliver more with what we have !!

481 - Tommy Ng

Look at how we should be paying less, eg less wastages and even taxes on your profit.

486 - Neil McConachie

As stated earlier, the additional rates we are paying for the Christ Church Cathedral, and the issues being experienced with the new sports centre.

510 - Eleanor Sim

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?], [Parks > Parks Spending (General)], [Grants & Funding > Arts Centre], [Libraries (Operations)]

We MUST continue to priorities, parks, libraries and places such as the Arts Centre. The Council staff do a GREAT JOB !!!! I understand that these things cost money and money is limited. Efficiencies must be sought at all levels where possible. There must be activities/ facilities that add to the heart of a city.

523 - Andrew Eadon-Jones

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre]

Save the Arts Centre from bankruptcy which would cost ratepayers a lot of money in the process. Spend to Save!

526 - Stephen French

No specific ideas but it might be prudent to maintain spending for three years in the hope that the economy improves to expand again afterwards.

527 - Hans Daellenbach

The Council seems to be preoccupied with large projects, such as the stadium, etc., spending billions on them with the questionable justification that they contribute millions to the local economy, when in fact only visitors from overseas and outside the Canterbury catchment area produce additional spending. Spending by people from outside the immediate Christchurch area simply means less spending in their own area which will reduce other spending that will impact on Christchurch. Cost-benefit analyses are often contaminated by inadvertent double counting (I should know since I taught cost-benefit at the University of Canterbury).

533 - Judith Livingstone

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Tarras Airport]

Sell the Tarras land

>>>

[Spending>Te Kaha]

Sell the stadium that will only cost the council money it time sports paid their quack of the costs

534 - Russell Hignett

[Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]

Slow down provision of cycleways and simplify design. Present policy involves over engineering and excess costs. If cycling use increases at rates suggested by some, then modification or expansion could be considered as increase result. To build and spend in the hope that volume of cycling will increase is wrong. Let the demand and use drive the project.

540 - Ross Allen

Ref above re climate change related projects.

[Coder note: believes climate change spending should be pushed out to wait for the updated science to flow through the NZ policy]

6900 - Geraldine Jellyman

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters]

Reduce dependence on external consultants and use the expertise of council staff.

Don't always stay with the same companies i.e. I know there have been quotes for work at lower rates than Fulton Hogan but the edict has been 'we always use them'. Is this still the case?

789 - Stuart Sanderson

[Spending>Our Proposed Spending]

Staff costs, red tape

794 - Yanny Webb-Walker

[Transport> Transport (Operations)]

Reduce waste. We have just had our street lighting worked on. The number of people doing the traffic management was incredible. They also did it badly. I could not see from my laneway when to start driving. Nor could a lot of other people as they had the stop signs far to far apart. The big trucks with the X were also a nuisance. I have observed similar ridiculous waste of money on traffic management on a regular basis. Please cut this nonsense to a logical level reductions should NOT come from asset sales or reductions in public services like libraries. We should NOT cut climate friendly programmes as well. We can extract more value from new rating systems - Introduce small levies for every departure and arrival out of Christchurch airport, both for domestic, international, and cargo (with exception of NZ Post) -Increase charges on parking for council facilities, and start charging parking for Hagley Park and Botanic Gardens, among others. -Congestion charging for peak hours, monday to saturday -A small hourly levy for parking in private carparks e.g. the ones run by Wilson -A small carbon pollution charge for our big factory polluters -Switch to Land Value Rating, so private Wilson car parks and empty buildings near the city centre should be charged more

8 - Justin Yudistira

818 - Bevan Phillipson

[Rates > Residential Rates]

Basics,basics!basics. Discuss others matters, but do not proceed if costs are resulting in unacceptable Rates rises, ie, above 4.99% Annually.

822 - Gavin Scott-Petersen

[Fees and Charges > Car Parking (Parks)]

I understand the council's need to generate revenue for the maintenance and enhancement of park facilities. However, I strongly advocate for alternative funding strategies that do not compromise equitable access to green spaces. This could include exploring sponsorship opportunities, community partnerships, or allocating a portion of existing municipal funds to support park maintenance and improvements.

>>>

In conclusion, while I recognize the challenges in balancing the budget and maintaining high-quality public spaces, I urge the council to reconsider the proposal to introduce parking charges at key parks. Ensuring free access to these areas is essential for promoting a healthy, inclusive, and vibrant community. I encourage the exploration of alternative funding mechanisms that uphold the principle of equitable access to public spaces for all community members.

This has been mentioned previously, but it's worth reiterating: a thorough review conducted by independent local business owners is advisable. We should engage the local business community, seeking volunteers to undertake a comprehensive and transparent audit of council spending, with the aim of pinpointing opportunities for cost reduction.

The digital transformation offers numerous opportunities for cost savings and efficiency improvements, particularly in administrative and operational processes. Embracing automation and AI integration can significantly reduce the 'dead weight' in council spending, making the organization leaner and more responsive to the community's needs.

>>>

Businesses, when faced with financial hurdles, often find ways to streamline their operations and reduce costs without diminishing the quality of their services or products. This is achieved through innovative solutions, efficiency improvements, and sometimes, strategic restructuring.

The Council might benefit from adopting a similar approach, focusing on identifying and eliminating inefficiencies, exploring alternative funding mechanisms, and prioritizing spending on projects that deliver the highest value and impact. It is possible to balance fiscal responsibility with the need to maintain and invest in our core infrastructure. This may involve a more rigorous evaluation of current expenditures, postponing or resizing less critical projects, and leveraging technology and innovation to achieve more with less. By adopting such strategies, it should be feasible to reduce the financial burden on the community without compromising the essential services and infrastructure that support our city's growth and well-being.

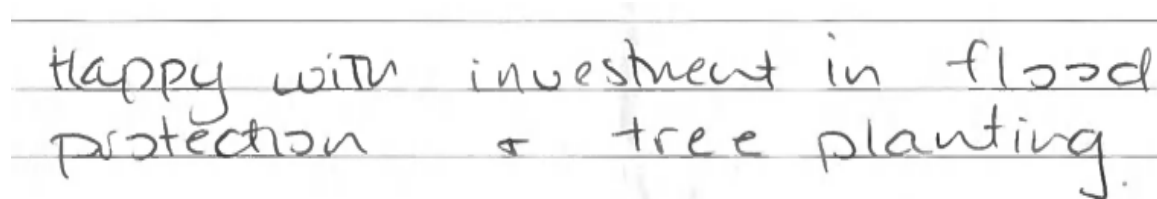

845 - Cris Fulton

Water, health and education

982 - Craig Newbury

Look back at what council was delivering 20-30 years ago. Look whats been added since then. Now start culling stuff!

2821 - Dave and Denise Falls

happy with investment in flood protection & tree planting.

3136 - John Hynes

No

3558 - Patrick Kennedy

Service cuts cannot be used as an avenue to artificially lower rates. This is thirty year old thinking that is no longer a tenable position. As per the strategic objectives of this plan to "Manage ratepayers' money wisely", the first port of call for sources of rates reduction should come from utilising existing assets more efficiently to either lower costs or generate extra revenue. Parking is mostly free in this city. This results in an enormous amount of public land given over to free storage of private motor vehicles. It would make sense to extend paid parking throughout our busiest neighbourhoods; and where paid parking exists either implement dynamic parking pricing, or at least increase existing parking fees in line with inflation. Congestion Charging in the city centre is also an avenue for expanding revenue and also reducing unnecessary emissions and wear and tear on public assets. A fundamental restructure of how rates are collected should also be seriously considered. Land value taxes have been successfully implemented overseas. This would streamline the rates system - eliminating the need for targeted CVDs and other workarounds, encourage more efficient land use, encourage higher density living, and discourage speculative land banking and intentional dilapidation.

Service cuts cannot be used as an avenue to artificially lower rates. This is thirty year old thinking that is no longer a tenable position. As per the strategic objectives of this plan to "Manage ratepayers' money wisely", the first port of call for sources of rates reduction should come from utilising existing assets more efficiently to either lower costs or generate extra revenue.

3683 - Max Sullivan

I understand that running a city is a very expensive job and I think there aren't any services that should be cut to reduce costs.

3816 - Annette Bolton

[Transport > Roads (Capital)]

Efficiencies should be made for example, only digging up roads once, not multiple times for different infrastructure projects.

3869 - Cam Parsonson

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters]

cut non essential staff & services rather than increasing rates, especially if such roles already have a central government department or roles associated (climate, environment)

>>>

remove superfluous staff

>>>

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters], [Fees and Charges > Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)], [Grants and Funding > Other Community Grants & Funding], [Grants and Funding > Funding for other CCOs], [Grants and Funding > ChristchurchNZ Funding], [Library > Operations],

[Strategic Direction > Climate Change], [Strategic Direction > Other Policy Matters], [Other/Special Interest Topics > Governance] increase staff vacancy rate by 3%, allow staff vacancies to be dormant longer. dynamic charging on council car parks, legacy physical parking meters, cut social service grants by $2m. reduce strategy and policy op costs by $3m, CHCHNZ reduce $2m spend, Reduce Voluntary Organisation grants by $1.5m pa, Reduce library services by 750k, Disestablish the climate change team and defer to central govt, Reduce governance team costs by 750k, Reduce CCHL operating by $1m p.a.

1362 - Pablo Rodriguez

Te Kaha

1541 - Maurice Adler

[Spending > Te Kaha], [Recreation, Sports & Events > Recreation Centres (Capital)], [Libraries > Libraries (Capital)], [Spending > Capital Programme (General)], [Strategic Direction > Financial Strategy],

What matters most. Over the last few years, the Christchurch City Council has had a field day on think big projects which is contributing towards the rates raised we are looking at now. To mention just three , the stadium which was pushed for the Canterbury Rugby and the Crusaders which can't fill the one they have now. We will be paying it for years. It will be a liability for years to come and it will be the ratepayers who pay, not the Canterbury Rugby or the Crusaders.

The second is Recreation and Sports Centre. This is an embarrassment. The Council received a quote to build it and didn't even obtain a good engineering report on the ground. The result is a huge cost overrun. Who has to pay for it. The ratepayers with a rate rise.

The third is the Hornby Centre. Of three, this is the most sensible. But considering the vast amount of money been spent on the other two projects, was it wise to build this. From memory, once again they didn't get a good engineering report because there was a blowout with that too.

In short, The Christchurch City Council needs to treat there finances the same as one would treat there home finances. If you can't afford don't do it. Ratepayers are tired of being used as a never ending source of funds with rate increases. My recommendation is, don't plan to have anymore large projects that we cannot afford.

>>>

Only spend on what is really needed.

2574 - Matthew Pont

I'm supportive of the current proposal, or ideally spending more. A world class city requires investment. You don't get something for nothing. Cutting services is shortsighted and selfish, and will only add issues on to later rate payers

555 - Jemma Balmer

[Strategic Direction > Performance Framework]

It already feels so slim. Please don't reduce our services.

812 - Matthew Fagan

Why should we reduce costs when there is so much failing infrastructure?

1 - Aidan Sheard

Climate change will not be in any way affected by having people employed to discuss doing nothing.

>>>

You don't need to have a climate change panel to talk about common sense modern capable infrastructure. That's the job of the planning team for upgrading services.

1043 - Shafali Verma

[Spending > Te Kaha], [Libraries > Libraries (Capital)], [Parks > Parks Spending (General)], [Transport > Roads (Capital)]

Yes, For instance, while its not stable economy you probably wont need to spend on Te kaha, librarians and keep it to the minimum for the additional parks and roadworks.

11 - Bridget Latimer

Water, transport and solid waste/resource recovery yes. But we do not have the money for the other capital mentioned e.g. libraries, parks, te kaha. I ould prefer these are reduced and rates rise is not so high.

>>>

Just that we need to reduce rates and if this results in decreases in non-core services, then this should be the focus. Not retaining services when we do not have the money.

1163 - Nichola Tyson

The cost of having freeloading campers, ie monitoring (Armourguard) rubbish removal, toilet cleaning etc

1164 - Andrea Davis

look for efficiencies and incentivise the changes you want to see.

13 - David Thorn

The council should cut its services and level of investment to be less than the inflation rate of the CPI

>>>

Reduce the amount budgeted for heritage, coastal environment and libraries

1319 - Luke Sweeney

Salaried staff and projects that have no solid ROI or benefit to the public

1327 - Chris O'Brien

Cycle lanes, "Climate change" measures, buses,

1391 - Anna Gruczynska

Every project over, say, $3 or $5 million should be looked at extra hard and every Councillor that supports it should explain why 1) is it essential and 2) is it essential now.

14 - Luke Chandler

Unfortunately we cannot cut spending on existing levels of service and level of investment in our core infrastructure and facilities without proposing a cut to residents

>>>

[Parks > Ōtākaro Avon River Corridor Regeneration]

I would like to know more about the Avon River Corridor Ecological Restoration, can this be delayed by 5 years saving 50m?

>>>

Look at charging for the art gallery Look at delaying the Avon River Corridor Ecological Restoration if possible

1490 - Carolina Nery

All of it

1491 - Lindsay Richards (Westmorland Residents Association)

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters]

[Strategic Direction>Additional savings and efficiencies]

But maybe have a look at you wage bill. From what I read, about one in every four CCC employees are earning over $100K per annum.

15 - Sara Currey

Cycle ways, bus lanes, wasteful spending, consultant fees, councilors salaries.

1504 - Jonathan Kingston-Smith

Cathedral, bike lanes, libraries Road crossings

16 - Andrew McKay

You should be focused on savings within your bloated empire, and then cut services.

1644 - Abigail Sykes

stadium, bike lanes

1711 - Eluishia Hart

You should be looking at what the majority use. It's not fair that I should have to pay for cycle lanes for example. EV's now have to pay for RUCs to help with maintaining roads. Why don't cyclists have to pay to get these cycle lanes

1749 - Nicole Baxter-Warren

Ensuring our most vulnerable communities are the priority when it comes to access to facilities. Need to review any new spending and projects. Finish the ones we have and begin to get profit from visitors.

1750 - Edel Lougheed-Deane

Could lower-used facilities be moved/absorbed into those that are of high usage etc libraries in the smaller suburbs?

1756 - Kieran Sweetman

Only areas where efficiencies can be gained in terms of delivery.

1775 - Jo Hall

I do not want to see existing levels of service/investment downgraded, this has been happening in Central Government for decades now and it is really starting to show in terms of the infrastructure i.e. hospitals going into disrepair, roads in poor condition etc

1780 - Alison Griffith-Collins

As indicated above, I think that we need to collect more money from overseas visitors.

1837 - Rosalie Griffith

The old saying "Cut your coat to the material you have" is very apt at this time in the economy. which would be apt when considering boosting funding for major events.

1839 - Catherine Grima

Reduce overheads, unnecessary staffing roles, red-tape, excessive spending on meetings, hearings, legal etc.
Look to energy efficiency for cost savings, eg. solar power, electric/hybrid cars, hydro-electric power
Look more to local, sustainably sourced building materials and suppliers

2289 - Leonie Jackson

[Libraries>Libraries (Operations)]; [Art Galleries & Museums>Art Gallery (Operations)]; [Art Galleries & Museums>Museums (Operations)]

- Admission charge for the Art Gallery
- Admission charge for the Museum (when completed)
- Don't reduce libraries or library hours

2302 - Lisa Dockery

Don't keep pouring money into projects that go over tender price. If contractors have priced jobs low to get the tender they must fulfill their obligation & pay the extra cost. Where did fixed price contracts go to. Bring them back. Council need to check that all infrastructure jobs are being done in a timely fashion & jobs aren't getting Major event bid funding reworked over & over.

2312 - Christian Schipani

While all of our services are fantastic, the reality is the money has to come from somewhere. I propose we should review which parts of road care replacement is required and instead focus on either savings or reallocation towards cycling or public transport. Overall, a reduction in general quality of all services is possible. Using this overall reduction, I would allocate it towards Accelerating Adaptation Efforts and cCreating a Climate Resilience Fund

2313 - William Godsoe

If money is so tight, i'm curious what could be done to extract more revenue from drivers in the CBD. Parking is always tight, are parking rates at the price the markets will bare? Is congestion pricing an option? Or as a rate payer am i subsidising cars going into the city, increasing my rates and subsidising climate change.

2347 - Kate Flood

Get business to fund big builds like sports centre, stadium cathedral etc

2350 - Jack Bisset

A focus should be on reducing the costs ratepayers face not the councils own costs alone. Electrifying communities is a huge opportunity to do this. It can also be done in a way that connects with and empowers our crucial rural communities and farmers.

2442 - Paula Bevilacqua

Are there some services that are more 'vanity' projects? Are they necessary now or even in 10 years? Let's not keep up with the Joneses', let's work with what you have and cut back what is not essential.

2476 - Reuben Scott (Simeon Park Community Group)

Localising CCC jobs - in other words, jobs such as park mowers, weeders and sprayers being employed locally to save on transportation costs and provide different forms of employment locally. This would provide a connection between the community and the CCC employees. Investigating solar options to cut down on electricity costs - especially for future generations.

2514 - Jeannie Murtagh

[Grants & Funding > ChristchurchNZ Funding (General)]

I recently found out we spent $2 Million on the SailGP yacht race! What a waste of tax payers money on an elitist rich people's sport - no pensioner should have to pay for that - let the rich yacht owners pay for their own events.

>>>

[Grants & Funding > ChristchurchNZ Funding (General)]

As above! We should not be funding elitist events for a very small percentage of the city's population.

2554 - Paul Schwalger

[Transport > Operations]

It seems like contractors don't know how to lay a road or footpath, or even paint a bicycle to show a cycle lane...the work that is done, doesn't seem to be enduring

2768 - Suzanne Wallace

Stop "vanity/legacy projects + fix the roads.
No more motorways.

2801 - Kym Bontem

[Three Waters > Three Waters Operations]

Water Meters.
Drain cleaning.

2811 - Nikora Nitro

[Fees and Charges > Car Parking fees (on-street & off-street parking)]

- ease headaches of parking

2864 - Darin Cusack

More user pay Levys

2869 - Josiah O'Neill

No I think it's more important to keep Service level the same or improve than short term thinking and costs cutting. However if effectiveness are found they should be implemented.

2876 - Sarah Hastie

Are there are back office council staff or "nice to have" programs that could be cut? For example Biketober is a program that is a luxury program that we don't need and whilst the cost of running maybe minimal it would still have some cost savings in being cut. There are numerous other events and initiatives that could be cut with minimal impact. This should be investigated on the basis of would cutting this event/initiative/service impact the council delivering its core role of providing infrastructure and basic services? Could we look at an option of splitting off the core services from these more ephemeral services and giving people the option to support them with additional optional taxation with only the core services funded by compulsory taxation.

2886 - David Fleming

Our idealistic plans for the future should be parked until the economy recovers.

2890 - Finn McIntyre (University of Canterbury Sustainable Design Society (UC SUSD))

A good LTP is realistic with what the council can provide, and SUSD understands that having paradoxical views make it extremely difficult to meet expectations. Therefore, to meet the requirements for a progressive plan that enables a sustainable future it is to be expected that rates and other money sources such as borrowing will have to increase proportionally. Therefore, unless particular services have been identified as redundant, the council should avoid cutting costs whilst so many critical developments are being completed.

2895 - Anne Shivas

We have a suggestion on how you can save ratepayers' money. Please stop promoting and advancing political and ideological agendas, e.g. rainbow (LGBT+) events in our city. Council should be a politically neutral body, therefore please cease to spend money on one political rainbow viewpoint. We ask you to cease all planned spending on non-essential services such as rainbow crossings and Drag Queens. It is not up to local libraries to push a certain political view or recruit children into a certain lifestyle. The Christchurch City Council and Libraries have wasted ratepayers' money by disproportionately promoting the Rainbow Movement (including Drag Queen Storytimes in your libraries.)

29 - Hayley Young

Yes, as I said close council owned buildings eg gyms, pools, libraries on sundays and public holidays. Reduce the salaries budget by getting rid of middle management in the council and also reducing the big ceo type salaries that we see in the top level of management, again excessive waste of what is rate payer money.

2902 - Prawindra Mukhia

It is again difficult to comment on this without understanding the projects'/ program's outputs, outcomes, benefits and costs. The focus should be on value (benefits less costs). Additionally, Council should produce an Annual Report showing how and where Council has made additional savings and efficiency gains.

2972 - Ewan Baron

Asset Sales Keep our core assets: Port of Lyttelton and the Airport. Sell City Care and Enable

2979 - Zac Beckett-Knight (Late Knight Productions Limited)

[Libraries > Libraries (capital), Recreation, sports & events > Pools (capital)]

Perhaps reducing 7 day a week amenities such as libraries and pools down to 6. That's quite large savings in the long run but still maintains significant access to facilities for residents.

2992 - Marian Robinson

[Three Waters > Waste Water (capital)]

The Akaroa wastewater project as an example; a complete re-think of this project needs to happen.

2993 - Nikki Staskiewicz

[Spending > Te Kaha, Grants and Funding > Events Ecosystem Funding]

Stadia, events, etc.

3060 - Georg Ludwig

Cut road maintenance to the absolute minimum. No more new roads or changes of layouts etc. No more new projects. The city is good enough, as it is.

3209 - Anouk Minnaar

[Fees & Charges]

Sell the land purchased to build Tarras Airport.

3231 - Colin Foster

Make more effective use of the service capability that you have like making sure that information sent in on the Snap Send Solve app is actually acted on. There are too many instances where these are not implemented or simply ignored.

335 - Wayne Bates

The whole draft needs to be reworked, very large cuts made and reduce rates increases dramatically

3357 - Merav Benaia

Cost reduction should not come from service cuts, assets sale or cuts to climate change initiatives. Council should investigate how to get more value from the assets it already owns.

3372 - Jenny Bond (Te Tuna Tāone)

Think you need to review how your services are delivered for efficiencies and cost savings.

3542 - Beatrix Gilling

Cost reductions can't come from cutting services or selling assets, neither think forward for the future.

3577 - Marie Byrne

Consider other surplus property disposals.

3727 - Carl Fox

[Other / Special Interest Topics > Social Housing]

When available capital / money / resources are tight then any expenditure needs to be seen as an investment and non-core or no-return expenditure minimised or eliminated. An example is why is Council involved in social housing? Surely this is the responsibility of Central Government with the Ministry of Social Development / Kainga Ora? Council should be focused on infrastructure or projects that will provide a return to the Council or improve the local economy.

378 - Chris Arnold

Yes you need to maintain service levels, however you need to look for cost savings across your numerous services. Ways this could be achieved: 1. Staff levels across all council, looking at job stream lining, job restructure to reduce any too heavy management and supervisor levels. 2. Councils need to empower decision makers in council, my experience is that there are too many layers before a decision can be reached, which is cost to the council. 3. Look at introduction of AI and software tools that can drive change and cost reduction within council. 4 Have a more robust commercial procurement process, to many tenders go to the same companies. 5. Engage high end managers who are empowered to drive change and manage cost effectively. 6. Sell owned assets and commercial business to raise capital funds, ccc own to many assets. 7. Look at reduction of public buildings opening days to help reduce costs, for example closing library on a Saturday or Monday. 8. Look at more favourable lending to cover the projects over the coming years.

>>>

You need to look at how you can reduce operational costs Across all levels of the ccc operations.

>>>

[Grants & Funding > Events Ecosystem Funding]

You need to look at how you can still bring in the events at no extra cost to rate payers, perhaps a Levi on the event organisers ticket price like they do in Canada. Thinking outside the box is needed.

379 - Alex Rowe

The council should consider downsizing its head office given a large portion of staff work from home. Such a large space may not be needed and equal benefit could be provided from a smaller head office in a cheaper area of the city.

>>>

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Commonwealth Games]

Unnecessary expenditure during a cost of living crisis. As a ratepayer I found the mayor's consideration of hosting the Commonwealth Games and consulting on this horrifying and fiscally irresponsible.

3809 - Johnathon Ridden

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?]

We need to continue to fund and invest in core services. Ratepayers the the primary mechanism for this. Other revenue gathering strategies should be investigated to support this (such as ecotourism and carbon sequestration credits).

383 - Louise Woolley

Many businesses have reduced staff numbers and require the remaining staff to take in more duties, maybe the council should look at doing this too

386 - Christine McPhail

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters]

We need better governance and executive performance

443 - Keryn Roberts

I am concerned about the report not addressing/ reviewing key council services, such as the issuing of permits or transfer of land titles, or the staffing that was utilised to create this report. These are all services provided by council and should be disclosed in this report to also determine if there is appropriate levels of spend. Additionally, counsellor salaries should also be available so people understand if appropriate adjustments are being proposed in future years.

447 - Zoelle Davies

Stop with the bike lanes, and fill a few potholes. Stop wasting money on changing things to te reo names. Things like the stadium did not nearly need to be so extravagant. Lower the capital investment.

448 - Nick Campbell

[Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Recreation, Sports & Events > Pools (Capital)], [Strategic Direction > Infrastructure Strategy], [Strategic Direction > Additional Savings & Efficiencies]

Areas around Cycleways- More thought and prioritization on what actually needs to be done NOW to improve traffic within Christchurch which will in affect improve productivity.

Certain CCC pools (halswell pool) could be closed and the funding used to improve a local park or existing CCC gym/pool complex instead. A petition was approved to increase the opening hours of Halswell pool all for the sake of a handful of people who wanted to swim early morning, if this is still operating at extended opening hours this is a big drain on CCC funds.

A lack of funding in many vital areas has occurred over a long period of time, and I think a large focus target on vital infrastructure is required, not spread funding across all areas to keep the maximum amount of people happy. If you focus solely on roading/infrastructure of 3-5 years and really hit the nail on the head with a good budget you will have much more success.

459 - Aaron Watson

Council contractors and over paid staff

460 - Karina Arana

[Other/Special Interest Topics> Staff Matters]

Cut on CEOs/Managers/Specialist and there you will find your money. No in a normal citizen that only tries to survive.

>>>

Corporate areas. Reduce the numbers of CEOs, Managers, Specialists in the Council.

464 - Mary McCammon

Te Kaha, as above. As a ratepayer, I feel this is being foisted on me.

[Coder note: wants Te Kaha funded by those who will directly benefit from it]

603 - James Mehigan

[Libraries>Libraries (Capital)]

[Grants & Funding>Arts Centre Funding]

You could save more money by cancelling the South Library re-build and keeping that library going through steady maintenance of the building, for example.

692 - Tony Ward

Cycle paths Climate change water chlorination libraries

727 - Donal McEvoy

A full review of tendering processes.

742 - Mark Holland

Art sell some of the statues stop spending money cleaning it. Clearly we cant afford them.

755 - Jenn Shraga

Reduce OPEX make funds more available

761 - Carol Groves

Do the job once and do it properly will save money.

847 - David Bromell

Surely there is scope to review not WHAT services Council provides, but HOW Council provides them.

858 - Thomas McNaughton

[Strategic Direction>Additional savings and efficiencies]

[Recreation, Sports & Events>Pools(capital)]

[Recreation, Sports & Events>Recreation Centres (Capital)]

I'm happy to pay rates but if savings are needed I would be looking at gyms and pools and other community activity that doesn't link to climate change response.

860 - Gaynor Stanley

[Transport>Transport (operational)]

[Three Water>Three Waters (Operations)]

[Strategic Direction>Additional savings and efficiencies]

As above, would like to see less spend on water and transport to fund arts centre, which offers far wider public amenity than Te Kaha is ever likely to incidentally.

Other Policy Matters

General Comments

49 submissions were received on other policy matters.

5 provided comments in support, and 1 provided a comment in opposition.

28 provided alternative comments, and 15 provided general comments about other policy matters.

Officers Response

Submissions under this category covered a diverse range of points on different specific issues. This summary covers key themes raised in connection with the 'Other Policy Matters' category.

Existing Policies

Many submitters noted specific Council policies that they either supported or wanted to see changed. These included comments on Destination Management Plans, approaches to achieving green and liveable cities, biodiversity, and other specific policy matters.

Legislative Context

Many submitters noted specific legislative or regulatory solutions or changes that they would like to see implemented. This included suggestions on mechanisms such as new bylaws, local alcohol policies and trading hours regulation.

Strategic Alignment

Submissions reflect a desire for policies supporting things such as regenerative tourism, biodiversity, and multiculturalism. While no immediate changes to the Long-Term Plan are required to address these concerns, they reinforce the Council's ongoing focus on environmental responsibility and community inclusivity. These priorities are well-integrated into the existing Strategic Framework, ensuring continued attention.

Economic Development

Some submissions noted the importance of fostering economic growth and appropriate policy settings to enable this. Submitters advocated for consistency for investors, business settings and specific sectors like aerospace. Ongoing collaboration with ChristchurchNZ aligns well with the Long-Term Plan's emphasis on fostering economic development.

A lot of the submissions received were detailed and covered different issues. The main theme of submitters was raising policies or policy suggestions they consider needed Council attention. The Council will continue its established review process to ensure policies remain up-to-date, relevant to community needs, and aligned with the Long-Term Plan's core objectives.

As part of our ongoing policy review process, the Council follows its Significance and Engagement Policy to engage with the community in a way that is consistent with the significance of the issue, proposal or decision, and is transparent and clearly communicated.

It is also important to note that some policy areas mentioned in feedback may fall outside the council's direct control or mandate, requiring collaboration with or delivery by other agencies or central government. Proactive engagement in national consultations will ensure Christchurch's voice is heard, paving the way for potential future policy adjustments.

The Council also has a rolling review program for all its bylaws to ensure they are up to date and fit for purpose. Council staff maintain a watching brief on new and emerging bylaws issues and provide regular briefing to Councillors on bylaws issues raised by the community.

The Council also continues to monitor legislative developments in areas like alcohol policy. In December 2022, the Council asked staff, in anticipation of legislative changes, to start gathering the information and resources needed to develop an evidence-based LAP. As anticipated, the Act was amended in August 2023. Further advice is being prepared on this currently and will come to Council for decision separate from the Long-Term Plan process.

The current focus of the Long-Term Plan reflects the Council's dedication to building an inclusive and liveable city for all residents. While a small number of submissions contained views contrary to these principles, they are not directly related to the Long-Term Plan's development. The Council proposes to uphold values of inclusivity and respect, ensuring that policy decisions align with these commitments that directly benefit the community.

Support

2783 - Sarah Wilson \(Te Ahu Pātiki Charitable Trust\)

We support the following strategy documents that underpin the Draft LTP especially where nature-based solutions and enhancing indigenous biodiversity have been given preference: Ōtautahi Climate Resilience Strategy; Ōtautahi Urban Forests plan; Te Pātaka o Rākaihautū/Banks Peninsula Destination Management; Banks Peninsula Community Board Plan 2023-25; and WhakaOra/Healthy Harbour Plan.

[2901 - Hamish Fairbairn \(Conservation Volunteers New Zealand \[CVNZ\]\)](#)

CVNZ agrees with the following strategy documents that underpin the Draft LTP especially where nature-based solutions and enhancing indigenous biodiversity have been given preference: >>> Te Pātaka o Rākaihautū/Banks Peninsula Destination Management; Banks Peninsula Community Board Plan 2023-25; and Whaka-Ora Healthy Harbour Plan.

[Full attachment available]

3669 - Rachel Howells

In support of the following strategy documents that underpin the Draft LTP especially where nature-based solutions and enhancing indigenous biodiversity have been given preference:

- Ōtautahi Climate Resilience Strategy;
- Ōtautahi Urban Forests plan;
- Te Pātaka o Rākaihautū/Banks Peninsula Destination Management plan;
- Banks Peninsula Community Board Plan 2023-25; and
- Whaka-Ora/Healthy Harbour Plan.

3787 - Deb Donnell

[Strategic Direction > Our Treaty Relationships]

Get rid of "inclusive and equitable" and any other racist priority. I have lived and worked in Christchurch all my life; I have been a strong supporter of the city, and have written and published books on its journey over the past few decades, from before the Earthquakes, and into the future (with one due to come out very soon). I am ashamed with the over focus on Maori and LGBTQI+ activism, with the DEI and climate ideology, safe, accessible, smart 15 minute cities, none of which reflects the people who live here, or the long history of our city. In fact, all of that does the opposite. I say shame on the city councillors who are pushing this agenda - you know who you are, and I fully support the ones who are doing their best to prevent us going further into socialist ideological utopian tribal rule hell. Listen to the community and your ratepayers, and stop chasing the impossible. You are here to provide basic infrastructure and services; anything beyond this is an expensive "nice to have" which in this economic climate we cannot afford.

4264 - Sam Newton (Recreation Aotearoa)

74. Recreation Aotearoa support the development of Council disability policies and strategies which include provisions and initiatives to enhance the accessibility of recreation places, spaces, and opportunities.

75. We express our support for the Inclusive Communities Coordinator role within Christchurch City Council, and commend the work undertaken on the recent Equity and Inclusion Policy. Within this policy we submit our express support of the 7 Pillars of Inclusion.

[Full Attachment Available]

Oppose

2012 - Nick Boyd

[Other/Special Interests > Staff Matters]

You have too much bureaucracy and red tape both slowing progress and increasing costs.

Other

1532 - Kit Doudney (Avon-Heathcote Estuary Ihutai Trust)

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > City Planning]

We ask the city council to investigate and implement increased legal protection for the wildlife of the Estuary/Ihutai. Currently there are three measures which indicate that the community values the estuary and wants it protected.

1. The waste-water treatment ponds at Bexley are blessed with the status of being a gazetted Wildlife Refuge and as such are protected under the Wildlife Act. But there is no similar protection for the estuary itself.
2. The East Asian-Australian Flyways Partnership. The international community has recognised the importance of our estuary by bestowing the status of “ A Wetland of International Significance”; just one of 4 in New Zealand. This is an honour but it brings no automatic regulatory protection.

But those three measures do not actually constitute legal protection for the tidal flats and body of the estuary.

As an example - currently the indigenous birdlife of the estuary is at risk because of human activity in the estuary. Of particular concern is the constant disturbance of wading birds by dogs. The Estuary Trust regularly receives reports of dogs disturbing birds, particularly on the tidal flats at low tide. There is confusion about whether dogs are allowed on those flats – in some areas they are and in other areas they are not. It is difficult for Christchurch City Council to enforce dog bylaws when there are inconsistencies in signage and policies.

Revised dog bylaws and policies may resolve this issue but there are other recreational, commercial or transport threats which also need to be managed so the estuary is better protected. For example, kayakers, horse-riders, walkers, trail bikes and so on are frequently seen intruding into areas where birds seek sanctuary. An increased, formal level of protection would send a clear signal to potential users that the estuary is precious and cannot be tampered with.

1699 - Dominic McKeown

>>> do something to stop or prevent begging on the streets its a joke these people get away with being such scum jsut to fuel habits. a city wide bylaw should be created to stop this enforceable by police and the public, with consequences of trespassing and and money being taken. make the cost hurt to those beggars so they get off there arse and get a job like everyone else. [Parks > Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration]

1792 - Laura Parkes

I would be interested to see some kind of registering system for cats just like there is for dogs. And more legislation to stop backyard breeding. Stray cats are a huge threat to our environment and wildlife and it is essential that they are brought under control.

>>>

I would like to see some ideas regarding naturalisation of human-invaded spaces and the control of stray cats.

1882 - Anna-Marie Browne

NZ 4/21 on buildings that don't comply with accessibility standards, ^{enforce}

2005 - Barbara Stewart

WHAT IS TE KAAHA - PLEASE HAVE ENGLISH
ALONGSIDE ALL MAORI SITES IN ORDER FOR THOSE WHO DO NOT SPEAK OR UNDERSTAND MAORI - TO KNOW
KNOW THE SUBJECT DISCUSSED. !!!

2089 - Serge Ratten

make poleacing a one year mandatory for every one over 21 random partners every month. like jery duty.

>>>

Teach Sign language in schools

2206 - Nikki Rogers (Hospitality NZ)

Local Alcohol Policies (LAPs)

15. Alcohol laws in New Zealand aim to reduce the harm caused by the excessive or inappropriate consumption of alcohol. We believe that well run on-licensed environments are the safest place for people to consume alcohol in NZ. Hospitality New Zealand is committed to delivering training and skill development across the industry to further enhance host responsibility in this sector.
16. Prior to the implementation of the Sale of Liquor Act in 1989 there were about 3000 licenses in NZ and since then the number of licenses has increased to just over 11,000. Conversely, liquor consumption in New Zealand has decreased 22% since 1986. Therefore, increased access (more licenses and more places to purchase alcohol) has not translated into higher consumption.

17. We believe a holistic approach needs to be taken to support safer drinking in New Zealand. We believe councils have many options available to address alcohol harm while maintaining the community and economic benefit of hospitality. Some of these tools include:
- National settings under the Sale and Supply of Alcohol Act.
 - District Licensing Committees and their discretion around approving licenses, and the ability to issue infringement notices and license suspensions for noncompliance.
 - Accords and stakeholder agreements to drive inner city safety improvements.
 - Host responsibility training: eg Responsible Service of Alcohol (HNZ), ServeWise (HPA).
18. Hospitality NZ will work with you to ensure regulatory agencies enforce the Act as it was written and intended, not attempting to use functions of the Act such as appeals to meet their own policy preferences.
19. We will also consider appropriate amendments to the LAP system, cutting down on the time and financial cost of implementation, and/or deferring to DLCs to administer appropriate restrictions, and mitigate further unnecessary expense being incurred by local councils, associations and individual businesses in the establishment of LAPs.

2213 - Nathaniel Herz Jardine (Living Wage Aotearoa)

Leasing Policy

In the Communities and Citizens Group of Activities (page 47), we ask that you include as a negative Economic and Social effect: "workers in leased CCC spaces are not paid in line with CCC procurement guidelines. This contributes to working poverty and sets a double standard for CCC workers." And that you include as a mitigation: "work to update CCC Leasing policy to require leased spaces to comply with CCC procurement guidelines."

[Coder Note: Full attachment available]

2261 - Tony Hampton (Health New Zealand Te Whatu Ora – Waitaha | Canterbury)

Regulatory Compliance and licensing: Alcohol Licensing services Ref. Page 128	We note that there is a service level target that 'Very High/High risk alcohol premises are visited at least once a year'. This is not a new service target, and we assume Health NZ is engaged in this work and has the resources to support this. Health NZ's public health team may wish to comment in support and request CCC engagement.
Regulatory Compliance and licensing: Environmental Health including noise and environmental nuisance Ref. Page 128	We note there is a service level target that 'Investigations into matters that pose a serious risk to public health are received, assessed and if appropriate started within 24 hours (i.e., asbestos, P-labs, contaminated land, hazardous substances)'. This is not a new service target, and we assume Health NZ is engaged in this work and has the resources to support this. Health NZ's public health team may wish to comment in support and request CCC engagement.

2269 - Lyn Leslie (Te Pātaka o Rākaihautū Banks Peninsula Community Board)

The Board recently recommended the adoption of Te Pātaka o Rākaihautū Banks Peninsula Destination Plan (DMP) to the Council. The Board wishes to see an engaged and implemented Destination Management Plan. In the DMP the community highlighted many things including the lowering of emissions and regenerative tourism. The Board wishes to encourage the Council to commence the promotion of regenerative tourism and how that can be supported.

2544 - John Bannock (Governors Bay Community Association)

[Parks > Parks Policies & Walkways]

The GBCA also supports the Head to Head Walkway, this will provide valuable recreational opportunities for the residents of Christchurch and fit well with the Te Pātaka o Rākaihautū/Banks Peninsula Destination Management plan. Although the focus for the Destination Plan should be on green tourism where visitors and Canterbury residents spend time and money in the area.

2610 - Keith Harris (Akaroa District Promotions (ADP))

We ask that more recognition is given in the Long Term Plan to the two Destination Management Plans developed for both Christchurch and its surrounds and the separate Te Pātaka o Rākaihautū Banks Peninsula Destination Management Plan. These are forward looking documents which have incorporated community input and recognise the importance of the different localities within the wider Council territory.

269 - Zara Potts

More help for retailers - including reviewing out of date Easter trading restrictions - this should be personal choice over whether retailers open or not. The trading restrictions are not fit for purpose anymore and we are one of the last areas where trading is restricted - it makes us look backward.

>>>

More vision for retailers. Perhaps look at hours - opening city retail at 8am and closing at 5pm does not help the city feel vibrant. Remove the restricted trading days from the retail calendar - this hurts business having to have enforced closures and is not fit for purpose in 2024.

2924 - John Gibbs

I think that whatever you do you should not radically change policies that have probably influenced and been assumptions in the assessment of major projects. Millions/billions of dollars of private capital has been /will be spent on these projects. If you suddenly change the economics not only will you damage their viability but you will also frighten away potential investors from the private sector in the future. To attract private capital you need consistent , transparent and long term policies.

3035 - Claire Coveney

I would like to see cat registration and desexing made compulsory.

We have too many cats roaming and decimating wildlife, as can dogs and vehicles. We have a growing population and this problem will increase. I do not see this mentioned at all as part of our quality of life here. We had ruru in our back yard when I grew up. Bring them back.

3206 - John Gudgeon

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > City Planning]

"... sustainable city for all." Yeah, right! Like denying access to pools, libraries and the like to those who didn't show a vaccine pass. You lost the trust of a lot of people then. Apologies are long overdue.

3363 - Brodie Marra-Stevenson

The council needs to facilitate the development of a Local alcohol policy. The council should also make freedom camping easier in Ōtautahi to bring in tourists.

3458 - Frank Hill

Stop supporting the Canterbury Water Management Strategy – greatest manmade environmental disaster in this country's history. 50% of Canterbury lakes and rivers now unfit for swimming. Targets have not been met.

3633 - Joanne Tindall

Through the Residents Surveys it has been seen that Residents of Christchurch are less than satisfied in some areas of Christchurch City Council performance. The lowest ratings are in the Transport area of Roads and Footpaths at 27% and 36% satisfaction respectively and the Governance and Trust at 21% Satisfied. These ratings indicate to me that the residents of Christchurch are wanting us to spend money on these areas. I noticed that Council was considering and was wanting feedback on Alternative opportunities:

- Reduce or cut services to assist to reduce the rates increase:
- o The Residents Survey showed that that the areas that residents were most satisfied were in Service Based areas such as: Education programmes at 100% Botanic Gardens and Mona Vale at 99% Libraries at 98% Cemeteries 95% Recreation and Sport Facilities at 92% Community Events at 98% Customer Services range between 98% Walkin, 88% phone and email at 68% Kerbside Collection at 83% (Organic and Recycling) & 84% (Residential Waste) Community Facilities 84%
- o Council should not be cutting services that the public expect from the Council.
- o Reducing services in the above areas would affect staff on the lowest incomes in the organisation.
- o Council should be doing things in house as opposed to contracting out to external providers.
- o Consultants are expensive.
- o Cut backs in funding of services would affect the Councils ability to respond to the needs of the Community.

Council spending should be focussed on the Services that the Council provides, to the residents of Christchurch. Library staff, Customer Services, Infrastructure and Recreation and Sport as some examples. Council is required to respond to emergencies such as weather extremes, fire and earthquakes to name just a few recent examples. If services are cut, Council will not have the staff to be able to respond to these types of events. Recreation and Sport staff open up evacuation centres. Customer Services are responsible for keeping communication flowing both into the Council and out to the community we serve are just two examples. All staff are required to respond to any emergency in whatever way is needed. If staffing numbers are cut, the ability of the Council to respond will diminish. Paying staff fairly will keep employees at the Council. This retains institutional knowledge that cannot be put in a manual. It takes years to gain the knowledge and experience that is so valuable to the organisation. It is important that the Long Term Plan has provisions for fair pay and good working conditions for staff over time. That means allocating enough resources in budgets to increase staff pay to keep up with the cost of living. Christchurch City Council is currently a Living Wage employer and I want to see the Council retain this accreditation and to continue to have the Living Wage a bare minimum that all workers, both in-house and contractors are paid above.

3652 - Andrew Hamlin

Yes, my current submission is to address the need for cat management. There is a bigger goal at play which is to look at re-establishing natural fibre industry. Canterbury plains is a prime area to look at livestock that has less impact on the environment (Less nitrates) offers a healthier alternative to cows milk (sheep's milk) and investing in this past prime industry could contribute towards our own production facilities to sell NZ made product to the international market instead of shipping out wool over seas for peanuts only to have sheep farmers not even break even. The bigger picture is sheep need less water to produce and the more sheep the are the more NZ's tourist sector makes. with some tourists envisioning coming to new zealand to also take photos of pastures fill of sheep.

3732 - Harry Stronach (Akaroa Ratepayers & Residents Assn Inc)

Strategic Planning

In 2009 the “Akaroa Harbour Basin Settlements Study” was published, followed in 2011 by the “Akaroa Places and Spaces Plan”.

These were actually good documents - well researched and thoughtful, with some clear strategic vision. But nothing much happened in the way of implementation, and there is a limit to how much of the blame for that you can assign to the earthquakes. It is more likely that the problems were due to poor leadership, failure to allocate resources, and lack of community buy-in.

We now hear that the CCC are going to “revisit” the Places and Spaces Plan, including yet another look at the BP Meats site in Akaroa. That site now has a 20+ year history as a monument to indecision and failed imagination. A different approach is required. Strategic planning for Akaroa and the Eastern Peninsula needs to be a community driven project from the outset

>>>

Destination Management Plan

Well this was an exciting subject, at least for a while, and we see that the “Banks Peninsula Destination Management Plan” was approved by the community board late last year. So what happens next? We do not see any action towards implementation, and there is nothing in the LTP on this subject

3738 - Finn Jackson

I'd like to see greater investment in biodiversity and environmental operations. In particular, re-establishing a strategic level team with responsibility for the implementation of the Christchurch Biodiversity Strategy and to provide a holistic approach to biodiversity management across Council operations is essential. At present biodiversity management has no central owner, resulting in a lack of coordination and poor, siloed outcomes on the ground. Re-establishing this team would go a long way towards fixing this.

>>>

While I appreciate the difficult situation the Council is in, this Long-Term Plan fails to take ownership of the Council's responsibility to find solutions to our city's long-term issues like biodiversity loss, the need to rapidly reduce greenhouse gas emissions, and to proactively invest in the core infrastructure needed to support our growing population. The proposed cuts to community funding for biodiversity projects and the failure to invest adequately in plant and pest control is not appropriate for a city with a very low proportion of indigenous biodiversity, facing down the impacts of climate change. Biodiversity management in Christchurch is minimal and already suffers from a lack of holistic, central coordination. Our natural infrastructure has been undervalued for a long time, and this LTP continues to kick the can down the road.

3759 - Ben Connolly

Better integration of climate change efforts with the biodiversity strategy.

3798 - M-Webb User

The Banks Peninsula and the Greater Christchurch have developed their Destination Management Plans. Each plan might be a bit different and the focus of the Peninsula plan is on regenerative tourism - maybe a tourist levy to benefit the region. The council should aim to require better environmental standards from the cruise industry and find the balance of ship size-small/medium and communities that don't feel over-run.

3869 - Cam Parsonson

[Strategic Direction > Additional savings and efficiencies], [Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters] reduce strategy and policy op costs by $3m

>>>

Reduce strategy and policy operating costs.

3905 - Surinder Tandon (Christchurch Multicultural Council Inc.)

[Strategic Direction > Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities], [Other/Special Interest Topics > LTP Consultation]

Continue the implementation of the Christchurch Multicultural Strategy - Our Future Together, launched in 2017. Christchurch Multicultural Council along with several ethnic community groups,

CALD agencies, worked hard to support the CCC to develop its Multicultural Strategy - the first in Aotearoa NZ. It is surprising that there is no mention of Christchurch Multicultural strategy in the CCC Draft LTP 2024-34. Surprisingly, the word "multicultural" does not appear even for a single time in the LTP Consultation Document. Instead of staying with the label Christchurch being "a Multicultural City", it seems the CCC prefers to label it as "a cultural powerhouse city". The latter is a secondary description of the former label. CCC Strengthening Communities Together Strategy refers to Christchurch Multicultural Strategy in its Pillar 1. The latter is a living document and lists the goals and outcomes in detail. Christchurch Multicultural Strategy complements the Strengthening Communities Together Strategy.

>>>

[Grants & Funding > Other Community Grants & Funding]

1. Christchurch Multicultural Council, along with our members, CALD agencies, Refugee Council and Hagley College, played a key role in campaigning for a Christchurch Multicultural Hub, which is now called Christchurch Multicultural Recreation and Community Centre (MRCC). We are grateful to CCC for funding to set up MRCC at the former Hagley Netball Centre. We appreciate the proposed allocation of $1,257,000 for 2024-34 period for the development of MRCC facilities. We would like adequate resourcing of funds for the refurbishment and operation of MRCC for the wider community. 2. We would like to see continued implementation of Christchurch Multicultural Strategy goals. It is a fundamental document guiding the CCC and us to promote and celebrate the cultural diversity. 3. Christchurch Multicultural Council requests CCC not to disestablish its "Multicultural Committee". The latter has been found to be an effective medium: * for the implementation of Christchurch Multicultural Strategy; * for two-way communication with Christchurch Multicultural Council and other CALD agencies, NGOs, Government departments, ethnic community groups etc. for: - updates, community issues and needs, funding, events/workshops/conferences etc. 4. Increase funding to community groups for their activities which help to implement the goals of the Christchurch Multicultural Strategy. 5. CCC Strengthening Communities Together Strategy refers to Multicultural Strategy in its Pillar 1 Objectives 1.3 and 1.6 but should not replace the latter. The latter is a standalone document with goals and outcomes listed in detail. 6. CCC Multicultural Committee should continue to exist and fulfill its roles and services as before. Refer to Objective 1.3 of Strengthening Communities Together Strategy.

3959 - Sarah Jackson (Plant Based Treaty)

Yes, we should become a city endorser of the Plant Based Treaty (PBT), just as many other cities have. The PBT principles are: No land use change, including deforestation, for animal agriculture. Promote plant-based foods and actively transition away from animal-based food systems to plant-based systems. Restore key ecosystems and reforest the Earth. Plant Based Treaty aims to put food systems at the forefront of combating the climate crisis to halt the widespread degradation of critical ecosystems caused by animal agriculture and to promote a shift towards healthier, sustainable plant-based diets.

840 - Kim Morton (Ōtautahi Creative Spaces)

A national arts strategy for Aotearoa: We want to see local and central government (cross ministries) work together to create the conditions where arts and health can make the most impact for people of Aotearoa. What's currently missing is a national arts strategy, such as has been developed in Australia (National Cultural Policy—Revive: a place for every story, a story for every place 2023). Minister of Arts, Culture and Heritage Paul Goldsmith has recently expressed interest in creating such a strategy (The Big Idea 17 April 2024). We therefore ask that the Council support the creation of a national arts strategy and help enable the voices and experience of people in Christchurch to be included. Our creative community is seen as a national exemplar and we'd therefore appreciate any opportunities the Council has to show-case our work in a city which has experienced more than its fair share of mental distress arising from disaster and terrorism.

Not Stated

1216 - Glenn Maguire

Work on the strengths of our region promote the Aerospace sector and encourage business to launch from Chch.

2043 - Philippa Cosgrove

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Creating a Climate Fund]

Needs to be a focus on equity & making the corporates/polluters pay eg. products sold in plastic should pay for the environmental cost of their products & packaging.

2105 - Tawhai Darnielle Te Karu

Stop allowing foreign investors to invest in property.
Dates

2337 - Kevin Parthonnaud

In support of the following strategy documents that underpin the Draft LTP especially where nature-based solutions and enhancing indigenous biodiversity have been given preference: Ōtautahi Climate Resilience Strategy; Ōtautahi Urban Forests plan; Te Pātaka o Rākaihautū/Banks Peninsula Destination Management plan; Banks Peninsula Community Board Plan 2023-25; and Whaka-Ora/Healthy Harbour Plan.

2459 - Helen Anderson (Cat Rescue Christchurch Charitable Trust)

Cat Rescue Christchurch Charitable Trust Submission on Cat Bylaws Firstly, we do not think bylaws at local government level would be particularly effective, as there does not appear to be a legal framework within which the Council would be able to act to enforce such bylaws. There is also the issue of the resourcing needed to manage, enforce and follow up on bylaws. Our preference is that Christchurch City Council first consults and works with rescue groups around ChCh (including the SPCA) to discuss the best way forward before it decides on whether or not to have cat bylaws and what these should consist of. We believe an educational approach that focuses on responsible pet ownership (which includes getting pets desexed and microchipped) is the way to go. We advocate for desexing of all companion cats and stray cats people are feeding, the early desexing of kittens, and desexing of all cats before being rehomed from any adoption facility. We believe that a strong focus on desexing, together with more funding to help with this, is the only way to resolve the cat overpopulation, reduce the numbers of unwanted cats and kittens, and therefore reduce the incidence of harm on cats. To this end, we would like to see more local government involvement in providing funding to help ChCh residents on low incomes get their cats "snipped and chipped" to assist the work the SPCA and the cat rescue groups are doing. And if there were to be bylaws, the only ones we believe should be included are: 1) desexing* and 2) microchipping with registration on the NZ Companion Animal Register (*There would need to be consideration for registered cat breeders and also safeguards against 'backyard breeding'.) We would also like to see leadership from the Christchurch City Council towards advocating for laws that enable people with pets to be able to rent accommodation, as currently we are seeing/being contacted about an You don't often get email from funding.catrescue@gmail.com. Learn why this is important 2 increasing number of abandoned cats, cats left behind when their owners leave, desperate pleas to help rehome cats, etc., due to owners not being able to find a new rental that allows pets.

[Full attachment available]

2787 - Jean Drage

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > City Planning]

Whilst the discussion on this long term plan includes reference to future changes to the three waters, the RMA, recommendations from the recent Inquiry into the Future for Local Government and (the new kid on the block) City Plans, central government is still to address the urgent funding needs of local authorities

2809 - Susan Thorpe

8) SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT GOALS / SDGs

Worldwide there is growing pushback towards United Nations SNGs, as people translate the noble rhetoric into the reality of ever-expanding regulation, economic destabilisation and loss of sovereignty. CCC should not adopt the foreign policy of an unelected, unaccountable body like the United Nations, without the democratic process of fully informed local ratepayer assent.

* Delete all references to the 17 United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) in LTP.

[Full attachment available]

3444 - Jo McGregor

Ha! "Sustainable to all" you say - not to the people without vaccine passes, who didn't even receive a discount on their rates even though they were banned from libraries, museum, pools etc... shame on the ccc.

3614 - Lin Roberts

I also support the following strategy documents that underpin the Draft LTP especially where nature-based solutions and enhancing indigenous biodiversity have been given preference: Ōtautahi Climate Resilience Strategy; Ōtautahi Urban Forests plan; Te Pātaka o Rākaihautū/Banks Peninsula Destination Management plan; Banks Peninsula Community Board Plan 2023-25; and Whaka-Ora/Healthy Harbour Plan.

3745 - Victoria Rathgen

The Backpackers and Hotels for emergency accommodation isnt suitable for anyone. Single parents with kids and animals are really struggling is there a better way, can we care for them as a priority? Freedom campers along New Brighton beach could be moved, they arent spending much money in the area and are costing more in cleaning facilities, rubbish collection, new tarmac on 'their carpark' space must be expensive and there is a camping ground just down the road desperate for business.

>>>

Go environmental technology & be world leaders, remove the shackles of the old and get living!
Create jobs particularly part time roles for woman as a number were made redundant during lockdown and the government spent money in men dominated domain areas.

3748 - Greta Bond (Age Concern Canterbury)

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Greater Christchurch Partnership], [Spending > Te Kaha]

While we understand the sunk cost on Te Kaha, it seems a slightly skewed priority, particularly when compared with the amount that has been allocated to housing. Older people in Canterbury increasingly do not own their own homes, and the rental market can be very difficult to navigate for older people (particularly those on fixed incomes).

It is estimated that by 2040, around 50% of people turning 65 will own their own homes and our rental market is simply not set up to cope with this. Private rentals (renewable each year) do not provide secure tenancy for older people, who are reliant on their local communities in a way that younger people may not be, and who may not have the ability to resettle in a new area if required to do so. Many who don't own their own home will not have the option of moving to a retirement village; low-income, warm, dry, social housing will be needed - it would be good to see the CCC developing planning around how to support this cohort, before they arrive. We see a number of older renters even today who need support to find appropriate housing

3786 - Mark Nixon

[Parks > Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration]

An area of focus needs to be on environmental weeds, and by environmental weeds I am making the distinction from agricultural weeds, ie weeds that are invading our native ecosystems. When driving around the country you can see that the war on many of the environmental weed species has already been lost, but here on Banks Peninsula we have a chance to get many of the weeds under control before they get out of control (old man's beard, banana passionfruit, sycamore, pampas, honeysuckle, wilding conifers, etc). What I would like to see is a single organisation responsible for devising and implementing a Banks Peninsula wide weed strategy.

Because currently we have ECAN, CCC, DOC, LINZ, Waka Kotahi all going in different directions and lacking an overall coherent strategy. Such an approach has been very successful in other areas, such as Nelson (Project De-Vine Environmental Trust). I also support conservation covenants as way to protect our native forests, wetlands and other unique ecosystems, and support funding to help their establishment and ongoing maintenance. Another focus I believe we need to have is on pests. The work that Pest Free Banks Peninsula is doing towards eliminating possums has been transformational in the areas through which they have been working. We need to be continuing supporting this effort until possums have been eliminated from Banks Peninsula. Similarly, the work that has been done on eliminating goats from the peninsula has been hugely successful. We need to leverage off these learnings in order to achieve the elimination of pigs and deer, as these ungulates are very damaging to our native forests and ecosystems. Of these two (pigs and deer), pigs would be the first priority due to (1) they are very damaging to both ecosystems and farms (2) they have an extraordinary high reproduction rate – two litters of a dozen or more piglets per litter, resulting in rapid, exponential growth.

3849 - David Peddie

Discourage freedom camping on fringes of city and along our coastline. There are adequate camping - holiday park facilities.

3994 - Sarah Boje

Look after charity, we are going to need them more as more and more people end up homeless, hungry & needing foodbanks. Stop the immigration obsession, we already have so many people without their own affordable homes.

900 - Bill McElhinney

[Rates - Visitor Accommodation]

Visitor accommodation in a residential unit as a business should definitely incur commercial rates. The charities policy should remain as is.

Rates

Residential Rates

General Comments

985 submissions were received on our residential rates proposal.

210 provided comments in support of the proposed average increase of 12.40%.

302 submitters provided comments in opposition, with many highlighting the increased financial pressures we are all facing.

305 provided alternative proposals, and 198 provided general comments about residential rates.

Officers Response

Submission messages were understandably mixed, with a clear majority considering the proposed increase to be too high but a significant minority considering it necessary. The most commonly expressed strong opinions related to keeping rates increases at affordable levels and ensuring the quality of infrastructure; comments on levels of non-infrastructure services were more mixed. A material minority stressed the importance of climate and sustainability investment, although a few rejected this.

Common themes in submissions objecting to the proposed Rates increase are:

- It's too high in the context of the financial stress being experienced by a lot of households, and out of step with the need for government entities to "live within their means" in the same way as households – this was the most common single point of feedback and "there's nothing sustainable about unaffordable rates increases".
- Smooth out increases by deferring non-essential capex projects, including roading ("groceries are more important than smooth roads").
- Council needs to save money by operating more efficiently (e.g. the 10% increase in staff costs budgeted for FY25).
- Focus on core infrastructure only – reduce spending on "nice to haves" like Events, libraries, cycleways, grants for charities & heritage buildings (especially Cathedral & Arts Centre), and Te Kaha.
- A number of councillors campaigned on keeping rates at an affordable level – they have a mandate to cut capex and services, so they should do it.

Common themes in submissions accepting the proposed Rates increase are:

- Don't like it but it's inevitable due to the lack of strong decision-making in previous years such "kicking the can down the road".
- Don't like it but on-going infrastructure spending is needed and it's not too different to other councils around the country – need to prioritise essentials (e.g. waters, roads, and climate change response) and cut back on "nice to haves" (e.g. Events, libraries, cycleways, and heritage buildings).
- Non-infrastructure spending (including Events and heritage buildings) is important to the "vibe" of the city and to residents' quality of life, and any cuts would affect different sectors of the community unevenly. Planned spending should be retained, even if that means high rates increases.
- Accept the proposed increase ("we need to invest in the future"), as long as it's spent on essential projects with clearly audited benefits (e.g. infrastructure, but also climate change response and public transport).

- It's OK, as long as it results in a greener city ("some things are more important than keeping rates low").

[note: the "Accept..." category includes some submissions that expressed positive comfort with the proposed rates increase, rather than simply acceptance.]

Many submissions in both groups wanted Council to "focus on essentials" and "make the hard decisions" – ie. to cut services and/or increase rates. Several suggested that greater focus should be placed on eastern suburbs (for either increased investment or greater rates relief), particularly Bromley. A few expressed doubt that the projected lower rates increases in later years will be achieved.

Other issues raised were:

- Christchurch rates are already higher/lower than other cities.
- Extra funding should be found by increasing fees for libraries, pools, and car parking, and by selling assets.
- Essential & resilient infrastructure will only cost more if we defer it (cited as a reason to both increase rates and cut services).
- Rates increases will be particularly hard for fixed income and/or low income households (e.g. pensioners) – could increases be spread over a longer period?
- The current pattern of rates is unfair (ie. more valuable properties should pay more/less, landlords & unoccupied dwellings should be charged more).

The wide range of submissions illustrates the challenge in achieving an appropriate balance between managing rates increases to fund infrastructure, community facilities & services, long-term resilience, affordability, and borrowing. When considering LTP adjustments in response to submissions, it is important to consider the impact on the entire 10-year LTP horizon rather than just the first 1-3 years, including that the budget must balance across the full 10 years of the LTP, acknowledging however there is much more prominence given to years 1-3 as an LTP is undertaken every 3 years and so outer years are revisited in subsequent LTPs: adjustments that don't materially change total capex & borrowing over the full period and/or the year-10 rates requirement will not have changed the Council's (or ratepayers') fundamental position, and will tend to simply defer difficult spending & taxation decisions to a future period.

Note that the quoted 10% increase in Personnel Costs (Draft LTP Volume 2, p76) includes provision for additional Council staff, relating to new facilities (such as Parakiore) and the "in-housing" of Parks maintenance work which is offset by a reduction in parks maintenance contract costs, it does not imply a similar-sized salary increase to existing Council staff.

In relation to "other issues" raised:

- CCC rates compared with other councils: A reliable comparison will not be possible until after final LTPs are published. However, initial analysis suggests that CCC's proposed increase and average dollar amount is broadly consistent with other metro centres. Care is required when comparing individual properties because each district has a distinct property market (e.g. a $1m home is more valuable than average in Christchurch but below average in Auckland; such a house should therefore expect to pay higher rates in Christchurch even if average rates are higher in Auckland). It is also important to ensure there is a like for like comparison, for example Council's rates include a Waste Minimisation Targeted rate of $205.68 per separately used or inhabited part of a rating unit (SUIP), or a part charge of $154.26 for an SUIP located outside the collection area, and not all councils have a comprehensive kerbside waste collection service that covers most of the city and district.

- Impact of rates increases on low/fixed income households: CCC will continue to provide information about the government's Rates Rebate scheme in the initial Rates Assessments sent to all ratepayers in July & August. Similarly, ratepayers in financial distress can apply for Council's long-standing Rates Postponement scheme (this scheme is particularly intended for pensioners, although the draft LTP proposes that automatic qualification be discontinued).

- Smoothing rates increases over several years: Council has done this to some extent, through two mechanisms. First, by borrowing more in year 1 (not increasing Rates-funding for renewals); this increases the ultimate cost – the overall rates requirement by year 10 will be higher as the borrowings need to be repaid with interest. Second, by deferring spending, e.g. deferring increased bid funding for major events and the climate adaptation team deferred until 2028; in undertaking the deferral Council needs to consider the risks that opportunities may be missed and the effects of this.

- Pattern of rates (ie. tax incidence): Rates are essentially a tax and Council must charge rates largely in proportion to each property's value, and the implicit assumption in the legislation is that this provides a reasonable proxy of "ability to pay", although it is acknowledged it is a blunt tool. More valuable properties therefore do pay more than lower-value ones (e.g. a $1.5m house will pay almost double the tax of a $750k house, because fixed-dollar rates are relatively low in Christchurch). Council is not permitted to charge based on household income, number of inhabitants, or whether or not a home is occupied.

- Credibility of lower rates increases in later years: LTP projections are based on the financial resources required to deliver levels of service set out in asset management plans and the forecast capital work required to maintain levels of service, or meet new levels of service agreed with the community, plus assumptions around inflation, ongoing levels of service, and growth in the rating base, and forecast revenue from other sources, e.g. dividends, fees and charges and funding assistance from New Zealand Transport Agency. They reflect the best available current information, but changes in assumptions or information over time will affect and change the rates increase required in future years.

Support

1008 - Angela McPherson

I realise that this will be very difficult for many people but don't see any alternative

1071 - Brian Donovan

Agree

1087 - Julie Hansen

I know a lot of people are struggling with finances currently and an increase in rates would be another blow. But it is also important to keep our community safe and a happy place to live.

1098 - Eric Pawson

[Spending>Our Proposed Spending]; [Strategic Direction>Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities]

I guess we just have to wear it. Agreed that the city has made huge investments in the last decade, but now is not the time to underfund community facilities (eg parks, libraries, galleries, museums): these assets are vital in a time of democratic stress and societal division

1116 - Stephan Lloyd

I feel it is impossible to maintain the same level of services and investment where costs for everything have gone up over the last couple of years. I support the rate increase.

116 - Jarrod Coburn

You've done pretty well at getting it down so low. Looking at the state of other councils, we seem to be in good stead.

1203 - David Moore

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Governance]

I think a raise in rates is appropriate given the city's infrastructure requirements. It is a shame that our Mayor was not realistic about this while making election promises.

1282 - Kelvin Lynn

I accept that the Council has no choice but to increase rates but freebies and handout to businesses and failed projects.

133 - Alan Mears

Provided it is carefully targeted and audited for cost/ benefit outcomes

1352 - Lin Klenner

personally I rather live in a functioning city than save a few dollars a week

1362 - Pablo Rodriguez

I am for an increase in rates so that money is available for climate action and climate resiliency

1385 - Bernice Kilkelly

For most this rate increase is higher than any increases they have got in pay increases.

1389 - Emma Mcmurtrie

Absolutely!!

1405 - Justin Standing

Yes it's important to me that we continue to invest in long term initiatives, to avoid larger issues in future.

1433 - Helen Thomas

I think the rates rises are steep but if they are used to continue to fund the improvements in this plan I am happy to pay them.

1451 - Jodie Langston

As much as I don't want more expenditure to live in a house rather than my vehicle , maintaining and investing in infrastructure is important long term to health , i.e water condition and protection from floods and fires

1462 - Sue Piercey

As a percentage increase the increase in rates is low compared with my house insurance or the outrageous price increases in food items. Due to the political nature of local government elected representatives have for too long kept rates too low resulting in the catch up we have to play now with crumbling infrastructure that has to be replaced and redeveloped at a time of high inflation and when housing eats up a very high portion of many people's incomes. We have to bite the bullet now - it cannot be deferred any longer or costs will unfairly burden future generations.

1467 - Alistair Falconer

I am comfortable with the proposed rate increase. Christchurch has challenges ahead so this increase in rates is necessary.

151 - Marg Flyvbjerg

If we must contribute more, so be it. I moved into the CBD because I love the vibe. Events like the Off Center Festival contribute so much to what attracts people to our city

1516 - Kerrie Young (Kāinga Ora – Homes and Communities)

3. Kāinga Ora is a significant property owner in the Christchurch City area and as at the 31 March 2024, Kāinga Ora owns 7,335 properties. Each year Kāinga Ora pays rates and development contributions on sites it has redeveloped or acquired.
4. Kāinga Ora recognises that these rates enable CCC to deliver essential and important services and amenities to the customers who live in Kāinga Ora homes and this in turn enables them to live well within their communities. Kāinga Ora will continue to work with CCC to ensure our customers have easy access to these services.

1517 - Felix Harrison

I support the

153 - Lindsay Strang

If that is what it takes then let's do it.

1546 - Robert Fleming

[Transport > Cycleways (Capital)]

Our household has been fortunate enough to reduce travel costs by several thousand dollars per year since the safety perception and service level for those who ride bikes has been improved. We are more than happy to wear the cost of moderate rate increases to see improvements continue. Christchurch is still in a post quake rebuild phase and the improvements over the years have been exciting and significant. I would like to see this continue.

1574 - David Cassidy

Yes you should be

158 - Nathan Foord

I don't mind an increase, as long as the MAJORITY are seeing the benefits

1618 - Zachary Imhoof

I am happy for an increase in rates as long as the infrastructure that is being built and maintained contribute to our idea and ambitions of a circular economy and focuses on decarbonizing our city networks and creating healthy ecosystems rather than having more negative impacts. More of that money should go towards projects and infrastructure with climate adaption at their core.

162 - Christine Wehrmeier

I would prefer to see rates go up than lose valuable services and funding of existing facilities/infrastructure etc.

167 - Zara Garlick

I am not a ratepayer but if this is going towards creating sustainable infrastructure, protecting cultural heritage and futureproofing initiatives for climate change then it makes sense that rates should increase.

1685 - Bowen Abaraham

It's worth the extra rates for better facilities

174 - Joe Cole

Core services that make chch what it is must continue

1756 - Kieran Sweetman

The city is progressing well and i am happy to pay the additional rates for the long term future of the city.

1793 - Pamela Hughes

I understand that costs are going up and would rather pay an increase in rates, than sell our assets

>>>

Yes I agree with these

>>>

I pay my rates for these day to day services; rubbish collection, waterway servicing, libraries, art gallery, parks, and a raft of others that are provided

1800 - Judith Deans

Climate change requires this.

1804 - Ian Sweeney

Increases are inevitable given the economic outlook. Everybody knows and understands that.

1824 - Karen Banwell (Cass Bay Reserve Committee)

yes especially core infrastructure.

1828 - Robert Jelley

IS: PROVIDING ITS SPENT ON SENSIBLE PROJECTS.

1869 - Bill Cowen

There is no choice but to increase rates and 12.4% is below the National Average.

1972 - Simone Pearson

We support the proposed rates increase; as the collective contribution of all citizens delivers better outcomes for all.

1974 - Lewie Chilcott

There should be an increase in rates to account for the increase in costs of services which will continue to increase with inflation throughout the coming years. Since the council is responsible for the well being of all residents and rates are used to fund services such as wastewater to recreation.

1991 - Stevie Florent

I'd prefer rates to increase now to work towards mitigating climate change, rather than a larger hike later to deal with the consequences of climate change if appropriate investments in cycle ways and reducing carbon emissions are not made and to contribute to these costs now rather than future generations bearing the burden alone. Furthermore, this would provide more funding for critical community centres, such as The Arts Centre.

>>>

Increasing our rates is important to keep up with levels of service and to ensure people keep their jobs.

2034 - Kevin Walker

We are happy with the current level of services provided in Christchurch. While our children are growing up, they used many of the facilities and we would love this to continue for all future generations. Cost increases are a part of ensuring this.

[Coder note: supports rates increase]

2036 - Nathan Kirkness

That rate of increase is justified and should be manageable for most rate payers

2044 - Rachel Murdoch

As a ratepayer, I understand that the services Council provides are fundamental to the operation of our city. Things are more expensive - that is the way of it, so I support an increase in rates to cover that.

2065 - Robin Lake

Rates increase: While the rates increase proposed for 2024/25 will be difficult for many households and businesses, I think that the options to reduce this amount are not sensible. I think that measures to reduce this increase in the short term will lead to greater difficulties through increased borrowing in the future. I also think the rates increases projected for future years are likely to be underestimates, and the inflation estimates (p22) are optimistic. Short term pain for (hopefully) longer term gain.

2071 - Paul Broady

- Costs of renewing and maintaining infrastructure are going to increase. We need to pay now to achieve climate resilient, long-lasting infrastructure.
- It will cost more to achieve the emissions reductions to meet the stated goals.

2087 - Emma Norrish (Waipapa Papanui-Innes-Central Community Board)

The Board appreciates the mahi to minimise rates rises while ensuring that the city and wider region continue to be a great place to live, work and play. The Board observes that many are still struggling with the cost of living, and ratepayers and tenants are facing challenging times. The Board also acknowledges the balance that needs to be struck between minimising rates rises and the need to responsibly invest in the city to ensure it runs efficiently and sustainably, is resilient, and infrastructure and levels of service adequately support us all. The Board broadly considers that the balance has been struck as best it can under the circumstances, subject to reviewing some points as suggested in this submission, and subject to listening to community feedback through the consultation period. The Board appreciates that many will be challenged by the rates increase, but as we know from experience, it is critically important that the city is properly prepared for the future and possible adversity, particularly related to our vulnerability to natural disaster and climate change. The Board also understands from some of our residents that they do not support the city and the levels of service reducing. Where the Council can demonstrate they have exercised due diligence in order to achieve value for money and prioritise the essentials – pulling back from ‘nice-to-haves’ – it is recognised that there is a price worth paying for having a city that supports dignified living, and people taking enough pride in their city that they see the worth in contributing, with compounding effect, to make this a great place to live. What that price is, will be ascertained through the consultation and resulting consideration by our city councillors, supported by our community boards. The Board considers it important to invest in the city, so that both the current generations can thrive, and our future generations will have a city that is even better than it is now, as they will inherit the consequences of today’s decisions. Furthermore and broadly speaking, the Board is unaware of many, if any, instances to date where residents disagree with at least maintaining existing levels of service financial support for community groups, projects and events. To the contrary, there are reasonably consistent calls to maintain and even increase levels of service and investment, stemming, as indicated, from the pride our residents take in their communities, and a desire to see those communities flourish and strengthen. While the Board certainly supports achieving value for money, we submit that there is not value for money in reducing levels of service which is likely to result in outcomes that are not what we and our residents have come to expect – including but not limited to: well maintained parks and green spaces, outstanding rubbish and recycling services, well used libraries and leisure centres, and improving active transport options. Pride in what we see around us plays a significant part in people wanting to engage and participate, which further strengthens our communities, neighbourhoods and city.

>>>

As such, the Board recognises the financial relief created by having lower rates, however it is important to consider the negative outcomes and hardships that may also occur as a result.

2089 - Serge Ratten

Ya Tax is fove every one

2096 - Kate Divett

Costs have gone up across the board, so I understand that this has to happen.

2099 - Eli Watson

Do you have any comments on increasing

We need our public services

>>>

[Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]; [Spending>Our Proposed Spending]

not spending enough on cycle ways, we need more public infrastructure increase rates

21 - Tyrone Low

I agree with rates increases, justified by investing in crucial infrastructure. We need to invest in the future

2112 - Matt Easterbrook

I am happy to pay this rates increase to make sure we meet our emissions targets and keep providing services such as libraries

2136 - Clara Carey

An increase in rates is necessary in order for CCC to be able to deliver its program of works. It is better that CCC increases rates and invests in the city's infrastructure, than for rates to be kept low and infrastructure not to be maintained

2143 - Vicky Anderson

In general I agree with the rates increase. However, this goes with a lot of trust that the council is looking carefully at spending and the rates and increases, will be spent responsibly, thoughtfully and efficiently. There is nothing worse than seeing rates being spent on lavish incomes, outsourcing to over-qualified over-paid 'experts' with no common or practical sense. I realise there is likely accountability and legal requirements etc. But common sense application and balance relies on excellent governance and council people who are genuinely interested and invested in the council goals, and accountability. Careful considered selection involving all options, not gifting to over-priced free-loaders or 'pigs at the trough' taking advance. Hopefully voting helps mitigate this within the council but please be mindful when out-sourcing or funding projects.

2155 - Geoffrey Sugden

Although this increase will hurt now, trying to save now will just delay the increases and possibly end up requiring larger rises in the future.

2171 - Mark Smith

As long as money going in right direction.

2172 - Tobias McKellar

I believe that the current state of the city requires more investment, so at a minimum rates should maintain the current level of investment.

2177 - Grayson Spirtle

It's needed to prevent a decrease in community well-being

2269 - Lyn Leslie (Te Pātaka o Rākaihautū Banks Peninsula Community Board)

The Board acknowledges in order to maintain the existing levels of service and investment increases will be needed in the future. The Board understands the rates increase; we do support the proposed first three years of the timelines of rates increase to soften the impact on the community.

2272 - Tegan Jones

I am fine with a rates increase if it means we can support important landmarks such as Orana, the Arts centre, Art gallery, museum, willowbank etc

2289 - Leonie Jackson

Comments: - The average weekly rates rise of $8 is not too significant for most people, and the gains are huge for reduction in borrowing.
(This may need pointing out to people: it is less than 2 cups of coffee per week!)

2308 - Sarah Elicker

I support these proposed changes.

2330 - Bradley Conder (Novotel Christchurch & Ibis Chrischurch)

yes at least to that level.

2362 - Rosalee Jenkin

I support an increase in rates to ensure continued investment in climate change mitigation and adaptation projects and for core infrastructure. There has been an underinvestment in infrastructure for too long.

2363 - Andrea Wong

We all know that we are in a difficult time with increasing costs. This is just another place we have to pay and it has to be accepted.

24 - Kaaren Mathias

I agree with these suggestions - happy for higher rates for a more green city.

2404 - Grant MacLeod

[Strategic Direction>Performance Framework]; [Strategic Direction>Infrastructure Strategy]

Deferred maintenance only saves today, you'll end up spending just as much operationally, meet the levels of service, but perhaps be mindful that not all communities need built infrastructure in such a small city.

2415 - Gabrielle Sa

Investment is important for both the city and our economy. I believe we should continue to push forward

[coder note. In response to rising residential rates.]

2457 - Hayden Johnstone

While it is expensive we need to fix our water and storm water systems and I think it should be done to a high quality that will last and not done cheaply to save money. I also think that we should maintain all our services that people depend on such as libraries, the museum and sporting facilities as while cutting them would save money on rates people will end up spending more in the long run for entertainment if those services are cut (especially those with children) as they are relatively low cost ways to keep people entertained.

>>>

While the rate hikes are high I do not believe in significantly cutting services/ maintenance especially libraries' and things kids use such as public parks.

2469 - Kaitlyn Wylie

Yes, assuming it is reflected in services rendered

2481 - Paul Leighton

Yes or support further raise.

Don't cut funding or services. Increase rates if needed in conjunction with efficiency programs.

2482 - Erin Stewart

Agree with all proposals.

2502 - Keri Glassenbury

You have to give the rates increase. Removing services is short sighted and will cost more in the future. Without many services in the community mental health issues will see a rise.

2585 - Susan Macann

We all benefit from the infrastructure and facilities provided by the Council so I think we should all be willing to pay for them. You're doing your part by giving us the opportunity to submit on the long term plan.

2650 - Alexander Amies

Yes, but I would be happy with higher rates if that ensures that services that our community depends on continue.

>>>

Yes, this is necessary to ensure that the services our vulnerable people depend on continue to exist and that ChCh is a more liveable city.

>>>

I am happy with this

2651 - Finn Blanchard

I think it is understandable as historically some things in local government have been underfunded and if we don't do these things now they are only going to get more expensive.

2695 - Dave Gardner

It's great to hear you are not cutting services. There will never be a perfect time to raise rates, so now is a good time as ever.

>>>

Yes, increase the rates please, as this will help keep the existing levels of service and also help the reserve bank lower interest rates quicker. I would rather have my money go to the council than to bank interest rates. and if it helps lower the amount the city council has to borrow, the better it will be for the future for everyone.

>>>

don't sell our assets or cut our services, i'm happy with the rate rises to make a livable enjoyable city, and rate rises is cheaper than paying private for profit companies.

271 - Jim Veitch

Expensive however an investment for the future

2742 - Caroline Dagger

Whilst I understand the financial implication it is important to keep moving forward and investing in our city.

2758 - Christopher Seay

Rates have been kept artificially and detrimentally low for far too many years. This has led to a city that has fallen behind on both capital and operating expenses across the board. The least we can do is keep the level of service where it currently is - we should be aiming to raise rates to a sustainable level and to make up for the deficit of years of underinvestment.

The council exists to provide services that are not able to provided by a for profit business. It is not the council's mission to provide the lowest rates possible - please continue to fund things like libraries and parks and ignore calls for lower rates. Rates have been too low for too long which has, in part, caused the issues that currently exist. Keeping them low will only delay the resolution, while making all citizens lives worse.

2761 - Annette and Michael Hamblett

No. We support the explanation.

278 - Robin Curry

While this increase is outside the promised rates increases by the current Mayor etc, I believe due to major underfunding in infrastructure in previous years, plus other factures mentioned means we need to "bite the bullet".

2794 - Christina Troup

Overall I consider that rates are well spent, and I do not have a problem with rates being increased as outlined in the Draft LTP, to ensure a well-functioning city that continues to work towards better environmental outcomes and biodiversity enhancement

2800 - Ellena Cameron

Comments: IF YOU STOP MAINTAINING SERVICES and DO NOT KEEP UP WITH INVESTMENT IN OUR CORE INFRASTRUCTURE AND FACILITIES, FURTHER DOWN THE LINE WE WILL HAVE TO PAY TWICE AS MUCH TO CATCH UP.

What services are expected to be maintained, including changes to the city's current differential rating/visitor accommodation

2807 - David Close (Christchurch East Labour Electorate Committee)

The current Council deserves congratulations for showing courage in proposing a 13% rate increase, probably the largest annual increase in the Council's history. There are several justifications for this: The Council has experienced sharp increases in loan servicing, insurance and other costs, which, as the Mayor says, the Council has 'little ability to control'. (CD, page 5) The Council has recognised the importance of continuing to fund the renewal of essential infrastructure of roading, water supply and wastewater services. The Council has given prominence to the impact on the rates of the capital cost of Te Kaha (CD, page 8) The Financial Strategy also points out the high operating costs of Parakiore and Te Kaha when they are opened (Vol 2, pages 4, 5-6), a warning that was not shared with the public in the Consultation Document. Given the circumstances, it would have been imprudent for the Council to propose a rate increase lower than 13%.

>>>

That the Council:

(i) note our view that the proposed rates increase is justified under the circumstances and that rates remain good value for money.

(ii) continue to publicise the availability of the rates rebate for low-income ratepayers.

2811 - Nikora Nitro

Great work given the balancing act required.
Time now tells us if the right pathway

282 - Michael Heenan

I don't like the further rate increase but think the benefit to Christchurch overall is worth it.

2825 - Jotham Barmantloo

Yes please maintain level of service.

2827 - Carley Dove-McFalls (Generation Zero Ōtautahi)

YES” Reason: Because if we do not increase our rates to keep up with the current levels of service, our city will be worse off in all aspects and people would lose their jobs. We need to continue investing in active/public transport infrastructure, climate mitigation projects and climate adaptation projects such as new stormwater infrastructure, as not doing so now will impact future generations and be more expensive in the future.

2830 - Fiona Bennetts

[Planning, Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Strategic Transport],

- Local Governments across New Zealand have traditionally kept rates low through deliberate under-investment in or deferment of infrastructure, and commitments by Councillor and Mayoral candidates running on keeping rates low as a form of electoral promise. The proverbial chicken has now come home to roost.
- If we lower rates, our city will lose the ability to provide its current levels of service, and those who use council services will be disproportionately worse off. There is an assumption that more affluent residents and neighbourhoods may think they are insulated from this trend as they are less likely to use these facilities, but they are still part of this city, and will feel the effects of austerity.
- Any change in rates must account for continued investment in public and active transport, biodiversity enhancements, climate mitigation projects, and climate adaptation projects. These are simply non-negotiable for future generations. If projects are being deferred or discontinued to make these rate cuts occur, I strongly recommend that this practice be reversed.

>>>

- We need to support those who are genuinely unable to pay these increases in rates.

2831 - Sebastian Denize

We need more rates revenue to pay for infrastructure and systems that will have public benefits.

2838 - Graham Erikson

Support the proposed rate changes.

2848 - Glen Koorey

Given that local govt turned their back on the opportunity for central govt funding assistance of 3 Waters, it is not surprising that now the significant cost to upgrade the long-under-invested infrastructure will fall in Council hands. It is definitely needed, so the rates increase that goes with that has to be worn.

2855 - Kat Forrester

No issue with paying higher rates for ongoing services. Someone's gotta pay the ferryman. It's us who use the services! Don't like it... go enjoy the town more!

2869 - Josiah O'Neill

It's very important to me that the council maintains or improves service levels and standards. I do not believe cutting costs to keep rates down in the short term is beneficial to anyone,

2887 - Linda Keall

I support (reluctantly) the rates rises as all this work is essential and will only become more expensive the longer it is delayed. i acknowledge this will be difficult for some ratepayers but i also think it is not at all fair to 'look after ourselves' and leave the bigger costs for our children. There are significant burdens now and more coming, with climate change and the state of the essential services that must be upgraded and future proofed. Current ratepayers need to step up and do our bit now. After all, if we can stomach the % increase just for Te Kaha, which is not essential, just a 'nice to have', we can stomach increases for infrastructure and climate change mitigation.

293 - Monique van Veen

Short answer - yes, I recognise the need for the significant rates increase balanced by the desire to live in a city with secure infrastructure, helpful services, and exciting development projects.

>>>

I recognise the difficult position CCC faces in the community's desire to retain many CCC services and facilities, alongside the significant increased costs associated with these, and that therefore rates must increase to accommodate this. I am broadly supportive of the rates increases in the recognition that strong, comprehensive infrastructures and facilities are foundational to a safe and healthy city.

2934 - Monica Richards

[Transport > Roads (Capital)]

Absolutely we should expect rates increase except where money is going into growing road traffic. Decrease road traffic and save.

2936 - Ian Lochhead

I accept the need for a rates rise as the CCC can't be expected to maintain current levels of service at a time when costs in all other sectors are increasing.

2947 - Katia De Lu

I've already talked about the importance of ongoing investment in public transport and active transport, climate mitigation projects, and climate adaptation projects. Failing to invest in these things now will only place additional burden and suffering on future generations. In addition, the other services the council provides - libraries, pools, community events, community housing, parks and greenspaces, supporting biodiversity, drinking water, stormwater and wastewater management, solid waste management, and so much more - are all important to our community's quality of life. We need these things to live and thrive. The reality is that our city has suffered from years of under-investment in infrastructure as a result of local politicians running on platforms of keeping rates artificially low and failing to invest in infrastructure when borrowing was at historically low levels. Now we are facing the consequences of those short-sighted decisions. Rate increases are necessary. Without them, our city will be worse off: losing services, infrastructure, jobs, and biodiversity. Austerity would hurt those who rely on council services the most, but it would be a loss for us all. Let's make our city better, not worse.

3000 - Simon Emett (Thin Tanks NZ)

We believe you have, focusing on this infrastructure sets up the city for future expansion and longevity.

3011 - Annette Marchant

If it can be made to result in more intensive / efficient use of existing housing, then "yes".

3012 - George Laxton

Yes, increase rates.

- I also don't like the focus on keeping rates down, we need to invest in our city and in my opinion rates are great value for money.
- I would like to see an increase in rates to pay for all the projects that we want to do so we can improve our city.
- Rates have been kept artificially low over the past couple of decades by stretching out investments that need continual upkeep in the effort of running on a platform of reducing or keeping rates down.
- We need to take a long term outlook and realise that we need to catch up on the under investment of the past few decades and then continue to invest for future generations.

304 - Timothy Sjoberg

Although we are not a wealthy whanau, rates is a fair, balanced way to ensure we all contribute for the benefit of us all.

3066 - Tony Simpson

If we want to continue and improve the Council services it will be necessary to increase rates. As much as we don't want this it is the only realistic solution with rising costs on all goods and services.

307 - Rata Jamieson

While renters are going to be affected by raising rates, it is important to increase and maintain levels of service and increase initiatives that will mitigate and adapt to changing climates.

>>>

If we do not increase rates, the city will be worse off -there would be job losses. We need to keep investing in public transport etc.

308 - Ian Oxley

The services are still needed

3087 - Lucie Masselink

No, I agree with this

3129 - Skye Arnopp

I understand the increase in rates, given the inflation values.

3136 - John Hynes

I agree with what you're proposing.

3144 - Elizabeth Hofman

Nobody likes the rates to go up but we really need to invest in the long-term future of the city.

3177 - Dan Lucas

As mentioned i am highly supportive in increasing investment (and rates) now, this is because i believe the city needs to continue its awesome growth in the past 10 years, i would also rather take the responsibility for my children, spend the money now so it is not a burden for them in the future.

3209 - Anouk Minnaar

[Rates > Business Rates], [Rates > Remote Rural Rates], [Transport > Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)], [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Coastal Hazards & Adaption Planning], [Other/Special Interest Topics > Governance]

In the past low rates have been used as an electoral promise by councillor and mayoral candidates, leading to underinvestment or deferment of infrastructure. We need to increase our rates to keep up with the current levels of service. Otherwise our community will be worse off in all aspects and people will lose their jobs.

3234 - Rhys Pryde-Wall

For too long councils have been elected on the premise of “keeping rates low” this has resulted in insufficient investment in infrastructure etc. although it will be painful such rises are required to balance the historical mismanagement.

>>>

Mayor and councillors must be held accountable to promises, if they say for example keeping rates under 5% then it needs to be explained how this will be managed. Councils resisted 3 waters and now the price must be paid, this is what the high rates represent

3235 - Thomas Caspari

Thank you for the opportunity to have a say. Besides being a "car-infested swap" to borrow Hugh Wilson's words, I think the city is working really well overall. I am happy to pay my rents, and an increase is fine given that we do not pay extra for water at this stage. Good luck with the hearings ahead, and the decision-making.

324 - Richard Wesley

Inflation has been running very high and rates increases have not kept up with this general level of cost increases.

3250 - Hannah Murdoch

I wouldn't want anyone to lose out on services, even if it's not something I use.

3254 - Tracey Jury

I'd rather pay more and have a functioning Library, council gym, wonderful Art Centre, world class Botanic Gardens, etc. These things add value to life.

3262 - Charlorte Verity-McCormick

[Spending > Te Kaha]

[Art Galleries and Museums > Art Gallery (operations)]

Yes - we should generally be maintaining what we have (except Te Kaha). Perhaps tighten budgets on some things...e.g. does the gallery need to be open every day of the week?

3291 - Jess Kikstra

Rates proposals: See above question, support rate increases for better council services. Also support proposed changes on page 42. I do not support reducing services.

332 - Flair Mckay

I agree to change rates to meet different areas and the different needs of the community.

3336 - Margaret Lovell-Smith

Rates rises are inevitable and necessary for the Council to continue to provide day to day services, while also preparing the city for the future.

3341 - Maria Bartlett

Choices made should not reduce existing levels of service

>>>

My existing CCC rates are comparatively low compared to what I pay in Clutha District so I'm ok with the rise as long as the basic essentials take precedence

3355 - Laura Coleman

Necessary, and needed for the quality of life for our city.

3357 - Merav Benaia

Far too long rates have been kept artificially low in order to avoid upsetting home owners. This resulted in underinvestment or deferment (also known as kicking the can down the road) of investment in vital infrastructure. Low rates will prevent the council from providing the current level of services. People who rely on these services will be disproportionately worse off. When parts of our communities are worse off, we will all eventually feel the effects of austerity. We must account for continued investment in public transport, climate mitigation projects and climate adaptation projects.

>>>

Future generations will carry the burden of our current underinvestment and we can not continue to burden them with the costs that future will bring.

3363 - Brodie Marra-Stevenson

It's not like young people can afford to buy in this market anyway.

3375 - Sarah Hadley

happy for rates increase to support The Art Centre

3379 - Mike Currie

[Rates > Business Rates], [Rates > Remote Rural Rates]

If we do not increase our rates to keep up with the current levels of service, our city will be worse off in all aspects and people would lose their jobs.

>>>

[Rates > Business Rates], [Rates > Remote Rural Rates]

If we do not increase our rates to keep up with the current levels of service, our city will be worse off in all aspects and people would lose their jobs.

3409 - Angela Webster

Although I don't want rates too go up in reality I want better infrastructure and events so happy to do this.

3415 - Allan Taunt

Any reduction in levels of service or level of investment in core infrastructure and facilities will result in people in our community being disadvantaged. This will affect people disproportionately. People depend on services like active and public transport, libraries, recreation facilities, parks and reserves, and the arts. For many, finding money for alternatives (which would be at a greater cost) is not an option. While any cost increase is undesirable, in the case of rates it is clear how that money is being used to fund services, infrastructure and facilities for the public. Money paid in rates delivers good to the community.

3423 - James Upton

Agree with the steady course to take us through the aftermath of earthquakes, Covid and Te Kaha (funding) shocks.

3427 - Mikaere Greenslade

These services are essential

3458 - Frank Hill

I have not read the CCC Long Term Plan as generally I am supportive of the good work this council does. A 13% increase will be painful but the failure to invest in infrastructure cannot go on and we can't continue to increase debt funding.

3484 - Prue Stringer

We need to spend NOW, so rates will have to increase, despite many residents' hardships. We only need to look back to Auckland mayor Dove Myer-Robinson and his proposal to fund better transport services, that was only just voted down by the then council, to imagine how different the Auckland traffic issue could be now, if only the money had been spent then !

3497 - Cerys Fletcher

Yes, I am very happy for this rate increase to go ahead. A decrease in rates would result in decreased investment in public and active transport, climate mitigation projects, and climate adaptation projects. If projects like these are being cut or reduced to make rate decreases possible, I strongly oppose a rate decrease, as these projects and their environmental and social benefits are vital for us and future generations to live well. Underinvestment in, and deferment of, infrastructure have kept rates artificially low. Promises to keep them low have been made by Councillor and Mayoral candidates as campaign strategies. Lowering rates would rob Ōtautahi of its provision of current levels of service, and those who use council services will be disproportionately worse off. Make no mistake, however - this will affect everyone, more affluent residents and neighbourhoods included. Austerity impacts everyone, and would be felt across the city.

3500 - James Wallis

Please continue

3573 - Joyce Yager

I strongly support an increase in rates.

3575 - Anna Hansson

The rates increase is high, but it is important to maintain our infrastructure today so that we don't have unnecessary breakages and problems in the future that we then have to pay more for.

3604 - Caroline Burt

If investment in our core infrastructure, services, facilities etc is not continued then these fall behind and the later investment to bring these back up to standard is greater. That doesn't mean, however, that efficiencies and improvements should be ignored. The Council should continuously be looking to improve what it does.

3614 - Lin Roberts

- Yes, these rate increases come off the back of years of under-investment in infrastructure, and commitments by councillors and mayors running on keeping rates artificially low by not investing in infrastructure when borrowing was at historically low levels.
- If we decrease rates, our city loses current levels of service, and those who depend on council services such as libraries and swimming pools will be the worst off.
- We need to continue investing in public transport and active transport, climate mitigation projects, and climate adaptation projects.

3615 - Janine Clarke

If an increase in rates is required then that is acceptable but good governance and accountability of the costs and where that money is spent needs to be paramount. The use of IT to collect and disseminate spending data should be utilised. A break down of how much of our individual rates bill is allocated to Water, Waste, Infrastructure and development should be itemised on each rates bill.

>>>

I think the proposed rate increase is acceptable, although a lower rate of increase spread over a three year period maybe more palatable for some. I do not understand or believe the table in the document that says rate increases will decrease over the 10yr period, and find that misleading and a burden to future councils to uphold. I do not think it is prudent to predict these so far in advance.

3618 - Chrys Horn

Much as the rates bill increase is not something I look forward to, I also feel that my rates dollars go a long way and have a big effect on my quality of life as a resident. I value our community centres, our libraries and the money that goes into community development in my local community. These expenses all contribute to community resilience and provide all Christchurch residents with access to low cost activities. I also see a need for infrastructure improvements and want to be drinking safe, clean water and seeing investment in cycleway facilities and public transport which can help ratepayers change to lower cost transport modes. Personally, I save a lot of money by using my bicycle as my main form of transport and exercise hence saving on car running and parking costs and on health and mental health related costs. The funding model for infrastructure is not working and I recognise that there is significant work to be done there. In the meantime, we all lose, as a community if we don't maintain free or low-cost activities and services that help connect residents and give them access to things like libraries, community activities, and quality green spaces as well as the core services such as water and transport infrastructure. I see no profit in doing what has been done for the last decades where Local Governments across New Zealand have kept rates low by underinvesting in infrastructure. The cost of building infrastructure will never be lower than at present and we need to be taking steps to get on with the work that is needed to meet the needs of both present and future residents (most of which are the same people).

3644 - Yvonne Dixon

Inflation has increased costs. Homeowners have seen big rises in property values . I think the rates increase is necessary, and its fine with me.

3645 - Sophie McKenzie

I agree that having a increase in rate will allow for things to get moving and allows for more investment in our infuatsructure and future.

3646 - Thomas Blakie

Yes. You shouldn't put off well needed investments and services.

3655 - Dan Manton

If rates do not increase, services and infrastructure will decrease and the city will be worse now and in future.

3656 - Liam Blackett

Given inflation in the construction sector far in excess of headline CPI inflation it is inevitable for substantial rates increased without gutting services and capital projects. The issue with continuously "cutting cloth" in plans is eventually there's no more cloth to cut.

3663 - Connor McIver

I support these changes; they seem fair.

3672 - Neil McKenzie

Basically it looks OK.

3679 - Janet Perry

I approve of these new rating changes

3700 - Ian Cumberpatch

The rise seems inevitable.

3701 - Rod Hay

I understand the hesitancy on the part of some ratepayers facing rate increases of this order. However, the environmental and economic challenges will be even greater in future without significant extra investment now to keep ahead of the bow-wave caused by climate change impacts and past under-investment on the part of national and local government. The proposed profile of future rates rises reflects a good investment strategy because under-investment now will lead to much greater costs in future.

3727 - Carl Fox

I believe a raise in rates is necessary to meet its infrastructure obligations

375 - Alex McNeill

I strongly believe that if rates need to be increased in order to maintain or improve Council services, then it needs to be done. Things aren't going to magically become better in the future - we will only ever have increasing costs, especially in terms of climate change, adaptation, and resilience. Investment for the future should be made now. Priority should be given to services that help mitigate the cause and/or effects of climate change - e.g. bike and bus infrastructure, reliable water networks, tree plantings in residential areas.

376 - Mattias Wieland

The rate increase is necessary.

3764 - Jack Gibbons

I am young (homeowner) and plan on being a very long term resident of the city. It is in my financial interest for the city to raise rates now rather than even more later. I get considerable value from council services and facilities. If I did not get these services I would likely just move somewhere I could.

3782 - Ramses Hunt

I am a rate payer (with my partner) and while it will increase our expenses, we want to keep funding the city. As long as the money is well accounted for, we are happy contributing to the city

3800 - Rachel Barker

Yes, we will need to have this increase to maintain levels of service. To me, core responsibilities for CCC are maintaining infrastructure such as water, waste, managing stormwater, managing and maintaining parks, strategic planning for urban development, incorporating cycleways, libraries, some key festivals (e.g.) Summertimes, Kidsfest.

3801 - Victor (aka Vince) Eichholtz

Some pain now, less pain later= less overall pain

3802 - Matthew Baird

It is important for the wellbeing of our residents, and the future livability and sustainability of our city. If we do not increase rates, we cannot invest the required amount in active/public transport infrastructure, climate mitigation projects, and climate adaptation projects such as new stormwater infrastructure. Those residents that depend on council services, will be disproportionately harmed if service levels drop. I myself greatly value libraries, pools, parks and greenspaces, biodiversity, community housing, community events, healthy drinking water, storm and wastewater management, solid waste management, and so many more. Historically we have had years of keeping rate increases artificially low and hence underinvested in infrastructure.

3806 - Simon Green

Regrettably this is needed due to the current economic climate.

3817 - Melissa Macfarlane

I understand the current pressures on the CCC and the timing of major projects which necessitate the additional rates increase.

3865 - Maxine Donovan

But only because there appears to be no other way. It is somewhat bittersweet though as it is quite a hike for low income.

3876 - Dave Evans

Local body rates have been kept low for many years through insufficient investment in infrastructure. The current rates increases are an essential catch up.

3887 - Michael Patterson (Commodore Airport Hotel Ltd)

All this does sound logical

3894 - Greg Siddells

At the end of the day, a city that dies is not a pleasant place to live and basic infrastructure is essential to maintain the life of a city and those that live in it. We want long term sustainable maintenance ensuring the vitality of our city and if that costs X amount after careful budgeting, then that is the cost we as a city need to accept. The alternative of a decaying city is unacceptable.

3915 - Redacted Redacted

An immediate rates increase is essential for sustaining and enhancing the quality of life of Ōtautahi Christchurch residents, both now and in the future. Keeping rates artificially low through under investment in or deferment of infrastructure is unsustainable and short-term thinking. CCC must continue to deliver current levels of services. Any change in rates must coincide with investment in climate mitigation and adaptation projects, public and active transport, as well as arts and culture funds and projects.

3930 - Peter McCarthy

I'm happy to pay another few $ per year.

3931 - David Moorhouse

Unfortunately we are in an environment where council cannot control much of the rate increase, coupled with the fact that previous council votes for the unaffordable stadium. We cannot rewrite history, we must not cut services, so rates increases are the result.

3936 - Carley Dove-McFalls

Rates must go up not only to provide some of the good existing services, but also to implement several much needed new projects. Although the rate increase seems high, it is not when compared back to 2013. Additionally, the Transport Committee for the LTP said that the rates would not even cover the baseline services that it currently engages in. Therefore, rates must significantly increase. Moreover, a third of the city are renters and therefore are not directly impacted by this increase.

3942 - Soongseok Yoon

I believe that the rates increase should be quite similar to follow and support.

3945 - Callum Snell

Because if we do not increase our rates to keep up with the current levels of service, our city will be worse off in all aspects and people would lose their jobs.

3949 - Fay Brorens

Meeting our needs and wants now will be expensive - I support a rate rise. Putting work off will not help.

3957 - Anne Scott (Spokes Canterbury)

The high rate increase is a reflection of the under-investment in the city over a long period of time and the challenges of the earthquakes. Failing to invest in the future will not attract new people and businesses to the city. We do need to support those who genuinely are unable to pay these increases in rates.

3963 - Jillian Scott

Agree.

Agree.

3970 - Allannah Lovelady

I think rates rises are really tough to propose for a council, and very very tough to absorb for rate payers - but I also think the central government funding model regarding local authorities is underdelivering, and horrendous when compared to the expected level of day-to-day maintenance/regulatory function councils are meant to carry out with limited or no additional central government funding. I think rate rises are inevitable.

3976 - Elizabeth Pugh

It is a fair increase compared to many other areas in New Zealand.

3991 - Marilyn Copland

There is really no choice if the city is to function safely.

4018 - Winston Howison

No wants rates increase but it is good to see the Council rationalising costs and making operations long term viable.

4025 - Robin Wynne-Williams

Rates will need to be increased

459 - Aaron Watson

I agree with the rise in rates, however I disagree with what it is being wasted on.

487 - Gavin Stevenson

OK as long as the rating provisions are fair and equitable and specific reasons for increases are clearly noted. The proposed increases, diminishing over time look good now but how will they stack up in 2 year's time?

526 - Stephen French

Inflation has affected everyone and so to attempt to maintain an equitable quality of life, it is inevitable that rate-payers will need to pay a share of those costs.

531 - Cameron Bradley

Absolutely - previous councils have neglected to fund infrastructure to the standard it should have been, and made short-sighted decisions which had known long term costs that are now becoming apparent. We should not be giving discounts to older, whiter, richer homeowners now by reducing the level of service our council provides.

[Coder note: supports rates increase in order to maintain infrastructure and levels of service]

536 - Marilyn Yurjevich

Since the expected rates will be much lower in subsequent years, most people should be able to manage a 13% increase next year.

550 - Colin Mansell

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?]

But a large increase will be necessary if Christchurch is to be protected as a place worth living in so protect the services that enhance health (particularly mental health) and well being and don't worry so much about the motorists.

555 - Jemma Balmer

Yes, I am in favour of rates increases to keep our service quality high and facilities like libraries and pools accessible

578 - Susanne Trim

I also appreciate the work that the Council and Staff have put in to keep the rates increases to levels which are manageable and reasonable in my view.

585 - Danny Rood

It's more that rates have been artificially low for decades, so this is what people should have been paying anyway.

601 - David Ralph

I think we have to accept a bigger increase in rates. You can not keep having small rate increases at the expense of cut backs/degradation of services. We have to accept costs have spiraled these last few years and we have to suck it up...invest in the future, make this city better than it is today. You cannot do this with small rate increases. I am happy to accept up to 20% increase in rates.

630 - Kate Cater

Rates pay for all the amenities we all use and enjoy. We pay willingly.

636 - Ben Taylor

There has been multiple years of under investment in the infrastructure Christchurch needs to function as a thriving city so this rates increase is needed.

669 - Daniel Barkley

[Borrowing & Debt Management > Borrowing & Debt Management], [Spending > Our Proposed Spending]

I think you have a good balance between upping rates, borrowing and spending on infrastructure.

760 - David Palmer

Yes, reducing services should not be an option.

761 - Carol Groves

Yes that's fine but you must maintain existing levels of service not run them down.

785 - Ariana Tikao

I am happy with rates rises to enable a high level of services that will benefit all.

812 - Matthew Fagan

[Three Waters > Operations]

Rates need to increase now to cover the actual cost of maintaining our water infrastructure.

814 - Malcolm McKellar

We need to pay for the stuff we need.

821 - Hannah McGowan

Yes, raise them slightly, but keeping rates rebates for low income people is essential

>>>

Raise rates according to income - properly developers etc should pay much more

856 - Ralph Hobbs

There is no way round this in my view

858 - Thomas McNaughton

I'm personally comfortable with the increase if it's keeping the city operating and is reflecting urgency on key projects like cycleways

I'm happy to pay rates

890 - Kay Joyce

I am a ratepayer, and I accept rates are the main source of income for council. I don't mind if I get a city I want to live in. That means clean water, sustainable living, increased biodiversity, investment in public transport and cycle ways

>>>

As before

>>>

As above

894 - Ben Liebing

rate increase is justified as long as citizens get the service they require

902 - Karen McElhinney

I'm sure we all agree that paying less would be nice, but we can't realistically keep moving forward if we aren't prepared to cover the costs of the proposals.

904 - George Cox

Honestly, a rates increase can be a good thing to maintain current services and invest for the future.

912 - Sophie Hartnell

In order to create the climate resilient city the LTP sets out to achieve, the residents of the city and Banks Peninsula rates will need to increase. I don't think the rates increase is unrealistic and I'm happy to pay for a liveable city, rich in biodiversity, green spaces, arts and culture and with world class public transport infrastructure.

963 - Bronwyn Moth

It is hard to maintain and improve facilities etc without increased rates. I support this

Oppose

1030 - Andrea Gosney

Don't increase them. Don't waste anymore of my money discussing how you rate. Just another waste of my money talking!!!

1034 - James Forde

Far too high. Scale back on think big projects

1043 - Shafali Verma

[Spending > Capital Programme (General)]

Your long term plan should consider the short time economic conditions and hold everything which we possibly can in this tough time where population is struggling to meet end and cannot afford to have such a massive rate increase in double digits!

1050 - Ken Lloy

As a ratepayer in Christchurch and on a fixed income i do not support any more or increase in funding from the Christchurch city council

>>>

it is time to realise ratepayers are not a bottomless pit for funding meeting current rates are a financial burden and a proposed increase at nearly three times the rate of inflation is totally unacceptable and unaffordable to many, given council has shown no sign of fiscal responsibility it is time for the government to appoint a commissioner

1054 - Jasmine Neale

We can't afford another rates increase.

1056 - John McDonald

Double digit rate rises are not sustainable for property owners Challenge the costs of getting work done, trim the nice to haves

1068 - Redacted Redacted

Do not increase rates. Unless I get a 13.24% increase in pay then how can that work. we just have to live with less.

>>>

slash $1.5bn from capital spend....reduce rates!!!

>>>

reduce spending. council should in theory work for me, and other rate payers. no where have I seen your proposal how to reduce rates!! Why arent there questions and plans how to reduce rates by 13%? why are you hell bent on raising rates and over spending!

113 - Sarah Cragg

Too much in cost of living crisis

>>>

Rates end up effecting everyone so let's find more targeted solutions

1138 - Seb Scalia

The cost to rate payers is extremely high and causes undue stress on a significant number of individuals for the perceived returns. I believe this is an irresponsible level of increase when the economy is not growing and inflation is reducing people's income.

1159 - James Frost

No, there shouldn't be such a steep increase in rates. People are hurting enough financially and this amount of rate rise will be detrimental to the community.

>>>

It's far too much!

1210 - Dianna Koorey

At a time when so many people are struggling with the cost of living, its difficult to face a rates increase of that magnitude. I understand costs to the council are rising too, but this is where you need to look at what matters to the residents and get rid of spending on pointless projects

1218 - Eva Rogatski

How is this even a question? Absolutely NOT. The fact that it is acknowledged here that people are suffering financially should be enough to know that any project that isn't extremely necessary should be put on hold.

1254 - Nikki Thebault

Nobody wants rates increases

1260 - Andy March

It is difficult to say you have got the balance right when you are proposing a 13.24% increase. It just seems that year in year out the only solution proposed is to just keep shovelling rates increases at ratepayers. If CCC were a business operating in any market they would be broke, as simply increasing prices for the same products without any improvement in delivery would simply result in customers not buying their products and going elsewhere. Unfortunately CCC have a captured market and we as ratepayers do not have that option. At the very least our rates increases should be no greater than the current rate of inflation and if you cannot achieve this then you must look at selling assets, eliminating wasteful spending and reducing spending until such time as you can keep rates increases to a reasonable level

>>>

Reduce the proposed rates increase! End of story!

1261 - S McGregor

Focus on the basics and reduce the projects. People are really struggling with the cost of living, it's not easy. This huge rates increase is really cruel.

128 - Elizabeth Ackermann

No you are proposing to a huge rare hike because of mismanagement. You propose to take funding from a vital city heritage site such as art centre and use it for short falls of your mis management. This is one example. I will consider selling and leaving the city for Nelson. Many will think the same. We have a fantastic city since the rebuild. We have suffered enough with EQC and insurers.

>>>

Rate payers cannot pay more. It's already unaffordable for most

>>>

We pay more each time but do we actually see a difference apart from those bug projects

>>>

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters]

You will have a very unhappy city of rate payers in June if you go ahead with the big increase. Possibly get rid of expensive CEOs etc

1292 - Gemma Phillips

Our family cannot afford higher rates. Can we please not do anything that doesn't need being done. No more bumps in the road, art sculptures or unnecessary spending.

>>>

Yes I don't agree with them rising.

1302 - Melanie Forsyth

I think the planned rate rise is too high. I appreciate costs are going up, but there needs to be more done to find savings for the residents.

1313 - Julie Albengrin

we are going through an economic crisis lifting the rates by 13% makes us feel like we are paying a second mortgage

1323 - Mark Hubbard

Chch Council is getting everything wrong. Any rate increase in this environment is unacceptable, let alone above 13%

>>>

You need to only be investing in core ... BUT that should NOT involve a 13.24% rate increase.

1332 - Liam White

You will be making it harder for people to live. The cost of rates need to go down not up.

1333 - Daniel Roome

Against all rate increases. Why does it cost 13% more to provide the same services. All rates went up significantly recently when the CCC reevaluated everyone's houses and now they want more money. Absolutely ridiculous!

1335 - Julie Turner

no ratepayers increase

1344 - Sean Lally

Rate change it too much if of an increase in one jump

1347 - Stephen Leon

No. you need to step back and consider the current situation we are in. A cost-of-living crisis does not favour a rates rise of an average of over 13%. To see you have budgeted for a salary increase of 10.8% for council employees is quite shocking - how many of your ratepayers have received such a boost, do you think? I feel betrayed that you failed to support the previous Government's 3 Waters scheme which would have delivered required infrastructure improvements in a cost effective manner. Now it's all back on the ratepayer - we are not a bottomless pit of money. Many of your residents are on fixed incomes. It is bad enough that my rates contribute towards a stadium I will see little benefit from. In this respect this ridiculous notion of hosting the commonwealth games I trust has been by now totally ditched. You have no right to saddle 3 generations of ratepayers to excess contributions for a gargantuan white elephant. Some western countries have frozen rates for quite some time. While I don't entirely agree with that, it would be no bad thing for you to consider what you can achieve with exactly the same revenue as before. Fiscal prudence right now is what we need.

>>>

Everything else? Step back and just get the rates rise down. Most people are NOT getting wage increases of 10.8%.

>>>

Average increase of 13.24% is unacceptable.

1359 - Lynda Straker

NO to rates going up, Ecan want to charge more rates

>>>

No to Rate increase

1363 - Nameeta Shekhar

Not enough consideration for rate payers who cannot afford large investments made by the council.

>>>

It is absolutely unsustainable for many family's and older adults to live in their home with proposed increases.

1373 - Luke Lagan

Proposed rates increase to high should be relative to private sector. 13% is unviable.

1380 - Sharon Lee

Rates increase is too steep.

1391 - Anna Gruczynska

No. The continued increases in rates at a multiple of the annual inflation are not affordable for many people in Christchurch while incomes remain stagnant.

1401 - Jenine Screen

I don't agree with rates increases at that level - it is way to high in the current economy and increase of interest rates. You will hurt too many people. Core infrastructure needs to be maintained or you will have to eventually replace rather than repair.

1403 - Carolyn Kaye

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Cathedral], [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)]

People are struggling. Rates increases should not be that high. Get rid of unnecessary spending like cycleways, make sure basics are maintained, don't put any more money into the cathedral.

1408 - Tracey Fowlds

Council is just spending too much. Repair & maintain only, give us a break on rates hikes

142 - Carolyn Neame

No. I think given the current climate proposing rates increases such as these is very out of touch and disgusting.

>>>

Just focus on the core necessities and give the residents a break from ever increasing bills

1439 - Bryan Preston

2 Given the impact on all New Zealand citizens of the wasteful mismanagement and overspending of the last government compounded by (and partly caused by said government) high levels of inflation all politicians , central or local have a moral responsibility to minimise cost increases and seek opportunities to reduce operating and capital expenditure until inflation is under control and interest rates reduced to manageable levels.

The plight of mortgage holders in particular and the general huge cost increases suffered by all citizens is well known.

The new government have clearly signalled their intention to reduce public service over recruiting and stop all wasteful spending. In addition their focus appears to be on planning for "must have" but not "nice to have".

It is incumbent upon you Mayor and Council to follow this lead to reduce, not add to inflation pressures and to give relief to Christchurch people , ratepayers and tenants alike.

>>>

The impact on mental health of the cost of living increases and interest rises in particular is again well noted. You as a council have a moral responsibility to avoid any action that will add to this dilemma.

I have a daughter and son in law recently arrived from Akld, [REDACTED]

A 13% rate rise will hit them and thousands of others who are already struggling with mortgage payments, higher insurance, power and food costs.

When you vote on this plan consider the impact it will have in human terms..

1

143'

Follow your moral compass and not your ideological menu, if you don't the resulting damage will be on your collective heads.

1460 - Jihee Park

didn't like the rate increase of current amount. I understand there will be expectation of increased rates but not a double digit ccc is already charging about 20~25% higher than other city rates (1M house rates is about $3000 in Auckland but it is close to $5000 in chch) and now you are trying to increase again after Stadium increase from last year. it is so bad when you are increasing every year, I understand you need to have money to build the city but it has been on going increase and I don't think it is right.

>>>

>>>

it is way too expensive to have a house in christchurch now. I don't think it is right to have way more higher rate than any other big city in nz

>>>

you are starting something rebuild and you ran out of money to finish it and ask for more money to residents. not fair

1486 - Fabio Valle

You should keep the current rates and plan longer terms without rising the rate at the moment.

1490 - Carolina Nery

It's a sign of poor management when citizens are forced to choose between prioritizing physical or mental health. Common sense dictates that both are equally important, and such choices are unfair to individuals' overall well-being.

>>>

It's absurd, it doesn't make sense, don't put the population in that situation, it's a shame.

1497 - Alice Zhu

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?]

[Rates>Residential rates]

No, everyone is suffering from financial difficulties, raise this amount of rate is putting maximum burden on people's lives! Stop taking so much money from people and spend it on place where majority do not agree.

>>>

This is very confusing but both options are ridiculously high amount of money! Do you not hear that some parents cannot afford foods for their children?!

1527 - Rob Beechey

[Strategic Direction > Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities]

Dear Phil Mauger and Councillors.

Before I composed my response to the LTP draft, I thought, what's the point?
How receptive will the council be to my concerns? However, being an eternal optimist here goes.

Your Strategic Priority to MANAGE RATEPAYERS MONEY WISELY rings hollow as you burden we residents year after year with outrageous increases twice the inflation rate. The compounding impact is criminal. The 13% you are threatening us with this year doesn't go away. It remains baked in forever.

Are you not aware of the everyday hardships the current population is facing today? What sacrifices did you make to accommodate the council's 10.3% wage increase? Any at all?

Have you ever recklessly thought to replace the current Strategic wording with "To Achieve a Zero Rate Increase?"
What would stop you adopting this vision where your entire team questions every projects commitment to this new strategic priority?

1549 - Jessica Saunders

Rates payers have had significant rates increases in the last 5 years.

>>>

If you keep increasing rates I. Big chunks, soon only landlord will be the only homeowners.

1559 - Megan Abrahams

It's unfair and not realistic

1568 - Kathryn May

we need to cut our cloth accordingly and cannot keep raising our rates. The excuse in the past was because our infrastructure was not adequately insured by the past Tony Marriott from CCC but this is no longer the case over 11 years later.

1570 - Stephen Dynes

I Cant afford increases

1594 - Lisa Geary

Rates had a major rise last year. The cost of living is going up for ALL! We as residents have had to cut costs to make ends meet NOW its your turn! Stop demanding more money from us and show us what you can do/ cut back on with the money you have.

>>>

Decide whats more important and take money from other places, stop making it a constant increase on rate payers. If you cant manage the money maybe you shouldnt be responsible for it.

16 - Andrew McKay

No. Once again ratepayers are facing a massive rates increase, well above inflation, and completely unjustified. There is no reason why a well managed entity would require such large increases in rates each year. This level of increase is inflationary as prices rise to cover costs, we see this in each September quarter CPI. These increases are an abuse of your compulsory taxation powers. The LP frontloads the increases, but there is no way the council can guarantee smaller increases latter given many councillors will be gone by then. It just requires another hair-brained scheme to increase rates beyond projections.

>>>

As covered already, your proposed rates increase is excessive.

>>>

Your rates increase is excessive.

>>>

Your proposed rates increases are too high. They are obscene. But I know you will ignore the community, drive rates up, drive cost of living up, drive demand for pay increases up, drive the reserve bank rates up. Because you are irresponsible and do not care about cause and effect.

1604 - Claire Dwyer

Find ways to cut costs to rate payers an increase during this time will put people under signifiant hardship

>>>

We voted for this current council as they focused on cutting rates- only to see a huge increase

1609 - Johnathons Atkins

too high, cut spending! You get new valuations for property and more properties through growth and should be funding it that way

1616 - David Thomson

Cutting or reducing some services should be considered as such rate rises are not sustainable

1620 - Daisy Sinnadurai

Rates are already very expensive. Govt need to reduce their personal costs from the rate payers money. CC staff salaries are far too high. Their traveling costs are above the roof. Why should we bear the cost?

>>>

CC never get it right when it comes to our money

1624 - Mark Lorenzen

No. Cut wasteful spending. >>> Rates are already to expensive

1668 - Simon Mitchell

More priority should be given to improving the efficiency of our council services. Honestly the council should be ashamed of proposing rates increase this high, and should be looking for ways to improve its operations first and foremost.

1701 - James Friend

We need to minimise rates increases as much as possible. We are in a cost of living crisis so a 12.4% increase is completely unacceptable.

No increase to rates is appropriate.

1710 - Ashwin Kurup

Again, people are struggling to meet daily needs, and there is no way, an employer w'll increase or intent to increase the wages, the minimum wage only gone up 2%. And we are on a financial recession, at that point of time, putting more burden is not at all acceptable.

172 - Bronze Templeton

no. reduce rates more than what is proposed. stop spending.

1749 - Nicole Baxter-Warren

Concerned about the rates increase and being able to afford it.

>>>

We as a household can not afford this.

1761 - Elaine Dunlop

Rate payers cant keep giving and giving . Wages are not going up, inflation/CPI is and it makes people struggle. Maybe the council needs to look inhouse for savings in the furst instance!

1766 - Jan Edwards

At the current rate you will send us all broke with the rates increases

>>>

Currently its a 'wealth tax'. Why should I pay $10,000 in rates simply because my house that I have been in for over 30 years has suddenly increased in value? I have only 550sqm section. Its corrupt what I have to lay now at aged 70, let along when the Sara Templetons of this world seem to thinkI can afford more, What planet are you people on?

1790 - Hayley K

That is WAY to high and Council is wasting our money.

1803 - Guy Faes

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Governance]

While I acknowledge the impressive scope of your Long-Term Plan, I am compelled to express my concerns regarding its financing. Specifically, my foremost query pertains to the funding source for this ambitious endeavour. Before you were elected mayor, you committed to the electorate not to increase the "RATES," a promise that resonated strongly with many Canterburies and influenced their voting decisions. However, it is disheartening to observe that in the months following your assumption of office, rates have again escalated, this time by a significant 15%. This begs the question: how much further will these increases extend? The soaring trajectory of rates places an increasingly unbearable financial burden on numerous citizens, rendering them unable to cope with the escalating costs. Furthermore, I am troubled by the paradoxical nature of the implemented measures. On one hand, there is an earnest call for landlords to maintain reasonable and affordable rent levels. Yet, on the other hand, the mounting financial strain imposed by escalating rates threatens to undermine the feasibility of such a proposition. Consequently, many tenants find themselves in a precarious position, struggling to afford the rental rates imposed upon them. The new coalition government's efforts to bolster the economy and inject additional funds into citizens' pockets are commendable. However, it is imperative to recognise that any progress made on these front risks being nullified if municipal authorities continue to impose onerous financial burdens that negate the benefits accrued from broader economic initiatives. In conclusion, I respectfully urge you to reconsider the current trajectory of rate increases and explore alternative avenues for financing your Long-Term Plan. It is essential to balance pursuing ambitious developmental goals and safeguarding the financial well-being of the citizens you serve.

>>>

I think that my RATES consciences are essential for me.

1806 - James Edwards

I believe the recent rate increase was not balanced correctly; it is extremely high and outrageous. The community has clearly expressed that maintaining low rates is a priority, yet this increase seems to disregard public concern

>>>

Let's be real: a 12.4% hike is going to hurt. It's going to mean choosing between groceries and utilities for a lot of folks. Do we want to be the kind of community that puts roads before feeding families? We need to think hard about what's urgent. Not everything needs fixing right now, and smaller, manageable increases might be a better way to go. It'll sting less and keep us all on our feet. Times are tough – jobs are shaky, prices for just about everything are up. Is now really the time to ask people for more money? We should be making it easier, not harder, for everyone to get by.

>>>

The main priority should be extremely low rate hikes.

1812 - Cathy McMillan

57.8% rates increase over the next 10 years is ridiculous. People are just going to end up in social housing because they can't afford to pay rates, insurance and mortgages on their own homes.

1814 - Jenny Atkin

The suggested rate increase is extremely high and is a financial abuse. It is outrageous that the community specifically expressed in your survey that reducing rates is a priority in this difficult economy. You are ignoring public concerns and completely detached from reality. I urge you to listen to the community feedback. It seems to me that you've already made up your mind regarding the target you want to achieve, disregarding what the public want. It is impossible for many people to pay such high rates, and it will have a negative impact on their daily life.

>>>

The current times are very tough for many people, with raising cost of living, high inflation and financial uncertainty - is it really the right time to put extra burden on our shaky financials and ask such a huge rate increase?? Your suggested rate increase will cause for many people to choose between heating their homes and reducing their essential groceries in order to pay for the rates. Do we prefer infrastructure before feeding families? We need to concentrate in the essential things and what's urgent rather than trying to fix everything now. A much smaller increase will help people survive the tough times and is more realistic.

>>>

Do we really need all these projects? Can we stick more to the essentials and leave out some of the expenditure? What a 3% rate increase gets us versus a 6% increase?

1849 - Amy Brewer

[Spending - Te Kaha]

The increase in rates is high for the next few years surely there are other ways for the council to fund major projects such as Te Kaha.

>>>

There must be other ways to maintain existing levels of service without these rate hikes.

>>>

It's crippling for people already struggling to pay day to day living costs.

1855 - Michael Liu

No. The increase of rates aren't sustainable to land owners

1864 - Kylie Williams

Everyone in this country is struggling financially as it is an putting rates up are going to make it harder for everyone in Christchurch to make ends meet. Think about the rate payers at the moment who are trying to feed their family, pay for a mortgage. Think about the people once.

>>>

I get roads need fixing and people need to be paid to do those jobs but at the same time i think the council is over charging for certaib things

>>>

Yes how about review what ratepayers pay an what they are paying for. Everyone is struggling at the moment

1871 - Marlena Cooper

Don't increase the rates when everyone is already struggling so much. Some of the things of focus surely could be held off for a while until other things settle down a bit

>>>

Keep the same and just bd more thoughtful about where the funds are being used.

1905 - Nicole Crisp

Too high

1921 - Harry Lawrence

The fact that this proposed increase has been put forward after several large, and unnecessary, infrastructure projects have already been started is putting the cart before the horse. How can we be facing significant financial challenges but have hundred's of millions of dollars for a new stadium? Then be told that we have to pay extra for it. I guarantee that if residents of Christchurch were told before the election that this would be the cost for our Mayors plans they would have never given him the responsibility.

1927 - Donna Gillatt

I cannot believe that the majority of rate payers are at all happy about the proposed rates increases. It appears that Agenda 2030 is really designed to relieve rates payers of their properties through unmanageable debt loading. How does it go, 'you will own nothing and be happy'.

1944 - Peter Salvesen

There are so many people who are already struggling to pay day to day bills, mortgages and other costs. You propose to add more pain to our back pockets? We do not get paid any more because the rates rise, I already find it hard enough as it is. The Christchurch City Council, Central Government and ECAN are so far out of touch with reality of what is actually happening on the streets it's extremely worrying.

>>>

These rates rises will cripple the hard working locals who are already struggling. The council has wasted and spent so much money unnecessarily over the past 10+ years, you should want to support us who pay rates and pay for so much waste in this city

>>>

You are totally out of touch with reality

>>>

Stop the rate rises.

1968 - Kelly Osborn

I do not agree with the proposed rates increase and don't know anyone who owns their own home who can afford this.

1985 - Laura Tretheway

It's a really, worrying high rates increase - and I say that as a renter.

1996 - Iain Nicholls

Please read the room. We are ALL under huge financial pressure, especially the elderly homeowner who will be disproportionately affected by rates increases. This is not the time for expansionary financial policies.

1997 - Justine Wright

the cost of living is hurting ratepayers severely. dont add to that.

2009 - CW Young

my revenue sources cannot keep up with the rate rises

206 - Shane Morrow

We now pay over $7k per year in rates. We cannot sustain continued increases.

2074 - Andrei Kardos

You wasting lot's of money on non important thing's that can wait until the country is better financially. I am considering moving just because I can't afford this city's anymore. I been here 36 year's, trade person ,with lot's of experience

2107 - Ella Plimmer

No, the cost comes to high for the rate payer

>>>

It's to much of an increase for people to sustain

2115 - Billie Kaine

Rates hike inexcusable, so many of us just cannot afford this

>>>

Rates increases are outrageous You guys got us in this mess, you sort it

>>>

Inflation costs are extreme. Eg: my $2,000 car has $12 per month increase. Income cannot accommodate rates increase. This is all causing anxiety and depression.

2119 - Andrew Cooper

Reduce rates, don't increase them.

>>>

Cut all services. This rates increase will make people homeless.

2132 - Jeneane Jefferson

Rates are too high as it is, please don't raise them anymore.

2148 - Sue Watts

rates are squeezing people out of their homes, homes they worked hard for. They are hugely high

218 - Isabelle Barkley

I'm a cost of living crisis rates should not keep climbing.

>>>

Don't bleed the people by hiking rates

2191 - Cassandra Hannington

I think the proposed rates increase over 2024/2025 is too high, especially in the current economic climate.

2233 - Stacey Lane

Stop rates increases. It is more important to be able to afford to live than to pay for other frippery.

226 - Naressa Gamble

Please don't put rates up

2275 - Bridgette Pedofsky

Yes but rates need to stop increasing

2287 - Alice Johnson

No, the rates increase is too large at a time when people are struggling with the increased cost of living. Why should the council be able to spend more than previous years, when ordinary people have to spend less?

2300 - Katinka Visser

You can not will not give me a rates rise. You have done NOTHING but make things worse for me living in Bromley. I have been here since the 1980's. You have no right to treat me so poorly.

>>>

Comments: Residents on the East side of Christchurch help pay for everything but do not get value for money!

>>>

No to rate increase.

2304 - Stephanie Burke

I don't get a 12/13% payrise - where am I supposed to get this extra money???

>>>

Rate payers are not your disposable income. Budget, like the rest of have to.

2325 - Lisa Ferdinand

Overall not a bad attempt at addressing the public's key issues of roading repairs and water network upgrading however; in the current financial climate where most Christchurch households are having to give up nice-to-have items, and some even basic needs, it is not reasonable and responsible of council to propose such a large rates increase, specifically by borrowing money to fund these 'special projects'. Like for most rate paying families, these things are going to have to wait until we are able to fund them without living above our means.

>>>

This should be reviewed updated or postponed until in a better financial position

2331 - Simon Hay

The rates increase is completely unacceptable.

234 - Jocy Kidd

[Spending > Te Kaha]

This increase is significant and concerning, for us that means we'll be paying $160 a week in rates which is almost untenable. Building things like the stadium should be cut.

2347 - Kate Flood

After last years gigantic increase due to our property values being hiked, any subsequent increase is an insult. What is being done with all the extra rates you got from the increased property values. My rates went up about 60% how is that fair?

2355 - Iain Sanders

We desperately need to address how we can do more with what we've got and reduce the pressure on households already struggling to pay their bills without placing the excessive burden of substantial rate increases.

>>>

I do not believe a proposed average rates increase of 13.24% across all ratepayers and an average residential rate increase of 12.4% is necessary to maintain our existing levels of service and the investments needed in our core infrastructure and facilities. The long term plan doesn't address rate payer economic necessities and priorities to alleviate pressure on our need to access essential services easily and affordably to preserve a sense of well-being and identity with Christchurch as a safe place to grow and nurture our families.

2358 - Carolyn Moffat

Quite simply, the council cannot expect ratespayers to continue to pay such large increases.

>>>

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Governance]

I've also just looked at proposed domestic rates increases and business rates increases, and it is evident that some members of this council think ratepayers and business owners have access to never ending pots of money. I would like to assure you that we do not.

>>>

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?], [Spending > Capital Programme (General)], [Other/Special Interest Topics > Asset Sales]

I would like to make it very clear that ratepayers cannot continue to fund everything, and we expect the council to find ways to reduce costs. If that means selling some assets, then do that. The difference between this council and a business owner or private person is this - if a business or private person cannot afford something, they go without, or sell assets to afford it. This is exactly what I expect of council, yet, the council seems to think it is OK to continue with these exorbitant increases. It is not OK. This council seems to be able to push forward with projects it cannot afford, as it seems to think ratepayers will be happy to pay increased costs. We cannot carry on like this. The council needs to prioritise projects and we need to go without others. Concentrate on the core business.

2367 - Stephen Conti

Funding your epic financial mismanagement by increasing rates to families that are already struggling to feed their children's, that you can waste more of our money on cycle ways is obscene. Would you give an alcoholic keys to a pub, would you give a thief access to your bank account, would you give a group with a long history of screwing up all things financial? Answer is no.

2393 - Coralie de La fage

Our rates are outrageous already.

2396 - Sam Jenkins

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?]

I don't think so - if we agree that artificially low rates over a long time period is the reason for now forcing the hand of a large increase, I don't understand how we think in only a few years the rates will have increases of only 4% again.

>>>

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > City Planning]

If we know Christchurch is growing at a much faster rate than the rest of NZ, and we don't have any levels of intensity in housing and transport, then surely we need sustained higher than inflation rates rises to build for the future - not a speed bump then chronic underinvestment again.

2401 - Arlee Folkers

You cannot expect the ratepayers of Christchurch to bear increases that are well in excess of inflation.

2410 - Lydia Thomas

Are you serious? It feels like a slap in the face. We're already grappling with a cost-of-living crisis, and now you want to take even more money from us? Our pay hasn't increased; in fact, it's decreased over the years, despite the rising costs of everything else. You're undermining the very community that has poured its heart and soul into building this city.

2417 - Victor Vergara

We are struggling to pay for our food, bills, insurances and 13.24% of rates increase is a lot! I don't agree!

2422 - Debora Mora

I'm NOT to happy with a proposed rates increase of 27% by the end of 2027. FOCUS on needs expenditure, RATHER than wants.

2423 - Tanya Naylor

Leave it as is. Becoming unaffordable to be a home owner

>>>

Stop increasing rates. Wasting money in the wrk g direction

2452 - Philippa J Flood

That is a trick question . You should stop spending money on things we dont want or need in order to not have a rates increase.

2466 - Tracey Cloughly

Rates are way too high

>>>

Rates are too much already

247 - Daisy Cassels

[Rates > Residential Rates], [Transport > Cycleways]

No, horribly wrong. We dont need more stadiums with no parking we need hospital parking, we dont need higher rates most people can already barely afford their mortgages. Stop trying to turn this city into amsterdam we don't need more cycle lanes we need parking and public transport.

2496 - Nikki McDonald

No; Rates are going up by far to much and it's unfair to expect us to cover the cost on everything especially in a recession.

>>>

This is far to much for us to cover. We are in a cost of living crisis.

2499 - Amanda Ray

We cant afford a rate increase. Single income family of 5 and we are struggling.

2561 - Paul de Latour

Too High

2582 - Clive Busby

We are extremely concerned about the projected rates increase. As a retiree, with limited income, it is frightening to contemplate this huge increase, alongside all the other cost-of-living increases. Our income does not increase commensurately to meet this increased need, so we face being unable to cover these higher costs, and having to face the domino effect this will have on our ability to continue to live here.

2584 - Susan Stevens

Most rate payers cannot afford this increase.

>>>

We are on the verge of recession and many people have lost their jobs. It is not a time for CCC to be developing new projects and paying for them by increasing rates.

2599 - Susan Miller

When times are very hard for most people who don't receive much increase in their income each year, I fear 13.24% is far too high and more people will struggle to be able to pay their rates. Do the Council want a load of bad debts on their books as this will only upset their budget plans further? As this is an accumulative increase each year over the 10 years a 57.8% increase is far too much.

2600 - Jodie Mckinley

There's too much financial strain on individuals and rate increases from the city and regional council is too much.

2603 - Ron Brooks

you suck! constantly increasing frivolous spending and i assume nepotism and graft as usual with ever increasing rate hikes. as a property owner i have to consider selling as the costs and renters rates are astonishing. you treat us like a cash cow. STOP THE SPENDING we dont want stadiums, arts centers, gender twisting and all the other crap you spend our money on, cuts in all areas to lower rates not increase them.

>>>

2608 - Simon Henry

If you wNt people to give up on owning a property you going in the right direction. I hate paying rates because i have no love for anything the council does its alot of wasted money on stupid projects.

>>>

I dont understand how the increases are justified. Its feels like a scam we are being shafted.

2619 - Laura Cosgrove

This is too much for the average family. An extra 400 per year, on top of increasing food, power, interest rates, bills. You are forcing a tight belt on home owners. We need to pull back where we can.

2620 - Graham Robinson

Hi

I would like to point out that the proposed increases in rates are inflationary, because they are much higher than the current rate of inflation, and would make things much harder for people who are currently struggling to make ends meet financially.

There are too many people having difficulty coping with the cost of living crisis and high interest rates, who will have great difficulty in finding more money for their rates. I would not be surprised if CCC is already seeing an increase in rates arrears.

There are not only low-income residents, but also middle-income earners who have to seek help from food banks. This affects the wider spectrum of society.

Higher rates will result in higher rents. There have already been reports in the media of higher rates of mortgage stress and default.

2625 - Danielle Leenders

Reduce our level of investment for the time being in order to maintain current rates. We are facing cost increases everywhere, we dont need it in rates aswell.

2629 - Sarah Smith

I would rather see our rates money go into the upkeep of existing roads, and continuation of essential services to the community. Focus on what we already have and continued maintenance. I do not consent to having out rates increase. We all have increases in the cost of living, insurances, interest etc. Many people cannot afford the increase. Putting money into unnessary areas such as cycle ways is a ridicouless waste of resources.

263 - Brian Hill

Services should be cut and assets sold to reduce the proposed rate increase

2649 - Jacqui Crae

Unsustainable to own a house with rates rises like these. Select more of a user pays system

>>>

Way to high

2665 - Kelly Donaldson

How many times do you need to raise the rates? Take pay cuts FIRST

2676 - Gina Alexander

People are already struggling with mortgage rate increases. For many families this increase will be unaffordable.

268 - Kathryn McNeil

It's time for the people we elected to stop grandstanding and indulging in petty squabbles that take us nowhere. Stop being so risk-averse and knuckle down to making some tough decisions. Some things the council does may have to stop, or be reduced, temporarily or forever, or users made to pay more. Some people won't like it, but these rates increases aren't sustainable. Get creative.

>>>

There's nothing exciting or innovative in this plan and few ideas on reducing costs in any meaningful way. It's disappointing. Brave decisions are needed to get us out of this constant increasing of rates.

Everything needs to be pared back, somehow. The rates increase is ridiculously high.

269 - Zara Potts

Rates are exceptionally high in Christchurch as compared to other cities. There isn't any evidence that Christchurch rate payers receive any better service even though they pay more. People cannot afford rates increases at this time. Retail is down, people are struggling and it is not the time to increase rates particularly as high as your proposal. This will force more hardship on people and you need to find better ways of finding money, rather than expecting the rate payer to bail out overspends or shortfalls. Private people when they need money sell assets - councils need to do this too. Quite simply rates rises right now are unaffordable and unfair.

2706 - Jan Bierman

Your rating formula is unfair - you make assumptions about people by equating ability to pay with where they live. I have lived in my townhouse for 2.5 years and my rates have risen by approx $3k - how do you expect a pensioner on a fixed income to continue to pay - the Rates Rebate make a minimal difference when rates are reaching $10k. I live in high density area, in a townhouse with limited outside space, and no accessible community facilities. How can you justify a rise of the magnitude you are proposing when we are experiencing no improvements in service or in services older people value. Keep it real for the people you serve!

>>>

Unless it lowers the rates for residents a significant amount - why ask? Land held by charities, and churches for example should be rated.

2708 - Rob Beechey

do whatever it takes to achieve a zero rate increase.

>>>

Make the community happy by removing these outrageous rate increases.

2710 - Bruce McLean

It is not sustainable to increase rates by this amount.

2715 - L.F. Blake

Yes, but a lower rates increase would be desirable.

2750 - Helen Johnstone

No. The rates rise for this year is way too high, considering the financial pressure on people as a result of the cost of living crisis. I realise there are plenty of major projects which need to be done, given the earthquakes and Covid 19, but there are many households out there who are already struggling, without this amount of increase.

2756 - Stephanie Defregger

No increasing on rates of 12.4%. Learn to deal with what you have and make smart choices.

2759 - Aishwarya Bagchi

Rates rises are becoming unaffordable for homeowners, especially those who are struggling to find renters.

2770 - Sarah Lassche-Jones

That's what our rates should be used for!

>>>

anything else that you would like to tell us about the Draft Long Term Plan 2024-2034:

Start looking closer at the money being wasted!
No one can afford rate hikes

2771 - Suzanne Antill

Rates should be kept as low as possible. We cannot burden Christchurch rate payers with higher rates which will not be affordable.

>>>

• No rates increases.

2772 - Janice Antill

No increase in rates. They are high enough as they are.
Many Christchurch homeowners and renters are struggling.

>>>

But No increase in rates

>>>

- NO Rates increases!
- Look after our youth and elderly and the financially stressed. ♥

>>>

No rates increases!

2793 -

I do not consent to any rates rise. If you cannot live within your means, stop spending

2813 - John Antill

No increase in rates

>>>

No rate increases

2817 - Emma Twaddell (St Albans Residents' Association)

We do not support rate increases. Budgets need to be met by doing things differently and smarter. More empowerment of residents should put the rate money where it is needed most.

2834 - Geoff & Liz Carter

We don't believe that you need that level of increase to maintain existing services - it is the extras that are putting the added cost on to the rates rise.

>>>

Every household has to tighten its belt in these difficult financial times. We expect the Council to do the same. People cannot afford the proposed rates increase.

2852 - Aaron Ghattas

Personally, our ratable value is $200k over a recent register valuation for a bank loan. I noted that the east side of town saw the highest increase in ratable value by ~13%. To continually increase our rate is simple make impossible to pay. Rates going to $1875 every quarter for 4 bedroom family house in Linwood is not possible. [Revenue > Development Contributions]

2861 - Laila Jansone

I do not support rate increase for the next 3 years. It is unacceptable and careless to put further constraints on Christchurch households. Given the overall cost of living increase across the all industries, there is no more room for a households to fund "nice to have things". It also has to be acknowledged that the The Council has failed to address significant inefficiencies and professional failures in its operational model. Hundreds of millions had been wasted. In the last round of consultations, rates were increased to fund large capital projects. However, projects like the Metro Center serve as a prime example of money being wasted with no accountability. This lack of transparency raises concerns among ratepayers regarding the management of public funds and the Council's commitment to responsible governance. More rates will fund more inefficiencies and put rate payers under further financial pressure.

2862 - Gill Weavers

Rates should not be increased

2899 - Victoria Nebbeling

12.4% rise for residential rates in one year is too high and seems unnecessarily putting added pressure onto households that are already struggling with the rising cost of living with little to no pay rises to account for this. I understand there needs to be an increase to cover the councils rising costs too but there should be a better balance over the next 10 years, not such a high rise and then the percentage get smaller.

>>>

As above, better balance of rate rises over the next 10 years, not such a steep rise in 24/25 when households are already really struggling with the rising cost of everything else

2927 - In Kyung Lee

No. There is no doubt higher inflationary pressure post Covid-19 however this movement has been easing in the last 12 months. I would also be very interested in getting more transparency in the actual salaries and wages increases and which tiers of resources this is concentrated in - as I find it hard to believe all levels of staff have received equitable increase in salaries. In the same line of thought I am not convinced if income levels have genuinely increased as much as the cost of living. Increasing rates that significantly exceed the annual inflation seems to only fulfill the council members' ego to achieve their ideal and there is a serious lack of prioritisation of spending that is very disappointing. Overall the proposed rates increase is just simply not viable and the LTP needs to a significant reassessment.

2938 - Rhiannon James

The rates are already so expensive, it's like a second mortgage. I don't think the council realises how crushed everyone is financially at the moment. With interest rates rising, the last thing we need is a 14% hike in rates too.

2941 - Peter Thelning

The rate increases are unacceptable ie way to high

2948 - Peter Borodin

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Governance]

How this can be right with more than 13% increase??? With cost of living crisis??? One of the promises the mayor made during his election campaign is to resuce rate rise. Yet the proposal is absolutelly over the top.

>>>

The maximum rate increase in the past as far as I remember was no more than 6% and that was too high...

>>>

Why rates need to be increase???

296 - Deborah Spencer not affordable for most ratepayers

2968 - Angela Moran

No. This is a huge increase in rates. We already pay about $9000 a year. With home loan interest rates being so high, people are struggling. The huge cost of the arena while people are trying to get their grocery bills down is not the right balance. The cost needs to come down.

297 - Michael Crabtree

Rates hike not the answer

>>>

More on reducing rate demands

2971 - Nikita Todd

People are struggling. Rates needs to be lower.

3006 - Sarah Harris

So many families can barely afford life! Why make it harder.

3014 - Thomas Sia

I am sure the Council has put in a lot of thoughts into the long term plan and I do not doubt you are sincere in making Christchurch a most desirable city for everyone. However I do feel that the rates has been going up too rapidly for most people. Although we want to have everything but we certainly cannot 'live beyond our means". Looking at my house rates, in July 2012 monthly rates was $250. In July 2014 that went up to $373. Last July (2023) that was $640. Those increases were below 10% annually. This year the council intends to increase by 14%. That to me is far too rapid and not sustainable. Very soon most residents will be priced out of their houses and I am sure the council do not want to see that happen. It is very hard for homeowners to plan his budget when house rates which are beyond his control runs out of control. Is there anyway the council can look into either reducing the services and trim some of the costs to bring rates down? I am sure the council is experienced in enough to know which areas to cut. In most Asian countries for example Malaysia rates hardly increase and residents can plan their expenditure yearly. At the worst perhaps council can look into evening out the increases in the future to ease burden on rate payers. This is noting that the planned increases in the years ahead is much lower than 14%. One other way to reduce rates is to open up more lands for development so more ratepayers can share the costs. Thank you.

3026 - Tony Smail (Canterbury Rugby)

can the city ratepayers deal with it in a recession. I am sure no ratepayer wants a reduction in services but 13% is a significant barrier to anyone enjoying other necessities from their wages. Priorities need set - I suspect the 13% is too high and would be better smoothed out.

3034 - Ameer Hurrell

Demanding more when people have nothing left to give is not ok. Public should be asked what they see as priorities!

3060 - Georg Ludwig

Number one priority is that rates become unaffordable, if they increase further. Already they are our single biggest expense per year after groceries. There are a lot of nice to haves, but if the poorest in our city simply cannot afford the rates, we are in an emergency.

3092 - Kitty Moran

We can barely afford our rates as it is. Our family wages have not increased to match living expenses. As an extended family, we're all barely keeping our heads above the (metaphoric) water. A rates increase of that much will drown us. We'd lose our house from missing mortgage payments, or lose all of our insurances, or both.

3099 - Stephen Miller

Where do you think the ratepayers are going to find this huge increase when the level of rates are already unbelievably high? They will have to cut back on spending which will create a vicious circle with business failures and reduced business rates collection. Do you honestly believe it is sustainable to raise rates at this level and continue to do so? You will end up with no-one left.

>>>

You should be reviewing everything. You cannot justify the current level of rates let alone the proposed increases. If it carries on as is, I for one will be leaving the city.

3105 - Tracey MacArthur

Rate payer burden is unsustainable for so many - fixed incomes, low incomes and the cost to residential landlords who pass this cost on to tenants through rent increases.

>>>

I dont know anything about rating charges apart from standard residential which is what I am charged and find excessive and a burden @ $115 per week. 6 hours of my taxed work per week is for my rates alone.

3110 - Michael Beard

no

3119 - Patricia Paul

Times are too tough with existing house pricing as it is, extra costs are not feasible for many at the moment. It would be a yes if the costs weren't so high already.

3145 - Leah Wild

Rate payers are struggling to pay their rates. I am not in favour of adding to the burden at present

3169 - Barbara Brown

[Transport > Roads (Capital)], [Three Waters > Three Waters (Operational)], [Parks > Spending], [Parks > Heritage (Capital)], [Parks > Foreshore], [Art Galleries & Museums > Art Galleries (Capital)], [Other/Special Interest Topics > Social Housing], [Art Galleries & Museums > Museums (Capital)], [Grants & Funding > Art Centre Funding], [Other/Special Interest Topics > Cathedral]

No balance not right and continued rate rises are not sustainable.

3206 - John Gudgeon

The proposed rates increase is TOO HIGH. Wages and benefits are not keeping up with rate rises and other costs of living. Many households are struggling and need lower rates; not higher.

3222 - Mark Rayner

Our residential rates have increased at an unfair rate. Nothing additional is received in return.

3232 - Margaret Slack

Rates are too dear. It makes me struggle as it is.

325 - Kathleen Clinton

Too much strain on ratepayers

3260 - Sofie Hampton

>>> Rates are extravagant

>>>

Rate increase of that would be devastating for so many people. I personally struggle with the current rates let alone a further increase

3304 - Donovan Harris

No. The rates rises are eay too much

>>>

Rates are too high

3305 - Angelita Schwalger

That is much to high to increase in such a short period of time know the financial hardship that is out there for majority of people , considering many of the CCC staff got a 19% increase in wages, such a huge increase, consensus is that realistically no one else in the workforce received such huge wage increase but the Council. Does make you wonder if rate payers are paying for this massive increase in CCC wages too! Would be nice to get something g out if the j crease such as a place where all people can go to enjoy themselves, such as Orana Park.

3346 - Lynette Bay

With the level or rate increases this will only make paying rates more difficult for many as the cost of living continues to increase with only a slight increase in average in average income.

3349 - Rob McDonald

This level of increase is not sustainable for poor people and people on fixed incomes

>>>

Rates rises as proposed, in excess of inflation, are not sustainable

335 - Wayne Bates

NO because it will not gain much at all

3356 - Mary-Anne Borrowdale

This increase is too steep in a cost of living crisis.

3373 - Michael Netto

[Spending > Our Proposed Spending]

Thank you for allowing the opportunity to provide feedback on the Draft Long Term Plan 2024-2034. I appreciate the Council's commitment to future-proofing our city through strategic investments in infrastructure and services. It is essential, especially in light of our growing population driven by both domestic and international migration. However, I am concerned about the proposed average rates increase of 13.24% for next year. Such a significant hike during these challenging economic times could strain many residents and businesses, potentially making living in Christchurch less sustainable.

>>>

I have decided to vote "No" on the proposal to maintain our existing levels of service and level of investment in core infrastructure, which would result in an average rates increase of 13.24% across all ratepayers and an average residential rate increase of 12.4%. While I fully recognize the importance of sustaining core services and infrastructure, I believe the proposed rate increases are too burdensome during a period of significant financial challenges for many residents and businesses in Christchurch. Given the current economic conditions, it is crucial for the Council to explore more budget efficiencies and potentially prioritize only the most critical projects. We should consider more sustainable financial strategies that do not heavily rely on substantial rate increases, which could make living in Christchurch less affordable for many. It is essential to balance the need for infrastructure maintenance with the economic realities facing our community, ensuring that we remain a livable and financially accessible city for all residents.

3381 - Karen Amyes

[Strategic Direction > Have We Got the Balance Right?], [Rates > Remote Residential Rates], [Rates > Business Rates]

Probably not as there is a significant increase in rates. I believe some projects should be put on hold so that rates stay the same.

340 - David Wilkinson

In principle no. 13.24% is far too much. I understand new demands are on the city (specifically climate risks & govt regulation on water) and they are probably of a higher priority than existing opex/capex plans and steeper cuts should be made to something existing. It is not clear where you have cut compared to the last plan and suggest this as a tool next time.

3421 - Mary Clark

My rates are already high. I do not wish to see an increase in double figures.....certainly not without careful information and consulting processes.

343 - Aaron Pero

It's insulting that while households are having to trim back and go without the council carry on with unnecessary expenditure

3444 - Jo McGregor

13.34% is far too high. Wages aren't going up, but mortgages interest rates are going up, so the people are already struggling. Rates increases will not help get the debt down either. Delaying/cancelling projects might help more. Stop employing imported contractors who charge exorbitant fees. Stop changing things that aren't broken eg shifting bus stop 25metres at Pannell Ave/Wainoni Rd, and blocking the free left turn lane to make way for a cycleway at Marshland Rd/Shirley Rd intersection.

3451 - Sarah Lovelady

I understand that since the earth quakes there are a lots of things to repair or rebuild, and that things are getting more expensive. But, do what you are set up to do.. protect the interests and culture of the people that live in your council. How about smaller rate rises and let some of your high paid executives that don't do anything (except meeting after meeting to justify their massive earnings) go.

3468 - Wrik Mukherjee

The rate increases are too high and excessive. The rates rises will cause people to leave the city and look to move elsewhere in New Zealand.

347 - Catherine Webber

Any rise in rates is tantamount to highway robbery. I am paying 10 x more rates than when my house was built. You are treating citizens like cash cows with bottomless pockets, YOU ARE CREATING POVERTY! I pay rates for water I cannot drink or wash with, roads that are full of potholes and NOT fit for purpose. Millions have been spent to slow us down to a snails pace, nobody wanted this it only hinders emergency services response times and peoples freedom of movement which is supposed to be protected by the NZ bill of rights ... what a joke!

3498 - Lucas Tomasi

Residents cant afford a rate increase in the current cost of living crisis.

3502 - Rach Wilson

I think rate payers already pay enough !! We pay road user charges, Tax's and I'm sure we as a city want to see our $$ go towards something decent like Orana Park

3520 - Gabrielle Racine

Ridiculous. Families can hardly afford their every day bills with current mortgage rates. This will be detrimental. Our rates are already much higher than Auckland.

354 - Vivienne Allan

The rates are too high. The value return to the investor, ie the ratepayers, isnt good enough.

>>>

The rates are simply too high.

3541 - Ashleigh Smith

How does it help the community in this current financial climate by increasing our rates even further? They've already been increased by 20% and it's becoming an increased struggle to live in Christchurch district. We are looking at heading elsewhere in the country due to the cost of living in Christchurch. The benefits elsewhere are looking more appealing.

>>>

I'm sure it won't be hard to find the extra funding elsewhere. But it is unfair on the current families and people in Christchurch who are facing increased costs. It'll only see more people leave Christchurch.

3559 - Alana Harper

Try and keep rates at same amount as last year. Do away with something this year.

3572 - Tania Dirkze

We cannot continue to afford this. I am already paying $66.67 per week. An increase in $8 is not viable. Take a look around. The people of Christchurch are struggling

3598 - Kyle Sutherland

Ratepayers are struggling to get by in this current economic climate and cannot absorb such a ludicrous proposed rates increase. With inflation at 4%, what justification is there for a rates increase over three times this? Ratepayers can't demand a 13% pay increase, therefore Council shouldn't be able to as well.

361 - Rowena McNabb

No. The increase of 12% to 13% is very high and I don't think this is affordable for my family. I am not sure how we will find that extra money.

3611 - Sharon Dowers

This increase absolutely too high and will result in residents of Christchurch needing to choose between feeding their families and paying their rates bill. Savings need to be made in these tough economic times. This is the time for the Council to show the community they are with them, and they hear their concerns.

>>>

We are a one income householder, and times are very very tight for us. We receive increases in our bills every month, and more recently our mortgage. We understand the council is no different with it's costs also, however the increases proposed in this LTP are absolutely unacceptable. Like every householder counting every dollar, the Council must do the same and bring the rates increases down. Now is not the time for fancy vanity projects to suit just a few or because one or two councillors have strong ideologies. This is the time for the Council to stand with the people of Christchurch and show they understand and they are listening. Just as we cannot go to our employers and demand a 13% pay rise every time we need to put new tyres on the car, or install insulation or fix the leaky roof, the Council cannot expect the rate payers to continually delve deeper into their pockets to cover the difference. Please explore more options to save money in the LTP

3616 - Mark Webster

Find better ways. Find savings. These increases are unacceptable and affordable.

362 - Christine Stiles-Pickard

You can't just keep increasing the rates when income is not increasing at the same rate or even non-existent in the case of retired pensioners

3623 - Jessica Adams

An average rate increase of 12.4% in the current economic climate is excessive and needs to be reduced. If it means reducing services such as Library opening hours, reduced grants to charities and individuals, reduced spending on sport and recreation then that should be reviewed. There should be a "pause" on cycleway development and spending on traffic speed reduction. Core services of infrastructure, water and rubbish etc should be the priority.

3635 - Jane Lila McKenzie

Financial Settings pg 36 and RATES: pg 39 Average Rate Increase: Due to inflation, insurance etc, and the reduction of 19 Mill in the CCHL dividend!? Abby Foote of CCHL's recent orate at Council April 17th stated in the Draft of SOI 24/25 for the rate payers, council and the subsidiary of which they are custodians, were readdressing decisions made re the balance. The financial projections of the strategic review were.. 'THERE WAS NO MORE MONEY'.. and Yet.. Council continues to grow debt. How much debt will the council continue to accrue, and not be able to pay off. Aaron Keown said savings could be made by ditching the Social and Green Investments. This is all obviously Very alarming. There is No money and the Council is still spending, almost out of control.. like a runaway train. The thought of an increase as the one proposed is Not good. With the increase in Everything else at present, this on top is too much. Many homes are utilizing food banks and going without many basics. THE AVERAGE RATE PAYER, and people on the street, ARE STRUGGLING, CAN NOT AFFORD AN INCREASE by what we read in the paper too.. the increase is predicted to be even greater!! Recently I heard Rates will be connected to our emissions target! WE ARE NOT GOING TO MEET THEM.

3642 - Olivia Wilson

That's an insane increase. Too much!

3648 - Yvonne Russell

As a pensioner on a fixed income a rates increase is an unfair burden to me . A lot of the money generated by rates seems to be spent on core services but the workmanship is very shoddy often requiring further spending to fix up or remediate what has already cost the rate payer considerably . Things don't seem to be well co ordinated or managed .

365 - Wendy Burton

A rate increase of this much and on going increase each year is too much . This coupled with mortgage rates and insurance hikes is too much for many . Peoples lives are being stuffed and going backwards.

where is the election campaign promises???

3650 - Leslie McAuley

Ratepayers and businesses alike could not sustain to run their homes or business, like the council is spending money. Ratepayers are already hurting with increased interest rates and council rates. At some stage something has to give.

>>>

With a cost of living crisis that the country is currently experiencing and minimal income increases, interest rate increases with families with mortgages, will continue to make it difficult for homeowners to pay rates.

>>>

Ratepayers are hurting with the Cost of Living crisis and I think the council is too. Stop spending money like it is growing on trees.

3673 - Theo van Woerkom

[Strategic Direction > Performance Framework]

The rates increases are becoming unaffordable. Please cut services!

3684 - Alison Lomax

A rates increase at a time of financial hardship for many is unreasonable, the council needs to find ways to save money and make better use of the rates currently paid.

3685 - Tracey Hunter

No rates increase that is ridiculous amount in a vast of living crisis and for low income earnerstriving to survive

>>>

Way to much for low income earners trying to survive

3688 - Paul Crooks

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Governance]

People are already struggling with the high cost of living - 13% rates rise is not acceptable and a dereliction of your duties as councillors.

3694 - Jane Pairman

I believe a rates increase of this magnitude would be difficult for many people. Tax companies who operate in a non environmentally friendly way more - come on be a bit more inventive.

3705 - Glenis Youngman

The rates increases coupled with the cost of living increases will continue to make rate paying very difficult for many households. Any increase is going to make it hard, especially double-digit increases.

>>>

Do not use ratepayers as a cash cow as we do not have a neverending pot full of money for rates with other costs increasing daily.

3741 - Kevin Spaul

Think how many people can not afford them going up not with the cost of living

3763 - John Graham

People are challenged financially at the moment with the cost of living and the extra rate increases that the council are proposing are only going to add more stress to their lives & their family's for the long haul & no end in sight. The general public don't really benefit significantly enough to warrant the use of these big outrageous projects & there financial blowouts.

3767 - Donna Faucher

We dont even get a street light, ourea is only 300 sqares and pay $4000 a year ❖❖

>>>

To high

378 - Chris Arnold

No the increase in rates over the next three years is not sustainable for the majority of households, you will create a default non-payment for many households, pushing them more to a position of debt.

>>>

It is clear that your proposed rates increase is not sustainable for many households, they should not have to pay for previous years mismanagement by council, for water upgrade as an example.

3781 - Trevor Spiers

To high for what we get in return

3787 - Deb Donnell

[Spending > Our Proposed Spending], [Grants & Funding > Orana Park Funding], [Grants & Funding > Arts Centre], [Parks > Heritage (Capital)], [Borrowing & Debt Management]

The rates increases coupled with the cost of living increases and the marginal increases in the average income level will continue to make rate paying very difficult for many households. Your proposed rates increases significantly exceed any reasonable figure, and the fact that the CCC consider this increase to be acceptable is criminal. Householders are under pressure and facing significant financial challenges. Consequently they are cutting back spending as much as possible to the bare basics, in order to survive. The Council should be doing the same - so that any proposed spending covers maintaining the core infrastructure, insuring key assets (including grants to assist the city's heritage and other assets, such as The Arts Centre, Orana Park, etc.), and debt servicing and reduction. Nothing more.

379 - Alex Rowe

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?]

No, more could still be done to reduce rates. Overall there is still an unnecessary level of spending on areas that will not be used by ratepayers.

>>>

These increases are still too high given the 58% increase over 10 years.

3792 - Chinmoyee Mukherjee

I oppose rates rises.

3794 - Somnath Bagchi

Rates rises are not the way to go ahead. Rates rises should be kept to single digit figures. Alternatives to rates rises should be considered.

3797 - Kathakali Bagchi

I oppose rates rises

3804 - Rahul Mukherjee

I oppose rates rises for homeowners

3807 - Graeme Remington

Rates cost are getting out of hand for a lot of homeowners.

3810 - Caleb Buchanan

A 12.4 percent increase is unsustainable. At this rate in 5 years time we would see an increase of over 60 percent.

3815 - Dianne French

Noone will be able to afford to participate in anything if the proposed rate increases go ahead.

3847 - Jude Kirk

Rates are massive already, definitely do not need any additions to our rates!

>>>

We already pay huge rates for what we receive, NO rate hikes!

>>>

Lower them!!!

3854 - Michael Laurensen

Rate rises are unsustainable.

>>>

[Strategic Direction>Have we got the balance right?]

No. Rates rises are unsustainable and high in both absolute and growth rate relative to other regions

3866 - Nicki Carter (Carter Group)

No, The rates rises are too high.

>>>

This increase is at least 3 times the rate of inflation and puts increased, and often unaffordable, rates increases on businesses and households. It is important that the Council takes into account that its business and residential rates within the Christchurch City Council area are significantly more than the rates for the same value properties in the Waimakariri District Council and the Selwyn District Council districts. The Council risks capital and population flight to the Waimakariri and Selwyn areas.

3891 - Christopher Gauci

[Spending > Our proposed spending]

The council needs to first manage wasteful spending, review what is necessary for the city to function vers what is a nice to do. Hurting rate payers with higher than inflation increases without considering wasteful spending is deplorable.

390 - Chelsay Leppard

I oppose this plan; the proposed rate increase is severely detrimental to us.

3909 - Anna Osborn

Huge rate rises make it very difficult for residents to afford to live in their houses.

3916 - Laila Jansone (Renew Brighton Charitable Trust)

Our programs reach up to 12,000 people in the Greater New Brighton area. We have investigated the cost of living's effect on the community. Over 46% of residents are under significant financial pressures, affecting young people, children, the elderly, and working-parent families. Household expenses have reached a critical point where people cannot afford food and basic necessities. Any further rate increase will contribute to driving social isolation, increasing poverty, and creating mental and physical health issues

>>>

We believe that any further rate increase will have detrimental affect on households already struggling with cost of living.

3922 - Ian McIntosh

Rates increases of 12.4% to 13.24% are not sustainable for many rate payers.

3956 - Nicola McCormick

The proposed rates increase is far too high and many families are saying they will not be able to afford the increase. We are in difficult times already and this will make things worse for everyone. Not just homeowners but renters will also be affected adversely.

3972 - Archana Sewak

I don't want to pay extra from rates as it has significantly increased.

3974 - Amanda Jenkins

No

3975 - Suzanne Walker

No

3978 - Sandra Bragg

levels of service and level of investment in our core infrastructure and facilities, which will mean a proposed average rates increase of 13.24% across all ratepayers and an average residential rate increase of 12.4%?

Yes

No

Don't know

THE RATES INCREASE IS TOO HIGH, I READ DETAIL OF WASTEFUL SPENDING IN MANY OF THE PROPOSALS - COUNCIL SHOULD CONCENTRATE SPENDING WHERE THE NEED IS STRONG.

Comments: ^{COUNCIL CLAIM THAT} IF THE PROPOSED AVERAGE RATE INCREASE RESULTS FROM PRUDENT

CAREFUL INVESTIGATION OF ALL FACETS THEN I URGE COUNCIL TO URGENTLY

RE-VISIT THE PARKS & FORESHORE AND HERITAGE PROJECTS/COSTINGS. I HAVE TO PRIORITISE MY SPENDING, TO CHOOSE WHAT I CAN/CANNOT AFFORD. SHOW ME AND ALL OTHER RATEPAYERS DESERVED RESPECT, STOP WASTEFUL SPENDING AND

BE AWARE THAT AN ADDITIONAL RATE INCREASE WILL NOT BE AFFORDABLE FOR MANY.

We're proposing some changes to how we rate, including changes to the city vacant differential, rating visitor accommodation in a residential unit as a business, and changes to our rates postponement and remissions for charities policies.

3979 - Kerry Neville

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Governance]

Do you have any comments on our proposed changes to how we rate?

I don't trust the integrity of this council to do anything within a budget; where-as the rate payer will end up paying again. It's another way to get more money out of rate payer.

>>>

Tighten your belts, see how we are going to pay for electricity this winter, and pay me rates

>>>

Put your self out there, get rid of the iwi in council as its an extra cost and another meeting every time you have to decide on anything and dont lose sight of the fact its my money you are playing with, and I will be voting the idiots out from our council.
 And Tight your belts, it cannot go on like this anymore

Maioir event bid funding

>>>

I'm thinking what sort of an unfinished mess are we going to leave our kids
 What Do You think

3982 - Duncan Taylor

Council cant continue to expect o/a increases as acceptable

>>>

Ratepayers cannot continue to be expected to provide over increasing amounts of money by way of ~~o/a~~ increases

>>>

Ratepayers need to see some real reductions in rate demands

>>>

No increase in rates is acceptable
Council must learn to live within its budget which needs to recognise we are living in a ~~reducing~~ diminishing pool of money provided by ratepayers

>>>

The present attack on the rate payer has to cease

3993 - Hans Jorgen Andersen

THE CURRENT GOVERNMENT INTEND TO DECREASE
EXPENDITURE AROUND 6 1/2% -
SO WE SHOULD DO THE SAME

>>>

Do you have any comments on our proposed changes to how we rate?

NO - APART THEY ARE TOO HIGH

4003 - Kristine Jolliy

We are unable to pay a increase in Rates as a result of the cost of living crisis. We are a Earthquake loss family. e.g. houses, jobs etc now in our 60's. Lost a whole decade of income and $ gain.

4030 - Jenna Hayward

Yeah stop using rate payers like we a bank you bleeding people dry

4033 - Juliana Venning

[Spending > Te Kaha, Other/Special Interest Topics > Governance]

No. I strenuously object to proposed 2.17% of the proposed rates increase of 13.24 overall going towards the white Elephant Te Kaha. Mauger made undertakings as a candidate.

425 - Laura Bates

Sure it would be lovely to have all these wonderful amenities and what not, but budgets just don't work like that! You can just keep increasing rates to pay for all these nice to haves... they should be prudently budgeted for within a time frame that we are able to pay for them without ever increases rates rises. If that means some projects have to wait longer, that's how budgets work, isnt it?? You can't just expect rate payers to pay more and more every year. If rates were to rise in line with inflation, that would be understandable, but anything else is just greedy and financially irresponsible. What good is a bazillion dollar stadium that most of your residents can't afford to attend anything at because they can't even currently put food on the table! STOP INCREASING RATES AND MAKE DO WITH THE STUPIDLY HUGE AMOUNT OF MONEY WE ARE ALREADY GIVING YOU. If things have to wait, they just have to wait.

>>>

STOP RAISING RATES. Work within our means, and stop treating us like your limitless credit card, your limit has been reached!!!

430 - Kate Porter

You said it yourself. Financial hardship Close a pool or something, anything to save increasing rates People like me don't use many council services anyway and I resent my rates being increased to cover some silly summer pool or other very narrow audience service

447 - Zoelle Davies

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?]

The plan sounds great, but the horrible high rate increase is unacceptable. I can't afford that.

>>>

Those figures are just too high.

>>>

Way too high.

455 - Deborah Dyer

Not at all especially when our purse strings are already full

>>>

Stop increasing the rates our pockets are already empty

460 - Karina Arana

Do not increase the rates.

461 - Joanne Kokkinidis

Please allow this email to speak for me relative to the rate increase. I seriously cannot afford another increase. I am retired and not of my own volition. Covid ruined so much. I am paying just over $3000 now for a small 4-year-old home in Hornby. If things keep increasing I will not be able to make payment. Many Seniors are living off their superannuation and can't afford another increase. Some have to sell their homes because of the ever-increasing prices of everything. No one else should have to worry about this after working for years to pay off their mortgage, especially at our age. Thanks for giving me this opportunity. Kind Regards, Joanne Kokkinidis

469 - Amira Aman

Strong no. Your proposed rates increases are simply not sustainable for average homeowners who have not had a pay increase in many years yet inflation is high with high interest rates. This would make home ownership prohibitive.

>>>

Don't increase rates!! They already increased substantially this year!

492 - Lyndon Telfer

You can't have a prosperous city if the council unnecessarily burdens ratepayers. You are going to take another $780 out of the local economy with the proposed rates rise on my property. That is $780 less I have available to spend on eating out, going to sporting events and entertainment.

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Governance]

I voted for Mayor Phil Major because he campaigned on keeping rates at the level of inflation. I expected there would be cuts to capital expenditure and services. I believe Council has a mandate to cut costs and get rates rises down. Rates are also a housing affordability issue and impact on pensioners more so than those of us working. My rates will be half my super annuation the time I retire. This is just too much.

494 - Casey Mathieson

In a time of financial pressure, more effort should be put into minimising rates increases. If the council can't operate at their current level on the current budget then the level of service should be looked at to find areas to reduce expenditure or cut council salaries before ratepayers are subjected to such a substantial increase, especially considering the increases seen in recent years.

>>>

Ultimately I think subjecting ratepayers to such a significant increase in the short term during a financially difficult time for a lot of people is unreasonable. If projects can be prioritised, budgets revised, and other cost saving areas looked into to minimise this increase or spread the increases more appropriately, then the city will be in a better position as residents will be in a better financial position to invest back into the city

540 - Ross Allen

13% is much too high. Impact needs to be spread over a few years. Yes to maintaining existing levels of service, but reprioritise investment to achieve a rebalancing.

546 - Lisa Boyce

I cannot afford a rates increase. Which is shit.

55 - Jen Abernethy

Individual home owners can not cope with increases as suggested. These increases need to come from more sensible sources; ones were city citizens have an option to choose to access something or not; charge more for libraries, public swimming, parking.

56 - James Loveridge

As a none homeowner and being apart of the generation that will most likely never own a home. This proposed rate increase only further bridges the financial gap between classes in Christchurch. Why punish the already struggling individuals such as myself.

566 - Rob Ackroyd

No, you're bleeding the rate payers dry.

>>>

How do you expect people to afford the increase you're proposing? Mortgage rates up, food up and now this. The rate payers aren't a money tree.

6 - Natalia Volkova

The rates increase is too high and unaffordable to pay

612 - Annette Mauger

12.4% increase is unaffordable for people on low or fixed income with proposed cuts to services rather than betterment

623 - Linda Everett

This is an extremely high rate increase, especially at a time when we are all having increased costs in our day to day expenses. I do think the Council need to look at a few other measures to cut back on some of their expenses, like we are all having to.

657 - Murray Peacock

The proposed rate increase is over the top and the writing is on the wall that work needs to be re-prioritised so the Council can live within its means

667 - Frans Jeldrick Oorthuys

Seems a bit steep for most people I would say

684 - Louise Morrison

No!! We are already paying $10,000 a year for our rates! It's unbelievable!

6900 - Geraldine Jellyman

Too high an increase.

693 - Jamie Innes

Your proposed rates increases are far too high. I doubt inflation will go that fast...nor will my wage increases. Your rates increases will be too high.

698 - Danica Gilmore

The percentage of this increase is too high in times where everyone is struggling to make ends meet. Our rates have increased too much along side the ever escalating costs of living, while our income has not risen to match it

702 - Tim Stedman

Continuously ramping up rates by this order of magnitude is unacceptable.

713 - Matthew Irving

No, rates are too high and the amount of wastage that goes on needs to stop

715 - Hayley Barrett

No! If you have to ask that you are deluded. You are asking for over 13% increase from people whose wages are not going up that fast in an economy where everything is increasing in price. No one can afford this. Your key job is to maintain roads (not add new cycleways to existing roads at rate payers expense) and look after water and waste water. Anything else is a nice to have, not something needed in a time when it can't be afforded. You need to cut back on community events, libraries, climate change funding for the sake of it (ie it's not going towards anything that is being done now) and anything else that doesn't come under your key role. Outside roading and water infrastructure, if you can't afford it other than by increasing rates by more than CPI, then you should not be doing it. I'm aware that you only listen to what you want to hear, so I'll make it clear. Stop cycleways. Stop climate change funding. Stop anything that is unaffordable.

>>>

No. My house has been overvalued by you and I can't get it changed. This new proposal expects me to pay an extra $25 EVERY WEEK to cover you idealist spending. We can't afford that. I imagine people in houses valued at lower than ours will be in the same boat as us. No one can afford it. Cut back events. Cut back cycleway. Sell assets if you have to, but this amount of increase is going to break many people.

718 - Sharon Pheasant

You've answered this already in your question. Individual families are facing financial challenges and none of us will be seeing 13% pay rises. I'm particularly concerned as a working mum, and for my elderly parents. I'd much prefer to see you stop other projects and spending to see this increase off. I think you all know this will cripple people given it's against the backdrop of us all facing the same increases you reference. It's like we are all being penalised twice. I don't want to see debt laid on future generations and would prefer you to stop projects.

742 - Mark Holland

Nothing sustainable about unaffordable rates. Work on that

>>>

Its too expensive. Rates increases compound we can not keep this up.

745 - Gretchen Bruner

The proposed rate increase is too high.

746 - Lara Flavell

No. You are spending too much & the rates rises are out of control & unaffordable!

>>>

[Other/Special Interest Topics > LTP Consultation]

This question is deceiving - the 13.24% increase is not just to maintain EXISTING services & investment in core infrastructure.

750 - Simon Walker

To just keep increasing rates should not be the go to. I don't get pay rises because I can't stay within my budget.

754 - Bradley Conder

No, you are prioritizing rates reduction of under 10% over the betterment of the city's future.

762 - Julie Nelmes

why are my rates being increased when my quality of life and that of my families has been so significantly impacted by the waste water and composting plant in Bromley shame on you Chch city council

>>>

I would be more onboard if my rates were being used to fix the quality of life of people in Bromley have been dealing with for the past 3 years and our schoolchildren including my grandson at Bromley Primary school.

793 - Erica Stokvis

Looking at the three years of proposed rate increases it's a total of 25% which is an insane jump in a small time. The cost of living and wages do not reflect people's affordability to cope with this especially for this year having a jump of 13%. The wage never seems to go up because inflation levels it out.

>>>

[Transport>Transport (Operations)]

The use of our rate payers money is often spent in areas that are not necessarily what the people actually want. For example the amount of surveillance being installed with no consultation.

794 - Yanny Webb-Walker

The increases in rates as indicated make me consider whether to sell my house as they are too much for someone on superannuation. I am not alone in this and I don't believe that it is right to increase them that much

799 - John Ascroft

Too high

>>>

[Spending>Te Kaha; Fees and Charges>Carp Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)]

Reduce the increase. Spend less on vanity projects like the stadium . Increase parking fees across the board and remove free parking within the 4 avenues.

811 - Campbell Turnbull

This is very unwise in a cost of living crisis. Why heap stress on people who are already struggling financially. At least wait for interest rates to decrease before uping rates

813 - Jannette Stiven

I'm disabled due to multiple sclerosis which puts me on supported living benefit. I struggle now paying the rates as benefit isn't even $20,000 a year. It will be impossible if increased as even with the rebate it's a huge % of my income

818 - Bevan Phillipson

Unacceptable.

>>>

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?]

Not yet. RATES RISES you are proposing are unacceptable . So, spending must be reduced

>>>

[Strategic Direction > Additional savings and efficiencies]

Basics, basics! basics. Discuss other matters, but do not proceed if costs are resulting in unacceptable Rates rises, ie, above 4.99% Annually.

823 - Kym East

People cannot afford a rates increase if that size and all you're doing is forcing cantabrians out of owning and living here.

825 - Duncan King

I don't consent to anymore rates increases.

843 - Ngaire Donelda Bacon

absolutely Not. When the Christchurch City Council has built up debt to 2.3 billion. Problems of Cost blow outs such as the Halswell Road link that is around 200 metres long, & the cost has now ballooned out to 25 million & the council then decided to discuss this in private!! There seems to be no accountability as to how ratepayers money is being spent. The council must reduce financial pressures on ratepayers & stop wasting money

Comments: ~~The~~ long standing problem with the council is the money being collected from the ratepayers is not being spent effectively. The council is facing financial challenges & a lot of these challenges are to do with its own incompetence. But unfortunately the Ratepayers are paying the Price

>>>

Comments: The current mayor Phil Margets introduction to the long term draft Plan 2024/2034 states we are committed to building better trust between rate payers & the council by keeping rates affordable & then later states, This long term plan proposes an average rates increase of 13.24% If anyone in the council thinks a rates increase of this magnitude will build better trust from rate payers they are mistaken. I have spoken to many rate payers who were just about in tears over the cost of their rates, & at times I have had to sell personal possessions to pay for my own rates. Because of the ever increasing burden of rates, some home owners are now considering selling their houses.

Capital programme

845 - Cris Fulton

There don't seem to be any financial challenges where building a new stadium or cathedral is concerned. What hit rates payers again?

>>>

Stop raising rates for the humble citizen

847 - David Bromell

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?]

I strongly object to the proposed average rates increase for 2024/25 of 13.24%, noting that in addition, Environment Canterbury is proposing an average rates increase across the region of 24.2%. I am disappointed that the only alternative Council offers in the consultation document is "potential to reduce or cut services" (p. 47), with no commitment to reduce operating costs through efficiency and productivity gains (just asking ratepayers to identify "where there could be an opportunity for efficiencies"). Or is Council implying that there is zero "fat" to trim and that efficiency improvements and a tighter focus on goals and objectives are impossible at this time? So no, I don't think Council has got the balance right, and before appointing a new chief executive, I would have liked to see Council committing to reduce operating costs (in consultation with the public via the LTP), as part of setting performance expectations for the new CE.

855 - Anna van Haastrecht

I realize that the Council needs money to operate; however, I believe that a lot of spending is unnecessary. People like me, that are on a fixed, not so high income, will soon be unable to afford living in Christchurch. These rate-rises are way too high, especially in this economic climate!

880 - Peter Kim

Disagree with the rates rises. As we have to pay ecan on top of rates, we should can ecan as their services should be provided by CCC. Still baffles me that a property in CHCH pays almost double in rates and ecan than you would in Auckland.

893 - Peter Murphy

Efficiencies need to be found

>>>

Too high

895 - Hayley Mahanga

We've not long had a rates increase in Bromley when we're majority lollie income households amd subjected to bad smells and roading

>>>

No its not fair bromley has a rates increase esp with the smell we have been dealing with

>>>

Rates should be higher in more wealthy suburbs ie Fendalton, Bromley Linwood etc are low income households struggling as it is

898 - Marc Mulholland

Stop overspending and STOP putting rates up we are in a recession / financial crisis

>>>

Don't put rates up during a financial crisis ... Wages aren't going up 13.24%

>>>

STOP rates increases now

>>>

Stop spending other peoples money and expecting ridiculous rates increases to pay for it when we are in a financial crisis

>>>

be conserative maintain rates levels as they are now until financial crisis is over and wages atart to move upwards

9 - Julia Henson

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?]

No. Considering we are in the midst of bordering on a cost of living crisis how can you justify spending on non essential upgrades, community events when the average home owner/occupier struggles to make ends meet and will be forced to make further sacrifices to pay your obsurd rates increase. To think landlords to not pass this onto tenants at the detriment at the working class is absolutely abhorrent

>>>

If the average salary isnt increasing by 12% how can you expect the average household to afford this?

906 - Alister Ferguson

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Governance]

Overall, Definitely not. Our current mayor campaigned on a zero rates increase platform. The projected increases are an insult to fixed income ratepayers

>>>

Past suggestions have been ignored and promised responses not forthcoming. Why should I expect any different reaction this time

915 - Mark Pearson

[Strategic Direction - Have we got the balance right?]

No, debt is too high and associated costs in servicing the loans. Percentage increase in rates in significantly above inflation and unaffordable for the majority.

920 - Marie Porter

[Spending - Te Kaha], [Rates - Residential Rates]

$286 million on Te Kaha (4.41%) ? Please ensure the wider Canterbury councils/ratepayers contribute to this excellent facility. Please ensure our Arts Centre is funded too!

935 - Rob Davies

Not given the unprecedented rate rise - OBVIOUSLY NOT!!!

941 - Hannah Sheath

You have nothing right! You are clearly making stuff up free stuff up and then increasing the rate payers fees.

>>>

No rates increase should be made! You just said we are facing significant financial challenges and now you want to make it harder?

982 - Craig Newbury

No! Cut your cloth accordingly. You have never taken so much money from the rate payer and business and still it's not enough. It feels like if we gave you all our money you would still cry that you don't have enough!

>>>

Yes! Live within your means!! You have never had so much money!!!

996 - David Smith

Rates are too high already.

Other

1016 - John-Paul Avent

The council needs to be run like a business. A business doesn't get extra capital injected year on year. Run it wisely and strategically and profitably without annual rate increases.

1018 - Gerry Whitter

Our country is in deep recession.

>>>

I understand the inflation however the increase should be gradual

1026 - Sarah Sim

There should be some capped rates for residents as my house is worth about 1 million due to its location and so therefore my rates are ridiculously high and I can't afford it. But it keeps rising every year.

1035 - Jean Peneha

If you are increasing by 13percent that is a bit too high. If it is only like a 2-3 percent increase then that is okay.

104 - Jennifer Maghzal

Is there a way to raise rates in higher socio-economic areas perhaps whilst limiting any rises in low socio-economic areas?

1113 - Graeme Plank

[Spending>Capital Programme (General)]

In an extended cost of living crisis the council should be doing its utmost to minimise the burden placed on its ratepayers. Delaying some projects, especially those that benefit few, or are for the benefit of those who do not financially contribute into those projects by way of rating would ease the burden for rate payers.

1123 - Dean Walker

I believe the rates could increase slightly further, in the interests of supporting the infrastructure renewal across the city.

1143 - Stuart Berryman

Unsure why rates, linked to property value, do not flex with property values. Increase seems high of inflation.

1169 - Luke Morreau

I think a bigger problem is the inconsistency of rates. We bought a property 2 years ago, almost identical to a neighbours and are paying twice the amount of rates as them due to the (on paper) value of our home. They would sell for what we bought and only then would the rates of the new owner be realised. I think ccc is missing out on a lot of rates mainly due to not having the real value of property on the books. Solve that and you might not need a rates increase at all.

1174 - Wendy Morton

In the current climate how do you expect ratepayers to pay this increase when all expenses are increasing. Keep the increase to single figures and pare back your investment to cover

1176 - Jamin Thomas

[Spending>Our Proposed Spending]

Ultimately, the Council should look for a rates rise under 10% and look to rephase costs or capex.

>>>

[Spending>Capital Programme (General)]

Primarily rephasing of CAPEX and focus on the must-haves, and not nice-to-haves in respect of transport. Completely understand the inflationary environment that we are operating in, so feel like a rates rise closer to 10% is more reasonable.

1187 - Damon Mangos

It would be good to see some reduction in rates in the Eastern side of Christchurch until services and facilities are up to the standards of the rest of the city.

1274 - Phillip Bewick

Taxing residents 13% more on top of the previous tax increases in the last 5 years really isn't good money management. Stop using residents as a never ending piggy bank. Learn to spend what you get wisely and on things that count. I'd like to, at least get some guarantees that when Christchurch starts making money from the airport, statum and other councils owned business that that money is given back to it's tax payers in rates reductions and not in pay rises for counsellors.

>>>

As above... Stop wasting the money we give you. Learn to spend wisely and on what is required. If you can't afford it then wait till you can. Like everyone else.

1303 - Paul Johnston

But it will have to be better managed in terms is productivity, and return on investment. Increases without appropriate management is not acceptable. I do not see that I am getting a return on my rates investment. Too many people on the gravy train, not enough productivity

1309 - David Simpson

It's 11.08 if you remove the stadium.

1312 - Andrea Bromley

the way our rates are set based on what you think our house is valued at makes no sense to me and is an incredibly unfair way to go about it. We are currently doing a very slow self build to save money as we have the skills to do so. It might cost us 800K total (give or take) but then the value of the house might be 1.5mil due to the location and it being a brand new home. Family of 4, in a 3 bedroom home- our rates might be around $7k. How is that fair that we pay more for services than someone around the corner?? I just don't get it. Our incomes certainly do not reflect this cost. At this rate, we may have to sell it to go bush like many others are.... Renting

1324 - Anaru Matai

If there is an increase in rates needs to be good quality of funds distributed throughout the city. Parks, grounds, facilities, roads

1327 - Chris O'Brien

No. All rate rises need to be no more than inflation. Your proposal of over 13% for the next year is unacceptable.

>>>

Keep to a maximum in line with the yearly CPI> No more.

1330 - Gary Bint

Yes, why are high value properties having to pay more for the same service. This is not fair

1396 - Robyn Wilson

An increase in line with inflation is appropriate. Remembering any increases for landlords will be passed on to tenants and they typically the ones that can least afford it.

141 - Ann Coates

The rates rise is disgusting. Every year there are big rates increases. Cut back on spending like any household has to do and will have to do if this 12.4% rates rise goes through. Rate rises should not be allowed to go above the rate of inflation. You need to find ways to save money so the ratepayer isn't faced with these exorbitant rate rises.

1417 - Richard Coburn

Comments: I would prefer a rates rise a lot closer to inflation/CPI.

1424 - Peter McMillan

Comments: AS LONG AS ONCE TE KAHIA IS BUILT AND OPEN IT IS PROMOTED WIDELY TO RECOVER THE MONEY THAT HAS BEEN INVESTED, AND SINCE IT IS A ONE OFF PROJECT RATES ARE DECREASED ACCORDINGLY.

1431 - Carissa Ptacek

[Spending > Te Kaha]

Because Decisionmakers decided to ignore that Te Kaha was a financial burden on the city we are in this place, this could be almost 2% less if the original business case was listened to that it did not pass cost/benefit reviews. Also, by pledging $10 million to the Cathedral which again was clearly underestimated. Please stop making "shiny" thing decisions and taking Whole of Life costs into account. If we don't raise rates appropriate to cover operational costs it's an even worse outcome. I'm disappointed I have to say yes to this but know it's the right decision that the ratepayers have been forced into.

1452 - Maraed Riley

[Strategic Direction > Climate Change]

This question is perplexing. I believe that simply adhering to the proposed percentage increases is insufficient. Instead, I advocate for raising rates even further to effectively address the urgent needs of climate resilience. Within this Long Term Plan, the Council's water engineers have expressed concern over the lack of funding allocated to climate adaptation initiatives. Meanwhile, transportation engineers have noted escalating costs associated with road infrastructure for automobiles. Regrettably, many climate-related projects are being continuously deferred, leaving Christchurch vulnerable to the looming threat of severe floods reminiscent of those experienced in Auckland.

147 - Colleen Eason

Make other cuts, rather than increase rates.

1474 - Céira Dernhagen

[Rates>Other]; [Rates>Business Rates]

Implement a “targeted rate” on the petrol stations, car parks, and car dealers. Focus rates on industries and infrastructure contributing to environmental and social issues. Charge a “business rate” on landlords, who use the need for housing for their own profit, and do a “targeted rate” on rental properties, because those depend on Council to make money. If not regulated correctly, I fear renters will bear the cost of the rate increases more than wealthy landlords using housing for their own profit.

1501 - Jason Middlemiss (Waimāero Fendalton-Waimairi-Harewood Community Board)

In light of the significant financial challenges confronting both the Council and residents, it's evident that difficult decisions must be made. The proposed average rates increase of 13.24% across all ratepayers and 12.4% for residential rates is substantial and cannot be taken lightly, particularly in the midst of a living costs crisis. The absence of a comprehensive review of levels of service is a missed opportunity, as such an assessment could have potentially unearthed avenues for cost savings and efficiencies. The current draft LTP places an undue burden on ratepayers already struggling with financial pressures. It's imperative that we reassess our approach to strike a balance between maintaining essential services and infrastructure while alleviating the financial strain on residents. Exploring alternative solutions and avenues for cost reduction should be prioritized to ensure a more equitable and sustainable outcome for all stakeholders involved. The LTP consultation material discusses the Council's desire to win back the trust of its residents. When it does not appear that the Council has made a serious attempt to review its costs, at a time when our residents are having to do the same, it does not inspire trust in the Council. This fosters a level of community disengagement.

1515 - Andrew Douglas-Clifford

I know rates increases are a difficult decision politically, especially when both people and council are dealing with very present-day cost pressures. However this should absolutely not give us cause to drop the burden on future generations, to deal with our financial, infrastructure, and climate exposures by delaying the needed investment.

>>>

Unfortunately, we have had decades of underinvestment in our key infrastructure and services - it's not sustainable or good for our city to run it into the ground by keeping rates artificially low. At the same time, we also need to respond to climate-related challenges and increase investment in public/active transport networks. Overall, we should have higher rates now, because it will only cost us more later on.

1520 - Wendy Butcher (Canterbury WEA)

Just as we do not want tax cuts which reduce support for vital services, neither do we want to have lower rates when it means that core services are reduced or cut completely. We do not want constant changes to plans just because there is a change of management and possibly ideology. We do want core and climate change impact reduction services retained. Patching holes on the roads maybe important in some areas but if they are done do them properly and still support and manage cycle and bus lanes

1567 - Sarah Pritchett

I can't think of any existing services I would support reducing. I do wonder if there can be some sort of help for people on fixed incomes with rates rises however.

1572 - Olive Easterbrook

People who can afford rates increase should be paying more.

1589 - Barry Miller

[Rates > Business Rates]

Every property , both res. And commercial should pay their share as they all use and cost to the council.

1608 - Helen Davies

For goodness sake read the room (and voters). People are already struggling to live at the moment (with many being made redundant) and you want to turn the screws further on your constituents at the worst possible time! Surely based on what's going on it would be more palatable to average out the increase across the planned years with the hope that the crisis will have eased in the next 2-5 years.

>>>

[Transport > Cycleways (Operational)]

Yes average out increases over a longer period! Also your residential rates increases only go as far as houses worth $3 million, a house recently sold in Christchurch for over $9 million. Why are the rate increases capped at $3mil. Increase the rates on these homes for each Million the same as you do for businesses. These huge houses have large carbon foot prints, if you want to save the planet with lowering carbon start here!

>>>

[Transport > Cycleways (Operational)]

introduce further rates bands for houses over $3 million

1619 - David Hera

This question is perplexing. I believe the proposed rate increases are insufficient for adequately addressing our climate resilience needs. The rates should be raised beyond the suggested percentages. In the Long Term Plan, it's concerning to hear from the Council's water engineers that their climate adaptation projects remain unfunded. Transport engineers are also reporting rising costs for car-oriented infrastructure. Meanwhile, much of the essential climate-related work is being deferred indefinitely, even as Ōtautahi faces increasing risks of experiencing severe flooding similar to Auckland's.

>>>

This question is perplexing. I believe the proposed rate increases are insufficient for adequately addressing our climate resilience needs. The rates should be raised beyond the suggested percentages. In the Long Term Plan, it's concerning to hear from the Council's water engineers that their climate adaptation projects remain unfunded. Transport engineers are also reporting rising costs for car-oriented infrastructure. Meanwhile, much of the essential climate-related work is being deferred indefinitely, even as Ōtautahi faces increasing risks of experiencing severe flooding similar to Auckland's.

1623 - Oliver Mould

Yes, I believe you have got it about right. I do think that you need to signal larger rates rise for the future - well into double digits - as we need you to invest in three waters and other crucial infrastructure that you currently can't afford.

>>>

It is essential that you continue to invest as necessary on our behalf. With the advent of changes to the climate, you may well find you need to spend more than you have budgeted for within the life of this LTP.

1626 - Sam Bunn

I believe we should maintain the level of service but not at the % increase suggested on rates - there must be other ways that the council can gain funds

1647 - Barry Linwood

While I object to such a high increase in rates it has to be said without the increase the city will lose out on going forward with so many planned projects in the near future & the long term.

1662 - Lucian Nightingale

Honestly you should increase rates more. Auckland and Wellington have way more debt than Christchurch does and are less attractive places to live. This is our opportunity to step overtake those cities.

1674 - Susan Galbraith

[Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding], [Art Galleries & Museums > Museums (Capital)]

You are happy to waste money on red zone bridges and destroying Harewood road with cycle lanes plus contesting it with only one lane each side. Stop this wasteful spending. 13% hike for unnecessary extras when you should instead Take care of iconic heritage buildings like the arts centre and museum. I am not against an increase in my rates but I am against it being that much on crap ideology.

1692 - David Bluck

Rates should be allowed to go higher. Keep all the services, [Other/Special interest Topics > Social Housing]

1695 - Jordan Wyatt

Nobody likes paying more in tax, but I support better longterm planning.

1699 - Dominic McKeown

where possible further cuts should be found to lessen burden to rate payers. there is a fiscal responsibility by those in charge to manage the spending wisely and achieve the best outcome. alot of the time politics gets in the way of smart progress.

1709 - Aaron Cumming

But make it the last for 10 years. Our rates are not value for money. Services and infrastructure delivered by this council are garbage.

1750 - Edel Lougheed-Deane

The reliance on property rates as a primary source of revenue may not be sustainable in the long term, especially considering potential fluctuations in property markets and economic conditions. They could also exacerbate inequalities and disproportionately impact those least able to afford them. For many individuals, especially those on fixed incomes or with limited financial resources, significant increases in property rates (based on the housing boom period of 2022) can create undue financial strain and potentially lead to housing affordability challenges. This is particularly relevant in areas where property values have increased rapidly, resulting in disproportionately high rates for residents. Will these drop if RV's for individual properties drop?!

1751 - Matthew Tolan

Yes, but see my previous comment. The rate increase should be close to the national average of ~15%.

>>>

Yes, but I think rates should be even higher to ensure there is no compromise to public services.

>>>

[Spending - Te Kaha], [Borrowing & Debt Management - Rating for Renewals]

The proposed rate increases are below the national average rise of 15.3% (Tom Kitchin “The rates conversation” Newsroom, 10 April 2024). If you exclude the portion for Te Kaha, the proposed Christchurch rates increases are significantly below the average. The community was vocal in its support for Te Kaha, so now we need to pay the cost of that facility, while also ensuring the Council operates a balanced budget. In short, the level of rating for asset renewals is insufficient.

1752 - Carolyn Boulton

I prefer to keep rate increases to a minimum by increasing revenue from other sources.

178 - Fiona Patchett

Rates have increased above inflation for years now and this needs to stop. Rates should only be increases in line with inflation. Citizens of Christchurch have had to tighten their budgets and put a hold of home projects and so should the Council.

>>>

This is increase will see people having to sell their homes and it will be our most vulnerable, low socio-economic or poorer communities that will be most affected.

1784 - Joanna Chan

This depends on what you choose to fund and whether this serves just one type of Christchurch local or all.

1788 - Sandra Ward

I don't think it is fair that I pay a lot more in rates as my GV in Bishopdale is higher than those in say Aranui. We all get the same services. Just because my GV is high doesn't mean that I have any extra cash flow than someone living on the other side of town. A fairer system needs to be looked into

1816 - Sarah Cook

That is a big jump for alot of homes. I understand that rates contribute to projects but as the last year or so has been hard financially proposing this increase will I feel may result in food, warmth being affected and coming into winter it will be an issue. Why not divide the 3 year amount evenly and put off projects till later i am sure some can be. For me $8-10 a week i can just do but that amounts up so other's will struggle.

1836 - James Mcgregor

especially when Environment canterbury are increasing their rates too, 13% is excessive, and unaffordable

>>>

If its coming down in the years to come, the average is about 8%. Why not charge 8% for the next 3 years, instead of 13, then 7, then 6?

1837 - Rosalie Griffith

Comments: Rate rises need to be nearer to rate of inflation at this time of recession

1852 - Jessica Lamb

Yes rates need to be increased but spent on addressing the climate crisis so that our community won't be financially burdened by the impacts we are going to face.

1859 - Lucy Gray

NO

Yes No

if it means more funding into climate action
Do you have any comments on increasing rates?
NO MORE RATES funding
crude ships! Fund our community, fund green energy.

1866 - El D'Arrisso

Nah

So many rate payers are landlords using housing to profit while many of us will not be able to afford homes. Make real estate a less desirable 'investment' by making them pay higher rates for a crisis they are helping to cause

1868 - Sara Rennell

Yes there are cuts to be made to ensure the rate payers aren't stretched beyond means.

1912 - Emma Borrie

For the right cause I would be willing to pay higher rates

1930 - Kate Yeoman

Do you have any comments on increasing rates.

Rates should be increased for the council to respond adequately to the need to ~~red~~ prevent climate change.

1938 - Alice Busbridge

Increasing rates only increases cost of living for your residents and makes life harder for us all. Do better with the money you have.

1943 - Harriet Scott

I believe the council should have adjusted the proposed hike this year to be lower - making all 3 years to come at around 8% rather than the tapered approach suggested.

1956 - Jenny Pringle

Our rates have doubled since 2021.

I am particularly concerned for those who already find money management challenging and the shame attached to this. I believe that frequently, this shame is internalized and not spoken of. This makes people unhappy and unwell.

1959 - Brad Waldon-Gibbons

i think the way in which the rate rise is prioritised needs to change.

1977 - Nicholas Lealand

This is a confusing question. I think that the rate should not just be increased to the percentages provided. I think that the rates should increase higher to properly address climate resilience needs. In this Long Term Plan, Council's water engineers are saying that none of their climate adaptation got money. The transport engineers said that roads for cars are getting more expensive. And most climate work is getting pushed out for years and years, while Ōtautahi gets closer to having its own Auckland floods.

>>>

I understand these priorities require significant investment, but I believe they represent responsible stewardship of resources and a brighter future for Christchurch. We have the chance to shape a place where everyone thrives—a city known for its sustainability, equity, and commitment to its citizens.

1978 - Robyn Lavender increase the rates even more than what is already suggested.

1998 - Grace Robinson

First and foremost, I align myself with the concerns raised regarding the inequitable burden of rates, particularly for the one-third of the city's population who are renters. As highlighted in the 2022 government study of the Housing Technical Working Group, renters pay rent based on average wages, resulting in a disproportionate impact on their finances. Therefore, I advocate for a reasonable increase in rates, comparable to Ecan's 24%, to ensure fairness in resource allocation and uphold the Council's responsibility to all residents.

>>>

The proposed rates rise is comparatively low when considering historical trends, and it is crucial that there is no compromise on essential services to keep rates down. Rates should be raised as necessary to maintain and improve services vital for the well-being of our community.

2006 - Aaron Mcloughlin

The rates increases coupled with the cost of living increases and the slight increases in the average income level will continue to make rate paying very difficult for many households.

>>>

We do not need more rates rises in the medium to long term as most households are struggling with existing rates rises.

>>>

Rates rises due to increasing debt when there is simply not enough money to go around cannot be sustained. As we notice the swift changes in the global financial economy would it not be prudent to simply postpone the projects that are not necessary for the general wellbeing og the poeple and the city.

2026 - Rena Oliphant

What matters most? ^{+ rates}

Has CCC got the balance between its services and rates right?

~~the~~ Public services for those in the middle class seem balanced - but for those in lower income - more services are needed and those in higher income the rates may need rebalancing because this demographic uses these public services less

Rates

>>>

↓ but only if there is specific and actionable implementation of these funds in the community - by peoples input / those who are rate payers should set more say '148 where their money goes!

2031 - Christine Suwandy

I agree to increase the rate, but most of us have hardship or financial problems. I suggest if the qv under 1million will increase 5% rate, between 1million - 1.5million will increase 10%. Over 1.5 million house their rate will be 13.50%

2045 - Sheherazad Bhoté

Being fiscally prudent is essential. If there is a rates rise to fund "what matters most", it is important to get value out of every dollar.

The services offered should be maintained, if they are giving value for money and benefitting people.

2046 - Nathaniel Herz Sardine

More rates please!

2058 - Janita Patrick

I think the increase of the rates for 2024/25 is too high at this time with so many families already struggling to make ends meet.

>>>

I think maintaining the current level of service should be a top priority but I would like to see a different split in the rates increase as I don't believe this is the right year for such a dramatic increase overall in our rates.

2079 - William Muir

The "nice to haves" should be cut to allow for important infrastructure and services to continue without a rates rise at nearly 3 times inflation

2086 - Hao Ning Tan

Please Please Please invest more. Keeping rates down isn't as important as keeping the sea levels down.

The investment needs to happen as soon as possible, not three, five or ten years away.

2102 - Laura Hayrick

Do you have any comments on increasing rates:

yes but for the rich I think people with lower income should not, rich people are often not paying high rates even though they could be I think this process should be supported more and enforced more

2105 - Tawhai Darnielle Te Karu

Manage the funding better.

2111 - Vaughan Wright

Again, please dont spend my rates on minority groups, if they want something let it be like it use to be, up to the groups to fundraise themselves

2121 - Cassie Welch (National Public Health Service (NPHS) Te Waipounamu)

Rates

Do you have any comments on our proposed changes to how we rate?

26. NPHS Te Waipounamu acknowledges the need for CCC to increase rates to fund services and projects that promote social, economic, environmental and cultural wellbeing, and also recognises the financial pressures currently faced by many residents.

27. However, NPHS Te Waipounamu also recognises the risks to public health from potential cuts to funding for key services and infrastructure if rates do not increase. We also note the current challenging economic conditions, and how this is affecting the cost of maintaining infrastructure and providing critical community services.

[Coder Note: Full attachment available]

2151 - Dominique Pope

Everyone is suffering financial challenges at the moment and will continue to in the next few years. Now is not the time to increase rates by 13%. Wait a while or significantly lower the initial increase.

2153 - Chiara Anderson

I think any rate rise over 10% is far too much to ask of people. We didn't need a gold plated stadium, nor a gigantic metro sports hub ... look at how that's going!!

2167 - Terry Frost

increase of 14% for next two years is over the top. No one i know is going to get that kind of increase in income to counter costs of living.

>>>

Reduce spending to level that is sustainable and to a level that means increase in rates is minimised to 2% more than yearly inflation.

2198 - Andrew Smith

We need to lower our expectations on new things and focus on essentials. People are being priced out of this city.

>>>

Please reduce rates, we can't afford to keep increasing rates to build new infrastructure, CCC needs to focus on core services and forget the other nice to haves

2242 - Martha Baxendell (New Brighton Project)

We are concerned that the raise in rates will potentially push some home owners into financial hardship. If there are opportunities to cut back on the nice to haves and just keep the must haves this would be a better outcome.

2246 - Karen Johnston

The bulk of the rate rise is I understand insurance and debt servicing. We need to keep maintaining our infrastructural assets plus the things that make Christchurch a great place to live and makes it an attractive place to want to come and live and study.

2296 - Vickie Walker

Comments: Average it out over 3 years.
It needs to be increased to make our city improved.

2297 - Andrew Walker

Comments: Why can you not average out the next 3 years? Would be 8.5% increase, a bit easier to swallow.

2302 - Lisa Dockery

The Council cannot continue using ratepayers as their bank. The majority of the population of Christchurch are fixed incomes & live within a budget. The same ~~the~~ should go for all councils. You can't keep going over budget. You know how much you receive from ratepayers so spending should be Rates within the budget & if not stop spending.

Given that both the Council and residents are facing significant financial challenges, it should be a priority

>>>

Yes do all as mentioned above.
Use should pay not inflicted on all ees and Charges ratepayers.

2310 - Helen Broughton (Waipuna Halswell Hornby Riccarton Community Board)

While the Board considers that the Council should be maintaining existing levels of service and level of investment in core infrastructure and facilities it is aware that many residents consider that the proposed average rates increase of 13.24% across all ratepayers and an average residential rate increase of 12.4% are not acceptable and that any increase should be less than 10%.

- The Board is aware that it is not only service levels that impact rates and urges the Council to explore other options for revenue to enable a lower level of rates increase.
- The Board appreciates the inclusion of rates analysis provided in the consultation document that enables residents and business owners to see the likely increase in their rates that will result from the proposed budget.

2321 - Pamela Camp

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Staff Matters]

It is high. You do need to look at the number of employees that are on high income, that aren't needed.

2327 - Charles Shaw

I support the rate increases as long as core infrastructure and facilities in small more remote communities such as Wainui are not neglected. I also expect the Council to use increases in my rates to care for and restore heritage developments, especially the Arts Centre and the Provincial Chambers.

2368 - Alaine Percasky

Rates should be below inflation. Many people are struggling to pay their mortgages, and this would make it worse for people.

>>>

Water/Sewage/Roads and footpaths should be a propriety.

>>>

People are losing their jobs left right and center. The people need to be put first. If certain projects need to be put on hold or stopped this should happen.

2380 - Ben Comfort

It should be easier on first home buyers etc

>>>

Should be lower

2381 - Kim Franicevic

Residents cannot afford such a gigantic increase. 5% would be more reasonable

>>>

Residents cannot afford such a gigantic increase. 5% would be more reasonable.

2385 - Ezra Mussa

Bearing in mind that one third of the city faces no burden from rates, since $\frac{1}{3}$ of the city's population rents, and pay (according to the 2022 government study of the Housing Technical Working Group) rent according to average wages in a city, it is inequitable for a Council which has responsibility for all residents to prioritise keeping rates low. CCC should raise rates by a reasonable level, comparable to Ecan's 24%. Since investing in infrastructure is always cheaper the sooner it is done, and since construction costs rise every year, and since Ōtautahi Christchurch faces severe infrastructure deficits, CCC must immediately raise rates by more than the current LTP proposes.

2389 - Aurora Garner-Randolph

we need rates increases, especially targeted ones on more wealthy households and landowners, and on landlords.

>>>

[Rates > Business Rates]

Increase rates, specifically targeted ones on businesses and landlords and the wealthy.

2406 - Chris Archer

[Grants & Funding>Arts Centre Funding]

I would be prepared to pay more for funding The Arts Centre.

2407 - Dave Evans

But, not 12.4%. Savings are possible if a clear review of real costs are made by competent individuals that have responsibility and accountability for their actions.

2463 - Rebekah Tregurtha

I think MUST HAVES should be maintained, but it's okay to lose some nice to haves if it means a smaller increase in rates.

2476 - Reuben Scott (Simeon Park Community Group)

We wonder whether the rates changes could be scaled in a similar way to a wealth tax - where the distribution of changes are higher for those that have properties with a higher CV.

248 - Eric Livingstone

At the rate of inflation would be better

2493 - Inder Singla

Increasing rates will add more financial burden on financially struggling families. Where the offer option could be to utilize ratepayer's money wisely. For example, people on benefits must get suitable support towards sustainable outcomes for our economy.

2507 - Bronte Barber

Half of the spending should not be forced upon our rate payers for previous lack of budgeting. A small rise makes sense (5%max). But what the CCC are proposing is excessive.

2529 - Bernard Newman

Comments: I believe that across all programmes the Council must operate a no rates increase and at maximum only to match the CPI

2540 - Jocelyn and Caroline Papprell and Syddall

While we recognise there are equity issues involved in continuing rate increases it is vital that the city does not cut levels of service and investment in some infrastructure. There is much to be done as we prepare for a difficult future – we can not continue to put needed changes off. We need to continue investing in active & public transport infrastructure, enhanced climate mitigation and adaptation projects (e.g. stormwater improvements), as we'd be foolish to put these improvements off much longer. We would hate to see levels of service cut in respect of our libraries and indoor pools.

>>>

Overall, we want our rates to go toward a greener, more sustainable future for our city, and to services that support communities that have been marginalised. We used to be proud of Christchurch's record of providing social housing just behind central government.

2545 - Antony Gough (Terrace Christchurch Ltd)

A rates increase of 13% is not able to be absorbed by the people of Christchurch. It is more than double inflation right now. As a landlord if we imposed a rent increase of 13% then our tenants would leave us. We have to live within a strict level of increase which typically is around 2.5% per annum. Council rates increases should be no more than inflation which currently is at around 7% and decreasing.

2565 - Neet Subraman

[Strategic Direction>Performance Framework]; [Strategic Direction>Financial Strategy]

The important bit here is maintaining the existing level of service. This cannot be compromised. However, please explore if the level of investment can be staggered a bit more so that the rates increase can go up as inflation cools down.

2580 - Michael Neville

That is a very twisted question. You should be maintaining the necessary levels of core infrastructure, and reducing and eliminating frivolous spending

259 - Margaret McEvedy

Yes rates will have to rise but please ensure Council concentrates on core issues until debt levels can be reduced.

2595 - Nicola Hely

While it stings and could have been helped by not going ahead with Te Kaha or the Cathedral rebuild, any further cost cutting will result in costs simply becoming higher further into the future. However, an increase in rates must include investment into active and public transport, as well as climate mitigation and adaptation.

2616 - Jane Chrisp

It's too high >>> and keep rates to inflation adjustment

2624 - Colin Ong

As it stands, the proposed 12% or so is already unpalatable - and unaffordable - for many. Any budget blowouts on projects and proposals undertaken will result in another hike to rates. To add insult to injury, applying for rates relief does not resolve this issue satisfactorily as the rebate proportion is miniscule. Many self-occupying homeowners (as opposed to investment property owners) are being priced out of their dwellings regardless of which scenario is eventually taken.

>>>

If the full rates increase is carried out, the service levels provided must be visible and demonstrable or the public will be feeling very ripped off.

>>>

Please see my opening comments about affordability to owner/occupiers of private residential property. Has the Council considered charging higher rates on investment properties?

2631 - Anna Canton (Annakey Productions Ltd)

I'd rather pay a little extra on my rates in order to retain the Screen Incentive Fund alongside other important creative and cultural utilities such as Arts Centre, libraries, art galleries and parks, that ensure the wellbeing and mental health of our city.

265 - Emily Anderson

I would prefer the increase is spread out over a longer period. Things are so tough for everyone right now.

2655 - Michele Mccaw

Although I worry for those families being affected by cost of living crisis. For low income families rates should be in line with level of inflation

2664 - Peter Galbraith

If projects are being deferred or discontinued to make these rate cuts occur, we strongly recommend that this practice be reversed. Rates have been kept artificially low through under-investment in or deferment of infrastructure, and commitments by Councillor and Mayoral candidates running on keeping rates low as a form of electoral promise. If we lower rates, our city will lose the ability to provide its current levels of service, and those who use council services will be disproportionately worse off. More affluent residents and neighbourhoods may think they are insulated from this trend as they are less likely to use these facilities, but they are still part of this city, and will feel the effects of austerity.

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > City Planning]

Because rates are based on the number of “rating units” in the city, it can spread costs more equitably by zoning for more building. Therefore, CCC should commit to implementing MDRS in full by 2025, in order to maintain a growing ratings base.

>>>

Because rates are based on the number of “rating units” in the city, it can spread costs more equitably by zoning for more building. Therefore, CCC should commit to implementing MDRS in full by 2025, in order to maintain a growing ratings base.

2671 - Julia Bradshaw

I would like to see more spend on libraries and other cultural facilities and am happy to see my rates increase to fund this. These institutions get a very small share of the rates, so an increase for them would only be a small rates increase.

>>>

though I am concerned about reduced spending on community facilities, especially libraries and grants to the Arts Centre, for heritage and environment projects. I am happy to pay more rates to fund these.

2693 - Tanya Markman

I believe your proposed 13% rate hike is too high.
I would like to see it close to 4% - the current rate of inflation.

2697 - Laura Molles

I would be prepared to accept a higher rates increase in order to expand support and services in areas that are currently slated to lose funding, such as the Environmental Partnerships Fund and support for the Arts Centre.

27 - Warner Wilson

Keep it at inflation levels or below learn to balance books

>>>

Learn to live with in existing budgets or leave and let someone that can balance accounts do it. Just asking for more money or blackmailing rate payers is appalling

>>>

Learn to balance the books and live within budgets. We rate payers are not an atm for useless staff to keep wasting funds

>>>

Learn to live with in existing budgets stop disrespecting rate payers and blackmailing them

>>>

Stop blackmailing rate payers by either increasing rates or reducing services actually use your brains for once and come up with something innovative

2701 - Blair Smith

I think it's a 'yes for now'.

2702 - Wendy Dick

I don't understand why the existing levels of infrastructure and facilities lead to 22 %increase. Money has been needlessly spent on projects that the ratepayers and community did not want e.g cathedral and sculptures.

2705 - Ian Le Page

This is a loaded statement as it has not considered savings that could be made by wasteful council staff on consultation which does not listen to public opinion.

[Coder Note: in regards to increasing rates]

>>>

The rating system is to high and will eventually lead to revolution and the break up of the council back to smaller more efficient Councils

2711 - Denise George

I would be happy with this level of increase for this coming year in order to maintain existing levels but need to see a vast improvement in the financial controls of the Council being undertaken to ensure the wasteful and sometimes unnecessary expenditure is dealt with.

2712 - Imogen Maxwell

I would propose a higher rate if required.

2718 - Milena Manusheva

Reasonable increase should be around 5%.

2723 - Laura Greenland

While a significant rate increase is not ideal, we can't grow or improve without change.

2734 - Sharon McDonald

Why are we facing a huge rate rise when we have so many new houses and apartments built in Christchurch and the peninsular. I would like to see the extra rate amount that has been collected on these.

>>>

I think that we as a city need to take a real look at the waste in management and resources that has happened and live within the means that we have. A lot, might I say most people in this great city can not afford Council to keep putting up rates to this amount. It is so hard now for people to make ends meet. Ok for the big earners but they are not the bread and butter of this Council.

2738 - Patricia (Patsy) Eastwood

The rates are way too high, surely some of the many properties that enjoy rate free status can be made rateable according to their annual income, which in some cases is substantial.

274 - Mark Christensen

Actually, rates should be further increased as per my comments above.

>>>

[Parks > Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration]

We simply need to raise rates further to properly address the twin crises of climate change and biodiversity loss.

2746 - Helen Taylor

Of course you should, but you are facing financial challenges because of endless bad and unnecessary spending. Our original sports stadium should have been repaired where it currently stood. QE II should have been reinstated / invested in, with no need for the Metro Sports Facility. The obsession with moving everything into the central city has cost ratepayers a fortune. These are things a lot of us don't want, or have no use for but are paying for. I'd be happy to pay rates towards things that matter. So now infrastructure and the Arts Centre are threatened because of budget blowouts. Well done. No one wants a rate rise because of poor decisions.

>>>

If these proposals hinder or penalise, that's never a helpful approach.

2758 - Christopher Seay

Spend more money. We cannot, and will not, have a vibrant, climate positive, innovative, liveable city with the amount and types of investment suggested in the long term plan. The only thing that lower rates do now is put off those rates for the future. We need to think as a collective, and not as individuals - our money is so much better pooled into the city and invested into safe, healthy, and climate positive directions.

2780 - Maree Hemingsen`

Put rate payers needs before government wants.

2781 - Sarah Hemmingsen

No Don't know
Need to look at option to reduce rates.

2787 - Jean Drage

An analysis of the impact of high rate rises on low income households across the city.

>>>

Further, you may acknowledge the affordability of rates for many in our community (especially with such a big increase proposed), but where is the analysis of individual and family income versus what ratepayers will be required to pay or can afford to pay?

>>>

The emphasis in this long term plan must be on prioritising core services over the 'nice to haves'. As already pointed out, rate rises are becoming unaffordable for many, particularly with the current financial stress on households.

28 - Geoff Egan

I very concerned about rate rises, they should be no higher than the rate of inflation. Work the budget from that money.

>>>

Be responsible and make the hard decisions.

>>>

Council are voted to do a job responsibly that means making hard decisions.

2823 - Aurora Garner-Randolph (School Strike For Climate Ōtautahi)

Rates need to rise by more.

>>>

Rates should rise by even more to maintain and extend services. See attached document for further submission information.

>>>

Rates should be raised to support operational spending. This should not be borrowed.

Residents of the city are entitled to expect that CCC will do its part to ensure that we can live long, healthy, and fulfilling lives within the city. The current LTP definitely doesn't do that. It refuses to raise rates by enough to cover the always-increasing cost of infrastructure, which is only going to get more expensive as the climate crisis worsens. 1/3 of residents of the city don't pay rates, so it's letting down an entire third of the city to even consider cutting services to keep rates low. Comparable councils such as Ecan are raising rates by nearly 25%. Some councils are raising them by 33%. CCC must raise rates by even more than it's currently proposing, or there will be no infrastructure in our future.

2826 - Dan Scott

Not only should rates increase the amount needed to maintain existing levels of service, but they should increase so that these services are expanded while also ensuring we can sufficiently invest in the maintenance of our infrastructure as opposed to kicking this can down the road. The council has a duty to serve all Christchurch's residents, not only ratepayers - and as per the work of the Housing Technical Working Group, we know that rates increases tend to not noticeably manifest in rent increases, so these two groups should not be conflated as being one and the same.

2832 - Riley Neupauer (University of Canterbury Green Party)

[Spending > Capital Programme]

The proposed 13.24% rates rise only increases the average annual rates rise since 2013 to 6.38%; this means that 13.24 is a comparatively low rates increase. Without it, the average annual rates rise since 2013 is 5.42%. Given the suboptimal conditions afflicting much of the city's infrastructure, it is clear that rates need to be raised to support these vital facilities

2840 - Matthew Carter

I was surprised at the statement on page 39 of the consultation document: "More development means more ratepayers, and that means the rates burden becomes shared amongst a bigger group. As long as the number of rateable properties keeps growing, the rates increase for existing ratepayers will be lower than the year-on-year total rates increase." There's a presupposition here of ongoing growth, which leads me to ask whether this is a Christchurch City Council orthodoxy, for the most part not discussed or debatable. Sustainability can be compatible with growth - some growth - but not indefinitely?

285 - Sue Le Mesurier

Should be a maximum of 10%

2868 - Jonty Coulson

Furthermore, the city council has a responsibility to ensure the wellbeing of all its citizens, not just the those who do pay rates. By keeping rates low whilst responding to the climate crisis, the council would be making those least responsible for the crisis bear the brunt of the effects. It is also important to consider future generations in the LTP. Lowering rates and reducing investment into civic infrastructure will negatively impact young people and future generations as they grow up in Christchurch, especially with the current cost of living crisis.

>>>

Rates should increase with increased levels of service, which Christchurch needs to meet its climate goals.

>>>

In light of Christchurches current climate reponse, I support further increases in rates, as well as more exploration of other avenues of generating council revenue.

>>>

[Rates > Residential Rates], [Rates > City Vacant Differential], [Fees & Charges > Car Parking (Parks)], [Other Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Change Fund], [Three Waters > Storm Water & Land Drainage]

The increased funding through rates, climate conscious CVD plans and parking charges will be able to appropriately fund climate mitigation and resilience - including the stormwater activity plan, in which not enough funding has been provided for basic mitigation projects.

>>>

I am disappointed that this question refers only to the process of climate adaptation. Science shows that adaptation is worthless if a certain level of mitigation is not reached, and we are not on track to reach this mitigation. As a result, this submission is written under the knowledge that mitigation is a form of climate adaptation. The city council should however recognize the importance of climate mitigation in its communication and policy. The current investments in climate change by the city council are nowhere near enough. The climate resilience fund should be massively increased, to respond to the scale of the problem at hand. On a similar vein, the council's sustainability fund should not end in 2025. The fund must instead continue with increased funding, to greater enable the people of Christchurch to understand, relate to, and respond to the climate crisis.

29 - Hayley Young

Maintain the basic and keep rates much lower. A rates increase of 5% is reasonable. 13% is unreasonable when our wages have not gone up as much. How am I meant to afford that much of a rates rise on a low income? You need to scale down the spending particularly on wasteful projects such as the stadium. Sell the stadium and other projects like the cathedral and the asts centre. Let a private company fund it. We cannot afford it. And if you have to scale back on roads in the central city, which has had a lot in recent years, then so be it. It is a cost of loving crisis.

2913 - Amanda Ovenden

Just spend the contributions more wisely. Nobody can afford an increase.

2922 - Zak Morrison

In response to the question regarding the maintenance of existing levels of service and investment in core infrastructure and facilities, which implies a proposed average rates increase of 13.24% across all ratepayers and an average residential rate increase of 12.4%, my stance is a definite yes. Importance of Continued Investment: - Sustainable Transport and Climate Initiatives: It is imperative that any adjustments in rates take into account the necessity for ongoing investment in public and active transport systems, alongside climate mitigation and adaptation projects. These elements are crucial for the well-being of future generations and should be considered non-negotiable. The deferral or discontinuation of such projects to facilitate rate cuts would be a disservice to the community and should be promptly reversed. - Historical Underinvestment in Infrastructure: The practice of keeping rates artificially low, often through the underinvestment in or deferment of essential infrastructure, has been a trend exacerbated by electoral promises made by Council and Mayoral candidates. This approach has led to a backlog of necessary work and has placed the city's infrastructure on an unsustainable path. Reversing this trend is essential to ensure the long-term viability and resilience of our city's infrastructure. - Impact of Lowering Rates: Lowering rates might seem like an attractive proposition for immediate financial relief; however, it would significantly impair the city's ability to maintain its current levels of service. This reduction in service quality would disproportionately affect those who rely on council services the most. While more affluent residents and neighborhoods might perceive themselves as insulated from these effects due to lesser reliance on public facilities, the broader impacts of austerity measures would inevitably affect the entire city. The interconnectedness of our community means that a decline in service quality in one area can have far-reaching implications across the city. In conclusion, maintaining the existing levels of service and investment in core infrastructure and facilities, despite the associated rate increases, is a necessary step to ensure the long-term sustainability and resilience of Christchurch. It is a commitment to future generations, ensuring they inherit a city that is not only livable but thriving. The proposed rate increases, while challenging, are an investment in our city's future, safeguarding against the compounded costs of deferred maintenance and underinvestment. As such, I strongly advocate for the continuation of these investments as outlined in the Draft Long Term Plan 2024-2034.

2945 - Lynne Lochhead

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding], [Grants & Funding > Orana Park Funding]

It is reasonable to expect some rise in rates given that all costs are rising. On the whole the LTP strikes a reasonable balance but the attempt to minimise rate increases by cutting funding to major city assets such as the Arts Centre and Orana Park is ill-judged. In the case of the Arts Centre the withdrawal of previous support is directly at odds with the stated outcome of being a cultural powerhouse city. The Arts Centre is clearly a major component of the culture and heritage of the city which should not be put at risk.

2947 - Katia De Lu

As I said earlier, an increase in rates is necessary to maintain current levels of service and invest in our future through climate adaptation and mitigation projects. I want my rates to go towards green council jobs and services that help our communities, especially those who have been pushed to the margins of society. Please do not cut back on services that people rely on or take away people's jobs.

2949 - Graeme John Marriott

Anything up to 15% is acceptable

2951 - Les McKay

A 13.4% rate increase is over 3 times the rate of inflation and is unacceptable. Council need to trim expenditure to do the necessary things and NOT the nice to have,

>>>

Rate rises MUST be kept at the rate of inflation.

2954 - Tim Frank

Due to the significant cost increases, such a proposed increase is understandable. In actual fact, since there are few other options for raising funds, the rates increase might even need to be slightly higher. That is not welcome, but over the years, rates have probably been artificially kept low.

3003 - Sonya Hodder (Spreydon Neighbourhood Network)

Many people in Spreydon are struggling financially. A 13.24% increase will be too demanding. If it is to proceed could it be averaged out?

3017 - Heather Venis

I would like to see a maximum of 8% increase for 24/25. Residents are already struggling to make ends meet and the council should be held accountable for Christchurch becoming an unaffordable place to live. We all have an increase in food, rent, mortgage and live on a fixed tight income. Especially for elderly and single income families.

3021 - Viane Makalio

I think a more staggered approach to project timelines would be more appropriate. Cost of living is at an all time high and then on top we are looking to increase rates. Home affordability and ownership needs to be a reality for families if we take this approach i fear it will set a tone that homeownership is unrealistic. I also believe that it is a difficult call to make during a recession the increases are high and it is only going higher over the next few years. If though increases are anticipated to increase 0% 4th year onward that would still mean that over all we have had an almost 50% increase on our rates in 10 years. Hardly seems right that we should increase by so much in a single year just to achieve projects that have been delayed and forced upon us.

3035 - Claire Coveney

Flexibility of paying rates for people on lower incomes.

3043 - J Elliott

Rates are out of control and need capping at the Lower of 5% or CPI The apportionment of Rates for the Retired and Single needs to be overhauled as Rates are particularly onerous for Single people and Retired on limited income, taking up a disproportionate amount of their state pension and income to fund the tax. The $ reduction for a single person is paltry and does not reflect the use of services for a single person as opposed to a family. A 50% reduction should apply for a single person in a household.

3078 - Adele Bishop

If used wisely.

3083 - Peter Joyce

Perhaps all rate payers will need to pay a little more.

3089 - Trevor Lord

The investments are not balanced well enough. The increases should be made proportionate with the cost of maintaining what we have presently, but increased allowances for heritage and related cultural and civic amenities and efforts by others to maintain same based upon the premise that the CCC will offer supportive levels of grants and seeding funds to ensure the critical momentum and viability of such projects.

31 - Gary Durey

No rates increase can be allowed by the elected members to be higher than inflation

>>>

The council should face criminal charges of extortion if it goes ahead with a rates increase higher than inflation.

3123 - Kate Markman

Our infrastructure is in pretty dire need of investment, I would even argue for a higher rate increase

3128 - Chris Smith

The increase should be in line with CPI. This much is unacceptable.

3134 - Kim Lister

Cost of living is out of control. Single income houses can't sustain these rates on one income. Perhaps rates should be on amount of people in the houses

3144 - Elizabeth Hofman

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration>City Planning]

[Rates>Residential rates]

Making sure that lower-density housing pays its way - the more distance between houses, the more infrastructure is needed and this should be paid for by those residents, not subsidised by people in higher-density areas.

3163 - Simon Cobb

I appreciate that you have a challenge but 13% is a huge increase. One thing I would like to see protected is the funding of the restoration of the Arts Centre.

3170 - Derek Doddington (Top Dog Theatre)

I would like to look at other cuts rather than massive rate increases which people can't afford

3174 - Gary Morrison

The rates increase needs to come down, or alternative means of income need to be found. This discussion needs to involve central Government and the surrounding councils who use Christchurch City amenities for free without contributing.

3188 - Tony Kettle

Use a progressive rate system to capture more from those who can afford to pay.

3203 - Vic Daniel

rate increase should not above the rate of inflation

3230 - Suz Guthrie

The rates should be maintained by a private company. It shouldn't be the councils job to provide the money but to spend it wisely.

3240 - Sarah Brunton

[Strategic Direction>Additional Savings & Efficiencies]

Please find savings. The proposed rates rise is unaffordable. Please look into other areas (outside service levels) that have an impact on reducing rates.

3248 - Dave Edwards

Everyone should pay rates of the same amount. Rates on house values is a forced rich tax controlled by the property market. Why are people forced out of a long term homes because the value of their property has increased the rating charges. Older retirees with low incomes are having trouble affording these increases especially with everything else is increasing as well.

3268 - Savannah Da Silva

Rates increases seem quite high and the headline uses of funding for The Kaha, water and transport appear to miss vital areas such as education and safe, and affordable housing

3300 - Jenne Robb

Houses are over valued, and rates should be readjusted.

3301 - Anna Wilkes

Rates rises are inevitable however what is more important is prudent spending and minimising waste of money due to poor project planning

3307 - Richard Griffiths

Focus only on maintaining road and water infrastructure and limiting council waste on pay and conditions. Reduce councillors pay annually by the same percentage as rates rises. Cease assuming rates should rise each year.

Poor rate payers should not be funding wealthy sportsmen and unnecessary cycleways ,speed humps or road changes that inhibit traffic flows causing increased carbon emissions

3310 - James Lunday

But only if money is directed towards environment , arts and being ambitious for the city

3318 - Mary Ogilvie

I would not mind a raise in rates if the money was used WISELY to the benefit of the people.

3353 - Janna Gresham

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

If there is rates increase then prioritise visible key community places like the arts centre; then I feel I am getting value for a rates increase

3371 - Malcolm Frost

[Spending > Capital Programme (General)], [Borrowing & Debt Management > Borrowing & Debt Management]

The trajectory of compounding Rates rises tends to suggest significant affordability problems for many residents & businesses in the future.

>>>

It is difficult to comment without really being transparently informed as to how expenditure might be constrained, without too deleterious effect on services & proposed works.

>>>

[Rates]

Only, that like many municipal authorities both here & overseas, the preservation of solvency is likely to be challenging over the coming years. Incomes (for both private persons &, certainly, for small businesses) are unlikely to keep pace with Rates rises. This infers that the real burden of Rates will continue to grow as a proportion of the city's income over time. At some point this risks becoming very challenging so the further into the future 'the crisis' can be procrastinated (by careful budgeting) the better.

3376 - Barry Lee

[Rates > Business Rates], [Rates > Remote Rural Rates]

Council must be responsible to its ratepayers and seek an increase no more than the current 4% inflation rate. The current proposed rate increase will have significant impact on those struggling with the cost of living crisis in our community.

3411 - Marian Krogh (Protect Our Winters NZ)

We must have more, and ongoing investment in climate mitigation, especially public and active transport, and also climate adaptation. This means higher rates. According to a 2024 study on the economic commitment of climate change, anything mitigation we don't pay for now, will cost us six times more in future damages. If we don't increase our rates to keep up with the current and future levels of service, Christchurch will be worse off. We need to invest in active and public transport infrastructure, climate mitigation projects and climate adaptation projects. If we don't do so now, future generations will pay the price. Lower rates will mean lower services. The wealthy residents of the city may think this is fine, but as residents of the city, they will still benefit from more services, and poorer residents will be disproportionately impacted. For many many years there have been promises of lower rates, which has meant many many years of underinvestment in infrastructure. This can't continue.

3417 - Jack McConnell

Rates need to be increased by even more than suggested

3419 - Michael Allan

The rates are still too low due to the past habit of continually keeping rises to a minimum. Rates should NOT be struck according to the ability of the lowest paid to pay, they should be struck according to the ability to pay of the average ratepayer. There are a host of ways to financially assist the lowest paid workers.

>>>

You would be sounder financially with a 20% increase.

3420 - Jade Mulcahy

How is anyone meant to afford it?!?!?!?!?

>>>

At a stretch a 5% rate hike

3424 - Taylor Johnskn

Learn to manage money better before just taking more from ratepayers.

3425 - Hugh Dacre

The rates increase is probably inevitable. There are so many things to be tackled, but it is essential that council staff are given clear direction to concentrate on essentials, but are also engaged in the process of achieving more for less. They need to be part of the process. Many of them are knowledgeable and do a good job and without their positive involvement in maximising the return on investment we will get no improvement. (My contact with council staff has nearly always been positive even if the wheels turn somewhat slowly)

3429 - Somnath Bagchi (Avonhead Community Group Incorporated)

The proposed rates increases are excessive and will have a significant adverse impact on the city. New Zealand is going through a recession and Christchurch has a relatively high proportion of pensioners and fixed income earners. Rates increases will hurt not only homeowners but also renters, as homeowners pass on the increased rates through higher rent. The rates rises will risk making the city unaffordable and push people out to areas where the rates are comparatively lower, having a follow-on impact on Christchurch businesses. Alternatives to rates rises - such as asset sales and/or revenue through businesses where the Council is a shareholder - should be prioritised as sources of revenue for the Council. Funding of projects and organisations which bring low value for money should be reduced or stopped altogether.

>>>

The phrasing of this question presupposes that there is no way to maintain existing levels of service and investment in core infrastructure and facilities without a 13.24% rates rise. See our earlier comment about alternatives to rates rises.

3444 - Jo McGregor

Howabout blending 3 years in a row at 8.3%? (rather than 13%, then 8%, then 7% the following years.)

3469 - Sasheen Brownlie

Maybe charge a vety small amount more

3480 - Martin Robertson

Would suggest 10% is better

3483 - Jo Bethell

I am not opposed to a rates increase because we can afford it and recognise the need to spending to maintain city infrastructure and improve our climate resilience and adaptation to climate change, however I encourage the council to think carefully about impact on lower socio-economic groups - both in the context of impact of rates increase (either directly or indirectly eg. through rent increases from landlords passing on the increase) and in the context of reduced services if the rates are not increased.

3507 - Gary Barber

CPI increases at worst should maintain a sustainable and operative council.

3535 - Anna Harper

It is too high, given the inflation that residents are experiencing with cost of living increases. Should be no more than 7.5% per annum. Too many sideline agendas, focus on getting the basics right. Cut back on some plans. Keep the Stadium, that is a future investment for the city. No investment in rainbow crossings or other such woke agenda. Civil facilities such as library, art gallery, museum and other such city buildings should retain funding, not the Cathedral however, too costly.

3542 - Beatrix Gilling

Cutting services as a guaranteed consequence of lower rates is unacceptable to me, I would rather pay higher rates.

3548 - Dwayne McCormick

Currently different areas suburbs are charged different rates but each area has the same voting power in deciding how the spending is allocated. I propose that each area contribute equal rates to amount of the lowest suburbs maximum collected rate collection and that after that any rate collection over that in each suburb contribution be allocated by the decision of the councilor representative of that suburb. This will be more equitable and fair as each councillor has one vote but the suburbs they represent may contribute 25% of the total rate income of city while another may only contribute 3%.

3558 - Patrick Kennedy

We are in a unique position among Aotearoa New Zealand cities, in that some of our infrastructure renewal has been forced on us by the Canterbury earthquakes and so our infrastructure is not as decrepit as other cities. However, the last decade was a blip in the pattern of intentional defunding of infrastructure in the name of low rates and unsustainable election promises that we have seen in most cities for decades. Higher rates are the obvious outcome of this short-term magical thinking. Any cuts to rate rises should not affect continued investment in public and active transport, libraries, public facilities, and climate adaptation and mitigation projects. These are the legacy that will be left for future generations and should not be deferred in order to shave a handful of dollars off of a rates bill. I strongly disagree with the longer term projections of rates rises dropping to below 1%. This will be impossible without massive changes to how the city derives income, and an enormous reduction of strain on our infrastructure. It also cuts our ability to continue to deliver the important services.

3562 - AJ Russell

[Spending > Te Kaha]

and while I do recognise the downstream benefits of a good venue to the whole city, I disagree strongly with the proposed rates rise component related to the stadium. This should be more of a user-pays funding model, not an huge levy imposed on everyone.

3577 - Marie Byrne

While I appreciate that a rates increase is required, I believe that there should be investigations for ways to make savings, or increase revenue, that would keep the rates increase required as low as possible, preferably under 10%.

3599 - Hayley Guglietta

Fine with it one year if it means we get the Stadium off our books and productive but we need to push other nice to haves into other years in order to provide relief in 2026/7

3604 - Caroline Burt

Obviously I would like it to be lower. I would like to see further thought be put into how to minimise the rate increases in the long term future, not just the next 3 years.

3605 - Nic Sewell

And I would support further rates increases for sustainable infrastructure like cycleways.

3610 - Eric Stierna

Our level of investment should be phased in gradually over three years to allow the rates to be increased proportionally across the first three years of the LTP. A step change rate increase of 13.24% would be punishing to the ratepayers. A structured lean approach should be adopted to ensure the level of service is maintained or grows while freeing resources that can be used to accelerate the level of investment and grow NGO organisations within Christchurch. Adopting a lean mindset and targeting cost reductions while maintaining and growing services, requires driving changes to how the council delivers services and that can be difficult. However, the use of lean methodologies in the delivery of services, is a critical technique to learn and apply if we want to make the most of what the LTP has to offer our community.

>>>

The proposed 13.24% rate change should be phased in over 3 years to allow people to adjust gradually to the impact on their lifestyle and budgets

3613 - Catherine McLeavy

The rates increase for residential, commercial and rural must be held at the most, to the CPI rate. Rates should not be linked to the capital value of a property. They should be linked to use.

>>>

Do not believe at all that future rates rises will increase as low as stated.

3621 - Morgane Honore

Any adjustment in rates must prioritize essential investments in public and active transport, as well as climate mitigation and adaptation projects. These investments are indispensable for safeguarding our city's resilience and livability for future generations, and compromising on them is not an option. Historically, rates have been artificially suppressed through underinvestment in infrastructure and the reluctance to fulfill necessary commitments. Politicians' promises of keeping rates low have further contributed to this situation, leading to a shortfall in funding for essential services and projects. Lowering rates may seem appealing in the short term, but it would inevitably result in a decline in the quality and availability of council services. This would disproportionately impact those who rely on these services the most. While more affluent residents and neighborhoods may perceive themselves as insulated from these effects, they too are integral parts of our city and will ultimately feel the repercussions of austerity measures. It's imperative that we prioritize long-term sustainability over short-term savings and commit to adequately funding essential services and projects. Only by doing so can we ensure a prosperous and equitable future for all residents of our city.

>>>

Financial Responsibility: It's important for the council to demonstrate financial responsibility and accountability in the allocation of resources. Prioritizing projects and initiatives that deliver maximum value for taxpayers' dollars while minimizing waste and inefficiencies is crucial for long-term fiscal sustainability.

3622 - Jono de Wit

Most of the proposed increase in rates is due to inflation and increased interest and insurance costs. I do not believe that ratepayers and residents should be asked to pay more for less services. The council must continue its existing levels of service and investment, and in some areas like active transport investment, must increase it further.

3626 - Connie Christensen

We HAVE to pay for rising costs of just maintaining current services (probably more than 13%?), and we also HAVE to increase investment in sustainable transport infrastructure, drinking water security, futureproof waste water and general waste handling minimization systems. This all cost money, but it will cost A LOT MORE money to not maintain and renew now. We might have to look a raising the level of rates increases for year 2 and 3 to fund this.

3634 - Peter Cooper

[Spending > Te Kaha]

Rather than increase rates somuch, its time for businesses who benefit from the stadium to pay their share. We hear that events bring so much money into the city, but who benefits? Not the average ratepayer whose roads or footpaths still havent been fixed since the earthquakes!

3637 - Sam Davidson

The proposal to increase rates is supported, particularly to fund essential infrastructure and climate adaptation projects. However, the current 13.24% increase does not adequately meet the needs outlined in the LTP, such as the Stormwater Activity Plan and the Transport Asset Management Plan, both of which are underfunded.

3638 - Patricia Frankland

Rates kept below the rate of inflation

3640 - Angela Neal

Things need to be cut back and rescheduled to ensure people can afford their rates.

>>>

What about the elderly who still living at home. Their rates increase the same. Punished because they are not working but rates are huge for them. Yes most can just afford it. But not fair.

3652 - Andrew Hamlin

Im guessing yes ? It is what it is. I think CCC can reduce costs on expenditure across the board in order to keep the rates down a little bit more than what's currently proposed.

>>>

No not really, have not analyzed the changes. All I know is public want lower rates and will always complain.

3653 - Andrew McDougall

Being on a fixed income I would find the rates increase a challenge. It is also difficult when I don't see any of the infrastructure improvements in my own area.

3658 - Tom Logan

1. I would support a higher rates increase now over insufficient investment that would lead to significantly higher rates or deteriorated amenities in the future. 2. Any change in rates must account for continued investment in public and active transport, climate mitigation projects, and climate adaptation projects. These are simply non-negotiable for me as a young homeowner and business owner in Christchurch.

3668 - Gavin Hardie

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Governance]

No, the CCC must not increase RATES above the inflation rate because people who are now retired and living on a fixed income, e.g. pension or superannuation, are already finding it tough and difficult to meet current living costs. ANY increase in our rates will negatively impact our quality of life and living costs. This will be detrimental to our health and mental outlook. I currently own my own home and after working all my life it would be grossly unfair to expect me to pay for an increase in my rates. What does the Christchurch City Council expect its older persons to do when the CCC brings in a rates increase in the middle of a cost of living crisis? Please do not increase CCC Rates above the rate of inflation. (This is what you were elected on at the last CCC Elections.)

3671 - Linda Nicolson

If you are going to keep increasing rates then the rates rebate threshold must increase significantly for older people and those on fixed incomes.

3683 - Max Sullivan

so for me, the most important aspect of resiliency is making sure we are adding more taxes and rates on our richest residents and using these to help with our transition and put more support systems in place for those who are currently our poorest.

In order to appropriately fund its services, the council's proposed rates increase are not enough. I think we should be increasing rates increases significantly more, especially in certain cases.

3692 - Jen McKinnel

We need to find ways to cut costs, exactly like we do in our house, i cant go to my boss and ask for a 13% payrise!

3693 - Lynette Wills

The CCC Rates should be no more than the rise in inflation. People of fixed incomes including superannuation and pensions cannot afford to live if the rates increase beyond the rise in inflation.

>>>

Proposed Rates are too high.. Keep the rates at the same rate as inflation.

3697 - Jennie Brittenden

The rates rises are going to be very hard to bare for many residents. Landlords will also put up rents and it will be tennants who will pay the extra. This will in turn cause there to be less spendable income in people's pockets for Christchurch businesses.

>>>

The rate increase should be in line with inflation.

371 - Justine Aldous

While I'm not delighted about rates increases, I understand the need to cater for all people in ChCh. 3 waters would have been helpful but short-sightedness and an 'I Me Mine' attitude has stopped that (with apologies to George Harrison). In short, I am resigned to rates rises as long as they support a) the environment (including public transport) b) community spaces (libraries etc) and c) heritage buildings.

3724 - Terence Sissons

The proposed 12.5% increase in residential rates for 2024/25 and a 26% rate increase over the first 3 years of the DLTP are unaffordable. Ratepayers could not complain if rates were increased in line with inflation, but double digit increases are not on.

3743 - Ben Ellis

Given the historic underinvestment in council infrastructure, a higher rates increase is required.

3746 - Quinn Ledgerwood-Gee

[Strategic Direction > Climate Change]

Rates raise from CCC is inadequate to cover all costs needed for maintenance of services as well as climate projects which should be considered essential. A 13.24% rates increase only increases the average annual rates rise from 2013 to 6.38%, a value lower than inflation. This does not seem feasible with current need for spending especially when facing pressures to adapt in a climate crisis. Rates also do not effect rent prices and target those who can largely afford to pay them so this is a largely fair way to obtain the needed money for infrastructure maintenance and projects.

3751 - Tom Rainey

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?]

Absolutely maintain services, and implement small increases in rates as required. Inflation and increased cost of living is an accepted evil at the moment. Rate payers expect a prudent, well balanced long term plan that equitably addresses the needs and requirements of the city and rate payers.

3757 - Sonia Kennedy

While I've agreed in principle that I'd like to see existing levels of service maintained and a level of investment into core infrastructure, I do acknowledge that for some households, even an increase of $8 a week will be impactful. If there are options to either add more of a "user pays" approach for certain services/facilities in order to lessen the rates impact, then I think that is reasonable.

3758 - Mads Churchhouse

Rates reduction is an obviously inequitable austerity policy which will make everyone in the city poorer long term, under the guise of giving (certain) people more cash in hand short term. Reducing council income, results in slashing services, which are cut directly out of the hands of those communities that need them most. Rates are paid by those who can afford to, and who should be, subsidising the infrastructure and services that all of us benefit from. >>> One third of the city faces no burden from rates, since 1/3 of the city's population rents, and those that do pay (according to the 2022 government study of the Housing Technical Working Group) rent according to average wages in a city, it is inequitable for a Council which has responsibility for all residents to prioritise keeping rates low. CCC should raise rates by a reasonable level, comparable to Ecan's 24%. >>> It's wrong to be prioritising keeping rates low, when the only way to ensure ordinary households aren't paying exponentially higher costs of living in the coming decades is to use rates to invest in public infrastructure and shore up our community now.

3775 - Kate Latimer

Rates reduction needs to be uppermost of concern as cost of living crisis impacts in this cycle. Some of the new projects need to be put on hold.

3780 - Jack Halliday

There has been significant underinvestment from local government partly as a result of elected members promising to keep rates unsustainably low. Any rates increase must continue investment in public and active transport, climate mitigation and adaptation and urban revitalisation projections. It is simply irresponsible to continually pass underinvestment onto future generations.

3809 - Johnathon Ridden

This level of rate increase should only be suggested when interest rates are predicted to track down to offset household costs.

3811 - Greg Canton

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?]

No, rates increases above inflation are not fair if sustainable, I am also questioning decision making in regards to what the money is spent on. Like everyone else we have to ensure that value for money is here.

>>>

Rates should be capped at inflation at its highest. The government is cutting costs... the council should do the same . I am not sure how parole are supposed to pay year upon year increases , I struggle to see what extra we get for it.

3821 - Peter Guy

Try keep the rates down for pensioners.

3831 - Rick Jones

Keep rate increases to the avg cpi

3844 - My-Linh Dang

Per my previous response, rates increases should be ZERO or, at worst, in line with CPI increases. If this means reassessing projects and service - then do this! Many residents are on fixed incomes or, will have very small income increases in the foreseeable future. Any rates increase will make rate paying very difficult for many households. This is not acceptable.

>>>

The proposed rates increases is unacceptable. Council's number 1 priority is to find a way to maintain existing services while not increasing rates. If it is not possible to maintain the current level of services, then cut costs. It is not a sustainable way to fund projects by requiring citizens to fund the projects in times when people are struggling with the cost of living.

3845 - Wolfgang Rack

I don't believe that an increase much higher than inflation should happen. I would rather prefer to have it balanced out over the years.

3859 - Sally Widdowson

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund], [Other/Special Interest Topics > Accelerating adaptation]

I'd be happy to pay even more to fund some of your discretionary plans eg to accelerate climate adaptation and to crete a climate resilience fund. This issue is accelerating fast and it is a false economy to wait until disaster strikes.

3861 - Alex Robinson

Personally, I believe that the rates increase should be higher, coupled with unleashing CCHL's potential and allowing it more flexibility with its investment strategies, to support better quality services, more cultural funding, and expediting heritage work.

>>>

We should be increasing levels of service and investment, with a greater average rates increase than currently planned.

3862 - Katharine Metherell

Charges need to be fair and reflect user pays and also balanced to income. If a degree of rates is paid to cover services that are not even available to certain areas e.g. insufficient bus routes to cover the Halswell area then the rates should be adjusted until there is an option.

3868 - Don Gould

I want rates down and am happy that levels of service are cut.

>>>

My submission this year is quite simple. I want the rates rise back in single digits. I understand that 1% relates to $6 million dollars of operational funding or $94 million capital project funding.

Having reviewed the capital projects list I can see that you could choose to cancel the entire program and not get to my desired target, hence I am calling for you to cut 24% from the operational budget.

>>>

Having run one of the public LTP engagement meetings in my area and attended 4 others, I hear the call from the community to cut the cloth.

I urge you to direct the CEO to push harder at staff to hear the community request to keep the proposed rise much closer to the rate of inflation.

It concerns me with such a large annual budget that all spending by CCC does impact the economy for the whole country, not just our community.

>>>

Members I request you to pull this budget back to a single digit rise, I ask you to look at a range of areas, get civic focus back on civic issues and stop allowing the LGA to be used as a lever to play everywhere at my expense. After last years 59% rise, 27.7% over the next three years is just unacceptable to me. I ask you to work in integrity, reduce public anger and address climate faith issues with a more every day approach. Have a better look at transport issues, we are at the dawn of a transition away from bus transport. Stop arguing. Put a cap on the amount of engagement an issue can have and step back from issues that the community clearly doesn't have agreement on. Social media is a good space for the public to sort out their differences before they bring a united front to the table.

3883 - Colin Meurk

off top of head don't have a strong sense of implications of these, but one thing we mustn't price students out of the market because we now have the most vibrant universities and tertiary sector in the country - partly because people are coming here for the cheaper living costs. don't kill the goose laying the golden egg.

3885 - Lesley Willoughby

I am not happy with the potential increase of rates but if there can be money spent on the infrastructure in the east of Christchurch where this is long overdue then I can accept this increase when it is spent in those areas.

3888 - Miriam McCaleb

This is rough, but seems to be what all councils are doing.

3897 - J E Thomas

Due to the current situation with cost of living and standard of living in NZ I think a rates rise needs to be carefully considered and kept to a minimum.

3907 - Graham Muir

The Council needs to make the 'hard' decisions and remain within the rate of inflation increase. The proposed increase would consume approx 13 weeks (25%) of this years pension increase (even more when ECan increases are added). Excessive increases force more people to make 'hard' decisions on what they can afford.

3908 - Cathy Harlow

Concentrate on the long term stuff and try to minimise the damage to peoples' bank balances now. A very simplified answer to a very simplified question is: - look at cutting levels of service as a short term measure to reduce rates where this has minimal impact on the majority of residents - keep up investment in core infrastructure and facilities where postponement would ultimately cost more

3917 - Bob Thayer

Apart from the rates differential

3945 - Callum Snell

Because if we do not increase our rates to keep up with the current levels of service, our city will be worse off in all aspects and people would lose their jobs. We want our rates to go towards green council jobs and services that help communities that have been pushed to the margins of society.

3961 - Paul Robertson

Council needs to find ways of dealing with financial challenges other than continually raising rates and borrowing.

3963 - Jillian Scott

New subdivisions can have 3 to 4 story apartments which would increase rates without additional roads.

3965 - Dean Banks

You should be increasing it.

3966 - Michael Apathy (Climate Liberation Aotearoa)

>>>

Now, we find CCC in the same position. The solutions to the problems that we face are right in front of us; CCC does not take them. Canterbury flooded in 2021. The Heathcote floods regularly. The Port Hills, at time of writing, burned just months ago. We must stop pretending that there is no problem. CCC must take responsibility for its part in the climate crisis.

We are talking about rates. We consider this obscene. Prioritising rates savings for today's ratepayers over the ability for their children to inhabit a livable planet is, in our view, a gross dereliction of CCC's responsibilities. Rates must rise by more than is proposed.>>>

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Climate Adaptation]

[Residential Rates > City Vacant Differential]

- Bearing in mind that one third of the city faces no burden from rates, since $\frac{1}{3}$ of the city's population rents, and pay (according to the 2022 government study of the Housing Technical Working Group) rent according to average wages in a city, it is inequitable for a Council which has responsibility for all residents to prioritise keeping rates low. CCC should raise rates by a reasonable level, comparable to Ecan's 24%.
- Since investing in infrastructure is always cheaper the sooner it is done, and since construction costs rise every year, and since Ōtautahi Christchurch faces severe infrastructure deficits, CCC must immediately raise rates by more than the current LTP proposes.
- The proposed 13.24% rates rise only increases the average annual rates rise since 2013 to 6.38%; this means that 13.24 is a comparatively low rates increase. Without it, the average annual rates rise since 2013 is 5.42%. Therefore, there should be no question of cutting services to keep rates down. Rates should instead go up.
- Because CCC offers services essential to the residents of the city, whom CCC has responsibility for, rates should be raised by as much as is necessary to maintain services.
- - The Transport Activity Plan and Transport Asset Management Plan of the LTP admit that there is not enough money for road maintenance. This means that rates are not sufficiently high even to maintain the most basic of services that CCC offers, and not rising by enough in the LTP.
 - The Stormwater Activity Plan and Land Drainage Asset Management Plan of the LTP say that not enough funding has been provided for basic climate mitigation projects. Therefore, rates need to rise to accommodate these projects.
 - It's unjust to end eligibility for over 65s to have rates postponements, as those on fixed incomes are least able to pay rates. The current policy is used by very few people, so Council cannot justify ending the policy financially.
 - Therefore, rates should be raised by even more than what is proposed in the current LTP.
 - Because CCC rates based on the number of "rating units" in the city, it can spread costs more equitably by zoning for more building. Therefore, CCC should commit to implementing MDRS in full by 2025, in order to maintain a growing ratings base.
 - Because of the cost of climate adaptation, there should be targeted rate for businesses which benefit from contributing to the climate crisis. These include petrol stations, car dealerships, garages, commercial car park facilities, and airports.
 - The vacant land differential should be spread to the entire city, and further increased, to ensure that land is actually used to the benefit of the community during the present housing crisis.

3969 - H Bloomer-Law

Rates should be raised more than this, given the current government, grants may not be available as expected. The council should raise rates generally, but with a focus on larger landowners who are less impacted by the cost of living crisis. >>>

3971 - Joseph Fullerton

The rates should rise by even more. The average rates rise per annum since 2012 has been roughly 5%, and adding the current 13.24% only raises that to roughly 6%, which is vastly under par to inflation, which reached double digits in 2021. Therefore, rates should rise by levels comparable to similar councils, such as CCC's regional authority Ecan.

3988 - Jerry French

RATE ACCORDINGLY.

Anything else?

Is there anything else that you would like to tell us about the Draft Long Term Plan 2024-2034?

- RATE INCREASES SHOULD BE IN LINE WITH INFLATION. NOT WORK OUT WHAT YOU NEED AND

3998 - Ben Alder (Christchurch Envirohub)

the capping of rates increases in the short-term instead of analysing the longer term detrimental environmental impacts of Council decisions/focus. Who will ultimately pay for the consequential environmental degradation of decisions made today?

400 - Olivia Dowell

I think it could be more incremental, perhaps 12.8%. Many young and lower income homeowners are also struggling financially.

4014 - Stephen Hill

Per person in each House. 1 single person pays the equivalent rates that a house with 5 people pays, yet the big house uses 5x more water, 5x more sewer etc.

4033 - Juliana Venning

[Spending > Te Kaha]

Yes. No raise for Te Kaha and a proportionate rebate when rates rise to assist retired persons struggling with current rates.

404 - Annelise Bryant

Home owners cannot afford another rates hike with the current cost of living. As a young parent I had to return to work with my baby at 6 months because one income will not cover the basics.

>>>

Find cuts to cover this

>>>

Find cuts elsewhere to cover the cost.

4045 - Liz Carter (Akaroa And Bays Forum)

The Forum agreed to make a generic submission expressing concern at the proposed level of rates rise and urging the Council to be fiscally prudent when considering the final plan.

The Forum heard how families and those on fixed incomes in our community are finding it particularly tough going at the present time, and across the district most people are struggling because of the cost of living increases.

>>>

We ask that the Council prioritise spending on its core services and postpone some of the “nice to have” projects or spread them over a longer time period. Everyone in these financially difficult times has to cut their spending to accommodate the increase in costs, so we are asking that the Council do the same. Please look at all Council spending to seek efficiencies wherever possible because communities cannot keep absorbing double figure rates increases.

406 - Angela Burrill

Rates need to be reduced over the next 10 years as completely unsustainable in a cost of living crisis.

>>>

On already steep increases in rates in the previous two FY's the additional increases over the next 10 years are completely unacceptable. The Council should be considering ways to significantly reduce costs and look for other ways to cover expenses and aim to reduce rates over this period.

>>>

All rates should be decreased over the next 10 years.

>>>

Residential rates need to reduce over the next 10 years.

>>>

All areas need to be reduced to only cover the necessities. >>> spending needs to be cut dramatically.

>>>

Costs need to be reduced. It is not sustainable to continue to increase rates. All projects should be reconsidered and only the minimum should be prioritised to reduce costs.

>>>

It is completely unacceptable to increase rates on their already unreasonable levels in FY24.

>>>

Rates need to be reduced over the next 10 years until the population has significantly increased.

422 - Nias Kitchin

I think a rate decrease and spending is important.

425 - Laura Bates

That is absolutely insane. Rates should not be risen any more than inflation, and things we "can afford yet", just need to wait. Not everything has to happen immediately, sure it's great to have all these wonderful things, but not if we can't afford it!

441 - Bianca Jamieson

You increase this every year but don't actually producing anything worthwhile with the money. You sink money into contracts they don't actually achieve anything. Just half built buildings with no in site of finishing date of what actually at all cost.

>>>

A 5% or lower increase. What you're asking for is to bleed the city dry of money. No one has money right now maybe you need to think on how to actually use the money you already get.

481 - Tommy Ng

The proposed rate increment of 12.4% for next year and the LTP is outrageous. Is the Council not aware of the current situation? 1. Ratepayers are experiencing high inflation and cost pressures. This is not the time to ask ratepayers for such high rates so that you can spend big. Maintain a reasonable increment of 3-5% increase and look at how you can maintain the level of service or even improve it.

>>>

The current government at the national level is looking at tax cuts to help the people. Why are the Council going against this? Do you want to be the one that take back what was given by the government. Again, this is not the time to look at huge rate increments. Best Tommy Ng

>>>

The council should be looking at reasonable increase of 3-5% and maintaining the level of service as much as possible.

>>>

Please examine how the rates can be lowered when the council is having surplus; otherwise, we would be paying more tax than we need to

492 - Lyndon Telfer

[Spending > Capital Programme (General)]

Please cut back capital spending so we get a rates rise inline with inflation just as Mayor Phil Major campaigned on. Not every road, pipe and building your have earmarked for upgrade in years 1 to 3 is going to fail and will hapily survive for a few more years yet.

522 - Richard Hindle

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre]

The Art Centre is an integral part of what make Christchurch unique, we need to save what little heritage we have in NZ little alone in Chrischurch since the Earthquake. As a rate payer, I would be more than happy to pay what's needed as my share to keep the grants going. Also, I would be happy for larger rates, to cover other cost needed to keep all our amenities and services running, do it once and then it will just become a normal cost for everyone.

573 - Rebecca Dean

I am sympathetic to those affected by cost of living increases, so I wish the increase could be borne by those who have higher incomes/assets.

580 - Peter Quenault

No, rates went up by more than inflation last year, and you are proposing an even bigger rise this year. It's got to stop, it shouldn't be going up more than inflation, but some how there is always an excuse. Considering the mayor campaigned on keep rates low, I think he has massively failed.

>>>

As everyone is struggling, do better, find more savings and learn to do more with less money.

>>>

Should be no higher than inflation, but you always find a reason.

601 - David Ralph

[Stategic Direction>Performance Framework]

No. We need to invest in Christchurch. Do not cut services. Increase rates more to pay to get ahead.

>>>

Cut backs cost more in long run. Keep services as is or invest further to be better and get ahead of the game. Prepared to pay more in rates if it makes our city a better place to live.

615 - Michael JasonSmith

The average rates increase is, if anything, low: service and facilities should increase, especially in the East of the City.

618 - Natalie Dixon

Id like to see it lower but realize that may not be possible.

632 - Juliet Reynolds-Midgley

I would hope that there would be something in place (rebate/ exemption) to alleviate the stress of this from those unable to meet this raise in rates.

635 - Ashley Campbell

Cutting rates and services simply results in more spending down the line, burdening future generations. That's one reason why we've ended up where we are now – not enough has been spent on the important things in the past. We need to provide the services citizens expect to be provided – and realise we need to pay for them. I would suggest that libraries, swimming pools, community centres etc are core council services that go to the heart of local government.

642 - Stella Ward

I don't like it but clearly it's required

>>>

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

It's too high but if that increase can also fund the art centre then I support it

643 - Annemarie Prendeville

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?]

No, not if you have to increase rates

>>>

Cut backs, that's what we are all having to do!

>>>

Decide what is a must have as to what is a nice to have, especially in this economic climate. People cannot afford huge rate rises. A cap of 10% should be introduced.

659 - Matt Dumont

[Borrowing & Debt Management >Borrowing & Debt Management], [Strategic Direction > Climate Change]

I believe that higher rate rises to support climate change mitigation and adaptation are warranted and that this plan does not go far enough. I also believe that the council should reduce the use of debt, but ONLY by increasing rates rather than putting off projects.

660 - Lyn Cotton (Jolt Dance)

Rates need to reflect inequalities in income and look to support low decile areas

663 - Sam Chow-Tan

Get more than one source of RV, i.e. not only QV. QV inflated the value of my property and I ended up with a 9% increase in July 2023.

>>>

Ultimately the rate increase should be 4 to 6%. If not it becomes unaffordable.

666 - Stephen Palfrey

Charge landlords higher rates, they are after all a business

686 - Nicola Bush

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

Please help the Arts Center but keep rates as low as possible

687 - Anna Laurenson

No. Stop spending and wasting money you don't have. Go back to basics. Also annoying you've given an "average" when for most it will be more than that.

>>>

In line with inflation seems fair.

692 - Tony Ward

Rates rise is too high. Need to lower to 10%

699 - Helen Reddecliffe

I do not believe you are 'spreading debt repayments fairly across generations'. I believe more needs to be spent in the immediate future. E.g. I disagree with deferring the planned water maintenance for the next 3 years. I agree with starting the climate change levy. Political decisions need to be made for the long term benefit of everyone, not the immediate principle of trying to keep rates low.

708 - John Allen

I think rates should be charged as a % of income for fixed income earners like those that are on the pension.

720 - David Leafa

You should always keep a good level of service and investment, without increasing rates every time there is a change in either local or national government.

728 - Richard Hallum

These are unacceptably large increases.

>>>

Keep residential rate increases down (ie a maximum of 5% per annum).

730 - Doug Allen

No apart from the fact the rating act is very old and needs to be looked at, its basically wealth tax

>>>

stop using us as a bank

733 - Tania Thompson

no, dont raise the rates. if you must why not do it at smaller amounts over a longer period. why 13% straight away, thats a lot to find! specially for a first home buyer i didnt buy my house for as much as your rates are charging me, why should i pay more for rates for that

>>>

747 - Euan Gutteridge

The priority must be to keep rates rises to a minimum.

752 - Vivienne Hewson

We need to be looking at ways to keep rates down in a cost of living crisis. People are struggling and we need to be looking at ways to keep rates increases realistic

759 - Rory Kinahan

[Spending > Te Kaha], [Libraries > Libraries (Capital)]

$286 million on a stadium is madness and highly iniquitous as the majority of CHCH residents will not be able to afford to buy $100+ tickets to events at the stadium during a cost crisis and so only the wealthier residents will get to use a facility that everyone is paying for. It makes massive rate rises inevitable and 60% plus of CHCH residents cannot afford to pay their bills NOW. $140 million on libraries is also nuts in my opinion as we cannot afford it and we can live without it. If you hadn't spent over a quarter of a billion dollars on a sports ground we could maybe have afforded more and upgraded libraries, but now we cannot. The CCC's profligacy has doomed us to ever increasing rates that are becoming unaffordable to a large percentage of ratepayers and rental tenants and that will only get worse as you pay interest on the debt and plow more ratepayer money into running costs for the stadium.

760 - David Palmer

Personally I could handle a rates increase of up to 15% if that contributed to improved transport in the city and the continuation of cycleways rollouts. Rates relief is less important to me than proper investment in my city.

781 - Jenene Parker

It must be fair. Keep the increase as low as possible. Many superannuitants including me will find this increase very tough

784 - Sian Carvell

I ticked 'no' as I believe we should also be investing in future focused projects as well aka not necessarily projects that current rate payers will benefit from, but an investment in the city as a whole and to future generations/residence. Kicking the can down the road for future Council's and residence to deal with the problem, especially climate related, is not ok and what has placed us in the position we are in now. As a rate payer, I would like to see investment in intergenerational projects, even if that meant an increase over and above 12.4%.

789 - Stuart Sanderson

[Spending>Capital Programme (General)]

People aren't getting wage increases in line with the rate increases. All non essential projects that haven't yet started should be put on hold until spending is under control.

>>>

Rates are unfair and should be based on the number of people living in a house rather than the value of the house. Rates should also be capped at a fair and reasonable size. 13.2% of a lower value house versus that of a higher value house can be thousands of dollars different.

>>>

Council should review its plan with a view of limiting rate increases to reasonable levels. 2.5% is acceptable not 13%+

8 - Justin Yudistira

We have no choice but to increase the rates. I support a further increase as well, but if the Council have settled with that amount, so be it. The city must be beautiful and well looked after not just in the rich areas, but in the middle and lower class areas as well. We cannot afford cuts to public services and libraries, we badly need them!

822 - Gavin Scott-Petersen

In light of the current financial challenges faced by both the Council and the residents, it is imperative to reassess our approach to fiscal management and investment in core infrastructure and facilities. While maintaining essential services and infrastructure is crucial, the proposed average rates increase of 13.24% for all ratepayers, with a 12.4% increase for residential rates, is substantial and could further strain the financial well-being of our community members.

>>>

Therefore, before proceeding with the proposed rate increases, I strongly advocate for a comprehensive review of the Council's spending, with the goal of identifying potential savings and efficiencies that can mitigate the need for such significant rate hikes. It is through prudent financial management and a commitment to cost-effectiveness that we can navigate these challenging times together, ensuring the sustainability and prosperity of our community.

859 - Todd Gault

Keep the rate increase under 10%

905 - Redacted Redacted

I think you should take a pay cut yourself and also reduce spending on non important things. I really despise having to struggle with more rates increases when I see absolutely nothing for my money. Times are tough and families are struggling. This will tip some over the edge of being able to pay for power and food.

92 - Bill Luff

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Asset Sales]

CCC must not rely on its rating authority to solve its problems. My impression is there remains scope for cost reduction. If it were a private commercial entity it would be liquidating assets to cover shortfalls.

972 - Robert Gomez

13% rate raise is just too much for households to pay in a single year

>>>

Keep rate raises small from 3-5% people can handle that

Not Stated

1001 - Jessica Schulz

Our rates are too high for the services we are getting.

1014 - Sandy Porter

As I am on a pension a rate increase does not support any increases in rates, when i try to do my budget.

102 - Greg Comfort

I don't want to pay more in rates but we can't just keep not doing things.

1047 - Rachel Davies

As much as possible yes, but other measures will taken in this plan will drive rates up further (section 8)

105 - Harriet Murray

If it means that taxpayer money is contributed fairly on both transport, maintenance, and places like the Arts Centre, then it is a hard thing to admit but cost will increase... much like everything.

1053 - Melissa Tauwhare

You've just stated residents are facing financial challenges - why increase?

106 - Crispin Garden-Webster

I rent, but any rate change will have a flow on effect

1061 - Racheal O'Brien

Some of your services don't perform well and I do t believe we are getting value for money

1067 - Iarene Jelley

Let us not let go of a good standard of maintenance.

1100 - Alistair McKinnon

[Transport>Roads (Capital)]

Hard to really comment. I suspect there are areas where costs could be saved by a more coordinated approach to work, looking at some services that are not well used. For example the repeated opening of the same road surface for different projects sometimes weeks apart needs to be avoided.

1112 - Sarah Anderson (Friends of Christchurch Art Gallery Te Puna o Waiwhetū)

I am not a Christchurch ratepayer so do not feel it is appropriate to comment, but if I was I would tick YES.

1157 - Justin Rogers

[Parks > Tree Canopy], [Transport > Footpaths & Streetscapes (Capital)]

I get a lot of value from my rates - I prefer to keep the services as they are and if anything, do a bit more to improve walking and tree cover.

1168 - Annie Pattison

Maybe wait another 5 years to do so.

1178 - Eva Fenwick

Such a big increase might cause more problems, finding the right balance is ideal.

1180 - Glenn Matheson

[Strategic Direction>Infrastructure Strategy]; [Strategic Direction>Community Outcomes & Strategic Priorities]

Rate rises are not great but as a country and city we just do infrastructure so bad, somewhere along the line we all have to pay the piper and delaying new, replacement and needed infrastructure is short term thinking and just costs more in the long run to solve. Be visionary, cut costs where you can, focus on the core responsibilities and creating opportunities for our kids and their kids that will keep them off the street and out of trouble, And investing in sport and culture facilities will go along way to achieve this.

1191 - Ava Johnson

This question is unclear. I believe that simply increasing the rates to the percentages provided is insufficient

1206 - Makenzie Haberfield

NZ is too unaffordable the way it is. Many are struggling

1216 - Glenn Maguire

Salary isn't keeping up with rate expectations this will push people to move to other less expensive regions.

1224 - Amanda OBrien

People can't afford a increase in a cost of living crisis

1264 - Maxim Kaluzhny

If it is existing levels of service, why would rates increase? That is a wider issue within council budgeting processes, capturing CAPEX/OPEX requirements. When rates increase, rate payers want more ROI, not the same if not less.

1275 - Justine Scott

The rate increases are extremely high and have been high for years now. Surely there must be the ability to manage these rate increases at a manageable level for ordinary rate payers (who are generally only getting 3 or 4% pay increases, if that).

1278 - Tim Marsh

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Governance]

I had a rate increase of 22.8% last year and you are now expecting to pass on another 13% increase in 2024. Can I suggest that all Councilors get into the real world

1280 - Victoria Mitchell

Open to rates changes with consultation.

1293 - Jill Rice

Bad timing with households already stretched. Surely some projects could be put on hold for a few years.

132 - Jason King

If we don't- our city goes to shit doesn't it. But the rates are already too high... There are other ways to cut costs.

1325 - Millie McDonald

I think it would be good to show residents how much they are actually getting for their rates

1326 - Allison Oneill

we are not an unlimited resource you can keep demanding money from.

1346 - Bianca McKinnon-Gee

Year on year rates rises are the core issue. They hurt people on low and fixed incomes.

1355 - Andrew McCarthy

This is catch up time.

1378 - Rowena Morgan

Council should be very mindful of how it spends the money we pass to it, via our rates.

1398 - Carol Woolf

I like anyone else dint want to pay more however its not just about me its about ensuring a good infrastructure for our future and the children of tomorrow!!

1446 - Emma Waddell

Being able to put food on the table is more important.

1471 - Dr Satinder Dhaliwal

1. The paper says that the Council will be saving $41 million in the next 10 years, if it is so then, why the Rates are being increased by @12.4%? This means the figures are fudged for the sake of it. The residents are being taken for a ride. This needs to be clarified.

1483 - Robert Zimmerman

Need more information and be more informed on the matter

1488 - Mel Brown

I think we all appreciate that prices have increased I think you need to be careful not to put too much pressure on homeowners. It's not just low income that are feeling the squeeze but middle income too

>>>

Sorry I don't

152 - John Stickley

How will the less fortunate pensiors be able to pay the rate increase when on a limited income?

1551 - Philippa Curtis

I didn't see any of this in the summary document I read. I assume I missed it & so would be helpful if you could refer to the page number as you've done with the other issues.

>>>

I have no comment on the relativity of the numbers. The important point is how the money is spent within each category. Hopefully other questions will give me an opportunity to comment on this.

1583 - James Pomeroy

Increase investment with levels of service staying the same.

>>>

decrease cost for residential.

1617 - Jack Swannell

Not very well. Times are tough and most people are not getting a 13% increase.

1650 - Deb Osborn

Some people can afford the rates increase, some can't. It is what it is. CCC hold the power and say they can't do this or that without rates increases, so we the people have to accept that.

1672 - Dickson Wong

Whenever it comes to funding projects, it seems to go to option is to increase the rates. only home owners are affected. Why shouldn't every resident (tenants and home owners) pay their own?

1742 - Graeme Hodge

This level of increase will be very challenging during the current cost of living crisis.

1798 - Heidi Morrow

While households are finding it tough financially at the moment I think most rates payers would accept a further small increase, if it meant that our remaining historic buildings were included in the long term funding plan.

18 - Alex User

Time for the council to reduce non core services and reduce costs like we have to

>>>

Reduce all those non core services

1805 - Leigh Cunningham

A number of families are experiencing financial hardship

1809 - Dianne Bennett

I have to believe the council is doing its best with the money provided by the rates. Many parks and rivers in Christchurch are not cared for the way they used to be when I was younger and inflation is the cause so we are told. I do not have the responsibility of “balancing the books” thankfully.

1829 - Stephanie Barbier

We can afford it but it will be a struggle for other families. There is a lot of debt to service alongside work that needs to be done and that shouldn't be ignored or we will be worst off years down the track

1886 - Judith Dawson

No, I am not a ratepayer, simply a concerned resident of Christchurch

1893 - Elizabeth Sinclair

After the earthquakes we were promised that the increase in rates was only for a few years- has this been forgotten?

>>>

Been here long enough to see past rate promises broken

1898 - John-Paul Kilkenny

After this plan rates can't continue to increase. it's not sustainable for households.

>>>

Manage ratepayers' money wisely.

191 - Jenny Harlow

Things cost more. As a community we need to accept that and deal with it. My concern is that our most financially vulnerable community members are those most affected by rates increases.

1939 - Mary Sefton

Rate 2 out of 10 Rates are going to be for the Rich people as others won't be able to pay

1946 - Zachary Reynolds

Maybe

[coders note. Has CCC got the Balance right between its services and rates right?]

>>>

Not too much please

[coders note. Comments on increasing rates]

2078 - Barry Williamson

However, the problem is that big ticket items have been committed to and so the consequences include unaffordable rate increases that are quite simply unaffordable.

>>>

The ability of rate payers to afford to level here should be front of mind in any decisions made.

>>>

Just a call for calm and fairness. Residents are under pressure financially. Don't kill the goose that lays the golden egg.

2114 - Timothy Clark

It seems that christchurch is getting enough funding to manage things. An increase in rates may just hurt homeowners and renters instead of empowering them. As i see it, many of the road improvements and complexes being made have ample money to achieve their work. To clarify, i think we are doing overkill on our infrastructure rather than moving money where its best for the average resident

2124 - Mary Chase

Will be very hard for some.

2126 - Elfi Spiewack

This is a difficult one. Rate payers are punished enough with economical hardship. Question would be are there any other avenues to generate some of that money?

2133 - Cathrine Ackroyd

I really don't know where many Christchurch ratepayers will find the funds to cover the proposed rate rises.

2140 - Brendan Fraser

I fell it is very high, but it seems to be about in line with other councils around NZ are doing.

2157 - John Quayle

We need to maintain the services that are currently provided.

2227 - Megan Officer-Christmas

Once again its us home owners with higher rates every year .

2264 - Sarah Scollard

Most people can't afford higher rates.

227 - Megan Hopkins

If the existing level isn't maintained what will we be losing in order for the rates to increase by a lesser amount?

2311 - Paul McMahon (Waitai Coastal-Burwood-Linwood Community Board)

The Board understands that the inflationary pressure the Council faces is greater than households, due to supply chain disruption, global instability, and labour market shortages. However, the Board wishes to note that residents of the Waitai Board Area are, on average, lower income than across the city as a whole – they are less able to absorb rates increases than in some other areas. The Board notes that the proposed rates increases are lower than other metropolitan councils.

2354 - Chantelle Chalmers

Personally a rate increase makes me nervous as money is certainly tight at the moment however, I do want our city to prosper.

2357 - Cori Sanders

That is a formidable rates increase that, when coupled with the cost of living increases and the negligible increases in the income level of the average worker will lead to great difficulty and financial hardship for many households who have to pay their rates on top of their mortgage and other bills.

2431 - Toni Stewart

It needs review and transparency

2442 - Paula Bevilacqua

The rates increase along with cost of living with little to no movement in salaries, rates will be very difficult to pay for the majority.

2443 - Greg Urquhart

Need to cut the cloth - spend less, divulge some poor performing assets

2460 - Nicholas Yardley

Feeling powerless in the face of seemingly inevitable rate increases, especially due to decisions like funding for the stadium, is understandably disheartening. It's crucial to explore better avenues for collective action and advocacy to address these concerns and ensure your voice is heard in the decision-making process. For example something like a secure providing instant feedback.

2464 - Bradley Moorfield

Rates are currently low due to chronic under investment in infrastructure and services

>>>

Council services are important and cutting services is a worse outcome than higher rates. Council run facilities and services are incredible value for their cost

2473 - Juanita Wilson

As a ratepayer I understand we can't see improvements if we aren't willing to pay for them

2475 - William Porter

It's already crazy high

2480 - Kristin Muirhead

How do you need more? After all house prices has risen drastically more than inflation. Therefore the rates your already getting are higher than the increased costs.

2482 - Erin Stewart

No one wants to pay higher rates, but for too long rates have been kept artificially low resulting in poor upkeep of infrastructure and not enough development for climate resilience. At some point we will have to pay.

2485 - Lucy hill

how can anyone afford that increase, maybe based on income?

2509 - Angela Nicol

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?]

I understand how hard finding the balance is, and its taken me a long time to send in a submission because I'm very conflicted. My preference is to slow down for another couple of years and have the rates lower instead of starting new projects in the short term, while we are all adjusting to this financial living cost crisis with the increase of prices for nearly everything. else.

2511 - Charlaine Palmer

s: Keep increase to a minium.

2516 - Robin Palmer

The proposed rates increase for 2024/25 may seem large but it diminishes each year thereafter. Some initial 'pain' but then more consistent with inflation generally.

2535 - Anne Batchelor

I don't love the fact that rates are jumping up yet again, however I also appreciate the services that are on offer.

256 - Bill May

If councils put a contingency for future works aside each year instead of keeping rates down to be able to plonk their bums on a seat each election we would not have this problem.

2576 - Matthew Polson

Rates suck, but I want (most of) the things this money will bring

2577 - Wendy and Verity Busby (Braingains Tutors)

The current financial situation has hit us hard - we are really struggling, and the thought of having to fund unnecessary projects in Christchurch is really upsetting - we are expected to keep paying more and more for projects we do not need and do not want.

>>>

[Three Waters > Three Waters (Operations)]

The resources of rate-payers are limited - please seriously take us into consideration before pushing ahead with unnecessary projects and focus on the really essential needs of the city - healthy water supply, road maintenance, sewers, stormwater drains, waste management etc.

2578 - Sarah Polson

I can see why we need to increase our rates

2579 - Simone Hindin

Core infrastructure and services need to be retained.

2618 - Margaret Stewart

How can the Council guarantee that 2026 and 2027 rate increases won't be higher than projected?

2647 - Penny Carnaby

We get a great deal from our rates.

2652 - Katie Gallagher

need to prioritise better

2730 - Clare Daubney

Salaries have not increased.

2741 - Kevin Pluck

More inadvertent costs to individuals can happen when services are cut to reduce rates.

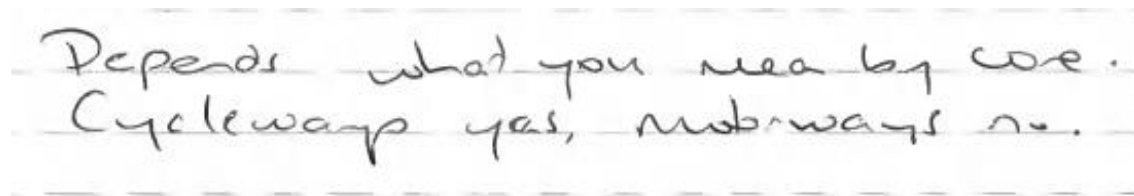

2748 - Kyla Jasperse

We continue to pay rate for infrastructure that is used by other significant users such as roading, the impact of strong residential growth in the Lincon area has significant impact on cost of infrastructure but no contribution.

2762 - Geraldine Allan

Stop wasting money

2768 - Suzanne Vallace

Depends what you need by core.
Cycleways yes, subways no.

[Coder Note: relating to question 'should we be maintaining our existing levels of service and level of investment in our core infrastructure and facilities']

2791 - David Dockery

Comments:

Get back to core business stop over engineering things i.e. Cycleways etc stop fundings, shows etc users pays.
forwardly to come here

We're proposing some changes to how we rate, including changes to the city vacant differential, rating visitor accommodation

281 - Selwyn Gamble

All I know is that residents are never going to be happy when rates increase, there needs to be an honest dialogue from Council and residents about the direction of rates in their prices. There needs to be forward thinking to ensure that rates stay at a particular level and won't keep infinitely increasing over time in my opinion.

282 - Michael Heenan

While the future possible rate rises chart looks promising I cannot see this happening. Cost increases on all fronts, new regulations, tough economic conditions & climate impacts make low increases seem like a dream.

2821 - Dave and Denise Falls

People will struggle to pay their rates.

2824 - Hannah Mason

Nobody likes tax/rate increases, but sometimes they are necessary.

2953 - Quentin Kelly

While the rate increase is less every year, rates are still going up regardless. Where will it end? Rates are ridiculous now for a single or double bedroom house with a tiny footprint. Absolutely mental to think low skills minimum wage earners living in shitbox apartments can ever afford a house here. I am breaking the chain of that lifestyle and have recently bought a house outside of the city as it is unaffordable in the city. My rates for a near 5acre block are cheaper than rates for a shithole in Aranui for example. And $600 a week for rent in a 2 bedroom place? You are crazy.

2955 - Linda Morris

What's involved with the large percentage labelled 'other'

2956 - Jacque Skinner

You can't expect people to be happy with a huge increase in rates in a time when so many are struggling already and so many don't feel like they see rates being used sensibly as it is

2963 - Carolyn Roos

How has its come to be so expensive

3044 - Tony Smail

Rates rise of 13% is challenging for ratepayers to deal with in a recession

3068 - Vanessa Wells

Of course I would prefer rates increases to be more in line with inflation, however I understand the extreme pressures that Councils have been under over the last few years.

312 - Shane Binder

Relative to the headline-making Councils, these proposed rate increases are less bad, and I understand the maths behind them, but that doesn't make payment any easier at the end of the day. Refer also to previous comments on the regrettable 2+% increase due just to Te Kaha.

3127 - Dianne Downward

A thriving, inclusive and sustainable city is one where safety is understood to be about much more than road safety alone. If families and individuals are struggling to feed themselves, struggling to heat their homes, and feel like slaves with wages not meeting needs, people become desperate and crime increases. A city doesn't thrive if there is no safety, when the elderly are facing losing their hard earned home, young people in their 20's have little hope for the future, and all feel despondent. Rates must be affordable/sustainable if you want to abide by your own priorities.

3143 - Kate Blackberry

If you're going to increase the rates at least spend it on really thought out and viable plans, Spend the money like you've had to EARN it

3191 - John Massie

As a renter I'll end up paying this not my landlord.

3192 - Janene Burnett

Constant high increases aren't sustainable, however a lot of the funding are impacting our future generations and my child. I want them to be able to enjoy the service and facilities that I am able to enjoy.

3193 - Allan Greenall

0% save the animals

[coders note. in response to question regarding the residential rates increase.]

3195 - Redacted Redacted

we can hardly afford our rate payments and mortgage payments as is.

3197 - Viv Patton

Difficult balance. A rate rise before interest rates come down is a big ask for those already struggling financially.

3200 - Georgina Woods

I want to say yes keep the services but no to such a large increase at once people can't afford it

3204 - Rebekah Bedyn

Times are hard, that seems like such a big increase for families especially when they are already pushed with finances

322 - Richie Connell

It's a hell of a lot more isn't it. With wages not rising and people finding it tough, your issue will be defaults on rates.

3229 - Robyn Sampson

Lower than upper hutt council at 19% this year only

3257 - Fiona Jones

This question isn't really fair to say to maintain it you need to increase by so much when there hasn't been anything to save significant costs and there are cost savings to be had.

3294 - Kayla Herriott

We already pay 100 week in rates and 700 for the mortgages. Id never attenfvthe cathedral or the art ce tre but id take my child to the zoo

3330 - Marijke Dryfhout

Rates are already very high

335 - Wayne Bates

How much money do you think you can bleed out of those who rely on NZ Superannuation for their main income, we are struggling to maintain houses we worked 50 years plus to own, we are struggling to eat well, we are struggling to pay our insurances on our properties, and we can not afford to go for any sort of holiday break at all, too expensive

3361 - Ali Cameron

The rates increases coupled with the cost of living increases and the slight increases in the average income level will continue to make rate paying very difficult for many households.

3392 - Stephen Wood

The rates increase seem high in the first year of the plan, but I realise that part of this is due to the commitment the Council has made to Te Kaha, which we can hardly roll back on.

3410 - Boubey Black

Despite being on a low income, I am always happy to see tax money go towards maintaining a functional and efficient city.

3430 - Philippa Upton

We need to retain our community services and facilities. The Council agreed to go ahead with Te Kaha knowing that this would add considerably to our rates bill in the future, and perhaps the potential implications were not clear to the community at the time.

344 - Aaron Herriott

I constantly see rates increases with no good impact or change in what happens in our city. I agree an increase for the stadium, but the rest is just a sign of poor money management

>>>

I eagerly await to see where more increase rates will go to and if it will be worth it.

3453 - Zeta Pringle

Cost of living is biting all parts of the community senior rate payer's household and all rate payers addition cost will have a multiplier effect.

3464 - Serena Smith

In my opinion, I think that when rating, look at how it will benefit the city and the residents. Not just one handful of the residents of the city, but the whole as a city.

3474 - Timothy Lambert

short term pain long term gain

3476 - John Fletcher

No. There are pros and cons no matter what system is used.

3479 - Rhys Glenjarman

We should be increasing the services provided by taxpayers. Taxes are supposed to support ongoing growth, however this budget proves the Chch council's clumsiness in regards to growth and improvement in order to represent Chch in a way that reflects the fact that the city is still the second largest in the country.

3485 - Dr Sally Price

Ratepayers need to know that savings are being made in these difficult times.

3487 - Sally de Graaf

The current cost of living some of these rate increases are hitting mid to lower income households hard.

3493 - Brendon Lee

Don't fault the rates payers. Fault the decisions at CCC who appeal to the small minority stakeholders who push for say, cycle-ways and foot paths, stadium builds, etc. When they should like most world class cities around the world, that focus on building INTENSIFICATION. We already have too many people choosing Rolleston because it's cheaper.

3510 - Michael Horgan

Bad management is waisting money. Rates can be lower is expenditure is controlled

3529 - Marc Duff

This council sadly finds itself a victim of under investment by previous councils over a number of years, high inflation etc, Sadly you find yourselves in the perfect storm.

3533 - Elisa Richnow

Already struggling to get by as it is

3540 - Philip Robinson

In a time of high inflation this outstrips the current inflation rate considerably.

3544 - Ginette Pethig

If you maintain your existing levels will that mean you will continue to fund the Arts Centre? If not perhaps you should be reconsidering your decision.

3545 - Sarah Eve Tunstall

I strongly believe that maintaining the current level of service and improving where possible is invaluable for our city,

3566 - Jacqui Emslie

Leading question - we either say yes to an increased rate of 12.4% if we want to keep the basic level of service from the council or say no and have to decide what we lose. My wages don't go up by 12.4% every year. At what point am I going to be unable to live in my house because I can't afford to? Very scary thought

3567 - Rachel Briggs

[Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]; [Transport>Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)]; [Recreation, Sports & Events>Events]

Its a significant jump and will hurt a lot of people. Things like cycleways, while important, dont necessarily have a wider benefit for the economy as it stands and have at times made getting round town difficult. Public transport and local activities that benefit the wider community and our overseas travellers are much better to focus on.

3586 - Rachel Geddis

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?]

>>>

All these things have to happen, but the rates increase is significant at a time where everyone is under financial pressure.

>>>

I think libraries and recreational facilities are critical to the community. However 13% is a potentially life changing increase for many home owners.

3592 - Lucy Altaner

If you are going to increase rates you have to make sure citizens earn more.

>>>

If the rates increase it means the council would have more money, which can be invested in the public.

360 - Wendy Pollock

Rates are high

>>>

We are average pensioners. Our rates now cost over 14% of our annual income. Do you think this is realistic or reasonable?

3600 - Murray Wiig

I don't believe the council are performing appropriately on declaring a rate increase to that magnitude. >>> It is obvious that very little questioning regarding the options available to reduce the costs, takes place on major capital works programs.

>>>

Again consideration in this section needs significant thought. Rates are becoming a significant proportion of rate payers total expenses and contributes as council are aware, to interest rates adopted by the RBNZ and this in turn is a significant influence on inflation rates.

3606 - Mark Dowers

The rates are crippling to an average household. I'm a teacher, and even with a government salary we are struggling to make ends meet as it is.

>>>

Please carefully consider the impact on residents of big infrastructure like Wheels to Wings and increased rates. A lot of people are really struggling out here. I beg the council to put the city's people first in considering future financial burdens.

363 - Nathan Carroll

I can see that there is a need to increase rates, but I don't know how residents who are already stretched financially would be able to afford it hard to tellpeople, environment, healthy water supplies . what do you think?

365 - Wendy Burton

366 - Namalee Kodikara

Maybe the overall increase is okay but there's a question for me about the make-up of the spending.

3673 - Theo van Woerkom

Some properties are seriously under valued!

3690 - Jono de Wit (Greater Ōtautahi)

Local Governments across New Zealand have traditionally kept rates low through deliberate underinvestment in or deferment of infrastructure, and commitments by Councillor and Mayoral candidates running on keeping rates low as a form of electoral promise. The proverbial chicken has now come home to roost. If we lower rates, our city will lose the ability to provide its current levels of service, and those who use council services will be disproportionately worse off. There is an assumption that more affluent residents and neighbourhoods may think they are insulated from this trend as they are less likely to use these facilities, but they are still part of this city, and will feel the effects of austerity.

Any change in rates must account for continued investment in public and active transport, climate mitigation projects, and climate adaptation projects. These are simply non-negotiable for future generations. If projects are being deferred or discontinued to make these rate cuts occur, we strongly recommend that this practice be reversed.

370 - Elliot Smith

This is a steep increase

3716 - Phillipa O'Loughlin

The rates percentage increase seems high.

3723 - Don Babe

I can't really comment as I am not a ratepayer in the city.

3733 - Helen Reason

My rates have steadily increased each year and if this increase goes ahead I will be expected to pay $400+ more for next year's rates bill. What happens if rates become unaffordable for some ratepayers and they default on their rates, causing a knock-on effect?

3748 - Greta Bond (Age Concern Canterbury)

Age Concern Canterbury recognizes that rates may need to increase. We however remain concerned at the financial impact on those ratepayers with fixed incomes and increasing costs. Many older people living in Canterbury are asset rich but income-poor. The impact of rates increases on these older people (and also on those who don't own their own homes but as a result may be impacted by related increases in rents) should not be ignored.

Age Concern Canterbury recognizes that rates may need to increase. We however remain concerned at the financial impact on those ratepayers with fixed incomes and increasing costs. Many older people living in Canterbury are asset rich but income-poor. The impact of rates increases on these older people (and also on those who don't own their own homes but as a result may be impacted by related increases in rents) should not be ignored. Currently older people can be entitled to rates rebates - we recommend continuing this, and adjusting where necessary the amount of the rebate to ensure those on fixed incomes are not forced to scrimp on other necessities of life (e.g. food, or electricity) in order to pay their increased rates. We also recommend that this option is more widely publicised; we encounter many older people who do not know it is a possibility for them - this impacts those who are less socially connected and otherwise more vulnerable. Those who are living with only the govt super as income are already living precariously, and additional costs of any kind can have a extreme negative impact.

3772 - Sue McFarlane

I have read the LTP consultation document and don't see where there are options for reducing the 13.24% projected increase.

3819 - Jessica Halliday

There is no mandate for Council to cut back on services people rely upon (libraries, swimming pools, etc) to force a lower rates increase. Council's services exist for its constituents, and removing these services will disproportionately impact children, lower income households, disabled, and elderly residents.

383 - Louise Woolley

With rise in cost of living, especially food and petrol, this rates increase will have negative effects on everyone

3850 - Stephanie Remington

Families are struggling now with day to day living, rates rises will increase rents.

3853 - Geoff Curtis

There is no reason for Council to cut back on services people rely upon just to lower rates. I use facilities such as the bike lanes, library and the local park often. Cutting these services would impact those from lower socioeconomic groups the most.

3856 - Portia Bishop

May I point out that keeping rates low typically means underinvestment or hindrance in our city's infrastructure. How long can the council keep up artificial production of low rates? As a young person, quite frankly I'm afraid. The decision to cut back on investment into our city's infrastructure means two simple things: 1) Absence of or insufficient appropriate infrastructure for future communities. 2) Because of this my generation will have to make up for this underinvestment and will have to pay substantially higher rates (and in other ways, too, that aren't necessarily monetary) to make up for this. Save now, spend later... - If such projects are being delayed or scrapped in order to cut back on rates, I strongly disagree with those actions for the reasons stated above. - Lowered rates mean losing the ability to deliver current or proposed/ideal levels of service.

3873 - Angela Curl (Transport, Society and Environment Group, Department of Population Health, University of Otago Christchurch)

Rates are needed to ensure we invest in the future through active transport, public transport, and climate action.

3893 - Joe Pope

Loaded question

3927 - Wendy Marshall

How can superannuants afford this increase along with huge insurance costs and have a reasonable standard of living?

3943 - Maria deSilva

Rates are always increasing. The council doesn't seem to listen, or to care about what the population of Christchurch actually wants. And then we pay for that lack of recognition through increased rates.

3978 - Sandra Bragg

We would like the Council to look for more savings to reduce the "Rates Rise"

3994 - Sarah Boje

Find sensible ways to reduce the cost burden on ratepayers.

3996 - David Lough

Comments: TEN YEARS AGO WE WERE TOLD RATES HAD TO INCREASE TO COVER EARTHQUAKE DAMAGE.
THE NEW MANTRA INVEST MORE TO UPGRADE, PROTECT.

4021 - Cornelis F De Jager

Plan for the unexpected in a measured way, rate payers are not "cash cows" that can be milked indefinitely, people are already struggling.

>>>

Ratepayers need to be treated with respect, don't look at us as a bottomless pit of funding, we aren't.

403 - Paul Davis

I see the council systematically wasting money in an attempt to buy off various constituencies. Everyone except the general ratepayer that picks up the bill is represented. Saying the increase is 13% is misleading, when it is nearly 60% over the near term plan.

413 - Kim Roebuck

Rates increase is unaffordable to many in the current climate.

430 - Kate Porter

Don't ever include pamphlets for chch attractions in my rates bill again. It came with the increase last year, rubbing in my face that I had even less money to spend on activities Bit more thought could have gone into that

433 - Derek Phelps

For this level of increase, I would be expecting a far far better level of service

46 - Karin Lange

Very hard for the hard up or young to keep footing bills that keep increasing. In saying that, the money has of course got to come from somewhere...

472 - Alessandro Grida'

the rate increase is not going to help the communities. the council is not checking if every property in CHCH is paying right now the right amount of money in rates, especially in the medium to high incomes neighbourhoods

51 - Zoe Brock

You are worrying about the wrong things. As usual.

>>>

Fund the Arts Centre, worry about Climate Change and wake up

510 - Eleanor Sim

We have to ensure a base level of infrastructure that allows us to have a city that is one that is desirable to live in.

570 - Greg Partridge

The proposed rate increase is substantial, but must be spent wisely! It should for ethical reasons, not be spent on vanity projects, nor on "nice to have" projects. The CCC are not in a position of having a bottomless pit of money from which to draw on. Neither are the population of Christchurch. Remember, it is our money you are spending, and although Council Staff are not democratically accountable, elected members of the City Council most certainly are, and will be come election time if voters feel you have wasted our money and we are not receiving value for money.

572 - Brian Nelson

That proposed rates increase is really only keeping pace with inflation.

574 - Heidi Heim

I would like to express my sincerest considerations regarding any rates increase at this point of time. Officially, we live in a recession. Let me explain what that means for me:

☒ I budget very carefully with the money that is available e.g. no eating out in restaurants or cafes, purchase milk at the local dairy where it is cheaper, fish only once a fortnight etc.

☒ I won't buy items if they exceed a self-imposed price limit e.g. for a new T-shirt not more than $10

☒ Some expenses have to wait or be postponed e.g. the fridge needed replacing, therefore the car repair that came up at the same time has to wait

I think you get the idea what living in a recession means for me, and for most people that I know. I expect the same thrifty approach to expenditure of my council, especially in a time of recession. Please sit down and assess areas where you can avoid excessive expenditure, assess the need and urgency of a task and have the courage to impose voluntary self-restrictions. There is a temptation to waste money if it is not hard earned, as it is the case with rates. Please don't fall into this temptation.

575 - Murray Walls

If the Council was run more efficiently and without the huge amount of wastage the currently occurs there would be no need for the rate increases.

582 - Prunella Harris

I am concerned about the massive rate increases and that's a concern for us all I believe, regardless of house size and area. But I can see that it's important to maintain services etc.

>>>

Seems massive for one year in our current environment.

620 - Kristen Smith

Our rates charges are becoming incredibly high and we are not seeing return for this in my opinion.

64 - Lindy Drury

None except for the fact that the Christchurch rates are twice as high as those for a house in central London

644 - Julie Paterson

Am finding it difficult to pay rates and other costs living on superannuation.

649 - Andrew Khor

People need to put food on the table not having fancy buildings which doesn't affect their lives

[Coder Note: response relating to rates]

665 - Rene Arthur

but for how long?

[Coder Note: regarding rates increases]

691 - Sam Falkinder

If we can't afford it then we should drop it

694 - Lucia Rivas

Rates are increasing so dramatically and this is becoming a significant burden on households where incomes are not increasing in the same manner.

>>>

It is super difficult for an individual to fully inform on this. Increase in rates is substantial but what would we go without first?

724 - Sophie Cooney

That's a very large increase considering the cost of living at the moment, but I suppose you've tried to keep it as low as possible - just seems quite a big percentage!

857 - Kate Munro

this rates are going to affect some people more than others and push people into more extreme limits of their abilities

865 - Kelvin Duncan

There may be other solutions to your financial woes.

>>>

Government has been piling on extras to local bodes for ages. I don't think they will give up doing this. It explains why you have had such a hard time financially. I know you are dong your best*, but the people you must consult with are the government. *a nd I am very grateful for your efforts.

870 - Lis Stevenson

People are really struggling to keep finances afloat especially with owning a house. Mortgages have substantially risen as have rates

896 - Ged Robinson

[Spending - Te Kaha]

Its important to keep prices as best we can but very important that the city can function by having Te Kaha for instance will help bring money into the city

899 - Sharon Pavich

Not sure I understand the implications

923 - Leanne Keen

If people are struggling why put rates up 🤔🤔💡🤔🤔💡

943 - Coulton Finch

my house value went up 90 percent last year ,you got a rates increase of 90 percent out of me now you want another 13.0% on rates ,hmmm

Business Rates

General Comments

56 submissions were received on our business rates proposal.

5 provided comments in support of the proposed business rates, and 10 provided comments in opposition.

36 provided alternative proposals, and 7 provided general comments about business rates.

Officers Response

Specific feedback on the Business Differential was mixed:

- Some submitters wanted big businesses to pay more but others noted that businesses already pay a sizeable proportion of rates and are facing economic pressures.
- Rates relief for new businesses could encourage growth & employment.
- The Business Differential should be reviewed to ensure fairness across all ratepayers.
- Feedback on residential rental properties was also mixed: a number of submitters wanted higher rates to apply to landlords, but some were concerned that higher rates will be borne by renters.

Other submission comments covered:

- CCC should review its costs to keep rates increases closer to inflation, similar to how businesses & households must respond to higher costs (one submitter noted that relatively high rates may cause ratepayers to move to Waimakariri or Selwyn Districts).
- Higher rates should apply to suburban malls, to support CBD retail.
- Higher rates for vacant commercial buildings or similar “land-bankers”.
- Charities should be supported, but not those that are running as a business.
- Higher rates should be applied to businesses considered to contribute to climate change (e.g. petrol stations) or other pollution.

No immediate action is recommended:

- Rates are a form of taxation designed to collect revenues on a reasonably uniform and predictable basis – as a non-exchange revenue it cannot be based on a business’ profitability, or whether a building is vacant (or even derelict). A higher Differential for business properties, (being 2.22), is well-established essentially on the basis they benefit proportionately more from council services, but more granular application for other purposes must be justified in relation to Council costs: e.g. higher taxes on suburban malls would need to be based on an assessment that such malls impose greater costs on Council, not simply to support CBD businesses – any such CBD support (or more general support for new businesses) would need to be through a grant or remission, not a lower tax Differential.
- Based on the analysis provided by the Productivity Commission report on Local government funding and financing Christchurch sits within the expected parameters for a metropolitan council, and there is limited evidence of rates impost significantly influencing decisions of businesses in respect of which district to conduct their activities, that is other factors are likely to be more material, e.g. commercial opportunities of the site and return on investment.

- Applying the Business Differential to residential rental properties is not considered achievable, because Council has no way of robustly identifying rentals from owner-occupied dwellings; it is also unclear whether these two classes of residential property impose different cost pressures on Council sufficient to justify a differential tax treatment. Submissions on the rating of short-term visitor accommodation are commented on separately (topic 3.7).

- Council attempts to monitor its average rates charges compared with other councils, and to achieve an acceptable balance between rates and levels of service. The current pace of growth in the city's rating base suggests that external migration to neighbouring districts is not a material issue at the moment.

- Charities are rated in the same way as any other property, although the Rating Act does require certain types of rates, e.g. general rates, to be excluded from certain types of property (these include churches, reserves, schools, and hospitals). Council may provide rates relief through its Rates Remissions Policy, which is similar to a grant, including to community-based organisations that are considered to contribute to the wellbeing of the city.

The potential for a climate-related Targeted Rate warrants further investigation, although it would need to be set to recover climate-related costs from a reasonable class of properties – it could not be imposed for punitive purposes. Investigation could form part of Council's existing climate resilience activity.

Support

3209 - Anouk Minnaar

[Rates > Residential Rates], [Rates > Remote Rural Rates] [Transport > Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)], [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Coastal Hazards & Adaption Planning]

In the past low rates have been used as an electoral promise by councillor and mayoral candidates, leading to underinvestment or deferment of infrastructure. We need to increase our rates to keep up with the current levels of service. Otherwise our community will be worse off in all aspects and people will lose their jobs.

3268 - Savannah Da Silva

Yes anything that encourages long term housing and increases the revenue generated from properties used for business use should be encouraged.

3379 - Mike Currie

[Rates > Residential Rates], [Rates > Remote Rural Rates]

If we do not increase our rates to keep up with the current levels of service, our city will be worse off in all aspects and people would lose their jobs.

>>>

[Rates > Residential Rates], [Rates > Remote Rural Rates]

If we do not increase our rates to keep up with the current levels of service, our city will be worse off in all aspects and people would lose their jobs.

3626 - Connie Christensen

Businesses want to see more events and visitors in Christchurch, so they need to step up and put their money forward to make this happen as well.

3698 - Clive Beaumont (Canterbury Basketball)

I think that is fair as business will benefit the most from Te Kaha

Oppose

2189 - James Riddoch (Property Council New Zealand)

Rates increase 4.1. We are concerned to see that the Council has proposed a rates increase of 13.24% for 2024/25, with commercial property owners facing a proposed increase of 14.2%. 4.2. The proposed rates increase along with other costs such as; the 2.22 rating differential, the 4.523 vacant site differential, and increased insurance costs will have a notable effect on business vibrancy for Christchurch. We are also concerned that this may not attract future investment in the city.

>>>

While we are pleased to see that the rating differential has not increased since the last year's Annual Plan, we do not support it as a funding tool given that rating differentials do not explicitly account for, or demonstrate, the services consumed by businesses or the direct benefit to businesses of the increased rates burden.

We note that in the past, the differential for businesses was increased based on the comparative increase in residential versus commercial values, leading to a greater proportion of the rate burden falling on residents. Based on this logic, should there be a decrease in residential versus commercial values, we would expect to see the rating differential also decrease.

We recommend that an independent report be commissioned to analyse the rating differential and its economic impact. It is vital that Council adopts a model that is fair and equitable across all ratepayers. In the absence of such a report, we endorse the view of the Shand report which stated that, “In the interests of transparency and equity the Panel recommends that the power to set differential rates and to use UAGCs should be removed”.

2586 - Leeann Watson (Business Canterbury)

Business Canterbury reiterates the importance of maintaining sustainable rates. Businesses pay a sizeable proportion of the rates in Christchurch, and during challenging economic times cannot afford sustained double-digit rates rises (58% over the LTP period), particularly without a corresponding increase in the levels of service supported by the Council or levels of growth enabled.

3206 - John Gudgeon

The proposed rates increase is TOO HIGH. Wages and benefits are not keeping up with rate rises and other costs of living. Many households are struggling and need lower rates; not higher.

3373 - Michael Netto

I have decided to vote "No" on the proposal to maintain our existing levels of service and level of investment in core infrastructure, which would result in an average rates increase of 13.24% across all ratepayers and an average residential rate increase of 12.4%. While I fully recognize the importance of sustaining core services and infrastructure, I believe the proposed rate increases are too burdensome during a period of significant financial challenges for many residents and businesses in Christchurch. Given the current economic conditions, it is crucial for the Council to explore more budget efficiencies and potentially prioritize only the most critical projects. We should consider more sustainable financial strategies that do not heavily rely on substantial rate increases, which could make living in Christchurch less affordable for many. It is essential to balance the need for infrastructure maintenance with the economic realities facing our community, ensuring that we remain a livable and financially accessible city for all residents.

3381 - Karen Amyes

[Strategic Direction > Have We Got the Balance Right?][Rates > Residential Rates], [Rates > Remote Rural Rates]

Probably not as there is a significant increase in rates. I believe some projects should be put on hold so that rates stay the same.

3559 - Alana Harper

Try and keep rates at same amount as last year. Do away with something this year.

3662 - Joan Blatchford

The increase to business rates of 14.2% is too high for businesses already under significant pressure.

3712 - Zeta Pringle (Coalition for safe accommodation in Christchurch)

The cost of living is seriously affecting business and are not in a position to absorb these rate increases as they have demands everyday

>>>

Cost of living is hurting all business and the city needs business to thrive and not struggle,

3866 - Nicki Carter (Carter Group)

This increase is at least 3 times the rate of inflation and puts increased, and often unaffordable, rates increases on businesses and households. It is important that the Council takes into account that its business and residential rates within the Christchurch City Council area are significantly more than the rates for the same value properties in the Waimakariri District Council and the Selwyn District Council districts. The Council risks capital and population flight to the Waimakariri and Selwyn areas.

919 - Jason Marsden (The Hub Hornby)

No I don't believe so. The 13% rates increase will add an additional $96,000 to our rates bill. This cost is passed onto tenants by way of their OPEX charges and will add considerably to their financial stress and profitability. We will seek to offset this increase by reducing cleaning and security staff which will have a major impact on those individuals.

>>>

Should be consideration for large retail facilities that deal with their own rubbish etc

Other

1191 - Ava Johnson

Implement targeted rates on petrol stations, car salesmen, car parks and focus rates on industries that contribute to environmental and social issues. Further, a business rate should be charged for landlords using rental properties for profit.

>>>

Waste creating industries and business should be held accountable and taxed at a higher rate to deal with the waste that they are responsible.

1452 - Maraed Riley

Introduce a "focused rate" on petrol stations, car parks, and car dealerships, emphasizing industries and infrastructure that impact environmental and social concerns. Impose a "business levy" on landlords who exploit housing demand for personal gain, and levy a "focused rate" on rental properties reliant on Council services for revenue. Without proper oversight, I'm concerned that renters will disproportionately shoulder the burden of rate hikes, while affluent landlords profit from housing for personal gain.

>>>

We must allocate greater resources to holding waste-generating industries accountable. Implementing higher taxes on these sectors is essential to address the environmental challenges they have contributed to.

1456 - Henry Bersani

[Rates > Visitor Accommodation]

I think more granularity in how rates are charged would mean more effective outcomes. E.g. if you're an industrial operator polluting the heathcote, or a logistics firm whose trucks do considerably more damage than your average to the roads, you should be charged more. Similarly, if you are contributing to rent increases by leasing rental properties on short term rental sites, you should be charged more. Indeed if you own multiple rental properties a progressively increasing rate on each should be applied.

1474 - Céra Dernhagen

[Rates>Other]; [Rates>Residential Rates]

Implement a “targeted rate” on the petrol stations, car parks, and car dealers. Focus rates on industries and infrastructure contributing to environmental and social issues. Charge a “business rate” on landlords, who use the need for housing for their own profit, and do a “targeted rate” on rental properties, because those depend on Council to make money. If not regulated correctly, I fear renters will bear the cost of the rate increases more than wealthy landlords using housing for their own profit.

1583 - James Pomeroy

Increase rating for businesses

1589 - Barry Miller

Rates > Residential Rates]

Every property , both res. And commercial should pay their share as they all use and cost to the council.

180 - Kevin McSweeney

The commercial rates should be higher

1938 - Alice Busbridge

Rates on businesses, scaled to businesses profits.

1941 - Olive Harris

charge bussnis rate on land owners.

2115 - Billie Kaine

Big businesses should pay more rates not home owners who are struggling.

2206 - Nikki Rogers (Hospitality NZ)

Rates

9. Hospitality NZ urges caution around rates increases. We do not think businesses should carry an unfair proportion of the rates bill, given that a large proportion of rates cover council operations and amenities that often offer more value to residents than they do to businesses.

10. Businesses in general, and our members specifically, are facing rising costs and an increasingly challenging operating environment. For hospitality, thin margins are being stretched even further when councils look to impose large rates increases. We don't have the luxury of a customer base that has no option but to pay us – average increases of 25.67% over three years are not easily passed on to consumers, particularly in the current environment.

2385 - Ezra Mussa

Because of the cost of climate adaptation, there should be targeted rate for businesses which benefit from contributing to the climate crisis. These include petrol stations, car dealerships, garages, commercial car park facilities, and airports.

2389 - Aurora Garner-Randolph

There is no targeted rate for business which benefit from contributing to climate change, but there should be. There should be a targeted rate for petrol stations, car dealerships, garages, commercial car park facilities, and airports.

>>>

[Rates > Residential Rates]

Increase rates, specifically targeted ones on businesses and landlords and the wealthy.

2529 - Bernard Newman

Comments: I believe that across all programmes the Council must operate a no rates increase and at maximum only to match the CPI

2545 - Antony Gough (Terrace Christchurch Ltd)

A rates increase of 13% is not able to be absorbed by the people of Christchurch. It is more than double inflation right now. As a landlord if we imposed a rent increase of 13% then our tenants would leave us. We have to live within a strict level of increase which typically is around 2.5% per annum. Council rates increases should be no more than inflation which currently is at around 7% and decreasing. We all are having to look very closely at our costs to stay in business and this means we have to support only those items essential rather than nice to have. Council needs to do a deep dive into all their costs and trim items so that the average rates increase is no more than inflation.

2852 - Aaron Ghattas

>>> [Fees and Charges > Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street)] or increase rates for malls. This would place more even consumer base for city center retail and attract more business to the city center.

2868 - Jonty Coulson

Furthermore, the city council has a responsibility to ensure the wellbeing of all its citizens, not just the those who do pay rates. By keeping rates low whilst responding to the climate crisis, the council would be making those least responsible for the crisis bear the brunt of the effects. It is also important to consider future generations in the LTP. Lowering rates and reducing investment into civic infrastructure will negatively impact young people and future generations as they grow up in Christchurch, especially with the current cost of living crisis.

>>>

Rates should increase with increased levels of service, which Christchurch needs to meet its climate goals.

>>>

In light of Christchurches current climate reponse, I support further increases in rates, as well as more exploration of other avenues of generating council revenue.

>>>

[Rates > Residential Rates], [Rates > City Vacant Differential], [Fees & Charges > Car Parking (Parks)], [Other Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Change Fund], [Three Waters > Storm Water & Land Drainage]

The increased funding through rates, climate conscious CVD plans and parking charges will be able to appropriately fund climate mitigation and resilience - including the stormwater activity plan, in which not enough funding has been provided for basic mitigation projects.

289 - Julian Springer lower business rates

3055 - Josephine Drysdall

Businesses that contribute to the climate crisis, such as petrol stations, car dealerships, garages, commercial car park facilities, and airports, should be subject to a targeted rate to cover the cost of climate adaptation.

3083 - Peter Joyce

Perhaps all rate payers will need to pay a little more.

3099 - Stephen Miller

You should be reviewing everything. You cannot justify the current level of rates let alone the proposed increases. If it carries on as is, I for one will be leaving the city.

3128 - Chris Smith

Commercial rates should be higher

325 - Kathleen Clinton

Higher for businesses, especially if putting demands on environment.

3341 - Maria Bartlett

Choices made should not reduce existing levels of service

3354 - Andrea Langan

Use the profit making businesses to have a levy.

3371 - Malcolm Frost

[Spending > Capital Programme (General)], [Borrowing & Debt Management > Borrowing & Debt Management]

The trajectory of compounding Rates rises tends to suggest significant affordability problems for many residents & businesses in the future.

>>>

[Rates]

Only, that like many municipal authorities both here & overseas, the preservation of solvency is likely to be challenging over the coming years. Incomes (for both private persons &, certainly, for small businesses) are unlikely to keep pace with Rates rises. This infers that the real burden of Rates will continue to grow as a proportion of the city's income over time. At some point this risks becoming very challenging so the further into the future 'the crisis' can be procrastinated (by careful budgeting) the better.

3376 - Barry Lee

[Rates > Residential], [Rates > Remote Rural Rates]

Council must be responsible to its ratepayers and seek an increase no more than the current 4% inflation rate. The current proposed rate increase will have significant impact on those struggling with the cost of living crisis in our community.

3613 - Catherine McLeavy

The rates increase for residential, commercial and rural must be held at the most, to the CPI rate. Rates should not be linked to the capital value of a property. They should be linked to use.

3745 - Victoria Rathgen

There's a sports & Thai massage place setup in a unit why shouldn't they be paying the same as a business in a shop, wouldn't be nice living next door if it's actually a brothel. Even up the playing field for genuine businesses and tax the units as a commercial business.

3940 - Molly McKinstry

I think you should increase rates for big companies

>>>

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

I would like to see more targeted rates towards big companies, and more funding for climate action.

3966 - Michael Apathy (Climate Liberation Aotearoa)

>>> Rates must also target those who profit from contributing to the crisis. Therefore, there must be targeted rates on polluting businesses. We suggest petrol stations, but many more businesses benefit.

4005 - Janet Lockyer

I think charities should not have to pay rates but businesses should. This means not churches but organisations that run as businesses such as Sanitarium.

4045 - Liz Carter (Akaroa And Bays Forum)

The Forum agreed to make a generic submission expressing concern at the proposed level of rates rise and urging the Council to be fiscally prudent when considering the final plan.

>>>

The dry summer has also put pressure on those in our rural community not just psychologically, but also financially. Visitor wise the tourist numbers are increasing but are nowhere near pre-Covid levels so businesses are still stressed.

We ask that the Council prioritise spending on its core services and postpone some of the “nice to have” projects or spread them over a longer time period. Everyone in these financially difficult times has to cut their spending to accommodate the increase in costs, so we are asking that the Council do the same. Please look at all Council spending to seek efficiencies wherever possible because communities cannot keep absorbing double figure rates increases.

550 - Colin Mansell

Protect the charities but not empty properties or businesses pretending to be residential.

822 - Gavin Scott-Petersen

[Rates > Other]

To foster a business-friendly environment and stimulate local economic growth, I propose a more nuanced approach to rate adjustments. This could include implementing graduated rate increases, offering incentives for businesses that contribute significantly to the local economy, and ensuring that policy changes do not disproportionately impact small businesses and charities.

Additionally, providing rate relief or incentives for new businesses could encourage more enterprises to set up shop in our city, leading to increased employment opportunities and economic activity. In conclusion, while I understand the need to adjust rating policies to reflect current economic realities and priorities, it is imperative that these changes are balanced with the need to create a conducive environment for business growth and sustainability.

883 - Elizabeth Steel

Much like proposing fees on those who use services like carparks (see the next section) it would be better to target rate increases based on their businesses. For example, it would be good to have business rates for landlords, and to have higher rates for petrol stations and other pollution-based services, because they can certainly afford it.

Not Stated

1451 - Jodie Langston

Businesses that create a lot of waste and are not making steps to minimise this should pay more rates

>>>

Businesses that have a detrimental impact on environmental issues, i.e. fuel stations International franchise businesses- having these companies that have wealth, influence for advertising and premium location means there is less opportunities for kiwi led grass roots businesses being able to fill that gap in the market. They are swallowed up by the giants, i.e. fast foods, Kmart

>>>

[Resource Recovery > Resource Recovery (Operations)]

Business for profit that have poor waste management strategies/ create a lot of waste of landfilled should be taxed more

1452 - Maraed Riley

We must allocate greater resources to holding waste-generating industries accountable. Implementing higher taxes on these sectors is essential to address the environmental challenges they have contributed to.

1618 - Zachary Imhoof

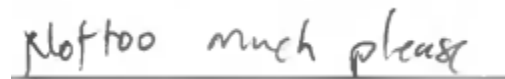

Implement a “targeted rate” on the petrol stations, car parks, and car dealers. Focus rates on industries and infrastructure contributing to environmental and social issues. Charge a “business rate” on landlords, who use the need for housing for their own profit, and do a “targeted rate” on rental properties, because those depend on Council to make money. If not regulated correctly, I fear renters will bear the cost of the rate increases more than wealthy landlords using housing for their own profit.

1946 - Zachary Reynolds

[coders note. Has CCC got the Balance right between its services and rates right?]

>>>

[coders note. Comments on increasing rates]

2515 - Jane Hopkins

How do business that don't have a traditional building to pay rates against contribute to the city infrastructure that they depend on for their business? They also need to contribute their fair share.

2586 - Leeann Watson (Business Canterbury)

While we are facing a ‘rates hump,’ the council must be focused on ensuring we remain an affordable city, supported by high-quality and efficient services. While the draft LTP discusses costs being high and out of the Council’s control, it is not alone. Every business in Christchurch has been impacted by the same inflationary pressures and rising costs that the Council has, yet few would be comfortable, nor get away with raising prices by 14% right now. They would find that customers, who are also facing those pressures would simply choose to no longer be customers. The Council, however, is in a position where customers do not have a choice, and with that comes a responsibility to ensure that complacency does not set in around cost control.

3357 - Merav Benaia

Far too long rates have been kept artificially low in order to avoid upsetting home owners. This resulted in underinvestment or deferment (also known as kicking the can down the road) of investment in vital infrastructure. Low rates will prevent the council from providing the current level of services. People who rely on these services will be disproportionately worse off. When parts of our communities are worse off, we will all eventually feel the effects of austerity. We must account for continued investment in public transport, climate mitigation projects and climate adaptation projects.

>>>

Future generations will carry the burden of our current underinvestment and we can not continue to burden them with the costs that future will bring.

Remote Rural Rates

General Comments

22 submissions were received on our remote rural rates proposal.

3 provided comments in support of the proposed remote rural rates, and 6 submitters provided comments in opposition.

11 provided alternative proposals, and 2 provided general comments about remote rural rates.

Officers Response

Submissions supported the lower General Rate Differential applied to Remote Rural properties, but consider that the average rates increase for such properties should not be higher than the average increase for non-rural residential properties.

Other issues or suggestions raised by submissions were:

- Rates relief should be provided for properties that are making an effort to assist the environment (e.g. planting).
- Some urban properties appear to be receiving the Remote Rural Differential in error.
- It is unfair to charge rural ratepayers for services that they do not receive, such as reticulated water, sewage, or rubbish collection.

No action recommended:

- Remote Rural properties face a larger % rates increase in 2024/25 than residential properties because the general rate which they pay has increased materially more than the targeted rates for water, sewer and land drainage that they don't pay. In 2024/25, the Draft LTP proposes a 17.18% increase in the General Rate but for example a 2.82% decrease in the targeted Water rate. All rateable properties will experience the same 17.18% increase in the General Rate, but the overall increase for residential properties which are also liable for water, sewer and land drainage rates will be lower due to the lower increases in the targeted rates which reduces the size of the total increase overall.

- Properties which set aside a material portion of land for conservation or other environmental purposes may apply for “Non-Rateable” status by covenanting their land under the Queen Elizabeth II National Trust. Interested ratepayers should contact the QEII Trust in the first instance.
- Urban-fringe “lifestyle blocks” can be challenging to categorise for rating purposes. Council only applies the Remote Rural Differential where the property is considered to be primarily used for rural purposes, as assessed by QV (ie. simply having a “rural” type zoning in the District Plan is not sufficient).
- Rates are a tax that must be levied primarily on property values; they are not a fee for services provided. However, rates for Water Supply, Sewerage, and Waste Minimisation are charged separately and are not applied to properties located outside the respective serviced area – a pre-requisite for receiving the Remote Rural Differential (which is only applied to the General Rate) is that the property is located outside the Council’s Sewerage serviced area.

Support

3209 - Anouk Minnaar

[Rates > Residential Rates], [Rates > Business Rates], [Transport > Public Transport Infrastructure (Capital)], [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Coastal Hazards & Adaption Planning]

In the past low rates have been used as an electoral promise by councillor and mayoral candidates, leading to underinvestment or deferment of infrastructure. We need to increase our rates to keep up with the current levels of service. Otherwise our community will be worse off in all aspects and people will lose their jobs.

3357 - Merav Benaia

Far too long rates have been kept artificially low in order to avoid upsetting home owners. This resulted in underinvestment or deferment (also known as kicking the can down the road) of investment in vital infrastructure. Low rates will prevent the council from providing the current level of services. People who rely on these services will be disproportionately worse off. When parts of our communities are worse off, we will all eventually feel the effects of austerity. We must account for continued investment in public transport, climate mitigation projects and climate adaptation projects.

>>>

Future generations will carry the burden of our current underinvestment and we can not continue to burden them with the costs that future will bring.

3379 - Mike Currie

[Rates > Business Rates], [Rates > Residential Rates]

If we do not increase our rates to keep up with the current levels of service, our city will be worse off in all aspects and people would lose their jobs.

>>>

[Rates > Business Rates], [Rates > Residential Rates]

If we do not increase our rates to keep up with the current levels of service, our city will be worse off in all aspects and people would lose their jobs.

Oppose

1508 - Mb Brennan

Why is the average proposed rural rating increase higher given they use less of city services. Cannot find any justification in the report. Think this need to be less or no more than residential proposals and you need to be transparent and open with rural ratepayers

3099 - Stephen Miller

You should be reviewing everything. You cannot justify the current level of rates let alone the proposed increases. If it carries on as is, I for one will be leaving the city.

3206 - John Gudgeon

The proposed rates increase is TOO HIGH. Wages and benefits are not keeping up with rate rises and other costs of living. Many households are struggling and need lower rates; not higher.

3373 - Michael Netto

I have decided to vote "No" on the proposal to maintain our existing levels of service and level of investment in core infrastructure, which would result in an average rates increase of 13.24% across all ratepayers and an average residential rate increase of 12.4%. While I fully recognize the importance of sustaining core services and infrastructure, I believe the proposed rate increases are too burdensome during a period of significant financial challenges for many residents and businesses in Christchurch. Given the current economic conditions, it is crucial for the Council to explore more budget efficiencies and potentially prioritize only the most critical projects. We should consider more sustainable financial strategies that do not heavily rely on substantial rate increases, which could make living in Christchurch less affordable for many. It is essential to balance the need for infrastructure maintenance with the economic realities facing our community, ensuring that we remain a livable and financially accessible city for all residents.

3381 - Karen Amyes

[Strategic Direction > Have We Got the Balance Right?], [Rates > Residential Rates], [Rates > Business Rates]

Probably not as there is a significant increase in rates. I believe some projects should be put on hold so that rates stay the same.

3559 - Alana Harper

Try and keep rates at same amount as last year. Do away with something this year.

Other

1825 - John Davies

Feel free to spread the rating base wider. And why is it that the regional councils including Waimakariri and Selwyn are not contributing to major local investments like the stadium and sports & recreation facilities when surely the residents of Rolleston, Lincoln, Kaiapoi and Rangioa etc will 100% be utilising those very facilities?

2529 - Bernard Newman

Comments: I believe that across all programmes the Council must operate a no rates increase and at maximum only to match the CPI

2763 - Karl Dean (Federated Farmers of New Zealand)

2.1.2 that CCC ensure the rate increase for remote rural properties does not exceed that of the urban residential rate increase;

>>>

Rates and expenditure

- 3.1 CCC has for some time maintained a 'remote rural differential' to reflect the differing levels of services between the urban and rural communities of Christchurch City and Banks Peninsula. This differential is important to maintain an equitable rating system. NCCFF agrees with no change to the 0.75 remote rural differential on the general rate and commends the Council in doing so.
- 3.2 CCC proposes rate increases which average at 13.24% for 2024/25. However, many of our members are classed as 'remote rural' ratepayers and their increase is on average 15.4%. Any small movement in rates translates to a significant monetary amount for farmers, given the high capital value of their properties. We therefore recommend the Council reduce the average rate increase for remote rural properties and ensure that the increase does not exceed that of urban properties. We also request the Council employ transparency and disclose the reason for the additional increase for remote rural properties.
- 3.3 Farmers are also facing a proposed 24.2% rate increase from Environment Canterbury. This significant rate increase will hit farmers hard, and both regional and district councils need to ensure that all measures are taken to reduce the overall rating burden on the rural community.
- 3.4 NCCFF does not accept the simplistic assumption that a property's value has a correlation to income or ability to pay. Central government has better information through the income tax system and it is best placed to respond through its social support mechanisms. The Government's Rates Rebate Scheme is targeted specifically to provide rates relief to low income ratepayers. We would support Council to promote this scheme and actively encourage ratepayers to apply.
- 3.5 Recommendation: that CCC should consider all proposed projects in the LTP and prioritise only those that are essential, to reduce the overall rate increase.
- 3.6 Recommendation: that CCC ensure the rate increase for remote rural properties does not exceed that of the urban residential rate increase.

[Full attachment available]

2868 - Jonty Coulson

Furthermore, the city council has a responsibility to ensure the wellbeing of all its citizens, not just the those who do pay rates. By keeping rates low whilst responding to the climate crisis, the council would be making those least responsible for the crisis bear the brunt of the effects. It is also important to consider future generations in the LTP. Lowering rates and reducing investment into civic infrastructure will negatively impact young people and future generations as they grow up in Christchurch, especially with the current cost of living crisis.

>>>

Rates should increase with increased levels of service, which Christchurch needs to meet its climate goals.

>>>

In light of Christchurches current climate reponse, I support further increases in rates, as well as more exploration of other avenues of generating council revenue.

>>>

[Rates > Residential Rates], [Rates > City Vacant Differential], [Fees & Charges > Car Parking (Parks)], [Other Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Change Fund], [Three Waters > Storm Water & Land Drainage]

The increased funding through rates, climate conscious CVD plans and parking charges will be able to appropriately fund climate mitigation and resilience - including the stormwater activity plan, in which not enough funding has been provided for basic mitigation projects.

3083 - Peter Joyce

Perhaps all rate payers will need to pay a little more.

3127 - Dianne Downward

Charging rates according to the value of the land and not services delivered is a wealth tax. Charging farmers and those in a rural setting for services they don't receive is wrong. Rural properties often don't have reticulated water, sewage, or rubbish removal and receive no discount for reduced services.

325 - Kathleen Clinton

Less for rural and natural environment areas that are making effort to assist environment i.e. Planting

3341 - Maria Bartlett

Choices made should not reduce existing levels of service

3371 - Malcolm Frost

[Spending > Capital Programme (General)], [Borrowing & Debt Management > Borrowing & Debt Management]

The trajectory of compounding Rates rises tends to suggest significant affordability problems for many residents & businesses in the future.

>>>

[Rates]

Only, that like many municipal authorities both here & overseas, the preservation of solvency is likely to be challenging over the coming years. Incomes (for both private persons &, certainly, for small businesses) are unlikely to keep pace with Rates rises. This infers that the real burden of Rates will continue to grow as a proportion of the city's income over time. At some point this risks becoming very challenging so the further into the future 'the crisis' can be procrastinated (by careful budgeting) the better.

3376 - Barry Lee

[Rates > Residential], [Rates > Business Rates]

Council must be responsible to its ratepayers and seek an increase no more than the current 4% inflation rate. The current proposed rate increase will have significant impact on those struggling with the cost of living crisis in our community.

3613 - Catherine McLeavy

The rates increase for residential, commercial and rural must be held at the most, to the CPI rate. Rates should not be linked to the capital value of a property. They should be linked to use.

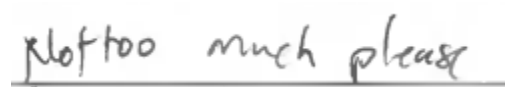

Not Stated

1946 - Zachary Reynolds

[coders note. Has CCC got the Balance right between its services and rates right?]

>>>

[coders note. Comments on increasing rates]

3582 - Cody Cooper

Council appears to be incorrectly applying the rural land rate on some urban properties, particularly in the Halswell area. Perform a full investigation of properties eligible for this rate to ensure that they remain eligible.

Uniform Annual General Charge

General Comments

9 submissions were received on our Uniform Annual General Charge (UAGC) proposal.

3 provided comments in opposition of the proposed uniform annual general charge, and 6 provided alternative proposals.

Officers Response

Submission feedback was mixed:

- Some argued that the uniform annual general charge (UAGC) is too low and should be increased to improve equity (the legislation permits that the UAGC may comprise up to a maximum 30% of total rates). The underlying assumption is that ratepayers' ability to pay is not linearly related to property value, so a higher proportion of fixed rates is "fairer".

- Others argued that the UAGC is too high, and/or the proposed increase is too large, not all submitters were clear about the extent of this increase: the headline is 28.8% because the UAGC has been amalgamated with the former Active Travel rate – whereas the actual increase of the two combined is 13.9%, the same as the General Rate.
- One submitter stated it was hard to submit about UAGC as it didn't appear to relate to any specific functions, the UAGC funds everything that the General Rate funds – ie. all Council spending that's not specifically funded from other funding source, e.g. whether that is from a targeted rate or fees and charges.

No immediate action recommended: UAGC is consistent with the combined UAGC and Active Travel rates from 2023/24, and its proposed increase is the same as other General rates increases.

The proposed UAGC is $197 per rating unit and will collect $37.9m (incl GST).

However, the issue around the equitable balance of fixed charges versus value-based charges is considered worthy of re-examination.

- Use of the UAGC, which is a fixed rate of $197 per rating unit, is in a tax sense regressive (as the overall tax rate percentage as a proportion of the property value decreases as the property value goes up). The UAGC is considered appropriate in an equity sense because ratepayers' ability to pay is unlikely to be linearly related to property values and there is no necessary correlation that enables Council to identify that a household in a $1.5m home is likely to have than double the income of a household in a $750k home.
- One submitter noted that the proportion of rates levied through fixed charges has gone down over the past decade (from 12.8% in the 2013-16 Three Year Plan to 8.6% in the current Draft LTP). A Productivity Commission report from 2019 calculated the sector-wide proportion at 14.5%.

Analysis could be progressed for consideration in the 2025/26 Annual Plan. Note that: (i) the total amount of rates collected would be unaffected, only the balance between value-based and fixed charges; (ii) an increase in fixed charges would tend to impact lower-value properties more than higher-value ones.

Oppose

3414 - Chrissie Williams

The proposed UAGC has increased from $153 in 2023/24 to $197 in 2024/25. This is a 29% increase!! This increase is exorbitant and outrageous - over the past few years the UAGC has increased by about 5%. If there is any increase in the UAGC the most it should be is $161.(5.2% increase) You acknowledge (Vol 2, p 128) "that a UAGC is regressive, in that it represents a higher percentage tax on lower-value properties than on higher-value properties. However, this is considered appropriate because owners' ability to pay is not considered likely to have a strictly linear relationship with property values, in addition to which it is considered appropriate for all property-owners to contribute at least a minimum amount towards the funding of Council Activities. We have therefore determined to apply a relatively low-level UAGC to each SUIP." I do not support this argument. Those in lower-value properties nearly always have a lower level of disposable income (it may not be exactly linear, but it is close). $197 is NOT a low level UAGC.

3497 - Cerys Fletcher

I have, in the last few minutes, discovered the proposed raising of the Uniform Annual General Charge from $153 to $197. This is an appalling proposal, as it places the extra load on those with lower-valued properties, people who generally have less disposable income. Higher-valued properties, which are often owned by higher-income individuals, should not have their load eased by those who are struggling. This 29% increase is hugely disappointing and should not go ahead.

3738 - Finn Jackson

I oppose the proposal to raise the Uniform Annual General Charge from $153 to $197 per year.

Other

2443 - Greg Urquhart

What I do think this raises again however is the need to increase the General Uniform Rates charge. As rates increase dramatically in % terms, the huge increases are put on households already paying way above the average. A 13.5% increase raises my rates by close to another $1350 per year.....Its time to raise the Uniform general rates charge to that of other major cities in New Zealand,

>>>

YES - The uniform General Rates charge need to be raised. With a 13.5% increase my rates increase by close to $1300 per year, then the year after that it will do so again. We need to raise the Uniform General Rates charge to that similar to Wellington or Auckland or Hamilton.....we cant have a minor group in the city being hit so hard on rates. We are already in the position that the successful will shift to other areas....why would anyone want to pay $20,000 or $30,000 or $40,000 for three rubbish bins.... This needs to be raised, the use of the rates as a wealth redistribution tax by the left needs to come to an end. Should those with more expensive homes pay more- Yep absolutely, but the delta is becoming more and more obscene every year with these % raises in rates charges.

2763 - Karl Dean (Federated Farmers of New Zealand)

2.1.4 that CCC should increase the UAGC to fully utilise the UAGC mechanism at 30% of the total rates income;

>>>

Uniform Annual General Charge (UAGC)

- 3.8 The majority of Council expenditure benefits the whole district, and this should be reflected in the base level of rates contributed by all ratepayers through maximising the UAGC.
- 3.9 The UAGC is proposed to increase from $153 to $197. We commend the Council on this increase as the UAGC helps to reflect the public good nature of many activities/services provided by CCC. However, we recommend the Council fully utilise the UAGC at 30% of the total rates income, to provide equity for all ratepayers. Yet Christchurch's UAGC is low compared to most city councils and even at $197 is forecast to only recover approx. $38million¹ out of $788million in rates (4.8% of total rates revenue).
- 3.10 Given the public good nature of Council provided activities and services in the district, there is strong rationale to fund many of these through the UAGC.
- 3.11 NCFF does not accept the simplistic assumption that a property's value has a correlation to income or ability to pay. Central government has better information through the income tax system and it is best placed to respond through its social support mechanisms. The Government's Rates Rebate Scheme is targeted specifically to provide rates relief to low income ratepayers. We would support council to promote this scheme and actively encourage ratepayers to apply.
- 3.12 Recommendation: that CCC should increase the UAGC to fully utilise the UAGC mechanism at 30% of the total rates income.

[Full attachment available]

3077 - Mike Davidson

Reduce the UAG %

3571 - Mark Dawson

I am not supportive of the UAGC the LTP proposes and submit that the UAGC should be increased further. In principle, I am supportive of a progressive tax system and rating based on capital value.

However, it is my view that there should be a balance between the fixed amount of general rate that all ratepayers pay (the regressive) and the amount allocated by the properties capital value (the progressive), and the CCC is not achieving this balance. The 2013-2016 LTP had rates collected under the UAGC at $20,838,000 and total rates were $382,937,000 The 2024-2034 LTP proposes to collect UAGC rates of $37,929,000 and total rates of $894,066,000 UAGC rates have increased by $17m while total rates have increased by over $500m. I understand the UAGC has been increased by a percentage equivalent to that of the total rate increases but this ignores that the dollars paid via the capital value allocation are materially more. The proposal has UAGC at 4.2% of the total rates. The Rating Act allows up to 30%.

3631 - Charlotte Sparrow

[Rates>Other]

The rating structure should be much flatter and reflect a more user-pays basis. Increase the universal significantly.

851 - Kevin Lamb

2. Uniform Annual General Charge

Which activities does this charge cover? It does not appear to relate to any specific functions. So how can a submission be made on a figure “plucked out of the air”?

Low-income earners can apply for up to $700 under the Rates Rebate Scheme.

RECOMMENDATION:

The council move towards the removal of the UAGC in future years, to be replaced by uniform charges, as outlined above.

[Coder Note: see full attachment]

Rates Remissions

General Comments

180 submissions were received for the proposed changes to rates remissions.

92 provided comments in support of the proposed changes, and 23 provided comments in opposition.

54 provided alternative options, and 16 provided general comments.

Officers Response

Adjustments to the Not-for-profit Community Benefit Remission were generally supported. However, there were mixed views on the principle of providing rates support for charities – some expressed strong support, but others (fewer, but still material) were against. A number of submissions specifically opposed remissions to organisations with perceived significant financial resources, such as large churches and private hospitals.

Removing the automatic “over-65” qualification for the Rates Postponement Policy also generated a mixed response, although the greater number were supportive.

A few submissions supported an increase in the Rates Rebate, but this is a government scheme (not Council).

No action recommended:

- All properties owned or used by charities or similar community benefit groups must legally be rated in the same way as other properties; the amount remitted is based on an assessment of the property’s use, which is determined independently by Quotable Value. The proposed amendment will enable this long-standing policy to be applied with a little more nuance without affecting its basic purpose or the total amount being remitted.
- There has previously been consideration about whether the Community Remission should include a specific assessment of financial need and/or whether or not the applicant is local or national. However, these have not been progressed due to the difficulty in developing clear criteria. Staff note that developing clear criteria is expensive and likely to lead to significant debate with affected parties and recommend managing through a remission policy.
- Note that two current practices are expected to continue for the Community Remission
 - The Remission is virtually automatic for spaces used as places of worship, and rates levied are limited to targeted rates water, sewer, and waste minimisation rates (because these are the only rates chargeable to places of worship under the Rating Act); ancillary spaces such as community rooms and administrative areas are considered separately.
 - Commercial operations owned by charities (including private hospitals) typically do not qualify for the Remission.

- Postponements – there have historically been very few applicants for this scheme, and the proposed amendment is not expected to have any impact on either the number of applicants or the amount being postponed.

Operational notes:

- One submission stated that the process to apply for the government Rates Rebate scheme was too complex. Rates staff will review this and consider what enhancements may be possible (noting that it's a government scheme, not Council's).
- One submission stated that a proposal to make the Community Remission formally dependent on the organisation's asset base was included in error in LTP 2021-31. This is not the case, and such wording is not recommended for LTP 2024-34: This Remission is not & will not be formally asset or income tested, although Council will continue to require applicants to provide their latest Annual Report for informational purposes.

Support

102 - Greg Comfort

If it brings in more income for you, just do it.

108 - Robert Duns

Charge rates on Churches, Schools, Ngai Tahu and any other non paying entities

1112 - Sarah Anderson (Friends of Christchurch Art Gallery Te Puna o Waiwhetū)

They seem sensible.

1176 - Jamin Thomas

No issues with the Charity remissions.

1293 - Jill Rice

If it brings in more money then its acceptable.

1391 - Anna Gruczynska

I support CCC looking at addressing loopholes in how CCC rates - in essence everyone who has the benefit of CCC provided services should pay rates, be it church, charity, government property.

1395 - William Wallace

[Rates > Visitor Accommodation]

I agree with rating visitor accommodation in a residential unit as a business, and changing the remissions for charities policies.

141 - Ann Coates

Charities should be paying rates.

1424 - Peter McMillan

[Rates > City Vacant Differential], [Rates > Visitor Accommodation]

We're proposing some changes to how we rate, including changes to the city vacant differential, rating visitor accommodation in a residential unit as a business, and changes to our rates postponement and remissions for charities policies.

Do you have any comments on our proposed changes to how we rate?

I AGREE THAT WE MUST ALL PLAY OUR PART AND PAY OUR SHARE

1546 - Robert Fleming

Acceptable

1567 - Sarah Pritchett

[Rates > Visitor Accommodation], [Rates > City Vacant Differential]

Sounds like a good idea to increase rates on city vacant sites, visitor accommodation in residential units and changes to rates postponement and remissions for charities policies.

16 - Andrew McKay

Charities should not get a free ride. They should not be getting any ratepayer money.

1623 - Oliver Mould

I approve of all of your planned changes to how you rate.

1626 - Sam Bunn

the proposed sounds good if it is keeping the % increase on rates to residents low

1650 - Deb Osborn

I strongly believe that churches should also pay their dues, they have too many exemptions, and they are businesses also.

1726 - Gavin Umuhuri

Tidying up charities rate system is a good idea.

1737 - Tim O'Sullivan

The proposal to make the exemption for charities simpler is a good idea.

1838 - Charlotte Holland

~~VULNERABLE TO THE PUBLIC~~
Support all suggested rates & remissions policies

188 - Tony MacHarper

Agree in principle with these proposals

1979 - Julie McCloy

No. It seems fair and reasonable.

202 - Anne Spicer

Long over due

2022 - Claudio Schill

Seems like a good idea

2024 - Janet Reeves

[Rates>City Vacant Differential]; [Rates>Visitor Accommodation]

Agree

206 - Shane Morrow

I agree with the above

2071 - Paul Broady

- I agree with the proposed changes to rates postponements, and to remissions to charities.

2096 - Kate Divett

This makes sense to me.

2136 - Clara Carey

I approve of the changes to rates postponements.

2155 - Geoffrey Sugden

I support the changes.

230 - Peter Elliott

I agree

2310 - Helen Broughton (Waipuna Halswell Hornby Riccarton Community Board)

- The Board supports extending qualification for rates postponements to people of any age who are experiencing financial hardship but considers that the current automatic qualification for postponements for those aged 65 years or older be retained.
- The Board supports simplifying the wording of the Remission Policy 1 (not-for-profit community-based organisations) and Policy 2 (land owned or used by the Council for community benefit) to give more flexibility to grant remissions that are consistent with the Council's objectives and the extent of the ratepayer's financial need, noting that this change is not expected to have a material impact on the total amount of remissions granted, or on the rates revenue required to pay for them.

2311 - Paul McMahon (Waitai Coastal-Burwood-Linwood Community Board)

The Board supports the proposed simplification of rates remission for charities policy.

2338 - Robin Schulz (Coronation Reserve Residents Group)

Agree

2358 - Carolyn Moffat

Yes, agree with this proposal

2388 - Guy Tapley

I believe the proposed changes are sensible.

2396 - Sam Jenkins

I also agree that rates postponement should be based on need, not simply age based.

I think we should be careful giving all not-for-profits effectively free use of public services, when many of them are themselves large earners - notably churches

2407 - Dave Evans

[Rates>City Vacant Differential]; [Rates>Visitor Accommodation]

Do them all!!! And soon!

2417 - Victor Vergara

sounds fine

2474 - Lerk Shih Poh Stedman

I support

2508 - Oliver Hutchison

Particularly support banning sites used as carparks from being considered for remission.

2520 - Graeme Fraser (Diamond Harbour Community Association)

I agree with these measures.

2540 - Jocelyn and Caroline Papprell and Syddall

We agree with the proposals as outlined in the Draft LTP

2639 - Callum Ward (Waihoru Spreydon Cashmere Heathcote Community Board)

The Board supports the proposed changes.

278 - Robin Curry

Appear reasonable

2784 - Jenny Smith (Te Whare Roimata Trust)

In addition to our focus on the Inner City East/Linwood community we support: Changes to rates remissions for Charities

2835 - Emma Rodriguez Dos Santos

Agree YES to ending age-based qualifying for a rates postponement - some of the Over 65's are the most affluent in our society. Agree YES to changing rates remissions for charity (broadly) as long as this is as implied, i.e. charities can still access up to 100% rates remissions

2836 - Jillian Frater

I agree with the changes as proposed.

2848 - Glen Koorey

I support all of these options as ways to recoup additional rates revenue.

293 - Monique van Veen

I agree with the proposed changes

297 - Michael Crabtree

Agreed totally

3016 - Zarah Green

In support of these.

3037 - Robert Fletcher

I am in favour of all the changes.

3096 - Hamish Mitchell

This I agree with

3169 - Barbara Brown

I agree with these proposed changes.

322 - Richie Connell

Do it.

3379 - Mike Currie

[Rates > City Vacant Differential]

The city could increase its revenue (to then fund projects with climate justice in mind) by: 1. extending the vacant differential rate change to the entire city; 2. banning car parks from being considered for remission, and 3. increasing the City Vacant Differential multiplier of the standard general rate (it currently stands at 4.523).

3392 - Stephen Wood

I support these initiatives

3415 - Allan Taunt

Agree with all other proposed changes in the "Proposed changes to how we rate" section of the consultation document.

3423 - James Upton

Agree with what is proposed.

3466 - Mark Stapleton

I am relatively pleased with these proposed changes..

3480 - Martin Robertson

Agree

3548 - Dwayne McCormick

This is a good plan.

3575 - Anna Hansson

Sounds fair to me

3589 - Roxanne Brassington

Good

3615 - Janine Clarke

Agree with these

3620 - Rosemary Turnbull

as are reductions in organisations claiming to be charities.

[Coder note: essential]

3623 - Jessica Adams

There should also be a review of rating for large Charities which are operating as businesses and development companies.

363 - Nathan Carroll

I agree with these proposals

3701 - Rod Hay

I support the proposed changes, i

3722 - Rachel Thwaites

You definitely should tax AirBNB and similar accommodation. Please look at financial earnings of charities and tax the high earning ones eg sanitarium when compared to city mission

373 - Charlene Herring

Agree with the changes.

3745 - Victoria Rathgen

Charities only need to donate 10% or similar and their shops are no longer meeting my expectations of charity.. please go for remissions of charities.. the accommodation of some are prison like with their attitudes...single young males seem to struggle most or they are the homeless category on street i see most.

>>>

Charge charitable charity Charge the Government rates such as airports as business Do not charge community hub halls type place

375 - Alex McNeill

These seem like very sensible changes.

3768 - Tracey Klatt

These are all good ideas for getting some additional revenue

3783 - Arthur McGregor

[Rates > City Vacant Differential], [Rates > Visitor Accommodation]

I support these proposed changes

379 - Alex Rowe

I agree with all proposed changes. I support the city vacant differential rating plan, short term unhosted residential accommodation rating changes and age based rental postponement change.

3795 - Bede Cunningham

agree

3801 - Victor (aka Vince) Eichholtz

yes to reevaluation of rates for charities

3809 - Johnathon Ridden

Support.

3820 - Rowan Sprague

I agree with these changes

3825 - Justin Barton

rewording of rates postponement and remissions for charities policies - seems ok

3830 - Brenda Banning

I agree with these proposals

3845 - Wolfgang Rack

OK.

385 - Francesca Brown

I think that is fine

3865 - Maxine Donovan

Well if it benefits the overall plan, then guess any change may be beneficial.

3930 - Peter McCarthy

I can see and support the approach you've outlined.

3971 - Joseph Fullerton

>>> Rates remissions and postponements should continue >>>

4024 - Richard McCaskill

I agree with the above, especially "so called" charitable status, i.e., those that are actually corporate businesses such as Ngai Tahu and Santitarium etc.

533 - Judith Livingstone

Charities should get a remission this helps the community

7 - David Stiles-Pickard

Agree with above.

80 - Elizabeth Velde

That's fair enough

814 - Malcolm McKellar

Agree. Time for St Georges to lose its Charity status.

990 - Wendy Fergusson

These are good

Oppose

1175 - Jonathan Ludgater

No one should get a free ride

1398 - Carol Woolf

We need to support charities because our social services, and the people they support, are screwed without them!!

1406 - Eve Lafferty

I don't support the ending of rates remission for charities

1486 - Fabio Valle

I think is wrong considering that everyone if facing financial difficulties

153 - Lindsay Strang

Continue rate remissions for charities

1868 - Sara Rennell

Charities need to not be the ones to absorb the cost.

1998 - Grace Robinson

Additionally, maintaining eligibility for rates postponements for over 65s is crucial for those on fixed incomes and must not be overlooked.

2311 - Paul McMahon (Waitai Coastal-Burwood-Linwood Community Board)

The Board opposes the changes to rates postponement because it will require additional administrative costs and put in place barriers to access.

2507 - Bronte Barber

Keep rate postponements @ 65 - it is dehumanising to prove if one is poor.

2603 - Ron Brooks

leave it alone

2750 - Helen Johnstone

However, I don't consider that you should start charging charities in any way, or reduce any payments to them. They spend many, many volunteer hours assisting the community for no, or little cost to the Council and ratepayers.

2813 - John Antill

NO changes should be made

2847 - Colleen Philip (Sustainable Ōtautahi Christchurch)

SOC (Sustainable Ōtautahi Christchurch) do not agree with changes to rates remissions for community groups which look likely to result in less support for them. We believe the status quo should remain given the value these organisations give to the city and its citizens.

3003 - Sonya Hodder (Spreydon Neighbourhood Network)

>>> Many churches who have charity status in our area would struggle to pay higher rates with aging congregations. It could limit their ability to provide mission in the community, especially for the elderly.

3065 - Janet Wilson

Disagree with proposed policy against remission of rates on charities. These organisations contribute significantly to the city's welfare, using voluntary help mostly.

31 - Gary Durey

You have NOT provided evidence to back up why the changes are needed or the impact they will have, so they can not be implemented.

3425 - Hugh Dacre

I believe you should leave rates postponement alone and likewise remissions for charities. Real charities are struggling now, the problem is charities which are really more like big businesses, but that is a matter of definition which must be decided at government level.

3599 - Hayley Guglietta

I do not support rates to charities who are delivering space based community led development this is just a false economy as the organisation is most likely to go back to CCC to then fund this rating

3613 - Catherine McLeavy

Do not agree with remissions for charities or differential for Māori land.

3672 - Neil McKenzie

Please don't impose rates on "not for profits". The help these providers give to a community is very often seriously under estimated.

3971 - Joseph Fullerton

>>> and ending eligibility for over-65s despite the lack of meaningful difference this will make to CCC's finances is a cruel move which should not take place.

458 - Christine Cockle

I don't think there should be remissions for charities.

78 - Michele Laing

Keep support for charities. There is greater inequity in our population. Charities need support.

Other

1164 - Andrea Davis

Residents should have the ability to rates rebates if change behaviour to be more sustainable which means not over using the resources we are currently over consuming. You allow a new build to put all non porous paving in which will cause surface flooding of the streets, you allow trees to be removed and accept only small trees in subdivisions, the trees will help get water to into the deep soils where we need it. If a resident uses porous paving and green roofs they should have a rebate because they are part to the solution not part of the expensive problem that will eventually need big dollars spent. The small nature based solutions are not expensive and can buy our children time on the flood prone land we will end up leaving in the future.

1469 - Susan Grant

charities that have a commercial incomes such as Sanitarium and churches with a large income should not get rates remission.

1491 - Lindsay Richards (Westmorland Residents Association)

[Rates > Rates Remissions]

[Rates > Visitor Accommodation]

Start hitting Air B and B properties with business rates. Tighten up on churches and charities that are currently rates exempt. You keep telling the residents that today's world is "user pays", so make all users pay.

1520 - Wendy Butcher (Canterbury WEA)

Charities who are active and providing a real and justifiable service should continue to receive a rates remission as was confirmed in the Plan discussions of 2023 as noted below. When Council was developing its Long Term Plan 2021-31, Council proposed to amend its policy on remissions for not-for-profit community-based organisations. The proposal would have made some organisations ineligible for the remission if they held cash and investments above a certain amount. After hearing submissions, Council decided not to proceed with that proposal. However, due to a staff error, the text relating to the proposal was mistakenly included in the version of the policy published in the LTP. Council intends to correct the published text of the policy by deleting the relevant text. The change is: "To be eligible for this remission, organisations must have a closing balance of cash and investments in their latest financial accounts of less than 50 times the GST exclusive Council rates for properties in relation to which the remission is sought. Cash and investments include term deposits of all durations, and shares in listed companies, but do not include investment properties. For example if GST exclusive Council rates are $5,000, the organisation cannot have more than $250,000 of cash and investments. Funds that have been received from grants, fundraising or insurance proceeds that are committed to a specific capital project may be excluded from the cash balance for this calculation. Applicants must provide evidence showing the purpose for which that cash is held." We ask that consideration of the community and social value of these organisations is forefront in any planning and that donations are always excluded from the calculations of the cash balance. As we presented to the CCC last year Under the proposed change any organisation with a closing balance of cash and investments in their latest financial accounts of more than 50 times the GST exclusive Council rates for properties in relation to which the remission is sought will not be eligible for rates remission. We feel that this will have a greater negative impact on the people of Christchurch than the nominal savings that it will generate for the following reasons: 1. This will act as a strong deterrent for community organisations to base themselves in the central city as rates are significantly higher there due to higher land values. Already being centrally located is beyond many community and third sector organisations and it is our belief that a central city without any community organisation presence will be a soulless one. 2. It punishes larger organisations, those who are financially prudent and those who are in the fortunate but costly position of owning their own property. 3. It does not take into consideration any existing plans for spending reserves or for reserves held for future spending needs (such as repairs to aging buildings). For example it would surely be irresponsible of a community organisation that owned an old building not to accrue funds over a number of years to be used to maintain and renovate those buildings in the future? 4. It does not take into consideration alternate financial models such as the one we have here at the WEA. We make a sizable operational loss each year, which is funded from income on financial reserves. This is something we choose to do as we offer our educational courses and workshops at well below market rates. We use investment income to subsidize our programmes so that we can fulfil our purpose of making education accessible to the people of Christchurch. This model means that we do not need to join the many worthy community groups applying to the very limited funding pots available. We receive no funding, we use our own investment income as our funding stream. The more that our investment income is used to pay rates the less of it we can use to provide affordable education for the people of Christchurch. 5. Community organisations use every penny to make a difference to the people of this city. Whether it is spent promptly or saved and spent tomorrow the city and its people are the sole benefactors. We appreciate that there is a need to make cost savings but we feel that the proposed changes amount to robbing Peter to pay Paul and will negatively impact the people of Christchurch for many years to come. Our thoughts have not changed.

1541 - Maurice Adler

The rate remission on charities is all well and good, but are those charities making a profit or have large assets, eg. Churches. In that case they should not receive any rate remission.

180 - Kevin McSweeney

The whole charity remission thing needs a thorough review. It seems patently unjust that business and other operations “owned” by charities (of whatever ilk) are not charged the same rates as other businesses

193 - Anne Mahan

Rates for charities should be still at a lower level

1996 - Iain Nicholls

Continue to support churches and other faith communities as these provide untold levels of community support for youth, elderly, homeless, disadvantaged and families.

2058 - Janita Patrick

we should be more lenient in charities & nfp

2071 - Paul Broady

- As rates increase it will be important to provide adequate rebates and postponements to those in genuine hardship.

2201 - Eddie Hayes

Remove the rates remissions for megachurches like Destiny and Celebration Centre. Small community organisations which do not have a religious purpose are far more important than these churches which are not inclusive and cause great harm.

2289 - Leonie Jackson

we treated us as a business.
• Charities remissions could be reduced to 50%.

2296 - Vickie Walker

Do you have any comments on our proposed changes to how we rate?

Charities should pay rates as businesses do.

2389 - Aurora Garner-Randolph

The council should not end eligibility for 65 year and older residents to have rates postponements, because people on fixed incomes are least able to pay rates.

2449 - Jane Morris

Would like to see the rates rebate "upped" for people like myself living alone on a fixed income and dealing with cost of living hardships

2599 - Susan Miller

I believe that if charities/not for profit, are using some of the facilities like waste management they should be at least expected to pay for the services they use, this would help relieve some of the financial burden.

2624 - Colin Ong

Charitable bodies could perhaps be charged rates at a lower amount than private residences.

2640 - Wayne Hawker (New Brighton Museum)

There should be some leeway for a postponement of rates given the struggles many have but is done at the discretion of council, while registered charities with property valued under a certain criteria value should be able to get some form of remission from rates, there are many such charities that help the lifeline of many communities with little ongoing or restricted income income

2690 - Robbie Dobbie

~~the proposal is to~~
Cut rates remissions for charities to 60% apart from charities directly related to ^{and 100% for them} city ~~no rates for local charities~~ Canterbury ^{charity} interests.
Fees and Charges
No rates for local charities
60% rates to global charities

2738 - Patricia (Patsy) Eastwood

Charities are not supposed to make a profit as their 'earnings' are supposed to go to helping those in need, not those running to show? Maybe the ones that do make huge untaxed profits could be rated accordingly?

2953 - Quentin Kelly

Do you know how much trade SPCA and Salvation Army do at their stores? Christchurch people are poor and need help.

2995 - Ronnie Davey (Citizens Advice Bureau Christchurch Area)

Any changes to the wording of the remissions for charities policies should benefit and not cost non-profits renting from council properties. Many organisations do not own property, rely on council properties to be very affordable (if not free) and are already struggling to provide their services to the community.

307 - Rata Jamieson

Ban carparks from being considered for remission.

3093 - Gareth Cook

Not in support of remissions for charities or religious centres.

3243 - Michael Petherick

Churches should be subject to rates.

Just make sure the churches pay rates.

3373 - Michael Netto

Rates Postponement and Remissions for Charities: I am cautious about this proposal and would like more information on the specific changes being considered. Charities play a vital role in our community, and it's essential that any modifications to tax relief policies do not adversely affect their ability to provide services. A balanced approach that ensures fiscal responsibility while supporting the invaluable work of charitable organizations is crucial.

>>>

[Rates > City Vacant Differential], [Rates > Visitor Accommodation]

In conclusion, while I support revisiting and updating the rating system to reflect current property usage and community needs, I encourage the Council to carefully consider the broader implications of these changes. Ensuring transparency and engaging in further consultation with affected stakeholders will be key to implementing these changes successfully.

3382 - Meg Biggs

I think charities should not be required to up their contributions provided they fit the true definition of a charity.

3535 - Anna Harper

Charities should pay rates like any other business.

3538 - Leonardo Cockburn

Just hope it doesn't make rent go up

3545 - Sarah Eve Tunstall

I see no issue if the proposed rates remissions for charities does not affect the total/sum of expenditure allocated to these charities.

3577 - Marie Byrne

Re the rates remission policy wording changes, I have an issue with the addition of the word "May". My concern that this provides an ability to stop this remission without any form of consultation with the community. The good work that many of these organisations undertake have a positive social impact value upon the economy and also ultimately Council. Removing the remission would have severe financial implications on some of the charities and force them to look elsewhere for redressing the financial gaps – potentially to Council through community funding. Surely this would be a false economy.

3598 - Kyle Sutherland

End churches having an exemption to pay full rates.

3621 - Morgane Honore

Opposition to Space-Based Community Project Rating: We do not support the rating of space-based community projects. This rating approach could hinder community-led development initiatives and limit the ability of grassroots organizations to contribute to the well-being of their communities. By implementing these recommendations, the council can strengthen its commitment to building a thriving, inclusive, and sustainable city for all residents.

3633 - Joanne Tindall

- Rates Postponements: o There is significant hardship being experienced at the moment by Ratepayers and this is not only affecting those aged 65 years or older. I believe that the automatic aged based qualification should stay. This is so that those in this age bracket are able to automatically get the Postponement of their rates. We should not be subjecting this age group to more stress and distress in the worry of the application process. o Those under the age of automatically qualifying for the postponement should still be able to apply and be considered under their merits. o At present the total amount postponed may not exceed 20% of the property's most recent valuation. If this is exceeded then the total amount postponed becomes due, and if ratepayer is unable to pay in full, a payment arrangement can be agreed upon. 20% of a properties value is a huge amount of money to be able to repay. I would like to see more in the way of policy on how this is paid back and over what period of time this would be in.

3660 - Alice Shanks

Retain the rates remission for conservation land protected in perpetuity by conservation covenants. The ongoing contribution from the public helps the landowners fund weed and pest control. With the imminent removal of the Significant Natural Area obligations (and the proposal to uplift scenic reserve status and Conservation covenants under the draft Fast-Track Approvals bill) covenants will be critical to the retention and enhancement of City and Banks Peninsula biodiversity. I am part of two covenants that receive this rating relief and it really does make private conservation projects feasible in the long-term.

3740 - Nicky Sharples

As for proposed changes to rates remissions for charities the wording in changing the policy would have to be very clear as charities in this financial climate are struggling & therefore unable to pay rates.

3746 - Quinn Ledgerwood-Gee

CCC should not charge for Muslim Boards, as this imposes an effective "death tax" on Muslims.

3799 - Morgane Honore (Richmond Community Garden Trust)

We do not support the rating of space-based community projects that are delivering community-led development projects.

3805 - Antony Lawrence

The charities rates remission needs careful consideration given the questionable tax free status of some charitable trusts who are effectively commercial organisations.

3821 - Peter Guy

IMPORTANT - make the process for applying for the rates rebate simpler! It is so hard you have contact so many people and print things out. Councillors say that you can apply for the rebate - but it isn't that simple. They should try do it themselves.

3876 - Dave Evans

I would not like to see any significant changes to rates remissions for charities. These organisations operate on the smell of an oily rag, yet contribute enormously to the fabric of the city. Rates increases could drive them out of operation.

3882 - Jodi Gauci

Yes, not for profit organisations should be charged very minimal rates so that the organisations don't have to increase fees to members to pay for CCC facilities/spaces

3890 - Michele St George Waugh

In terms of 'long term value' please consider what is already of value in the services provided by charities to the city

3895 - Margaret Trotter

Which charities are you meaning? Churches have never paid taxes, large businesses hide behind legal issues. Fair taxes for all would be a good start and not relying on workers on wages needs to be investigated as part of the changes. Or is this another bureaucratic slight of hand.

3921 - Alison Loveridge

Charging charities on shoe string budget who deliver to disadvantaged people more rates is problematic. More fine grained decision on who should be allowed remissions is needed.

3991 - Marilyn Copland

Why remove remissions for charities though? They, like the council, are trying to improve the lot of those in need.

3994 - Sarah Boje

Don't rate charities, real charities not fake ones like climate change activist groups!

4020 - Brian Turner

Generally okay. Charities that are not contributing services to the community should be noted.

4021 - Cornelis F De Jager

Maybe it's time to consider charging rates to those organisations that are currently exempt.

670 - Sue Orpwood

The groups and individuals that receive rebates and remissions need to be very carefully looked at. I believe in user pays.

755 - Jenn Shraga

I think there are charities that are taking the council for a ride. There are many loop holes that allow for misuse of this "tax break" method.

822 - Gavin Scott-Petersen

[Rates > Other]

Moreover, changes to rates postponement and remissions for charities could impact the valuable services these organizations provide to our community, especially in challenging economic times. It's essential that any policy adjustments consider the needs and contributions of such entities to the city's social fabric.

877 - Helen Hessey

Increasing the subsidy for low income earners to a more reasonable figure would be helpful. Perhaps $1000.

Not Stated

116 - Jarrod Coburn

I don't really understand it but I trust you.

1806 - James Edwards

Changes to Rates Postponement and Remissions for Charities: I'm all for supporting our local charities, and if these changes can help them direct more funds towards their core services rather than to taxes, that's great. However, let's make sure these policies are not too restrictive and that all eligible charities can benefit.

1814 - Jenny Atkin

Changes to Rates Postponement and Remissions for Charities: We need to support our local charities, and if these changes can help them direct more funds towards their core services rather than to taxes, that's great. However, let's make sure these policies are not too restrictive and that all eligible charities can benefit.

193 - Anne Mahan

But need to take account of financial hardship

2345 - Deirdre Cottrell

Remission for charities could impact negatively on valuable services and help for vulnerable people.

2434 - Philip Bones

I find the information relating to charities confusing. The great majority of charitable organisations play a vital role in supporting the city's less fortunate citizens and the city's environment. I do not think anything should be done which might put those organisations at risk.

2525 - Adrienne Kimberly Georgine

Not at this time.

2529 - Bernard Newman

I could not find information on this.

277 - Jane Harrison

Please don't make it harder for charities to do their work - funding is under a lot of stress already. Churches are usually able to afford rates etc. much more than other not-for-profits. I

3044 - Tony Smail

Council is best placed to determine this

3257 - Fiona Jones

Look at if it's fair and don't take it so far the other way.

3476 - John Fletcher

No. There are pros and cons no matter what system is used.

4001 - Jennifer Porter

Your provision of rates postponement should ease the burden as long as those applying realise it is a form of loan and will be required later.

481 - Tommy Ng

Changes should be made only if it makes sense and helps to lessen the burden of people

781 - Jenene Parker

Charities should not pay more

794 - Yanny Webb-Walker

Charities do an amazing amount of work that would cost us hugely if their work was not carried out, often by much voluntary labour. Please do not burden them more. I'm not

City Vacant Differential

General Comments

294 submissions were received for the proposal to extend the City Vacant differential rating to additional areas of the city.

158 submissions provided comments in support of the proposal to extend the City Vacant differential.

9 opposed this proposal, 118 provided alternative options, and 14 gave general comments.

Officers Response

General Support/ Opposition.

- The majority of responses supported the rating scheme and its expansion to include the four suburban centres.
- A few owners of Lyttelton properties argue that the Port Influences Overlay already limits their development options, and that the CVDR compounds this.
- The Property Council and Business Canterbury maintain the views that CVDR is not the right tool, is punitive, undermines developer confidence and is a revenue gathering exercise. In Suburban Centres, they highlight that the cost implications on owners are higher.

Other Matters

- Submitters urge Council to continue to explore tools to drive action on derelict and vacant buildings including the use of rates or expanded owner support.
- Many submitters support the expanded use of CVDR with most suggesting it be applied city wide or to all commercial centres. Other suggest it should be applied to residential intensification areas (including the Central City Residential Zone) and transit corridors.
- Many submitters request that the current exemption of Temporary Car Parks from CVDR is removed because the use does not need subsidising, is supporting land banking and is holding back more productive uses of land. One submitter suggests that a short term timeframe for temporary parking use is set after which the rating exemption will no longer apply.
- Some suggest underutilised land is undermining the ability to deliver a more efficient city, and that revenue captured from these sites should be ringfenced to fund climate change reduction/mitigation.
- Several submitters specifically propose that the Council goes further in investigating a shift to Land Value Rating (LVR) to build in an incentive for all vacant / underutilised land and derelict property owners to deliver more efficient and productive patterns of development.
- One submitter suggests the Council puts a shift to LVR up as an issue for a local referendum alongside the 2025/26 Draft Annual Plan.

Fundamentally, the purpose of the current CVDR and its accompanying rate remission is, on a localised basis, to incentivise the improvement or temporary use of vacant land where owners are not ready to commit to permanent development. This is done by charging a higher rate on vacant sites which to reflect a fairer allocation of the costs of Council's localised investment and general activities to property owners who benefit from Council's activities. Policy exclusions then exempt sites which are in approved temporary uses. A rate remission is available to owners who undertake site improvement projects (where they cannot/do not want to initiate a temporary use).

Throughout many submissions there was a theme that CVDR should be used more widely (in the absence of Land Value Rating) to encourage vacant land to be developed, sold or more efficiently/productively used, or to penalise inactive landowners for 'land banking'.

The Council cannot compel owners to develop sites or sell them. NZ Local Government rating powers are for transparently funding local government activities and cannot be used in a punitive fashion. Expanding the use of CVDR to deliver the suggested wider objectives is not available to the Council under the rating legislation.

Proponents of Land Value as a basis of taxation (rather than the current Capital Value) argue that it encourages development and discourages land banking by making the value of improvements effectively rate free. Staff acknowledge this position was advanced in the Productivity Commissions report on Local government funding and financing (November 2019), however, the analysis has its limitations because generally the rating levied by Council does not have a material impact on owners' investment decisions (compared with other considerations such as the cost and risk of investment and the potential returns compared with other uses of capital).

Moreover, a shift from Capital Value to Land Value would result in significant changes to current rating (in particular, businesses would pay less, houses would pay more, and farms would pay much more), which would very likely need to be ameliorated by a more complex system of rating Differentials and Remissions. The Productivity Commission report showed that the significant majority of councils use Capital Value, and its use (compared to Land Value) has increased over time, with those councils still using Land Value also applying significantly larger (and more complex) Differentials.

Council has no current plans to investigate a change from Capital Value to Land Value as a basis for rating.

Support / Objection Issues

On the Norwich Quay, Lyttelton Issues: the current Port Influences Overlay does impact on development options, but CVDR when viewed with the accompanying remission does not impose any other obligation aside from encouraging owners to leave land tidy.

A number of submitters urged that Council applies CVDR sensitively given the weaker economic conditions in the four suburban centres. Staff would highlight that owners have already been contacted on three separate occasions to make them aware of the proposal to introduce this rating scheme, and to provide options on how they can make site improvements to avoid the rating or qualify for the remission.

Derelict and Vacant Buildings

Councillors requested in a briefing that they would like to see options for an alternative rating scheme to address derelict buildings as part of the 2025/26 Annual Plan Process. One of the challenges which will need to be addressed in developing a rating tool for this purpose is how derelict buildings are identified and assessed.

On application of higher rating to vacant buildings (capable of being occupied), owners still pay full rates for their properties which, in itself, should incentivise them to make a financial return.

Inclusions/ Exclusions:

On the wider application of the CVDR, staff would urge caution as signalled in the overview comments above.

- In the Commercial centres into which Council is extending the use of CVDR:
 - there are concentrations of vacant land with negative impacts on place perception and function.
 - The council has/is investing in new street infrastructure, facilities, or has committed to future planning and continues to offer development support.
 - Given that vacant landowners benefit from this investment as much as those who have already developed, it is reasonable – in the setting of rates – that they make a fairer contribution to these costs through CVDR.

- In contrast, vacant land in most other areas tends to be more sporadic or isolated and the council's activity is generally limited to everyday upkeep of local facilities, streets and infrastructure. Identifying vacant property (over a continuing timeframe) to which CVDR might be applied, also needs to be balanced against the normal process of urban change and renewal. Council would not, for example, want to apply CVDR to newly created sections, properties lost to fire or sites in the process of being considered for consent approval.

- This plays through to the operational application of the policy. Widespread investigation of vacant sites and regular surveys may ultimately incur an unacceptable level of cost to council. As currently designed, the scheme is a part of the targeted Vacant Sites Programme which is based on engagement with owners to support their permanent development intentions – including case manager work. Presently this involves 1-2 FTE in the Urban Regeneration Team (who track consenting, undertake annual surveys and engage with owners), Case Managers, Resource Consent Monitoring staff and Rates officers. Wider coverage would require further staff resources.

On the matter of removing Temporary Car Parking from the uses excluded from CVDR:

- The current exemption of temporary car parks was proposed by Councillors when CVDR was developed in 2021. Councillors considered that parking supported commercial activities which remained fragile at that time.
- A positive outcome from the exemption of car parking has been that gravel pit car parks have been improved through the Resource Consenting process. This has made them better facilities for users and enhanced, to some degree, perceptions of safety in and - around the Central City. The rate has also had the side effect of cutting back the amount of enforcement action being needed against sites without consent for the use.

- A key question that remains unresolved is the extent to which the ongoing supply of temporary parking is undermining new investment in parking buildings or other forms of permanent development – including housing which would help meet the aspiration to grow the Central City’s resident population.

Land banking / etc.

As set out in the Overview above, CVDR is not intended to penalise land bankers, and rates generally cannot be used in a punitive fashion for this or any other purpose.

Land Value Rating

As noted in the Overview above, Council has no current plans to consider a shift from Capital Value to Land Value as a basis for taxation.

CVDR Rating Revenue:

CVDR generates 0.05% of Council’s rates revenue. However, it is not an additional or separate source of revenue. Council’s overall Rates Requirement is set by its budget each year: the various types of rates and differentials (including CVDR) simply allocate that total Requirement across all properties in the city. Any revenue collected by a new rate or differential will reduce the amount that needs to be collected from other types of rates, but it will not affect the total amount of rates that the Council collects, or the average amount of rates paid by individual ratepayers.

Having reviewed all submissions, staff see no compelling reason to change the Council’s existing direction. Any further changes, such as extending the coverage further, will require additional advice and should be done outside of the LTP process.

Support

102 - Greg Comfort

If it brings in more income for you, just do it.

1157 - Justin Rogers

Agreed - land bankers should pay a bit more to encourage productive use of that land.

1163 - Nichola Tyson

The prospect of rate increases for landlords with vacant/derelict etc in Brighton is what motivated me to 'have my say' as a Brighton local I'm so over the neglect the brings the area down

1290 - Aric Thorn

I support the vacant differential rates for city centre and suburban centre.

1293 - Jill Rice

If it brings in more money then its acceptable.

133 - Alan Mears

Empty land that is being “ land banked” should be encouraged to develop by imposing a empty levy

1350 - George Ambridge

It is good to increase the city vacant differential to encourage development in the city center.

1352 - Lin Klenner

get on top of derelict buildings eg dirty thirty Brighton style/vacant land differential extension to Brighton/

136 - William Fulton

Increase rates for underdeveloped CBD land.

1385 - Bernice Kilkelly

I think the vacant differential is a great idea. We have a great city and the property owners of vacant lots need to pay more as i geel they are not doing anything to help build our city back and if they utilised the land, it would not be such a burden.

1391 - Anna Gruczynska

I support extending the vacant differential to all areas to discourage land banking and unsightly permanently vacant sites.

1394 - Michael Clemens

I also support the extension of the city vacant differential rate. Linwood Village in particular would benefit from this. It's looking shabby currently.

1397 - Andrew Sprouse

I agree that the earthquake damaged properties and vacant land should have their rates increased as an incentive to use to repair or replace them

1424 - Peter McMillan

[Rates > Visitor Accommodation], [Rates > Rates Remissions]

We're proposing some changes to how we rate, including changes to the city vacant differential, rating visitor accommodation in a residential unit as a business, and changes to our rates postponement and remissions for charities policies.

Do you have any comments on our proposed changes to how we rate?

I AGREE THAT WE MUST ALL PLAY OUR PART AND
PAY OUR SHARE

1501 - Jason Middlemiss (Waimāero Fendalton-Waimairi-Harewood Community Board)

The Board generally supports the Council's approach to the city vacant differential

1514 - Bee Gan

Council should increase very high rates for those abandoned earthquake damaged buildings to encourage owners to either demolish them or rebuild/repair. They are such a eye sore.

1546 - Robert Fleming

Acceptable.

1556 - Jeffrey Bergman

Vacant properties should have to pay more to be be vacant. These properties are holding CHCH BACK.

1567 - Sarah Pritchett

[Rates > Rates Remissions], [Rates > Visitor Accommodation]

Sounds like a good idea to increase rates on city vacant sites, visitor accommodation in residential units and changes to rates postponement and remissions for charities policies.

1617 - Jack Swannell

Agree with charging more for vacant land.

1623 - Oliver Mould

I approve of all of your planned changes to how you rate.

1626 - Sam Bunn

the proposed sounds good if it is keeping the % increase on rates to residents low

1674 - Susan Galbraith

Yes I agree on changing how you rate for the vacant properties in the city etc as mentioned above.

1690 - Richard Suggate

I support the city vacant differential

1744 - Mark Hampton

Vacant city sites should have very large increases in rates

1792 - Laura Parkes

Vacant houses should have higher rates in an effort to lessen the number of empty and abandoned houses as a step towards lessening homelessness and forcing people to sell of unnecessary "investment properties".

1829 - Stephanie Barbier

I agree with charging owners more for vacant lots and buildings

1873 - Marjorie Manthei (Victoria Neighbourhood Association Inc)

VNA members AGREE with the City Vacant Differential and the Business Differential for unhosted short-term accommodation. Specifically, we SUPPORT extending the Vacant Differential to the other locations mentioned in the Draft LTP and SUGGEST that it be further extended to cover large vacant residential sites as well (e.g. Durham St - Bealey Ave corner). We STRONGLY SUPPORT the Business Differential for unhosted STA, and WOULD ALSO SUPPORT additional ways to decrease the number of unhosted offerings within residential neighbourhoods. The current rules are unlikely to do this, given the difficulty in monitoring the number of nights/year for each property and the low percentage that have (or are likely) to register. We know from experience in our own neighbourhood that the impact of unhosted STA is immediate and noticeable, e.g., reduction in the number of actual neighbours, with the corresponding reduction in a sense of community, safety and commitment to the neighbourhood. There are now many small apartments where we have no idea who is there at any given time, or they are empty in between the visitors. We did not consult on the rates postponement and remission for charities proposals.

188 - Tony MacHarper

Agree in principle with these proposals

194 - John Lieswyn

Agree to charge more for vacant land

1979 - Julie McCloy

No. It seems fair and reasonable.

202 - Anne Spicer

Long over due

2022 - Claudio Schill

Seems like a good idea

2024 - Janet Reeves

[Rates>Rates Remissions]; [Rates>Visitor Accommodation]

Agree

206 - Shane Morrow

I agree with the above

2071 - Paul Broady

- I agree with the proposed changes to the city vacant differential

2096 - Kate Divett

This makes sense to me.

2121 - Cassie Welch (National Public Health Service (NPHS) Te Waipounamu)

29. NPHS Te Waipounamu supports the City Vacant Differential rating and the expansion of this rating being applied to the additional commercial core areas in Linwood Village, New Brighton, and Sydenham, as well as the commercial Banks Peninsular in Lyttelton. Vacant sites and derelict buildings can look untidy and make people feel unsafe²⁶. The Healthy

Streets Indicators, as outlined in the diagram below, are useful for understanding how encouraging properties owners to make improvements to their vacant sites can have benefits for health and wellbeing²⁷. For example, improving vacant sites has the potential to contribute to several Healthy Street Indicators: Things to see and do, People feel safe, People choose to walk and cycle and Places to stop and rest (Figure 2). Additionally, extending the use of City Vacant differential rating to low socioeconomic areas in Christchurch could have an impact on health and wellbeing disparities.²⁸ Organisations like GapFiller could also be invited to fill the vacant spaces to with playful, temporary public installations to help activate the area and support healthier, more vibrant streets.²⁹

[Coder Note: Full attachment available]

2155 - Geoffrey Sugden

I support the changes.

2289 - Leonie Jackson

• Vacant land in the city should have rates increased.

230 - Peter Elliott

I agree

2310 - Helen Broughton (Waipuna Halswell Hornby Riccarton Community Board)

• The Board supports the extension of city vacant differential rating to suburban centres.

2311 - Paul McMahon (Waitai Coastal-Burwood-Linwood Community Board)

The Board strongly supports the extension of the vacant land differential to include New Brighton (and other areas) and would like to see additional measures to encourage the development of vacant buildings in suburban centres and where they are contributing to loss of amenity.

2338 - Robin Schulz (Coronation Reserve Residents Group)

Agree

2358 - Carolyn Moffat

Yes, agree with this proposal

2388 - Guy Tapley

I believe the proposed changes are sensible.

2407 - Dave Evans

[Rates>Rates Remissions]; [Rates>Visitor Accommodation]

Do them all!!! And soon!

2410 - Lydia Thomas

Just stop gate keeping money. Charge empty sites and building more rates

2417 - Victor Vergara

sounds fine

2461 - Marjorie Manthei

Fully support the City Vacant Differential--need to incentivise owners to do something with their land, rather than 'land banking' if that's what is happening. Particularly concerned about the site on Salisbury - Manchester St corner, owned by one of the supermarkets. The reason they've given for not building a supermarket, as planned, is because of the one-way street. That makes no sense, given the other central city supermarkets on one-way streets. There also are large residential sites within the 4 Avenues that have been vacant since the EQs (e.g. Bealey Ave-Durham St corner and others are Bealey Ave between Victoria & Madras St, as well as Peacock-Durham St corner). Most are not maintained at all and are just collecting rubbish or have been used for un-consented car parking.

2474 - Lerk Shih Poh Stedman

I support

2498 - REDACTED REDACTED

I definitely agree with the increase for vacant property. More should be done to get earthquake damaged property repaired. Many make the city look dreadful. New Regent st, such a great area except for the shops that haven't been repaired.

2508 - Oliver Hutchison

I support expansion of the City Vacant Differential programme to the full city centre, and an increase in the multiplier.

2520 - Graeme Fraser (Diamond Harbour Community Association)

I agree with these measures.

2540 - Jocelyn and Caroline Papprell and Syddall

We agree with the proposals as outlined in the Draft LTP

2554 - Paul Schwalger

discouraging land banking through the vacant differentiation would be positive.

2639 - Callum Ward (Waihoru Spreydon Cashmere Heathcote Community Board)

The Board supports the proposed changes.

2690 - Robbie Dobbie

I agree with the city vacant differential rating.

2733 - Georgia Macaulay

Yes I like that vacant city is rated higher. Needs to be to encourage overseas owners to do something about their vacant lands.

2745 - Kate Latimer (Eastern Community Sport and Recreation Incorporated)

Vacant building owners post EQ need to be charged higher rates to clean up their buildings especially in New Brighton Mall area.

2758 - Christopher Seay

Please changes rating to incentivise productive land use, not including car parks and other unproductive land banking. This means expand and raise the vacant land differential to force owners to either sell or develop throughout the entire city, rating accomodation in residential units such that it is not economical for so many Air BnB's to exist in the city centre, all while many people want to live there but cannot afford it.

278 - Robin Curry

Appear reasonable

2799 - Dot Lovell-Smith

I support the extension of city vacant differential rating to include the suburban centres of Linwood Villlage, Commercial Lyttelton, New Brighton and Sydenham.

2823 - Aurora Garner-Randolph (School Strike For Climate Ōtautahi)

Yes. We support extending the vacant differential and rating visitor accommodation.

2826 - Dan Scott

[Transport > Car Parking (Capital)]

As Ōtautahi has recovered from the earthquakes, it has seen landowners citywide neglecting to rebuild on now-empty lots as they have not seen it as sufficiently profitable or worth their time. The City Vacant Differential rating is one of our main levers to address undeveloped land, and has already been proven to be effective, with a significant reduction in the number of vacant lots in the city centre since it was implemented. Therefore, this scheme must be expanded and strengthened. There are numerous drawbacks to the widespread vacant lots in our city. Having land that is being used for neither buildings (which provides benefits through creating housing options, concentrating workplaces in the CBD or through other means) nor greenspace is wasteful. There are proven negative impacts that vacant land and lack of green space in cities has on people's health and well-being. Developing Ōtautahi outwards around these vacant spaces also contributes to urban sprawl, damaging our local taiao and ecosystems. Therefore, having undeveloped land in Christchurch is a missed opportunity and is directly harming our communities and environments. It is vital that we structure our rates in a way that encourages the owners of vacant land to enable the space to be used in a way that benefits the local community. It's good that the LTP is looking to extend the scope of the City Vacant Differential rating to also encompass some suburban commercial zones, this should go further. To ensure that land is used efficiently, the CCC should extend the City Vacant Differential rating to include all commercially zoned areas. Further, the differential multiplier should be increased significantly, as this will send a stronger signal to landowners and developers that holding onto land without giving it public utility is not acceptable and so will incentivise more urgently-needed development, such as mixed use buildings and dense housing. Car parking development must be banned on currently vacant land. In addition, the multitude of private car parks littered throughout our city centre are a problem that must be addressed, and the City Vacant Differential rating is a tool that can be used to address this. These parks simply generate wealth for a select few while also serving to entrench car dependency in our city's structure and going against the work towards a transport mode shift that the Council should be prioritising. As such, the City Vacant Differential rating should be expanded to also apply to privately owned car parks.

2831 - Sebastian Denize

I support extra rates for owners of vacant properties, hopefully it would force them to do something with them. Carparks (unless they are buildings) are not a development of that land, and should not be exempt from extra rates. Additionally I believe the council should extend the differential rate charge to cover the whole city, and to business noncontributing excessively to the climate crisis without paying for its mitigation. This includes petrol stations, garages, commercial car park facilities, airports, factories. They should pay more, to cover the cost of climate adaptation. We need to stop privatising the profit, and publicising the cost.

2833 - Robbie Peacocke

I support the changes to the extending the City Vacant Differential rate

2835 - Emma Rodriguez Dos Santos

Agree YES to extending the City Vacant Differential rating to vacant sites in New Brighton (and other areas). This has been the single biggest concern for NB people on the local Facebook page, i.e. tidying up and removing blockages to long-awaited re-development of run-down areas.

2837 - Deborah Harwood

About time for vacant properties they are an eyesore in many parts of Chch.

2845 - Erin Todd

The council should look into implementing a land value rating to promote more productive use of valuable city-center land. This can make it so the city is designed with for people rather than cars. The council could do this by expanding the City Vacant Differential program as a deterrent to land banking and incentivise active land use over speculative holding.

2848 - Glen Koorey

I support all of these options as ways to recoup additional rates revenue.

2850 - Neil Cooper (Greater New Brighton Community Leadership Group)

We support the Council's initiative to implement a rates differential on vacant land as a means to encourage development. We'd also be supportive of any move to extend this to derelict buildings.

We support the proposed changes to the new rating on unimproved ground, especially in relation to the New Brighton area, as this category of properties in the New Brighton area has a major and detrimental impact on the way in which the suburb is perceived, and hence on the decreased interest in the wider community in visiting or investing in the area. Even more importantly, we would support the extension of this new rating system to cover derelict properties ie properties where there may be a building on it but which is predominantly unused and often in a poor state of repair.

It is our belief that the proposed amendment to create a rates differential on vacant land should be made, as the current eyesore created by much of this land is a major deterrent to positive changes and increased patronage within the greater New Brighton area. However, an even more effective action would be to extend the provisions for these rates to land which is in a dilapidated or run-down state, particularly where there is no current activity on this site. Much of the run-down, unused land in New Brighton would then be captured by the new rate and would hopefully inspire some action to improve the general appearance and usefulness of the area.

2852 - Aaron Ghattas

Many city and councils around the world have an underdevelopment tax/rate/fee. For example If there is a block of land in the city center that is vacant for more 2 years, then a penalty should be applied, say $20k per annum. This would ensure the city center is not left derelict for a further 10 years and disenfranchise bare block carparking. This example could be further extended to residential land to a lesser degree, with more time allowance. This would generate lot in rates, avoid land banking and attract new investment. However a tiny building on a large block or city center still needs to be consider as under developed and attract fees.

2857 - Jo Blair

This is a good idea

2861 - Laila Jansone

I support rate increase for abandoned buildings and land bank holdings in the city , specially in New Brighton Mall and waterfront area

2865 - Natalie Henderson

I agree with the changes to city vacant differential, as well as charging a residential unit as a business if the owner is not renting it out long term.

293 - Monique van Veen

I agree with the proposed changes

297 - Michael Crabtree

Agreed totally

3003 - Sonya Hodder (Spreydon Neighbourhood Network)

We agree with changing the city vacant differential >>>

302 - Bronwyn Roberts

Absolutely agree re vacant lots etc should charge more!

3029 - Rodrigo Gomez Fell

Rates for empty lots in the CBD should increase even more over time. Do parking companies pay business rates?

3055 - Josephine Drysdall

I absolutely support extra rates for owners of vacant lots, as this will also push these landowners into doing something positive with their land. However, I do not consider car parks to be one of those positive actions, and I think having a car park on the land should not exempt landowners from higher rates. I think the council should also consider extending the vacant differential rate charge to the entire city and increasing the City Vacant Differential multiplier of the standard general rate (it currently stands at 4.523).

3096 - Hamish Mitchell

This I agree with

312 - Shane Binder

I agree with extending vacant differential ratings to the noted suburban centres.

314 - Vaughan Kirkland

I support an increased rate on vacant properties to promote development and dissuade land-banking.

3166 - Arwen Sommer

I like it, especially changes to visitor accommodation in a residential unit and the city vacant differential rating. Great improvements.

3169 - Barbara Brown

I agree with these proposed changes.

3209 - Anouk Minnaar

>> To keep climate justice in mind and the council's emission goals, the City Vacant Differential (CVD) programme should be expanded to: 1) Increase the multiplier of the CVD from 4.523 to 6 2) Ban car parks from being considered for remission, 3) Cover the entire city, as a disincentive to land banking, >> I would like the council to investigate the implementation of Land Value Rating ready for a potential referendum alongside local body elections in 2025. This will ensure that we get more productive use of our valuable city centre land, enabling a city for people.

322 - Richie Connell

Do it.

3231 - Colin Foster

[Rates >Visitor Accommodation]

Agree with these rating changes. It makes them more equitable (visitor accommodation in residential zones) and helps to drive changed behaviour (vacant land)

328 - Alan Hodges

Vacant inner city land should be rated higher if it has been vacant (land banked). Eg Ex Christchurch Women's hospital on Durham Street North.

3287 - Claire Fletcher

I agree with the proposals re vacant commercial land as above

3363 - Brodie Marra-Stevenson

The vacant differential is key to ensuring that New Brighton and other such areas see rapid improvement.

3379 - Mike Currie

[Rates > Rates Remission]

The city could increase its revenue (to then fund projects with climate justice in mind) by: 1. extending the vacant differential rate change to the entire city; 2. banning car parks from being considered for remission, and 3. increasing the City Vacant Differential multiplier of the standard general rate (it currently stands at 4.523).

>>>

3. I urge the CCC to ENSURE LAND IS BEING USED WITH PEOPLE AND THE PLANET IN MIND by extending the City Vacant Differential Rates for vacant land to all commercial zoned areas in the city, and banning car parking from qualifying for exemption from the City Vacant Differential Rates.

3392 - Stephen Wood

I support these initiatives

3423 - James Upton

Agree with what is proposed.

3466 - Mark Stapleton

I am relatively pleased with these proposed changes..

3480 - Martin Robertson

Agree

3548 - Dwayne McCormick

This is a good plan.

3575 - Anna Hansson

Sounds fair to me

3576 - Noeline Allan (Cass Bay Residents Association)

This makes sense as vacant sites make our city look unattractive and need to be developed

3577 - Marie Byrne

I agree to applying the vacant differential rating to suburban centres as proposed. I also feel it is worthy to consider applying this differential to other suburban centres as well. Additionally if there were some way to apply some form of rating differential to non-vacant commercial properties that have had no long term activity, this would be worthy of investigation. In the central city, I understand there are measures applied to the owners of the 'dirty buildings'. In the suburban centres, particularly New Brighton there are empty buildings that have been so for prolonged periods, attracting graffiti and other anti-social activity. If the property owner were faced with paying additional rates this may incentivise efforts to encourage filling the buildings and in the process contributing to a much more vibrant and attractive suburban centre.

3589 - Roxanne Brassington

Good

3601 - Bridget Allen

It is a good idea to increase rates for vacant buildings.

3611 - Sharon Dowers

I agree with the proposed rates changes where it affects vacant properties

3613 - Catherine McLeavy

Agree on increase in rates for vacant and accommodation in residential units.

3615 - Janine Clarke

Agree with these

3626 - Connie Christensen

I support the proposed rate increases.

363 - Nathan Carroll

I agree with these proposals

3644 - Yvonne Dixon

City vacant differential needed too., to push developers to get going and use vacant sites.

3661 - Steph Walker

And very much support the extension of the City Vacant differential - I wish it would spur on even more building.

3671 - Linda Nicolson

Yes increase vacant property rates in city.

3672 - Neil McKenzie

Increasing rates on vacant commercial land is a good idea.

>>>

Possibly also consider it for vacant residential land.

3701 - Rod Hay

I support the proposed changes, i

373 - Charlene Herring

Agree with the changes.

3745 - Victoria Rathgen

Charge vacant property owners in new Brighton and any other area who is going through the same more and more each year until its handed go the ccc

>>>

If vacant owners have International visa to own the conditions to own them surely arent being meet. If you want someone to poke prod I would happy assist.

375 - Alex McNeill

These seem like very sensible changes.

3761 - Fiona Henderson

I strongly support the city vacant differential rating system and the expansion of that approach

3768 - Tracey Klatt

These are all good ideas for getting some additional revenue

3783 - Arthur McGregor

[Rates > Visitor Accommodation], [Rates > Rates Remissions]

I support these proposed changes

379 - Alex Rowe

I agree with all proposed changes. I support the city vacant differential rating plan, short term unhosted residential accommodation rating changes and age based rental postponement change.

3795 - Bede Cunningham

agree

3801 - Victor (aka Vince) Eichholtz

Definite Yes to significantly increased vacant land rates. It cannot be acceptable to central city or suburban hub land be affordable run as a low value business, eg car park, and /or in order to landbank it.

3805 - Antony Lawrence

No objection to that.

3809 - Johnathon Ridden

Support.

3813 - Marg Morrison

Agree with rating vacant sites and treating visitor accommodation in e residential unit as a business

3825 - Justin Barton

city vacant differential - seems reasonable

3830 - Brenda Banning

I agree with these proposals

3845 - Wolfgang Rack

OK.

385 - Francesca Brown

I think that is fine

3850 - Stephanie Remington

Yes, increase rates on vacant city land or derelict buildings that are still sitting idle from the earthquakes that are an eyesore in our city.

3865 - Maxine Donovan

Well if it benefits the overall plan, then guess any change may be beneficial.

3899 - Harrison McEvoy

Investigate Land Value Ratings and expand the City Vacant Differential. More land must be unlocked within the city, and large corporations who have essentially land banked our city into a corner must pay.

3908 - Cathy Harlow

City vacant differential - generally, I'm all in favour of charging more for people holding onto land and providing no value to anyone else in the community. But try to make sure you allow for individual circumstances.

3910 - Joshua Jones

If rating could target faster development of vacant land, great

3916 - Laila Jansone (Renew Brighton Charitable Trust)

We support increase of rates for derelict property owners.

3930 - Peter McCarthy

I can see and support the approach you've outlined.

3935 - Michael Healey

agree with city vacant differential

3966 - Michael Apathy (Climate Liberation Aotearoa)

>>> We support the extension of the vacant lot differential, and think it should be increased.>>>

3971 - Joseph Fullerton

Yes. Extending and increasing the vacant differential is wise

3990 - Malcolm Smeaton

The saga with Antonio Hall is a disgrace. It's an insult to Christchurch. The owners don't even live in NZ. And there are many other examples. Unnecessary land banking. Yes, increase the rates for land banking, or prescribe delays. Force overseas investors to sell.

Fees and Charges

4006 - Hana Saemon-Beck

Charge abandon properties, land banking properties

4020 - Brian Turner

Generally okay.

4024 - Richard McCaskill

I agree with the above

443 - Keryn Roberts

I think this is appropriate, land banking has a social and community cost and should be taxed accordingly. Would be good to see this applied to residential areas where owners have refused to remediate or repair properties post-earthquake. Understandable if still undergoing insurance disputes but choosing to leaving spaces unused and degrading should be meet with costs.

496 - Simon Liddy

[Rates > Visitor Accommodation]

Great idea around the vacant land rates and visitor accommodation rates.

505 - Laura Jones

[Rates > Visitor Accommodation]

agree with rate differentiation on visitor accommodation , vacant properties

531 - Cameron Bradley

Support expanding the city vacant differential and believe you should also apply this to 265 Riccarton Road, Upper Riccarton, Christchurch 8041 (Antonio Hall) which is foreign owned, has doubled in value in the last ten years (up $3.6 million), has been vacant for as long as I remember, and is frequently targeted by arsonists. I also think the differential multiplier should be higher than 4.523.

563 - Tobias Meyer

I support this. I would support a move towards a land value tax to encourage good development close to the city.

579 - Rosemary Neave

[Rates > Visitor Accommodation]

yes vacant city land (or low value carparks etc) should be rated to incentivise development, not land banking. yes to rating visitor accommodation differently. I have run an airbnb - they need to pay their share. We also need to incentivise renting/first home buyers

597 - Ashleigh Dickson

I support the increase in rates on vacant land. These owners are land banking and choosing not to build for strategic reasons.

7 - David Stiles-Pickard

Agree with above.

80 - Elizabeth Velde

That's fair enough

812 - Matthew Fagan

I like the increased rates applied to vacant inner city buildings. This rate needs to be ramped up for each year the building is vacant. There are far too many building in town that have nothing being done to them which is hurting our city.

847 - David Bromell

I support the proposed changes to the City Vacant Differential rating (p. 41), rating visitor accommodation in a residential unit as a business, and rates postponements (p. 42). I do not have a view on the proposed changes to rates remissions for charities, or on incorporating and Heritage Targeted Rate and Active Travel targeted rate into the Uniform Annual General Charge (p. 42).

904 - George Cox

I would support differential rates for housing used as a business and cranking up the rates on vacant homes, as a way to alleviate the housing crisis.

972 - Robert Gomez

have a vacant tax

990 - Wendy Fergusson

These are good

Oppose

1291 - Christopher Bowen

Keep these assets for future use that you might not foresee

16 - Andrew McKay

Vacant land differentials are punishments and punitive. There is no morale justification to target a person who does not do what council of today demands. Perhaps they are waiting for your charges to decrease.

2189 - James Riddoch (Property Council New Zealand)

At a high level, we recommend that Christchurch City Council:

- Discontinue the vacant site differential and not extend this to the commercially zoned areas of New Brighton, Sydenham and Commercial Banks in Linwood Village; and
- Outline information relating to the impacts of the vacant site differential since its implementation.

>>>

We submitted at length on the Council's use of the vacant site differential as part of submissions in 2022/2023 and 2023/2024 and we continue to stand by the views expressed. It is therefore disappointing to see that the vacant site differential may be extended to the commercially zoned areas of New Brighton, Sydenham and Commercial Banks in Linwood Village.

When the vacant site differential was first introduced two years ago, our members understood the need to beautify the CBD and to ensure that vacant sites do not have a negative impact on the amenity of the city and on demand generally. However, imposing a differential was (and still is) not the solution.

We are concerned that extending the vacant differential to the suburbs of New Brighton, Lyttleton, Sydenham and Linwood Village may not only affect smaller owner developers who may not have the sufficient resource to face the burden of additional costs, but further entrench the vacant site differential as a revenue stream.

Ultimately, ensuring Christchurch remains a vibrant city is crucial to encouraging future development. It is important that the Council creates confidence for the private sector to continue to invest in Christchurch however increasing the vacant site differential and proposing to extend it, will not provide the reassurance the commercial sector needs.

Given that the vacant differential has been implemented for two years, we ask the Council for more transparency on what impacts this has had in the CBD. For example; • What has the vacant differential funded since its implementation? • Is the differential ringfenced?

Having transparency with these issues, will help the industry understand the imposition of additional costs to business.

2586 - Leeann Watson (Business Canterbury)

Business Canterbury has long argued that a City Vacant Differential is seen by businesses as a revenue gathering exercise rather than one that genuinely changes behaviour. While the draft LTP points to the 'successes' of the differential, this is equally likely a consequence of the timeline in the redevelopment of the central city, and the time being right for the development of sites in the central city.

Business Canterbury does not support the expansion of the differential into suburban centres, without balancing measures that actually promote the development of vacant sites.

2603 - Ron Brooks

leave it alone

2784 - Jenny Smith (Te Whare Roimata Trust)

opposing proposed changes to the city vacant differential rating to now include suburban centres.

31 - Gary Durey

You have NOT provided evidence to back up why the changes are needed or the impact they will have, so they can not be implemented.

3726 - Cliff Mason

No CRD for Lyttelton. It essentially forces development with increased likelihood that this will be inappropriate. The differential appears too high when a multiplier is used and may not reflect the true increase in capital value of the property - it seems appropriate to recapture this capital gain however

692 - Tony Ward

I dont support the vacant differential at all. Unintended consequences make this proposal a nonsense.

Other

1008 - Angela McPherson

Good idea. What about vacant houses. House across the road from me was vacant for approx. 10 years before being sold recently

1116 - Stephan Lloyd

I think it should be expanded to all of Christchurch.

1132 - Gavin Fitzgerald

Empty sections in prioritised business areas need to be more highly charged rates to encourage increased activity.

1203 - David Moore

4.5x is not a high enough penalty for vacant lots. This should not just be a fee to cover costs, it should be a penalty for occupying valuable land. I would prefer it if the fee was substantially higher, as this land should be available for residents and businesses to access.

1403 - Carolyn Kaye

The likes of lots that are a mess should be charged a fee like the half burnt down Hall on Riccarton road

143 - Kenneth Palmer

Yes. If owners of land and property are not contributing fairly to the maintenance and provision of public good & services, then they should be expected to make a fair contribution & if unwilling to accept they are selfishly exploiting the commonweal, they should be legally required to give up their inequable asset/s.

1515 - Andrew Douglas-Clifford

The vacant land rate differential is a good approach and should be used in more places to deter land banking. In the central city (at a minimum) outdoor car parks should not be considered a remission - or only be eligible a partial remission instead.

1544 - Daana Watson

[Rates > Other]

I think if land is being under utilised in high exposure areas eg bare land in CBD being used as car parks, then the owners of this land should be charged higher levies.

1663 - Sam Spekreijse

Include undeveloped (i.e., not multi-level) carparks in the central city as vacant, and charge them the vacant rate.

1699 - Dominic McKeown

charge more for vacant if people aren't willing to develop it should not burden the city >>> [Rates > Visitor Accommodation] [Rates > Other].

1773 - Thommy Jerneskog

Do it, but please also make sure that vacant land is taxed properly to ensure that we don't end up with what is still a very inflationary function of our economy moving forward.

180 - Kevin McSweeney

The vacant land should be all areas and be higher

1801 - Quinton Hurley

Carpark land across the city needs to have rates increased significantly to encourage effective land usage, and proper land development (i.e. less gravel parking lots). The same could be applied to abandoned / stagnant buildings to encourage development across the city. This has been a real missed opportunity, and will help to ease the burden (albeit slightly) on residential land owners and businesses. It will also encourage use, support, and improvement of active transport modes. Additionally, it will help to improve stormwater quality due to the decrease in sediment runoff.

1806 - James Edwards

City Vacant Differential Change: Changing how we handle vacant city properties by adjusting the differential could encourage development, but it might also place a heavier burden on property owners who are already struggling. Let's consider a balanced approach that motivates improvements without being overly punitive.

1814 - Jenny Atkin

Regarding City Vacant Differential Change - Changing how we handle vacant city properties by adjusting the differential could encourage development, but it might also place a heavier burden on property owners who are already struggling. I suggest a balanced approach that motivates improvements without being too much punitive.

1819 - Gavin Millar

The vacant differential should apply to all properties acting as parking as their majority purpose. The vacant differential is a useful tool but avoiding it by simply turning the property over to Wilsons or similar as a gravel lot for parking or similar is reducing its ability to encourage landowners to make use of their properties.

187 - John Draper

Charge a fortune to anyone who has a vacant house or section.

1893 - Elizabeth Sinclair

- Vacant sites could be charged significant rates - Increase charges to events - Community groups more community funded - so rate payers effectively pay for the groups they use and not so much for the ones they don't use.

1991 - Stevie Florent

The city should ban car parks from being considered for remission, this would increase its revenue. The vacant differential rate should be changed to the entire city.

201 - AJ Wade

Increase further on vacant 'dirty' sites across the city unless there is genuine development progressing.

2034 - Kevin Walker

Land bankers should pay significantly more rates.

2087 - Emma Norrish (Waipapa Papanui-Innes-Central Community Board)

The Board is broadly supportive of the proposals, noting the following comments from its last Annual Plan submission regarding extending the use of the City Vacant Differential rating in the commercially zoned areas of Linwood Village, Lyttelton, New Brighton and Sydenham: "The Board is mindful of the tremendous contribution many residents make to the city in their efforts to present their homes, businesses and neighbourhoods in the best form, and wishes to reciprocate by advocating that fair measures should be taken to incentivise new investment and site improvement. "The Board supports the concept and the intent of the proposal, but considers that it needs to be adapted to the circumstances of these areas outside the Central City as having a more suburban context and that could allow for creativity and community contribution/partnership, instead of higher cost options as outlined in the Vacant Sites Improvement Guide. "The Board would also support the differential rating implementation for Linwood Village being aligned with the Linwood Village Streetscape Improvement Project's delayed completion date."

2242 - Martha Baxendell (New Brighton Project)

We support the Council's initiative to implement a rates differential on vacant land as a means to encourage development. We'd also be supportive of any move to extend this to derelict buildings.

2362 - Rosalee Jenkin

I would also like to see the City Vacant Differential programme expanded to cover the whole city as a way of dis-incentivising land banking. Car parks should not be considered for remission.

2387 - Jed O'Donoghue

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > City Planning]

The rating differential on vacant land is unfair for the many vacant blocks on Norwich quay. This is because of LPC's noise overlay. This greatly restricts development on these blocks of land. While this is in place there should be no differential on these properties. Given that port work has mainly moved eastwards this noise overlay is no longer required. This should inform the District Plan.

2461 - Marjorie Manthei

Would like to see the Differential extended to residential sites.

2559 - Michael Campbell

I suggest expanding the City Vacant Differential (CVD) program to cover the entire city, serving as a deterrent to land speculation. Additionally, propose prohibiting car parks from qualifying for remission and support measures to increase the CVD multiplier from 4.523 to 6. [Other/Special Interest Topics > Other] [Rates > Other] [Rates > Visitor Accommodation]

2595 - Nicola Hely

The CVD programme should be expanded to include all of Christchurch, and the multiplier should be increased.

2655 - Michele Mccaw

Put pressure on those land owners that still haven't repaired/rebuilt since the 2011 earthquakes what an eyesore

2664 - Peter Galbraith

Recommend expanding the City Vacant Differential (CVD) programme to cover the entire city (as a disincentive to land banking), ban car parks from being considered from remission, and increase the multiplier of the CVD from 4.523 to 6.

2669 - Lin Klenner (Better for Brighton Group)

- We support the Council's initiative to implement a rates differential on vacant land as a means to encourage development. We'd also be supportive of any move to extend this to derelict buildings.

2701 - Blair Smith

Recommend expanding the City Vacant Differential (CVD) programme to cover the entire city, as a disincentive to land banking, suggest you also ban car parks from being considered from remission, and increase the multiplier of the CVD from 4.523 to 8.

2715 - L.F. Blake

Vacant properties as a result of the earthquake should not have increased rates. Usually the owner is struggling to make something economic of the site and should not be penalised for apparent inaction. Conversely, the 'dirty buildings' list should have higher rates to encourage them to demolish/sell/resurrect the site.

2827 - Carley Dove-McFalls (Generation Zero Ōtautahi)

GZ believes that the city could increase its revenue (to then fund projects with climate justice in mind) by 1. extending the vacant differential rate change to the entire city; 2. banning car parks from being considered for remission, and 3. increasing the City Vacant Differential multiplier of the standard general rate (it currently stands at 4.523). We provide further comments in our attachment.

2828 - Thomas Kulpe

I support the following proposed changes: City Vacant Differential rating to include suburban centres, rate visitor accommodation as business,

2830 - Fiona Bennetts

- I recommend an expansion of the City Vacant Differential (CVD) programme to: ○ Cover the entire city, as a disincentive to land banking, ○ Ban car parks from being considered from remission, ○ Increase the multiplier of the CVD from 4.523 to 6.

2833 - Robbie Peacocke

I think a vacant land differential rate that applies to suburban areas should also be considered as part of this LTP in order to encourage more productive use of empty residential land. The housing crisis is ongoing, and as of 2020 homeownership rates are the lowest they've been in about 70 years (link: <https://www.stats.govt.nz/news/homeownership-rate-lowest-in-almost-70-years>). This has likely not improved given the house price to income ratio remains high at about 6.9 (see graph at <https://www.interest.co.nz/property/house-price-income-multiples>). For context, a ratio considered affordable is about 3.

2836 - Jillian Frater

I also consider the City Vacant Differential should be expanded further and applied to carparking.

2842 - Ants Field

I urge the CCC to ENSURE LAND IS BEING USED WITH PEOPLE AND THE PLANET IN MIND by extending the City Vacant Differential Rates for vacant land to all commercial zoned areas in the city, and banning car parking from qualifying for exemption from the City Vacant Differential Rates.

2844 - Albert Nisbet

Crack down on carparks on undeveloped land. These are unsightly and benefit carpark business more than locals. Removing them is also a good way to make car use less favourable and encourage alternatives.

2848 - Glen Koorey

Rather than just some targeted additional suburbs, there is a reasonable argument that the vacant land differential could be applied even further across Christchurch - otherwise some inequity might become apparent depending on whether your land is "in zone" or not.

2868 - Jonty Coulson

Rates changes should prioritize filling homes over fueling an unbalanced economy. To do so, the entire city should be covered by the City Vacant Differential (CVD) program as a disincentive to land banking.

>>>

[Rates > Residential Rates], [Rates > City Vacant Differential], [Fees & Charges > Car Parking (Parks)], [Other Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Change Fund], [Three Waters > Storm Water & Land Drainage]

The increased funding through rates, climate conscious CVD plans and parking charges will be able to appropriately fund climate mitigation and resilience - including the stormwater activity plan, in which not enough funding has been provided for basic mitigation projects.

289 - Julian Springer

Any vacant land in cbd should be charged punitive rates until they are actively developed.

2922 - Zak Morrison

Expanding the City Vacant Differential: The expansion of the City Vacant Differential (CVD) program is crucial for discouraging land banking across the entire city, not just in specific zones. The current CVD, with a multiplier of 4.523, applies to commercially zoned vacant land in the central city. However, to effectively combat land banking and encourage the development of vacant sites, I propose the following enhancements to the CVD program: - Citywide Application: Extend the CVD to cover the entire city, applying pressure on landowners to develop or sell vacant land, thereby increasing the availability of land for productive uses. - Exclusion of Car Parks from Remission: Amend the policy to explicitly exclude car parks from being considered for remission under the CVD. This change would discourage the use of valuable land for low-value purposes such as parking, aligning with our goals for a more pedestrian-friendly and vibrant city. - Increase in Multiplier: Raise the multiplier of the CVD from 4.523 to 6. This significant increase would serve as a stronger disincentive against holding undeveloped land, encouraging more rapid development and utilization of vacant sites.

2947 - Katia De Lu

1. Extend the City Vacant Differential. The City Vacant Differential is a great way to incentivise more productive use of land in our city. I support extending the CVD to more of the city. In fact, I ask that you take this further: (a) Extend the CVD to the entire city to discourage 'land banking' throughout our city. (b) Close the car park loophole and apply the CVD to car parks. Our city should be for people, not car yards and car storage. (See also: earlier comments regarding the importance of a mode shift away from private car use.) (c) Increase the CVD multiplier from 4.523 to 6.

3016 - Zarah Green

In support of these. I however don't agree that a land owner can turn their vacant lot into a car park to avoid it being treated as vacant.

3037 - Robert Fletcher

I am in favour of all the changes. I do think weighting rates more (or solely) on land values would be a much more effective way of achieving the aims of the city vacant differential, and provide much broader economic benefits (encouraging density).

312 - Shane Binder

The present exemption for sites with consented standalone carparks not associated with adjacent development should also be removed. Parking is an important feature for a vibrant CBD but is not remotely close to the best use of CBD land. The temptation for cheap use as a cash-earning activity needs to be disincentivised through higher rates.

320 - Ian Knewstubb (Lyttelton Times Ltd)

We do not think the Norwich Quay should have a vacant levy placed on it some properties for sale cannot find a buyer due to restrictions placed on them as to how they can be used.

3319 - Ryan Moore

I agree with the proposed rating system. I believe the City Vacant Differential program should be changed as well so that car parks are not considered for remission as they are not a productive use of city land. The program should also be expanded to a wider area in the city.

3325 - Adele Geradts

We do need to ensure that the rate costs are fairly distributed to those with vacant land in the CBD. They need to get on with their rebuilding or sell it and let someone else build.

3366 - Robert Manthei

'Landbanking' of commercial and even large parcels of residential land also need to be rated at a higher level to encourage development, especially before any new legislation increasing densification in residential areas is considered/adopted.

3373 - Michael Netto

I appreciate the opportunity to comment on the proposed changes to the rating system. Addressing the different uses of properties and their impacts on local services through adjustments in the rating system is a crucial step towards ensuring fair and equitable taxation. City Vacant Differential: I support the initiative to modify the differential rate for vacant properties. This could potentially encourage property owners to utilize or develop unused land or buildings, which can contribute to reducing urban blight and increasing housing availability. However, I would urge the Council to consider any unintended consequences that might penalize owners who are temporarily between tenants or undergoing renovations.

>>>

[Rates > Rates Remissions], [Rates > Visitor Accommodation]

In conclusion, while I support revisiting and updating the rating system to reflect current property usage and community needs, I encourage the Council to carefully consider the broader implications of these changes. Ensuring transparency and engaging in further consultation with affected stakeholders will be key to implementing these changes successfully.

3411 - Marian Krogh (Protect Our Winters NZ)

Landowners in the city centre shouldn't be able to build carparks (temporary or permanent) to avoid paying higher rates. The CCC could also increase income by extending the higher rates (CVD Programme) for vacant land across the whole city.

>>>

The CVD multiplier should be increased.

3415 - Allan Taunt

Agree with commercially zoned vacant land being rated at an increased level to encourage development of visually unappealing and unproductive sites.

Support this rating category being expanded to the following areas:

- Commercial Core in Linwood Village, New Brighton and Sydenham, and
- Commercial Banks Peninsula in Lyttelton.

For commercial sites that are consented for temporary car parking, if it is not already in place, there should be a maximum timeframe for which these sites can operate as such. After the maximum timeframe has been reached, these sites should be rated at the commercially zoned vacant land rate.

3417 - Jack McConnell

Targeted rates should be implemented against car parks to encourage more city center development.

3419 - Michael Allan

Both Private and Commercial/Industrial owners of derelict and/or vacant properties should suffer a significant financial penalty if they leave such properties in an abandoned condition, especially within the CBD area. Vacant properties, for example should be cleared, planted with grass and maintained by the owner. Failure to do this should result in a heavy penalty.

3425 - Hugh Dacre

I agree with the idea of extending city vacant differential within reason. Encouraging action is reasonable, but it has to be done with a view to the real economic situation. This budget is indicative of the difficulties everyone faces. You cannot build for businesses which are not there. This city is struggling. The increases should be lower for sites outside the inner city.

3436 - Sara Campbell

Disincentivise Land Banking across the whole city through the City Vacant Differential programme.

3497 - Cerys Fletcher

I recommend expanding the City Vacant Differential programme to: Cover the entire city, to disincentive land banking (the abundance of which at present results in swathes of inactive, overgrown land in areas that could be put to great use in their neighbourhoods and communities) Ban car parks from being considered for remission Increase the multiplier of the CVD from 4.523 to 6

350 - Chris Hoopmann

Higher rates for vacant buildings/sections.

3525 - Andrew Hey

I generally agree with these measures. I am however concerned that two of the areas targeted for City Vacant Differential rating are low-income suburbs and would like this issue to be taken into account if Council goes ahead with this measure.

3542 - Beatrix Gilling

Additionally, the council should look to expand the City Vacant Differential, to pressure owners of empty land or abandoned buildings in the city to either sell or build something on their property.

3558 - Patrick Kennedy

[Rates > Other]

I would prefer to see the council investigate calculating rates based on land values alone. This would have a similar effect to the CVD, and ensure the maximum productivity of our most valuable land especially around the urban core. Failing that, I am in favour of the increase to the CVD, with the following caveats: - it should be expanded to cover the entire city to discourage land-banking. - ban gravel pit car parks from remission - increase CVD even higher than 4.523 Fully agree with the proposed changes to visitor accommodation as a business.

3582 - Cody Cooper

I would also like to see the introduction of land value rating. It is unfair to members of the community that a productive business pays 10x the rates of a similar sized property that happens to be say a car park. The current model of rating disincentivises investment because rates would go up in that case. Everyone with a similar piece of land should be paying the same (even if it was undeveloped).

3598 - Kyle Sutherland

Vacant land should pay similar rates as sites with full development already completed, to encourage much higher investment in permanent development which benefits the whole city.

3599 - Hayley Guglietta

I support a city vacant differential but city wide

3614 - Lin Roberts

- The City Vacant Differential (CVD) should be extended to the entire city, to disincentivise land banking and increase the multiplier of the CVD from 4.523 to 6.

3618 - Chrys Horn

I strongly support the City Vacant Differential (CVD) programme and agree that it is a good idea to extend it beyond the City Centre. I think it could be used across the whole city, particularly in commercial areas, to discourage landowners from land banking and from just leaving sites as wastelands that are unsightly and unsafe. I would also like to see sections that are being used as car parks being excluded from remission and in my view, it would be good to increase the multiplier to 6 (from 4.523)

3620 - Rosemary Turnbull

Heavy fines for derelict properties in the City Centre >>> is essential

3621 - Morgane Honore

Expanding the City Vacant Differential (CVD) program is another crucial step. It should cover the entire city to discourage land banking, particularly banning car parks from receiving remissions and increasing the multiplier of the CVD. These measures will incentivize property owners to develop or utilize vacant land efficiently, contributing to the city's vibrancy and affordability.

3622 - Jono de Wit

I also ask for the City Vacant Differential programme to be extended to other parts of the city like town centres and remove car parks from being considered from remission and increase the multiplier.

3633 - Joanne Tindall

With regards to the proposed changes to rating policy, some comments that I would like to make are: •
City Vacant Differential Rating: o This currently applies to vacant land in a specific area of the city centre. I support this being extended to the areas in the Commercial Core in Linwood Village, New Brighton, Sydenham and Commercial Banks Peninsula in Lyttelton. I would also like to suggest that the same policy should be extended to any Commercially Zoned land in the Christchurch City Council area that remains vacant and unimproved. o I believe that any proposed changes to this Differential Rating would occur from the 2025 / 2026 Rating Year. This would be to ensure that any affected properties can be identified and owners contacted in line with the current policy,
<https://ccc.govt.nz/culture-and-community/central-city-christchurch/develop-here/vacantsites/>

3636 - Kay Robertson

I also think the CVD should be at a higher rate. Make land bankers pay; they are holding up our city. I don't think car parks should receive reductions in the CVD. I'd like to see the CVD extended beyond the CBD to the inner suburbs that are prime for intensification - especially along public transport corridors.

3655 - Dan Manton

Land owners with vacant lots should not be incentivised to turn these lots into temporary ground level car parks by getting reduced rates from the council.

3658 - Tom Logan

Remove all Vacant Land [Rates] Remissions for commercial land in the central city and nearby industrial areas.

- i. Across the city, these amount to $347k in 2024/25 with 2-3% annual increases proposed throughout the life of the Long-Term Plan.
- ii. There is too much vacant land in the central city and along the rail corridor, much of which might be suitable for housing, employment etc.
- iii. City Council has indicated an extension of the “City Vacant Differential” rate, but we don’t think this goes far enough.
- iv. We understand that land in the central city used for ground-level car parking (e.g. by Wilsons) is “consented” and therefore eligible for the Vacant Land Remission. This remission should be removed.
- v. Furthermore, these remissions encourage “land banking” and provide a disincentive for productive development.
- vi. City Council is currently pursuing Plan Change 14 to the District Plan. This provides for suburban residential intensification close to high frequency public transport and retail centres, with particular examples on our side of town being Riccarton and Hornby. These proposals have been fiercely contested by residents groups, especially in Riccarton. Our submission to the Hearings Panel on Plan Change 14 proposed that its provisions would not come into effect until residential density in the central city reached a trigger point, with vacant land converted to productive uses.
- vii. The non-use of this land in the central city and nearby industrial areas has contributed to the need for green fields development such as in Halswell, and infrastructure cost from this development costs City Council substantially.

3690 - Jono de Wit (Greater Ōtautahi)

We recommend an expansion of the City Vacant Differential (CVD) programme to: * Cover the entire city, as a disincentive to land banking * Ban car parks from being considered from remission * Increase the multiplier of the CVD from 4.523 to 6.

3699 - John McCombs

- increase the vacant differential - extend to the entire city - exclude temporary car parking, this appears to be a placeholder activity for what is really vacant land

3704 - Logan Cane

I think the council should consider expanding the City Vacant Differential programme to cover the entire city to disincentivise land banking. I also do not think surface level car parks should be considered as an exception. Ideally, land would only be considered for exclusion once there is an occupied dwelling on it (be it commercial or residential).

372 - Kyle Bluck

Please charge Wilson carparks and also derelict/abandoned lots at 10x the normal rates cost.

3723 - Don Babe

I agree with the vacant differential and wonder if it could be applied to residential land also to encourage more housing development in the city instead of extra sprawl.

3725 - Richard Smith

I would also like to recommend an expansion of the City Vacant Differential (CVD) programme to: - Cover the entire city, as a disincentive to land banking, - Ban car parks from being considered for remission, - Increase the multiplier of the CVD from 4.523 to 6.

3738 - Finn Jackson

I support the proposed changes to the city vacant differential rate, though to disincentivise land banking I would prefer to see this expanded to apply to all commercially zoned land in the district rather than just in the specified areas. I would also like to see the removal of surface parking as a valid grounds for remission.

3743 - Ben Ellis

I hope the city vacant lot fee applies to undeveloped carparks as well (i.e., Wilsons carparks/gravel lots). This should cover the entire city. A high fee for historically vacant lots should be considered?

3758 - Mads Churchhouse

The vacant land differential should be spread to the entire city, and further increased, to ensure that land is actually used to the benefit of the community during the present housing crisis.

3759 - Ben Connolly

I would like stronger action taken on derelict buildings in the Eastern suburbs and New Brighton, such as a rating increase (like the vacant land differential).

3764 - Jack Gibbons

I recommend the council continues to investigate the implementation of land value rating. I would be particularly interested in seeing the city vacant differential scheme changing. I think all the land area in the Central City Business Zone change to being rated on land value alone. The main issue with vacant lots in the CBD isn't that they are unsightly (although that is a problem), it's that they avoid creating most or any positive externalities normally associated with CBD activity. A business (for example) attracts people which may also visit other businesses while they are in the area. Nobody is going to the city center to sit in a temporary pocket park. Land value rating this would discourage underuse of land, not just zero use. We know that the city vacant rate works, that rating to shape land use and the city center fabric works. It just needs to be expanded. There is a large body of evidence that rating based on land value encourages more economic activity and development than capital value rating. It would accomplish the council's existing agreed-on goals better than the current city vacant differential. The total rate take from the Central City Business Zone land could be the same as today under CV, but with the final portioning among the city center land being done on land value alone.

I would like to see the council progress structural rates changes towards land value rating, in order to encourage economic growth. A politically viable first step would be transforming the existing city center vacant rate into land value rate apportionment in the city center business zone. Collecting the same amount of rates as under CV from the area, but distributing the rates burden within the area under land value alone. This would see a large improvement in site utilization in the city center, and not increase rates on the area as a whole (avoiding potentially displacing any activity)

3775 - Kate Latimer

Charge vacant building owners to clear up eq damaged buildings. Dont pay any further hand outs.

3780 - Jack Halliday

I believe: - that the City Vacant Differential should cover the entire city - surface-level car parks should not be exempt - the multiplier should be increased to mitigate capital gains and penalise unproductive use of land.

3802 - Matthew Baird

I am glad the City Vacant Differential exists, and agree with extending it to more parts of the city. I believe it needs some further adjustment: 1. Sites that only have ground-level car parking should still be charged the CVD. This is a blatant loophole that is being exploited. 2. The CVD should be increased to 6. 3. CVD should be extended to the entire city so that land banking is discouraged.

3817 - Melissa Macfarlane

I support the proposed targeted rates on vacant land to encourage a better use of these spaces across the city and investment into the region. I note that sites are exempt if the vacant land is being used for carparking. I do not support this exemption – this is not encouraging investment and development within the city and the sites remain an empty and ugly eyesore with no improvements. The vacant land rates should apply to these sites and is an area where the CCC could increase revenue.

>>>

[Strategic Direction > Additional Savings & Efficiencies]

Take away the exception for vacant land with car parking on it.

3820 - Rowan Sprague

I agree with these changes - I think the city vacant differential could even be higher, as I think there should be substantial incentives to not have there be vacant land in the city centre for long.

3853 - Geoff Curtis

I'd like to recommend: - Expanding the CVD programme to cover the whole city. - Banning caparks from remission/receiving lower rates - Increase the CVD multiplier. These will all result in fewer carparks and driving incentives, more productive land use, and a more livable city.

3856 - Portia Bishop

- Please expand the CVD programme to cover the entire city and increase the multiplier.

3876 - Dave Evans

I agree with making changes to the city vacant differential rating and its scope could be widened to discourage land banking across the city.

3881 - Anne Scott

The City Vacant Differential should apply to car parking areas and be widened out to other areas, particularly along the MRT route.

3913 - Mark Darbyshire

I support the proposed city vacant differential. However, the Central City Mixed Use shown in the draft LTP is not large enough. It needs to extend down to Moorhouse Ave to encompass the neighbourhood surrounding Atlas Quarter (36 Welles Street). Our modern apartment development feels out of place among underdeveloped sites nearby.

3915 - Redacted Redacted

-Expand the City Vacant Differential (CVD) programme to cover the entire city to disincentive land banking, and ban car parks from being considered from remission.

3921 - Alison Loveridge

Vacant differential encouraging vacant areas to be developed to lower emissions e.g. tree planting is important. Car park expansion on vacant lots should be discouraged.

3936 - Carley Dove-McFalls

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > City Planning]

The city vacant differential rates should be expanded to all commercial zones and car park development should be banned from qualifying as development. Development on this land must be green space, multi use buildings, community centres, or dense housing.

3945 - Callum Snell

In a nutshell, land owners who own vacant lots in central city pay extra rates (City Vacant Differential). If one improves the site (e.g., turning it into a green space, building mixed use residential buildings, etc.), then the rates get reduced/remitted. However, land owners can get around these higher rates by building temporary carparks at ground level. The CCC plan to extend these higher rates for vacant land to the commercial cores in Linwood Village, New Brighton and Sydenham, and to the commercial core of the Banks Peninsula in Lyttelton. The city could increase its revenue (to then fund projects with climate justice in mind) by 1. extending the vacant differential rate change to the entire city; 2. banning car parks from being considered for remission, and 3. increasing the City Vacant Differential multiplier of the standard general rate (it currently stands at 4.523).

3957 - Anne Scott (Spokes Canterbury)

The City Vacant Differential should be expanded further and applied to car parking.

3968 - Joseph Fullerton (UC Climate Action Club)

- The vacant land differential should be spread to the entire city, and further increased, to ensure that land is actually used to the benefit of the community during the present housing crisis.

3992 - Sue Piesse

Presume you mean AirBNB, Good idea. Sections that are vacant year on year, owners of same should be charged

4012 - Fiona Garrett

Get the vacant premises differential activated in all untenanted business properties in New Brighton.

>>>

Immediately get vacant premises owners linked into the City Vacant Differential rate demands for all New Brighton area including Caspian St.

4016 - Joanne Zervos

Be good to see derelict buildings added

415 - Patrick Curran

Temporary car parking should not be excluded from the City Vacant Differential rates. These car parks reduce economic growth within the city by providing a cheap way to reduce costs (lower rates) while land banking prime inner city real estate. Many of these spaces provide great spaces to build apartments, townhouses, or offices. There is little incentive to develop if car parking can cover their costs and they can pocket the capital gains as inner city land becomes increasingly valuable.

482 - Graham Townsend

[Transport > Other], [Revenue > Other]

I ask that the CCC investigate alternative income streams, particularly from activities or industries that emit a significant proportion of our greenhouse gases. Those might include such things as congestion charges for private cars parked in high density areas, a departure tax on airline tickets, a levy on cruise ships using our ports, and increasing the Vacant Differential rate multiplier (and/or extending that charge to the entire city)

572 - Brian Nelson

Vacant inner-city land should have a premium rating where it is undeveloped for over 5 years. There should be penalties for "land-banking".

573 - Rebecca Dean

It looks great! I'd love for there to be more income brought in outside of ratepayers' contributions. I think the amount paid by owners of vacant land should be higher. Those properties are a blight on the CBD and there should be a penalty for holding that land without improving it. If they can't afford it, then they should sell it to someone who will use the land. You could also consider a more progressive rates based system where those who could pay more, do. E.g. people who own high value properties should have a higher rate amount.

>>>

I agree with the plan to increase the city vacant differential and in fact I think it should be higher.

631 - Cynthia Roberts

Vacant city land (or low value carparks etc) should be rated to incentivise development, not land banking.

635 - Ashley Campbell

I approve of extending the city vacant land differential to the proposed suburban centres – I would go further and recommend extending it to all vacant commercial land. Make it cheaper for owners to get someone using their land, rather than it sitting empty. I would also like to see work done on investigating higher charges for vacant residential land, to prevent land banking. If that requires legislative change, I'd like to see the council championing this, and working with other councils to achieve it.

659 - Matt Dumont

This seems like a useful mechanisms to prevent land banking. I would suggest extending it to vacant residential lots.

760 - David Palmer

Vacant central city lots should see their rates double every year that the section is not developed.

8 - Justin Yudistira

I also support implementing the City Vacant Differential Rates to the whole city (not just the city centre). This is to disincentive land banking (and making sure the land acquired is used for purposes such as housing). We should also ban the exceptions for car parks, car parks are unvaluable land, and should not be allowed discounted rates. I also suggest to increase the multiplier, from around 4 now to 6 or 7.

843 - Ngaire Donelda Bacon

These Proposed changes should go a bit further - Owners who neglect their property should be fined. For example Antonio Hall which is protected as a Category II Heritage building has been allowed to fall into utter ruin, with the last suspicious fire set in the building in February of this year

880 - Peter Kim

Vacant land has had enough of a grace period after the earthquakes. These land bankers need to understand that its not just property they hold but holding a city to ransom. Punitive punishment with escalating rates for every year nothing is done is the better way to go.

Not Stated

116 - Jarrod Coburn

I don't really understand it but I trust you.

1520 - Wendy Butcher (Canterbury WEA)

Vacant land in the city should also be rated appropriately to reduce the desire to land bank.

2525 - Adrienne Kimberly Georgine

Not at this time.

2813 - John Antill

NO changes should be made

2820 - Brendan Ross

Why isn't Antonio Hall in Recreational Rates NOT SORTED,
YET TO CITY VACANT DIFF. RATING

3 - Di Prankerd

[Rates>Visitor Accomodation]

I agree with these changes - anything to prompt the owners of vacant overgrown eyesores to develop or sell. Properties operating as Air B and B should be rated as businesses which levels the playing field with accomodation businesses and may release some houses for rental accommodation

3044 - Tony Smail

Council is best placed to determine this

3061 - David Hawke (Halswell Residents Association (Inc.))

b. Remove all Vacant Land [Rates] Remissions for commercial land in the central city and nearby industrial areas.

i. Across the city, these amount to $347k in 2024/25 with 2-3% annual increases proposed throughout the life of the Long-Term Plan.

ii. There is too much vacant land in the central city and along the rail corridor, much of which might be suitable for housing, employment etc.

iii. City Council has indicated an extension of the “City Vacant Differential” rate, but we don’t think this goes far enough.

iv. We understand that land in the central city used for ground-level car parking (e.g. by Wilsons) is “consented” and therefore eligible for the Vacant Land Remission. This remission should be removed.

v. Furthermore, these remissions encourage “land banking” and provide a disincentive for productive development.

vi. City Council is currently pursuing Plan Change 14 to the District Plan. This provides for suburban residential intensification close to high frequency public transport and retail centres, with particular examples on our side of town being Riccarton and Hornby. These proposals have been fiercely contested by residents groups, especially in Riccarton. Our submission to the Hearings Panel on Plan Change 14 proposed that its provisions would not come into effect until residential density in the central city reached a trigger point, with vacant land converted to productive uses.

vii. The non-use of this land in the central city and nearby industrial areas has contributed to the need for green fields development such as in Halswell, and infrastructure cost from this development costs City Council substantially.

viii. Consequently, removing these remissions would save money in two ways; the cost of the remissions, and the savings from not having to do provide infrastructure relating to green fields developments.

Action requested (4): Remove Vacant Land Remissions for all property rates in the central city (including ground-level car parking sites) and along the rail corridor (saving up to $347k per year).

3164 - Arthur Gordon-Wright

I think vacant but liveable properties should be fully rated

3257 - Fiona Jones

Look at if it's fair and don't take it so far the other way.

3357 - Merav Benaia

I support an expansion of the City Vacant Differential (CVD) programme to cover the entire city as a mechanism to discourage land banking. Car parks should not be considered for remission and the multiplier should be increased.

3976 - Elizabeth Pugh

Vacant land = long term ie hasn't had anything done since the earthquakes - increase rates or to encourage "building" NOT more Wilson car parking sites.

452 - Mark Penrice

Vacant commercial land should never have any reduction in rates - unless you want to encourage land banking.

481 - Tommy Ng

Changes should be made only if it makes sense and helps to lessen the burden of people

Visitor Accommodation

General Comments

363 submissions were received for the proposal to rate visitor accommodation in residential units as a business.

280 submissions provided comments in support of the proposal, with most noting the impacts of residential units being used for visitor accommodation on housing supply.

26 comments were in opposition, 37 comments provided alternative options to the proposal, and 21 gave general comments.

Officer Response

A significant majority of submissions supported the proposal, mostly on the grounds of equality with other short-term accommodation providers (although a number also considered that properties being entirely used for this purpose were not available for long-term rental tenants or first home buyers).

Among the relatively few un-supportive submissions, the following views were highlighted:

- The proposal is unfair because it treats short-term accommodation differently to long-term rental properties (especially for landlords with multiple properties).
- It is unfair because it puts additional cost on people trying to enhance their income in financially challenging times (a number of submissions suggested that it should not apply if the owner is still living in the property).
- It is unfair because it treats all affected properties equally if they exceed a relatively low threshold of at least 60 days per year; Council could apply scaling based on the number of days (like Queenstown) or introduce a “bed tax” (as Auckland has previously done).
- It will have a negative impact on the city’s economy by discouraging visitors.
- It will not be enforceable in a cost-effective manner.

No action recommended:

- The proposal is not intended to be punitive, it is to ensure equitable tax treatment across similar types of businesses (i.e. hotels & motels). Council Policy has specifically included “travellers’ accommodation” within the Business Differential since at least 2001/02, but its application has not been systematically adapted to the new type of providers such as through platforms like Airbnb and Bookabach. The proposal should therefore be regarded as a more robust application of the existing policy rather than a new policy. Long-term residential rentals under the Residential Tenancies Act are fundamentally different, making different rate treatment appropriate.
- The proposed additional rates on affected properties is not considered unreasonable compared with the revenue of those owners active enough to be affected – for an average-value house of $750,000, the impact would have been just under $2,000 for the 2023/24 financial year (including GST). Airbnb’s submission states that the median revenue of a Christchurch member is less than $10,000 per year, suggesting that fewer than half will be affected – the Business Differential will not be applied to vacant dwellings that are rented out for less than 60 days per year, or for owner-occupied dwellings that are rented out on a more ad hoc basis (e.g. a spare bedroom in a home, or one-off short-term letting while the owner is on holiday).
- The threshold of 60 days per year (for un-hosted properties) is set to align with Council’s Resource Consent threshold for urban areas and this alignment and consistency will improve the effectiveness of enforcement. A sliding scale depending on actual days’ rental was not proposed because it would make the Differential system more complex (including additional data collection requirements) compared with the potential rates impact.

- A “bed tax” would be a separate issue that would introduce a new complexity without affecting a property’s Differential status. Auckland used this type of targeted tax as a way to raise additional money to fund its tourism promotion activities. The Supreme Court has found that Auckland’s the ‘bed tax’ can be legally levied, although consultation is still required.
- It should be noted Council’s policy just seeks to treat these properties as a business, similar to motels, and rate accordingly. No additional overall revenue is generated for Council, it is reapportions costs over all ratepayers.

Support

1 - Aidan Sheard

People should be able to do Airbnb if they live at the address. If it's vacant then it's a business venture and should be classed as such.

1012 - Andrea Mcgregor

Yes a fairer rate system needed. People running bnb should pay commercial rates.

102 - Greg Comfort

If it brings in more income for you, just do it.

1051 - Andrew Wood

Tax air bnb

1116 - Stephan Lloyd

I support the change to visitor accomidation rates.

1148 - Emma Turner

I think the air bnb charges make sense

1149 - Peter Phelan

I support the changes to the way properties offering visitor accommodation ae to be rated.

1189 - Michaela Allen

yes, visitor accommodation in a residential unit should be seen as a business - after all, that is why they do it.

1265 - Jill Banbury

Yes, definitely - Air bnb accommodation in a residential unit should be rated if a business.

1293 - Jill Rice

If it brings in more money then its acceptable.

130 - Jennifer Nuthall

I am pleased to see that CCC plans to rate unhosted visitor accommodation and to fund compliance officers. This will level the playing field for hotels and motels and treat them as the businesses that they are. Given how few have registered with CCC at this point of time strong compliance management is essential. Once levies are paid, staff costs will be covered and more funds will come into Council coffers.

1329 - Lynda Whitlow

It would be good to have businesses like visitor accommodation putting their share in rather than being rated as a dwelling.

133 - Alan Mears

Residential Properties that are used as tourist accomodation should pay an additional rate.

1347 - Stephen Leon

Business rates for Air BnB seems sound.

135 - Jac Call

Residential visitor businesses should definitely be rated

>>>

A home owner needs to pay for infrastructure for homes use etc but anyone 'charging for accommodations' needs to have higher rates charge. They can charge the customer for this to overcome the increase.

1366 - Fiona Rutherford

Visitor accommodation should be charged as this is a business, i:e air bnb

1378 - Rowena Morgan

charges to visitor accommodation (particularly international visitors) is a no-brainer

1391 - Anna Gruczynska

I support business differentials for short term accommodation.

1394 - Michael Clemens

I support those changes. Unhosted short term visitor accommodation should pay their fair share, since they are competing with hotels and motels.

1395 - William Wallace

[Rates > Rates Remissions]

I agree with rating visitor accommodation in a residential unit as a business, and changing the remissions for charities policies.

1396 - Robyn Wilson

Support changes to rates for Airbnb.

1398 - Carol Woolf

Sounds fair re visitor accommodation.

1424 - Peter McMillan

[Rates > City Vacant Differential], [Rates > Rates Remissions]

We're proposing some changes to how we rate, including changes to the city vacant differential, rating visitor accommodation in a residential unit as a business, and changes to our rates postponement and remissions for charities policies.

Do you have any comments on our proposed changes to how we rate?

I AGREE THAT WE MUST ALL PLAY OUR PART AND PAY OUR SHARE

1456 - Henry Bersani

[Rates > Business Rates]

I think more granularity in how rates are charged would mean more effective outcomes. E.g. if you're an industrial operator polluting the heathcote, or a logistics firm whose trucks do considerably more damage than your average to the roads, you should be charged more. Similarly, if you are contributing to rent increases by leasing rental properties on short term rental sites, you should be charged more. Indeed if you own multiple rental properties a progressively increasing rate on each should be applied.

1462 - Sue Piercey

I agree with the proposed changes to how the council rates but I am concerned as to whether enforcement will actually occur particularly rating visitor accommodation in a residential unit as there appears to have been practically no enforcement to date.

1469 - Susan Grant

i believe if the accomodation is a business and should be rated as such - including Air B&B

1493 - Erin Hindmarsh (Adelphi Motel)

You need to increase the rates on all of the properties being let as Airbnb/Short term accommodation to Business/Commercial rate levels. They are a business and should be paying as such. This should reduce the increase on genuine homes for their rates share.

>>>

As above - charge Short Term Accommodation providers as Businesses

1501 - Jason Middlemiss (Waimāero Fendalton-Waimairi-Harewood Community Board)

The Board generally supports the Council's approach to >>> rating short term visitor accommodation in residential units as a business.

151 - Marg Flyvbjerg

I approve of charging air bnb providers

1515 - Andrew Douglas-Clifford

I agree there should be changes to the visitor accommodation in residential units. This often locks out people from living in the central city because new builds are often used for Air BNB's.

153 - Lindsay Strang

Yes rate visitor accommodation

1544 - Daana Watson

[Rates > Other]

Visitor accommodation (which use facilities that CCC is responsible for providing upgrades and maintenance of eg sewerage, water, roads) should contribute to those costs as they use them when they stay in the city. Venice has just implemented a "day pass" cost to limit the number of tourists so the Venetian residents can go about their daily working lives without the additional wear & tear on their city by that influx of day-trippers.

1546 - Robert Fleming

Acceptable.

1551 - Philippa Curtis

Without having read any detail, I support rating visitor accommodation as a business. The others I can't comment without further information.

1556 - Jeffrey Bergman

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > City Planning]

Allowing residential units to be rented for visitor accommodation is a business and should be rated as such. It also needs to be discouraged as it creates a housing shortage for residents of the city.

1567 - Sarah Pritchett

[Rates > Rates Remissions], [Rates > City Vacant Differential]

Sounds like a good idea to increase rates on city vacant sites, visitor accommodation in residential units and changes to rates postponement and remissions for charities policies.

162 - Christine Wehrmeier

I would say that it's important to ensure that AirBnB properties should be charged higher rates and treated similarly to hotels.

1623 - Oliver Mould

I approve of all of your planned changes to how you rate.

1626 - Sam Bunn

the proposed sounds good if it is keeping the % increase on rates to residents low

1650 - Deb Osborn

I agree that visitor accommodation should pay their due as it's a business.

1690 - Richard Suggate

I support >>> rating visitor accommodation in a residential unit as a business,

1752 - Carolyn Boulton

Such a tax on international visitors flying into Christchurch airport and changes so that Air B&B style rentals are taxed like hotels. It is important that visitors to the city pay for services, not just ratepayers and businesses.

1760 - Angus Bromley

Businesses, short term rentals such as Air B and B should pay more.

1771 - Jimmy Hua (Cantebery Court Motel)

Rate should be fair and ediquate commercial properties as well as residential properties being used for commercial purpose like AirBnB or similar.

1780 - Alison Griffith-Collins

I agree with charging a tax (higher rates) for properties that are used for visitor accommodation. This portion of the rates should cover use of infrastructure, but should also cover things that are "free" but that tourists normally enjoy (Art Gallery, Canterbury Museum, the Arts Centre complex, Botanical Gardens. In other countries it is common to charge a bed-tax for visitor use of infrastructure, but it is also common to charge a heritage tax for the upkeep and protection of certain high-traffic heritage structures.

1806 - James Edwards

Rating Visitor Accommodation as a Business: This makes sense if it levels the playing field between residential units used for business (like Airbnb) and traditional businesses. However, we need to be clear about the rules to avoid any confusion among homeowners and ensure it's enforced fairly.

1814 - Jenny Atkin

Rating Visitor Accommodation as a Business: This makes sense when residential units are used for business (like Airbnb) or other businesses. However, we need to be clear about the rules to avoid any confusion among homeowners and ensure it is enforced fairly.

188 - Tony MacHarper

Agree in principle with these proposals

1901 - Teresa Bowditch

Yes definitely higher rates for secondary dwellings, such as air bnbs

191 - Jenny Harlow

Totally agree with the visitor accommodation changes - well done!

194 - John Lieswyn

agree with rating visitor accommodation as a business

1979 - Julie McCloy

No. It seems fair and reasonable.

202 - Anne Spicer

Long over due

2022 - Claudio Schill

Seems like a good idea

2024 - Janet Reeves

[Rates>Rates Remissions]; [Rates>City Vacant Differential]

Agree

2058 - Janita Patrick

I agree that if people are making money off visitors that the council should benefit too

206 - Shane Morrow

I agree with the above

2071 - Paul Broady

- I agree with >>> rating visitor accommodation.

2087 - Emma Norrish (Waipapa Papanui-Innes-Central Community Board)

The Board also supports the intent behind rating visitor accommodation in a residential unit as a business, though on the basis there is some parity with planning rules for such activity.

2096 - Kate Divett

This makes sense to me.

2121 - Cassie Welch (National Public Health Service (NPHS) Te Waipounamu)

30. NPHS Te Waipounamu supports short term unhosted residential accommodation (such as Airbnb, Bookabach etc) being charged the business differential, similar to other businesses that are run out of residential properties.

[Coder Note: Full attachment available]

2136 - Clara Carey

I approve of the change in rating of short term unhosted residential accommodation.

2144 - Amy Mcnaughton

Great idea to charge residential visitor accommodation as a business

2155 - Geoffrey Sugden

I support the changes.

2289 - Leonie Jackson

We just make any comments on our proposed changes to rate the rate.

• Visitor accommodation in a residential unit should be rated as a business.

230 - Peter Elliott

I agree

2310 - Helen Broughton (Waipuna Halswell Hornby Riccarton Community Board)

• The Board supports the proposal for rating visitor accommodation in a residential unit as a business differential if they're used for unhosted short term accommodation for more than 60 nights per year, have a resource consent for such activity, or are predominantly used for such activity. The Board agrees that this is equitable because it will result in these properties being rated in the same way as other short term accommodation providers such as motels.

2311 - Paul McMahon (Waitai Coastal-Burwood-Linwood Community Board)

The Board strongly supports the 'AirBnB' rate change.

2338 - Robin Schulz (Coronation Reserve Residents Group)

Agree

2358 - Carolyn Moffat

Yes, agree with this proposal

2362 - Rosalee Jenkin

I agree with the proposed rating of visitor accommodation because the supply of new housing is currently disproportionately going into the hands of investors to be let out as short-stay accommodation, rather than to first-home buyers and renters.

2388 - Guy Tapley

I believe the proposed changes are sensible.

2396 - Sam Jenkins

I agree that businesses should be charged for how they benefit from city services - so accommodation providers of any kind should be getting billed.

240 - Bella Zilber

Great idea to categorize airbnb as a business

2400 - Martin Riley

[Rates>Other]

Charge more for visitor accommodation, offer discounts to ratepayers.

2407 - Dave Evans

[Rates>Rates Remissions]; [Rates>City Vacant Differential]

Do them all!!! And soon!

2417 - Victor Vergara

sounds fine

2461 - Marjorie Manthei

Also strongly support rating unhosted short-term accommodation as a business. Unhosted STA are commercial, so should be treated as such. The goal should be to reduce the number of unhosted STA in residential zones, especially when located near the CBD, where the proliferation has been significant. There are several on my one-block long street in the central city and the impact is noticeable (I now have fewer committed neighbours, and we never know who is in the neighbourhood and whether they are "legitimate" or not).

2467 - John Ogier

The city already has too many "AirBnB" units. They are a business and should be taxed as such.

2474 - Lerk Shih Poh Stedman

I support

2477 - Rachael Ann

I think vacant accom as a business is a great idea.

248 - Eric Livingstone

Pleased to see visiting accommodation rated

2508 - Oliver Hutchison

Lastly I support the changes to rating of short term visitor accommodation in residential units. Renting out of units on airbnb or similar should be disincentivised as it reduces houses available for residents.

2516 - Robin Palmer

Rate visitor accommodation in a residential unit as a business.

2520 - Graeme Fraser (Diamond Harbour Community Association)

I agree with these measures.

2522 - Rosa Hughes-Currie

Rating visitor accommodation in a residential unit as a business is a great plan - having paying guests stay is a business.

2532 - Ken Begg

Do you have any comments on our proposed changes to how we rate:

I support rating properties used as Air BnB / Book a Bath etc at a rate linked to commercial / business rates

2540 - Jocelyn and Caroline Papprell and Syddall

We agree with the proposals as outlined in the Draft LTP

2541 - Kelsi Mosley

Agree with the proposed changes, including rating Airbnb properties as businesses

2559 - Michael Campbell

Express support for the proposed alterations to the rating of visitor accommodation in residential units. There is a pressing need to address instances where new housing units are acquired by investors and utilized primarily for short-stay accommodation, thereby constraining the housing supply for first-time buyers, renters, and downsizing homeowners. [Other/Special Interest Topics > Other] [Rates > Other] [Rates > City Vacant Differential]

2578 - Sarah Polson

I think charging more for people who rent their housing out as AirBNB is fair.

2591 - Bronwyn Hayward

I welcome the >>> charges on air b and b use.

2595 - Nicola Hely

I also support the possible changes to the visitor accommodation ratings. I want young people to be able to live in the city centre so they can get around without using cars, but when property is purchased by investors and rented as short term holiday accommodation it puts a barrier in place for local young people wanting to rent.

2599 - Susan Miller

I agree with the proposal for business rates be charged where residential accommodation is used solely as a business activity.

2611 - Papataitua Harrington

Agree with rating visitor accommodation differently-airb'n'b and holiday homes are income generating businesses.

2624 - Colin Ong

Visitor accommodation in a residential unit that nets an income must be one of the biggest rates (and possibly tax) loop holes around and should be charged at the level of commercial property rates.

2637 - Hannah Herchenbach

As a resident who puts one of my bedrooms on AirBnB, I think rating visitor accommodation in a residential unit as a business makes absolute sense. I earn on average $20–25k annually on visitor accommodation, and paying GST on this income is reasonable. However, as a side note, since the changes have been implemented on April 1 AirBnB is overcharging customers for the service of administering this GST.

2639 - Callum Ward (Waihoru Spreydon Cashmere Heathcote Community Board)

The Board supports the proposed changes.

2640 - Wayne Hawker (New Brighton Museum)

Agree with rating visitor accommodation such as Air BNB as they are a business and should pay same rates as that applies to Motels etc

2664 - Peter Galbraith

Agree with the proposed changes to the rating of visitor accommodation in a residential unit. Too often, new housing is built, only to be purchased by investors and let out as short-stay accommodation (AirBnB), limiting the supply of housing for first-home buyers, renters, and homeowners looking to downsize.

2734 - Sharon McDonald

I think all buildings that are business' should be rated accordingly.

2738 - Patricia (Patsy) Eastwood

Residential premises used as a business like Airbnb etc. are competing against motels, hotels etc and should be rated accordingly.

2750 - Helen Johnstone

Rating visitor accommodation is a reasonable idea. It happens in other countries and doesn't seem to put many people off visiting. It is considered part of the holiday costs.

2768 - Suzanne Wallace

yes, rate airbnb differently.

277 - Jane Harrison

I think visitor accommodation should be charged as a business - it's a money-making venture.

278 - Robin Curry

Appear reasonable

2780 - Maree Hemmingsen`

please rate visitor accommodation, airbnb etc as businesses. They are destroying the sense of neighbourhood and the outside sensor lighting goes on at all hours of night very noisy and disruptive.

2781 - Sarah Hemmingsen

do you have any comments on our proposed changes to how we rate.

Support visitor accommodation (whole houses & rooms) in residential units as a business - places like this place significant strain on infrastructure above 'normal' household use.

2786 - Redact Redacted

[Fees and Charges > Car Parking fees]

Do you have any comments on our proposed changes to how we rate?

Yes - rate the residential businesses that are freeloading as citizens. Parking a real problem now in street and the visitors don't give a damn as they are getting a cheap deal.

2799 - Dot Lovell-Smith

I support the change to rate visitor accommodation in a residential unit as a business

2810 - Kari Hunter

Significantly increase rates for residential units that are not permanent residences—that is, for empty housing or housing used for Air BnBs or similar short-term rentals. (Other cities have done this to good effect.)

282 - Michael Heenan

The AirBNB growth has changed a number of things including the impact of houses available for locals to rent. These are essentially a business in disguise and should be rated as such.

2823 - Aurora Garner-Randolph (School Strike For Climate Ōtautahi)

Yes. We support extending the vacant differential and rating visitor accommodation.

2829 - Jennifer Dalziel

Air BNBs need to be rated the same as hotels and motels

2830 - Fiona Bennetts

- I agree with the proposed changes to the rating of visitor accommodation in a residential unit ○ Too often, new housing is built in the centre of the city, only to be snapped up by investors and let out as short-stay accommodation, limiting the supply of housing for first-home buyers, renters, and homeowners looking to downsize.

2833 - Robbie Peacocke

I support the changes >>> for Airbnb-type accommodation to be charged the business differential.

2836 - Jillian Frater

I agree with the changes as proposed.

2845 - Erin Todd

Additionally, supporting changes to the rating of visitor accommodation in residential units addresses the pressing issue of housing supply by curbing the trend of investor-driven short-stay accommodations. This will promote greater accessibility to housing for first-home buyers, renters, and those looking to downsize.

2848 - Glen Koorey

I support all of these options as ways to recoup additional rates revenue.

2856 - Rachel Puentener

I support the proposed changes to the visitor accommodation rating, for the reason of equity and fairness.

2857 - Jo Blair

This is a good idea

2863 - Lynne O'Keefe

I support charging residential short term accommodation providers the business differential rate. The potential for a number of the new townhouses built in the inner city to be purchased with the idea of short term accommodation rental, it becomes commercial.

2868 - Jonty Coulson

I also support the proposed changes to the rating of a visitor accommodation in a residential unit, ensuring houses are more readily available to first-home buyers.

2875 - Paul Andrew

Charge air n bs

2922 - Zak Morrison

Rating of Visitor Accommodation in Residential Units: I fully support the proposed changes to rate visitor accommodation in residential units as a business. The proliferation of short-stay accommodation platforms like Airbnb has contributed to the reduction of housing stock available for long-term residents. By treating these units as businesses for rating purposes, the Council can ensure that property owners contribute fairly to the costs of local services and infrastructure. This change also addresses the housing supply issue by discouraging the conversion of potential homes into short-term rental properties, thereby supporting the housing needs of first-home buyers, renters, and those looking to downsize.

2923 - Amanda Peter

Corporates such as Airbnb deserve to pay.

293 - Monique van Veen

I agree with the proposed changes

2947 - Katia De Lu

2. Raise rates for visitor accommodation. I agree with the proposed changes to rates for visitor accommodation in a residential unit. At a time when so many people in our city are struggling to find a home to rent or buy, it is wrong that so much housing is being hoarded and let out as expensive short-stay accommodation.

2949 - Graeme John Marriott

I agree with the proposed changes. AirBNB should be paying proportionately at the same rate as the businesses they are competing with i.e motels and hotels. You should be discouraging rather than encouraging AirBNB. It's not a level playing field

297 - Michael Crabtree

Agreed totally

2971 - Nikita Todd

Have a visitor fee on everything so those visiting pay a little extra

3 - Di Pranker

[Rates>City Vacant Differential]

I agree with these changes - anything to prompt the owners of vacant overgrown eyesores to develop or sell. Properties operating as Air B and B should be rated as businesses which levels the playing field with accommodation businesses and may release some houses for rental accommodation

3003 - Sonya Hodder (Spreydon Neighbourhood Network)

We agree with >>> rating visitor accommodation in a residential unit as a business. >>>

3010 - Jan Cook

I support the proposal to apply the business differential to unhosted short term residential accommodation. This is fair to other accommodation businesses and will encourage property owners to make residences available for long-term residential rental.

3016 - Zarah Green

In support of these.

3031 - Lee Osborn

I totally agree with rating residential accommodation as businesses. They should also have to meet the same safety criteria as hotels re fire alarms etc.

3037 - Robert Fletcher

I am in favour of all the changes.

3056 - Carolyn Elcock

Air bnb definitely charged as business

3066 - Tony Simpson

Rates on airbnb's sounds fair.

3071 - James Gormack

Yes I think residential visitor accommodation should be rated commercially.

3092 - Kitty Moran

I agree with the proposed changes for the following: > residential properties may be charged at the business differential if they're used for unhosted short term accommodation > passing on the costs to people who use the service directly, rather than all ratepayers > only minor changes to our levels of service

3094 - Daniel Smith

Visitor accommodation should be rated equivalent to businesses to put them on an even playing field and so that the costs imposed on the city by visitors are paid for by those making a profit from them. Vacant lots need to be incentivised to be developed. Those that are struggling and charities should be given rates relief given inflation pressures.

3095 - Helen Dawson

Yes, people who's business is running an airbnb should pay the same rates as motels and other accommodation providers

3096 - Hamish Mitchell

This I agree with

313 - Isabell Booth

AIR BnB is a business & should be rated appropriately.

3138 - Rebekah Carey

Would agree with charging for visitor accommodation in residential units such as airbnb

314 - Vaughan Kirkland

I believe imposing a differential rate on visitor accommodation is fair (above a certain total night threshold) as it levels the playing field with commercial operators.

3142 - Ruth Jardine

Please consider putting a levy on Airbnb properties. This use of inner city residential property is stripping the core, he Tangata, it is the people who make our city.

3166 - Arwen Sommer

I like it, especially changes to visitor accommodation in a residential unit and the city vacant differential rating. Great improvements.

3169 - Barbara Brown

I agree with these proposed changes.

3179 - Rochelle Taylor

Good to consider paid accommodation as business, airbnb and the like should be paying more

3209 - Anouk Minnaar

[Fees & Charges > Car Parking (Parks)], [Revenue > Excess Water Charge]

>> I do agree with the proposed changes to the rating of visitor accommodation in a residential unit.

322 - Richie Connell

Do it.

3231 - Colin Foster

[Rates > City Vacant Differential]

Agree with these rating changes. It makes them more equitable (visitor accommodation in residential zones) and helps to drive changed behaviour (vacant land)

328 - Alan Hodges

Air bnb properties should pay commercial rates & be licensed.

3299 - Phil OMalley

Agree with proposed change to rating of visitor accommodation.

332 - Flair Mckay

Changing rates for Air bnb's is a needed change, as this will hopefully help free up more accommodation for long term renters

3336 - Margaret Lovell-Smith

I agree that it's important that residential accommodation businesses pay appropriate rates and taxes.

3341 - Maria Bartlett

I support targeting AirB&B through rates

3357 - Merav Benaia

There is a need to change the rating of short term visitor accommodation. Housing built in the city centre and surrounding areas are being snapped by investors and are used as a business for short term visitor accommodation. This not only creates an unfair playing field for home ownership but also also renters and people looking to downsize. These units should be required to have a resource consent to operate as a business and pay business level rates.

3366 - Robert Manthei

Agree that unhosted AirB&B needs to be rated as a business and stricter compliance regs introduced to ensure there is an accurate record of 'nights occupied'.

3371 - Malcolm Frost

Rating of visitor accommodation 'in a residential unit as a business' seems reasonable as, inferred in this, is business activity.

3373 - Michael Netto

I have decided to vote "No" on the proposal to maintain our existing levels of service and level of investment in core infrastructure, which would result in an average rates increase of 13.24% across all ratepayers and an average residential rate increase of 12.4%. While I fully recognize the importance of sustaining core services and infrastructure, I believe the proposed rate increases are too burdensome during a period of significant financial challenges for many residents and businesses in Christchurch. Given the current economic conditions, it is crucial for the Council to explore more budget efficiencies and potentially prioritize only the most critical projects. We should consider more sustainable financial strategies that do not heavily rely on substantial rate increases, which could make living in Christchurch less affordable for many. It is essential to balance the need for infrastructure maintenance with the economic realities facing our community, ensuring that we remain a livable and financially accessible city for all residents.

>>>

[Rates > City Vacant Differential], [Rates > Remissions]

In conclusion, while I support revisiting and updating the rating system to reflect current property usage and community needs, I encourage the Council to carefully consider the broader implications of these changes. Ensuring transparency and engaging in further consultation with affected stakeholders will be key to implementing these changes successfully.

3380 - Victoria Lukiyanyuk

Additionally, airBNB should be considered a business and not residential, especially if the owner is not occupying the property for more than 51% of the year.

3392 - Stephen Wood

I support these initiatives

3411 - Marian Krogh (Protect Our Winters NZ)

POW agrees with the proposed changes to the rating of visitor accommodation in a residential unit. Visitors should be able to stay close to the city centre, and easily be able to get around using active and public transport options. It should be easy for a someone to visit Christchurch without a car. But there needs to be purpose-built visitor accommodation, rather than visitors competing with local residents, renters, or potential first home owners.

3415 - Allan Taunt

Agree with all other proposed changes in the "Proposed changes to how we rate" section of the consultation document.

3423 - James Upton

Agree with what is proposed.

3425 - Hugh Dacre

Treating visitor accommodation in residential units as a business is appropriate because it is just like a motel or hotel. If you can't afford the charges that other businesses have to face don't get into that business. It simply allows undercutting of genuine well-run businesses.

3436 - Sara Campbell

I support the changes to the rating of visitor accommodation in a residential unit

3453 - Zeta Pringle

I wish the council to implement the rating changes to visitor accommodation as they accept and charge for accommodation making it a commercial operation and needs to be treated that way no matter where in the district it is located. Hence then they should be treated to council regulations of certificates of fitness to ensure that this commercial operation is compliant. Plus to make system work like in Queenstown the property is given a registration number . I wish to commend the council on this decision even though it will not please Airbnb organisation. My concern is coming from a safety perspective. Bob Pringle has been a long time contender seeking council to make commercial accommodation is consistent to all providers in the rateable region.

3466 - Mark Stapleton

I am relatively pleased with these proposed changes..

3480 - Martin Robertson

Agree

3482 - Col Pearson

I think the council should implement the proposal for increased rates on short term unhosted residential accommodation to make it more equitable with recognised accommodation suppliers.

3486 - Kelly Chapman

I agree with the proposal to rate visitor accommodation in a residential unit as a business.

3497 - Cerys Fletcher

Agree with the proposed changes to the rating of visitor accommodation in a residential unit. I can speak from personal experience of having lived in new housing, where the majority of my neighbours were short-stay accommodation (AirBnB properties). This destroys capacity for communities to form, and limits the supply of housing for first-time buyers, renters, and homeowners looking to downsize - e.g. retired couples or single people.

3498 - Lucas Tomasi

Visitor accommodation in residential units needs to pay business rates

3535 - Anna Harper

Rating visitor accommodation in a residential unit as a business is fair.

3548 - Dwayne McCormick

This is a good plan.

355 - Lynda Clark

I agree that Airbnb should contribute to the rates as they are a commercial enterprise. If ordinary homeowners let out a room occasionally that is different, but most don't and most don't even live on the property.

3552 - Alice Neylon

I support this as residential areas should be homes and businesses like Airbnb are detrimental to our city as a whole.

3575 - Anna Hansson

Sounds fair to me

3577 - Marie Byrne

I agree with classifying and charging unhosted short-term visitor accommodation as a business activity.

3589 - Roxanne Brassington

Good

3614 - Lin Roberts

- I agree with the proposed changes to the rating of visitor accommodation in a residential unit. Too often, new housing is built in the centre of the city, only to be snapped up by investors and let out as short-stay accommodation, limiting the supply of housing for first-home buyers, renters, and homeowners looking to downsize.

3615 - Janine Clarke

Agree with these

3617 - Bronwen Bisley

I support rating visitor accommodation in a residential unit as a business.

3618 - Chrys Horn

I completely support the changes to the rating of visitor accommodation in residential units that is proposed. We need affordable housing in our central city for residents and it seems wrong that investors buy new housing and let it out as short-stay accommodation. Not only does this limit the supply of housing for residents, it also increases rents and property prices.

3620 - Rosemary Turnbull

rating visitor accommodation is essential

3621 - Morgane Honore

I agree with the proposed changes to rate visitor accommodation in residential units as businesses. This move addresses the issue of housing being purchased by investors for short-stay accommodation, which restricts housing supply for first-home buyers, renters, and downsizers. By levelling the playing field, we can ensure a fair and sustainable housing market for all residents.

3623 - Jessica Adams

There should be differential rating for residential properties that are operating as Air BnBs as they are businesses.

3626 - Connie Christensen

I support the proposed rate increases.

363 - Nathan Carroll

I agree with these proposals

3633 - Joanne Tindall

- Visitor Accommodation in a Residential Unit as a business: o I fully support this change as this is running as a business and so should be paying rates in line with this Rating Units use.

3639 - Stephen Burgham

I fully support rating visitor accommodation in a residential unit as a business

3644 - Yvonne Dixon

Business rating when properties are used for Air Bnb etc is absolutely fair . Go for it!

3651 - Kate Innes

Rates on visitor accomodation would help improve the housing supply.

3656 - Liam Blackett

Support rating short them visitor accomodation as a business unit

3661 - Steph Walker

It's really great that you're looking at extra rate payments for Air BnBs, particularly when housing availability and affordability is still an issue in the city.

3672 - Neil McKenzie

I am a big fan of increasing costs for Air BnB etc. Motels pay higher costs and so should similar providers such as Air BnB. I note and agree with your proposal to impose business rates on thee.

3679 - Janet Perry

Pleased to see proposal that short term non hosted residential accommodation may be charged the business differential and hope that this will be able to be administered.

3688 - Paul Crooks

Finally you are going to introduce “Business” differential on our General Rates to those properties being used for un-hosted short-term visitor accommodation (such as Air BnB and similar). The hosts have been free loading on the rest of Christchurch rate payers for many years. They are running a business so should be paying business rates. Even the government has finally realised how big a free loader they are by making them pay GST.

3690 - Jono de Wit (Greater Ōtautahi)

We agree with the proposed changes to the rating of visitor accommodation in a residential unit Too often, new housing is built in the centre of the city, only to be snapped up by investors and let out as short-stay accommodation, limiting the supply of housing for first-home buyers, renters, and homeowners looking to downsize.

3694 - Jane Pairman

I totally agree with a tax on visitor accommodation rates. I do not believe the majority will even notice and I do not believe it will reduce visitor numbers. Definitely tax Air B and Bs and that type of accommodation as well as motels and hotels in this respect.

3700 - Ian Cumberpatch

I support rating visitor accommodation in a residential unit as a business. There needs to be equitable fairness seen and realised.

3701 - Rod Hay

I support the proposed changes, i

3704 - Logan Cane

Agree with the proposed changes to the rating of visitor accommodation in a residential unit. Too often, new housing is built, only to be purchased by investors and let out as short-stay accommodation (AirBnB), limiting the supply of housing for first-home buyers, renters, and homeowners looking to downsize.

3708 - Joan Simpson

rating visitor accommodation in residential units is fair. Air B & B has significantly harmed commercial accommodation.

3710 - Kit French

rating visitor accommodation in a residential unit as a business sensible.

3712 - Zeta Pringle (Coalition for safe accommodation in Christchurch)

We wish to support the council on the recommendation to bring all accommodation providers whom accept and Cher money for act or a nights stay as commercial as is defined . Much oppose will come but all commercial business need to be treated fairly. Queenstown have implemented a system of registration with a number is our recommendation to follow a simple system. Airbnb should not bee seen as bullies due to deep pocket telling how a council is to run your business. The model is in place all round the world and Christchurch can implement its own bylaws thought this long term plan. We shall at the hearing provide greater evidence to back the council in this new regulation and bylaws.

373 - Charlene Herring

Agree with the changes.

3738 - Finn Jackson

I support the proposal to rate visitor accommodation in residential units as a business.

3740 - Nicky Sharples

Given the high number of Airbnb in city a business differential charge would seem in order.

3743 - Ben Ellis

Air BNB tax / increased rates is an excellent idea. Vacant housing (or effectively vacant housing such as Air BNB) isn't helpful for the city as it reduces places to live and undercuts existing business such as hotels and fully established accommodation options. I assume policing this will either require a rates increase or be funded from part of the tax take, but regular searches of AirBNB and the like should be easy.

3745 - Victoria Rathgen

Charge AirB&B rentals and businesses running out of units commercial rates.

>>>

Rate visitor accommodation in a residential unit, would be fair including AirB&Bs. This would benefit owner occupiers in the units., and why should motel owners with less rooms being charged rates.

3747 - Nick Meeten

Air BnB type usages should be rated highly to discourage them and encourage landlords to make these properties available for people who are living in Christchurch.

375 - Alex McNeill

These seem like very sensible changes.

376 - Mattias Wieland

Yes, whole house/apartments AirBnBs should be contributing more

3768 - Tracey Klatt

These are all good ideas for getting some additional revenue

3780 - Jack Halliday

I agree with the proposed changes to the rating of visitor accommodation in a residential unit.

3783 - Arthur McGregor

[Rates > City Vacant Differential], [Rates > Rates Remissions]

I support these proposed changes

379 - Alex Rowe

I agree with all proposed changes. I support the city vacant differential rating plan, short term unhosted residential accommodation rating changes and age based rental postponement change.

3795 - Bede Cunningham

agree

3802 - Matthew Baird

I agree with the proposed changes to the rates for visitor accommodation in a residential unit. We have too much housing operating as short-term expensive accommodation, increasing pressure on the long-term rental market.

3805 - Antony Lawrence

Air BNB type rentals should be rated higher as commercial enterprises.

3809 - Johnathon Ridden
Support.

3813 - Marg Morrison
Agree with rating vacant sites and treating visitor accommodation in e residential unit as a business

3819 - Jessica Halliday
Agree with the proposed changes to the rating of visitor accommodation in a residential unit. Housing should primarily be for residents (long-term renters or owners) not for short-term visitor accommodation.

3820 - Rowan Sprague
I agree with these changes

3830 - Brenda Banning
I agree with these proposals

3831 - Rick Jones
Air B&B, Book a Batch et.al should be treated as a business and rated accordingly.

3845 - Wolfgang Rack
OK.

385 - Francesca Brown
I think that is fine but also as noted about visitor to the city should pay an infrastructure fee per night to support this.

3853 - Geoff Curtis
I'd also agree with the proposed changes to the rating of visitor accommodation. I'm a young person, who would love to live in the city centre, and be able to get around without a car, but any housing in the city seems to just be being purchased by investors and then rented as an AirBnb.

3856 - Portia Bishop
- Agree with proposal to change rates of visitor accommodation.

3865 - Maxine Donovan

Well if it benefits the overall plan, then guess any change may be beneficial.

3869 - Cam Parsonson

ok with rating airbnbs as commercial.

3876 - Dave Evans

I agree with the proposed changes to rating visitor accommodation to level the playing field in their competition with hotels etc.

3881 - Anne Scott

Airbnb is limiting available housing and the transient nature does not contribute to building strong communities.

3896 - Coral Denize

I agree with rating short term visitor accommodation as a business

3908 - Cathy Harlow

Visitor accommodation - if you are mainly renting the property as visitor accommodation, you should pay business rates.

3913 - Mark Darbyshire

I support the proposed rating of short-term accommodation as a business.

3917 - Bob Thayer

Air B&B's should pay a bed tax

3921 - Alison Loveridge

Visitor accommodation should always be treated as a business, even if in a residence.

3930 - Peter McCarthy

I can see and support the approach you've outlined.

3931 - David Moorhouse

Additional rating on Air BnB is well over due

3957 - Anne Scott (Spokes Canterbury)

Agree with the proposed changes to the rating of visitor accommodation as it is limiting the housing available for home renters and buyers; and fails to create connected, vibrant communities due to the transient nature of short-term accommodation making the city feel less safe and less welcoming.

3958 - Emma Turner

I think it's great to recognise those properties that are being used as visitor accommodation and have them pay more, just like hotels and motels would.

3966 - Michael Apathy (Climate Liberation Aotearoa)

We support the short term accommodation business rating, and we believe it should be applied to any rental property.

3971 - Joseph Fullerton

Rating visitor accommodation as businesses is good, but should be extended to all rentals, because all rentals are businesses which depend on CCC's services to operate >>>

3976 - Elizabeth Pugh

I agree with a rating on visitor accommodation ie Air BnB type rentals, where they are a residential unit but being run as a business

3991 - Marilyn Copland

Given the huge increase in BnBs which impacts negatively on life in the suburbs, I think the rating is such a good idea.

3992 - Sue Piesse

Presume you mean AirBNB, Good idea. Sections that are vacant year on year, owners of same should be charged

4000 - Kari Barr

Any accommodation Air BnB should be rated differently if is operating more than 60 days a year

4001 - Jennifer Porter

I support rating of authorised residential accommodation for more than 60 (could be less) nights

402 - Cynthia Charron

- support the proposals to change the rates policy, especially for visitor accommodation in a residential unit

4020 - Brian Turner

Generally okay.

4024 - Richard McCaskill

I agree with the above

4025 - Robin Wynne-Williams

[Rates > Other]

Explore other ways to bring down the proposed rates increases; eg rate all the government buildings, and apply visitor levies to accommodation

4037 - Jo Kidd

Air bnb treated as a business is fine

422 - Nias Kitchin

Other solutions like these especially the accommodation in residential properties as businesses is more of a reasonable solution

487 - Gavin Stevenson

Absolutely impose rating on visitor accommodation in residential units. After all - this is a small business.

496 - Simon Liddy

[Rates > City Vacant Differential]

Great idea around the vacant land rates and visitor accommodation rates.

505 - Laura Jones

[Rates > City Vacant Differential]

agree with rate differentiation on visitor accommodation , vacant properties

533 - Judith Livingstone

[Rates>Visitor Accommodation]

Yes I think buildings should be rated higher as we are short of accommodation same with Airbnb

554 - Veronika Gabel

I would approve of rating private visitor accommodation as a business.

565 - Rae James

I support rating visitor accommodation in a (owner non-resident) residential unit as a business.

570 - Greg Partridge

I agree that rating visitor accommodation in a residential unit as a business in which the business owner does not live (ie, and AirBnB or business of that nature), should be increased. Legitimate commercial accommodation providers (hotels, motels etc) are faced with very costly compliance expenditure on an ongoing basis, and the regulations regarding the construction of those types of accommodation premises are also far more stringent and therefore a lot more costly to the business owner. AirBnB accommodation property owners however, are not faced with those same costs, and therefore commercially it is not an even playing field. Hoteliers and Moteliers are at a clear disadvantage. Property developers have intentionally flooded our city with cheaply built quasi "motel" units, knowing full well they could sell them off as AirBnB units (if they didn't add them to their own property portfolio), and that they would dodge the costs of constructing and operation a commercial accommodation premises. I have concerns regarding the city vacant differential fees in that it could force the construction of poorly designed, and aesthetically ugly buildings in order for the land owner to avoid the extra rate charge. That would not be a good end result for Christchurch.

579 - Rosemary Neave

[Rates > City Vacant Differential]

yes vacant city land (or low value carparks etc) should be rated to incentivise development, not land banking. yes to rating visitor accommodation differently. I have run an airbnb - they need to pay their share. We also need to incentivise renting/first home buyers

631 - Cynthia Roberts

Yes to rating visitor accommodation differently. Airbnb need to pay their share or offer flats for long term rental alongside incentives for renting/first home buyers

669 - Daniel Barkley

I like the idea of making sure that people that are using houses and permanent Air BnB are going to be charged accordingly. ie that they will have a higher rate charge.

6904 - Jean McIntyre

A photograph of a handwritten note on lined paper. The text is written in black ink and reads: "Definitely RATE AIR BnB's" on the top line, and "- IT IS A BUSINESS!" on the bottom line. The note is underlined.

7 - David Stiles-Pickard

Agree with above.

724 - Sophie Cooney

Definitely a good idea to rate residential accommodation as a business if it's being used solely as visitor or tourist accommodation for profit by the owner (eg. Airbnb) - difficult if the resident is living in their property during most of the year though.

756 - Jonathan Harrington

Rating visitor accommodation I support.

80 - Elizabeth Velde

That's fair enough

900 - Bill McElhinney

[Strategic Direction - Other Policy Matters]

Visitor accommodation in a residential unit as a business should definitely incur commercial rates. The charities policy should remain as is.

902 - Karen McElhinney

Visitor accommodation should be charged business rates in line with motels, hotels etc.

972 - Robert Gomez

Yes have a visitor accommodation tax

990 - Wendy Fergusson

These are good

Oppose

1053 - Melissa Tauwhare

Don't agree with visitor accommodation in residential being charged more. They're providing a service to make Chch more accessible to visitors.

1117 - Brent Elder

I don't think it's a good idea to alter the structure around visitor accommodation in a residential unit. This is a small way some residents make a little extra income, or offset the cost of a second home, this increase will make that harder, raising the chance that this valuable resource (accommodation in residential units) will be harder to find. Not to mention the impact to people's bottom line, that are trying to offset other rising expenses. Leave it as it is.

1339 - Carol Marie Ferrier

Kiwis are really struggling at the moment, and this has seen a significant increase in hosted accommodation in residential units. Further taxes on residential hosted accommodation over an above GST and AIRBNB service taxes will make this VERY popular style of accommodation unaffordable to guests. Keep hard working kiwis afloat and tourists coming in, DO NOT tax further

1500 - Warwick Schaffer

I disagree with extra taxes as a way to balance the budget, council itself needs to down size. In particular visitor accommodation in residential units should not be rated as a business just like long term residential rentals should not be rated as businesses. Doing this would be inconsistent, opportunistic and bowing to the large hotel lobby. The scale is not the same treating a large hotel like a residential unit would be like applying supermarket rules to a farmers market stand. Doing this would put small scale accommodation providers out of business, leaving CHCH with fewer visitor accommodation options and so a more expensive less attractive place to visit.

1996 - Iain Nicholls

Rating visitor accommodation in a residential unit as a business is inappropriate, heavy handed and unfair.

2416 - Dylan Schwartz (Airbnb)

Executive Summary

- Airbnb's community has a strong track record of growing the visitor economy in Christchurch, providing more choice of accommodation for consumers in more locations across a variety of price points. In the 12 months to 31 December 2023, our Host community welcomed about 236,000 guests throughout the city.
- Airbnb's community brings valuable tourism dollars to communities throughout the region. In 2022, Airbnb guests who stayed in Canterbury spent an estimated $370 million, which supported 2,900 jobs in brick-and-mortar businesses such as cafes, restaurants, and retailers, according to research by Oxford Economics.
- Airbnb strongly opposes the council's proposal to charge business rates on unhosted activity over 60 nights. With the median earnings of Christchurch Hosts being under $10,000 per annum³, applying an average rates increase of nearly $2,300 per annum on top of additional monitoring, resource consent costs, GST and income taxes is disproportionately burdensome on Hosts trying to make ends meet.

The council's proposal to charge a business rate differential on unhosted activity over 60 nights is out of step with other councils and would represent an unfair burden on Hosts that would directly harm the visitor economy. With the median earnings of a Christchurch Host being under $10,000 per annum¹¹, applying an average rates increase of nearly $2,300 per annum¹² on top of additional monitoring, resource consent costs, GST and income taxes is disproportionately burdensome on Hosts trying to make ends meet.

The rationale that an unhosted property let for two months of the year is equivalent to a full time business being run out of a home is clearly not appropriate especially if long-term rental investment properties are specifically excluded despite being run as a business. With no scaling of the rates differential, as is the case in Queenstown, it is probable that a typical Host earning under $10,000 would be subject to a nearly 25% tax on gross earnings which is well out of step with how income taxes are levied in terms of allowing costs to be deducted from taxable income. Moreover the policy does not recognise that motels, for example, can rent out multiple rooms year round and be subject to the same differential as a property only let for two months of the year.

Hosts who conduct unhosted activity over 60 nights a year are also required to apply for resource consent which may cost anywhere from $1,000 to $10,000¹³ in addition to annual monitoring/enforcement fees of circa $300 per annum. Combined with the recently introduced App Tax that is expected to result in a 10-19% drop in earnings,¹⁴ the typical Host could expect to earn little income before income taxes and proposed average general rates increases of 25% over 3 years, which would also increase the business differential rate.

Additionally, the wording of the proposal is that the council may levy the business differential on these properties and may also levy business rates if a hosted property is, in the council's view, predominantly used for visitor accommodation despite the underlying premise that there is a person living on site full time. This suggests that the policy could be applied inconsistently and leaves open the possibility of scope creep with no recourse for Hosts if the council is the sole determiner of whether or not a hosted property is primarily a person's home or visitor accommodation.

By levying rates which are inherently tied to property values with no regard for the level of Hosting, the council is using a blunt tool that will not put RVA on a level playing field but rather significantly disadvantage it relative to other industries. It is far more appropriate for the council to levy a fee on the visitor that would apply across all accommodation types if the aim of the proposal is to create a level playing field.

Collectively, the combined charges that the City of Christchurch places upon RVA makes Christchurch one of the most expensive locations for prospective RVA property owners in Aotearoa.

RVA has great potential to grow the Christchurch visitor economy and aid in the city's longer term economic growth and recovery. With the building of a new stadium, convention centre and desire to host large scale events, the city would be best placed to incentivise locals to open their homes and welcome visitors. By placing ever increasing costs on RVA Hosts in a cost of living crisis, the council is unfairly singling out one group of residents who provide a vital service to the wider community.

[Full attachment available]

2422 - Debora Mora

Charging differing rates could defer air B n B availability as more air BnBs close down shops due to ongoing costs not viable for them, will have the affects of less accommodation in Christchurch for major events, and we want people to come to our city for many reasons. Council needs to encourage visitor accommodation to attract more visitors to our city.

2519 - Charlotte Withington

I don't think homeowners should be penalised for helping bring paying tourists to our city. Hotels don't fit all visitors requirements and we need as many people visiting our city as possible.

2603 - Ron Brooks

leave it alone

2690 - Robbie Dobbie

Proposed change to rate visitor accom — sounds blurry & hard to administer, ^{so no}

2693 - Tanya Markman

Note B

I object to the council proposal to increase rates on 'visitor accommodation in a residential unit as a business'. The council cites the example of a $2,273 yearly increase in rates for a capital value property of $750,000 (the average house price in Christchurch). This would approximately DOUBLE the level of rates being paid by the ratepayer. That is not a 13 % rate hike – as proposed by council, but in fact a 100 % rate rise for many, and even higher than this for some ratepayers. In my book that is both grossly unfair and ethically irresponsible. There would be some ratepayers, affected by this rate rise, whose annual income would be less than the average for greater Christchurch (somewhere between an estimated $31,000 and $41,000). This is a massive amount of extra cost dished out to households who are already struggling.

This council tax would be in addition to the new tax of 15 % being adopted by the government for those with an accommodation business – the same people that council are targeting with this proposed 100 % rate hike. I find it difficult to comprehend that council can contemplate charging a fee for an individual that may be using their property for 60 days in a year. That's 16 % of the year. In addition, residents who accept accommodation payments in their primary place of residence while living there are EXCLUDED in this council proposal. Can you tell me how this is fair? Perhaps a fairer way would be for council to restrict such a rate increase proposal to residents who own multiple separate accommodation facilities. This would then exclude the one time small business owner. 72 % of businesses in New Zealand have no employees (MBIE, NZ government, 2022).

2706 - Jan Bierman

Don't see any gain in trying to rate visitor accommodation in a residential unit - usually small operation - but more cost in administering.

2709 - Matthew Gallen

shouldn't rate airbnb accommodation as a business. should be residential. need to increase rates and fees for vacant commercial buildings which are held at artificially high rents to essentially land bank. ie they would rather sit empty than meet market rates. Nothing worse than empty shops and buildings being held by absent landlords

2715 - L.F. Blake

Visitor accommodation in private homes should not have increased rates and AirBNB have long fought this. Who sleeps there has little impact on the cost to the city, and private accommodation does bring people into the city.

2762 - Geraldine Allan

We shouldn't have to pay for visitors out of our rates

3093 - Gareth Cook

Not in support of rating visitor accommodation in residential units as a business.

31 - Gary Durey

You have NOT provided evidence to back up why the changes are needed or the impact they will have, so they can not be implemented.

3187 - Debbie Hamilton

Yes stop disadvantaging inner city businesses with rating visitor accommodation

3256 - Ian Goodwin

Unfair to rate residential houses as a business

3844 - My-Linh Dang

Visitor accommodation in a residential unit should NOT be charged as a business. People are struggling as it is, and this is just another way to (unfairly) take money from honest, hardworking people who have worked hard to buy property to invest (or otherwise).

3935 - Michael Healey

I disagree with rating visitor accommodation in a residential unit as a business

430 - Kate Porter

Don't think you should We need tourists who stay in the air bnbs to spend money on our city

467 - Anna Scheirlinck

I don't think charging Airbnb is reasonable when people want to rent out their own homes whilst they are away.

532 - Chris Abbott

Do not agree with business-rating of AirBNB and AirBNB-type accommodation

624 - Emma Velde

Rating visitor accommodation in a residential unit as a business is a terrible idea that we feel strongly about. It's impossible to compare the scale of a single house to a hotel. It would be like comparing farmers markets to supermarkets so it's not EQUITABLE. Nor is it equitable to compare long term accommodation with short term accommodation. This is just bowing to hotel lobbyists who are big international businesses. This is grass roots economy that provides for people in areas hotels and motels do it service. This is incredibly unfair, there is no additional services required for short term accommodation versus long term. In fact there is less.

692 - Tony Ward

I dont support visitor accommodation treated as business. It adds an undesirable layer of bureaucracy.

Other

1129 - John Clemens

We should be rating visitor accommodation as a business.

1176 - Jamin Thomas

With the visitor accommodation - I want this to be consistent with other major hubs in NZ - for example, if Auckland do this, I can understand. I don't want this to be something that only we do in Christchurch as would seem disproportionately unfair.

1491 - Lindsay Richards (Westmorland Residents Association)

[Rates > Rates Remissions]

[Rates > Visitor Accommodation]

Start hitting Air B and B properties with business rates. Tighten up on churches and charities that are currently rates exempt. You keep telling the residents that today's world is "user pays", so make all users pay.

1520 - Wendy Butcher (Canterbury WEA)

Visitor accommodation should be rated as a business when it provides accommodation for more than 6 people above the those normally resident.

1699 - Dominic McKeown

>>> charge higher rates for any air bnb since they compete with existing accommodation providers.
[Rates > City Vacant Differential] [Rates > Other].

1751 - Matthew Tolan

More effort is needed to ensure compliance with short-term rental/AirBnB providers with the rules.

180 - Kevin McSweeney

I think all unhosted accommodation should be treated as business use regardless of the number of days

1833 - Mary McKeown

put the likes of AirBnB on same level as other accommodation business

1876 - Mika Clapson

Charge landlords a business rate because their renting for profit IS a business.

2206 - Nikki Rogers (Hospitality NZ)

21. Commercial accommodation operators are seeking a fairer playing field around rates and regulations, particularly targeted at unhosted STRA properties more than 90 days a year. The STRA sector operates mainly in residential areas, only pays residential rates, operates with less regulation, and often escapes appropriate taxation.

2330 - Bradley Conder (Novotel Christchurch & Ibis Christchurch)

I agree with the changes but suggest the increase in rates from visitor accommodation should be reinvested in to the industry and more funds for major events and business events

2340 - Hazel Sligting

Visitor accommodation in a residential unit should only be classified as a business when it exceeds a certain annual income. Making a blanket tax increase penalizes individuals who are trying to make a small amount of money to cover the cost of living increases.

2392 - Wendy Blair

Air BnBs which are ONLY used as Air BnBs should be charged business rates. If it is a whānau home which is lived in and only rented out for short periods but remains a residence then no, but if the property is not resided in by a tenant or owner-occupier then it should be classed as a business and charged as such.

2416 - Dylan Schwartz (Airbnb)

- Instead Airbnb strongly supports the introduction of a visitor levy alongside our proposed National Framework and would welcome the opportunity to work with the council to ensure that the community can continue to benefit from the visitor economy.

>>>

Our National Framework lays out a set of regulatory principles that seek to unlock the potential of RVA whilst balancing the needs of individual communities. As part of those measures, Airbnb proposes a visitor levy which would provide councils with the funding necessary to invest in tourism infrastructure. Having a broad-based visitor levy is the most appropriate way to create a sustainable tourism revenue stream without needing to bluntly apply business rates which are inherently tied to property values and not hosting activity.

[Full attachment available]

2507 - Bronte Barber

If a business charges like a business (ie Airbnb where money goes to america) then charge. However one must earn up to 50k before tax to be classed as business.

2511 - Charlaine Palmer

Charge Air B'n B's as businesses. They reduce stock for rentals and purchases.

2538 - Libby Ornsby

Depends, is it fair, eg are visitor accommodation rate payers paying more already for extra water used and garbage disposal? Does the accommodation bring people into the city to spend money.

2558 - Mike Norris (Akaroa Civic Trust)

Rates - Short term visitor accommodation. While we believe that the proposal to apply the 'business differential' to unhosted, short term residential accommodation is fair, we request that listed heritage properties are exempted from this extra cost. Akaroa's heritage buildings provide a public good, contributing to the streetscape, amenity and enjoyment of residents and visitors. The costs of maintaining heritage buildings can be substantial and the Akaroa Civic Trust acknowledges the many past and present property owners that have taken such good care of Akaroa's historic buildings. Maintaining a viable use for heritage buildings is key to providing for their ongoing maintenance and preservation. Some heritage dwellings can be unsuitable for modern residential use and are unable to meet healthy home standards without substantial impacts on heritage fabric and values. Visitor accommodation provides a viable use for such dwellings and helps to ensure their ongoing survival. An exemption from this proposed new rating policy would help to recognise and encourage the contribution of heritage property owners to the preservation of the City and Peninsula's built heritage.

268 - Kathryn McNeil

[Rates - Other]

Charge more for vacant properties to encourage their development. Rating visitor accommodation in residential units sounds good but would it be economical, or expensive to administer?

3325 - Adele Geradts

For the Visitor accommodation in residential areas we need to be mindful that more people will be looking at making extra money in this complex financial climate. I would like to ensure that a family that might Airbnb their home at Xmas (or at a time that they are on holiday) are not unfairly rated as a business. However, more people are going to be looking at renting a room out for visitors short term to help cover costs; people will need to be advised how their rates could be affected.

3538 - Leonardo Cockburn

Just hope it doesn't make rent go up

354 - Vivienne Allan

Yes, I agree with rating visitor accommodation in a residential unit that operates as Air B&B whether the home owner is in the house or not.

3540 - Philip Robinson

Privately and commercially owned residential rental properties are a business and need to pay higher rates compared to private home owners living in their own property.

3598 - Kyle Sutherland

Airbnb, Bookabach and similar should be charged business rates the same as motels, hotels.

3611 - Sharon Dowers

I do not agree with the rating changes for residential units where it relates to use as an Airbnb. Further clarification on this is needed as it may end up further burdening Mum and Dad hosts, who are using their sleepout as short term accomodation. I believe this rate change should only be applied where the property is used solely for accomodation, and the owner does not occupy it.

3634 - Peter Cooper

Businesses in suburban houses should also pay rates in line with city centre businesses. They are freeloading on residential ratepayers.

3772 - Sue McFarlane

I agree on rating visitor accommodation in a residential unit as a business - people are profiting from it. What about people who rent out a room/part of their house that is separated from them on Air B&B?

3773 - Elizabeth Benson

I fully support that AirBnB style accommodation be charged at business rates. However there is no way for the Council to monitor this or implement unless AirBnB is contractually obliged to share the data or physically have a cap blocking a property from being booked for more than 60 nights unless it is registered. There appears to be no-one checking or enforcing anything in regards to this area within the council.

3801 - Victor (aka Vince) Eichholtz

Also yes to rating residential visitor accommodation as business if over a set number of days eg 10/yr,

3833 - Jamie Stratton

More tax/rates for air bnb type properties

4005 - Janet Lockyer

(Not sure about places that operate as AirBnB sometimes, as this would not be fair to them). Having read all you put into your plan, I agree with as AirBnB < 60 days wouldn't need to pay.

527 - Hans Daellenbach

Also look for additional sources of revenue common in many European cities, such as making tourists contribute through night levies, covering not just hotels and guest houses, but also other short-term accommodations, such as AirBnB.

635 - Ashley Campbell

I approve of rating short-term unhosted residential accommodation using the business differential. However, I would like to see more resources put into policing of this, so it works the way intended, rather than relying on tipoffs from neighbours. It needs to be actively policed, and the higher rate needs to be rigorously applied.

720 - David Leafa

How are you going to police this? charge local verse tourist and visitors. Aren't we trying to get more visitors coming to NZ?

8 - Justin Yudistira

I support the changes to rate visitor accommodation in a residential unit. In fact, the rate should increase.

822 - Gavin Scott-Petersen

[Rates > Other]

In particular, reclassifying visitor accommodation in residential units as a business could have significant implications for small operators and could potentially discourage the provision of such accommodations, affecting the local tourism industry.

860 - Gaynor Stanley

Wouldn't renter's accommodation also be a business comparable to visitor accommodation to also levy - especially now central govt policy has changed around that.

Not Stated

116 - Jarrod Coburn

I don't really understand it but I trust you.

1335 - Julie Turner

visitors bring more money into the region, keep charging mum and dad accomodation and people won't want to come here

1508 - Mb Brennan

A little unsure about the wisdom of rating small time home providers of visitor accomodation

2498 - REDACTED REDACTED

I see benefit in this, however, I dont know enough about air bnb to comment.

2525 - Adrienne Kimberly Georgine

Not at this time.

2529 - Bernard Newman

I could not find information on this.

2813 - John Antill

NO changes should be made

2820 - Brendan Ross

MORE INFO PLEASE ON HOW YOU ARE GOING TO TACKLE AIR BNB

300 - La Wanda Cowan

How do you differentiate between someone that has brought 6 town houses compared to someone Airbnbing out a room just so they can get by.

3044 - Tony Smail

Council is best placed to determine this

3134 - Kim Lister

Government is already taxing airbnbs so if you start increasing rates as well these will not be sustainable. Some airbnbs have less Occupancy than houses full of families.

3257 - Fiona Jones

Look at if it's fair and don't take it so far the other way.

3476 - John Fletcher

No. There are pros and cons no matter what system is used.

365 - Wendy Burton

don't add rates to accommodation in residential units as people do this to help pay for the escalating cost of living!

3733 - Helen Reason

This may be hard to monitor but I can see how local hotels/motels feel they are at a disadvantage

3814 - Rob Battersby

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > City Planning]

I believe there should be no visitor accommodation permitted in low - medium density areas within the city. If this activity were to be permitted, then commercial rates need to be applied to the property.

3825 - Justin Barton

rating visitor accommodation in a residential unit as a business - maybe hard to monitor

3977 - Defyd Williams

Do you have any comments on our proposed changes to how we rate?

Follow Auckland mayor's bed tax for inner city accommodation

416 - Mike Cleaver (Canterbury)

I don't know enough about rating and zoning to have an educated opinion. However it sounds like you would be targeting such examples as Airbnb or bookabach, making people declare parts of their homes (at least) as a business rather than a residential property. I think this sounds very complicated and I am unsure how it would be policed if you have a building in the grounds of a residential property that you lived in vs renting a whole property out. I think the latter is clear, it is a property being used for profit as a business venture. However the former is more gray.

452 - Mark Penrice

Visitor accommodation in residential areas benefits ordinary people - it should be encouraged. Blocking "mum and dad" visitor accommodation in favor of overseas owned minimum wage paying big business is bad for the city.

481 - Tommy Ng

Changes should be made only if it makes sense and helps to lessen the burden of people

ECAN Rates

General Comments

10 submissions were received on ECAN Rates.

All 10 submitters provided general comments relating to Environment Canterbury and their proposed rates increase.

Officers Response

Submissions wanted ECan rates increases to be lower and/or for Ecan to be reviewed.

No action recommended: ECan rates increases are governed by the Ecan LTP and submission process.

Not Stated

128 - Elizabeth Ackermann

No you are proposing to a huge rare hike because of mismanagement. Esp ECAN is the most useless organization if you look at state of our water resources. Most people think we paying for council mistskes.

>>>

I read all and dont think you would listen to any suggestions but one is get rid of ECAN. They a money sucker who don't deliver. Put money into our heritage, actually fixing our water and making our city a place we want to live.

>>>

Ecan is the big money sucker. Review them

2407 - Dave Evans

[Strategic Direction>Have we got the balance right?]

4. Ecan and their even more massive rates rise. They continue to push empty buses that are too big for the very few people that use them -- and will use them. They do not know how to get polluters to pay for their damage because they almost never enforce their own rules. And they and the CCC have utterly failed to get the rest of the province to financially support the local white elephant, the stadium. CCC should stand up to them.

3458 - Frank Hill

My concerns / issues relate to Environment Canterbury who's plan I have read. I object strongly to what they are doing and so should this council. Essentially, they are using Christchurch Ratepayers to fund rural projects and water infrastructure that has nothing to do with this city. In the next financial year, they are proposing to take over $70M in General Rates from Christchurch ratepayers very little of which will be spent in this city. Ecan are the organisation responsible for dividing Urban and Rural communities in Canterbury. I attach my submission to Environment Canterbury.

4005 - Janet Lockyer

This will not include the Ecan increase though, so that is extra.

1216 - Glenn Maguire

Ecan portion of rates ridiculously high cut back some of that.

>>>

Ecan should take a pay cut

1327 - Chris O'Brien

Put pressure on Environment Canterbury to reverse their unacceptable rate rises.

1932 - Cynthia Carey

Get rid of Ecan

1939 - Mary Sefton

No to ecan rates rise

1944 - Peter Salvesen

The rates rise proposed from ECAN is an utter disgrace as well

2780 - Maree Hemingsen`

ECAN has been ignoring this for years and have ignored the research undertaken by many. Make them accountable for all the money they have wasted and maybe actually fund research. Or they could read the research undertaken and act on findings. Nitrates & phosphates for example.

Other

General Comments

365 submissions were received on other rates.

38 provided comments in support, and 15 provided comments in opposition.

244 provided alternative proposals regarding rates, and 79 provided general comments about rates from a neutral perspective.

Officers Response

Submissions in this sub-category were broadly consistent with those summarised in other Rating sub-categories (especially 3.1 Residential Rates, 3.6 City Vacant Differential, and 3.7 Visitor Accommodation): Support for / acceptance of proposed rates increases focused on infrastructure maintenance, climate change response, and to a lesser extent community services; Opposition focused on keeping rates affordable, and to a lesser extent investing in “essentials”, increasing user charges, and cutting community services.

Some suggestions cannot be legally adopted by CCC, such as airport & cruise ship visitor levies, alternative taxes (e.g. poll tax, sales tax, income/company tax), higher rates for car parks & owners of multiple homes, a “flat rate” for all properties (ie. not based on property values), and rating residents in Waimakariri & Selwyn who use CCC services.

Issues that were not raised in other sub-categories were:

- Lobby government to remove GST and to allow rates to be charged on Crown-owned land.

- Establish a new Targeted Rate on contributors to climate change (e.g. petrol stations & car dealers).
- Increase user charges – it’s unfair that only homeowners pay rates when renters also use council services.
- Full-funding of water supply based on volumetric charging (rather than for excess water use only).
- Calculate rates based on Land Value, not Capital Value.
- Establish “special rating areas” to achieve specific outcomes.
- Fund dog parks from dog registration fees, not general rates.

No immediate action recommended, but two issues warrant further consideration for a future Plan:

- Climate change targeted rate: This could be investigated as part of Council’s existing climate response activity. However, it should be noted that any such rate would need to be set to recover climate-related costs from a relevant class of properties – it could not be imposed for example to encourage or enable behavioural change.
- Volumetric water supply: Shifting to a user-pays system would tend to improve the efficiency of water use (especially the fixing of leaks), and so in the medium-long term it is expected to reduce Council’s capex requirements. However, it would arguably impact more on lower income households, and the extent of savings is unclear compared with the current mixed model (which is tax-based with excess consumption charges). A philosophical consideration is required around the nature of water supply – is water supply more like healthcare (tax-funding is preferred) or electricity (user-pays funding is preferred)? It is also noted that the charges are imposed in relation to the cost of the infrastructure and there is no cost levied on the water itself.

For other issues raised:

- Crown-owned land: Crown-owned land is rated in the same way as privately-owned land. Some types of land pay less because they are legally “non-rateable” (such as churches, schools, DHB land, ports, and reserves), but many of these are not government-owned. Such organisations are charged, and do pay, rates of services, ie Waste, Water, etc, but not the general rate. Modelling could be undertaken to identify the quantum but it is noted that any change will require a legislative change to implement and it does not increase the rates collected but does redistribute the rate amount across a wider base so it lowers the amount paid by other ratepayers. This matter is better advanced in the first instance as a national discussion with government.
- GST on Rates: This is often criticised as a “tax on a tax” (because Rates are a form of taxation, not a fee for service), and councils have lobbied government for its removal. Christchurch currently pays more than $100M in GST collected on rates to government.
- Homeowners vs renters: All property owners pay rates, not just homeowners, including landlords and business owners. Residential tenants effectively contribute to their landlords' rates through their rent (although the link is not explicit – data suggests that rental increases are most closely related to household incomes, not council taxes).

- Shift from Capital Value to Land Value: Taxation should consider “ability to pay”. For rates purposes, this is assumed in legislation to be broadly in line with property values (which is why fixed charges cannot exceed 30% of total Rates income). Capital Value represents the owner’s full investment (land value plus improvements), so is most consistent with “ability to pay”. Some submissions propose a shift to Land Value, on the grounds that it would discourage land banking by making Improvements effectively Rates-free. This argument is not considered valid, because Rates are low compared with property value – CCC’s rates equate to roughly 0.5% of the city’s total Capital Value, or roughly 1.0% of the city’s Land Value; such a small tax difference is unlikely to have a material impact owners’ investment decisions. Moreover, a shift from CV to LV will result in large shifts in tax burden between different types of property (Business pays less, Residential pays more, and Rural pays much more) as well as within categories (from apartments to houses, and from commercial to industrial). This shift would almost certainly prompt an adjustment in general rate Differentials – a Productivity Commission report in 2019 showed that the significant majority of councils use CV rather than LV, its use has increased over time, and those using LV apply significantly larger (and more numerous) Differentials. A shift from CV to LV would require considerable modelling to identify options on how it would apply and then extensive consultation on the effect it has in terms of how rates are distributed across all ratepayers.
- “Special rating areas”: Council does use specific targeted rates in some instances, including the current Business Association tax on CBD businesses and the former Health Centre tax on Akaroa properties.
- Dog park funding: Dog registration fees are used to fund animal control, whereas dog parks are managed by Council’s Parks team (using general rates). It would be relatively straightforward to fund part of the Parks activity with higher dog registrations, albeit with some administrative burden to identify and account for the relevant costs. Any such change should be based on a philosophical decision about user pays, as the amounts involved are too small to have a material impact on Rates.

Support

1116 - Stephan Lloyd

I support the rates postponement change.

1168 - Annie Pattison

I think those changes are good.

1637 - Megan Andrews

This is a good idea.

1638 - Leigh Percasky

Seems reasonable

[Coders note: in reference to proposed changes to how we rate]

1669 - Sandra Ballantyne

Sounds fine

2242 - Martha Baxendell (New Brighton Project)

We agree with these

2267 - Redacted Redacted

No issues with the changes

2287 - Alice Johnson

These changes seem reasonable

2311 - Paul McMahon (Waitai Coastal-Burwood-Linwood Community Board)

The Board supports incorporating the Heritage Targeted Rate into the general rate because it is a fairer method of applying costs across the whole city. The Board would prefer the Active Travel Targeted Rate to be incorporated into the general rate, for the same reason as the Heritage Targeted Rate.

2504 - Sarah van der Burch

I agree with the rates differential plans.

2521 - Stuart Jones

: WE NEED SERVICES!

2530 - Clare Thompson

Important to deal with maintenance & upkeep of services - citizens of the city benefit from wise use of rate moneys ultimately

2591 - Bronwyn Hayward

I welcome the focus on water charges by land area

2699 - Graham Beswick

I don't see any problems with this

[Coder Note: regarding proposed changes to how we rate]

271 - Jim Veitch

No

2751 - Helen Holyoak

They seem reasonable in how they are presented.

2886 - David Fleming

Yes - Conditional that all waste expenditure within Council be identified and eliminated where-ever possible to minimise and reduce rate increases.

>>>

Every rate payer should pay an equal share the of benefits they receive from CCC amenities. Only leveridging residents and business for the cost of these benefit can be considered as unfair

>>>

Stop the cycleways until the Council can afford the expenditure. Focus on essential livelihood priorities.

2890 - Finn McIntyre (University of Canterbury Sustainable Design Society (UC SUSD))

SUSD supports rates increases if it can lead to a more sustainable city as evidence has proven that investments in climate adaption plans and sustainable transition projects will provide a more lucrative long term economy, whilst also moving Christchurch into a more stable future. References: https://nema.gov.au/sites/default/files/inline-files/28605%20NEMA%20Second%20Action%20Plan_V10_A_1.pdf <https://www.voanews.com/a/un-report-investing-in-disaster-risk-reduction-saves-lives-money-/6269328.html>

>>>

SUSD supports supports changes that aim to create a more equitable lifestyle for Christchurch residents, however we have no direct comments on these proposed changes.

2941 - Peter Thelning

I agree with this

[Coder Note: regarding changes to how we rate]

3005 - Grant deVine

my Yes is conditional on the Council being far more responsible with its capital expenditure and staffing levels.

3011 - Annette Marchant

Most of that sounds good.

308 - Ian Oxley

Look at extra funding options. e.g. Tax all who are earning.

>>>

ANYONE earning should be contributing as all make use of the services. Everyone earning pays a government tax. They should also pay a local body tax.

3165 - Adrienne Baxter

[Spending > Our Proposed Spending]

some good ideas here!

[coders note. Question. Do you have any comments on our proposed changes to how we rate?]

3651 - Kate Innes

There are areas that require spending, to improve some major issues and to set us up for the future. It is a false economy to be trying to keep rates as low as possible.

3724 - Terence Sissons

They all seem OK.

3793 - Mark Gerrard (Historic Places Canterbury)

[Grants & Funding > Other Community Grants and Funding]

Targeted Heritage Rate Absorbed into the General Rate

Whilst supportive of this measure, HPC requests the Council use a small fraction of the $2 million savings to fund Heritage Grants so they start in the upcoming 2024/25 financial year

3849 - David Peddie

Looks sensible

3875 - Maureen McCloy

Yes I thought they all made sense.

[Coder Note: regarding proposed changes to how we rate]

3881 - Anne Scott

Agree with the changes proposed.

[Coder Note: regarding proposed changes to how we rate]

3887 - Michael Patterson (Commodore Airport Hotel Ltd)

We do remain grateful for all the council do for us.

3898 - Richard Smith

ALL THIS IS GOOD STUFF

3944 - Lyn Dawson

Supporting the above.

[Coder Note: relating to proposed changes to how we rate]

534 - Russell Hignett

I support the proposed changes.

540 - Ross Allen

I support all these changes.

595 - jeffery Thackwell

Seems like a good idea

[Coder note: in response to our proposed changes to how we rate]

657 - Murray Peacock

Agree all revenue raising areas of the Council need to be canvassed and acted upon , far more emphasis needs to be on user pay

667 - Frans Jeldrick Oorthuys

again, looks ok

[Coder Note: regarding changes to how we rate]

816 - Murray Dickinson

I agree with the proposed changes.

Oppose

1332 - Liam White

Dont do it

1358 - Rob Noster

Your rates invoice your send out is to difficult to read. All we want is what I am paying monthly and what I owe. Forget all the propaganda shit brochures which will save printing costs and set up websites similar to banks so we can look monthly at rates and your propaganda. Save money on mail outs. At least give us the option.

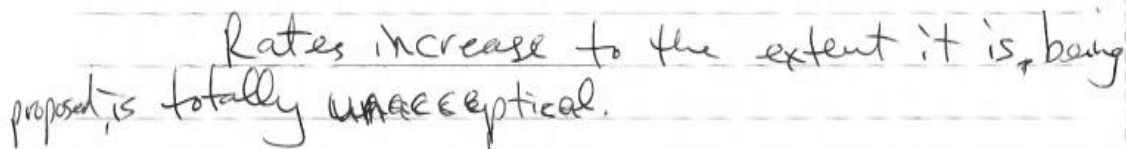

1654 - Jane Ross

No stop being money grabbing and punishing people who are trying to help themselves.

1927 - Donna Gillatt

Don't make any changes. Don't increase rates. Learn to live within our means. Reduce, don't spend. Cut costs through all sectors.

2536 - Jennifer McDonald

Rates increase to the extent it is, being proposed, is totally unacceptable.

2537 - Suzanne Montocchio

As said prior. Look at your internal spending first.

2552 - Katie Coluccio

Comments: All the new housing/subdivisions must or will be contributing to rates so why the huge increase when we pensioners are feeling the 'squeeze'??

2771 - Suzanne Antill

No changes should be made.

3353 - Janna Gresham

short sighted and aimed at making money out of other peoples hard work. I feel embarrassed by the money generating tactics that are proposed

[Coder Note: regarding the proposed changes to how we rate]

340 - David Wilkinson

Yes, too much dependence on property owners. Totally unfair they way property services like water, sewerage and rubbish collection are scaled up by CV, something many councils don't do in NZ. So you need to reduce the differential in rates paid dependent on the RV, but be allowed to collect revenue elsewhere such as sales tax. Fees and Charges for services should reflect true cost and not be subsidized by rates collection.

3668 - Gavin Hardie

The Rates should be no more than the Current Inflation Rate.

3948 - Stefanie Innes

You rate poorly and I'm so disappointed. I voted to have you in and I choose wrongly.

4035 - Simon Ashby

Poor

433 - Derek Phelps

I find it hard to understand how a single older person has to wait 10 months to be able to apply for a rates reduction

497 - Anna Taylor

No. There is zero chance wages will increase by 50% over the next 10 years. Data shows that wage increases are significantly lower over a 10 year period. The city population growth should cover the increase in revenue needed, not a 50% increase. It's simple not manageable for most

>>>

A Data shows average wage increases are 2-4%. This he'll of increase is not sustainable. The council is a huge body and can, and should, work on its procurement strategies and negotiations to keep cosy increases to a minimum

Other

100 - Anthea Fraser

Fairer to be per capita or at least per adult resident than per household. It shouldn't be based on the somewhat random RVs.

1033 - Amelia Wright

I just want to see help given to those that really need it I would much rather give money to Orana park and support them than ratepayers paying for the cathedral rebuild

1071 - Brian Donovan

I believe the rates system needs a revamp. Too many people stung by excessive late penalty payments where payment is difficult in a challenging economy.

1102 - Robyn Warburton

[Spending>Our Proposed Spending]

Investments that could then make profit like venues to hire for community groups. Increase only as last option and staggered over time.

1138 - Seb Scalia

People who work hard and gain assets are taxed out of them at retirement. This is backwards thinking and unfair. There need to be protections for those retiring and or unable to earn. Loss upon loss is not ethical.

1144 - Lisa Renton

Residential units being used for business purposes should be rated as business use,

1174 - Wendy Morton

[Strategic Direction>Have we got the balance right?]

No. Christchurch has an increasing aging population who cannot afford to pay the sort of increases in the rates to support your proposed expenditure. You need to rethink and cut your cloth to suit your purse on behalf of the ratepayers

1176 - Jamin Thomas

[Spending>Capital Programme (General)]

I am not suggesting we cut services, but would like further exploration on the idea of phasing particular capex projects or pieces of work that can result in the burden of rates being shifted to further 'out-years'. On the hope that interests costs decrease and inflation drops in the next few years, this may be more palatable to the public.

1190 - Callum McGlinchy

Monthly option

1191 - Ava Johnson

Instead, I advocate for higher rate increases to adequately meet the demands for climate resilience.

1216 - Glenn Maguire

Charge a airport tax on all flights this could help.

1229 - Cassandra Albert

[Three Waters > Three Waters (Operations)], [Transport > {Transport (Operations)}, [Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

This question is puzzling. I believe that merely raising the rates to the specified percentages isn't sufficient. Instead, I suggest increasing them even further to adequately meet the demands for climate resilience. In the current Long Term Plan, the Council's water engineers indicate a lack of funding for climate adaptation measures. Meanwhile, transportation engineers emphasize rising costs for car-centric road projects. Additionally, most climate-related initiatives are being postponed for several years, leaving Christchurch vulnerable to potential floods akin to those experienced in Auckland.

>>>

Introduce a "targeted rate" specifically on petrol stations, car parks, and car dealerships. Directly address industries and infrastructure that exacerbate environmental and social concerns. Impose a "business rate" on landlords who exploit housing needs for personal gain. Additionally, consider a "targeted rate" on rental properties, as they rely on Council services to generate income. Without proper regulation, I'm concerned that renters will disproportionately bear the burden of rate hikes, while affluent landlords continue to profit from the housing market.

1303 - Paul Johnston

I believe you have to look at a more balanced method for rates. Something like a citizens tax, where everyone contributes to the facility/amenity that is part of our society, not just a charge on your property based on its value

1322 - Kelly Robertson

There needs to be a regional rates brought in due to the number of Selwyn and Waimakariri residents that use our services, roads and amenities on a daily basis.

>>>

As above, bring in regional rates.

133 - Alan Mears

Need to generate additional Income Charging new Units that are being used as commercial/ hospitality entities increased rates is fair and proportional

1362 - Pablo Rodriguez

I'm worried that a rate increase for landlords will lead to a rent increase for renters. I recommend implementing a "targeted rate" on the petrol stations, car parks, and car dealers. Focus rates on industries and infrastructure contributing to environmental and social issues.

1389 - Emma Mcmurtrie

Increase them, maybe at an incremental rate over time. But increase them. We can afford to!!

140 - Linda Harriswilliams

User pays. Not rate payer pay for everything.

>>>

As a rate payer. We should be able to get voucher for perhaps a free rubbish dump trip. A swim pass. Option to get a bigger green bin without paying hugely for it.

1417 - Richard Coburn

Regarding rates = as someone on a fixed income my rates bill has been increasing above my income for a long, long time. i.e. Rates are becoming a larger drain & proportion of my expenditure. Is there some way of finding other funding sources than rates & ^{improving} reducing this ongoing situation. It's not so bad for people on higher incomes such as the 50% more wealthy but not so good for those less wealthy. Anyway good luck.

1464 - Jeffrey Packard

Focus rates on industries and infrastructure contributing to environmental and social issues.

1471 - Dr Satinder Dhaliwal

3. Rather than an increase in the rates, The Council should propose to levy a charge for the use of domestic water supply.

1474 - Céira Dernhagen

This is a confusing question. I think that the rate should not just be increased to the percentages provided. I think that the rates should increase higher to properly address climate resilience needs. In this Long Term Plan, Council's water engineers are saying that none of their climate adaptation got money. The transport engineers said that roads for cars are getting more expensive. And most climate work is getting pushed out for years and years, while Ōtautahi gets closer to having its own Auckland floods.

>>>

[Rates>Residential Rates]; [Rates>Business Rates]

Implement a "targeted rate" on the petrol stations, car parks, and car dealers. Focus rates on industries and infrastructure contributing to environmental and social issues. Charge a "business rate" on landlords, who use the need for housing for their own profit, and do a "targeted rate" on rental properties, because those depend on Council to make money. If not regulated correctly, I fear renters will bear the cost of the rate increases more than wealthy landlords using housing for their own profit.

1475 - Courtney Henderson

[Strategic Direction>Have we got the balance right]

What matters most is that we are in a recession and every household is feeling the pinch. We need to look at ways to reduce rates so people can continue to afford to their expenses.

1487 - Denise Cunniffe

[Spending>Te Kaha]

I object to rate payers being asked to pay for the completion of Te Kaha, when this is a facility many people are not going to use, and, there is no indicator of income from the facility in the future, being used to reduce rates later on. Also, if you do increase rates to pay for this completion over 24 to 2027, are you then going to reduce our rates by the percentage you increased them, or are we stuck with high rates forever more. Where is user pays when it comes to Te Kaha?

15 - Sara Currey

Rate empty land lots sitting there earning $$.

151 - Marg Flyvbjerg

hope you are charging Wilson's to the max. I loathe their presence in our city

1519 - Matthew Williams

The default position should be to REDUCE rates BELOW current levels.

>>>

I have skim read it at best, and yet can see that the ratepayer is still being seen as a bottomless pit of money which simply isn't true. GO back to the drawing board, clean sheet and go how do we reduce the cost to the ratepayer from last year AND improve the real CAPITAL expenditure

1522 - David Alexander

I think unoccupied residential buildings should attract a premium rate. Unoccupied residential buildings are not good for the Christchurch economy. More people means more spending, more activity, and greater use of council amenities. I also think residential properties that are not owner occupied should attract business rates, especially if the registered owner's address is not in Christchurch.

>>>

I think that the council should be looking beyond household rates to maintain current levels of service. Increasing rates on unoccupied housing, and rating rental properties as businesses.

153 - Lindsay Strang

a levy on cruise ship companies which depend on City council expenditure for a n attractive destination for their passengers.

1544 - Daana Watson

[Rates > City Vacant Differential]

I think if land is being under utilised in high exposure areas eg bare land in CBD being used as car parks, then the owners of this land should be charged higher levies.

>>>

[Rates > Visitor Accommodation]

Visitor accomodation (which use facilities that CCC is responsible for providing upgrades and maintenance of eg sewerage, water, roads) should contribute to those costs as they use them when they stay in the city. Venice has just implemented a "day pass" cost to limit the number of tourists so the Venetician residents can go about their daily working lives without the additional wear & tear on their city by that influx of day-trippers.

1585 - Rachel Smith

The council has an obligation of equiety to its ratepayers to provide services that everyone can access like parks and libraries

1589 - Barry Miller

You say more development , more ratepayers implying less rates , but really more people means more pressure on infrastrature.

1612 - Emma Johnson

coders note [how do you feel about the changes to how we rate?]

I support these.

1638 - Leigh Percasky

Some reduction in services/investment may be required. Most ratepayers are struggling financially with no end in sight. I myself cannot afford such a hike in rate payments.

1640 - Veronica Leigh-Ogden

How can u justify putting up the rates when its so obvious u are incompetent to look after the money we ratepayers are expected to give u when u have managed to get chch $2.25 billion in debt. Anywhere else you would be fired for over spending on money you dont have. And now you expect rate payers to reach into their pockets so even more can be spent on crap that most rate payers dont even care about.

>>>

Yes. Lower them by a lot. If u are to incompet to make a budget and stick to it, then take it out of your own pockets instead of rate payers. And hire someone who knows how to spend carefully.

1644 - Abigail Sykes

Rates shouldnt be increased so substantially bromley feels left behind

>>>

if you are maintaining existing levels of service costs shouldnt increase substantially - if costs are increasing so substantially then I expect better service

1646 - Dale McGregor

Charities, in some instances are just tax rorts, and why should schools and churches be exempt from paying rates. There should be an even field for all.

1658 - Justin Fletcher (Predator Free Waimairi Beach)

Initiatives to support indigenous biodiversity and climate adaptation will need to be appropriately funded. In the event that this cannot be achieved by savings in other areas then an additional increase in rates to achieve this may be required. This will be money well spent that will generate substantial returns both financially and in community wellbeing.

1676 - James Boland

Thought I read in the LTP docs the expected rate rise in 24/25 is around 15%. What is this question trying to find out? Rate payers need to pay for services, just want the mix to reflect the community views.

1689 - Josiah Morgan

If it helps fund meaningful climate action and save The Arts Centre, yes.

1699 - Dominic McKeown

>>> [Rates > Visitor Accommodation] [Rates > Visitor Accommodation]. charge some charities a little higher rate as this means that everyone else has to cover any difference.

1709 - Aaron Cumming

Like I said this should have been happening over the previous years and we are here due to incompetence, either through under insuring the infrastructure or lack of a robust upgrade policy.

1715 - Geraldine Schaumkell

I think that subs 180 dollars is to high

1717 - Mark Doyle

Make cuts. Simple if a business is failing they make cuts and drive efficiencies. Live within your means. Trim the fat, drop the vanity projects.

172 - Bronze Templeton

[Strategic Direction > Additional Savings & Efficiencies]

make people pay for services at market rate without any rate payer subsidies

1737 - Tim O'Sullivan

As a general rule increasing rates is not a good idea. All this does is to force low cash flow income home owners into selling out in favour of cheaper options elsewhere in the country. This is not fair to those people who have often been ratepayers all their lives and are now stuck on low incomes.

1756 - Kieran Sweetman

I agree with broadening the rate business.

1771 - Jimmy Hua (Cantebery Court Motel)

We should audit the council works, contractors and spending being effective and worthy before trying to raise more fund from hiking rates.

1778 - Jane Houghton

Central City Business Association - again, why are rate payers paying for this - should be the rates for companies with in the city centre.

1852 - Jessica Lamb

A targeted rate should be used on rental properties so that landlords who have more money & are using the rent money for their own profit, can instead be used to pay the council & fund climate action & climate justice.

1866 - El D'Arrioso

Re-zone office spaces in the CBD to a) get more rate payers on existing building footprints b) reduce cars commuting in c) infuse local economy!

>>>

Do you have any comments on increasing rates?

Raise them by even more, with a focus on the biggest contributors to the climate change crisis we are facing → Why do we have SO MANY car dealerships in our central city? As a foreigner, that is the most bizarre prioritisation of prime land in a CBD.

1876 - Mika Clapson

Increase rates to fund climate change adaptation. Target petrol stations, car parks & car dealerships with higher rates to encourage no cars in the CBD & increase bikes, walking & public transport.

1882 - Anna-Marie Browne

Specifically, the CCC should charge a targeted rate for those who contribute the most to the climate crisis, including petrol stations, car parks (which encourage congestion) and car dealers, a business rate on landlords who profit from the housing shortage, and a targeted rate on rental properties who rely on the council

PAGE 3

1889 - Grace Rotherham

Do you have any comments on increasing rates:

Create a targeted rate on petrol stations,
car parks and car dealers.

Create a business rate on landlords.

1946 - Zachary Reynolds

targeted rates please. more petrol - more petrol

1949 - Tessa Marshall

Do you have any comments on increasing rates:

targeted increased rates for those responsible for emissions.

Petrol stations, cruise ships landlords ~~so~~ should pay a business rate which removes financial pressure from those already struggling

PAGE 3

1956 - Jenny Pringle

FUNDING is the key issue here.

EXEMPTIONS:

Who and which groups are fully or partly exempted from paying rates?

What are the criteria for exemptions?

Is it time to explore and review this criteria?

PAYMENT OPTIONS:

Is it also time to revisit this?

Advance annual payment with a discount – why not?

Deferments or holidays – under what conditions?

There is a monthly payment option, why not a Superannuation fortnightly debit?

What else can be done to help residents?

1977 - Nicholas Lealand

Implement a “targeted rate” on the petrol stations, car parks, and car dealers. Focus rates on industries and infrastructure contributing to environmental and social issues. Charge a “business rate” on landlords, who use the need for housing for their own profit, and do a “targeted rate” on rental properties, because those depend on Council to make money. If not regulated correctly, I fear renters will bear the cost of the rate increases more than wealthy landlords using housing for their own profit.

1978 - Robyn Lavender

Do a targeted rate on petrol stations, car parks & car dealers because they are the ones contributing most to the climate crisis. Charge a business rate on landlords.

PAGE 7

1994 - Eva Wilson

~~If you don't~~ If there is no money put targeted rates on those responsible e.g petrol stations. or business rates on landlords who own multiple properties for profit.

Dates

>>>

Do you have any comments on increasing rates:

As I said above if there is not efficient funding raise rates. particularly targeted or business rates. This will ensure important and necessary services are sustained and can improve.

1998 - Grace Robinson

Moreover, businesses contributing to the climate crisis should face targeted rates to mitigate their impact and promote sustainability.

20 - Ross Williamson

The rate system is lop sided. One house can pay twice what another does but it gets the same services as the house with smaller rates. The current system needs to change to poll tax or similar. All citizens need to be charged equally no matter their post code.

2004 - Olivia Halaifonua

Do you have any comments on increasing rates:

Have targeted rates on businesses and on places which promote road usage eg. petrol stations, roads.

2013 - Rata Harper

Do you have any comments on increasing rates:

The rates should be increased more than suggested, especially changing a targeted rate for places like petrol stations, car parks and car dealers.
A business rate should also be charged on landlords, and there should be a targeted rate on rental properties.

2024 - Janet Reeves

We cannot afford to let our infrastructure and facilities deteriorate as they will need to greater funding requirements in the future

[Coder note: Supports rates increase]

2036 - Nathan Kirkness

My real concern is that I incurred a 53% increase to my rates this year and now I am looking at a further 25% increase. I do not believe this to fair and equitable.

2046 - Nathaniel Herz Sardine

[Strategic Direction>Have we got the balance right?]

Has CCC got the balance between its services and rates right.

More of both please. Use targeted rates to raise money from car parks

[Coder note: more of both rates and services]

2049 - Elsie Andrew

Do you have any comments on increasing rates:

The council should raise rates more than what they're proposing. They should do a targeted rate on petrol stations, car parks and car dealers, as well as a business rate on landlords and a targeted rate on rental properties

2057 - Alicia Moggre

I would rather see a further increase to the standard rates or an increased tourism visitor levy/accommodation charges. [Coder note: As opposed to charging for car parking at parks]

2082 - Bluebell Barr

Do you have any comments on increasing rates:

Do a targeted rate on those who are adding to the crisis.

2086 - Hao Ning Tan

Do you have any comments on increasing rates:

Doing a targeted rate for car parks, petrol stations, and car dealers will ensure those responsible for climate change will help pay.

2108 - Briar Rotherham

With higher rates you can do more climate work. Do a targeted rate on ~~petrol~~ petrol stations, car parks & car dealers.

2109 - Te Aomihia Te Huia

They should manage the money they already have, better. HOWEVER should they raise them, do a targeted rates

2110 - Jennifer McMaster

Those who do not live in the homes they own / those who own multiple houses should pay higher rates.

2116 - Redacted Redacted

Over a 5 year period. People can lock a 5 year payment at a could rate and the council has use of funds.

2177 - Grayson Spirtle

Services could be improved via increases rates.

2183 - Hali Stauffer

Introduce a "targeted rate" on petrol stations, car parks, and car dealers, focusing on industries and infrastructure contributing to environmental and social issues. Additionally, implementing a "business rate" on landlords and a "targeted rate" on rental properties acknowledges their dependence on Council services to generate income. However, there's a concern that without proper regulation, renters may disproportionately shoulder the burden of rate increases compared to wealthy landlords profiting from housing. It's crucial to ensure that these changes are carefully managed to avoid unfairly impacting renters and to maintain equity in our community.

2189 - James Riddoch (Property Council New Zealand)

At a high level, we recommend that Christchurch City Council:

- Commissions an independent report to analyse the rating differential and its economic impact;

>>>

Property Council advocates for all local authorities throughout New Zealand to investigate alternative funding methods. We support the use of transparent, user-pays funding models for local government. Examples of these models include targeted rates, user-pays and special purpose vehicles. These alternative models meet the legislative principles of transparency and objectivity for funding local government set out in both the Local Government Act 2002 and Local Governing (Rating) Act 2002. Our approach is also consistent with the recommendation of the New Zealand Productivity Commission that local government should adopt a more transparent approach to rating tools and other funding sources¹.

2198 - Andrew Smith

Support ways to make sure our rating system is fair and equitable.

2206 - Nikki Rogers (Hospitality NZ)

- 11. Rating differentials for commercial properties are inequitable and the consultation document masks the true increase of rates for business given Christchurch's differential of 2.2. Because they are collected as general rates, businesses are unable to identify where the additional funds raised by differentials are spent, and councils can use differentials to offset residential rates increases. This leads to significant concerns regarding a lack of transparency.

2239 - Amelia Duthie

User pays

2263 - Scott Babington

increasing the rates revenue is important from all sources, including government buildings, churches etc.

228 - Martin Tatchell

Investing and supporting those in need is essential. We must use rate from people who can afford it to provide for the poorer people in our community as this will have the greatest impacted only investing in expensive high end sports venues does not help everyone.

2295 - Katja Charmley

I acknowledge the need for adjustments to the rating system, I urge thorough consideration of the potential impacts on property owners, homeowners engaged in short-term rentals, and charitable organizations. Open dialogue and collaboration with stakeholders will be vital in ensuring that these changes are fair, equitable, and beneficial for the community as a whole.

2301 - Ian Douthwaite

The statutorily-prescribed LTP is largely a charade, in that it purports to present some level of accurate thinking about the future over a ten-year horizon with a further twenty year outlook for infrastructure, and at an incredible level detail (with respect to the capital programme). As always, the current version anticipates a very sharp immediate peak in rates increases followed by a much more gentle future. In recent history the LTP only accurately forecasts rates increases for the year it's adopted, i.e. exactly like the annual plan. Typically subsequent rates increases are higher than promised by the LTP for a couple of years, until the next LTP is produced. (see attached graph). Given that the capital programme is effectively constrained by capacity, and not (significantly) funded by rates, then the most important priority for any plan of any term is to maintain rates increases at a reasonable level through reducing and constraining operational expenditure. Do less.

2308 - Sarah Elicker

I would be supportive of a higher rates increase IF there was more focus on the climate change adaptation, resilience, water safeguarding and active transport.

2313 - William Godsoe

I'm interested that the council is asking about rates after after allocating so much money for a new stadium.

234 - Jocy Kidd

Churches aren't charities and often have more money than most individuals and should pay rates.

2362 - Rosalee Jenkin

Council should look into implementing a Land Value Rating which would mean we get more productive use of central city land.

2385 - Ezra Mussa

[Spending > Our Proposed Spending]

The proposed 13.24% rates rise only increases the average annual rates rise since 2013 to 6.38%; this means that 13.24 is a comparatively low rates increase. Without it, the average annual rates rise since 2013 is 5.42%. Therefore, there should be no question of cutting services to keep rates down. Rates should instead go up. Because CCC offers services essential to the residents of the city, whom CCC has responsibility for, rates should be raised by as much as is necessary to maintain services.

>>>

[Transport > Transport (Operations)]

The Transport Activity Plan and Transport Asset Management Plan of the LTP admit that there is not enough money for road maintenance. This means that rates are not sufficiently high even to maintain the most basic of services that CCC offers, and not rising by enough in the LTP. Therefore, rates should be raised by even more than what is proposed in the current LTP.

2389 - Aurora Garner-Randolph

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

It must levy greater fees for international travel coming into Christchurch Airport to fund further climate action

24 - Kaaren Mathias

I also believe there could be a differential tax for car owners as they disproportionately benefit from roading and car parking compared to those who go by foot. Also open to higher rates to make a more climate resilient city

>>>

We could consider how to tax polluters and those generating landfill waste more heavily

>>>

[Fees & Charges > Carparking]

Yes - increase income generation from inner city car parking and also a road tax for owners of private cars.

2400 - Martin Riley

[Rates>Visitor Accommodation]

Charge more for visitor accommodation, offer discounts to ratepayers.

2401 - Arlee Folkers

I think rating should be based on the services that are provided to households. It shouldn't be based on the value of the property. All media releases talk about the average rate increase which is just that an average, some ratepayers are bearing more of the increase than others.

2481 - Paul Leighton

[Strategic direction > Infrastructure Strategy]

Raise rates more and fund more infrastructure.

2491 - Heidi Warren

We are a poor nation living in very excessively expensive times. Council needs to look at creating income that is not through rates.

2508 - Oliver Hutchison

I also support investigation of a Land Value Rating system, in time for a plebiscite alongside the next local body elections. The city centre should be for people not cars.

>>>

I would support targeted rates increases for significant waste producers and those companies who bring the product that ends up as waste into the city.

2522 - Rosa Hughes-Currie

No, rates need to increase so that services can remain and we can plan for climate change. Reducing rates doesn't help us with cost of living - rates go towards important protective factors against hardship like council housing and affordable public transport.

[Coder not: are there any areas you feel we should be reviewing the services for?]

>>>

We need services. We pay rates to support vulnerable members of our community and for collective good. I'm happy to pay more rates which go into climate protection and maintaining infrastructure like council housing and public transport.

>>>

[Strategic Direction>Have we got the balance right?]

Higher rates increases that enabled funding arts, culture and libraries would be fine.

2524 - Ruth Falconer

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Staff Matters]; [Transport>Roads (Capital)]

Comments: But do it more efficiently, not digging up roads multiple times. Too many consultants & shovel leasers.
Do infrastructure right the first time & do it well.

2529 - Bernard Newman

My theme is the LTP must be one that is cost neutral with respect to rates

2536 - Jennifer McDonald

Comments: All the new housing/subdivisions must or will be contributing to rates so why the huge increase when we pensioners are feeling the 'squeeze'??

2559 - Michael Campbell

I think it would be worth exploring the implementation of Land Value Rating, potentially alongside the local body elections in 2025 through a referendum. This approach aims to encourage more efficient use of valuable city centre land, prioritising spaces for people rather than car-related businesses, storage and empty lots. [Other/Special Interest Topics > Other] [Rates > City Vacant Differential] [Rates > Visitor Accommodation]

2586 - Leeann Watson \(Business Canterbury\)

If this proposal is to proceed, Business Canterbury would like to see an appropriate quid pro quo from the Council. Currently, businesses who would otherwise be required to pay the differential are eligible for a remission only if where "Council's actions or inactions have caused a delay in processing a building or resource consent relating to that land" and further, that the "rates remit is at the Council's discretion".

There is an opportunity to be more proactive here, balancing the interests of the Council in limiting the costs of service to land which if developed would earn significantly higher valuebased rates. Instead of only providing a rates remission where the Council has caused a delay, and giving that remission at its discretion, the Council should be incentivising the development of that land by:

- Offering an immediate hold on future differential payments once a consent to develop/improve has been received by the Council.
- Application of the current year's differential payments to credit/offset consenting fees.
- There would still be a requirement to keep the site in an 'improved and maintained state' during this process.

2595 - Nicola Hely

Yes. I would like to recommend that a Land Value Rating be put in place, resulting in a city that is centred around people rather than cars and where they are stored. >>> Carparks must be banned from being able to pay lower rates. All of these actions will result in land being used more productively, a more liveable city, and fewer incentives for people to drive.

2599 - Susan Miller

Rates postponements should only be allowed where proof of financial hardship is proved and not age related.

2610 - Keith Harris (Akaroa District Promotions (ADP))

Special rating areas could be used to achieve specific outcomes

2619 - Laura Cosgrove

I think some of these are a good idea as it allows those earning from the home to pay more

2624 - Colin Ong

The above should have been done a long time ago. Why are these cases exempt from paying their fair share? After all, they are enjoying the services provided by Council.

2633 - Steve Potter

Whilst a rates increase is always likely, where is the transparent information on other streams of sourcing the funding? The public only ever hear that there will be an increase, not the information on how other areas have been investigated or explored

2664 - Peter Galbraith

Any change in rates must account for continued investment in public and active transport, climate mitigation projects, and climate adaptation projects. These are simply non-negotiable for future generations.

>>>

Recommend investigating the implementation of Land Value Rating ready for a potential referendum alongside local body elections in 2025. This ensures that we get more productive use of our valuable city centre land, enabling a city for people, not car yards and car storage.

2672 - Ian Flatley

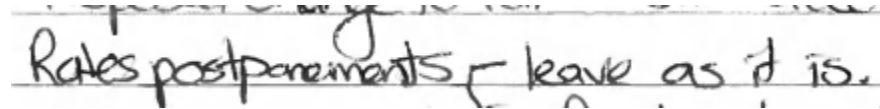

Look to Florida, USA where no local taxes apply for locals as levies are placed on visitors.

268 - Kathryn McNeil

[Rates - Visitor Accommodation]

Charge more for vacant properties to encourage their development. Rating visitor accommodation in residential units sounds good but would it be economical, or expensive to administer?

2690 - Robbie Dobbie

Rates postponements - leave as it is.

2701 - Blair Smith

I'd like to suggest Council investigate a Land Value Rating and bring it to a referendum alongside local body elections in 2025. This ensures that we get more productive use of our valuable city centre land, enabling a city for people, not car yards and car storage.

2711 - Denise George

No as long as any changes are well considered and put out for public comments.

[Coder Note: regarding comments on proposed changes to how we rate]

2763 - Karl Dean (Federated Farmers of New Zealand)

2.1.3 that CCC actively promotes the rates rebates scheme and actively encourages ratepayers to apply;

>>>

3.7 Recommendation: that CCC actively promotes the rates rebates scheme and actively encourages ratepayers to apply.

[Full attachment available]

2768 - Suzanne Wallace

Make inclusionary zoning pay by LTP projects not just rates!

2811 - Nikora Nitro

need better options reducing models explored would be great to see

2830 - Fiona Bennetts

- I recommend that Council continues to investigate the implementation of Land Value Rating ready for a potential referendum alongside local body elections in 2025. This ensures that we get more productive use of our valuable city centre land, enabling a city for people, not car yards and car storage.

2832 - Riley Neupauer (University of Canterbury Green Party)

[Rates > other, Three Waters > Stormwater & Land Drainage, Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design & Urban regeneration > Coastal Hazards Adaptation & Adaptation planning, Strategic Direction > Climate Change]

It is somewhat understandable that the Council would consider trying to slow the rise of rates. However, this clearly must come at the cost of investment in crucial infrastructure and services, making it a tradeoff that is in no way justified. Ample funding is necessary to maintain the performance of our facilities, and Christchurch is already heavily strained as it continually struggles to meet development goals. This is not some unfounded speculation: the Council repeatedly acknowledges that this is the case. To quote directly from the Stormwater Activity Plan and Land Drainage Asset Management Plan: "Sea level rise will expose infrastructure in low lying coastal communities, causing damage. The existing sea outfalls will be unable to discharge storm flows increasing the chances of flooding. This can result in water backing up a long way inland so that flooding may also affect communities that are further from the coast. Recent studies have identified that we can already expect higher storm tides than previously thought. Investment in larger capital works such as combined catchment pump stations may be required, seawalls and stop banks constructed... To date, the business has progressed with minimal actions to respond to the declared Climate Change Emergency." This is an alarming trend across Christchurch. The Council has continued to dole out meagre amounts of funding to indispensable utility services like water management, which are buckling under the weight of their ongoing projects. Even our roadworks are struggling to stay up to standard. The Transport Asset Management Plan states that "without an appropriate increase in funding, the backlog or gap will increase, putting more pressure on our ability to meet agreed Levels of Service and continuing to impede our efforts to lift the community satisfaction survey results." How are these services expected to reach their objectives in a timely or efficient manner? The UC Greens urge Council to realign its stance on rates, taking a holistic perspective that more appropriately reflects the challenges our city is facing. Christchurch and its infrastructure cannot adequately progress to meet the needs of its citizens with the current pace of spending. Is the pretence of low rates worth maintaining when it so clearly will directly inhibit the well-being of our communities?

>>>

[Strategic Direction > Climate Change]

We encourage Council to introduce targeted rates for emission-heavy businesses like petrol stations, car dealerships, and commercial parking garages. This will incentivise more eco-friendly methods of transportation while accordingly penalising some of the most significant contributors to climate change. Council alone cannot bear the cost of the climate crisis, and shifting partial responsibility to industry actors will help alleviate some of the financial burden associated with the necessary emissions-related concessions.

>>>

Rates only affect about two-thirds of Christchurch residents - those who are lucky enough to have home ownership - but Council services impact everyone. Several aspects of the city's infrastructure are already lagging behind, from transport accessibility to water management and environmental protections. To further limit the support for these vital utilities would greatly impede Christchurch's ability to care for its population. Rates are essentially a transaction between homeowners and the Council, and the way to make this exchange more equitable is not by reducing an already stretched budget, but by improving the quality of service that is provided. Residents may pay slightly higher rates, but they will ultimately be benefitting from the enhanced infrastructure that Council will then be able to deliver on. This is also economically favourable for the Council: expeditiously investing in resources such as roads, water supplies, and climate resilience means that these facilities will maintain higher conditions for a longer period, therefore requiring less funding for future repairs and developments. Such spending is inevitable, and it would be wise to do so while there's still a choice to be made.

>>>

In addition to putting greater policy emphasis on buses and cycles, Council should also consider imposing a targeted rate on emission-heavy businesses like petrol stations, car dealerships, and commercial parking garages. This will incentivise more eco-friendly methods of transportation while accordingly penalising some of the most significant contributors to climate change.

2855 - Kat Forrester

More money needs to be coming from other council areas, Waimak and Selwyn namely, who house a large population of "greater chch" but don't provide any rates money for any of the services they use and enjoy.

2861 - Laila Jansone

I propose that Council reduces services, review staff performance to address rate payers money wasted without accountability, sell assets to balance the budget. There is no more money left in the households to give. Please consider Economic reality we live in.

2864 - Darin Cusack

The new rating system is confusing and unclear, no consistency.

2869 - Josiah O'Neill

I think finding other sources of revenue like a visitor rate is a good idea

2887 - Linda Keall

not really

2888 - Alistair Price

Just treat every ratepayer as an equal. It is not Councillors job to treat ratepayers differently.

2898 - Jack Allan

Yes, I think the areas listed above need investigating - we need to move away to some degree from the uniform rating system. More user pay - even road tolling - too many cars with only one occupant - even though I am one of them!!

29 - Hayley Young

Rates should be done on income. Not the value of your house. It's not like I can sell my house every year and get the value out of it, I should pay what I can afford to pay. In this way you would recoup more money as a council as the rich people would be forced to pay more. This is the way it is done in many countries overseas. Income based council taxes. The current system unfailly targets those whose houses have shot up in value but who cannot sell, because where would they live? And why do they suddenly have to pay more for their rates?

2922 - Zak Morrison

Land Value Rating: I strongly recommend that the Council investigates the implementation of Land Value Rating (LVR) with the aim of holding a potential referendum alongside the local body elections in 2025. The adoption of LVR would shift the focus from taxing improvements on land (such as buildings) to taxing the land value itself. This approach encourages the more productive use of valuable city land, fostering development that benefits the community and discourages speculative land banking. By incentivizing development, especially in the city centre, we can create a vibrant urban environment that prioritizes people over car yards and car storage. Implementing LVR could be a transformative policy for Christchurch, promoting denser, more sustainable urban development and making our city a more attractive place to live, work, and invest.

>>>

The proposed changes to the Christchurch City Council's rating system are a step in the right direction towards creating a more equitable, sustainable, and vibrant city. By implementing Land Value Rating, expanding the City Vacant Differential, and appropriately rating visitor accommodation in residential units, we can encourage the productive use of land, support housing availability, and ensure that all property owners contribute their fair share to our community's well-being. I urge the Council to consider these recommendations carefully and to engage with the community in further discussions on these important issues.

2924 - John Gibbs

I believe that you can, like most businesses (who always face financial challenges!) , find ways to deliver more for the same or less. So , actually I dont think that the way you present the situation is correct.

>>>

It is good to be constantly reassessing and updating how you charge.

2947 - Katia De Lu

3. Introduce a targeted climate rate. I suggest that CCC implement a targeted climate rate to address the growing costs of climate mitigation and adaptation. Such a rate should be targeted at businesses who benefit from contributing to the climate crisis, including petrol stations, car dealerships, garages, commercial car park facilities, and airports.

2951 - Les McKay

Rates are a necessary evil and it doesn't matter how you levy them as long as the increases are around the national level of inflation.

2989 - Lee Robinson

[Other/Special Interest topics > Asset Sales)

I would have preferred the sensible business approach where you sell down shares of assets in tough times, repay debt and re-invest when you're back in clover.

3039 - Paula Allen

Reduce some of the service levels, cut back on some of the nice to haves

3044 - Tony Smail

No one wants services cut but 13% in a recession is majorly challenging so would a better option be smoothed rate increases and further prioritising set

3046 - Gisela Faber

[Spending>Our Proposed Spending]; [Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration>Strategic Transport]

IF it was investment predominantly for getting cars and trucks out of city boundaries as much as possible ... and not attract them to yet another stadium I might agree.

3088 - Heather Brown

Offer more rates support on a needs basis.

>>>

I agree with the paragraph above.

3098 - Craig Bowen (Halswell United AFC)

Rating should reflect user pays - ie churches / charities etc

3099 - Stephen Miller

You need to look closely at where advantage is being taken and not keep on targeting the home owner who is a sitting target and whose only option is to sell up and leave.

311 - Peter Clark

Introduce pensioner concession across the board and at a level that both recognises and respects the decades of paying rates by this group.

3131 - Johannes (Hans) Van Oyen

CCC should be exploiting every possible income stream on a "user pays" basis to keep rates down.

>>>

See comment in section 2. Whilst a certain level of spending is inevitable to keep the city operational and maintain it as a great place to live, this must always be done efficiently.

3174 - Gary Morrison

Tinkering with the existing system wont bring in the level of income needed. Combine with other main urban centres and central Government to revise the funding model/systems.

319 - Fay Stickley

Charge companies raping our water for overseas.

321 - Tom Williams

I believe that the rating system needs review. As a single house hold I believe that it is unjust to be paying the same rates as larger higher use households. Potentially we should be investigating proper water rates like Auckland and doing similar for waste and vehicle use.

3235 - Thomas Caspari

Whatever helps to bring rates down, will be fine.

3251 - Jessica McPherson

[Grants & Funding>Orana Park Funding]

Rates can go up as long as you save Orana Park!

3307 - Richard Griffiths

I suggest councilor enumeration should be linked to their ability to control rates increases

3319 - Ryan Moore

Rates have been kept artificially low previously through underinvestment in core infrastructure and deferral of important projects. Rates need to match the investment we need to put into the city which needs to be future-focused otherwise the underinvestment into climate projects will become a major issue down the line.

>>>

I also would recommend looking at implementing a land value tax system so that productive investments of city-centre land are rewarded and unproductive land and banked land such as gravel carparks are punished.

3325 - Adele Geradts

Manage ratepayers' money wisely, delivering quality core services to the whole community and addressing the issues that are important to our residents.

>>>

and increasing rates now (even in these harsh economic times), which will, in the long term, be better for the whole of Christchurch in 10 years. Otherwise, we are just pushing the costs down the road, and things will cost more, and the rates will need to rise even higher in 10 years than the amounts discussed here. Let's be bold, make the hard choice today, and prepare for tomorrow.

3336 - Margaret Lovell-Smith

The Council also needs to find a way to prevent 'land banking', that is houses sitting empty.

3357 - Merav Benaia

I recommend that council investigate the option of implementing a Land Value rate strategy that will include a mechanism for under-development rating. A plot of valuable land that could have been used for high density housing, which makes a city a more vibrant and livable place, should take priority over car storage.

I also encourage council to consider changing the way rates are collected by introducing land value taxes and proactively investigate forms of consultation to see this happen outside of the LTP scope.

3363 - Brodie Marra-Stevenson

Create an LAP to stop unnecessary DLC costs.

3376 - Barry Lee

Rates are a significant contributor to the non trade-able inflation component of the CPI. Having a rates increase of anything over the current inflation rate on fuels a higher CPI prevents the Reserve bank from reducing interest rates (reducing interest rates also impact councils debt servicing).

3378 - SAHIF ALI

Rates are one way of generating cash flow. Feels like its the primary focus. Should look to diversifying. Overall agree with the changes.

338 - Jennifer Riley

Charge people with more than one property, more taxes.

3396 - Lucy King

Try not to rate extra for permanent boarders as this is how families with less pay rent/mortgage.

340 - David Wilkinson

Targeted rate for one offs like Te Kaha is supported. more use should be made

3411 - Marian Krogh (Protect Our Winters NZ)

POW also recommends a Land Value Rating be implemented. This means there is a city based around people, not a city based around land banking, cars, and places to store them. This is something that could be voted on along with the next local elections.

3417 - Jack McConnell

Another suggestion would be a business rate on landlords profiting from housing needs.

3436 - Sara Campbell

Investigate implementing Land Value Rating and consult with the public on implementation.

347 - Catherine Webber

The only way you should be calculating rates is on the square meterage of the property, not the capital value! The CV means nothing to someone like me who has a house to live in, not as an investment for the future but simply a roof over my head which CCC is fast making unaffordable. YOU ARE CREATING HOMELESSNESS!!!

3497 - Cerys Fletcher

I recommend that Christchurch City Council investigates the implementation of Land Value Rating ready for a potential referendum alongside local body elections in 2025. This could ensure that our valuable city centre land is put to good use, encouraging the development of a central city built for people, rather than one which prioritises car yards and car storage.

3542 - Beatrix Gilling

Yes I think the council should investigate a land value tax, which would improve the productivity of how people use land within the city, especially in the city center.

>>>

Council should look into land value tax.

3550 - Sam Hewitt

I think it should be investigated whether some amount of rates payments could be put on hold until the sale of a property, especially for those on lower incomes.

>>>

[Other/Special Interest Topics > CCHL Matters]

I think this would overall be a positive change as car storage and ownership should not be as heavily subsidized by the council as it is. However, I think if this is to happen then privately owned parking such as Wilson Parking should also be acquired by Christchurch City Holdings Limited. The external cost of car ownership for the people of Christchurch goes largely uncounted, so at least the money should not go offshore. Land bankers and those underutilizing land across the entire city should be heavily taxed.

3558 - Patrick Kennedy

[Rates > City Vacant Differential]

I would prefer to see the council investigate calculating rates based on land values alone. This would have a similar effect to the CVD, and ensure the maximum productivity of our most valuable land especially around the urban core. Failing that, I am in favour of the increase to the CVD, with the following caveats: - it should be expanded to cover the entire city to discourage land-banking. - ban gravel pit car parks from remission - increase CVD even higher than 4.523 Fully agree with the proposed changes to visitor accommodation as a business.

>>>

A fundamental restructure of how rates are collected should also be seriously considered. Land value taxes have been successfully implemented overseas. This would streamline the rates system - eliminating the need for targeted CVDs and other workarounds,

3564 - Allan Grant

Rates need to be base lined. i.e. Have everyone pay initially for the actual services provided. A debate around the margins could then be held. The current model is out of date, fundamentally flawed, and actually broken, in my view, as we are at peaks rates now. The intensive housing redevelopment of older suburbs closer to the city centre has led to disproportionate rises in property values affecting many long term owners while at the same time, council has received a substantial benefit from this housing intensification - commonly single dwelling sites are now occupied by several units,

3613 - Catherine McLeavy

Start charging water rates and take it out of rates.

>>>

Bring in user charges eg water rates. Far too many people waste water and take no responsibility.

3614 - Lin Roberts

- I recommend investigating Land Value Taxes, to ensure we get more productive use of our valuable city centre land. The centre of a city should be for people, not car yards and car storage.

3616 - Mark Webster

They lack clarity and transparency.

3618 - Chrys Horn

I'd like to hear more about the idea of Land Value Rating. It would be good to see the council put this out for consultation. In particular it should help us get better use of valuable city centre land so that we have a city that revolves around people rather than the needs of cars. Currently a huge proportion of public space in the City prioritises the needs of the most inefficient form of mass transport – private motorcars. I note this space is used for mass car parking and congestion that there is and that we will never build our way out of (private motor cars).

3621 - Morgane Honore

I recommend exploring the implementation of Land Value Rating, potentially alongside a referendum during the local body elections in 2025. This approach encourages the productive use of valuable city centre land, promoting a city that prioritizes people over car yards and car storage.

3622 - Jono de Wit

I request that Land Value Rating is investigated and progressed further to help ensure that valuable land is used appropriately.

3624 - Noeline Marsh

[Transport>Carparking (Capital)]

I don't know because I don't know if there are other things the council could do to raise revenue without raising rates. Could all the Wilsons parking lots be turned back into Council revenue parking lots instead of Wilsons taking the profits off overseas, and leaving us parking in muddy pot holey expensive parking lots.

3631 - Charlotte Sparrow

[Rates>Uniform Annual General Charge]

The rating structure should be much flatter and reflect a more user-pays basis. Increase the universal significantly.

>>>

Rates are already way too high and significantly better financial management is required.

3636 - Kay Robertson

In addition to the CVD, I'd prefer a Land Tax instead of our current ratings based on land and improvements.

3637 - Sam Davidson

A targeted rate for businesses contributing significantly to the climate crisis, such as petrol stations and airports, should also be considered to ensure those who contribute most to the problem are also contributing to the solutions.

3658 - Tom Logan

1. CCC should commit to implementing MDRS in full by 2025, in order to maintain a growing ratings base. As rates are based on the number of "rating units" in the city this would spread costs more equitably. 2. Recommend investigating the implementation of Land Value Rating ready for a potential referendum alongside local body elections in 2025. This ensures that we get more productive use of our valuable city centre land, enabling a city for people, not car yards and car storage.

3663 - Connor McIver

This expenditure directly impacts the liveability of Christchurch. Underspending in this area seems likely to risk slowing population growth (or even decline), which would only result in continued higher costs and less amenity.

3680 - Bridgit Anderson

I think the council needs to be seen to be providing value for money to the residential rate payers of Christchurch, so yes I do think everything should be on the table for review. As a rate payer, I do question not so much what you are doing but how efficient your delivery is and how much wastage there is.

3683 - Max Sullivan

For people who own multiple homes, the rates on these homes should be dramatically increased, and a capital gains tax should be introduced to help with the inflated housing market and allow the government to get more money from wealthy people selling off 2nd, 3rd etc homes.

3690 - Jono de Wit (Greater Ōtautahi)

We recommend that Council continues to investigate the implementation of Land Value Rating ready for a potential referendum alongside local body elections in 2025. This ensures that we get more productive use of our valuable city centre land, enabling a city for people, not car yards and car storage.

3695 - Pamela Pye

Support proposed changes provided that criteria for assessing rates postponements for over 65s are relatively flexible (eg, become less stringent with increasing age)

3716 - Phillipa O'Loughlin

This is all just going to be on-charged to tenants and visitors, and impact charities unfairly.

3721 - Benn Dickie

And I think rates should likely be higher for those who can afford it. I.e. me.

>>>

Land deemed non-rateable due to religious services provided to be reviewed.

Increase rates on unimproved (non-conservation) land in the central city.

Increase rates more in wealthier suburbs that can afford it.

3724 - Terence Sissons

Although it's not on the council's agenda I do suggest that the wealth tax approach to rating on capital value is unsustainable.

3725 - Richard Smith

Any change in rates must account for continued investment in public and active transport, climate mitigation projects, and climate adaptation projects. These are simply non-negotiable for future generations.

I would like the Council continues to investigate the implementation of Land Value Rating ready for a potential referendum alongside local body elections in 2025. This ensures that we get more productive use of our valuable city centre land, enabling a city for people, not car yards and car storage.

3727 - Carl Fox

I am not convinced that a percentage of CV is entirely equitable from a user pays perspective but assume the need to be seen to have the more wealthy subsidize the less wealthy is required. This subsidization might be okay for a base rate, but certain services should not be subsidized this way such as water usage or rubbish collection which in my opinion would more fairly be based on usage with not subsidization or rebate otherwise poor behaviour will continue to be encouraged.

3758 - Mads Churchhouse

Because of the cost of climate adaptation, there should be targeted rate for businesses which benefit from contributing to the climate crisis. These include petrol stations, car dealerships, garages, commercial car park facilities, and airports.

3759 - Ben Connolly

I'd like to see more choices for those in hardship, especially single parent homes or those facing increased cost of living issues

3766 - Christina Hartung

Rates should be based on energy-efficiency of housing to encourage up-front investment in energy-efficient design and materials with long-term rate savings perspectives.

3779 - Layling Stanbury

tax the rich

3780 - Jack Halliday

Yes. Staff should continue to investigate Land Value Rating, recommending implementation before local body elections in 2025, should a referendum be required. This would have massive positive effects across the city. Discouraging unproductive uses of land and maybe even reducing rates for those who need it. The effects of unproductive land use on our city are obvious; land value rating is widely used, even in Christchurch previously and has proved to be effective. Perhaps this can be trialed in the South-East City Neighbourhood through its associated plan. Before Land Value Rating is implemented,

3802 - Matthew Baird

I encourage the council to consider land value taxes, we have a lot of land use in the city centre that is arguable unproductive. The city should be for people, not an abundance of car yards and car parking.

>>>

Given that climate adaptation and mitigation costs are just going to increase with time, we should investigate instigating a targeted rate for businesses that benefit while contributing to the climate crisis. Some examples include petrol stations, car dealerships, commercial car park facilities, and airports.

383 - Louise Woolley

Start charging rates on certain properties that aren't paying at the moment, eg university land

3831 - Rick Jones

Investigate a fairer way to rate properties rather than a perceived value of a property approach.

3835 - Hiren Patel

Wilson's Car parks should be charged additional rates to encourage less cars in the city + additional revenue for the council.

3846 - Rebecca Finch

Rates should take into account the wealth of a person, if you are owning a property of which is of high value then you should pay more rates. The CCC could instill a type of wealth tax on wealthy property owners, but only the house they live in. Additionally, tourists into our area could pay a levy to visit us, say $100 flat fee or similar.

>>>

Yes, I think a way to charge business rates should be devised so rates on property which house business seeking to make a profit should pay more. Rates could reflect the wealth of an area so people with homes in Fendalton for eg: pay a higher percentage of rates than people in Addington ;

3852 - Chris Coey

Central government should be paying its share on properties owned by them e.g. schools. All land owners should be contributing a fair share towards the budget (should be a review of all owners currently being exempt or paying less than their fair share).

3853 - Geoff Curtis

I'd like to recommend: - A Land Value Rating be implemented. This will mean a city focused on people, not a city focused on cars, and their storage.

3854 - Michael Laurensen

[Other/Special Interest Topics>Governance]

It isn't simply a choice between more rates or cuts to services. Councils unwillingness to consider capital tied up in infrastructure and without asking ratepayers what they want is undemocratic

3856 - Portia Bishop

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design & Urban Regeneration > City Planning]

- Implement MDRS by 2025 for more equitable distribution of rates - Investigate the implementation of land value rating to help generate improvements to our city centre.

3861 - Alex Robinson

It could be more progressive.

3868 - Don Gould

Yes, more fixed costs and less capital focus.

3898 - Richard Smith

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Governance]

NEED TO TAKE POLITICAL AGENDA OUT OF RATES INCREASES - HAVE BEEN TOO LOW FOR TOO LONG TO TRY & WIN VOTES

3899 - Harrison McEvoy

[Spending > Te Kaha]

Rates should be set based on the requirements of investment not on political whims. Screwing with finances now screws us all over in the end. Council's failure to adequately fund its LTP in the initial years to overcome the burden of Te Kaha's construction will likely end up either requiring significant rate increases in future to make up the slack or taking on debt to cover operational expenditure. It is not just about maintaining services it is about investing and improving.

>>>

the Council should also legitimately consider structural changes to the ways rates are collected in this city (e.g. land value taxes), and to investigate proactive forms of consultation to see this happen outside of the LTP scope.

>>>

[Strategic Direction > Community Outcomes and strategic priorities]

Invest. Without Investment there is no future. If it means a 20% rates increase then do it. There is no future without investment and if you want to keep people in this city it must be a city worth living in. I support the submission of Greater Ōtautahi.

3915 - Redacted Redacted

-Introduce a targeted rate increase for businesses that produce significant emissions including but not limited to petrol stations, car dealerships, garages, commercial car park facilities, and airports.

3917 - Bob Thayer

I understand that Māori land is not rated as is Crown own land. This needs to change.

393 - Kathryn Russell

You need to decrease financial penalties for late payments and ensure multiple opportunities for payment of direct credit not just one.. align to other businesses.

3951 - Steph Walker (Christchurch Arts Audience Development Trust)

[Rates > Other]

Christchurch Arts Audience Development Trust are pleased to see arts, culture, creativity and ngā toi Māori funding streams have a modest increase in the LTP. If we reflect on the key community priorities and outcomes we can see a clear role for our sector yet we do not see any clear increases in resourcing beyond a modest funding increase. Over the next four years, some major creative infrastructure will open to the public and become available for use in the arts, creative and cultural sector; including dance and movement studios at Parakiore, the new theatre soon to be home to TheCourt, and Te Kaha, a venue for the big events, including concerts and festivals. We are concerned that our (largely) under-resourced organisations will not be able to afford to utilise these spaces to drive community engagement in arts culture and heritage without more substantial resources being available - whether that be through more funding for organisations, or substantially subsidised rates available at venues around Ōtautahi.

3966 - Michael Apathy (Climate Liberation Aotearoa)

>>> At any given time, infrastructure is cheaper to build than it will be in the future. This is more true than ever in the climate crisis. Rates must rise by as much as they can to build resilience in this city, because if there is no resilience there is no city. The coast is eroding. Houses are flooding. Infrastructure must be built yesterday, but failing that, today is the next best time.

Therefore, we demand that CCC puts serious investment into measures such as flood protection, green spaces, and emissions reduction. >>>

3968 - Joseph Fullerton (UC Climate Action Club)

- Because of the cost of climate adaptation, there should be targeted rate for businesses which benefit from contributing to the climate crisis. These include petrol stations, car dealerships, garages, commercial car park facilities, and airports.

3976 - Elizabeth Pugh

- Rates rebate scheme for the elderly should be continued. The rebate certainly helps that population to stay in their own homes and enjoy the freedom that it encourages.

3992 - Sue Piesse

[Revenue > Central Govt Grants & Funding]

COMMENTS.

Take the GST off rates, This is a tax on a tax! If not push the Govt to give GST back to the Council.

3996 - David Lough

THE RATING MODEL IS FLAWED - IN ITS CURRENT FORM IT IS A CAPITAL GAINS TAX. I PAY MORE IN RATES THAN I DO IN FOOD. ALL THE ABOVE CHANGES ARE WELCOME PLUS A FLAT RATE FOR EACH RESIDENCE. WE ALL USE THE SAME SERVICES.

4024 - Richard McCaskill

The proposal for a fenced dog park in the area should be budgeted out of dog registration fees, not general rates. [Coder note: Halswell area]

4025 - Robin Wynne-Williams

but why aren't government buildings rated, eg the hospitals, schools, police stations, MSD centres and other government organisations/buildings. Why doesn't ChCh get a portion of the GST that the government get from the new builds in ChCh?

>>>

[Rates > Rating visitor accommodation in a residential unit as a business]

Explore other ways to bring down the proposed rates increases; eg rate all the government buildings, and apply visitor levies to accommodation.

437 - Chrystal Gray

Get it out the rich. I dont know where they think people are going to get the extra money from. People are just not going to own houses or move to Australia

446 - Andrew Peach

Place a levy on speculators in residential property

499 - Michael Sumpter

Push along with Auckland to get access to the GST portion of rates and a share of GST on new builds.

500 - Jan Gregor

I am not able to make sense of who pays for what when it comes to infrastructure and facilities such as wharfs, boat slipways, heritage parks, but I do hope that the metropolitan Christchurch properties are paying their share of those they use in Akaroa harbour. It would be an unfair burden on harbour rate payers to bear these costs alone.

575 - Murray Walls

Everything should stay as it is. Just tax visitors at the border to cover all the costs of the services they use.

620 - Kristen Smith

Perhaps by number of occupants living at the property, that way large multi-generational households are contributing more - as they should be.

621 - Sophie Morton

I think we need to start charging higher rates for Airbnbs and short term rentals in our central city

630 - Kate Cater

I agree with the Mayoral Forum proposing that the government support cities in new ways (GST on rates etc)

652 - Sharon Howells (Sharon Howells School of Dance)

There is plenty of able unemployed people in Ch Ch that should be put on the line of having to contribute a lot more.

655 - Patricia Holden

I think changes are necessary. Is it also possible to increase the rating for the 'dirty'. Sites that are not just vacant but bolts on our landscape

662 - Cameron Taylor

If overseas owners - charge the triple.

665 - Rene Arthur

It will be hard to live here, and sadly I'll probably move overseas to due to the price of living not only in CHCH but in NZ in general. NZ invest funds/lending too much to overseas and beyond 10 yrs. there isn't enough equity to leverage off.

681 - Janet Ainsworth

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

I can't even believe we are going to have this conversation about potential closure. This is an iconic beautiful space that oozes great memories and history, even more so since we lost so many heritage buildings post earthquakes. Meanwhile box like, ugly steel buildings are growing out of the swamps. This should be called The Hearts Centre, the cultural beating centre of the city. I don't mind more rates to keep this building alive, however let's be bold, shouldn't heritage buildings like The arts centre either be exempt from rates altogether or have a lower charge as it attracts people and concerts anyway that bring in revenue. As for insurance , surely after all the post repair the future likely hood of damage is minimal their way LESS risk and less liability the insurers. You could also make a standalone payment opportunity on everyone's rates bill. If there was an option (but not manadatory) I would opt in, same with all the new projects around the city, I wouldn't opt in for sports centres or stadiums not that I'm against sport but if this centre continues to thrive and attract new residents we need a balance for population.

719 - Shane McInroe

I think it's time to put up the late payment fees by $10

757 - Scott McCormick

Government should pay rates and so should Wamakiriri and selwyn that use Christchurch facilities

774 - Frank Webster

Other Western democracies are far less centralised than New Zealand is. Most of the finance is concentrated in Wellington.

786 - Jenny Stuart

[Grants & Funding>Arts Centre Funding]

Please continue to fund the arts centre it is a public space and I love what they have achieved and are offering the public now. Happy for some rates to support it being run by a charitable trust.

795 - Gary Phillips

User pays is how things should work. If you use more you pay more

>>>

[Borrowing & Debt Management>Borrowing & Debt Management]; [Spending>Our Proposed Spending]; [Transport>Cycleways (Capital)]

Also spend within your means and stop borrowing or putting up rates and funding cycleways that aren't wanted at our expense

8 - Justin Yudistira

-implement a progressive rate system where higher value land after say 5 million will have an increased rate -like Australia, implement a payroll tax for companies with a lot of workers

>>>

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design & Urban Regeneration > City Planning]

-immediately densify and upzone the whole city, or at least according to the MDRS, because more people residing in the city will mean more rates, which means rates per capita should go down

>>>

I suggest the Council implement a Land Value Rating system. I am very sad when seeing the city is full of desolate car parks and empty buildings. We have valuable land in the city centre, and we can use them for more things rather than just a set of car parks owned by Wilson. This is to increase the coffers of our city as well. If the council did not agree on Land Value Rating, I suggest to put it to a referendum in 2025.

822 - Gavin Scott-Petersen

[Rates > Business], [Rates > Rates Remissions], [Rates > Visitor Accommodation]

The proposed changes to the city's rating policies, including adjustments to the city vacant differential, reclassifying visitor accommodation in residential units as a business, and revising rates postponement and remissions for charities, merit careful consideration.

It's crucial to assess the broader impact these changes might have on the local economy, particularly on small businesses and the incentive for businesses to invest in our city. Encouraging business growth and investment is vital for the city's economic vitality and job creation. High rates and inflexible rating policies can deter businesses from establishing or expanding their presence in the city.

In particular, reclassifying visitor accommodation in residential units as a business could have significant implications for small operators and could potentially discourage the provision of such accommodations, affecting the local tourism industry.

Moreover, changes to rates postponement and remissions for charities could impact the valuable services these organizations provide to our community, especially in challenging economic times. It's essential that any policy adjustments consider the needs and contributions of such entities to the city's social fabric.

To foster a business-friendly environment and stimulate local economic growth, I propose a more nuanced approach to rate adjustments. This could include implementing graduated rate increases, offering incentives for businesses that contribute significantly to the local economy, and ensuring that policy changes do not disproportionately impact small businesses and charities.

Additionally, providing rate relief or incentives for new businesses could encourage more enterprises to set up shop in our city, leading to increased employment opportunities and economic activity. In conclusion, while I understand the need to adjust rating policies to reflect current economic realities and priorities, it is imperative that these changes are balanced with the need to create a conducive environment for business growth and sustainability.

Thoughtful consideration of the impacts on small businesses, the tourism sector, and charitable organizations will be crucial in ensuring that our city remains a vibrant and attractive place for business investment and community development.

83 - Murray Victor

Buildings of merit deserve special funding treatment!

>>>

Buildings of Architectural merit deserve special funding!!

855 - Anna van Haastrecht

Not on the proposed changes, but I do find the whole rates process a bit unfair; one example is, that I live on my own. My rubbish bins are usually only one third full, yet I pay the full price. Similarly, there is only one person in this house using the library etc.

870 - Lis Stevenson

Why rating in a residential unit as a business when landlords are raking the money in with tax breaks

981 - Stephen Montgomery

There seems to be a disparity between current rate payers paying more when the city's population is increasing. What measures is the council taking to collect rates from all the new people contributing to all the growth in Chch?

982 - Craig Newbury

Your ability to increase rates should be linked to CPI, and no more, to force you to prioritise spending.

990 - Wendy Fergusson

But it should be half rates and half a poll tax. There are single (often older) people living in houses that have had large increases in value (through no fault of their own), they can't afford the rates and are hardly using the council services. A poll tax is fairer as it is every user pays.

Not Stated

1043 - Shafali Verma

Cancel all what you can simply!

1129 - John Clemens

We should be rating overseas visitors through their tour group businesses (which can pass the cost on to individuals in tour groups).

1135 - Callum Wood

[Strategic Direction>Additional Savings & Efficiencies]

as my previous comment; there is ample room to review how contracts are procured ; how assets are sweated to save millions each year with little impact on LOS

1185 - Greg Ritchie

People living in "red zone" or "As Is" properties should be paying the same council rates as if the house was fixed to the market value. People should not be getting discount for not fixing their properties to a proper standard.

1228 - David Squire

[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

Council rates are increasing nationwide - this is not just a Christchurch problem. However, Christchurch is a unique city with a culture that has demonstrated the utmost resilience since the quakes, and enhanced by the way the community has supported one another and taken pride in the redevelopment of the city. The Arts Centre is an important part of this culture, and has been for many years. A lack of financial support from council is devastating to this progress and cannot be unchallenged.

1249 - Sally Michael

please just be kind to people trying to make life work

1273 - Anthony Moore (The Elms Hotel Ltd, T/A Hotel Elms Christchurch)

There must be other ways to fund some of the increased costs in delivering services. Asset diversification is another consideration.

1282 - Kelvin Lynn

The whole rating system in NZ is not fit for purpose and so small changes that you propseporbably make littel difference.

1291 - Christopher Bowen

Tax is good

1294 - Donna Macalpine

if enough now

1323 - Mark Hubbard

Just rate for basic services. Nothing woke.

140 - Linda Harriswilliams

Rate rebate not working. We all know people accepting the hand out when it should not apply. ie. More than one person in dwelling. Under trusts. Homes in other areas.

147 - Colleen Eason

You have valued houses at the top of the market over a time when the market was peaking. My rates went up alot 2 years ago and this hike will impact again.

152 - John Stickley

Has your proposed residential examined the loopholes that will be applied by the more astute amongst us? Has a study on how it has worked overseas for example?

1547 - Graham Allan

if you leave it will just become a slum

1574 - David Cassidy

if it isn't broken then don't fix it

1592 - Richard Catron

What are current charges?

1593 - Rick Houghton

Core infrastructure and facilities. Not vanity projects.

1636 - Sandra Thomson

Don't have a great understanding of it to comment.

1637 - Megan Andrews

There's so much pressure on rates to provide funding and not enough on the council investing in income earning assets.

>>>

I want to say yes, but not at this high %. Rate increases should be kept at low as possible, with money coming from alternative, council owned income producing assets.

1641 - Win Douglas

Rate me to death so I cant afford electricity and food

17 - Sandra Pilet

I haven't read the changes but if it costs money . Stop.

1718 - Kim Jackson

You need to tighten your belts, not ours

1736 - Jeremy Phillips

Core infrastructure needs to be carefully defined- as much of what is considered core is not, and a lot of core infrastructure is missing. Need to find more efficient and effective ways of delivering what is needed as a priority and culling nice to haves.

1764 - Chris Conwest

No comment

1784 - Joanna Chan

If you are considering religious institutions charities, there may be some remissions that could be considered but it depends on the charity and what contribution they have to the community.

179 - Bridgette Smith

I don't know what you are talking about!

1855 - Michael Liu

Keep going

2028 - Karyn Haugh

You taste very poorly to me

2078 - Barry Williamson

Any system has to be fair and equitable as well as transparent. The demographics of Chch residents need to be taken into account in any decisions made.

2111 - Vaughan Wright

No, but just remember individuals and businesses are struggling,

2227 - Megan Officer-Christmas

Have a look at how backwards we are in general.

2237 - Pepita Griffiths

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Weather Tax!". The signature is written in a cursive, somewhat stylized font. A horizontal line is drawn through the middle of the signature, crossing the word "Tax".

2301 - Ian Douthwaite

Making marginal adjustments to how the rate take is distributed is simply rearrangement, not a substitute for reducing expenditure.

2309 - Margaret Austin

Please maintain responsibility for keeping rates within the means of Ratepayers

2350 - Jack Bisset

Yes at minimum. Financial challenges are dwarfed by our climate and other 21st century challenges that are with us now. Climate response requires up front investment which comes with cost saving. So council investment done right can alleviate ratepayer financial pressure.

2354 - Chantelle Chalmers

Just make sure that everything is communicated and transparent with the public.

2363 - Andrea Wong

Don't rob Peter to pay Paul

2434 - Philip Bones

There is too much emphasis placed on levels of rates. Yes, of course nobody wants to pay more than is necessary for rates, but they form a relatively small component of EVERY household's overall expenditure. If we want a viable, attractive, fun-to-live-in city we must all do our bit to fund it.

2442 - Paula Bevilacqua

The changes are not going to alleviate the ongoing increases that the CCC needs to pay now and in the future.

2452 - Philippa J Flood

I am currently paying rates on my property which are significantly higher than its market expectation. The RVs should be closer to market prices.

2464 - Bradley Moorfield

The rates model is regressive, those living in the cheapest housing pay a higher percentage of rates by property value. Rates should be a progressive tax get rid of the fixed portion of rates as a start, consider rates brackets and an untaxed portions of a properties value to shift the burden from those with the least to those with the most.

2523 - Simon Hodgkinson

[Strategic Direction>Financial Strategy]; [Spending>Our Proposed Spending]

The proposed budget over 10 years is $16.8 billion. Proposed savings are $41 million. The fact that this is highlighted as a "win" is embarrassing. Especially when you are proposing a rate increase of double inflation! Overall, it smacks of the entitled attitude of management at CCC. While employers are shedding jobs, and ratepayers are battling to make ends meet, your proposed budget is not supportive of the needs of the community.

>>>

[Strategic Direction>Financial Strategy]; [Spending>Our Proposed Spending]

The proposed budget over 10 years is $16.8 billion. Proposed savings are $41 million. The fact that this is highlighted as a "win" is embarrassing. Especially when you are proposing a rate increase of double inflation! Overall, it smacks of the entitled attitude of management at CCC. While employers are shedding jobs, and ratepayers are battling to make ends meet, your proposed budget is not supportive of the needs of the community.

2554 - Paul Schwalger

Supportive of initiatives that encourage development and prosperity of our communities,

2580 - Michael Neville

Rating on capital value is wrong. Six people in a 600k property use less services than two people in a 900k property, yet the two people pay more rates.

2602 - Dorothy Jordan

Good idea to review how rates are charged, don't know enough about it to comment in detail, but with a review hopefully it can show how savings can be made as well as how to acquire more revenue fairly.

2801 - Kym Bontem

Comments:

We need consistency across the Board.

2957 - Lisa Keen

Rates are already way to high!! You should look at other ways to get revenue than just raising taxes. Think outside the box!

>>>

[Spending > Our proposed spending]

Claiming to prioritise these things but leaving them in such disarray is an oxymoron!! Rates are NOT the only way for councils to raise funds!!

2984 - Claire Martin

Things are expensive

2997 - Simon Trotter

These changes to rate charging are inconsequential, and Council needs to focus on the bigger picture.

3026 - Tony Smail (Canterbury Rugby)

Do you have any comments on our proposed changes to how we rate?

Not really - council is best placed to decide what is the fairest way for all

3115 - Jane McCulla

The council should take one hard look at the state of the nation, everyone is struggling with high bills for food etc. The council will not only bankrupt itself but the average rate payer too.

3155 - Robyn Ratcliff

It is essential to keep central city alive and to emphasize the historical side of Christchurch

3177 - Dan Lucas

I believe delay in spend now only increases the rates increase down the line, we have dated infrastructure and a city that is still being rebuilt, we have made such good traction and it is only going to cost us more in the future if we 'limp' our infrastructure further. Our media has such an influence on the way the public view these points rate payers are often only getting a single view, it is never going to be cheaper than to fix now so we should get on with it

3346 - Lynette Bay

These proposals are not going to alleviate the ongoing increases in medium to long term debt.

[Coder Note: In relation to our proposed changes to how we rate]

3572 - Tania Dirkze

Probably just another way to increase what the council is being paid.

>>>

Please take a long hard look at this budget again and understand that us people that pay the rates are begging you to not go ahead with further rate increases.

3581 - Steven Barbour

But this approach of focusing on rate payers is just pushing the funding can down the road. At some point how councils are funded needs a significant overhaul.

3650 - Leslie McAuley

These proposals are not going to alleviate the ongoing increases to medium to long term debt that all councils throughout NZ, including CCC are struggling to pay the interest on. Making it easier to pay for the debt does not change the fact the some of the projects proposed by the council, does not reduce the debt.

3705 - Glenis Youngman

These proposals are not going to alleviate the continual increases in the medium to long-term debt, debt that the CCC are struggling to pay the interest on.

3748 - Greta Bond (Age Concern Canterbury)

Currently older people can be entitled to rates rebates - we recommend continuing this, and adjusting where necessary the amount of the rebate to ensure those on fixed incomes are not forced to scrimp on other necessities of life (e.g. food, or electricity) in order to pay their increased rates. We also recommend that this option is more widely publicised; we encounter many older people who do not know it is a possibility for them - this impacts those who are less socially connected and otherwise more vulnerable. Those who are living with only the govt super as income are already living precariously, and additional costs of any kind can have a extreme negative impact.

>>>

Making rebates easier to access; ensuring special categories for those on benefits or pensions; greater possibilities for delayed payments, e.g. recouping when a property is sold where the owner is on government super (or even younger people who are temporarily unemployed or unable to work for reasons of ill-health).

378 - Chris Arnold

Would be good to understand this in more detail and how you are looking at this.

3815 - Dianne French

Many people are struggling to pay their rates already, and so many I know will never use the facilities such as the stadium and the convention centre. It is predominantly the hospitality industry which will benefit from these. I think

3844 - My-Linh Dang

Council needs to find a better way to fund its activities rather than simply finding way to charge fees to the people it is meant to serve. Finding different ways to "rate" citizens is another way to increase the cost of living. This is unfair and unethical.

3890 - Michele St George Waugh

[Fees and Charges> Other]

Targetted water rates, once the existing water main teplacements are done.

3893 - Joe Pope

Very low level thinking

4006 - Hana Saemon-Beck

Rates increases contributes to inflation

4037 - Jo Kidd

Current system is OK

417 - Jackie Astall

But there is one thing I would like to ask. Why is it that homeowners are the only people to pay rates. What about all the renters. They all use the council funded services to. And I don't believe it's included in their rent. It should be added on like water usage is,like power is,like internet is. They are getting services to the house and out in the community,therefore they should pay for them on-top of rent,just like mortgage owners do.

>>>

Once again,renters and visitors do not pay for these services.

443 - Keryn Roberts

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?], [Spending > Te Kaha],[Grants & Funding > Arts Centre Funding]

Not at all, I am deeply concerned about the 8% other spend and the fact it seems to be increasing. I also think it is highly important that council removes its running costs out of this 'other' portion and is honest about its allocation. If you are proposing Museums and Galleries can be run on 1% and Libraries on 7% then surely the administration and counsellors can work on ensuring their operations can be run on something in-between AND BE TRANSPARENT about this. I also question your rationale for keeping some larger projects, like the stadium, but not others like the Arts Centre. Personally, I would like the arts centre and not to pay an extra 6% rates (over three years) on building a stadium when we already have good alternative venues available.

>>>

For goodness sake we are in this space due to chronic refusal to adjust rates appropriately. I hate it is a huge amount but inflation was always going to lead us here. Of course in doing so the public will ask for more accountability in spending and perhaps counsellors will need to be more mindful in their decision making.

467 - Anna Scheirlinck

We just need assurance that the additional rate rises are being well managed by efficient systems and good managers in Council, there appear to be some real issues amongst the leadership in Council which only wastes money along the way.

468 - Genevieve Bergin

Rates are extortionate when compared to other NZ cities.

489 - Barry Livermore

[Borrowing & Debt Management > Borrowing & Debt Management]

What gives council the right to commit future ratepayers to a dept that they have no say on.(This is similar to mortgaging the family home and then loosing it in a risky investment. There will be no ability to build future investment if you have already borrowed to the maximum today.Bad economics).

Skewed question. You are saying that the current assets, that we have paid ,for won't be maintained. The whole increase is not just targeted on maintaing the stus quo.

523 - Andrew Eadon-Jones

You haven't mentioned what the "how" is.

[Coder note: In response to the question "Do you have any comments on our proposed changes to how we rate?"]

573 - Rebecca Dean

The services provided by the CCC are world class and so cheap, compared to other places I've lived. Swimming pools for example: these are incredibly cheap and there are so many amazing facilities. Could there be a greater differential between the lowest fee and the highest, so that the people who can afford to pay more, do?

>>>

Please explore ways to get more funding without increasing rates across the board. Increasing the vacant lot differential would be great. A progressive rates system where those who can pay more, pay higher rates, would make so much sense. It is fair to pay for services that we all benefit from, and some people can afford to chip in more so that we can all have nice things!

581 - Paul Amtman

Not sure until I know more.

[Coder Note: regarding comments about our proposed changes to how we rate]

615 - Michael JasonSmith

The Council must explore opportunities to diversify how rates are applied. There are ways to encourage behaviour from property owners that benefits The City and all residents. Opportunities include selective land-value rates, vacant property taxes, and development levies. Selective land-value rates should be applied within the Four Avenues, in town centres, and along principal roads. Selective land-value rates would provide an economic incentive for densification; this densification will to develop the City in ways that will benefit all residents. Vacant property taxes will encourage properties to be placed on the market, providing more affordable accommodation to residents. Finally, developer levies will provide a way for those who immediately benefit from development to contribute to the cost of facilitating the development. I acknowledge that the Council may have to work with Central Government to enable some of these opportunities.

643 - Annemarie Prendeville

If you cant afford it you cant have it...

705 - John Hendrickx

What about iwi land

Revenue

Dividends

General Comments

Five submissions were received on dividends.

Three provided alternative options, and two provided general comments regarding dividends.

Officers Response

Of the submissions, a couple supported not drawing excessive dividends from CCHL, but allowing them to invest for future growth, effectively CCHL's preferred option. One suggested the investments were just nice to haves.

Council has provided its view to CCHL in response to the draft CCHL Statement of Intent for 2024/25 at the Finance and Performance meeting on 17 April.

Other

1190 - Callum McGlinchy

Don't draw excessive dividends from CCH, investment for future growth needed

712 - Liz van Montfort

Consider your investments into the nice to haves.

722 - Sinéad Horgan

Please consider rebalancing the CCHL entities to invest in the future for growth rather than just limit sale of assets and in a short term view suck increased dividends out

Not Stated

354 - Vivienne Allan

The rates are simply too high. Increasing rates because there wasn't enough money coming in from CCHL is a poor excuse. The question should be why wasn't there more money from CCHL? Are the directors being paid and if so, how much? That information, if it is in the plan, is impossible to find.

2448 - Barrie Uren

Bad investment on CCC core assets returning 2% on investment - bloody disgrace

Development Contributions

General Comments

18 submissions were received on development contributions.

One provided a comment in support, 14 provided alternative proposals, and three gave general comments about development contributions.

Officers Response

Of the submissions received for DC's, several felt DC's should be higher, and several felt better targeting was required to high growth infill areas.

Councils Development Contributions policy targets recovering the appropriate proportion of growth project costs that relate to increased demand in the LTP over a period of up to 30 years. Where funding needs to be collected from, and targeted to certain areas, the Policy utilises catchments to achieve this.

It should be noted that projects must be included in the LTP to enable these to be funded by Development Contributions under the policy.

There is currently a development contribution for community infrastructure.

The Council also has a programme proposed for local area plans and neighbourhood plans. These plans are intended to address high growth areas or areas in need of regeneration assistance. Specific projects, such as parks, trees, roading upgrades, etc., will be part of the plans which will in turn attract development contributions.

Support

1516 - Kerrie Young (Kāinga Ora – Homes and Communities)

5. Similarly, Kāinga Ora recognises that the development contributions it has paid, enables the funding and delivery of infrastructure required for growth. Kāinga Ora will continue to work collaboratively with CCC on our planned redevelopment programme and continue to, where possible, co-ordinate our redevelopments with the Council's planned infrastructure renewals and upgrade work programme.

Other

1834 - Judith Penney

All income from development contributions must be retained and used in that specific area of the City. This is the only way to ensure costs paid for local residents are available for that community. These contributions are not available across the city in other areas. A growing suburb relies on this injection of funds to complete the necessary infrastructure.

2055 - Joanne Byrne

People need to pay to live in Chch. Bring back developers fees. They have not reduced property prices. But they will make a significant difference to infrastructure and communities.

>>>

Charge more for development fees

2768 - Suzanne Wallace
at key parks:

Charge extra for greenfield development infrastructure & don't cap the bill for stupid 'public' facilities (tennis courts & golf courses) that are actually private.

2838 - Graham Erikson

>>> Increase development contributions to ensure new sites contribute fully to increased demand on services. [Three Waters > Stormwater & Land Drainage (Capital)]

2852 - Aaron Ghattas

Increase the cost of development of urban spall in the outer fringes and encourage densification so there is more rates are generated per square meter. Noting that the further people live away from the city, the more it cost for councils to provide services. >>> [Rates > Residential Rates]

312 - Shane Binder

Considering the $510M in investments for increased demand over the LTP period, $170M resulting from water and wastewater, this cost should be shifted primarily onto new development as a user-pays model is most equitable. In other words, development contributions need to increase to actually cover the new costs that development levy on ratepayer-funded systems; they are noted at a paltry $261M over the same period but cover so many more impacts than just water/wastewater. Development costs should also be variable based on the required level of investment; i.e., denser or brown-fields development requiring less new network extensions should have lower costs than less dense and greenfields development requiring more infrastructure per-capita.

3430 - Philippa Upton

Also, development contributions need to be adjusted to make sure they provide adequate compensation for additional infrastructural loadings resulting from expected growth.

3582 - Cody Cooper

Development contributions should be ring fenced to that development and surrounding area only. To take development contributions and then say spend them on the stadium is completely contrary to the intent of the charge and tantamount to fraud. Many parts of the city do not even have footpaths, despite paying many tens of thousands in development contributions. This is totally unacceptable and warrants further investigation.

3598 - Kyle Sutherland

Heavily increase development contribution requirements for new greenfield developments.

3735 - Natalie O'Connell

Development Contributions from intensification should be spent in the local area where intensification is happening. More parks the better.

3761 - Fiona Henderson

[Fees and Charges > Other]

but I would like to see a larger proportion of funding coming from development contributions and fees and charges.

3799 - Morgane Honore (Richmond Community Garden Trust)

What we mean by continued support is; >>> Fairer distribution of Developer Contributions back into the communities and projects such as ours that are experiencing rapid infill housing growth.

3867 - Gemma Dioni

fees for developers wanting to build on Greenfield land should be charged more given the amount of infrastructure council then has to take on to maintain.

3944 - Lyn Dawson

Development contributions rather than rates should be used for new footpaths, a fenced dog park in the south west and safer crossings. They should also be used to fund community centres (as they once were) so that people in new suburbs can socialise and meet locally - this is also essential for Civil Defence.

>>>

[Community Facilities > Community Facilities (Operations)]

As well as green spaces we need community centres so people can have inclusive and equitable access to the centres of their neighbourhoods. These used to come from development contributions and should do so again. They are vital for wellbeing, possibly more so than sports grounds for many groups. They are also key resources for Civil Defence as we saw in 2023 in Auckland and Hawkes Bay.

Not Stated

3621 - Morgane Honore

Equitable Distribution of Resources: There is a need for fair distribution of resources, including Developer Contributions, to support communities experiencing rapid growth due to infill housing developments. Ensuring that these contributions are allocated equitably will enable communities to address emerging needs and challenges effectively.

3690 - Jono de Wit (Greater Ōtautahi)

Development contributions should be ring fenced such that they are spent on projects within the local area of the new development. This will prevent them being used for projects in other areas and unrelated to the required infrastructure for those new developments.

4025 - Robin Wynne-Williams

Why isn't the fee associated to new residential builds not kept within the suburb where the rebuild is happening, eg Halswell, to help make up the funding deficit that Halswell has been allocated.

Central Govt Grants & Funding

General Comments

37 submissions were received on central government grants and funding.

1 provided a comment in support of central government grants and funding, 33 provided alternative proposals, and 3 gave general comments.

Officers Response

Of the submissions recognising either the perceived unfairness of current tax revenue allocation between central and local government, or the likely reduction in central government funding, 25% suggested Council needed to reduce its spending to compensate, particularly on projects initiated by the funding (3 mentioned cycleways), and focus on necessities. The other 75% suggested Council needed to push for more funding from Central Government, with several mentioning the Wayne Brown/Auckland initiative of Rates on Crown properties and a return of GST.

Hospitality NZ preferred a national approach to funding tourism costs and would welcome further discussion with Council on a national discussion with Central Government on funding tools.

A submitter pointed out that while Local Government has to use Capital Value as a proxy for wealth, Central Government can tax on income, a better proxy for ability to pay. Yet Central Govt is offering to reduce income tax while ratepayers receive significant rates increases.

The Mayor wrote in support of the Auckland initiatives in March which has been again mentioned in the Press recently. Over $100M is paid to the government in GST on rates received by Council.

The local government sector has engaged with government on alternative funding tools to support this sector, and staff support this sector advocacy continuing.

Support

2838 - Graham Erikson

Pursue Government for a greater share of national tax take to support Local Authorities [Spending > Te Kaha] [Parks > Heritage (Capital)]

Other

110 - Frank Spiewack

there should be more funding from central government

1254 - Nikki Thebault

Get government gst back from council properties rent to use for funding

1302 - Melanie Forsyth

There simply isnt the money to increase rates and keep investing in things that arent funded nationally, by central government.

1556 - Jeffrey Bergman

All Councils need to put much more pressure on Central Govt. More and more costs are being devolved onto councils and hence ratepayers. I know this is easy to say but probably difficult to do but until councils show some unity rates rises will eventually become unsustainable.

1717 - Mark Doyle

Source more funding from Govt.

[Coder Note: regarding parks]

1766 - Jan Edwards

Dont let the Coalition Govt shove more cost on Councils. Say 'No' for God's sake

1956 - Jenny Pringle

CENTRAL GOVERNMENT:

As our Auckland major recently stated, there are many questions here to be explored. The current contributions are unfair.

2121 - Cassie Welch (National Public Health Service (NPHS) Te Waipounamu)

28. As highlighted in He piki tūranga, he piki kōtuku, the future for local government²⁵, we note the overall model of funding local government functions and services is unsustainable, and rates cannot continue to rise indefinitely. We support the development of stronger funding and commissioning relationships between central and local government.

[Coder Note: Full attachment available]

2206 - Nikki Rogers (Hospitality NZ)

Tourism Infrastructure Funding

12. We recognise that tourism and hospitality use and benefit from a wide variety of mixed-use infrastructure. Despite some Government funding, tourism areas are still experiencing a large funding shortfall, primarily for infrastructure heavily relied on by tourists in towns and regions with a small ratepayer base. This has led to councils considering rates rises or bed taxes to fund infrastructure and tourism promotion.
13. We do not support the current ad-hoc way some councils are looking to impose levies and rates (and taxes if they are allowed to). This can significantly increase the cost to visitors in some areas, shift pressures of visitor numbers and infrastructure to neighbouring councils, and carry an impact for particular businesses.
14. Hospitality NZ is supportive of a national discussion with Central Government on new funding tools to support tourism and hospitality. It is clear that a national strategy for tourism value capture and distribution of those funds is needed, allowing a source of funding for local government to use on relevant infrastructure and tourism activities, and avoiding the piecemeal region by region approach. Along with a number of parties, we are working at a national level to address tourism funding, and would welcome further discussion with Council on this point.

2611 - Papataitua Harrington

Central government needs to support three waters.

2693 - Tanya Markman

The government Land Transport GPS 2024 – 2034 has a total budget allocation as follows:

58 % road improvement and maintenance

23 % public transport

9 % safety education

7 % rail

3 % walking and cycle.

It's easy to see where their push and priorities lie. Notwithstanding the fact that council have additional responsibilities with transport still shows where government want the country to head. Council's budget is dramatically higher than government's 3 % for the category walking and cycle. Is there a public mandate for this amount of spend?

2699 - Graham Beswick

I think the government should loan the council the money on a low interest over 10+ years so infrastructure and facilities can be maintained or replaced sooner than later to try and prevent budget over runs

>>>

[Resource Recovery > Resource Recovery (Capital)]

Yes these have to funded I think the funding is right Sometimes I think this should be funded by central government

>>>

In some area's I think Central government should fund through a very low interest loan over a 10 plus years

2761 - Annette and Michael Hamblett

Council should be strongly lobbying the Government to fund them sufficiently to carry out the work their role requires. Most Councils across NZ seem to be struggling with insufficient funds. Hopefully there will be combined lobbying to get a solution such as enabling borrowing levels to be raised to address core infrastructure needs.

2768 - Suzanne Wallace

Also, lobby central govt so you are not spending so much on Env't Court. Revelopes Should pay, not rate payers to settle his stuff.

Capital programme

2791 - David Dockery

Use GST we pay to Council for Rates and other services.

2835 - Emma Rodriguez Dos Santos

Similarly whilst 3 waters is of course vitally important to improve local water infrastructure, this funding should predominately have come from Central Government.

2923 - Amanda Peter

[Spending > Te Kaha]

stupid Te kaha & government pushing costs onto local bodies rather than handling at a government level. Pretty unimpressed but can afford & don't want to see cultural spaces cut, think it is a global problem.

3430 - Philippa Upton

I understand the need to fund the three waters renewals although I suggest the Council lobbies central Government for funding support to carry out requirements needed to meet the new standards.

3479 - Rhys Glenjarman

The council also has a duty to request more substantial funding from national level governments, as it has been reported that the South Island only receives 25% of the nations funding, at it shows in the lack of cultural opportunities such as art, music and other performance opportunities for the community and tourists.

376 - Mattias Wieland

City councils need a share of GST and/or income tax

3837 - Dermot Coffey

[Spending > Our Spending]

As Joe Biden once said: "Don't tell me what you value, show me your budget, and I'll tell you what you value." The LTP gives us the clearest picture of the Council's vision for the next decade. It is unfortunate that central government decisions make harder many of the long-term changes that need to happen within Christchurch as we deal with a growing population, inadequate investment in infrastructure for many years, the inevitable and potentially catastrophic impacts of climate change and a need to reduce our own emissions. This doesn't change the need to make these improvements however. This long-term plan is a step or two in the right direction but needs to go much further in terms of developing a healthy, safe and future-oriented city. If central government is going to maintain a car-first or car-only approach and ignore the impacts on wellbeing and the inevitability of it worsening sprawl and failing to help congestion, it falls upon our local government to actually put people at the centre of their decisions

3876 - Dave Evans

The big issue is that councils are charged with doing too much from a small share of the total tax collected. LGNZ needs to be agitating for a greater share of central government's tax take. Aotearoa is among the most centralised countries in the OECD in terms of how much of our tax money goes to central government compared to local authorities.

3881 - Anne Scott

CCC should work with the government to get a % of GST as a way of providing a more equitable contribution to costs.

3883 - Colin Meurk

yes, but probably all of the envtal items need more. to be funded as i said above - and reengaging now trained people from 'jobs for nature'. we need a south island-wide (councils and mana whenua) coalition to march on central govt and demand our fair share of the billions spent on (public) transport in the north island, and the attempts to move all govt depts to northern north island. we have been subsidising the northern economiies for too long. it is out turn for light and commuter rail in an arc from amberley to ashburton and reinstatement of picton to bluff passenger service. i could go on endlessly about natural envt.

3898 - Richard Smith

NEED TO REVIEW WHAT WE PROPOSE TO DO CONSIDERING THE CHANGE IN CENTRAL GOVERNMENT FUNDING - E.G. CYCLEWAYS WILL LIKELY COST US 100% NOT A SHARE

>>>

NEED TO STOP OR RECONSIDER PROJECTS WHERE CENTRAL GOVERNMENT COST SHARE IS LIKELY TO BE REDUCED OR STOPPED

3957 - Anne Scott (Spokes Canterbury)

CCC should work with the government to allocate a % of GST to local governments as a return on investment in businesses and tourism, and a way of providing a more equitable contribution to costs.

3992 - Sue Piesse

[Rates > Other]

Comments.

Take the GST off rates. This is a tax on a tax! If not push the Govt to give GST back to the Council.

579 - Rosemary Neave

5. Work with LGNZ to Lobby government to pay rates on Government owned property, gst off rates and other gst back initiatives. For too long Government has put increased work onto local government without financial support – eg Fluoride.

580 - Peter Quenault

The government should be contributing to the water infrastructure

712 - Liz van Montfort

The cycleway programme is a good example, it was started on the back of govt funding. That funding is no longer available. Therefore you stop that programme.

757 - Scott McCormick

More gst money and petrol road taxes spent in the city should go to the council start getting money off the government from the taxes we have already paid.

769 - Julie Kidd

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?]

No. Need to take account of reduction in Government funding for planned projects such as cycleways. Funding is being cut for some items/services like the Arts Centre which is not specifically mentioned in the plan but is an important omission.

774 - Frank Webster

Model New Zealand in other OECD countries and reverse this situation. Make far more money centred in Wellington available to the regions.

Not Stated

282 - Michael Heenan

With the cost increases it will be tough for everyone & brings me back to the issue of limited subsidies from the new Government. If these have ceased then CCC needs to adjust & reduce the nive to haves & fofus on the must haves ie concentrate of fixing the roads/footparths & upgrading our water supply.

3868 - Don Gould

I would also like to ask for a cap on asking, requiring me to pay for arguments. For example, the Harewood cycleway project has basically cost me $4.3 million for a massive argument, this has to stop.

I also have concerns about the amount of arguing that is done with Wellington. It's time this council stopped engaging in projects just in an attempt to pull money from Wellington into our civic coUers. The recent project that saw a 'trial' of a 10km zone out side the CBD library that pulled in $1.2m of my tax payers money, also pulled in $200,000 from our rates. This is causing our tax obligations to be larger and it's not actually delivering real value to our community in my view.

Some of you will recall when I first showed up in council making deputations. It was after I was woken night after night by sucker trucks every 2 hours because my sewer system didn't work. While council paid $16,000 dollars a day (yes per day!) the arguments went on with Wellington about who should pay for the work that eventually CCC ended up paying for anyway, after we'd wasted thousands of dollars.

>>>

Members the government has to spend tax money it collects, back into the economy. My feeling generally is that the government has been struggling in Christchurch because the council has it's pours in to many places, so we have ended up with some silly projects. I also call for stronger action to walk away from the table. Some of the government ideas have caused greater rates for projects that we don't really need. South Library, for example, seems to be on the table because it's a vehicle to pulled $20 million into the city. Mean while schools across the region have children in tears that their classrooms are to small for the population. The irony is that the LGA would appear to require CCC to look at these issues from a policy perspective and pull back and require government to spend its funds on its core areas rather than constantly attempting to drive the council to spend in areas that aren't required right at this time.

3908 - Cathy Harlow

Please work with the rest of local government to push back on central government about funding. It's ridiculous for central government to be bribing voters with tax cuts that in reality mean rate payers get hammered with higher rates for (at least) 3 reasons: 1 - perverse incentives: local government Councillors have to try to compete on saving voters money, which generally means campaigning on low rates that lead to under-funding necessary infrastructure. 2 - national issues: central government should be providing funds for national issues like climate adaption. They should be putting in place legislation that provides funding to fund climate adaption (preferably via a polluter pays mechanism). 3 - bad proxies: local government has to use capital value (or land value) as a proxy for wealth. Central government can tax on income, which is a better proxy.

Excess Water Charge

General Comments

56 submissions were received on excess water charges.

8 submissions provided comments in support, and 3 provided comments in opposition.

43 provided alternative proposals regarding excess water charges, and 2 gave general comments.

Officers Response

The excess water use charge is a key component of our efforts to ensure the sustainable use of our water resources and is focused on managing peak summer demand.

To address the concerns previously raised, we made remissions available for repaired leaks, personal medical conditions and very large families.

Since their introduction we've heard a range of feedback from residents. Overall, we've been heartened by the significant reduction in water use we've seen since charges were introduced. Shared connections have also been addressed and recent analysis shows a very small number of those shared connections would receive a bill.

It has long been signalled that this is the reason why we implemented excess water charges. One of the key benefits of successfully reducing water use is reducing capital expenditure in the future.

As just reported, Peak water use has reduced significantly since excess charges were introduced which could see savings in future Capital and Operational expenditure, as well as improving the city's sustainability.

Support

1159 - James Frost

Yes charge for water use

1546 - Robert Fleming

Fully support the excess water charging to help future-proof our water supply infrastructure.

2508 - Oliver Hutchison

I support increasing excess water charges.

2623 - Andrew Cockburn

I support increased >>> increased charges for high water usage.

2830 - Fiona Bennetts

[Fees and Charges > Car Parking (Parks)], [Fees & Charges > Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)]

- I recommend that Council increase the fees for excess water usage. These fees are targeted towards ratepayers who consume a significantly above average amount of water, and any increases would not have an impact on the average ratepayer. This would save about $19M in growth not required. Put additional funding into finding CCC leaks.

2836 - Jillian Frater

I also support increasing fees for excess water usage.

3850 - Stephanie Remington

Who owns the water? We all do and I welcome water charges as it makes people wary of how much they are using.

816 - Murray Dickinson

Increase water charges

Oppose

3697 - Jennie Brittenden

It has become expensive to water, given that multiblock housing does not get charged for water and single dwellings do it is unfair for some to take the cost for others.

3703 - Greg Hay

The water rate is unreasonable. You did not seem to fairly consult the community, and if you now look at Christchurch it has deteriorated significantly since the introduction of this. I thought we were meant to be the "garden city". Given what appears the relatively nominal revenue received in this area you should cancel water rates immediately.

746 - Lara Flavell

Household water is essential for life & good health. It is wrong in every way for people to be charged for water. Again, those struggling financially are the ones who will be negatively affected. Would like to see the council do the right thing & remove this charge

Other

1540 - Isabel Carlyon

Council should charge homeowners for the water they use, to increase revenue from rates.

1734 - Fergus O'Neill

Another idea would be to increase fees for excess water usage. This would help to be more sustainable and any increases would not have an effect on the average rate payer.

2065 - Robin Lake

In my opinion, the decision to increase the daily residential water use allowance from 700L to 900L was unwise. I watched the Council meeting concerning this decision online and was disappointed to see the water use savings and reduced capital spend for new bores achieved by the 700L limit ignored by the Council against staff advice. This decision should be reversed, and the potential savings realised.

2097 - Marie Haley

Remove excess water, make it mandatory for all new builds to install rainwater collection for garden use.

2167 - Terry Frost

We shouldn't be charged for water until the council repairs the leaks...

2559 - Michael Campbell

>>> I recommend that the Council consider raising fees for excessive water usage. These adjustments would target ratepayers with substantially above-average water consumption, ensuring that any increases do not burden the average ratepayer. [Fees & Charges > Car Parking (Parks)] [Fees & Charges > Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)]

2595 - Nicola Hely

I also want to see fees increased for excess water usage, and was very disappointed when they were reduced. Water is a precious resource and those using excessive amounts should pay.

2647 - Penny Carnaby

Have you considered charging for excess water use?

2664 - Peter Galbraith

Increase the fees for excess water usage. These fees are targeted towards ratepayers who consume a significantly above average amount of water, and any increases would not have an impact on the average ratepayer.

2764 - Chris Ford (Disabled Persons Assembly (DPA))

Disabled people, alongside everyone else, depend on water for everyday functioning and for some people in the disabled community, this can extend to the need to use higher than average amounts of water than would be consumed in households with non-disabled people.

DPA is aware that last year (as reported in local media) the mother of a disabled child complained to Council following her household being incorrectly charged an excess water rate despite having a medical exemption due to her son being incontinent and needing to be changed and showered constantly.²

DPA is concerned that given the need for Councils (including Christchurch) to spend more on water infrastructure that greater cost recovery through excess water charging will be one of the ways in which this is undertaken.

DPA is concerned that excess water charging by councils for domestic users will unfairly penalise low-income households which include a disproportionately high number of disabled people and households that have high water usage due to the health or disability of a member of the household.

Recommendation 4: that great care is taken to ensure that excess water charges do not unfairly impact disabled people and low-income households and that medical exemptions continue to be applied for households with disabled people and people with health conditions.

2888 - Alistair Price

I just simply ask every City Councillor to ask themselves is this fair. • A significant number of residents have water meters that have never been read or have had missed a quarterly meter read, and therefore are not charged the excess rate; • Water use in Christchurch is very seasonal and so a missed water meter reading during summer gives that resident an unfair advantage as the CCC cannot fairly apportion excess water for the summer period; and • There has been no improvement on reducing the no reads of water meters. Let's look at the CCC water meter reading performance to date. Redwood Springs. 27% water meters were not read in the last quarter. Upper Riccarton. There are a number of streets in Upper Riccarton that have not been read since January last year according to the CCC water

Reporter. Carbine Place, Cheyenne Street, Gladson Avenue, Gloaming Place to name a few. There are some readings that appear to be special readings. To save money the CCC is requesting that the water meter reads are read to cubic meters only when the water meters can be read to the last litre. That is not fair on residents. This information has been recorded from the CCC Water Reporter. If the information provided on the CCC Water Reporter is inaccurate, how do we know if the information is correct elsewhere. I do have evidence that information provided to me proves that the CCC appears to have records that do not reconcile. This information supplied by the former CEO that does not match CCC water reporter or water invoice received. (Copy available on request to CCC councillors only.) PLEASE BRING IN WATER CHARGING THAT IS FAIR. Fixed charge and a charge for every litre used. Please don't be the only council to charge the way you do. Follow the example of our neighbouring councils. I am pleased to be no longer a direct ratepayer. The cost of the CCC rates were crippling. I have completed this submission in the hope that Councillors will understand that some of their decisions are crippling ratepayers' ability to pay their rates.

2922 - Zak Morrison

Excess Water Usage Fees: Regarding water usage, I propose an increase in the fees for excess water consumption. The current fees are designed to target ratepayers who use water significantly above the average amount. By increasing these fees, we can encourage more responsible water usage and conservation efforts. It is important to note that such an increase would primarily impact high-volume users and is unlikely to affect the average ratepayer. This change would support the Council's efforts in managing the city's water resources sustainably and could contribute to the financial strategy of the Long Term Plan.

2947 - Katia De Lu

3035 - Claire Coveney

A water tax needs careful consideration on the grounds of equity. Wasting water, polluting waterways are ongoing serious challenges so we need the protection of our environment to be considered in the taxes. Costs have been inflating and the projects have taken too long and I think of our future generations needs, basic needs.

3209 - Anouk Minnaar

[Fees & Charges > Car Parking (Parks)], [Rates > Visitor Accommodation]

>> I would like to see an increase of fees for excess water usage. Any increase would not have an impact on the average ratepayer, so these fees are targeted towards ratepayers who consume a significantly above average amount of water.

3319 - Ryan Moore

I believe the excess water usage fee should be significantly increased as this is a way to generate revenue without affecting the average ratepayer.

3357 - Merav Benaia

Fees on excess water usage should increase. The daily allowance of free water is generous. A higher charge for excess usage will not have an impact on the average rate-payer.

3411 - Marian Krogh (Protect Our Winters NZ)

Fees for excess water use should increase.

3436 - Sara Campbell

Increase fees for excess water use.

3542 - Beatrix Gilling

Additionally, the water overuse charges should be increased.

3558 - Patrick Kennedy

I also recommend that the excess water charge be increased. It is currently at a very low level and only targets ratepayers who use considerably more water than average, so will have little impact on the average ratepayer.

3614 - Lin Roberts

- I strongly support charges for excess water use. For equity purposes, it is essential that residents get a basic allocation free, but use beyond that level should be charged for. I have researched the impact of tiered water charges in a number of locations in a number of regions and seen their positive impact in encouraging more sustainable water use practices. For example, when Botswana's capital Gaborone had highly restricted water supplies for around 6 months in 2015, residents' survival was greatly helped by the fact that tiered water use charges had encouraged retention of many thrifty rural water practices*. My family has a large garden, but have so far managed to maintain it without exceeding the high use limit – when building the house, we installed rainwater tanks under the decks, use lots of mulch, and optimise when watering is done to reduce losses. * Kadibadiba, Tshepiso, Lin Roberts, and Ronlyn Duncan. "Living in a city without water: a social practice theory analysis of resource disruption in Gaborone, Botswana." Global environmental change 53 (2018): 273-285.

3618 - Chrys Horn

Another option would be to increase excess water use charges – some that could be gradually increased over the 10 year plan. Even just getting back to charging for an average water use above 700litres per day would be sensible.

3621 - Morgane Honore

I recommend increasing the fees for excess water usage. These fees are targeted towards ratepayers who consume significantly above-average amounts of water, and any increases would not have a substantial impact on the average ratepayer. Encouraging water conservation through higher fees for excessive usage promotes responsible stewardship of our precious water resources and supports our city's sustainability goals.

3622 - Jono de Wit

I request Council increase the fees for excess water usage as they are only targeting those who use water significantly above the average and those people should pay more.

3651 - Kate Innes

Water use charges could be increased.

3658 - Tom Logan

2. Increase the fees for excess water usage. These fees are targeted towards ratepayers who consume a significantly above average amount of water, and any increases would not have an impact on the average ratepayer.

3690 - Jono de Wit (Greater Ōtautahi)

We recommend that Council increase the fees for excess water usage. These fees are targeted towards ratepayers who consume a significantly above average amount of water, and any increases would not have an impact on the average ratepayer.

3725 - Richard Smith

I recommend that Council increase the fees for excess water usage. These fees are targeted towards ratepayers who consume a significantly above average amount of water, and any increases would not have an impact on the average ratepayer.

3764 - Jack Gibbons

I recommend the council lower the amount of water considered excess usage. The current limits are really very high for any normal household.

3780 - Jack Halliday

Excess water fees should be increased OR abolished completely to allow for water charges. Three waters is one of the largest costs to the city, water charges reduce demand, are equitable and make rates rises more tolerable.

3802 - Matthew Baird

Water use: Excessive users of water should be charged more - those that are filling up swimming pools and regularly watering their lawn should pay for their excessive water consumption. That said, it is important not to be regressive: all households should get a reasonable amount included in rates.

3819 - Jessica Halliday

Increase the fees for excess water usage. These fees are targeted towards ratepayers who consume a significantly above average amount of water, and any increases would not have an impact on the average ratepayer.

3856 - Portia Bishop

- Increase the fees for excess water usage.

3862 - Katharine Metherell

Also excess water charges need to be applied to all and the issue of joint water meters be resolved.

3881 - Anne Scott

Strongly support a return to the original water charges which would save around $19M.

3899 - Harrison McEvoy

The charge for excess water usage should also be significantly higher.

3957 - Anne Scott (Spokes Canterbury)

Increase the fees for excess water usage. These fees are targeted towards ratepayers who consume a significantly above average amount of water, and any increases would not have an impact on the average ratepayer. This would save about $19M in growth not required. Put additional funding into finding CCC leaks.

684 - Louise Morrison

Water charges should be across the board for every household. The current excess waste water charges are unfair for large families (but not quite large enough to apply for the water rates remission).

687 - Anna Laurenson

excess water charges are great but need to find some way to make it fair for multi driveway

8 - Justin Yudistira

Also, we should increase the charge for excessive water usage, it is too low right now

843 - Ngaire Donelda Bacon

What has not been mentioned in the long term Plan 2024/2031 is along with a proposed rates increase of 13.21% some Christchurch households are now having to pay for their water if the usage is over the equivalent of 100 toilet flushes a day. This extra cost to these households is based on the value of their house. While many other Christchurch properties do not have to pay this extra cost. Properties such as retirement villages one overall levy for water usage should be payed each time they pay their rates. Everyone should be paying for water or noone.

851 - Kevin Lamb

1. Water Supply

Based on my investigation of the 67 territorial authorities in New Zealand providing water supplies, Christchurch City Council is the only council to charge on a total capital value basis. See Appendix one for the detail.

The Revenue, Financing and Rating Policies states:

“General rates are used to fund those services where we believe there is a public benefit even though it may not be to the whole community. They typically fund those activities where there is no practical method for charging individual users and the benefit is wider than just the specific user.”

Water, sewer and stormwater drainage and flood protection and control works sections state:

“Capital value is considered to be the most equitable basis for targeted water rates (consistent with the approach taken for General Rates). All activity costs not collected through the above targeted rates for non-standard services will therefore be collected using a capital value-based Water Supply Targeted Rate, applied to those properties located within the standard serviced area.”

These services – water, wastewater and stormwater drainage and flood protection and control works are able to be charged by either a Uniform Annual Charge, or for water services, by way of a connected water meter. The water meters are currently being read and the water provided to each property should be charged on a per cubic metre basis. There are many examples in New Zealand where the demand on water services has reduced substantially when water meter charges are introduced.

Appendix two outlines some examples taken randomly across the city.

The examples in Appendix 2 show properties with values ranging between $570,000 and $1,080,000 being charged a difference of $984 for three waters. This is an unacceptable difference for services which should be charged on an equal basis, where the user pays; and not some form of property tax where the property owners' income and outgoings are not known by council.

RECOMMENDATION:

Charge all properties on a metered water charge, from 1 July 2025.

[Coder Note: see full attachment]

Not Stated

452 - Mark Penrice

[Fees and Charges>Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)]

Charge for parking everywhere. Dont charge for water. People need water, they don't need to drive.

533 - Judith Livingstone

Though we don't like water rates they are necessary

Disposal of Council Owned Land

General Comments

1156 submissions were received on the proposal to dispose of council owned land.

670 provided comments in support of the proposed disposal of land, with many noting that their sale for a good return could offset rates increases.

140 provided comments in opposition to the proposal.

248 provided alternative proposals, and 111 provided general comments about the land disposal proposal.

Officer Response

Submitters presented mixed views on the disposal of Council's property. There are general themes either for or against disposal, as well as other matters. Key themes from the general responses include:

For disposal:

- General agreement, with no reasons given;
- if the land is not required, then it should be sold;
- the Council should seek the greatest return from the properties;
- Sell to reduce debt or rates; and
- Consider sale that supports housing policy and initiatives.

Against disposal:

- Disagreement, with no reasons given;
- Retain asset;
- Retain for ecological and open space amenity purposes

Against disposal of specific properties

- 26 Waipara Street – there were a small number of submissions opposed to disposal as they consider the site to be a future access to cashmere Stream from Cracroft
- Mataroa Reserve – there were a small number of submitters who opposed disposal due to general opposition to selling reserves and consideration of ecological values
- 32 Sutherlands Road – there were a small number of submissions who wanted Council to consider use of this land for a dog park or for public open space / rain garden

There were also questions about process:

- several submitters indicated that they could not access information about the property list; and
- Disposal process suggestions (e.g. not to developers, offer to Iwi, market rate, housing providers).

Submitters presented mixed views on the disposal of Council's property. Most submitters supported disposal, with a smaller number oppose, with other views or no clear position.

Council has approved retention criteria, which are used to screen properties no longer being used for their original purpose, before they are recommended for consultation. Where a property has been specifically identified as needed within any plan or strategy, then the property is not put forward for consultation. If there may an alternative use that has not been specifically identified, we look closely at financial plans to see if there is reasonable path towards funding. We've adopted this approach to ensure that:

- there is balanced consideration of outcomes;

- we select properties for consideration based on Council approved criteria consistently applied;
- the public and Community Boards can provide community comment through a formal consultative process; and
- decisions about the future of properties are tied to funding decisions, reducing the possibility of Council holding land without funding.

Having reviewed all submissions there does not seem to be a compelling reason for Council to change its current approach.

26 Waipara Street

There are several submissions in respect of this property they are all very similar “I oppose the sale of 26 Waipara St - it's the only possible future link from Cracroft proper through to a future shared path along the Cashmere Stream.”

The land behind the site is privately owned and zoned Rural Urban Fringe and planning advice is that a rezoning would not be supported. Access to the stream or a walking link is therefore considered extremely unlikely now or in the future. Neighbours have encroached on to 26 Waipara, limiting community use. This encroachment will need to be addressed no matter the future of the site.

Given the site circumstances, there does not seem to be a compelling reason for Council to change its current approach.

Mataroa Reserve

There are several submissions to retain this property. One was concerned that it is connected to Travis Wetlands and is a conduit into Bottle Lake Forest. It's swampy and has water drainage that flows into the wetlands. It is suspected that this submitter is unclear on what property they are submitting on. The balance of submitters are simply opposed to selling reserves.

The property is an undeveloped small pocket park, in an area where there are other developed parks. It does not have any significant ecological values.

Having considered the submissions, there does not seem to be a compelling reason for Council to retain this land.

32 Sutherlands Road

Submitters have suggested that this land could be used as a dogpark or be retained as public open space / a rain garden. This land is the balance of property acquired for the Te Kuru wetland. It has not been opened for public use. It is not required for general public open space or stormwater purposes. Council's Parks Unit have indicated that it is not suitable for a dog park. The adjacent Te Kuru wetland provides for open space and stormwater management needs.

Having considered the submissions, there does not seem to be a compelling reason for Council to retain this land.

Financial Implications

If the Council chose to retain any of these properties, then there would need to be a reduction in capital revenue and in the case of 32 Sutherlands Road, an increase in maintenance funding of an estimated $5,000 pa. The reduction in revenue is uncertain, due to market variations, but would reduce the budget by >$2 million in year 2 and >$500,000 in year 3.

Process Matters

Some submitters indicated that they could not access the list of properties. A full list of properties, including addresses, was available through the consultation documents and submitters have access this.

Some submitters have commented on how Council dispose of the properties. If the Council's decides to delegate authority to dispose of these properties, then Council will dispose of them following the Council's policy and normal practices.

Support

1002 - Riley Mahuika

If its a burden, be gone with it. It would probably receive more love and care by someone else

1022 - Sally Burrows

Good idea

1027 - Bruce Shalders`

If Council has no use for them then start the process.

1050 - Ken Lloy

agree

106 - Crispin Garden-Webster

Do it

1069 - Kieran Norton-Taylor

Yes push ahead and do it

1071 - Brian Donovan

Sounds like a good plan

1087 - Julie Hansen

I agree to dispose of these properties

1098 - Eric Pawson

dispose of them (surprised you need to ask)

1104 - Kate Bevin

Good idea

1105 - Lana Shields

do it

1116 - Stephan Lloyd

I support this.

1126 - David Maciulaitis

This is good to see.

1132 - Gavin Fitzgerald

Agree

1143 - Stuart Berryman

Fine

1159 - James Frost

Yes sell them

1167 - Anja Luecht

Go for it.

118 - Barbara Neville

Fine

1180 - Glenn Matheson

Fine by me

1185 - Greg Ritchie

Yes sell properties as councils are a landlord.

1189 - Michaela Allen

I think it's a good idea.

1192 - Shannay Henning

If it's not being utilized and generates no revenue then yes, get rid of them

1194 - Aaron Tallott

Good

1210 - Dianna Koorey

As long as those properties go into the hands of people who have a genuine care an interest of the community, thats good.

1224 - Amanda OBrien

Great

1230 - Carlena Limmer

Supportive of this proposal

1235 - Alex Edge

I'm okay with that

1260 - Andy March

Go for it get rid of them into private ownership

1261 - S McGregor

sell off some of the assets that lay idle and derilict. Why are you holding on?

great idea

1264 - Maxim Kaluzhny

No issues

1265 - Jill Banbury

Yes, we don't want to be going backwards - some sales of CCC land and buildings are correct if not used or have been used for some time.

1273 - Anthony Moore (The Elms Hotel Ltd, T/A Hotel Elms Christchurch)

Yes agree

1278 - Tim Marsh

Totally agree and lose their facility management costs

1282 - Kelvin Lynn

I support this.

1293 - Jill Rice

Acceptable, but hard to find your list on your website.

1297 - Deborah Kapohe

Yes.

1298 - Jason Reekers

I agree

13 - David Thorn

Good idea

1300 - Barbara Dunne
BRING IT ON.

1302 - Melanie Forsyth
Agree

1310 - Sue Hales
Good idea

1326 - Allison Oneill
you are broke, sell your assets

133 - Alan Mears
Generally agree

1339 - Carol Marie Ferrier
Sell

1342 - Martin Ansley
Sell em.

1347 - Stephen Leon
OK

1352 - Lin Klenner
go for it

1356 - Sharon Fox
Yes

1370 - Jeremy Kaye

Go for it.

1373 - Luke Lagan

If you don't need them, sell them.

1380 - Sharon Lee

Ok

1386 - Daphne Mc Curdy

ok

139 - Paul Tait

Keep it simple sell what we dont need

1393 - Tim Holmes

I agree

1394 - Michael Clemens

I support the community outcomes and priorities

1395 - William Wallace

I think council should go ahead with that proposal.

14 - Luke Chandler

We must look for the maximum financial return to the Council

1402 - Martin Smallman

Sell the lot.

141 - Ann Coates

Sell them if it will keep rate increases down

1415 - Rebecca Macpherson

Great idea

142 - Carolyn Neame

If they are no benefit and are costing money then do it

1422 - Tim Reed

I support this

1424 - Peter McMillan

What do you think of our proposal to start formal processes to dispose of five Council-owned properties?

GREAT IDEA AND SHOULD BE A PRIORITY

1426 - Judith Coullie

acceptable

1431 - Carissa Ptacek

sounds good

1446 - Emma Waddell

Great idea

145 - Lisa Cowap

If there not needed sell them

1460 - Jihee Park

yes, good idea - less asset , less expense

1462 - Sue Piercey

I agree

1469 - Susan Grant

yes

1473 - Adele Du Plessis

Agree, or are they also paying rates and taxes for these as secondary properties?

1475 - Courtney Henderson

Ok

1487 - Denise Cunniffe

Sell them.

1488 - Mel Brown

I actually like your thinking on this. Well done.

1497 - Alice Zhu

Yes! If that can cut down the rates!

1498 - Charlie Due

Good

15 - Sara Currey

For sale

150 - Jeremy Foate

Do it

1500 - Warwick Schaffer

I think this is good, it enables something that is currently unproductive to be invested in and become productive.

1504 - Jonathan Kingston-Smith

I agree with it

1507 - Briar User

Great

1512 - Denis McMurtrie

Good. Again keep Council affairs simple.

1519 - Matthew Williams

Makes sense overall. Assets that aren't required and have operating costs are just a drain on the ratepayer

1525 - Caroline Mason

I support disposal of surplus properties that are no longer required for a Council purpose

153 - Lindsay Strang

Di it

1530 - Robyn White

yes sounds good

154 - Chrysler Wiparata-Hammond

It's okay

1540 - Isabel Carlyon

This seems sensible

1545 - Jasmine Arps

Support

1556 - Jeffrey Bergman

I am in favour

1574 - David Cassidy

Should have been done ages ago

1575 - Hollie Hollander (Pest Free Banks Peninsula)

Good plan

1583 - James Pomeroy

Yes, get rid of if surplus.

1589 - Barry Miller

I am happy with this.

1593 - Rick Houghton

Good idea.

1605 - Denis Aldridge (Living Springs Trust)

Go for it

1609 - Johnathons Atkins

Yes offload them and make a profit

161 - Sam Apps

Yes

1612 - Emma Johnson

It is hard to say without knowing where they are are/what they are, but as they are described it seems to make sense.

1616 - David Thomson

Asset sales make sense if the asset isn't part of a monopoly. The council can focus on its core interests.

162 - Christine Wehrmeier

I think it makes sense.

1623 - Oliver Mould

Happy to let you dispose of them having read your commentary on them.

1637 - Megan Andrews

If they cannot be turned into money making assets for the council, then sure, move them on.

1640 - Veronica Leigh-Ogden

Will it lower the debt? Probably a good idea too.

1648 - Andrew Bowman

This is a good proposal.

1663 - Sam Spekreijse

Sounds reasonable.

1671 - Wayne Mahan

In favor

1672 - Dickson Wong

If council has no better plans, please sell.

1691 - Jesse Newman

I support this proposal.

1697 - Chris Goodman

Ok

1701 - James Friend

If we aren't making money from them, sell them.

1702 - Laura Xavier

If locals are ok with it I don't see why not

1709 - Aaron Cumming

If they are not making money get rid of them

1710 - Ashwin Kurup

Yes.

172 - Bronze Templeton

if it reduces are rates bill then yes

1744 - Mark Hampton

In favour

1750 - Edel Loughheed-Deane

It could provide the council with a significant injection of capital that could be allocated towards other priority areas, such as infrastructure development or community initiatives. Furthermore, divestment may allow these entities to operate more independently, potentially leading to increased efficiency and innovation within their respective sectors. Divestment may raise concerns about potential privatization and its implications for public accountability and transparency. The council must engage in transparent and inclusive consultation processes to ensure that the interests and concerns of the community are adequately addressed.

1751 - Matthew Tolan

I support it

1752 - Carolyn Boulton

I support selling the council owned properties, because it is essential keep down rate increases.

1755 - Jenny Heffer

Goo$ place to start

1756 - Kieran Sweetman

Agree to maintain forecast debts levels.

1761 - Elaine Dunlop

Yes as long as they are fairly disposed of and the putea does not go to salary increases but used to pay off debt

1766 - Jan Edwards

Yes! sooner the better

1770 - Richard Davies

Yes

1773 - Thommy Jerneskog

Do it.

1778 - Jane Houghton

Why have you waited so long - sell, sell, sell !

178 - Fiona Patchett

This should be done to lessen running costs

1785 - Rosaria Ferguson

A good idea

1788 - Sandra Ward

Definitely sell

1792 - Laura Parkes

I think it's a great idea. If they aren't needed don't keep them. It's a resource drain and selling them on could also bring in money that could be put to better use.

1793 - Pamela Hughes

Understandable

1794 - Heather Matthews

Agree

1797 - Peter User

I support the CCC to dispose of five - owned properties.

18 - Alex User

Get rid of them

180 - Kevin McSweeney

Yes Others too

1803 - Guy Faes

It is a good plan

1805 - Leigh Cunningham

Good idea

1806 - James Edwards

Go ahead and reduce debt

1812 - Cathy McMillan

If they are not required, no problem to sell them

1814 - Jenny Atkin

Go ahead and reduce debt.

1826 - Jacqui Hudson

If they don't generate an income and cost the council money then I agree they should be sold.

1828 - Robert Jelley

what do you think of our proposal to start formal

YES, GO AHEAD

1837 - Rosalie Griffith

A good idea

1838 - Charlotte Holland

- Support the sale of the 5 park/reserves
- Use the 2016 housing policy if appropriate

1839 - Catherine Grima

..... you think of our proposal to start formal processes to dispose of the council owned properties.
If they are surplus to requirements, unsafe and do not meet future long-term plans for the council, then ~~yes~~ I would agree.

1849 - Amy Brewer

Yes do it and use the funds to reduce rates.

1869 - Bill Cowen

ok

1873 - Marjorie Manthei (Victoria Neighbourhood Association Inc)

It seems logical to dispose of sites not being used as intended or for the others reasons given on page 55. Without being familiar with the particular sites, we would SUPPORT disposal but ONLY if the local communities are consulted in a meaningful way, including consultation about sites not used as reserves or parks (which are the ones specifically mentioned in the Plan as requiring consultation).

188 - Tony MacHarper

Agree

189 - Julie Coleshae

Yes do it

1894 - Peter Moody

I agree that it would be beneficial to dispose of these properties.

1898 - John-Paul Kilkenny

Good idea. Get rid of buildings that are not being used

1903 - Grant Dickson

Properties that have no use or intention to use should not be held. Funds can be better used elsewhere.

1914 - Stefan Miller

I think it is a good idea

1928 - James Daniels

Go ahead

1938 - Alice Busbridge

Do it, you need the money and can't keep up with proper maintenance.

1959 - Brad Waldon-Gibbons

this is fine.

1963 - Lynda Goodrick

Dispose

1965 - Grant Bowater

Fine

1968 - Kelly Osborn

I think this is appropriate to off set some of the other spending.

1979 - Julie McCloy

Do it.

1996 - Iain Nicholls

Supportive where these are deemed unnecessary to retain after consultation with the communities affected.

1997 - Justine Wright

if it has no cost to ratepayers and can be sold. Brilliant

20 - Ross Williamson

I say yes dispose, depending on the returns to the Council.

2002 - Bridgitte Dunn-Breen

Good idea, bildings should fit the purpose, unused then move on.

201 - AJ Wade

supported

2012 - Nick Boyd

Fine

202 - Anne Spicer

Yes

2024 - Janet Reeves

Agree

2058 - Janita Patrick

I think it is the best interest of the council to move on in the disposal of these properties as they are not serving the purpose of the council at this time

2065 - Robin Lake

I do support the disposal of the Council owned properties

2071 - Paul Broady

This looks like a reasonable proposal.

2073 - Peter Cook

Begin as soon as possible

2078 - Barry Williamson

Yes - Dispose of non-essential assets. Why hold onto assets that add costs (like insurance and maintenance) and no value. Bring in the cash to reduce the need to draw on the resources of the residents.

2079 - William Muir

If they are not returning in line with the market then they should be disposed and the money used to pay down debt or invested to service the cities costs and needs

2084 - Sarah Donaldson

Yes sell them now but ring-fence funds for the same purposes eg roading or park development

2087 - Emma Norrish (Waipapa Papanui-Innes-Central Community Board)

The Board supports the responsible review of these holdings in light of the present circumstances of needing to minimise rates rises, while maintaining appropriate investment in the future of the city, suggesting that there is a balance to be struck to ensure that the city is prepared for its future needs. The Board also supports local voices and representation being heard in these matters, respecting the Council's role in balancing needs across the city.

21 - Tyrone Low

Yes, makes sense

2120 - Clover Sullivan

FANTASTIC.

2136 - Clara Carey

I support this- they don't sound like assets that the council needs.

214 - John Hinchey

Do it.

2144 - Amy Mcnaughton

If they aren't useful makes sense to get rid of them

2167 - Terry Frost

Go for it

2178 - Sue Bridgwater

It appears that there will be no detrimental impact if these assets are sold, and the sale will presumably generate funds that can be utilised elsewhere

2186 - Katie Todd

Yes as long as appropriate buyers are found

2191 - Cassandra Hannington

Fine.

2196 - Paul Ainsworth

If they are not used by the council, sell them

2198 - Andrew Smith

Approve- all measures to reduce rates should be considered.

2200 - Janna Robinson

yes if they are no longer used for purpose they should be sold

2223 - Jill Turner

Worth looking at

2225 - Geoff Tobeck

yes

2242 - Martha Baxendell (New Brighton Project)

agree

2263 - Scott Babington

agree

2267 - Redacted Redacted

OKOK

2275 - Bridgette Pedofsky

Good. Need to minimise costs

2287 - Alice Johnson

Sounds like a good idea

2296 - Vickie Walker

Not using them? Sell them.

2297 - Andrew Walker

If you don't need them, aren't going to need them, sell them. At least then the new owners can pay rates.

2310 - Helen Broughton (Waipuna Halswell Hornby Riccarton Community Board)

The Board supports the disposal of properties that are surplus to the Council's requirements and considers that the Vacant Section (Lot 2 Deposited Plan 7106) being the Balance of Te Kuru not required is in this category.

2312 - Christian Schipani

I agree.

2325 - Lisa Ferdinand

This is a reasonable consideration giving the current financial climate

2326 - Amanda Booth

This should be done swiftly.

2327 - Charles Shaw

No objection

2328 - Steven Gray

Yes- if they are not core and not heritage properties

2330 - Bradley Conder (Novotel Christchurch & Ibis Christchurch)

I agree

2333 - Fiona Lynch

If it's necessary and there is solid evidence to do this, then progress.

2338 - Robin Schulz (Coronation Reserve Residents Group)

Agree

2358 - Carolyn Moffat

Yes, I'm very much in favour of reviewing assets and disposing of those ones which are no longer useful or viable. Let's hope some of our City Councillors agree.

2367 - Stephen Conti

Do it

238 - Susan Gee

Unfamiliar with buildings but appears sensible

2380 - Ben Comfort

Fine

2381 - Kim Franicevic

Yes

2383 - Kirsty Macnab

sensible

2387 - Jed O'Donoghue

Fine to start the processes.

2388 - Guy Tapley

Go ahead

2391 - Mitchell Rogers

Yes, it makes sense if those sites can be used for something else.

24 - Kaaren Mathias

I am ok with this

2401 - Arlee Folkers

Happy with it.

2404 - Grant MacLeod

Proceed.

2406 - Chris Archer

I would strongly consider this.

2417 - Victor Vergara

Agree

2421 - Helen Foley

I agree with the proposal

2425 - Bronwyn Kircher

Get rid of them

243 - Peter Townsend

Support

2432 - Mark Morley

Based on supplied information, a pragmatic plan.

2437 - Caroline Whittaker

Yes.

2440 - Erin Jamieson

Agree

2445 - Joseph Davidson-Labout

I believe the council should hold on to the three undeveloped reserves and use the land for planting, parks, natural reserves etc. if the land is not being used for anything else it may as well be used to maintain biodiversity, provide shade and sequester carbon I support the selling of residential land to community housing provider, on the basis it actually provides affordable housing

2457 - Hayden Johnstone

I think it is fine as long as the community around these reserves are ok with selling them.

2461 - Marjorie Manthei

If no longer fit for purpose or needed to fulfil other obligations or objectives, then they should be disposed of. However, there are usually different perspectives on such things, so I would hope CCC will consult with residents who live near and/or may wish to use the designated sites.

2463 - Rebekah Tregurtha

Fine

247 - Daisy Cassels

goog idea make some money back

248 - Eric Livingstone

Agree.

2482 - Erin Stewart

Agree.

25 - Ben Hart

Do it.

2504 - Sarah van der Burch

Yes.

2509 - Angela Nicol

Yes if they are unused.

2511 - Charlaine Palmer

yes.

2514 - Jeannie Murtagh

[Strategic Direction > Climate Change, Other/Special Interest Topics > Cathedral]

I support this proposal and profit should go towards climate change initiatives and NOT repair of Christ Church Cathedral.

2516 - Robin Palmer

Good.

2519 - Charlotte Withington

Yes definitely dispose of them

2525 - Adrienne Kimberly Georgine

I agree with this.

253 - Daryl Cotterell

no worries if due diligence completed , and is a viable financial venture without sacrificing assets that would later be more valuable as ChCh Council assets .

2533 - Steven Muir

I agree

2538 - Libby Ornsby

Might as well, why spend money even discussing this.

2541 - Kelsi Mosley

I support this proposal.

2554 - Paul Schwalger

Yes if done with proper transparency and consultancy, I don't see any issues

2557 - Malcolm Warren

Good idea.

2565 - Neet Subraman

Good idea

2571 - Anna Walker

Fine

2580 - Michael Neville

A good idea. Dispose of non performing assets.

2586 - Leeann Watson (Business Canterbury)

Business Canterbury supports the disposal of Council-owned properties where appropriate. However, funds raised from the sale of any assets should not be used by the Council for operational spending, and instead, treated as funds for investing in the development of other assets and infrastructure.

2599 - Susan Miller

I think this should go ahead

2619 - Laura Cosgrove

I think it's good. If profit can be made this would be great

2624 - Colin Ong

If the properties and assets are truly lying idle (and they appear to be), do it.

2625 - Danielle Leenders

Agree

263 - Brian Hill

[Revenue > Disposal of Red Zoned Land], [Spending > Our Proposed Spending]

Cut services and sell assets to enable the funding of infrastructure investment

>>>

sell them

2639 - Callum Ward (Waihoru Spreydon Cashmere Heathcote Community Board)
support

2640 - Wayne Hawker (New Brighton Museum)

As long as there is a formal process to follow and any outcomes are in line with the results of the consultation and it is done in an open and transparent way

2650 - Alexander Amies

Sounds good

2651 - Finn Blanchard

These all make sense since they are no longer required

2655 - Michele Mccaw

Yes agreed if no longer being used for original intention

2656 - A Pratap

If these are no longer fit for purpose then they should be sold.

268 - Kathryn McNeil

If they're not needed they're probably costing the council money, so may as well sell.

269 - Zara Potts

I think this should happen - and other assets should be looked at in order to reduce rates burden

2690 - Robbie Dobbie

What do you think of our proposal to start formal processes to dispose of the council owned properties?

The proposal sounds good with those criteria

2699 - Graham Beswick

While it is an asset usually to own properties that asset has produce an income for the council but if these properties are costing money and sound like they are excess to requirement plus it is costing to maintain them then even though is a rigorous process I agree that disposal is the only viable option and may have to be actioned

27 - Warner Wilson

About time

2705 - Ian Le Page

Why would Council want the own these properties? They just become a liability to maintain and generate no rateable income.

2707 - Raymond Lum

Do it

2711 - Denise George

If they are no use or benefit to the Council dispose of them

2715 - L.F. Blake

OK

2717 - Jacinta Maguire

If they are costing money doing nothing. It maybe worth it

2723 - Laura Greenland

Yes, not serving a purpose so get on with it

2731 - Anna Barber

Go for it

2732 - Gordon Bruce Tulloch

Approve

2733 - Georgia Macaulay

Dispose you mean demolish? Sell off? Sorry I didnt read that part. Why not, let someone else own these.

2734 - Sharon McDonald

Yes council should

2742 - Caroline Dagger

I'm OK with it.

2747 - Mark Thygesen

Yes, start process of disposal of these properties.

275 - Phillipa Callick

Appropriate action.

2761 - Annette and Michael Hamblett

We support it.

277 - Jane Harrison

As long as the consultation process is thorough and the community is happy, there's no point in keeping unused properties.

2777 - Jennifer Hamilton

What do you think of our proposal to start formal processes to dispose of five Council-owned properties that are either reserves or parks? Agree

2791 - David Dockery

What do you think of our proposal to start formal processes to dispose of five Council-owned properties?

Yes we to get rid of items that are costing Council money or giving no return.

2800 - Ellena Cameron

I agree AS LONG AS NICE REASONABLY PRICED
HOMES ARE BUILT. NOT 10 STORY MONSTROSITIES.
THINK OF 20yrs time WHEN THEY WILL BE SUNK.
OUR FOREFATHERS THOUGHT AHEAD. YOU SHOULD TOO

2804 - Janette Leith Brott

Yes

2805 - Coleen Briggs

yes

2806 - Tony Fraser

Support

281 - Selwyn Gamble

If they are heritage buildings then I believe their needs to be a genuine discussion otherwise if that is what is perceived best then so be it.

2815 - Douglas Shaw

Sell if not being utilised.

2816 - Susan Eleanor Peake

Sell

282 - Michael Heenan
agree.

2820 - Brendan Ross

OK WITH ME

2821 - Dave and Denise Falls

Yes sell!

2832 - Riley Neupauer (University of Canterbury Green Party)

The UC Greens support the proposal to dispose of these five reserves and parks.

2837 - Deborah Harwood
Yes

2838 - Graham Erikson
Supported.

2840 - Matthew Carter
The proposal sounds sensible.

2841 - Hunter Craig
sure

2844 - Albert Nisbet

Probably OK. Just make sure it is thought through carefully.

2847 - Colleen Philip (Sustainable Ōtautahi Christchurch)

There does not appear to be a compelling reason to keep these properties.

2848 - Glen Koorey

Agree, it's a good idea

2856 - Rachel Puentener

It sounds sensible, noting the criteria and the proposed good processes that would accompany it. Ideally Papatipu Rūnanga would be provided with a 'first right of refusal' in recognition of their mana whenua status.

2858 - Daniel Parkinson

agree

286 - Pauline Reid

Excellent idea. Don't hang on to properties that are not being used or delivering any revenue to council.

2861 - Laila Jansone

I support

2875 - Paul Andrew

Sell

2876 - Sarah Hastie

So long as it is unlikely this land would be needed for future infrastructure projects, the proposal to sell seems reasonable. If this land is likely to be needed in future, eg for roading, that serious consideration should be given prior to its sale.

2880 - Emma Martini

Agree

Agree

2882 - Erin Andrew

Sell

2883 - Camillo Schulz

Well if this will improve funding for more projects please do it

2886 - David Fleming

All properties that have not shown returns above the rate to borrow funds for essential services should be sold. Any likely capital appreciation being taken into account.

2887 - Linda Keall

seems fine

2888 - Alistair Price

It they are not need get rid of them.

29 - Hayley Young

Great, sell them.

2929 - Peter Cook

Support it.

293 - Monique van Veen

I'm supportive.

2934 - Monica Richards

Fine if there is no use for themby council.

294 - Michael Brantley

Some okay is not needed. Don't be dumb.

2941 - Peter Thelning

Agree

2945 - Lynne Lochhead

I support this.

2949 - Graeme John Marriott

Makes sense to me

2958 - Chris Sinclair

Yes.

2963 - Carolyn Roos

I have no issues if they go but make sure we still have a great city

2967 - Silvia Davies

Just as long as no lives are endangered!

297 - Michael Crabtree

ASAP

2971 - Nikita Todd

Sell them

2972 - Ewan Baron

Yes, however call for public submissions for each asset

2986 - Maree Mackle

If they are surplus to requirements there is no point in having them

2989 - Lee Robinson

We support a sell down of certain assets or a share of them to repay debt and re-invest later when things are in better shape.

2992 - Marian Robinson

Agree.

3 - Di Prankerd

Anything that is not adding value needs to be disposed of

300 - La Wanda Cowan

As long as the land holds no created cultural/community value since its purchase, the land should look to be disposed.

3016 - Zarah Green

Agree

302 - Bronwyn Roberts

Agree

3021 - Viane Makalio

Dispose the others and gift the land next to Te Kura to them

3022 - Brian Craig

Seems reasonable.

3031 - Lee Osborn

This is a sensible option.

3035 - Claire Coveney

If they meet the criteria

3036 - John W. Thacker

This would be the most sensible thing to do. The money could be used for loaning to the Arts Centre or others mentioned in this submission.

3037 - Robert Fletcher

Good, seems like a good idea

3039 - Paula Allen

good

3055 - Josephine Drysdall

I support the disposal of these properties, provided that the assessment criteria and Treaty considerations are followed and the purchaser's intentions are climate-friendly.

3056 - Carolyn Elcock

Yes move on

3058 - Robin Clements

Definitely should

3065 - Janet Wilson

Sensible

3077 - Mike Davidson

Support

3083 - Peter Joyce

Good idea

3085 - Jacqueline Sullivan

Agree

3094 - Daniel Smith

If they don't provide a return or future purpose to the city and cost the city money to maintain then they should be disposed

3099 - Stephen Miller

Get on with it.

31 - Gary Durey

If the properties are NOT part of basic infrastructure, then get rid of them

311 - Peter Clark

Sell.

312 - Shane Binder

Makes sense as outlined

3121 - Janet Foley

This sounds reasonable.

3125 - Gabrielle Humphreys

It's ok.

3129 - Skye Arnopp

Suggestions seem sound.

3131 - Johannes (Hans) Van Oyen

In this time of crisis - go for it. Proceeds must be used solely to improve CCC financial viability & not be diverted into more grand schemes and ideals.

3134 - Kim Lister

Good idea.

3136 - John Hynes

Agreed

314 - Vaughan Kirkland

I support this as these entities have been loaded with debt and make a very poor return. They should be sold off, the debt repaid and the remaining money invested in a broad based investment fund

3142 - Ruth Jardine

Good idea.

3155 - Robyn Ratcliff

Yes if asset is unused and costing then move it on?

316 - Margaret Whittaker

Sounds like a good idea

3163 - Simon Cobb

Good idea

3164 - Arthur Gordon-Wright

Reasonable

3165 - Adrienne Baxter

good idea

3169 - Barbara Brown

OK

3177 - Dan Lucas

I personally see little long term value by retaining these properties and would support disposal

3185 - Brian Darlow

I have no problem

3187 - Debbie Hamilton

As long as this money gies towards supporting the Arts Centre

3192 - Janene Burnett

I think it is a wise option

3197 - Viv Patton

Sell and put funds to wards new initiatives.

321 - Tom Williams

If they are not needed then this is ok

322 - Richie Connell

It has to happen.

3230 - Suz Guthrie

A good idea. A council shouldn't own anything and therefore not have a biased approach to planning.

3231 - Colin Foster

Good idea so long as we have a specific area for the funds to go to before we commit to selling them eg a fund for coastal protection and climate change effects.

3235 - Thomas Caspari

Fine by me.

3239 - Lynette McGrath

Yes. If not in use.

324 - Richard Wesley

Fine

3243 - Michael Petherick

So long as they're not low lying and at risk of flooding, earthquake damage or pose another type of risk then I think it's ok

3248 - Dave Edwards

Great idea

3256 - Ian Goodwin

Good

3257 - Fiona Jones

As long as it doesn't cost the rate payers more money and can make some money to save on rates but this is explained that way.

3260 - Sofie Hampton

If it means making a profit absolutely

3261 - Helena Campbell

Agree

3262 - Charlorte Verity-McCormick

Good

3263 - Allan Wood

Yes

3268 - Savannah Da Silva

I think it seems reasonable to look at disposal, my preference would be for affordable housing and or for sale to community/not for profit group use

3283 - Elizabeth Clarke

Fine

3287 - Claire Fletcher

I agree with the proposals

3295 - Rachel Du Val

I think this is a good idea.

3299 - Phil OMalley

Agree - should not be kept unless there is a need or generating money.

3301 - Anna Wilkes

Get on with it

3307 - Richard Griffiths

Good

3311 - Michael McEntee

I encourage it.

3322 - Christine Nicoll

Dispose yes

3337 - Erica Afonso

Good idea to bring on more money instead of increasing rates or fees

3341 - Maria Bartlett

Ok

3349 - Rob McDonald

I support it

3356 - Mary-Anne Borrowdale

Seems sensible.

3366 - Robert Manthei

This question is beyond my level of information. However, yes, the City should dispose of unused properties, but not at give-away prices. The CCC landbanking is different to private companies and owners doing it at the expense of the rest of the city.

3373 - Michael Netto

I support the proposal to dispose of five Council-owned properties as outlined in the Draft Long Term Plan. This initiative can free up valuable resources, allowing for reinvestment in critical community projects. It reflects fiscal responsibility by reducing maintenance costs and optimizing asset use. Additionally, the sale or redevelopment of these properties can stimulate economic growth, create jobs, and potentially provide housing and commercial spaces that benefit Christchurch residents. I commend the Council for its prudent asset management and encourage transparent processes involving community input.

3376 - Barry Lee

I agree this should progressed.

3381 - Karen Amyes

Yes continue with this process

3386 - James Herbison

Agree

3392 - Stephen Wood

I think it makes sense. Go for it

340 - David Wilkinson

great idea.

3412 - Alicia Harbison-Price

A great idea to investigate.

3413 - Janey Archbold

Yes

3419 - Michael Allan

Sell everything that is non-essential to running the council.

3423 - James Upton

Agree with proposal

3424 - Taylor Johnskn

Privatisation has its merits

343 - Aaron Pero

Good. Dispose anything of value that we are not using

3430 - Philippa Upton

Agree

344 - Aaron Herriott

If they are money sinks, good.

3456 - Sam Steven

I think they should be disposed of. But this is a one-off benefit for the council.

3458 - Frank Hill

Do it

3471 - Murray Irvine

good idea. Sell off nonproducing assets.

3474 - Timothy Lambert

asap

3476 - John Fletcher

Sell.

348 - Christiana Raphael

Yes

3480 - Martin Robertson

Agree to dispose

3482 - Col Pearson

They seem of little use to the local communities and probably should be disposed of.

3490 - Peter Minten

No objection. As explained in your consultation document they currently occur costs. Disposing them frees up funds for other purposes.

3493 - Brendon Lee

DO IT! Releasing more land on the basis that they can be developed properties. We already have surplus parks and leisure walk ways etc. What we don't have are enough houses.

350 - Chris Hoopmann

Fine

3504 - Nicola Holt

A good idea

3510 - Michael Horgan

Agreed. Sell those that do not return a decent dividend

3525 - Andrew Hey

Agree

353 - John Mayhew

Sell if it results in profit or less costs.

3535 - Anna Harper

Yes a good idea.

3540 - Philip Robinson

good.

3541 - Ashleigh Smith

Sounds great

3544 - Ginette Pethig

Makes sense to me

3545 - Sarah Eve Tunstall

I don't see any issue.

3548 - Dwayne McCormick

Good

355 - Lynda Clark

I agree

3552 - Alice Neylon

Sell them.

3564 - Allan Grant

Agree, do it.

3567 - Rachel Briggs

Agreed

>>>

I think the concept of selling some assets as listed is a good one.

357 - Charlotte Gray

Good

3575 - Anna Hansson

Why not?

3576 - Noeline Allan (Cass Bay Residents Association)

We agree with this as it seems to make financial sense.

3577 - Marie Byrne

Agree

3586 - Rachel Geddis

No problems.

3589 - Roxanne Brassington

I think it sounds sensible

3592 - Lucy Altaner

I think it's a good idea, if you aren't using them, there is no point keeping them.

3598 - Kyle Sutherland

Great idea, so long as sold at prices that represent value for ratepayers.

360 - Wendy Pollock

Do it

3600 - Murray Wiig

Go for it. Absolutely necessary.

3607 - Mike Percasky

if they are of no longer use the council should dispose of them.

3610 - Eric Stierna

Dispose

3613 - Catherine McLeavy

Parks look ok to sell

3620 - Rosemary Turnbull

Good.

3624 - Noeline Marsh

Sounds like a good idea.

3631 - Charlotte Sparrow

Yes, sell them and use the funds to directly reduce rates.

3633 - Joanne Tindall

If they are providing no benefit to the community and are surplus to requirements, then they should be sold/

3634 - Peter Cooper

Good idea

3638 - Patricia Frankland

Good idea

3639 - Stephen Burgham

I agree with this proposal

3653 - Andrew McDougall

Agree

3661 - Steph Walker

I think it is a good idea, particularly if the Council has no plans to utilise them, and that the sale of the assets can go to supporting the community around that land.

3663 - Connor McIver

This seems sensible. They are clearly surplus to requirements.

3673 - Theo van Woerkom

A good thing

3679 - Janet Perry

Approve

3684 - Alison Lomax

Good idea

3687 - Rebekah Savage

If this is good for the city and we won't regret it later then yes.

3688 - Paul Crooks

Go ahead

3695 - Pamela Pye

Support disposal of these and any other unused Council-owned properties

3697 - Jennie Brittenden

If the land is not able to be utilised profitably then it seems sensible. Once an asset is gone it can no longer made a profit for Christchurch.

3698 - Clive Beaumont (Canterbury Basketball)

Agree to deliver capital for other projects

3703 - Greg Hay

Agree to this to ensure rates are maintained at an acceptable level. However, it can not be to the detriment of the community (e.g. the land should not just be used to build more new subdivisions by developers)

Further disposal of council owned properties should be considered. These monies can be used to reduce rates.

3704 - Logan Cane

Yes, do it.

371 - Justine Aldous

From what I've read it looks ok. As long as what I've read is an accurate representation of that land, and there is no significant environmental value associated with that land.

3711 - Hamish Keown

Yes i think it should progress to the next stage of consultation.

3715 - Jason Bridgwater (Linwood Rugby League)

Happy

3722 - Rachel Thwaites

Go for it

3723 - Don Babe

Very good and it needs to extend to other assets that could be better in private hands.

3724 - Terence Sissons

Agree that surplus assets should be sold and the proceeds used for productive assets.

3726 - Cliff Mason

Acceptable

3727 - Carl Fox

If Council is sure that it will not require the assets then I support the disposal.

3731 - Heather McHarg

Agree

3741 - Kevin Spaul

Yes if you don't need sell them

376 - Mattias Wieland

Go ahead

3761 - Fiona Henderson

The reasons for disposal sound very reasonable and if they are not capable of producing revenue I see no reason to retain them.

3768 - Tracey Klatt

Yep, makes sense

3772 - Sue McFarlane

Good idea

3775 - Kate Latimer

Progress as what is necessary to do

3789 - Samantha Astin-Brown

Do it

379 - Alex Rowe

In agreement with these. Could result in cost savings for unused properties.

3796 - Danielle Millar

As long as it is land that holds minimal future use at current.

3801 - Victor (aka Vince) Eichholtz

ok to go ahead

3805 - Antony Lawrence

Fine

3806 - Simon Green

Agree this is a sign of the current economic climate. In the best interests of the council at the current time to sell some of these

3809 - Johnathon Ridden

Support.

3812 - Nick Paris

Agree

3814 - Rob Battersby

if no longer required, sell off.

3816 - Annette Bolton

Support this.

3817 - Melissa Macfarlane

Support.

3818 - Ali Moore

I think that is a sensible idea.

3825 - Justin Barton

reasonable

reasonable

3826 - Kate Cleverly
agree

383 - Louise Woolley
Sell to get funds for council so we can reduce rates

3835 - Hiren Patel
Sounds good.

3845 - Wolfgang Rack
Yes.

3850 - Stephanie Remington
Fine, if the council is not making any significant gain or benefit from them, dispose of them!

3859 - Sally Widdowson
Good idea

3861 - Alex Robinson
Good.

3865 - Maxine Donovan
It is inconsequential but if it benefits Council and/or funds then sounds most appropriate.

3866 - Nicki Carter (Carter Group)
It is an appropriate step for the Council to take - we support it.

3868 - Don Gould
Sell, sell, sell away.

3869 - Cam Parsonson
Sell them.

387 - Rowena MacGill
Yes.

3877 - Hilary Quayle
Ok

3884 - Rachel Bacon
Agree

3887 - Michael Patterson (Commodore Airport Hotel Ltd)
This does sound sensible given the times we are in.

3890 - Michele St George Waugh
Ok

3894 - Greg Siddells
Unless there is a clear and immediate objective for a property, it should be disposed of.

3896 - Coral Denize
Sounds fine

3897 - J E Thomas
Seems to make sense to sell due to there no longer being a feasible need for the properties.

3901 - Amanda South
Yes

3902 - James Ridpath
Fine.

3907 - Graham Muir

Agree if there is no potential public use

3916 - Laila Jansone (Renew Brighton Charitable Trust)
we support this way of raising funds

3924 - Rachel Purcell
I think this is a good idea

393 - Kathryn Russell
If it saves council money long term

3933 - Joanna Gould
Yes

3934 - Greta Simpson
Yes, that seems sensible as a way to raise cash.

3942 - Soongseok Yoon
it seems be alright.

3944 - Lyn Dawson
If they are not being used or likely to be used ownership should be passed on.

3950 - Cameron Paintin
Yes start it

3956 - Nicola McCormick
Good

3958 - Emma Turner
go ahead.

3963 - Jillian Scott

Yes but other properties need consultation before sale.

397 - Merrick Brown

No issues if they are sold at the best possible values.

3970 - Allannah Lovelady

I feel comfortable with the disposal of the properties identified.

3976 - Elizabeth Pugh

If the council does not require the land, sell it.
If the land is deemed suitable for community housing, this option should be explored.

3978 - Sandra Bragg

Yes sell - no use & costing ratepayers too much.

3980 - Marlene Rohan

Yes

3982 - Duncan Taylor

Must be done - soon est
all property ownership should be reviewed -

3983 - Edward Lucas

GOOD IDEA

3991 - Marilyn Copland

Agree.

3993 - Hans Jorgen Andersen

YKJ, SELL.

4001 - Jennifer Porter

Agree

4003 - Kristine Jolliy

Yes go head.

4004 - Nathalie Le Bras

Yes

4014 - Stephen Hill

Yes, put into debt repayment

402 - Cynthia Charron

I support the disposal of council-owned properties that are no longer used for the purpose they were originally acquired.

4027 - Rona Buttimore

Sell

4035 - Simon Ashby

Leverage them For finance

4036 - Mike Baeck

Get rid of them

4037 - Jo Kidd

Get rid of them asap

410 - Prue Edmond

Agree

416 - Mike Cleaver (Canterbury)

these seem sensible to me and should proceed in my opinion.

417 - Jackie Astall

Fantastic, sell them Release capital

422 - Nias Kitchin

Get rid of them

430 - Kate Porter

Sell them - save some money

[Coder note: Relating to 5 proposed to sell]

443 - Keryn Roberts

The five proposed (3 parks, two parking space and one give to an accommodation provider) seems sensible.

446 - Andrew Peach

If they are of no benefit to the city, yes.

447 - Zoelle Davies

DO it

450 - Allison Husband

I agree

458 - Christine Cockle

Sooner the better. Are there anymore?

466 - John Pryor

I agree with it.

467 - Anna Scheirlinck

good

469 - Amira Aman

Yes

481 - Tommy Ng

not a bad idea..if it makes sense and helps to lessen the burden of people

486 - Neil McConachie

I agree

487 - Gavin Stevenson

Agree with the proposed 5 sales. Proceed with caution .

492 - Lyndon Telfer

Support this - Just get on with it

523 - Andrew Eadon-Jones

Needs must.

526 - Stephen French

A sensible move.

531 - Cameron Bradley

I think this is fine

540 - Ross Allen

Strongly support.

550 - Colin Mansell

Yes, they cost money to maintain

555 - Jemma Balmer

Go for it

575 - Murray Walls

Good idea.

577 - Donna Tse

Agreed

578 - Susanne Trim

Yes.

587 - Diana Holderness

good

590 - Grant Hartley

Good

595 - jeffery Thackwell

Good idea

597 - Ashleigh Dickson

I agree the council should get rid of land that is not being utilised and is costing money to keep

6 - Natalia Volkova

Yes, if it will bring the rates down

608 - Patrick Clarke

will reduce the cost burden in holding these so i am for it.

610 - Charlotte Borra

Good idea

615 - Michael JasonSmith

I support the proposal to start the formal process to dispose of five Council-owned properties. The decision to dispose of the properties appears to be a wise one, and the formal process will reveal any problems caused by disposing of the properties.

618 - Natalie Dixon

Great. Sell them all.

620 - Kristen Smith

Yes - get rid

623 - Linda Everett

Very good idea.

632 - Juliet Reynolds-Midgley

Sounds good to me.

634 - Caitlyn Due

This is great. Well overdue

635 - Ashley Campbell

I'm in favour of disposing of unneeded council land.

637 - Bernice Swain

Go right ahead

638 - Amanda Cropp

Yes get rid of surplus properties.

644 - Julie Paterson

Good idea

649 - Andrew Khor

Great idea

652 - Sharon Howells (Sharon Howells School of Dance)

Go for it

653 - Jane Cartwright

go for it

659 - Matt Dumont

seems reasonable

662 - Cameron Taylor

The city should've been bowled after the earthquakes. What are 5 stuffed buildings going to provide as an investment? Get rid of the crap!

663 - Sam Chow-Tan

Yes go ahead

667 - Frans Jeldrick Oorthuys

ok

669 - Daniel Barkley

Go for it. Why keep land that is not being used effectively.

670 - Sue Orpwood

Go for it!

672 - Edwin Du Plessis

I agree , it should be a continual process of seeing the options

6900 - Geraldine Jellyman

Yes

6903 - Don Jellyman

I agree with this.

6904 - Jean McIntyre

AGREE

692 - Tony Ward

GOOD IDEA.

695 - Patrick O'Sullivan

Agree

698 - Danica Gilmore

Great idea

705 - John Hendrickx

Yes

707 - Chris Mardon (Ecobulb Limited)

This is worth progressing

708 - John Allen

If it pays down debt why not!

712 - Liz van Montfort

Yes - get rid of them. Retaining these properties is only costing you money.

715 - Hayley Barrett

Yes, get rid of these assets.

718 - Sharon Pheasant

Good idea.

724 - Sophie Cooney

Good

728 - Richard Hallum

Do it.

730 - Doug Allen

Sell them all and any other excess land you don't need.

747 - Euan Gutteridge

Yes dispose if not needed

748 - A Robinson

go for it

749 - Sandra Pearson

Fine.

752 - Vivienne Hewson

Good

756 - Jonathan Harrington

Go for it.

759 - Rory Kinahan

Great. Get it done.

761 - Carol Groves

Excellent idea

77 - Gill Patterson Kerr

Go ahead

781 - Jenene Parker

Sounds like a good idea if some of it will provide more housing

785 - Ariana Tikao

I support the disposal of these properties from being Council-owned.

789 - Stuart Sanderson

Agree with this provided it makes financial sense to do so.

794 - Yanny Webb-Walker

Good idea

799 - John Ascroft

Great, sell more

810 - Susan Mullord

I think it sounds reasonable for the properties listed. The proceeds could be used to start a climate resilience fund. I don't think the proceeds should vanish into business as usual accounts

812 - Matthew Fagan

[Parks > Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration]

It would be nice if they were turned into parks, or native bush reserves, but I'm assuming the council has looked into this and thinks this isn't worth it. I'm happy for the council to proceed with disposing of them if the council thinks that it is best.

816 - Murray Dickinson

Agree. All surplus assets need to be considered for sale.

822 - Gavin Scott-Petersen

Yes, do it and reduce the size of main buildings. Cut costs everywhere you can and open up red zones to developers. Make money from the massive amounts of land you possess. As an example: allow developers to build on council land and only pay for the land once the project is complete / sold. This will encourage residential growth and lower overall costs.

823 - Kym East

Fine

83 - Murray Victor

Go for it!!!

847 - David Bromell

Generally support - given the criteria for retention on p 55 of the consultation document

852 - Ben Tyas

Agree

855 - Anna van Haastrecht

If these properties are surplus to requirements I think it is a good idea to dispose of them

856 - Ralph Hobbs

Yep, think it would be good to start this and consult with the public

857 - Kate Munro

seems a reasonable use of resources

858 - Thomas McNaughton

Don't see a lot of background but looks logical to explore further.

859 - Todd Gault

Go ahead

868 - Lucas Moreno

Ok.

870 - Lis Stevenson

I agree

877 - Helen Hessey

ok

881 - Katherine Doig

This is reasonable.

894 - Ben Liebing

the identification process sounds reasonable and well thought through.

897 - Jonathan Mathias

Great idea

9 - Julia Henson

If it means people can still afford to live in their homes - i endorse this.

900 - Bill McElhinney

I fully support this proposal.

907 - Mandy Jarden

Care and consideration as to who this is sold to and for what purpose

912 - Sophie Hartnell

I don't see any issue with council selling these areas as long as it is not setting a precedent for further green spaces to be sold in the future.

915 - Mark Pearson

Sell them.

919 - Jason Marsden (The Hub Hornby)

Council should look to sell off assets

>>>

A good start

923 - Leanne Keen

If it means more money for other things then yes get rid of it. But only if it's not bringing in money

935 - Rob Davies

What do you think of our proposal to start formal processes to dispose of five Council-owned properties?

Yes. C/s not bequeathed.
Put it in the coffers Sam & use wisely.

941 - Hannah Sheath

What do you need them for? Sell them!!

967 - Audrey Baldwin

Good

989 - Dave Renison

Yes do it. Lets get back to core business.

990 - Wendy Fergusson

Yes, reduce the rate increases by doing this

996 - David Smith

Do it.

Oppose

1016 - John-Paul Avent

You can only sell it once. Short sighted cash injection.

1030 - Andrea Gosney

Bad idea

1068 - Redacted Redacted

keep them

1103 - Murray Sanders

Disagree

1158 - Sheryl Elson

No we dont want them sold off

116 - Jarrod Coburn

Please don't do that.

1164 - Andrea Davis

Keep the land , they are not making any more of it. You should find a way to build small and warm homes on this land

1176 - Jamin Thomas

Disagree - especially if they are reserves or parks - add value to the locals, and provide greenery or space for walks/dogs/children. Don't sell assets to fund your operations - not a good idea.

1190 - Callum McGlinchy

If they generate income then no. Don't sell the family jewels. Short term thinking.

1191 - Ava Johnson

I vehemently oppose the sale of council-owned properties. If these assets must be divested, priority should be given to organizations committed to land restoration efforts.

>>>

Selling these assets to developers is a shortsighted solution with minimal financial gain. To truly save costs and enhance community well-being, residents should be given the opportunity to explore creative and responsible ways to utilize the assets within their communities.

1229 - Cassandra Albert

I vehemently oppose the notion of disposing of council-owned properties. Should the need arise to divest these assets, it is paramount to prioritize organizations dedicated to environmental stewardship and restoration. Potential avenues include the rejuvenation of native bush ecosystems akin to Riccarton Bush, the establishment of community-managed food forests, or the creation of shared gardens. "The properties under consideration represent less than 1% of the Council's total portfolio and will not impact current service levels. The projected revenue from property sales throughout the Long Term Plan's duration ranges from $20 to $23 million." Opting to sell these assets to developers represents a myopic approach with negligible financial gains. To genuinely economize and foster community well-being, empowering residents to explore innovative and sustainable ways to utilize these assets within their communities is paramount.

1232 - Heather Young

Absolutely not to dispose of Mataroa Reserve as it is connected to Travis Wetlands and is a conduit into Bottle Lake Forest. It's swampy and has water drainage that flows into the wetlands - so ill suited for residential property but has great ecological and recreational value as is. Generally, it is short-sighted to dispose of recreational reserves. I am not able to comment on the other reserves, but the phrasing used in the Draft LTP is misleading/inaccurate at best and disingenuous at worst as to the true value of these reserves and the purely financial reasons given for their disposal.

1329 - Lynda Whitlow

do not dispose of assets, this is a very poor outlook for future ratepayers to have the burden with no assets left to sell.

1331 - Robyn Lynley Capon

Don't dispose of property. Rent it out and continue to make money from it.

1418 - Wayne Biddorff

Keep them.

1449 - Thane Tremewan

The council will not save itself by divestment. Short term gains from selling off property will not cover its need for ongoing revenue. Do not divest.

1451 - Jodie Langston

Reuse dont dispose Reuse for community gardens, allotments, restoring native bush or organisations that dedicated to community building and improving. look at longer term gains

1452 - Maraed Riley

I staunchly oppose the proposed 'disposal' of council-owned properties. If these assets must be divested, priority should be granted to organizations committed to land restoration efforts. Options may include revitalizing native bush ecosystems akin to Riccarton Bush, establishing community-managed food forests, or cultivating shared gardens. The properties under consideration constitute less than 1% of the Council's total portfolio and will not impact current service levels. The anticipated revenue from property sales throughout the lifespan of the Long Term Plan is estimated to range from $20 to $23 million. Opting to sell these assets to developers represents a myopic approach with minimal financial gains. To genuinely economize and enhance community well-being, residents should be empowered to explore innovative and responsible ways to utilize the assets within their neighborhoods.

1474 - Céira Dernhagen

I strongly oppose the 'disposal' of council-owned properties. If these assets must be relinquished, priority should be given to organizations dedicated to land restoration. Possibilities include regenerating native bush ecosystems similar to Riccarton Bush, creating community-managed food forests, or establishing shared gardens. "The properties we're putting up for consideration make up less than 1% of the Council's overall portfolio and won't affect current levels of service. The estimated revenue from the sale of properties over the life of the LTP is approximately $20-$23 million." Selling off these assets to developers is a short-sighted solution with minimal financial benefit. To truly save costs and enhance community wellbeing, give residents the opportunity to find creative and responsible ways to utilize the assets they live within.

1509 - Charles Drace (350.org Christchurch)

Worst idea the council ever had. Look at the current disasters in the UK because of government and council selling of assets. Privatisation never works so you need to seriously examine the motivation of those that suggest it.

1515 - Andrew Douglas-Clifford

Oppose sale of 26 Waipara St - it's the only possible future link from Cracroft proper through to a future shared path along the Cashmere Stream.

1517 - Felix Harrison

NO!!! Rewild them all and keep them as council owned. This will require little to no maintenance cost if done right and provide a great asset to the people of Otautahi in the form of mahinga kai and wildlife reserves.

1522 - David Alexander

I think Public land should not be sold, I think it should be leased.

156 - Julieanne Giles

Disagree

1578 - Lucia Campbell-Reeves

This is a bad idea.

1618 - Zachary Imhoof

I strongly oppose the 'disposal' of council-owned properties. If these assets must be relinquished, priority should be given to organizations dedicated to land restoration. Possibilities include regenerating native bush ecosystems similar to Riccarton Bush, creating community-managed food forests, or establishing shared gardens.

1619 - David Hera

I am firmly against the disposal of council-owned properties. Should these assets need to be relinquished, priority should go to organizations committed to land restoration. Potential uses include the regeneration of native bush ecosystems akin to Riccarton Bush, development of community-managed food forests, or creation of shared gardens. Transferring these assets to developers is a short-term fix that offers limited financial gains. To genuinely reduce costs and improve community wellbeing, residents should be given the chance to explore creative and sustainable ways to manage these assets.

1647 - Barry Linwood

Don't sell anything.

1649 - Tony Smith

If these assets make a good return then why would we sell them

1654 - Jane Ross

No don't dispose of properties that can never be bought back. There is too much foreign ownership in our City already. The rent for local businesses just keeps increasing with no mercy.

1673 - Rebecca Bayliss

Lunacy

1692 - David Bluck

Really stupid idea. This is so rich old people who have lots don't have to pay more rates.

170 - Jeff Clark

Not a good idea

1734 - Fergus O'Neill

oppose any potential sale of 26 waipara st as it is the only possible future link from cracroft through to a future shared pathway along the cashmere stream.

1775 - Jo Hall

Don't think you should sell off council assets

1780 - Alison Griffith-Collins

Please don't do it. These sorts of properties end up in the hands of developers, who build houses and buildings on the cheap, and then these properties are affected by natural disasters, and the cycle starts all over again. Hang on to them and do something useful with them for the public (e.g. parks, reserves)

1830 - Peter Dobbs

Prefer council to maintain ownership of assets.

1833 - Mary McKeown

What do you think of our proposal to start formal processes to dispose of the council owned properties.

I am strongly opposed to asset sales or ~~other~~ reducing our shareholding.
You can only sell things once. A short term gain + then back where you were with out the asset

1937 - Louette McInnes

Not a good idea.

1977 - Nicholas Lealand

I strongly oppose the 'disposal' of council-owned properties. If these assets must be relinquished, priority should be given to organizations dedicated to land restoration. Possibilities include regenerating native bush ecosystems similar to Riccarton Bush, creating community-managed food forests, or establishing shared gardens.

1989 - Hannah Collins

Do not agree with. Is a band aid solution that can cause further repercussions to Christchurch

213 - Diana Plesovs

No do not sell the family silver. Let it earn an income while maintaining asset value

2155 - Geoffrey Sugden

I'd be wary of disposing of Council owned properties hastily, especially in areas with high development. We may see important uses for these properties develop over time as new communities grow. Also make sure that disposing of properties that can be parks or reserves considers the amount of useful recreation areas surrounding these properties, not just the number of recreation areas on paper.

2157 - John Quayle

I do not approve of this

2183 - Hali Stauffer

I want to express my strong opposition to the proposed disposal of council-owned properties. If these assets must be relinquished, priority should be given to organisations dedicated to land restoration or community advocacy. Possibilities include regenerating native bush ecosystems similar to Riccarton Bush, creating community-managed food forests, establishing shared gardens, or creative co-ops. It's crucial to recognise that the properties under consideration make up less than 1% of the Council's overall portfolio and won't significantly impact current levels of service. The estimated revenue from their sale over the life of the LTP is approximately $20-$23 million. However, selling off these assets to developers is a short-sighted solution with minimal financial benefit. To truly save costs and enhance community well-being, residents should be given the opportunity to find creative and responsible ways to utilise the assets they live within. This approach not only preserves valuable green spaces but also fosters community engagement and sustainability initiatives.

2214 - Paul Kruger

Do not privatise council assets! Retain for the ratepayers

2304 - Stephanie Burke

bad

2316 - Samina Beale

Noooo, please do not take the risk of your jaw dropping buildings falling into the wrong hands and being lost forever.

2443 - Greg Urquhart

Pathetic.....the council driven by the left ideology wouldnt even investigate the options of making substantial change and selling underperforming assets. This proposal is like milking mice.

2497 - Carolyn Lynn

Not in favour

2499 - Amanda Ray

I think the council should hold onto our assests.

2521 - Stuart Jones

What do you think of our proposal to start formal processes to dispose of five Council-owned properties?

DONT SELL ASSETS. EXCEPT RED ZONE.

2532 - Ken Begg

What do you think of our proposal to start formal processes to dispose of five Council-owned properties?

I do not support the disposal of council owned properties

2581 - Emily & Master Owen Easterbrook

keep properties in council ownership

2584 - Susan Stevens

Council should keep it's assets and manage them correctly to generate income.

259 - Margaret McEvedy
Shortsighted

2595 - Nicola Hely
I am against the sale of 26 Waipara St - selling it would lose any future chance of having a shared path along the Cashmere Stream.

2615 - Virginia Wright
I am not in favour of selling green spaces into private ownership where that is likely to bring in its wake the loss of those spaces. As Christchurch's population continues to grow all green spaces should be protected.

2621 - Caroline Gray
Should not happen.

2672 - Ian Flatley
Maintain these properties - Technology in the future is unknown. Many assets disposed off can be subsequently found to be of use for future infrastructure (think stormwater, community batteries etc)

2692 - Liz Fletcher

Strongly disagree

2693 - Tanya Markman

I do not think this is a good idea. I would oppose it

2695 - Dave Gardner
I think it's a bad idea. I think they should be turned into parks or mini forests as this would help with Christchurch's canopy cover

271 - Jim Veitch

Not aware of these - disappointing if has to be done

272 - Hugh Hawkins

Do not do that. This is short-sighted.

2756 - Stephanie Defregger

No. Do not sell our assets.

2770 - Sarah Lassche-Jones

No don't sell anything.

2771 - Suzanne Antill

No selling of Christchurch Council assets.
These belong to the people of Christchurch.
and have been paid for by the people of Christchurch.

2772 - Janice Antill

No - Selling of the People
Citizens of Christchurch ASSETS !

2780 - Maree Hemingsen`

Prefer you didn't sell assets.

2786 - Redact Redacted

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Tarras Airport]

what do you think of our proposal to start formal processes to dispose of five council-owned properties.

Do not sell any properties - that is unless it is the Tarras land for the proposed airport.

2813 - John Antill

No selling of christchurch council assets

2817 - Emma Twaddell (St Albans Residents' Association)

We submit no road reserves or CCC owned property be sold in the established older areas of the inner city. These are essential greenspace in our intensifying communities. These small spaces will be important in our community in the future.

None of the 5 listed parks or reserves should be sold.

2827 - Carley Dove-McFalls (Generation Zero Ōtautahi)

GZ supports governments maintaining assets (so that the public can have a greater say and the return of land to local iwi is easier) rather than selling them to private corporations who tend to only care about making money at the expense of the environment and people.

2830 - Fiona Bennetts

I oppose any potential sale of 26 Waipara St, as it is the only possible future link from Cracroft through to a future shared path along the Cashmere Stream.

2836 - Jillian Frater

I opposed the potential sale of 26 Waipara Street, as it could in future provide a link between Cracroft and a future shared path along Cashmere Stream.

2846 - Olwyn Ferguson

i would hope that you will be able to find some use for the Council owned properties such as a community hub or something.

2868 - Jonty Coulson

I oppose the sale of 26 Waipara street if and when it occurs. This area should be used to create a shared path along the Cashmere stream.

3046 - Gisela Faber

Keep for later

3060 - Georg Ludwig

If they are a positive financial asset on the long run, keep them. I am not interested in short term solutions, which may result in rate increases in the future

3076 - Melvin Anderson

Keep all council properties

3088 - Heather Brown

Maintain existing publicly owned assets.

>>>

Ok - I read the proposal and they seemed justified.

3110 - Michael Beard

A bad idea

3133 - Martin Maunsell

I don't think our assets should be sold

3145 - Leah Wild

Not in favour

3170 - Derek Doddington (Top Dog Theatre)

Not keen

3191 - John Massie

I'm against it, its just a way to siphon tax payer money to your rich mates.

3193 - Allan Greenall

No

3203 - Vic Daniel

should not sell public owned assets

3209 - Anouk Minnaar

I don't support any potential sale of 26 Waipara St, as it is the only possible future link from Cracroft through to a future shared path along the Cashmere Stream

3221 - Kenneth Dsouza

Disagree

3234 - Rhys Pryde-Wall

Once assets are gone. They are gone, this is short sighted to make numbers on the bottom of a spreadsheet look better but increase the cost for future generations

327 - Roland Harrison

This proposal to dispose of Council-owned properties is short-sighted. The sale of valuable assets has generally been shown to be negative for the community.

3314 - Esther Scott

Please do not sell council owned assets

3361 - Ali Cameron

I am against selling off assets . The council wastes money every year on unnecessary projects that puts us into never ending debt .

3379 - Mike Currie

I do not support the disposal of Council-owned properties. CCC should maintaining assets (so that the public can have a greater say and the return of land to local iwi is easier) rather than selling them to private corporations who tend to only care about making money at the expense of the environment and people.

3427 - Mikaere Greenslade

We should keep these as city owned

3452 - Sabine Handel

No to selling off assets.

3501 - Malcolm Long (Ōpāwaho Heathcote River Network)

4. The list of council-owned properties for potential disposal includes a number of Port Hills Residential Red Zone properties. These properties may yet serve some useful purpose in helping to achieve the aims of the Port Hills Plan once this document has been created.
 - 4.1. Hence we do not support the disposal of council-owned properties on the Port Hills until such time as it may be established that they serve no purpose for the Port Hill Plan.
 - 4.2. Similarly, we do not support the disposal of the following reserve lands until such time as it may be established that they serve no purpose for the Port Hill Plan.
 - 4.2.1. 148R Penruddock Rise, Drainage Reserve
 - 4.2.2. 26 Waipara Street, Cracroft
 - 4.2.2.1. This is a reserve, without any built structure on it, that is the only possible future link for a path from Cracroft proper through to the Cashmere Stream.

3542 - Beatrix Gilling

I oppose the sale of 26 Waipara St, as it is the only possible future link from Cracroft through to a future shared path along the Cashmere Stream.

3550 - Sam Hewitt

[Other/Special Interest Topics > CCHL matters]

I dont think the council should sell any of its assets unless it absolutely cannot find any use for them. I think the council should bring community housing under its own CCHL wing. Many of these properties would make good land for residential developments, and could provide affordable housing for many people.

3559 - Alana Harper
No shouldn't be done

3573 - Joyce Yager
I do not support any disposal of council-owned properties. This is short-term thinking. These properties can be instead repurposed as community centres and more.

3585 - Rachel Fulton
Oppose any potential sale of 26 Waipara St, as it is the only possible future link from Cracroft through to a future shared path along the Cashmere Stream

3652 - Andrew Hamlin
not to up to date with this , but my gut says no. Keep all assets if they will help CCC profit in the long run.

3657 - Ruth Bullen
Don't agree with disposal, not enough information to see a good reason to sell

3668 - Gavin Hardie
We should keep these properties.

3721 - Benn Dickie
[Parks > Tree Canopy], [Revenue > Disposal of Red Zoned Land]

The proposed land for disposal - don't sell it, plant it!

>>>

[Parks > Tree Canopy]

I disagree - make these 'Greendot' spaces, entrust Trees for Canterbury and Te Ara Kākāriki to plant

3725 - Richard Smith
I oppose any potential sale of 26 Waipara St, as it is the only possible future link from Cracroft through to a future shared path along the Cashmere Stream

3738 - Finn Jackson

I oppose the proposed sale of 26 Waipara St, as it is the only property in Cracroft proper without a structure. This means it has potential use as a future link from Cracroft through to a shared path along the Cashmere Stream. I oppose the sale of 148R Penruddock Rise. This should be retained until after the development of the Port Hills Plan in case it has utility under the plan for fire hazard mitigation, biodiversity, or other purposes.

3745 - Victoria Rathgen

Keep the parks and the grounds. Reuse for carbon credits and community gardens...do not want concrete jungles and to be a suburb of Ashburton

>>>

Do not gift away parks and farmland, once concrete poured that's it no more land

3767 - Donna Faucher

No - need someone that knows how to manage money and use it effectively

3771 - Paul Bacon

Keep them

3781 - Trevor Spiers

No

3784 - Simona Wallwork (Nomads United AFC)

I don't agree with it

3844 - My-Linh Dang

Council-owned properties are the asset of the people. It is irresponsible to dispose of them. Plans should be had to monetise them long term so they become income-producing assets in the long term.

385 - Francesca Brown

Disagree - land has a value which will only increase. Unless these can be gifted to charities/trusts

3882 - Jodi Gauci

No, keep assets

3886 - Kim Moss

No

3904 - Lee Barber

Keep assets

391 - Paris Porter

bad idea

3917 - Bob Thayer

No No No. In the short term we will get a cash injection. In the long term it is selling the family silver. It is better to retain these assets and with good management they must be able to cover any debt servicing and pay a dividend to the City.

3957 - Anne Scott (Spokes Canterbury)

We oppose any potential sale of 26 Waipara St, as it is the only possible future link from Cracroft through to a future shared path along the Cashmere Stream.

3971 - Joseph Fullerton

Don't. The Port Hills Red Zone must become native planting to prevent future fires.

4032 - Paul Dietsche

Turn them into investments in renewable energy

4034 - Remy Barbier

I emphatically do not support disposal.

4038 - Jodi Wright

No

414 - Jackie Maurice

No!

433 - Derek Phelps

Absolute Nuts

51 - Zoe Brock

NO.

554 - Veronika Gabel

I would like to oppose this on the basis of loss of control over strategic assets, as well as significant long term revenue. I feel that this would be short sighted both in view of future generations and risks.

571 - Judita Paulionyte

Don't do it

572 - Brian Nelson

Do not sell our council assets.

[Coder Note: in relation to the disposal of five Council-owned properties]

624 - Emma Velde

Don't sell off assets

63 - Jean Lindo

Not a good look

762 - Julie Nelmes

selling assests is never a good idea longterm

8 - Justin Yudistira

oppose the sale of 26 Waipara St

883 - Elizabeth Steel

I'd prefer that the reserves become proper, functioning nature reserves that can serve the community by providing a refuge from harsh urban spaces and providing a place for biodiversity to live. I don't have strong feelings on the fate of the parks. The one being sold to a community housing provider sounds good given the housing crisis.

899 - Sharon Pavich

I think it is a good idea to come up with capital to help fund proposed projects

904 - George Cox

I generally disagree with public property being sold or disposed of. I would like to see the 'reserves' be used as ecological islands in the city if possible. The added benefits of letting land be reclaimed by nature is probably more valueable than selling it off. However, i understand that doing so could incur a cost but I would like for you to consider returning these properties to nature.

Other

1031 - George Tylee

Do not gift anything. Only sell at market rates or retain.

1034 - James Forde

Dispose, and use the funds to reduce debt .

1067 - Iarene Jelley

Get rid of Tarras, keep the others going this term.

1079 - Gayle Johnston

If they are of no use or aren't bringing in enough revenue then we should sell

1122 - Justine Essenberg

Sell them to create more homes. If it's not land that can be built on, plant trees, plant fruiting nature, give it to the people

1156 - Brian Hutchinson

Yes Te Oka should be sold an an honest assement of the true cost of maintaining a block of land like Kaitorete spit when there is a double up with enviroment canterbury and Doc with land right next doo4

1168 - Annie Pattison

If it's unnecessary, give it to charity, except the Port Hills ones.

1191 - Ava Johnson

Potential uses could include regenerating native bush ecosystems akin to Riccarton Bush, establishing community-managed food forests, or creating shared gardens. "The properties under consideration represent less than 1% of the Council's overall portfolio and will not impact current service levels. The projected revenue from property sales throughout the Long-Term Plan period is approximately $20-$23 million."

1216 - Glenn Maguire

Gifting needs to be managed so the land is passed back to council if anyone try's to sell it on to overseas parties.

1259 - Paula Darrell

I am happy if there are other reserves close to them but if not we should keep them and re green them

1265 - Jill Banbury

Empty sections if applicable could be sold for appropriate housing or made into a green space

1303 - Paul Johnston

I support managed asset sales. However they should be based on the profitability of the asset. It is not giving a return on investment, get rid of it.

1319 - Luke Sweeney

Do we currently get funds by having them? Will they increase in value? If not then yes

1323 - Mark Hubbard

Go for it. Use proceeds to reduce rates.

1327 - Chris O'Brien

I'm happy with disposing of these as long as none of the Councils major assets, e.g. Airport, Port etc are not touched.

1334 - David Cowie

Sell the land to the public not a business entity.

1353 - Michelle Dyer

Keep those that return a high yield for the investment

1358 - Rob Noster

Sell them and pay the debt or use it to fix the roads etc.

1362 - Pablo Rodriguez

If these assets must be relinquished, priority should be given to organizations dedicated to land restoration. Possibilities include regenerating native bush ecosystems similar to Riccarton Bush, creating community-managed food forests, or establishing shared gardens.

1377 - J Scandrett

dispose of underperforming council assets

1391 - Anna Gruczynska

I support disposing low community value, low financial yield properties especially if they cost ratepayers to maintain. If these properties fall into this category, then I support that they be disposed of.

1407 - Scott Butcher

Yes disposal of hill properties is a good idea. I would oppose the selling of any property within the Avon Otakaro River Corridor.

1408 - Tracey Fowlds

Depends if people who live in them have other places to go

1413 - Tania Brewer

Not good we need our libraries.

1430 - Dan Hartwell

Only if there is no potential that such properties may be required in the future or that the asset can be retained and leased out etc

1508 - Mb Brennan

depends... perhaps if you feel of no future benefit to the city

1541 - Maurice Adler

[Revenue > Disposal of Council Owned Land]

My view on selling assets is that it is a very short sighted vision. It only helps for one or two years. But if we are receiving a dividend from the asset, we get that over the long term, not just one or two years.

1544 - Daana Watson

If they are surplus to needs and not income generating, then dispose so they can be put to better use.

1546 - Robert Fleming

I agree, following a consultation process. Care needs to be taken that land isn't sold off that may be useful for public amenity in a more densely populated city.

1547 - Graham Allan

maybe sell only a portion off the properties

1567 - Sarah Pritchett

As long as you work with the relevant communities right at the start so they are part of the whole process and can make decisions that work for them

1568 - Kathryn May

Yes but needs to be open transparency about this - can these properties be offered first to residents of the red zone who were not offered to buy back their land from the Crown. Otherwise this needs to be conducted in public arena with price settled on and also who bought it being made public - these are opportunities for developers to gain these properties easily for a too cheap a price.

1581 - Ann Kleiss

No more parks. We have enough. Keep areas aside for future roads. They may be needed in future

16 - Andrew McKay

Just five, try 50 as a start.

1613 - David Browne

If not strategic then dispose of them.

1620 - Daisy Sinnadurai

use all the properties wisely.

1646 - Dale McGregor

Selling them outright would be a problem, but the Council looking at selling parts of the Council owned properties would be an idea that could be pursued.

1668 - Simon Mitchell

I like the idea but make sure it isn't a long drawn out and costly process - as most council run processes appear to be which significantly reduces the overall benefit of this plan.

1676 - James Boland

Need to take the communities along, and make sure not to cause unexpected consequences by thinking about land disposal in terms of 10-20 year effects not just what might happen short term to justify the sale. Don't adopt a "no longer our problem" approach.

17 - Sandra Pilet

I don't know to be honest. If you stopped spending you wouldn't be in that position

1717 - Mark Doyle

Explore it and provide the findings and options.

1732 - Carole Logan

Selling off assets needs a lot of thought, will you be able to make use of these places in the future? Silly to sell something now then need a space for something later & pay way way more for it than you got.

1781 - Charlotte McGregor

Good just depends on what would be happening with those buildings. If they actually get used and benefit the community then absolutely dispose of them.

1815 - Tony Hallams

Support disposal of council properties as well as vast tracts of land on Banks Peninsula

1825 - John Davies

Sell them

1913 - Liz Meek

Keep parks and plant large trees which actually increase proper tree canopy. Continued densification installs only small shrubs and low trees such as flowering cherry.

1927 - Donna Gillatt

It depends on many factors and what will ultimately happen with the funds from sales. If it is to pay off debt then potentially a good plan. If just to spend more then not. Can those properties be repurposed for the community that already owns them?

1944 - Peter Salvesen

They can come down if they are just sitting idle. Waste of money having properties sitting in unused land.

1945 - Lucy Howell

Overall I support governments maintaining assets so that the public can have a greater say and the return of land to local iwi is easier, rather than selling them to private corporations who tend to only care about making money at the expense of the environment and people.

1952 - Xin Yi Wong

The only reason why I would suggest retention of the Council-owned properties would be if there was good opportunity for the Council to create urban forests, or needed social/accessible housing, etc.

2055 - Joanne Byrne

Do not sell historical buildings.

2060 - Liv van Workum

I don't understand how that is for the betterment of our city. Can those spaces not be repurposed within the city for the people?

2103 - P Stark

looking back on the history of these building and how iconic some of them are selling these may not be the best for the city long term outcome unless the new owners are nzers and have a plan on purchase to upgrade and not on sell without consultation with CCC as need to be owned by nzers not foreigners as part of the cities history

2111 - Vaughan Wright

If unused or under utilised it makes sense to sell

2115 - Billie Kaine

If they aren't making good return any sensible person would sell

2227 - Megan Officer-Christmas

Go for it Gift that money to orana wildlife park

2251 - Mobim Mathew

As long as there is no benefit in maintaining them yes. Otherwise keep it for the stormy day. They will appreciate. Or lease them.

230 - Peter Elliott

Unless the properties are specified it's impossible to comment. I feel this is being kept deliberately vague to hide things. Because of this I don't agree.

2301 - Ian Douthwaite

Council owns far too much land, with associated holding costs. Effort should be made to significantly reduce the amount of land owned. Stop being the owner of last resort.

2302 - Lisa Dockery

Yes only if they are giving no return. If they are costing the council then its time to get rid of. Council needs to get back to Hi core finding of infrastructure
 & core business

What do you think of our proposal to dispose of other Council-owned properties which includes former Residential Red Zone Port Hills properties?
 Definitely needs to be done

What do you think of our proposal to gift Yaldhurst Memorial Hall to the Yaldhurst Rural Residents' Association?

2309 - Margaret Austin

Make sure the public is informed and understands the reasoning and consequences. if they make a return to the people through the CCC think twice.

2355 - Iain Sanders

Have we considered the alternatives? Can we go into business partnership to create multiple streams of income with other parties?

Can we develop food growing cooperatives in the former Residential Red Zone and use these properties to partner with residents and businesses to sell produce to local residents that cover our costs?

2362 - Rosalee Jenkin

26 Waipara Street should not be sold as it provides a possible link to a future shared path along Cashmere Stream.

2368 - Alaine Percasky

If these cannot be used for events or cultural use.

2385 - Ezra Mussa

Mataroa Reserve should not be disposed of.

Penruddock 3 Drainage Reserve should not be disposed of.

Vacant Section Balance of Te Kura not required should not be disposed off and should be converted to a public greenspace/ raingarden.

2389 - Aurora Garner-Randolph

if suitable they should be used to build council owned cheap sustainable public housing, or given as gifts to communities to use as community gardens.

2407 - Dave Evans

Agreed. Been too long in waiting already. But don't "dispose" of properties unless putting them to better use (with local input) is not made a priority. Letting them rot in place is not/ has not been a smart move.

2422 - Debora Mora

If you aren't making $$$ from it, and don't need it,....SELL it! OR, develop it and sell it to assist with bringing the rates down.

If you dont need it SELL it!

2427 - Joe Henderson

Good idea if they are no longer fit for purpose or not used very often

2434 - Philip Bones

I am suspicious. What appears in the Plan seems very vague. Like most citizens I would need to know exactly what was proposed and see a reasoned argument for the disposing of properties.

2435 - Johanna Borella

I think you should fix them for more housing

2438 - Courtney Bennett

I support the disposal of council owned properties where there is an established group - especially community based groups - that wish to aquire the property.

2441 - Matt and Jay Harris

As owners of a property next to a red zone area in Redcliffs, we are very supportive of council looking to see how the use of these areas can be released to the community for wider use. However our view is that these option discussions should be held with neighbouring property owners as a first priority. Attached is a sketched proposal for how the owners of and would like to develop an option with CCC, in order to adopt adjacent red zone land that is currently unused. We propose to develop a local boundary change so we can adopt additional red zone area adjacent to our properties (see attached sketches), for increased driveway/access to our properties. i.e. we both get our own access driveway and are able to potentially increase the plan area of our lots to become freehold lots rather than cross-leased. These driveway accesses already exist to the original lots, so it is only a minor boundary change that is required with little actual on site works being required, with the additional benefit of reduced maintenance of this area for CCC.

[Full attachment available]

2442 - Paula Bevilacqua

A good idea. However, why dispose of parks and green areas when they may be developed and lead to a decrease in the target for green spaces etc?

2455 - Ben van Opzeeland

Yes I'm for it, would love for the land to be used for things which benefit all though. Not sure if that comes into it.

2471 - Jennifer Taylor

If currently owned council properties and business could be made more profitable in private hands then that suggests they are currently being mis-managed. If that is the case then they should remain in council hands and be re-staffed with competent people. If they can't be made profitable then they should be sold.

2476 - Reuben Scott (Simeon Park Community Group)

We would like to know more information about what the other parks are and whether there would be any opportunity to plant trees or work with community to see if there is any energy to do projects that increase bio-diversity or co-housing projects etc.

2498 - REDACTED REDACTED

It sounds good from what has been said, knowing which properties would make it easier to decide.

2507 - Bronte Barber

Mataora Reserve - unless significant - dispose Penruddock - Confused to what section on maps - Keep playground, dispose any non-useable land. Waipara St - As long as not the Waipara playground and has no use to CCC - dispose. Kinloch Rd - If not needed/using up rate payers money - please dispose. Sutherlands - Unsure on what it is - if it can be used for community / nothing nearby useful keep otherwise dispose.

2508 - Oliver Hutchison

Oppose any sale of 26 Waipara Street. Pedestrian throughfare from Cracroft through to the Cashmere Stream should be constructed here.

2524 - Ruth Falconer

Good: If they're not producing good asset results - sell them.

2536 - Jennifer McDonald

Needs thinking about
Depends on the return it gives the Council and would be lining the Council or Residents pockets?

2545 - Antony Gough (Terrace Christchurch Ltd)

Sites like the current temporary stadium should be prepared for sale once the new stadium is built. Council does not need to retain this land. The Red bus parking site on the corner of Moorehouse Avenue and Fitzgerald Avenue is another site that should be sold off. The council no longer owns the Red Bus service so it has no need to be the owner of this site. There are many properties in Christchurch that the council owns that are surplus to its needs and these should all be considered for sale to released funds back to council. Council should not be land banking. For instance there is a small property on the corner of Fendalton Road and Glandovey Road that was left over from the road widening done on Fendalton Road many years ago. This property is too small for a playground or any other council use and it should be sold off rather than needing mowing every two weeks and other maintenance. There are many such properties in Christchurch like this that should be searched out and sold off.

2559 - Michael Campbell

I am neutral the idea but I think this should be consulted on separately to allow for a decent review of the proposals

256 - Bill May

Which ones?

2586 - Leeann Watson (Business Canterbury)

Consideration should be given by the Council to strategically package some of these properties for a larger sale that may have a more positive amenity benefit (i.e. through the enablement of a larger development opportunity), rather than individually consulting on and selling the assets.

2602 - Dorothy Jordan

Think it's a good idea, but at this present time don't know the negatives for doing this. I expect people much closer to the decision and area involved may have differing views.

2618 - Margaret Stewart

I am concerned about the disposal of Council owned properties. Sell the family silver and you lose the long term benefits of the asset. More information would be helpful.

2664 - Peter Galbraith

Oppose any potential sale of 26 Waipara St, as it is the only possible future link from Cracroft through to a future shared path along the Cashmere Stream

2678 - Fiona McKenzie

I don't know enough here but trust communities to value their own buildings

2682 - Scott Savage

If an asset is providing positive income then keep it. If it's a liability then get rid of it.

2701 - Blair Smith

I live in Cashmere and have two young kids who love biking, running and generally playing outside. I'd oppose any potential sale of 26 Waipara St, as it is the only possible future link from Cracroft through to a future shared path along the Cashmere Stream.

2738 - Patricia (Patsy) Eastwood

As long as they are costing ratepayers money, then why keep them? If they are generating a return, why sell them?

2750 - Helen Johnstone

If there is no income from those properties, then dispose of them. If there is any way they can provide income, then consider that instead.

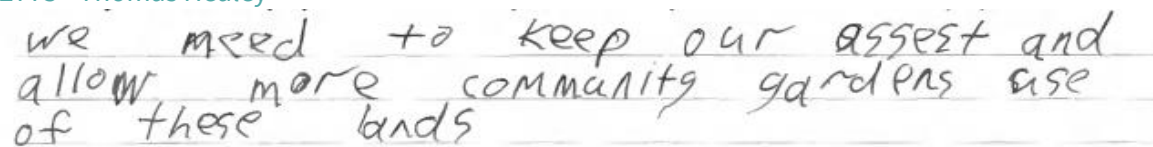

2751 - Helen Holyoak

Ok to start that process but Council needs to truly ask if they can use the existing asset to benefit of community before disposing.

2758 - Christopher Seay

Think long term while considering selling properties. It will be hard, if not impossible, to get the land back if it is needed in the future.

2773 - Thomas Healey

we need to keep our asset and allow more community gardens use of these lands

2799 - Dot Lovell-Smith

i) Disposal of the 5 properties No 5 Mataroa place . Offer it to the local residents as a community garden . or It could be planted as a carbon sink with indigenous trees and shrubs, or If it is possible to have a walkway through it linking two streets, build the walkway and sell the surplus to one of the neighbours to plant a big hedge on. 148 R Penruddock Rise should be kept and have trees planted on it to provide some green shelter and aesthetic interest in a bleak wind swept hill side. ii) The sections in Arotoro Place should be kept and planted in natives trees. It could be amalgamated with the tree slopes, above it, fenced and turned into an predator free bird Ark in the city. There could be some local millionaires who would get behind the fencing and planting project. I think you should sell or lease the residential land to a community housing project and other similar community housing groups as long as they are committed to building carbon neutral, sustainable housing. I do not think you should sell any other vacant council properties, but hold them and plant them for carbon sinks . You never know when a community group needs some land for a site for a project that will help Christchurch get to zero carbon. With the enormous population growth projected for the city there is a real need to preserve the old and instigate new green areas

2822 - Angela Leatherby

Council is not always the best organisation to own property, we should always consider who could activate these spaces more effectively and efficiently and it often isn't us.

2828 - Thomas Kulpe

There is a great demand for housing and relocation through managed retreat. There is demand for flood plains, areas for afforestation (carbon sequestration) etc. It is virtually impossible to make a general statement whether a property should be sold or not without knowing the details.

2831 - Sebastian Denize

I support disposal of these priorities, provided Treaty considerations are followed, and any use only be allowed to have a positive impact on the climate emergency

2833 - Robbie Peacocke

The information on pg 218 of Vol 1 looks like these are ok to sell. Given this, I'd like to emphasise that selling assets should only be done if thorough analysis has found there is no benefit to maintaining them, and there is no likely future use council could use them for (particularly given suburban land values largely increase over time).

2834 - Geoff & Liz Carter

We think there is potential to dispose of a number of reserves that are totally underutilised - in fact not used as reserves at all. The capital gain could be used for capital projects on other reserves.

2845 - Erin Todd

Specifically, the council shouldn't sell 26 Waipara Street as it is critically the only potential link between Cracroft and a future shared path along Cashmere Stream.

2852 - Aaron Ghattas

If not needed, sell with caveats for future development if to be developed.

2864 - Darin Cusack

Yes were practical and where it is excess but keep property that future protects infrastructure expansion and resilience

289 - Julian Springer

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Asset Sales]

There would be more money to invest if we sold surplus assets (cchl) and needless land owned by the council.

make it 50. get on with it.

2905 - Vida Zelenka

Yes if the community housing stays in the authority of the council, don't if they developer will make a huge profit at the expense of council And residents

2913 - Amanda Ovenden

I think you need to repurpose the facilities to deal with the changing challenges of today's society eg : addiction, mental health challenges , homelessness or health and wellness facilities . The fact the council properties go straight to Māori land bankers is unacceptable, so the council doesn't make or save any money doing this .

2919 - Hayley Guglietta (Avon Ōtākaro Network INC)

Disposal of council-owned properties

We support the disposal of unneeded land, as long as it is in areas where the intensification and green space balance is met or if it might be required for better transport infrastructure in the future.

2922 - Zak Morrison

The property at 26 Waipara Street holds strategic importance as it represents the only potential future link from Cracroft to a future shared path along the Cashmere Stream. This link is crucial for enhancing connectivity and accessibility within the area, promoting active transport, and improving the overall network of pedestrian and cycling paths in Christchurch. Impact on Community Connectivity and Active Transport: Disposing of this property could significantly hinder the development of essential infrastructure that supports the Council's strategic priorities of promoting active transport and reducing emissions. The establishment of a shared path along Cashmere Stream, facilitated by the connectivity through 26 Waipara Street, would provide substantial benefits, including: - Enhanced Active Transport Options: Encouraging walking and cycling, which aligns with the Council's goals of a greener, more liveable city. - Community Connectivity: Improving access between neighborhoods, thereby fostering greater community interaction and cohesion. - Environmental Benefits: Contributing to emission reduction and environmental sustainability through increased use of non-motorized transport. Recommendations: Given the strategic importance of 26 Waipara Street for future infrastructure development and its potential benefits to the community and environment, it is recommended that the Christchurch City Council: - Retain Ownership of 26 Waipara Street: Exclude this property from the list of disposals to preserve its potential for future community and infrastructure developments. - Explore Alternative Funding and Development Options: Investigate other means to manage or capitalize on this asset without selling it, such as partnerships for developing the shared path or securing grants for green infrastructure projects. - Engage with the Community: Conduct thorough community consultation specifically regarding the future use of 26 Waipara Street to gather input and explore ideas that align with community needs and Council objectives. The proposal to dispose of five Council-owned properties, including 26 Waipara Street, requires careful consideration of the long-term impacts on the city's infrastructure and community goals. Retaining 26 Waipara Street for future development as part of a shared path along Cashmere Stream would align with the Council's strategic priorities and provide significant benefits to the community and environment. It is crucial that decisions regarding such strategic assets are made with a long-term perspective, ensuring alignment with broader city planning and sustainability goals.

2923 - Amanda Peter

I worry that it will be cheap property for mates! aka not transparent.

2942 - Will Taylor

Excluding the port hills and Taylor mistake property this makes sense. It also doesn't make sense to redevelop any red zone

2947 - Katia De Lu

I am generally in favour of CCC maintaining assets rather than selling them off to private corporations, but I support sales to community housing providers.

2951 - Les McKay

If they are a profitable entity then they should be kept inhouse.

2993 - Nikki Staskiewicz

Get rid of the one proposed for a road that isn't forthcoming and the one held for utility purposes with only one cable. Keep the rest and use them as mara kai / community green space. There are many willing souls that would help with this if you provide some support.

2995 - Ronnie Davey (Citizens Advice Bureau Christchurch Area)

Council properties to be disposed of should not be sold for commercial developers for profiting.

2998 - Jane Higgins (Christchurch Methodist Mission)

Where consideration is being given to disposal of Council owned properties, we encourage Council to prioritise Community Housing Providers who can use this land for social housing.

3012 - George Laxton

No comment apart from interesting point about “potential sale of 26 Waipara St, as it is the only possible future link from Cracroft through to a future shared path along the Cashmere Stream” that I saw Greater Otautahi mention.

3018 - Kristal Jenkins

Think long and hard about the effect it could have better going a head with any decision. They decisions shouldn't be taken lightly

3044 - Tony Smail

Council staff can determine property transactions - knowing that greenspace is difficult to get so wouldnt like that being lost

3061 - David Hawke (Halswell Residents Association (Inc.))

Action requested (6): do not sell 32 Sutherlands Road until a site for the New Dog Park – South West Christchurch has been determined.

3077 - Mike Davidson

Consult on selling the Lichfield Car Parking building.

3089 - Trevor Lord

Divesting assets should be carefully balanced. If they have long term strategic, cultural, or heritage values, or the like, and may be reduced under new ownership, the decision should be put to public consultation on a case by case basis. CCC share in Te Kaha being sold off would have little negative connotations as new buyers will have incentives to continue the project, by definition.

3090 - Trudi Bishop

Any properties that are reserves should not be sold as we are short of healthy land for native flora and fauna to flourish. We should instead keep them and encourage local planting and leisure enjoyment of the land.

3096 - Hamish Mitchell

Sell them at market rate

3123 - Kate Markman

I agree with the disposal on the one to the community housing, I think a review needs to happen around the location of the others, to have more of an equitable park distribution for areas of the city with less resources

3127 - Dianne Downward

If properties are no longer needed then sell and invest in something that will bring a better return.

3189 - Susan Pearson

If one of these is The Arts Centre - strongly disapprove.

3195 - Redacted Redacted

Why not turn them into areas that everyone can use?

3286 - Jaz Hector

Sell the land to developers

3310 - James Lunday

Dont dispose add value

3325 - Adele Geradts

Council-owned properties should only be disposed of if they are not needed for community purposes. Potentially for schools, parks or new service centres. I believe that complete investigations should be done and full community consultation and engagement sought (not just this consultation).

3354 - Andrea Langan

Do it if they are not profitable

3357 - Merav Benaia

As much as I support retaining assets, it makes sense to make sure an asset doesn't turn to a burden. I support offering assets identified as possible for sale to previous owners first.

3363 - Brodie Marra-Stevenson

Offer to iwi at low price first.

3364 - Alison Murray

As long as the money is used properly.

338 - Jennifer Riley

Where possible I think the council should convert community owned properties into affordable public housing and emergency housing.

3411 - Marian Krogh (Protect Our Winters NZ)

We oppose any potential sale of 26 Waipara St, as it is the only possible future link from Cracroft through to a future shared path along the Cashmere Stream

3414 - Chrissie Williams

I do not support the disposal of the following reserve lands until such time as it may be established that they serve no purpose for the Port Hill Plan. 1. 148R Penruddock Rise, Drainage Reserve 2. 26 Waipara Street, Cracroft -This is a reserve- it is a possible future link for a path from Cracroft through to the Cashmere Stream.

3436 - Sara Campbell

Do not sell 26 Waipara St, as it is the only possible future link from Cracroft through to a future shared path along the Cashmere Stream

3483 - Jo Bethell

I am in favour of selling the residential land to a community housing provider for housing. I am highly wary of the reserves being sold off, as they then will likely be developed and that green space will be lost. Alternative uses/purposes of the green spaces should be considered eg for enhancing biodiversity through increased indigenous vegetation, or community garden space.

3497 - Cerys Fletcher

I oppose the sale of 26 Waipara Street, as it could be used as a link from Cracroft through to Cashmere Stream if a shared path were built there for cyclists and pedestrians. I oppose the sale of 148R Penruddock Rise, as it may have utility under the Port Hills Plan for fire hazard mitigation or biodiversity purposes.

3527 - James Stringer

Agree with disposal. Perhaps go further and look at signing leases on other non-core assets and selling these with leases in place to maximise sales value.

3529 - Marc Duff

Fully support the sale of properties that have no use going forward but issue a word of caution, that if there is any properties that are in areas that are likely to come under attack from intensification. With increased intensification, there will be greater need for green space and community centres in these areas as residents cant stay cooped up all day and night with no ill effect on their social well being.

3582 - Cody Cooper

Retain properties where they, or have potential to, provide a walkway from one area to another. Sometimes these properties are the only way through and we can't get them back once sold.

3596 - Susan Lau

I think the council's criteria for retention seem reasonable and so if the properties don't meet these, disposal might make sense.

With respect to the formal processes to follow, I hope that there is thorough consultation and discussion of these proposals with the local communities within which they are situated - so that the implications and opportunities of such disposal are fully understood by the communities.

3599 - Hayley Guglietta

I support the disposal of unneeded land as long as it is in areas where the intensification and green space balance is met or if it might be required for better transport infrastructure in the future.

3603 - Murray James (Food Resilience Network Incorporated)

We support the disposal of unneeded land as long as it is in areas where the requirement for additional green space as a result of density intensification is met.

3606 - Mark Dowers

Careful consideration needs to be made. It made seem expedient now, but could this land be useful in the future? Not opposed if it is in the best interest of the community. I don't believe housing companies have the best interest of communities in mind, only profit.

3615 - Janine Clarke

Council owned land should be offered firstly to the local community for development where the land is before being "sold". Consultation on it's use should be held.

>>>

Formal processes should be undertaken with local consolation about the land use.

3616 - Mark Webster

More discussion needed - because whom do you determine it should go to?

3621 - Morgane Honore

Given the proposal to start formal processes to dispose of five Council-owned properties, I believe it's essential to approach each case with careful consideration and thorough consultation with the community. While I understand the need for the council to manage its assets effectively and efficiently, the disposal of these properties could have significant implications for local residents and stakeholders. Before any decisions are made, it's crucial to engage in transparent and inclusive consultation processes to gather feedback, assess potential impacts, and explore alternative options. Each property may have unique characteristics and potential uses that warrant individualized consideration. Moreover, community input is vital in ensuring that any disposals align with the broader goals and priorities of the community. By involving stakeholders in the decision-making process, the council can foster trust, transparency, and accountability in its asset management practices. Therefore, while I acknowledge the need for the council to evaluate its property portfolio, I believe that any decisions regarding disposal should be made through thorough consultation and careful consideration of community interests and concerns.

3622 - Jono de Wit

I oppose the sale of 26 Waipara St, as it has been identified as a future link from Cracroft to a future shared path along the Cashmere Stream.

3623 - Jessica Adams

Some of the unused properties could be considered for sale but with full public consultation and ensuring that any adjacent properties and dwellings are protected if land work is required for a development.

3627 - Patrick O'Kane

Yes, if not in use and will not have a negative effect on communities.

3635 - Jane Lila McKenzie

What are the spiritual purposes and who for.? if it's a wee church.. I'd like to know thank you. If the properties are losing value and costing then sell as the ccc needs financial gain at the moment, but would selling be a short time gain?

>>>

Council Owned Properties: Will they, or have they been offered to Ngai Tahu first, as many good properties were sold previously at a lesser price to the detriment of the rate payer to this firm.

3636 - Kay Robertson

26 Waipara St is the only access from Cracroft to the Cashmere stream. It should be retained as a future neighbourhood amenity.

3644 - Yvonne Dixon

Please retain the property in Gilberthorpe road. There are non profit community groups who need affordable premises.

3666 - Clarrie Pearce

needs to be discussed

3671 - Linda Nicolson

It's a drop in the bucket! Get rid but don't then give grants to fix up. If community group buy then they need to find the money to maintain. If we are selling we want complete freedom from having any obligations to those buildings. Make sure the buyers aren't dodgy!

3686 - Suzanne Peddie

Reasonable, provided no future Council use can be seen for them and that the money received for them is put to a significant use.

3690 - Jono de Wit (Greater Ōtautahi)

We oppose any potential sale of 26 Waipara St, as it is the only possible future link from Cracroft through to a future shared path along the Cashmere Stream.

3693 - Lynette Wills

ChCh needs to retain it's Council owned properties. How about investigating the wisdom of leasing the CCC Hereford Street Offices! Perhaps, renegotiate the rentals now being paid for these Hereford Street Offices.

>>>

Yes, sell these properties but not the ChCh Airport or the Port of Lyttleton. Only sell properties that are a burden for ratepayers.

3694 - Jane Pairman

Probably okay except for 26 Waipapa Street which should be retained for possible use as a path.

3700 - Ian Cumberpatch

The old adage of not selling the family silver pops into my mind. Any disposal should be carefully considered so that socially and financially to outcomes are positive.

3705 - Glenis Youngman

If the council is not getting a return from the properties they need to be sold to pay down debt.

3706 - Ellie Stevenson

We should hang onto 26 Waipara Street. I'd love to see a shared path in future along the Cashmere Stream. If we want that, we have to keep the only possible link to it. There is no alternative.

3708 - Joan Simpson

Provided the council honours the Treaty of Waitangi and offers the land back to Maori first if that is the legal status of the land.

3712 - Zeta Pringle (Coalition for safe accommodation in Christchurch)

If the sale is spent wisely we do not have an issue with sale of council owned properties. Reinvestment in the city has got to be applauded.

3733 - Helen Reason

A good idea as long as the consultation process is quick and cost effective

3735 - Natalie O'Connell

Council-owned properties should be used for social housing and/or community benefit.

3743 - Ben Ellis

Mataroa Pl, Penruddock Rise and Waipara St properties appear to provide access to nearby green spaces. This should be considered when selling and ideally the access retained.

3757 - Sonia Kennedy

I think if the land could be used to build housing for first-home buyers/community housing, that would be ideal (as opposed to being sold to developers who solely have an aim of maximising profit.)

3759 - Ben Connolly

Need to increase strategic property purchase to enable acquisition of strategic property while still at rural values (IE, once urban/residential, acquisition is cost prohibitive)

3764 - Jack Gibbons

I oppose the sale of 26 Waipara St as that is the only possible avenue for a link to the cashmere stream

3770 - Jane Higgins

I would like to see any Council owned land that is being disposed of being offered first to mana whenua.

3779 - Layling Stanbury

the land should be made into community gardens or planted out in native bush and turned into parks.

378 - Chris Arnold

This is welcomed as long as it does not turn into another drawn out council process and engagement of costly reviews and consultants. You know already the capital value of properties so sale to raise funds and reduce rate increase should be sooner rather than later.

3780 - Jack Halliday

Don't sell 26 Waipara St, as it enables a shared path from Cracroft along the Cashmere Stream

3793 - Mark Gerrard (Historic Places Canterbury)

Potential disposal of Council-owned properties:

"The Council lays out its criteria for disposal as the following: When doing this, our first step is to identify likely properties and assess them against the criteria for retention. These criteria include: • whether the property is being used for the purpose it was originally acquired for • its cultural, environmental or heritage value, and • whether it can meet any of the Council's immediate or longer-term needs."

HPC (Historic Places Canterbury) requests these criteria be modified: Each building/property be assessed by the Heritage Team to determine its Heritage value. (The Council has this responsibility under its own Heritage Strategy)

If it is found to have a Heritage value and is still deemed surplus then it should have a Covenant placed on it and be scheduled in the next Plan Change. HPC requests for all surplus dwellings, the Council firstly call for expressions of interest from community and resident groups to determine if they have a use for it.

3795 - Bede Cunningham

only if return is good.

3799 - Morgane Honore (Richmond Community Garden Trust)

Disposal of council-owned properties

We support the disposal of unneeded land as long as it is in areas where the intensification and green space balance is met or if it might be required for better transport infrastructure in the future.

3802 - Matthew Baird

In general, I support the CCC maintaining assets rather than selling them to private corporations, but I do support sales to community housing providers.

3807 - Graeme Remington

A good idea. Why not let suitable businesses take ownership of Council properties. Let them face the costs of property ownership.

3811 - Greg Canton

Agree with correct oversight. Once they are gone we can't get them back.

3819 - Jessica Halliday

Oppose any potential sale of 26 Waipara St, as it is the only possible future link from Cracroft through to a future shared path along the Cashmere Stream

3830 - Brenda Banning

What does the reserve act applies mean? As long as there is still a good park coverage

3831 - Rick Jones

Worthy of consideration - sell at the right price.

3846 - Rebecca Finch

Selling them seems too easy, couldnt you make them into something cool? Plant more trees on them?

3854 - Michael Laurenson

Why stop there.

3862 - Katharine Metherell

All council properties to be disposed should be notified and time provided for communities to respond on the merits of retention - e.g. if a group has a feasible proposal that would provide community or council benefit then an extended consultation / review should be undertaken. Inefficient assets should be disposed of.

3879 - Douglas Horrell

Please retain the land in Halswell for a future high school or missing and much needed amenities.

3881 - Anne Scott

Support, apart from 26 Waipara St which is needed to link Cracroft via a shared path along Cashmere Stream

3883 - Colin Meurk

in principle we should never be disposing of public assets, yes we need to ensure we get good value for the investment in them, but if anything we should be acquiring more public assets - social housing, quality green space ... indeed we should abolish the whole wilson's car parking monopoly and retain all the income locally.

3895 - Margaret Trotter

Really. What are you doing as a council to fix the city of abandoned buildings that were damaged in the earthquakes. It is embarrassing to be a citizen of Christchurch when you are now looking at a small issue of disposal of council owned properties. Surely you have a vision and long term plan on how these properties will enrich our city. Once sold the property is gone for future generations. It seems like a reaction to get money for property developers. Fix all properties in the city before selling off our heritage which belongs to our future generations.

3898 - Richard Smith

great idea - need to ensure return to CCC is maximised & developer doesn't unduly gain from this

>>>

no land should be transferred to Mana Whenua

3910 - Joshua Jones

Asset or liability, is their value to be made by improving them to sell later?

3913 - Mark Darbyshire

I haven't gone into detail but it seem broadly sensible, provided other submissions don't flag important future uses for these properties (for example Greater Ōtautahi flagged potential implications for active transport).

3935 - Michael Healey

Agree with all with the exception of Mataroa Reserve

3936 - Carley Dove-McFalls

If they are returned to local iwi, I am in support. Otherwise, no, because these tend to go to money-grubbing capitalists

3949 - Fay Brorens

I urge caution. We all know land becomes more expensive with time. Perhaps the parks can become biodiversity rich - this would be great. Land banking is problematic.

396 - Daniel Jackson

I think doing something for the people that could also generate revenue may be a good investment.

3960 - Nicola Prattley

If that will reduce our rates increases, it's a good thing but, if it just means less income for the Council, then no.

3961 - Paul Robertson

please try to do it efficiently, having worked out that it is actually the most financially sensible thing to do and doesnt end up costing us more money in the short or long term.

3988 - Jerry French

YES - SELL IT. ALL. - BUT DON'T WASTE THE PROCEEDS ON FRIVOLOUS EXPENDITURE - USE IT TO KEEP RATES LOW.

3990 - Malcolm Smeaton

What do you think of our proposal to start forming processes to dispose of the council owned properties.

Once it's gone it's gone (except after extraordinary things like earthquakes). Any potential community reserve, or other purpose should be carefully considered now and for the future.

3994 - Sarah Boje

Do what local community feels is best, and base it on potential use, or local importance

4000 - Kari Barr

Yes - get rid of debt - if the money from this goes directly into paying off debt

4006 - Hana Saemon-Beck

No opinion. If it saves money and keep rates down, then yes.

4024 - Richard McCaskill

They need to be identified first but if they are of no future use to council and are costing to maintain, they should be disposed of.

4025 - Robin Wynne-Williams

Some of this land could be used for starting up perpendicular hydroponic farming to increase food production, and ultimately reduce the cost of food, and increase the economics with export, and training young folk and other jobs. Care because when sold, any potential income will be lost unless some clever thinking employed.

406 - Angela Burrill

All Council properties including airport should be divested not just the five suggested.

459 - Aaron Watson

There's an old saying never spend your capital. If you can liquidate assets to which you can invest that money to make money then go ahead, otherwise you are just desolving our assets and funds. There's an old saying never spend your capital. If you can liquidate assets to which you can invest that money to make money then go ahead, otherwise you are just desolving our assets and funds.

48 - Kean Mitchell

Why? Can the assets be repurposed to deliver long term revenue to the city as an asset?

483 - Narelle Gilmour

Gift them all back

533 - Judith Livingstone

Not if you are using them in the long term renting is more expensive

570 - Greg Partridge

I think it would be prudent to do so, however, there should be a caveat attached to them before disposing of them so that for example the existing established trees and green space isn't wiped out by a profit driven developer who lacks environmental ethics.

579 - Rosemary Neave

Council owned properties - the relevant Community Board should have delegated authority to decide this.

581 - Paul Amtman

Not too sure on this, if they are in the red maybe but if they keep rates down keep them.

612 - Annette Mauger

Proceed with caution and due diligence

631 - Cynthia Roberts

A blanket approval is not appropriate, There needs to be a plan and consultation with the nearby communities and community boards about this.

645 - Stewart Mckenzie

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

I support this provided selling terms ensures the buyer is not planning to use the property for a GHG emissions intensive use; and the proceeds from the sale goes into the planned climate resilience fund

655 - Patricia Holden

It should be explored if the properties don't meet the criteria

657 - Murray Peacock

All Council housing needs to be sold and passed to Central Government

>>>

a good idea

665 - Rene Arthur

I'm assuming you are running these at a loss, and Maintenance on these leave a lot to be desired e.g. cultural hub in Hagley. I think you should keep Lyttleton - but find homegrown investors.

666 - Stephen Palfrey

, dispose of the land for development especially social housing.

The proposal is sensible providing the council obtain the best possible return on the asset being disposed of i.e. what it is zoned for.

674 - Carey Poulter

If it means rates increases can be kept to a minimum then agree with it.

687 - Anna Laurenson

If they serve no purpose and are sitting empty then yes sell them. If it's parks or public spaces then no. Keep for everyone's enjoyment money has already been spent developing them.

694 - Lucia Rivas

No opinion as long as the sale is done correctly with consultation

70 - Noel Marceau

It depends on what these properties are. If the sale of these benefits the Public good then this may be okay. If they fall into private ownership and diminish public good then probably not. I would like to see land freed up for additional social housing or climate action measures.

727 - Donal McEvoy

If the cost of the properties outweigh the revenue of the properties, or potential future revenue, they should be sold. If the land or properties are no longer fit for use they should be sold.

733 - Tania Thompson

if they cannot be used for anything good, like a sports ground or community based projects, then get rid of it. have a look at the size of the place, is it good enough for small community housing?

746 - Lara Flavell

If the properties are not generating money & are costing the ratepayer then yes, they should be sold.

750 - Simon Walker

If they are costing large sums of money to run with no Returns I'm happy to get rid of,

774 - Frank Webster

Retain Council-owned properties as much as economic circumstance allows.

78 - Michele Laing

[Parks > Other]

The city needs more biodiversity. Reserves and parks and vacant land are opportunities for these. Small pockets of biodiversity are required in all neighbourhoods. There cannot be 'too many parks and reserves'.

8 - Justin Yudistira

is it possible to built housing in those areas, and rent them so council have more income?

814 - Malcolm McKellar

Adopt a mid and long term strategy. Don't sell for short term gain.

818 - Bevan Phillipson

Ask Community, Referendum possibly??

843 - Ngaire Donelda Bacon

The property held for recreation should not be sold. I have no problem with the four other properties being sold as long as full market value is obtained from the purchaser

865 - Kelvin Duncan

[Other/Special Interest Topics - Yaldhurst Memorial Hall]

OK, but what is to happen to the Upper Riccarton World War 1 Memorial building? I believe that the title search was not adequate as the Council believes it was purchased for Maori in 1919! There was a house on that site for many years before this, so where is the title? If I am right, why is Ngai Tahu going to have first offer rights? And shouldn't Council be morally bound to provide a memorial? What form it could take could be settled in consultation. I was a volunteer librarian in that library. It was greatly appreciated by readers because they could get older books to reqd - in most modern libraries books are disposed of after a few years on the shelf). I applaud the decision to give the Yaldhurst Hall tot he community organisation.

880 - Peter Kim

If its loss making and nit strategic then get rid of them

885 - Denise Kidd

Council originally allowed for properties to be constructed in what have now become at risk from climate change. LIMS did not mention climate / environmental risks for a great many homes. Council has some responsibility for these homes,

Not Stated

100 - Anthea Fraser

Don't know the details but council shouldn't be in the business of holding property. If sold, needs to be open market.

1008 - Angela McPherson

I think any ideas about selling should be weighed against the loss of potential earnings. No sugar hit sales please

1012 - Andrea McGregor

Is it needed? Does it help the community? Who will suffer? Who will benefit. More important than the money

105 - Harriet Murray

What a waste of energy, time, and community goals to get rid of spaces that have previously been invested in.

1175 - Jonathan Ludgater

If any section will not support itself sell

127 - Judith Clarkson

Depends on which ones

128 - Elizabeth Ackermann

Which properties? Yes

1335 - Julie Turner

once sold that's it

1346 - Bianca McKinnon-Gee

Unsure

136 - William Fulton

Would need to know more info

1490 - Carolina Nery

N/A

1501 - Jason Middlemiss (Waimāero Fendalton-Waimairi-Harewood Community Board)

The Board submits that we believe there will be more opportunities for property sales to free up Capital and reduce operating costs.

151 - Marg Flyvbjerg

It sure what 4 of the 5 are

152 - John Stickley

Great idea if managed well. However, don't throw the baby out with the bathwater!

1533 - Mark George

Hard to comment without more information. Will likely future events make these spaces useful for delivering your goals? If not then dispose of them but don't just give them away. The benefit may be indirect, such as the community housing. Avoid being the typical entity seen as spending too much to buy the asset and then selling it on at a cost to ratepayers

1650 - Deb Osborn

Could you make money on these properties if you leased the land? Or are you spending more on upkeep than you're getting for return?

1674 - Susan Galbraith

Put out a referendum

1683 - Anne Forne

Take sound advice

1699 - Dominic McKeown

more clarity is needed

184 - Rebecca Nicholls

Great

1855 - Michael Liu

Keep going

1864 - Kylie Williams

Sounds like you have taken them off other people with government help.

191 - Jenny Harlow

I don't know enough. Instinctively I do not like the thought of disposing of parks and reserves but if I trust the descriptions of the properties so designated that are on the disposal list, it does seem valid to consider disposing of them.

193 - Anne Mahan

If they are not income generating, if they are keep them

205 - Denise Erikson

Not sure which ones they are

2143 - Vicky Anderson

Keep some capital

2166 - Wendy Everingham

I don't like how you haven't identified what/where the properties are.

22 - Grace Colcord

Not a great idea, but also not entirely sure what this means and what buildings these are. Especially if used for the public, what would be replacing these places? And where will they go? Will the land be offered back to mana whenua?

226 - Naressa Gamble

Which properties?

2261 - Tony Hampton (Health New Zealand Te Whatu Ora – Waitaha | Canterbury)

Potential Disposal of Council-Owned Properties: Mataroa Reserve Ref. Page 218	CCC is proposing to dispose of a property at 5 Mataroa Place adjacent to the Burwood Hospital campus. This is described as a small undeveloped reserve located in an area that is well serviced by other parks. There do not appear to be any submission points to raise here –
---	---

2289 - Leonie Jackson

What do you think of our
Unsure

2295 - Katja Charmley

Disposing of Council-owned properties should be approached thoughtfully, it can be a valuable tool for optimising the use of public resources and promoting sustainable development in our community.

2305 - Monique Maynard

UNSURE

2347 - Kate Flood

Get rid of anything that can save us money

240 - Bella Zilber

Not sure what this means.

2448 - Barrie Uren

I suggest they should first get your own house in order as per the excessive rental cost paid to Nga Tahu for your premises in Hereford street which has not been disclosed to the rate payers of Christchurch since before Christmas

2466 - Tracey Cloughly

Only dispose of them if they are not good money earners

2529 - Bernard Newman

What do you think of our proposal to start formal processes to dispose of five Council-owned properties?

The Council is in the best position to decide if these are assets (then to be kept) or liabilities.

260 - Manu Hepi

It depends what the properties are

2603 - Ron Brooks

if they are making money or saving money keep them.

2677 - Jill Schroeder

What are the properties?

2746 - Helen Taylor

Depends on the properties. If you're including The Arts Centre in this - your proposal is foolish. This property meets 'it's cultural, environmental or heritage value' etc. If you cut funding, it won't.

2774 - Clare Elliott

What do you think of our proposal to start formal processes to dispose of five Council-owned properties?

Go whichever way makes a profit!

28 - Geoff Egan

Don't know, if they return a dividend keep them

2811 - Nikora Nitro

Crazy shit
Boys Clubs.

2829 - Jennifer Dalziel

as these havent been identified I cant comment

2855 - Kat Forrester

I have no opinion.

2865 - Natalie Henderson

Unsure about the parks etc bc I'm not sure which ones they are - where they are etc.

287 - Judy Yarwood

Not sure about this one

2953 - Quentin Kelly

What has been the total loss to the rate payer for the council to have held onto them for so long only to be dumped now?

2954 - Tim Frank

This has to be carefully done.

2955 - Linda Morris

Needs careful consideration

299 - Jane Nuttridge

What are the other buildings aside from Yaldhurst hall?

3008 - Wanda Kingma

Councils shouldn't be land lords

3011 - Annette Marchant

Needs care and thought.

3017 - Heather Venis

Unable to comment. Don't have enough background.

3026 - Tony Smail (Canterbury Rugby)

Council have best knowledge to determine this

3068 - Vanessa Wells

No comment

307 - Rata Jamieson

Local governments maintaining assets maintaining property so it becomes easier to return land to local iwi.

3152 - Neroli Fornasier

Not sure

3179 - Rochelle Taylor

Unsure

319 - Fay Stickley

Which properties and are the properties inline for selling to overseas buyers who donot put back into our community or the Rich who get their building permits with no problem so they can put shitty apartments with no parking on the land

320 - Ian Knewstubb (Lyttelton Times Ltd)

I dont know what they are

3200 - Georgina Woods

Disappointed that your willing to dispose of our history and character of our city

3222 - Mark Rayner

Probably a good thing.

326 - Greg Dodds

Not sure – green space land is important – depends on what potential alternative use is proposed for this land.

3305 - Angelita Schwalger

Sad

3346 - Lynette Bay

that could help in reducing our debt

335 - Wayne Bates

Should have been started long ago

336 - Vickie Hearnshaw

These matters must be thought over carefully. The land at Tarras for a future airport may not have been a good spend?

3425 - Hugh Dacre

The problem is whether they might be useful or important in 2 -3 decades from now. It is difficult to have a sensible opinion without seeing the locations.

3453 - Zeta Pringle

This is means to get out of property investment and providing services the community and city needs.

3464 - Serena Smith

If dispose, use that money elsewhere important.

3465 - Hannah Steven

LTP only refers to 1 building

3466 - Mark Stapleton

More publicly advertized detail would be useful but am not adverse to the idea..

347 - Catherine Webber

I DO NOT support selling off of any parks and reserves particularly around the Port Hills. There has always been a greenbelt around the Port Hills this was supposed to be maintained in perpetuity.

3539 - Louwren Moolman

Good

3558 - Patrick Kennedy

Due to small nature (<1% of council land), I don't have any major comment on this section. In general I am in favour of retaining publicly-held assets as it allows the public to have a greater say in their use, rather than selling off to profit-driven corporations.

358 - Tamara Dauvergne

Keep all processes and transactions transparent and publically notified at every stage.

3581 - Steven Barbour

I think, in a long-term plan covering billions of dollars, most of this particular discussion is just noise and gets in the way of far bigger issues.

3625 - Angela Brett

From what details are available here - I guess this sounds fine, though without specifics I don't think I have enough info to comment...

3626 - Connie Christensen

I do not feel that I have enough insight or understanding of these properties, so please get expert advise on whether these can/should be disposed.

3716 - Phillipa O'Loughlin

I'm not sure. It sounds risky.

3827 - Ken Morison

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Asset Sales]

Do the sums. I'd like to see long term net present value calculations. We get too attached to assets but like a good business we need to flick off those that another organisation can use better.

3893 - Joe Pope

Distraction

3927 - Wendy Marshall

Not much

3963 - Jillian Scott

Yes but other properties need consultation before sale.

3977 - Defyd Williams

Council voted in to decide these issues

3996 - David Lough

WE HAVE TO BE HONEST WITH OURSELVES.
TAKE FONTEANA... IT'S SOLD A LOT OF GOOD BUSINESSES
JUST TO GET THE COOPERATIVE IN BETTER SHAPE.

4005 - Janet Lockyer

I couldn't find this information in the document so I can't comment on it.

4012 - Fiona Garrett

I don't know what these are but each should undergo a full / cost benefit analysis.

4018 - Winston Howison

Fixing the balance sheet is important.

4020 - Brian Turner

Seems reasonable, but isn't the Sutherlands Rd one part of a flood plain?

4021 - Cornelis F De Jager

Do it.

4033 - Juliana Venning

[Parks > Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration]

Put the money to cleaner planting.

423 - Linda MacIntyre

Perhaps this proposal would secure funds for the council?

452 - Mark Penrice

We should ensure the disposal of CCC properties is done via Trade Me to ensure that ordinary people believe CCC is getting the market rate for property it sells. Its frustrating when you miss out on buying/bidding on an ex-CCC property because you were unaware of the sale.

46 - Karin Lange

? Which ones?!

468 - Genevieve Bergin

Not sure

505 - Laura Jones

I do not know these properties and cannot comment

514 - Dennis Foley

Uncertain

55 - Jen Abernethy

which properties?

702 - Tim Stedman

This is a one-off reduction only, more thinking needs to going into cutting ongoing costs.

721 - Raphael Menke

Council is often the better landlord than private entities whose aim for profit.

722 - Sinéad Horgan

Hurry up

893 - Peter Murphy

Cut costs

902 - Karen McElhinney

If the land has no future value, get rid of it. However, if there is a possibility that this land may be required in the future to support developing subdivisions (eg a supermarket or health centre), then keep them.

906 - Alister Ferguson

If they are surplus and not cost neutral, dispose of them

92 - Bill Luff

Only five?

972 - Robert Gomez

If they grow in capital value then yess we should keep them

982 - Craig Newbury

If you are redeploying capital ie reducing debt then yes. But if your just funding more and more spending then NO!

Disposal of Red Zoned Land

General Comments

1128 submissions were received on the proposal to dispose of council owned red zoned land.

661 provided comments in support of the proposed disposal of the red zoned land, and 96 provided comments in opposition.

289 provided alternative proposals, and 96 provided general comments about the red zoned land disposal proposal.

Officer Response

Submitters presented mixed views on the disposal of Port Hills “Red Zone” Land. Most people supported disposal, with a smaller number oppose, with other views or no clear position. There are general themes either for or against disposal, as well as other matters. Key themes from the general responses include:

For disposal:

- General agreement, with no reasons given;
- If the land is not required, then it should be sold; and
- Sell to reduce debt or rates.

Against disposal:

- Disagreement, with no reasons given;
- Retain asset;
- Selling is only a short-term gain;
- Retention for ecological / open space amenity purposes / return to nature / planting / fire prevention
- No, they were red zoned for a reason.
- They should be offered back to previous owners.
- Against disposal of specific properties
- Searidge Land

Other matters:

- Give preferential treatment to adjoining and previous owners.
- Concerns about the initial Red Zone process.
- Concerns about safety/risk to rebuild.
- Control future use / public outcomes.
- Anti developer sentiment.
- Other properties

Council has approved retention criteria, which are used to screen properties no longer being used for their original purpose, before they are recommended for consultation. Where a property has been specifically identified as needed within any plan or strategy, then the property is not put forward for consultation. This includes ecological / open space amenity purposes / return to nature / planting / fire prevention uses. If there may be an alternative use that has not been specifically identified, we look closely at financial plans to see if there is reasonable path towards funding. We've adopted this approach to ensure that:

- there is balanced consideration of outcomes;
- we select properties for consideration based on Council approved criteria consistently applied;
- the public and Community Boards can provide community comment through a formal consultative process; and
- decisions about the future of properties are tied to funding decisions, reducing the possibility of Council holding land without funding.

In addition, for the Port Hills Red Zone properties we have taken an extra step and assessed the hazards that led to the land being zoned red. If the hazard can be removed or reduced to an acceptable level, for example by land title reconfiguration or engineering works such as bunds or rock clearance, the property can be considered for disposal. If not, the Council will retain ownership of the property.

Turning to specific properties, we would advise:

1 Kinsey Terrace / 22 McCormacks Bay Road

One submitter for each of these properties requested Council to deal unilaterally. This is not a matter for the Long Term Plan and can be addressed through a separate process

30 A-D Taupata Terrace / 18 & 20 Kinsey Terrace

Submitters suggested that these properties, which were not included in the LTP, be considered for disposal. This is not a matter for the Long Term Plan and can be addressed through a separate process, either stand alone or as part of the next Annual Plan.

3 Searidge Lane

This submitter lives at 3 Searidge Lane and is opposed to the council declaring the properties at 4, 6, 7, 8 & 10 Searidge Lane surplus principally of Geotech and safety grounds.

These 5 properties are subject to a Mass Movement Area and Cliff Collapse area as defined by in the Christchurch District Plan. The proposal to declare them surplus is based on a subdivision creating sections that are outside of the current District Plan Hazard overlays. Any land area within the Cliff Collapse Management Area and the Mass Movement Area will be held and managed by Council. This proposal would reduce the number of lots from 5 to 4. This proposal was developed with expert Geotechnical input prior to being included in the LTP. Developing and building within this area will require rigorous geotechnical and engineering investigation and reporting to determine the detailed characteristics and risk of the site, and the suitability of each site for building. Which will obviously be dependent on the specific development proposals and therefore require prospective purchaser to undertake their own due diligence.

Having reviewed all submissions there does not seem to be a compelling reason for Council to change its current approach. If Council does decide to retain any of these properties, there will be a financial implication including a drop in capital revenue.

Support

1008 - Angela McPherson

Approve as long as they will not cause problems for buyers in future earthquakes

102 - Greg Comfort

Do it.

1022 - Sally Burrows

Good

1034 - James Forde

Yes do it asap.

1050 - Ken Lloy
agree

1051 - Andrew Wood
Yes

106 - Crispin Garden-Webster
Do it

1069 - Kieran Norton-Taylor
In favour of making changes and getting this done

1087 - Julie Hansen
I agree to it

1098 - Eric Pawson
ditto

[Coder Note: dispose]

1103 - Murray Sanders
Agree

1104 - Kate Bevin
Good idea if safe to do so

1105 - Lana Shields
do it

1116 - Stephan Lloyd

I support this.

1126 - David Maciulaitis
Looks good.

1132 - Gavin Fitzgerald
Council owns too much

1143 - Stuart Berryman
Good

1159 - James Frost
Yes sell

116 - Jarrod Coburn
Perhaps, so long as the revenue it generates is worth the loss of utility of the asset.

1167 - Anja Luecht
Yes no problem.

1170 - John Thompson
Yes do it.

1175 - Jonathan Ludgater
Good idea

118 - Barbara Neville
Fine

1180 - Glenn Matheson
Fine by me

1189 - Michaela Allen

yes, good idea.

12 - Jalori Mathias

Yes, as long as it is helping people who need homes

1224 - Amanda OBrien

Yes

1230 - Carlana Limmer

Supportive of this proposal

1235 - Alex Edge

Yes dispose of them

1244 - K Stanley

Get rid of them

1254 - Nikki Thebault

Yes

Good idea

1259 - Paula Darrell

Great get rid of them.

1260 - Andy March

Yes sell assets as you cant afford to live beyond your means. Sell sell sell!

1261 - S McGregor

great idea

1264 - Maxim Kaluzhny
No issues

1273 - Anthony Moore (The Elms Hotel Ltd, T/A Hotel Elms Christchurch)
Yes agree

1278 - Tim Marsh
Totally agree

128 - Elizabeth Ackermann
Yes it can be used

1293 - Jill Rice
Agree

1297 - Deborah Kapohe
Yes.

1298 - Jason Reekers
I agree

13 - David Thorn
Good idea

1302 - Melanie Forsyth
Agree

1303 - Paul Johnston
Sell them

1310 - Sue Hales
good idea

1319 - Luke Sweeney

Fine

132 - Jason King
sell

1324 - Anaru Matai
Makes sense

1326 - Allison Oneill
you are broke sell your assets.

1327 - Chris O'Brien
OK

133 - Alan Mears
Agree

1342 - Martin Ansley
Sell em

1347 - Stephen Leon
OK

1355 - Andrew McCarthy
Good.

1356 - Sharon Fox
Good idea

1358 - Rob Noster
Sell them.

136 - William Fulton

Seems reasonable if they are deemed safe.

137 - Louis Collingwood

I agree with some and would be interested in providing advice on ways to dispose of and manage them. I am interested in purchasing some.

1370 - Jeremy Kaye

Go for it.

1373 - Luke Lagan

If you don't make money off them, sell them. Councils primary focus is not landbanking.

1377 - J Scandrett

do it

1380 - Sharon Lee

Ok

1386 - Daphne Mc Curdy

ok

139 - Paul Tait

If there not restored sell them

1393 - Tim Holmes

I agree

1394 - Michael Clemens

I agree

1395 - William Wallace

I think council should go ahead with that proposal.

1396 - Robyn Wilson

Support

1397 - Andrew Sprouse

Yes sell the red zone sections in both the Port Hills and along the Avon River

140 - Linda Harriswilliams

Sell. Or maintenance be huge

1402 - Martin Smallman

Sell em

1407 - Scott Butcher

Yes disposal of hill properties is a good idea. I would oppose the selling of any property within the Avon Otakaro River Corridor.

1408 - Tracey Fowlds

Yip sell them

141 - Ann Coates

Get rid

1415 - Rebecca Macpherson

Yes, time for Council to focus on important things and tidy up

142 - Carolyn Neame

If they are no benefit and are costing money then do it

1422 - Tim Reed

I support this

1424 - Peter McMillan

What do you think of our proposal to dispose of other Council-owned properties which includes former Residential Red Zone Port Hills properties?

ABSOLUTELY NECESSARY

1431 - Carissa Ptacek
sounds good

1446 - Emma Waddell
Great idea

Great idea

145 - Lisa Cowap
Sell them

1460 - Jihee Park
great idea

1475 - Courtney Henderson
Ok

148 - Julie Mitchell
I think its a good idea

1487 - Denise Cunniffe
Go ahead

1488 - Mel Brown
Yip let's move these off our books

1491 - Lindsay Richards (Westmorland Residents Association)
Agree.

Totally agree.

1497 - Alice Zhu

Good!

1498 - Charlie Due

Good

15 - Sara Currey

For sale

150 - Jeremy Foate

Do it

1500 - Warwick Schaffer

Agree as long as long as former owners that were forced out have first right of refusal at the prices they were paid at the time.

1507 - Briar User

Great

1519 - Matthew Williams

makes sense

1525 - Caroline Mason

I support disposal of surplus properties that are no longer required for a Council purpose

1543 - John Mowat

I support this sale

1547 - Graham Allan

yes

1556 - Jeffry Bergman

I am in favour

1574 - David Cassidy

good idea

1575 - Hollie Hollander (Pest Free Banks Peninsula)

Good idea

1581 - Ann Kleiss

Yes dispose of red zoned land

1583 - James Pomeroy

Yes, get rid of if surplus.

1593 - Rick Houghton

Good idea.

1596 - Graeme & Margaret Bluett

Agree that disposal is logical

16 - Andrew McKay

Sell them.

1605 - Denis Aldridge (Living Springs Trust)

Go for it

1609 - Johnathons Atkins

Yes, offload them and make a profit

161 - Sam Apps

Yes

1615 - Leonie Craig

Dispose of Residential Red Zone Port Hills properties

162 - Christine Wehrmeier

Makes sense.

1623 - Oliver Mould

Happy to let you dispose of them having read your commentary on them.

1637 - Megan Andrews

If they cannot be turned into money making assets for the council, then sure, move them on.

1641 - Win Douglas

Get rid of them

1646 - Dale McGregor

Yes, they are costing the rate payer at present and wasted areas.

1648 - Andrew Bowman

This is a good proposal.

1649 - Tony Smith

Sell them

1668 - Simon Mitchell

Good idea, keep looking for these opportunities.

1669 - Sandra Ballantyne

Good idea

1671 - Wayne Mahan

In favor

1674 - Susan Galbraith

Yes good idea

1678 - Sarah Bonnington

Good

1683 - Anne Forne

OK in some cases

1687 - Sarah Cooper

Agree

1697 - Chris Goodman

good

1701 - James Friend

Needs to be done.

1711 - Eluishia Hart

Sell them off

1717 - Mark Doyle

do it

172 - Bronze Templeton

if it reduces are rates bill then yes

1744 - Mark Hampton

In favour

1750 - Edel Loughheed-Deane

It could provide the council with a significant injection of capital that could be allocated towards other priority areas, such as infrastructure development or community initiatives. Furthermore, divestment may allow these entities to operate more independently, potentially leading to increased efficiency and innovation within their respective sectors. Divestment may raise concerns about potential privatization and its implications for public accountability and transparency. The council must engage in transparent and inclusive consultation processes to ensure that the interests and concerns of the community are adequately addressed.

1751 - Matthew Tolan

I support it, as long as it is safe.

1752 - Carolyn Boulton

Again, the Council should balance selling assets to fund its expenditures with rates increases. The rate payers should not be asked to fund all expenditures.

1756 - Kieran Sweetman

Absolutely to fund debt.

1761 - Elaine Dunlop

Yes as long as they are fairly disposed of and the putea does not go to salary increases but used to pay off debt

1766 - Jan Edwards

Yes

1773 - Thommy Jerneskog

Do it.

1778 - Jane Houghton

Sell !

178 - Fiona Patchett

Good

1785 - Rosaria Ferguson

A good idea

1788 - Sandra Ward

Definitely sell

1790 - Hayley K

Fine - if you make money out of it

1792 - Laura Parkes

Yes. These spaces would be better used for other projects than just sitting unused. As long as the land is not sold to foreign buyers and remains within our economy.

1793 - Pamela Hughes

Understandable

1794 - Heather Matthews

Agree

1797 - Peter User

I support the disposal of Council-owned properties which includes former Residential Red Zone Port Hills

18 - Alex User

Get rid of them

180 - Kevin McSweeney

Yes

1805 - Leigh Cunningham

Good idea

1812 - Cathy McMillan

yes sell if you can get anyone to buy them. They are red zoned for a reason..

1814 - Jenny Atkin

Go ahead and reduce debt.

1815 - Tony Hallams

Support this

1826 - Jacqui Hudson

If they help prevent rates rises then sell them.

1828 - Robert Jelley

RESIDENTIAL RED ZONE FOR THIS PROPERTIES
YES, GO AHEAD

1829 - Stephanie Barbier

Yes, dispose of them

1837 - Rosalie Griffith

RESIDENTIAL RED ZONE PORT HILLS PRO

Good thinking

1839 - Catherine Grima

RESIDENTIAL RED ZONE FOR THIS PROPERTIES
I have no objection

1849 - Amy Brewer

Yes do it and use the funds to reduce rates.

1869 - Bill Cowen

ok

1873 - Marjorie Manthei (Victoria Neighbourhood Association Inc)

It seems logical to dispose of sites not being used as intended or for the others reasons given on page 55. Without being familiar with the particular sites, we would SUPPORT disposal but ONLY if the local communities are consulted in a meaningful way, including consultation about sites not used as reserves or parks (which are the ones specifically mentioned in the Plan as requiring consultation).

188 - Tony MacHarper
Agree

1886 - Judith Dawson
Sounds potentially positive

189 - Julie Coleshae
Yes do it

1894 - Peter Moody
Dispose port hills properties but keep red zone properties by Avon River.

1898 - John-Paul Kilkenny
Good idea. Get rid of buildings that are not being used. council should not approve new builds on at risk land.

1914 - Stefan Miller
Yes move on from them

1928 - James Daniels
Go ahead

1938 - Alice Busbridge
Do it, property is in better hands when owned privately

1939 - Mary Sefton
Yes

194 - John Lieswyn
Agree

1944 - Peter Salvesen
Get rid of them

1963 - Lynda Goodrick

let them go

1965 - Grant Bowater

Good.

1968 - Kelly Osborn

I think this is appropriate to off set some of the other spending.

1989 - Hannah Collins

If done correctly and safely.

1996 - Iain Nicholls

Supportive where these are deemed unnecessary to retain after consultation with the communities affected.

20 - Ross Williamson

SELL

2002 - Bridgitte Dunn-Breen

Agreed

201 - AJ Wade

supported

2012 - Nick Boyd

Fine

202 - Anne Spicer

Yes

2024 - Janet Reeves

Agree

2034 - Kevin Walker

Indeed dispose of these if not currently used.

2058 - Janita Patrick

I support this

2071 - Paul Broady

This looks like a reasonable proposal.

2073 - Peter Cook

Do it

2079 - William Muir

If they are not returning in line with the market then they should be disposed and the money used to pay down debt or invested to service the cities costs and needs

2084 - Sarah Donaldson

Yes sell them

21 - Tyrone Low

Yes, makes sense

2115 - Billie Kaine

Yes

2124 - Mary Chase

Fine.

2126 - Elfi Spiewack

Dispose

2136 - Clara Carey

CCC should dispose of the other council-owned properties

214 - John Hinchey

Sell them.

2166 - Wendy Everingham

If the land can be remediated and new properties can be built I think they should be sold.

2178 - Sue Bridgwater

Yes, sell them

2191 - Cassandra Hannington

Yes dispose

2193 - Leanne Reid

Yes

2196 - Paul Ainsworth

If they are not used by the council, sell them

2198 - Andrew Smith

Approve- all measures to reduce rates should be considered.

2214 - Paul Kruger

Dispose of the red-zone properties

2223 - Jill Turner

Good idea

2225 - Geoff Tobeck

yes

2242 - Martha Baxendell (New Brighton Project)

agree

2258 - Jak Hartley

Great idea, that space can be used

2267 - Redacted Redacted

OK

2275 - Bridgette Pedofsky

Good news

2287 - Alice Johnson

Sounds like a good idea

2296 - Vickie Walker

Sell it.

2297 - Andrew Walker

If you don't need them, aren't going to need them, sell them. At least then the new owners can pay rates.

2302 - Lisa Dockery

Definitely needs to be done

2304 - Stephanie Burke

good

2309 - Margaret Austin

Makes sense.

2311 - Paul McMahon (Waitai Coastal-Burwood-Linwood Community Board)

The Board supports this if there is demonstrable benefit to the public.

2325 - Lisa Ferdinand

This is a reasonable consideration giving the current financial climate

2326 - Amanda Booth

Dispose as per the proposal.

2327 - Charles Shaw

No objection

2330 - Bradley Conder (Novotel Christchurch & Ibis Christchurch)

I agree

2338 - Robin Schulz (Coronation Reserve Residents Group)

Agree

234 - Jocy Kidd

Yes

2367 - Stephen Conti

Do it

2380 - Ben Comfort

Fine

2381 - Kim Franicevic

Yes

2383 - Kirsty Macnab

It sounds complicated but sensible

2388 - Guy Tapley

Go ahead

2391 - Mitchell Rogers

Yes, it makes sense if those sites can be used for something else.

2401 - Arlee Folkers

Support it

2406 - Chris Archer

Yes - do this

2411 - Rachel Montejo

Support

2417 - Victor Vergara

Agree

2421 - Helen Foley

I agree with the proposal

243 - Peter Townsend

Support

2438 - Courtney Bennett

I support this proposal subject to any relevant Right of First Refusal processes.

2440 - Erin Jamieson

Agree

2445 - Joseph Davidson-Labout

Provided it poses no risk to stakeholders, good idea

2453 - Bruce Gordon

Agree

2457 - Hayden Johnstone

I think it is fine as long as the community around these reserves are ok with selling them.

2461 - Marjorie Manthei

If no longer fit for purpose or needed to fulfil other obligations or objectives, then they should be disposed of. However, there are usually different perspectives on such things, so I would hope CCC will consult with residents who live near and/or may wish to use the designated sites.

2462 - Mark Cox

Good idea really.

2463 - Rebekah Tregurtha

I think the Sutherlands Road property should be retained for a potential future land swap - there are community accessible recreation areas on the port hills that are on private land. Sometime in the future the council might like to adopt these.

247 - Daisy Cassels

great

248 - Eric Livingstone

Agree

2497 - Carolyn Lynn

Good idea.

2498 - REDACTED REDACTED

If these can be made safe, yes, great.

25 - Ben Hart

Do it

2504 - Sarah van der Burch

Yes

2509 - Angela Nicol

Yes if they are unused.

2511 - Charlaine Palmer

Yes.

2516 - Robin Palmer

Good.

2519 - Charlotte Withington

Yes definitely dispose of them

2521 - Stuart Jones

LET ZONE SHOULD BE SOLD OFF. !!

253 - Daryl Cotterell

no worries if due diligence completed , and is a viable financial venture without sacrificing assets that would later be more valuable as ChCh Council assets .

2533 - Steven Muir

I agree

2537 - Suzanne Montocchio

Why not

2541 - Kelsi Mosley

I support this proposal.

2557 - Malcolm Warren
Good idea.

2565 - Neet Subraman
Good idea

2571 - Anna Walker
Fine

2572 - Sarah Vili
Agreed

2580 - Michael Neville
A good idea. These are non performing assets.

259 - Margaret McEvedy
Agree

2616 - Jane Chrisp
Good idea

2619 - Laura Cosgrove
Yup get rid of them

2622 - Rob Murfitt
Support

2624 - Colin Ong
If the properties and assets are truly lying idle (and they appear to be), do it.

2625 - Danielle Leenders
Agree

263 - Brian Hill

[Revenue > Disposal of Council Owned Land], [Spending > Our Proposed Spending]

Cut services and sell assets to enable the funding of infrastructure investment

>>>

sell

265 - Emily Anderson

I support this

2650 - Alexander Amies

Happy with it

2651 - Finn Blanchard

Agree with the proposal

2656 - A Pratap

Should be sold if not in use.

2661 - Emma Battrick

If they can't be used then do it

2678 - Fiona McKenzie

Seems wise

269 - Zara Potts

Again, asset sales should be prioritised over rate increases

27 - Warner Wilson

About time

2701 - Blair Smith

good idea.

2705 - Ian Le Page

Why would Council want to own these properties? They just become a liability to maintain and generate no rateable income.

2707 - Raymond Lum

Just do it

2708 - Rob Beechey

yes. we are broke.

271 - Jim Veitch

Ok

2717 - Jacinta Maguire

They are sitting redzoned. Maybe try selling and putting the money into better things. Could even sell to the adventure park

2723 - Laura Greenland

Yes, dispose

2731 - Anna Barber

Go for it

2733 - Georgia Macaulay

Yea, if they want to live in them, demolish them or bring them up to code let them. More money into Council and potentially more housing. Plus getting rid of the eyesores. They should have been torn down years ago.

2734 - Sharon McDonald

Yes Council should

2747 - Mark Thygesen

Yes, disposal of these properties is excellent plan.

2761 - Annette and Michael Hamblett

We support it.

2768 - Suzanne Wallace

Dispute

277 - Jane Harrison

As above, as long as the community is kept informed and consulted with right from the beginning. And if communities do have ideas for using the properties, they are fully supported to explore this.

2777 - Jennifer Hamilton

What do you think of our proposal to dispose of the other properties which include former Residential Red Zone Port Hill properties? Agree

2786 - Redact Redacted

Residential Red Zone Port Hills properties?

Yes sell the Red Zone land - but the developers must provide all services that connect up to the city -
Not much point selling it - then paying for the development!

2791 - David Dockery

Residential Red Zone Port Hills properties?

Yes there is a cost of keeping these and opportunity for others to use and return to valuable land & houses etc new stock that is now available.

2804 - Janette Leith Brott

Yes

2805 - Coleen Briggs

yes

2806 - Tony Fraser

Support

281 - Selwyn Gamble

If they are heritage buildings then I believe their needs to be a genuine discussion otherwise if that is what is perceived best then so be it.

2815 - Douglas Shaw

See above

[coders note. snip below is the see above comment]

Sell if not being utilised.

2816 - Susan Eleanor Peake

Sell

282 - Michael Heenan

If the property is not required for a future project then it makes sense to look at selling it off.

2820 - Brendan Ross

OK WITH ME

2821 - Dave and Denise Falls

Yes sell.

2838 - Graham Erikson

Supported. Pursue all prudent land sales including disposal of old Sockburn Sevice Centre land or build social housing. >>> [Other/Special Interest Topics > Social Housing]

2840 - Matthew Carter

On the details given the proposal is unobjectionable.

2841 - Hunter Craig

sure

2844 - Albert Nisbet

Fine, but we shouldn't let development companies build houses on this dangerous terrain

2848 - Glen Koorey

Also a good idea

2849 - Patrick Dunford

The Council should be going much further >>> [Other/Special Interest Topics > CCHL Matters]

2852 - Aaron Ghattas

Yes, BUT with absolute caution that we all don't end up paying for some else insurance bill when it all come crashing down again.

2856 - Rachel Puentener

It sounds sensible, noting the criteria and the proposed good processes that would accompany it. Ideally Papatipu Rūnanga would be provided with a 'first right of refusal' in recognition of their mana whenua status.

2858 - Daniel Parkinson

agree

286 - Pauline Reid

Red Zone properties suck operational costs for no benefit. Sell them.

2861 - Laila Jansone

I agree

2865 - Natalie Henderson

Agree

287 - Judy Yarwood

Yes dispose of those

2875 - Paul Andrew

Sell

2876 - Sarah Hastie

So long as it is unlikely this land would be needed for future infrastructure projects, the proposal to sell seems reasonable. If this land is likely to be needed in future, eg for roading, that serious consideration should be given prior to its sale.

2879 - Dan Woods

Good let people build their again at their own risk with sensible specific engineered designs which will bring more spending into the economy

2882 - Erin Andrew

Sell

2883 - Camillo Schulz

Yes do it .money from there can be easily used on more important projects funding, for example the art centre

2886 - David Fleming

All properties that have not shown returns above the rate to borrow funds for essential services should be sold. Any likely capital appreciation being taken into account.

2888 - Alistair Price

If they are not needed get rid of them.

289 - Julian Springer

get on with it

29 - Hayley Young

Yes, great idea. Sell them

2929 - Peter Cook

Support it.

293 - Monique van Veen

I'm supportive.

2934 - Monica Richards

Fine if there is no use for them by council.

2935 - Tina Christians

Do it

294 - Michael Brantley

Yes

2941 - Peter Thelning

Agree

2943 - Maurice Gaskell

I think these properties should be sold

2945 - Lynne Lochhead

I support this.

2949 - Graeme John Marriott

Makes sense to me

2958 - Chris Sinclair

Yes.

2967 - Silvia Davies

Use money for funding mobile library, Orana Park and other community services.

297 - Michael Crabtree

Continue

2971 - Nikita Todd

Sell them but not to international people

2984 - Claire Martin

Good idea

2986 - Maree Mackle

Fine if you are not using them

2987 - Penny Raid

Good idea

2989 - Lee Robinson

Agree.

2990 - Darryl Jan Atkinson

Good idea

2992 - Marian Robinson

Agree.

3003 - Sonya Hodder (Spreydon Neighbourhood Network)

As long as it is not land that could be used if a principle was established to ensure nature and public open spaces to compensate for all the infill housing.

3008 - Wanda Kingma

Agree

3016 - Zarah Green

Agree

3018 - Kristal Jenkins

Doesn't bother me. Go ahead

302 - Bronwyn Roberts

Agree

3022 - Brian Craig

Supported

3036 - John W. Thacker

Yes it could be sold the money could be used to go towards heritage projects. McLean's mansion for example.

3037 - Robert Fletcher

In support, should try to get return if we can

3039 - Paula Allen

good

3043 - J Elliott

Agree, but these should go for Full Market Value

3050 - stuart wallace

Agree

3055 - Josephine Drysdall

I support the disposal of these properties, provided that the assessment criteria and Treaty considerations are followed and the purchaser's intentions are climate-friendly.

3058 - Robin Clements

Should investigate

3065 - Janet Wilson

Good

3071 - James Gormack

yes

3077 - Mike Davidson

Support

3078 - Adele Bishop

Good idea

3088 - Heather Brown

Ok, as above.

3094 - Daniel Smith

If they don't provide a return or future purpose to the city and cost the city money to maintain then they should be disposed

3096 - Hamish Mitchell

Do it

3099 - Stephen Miller

Get on with it.

31 - Gary Durey

Good

311 - Peter Clark

Sell.

3110 - Michael Beard

OK

3115 - Jane McCulla

Yes dispose of them

312 - Shane Binder

Makes sense as outlined - no reason to keep land without public purpose

3125 - Gabrielle Humphreys

It's ok.

3129 - Skye Arnopp

As far as i understand, as above.

3131 - Johannes (Hans) Van Oyen

As long as it can never again be used for residential purposes.

3136 - John Hynes

Agreed

314 - Vaughan Kirkland

I support this.

3145 - Leah Wild

Yes to getting rid of red zone property

3155 - Robyn Ratcliff

Yes if asset is unused and costing then move it on?

316 - Margaret Whittaker

Why not

3163 - Simon Cobb

Good idea

3165 - Adrienne Baxter

good idea, there are probably some entrepreneurs out there that would find a real use for the land

3169 - Barbara Brown

OK

3179 - Rochelle Taylor

Good, do it

3187 - Debbie Hamilton

As long as the money is put back into Port Hills investment

3192 - Janene Burnett

Agree with council's decision

321 - Tom Williams

Agree

322 - Richie Connell

Sell sell sell.

3230 - Suz Guthrie

A good idea. A council shouldn't own anything and therefore not have a biased approach to planning.

3231 - Colin Foster

Okay so long as all the issues with acquiring these have been fully resolved.

3235 - Thomas Caspari

Sounds good!

3239 - Lynette McGrath

Yes.

324 - Richard Wesley

Fine

3248 - Dave Edwards

Good idea

3256 - Ian Goodwin

Good

326 - Greg Dodds

Yes, fine.

3260 - Sofie Hampton

Again if it makes money

3261 - Helena Campbell

Agree

3262 - Charlorte Verity-McCormick

Good

3280 - Megan Cassim

Yes

3283 - Elizabeth Clarke

Fine

3287 - Claire Fletcher

I agree

3295 - Rachel Du Val

This is probably a good idea.

3299 - Phil OMalley

A challenging area given the disruption to previous owners. But time to move on and dispose of them. Give original owners first right of refusal to buy back.

3301 - Anna Wilkes

Get on with it

3305 - Angelita Schwalger

Sad

3307 - Richard Griffiths

Good

3309 - Rachel Francis

Yes

3311 - Michael McEntee

It's about time

332 - Flair Mckay

Yes, do it!

3322 - Christine Nicoll

Yes dispose.

3341 - Maria Bartlett

Ok

3349 - Rob McDonald

I support it

3354 - Andrea Langan

Yes

3376 - Barry Lee

Yes this also should be progressed.

3381 - Karen Amyes

Yes continue with this

3386 - James Herbison

Agree

3392 - Stephen Wood

I think it makes sense. Go for it

3409 - Angela Webster

Fair enough

3419 - Michael Allan

Get rid of them by whatever means possible.

3423 - James Upton

Agree with proposal

343 - Aaron Pero

Good

3430 - Philippa Upton

Agree

3460 - Jasper Van der Lingen

Okay

3465 - Hannah Steven

Agree

3466 - Mark Stapleton

Am generally approving more detail would be pleasing

347 - Catherine Webber

If as it states that these properties only make up less than 3% of the Port Hills residential redzone then yes I would support the sale of these properties.

3471 - Murray Irvine

Yes cash them up. The time is right.

3474 - Timothy Lambert

as long as open tenders fine

348 - Christiana Raphael

Yes

3480 - Martin Robertson

Agree to dispose

3490 - Peter Minten

No objection. As explained in your consultation document they currently occur costs. Disposing them frees up funds for other purposes.

3493 - Brendon Lee

DO IT!

350 - Chris Hoopmann

Fine

3504 - Nicola Holt

A good idea

3525 - Andrew Hey

Agree

3529 - Marc Duff

Fully support.

353 - John Mayhew

Sell to offset rate rises.

3535 - Anna Harper

Yes a good idea.

3540 - Philip Robinson

good.

3544 - Ginette Pethig

Whilst it would appear to make sense it is surely what the Councillors are for to determine what is the best for the council and how and when disposal should occur.

3548 - Dwayne McCormick

Great

355 - Lynda Clark

I agree

3552 - Alice Neylon

Yes, also sell them.

3564 - Allan Grant

Do it.

357 - Charlotte Gray

Good

3576 - Noeline Allan (Cass Bay Residents Association)

Provided the dangers of rock fall have been mitigated and the land can be safely used for housing etc. this seems like a good idea.

3577 - Marie Byrne

Agree

3586 - Rachel Geddis

Go for it.

3598 - Kyle Sutherland

Great idea, so long as sold at prices that represent value for ratepayers.

360 - Wendy Pollock

Do it

3600 - Murray Wiig

Go for it.

3607 - Mike Percasky

if they are of no longer use the council should dispose of them.

3610 - Eric Stierna

Dispose

3612 - Stephanie Noble

Good

3620 - Rosemary Turnbull

Good.

3631 - Charlotte Sparrow

Yes, sell.

3633 - Joanne Tindall

If they are providing no benefit to the community and are surplus to requirements, then they should be sold/

3634 - Peter Cooper

Good idea

3638 - Patricia Frankland

Good idea

3639 - Stephen Burgham

I agree

3644 - Yvonne Dixon

seems sensible. Its good to make land available for low cost housing.

3653 - Andrew McDougall

Agree

3661 - Steph Walker

Great.

3663 - Connor McIver

I support this where all that is required is a reconfiguration of titles. Where additional studies are required care must be taken that the overall outcome is a financial gain.

3668 - Gavin Hardie

Yes, be responsible and sell these.

3672 - Neil McKenzie

Yes.

3679 - Janet Perry

Approve

3684 - Alison Lomax

Good idea

3687 - Rebekah Savage

Makes sense to make use of these properties or sell them if they aren't usable in their current state.

3688 - Paul Crooks

Go ahead

3695 - Pamela Pye

Support

3700 - Ian Cumberpatch

If disposal of these properties allows for the regenerative use of them not at the CCC expense then this should be considered.

3703 - Greg Hay

Agree to this to ensure rates are maintained at an acceptable level. However, it can not be to the detriment of the community (e.g. the land should not just be used to build more new subdivisions by developers)

3704 - Logan Cane

Yes, do it.

3712 - Zeta Pringle (Coalition for safe accommodation in Christchurch)

Time has come to look at options and disposal is one such option we would support

3715 - Jason Bridgwater (Linwood Rugby League)

Happy

3723 - Don Babe

If the properties have no strategic value to the Council they should be disposed of.

3724 - Terence Sissons

Good idea

3726 - Cliff Mason

Acceptable

3727 - Carl Fox

Support the proposal.

3731 - Heather McHarg

Agree

3735 - Natalie O'Connell

If it's for community benefit, all good.

3741 - Kevin Spaul

Go for it sell

3756 - Christina Hamilton

Good idea

376 - Mattias Wieland

Go ahead

3767 - Donna Faucher

Yes

3768 - Tracey Klatt

Yep, another way to get more money

3771 - Paul Bacon

Good

3772 - Sue McFarlane

agree

3775 - Kate Latimer

Necessary

378 - Chris Arnold

Yep this should be a priority.

3789 - Samantha Astin-Brown

Do it

379 - Alex Rowe

In agreement with these. Could result in cost savings for unused properties.

3795 - Bede Cunningham

yes

3801 - Victor (aka Vince) Eichholtz

ok to go ahead

3805 - Antony Lawrence

Fine

3806 - Simon Green

Agree this is a sign of the current economic climate. In the best interests of the council at the current time to sell some of these

3807 - Graeme Remington

Agree, whats the point of holding them?

3811 - Greg Canton

Agree, this makes sense that where development in former red zone land is possible, we should be selling

3812 - Nick Paris

Agree

3817 - Melissa Macfarlane

Support.

3818 - Ali Moore

Yes, do it!

3835 - Hiren Patel

Yes please.

3859 - Sally Widdowson

Seems reasonable.

3861 - Alex Robinson

Good.

3865 - Maxine Donovan

If that is beneficial then seems appropriate.

3866 - Nicki Carter (Carter Group)

It is an appropriate step for the Council to take - we support it.

3868 - Don Gould

Get it gone!

3869 - Cam Parsonson

Sell them.

387 - Rowena MacGill

Yes

3877 - Hilary Quayle

Ok

3882 - Jodi Gauci

Yes

3884 - Rachel Bacon

Agree

3887 - Michael Patterson (Commodore Airport Hotel Ltd)

Yes, probably is the right thing to do.

3890 - Michele St George Waugh

Ok

3894 - Greg Siddells

Agree to dispose of these properties.

3901 - Amanda South

Yes

3902 - James Ridpath

Fine.

3907 - Graham Muir

Agree if there is no potential public use

3916 - Laila Jansone (Renew Brighton Charitable Trust)

we support this proposal

393 - Kathryn Russell

If it saves council money long term

3933 - Joanna Gould

Yes.

3934 - Greta Simpson

Agree.

3950 - Cameron Paintin

Yes do it

3958 - Emma Turner

go ahead.

3963 - Jillian Scott

Sell

397 - Merrick Brown

Fine.

3970 - Allannah Lovelady

I feel comfortable with the disposal of the properties identified.

3978 - Sandra Bragg

Yes Sell

3980 - Marlene Rohan

essential red zone Port Hills properties:

Yes - if you can mitigate the risks.

3983 - Edward Lucas

GOOD IDEA

3988 - Jerry French

GREAT IDEA - BUT DONT WASTE THE PROCEEDS

3991 - Marilyn Copland

Agree.

3992 - Sue Piesse

Believe we should dispose of Res. Red Zone areas

4001 - Jennifer Porter

Agree

4004 - Nathalie Le Bras

Agree

4014 - Stephen Hill

Yes, put into debt repayment

4016 - Joanne Zervos

Agree

402 - Cynthia Charron

Support.

Support.

4020 - Brian Turner

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Asset Sales]

Okay but do not sell part or all of publicly owned Key assets, e.g. LPC, Airport etc. Exert more control over CCHL.

4021 - Cornelis F De Jager

Do it.

4023 - Bethan Sommer

Sounds good.

4026 - Helen Van den Bogaert

Go for it

4027 - Rona Buttimore

Sell

4030 - Jenna Hayward

Get rid of them

4033 - Juliana Venning

[Parks > Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration]

Again do so with a proviso for native planting to assist environment and safeguard from fire and slips.

4035 - Simon Ashby

Leverage them For finance

4036 - Mike Baeck

If they served their purpose sell. Like any business would

4037 - Jo Kidd

Yes they are a liability

410 - Prue Edmond

agree

416 - Mike Cleaver (Canterbury)

these seem sensible to me and should proceed in my opinion.

417 - Jackie Astall

Great

430 - Kate Porter

Sell those too

433 - Derek Phelps

makes sense

446 - Andrew Peach

Yes

447 - Zoelle Davies

DO it

450 - Allison Husband

I agree

458 - Christine Cockle

Sooner the better.

46 - Karin Lange

Ok

467 - Anna Scheirlinck
good

469 - Amira Aman
Yes

481 - Tommy Ng
not a bad idea..if it makes sense and helps to lessen the burden of people

486 - Neil McConachie
I agree

487 - Gavin Stevenson
Agee if the described plan is followed.

492 - Lyndon Telfer
Support this - Just get on with it

499 - Michael Sumpter
Dispose ASAP

5 - Dr M Peter Moore
ok

51 - Zoe Brock
Sure.

510 - Eleanor Sim
If we can develop some of these areas further that would be fantastic Like the red zone.

514 - Dennis Foley

Good

523 - Andrew Eadon-Jones

Needs must.

526 - Stephen French

Yes, go ahead.

531 - Cameron Bradley

I think this is fine

540 - Ross Allen

Strongly support.

550 - Colin Mansell

Yes, they cost money to maintain

555 - Jemma Balmer

Go for it

556 - Jemma Penelope

Yes, I agree with this proposal

575 - Murray Walls

Good idea.

578 - Susanne Trim

I support this proposal.

587 - Diana Holderness

good

590 - Grant Hartley
Good

6 - Natalia Volkova
Yes, if it will bring the rates down

608 - Patrick Clarke
great idea, these properties are providing no value.

610 - Charlotte Borra
Good idea

615 - Michael JasonSmith
I support the proposal to dispose of the other Council-owned properties, which include the former Residential Red Zone Port Hills properties.

618 - Natalie Dixon
Sell them.

620 - Kristen Smith
Yes - sell

623 - Linda Everett
Yes, there are far still too many eye-sores around our city.

632 - Juliet Reynolds-Midgley
Sounds good to me.

634 - Caitlyn Due
Well overdue

637 - Bernice Swain

As above

[Coder Note: previous comment 'Go right ahead']

638 - Amanda Cropp

Do it.

639 - Paul Clark

Do it. Long overdue

642 - Stella Ward

Yes but not to properly developers as clearly cannot be residential

644 - Julie Paterson

Good idea

649 - Andrew Khor

Off course greater idea

652 - Sharon Howells (Sharon Howells School of Dance)

Go for it

653 - Jane Cartwright

agree

659 - Matt Dumont

seems reasonable

662 - Cameron Taylor

Get rid of the milestone around the councils neck!

663 - Sam Chow-Tan

Yes go ahead to get revenue

667 - Frans Jeldrick Oorthuys

also ok

670 - Sue Orpwood

Go for it!

6903 - Don Jellyman

Agree

6904 - Jean McIntyre

AGREE

692 - Tony Ward

GOOD IDEA.

695 - Patrick O'Sullivan

Agree

698 - Danica Gilmore

Good

70 - Noel Marceau

if the properties are damaged and costly to rebuild, repair and maintain, then probably yes to sale.

705 - John Hendrickx

Yes

707 - Chris Mardon (Ecobulb Limited)

This is worth progressing also

708 - John Allen

Sell it

712 - Liz van Montfort

Do it - private ownership can sort it out.

715 - Hayley Barrett

Yes, get rid of these properties.

718 - Sharon Pheasant

Good ideas.

724 - Sophie Cooney

Good it's about time

726 - John Billows

fine

727 - Donal McEvoy

Do it

728 - Richard Hallum

I'm fine with that.

730 - Doug Allen

good, move them on

733 - Tania Thompson

get rid of them. holding on to them for no reason.

736 - Helen Westrupp

Sell them. People with money can sort the sections out to make them habitable again. They may land bank for the future when technology advances help to fix the reasons they are red zoned.

747 - Euan Gutteridge

Yes dispose

748 - A Robinson
go for it

750 - Simon Walker
No issues

752 - Vivienne Hewson
Agree

756 - Jonathan Harrington
Go for it.

759 - Rory Kinahan
Great. Get it done.

761 - Carol Groves
Yes

77 - Gill Patterson Kerr
Go ahead

785 - Ariana Tikao
I support the disposal of these properties from being Council-owned.

789 - Stuart Sanderson
Agree with this provided it makes financial sense to do so.

794 - Yanny Webb-Walker
Good idea

799 - John Ascroft

Great, sell more

80 - Elizabeth Velde

Ok

816 - Murray Dickinson

Agree.

821 - Hannah McGowan

if the properties are empty & broken, definitely dispose of them so something better can take their place

822 - Gavin Scott-Petersen

Yes, as above, do it.

[Coder note: the comment referred to 'as above' related to the question regarding the disposal of five Council-owned properties and the comment was as follows:]

"Yes, do it and reduce the size of main buildings. Cut costs everywhere you can and open up red zones to developers. Make money from the massive amounts of land you possess. As an example: allow developers to build on council land and only pay for the land once the project is complete / sold. This will encourage residential growth and lower overall costs."

823 - Kym East

Fine

843 - Ngaire Donelda Bacon

I have no problem with those council-owned properties being sold as long as full market value is obtained from the purchaser.

847 - David Bromell

Support

852 - Ben Tyas

Agree

855 - Anna van Haastrecht

I have no problems with that,

857 - Kate Munro

good idea

858 - Thomas McNaughton

Don't know a lot of background but looks logical.

859 - Todd Gault

Go ahead

870 - Lis Stevenson

I agree

877 - Helen Hessey

ok

881 - Katherine Doig

This is reasonable.

897 - Jonathan Mathias

Great idea

>>>

Better use of red zone areas for private leasing/purchasing for temporary structures, golf courses, graveyards, sports fields, farming, etc

900 - Bill McElhinney

If they are not being used, flick them on.

907 - Mandy Jarden

Care and consideration as to who this is sold to and for what purpose

915 - Mark Pearson

Sell them.

919 - Jason Marsden (The Hub Hornby)

Good

923 - Leanne Keen

It's just sitting doing nothing. Get rid of it

941 - Hannah Sheath

Sell them

967 - Audrey Baldwin

Good

972 - Robert Gomez

Yes if they are not useful then sell

989 - Dave Renison

Yes

990 - Wendy Fergusson

Yes, something has to be done with it

996 - David Smith

Cash up.

Oppose

1030 - Andrea Gosney

Bad idea as you will sell too low to some mates of councillors who will then develop it and make a fortune. Council should be making it make money

1068 - Redacted Redacted

keep them

1164 - Andrea Davis

Keep the land, eventually you will need it. Affordable and small housing to support the residents who would be happy to rent from the council.

1176 - Jamin Thomas

Disagree - especially if they are reserves or parks - add value to the locals, and provide greenery or space for walks/dogs/children. Don't sell assets to fund your operations - not a good idea.

1329 - Lynda Whitlow

No, they are red zoned, leave them as parks instead.

1331 - Robyn Lynley Capon

No, that's short term thinking

1335 - Julie Turner

Unless they are going to benefit Christchurch in the future leave them alone

1418 - Wayne Biddorff

keep them

1451 - Jodie Langston

NO to developers!?? damage to the land, waste production for properties housing one family. These are special areas for tourism and local recreation and well-being. The port hills are the closest and easiest access walking tracks and brings joy and wellbeing to many. restoration and fire management of the areas instead

1517 - Felix Harrison

NO!!! Rewild them all and keep them as council owned. This will require little to no maintenance cost if done right and provide a great asset to the people of Otago in the form of mahinga kai and wildlife reserves.

156 - Julieanne Giles

No they were red zoned for a reason

1578 - Lucia Campbell-Reeves

Bad

1673 - Rebecca Bayliss

Lunacy

1691 - Jesse Newman

I do not support this proposal. That land should remain in public hands.

1692 - David Bluck

Short sighted selfish thinking by those who want to save themselves money.

1710 - Ashwin Kurup

No

1734 - Fergus O'Neill

Properties should be retained and a proper port hills red zone plan developed for their future use, e.g fire mitigation, plantings etc. However if they are to be sold they must first be offered back to the previous owners.

1775 - Jo Hall

Don't think you should sell off council assets

1780 - Alison Griffith-Collins

Please don't do it. These sorts of properties end up in the hands of developers, who build houses and buildings on the cheap, and then these properties are affected by natural disasters, and the cycle starts all over again. Hang on to them and do something useful with them for the public (e.g. parks, reserves)

1864 - Kylie Williams

Sounds like pretty selfish and inconsiderate for those that lived in the port hills and were forced to give up their homes.

1977 - Nicholas Lealand

Selling off these assets to developers is a short-sighted solution with minimal financial benefit. To truly save costs and enhance community wellbeing, give residents the opportunity to find creative and responsible ways to utilize the assets they live within.

1991 - Stevie Florent

I support the government maintaining assets rather than selling them to private corporations so that the public can have greater say

2060 - Liv van Workum

It's been really beautiful to watch land be claimed back by nature within the tragedy of the red zoning, it's created a biodiverse space which I think it's important to protect.

2157 - John Quayle

I do not approve of this

2183 - Hali Stauffer

I want to express my strong opposition to the proposed disposal of council-owned properties. If these assets must be relinquished, priority should be given to organisations dedicated to land restoration or community advocacy. Possibilities include regenerating native bush ecosystems similar to Riccarton Bush, creating community-managed food forests, establishing shared gardens, or creative co-ops. It's crucial to recognise that the properties under consideration make up less than 1% of the Council's overall portfolio and won't significantly impact current levels of service. The estimated revenue from their sale over the life of the LTP is approximately $20-$23 million. However, selling off these assets to developers is a short-sighted solution with minimal financial benefit. To truly save costs and enhance community well-being, residents should be given the opportunity to find creative and responsible ways to utilise the assets they live within. This approach not only preserves valuable green spaces but also fosters community engagement and sustainability initiatives.

2485 - Lucy hill
completely stupid

2529 - Bernard Newman
Residential Red Zone Port Hills properties:

I feel these should be kept so as to maximise low density housing wherever possible

2532 - Ken Begg

I do support disposal of former red zone properties.

256 - Bill May

If you sell them you will be allowing building in the future, it is red zoned for a reason .

2584 - Susan Stevens

Residential Red Zone Port Hills properties should be offered back to the original owners for a token amount.

262 - Maria Mendoza Nieto

Don't agree. Should be made into a community garden or hub over any sort of commercial or residential purpose

2621 - Caroline Gray

Should not happen

2672 - Ian Flatley

Maintain these properties - Technology in the future is unknown. Many assets disposed off can be subsequently found to be of use for future infrastructure (think stormwater, community batteries etc)

268 - Kathryn McNeil

I disagree with selling former Residential Red Zone property. If you sell properties on the Port Hills, it sets a precedence for property in other parts of the city formerly that were red-zoned.

2692 - Liz Fletcher

Strongly disagree

2693 - Tanya Markman

I do not think this is a good idea. I would oppose it.

2695 - Dave Gardner

I think it's a bad idea. I think they should be turned into parks or mini forests as this would help with Christchurch's canopy cover

2750 - Helen Johnstone

Overall, it is best not to dispose of income-producing assets for short term gain.

2755 - Jane Demeter

Red Zone property should not be on sold for development

2756 - Stephanie Defregger

Nope. Keep and turn into allotments or food forests.

2762 - Geraldine Allan

No way are you to sell that red zone land . The former owners where forced off that land .Return that land to the former owners.

No way disgusting I am a former red zone owner we where forced off that land nor where we ever paid the correct amount to move on .you need to start paying all the former red zone land owners full compensation for even allowing that land to be built on in the first place. We where forced off that land .As a result of being forced off that land it took us all many many years to get a home again. Don't forget we also had to pay full rates on land that we couldn't live on.Have a heart a lot of us are still struggling as a result of this Pay the former red zone land owners trauma money or rental costs legal bills engineering bills moving costs and all other costs that we incurred.

2771 - Suzanne Antill

No selling of any assets.
These are owned by the Christchurch people.

2772 - Janice Antill

No! No privatisation of Christchurch citizens assets!

Look after the renters and home owners look after our youth and elderly.

2773 - Thomas Healey

stupid

2813 - John Antill

No selling of any assets
these are owned by Christchurch
people

2823 - Aurora Garner-Randolph (School Strike For Climate Ōtautahi)

This is bad. Council should immediately repurpose the Port Hills Residential Red Zone for native replanting.

2830 - Fiona Bennetts

I believe these properties should be retained and a proper Port Hills Red Zone plan developed for their future use - e.g., fire mitigation, native plantings, etc. However, if they are sold, they must first be offered back to the previous owners

2906 - Donna Thomsen

Plant more native trees on these properties, make available to the city for walking tracks etc

2942 - Will Taylor

This is a bad idea

3035 - Claire Coveney

I don't agree with selling red zoned port hills properties. They should remain as a natural reserve. I am thinking of Heathcote valley hillside. Leave it as a reserve for wildlife, not a housing development. There is already enough housing on the Port Hills, too much.

3060 - Georg Ludwig

If they are a positive financial asset on the long run, keep them. I am not interested in short term solutions, which may result in rate increases in the future

3076 - Melvin Anderson

Keep all council properties

3089 - Trevor Lord

Strongly disagree, unless passed specifically to groups prepared to manage them for long-term cultural enjoyment by Citizens and visitors, and embargoed prior to sale by binding covenant.

3133 - Martin Maunsell

I don't think our assets should be sold

3170 - Derek Doddington (Top Dog Theatre)

Don't sell big lots cheap and let someone else make lots of money

3174 - Gary Morrison

Morally red zone land needs to be offered back to the previous owners.

3193 - Allan Greenall

No

3221 - Kenneth Dsouza

Disagree

3325 - Adele Geradts

The residential red zone land should not be rebuilt. Selling that land to anyone is a bad idea in the long term (maybe even tomorrow). We could have another large earthquake, or series of earthquakes and the same problems will happen again. I believe the Red Zone Land should become parks or reserves, but never housing again.

3361 - Ali Cameron

I am against selling assets

3379 - Mike Currie

As above.

[coder note. As above comment. "I do not support the disposal of Council-owned properties. CCC should maintaining assets (so that the public can have a greater say and the return of land to local iwi is easier) rather than selling them to private corporations who tend to only care about making money at the expense of the environment and people."]

3427 - Mikaere Greenslade

No - these should be kept in public ownership

3452 - Sabine Handel

No if it means the council is thinking about selling them off as rebuildable property (no building permits for red zone property).

3501 - Malcolm Long (Ōpāwaho Heathcote River Network)

4. The list of council-owned properties for potential disposal includes a number of Port Hills Residential Red Zone properties. These properties may yet serve some useful purpose in helping to achieve the aims of the Port Hills Plan once this document has been created.
 - 4.1. Hence we do not support the disposal of council-owned properties on the Port Hills until such time as it may be established that they serve no purpose for the Port Hill Plan.
 - 4.2. Similarly, we do not support the disposal of the following reserve lands until such time as it may be established that they serve no purpose for the Port Hill Plan.
 - 4.2.1. 148R Penruddock Rise, Drainage Reserve
 - 4.2.2. 26 Waipara Street, Cracroft
 - 4.2.2.1. This is a reserve, without any built structure on it, that is the only possible future link for a path from Cracroft proper through to the Cashmere Stream.

3539 - Louwren Moolman

No

3573 - Joyce Yager

[Parks > Red Zone]

I do not support any disposal of council-owned properties. I support native plantings in red zone hills properties. The Port Hills is almost entirely deforested and council should set an example with these properties to begin to re-wild the Port Hills.

3585 - Rachel Fulton

Properties should be retained and a proper Port Hills Red Zone plan developed for their future use - e.g., fire mitigation, native plantings, etc. This is where many of the best hiking, running, biking trails and views are. Let's make it safe for everyone to use for generations to come.

3652 - Andrew Hamlin

NO, same as above. if CCC does decide to sell then sell NZ investor only like Ngai tahu . Someone who will keep the properties under nzs belt.

3657 - Ruth Bullen

Don't agree

3694 - Jane Pairman

I think Council should retain these. They are needed for fire prevention, native rejuvenation and public use for walking, biking etc.

3697 - Jennie Brittenden

Once it is gone, it is gone forever.

3706 - Ellie Stevenson

Chuck these away and there'll be egg on faces the next time a crisis is happening and we've taken the tools out of our hands to address it. We need a proper plan for this area, tackling both the problem of fire mitigation and the promise of native plantings, at a far larger scale than we can achieve in the city.

3721 - Benn Dickie

[Parks > Tree Canopy], [Revenue > Disposal of Council Owned Land]

The proposed land for disposal - don't sell it, plant it!

>>>

I disagree - make these 'Greendot' spaces, entrust Trees for Canterbury and Te Ara Kākāriki to plant

3736 - Matthew Moore

Don't dispose of red zone properties

3745 - Victoria Rathgen

I would have thought that communities hubs might want them for projects...are they being sold or onsold to developers then -No

3781 - Trevor Spiers

No

3844 - My-Linh Dang

As above. Do not dispose of assets. Find ways to monetise them into income-producing assets.

385 - Francesca Brown

Disagree - unless they go to a trust. Disposing of these risks the misuse/misdevelopment of the land

3886 - Kim Moss

No

391 - Paris Porter

Bad idea

3917 - Bob Thayer

See Above. In addition we as a City must do ground improvement on some of the higher land in the RED Zone and sell of the sections. The lower lying and high risk areas can be left as they are or returned to wet lands over time

3966 - Michael Apathy (Climate Liberation Aotearoa)

>>>

Port Hills native replanting must take place immediately (we therefore oppose the sale of the Red Zone. This must instead be replanted). >>>

3968 - Joseph Fullerton (UC Climate Action Club)

The Port Hills Red Zone must be replanted, not sold.

3971 - Joseph Fullerton

Don't. The Port Hills Red Zone must become native planting to prevent future fires.

4032 - Paul Dietsche

Turn them into investments in renewable energy

4034 - Remy Barbier

Keep the property.

466 - John Pryor

I am concerned (as a registered property valuer) that these would not realise any material value and may over time hold additional utility for community purposes in the future. Hold them would be my view.

571 - Judita Paulionyte

Don't do it

617 - Gerard Loader

Don't

624 - Emma Velde

Don't sell off assets, find a way to utilise them and generate income.

762 - Julie Nelmes

no keep the land

78 - Michele Laing

This would be unfair to all those affected by properties being deemed red zone. These properties are opportunities for more areas of biodiversity in the city.

894 - Ben Liebing

I have some concern but trust CCC making the right decision

897 - Jonathan Mathias

[Parks - Other]

More cost saving need to be found with the use of red zone areas for leasing etc. Moving parks near red zone areas onto red zone land so park land can be sold to increase urbanisation.

904 - George Cox

Once again, I would rather that these properties be turned into an ecological reserve rather than developed on or sold.

Other

1031 - George Tylee

Support if market value realised.

1071 - Brian Donovan

No opinion

1079 - Gayle Johnston

Are they of use? Are they bringing in capital....if not sell

1158 - Sheryl Elson

Sounds good as long as the rate payer does not fit the bill for strenghtening etc

1168 - Annie Pattison

Yes, but if the land is that useful, give it to a charity to do what they want with it.

1185 - Greg Ritchie

Give priority to sell red zone land to neighboring adjacent properties first as they maybe able to just extend their land and look after this better in the long run.

1210 - Dianna Koorey

Again, as long as it goes into the hands of people/organisations who genuinely care about the community/people/environment that they are in, then thats good.

1216 - Glenn Maguire

Red zone should be used for local cafes that pass on a lease fee back to council a lot of residential land just doesn't have a local cafe handy.

1258 - John Chrisstoffels

Perfect Wildlife sanctuaries.

1265 - Jill Banbury

If able to be redeveloped and used yes, sell.

1291 - Christopher Bowen

Keep these assets for future use that you might not foresee

1294 - Donna Macalpine

sell it all pay debt

1323 - Mark Hubbard

Go for it. Use proceeds to reduce rates.

1332 - Liam White

If it gets fixed then fine

1334 - David Cowie

Sell the land to the public not a business entity.

1339 - Carol Marie Ferrier

Yes also sell once due diligence has been done

1352 - Lin Klenner

Yes, please start this around other red zone land as well, while I love the river and green corridor it could be reduced as we have so many under utilised parks in Christchurch.

1362 - Pablo Rodriguez

Selling off these assets to developers is a short-sighted solution with minimal financial benefit. To truly save costs and enhance community wellbeing, give residents the opportunity to find creative and responsible ways to utilize the assets they live within.

1391 - Anna Gruczynska

I support disposing low community value, low financial yield properties especially if they cost ratepayers to maintain. If these properties fall into this category, then I support that they be disposed of.

14 - Luke Chandler

We should investigate if we can do a public private partnership to develop these properties with houses to sell. Higher return

1413 - Tania Brewer

I think turn redzone area into parks etc youve done a great job with Dallington. Do more of that.

1426 - Judith Coullie

acceptable with provisos for community input for future use

1428 - Conor Keena

As long as the Port Hills properties are not to be developed (no buildings)

1456 - Henry Bersani

I'm not opposed to this in principle, but I think there could be opportunities to dispose of them in a way that is more community, i.e. as long as they aren't sold to property developers.

1462 - Sue Piercey

I think they need to be offered to the former owners first if the hazard can be removed or reduced to an acceptable level.

1508 - Mb Brennan

red zone area ok

1512 - Denis McMurtrie

Good unless we can think of better uses, Keep it simple. Councils should govern others can come up with ideas which initially council can agree on or not.

1515 - Andrew Douglas-Clifford

These should be retained and a proper Port Hills Red Zone plan developed for their future use - e.g., fire mitigation, native plantings, etc. If they are sold, they should first be offered back to the previous owners.

1520 - Wendy Butcher (Canterbury WEA)

Keep these as future recreational and community assets. They were made red zone for a reason and that reason has not necessarily disappeared. People who lived in these areas were required to move because of the perceived and real danger. If sale does occur, these people need first right of refusal.

1522 - David Alexander

I think Public land should not be sold, I think it should be leased.

1533 - Mark George

If there is a way the space can return to being useful rather than a hazard

1541 - Maurice Adler

My question is, what are the advantages in keeping them. If in the long term going to receive a greater return then keep them, if not dispose of them. But make sure it a business decision not some "nice to have" decision.

1544 - Daana Watson

If they are surplus to needs and not income generating, then dispose so they can be put to better use.

1545 - Jasmine Arps

Support. These properties need to be offered to their previous owners first, if the rockfall risk is mitigated.

1546 - Robert Fleming

I agree, following a consultation process. Care needs to be taken to ensure land isn't sold off that may be useful for public amenity in a more densely populated city.

1567 - Sarah Pritchett

As long as you work with the relevant communities right at the start so they are part of the whole process and can make decisions that work for them

1589 - Barry Miller

Red zoned land should stay green or else why was it red zoned in the first place if you're going to build on it .that would be a slap in the face for previous owners .

1613 - David Browne

As per above comment

[coders note. previous comment. "If not strategic then dispose of them".

1618 - Zachary Imhoof

If it's red zone it should immediately be planted out and kept as commons. plant it like it were native bush not gardens that need maintenance and more money sunk into them. Look at what Gavin in Sumner has done. There is nothing but positive community enabling, food growing goodness coming out of that place. stop putting up red tape for people who are trying to utilise those unusable areas for the production of food or native vegetation to bring back the birds.

1640 - Veronica Leigh-Ogden

Who will buy them? Hows this going to lower the chch debt?

1647 - Barry Linwood

Only if you sell for profit

1650 - Deb Osborn

I think this question is for the Port Hills residents to ponder.

1654 - Jane Ross

It is too early to do this. These confiscated properties were relinquished with much heartache and often dubious engineering reports.

1663 - Sam Spekreijse

More housing stock would be good if making the site safe practical.

1692 - David Bluck

Get golf courses to do land swaps with red zone land. For example Waimairi Beach golf course could be relocated to the red zone. A huge housing development could be allowed. The golf course could then get a larger area, a win win [Parks > Other]

1702 - Laura Xavier

As long as there is proper risk management I see no issue

1709 - Aaron Cumming

If its not making money sell them or change the way they are being used so then create revenue.

1770 - Richard Davies

Plant natives where it is unsafe to sell/build

1784 - Joanna Chan

There will be a legal battle if others choose to rebuild on this land. These effects need to be taken into account. If this could be gifted to community organisations in order to return this land to native bush, this would be beneficial for the city.

1825 - John Davies

Sell them too

1838 - Charlotte Holland

- I worry about the implications of future land use of these properties
- Spending large amounts on hard engineering solutions doesn't seem appropriate to me if they are just going to be damaged in the next quake.

1913 - Liz Meek

See above re large tree canopy. The port hills is an opportunity to install fire resistant native species that add biodiversity

[coder note. previous note. "Keep parks and plant large trees which actually increase proper tree canopy. Continued densification installs only small shrubs and low trees such as flowering cherry."]

1927 - Donna Gillatt

See answer to above question.

[Coder Note: Comment: 'It depends on many factors and what will ultimately happen with the funds from sales. If it is to pay off debt then potentially a good plan. If just to spend more then not. Can those properties be repurposed for the community that already owns them?']

1945 - Lucy Howell

Overall I support governments maintaining assets so that the public can have a greater say and the return of land to local iwi is easier, rather than selling them to private corporations who tend to only care about making money at the expense of the environment and people.

1952 - Xin Yi Wong

The only reason why I would suggest retention of the Council-owned properties would be if there was good opportunity for the Council to create urban forests, or needed social/accessible housing, etc.

1959 - Brad Waldon-Gibbons

if these cant be disposed of, can it be used as "green-space" biodiversity or natural regeneration areas please.

1997 - Justine Wright

again, sold - great. But you must have a provision that nothing is built on that land.

2078 - Barry Williamson

Convert former red zone properties into park land. To sell it means a loss of control over what becomes of it.

2087 - Emma Norrish (Waipapa Papanui-Innes-Central Community Board)

The Board supports the review of these holdings, though suggests that decisions in respect of matters regarding the Port Hills are enabled to be informed by a Port Hills Management Plan, as the Council had previously resolved to develop. The Port Hills are of citywide significance, and there should be some assurance that decision-making affecting them is guided by a planning instrument reflecting that.

2103 - P Stark

red zone properties if unable to be built or lived on could be made in to better community spaces and green recreational spaces and other for business that would be effected by the softer soils

2104 - Deborah Brown

As an immediate neighbour. I want to be notified about any future plans regarding the section at 22 McCormacks Bay Rd. There is significant concern, regarding the suitability of the land for building as there is the ongoing danger of the unstable cliff face.

2111 - Vaughan Wright

If nothing is being done to utilise these properties then sell

213 - Diana Plesovs

Only as reserve not residential or forestry

2143 - Vicky Anderson

Dispose of some, keep some for parks or native corridors.

2169 - Danielle Armstrong

As long as the red zone properties are safe to build on and free from contamination and other hazards

218 - Isabelle Barkley

If they can't be saved then yes

22 - Grace Colcord

If dispose you mean to give to someone else to do something with yes, it should be mana Whenua - always. And whatever is planned for this land, should be enriching rather than a plot of land that reminds us of the earthquake trauma everyday, all the time.

2200 - Janna Robinson

agree although I would expect some new investment to be made

2201 - Eddie Hayes

The people who once lived there were told it was impossible to rebuild there. Their views must be taken into account.

2251 - Mobim Mathew

If not useable, get rid of it. Or make something out of it to generate income.

2263 - Scott Babington

I think that some of the red-zone properties should be rehabilitated to native areas. Council will always need to assess its property portfolio and change as necessary. I think that the general public only sees council/other businesses disposing of assets and not buying new ones. Therefore 'rearranging/realigning' the property portfolio sounds much more attractive, rather than 'one-off fire-sales' to cover rates (which is not what you are proposing)

2295 - Katja Charmley

This land should stay council-owned and turned into a nature reserve.

2305 - Monique Maynard

UNAWARE OF PROPOSAL - BUT AS A FORMER RED ZONE RESIDENT IT SADDENS ME THAT WE WERE UNABLE TO KEEP OR LIVE ON OUR LAND, COMPENSATED BY A BLANKET POLICY THAT WAS UNFAIR TO MANY, WHILE BENEFITING OTHERS, THEN HAVE THIS LAND BE SOLD TO SOMEONE ELSE? IS THAT THE SUGGESTION? OR RETURNING IT TO NATURE - CAN LIVE WITH THAT

2316 - Samina Beale

You would be a council I trust and think you would do what is in your best interests.

2324 - Steffan Kraberger

Put reasonable climate constraints on them

2358 - Carolyn Moffat

If it costs more money than the properties are worth to dispose of hazards and make safe, then no at the moment. This project can wait until we can afford it. But if we can dispose of them easily and bank the money, lets do it.

2385 - Ezra Mussa

Residential Red Zone Port Hills properties can be disposed of, provided that this land is prohibited for being used for residential housing given the risk of the location.

2387 - Jed O'Donoghue

Start the process, but red zone properties may be very complex and not cost effective to do.

2392 - Wendy Blair

If they cannot be leased out to other organisations for profit and are not "valuable" land i.e. we can't build on it or it wouldn't be feasible to use for other ways then yes.

2404 - Grant MacLeod

Proceed with caution and make sure its not just short sighted but has a benefit for now and future.

2407 - Dave Evans

I lived for 14 years adjacent to what became the Red Zone in Dallington/ Shirley, 11 before and 3 after the quakes. I'd be very upset if the CCC allows some monstrosity to be erected in the Port Hills based on such "disposal." For an example of exactly what was done wrong is the monstrosity on Banks Ave that the Williams Corporation was allowed to build and destroyed one of the best neighbourhoods in the city...

2427 - Joe Henderson

If they were peoples homes and you now own the land, you should offer it back to the original owner

2432 - Mark Morley

Based on supplied information, a pragmatic plan, but be mindful of workable caveats so they do not become a future liability to the community that has to pay out for them again.

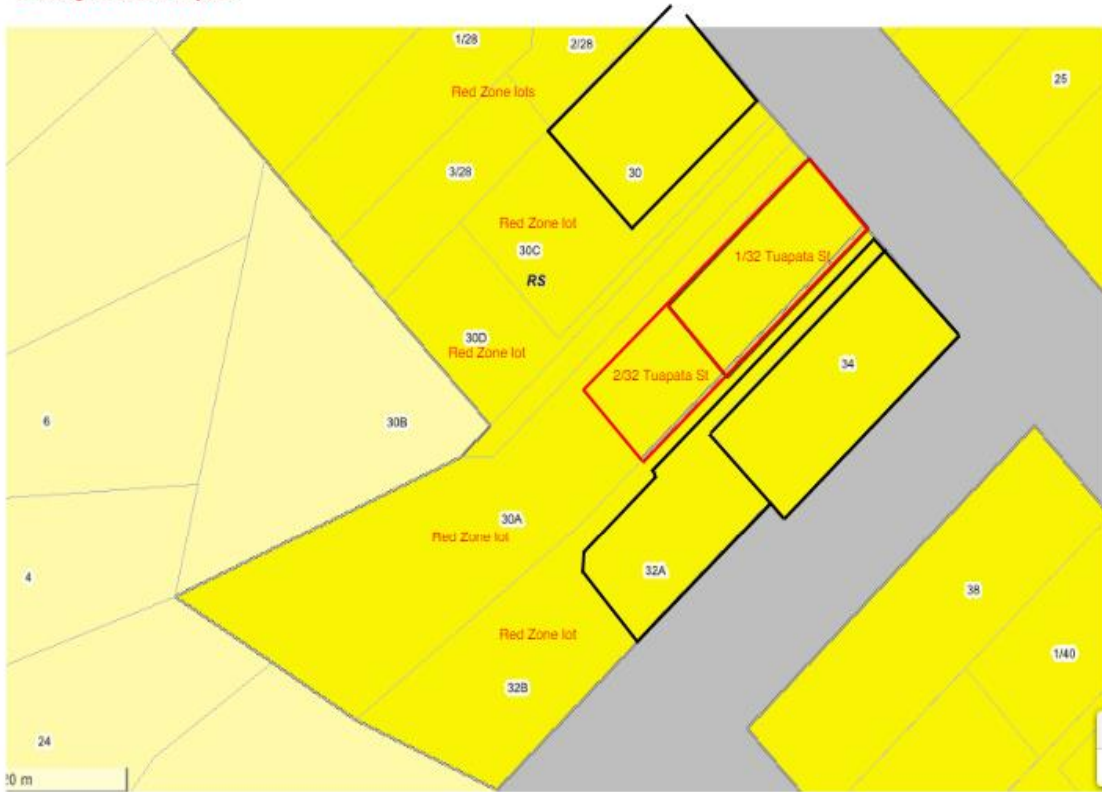

2442 - Paula Bevilacqua

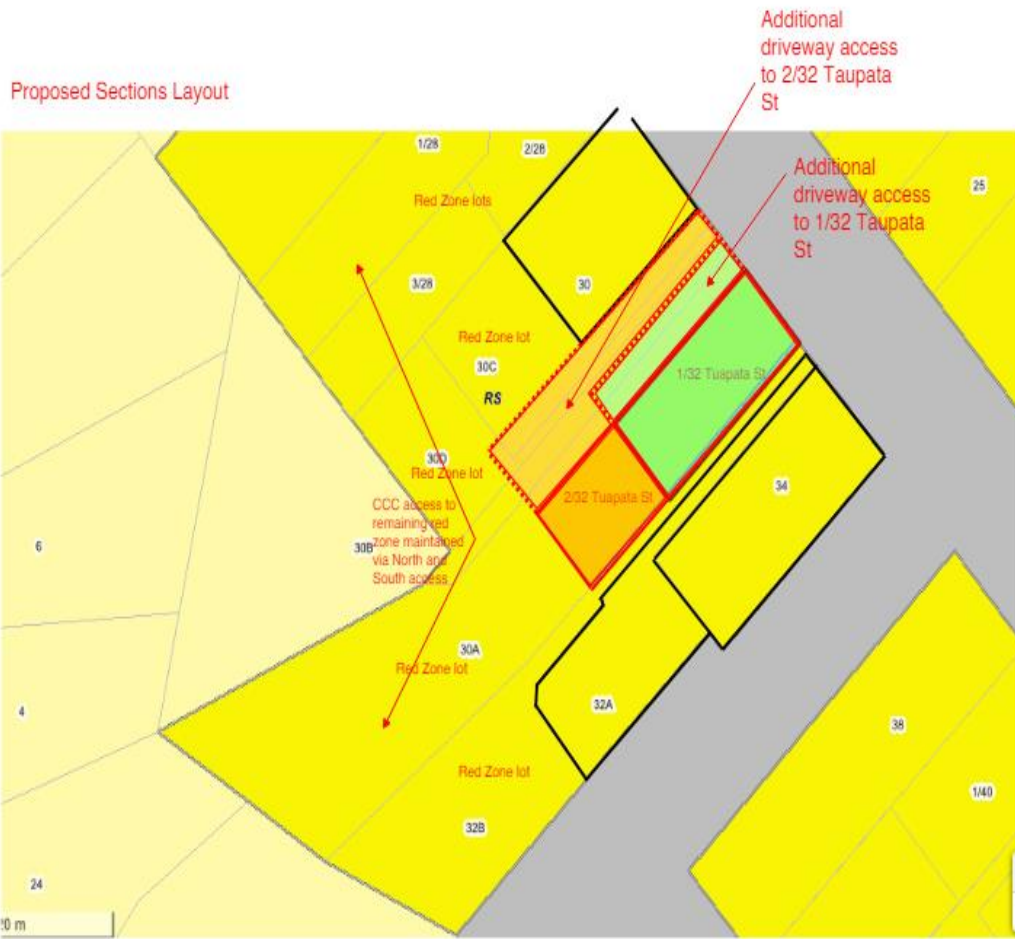

Give previous owners the first right of refusal.

2451 - Oliver Waddell

As owners of a property next to a red zone area in Redcliffs, we are very supportive of council looking to see how the use of these areas can be released to the community for wider use. However our view is that these option discussions should be held with neighbouring property owners as a first priority. Attached is a sketched proposal for how the owners of 1/32 Taupata Street and 2/32 Taupata Street would like to develop an option with CCC, in order to adopt adjacent red zone land that is currently unused. We propose to develop a local boundary change so we can adopt additional red zone area adjacent to our properties (see attached sketches), for increased driveway/access to our properties. i.e. we both get our own access driveway and are able to potentially increase the plan area of our lots to become freehold lots rather than cross-leased. These driveway accesses already exist to the original lots, so it is only a minor boundary change that is required with little actual on site works being required, with the additional benefit of reduced maintenance of this area for CCC.

Existing Sections Layout

2455 - Ben van Opzeeland

Yes I'm for it, would love for the land to be used for things which benefit all though. Not sure if that comes into it.

2476 - Reuben Scott (Simeon Park Community Group)

Is this the same properties that the commitment to prior owners was made around not selling them? If this is the case then that would be dishonorable to sell them - if not, utilizing these spaces for bio-diversity, community projects, co-housing etc. Not to be sold to developers for profit.

2499 - Amanda Ray

Sell it, but get a good price for it as that land value would be massive!

2507 - Bronte Barber

Hillier Place - is this someones home? will it be sold to a local home buyer? McCormack Bay Road - Can you sell to developer? Is the land too close to the cliff? What can be done?? Aratoro Place - land - is it significant? Heritage? Can it be a park? - if no to all - dispose Glendevore Tce - land - is it significant? Heritage? - if no to all - dispose Kinsey Tce - land - is it significant? Heritage? - if no to all - dispose Port Hills Road - land - is it significant? Heritage? - if no to all - dispose Hammerton Ln - land - is it significant? Heritage? - if no to all - dispose Marine Drv - land - is it significant? Heritage? - if no to all - dispose Tapatua - land - is it significant? Heritage? Can it be a park? - if no to all - dispose Summerville - land - is it significant? Heritage? - if no to all - dispose Searidge/Taylor's Mistake - land - is it significant? Heritage? - if no to all - dispose

2514 - Jeannie Murtagh

These properties should only be sold if they can be safely rebuilt on.

2524 - Ruth Falconer

If they're not producing a satisfactory income, get rid of them

2525 - Adrienne Kimberly Georgine

I don't agree with this. If former red-zoned properties can once again be bought, sold, and utilised, I feel we have an obligation to go back to the previous owners to see what this would mean for them. If they only sold their properties because they would never be allowed to live there again, and now they potentially could, there should be a consultation process around this.

2538 - Libby Ornsby

If they are redzoned is the social responsibility to keep them so they are not built on again? Depends if there are interested parties wanting to buy them to use for outdoor pursuits or something that does not require residential or commercial buildings. Restrictions need to be inline with the zoning

2540 - Jocelyn and Caroline Pappill and Syddall

Our main concern here was the selling off of former Residential Red Zone properties. We know that some of the red Zoned properties in the Port Hills was surrendered under duress so we would not wish to see new residential or commercial enterprises built on that land. A more substantial consultation with relevant communities will be needed beyond this being an addition to the LTP consultation.

2544 - John Bannock (Governors Bay Community Association)

Residential red zone Port Hills properties provide a unique opportunity for ecological restoration and with that recreational opportunities that could contribute to green tourism.

2545 - Antony Gough (Terrace Christchurch Ltd)

There is spare land in the Cashmere area that was red zoned originally but which is now suitable to redevelopment. Council is not in the development market and so this land should be sold off to release funds to council. The red zoned land in the east of Christchurch, that was given to the council by the government for $1, should be looked at and options to sell off areas that could be used by other people. I know there are restrictions from Government about this land but it does not stop council from investigating sales of parts of this land.

2554 - Paul Schwalger

No opinion, if they don't serve the interests of the community and the council, move them on

2559 - Michael Campbell

I am neutral the idea but I think this should be consulted on separately to allow for a decent review of the proposals

2595 - Nicola Hely

They should be retained and an appropriate plan for their use developed including elements such as fire mitigation, native plantings and so on. The Port Hills is where so many walking and biking trails that I love are, and we should make it safe to use for everyone.

2599 - Susan Miller

I agree to these being disposed of as long as the cost of remediation to the red zone properties is not going to increase our rates

2611 - Papataitua Harrington

Worried about doing this if it only benefits developers and doesn't create housing for all people-renters, social housing.

2615 - Virginia Wright

As someone whose property was red-zoned it seems risky to decide now (that our memories are fading) that what was deemed unsafe then should no longer be so, remediation or not.

2617 - Graeme Moore

I live at 3 Searidge Lane and wish to make a submission on the proposed sale of the sections in Searidge Lane. The land adjacent to us in Searidge Lane was red zoned due to repeated cliff collapse during the Christchurch earthquakes sequence. Following detailed engineering assessment by a variety of professionals the occupants at the time were told nobody would ever be able to build there again due to the ongoing risks of cliff collapse and were told to leave. Some property owners tried to retain their sites but were unable to do this because of the actual risk. I have asked the Dave Little of CCC to provide the detailed Engineering reports that either rebut the original reports conclusions or provides the solutions for removing the risk of 100 meter high, near vertical cliffs collapsing. The reports have not been made available at the time of writing my submission. I am happy to update my submission once these reports are received. I note any rebuttal of the original reports will cause issues for the previous landowners and any remediation would need to apply to the whole cliff face at the very least along the boundary of the sections and most likely beyond the boundaries so a collapse in an adjacent area will not pull the cliffs down that are on the section boundaries. It is a little bit difficult to get a good view of the adjacent cliffs themselves and the condition they are in, but there is some drone footage available along with photos of the dust clouds following the collapses and plans showing the position of current cracks. The cliffs at Peacocks Gallop are more easily viewable and give an approximation of the Whitewash Head cliffs situation although they are not as high. They may also provide a guide to the cost of remediation, although there will be a need to remember the Whitewash Head cliffs are only accessible by sea at the bottom. The comments I have submitted are against the background of trying to predict the magnitude and timing of any future earthquake. While we are generally aware we are due for an Alpine Fault event we are not aware of any other substantial predictions at this stage. I do note the recent earthquakes in places like New York where they have very limited experiences of earthquakes and Taiwan where they are more used to earthquakes but still suffer loss of life. 4 Searidge Lane is on the cliff side of our property and is listed for potential sale. One of the reasons I am interested in the Engineering reports is that there is a substantial crack within the Northeast corner of the number 4 property which I have photos of, and I wonder why this section would ever be considered suitable for sale? I am concerned as a rate payer that by confirming these sections for sale the Council will be creating a considerable liability for current and future generations of rate payers. Once a decision is made to sell them what control over remediation or any other work will be implemented and what contribution will the Council make to remediation work of adjacent areas? In summary I am opposed to the sale of the sections in Searidge Lane and am happy to appear in person to speak to my concerns and answer any questions.

2627 - Sarah Butterfield

This land should be regenerated

2639 - Callum Ward (Waihoru Spreydon Cashmere Heathcote Community Board)

- Whilst [red zone land] Raekura Place is not part of the properties up for disposal, the Board wishes for this land to be retained and staff work with the Mt Pleasant Pottery Group to allow continued and future access.
- 32 Hillier Place [rating ID 81759] should be removed from the disposal list, as this property was purchased (directly from HNZC) utilising funds from a bequest to the social housing unit for the purpose of social housing provision only. Any funds from this property should be ringfenced for social housing purposes alone. Furthermore, the property was purchased as a secondary access into Andrews Crescent on the recommendation of transport and CPTED staff as the existing road access into Andrew's crescent was deemed insufficient and poorly placed (distance to adjacent junction) if used as the sole entrance into a larger redevelopment. The disposal of this site could be short-sighted and lead to poor safety and community outcomes. • The Community Board thanks staff for the considerable ongoing work with community members who wish to make use of RRZ land.

2658 - Finn Jackson (Summit Road Society)

We note that the LTP's list of potential properties for disposal includes a significant number of Port Hills Residential Red Zone properties. While we accept that the risks which prompted their red-zoning may have been mitigated, we consider their disposal premature. These properties should be retained until the comprehensive Port Hills Plan has been developed, in case they have utility under that Plan for (for example), ecological restoration, fire hazard risk reduction, or other purposes.

[Full attachment available]

2664 - Peter Galbraith

Properties should be retained and a proper Port Hills Red Zone plan developed for their future use - e.g., fire mitigation, native plantings, etc.

2680 - Graham Fear

I don't agree with a building being allowed on 22 McCormacks Bay Road. I live next door at 24 and have been told, my insurance will increase dramatically because of the risk of cliff fall. A house on 22 would be even closer to the cliff. I had a slip from the cliff 2 years ago which EQC investigated.

2682 - Scott Savage

If an asset is providing positive income then keep it. If it's a liability then get rid of it.

2690 - Robbie Dobbie

I think the ^{Port} hills properties should be gifted ~~to~~ to the Mt Vernon park trust to retain this land for employment recreation purposes. (or a similar trust for the community).
The land is not suitable for building especially when the Alpine Fault line is still to rupture.

2699 - Graham Beswick

Not really sure on these properties could they be made into a farm to produce an income

2702 - Wendy Dick

I think you may regret it and the land will be very valuable again. As it was in cashmere when it was sold and then cost council more to buy it back

2715 - L.F. Blake

Yes, but consideration should be given to former owners having the chance to re-purchase should they wish. CCC should not invest money in any removal or reduction of risk (eg building bunds) on these properties.

272 - Hugh Hawkins

Port hills land should be allowed to become a conservation/recreational estate. Disposal should only be done with this in mind.

2738 - Patricia (Patsy) Eastwood

There would need to be airtight contracts concerning future building to ensure that there is not a repeat of the past, when all those properties were built on land that was well known to be prone to liquefaction, and totally unsuitable for residential or commercial buildings.

275 - Phillipa Callick

I own a property directly adjacent to 22 McCormacks Bay Road. My section is approximately 0.0208 of a hectare which in my opinion is far too small for a three bedroom home as there is little in the way of recreational space. I would like the opportunity to purchase a small proportion of the land immediately behind my rear boundary including an established Totora tree specifically for the purpose of recreation and gardening prior to the parcel of land being offered for general sale. If this were agreed the amount and effect on the section would be minimal as my proposal would essentially tidy up an oddly shaped boundary line amounting to just a few metres. I would appreciate the opportunity to discuss my proposal at the site prior to any decision being taken to dispose of the land by sale so that officials can see how my minuscule parcel of land could be positively impacted without negative impact on what would be retained for future sale. I don't object to the sale of the parcel of land if the massive cliff is deemed to be structurally safe but I would suggest strong consideration be given to limiting the type of building design to a single unit family home in keeping with the neighbourhood rather than a multi unit development of which there are many currently under construction at Ferrymead.

2751 - Helen Holyoak

Sickening for the people who once lived there and were forced out because the land is unusable, but probably a fair reality in interests of all chc residents.

2770 - Sarah Lassche-Jones
the Port Hills properties:

Red Zone only should go
Never rebuild there!

2800 - Ellena Cameron

IF there are HOMES TO BE BUILT, NOT MULTI-STORIED UNLESS GREEN AREAS GROUP
with recreation FACILITIES. MY REASONS SAME AS ABOVE. ~~10~~ STORY APARTMENT BLOCKS ARE THE SLUMS OF THE FUTURE.

2828 - Thomas Kulpe

It is highly likely that Council will need land in the near future to mitigate the effects of climate change. The question is not necessarily if properties are currently used or if they are used efficiently but if they may be utilised in the future.

2831 - Sebastian Denize

I support disposal of these priorities, provided Treaty considerations are followed, and any use only be allowed to have a positive impact on the climate emergency

2833 - Robbie Peacocke

Sounds ok, as long as some geotechnical investigation is undertaken and all results/reports given to all prospective buyers (e.g. put in the LIM). Some sort of zoning could also be considered to ensure specific engineering design and site-specific geotechnical investigation is undertaken so the houses built will withstand a future large earthquake.

2836 - Jillian Frater

I consider a fire mitigation and vegetation plan should developed for any large areas of former Residential Red Zone Port Hills properties prior to any of it being sold.

2846 - Olwyn Ferguson

I just hope you do something nice with the land

2847 - Colleen Philip (Sustainable Ōtautahi Christchurch)

BUT this process appears flawed. You need to go back to the people who were effectively forced out. Danger of pain, bitterness and an ongoing sense of grievance.

2868 - Jonty Coulson

A proper Port Hills Red Zone plan should be developed before disposal occurs, with focus being placed on how the land can be used to create or enhance native plantings and regenerative forest growth, or mitigate fire risk in the area.

2913 - Amanda Ovenden

Again the land should be used for community green spaces like allotments for people who don't own gardens and want to produce their own foods. They could pay a yearly rent line in the uk and are restricted to one . Or community growing spaces.

2919 - Hayley Guglietta (Avon Ōtākaro Network INC)

Concerning the Port Hills Red Zone, efforts need to be made to connect with previous owners first, we have a preference to plant areas that support other restoration projects over selling the land.

We do not support the sales of any OARC land.

2922 - Zak Morrison

The former Residential Red Zone Port Hills properties hold significant potential for community and environmental benefits. Retaining these properties would allow the Council to develop a comprehensive plan for their future use, which could include initiatives such as fire mitigation strategies, native plantings to enhance biodiversity, and the creation of green spaces for community recreation and well-being. Considerations for Fire Mitigation and Biodiversity:

- Fire Mitigation: Given the risk of wildfires in the Port Hills area, retaining these properties for fire mitigation purposes could be a strategic move. The development of firebreaks and the management of vegetation could reduce the risk of fire spread, protecting both the environment and residential areas.
- Native Plantings and Biodiversity: The properties could be used to support native plantings, contributing to the restoration of native habitats and supporting the Council's biodiversity strategy. This would not only enhance the ecological value of the area but also provide educational and recreational opportunities for residents and visitors.

Process for Disposal if Necessary Offer Back to Previous Owners: If the decision is made to dispose of the properties, it is crucial that the Council follows a fair and transparent process. This includes offering the properties back to the previous owners, as they may have a vested interest in the future of the land that was once their home. This approach respects the connection between the former owners and the land and provides them with the first right of refusal.

Consideration of Community Feedback:

- Community Engagement: Before any disposal takes place, the Council should engage with the community to gather feedback and explore all possible options for the use of the land. This engagement should be inclusive and consider the views of local residents, iwi, and other stakeholders.
- Development of a Port Hills Red Zone Plan: The Council should consider developing a detailed plan for the Port Hills Red Zone that outlines the vision for the area, potential uses, and the benefits to the community and environment. This plan should be informed by community consultation and expert advice. The proposal to dispose of former Residential Red Zone Port Hills properties requires careful consideration of the long-term benefits to the community and environment. Retaining these properties for strategic community and environmental purposes would align with the Council's commitment to sustainability and resilience. If disposal is deemed necessary, the process should be transparent, with an offer back to previous owners and significant community engagement to ensure the best outcomes for Christchurch.

2923 - Amanda Peter

Are you the council we the ratepayers going to have to buy it back in next natural disaster?

2939 - John Thomsen

Keep them and plant more native trees on them, or other species from different parts of the world ie: of conifers like in Bowenvale Valley. Allow fire track accessways.

2947 - Katia De Lu

I oppose sale of 26 Waipara St - it's the only possible future link from Cracroft proper through to a future shared path along the Cashmere Stream.

2951 - Les McKay

Sell off excess residential red zoned land at market rates.

2953 - Quentin Kelly

What has been the total loss to the rate payer for the council to have held onto them for so long only to be dumped now?

2963 - Carolyn Roos

So what happens if we do 5 or 10 years goes and they're start to build again norhing will have been learned from earthquake

2993 - Nikki Staskiewicz

[Parks > biodiversity and ecological restoration]

Use them as food forests / to grow kai for the city. Prime opportunity to make the city more sustainable!

[Parks > Biodiversity and Ecological Restoration]

Use them as food forests / to grow kai for the city. Prime opportunity to make the city more sustainable!

2995 - Ronnie Davey (Citizens Advice Bureau Christchurch Area)

Council properties to be disposed of should not be sold for commercial developers for profiting.

3 - Di Prankerd

With sensible covenants

300 - La Wanda Cowan

As long as the cost of the work to dispose of this land can be passed on to the future owners, if this disposal isn't going to be cost positive it should be removed from the LTP

3011 - Annette Marchant

Council should keep anything which may be misused by buyers, or which actually gives the Council power which it actually needs, or will need.

3021 - Viane Makalio

anything above 1,400 m² should be considered for repurposing the rest dispose any under 1000m² and fund the refurbishment of the other venues if possible if not dispose it all

3031 - Lee Osborn

Now that rock fall has been mitigated it makes sense to use this land for housing again but, as a flat land red-zoned person I feel for the former owners and think they should be offered their land before others.

307 - Rata Jamieson

Again, the council should maintain the land to be able to return it to local iwi. Christchurch sits on practically stolen land which was sold for pennies - on account of pressure from the government in the 1800s. These lands do not really belong to the council, and the council should be supporting returning land to Ngai Tahu and Ngai Tahu as a whole.

3085 - Jacqueline Sullivan

Depends on costs verses profits

3090 - Trudi Bishop

If these are to be sold to developers then no to selling.

3127 - Dianne Downward

If properties are no longer needed then sell and invest in something that will bring a better return.

3134 - Kim Lister

Depends who council Sells too. Developers like Williams corp yuck !

314 - Vaughan Kirkland

I also support reevaluating some of the Red Zone land along the Avon river. Some of the land on the fringes of still inhabited land could be reinstated as residential land . The proceeds of this could help fund the wider Red Zone park development. It would also provide for population growth within the city without urban sprawl or inappropriate high density developments

3142 - Ruth Jardine

Yes. As long as the new owners have a sustainable plan.

319 - Fay Stickley

Turn it into another park.

3191 - John Massie

Turn the red zone into a nature reserve or park or something

3195 - Redacted Redacted

if it can be done safely I see no problem with this.

320 - Ian Knewstubb (Lyttelton Times Ltd)

They should be offered back to the original owners

3200 - Georgina Woods

Again the city went through a lot, some places ok to sell but others are a strong part of the healing still

3209 - Anouk Minnaar

A proper Port Hills Red Zone plan should be developed for future community use - e.g., fire mitigation, native plantings, etc.

3243 - Michael Petherick

I would love to see the red zone become native forest for all to enjoy

Plant them in native bush. It will help provide habitat to bring Tui back to the city

325 - Kathleen Clinton

311 and 313 port hills road should be included: As port hill storage is operating (next door), no rocks physically came down to 313 during quakes, land above now has track which acts as a bund for protection of rockfall and fire, access to hill for emergency services and needs maintaining. Council is not keeping grass and vegetation sufficiently under control. If owned by landowner would have more care. Trespassing a major problem up to the hills of the port hills road. Fire risk. Used to be one property with 315 and naturally runs into this land. Should be an offer to reinstate back to 315 to prevent landlock and help with valuable access. Benefits whole hill area.

3268 - Savannah Da Silva

Entirely depends on the costs associated with the assessments and hazard reduction

3319 - Ryan Moore

If they are sold, they must first be offered back to the previous owners

3336 - Margaret Lovell-Smith

In view of the low percentage of tree canopy in Christchurch at present, I suggest the former residential red-zoned Port Hills properties should be retained and planted with indigenous vegetation.

335 - Wayne Bates

Get rid of as many as possible

3363 - Brodie Marra-Stevenson

As long as they can't be built on again and are offered to iwi at a fair price first.

3364 - Alison Murray

These should not be used as residential, commercial, or residential as they are not fit for purpose.

3366 - Robert Manthei

Can 'no build' zones be ensured, and the land returned to public passive-recreational use?

3370 - Eliot Blennerhassett

Former owners whose properties were acquired should at least be notified that these properties are now for sale.

338 - Jennifer Riley

Let their original owners purchase them and if they don't want them, dispose of them.

3411 - Marian Krogh (Protect Our Winters NZ)

These properties should be retained and a proper Port Hills Red Zone plan developed for their future use - e.g., fire mitigation, native plantings, etc. This is an important area for recreation and needs to be carefully managed. Many POW members say this is their favourite area to recreate in Christchurch. More fire mitigation and native planting will benefit everyone.

3412 - Alicia Harbison-Price

Worth investigating but needs to be handled sensitively as many may be unhappy to see the land being offered to be built on when it was previously unsafe to be residential.

3413 - Janey Archbold

Maybe depending on what the area will be used for

3414 - Chrissie Williams

RRZ Port Hills land should be retained in Council ownership and planted in indigenous vegetation. In addition, I do not support the disposal of council-owned properties on the Port Hills until completion of the Port Hills Plan.

3424 - Taylor Johnskn

If it's costing ratepayers money to retain, it would be worth disposing of

344 - Aaron Herriott

Why not turn them land into something worthwhile?

3476 - John Fletcher

Would prefer council to retain hill properties.

3482 - Col Pearson

These properties should only be sold if any remediation work necessary is not the responsibility of the city council, and therefore do not cost the council any money.

3483 - Jo Bethell

All opportunities to retain open land, and return to indigenous ecosystems should be taken

3497 - Cerys Fletcher

If these properties are sold, they should be offered first to original owners, then to neighbouring land owners.

3498 - Lucas Tomasi

Selling off red zone assests is a slippery slope, we have seen firsthand what happens when a large earthquake hits. I do not believe it is possible to ensure it will be safe enough for any kind of building developements especially residential. The red zones are full of opportunities for parks and recreation, I believe this will be a great way to utilize the land but minimize exposure to danger with the intenvitable next earthquake that strikes the region. We live on a massive tectonic plate, whether its 10 years from now or 50 there will be a quake and the building developements on the old red zone on the port hills will be a great risk

>>>

It would be a completely lost opportunity for parks and recreation. If the council sells off the land it will eventually be developed into housing which will cause a catastrophe in the next large earthquake. We live on a massive faultline I do not believe it could be made safe. It would be a great opportunity to develop into a park to elevate our 'garden city' status internationally. The views from the park looking down onto the city will be breath taking. Another great ulternative to the un used land would be to allow doc to manage it as a national park and re forest it. A forested park with doc trails so close to the city would be a big draw for tourists.

3541 - Ashleigh Smith

Sounds great. Turn them into parks, walking tracks or food forests

3559 - Alana Harper

Yes could be a gd idea

3567 - Rachel Briggs

Agreed but the opportunity to buy back the land should be given to the previous owners prior to earthquake.

3575 - Anna Hansson

I would encourage disposing of them to buyers who wouldn't ruin them.

358 - Tamara Dauvergne

Turn these areas into food forests for the people

3596 - Susan Lau

I think the council's criteria for retention seem reasonable and so if the properties don't meet these, disposal might make sense. With respect to the formal processes to follow, I hope that there is thorough consultation and discussion of these proposals with the local communities within which they are situated - so that the implications and opportunities of such disposal are fully understood by the communities.

3599 - Hayley Guglietta

With respect to the Port Hills Red Zone, efforts need to be made to connect with previous owners first, we have a preference to plant areas that support other restoration projects over selling. I do not support the sales of any OARC land.

3606 - Mark Dowers

This is extremely fraught. Land essentially confiscated should not be sold to housing developers. I know people who did not want to lose their land but were given no choice. That their spots could now be redeveloped at profit to others really stings... Surely the development of ecological havens for wildlife in these locations could be a better use of the land than profit for wealthy developers?

3613 - Catherine McLeavy

Sold yes, if no additional cost to the council and no potential legal repercussions to the council in future by next or previous owners. At market rates and at arms length.

3614 - Lin Roberts

I oppose sale of 26 Waipara St as I understand it is the only possible future link from Cracroft proper through to a future shared path along the Cashmere Stream

I oppose – some or all of these should be retained and a proper Port Hills Red Zone plan developed for their future use - e.g., fire mitigation, native plantings, etc. If they are sold, they should first be offered back to the previous owners

3615 - Janine Clarke

Formal processes should be undertaken with local consultation about land use.

3616 - Mark Webster

More discussion needed - because whom do you determine it should go to?

3621 - Morgane Honore

Given the proposal to start formal processes to dispose of five Council-owned properties, I believe it's essential to approach each case with careful consideration and thorough consultation with the community. While I understand the need for the council to manage its assets effectively and efficiently, the disposal of these properties could have significant implications for local residents and stakeholders. Before any decisions are made, it's crucial to engage in transparent and inclusive consultation processes to gather feedback, assess potential impacts, and explore alternative options. Each property may have unique characteristics and potential uses that warrant individualized consideration. Moreover, community input is vital in ensuring that any disposals align with the broader goals and priorities of the community. By involving stakeholders in the decision-making process, the council can foster trust, transparency, and accountability in its asset management practices. Therefore, while I acknowledge the need for the council to evaluate its property portfolio, I believe that any decisions regarding disposal should be made through thorough consultation and careful consideration of community interests and concerns.

3622 - Jono de Wit

Keep and make a Port Hills red zone plan. Perhaps for native planting.

3623 - Jessica Adams

Residential Red Zone land should NOT be sold on for development. If it is considered for sale it should be offered back to the previous owners in the first instance as many owners were compelled to sell and did not do so voluntarily. New developments which are consented for building should take into account the effect on neighbours ie if extensive earthworks are required to make the land safe to build on then adjoining properties which have existing dwellings should be protected as part of the process.

3624 - Noeline Marsh

If they are not needed and bring in revenue and alleviate rates rises, do it.

3627 - Patrick O'Kane

Yes, if not in use and will not have a negative effect on communities.

3635 - Jane Lila McKenzie

The Red Zone: After the earthquake, many residents lost their properties. The land was subsequently bought by the Gov, then sold back to the CCC who now pay for the upkeep. A Garden Group have taken control of the area, to the detriment of some of the residents who feel this 'group' are acting without consultation or consideration resulting in adverse affects. What can be done about this as their complaints are falling on deaf ears.

3636 - Kay Robertson

They should first be offered back to the original owners.

3645 - Sophie McKenzie

Regarding this area, properties should be retained and have proper thought-out development around their use for native planting and fire mitigation.

3658 - Tom Logan

Properties should be retained and a proper, funded, Port Hills Red Zone plan developed for their future use - e.g., fire mitigation, native plantings, etc.

3666 - Clarrie Pearce

should have public consideration

3670 - Joscelyne Silcock

Does the former owner get first option? Does it mean the land is no longer unsafe to build on?

3671 - Linda Nicolson

As above.

3686 - Suzanne Peddie

Can some of them be used as reserves?

3690 - Jono de Wit (Greater Ōtautahi)

We believe these properties should be retained and a proper Port Hills Red Zone plan developed for their future use - e.g., fire mitigation, native plantings, etc. However, if they are sold, they must first be offered back to the previous owners.

3698 - Clive Beaumont (Canterbury Basketball)

Agree but cannot allow unscrupulous developers to get it for a bargain

3705 - Glenis Youngman

Any property that cannot be used needs to be disposed of and the money put back into the council coffers to help pay down debt.

3708 - Joan Simpson

I would prefer for the land to be remediated before it is sold. So the entire area of red zone land being sold should be remediated. This is to protect the future owners and ensure the remediation is to standard. Then the previous owners of the land should have first right to purchase their properties back - even if the boundaries are not exactly the same. They should be able to return if the land is going back on the market. Then the properties can be sold,

3711 - Hamish Keown

Yes i think it should progress to the next stage of consultation with special effort being made to speak to the prior owners before going public.

3722 - Rachel Thwaites

Make sure you get a lot of money when you sell them otherwise the developer will make squillions

3725 - Richard Smith

I believe these properties should be retained and a proper Port Hills Red Zone plan developed for their future use - e.g., fire mitigation, native plantings, etc. However, if they are sold, they must first be offered back to the previous owners

3738 - Finn Jackson

I oppose these being sold prior to the development of the Port Hills Plan. These should be retained until after the development of the Plan in case they have utility under it for biodiversity, fire hazard mitigation, or other purposes. If they are sold, they should first be offered back to prior owners, and then to neighbouring landowners.

3743 - Ben Ellis

May be better used as wild / forested spaces? Would prefer caution before being re-used as residential land

3750 - Kathrin Affeld

These are assets that should be used for the wider good of the Christchurch community and not be disposed of. The Red Zone has become an important recreational area for many people and offers great opportunities for future recreational developments. Once sold it will likely turn into another horrible subdivision of housing without heart and soul.

3757 - Sonia Kennedy

I personally do not have an issue, however, I imagine former owners who had their land purchased as part of a government-forced sale might feel somewhat annoyed if that land was on-sold at a profit now.

3761 - Fiona Henderson

I understand the rationale behind the proposed disposal but I question what the net gain will be. Given the further investigations required and potential cost of mitigation works required to make the properties 'safe', council should be considering how much of the feasibility assessment and mitigation works it should do upfront. The other option could be to either: (a) do the feasibility study and then sell on the condition that the purchaser must do the necessary works prior to development. While this would reduce the sale price, it puts the risk of unforeseen costs in completing mitigation onto the purchaser. Or (b) seek tenders from potential purchasers which require them to do the feasibility work and then propose the required mitigation. It may be that the cost of managing this process is not significantly different from council just doing the feasibility work itself.

3766 - Christina Hartung

Not sure. Locals should have a say.

3770 - Jane Higgins

The views of the owners of these properties should be taken into account. As they are in the red zone, they should be used as parks and reserves not for private development.

3779 - Layling Stanbury

Terrible. Worst. If we kick people out of their homes to call it red zoned and then turn and sell their property we are no better than how israel is currently treating palestine. if the properties can be built on, they should be given back to the people who they were taken from with an apology and a great deal of reparation money for being forced to leave their home. Stop wasting time and money, plant it all out in native bush.

3791 - Sandra Beltman

Dispose of ? meaning sell? Perhaps this land would be an option for sustainability model villages? Low amount of infrastructure, tiny homes, composting toilets, rainwater gathering, village community shared 'hall/meeting house' and kitchen and laundry facilities space. Perhaps the return to the ratepayers on the sale of this land could be a combination of money - and education and community investment?

3799 - Morgane Honore (Richmond Community Garden Trust)

With respect to the Port Hills Red Zone, efforts need to be made to connect with previous owners first, we have a preference to plant areas that support other restoration projects over selling.

We do not support the sales of any OARC land.

3800 - Rachel Barker

Support in part. However, keep links to parks, rivers and other public land. Look for any opportunities for public to use pathways to reach bits of public land for recreation and environmental reasons.

3802 - Matthew Baird

I oppose the sale of 26 Waipara St - it's the only possible future link from Cracroft proper through to a future shared path along the Cashmere Stream.

3809 - Johnathon Ridden

Either dispose of property and reinvest in environmental outcomes, or revert the property to native vegetation for climate change resilience, carbon sequestration and reduce risk of fire on Port Hills.

3816 - Annette Bolton

Yes but keep as parks or reserve.

3819 - Jessica Halliday

Can they be used to achieve biodiversity outcomes, rather than being disposed of?

383 - Louise Woolley

Make into parklands for recreational use

3831 - Rick Jones

Rather than sell, investigate turning over to residents for the provision of community gardens or start a system of "allotments". The current system has far too many red tape impediments for this to happen smoothly.

3845 - Wolfgang Rack

No. Convert into recreational area.

3846 - Rebecca Finch

Um, didn't you promise not to sell land that was red-zoned? What about some council owned co-housing projects, with solar panels, home composting, gardens to grow kai, shared laundries, you know cool new ways of living like the peterborough st co-housing development.

3852 - Chris Coey

The Council should consult the local community where a surplus property has been identified and seek the views of the local residents before any thought of selling.

Red Zoned properties - this should be put to all Christchurch residents to decide on.

3853 - Geoff Curtis

I think they should be planted with natives and left to regenerate - or used for recreation

3862 - Katharine Metherell

All council properties to be disposed should be notified and time provided for communities to respond on the merits of retention - e.g. if a group has a feasible proposal that would provide community or council benefit then an extended consultation / review should be undertaken. Inefficient assets should be disposed of.

3867 - Gemma Dioni

Only if safe to do so given what happened in the residential red zone.

3871 - Philip Buchanan

Where possible, these properties should be incorporated into the network of Port Hills reserves to ensure that they remain green space for future generations.

3895 - Margaret Trotter

Why Where is the plan for our future city. Who buys them and what becomes of them. Do they get rezoned for developers to make money or do they stay neglected and more unsightly property in our city. Why and what is the purpose and what happens moving forward. People are still facing the fiasco of EQC and property. You need a comprehensive plan of why, what, how will this be managed.

3896 - Coral Denize

Do not allow houses to be built on these properties please, it is a waste of money

3897 - J E Thomas

As long as this is safe then seems to make sense.

3898 - Richard Smith

great idea - need to ensure return to CCC is maximised & developer doesn't unduly gain from this

3910 - Joshua Jones

Sell if not usable but set use restrictions on buyers

3913 - Mark Darbyshire

I haven't gone into detail but it seems broadly sensible, provided other submissions don't flag important future uses for these properties (for example Greater Ōtautahi flagged potential implications for active transport).

3939 - Michele Hollis

Bottom line for residential red zone in any part of the city is that it would be an utter betrayal to sell those back into residential use. Other uses I'm fine with.

3941 - Georgina Stanley (Smith Street Community Farm Trust)

If the sections are adjacent to existing reserves or doc reserves, then they should be incorporated into the reserve.

3949 - Fay Brorens

I'm unhappy that former owners of Red Zoned land are not being given first choice of purchase.

>>>

I guess it depends on costs. But then if sold I would like to former owners give first right to purchase. I know the work done will lift the price.

3957 - Anne Scott (Spokes Canterbury)

We believe these properties should be retained and a proper Port Hills Red Zone plan developed for their future use - e.g., fire mitigation, native plantings, etc. However, if they are sold, they must first be offered back to the previous owners

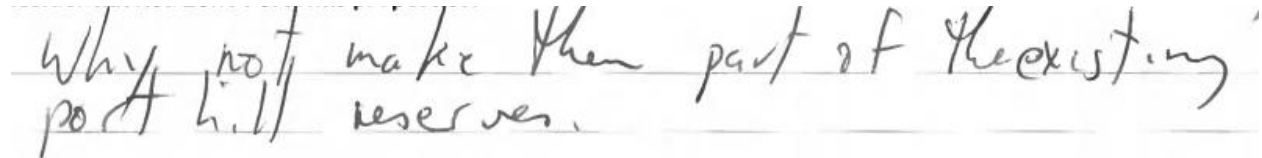

3960 - Nicola Prattley

If that will reduce our rates increases, it's a good thing but, if it just means less income for the Council, then no.

3961 - Paul Robertson

please try to do it efficiently, having worked out that it is actually the most financially sensible thing to do.

3990 - Malcolm Smeaton

Why not make them part of the existing port hills reserves.

3994 - Sarah Boje

Let locals plus councillors decide

4000 - Kari Barr

Yes if residential red zone properties are put into reserves. Not to be built on. If it was to be built back on a big NO

4003 - Kristine Jolliy

As long as they are not built back on. Less buildings on the Port Hills. More native plantings will produce less fires.

4006 - Hana Saemon-Beck

No opinion. If it saves money and keep rates down, then yes.

4015 - Lucy de Latour (Montreal Trustees 2015 Limited)

The purpose of this submission is to request that the Council amends the "Potential Disposal of Council Owned Properties" to include 18 and 20 Kinsey Terrace.

[FULL ATTACHMENT AVAILABLE]

4024 - Richard McCaskill

They need to be identified first but if they are of no future use to council and are costing to maintain, they should be disposed of.

4025 - Robin Wynne-Williams

More thought into the economic use of these properties, eg the perpendicular hydroponic farming and other ideas, eg raising native tree plants. Etc

406 - Angela Burrill

Agree. Dispose of All Council properties.

452 - Mark Penrice

Make the sale process transparent and I support it.

459 - Aaron Watson

As long as the money is invested and not just spent

48 - Kean Mitchell

Why? Can the assets be repurposed to deliver long term revenue to the city as an asset?

572 - Brian Nelson

I think that there is the possibility for many good uses for the red-zoned land. The council does not have the ability on its own to manage these areas on its own. Among some of the uses could be urban farming/horticulture that may be viable. I would like to see some provision for motorhome/caravan parking closer in to the city (thereby supporting economically) business within the city.

577 - Donna Tse

Partial agreement subject to the proposed land use by developer

579 - Rosemary Neave

We need a plan, and consultation with communities, community boards about this. A blanket approval is totally inappropriate.

612 - Annette Mauger

Who takes responsibility if this proves in the future to be a bad decision? Proceed with caution and due diligence

631 - Cynthia Roberts

Former owners of red zone properties that are now deemed safe but who were asked to leave should be given first priority to buy that land back at the price that they were paid. The majority will probably say no, however, it is an essential step in the healing process of those who have been forcibly removed from their land especially if now it is deemed now not necessary. I am not talking about areas that have been remediated and at expense of the rate payer but those that are now in their original state deemed to be safe.

635 - Ashley Campbell

If Port Hills red zone properties are to be sold, every effort humanly possible MUST be made to find the previous owners and offer them first right of refusal. I would prefer they were used as part of a programme of revegetating the Port Hills, but I do not point blank oppose sale if that is what's decided.

645 - Stewart Mckenzie

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

I support this provided selling terms ensures the buyer is not planning to use the property for a GHG emissions intensive use; and the proceeds from the sale goes into the planned climate resilience fund

657 - Murray Peacock

If the properties do not generate income at the generally accepted rate of return they need to go

666 - Stephen Palfrey

The proposal is sensible providing the council obtain the best possible return on the asset being disposed of i.e. what it is zoned for.

669 - Daniel Barkley

If it can be done so without costing the council I think it is a good idea.

672 - Edwin Du Plessis

It must be pursued while working with those adjacent communities

674 - Carey Poulter

As long as former owners are compensated if the land sells for more than they were paid out if they were a repair. We were red zoned in Avonside Drive and at the time residents were assured that if our land was subsequently on sold and sold for more than we were paid out, which was the outdated RV, owners would be compensated for the difference.

686 - Nicola Bush

[Parks > Otakaro Avon River Corridor Regeneration]

Set up Water / Rowing in red zone Sell Properties

687 - Anna Laurenson

As above

[Coders Note: previous comment "If they serve no purpose and are sitting empty then yes sell them. If it's parks or public spaces then no. Keep for everyone's enjoyment money has already been spent developing them."]

693 - Jamie Innes

If they are a financial liability and not generating income.... then dispose of them

719 - Shane McInroe

keep as a park

746 - Lara Flavell

If the properties are not generating money & are costing the ratepayer then yes, they should be sold.

751 - Genevieve Robinson

Create wetlands and other climate focused resilience projects in these areas

8 - Justin Yudistira

Retain them for fire mitigation and planting. However if sold they should be sold first to their previous owners, second to iwi.

812 - Matthew Fagan

[Parks > Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration]

As above, it would be nice if they were turned into native bush reserves, but I accept that it might be best for the council to dispose of them, if safe to do so.

814 - Malcolm McKellar

Whatever the plan need to keep as vacant land.

818 - Bevan Phillipson

If disposed of, then place restrictions, etc, on how the Buyers can make use of the land.

865 - Kelvin Duncan

Depends. Could be a case-by-case consultation?

868 - Lucas Moreno

Ok, however make sure there are caveats on the titles so that no fixed structures can be built. Or that if fixed structures are allowed, that no one actually lives there (so a cafe would be ok, but not a house). Otherwise we are losing an opportunity to start shifting people from those areas to other less prone to flooding.

880 - Peter Kim

Turn it into a sanctuary kinda like the redwood forest in rotorua and make it a tourist attraction.

883 - Elizabeth Steel

My only concern would be ensuring that the properties are safe for sale, to avoid risk to human and animal life.

885 - Denise Kidd

Council originally allowed for properties to be constructed in what have now become at risk from climate change. LIMS did not mention climate / environmental risks for a great many homes. Council has some responsibility for these homes,

935 - Rob Davies

Depends on future designation - may pay to hold onto it? Is it worth selling?

Not Stated

100 - Anthea Fraser

Don't know the details but council shouldn't be in the business of holding property. If sold, needs to be open market.

1012 - Andrea Mcgregor

Unsure....will it pose problems if developed indiscriminately? Who are the likely purchasers?

1016 - John-Paul Avent

If it doesn't make money....

1027 - Bruce Shalders`

I have no strong opinion either way.

1061 - Racheal O'Brien

Do they bring in any cashflow?

1191 - Ava Johnson

Same as above

1346 - Bianca McKinnon-Gee

Unsure

1469 - Susan Grant

not sure where they are

148 - Julie Mitchell

however as a Neighbour whom has had an expression of interest noted on our neighboring red zone land since it was red zoned, along with being severely affected/impacted by anything that has happened on the land since it was red zoned and since we will be impacted by anything that will happen to/on the land going forward we believe we should absolutely be given first rights to purchase as it affects us outright

1490 - Carolina Nery

N/A

1504 - Jonathan Kingston-Smith

If it can't be built on, then there's no point owning it

152 - John Stickley

That is a very complex issue. Will depend on what occurs within the purchase agreement.

1540 - Isabel Carlyon

This is likely to be emotive and unpopular

1568 - Kathryn May

I would like to see open transparency about any offers to sell and who buys it made public and at what price - this is not price sensitive information

1672 - Dickson Wong

How else is the council going to use these properties?

1676 - James Boland

Unsure.

1699 - Dominic McKeown

the LTP doc seems to be very light contact for what areas and is to happen. more clarity is needed. >>>
[Parks > Biodiversity & Ecological Restoration]

1855 - Michael Liu

Keep going

1868 - Sara Rennell

Do it if it saves cost. Dont if it costs and is not a danger

193 - Anne Mahan

Need more research on why they are in council hands and the public benefit

2167 - Terry Frost

Go for it

2272 - Tegan Jones

Since they aren't safe for buildings then then should be given back to nature and be planted with native plants.

2289 - Leonie Jackson

Unsure

2434 - Philip Bones

Ditto.

2536 - Jennifer McDonald

Not sure. What does Council get out of it?

2602 - Dorothy Jordan

No opinion as I don't know the ramifications of such a proposal

2640 - Wayne Hawker (New Brighton Museum)

Why are we not billing the Govt for the costs we have had of maintenance and any disposable costs , they created these and then simply washed their hands by dumping them onto a council who had no idea's or plans of what to do with them

2746 - Helen Taylor

These need to be resolved.

28 - Geoff Egan

Depends on what happens next

2811 - Nikora Nitro

Crazy shit.

2822 - Angela Leatherby

As above. I think we also need to consider what land and property could be returned to mana whenua through these types of disposals.

[Coders note. 'as above' comment below]

Council is not always the best organisation to own property, we should always consider who could activate these spaces more effectively and efficiently and it often isn't us.

2829 - Jennifer Dalziel

as these havent been identified I cant comment.. why would anyone want to buy red zone land??

2837 - Deborah Harwood

Yes

2855 - Kat Forrester

No opinion. Do what you must.

2887 - Linda Keall

no opinion

2955 - Linda Morris

Needs careful consideration

299 - Jane Nuttridge

I'm not understanding what these are?

3017 - Heather Venis

Unable to comment. Don't have enough background.

3068 - Vanessa Wells

No comment

3123 - Kate Markman

Rebuilding in a red zone seems ridiculous, even if the risk is reduced by engineering foundations etc. Would be a better use of land to turn it into a proper park

3152 - Neroli Fornasier

Don't know

3177 - Dan Lucas

I struggle to make this assessment due to the unknown cost to 'make safe' this cost may far exceed the long term maintenance cost

3222 - Mark Rayner

One of many red zones that will eventually be sold.

3263 - Allan Wood

The new houses

3314 - Esther Scott

Will the former owners be given first option to purchase back their previous land?

3337 - Erica Afonso

Good idea to bring on more money instead of increasing rates or fees

3346 - Lynette Bay

Again this could help with debt reducing

3373 - Michael Netto

I support the proposal to dispose of additional Council-owned properties, including those in the former Residential Red Zone on the Port Hills. This strategy is an excellent way to optimize the use of public assets, potentially converting them into valuable resources for community and economic development. The disposal could reduce the Council's maintenance expenses and redirect funds towards more critical services or infrastructure projects that benefit the wider community. Additionally, responsibly redeveloping these areas can enhance local neighborhoods, increase property values, and support sustainable urban growth. I appreciate the Council's commitment to effective asset management and encourage a transparent process that seeks extensive community feedback.

340 - David Wilkinson

be careful you consult with the insurers as I believe you haven't. unlikely to get insurance on some of those properties and could open up a future claim against council from purchasers.

3425 - Hugh Dacre

If there is real benefit to the Council, but what are the alternatives for these properties if they are not safe?

3439 - Stefan and Bruni Huy-Gebauer

The submitters are interested in, and directly affected by, the proposal to dispose of 1 Kinsey Terrace, Lot 1 DP 2493 and Lot 2 DP 43517, listed in schedule D. The details are included in the attached document entitled: "Gebauer-Huy submission CCC LTP 20.4.2024"

>>>

This submission raises concerns about this Section of the Long Term Plan: Potential Disposal of Council Owned Properties as the sale of some red-zoned properties may have unintended adverse effects on surrounding residents.

The submitters are residents whose future access to their property could be denied by the sale of one of the properties listed in Schedule D as [REDACTED]

Their long-standing attempt to secure access and the potential risks of allowing the sale of [REDACTED] to go ahead are outlined in the attached submission.

The submitters would like to be heard in support of their submission, but circumstances prevent their appearing in person. Someone will be there to represent their interests.

Disposal of council-owned properties without reference to existing and future access problems presents a real risk to already disadvantaged communities and individuals affected by the earthquakes.

Any potential disposal of a council-owned property should not proceed without first considering the impact on surrounding residents.

The risks include:

- geotechnical instability, making rebuilding on red-zoned land dangerous
- lack of access to other properties across damaged land
- properties left for over a decade un-renovated due to lack of access for building work and residential use, and
- inability of emergency services to reach affected homes cut off by red-zoned properties from first responders.

>>>

What should happen at [REDACTED]?

The submitters respectfully suggest that there appear to be three options for [REDACTED] to provide access to [REDACTED], which are:

- leave [REDACTED] undeveloped, which would allow either a right-of-way or access strip to be created to [REDACTED]
- let the submitters purchase the section [REDACTED] (which could then be re-amalgamated with [REDACTED], and could be subject to a hazard avoiding building line restriction for any future re-development), or
- offer the land, or perhaps only that part of it that is not subject to the line of geotechnical weakness, for purchase on the open market, but with a right-of-way or access strip identified in favour of [REDACTED]

The submitters note that, while the option of [REDACTED] being offered on the open market, without any acknowledgement of the access issue for [REDACTED] is also likely to be considered, it would mean that they would have to compete with developers with significantly deeper pockets.

So, while purchasing [REDACTED] (at auction) is a theoretic option for the submitters, it would only be viable (for them) if they can secure sufficient funds, especially as construction prices have risen sharply in the meantime. The submitters' position is that their funds are limited.

But, as the submitters are now in their [REDACTED] driveway access via [REDACTED] represents the last chance for a fresh start after [REDACTED] years of extensive endeavour. It would also be a huge relief, given their only access since the earthquake is through an area designated "Land Mass Movement Class II", which is not a particularly reassuring situation for them.

>>>

Option A. Leaving [REDACTED] undeveloped

This option may present the opportunity for land formally part of [REDACTED] and of [REDACTED] to be set aside, possibly (in part at least) as a public reserve. The land would provide an opportunity for a public lookout over Sumner and Pegasus Bay. It is all within Mass Movement Management Area 2, so while it could potentially sell at auction (N.B.. [REDACTED] is not listed as one of the properties being considered for disposal), the price that might be reached would likely be impacted by the need for significant work remediating the land (assuming remediation the sufficiently reduces the risk is possible) prior to any re-development.

The submitters would still be required to provide compensation for the right or way or access strip that could be created, established by way of independent valuations. But the outcome would also provide a community asset that residents and visitors could then utilise, and would not lead to re-creation of the risk that arose in the earthquakes, as a result of a residential redevelopment.

Option B. Allowing the submitters to purchase the developable part of [REDACTED]

This would mean that the return to Council would be greater (again established by independent valuation). But would also mean that less of [REDACTED] would need to be maintained by the Council (or through another arrangement) than under the first option above. It would mean that no redevelopment would occur on that land as the submitters have no intention of using the land in that way, thereby eliminating any potential residual risks.

In suggesting these first two options, the submitters concede that they are not geotechnical experts and that they find some of the geotechnical analysis of the property both confusing and contradictory. That is because, while not experts, they know the earthquake's impact, having lived through it and seen its results. Given what happened to the house on [REDACTED] they consider that redeveloping this property for a residence (or residences) would be very risky.

As a result, they ask:

- Can this responsibility really be taken on?

And:

- What happens if there is another quake?

Because, the submitters note, there was a conspicuous reason why the property was zoned red in the first place and has remained that way for more than ten years. Over that time, the large crack, or line of weakness, that runs right through the property has also remained.

Therefore, even if the submitters could buy [REDACTED] (as an adjacent owner), they would definitely not be building on the property for this very reason. However, a driveway could be realized without risk.

Option C. Offer [REDACTED] on the open market

The option identified by the submitters includes that a right-of-way or driveway for access also be identified under this option prior to the sale of the remainder of the site.

Without that, the submitters have little doubt that, unless they were successful in bidding for the property at an auction, their hopes of gaining essential access to [REDACTED] would be dashed. They realize that the auction would include property developers and others with deep pockets but no experience, or possibly any memory, of the impacts of the earthquake.

If that were to occur, the difficulties for the submitters would likely lead to the end of their dream of continuing to live in their home at [REDACTED]. Because buildings practically surround their property, such access is vital, including the fact that it would allow access by emergency vehicles and the fire brigade, who currently only have access over the vacant section at [REDACTED].

The development of [REDACTED] without providing driveway access to [REDACTED] could potentially prove to be the final blockade.

The submitters say “potentially” as arguably the access could still be achieved as part of an open market sale with a combined access way. But given their experiences with adjoining landowners, the submitters believe that such access would have to be provided prior to any auction of the remainder of [REDACTED] or would likely never be realized.

In addition, because of the relatively small building footprint potentially available to [REDACTED] [REDACTED] (without significant geotechnical remediation), any dwelling would need to be very close to both the submitter’s boundary and that of [REDACTED]. Consequently, the house position could be very detrimental to the other two properties, particularly in terms of privacy and/or shadowing. While the old single-storey character villa of the first house on ██████████ caused no issues (apart from the addition of the new garage), the submitters fear that it would be different now, which is extremely concerning for them.

It is noted that even if ██████████ was not sold, the Council would still receive the proceeds from the sale of the land for the access driveway.

In addition, the submitters' view is that what they are seeking in terms of access effectively replicates what existed on ██████████ prior to the addition of the double garage on that site. The Driveway existed alongside the dwelling. So, if ██████████ was, despite the submitters stated misgiving, to be sold for redevelopment, because that would inevitably involve significant remediation to make it worthwhile, there seems no reason why the previous layout could not be utilised again.

For that reason, the submitters question whether there would be any reduction in the value realised by the Council for the sale of ██████████ if it was sold with an access solution for ██████████ in place. That is their view, even if the submitters were unable to purchase the remainder of ██████████ outright themselves. However, that is something the submitters feel they would still need to try and do, for the reasons already outlined, if a sale on the open market was opted for. As noted already, this option is not the submitters' preference, unless the access solution can also be provided.

Elephant in the room?

The submitters acknowledge that providing vehicular access over [REDACTED] would mean that the value of their property would increase, which is why, under any of the options presented, the submitters are clear that they expect they will need to provide fair compensation for gaining such access. However, the increase in value has never been their primary objective. Instead, it has always been, as it is today, about the accessibility of their property, and their welfare and safety moving forward, which has become even more urgent for the submitters after the earthquakes.

Following the demolition of the old villa at [REDACTED] more than ten years ago, the submitters have been unceasing in their attempts to try and achieve driveway access. One of the results has been that the repair of the submitters' house has been postponed. That is partly because the drive access would also mean that repairers and material can better access the property (especially for carrying out structural repairs) but also in the hope that enhancements they would likely pursue, such as an adjoining garage accessed via the driveway, will significantly impact the house's eventual design.

Given all the circumstances, the submitters believe that a fair solution can be found without disadvantaging the ratepayer. It should again not be forgotten that, while the Council benefits from selling the land as the result of limited contribution on its own part, it could save the submitters from what has at times seemed a hopeless situation, without any actual loss.

>>>

Relief sought:

Accordingly, the submitters seek:

1. That [REDACTED] is not offered for sale on the open market but either be:
 - a. Maintained as a public reserve, subject to an accessway to [REDACTED] [REDACTED] or [REDACTED]
 - b. sold wholly or in part to the adjacent owner at [REDACTED] (at a fair market rate determined by independent valuations), who would then provide access to their section ([REDACTED]) over [REDACTED].
2. If the property at [REDACTED] is to be offered on the open market, then prior to any auction, an access strip to [REDACTED] is to be provided, (with any costs of the land for the strip and any subdivision being met by the owner of [REDACTED] [REDACTED]).
3. Any similar or consequential relief that achieves the outcome sought by this submission.

[Full attachment available]

3453 - Zeta Pringle

Time has come to look at options for the red zoned port hills.

3464 - Serena Smith

Only if you need to dispose of them.

3510 - Michael Horgan

This should be utilised. Total wasted area. Been involved in recent works that have wasted millions

3550 - Sam Hewitt

[Other/Special Interest Topics > CCHL matters]

As above I think the council or CCHL should aim to develop this land before ever considering selling it off.

3558 - Patrick Kennedy

In general I am in favour of retaining publicly-held assets as it allows the public to have a greater say in their use, rather than selling off to profit-driven corporations.

358 - Tamara Dauvergne

Keep all processes and transactions transparent and publically notified at every stage.

3581 - Steven Barbour

I think, in a long-term plan covering billions of dollars, most of this particular discussion is just noise and gets in the way of far bigger issues.

3589 - Roxanne Brassington

Possible but I need more specifics

3592 - Lucy Altaner

I don't think we should ever build in the red zone.

3626 - Connie Christensen

I do not feel that I have enough insight or understanding of these properties, so please get expert advise on whether these can/should be disposed.

373 - Charlene Herring

This brings up many issues of fairness to the original owners who were basically forced to sell their homes. Should they be given priority or right of first refusal? At what price? If the city is seen to be making a profit at the expense of victims of the earthquakes, this cannot be fair. Any selling of these properties might be used to set a precedent for other red zoned areas.

>>>

y major points would be -- disposal of residential property in the Red Zone is an obvious minefield for the city

3733 - Helen Reason

There doesn't seem to be an overwhelming need to keep these properties

3773 - Elizabeth Benson

It would depend on what their use ended up being.

3849 - David Peddie

What does dispose of mean? Sell to a private buyer?

3850 - Stephanie Remington

Red zones cost money to mow the lawns and a cost it doesn't need. What is the point in keeping it?

3883 - Colin Meurk

don't know the implications but in general see above

>>>

in principle we should never be disposing of public assets, yes we need to ensure we get good value for the investment in them, but if anything we should be acquiring more public assets - social housing, quality green space ... indeed we should abolish the whole Wilson's car parking monopoly and retain all the income locally.

3893 - Joe Pope

Distraction

3921 - Alison Loveridge

This should be done with sensitivity towards former residents

3943 - Maria deSilva

Where is the money going to go?

3977 - Defyd Williams

Council voted in to decide these issues

3996 - David Lough

WE ARE GOING TO HAVE TO SELL ASSETS
TAKE MY EARLIER SUGGESTION ^{i.e} FLOATING SUBURBS
BY DUTCH COMPANY "WATER STUDIOS"

4005 - Janet Lockyer

I couldn't find this either.

4012 - Fiona Garrett

I don't know what these are but each should undergo a full / cost benefit analysis.

4038 - Jodi Wright

Perhaps

423 - Linda MacIntyre

Consider the insurance costs on possible properties with certain liabilities for more housing. When will this area be considered for extensive native and orchard planting?

443 - Keryn Roberts

I am concerned with possible costs associated with disposal.

468 - Genevieve Bergin

Not sure

489 - Barry Livermore

You don't mind disposing of Red Zone properties on the hills but hav kept the plan to hve houses built on the Red Zone land beyond what you plan to give to rowing clubs at Kerrs Reach. Councilors were embargoed from releasing those plan for fear of deserved public backlash. Transparency.

533 - Judith Livingstone

Red zoned needs some of it sold if fix properly

55 - Jen Abernethy

which properties are these?

558 - Brigid Buckenham

[Parks > Other Red Zone Areas] Red Zone has so much potential as a park for recreation ccc should manage it

570 - Greg Partridge

That seems to be a mute question to ask. On the 3rd of August 2023, the Council released an article on its Newsline website stating the following: "Another chapter of Christchurch's earthquake recovery has closed, with the final tranche of residential red zone land being transferred from government to local ownership. The occasion, which also ends the Crown's post-earthquake responsibilities in Christchurch, was marked with a small event at Dallington Landing today, hosted by Mayor Phil Mauer and Minister for Land Information Damien O'Connor. Mayor Mauer says the Council now having full ownership of the former residential red zones is a significant milestone." If the CCC own the Port Hills Red Zone properties, and the land is Red Zoned, who would want to buy it off you? If you do put it on the market for someone to purchase it, you should place a caveat on it first in order to protect the natural environment existing natural environment, so that it can't just become a pine plantation for example, but could be planted in native bush to provide habitat for wildlife.
<https://newsline.ccc.govt.nz/news/story/red-zone-hand-over-from-crown-to-council-completed>

581 - Paul Amtman

Not sure.

585 - Danny Rood

[Parks > Other Red Zone Areas]

No strong feelings, but feel these areas could benefit from native tree planting

63 - Jean Lindo

Where are these .thought red zone and port hills separate entities

721 - Raphael Menke

Same as above. Keep the red zone. More green areas, there is already enough concrete in the city!

749 - Sandra Pearson

Fine.

83 - Murray Victor

Go for it!!!

893 - Peter Murphy

Cut costs

9 - Julia Henson

Yes

902 - Karen McElhinney

If we are not using them, get rid of them.

906 - Alister Ferguson

If they are surplus and not cost neutral, dispose of them

912 - Sophie Hartnell

This depends on if the land is deemed safe to now build on.

92 - Bill Luff

Have you got a chioce?

982 - Craig Newbury

If you are redeploying capital ie reducing debt then yes. But if your just funding more and more spending then NO!

Other

General Comments

52 submissions were received on other revenue.

2 provided comments in support of the proposal in the draft plan, and 1 provided a comment in opposition.

44 provided alternative proposals, and 6 provided general comments about other revenue.

Officers Response

A wide range of other revenue sources were suggested by submitters with varying degrees of complexity, and some that were suggested, such as cruise ship charges are already in place and others such as fuel tax not possible.

Some are extensions of existing actions like selling all non-essential Land and Buildings, and increasing the vacant differential and/or extending to the rest of the city.

Other sources suggested include:

- Tourism related - airport arrival/departure tax, nightly tourist fee / bed tax
- Regional – charging Waimakariri / Selwyn District Councils for workers accessing CBD, congestion charges, non CCC ratepayer surcharges at museums, libraries, stadiums etc
- Renaming assets for sponsorship revenue
- Investigating City & Regional deals with Central Government
- Levy on local real estate transactions for e.g. climate change
- Charging Land banked properties and/or overseas owners' extra rates

It is not possible to fully investigate or model all options provided and a number would need legislative change for Council to consider using. However, the following comments are offered:

Charging other Councils for CDB access by their ratepayers is unlikely to be acceptable or considered fair, and will require a more specific user pays mechanism. An agreement to assist fund regional facilities might be feasible.

Land banked or overseas owned properties are not characteristics of a property that rates can be based on.

Departure tax, congestion charges, and real estate levy were also mentioned as tools for funding climate action. Many of these would require support from Central government, either through changes to the Local Government Rating Act and/or other specific legislation. A tourism tax as proposed by Queenstown Lakes District Council requires central government support and to date the current government has been unenthusiastic on it, and while the Supreme Court found in favour of Auckland Council's bed night visitor levy (bed tax) it still requires consultation and further work.

Support

1609 - Johnathons Atkins

[Libraries > Libraries (Capital)], [Spending > Te Kaha]

Can we use private sector more to subsidise our venues and assets? Rename public assets to bring in new sponsorship and capital

3812 - Nick Paris

Agree

Oppose

2793 - [REDACTED]

Funding: • I do not consent to the CCC or any of its entities using any privately owned property or assets as security for your lending, via rates or any other mechanism directly or indirectly. • LGFA – there is no transparency or details provided in respect of any dealings with the LGFA, including, the terms, conditions and structure of borrowing, where the sources of money borrowed is coming from (all lenders and interested parties), the investment in “Borrowers Notes”, how much of “our” money goes into the LGFA etc etc • Government funded projects is just Council taking our money from a different pocket, we are still paying for it. • I do not consent to CCC depositing money into or borrowing from the LGFA or using the Government for its cashflow

Other

1397 - Andrew Sprouse

Also as large amounts of money have been spent on flood prevention along the Avon River, some of the land could be sold and or used for residential housing?

145 - Lisa Cowap

Waimakariri and Selwyn rate payers to pay a subsidy to support chch

1581 - Ann Kleiss

Non ccc ratepayers should be charged for access to ccc facilities eg surcharge for museum libraries stadiums

1609 - Johnathons Atkins

Try harder to save money Stop wasting my rates

1913 - Liz Meek

[Spending > Te Kaha], [Grants & Funding > Art Centre Funding]

Many of the big projects you're working on are not contributed to by regional taxpayers eg selwyn and Waimakariri

2189 - James Riddoch (Property Council New Zealand)

At a high level, we recommend that Christchurch City Council:

- Investigate city and regional deals as an alternative source of funding;

>>>

We also recommend that the Council investigate city and regional deals between central and local government which could unlock funding and create certainty for future infrastructure investment. City and regional deals are a long-term agreement between central and local government to establish shared infrastructure investment and an agreed pipeline of funding. Having greater financial support and investment from central government will drive improved infrastructure outcomes across Christchurch. This will also help unlock Christchurch as an exciting place to live, work, play and shop, as well an attractive destination for investment and development.

2462 - Mark Cox

The surrounding councils that profit off working in the CDB and using our networks and resources for entertainment and living need to start paying for it, surcharges on those on rate payers outside the CCC zones have to be charged as well as the rate payers.

>>>

Non CCC rates payers need to start paying more.

2466 - Tracey Cloughly

Yes, have fees for tourists in bed tax. Quite a few cities around the world have this or increase rates for hotels, motels etc

2697 - Laura Molles

I would like to see cruise ship fees increased to at least the same degree as residents, preferably at a higher rate.

2791 - David Dockery

^{programme:}
Cannot keep using better payers as a ATM
as in time no one will be able to pay this system of funding is broken and central Government will need to step up as well, as in time this system will ~~collapse~~ collapse and Council will have to use loans that cannot be repayed

2804 - Janette Leith Brott

Water rates. Every household should pay rates. Often see water running out of hoses running continuously water rates - every household should pay even those in units (multiple housing). Often see water running out of gates and hoses running continuously.

2805 - Coleen Briggs

2830 - Fiona Bennetts

- CCC should work with the government to allocate a % of GST to local governments as a return on investment in businesses and tourism, and a way of providing a more equitable contribution to costs.
- CCC should work with Auckland Council, Wellington City Council and the government on a differential petrol/diesel tax to invest in public and active transport. Even 1c a litre would make a big difference.

2919 - Hayley Guglietta (Avon Ōtākaro Network INC)

Applying a levy on all international travellers coming into Christchurch, this income is then used to support climate adaptation or a visionary shared goal of the most biodiverse joined-up city in the world.

2922 - Zak Morrison

- Introduce Levies on Domestic and International Flights: Implementing small levies on flights to and from Christchurch International Airport could generate ongoing revenue. These levies, carefully structured to avoid deterring tourism or business travel, could contribute to funding climate change mitigation and adaptation efforts. This approach aligns with the principle of those who contribute more to emissions bearing a greater share of the cost of mitigation and adaptation.

2957 - Lisa Keen

The wilsons car parking company are taking so many un-used spaces and making a profit, why didn't the council run these instead?? Definitely a lost revenue stream there!!

3088 - Heather Brown

Increase user pays where possible.

3124 - Jeff Pundanera

Get more revenues through more business opportunities in the city.

3283 - Elizabeth Clarke

Sell CityCare but maintain services.

3349 - Rob McDonald

Charge neighbouring councils for use of Christchurch facilities

3354 - Andrea Langan

Rate payers shouldn't have to cover when individual businesses profit from paying individuals be they tourist or nzers. Large ceo profit, businesses take money off shore if overseas owned. They should pay profits back into the industry.

>>>

As previously advised. Use businesses who profit put back into the services. From supermarkets. 0.1% levy on their goods, tourist bed levy, tourist businesses etc. Spread the cost why should a rate payer pay for a person who comes in to visit our city and environment to appreciate it. Also get the team going to Brighton as a tourist attraction and transport hub

3380 - Victoria Lukiyanyuk

I think the tax bracket should fall on businesses and not residential rates. Large businesses in particular already have a higher % of tax relief compared to the average tax payer.

347 - Catherine Webber

Seize every opportunity to bring in revenue, not give it away as has been the case in the last decade. >>> CCC needs to stop making these reckless decisions with our ratepayers revenue. The Council owned building (Rolleston House) on the corner of Worcester Boulevard and Rolleston Avenue is sitting empty and unused, perhaps that should be sold or flattened and turned into a multistorey social housing complex?

3490 - Peter Minten

Council need to find additional way of funding.

3542 - Beatrix Gilling

I would prefer an increase in revenue streams over reduction in services.

3599 - Hayley Guglietta

I believe we should ping incoming international visitors

3635 - Jane Lila McKenzie

see above Propose Change To Rate Visitors Accommodation etc.. That is of no concern but.. travelers into Christchurch could be charged an extra $25 to put into Te Kaha which would pay a great deal of the debt off quickly.

3646 - Thomas Blakie

You should keep looking for new ideas for revenue gathering.

3758 - Mads Churchhouse

CCC should also impose levies on international shipping to account for their emissions, which are not counted under the ETS.

3768 - Tracey Klatt

Would be nice to find ways to earn extra revenue though to reduce rates though.

3780 - Jack Halliday

investigating congestion charging.

3816 - Annette Bolton

Have the council investigated other sources of income to support expenditure such as a fuel tax? Revenue from that could be used to create more sustainable transport options for commuters.

3837 - Dermot Coffey

Begin the development of a system for congestion charging within Christchurch

385 - Francesca Brown

While I have read over the LTP, it is possible I have missed this so if I have I apologies, but it does look like there is a gaping hole in that tourists are not charged a nightly fee for infrastructure. Tourists have a massive cost to our infrastructure - locals should not have to fund that. We don't all own businesses that support tourists. Like is common throughout Europe, tourists should be charged a nightly fee which is collected to contribute to infrastructure development and maintenance. This is lacking throughout NZ, I challenge you to do this and encourage other councils to do the same. The fee at the border is minimal and does not ensure that there is adequate spending in our locality. Having travelled overseas I was quite happy to pay the nightly fees. We need to do the same.

>>>

I think we should be as already noted adding nightly fees to visitors (both NZ and overseas) to support this. They have a significant burden on infrastructure which ratepayers should not be burdened with

>>>

[Spending > Te Kaha]

I am not a supporter of Te Kaha - mainly because it has been presented as something that will make the city money when it won't - all the international literature supports this. Given that we are getting it anyway - we need to prove the international literature wrong - that is going to mean some significant work to get the return on investment into the city coffers - a visitor night fee as previously proposed could be part of this.

>>>

Increase revenue through a nightly tourist tax. This is a no brainer.

3881 - Anne Scott

Introduce climate change levies on domestic and international flights through Christchurch.

3957 - Anne Scott (Spokes Canterbury)

CCC should work with Auckland Council, Wellington City Council and the government on a differential petrol/diesel tax to invest in public and active transport. Even 1c a litre would make a big difference.

3986 - Chris Kelly

We need tourists to pay a big environmental tax on landing at the airport and at any accomodation venue booked for as they are big emitters. Camper Van owners too.

3998 - Ben Alder (Christchurch Envirohub)

Creative ideas to fund these suggestions include a cruise ship passenger tax, increased revenue from parking and littering (to redress the costs of fly tipping, for example), and other imaginative strategies.

406 - Angela Burrill

Council should be selling all non essential buildings and property to cover the sunk costs of the Stadium and other committed projects. It is unacceptable and unsustainable for rates to continue to increase over the next 10 years for a small population that has infrastructure built for 1 million.

>>>

Divest of all property and shares to pay for current liabilities.

437 - Chrystal Gray

Get the money from the rich or the national prick that took over since he gets money for living in his own house

481 - Tommy Ng

Last year, Council have a positive and surplus account, paying more than $32million of tax. Why are we paying more rates next year and potentially, pay more taxes? Besides the usual methods of rates increment, selling assets or raising debts, could Council not rely on other methods to raise revenues?

482 - Graham Townsend

[Transport > Other], [Rates > City Vacant Differential]

I ask that the CCC investigate alternative income streams, particularly from activities or industries that emit a significant proportion of our greenhouse gases. Those might include such things as congestion charges for private cars parked in high density areas, a departure tax on airline tickets, a levy on cruise ships using our ports, and increasing the Vacant Differential rate multiplier (and/or extending that charge to the entire city).

8 - Justin Yudistira

-charge a small fuel tax just like Auckland, used for roads and public transit projects, this could also cut down on rates too -charge a small airport tax when people arrive at Christchurch Airport

>>>

We should add a levy for parking in the four avenues, including those run by private companies like Wilson or the Crossing. An example will be $0.5/hr levy for council. This levy can go directly to climate mitigation and public transport infrastructure.

>>>

The council can investigate and lobby the central government to implement a small charge or levy on pollution e.g. pollution made by factories, or car pollution. This can be done by charging an amount of money for every tonne of pollution, or a small excise fee in tourist hotspots such as near the airport. For airports, we can implement a small fee (i.e. 'airport tax', we can call it something beautiful like the love christchurch fee) for all domestic and international flights, as well as cargo flights from overseas. We can implement a small-fee congestion charging for vehicles inside the four avenues, during rush hours. Alternatively we can add a levy every time people park in the city. We can apply

819 - SIMON THOMAS

I think you need to consider all the vacant land in the cbd and find out a better way to use this which in the end would benefit rates

Not Stated

1356 - Sharon Fox

Bed tax and require that land bank property from overseas owners pay extra taxes and rates!

2098 - Marty Byrne (Christchurch and Hanmer Attractions)

As operators of the iconic Trams in the city centre it is important that the infrastructure can support the growth of tourists coming to the region going forward. We are currently restricted on the number of trams we can operate per day due to the limitation of power supplied from the existing sub station based under the CCC building which is getting towards end of life. The installation of a planned new sub station closer to the new Te Kaha stadium should remove that restriction and then give us an opportunity to consider additional trams on the service. Under the terms of our agreement with CCC the portion of revenue earned from our Tram operations each year passed onto CCC is based on passenger numbers so the more passengers we carry the more revenue CCC earn.

243 - Peter Townsend

No apart from the need to address revenue sources at her than rates

269 - Zara Potts

Put a levy on every real estate transaction. This could be 0.5% of every transaction and it would soon build up a substantial fund. It would be fair as it would only apply to homeowners and would be a way of funding any future issues with climate change for homeowners

3015 - Alexandra Cox

I support maintaining ownership of government/council assets

3430 - Philippa Upton

[Spending > Te Kaha]

It's unfortunate that so far the Council has not secured funding support for Te Kaha from Councils in the wider region, whose residents will also benefit from this and other key projects such as the Parakiore and Te Whare Tapere, as well as public transport and other resources our city provides to fast-growing satellite towns outside the city limits.

Borrowing & Debt Management

Borrowing & Debt Management

General Comments

75 submissions were received on the borrowing and debt management proposal in the plan.

7 provided comments in support of the proposed plan, and 37 provided comments in opposition. 24 provided alternative proposals, and 10 provided general comments regarding borrowing and debt management.

Officers Response

Some submissions supported Council's proposed borrowing, if it allows investment to be done now. A few supported greater borrowing, for the purpose of smoothing rates increases over the first few years of the Plan, and one suggested that repayments be phased over 50 years rather than Council's normal 30 years.

However, the great majority opposed planned borrowing, on the grounds of cost risk and the burden on future ratepayers.

- A common message was to focus on essentials and defer non-essential projects rather than borrowing.
- Several noted that total debt servicing (ie. interest plus scheduled repayments) amounts to roughly a quarter of current Rates revenue, which they considered too high.
- A few opposed the proposed suspension of increased rating for renewals – one referred to a 2024 Infrastructure Commission report than came to similar conclusions.
- Other suggestions were to raise funds by developing red zone land or selling commercial assets if their returns are less than Council's cost of borrowing.

Debt repayment period: Council's debt has been incurred to pay for shorter-lived assets (such as IT projects) as well as very long-lived infrastructure. Extending Council's normal debt repayment period from 30 to 50 years is not considered appropriate because it would result in higher debt levels as less debt is repaid each year. Higher debt would increase Council's financial risk by reducing the financial headroom available to respond to future events. It would also lead to higher Rates (taxes) in future years to pay for the interest costs on a larger pool of debt. A 30-year repayment period achieves a reasonable balance between financial prudence and intergenerational equity.

Major projects: Pressure on Rates in the early LTP years is driven significantly by Te Kaha (2.17% Rates increase in year 1, from the Consultation Document) , which is a committed spend that cannot be paused.

Debt servicing: The full cost (ie. interest plus repayment) does take up a significant portion of Council's Rates income, which is why Council places a major focus on control of debt. The Financial Strategy discloses the ratio of Interest/Rates Revenue and Interest/Total Revenue (which is a more comprehensive indicator, including Fees & Charges, NZTA grants, and Dividends) in Volume 2 of the Draft Long Term Plan, although these only include interest costs, not full debt servicing.

Asset Renewals: Rating for asset renewals is essential for financial prudence, and since 2015 Council has been incrementally increasing Rates to achieve 100% renewals funding by 2031. The Draft LTP proposes a debt-funded reduction in this transition for two years, and a delay in achieving 100% renewals funding until 2032. This proposal will reduce the size of Rates increases in LTP years 1 and 2. Its consequence will be a temporary failure to meet the "balanced budget" benchmark (in years 1-3), and a slightly higher overall Rates requirement in later years (due to slightly higher debt levels).

Asset renewals & borrowing capacity: The 2024 Infrastructure Commission report concluded (broadly) that councils' ability to sustain debt is somewhat higher than the Limits imposed by LGFA, but that recent infrastructure borrowing has not been accompanied by revenue growth (unlike historical major investment cycles – possibly due to the current cycle's focus on renewals rather than growth). They recommend improved asset planning & prioritisation, improved use of DCs as well as Rates for revenue, and a move towards full Rates funding of renewals.

Asset sales: Some Red Zone land is being disposed of where practicable (including 40 Port Hills properties in the Draft LTP), but most of the flat land areas will be required for flood protection purposes rather than residential redevelopment. The future of this land is being guided by the Otakaro Avon River Corridor Regeneration Plan, approved by government in 2019.

Support

1325 - Millie McDonald

You guys are the experts, I support more borrowing now to ensure we have a city that is fit for the future.

1647 - Barry Linwood

[Strategic Direction>Infrastructure Strategy]; [Strategic Direction>Have we got the balance right?]

I think you have. By borrowing now for infrastructure it is only fair that future generations of rate payers contribute to the upkeep of it. Also for all the generations to contribute to unforeseen costs on expansion or replacing infrastructure in the future is taken into account

2869 - Josiah O'Neill

[Spending > Our Spending]

I would also support the Council taking on more debt to fund long term projects provided the payment are sustainable, I do not believe paying down debt significantly should be prioritised over other things.

3484 - Prue Stringer

I support borrowing for long-term projects, spreading the costs over time, and ensuring that we can get those projects done now.

3787 - Deb Donnell

[Spending > Our Proposed Spending], [Grants & Funding > Orana Park Funding], [Grants & Funding > Arts Centre], [Parks > Heritage (Capital)]

Householders are under pressure and facing significant financial challenges. Consequently they are cutting back spending as much as possible to the bare basics, in order to survive. The Council should be doing the same - so that any proposed spending covers maintaining the core infrastructure, insuring key assets (including grants to assist the city's heritage and other assets, such as The Arts Centre, Orana Park, etc.), and debt servicing and reduction. Nothing more.

>>>

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?], [Strategic Direction > Climate Change], [Parks > Heritage (Capital)], [Transport > Operations], [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Borrowing & Debt Management], [Other/Special Interest Topics > Governance], got the balance right?], [Strategic Direction > Climate Change], [Parks > Heritage (Capital)], [Transport > Operations], [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)]

No, you haven't got the balance right. There is too much focus on ideology and nice to haves, and not enough of maintaining our infrastructure and existing heritage (zero on heritage which is shameful). All spending on so called safety and calming measures such as speed bumps, 30 km zones, cycle lanes, and barricades need to stop immediately. As does any "climate change" / "net zero emissions" which is total nonsense and scaremongering. We cannot afford to be getting into debt further to meet regulations and taxations imposed by global organisations. The balance is being weighted heavily towards the above, and requiring rates to increase in order to service the debt from past and present vanity projects. Rate payers cannot be continually expected to cover costs. We are not a bottomless pit.

3875 - Maureen McCloy

I said I don't know as it's hard to tell at a glance. Pleased that there is a provision for debt repayment and am assuming that this includes capital and not just interest.

669 - Daniel Barkley

[Spending > Our Proposed Spending], [Rates > Residential Rates]

I think you have a good balance between upping rates, borrowing and spending on infrastructure.

2588 - Brendon Miller

Business Canterbury welcomes the Council's intention to fund operational spending through rates rather than borrowing, however we also need to ensure we are not deferring maintenance work and that we are also planning and investing in long term future growth and any opportunity for the Council to bring this forward should be explored. This is a fitting example of where an updated mandate for CCHL could have helped, allowing the council to reduce rates pressure while putting our city in the best position to be financially sustainable and enable growth over the next 10 years.

Oppose

1326 - Allison Oneill

catch up on your bills, stop developing.

1377 - J Scandrett

Increasing debt levels when interest rates are high is crazy and already debt interest is approaching 10% of annual spend

1501 - Jason Middlemiss (Waimāero Fendalton-Waimairi-Harewood Community Board)

The Board is concerned about the Council's plan to fund its capital programme through debt. Our concern is that in the long term this will lead to a perpetual accumulation of debt which will be unsustainable for future generations.

17 - Sandra Pilet

Go over everything with a fine tooth comb and please stop borrowing. You are playing with citizens lives by continuing to borrow.

>>>

I think I've been clear. Stop spending and stop borrowing

>>>

But my message is the same stop spending and stop borrowing

1751 - Matthew Tolan

Borrowing to fund current operating expenditure means the Council is shifting the burden of paying for services today, onto ratepayers in the future. This is simply unsustainable. Whatever justification can be found today, another justification can be found in the future to take the same step again. There needs to be sufficient revenue to meet costs.

1927 - Donna Gillatt

Close the purse and learn to live without constant borrowing and hanging a noose of debt around all and our childrens necks.

2006 - Aaron Mcloughlin

These proposals are not going to alleviate the ongoing increases in medium to long term debt, debt that all councils including CCC are struggling to pay the interest on. Making it easier to pay for the debt does not change the fact that many of the, some say 'vanity' projects the council propose, does not reduce the debt.

>>>

No, the balance is weighted heavily towards very high long term debt with no configuring in the projections for the running of the council, the implementations costs of the projects and the continued running costs of the planned projects. The necessity of the projects is far outweighed by the medium to long term debt that will be rested upon the rate payers.

>>>

These proposals are not going to alleviate the ongoing increases in medium to long term debt, debt that all councils including CCC are struggling to pay the interest on. Making it easier to pay for the debt does not change the fact that many of the, some say 'vanity' projects the council propose, does not reduce the debt.

2429 - Neil Ricken

[Other/Special Interests Topic > Staff Matters]

not increasing borrowing to the level of $2.62 billion, and loading ratepayers with high rates. It seems as if the Council is bankrupt, and refusing to live in the real world of economics. ent

2507 - Bronte Barber

$2.6bil - 400,000 people = $6500 debt p/p to cover interest rates.... It is excessive.

2765 - Debra August-Jordan

My objections to the proposed LTP are that:

1. Debt is out of control! Time to be realistic and have a commonsense approach.
2. Long term debt is not sustainable now or in the future. We do not want to make life harder for our next generations. Huge financial pressures are upon everyone and no one should have to make a choice of putting food on the table or if they need to put the heating on because they are struggling to pay for necessities let alone the rates and the proposed increases.

2770 - Sarah Lassche-Jones

use our $ better & smarter & quit borrowing $ for stupid wasteful P.C things that we don't need or want!

2771 - Suzanne Antill

Overall, have we got the balance right.

NO. We should not be borrowing money for new projects when New Zealand is facing an economic depression

2793 -

Debt: • The current rate of spend is not financially sustainable, continuing with such financial destruction is not acting in good faith. Our city can no longer afford the spending spree by elected members and staff • The council, including councilors and staff, have no authority to put this city into intergenerational crippling debt, with potential bankruptcy. • I do not consent to the CCC or any of its entities extending the existing debt from the current $2.4b. Noting I did not consent to the current $2.4b debt

2809 - Susan Thorpe

1) CCC DEBT / LGFA LOAN

CCC debt of $2.6 BILLION owed to LGFA is reckless and unsustainable. Gross debt is $2.6 billion. Total net cost of debt servicing including repayments rated for is planned to be $138 million in 2023/24, totalling 20.3% of the total planned rates to be levied.

The Financial Overview of the Council's Long Term Plan comes up with the following worrying statement in 5.12, which suggests that the Council has reached dangerous debt levels in borrowing from LGFA, by not fulfilling the financial prudence benchmark. 280% is said to be the level which must not be breached without risk of default, however 5.9 expects to reach 186% in 2028. Section 5.9 states CCC can borrow at least another $1.2 billion by 2034.

5.12 The proposed LTP meets all financial prudence benchmarks across all years EXCEPT FOR THE DEBT SERVICING BENCHMARK but there are no concerns around the ability to service the debt. The balanced budget benchmark is met in each year of the LTP.

5.9 The Council's net debt to revenue ratio increases materially in the 2025 – 2028 period, due to increased term debt borrowings. The ratio reaches a peak in 2028 of 186.7% before starting to decline. After 2028, the net debt to revenue ratio is budgeted to gradually improve and there will be ability to borrow at least $1.2 billion without breaching debt covenants by 2034. Staff believe current and forecast debt can be serviced comfortably.

Where is the intent expressed by financial managers to bring these outrageous debt levels down? 5.9 infers that the financial managers are more than happy to escalate ratepayer debt by at least another BILLION!

Reckless borrowing would not be tolerated in the private sector and it must be reined in by 'the adults in the room' on this council. Wasting citizens' rates on ever escalating interest payments shows contempt for the hard earned money of the citizens of Christchurch.

RCP 8.5 ALARMISM is also evident in the Financial Overview:

‘Our district faces diverse climate hazards, from rising sea levels to more frequent extreme weather events. We started our climate resilience journey with our 2021 Long Term Plan and this continues in the proposed plan. We have initiatives, projects and programmes that reflect our commitment to mitigating and adapting to climate hazards.

At a high level, we’re spending $318 million over 10 years on projects that have a direct impact on climate change mitigation, and $1 billion over 10 years on projects that directly help us adapt and build our resilience. You can read more about this on page 33

Coastal Adaptation Planning Programme will spend $1.8 – 3.6m per year. ‘

GREAT. THAT IS $1.318 BILLION WHICH CAN BE AXED FROM THE BUDGET IMMEDIATELY.

- * CCC to set out debt repayment schedule with no further borrowing whatsoever from LGFA.*
- * Axe $1.318 billion climate spend immediately.*
- * Cancel all future discredited RCP 8.5 climate spending.*
- * Plan to reduce debt to no more than $20 million to exit the LGFA contract, thus avoiding dangerous liability for other councils’ debt.*
- * Slash current unaffordable annual interest payments.*
- * Public accountability for CCC manager(s) who escalated debt to unaffordable levels.*
- * Spend only on CCC’s core business, not grandiose ‘gold plated vanity projects’.*

[Full attachment available]

2813 - John Antill

We should not be creating more debt

3127 - Dianne Downward

council has a 2.3 Billion dollar debt. In the near future, interest rates will be tied to emission targets and as stated on the bottom of page 33, we will not meet our targets even though a lot of money has been spent on this, emissions have increased !!! If we don't meet our targets, there will be a greater increase in interest rates than expected. IMPORTANT council keep paying off dept and not borrow more money. Ratepayers cannot afford this increase.

3206 - John Gudgeon

[Other/Special Interest Topics > CCHL Matters]

No, the Council's DEBT IS TOO HIGH and is projected to get even worse. Get the debt down or the city and ratepayers risk losing assets. Some councilors are happy to throw our money around but many ratepayers are financially struggling. Stop or delay the grandiose projects. If you don't have the money; don't borrow it. Don't burden future generations with your profligate spending. I know that a councilor said something like "I like spending other peoples money, keep spending." This is an irresponsible attitude. Stop all additional spending and get the debt down before starting new projects.

>>>

These proposals will do little or nothing to get the debt level down. The debt level and the interest on the debt are disturbing high. LIVE WITHIN YOUR MEANS!

>>>

Would the fees and charges result in reduced rates of help get the debt level down? I doubt it. There would likely be increased administration costs and an overall INCREASE in total costs to households. If you really care about ratepayers and residents then get the debt down by delaying or cancelling projects. When the council can operate within its means and the economy is robust enough, then resume the most cost-effective projects as long as rate increases don't outstrip wage and benefit rises.

>>>

To repeat.... GET THE DEBT LEVEL DOWN!

3346 - Lynette Bay

No, unfortunately the balance is weighted very heavily towards high long term debt which does not configure in the projections for the running costs of council, nor the implementation costs of projects and their running costs of these planned projects. The necessity of these projects is far outweighed by the medium to long term debt that will rest with rate payers having to pay for.

3361 - Ali Cameron

No, the balance is weighted heavily towards very high long term debt with no configuring in the projections for the running of the council, the implementations costs of the projects and the continued running costs of the planned projects. The necessity of the projects is far outweighed by the medium to long term debt that will be rested upon the rate payers."

>>>

These proposals are not going to alleviate the ongoing increases in medium to long term debt, debt that all councils including CCC are struggling to pay the interest on. Making it easier to pay for the debt does not change the fact that many of the, some say 'vanity' projects the council propose, does not reduce the debt.

3444 - Jo McGregor

The council's debt is too high. Don't borrow any more. Pause big projects eg stadium until the debt is down.

3646 - Thomas Blakie

You are borrowing to fund infrastructure that should of been built long ago and not taking accountability in pushing the cost burden onto future generations and ratepayers.

3650 - Leslie McAuley

No, the high long term debts levels of projects and overruns of projects out weight the medium to long term debt that are rested upon ratepayers.

>>>

The council should consider delaying projects, reducing proposed debt and concentrate on reducing core debt.

3705 - Glenis Youngman

No as the balance is headed heavily towards very high long-term debt with no implementation costs of the projects and the continued running costs of the planned projects. The necessity of the projects is far outweighed by the medium to long-term debt that will be put on the rate payers.

3722 - Rachel Thwaites

Your going further into Debt to try fund the plan.

3738 - Finn Jackson

The proposed postponement of the full implementation of rating for renewals will result in a higher cost, for the same amount of work, and less financial headroom in the future. Borrowing to cover maintenance costs is poor financial management and this should end in the 2024/25 financial year as originally proposed.

3787 - Deb Donnell

These proposals are not going to alleviate the ongoing increases in medium to long term debt, debt that all councils including CCC are struggling to pay the interest on. Making it easier to pay for the debt does not change the fact that many of the, some say 'vanity' projects the council propose, does not reduce the debt.

>>>

[Fees and Charges > Other], Fees and Charges > Car Parking (Parks)]

Charging fees is not an efficient way to pay debt. The payment for the parking etc is simply another way of increasing the cost of living for households. Reducing the debt by, for example, delaying some of the projects till a time when the country is in a generally healthier financial state will take the pressure off the households. More fees, regardless of what they are for still comes out of the household incomes.

>>>

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?], [Strategic Direction > Climate Change], [Parks > Heritage (Capital)], [Transport > Operations], [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Borrowing & Debt Management], [Other/Special Interest Topics > Governance], got the balance right?], [Strategic Direction > Climate Change], [Parks > Heritage (Capital)], [Transport > Operations], [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)], [Other/Special Interest Topics > Staff Matters], [Other/Special Interest Topics > Governance]

No, you haven't got the balance right. There is too much focus on ideology and nice to haves, and not enough of maintaining our infrastructure and existing heritage (zero on heritage which is shameful). All spending on so called safety and calming measures such as speed bumps, 30 km zones, cycle lanes, and barricades need to stop immediately. As does any "climate change" / "net zero emissions" which is total nonsense and scaremongering. We cannot afford to be getting into debt further to meet regulations and taxations imposed by global organisations. The balance is being weighted heavily towards the above, and requiring rates to increase in order to service the debt from past and present vanity projects. Rate payers cannot be continually expected to cover costs. We are not a bottomless pit. As councillors and CCC employees, you are not here to build your legacy or to put added pressure onto the households of the people you serve. You are employed by rate payers to deliver the basic infrastructure, and your focus should be on this, not on world class stadiums, convention centres, sports centres, playgrounds, vanity projects, virtue signalling, and so on.

3831 - Rick Jones

The affordability of the LTP is under question and it would seem some councilors are oblivious to this. Raising core debt continually is unacceptable and to budget an increase if debt to over 3 billion is staggeringly incomprehensible. Focus on paying back debt not increasing it Focus on core projects and spending not "nice to haves"

>>>

Borrowing to fund some projects makes no sense

3852 - Chris Coey

There is too much planned debt to pay for items which could be delayed, particularly when interest rates on borrowing has increased. The council should be providing essential services keeping within a fixed budget (not borrowing to the level indicated).

3902 - James Ridpath

Taking on more debt is bad for the council and rate payers.

3961 - Paul Robertson

Council needs to find ways of dealing with financial challenges other than continually raising rates and borrowing.

3994 - Sarah Boje

No debt

4000 - Kari Barr

[Parks > Heritage (Capital)]

Don't borrow money for artwork, heritage buildings

469 - Amira Aman

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right]

No, reduce borrowing. It's too costly for rate payers.

587 - Diana Holderness

[Strategic Direction > Have we got the balance right?]

Concentrate on what is essential in these hard times. That includes maintaining what we have now. I wouldn't borrow for new projects myself and would not have done when I was younger either.

638 - Amanda Cropp

Don't borrow to cover operational funding.

795 - Gary Phillips

[Spending > Our Proposed Spending]; [Transport > Cycleways (Capital)]; [Rates > Other]

Also spend within your means and stop borrowing or putting up rates and funding cycleways that aren't wanted at our expense

843 - Ngaire Donelda Bacon

absolutely Not. When the Christchurch City Council has built up debt to 2.3 billion. Problems of cost blow outs such as the Halswell Road link that is around 200 metres long, & the cost has now ballooned out to 25 million & the council then decided to discuss this in private!! There seems to be no accountability as to how ratepayers money is being spent. The council must reduce financial pressures on ratepayers & stop wasting money

1751 - Matthew Tolan

The proposed strategy for funding asset renewals means rate increase reductions of 1.8% in year one, and 1.2% in year two. (This corresponds neatly with the quantum of rate increases to pay for the Te Kaha stadium (2.17% in year 1 and 1.78% in year 2)). But this is a false economy.

>>>

[Spending - Te Kaha], [Rates - Residential Rates]

The proposed rate increases are below the national average rise of 15.3% (Tom Kitchin "The rates conversation" Newsroom, 10 April 2024). If you exclude the portion for Te Kaha, the proposed Christchurch rates increases are significantly below the average. The community was vocal in its support for Te Kaha, so now we need to pay the cost of that facility, while also ensuring the Council operates a balanced budget. In short, the level of rating for asset renewals is insufficient.

Other

1259 - Paula Darrell

We should still be looking for ways to save. There is always room for improvement but you cannot stop doing the real front line work.

1327 - Chris O'Brien

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration > Coastal Hazards Adaptation & Adaptation Planning]

Sea level rise is a myth and it is wasteful to plan for something that is not going to happen at the rate that woke models predict. Given the huge 2.2 billion debt and that around a quarter of our rates go to servicing debt forget about spending in the red zone. Do the bare minimum to make this area more useable.

1640 - Veronica Leigh-Ogden

You are in debt which is being passed onto rate payers.

1648 - Andrew Bowman

Largely this looks good, though debt repayment appears to be a huge chunk of expenditure so I hope that steps are being taken to reduce the principal sum on this debt rather than servicing the interest.

>>>

Addressing debt as soon as possible and reducing to near-zero levels

1737 - Tim O'Sullivan

It does not look to me as if there is any debt reduction plan. For example, on page 33 the projected gross debt from this year is $3,001m and this increases to $3,967m in 2033/34. This does not look like prudent financial management to me. This is an indication that the debt burden is being postponed further and further into the future. At what point will the city's debt be paid off? A city with no debt would be ideal as then rates could be reduced without affecting services. As an alternative to funding debt through traditional debt finance maybe consideration could be used to funding projects with some form of debentures issued to Christchurch ratepayers? This would keep the interest payments within the community and give a measure of citizen commitment to proposed projects.

178 - Fiona Patchett

I believe when inflation and interest rates are so high, the Council should be looking at reducing he debts, not increasing them.

>>>

No New builds r rebuilds until inflation drops or the council is in a better financial position. Definitely not borrowing to to deliver new projects.

1834 - Judith Penney

Costs of servicing debt should not fall on ratepayers. Council needs to ensure a repayment structure balances against further borrowing.

2311 - Paul McMahon (Waitai Coastal-Burwood-Linwood Community Board)

• The total net cost of debt servicing is $216.1m in 2024-25, and $2.9b over 10 years ($1.2b repayment and $1.7b interest). • The $216.1m of debt servicing is 27.8% of 2024-25 rates of $777m. • That is almost 28 cents of every ratepayer dollar for debt servicing. • In 2033-34, debt servicing will cost $335m a year. Previous Councils have chosen this path, and this Council is proposing to borrow $93m more in the period to 2031, thereby failing to meet its Balanced Budget Benchmark for the first three years of the LTP. It's breaking its own policy by reducing the portion of renewals which it funds from rates. The solution to this problem is to defer some non-urgent capital projects to fund more renewals from rates (or to increase rates).

2524 - Ruth Falconer

Need to focus well on debt repayment

>>>

• Cut your cloth to fit. Reduce debt
The borrower is the servant of the lender.
Rising Interest rates can cripple budgets and be a chain around your neck.

2545 - Antony Gough (Terrace Christchurch Ltd)

Inland revenue determine that depreciation can only be spread over a 50 year term and not anything less. Why is the council wanting to fund a thirty year replacement program? This just puts significant pressure on council funding to try to pay for this unnecessary early replacement of capital works. I live in a house that is 100 years old and it is still fit for purpose as a house.

2614 - Laurie Poole

I couldn't find the submission form on your web site, so I'm emailing you instead. I am greatly concerned by the excessive level of debt that the CCC includes in the plan, rising from $2b for this year to $3b in 2020, and the cost of servicing that debt. This is irresponsible, and unsustainable. The CCC long term plan is to reduce spending to the core basics, and living within the CCC's means, just like us individuals have to do.

2629 - Sarah Smith

The council is already in debt. Why go into more debt in which it is unlikely to ever get out of.

>>>

Don't borrow more money. Don't be pushed by the government agenda's such as the smart city, cycle ways and control on water usage and quality.

2695 - Dave Gardner

it would be better to charge more rates than to borrow more.

2750 - Helen Johnstone

Keep the level of debt down, because it increases costs in the long term through interest.

2807 - David Close (Christchurch East Labour Electorate Committee)

The 'prudence' of the Council's borrowing programme is stressed by demonstrating that the Council could borrow an additional $600m to meet a crisis (CD, page 38, Vol 2, pages 10-11) and by using a series of Financial Prudence benchmarks that induce complacency or mislead (Vol 2, pages 61-67). However, the Council has failed to provide clear information about the true cost of borrowing to the ratepayer:

☒ The benchmarks deal only with the interest component of loan servicing, not with the repayment of principal.

☒ The limit on net interest as a percentage of rates is set at 30%. If repayment of principal were added to that, the total cost of loan servicing would reach about 45% of rates (Vol 2, page 65)

☒ The graph (ibid) shows net interest as about 12.5% of rates income. When $83m for repayment of principal is added, the cost is 23.7% of rates income.

☒ The Consultation Document reveals that, over the ten years of the LTP, the Council will borrow $2.6b and repay $1.2b (page 8), but nowhere does it inform ratepayers of the cost of interest, and nowhere, in any document, are they told the percentage of their rates that is paying the 'mortgage'.

That the Council:

(iii) amend the LTP by giving prominence to the percentage of rates income required for loan servicing (interest and principal).

(iv) review and amend the Financial Prudence Benchmarks, in particular, to lower the limit on net interest as a percentage of rates to a more prudent level.

(v) add a new benchmark for the percentage of rates income required for loan servicing (interest and principal)

(vi) add a new benchmark tracking the progress towards full funding of renewals and depreciation.

>>>

In order to reduce the rates increase by 1.8% this year and 1.2% next year, the Council decided to borrow an additional $93m to fund renewals. The Council has explained, with perfect honesty, that this means that the Council will have an unbalanced budget for 3 years (CD, page 36). This means that the Council will be borrowing to meet some operational expenditure, what is popularly called 'borrowing to pay for the groceries'. In fact, all borrowing for renewals is akin to borrowing for the groceries, because renewals are repetitive ongoing expenses for local authorities.

The background is that the Local Government Act 1996 required local authorities to develop asset management plans for all assets, to calculate appropriate depreciation rates, and to fully fund depreciation from rates to ensure that funds were available for renewals without recourse to borrowing. After the passing of the Act, CCC increased rates by an additional 13% over three years to fund 100% of depreciation and comply with the law. Later Councils watered down the policy by funding renewals, which may be less than depreciation in some years, and, later again, by borrowing for renewals. In 2015, the Council decided to transition back to fund all renewals from rates, but progress has been slow. The additional borrowing will reduce the renewals funded by rates from 65% to 62% of the total.

The Council has asked for feedback on this matter. On the face of it, it appears reasonable to mitigate the impact of borrowing for Te Kaha, but it is difficult to accept the assurance that goal of full funding will be reached by 2032. Instead, the Council should reduce its capital programme for works that are not urgent. Every ratepayer knows that it is far cheaper to wait a while and pay cash than max out the credit card. We suggest that the Council trim capital expenditure asset out below:

☒ Information Technology (Vol 1, page 177). In addition to $97m for renewal of assets, $177m is budgeted to improve the level of service. Does anyone seriously believe CCC will gain $177m of benefit from the 'improved level of service'? Reduce by 50%. Save $88m.

☒ Parks (Vol 1, page 185 U) has a huge programme of renewals, much of which is not funded from rates, and a huge programme of new capital works, especially related to the Avon-Otakaro Corridor. In addition to $108m for ecological restoration under renewals, there is another $13m for the same purpose and $75m for Pathway, Landings and Community Spaces. This work is desirable but not urgent. $50m could be deferred whilst still allowing for good progress.

☒ Parks (Vol 1, page 186) $14m for new buildings in the Botanic Gardens. The glory of the gardens is that there are few buildings. Do we want more? Has the public been consulted?

☒ Parks (Vol 1, page 186). Provincial Chambers. $19,500m is allocated concurrently with ongoing work on the McDougall, Cuninghame House, and the Canterbury Museum. This concentration of heritage spending puts pressure on the Council's finances and the construction industry, which prefers a steady stream of work. Deferral till the museum is completed makes sense all round.

☒ Flood Protection and Control (Vol 1, page 182U) likewise has a huge programme of new works in the Otakaro-Avon Corridor, about $110m. This work is no doubt necessary, but much of it is not urgent. In liaison with Parks, deferrals of $50m could be made.

Submission

That the Council: (i) note that the cost of debt servicing rises from $187m in Year 1 to $297m in Year 10.

(ii) note that it is important to reach the goal of funding 100% of renewals from rates as quickly as possible to avoid a debt burden that could limit the ability of the next generation to cope with climate change.

(iii) make reductions in unnecessary or non-urgent new capital spending, as suggested above, in order to reach the target of funding all renewals from rates by the original target of 2031 or earlier.

3371 - Malcolm Frost

[Rates], [Spending > Capital Programme (General)]

Likewise the future interest servicing estimates for debt may be overly optimistic. Long-term one suspects the city may become insolvent.

3844 - My-Linh Dang

Council needs to find a way to reduce its debt e.g. delaying some projects until a time the country and the city is a healthier financial position rather than to keep spending while people are struggline.

>>>

Council needs to find a way to reduce debt and, for the meantime, should not be incurring any new debt!

4000 - Kari Barr

Get debt down

48 - Kean Mitchell

[Spending > Capital Programme]

Loan funds to fast track infrastructure investment for new growth areas..... Stormwater resilience spending needs to be increased !! (city to sea pipeline and outfall - pumped) - manage long term risk now !! Align the stormwater strategy with the red zone.... Why is the Red zone Land left generating no income for the city !! (invest in the infrastructure and start developing this land ASAP - seek an external loan, to support long term rates pool gain (additional 4,000 households is $14m per year in rates & minimum $1B in land sales revenue + job creation, and resident numbers growth in the east of the city - compromised by the Red Zoning - improving the economics in this area) - Red Zone rates charge for funding of the scope needed to generate the revenue. What other CCC led business ventures can be progressed, if through CCC direct or through CCC owned or part owners companies??

540 - Ross Allen

[Strategic Direction>Have we got the balance right?]

The rates increases are front loaded, such that by far the biggest increase is in 2024/25 which is when we are facing a huge increase in cost of living, and the lowest annual increases kick in later when mortgage interest rates and inflation will have eased. Doesn't make sense from ratepayers point of view. Please reprioritise projects and or bring forward some borrowing to spread the impact over say three years. There is headroom available for some extra temporary borrowing in the first year.

610 - Charlotte Borra

Art funding and Housing funding should increase, maybe reduce the amount of debt repayment?

659 - Matt Dumont

[Rates > Residential Rates], [Strategic Direction > Climate Change]

I believe that higher rate rises to support climate change mitigation and adaptation are warranted and that this plan does not go far enough. I also believe that the council should reduce the use of debt, but ONLY by increasing rates rather than putting off projects.

694 - Lucia Rivas

I am concerned on the amount being borrowed and how that will flow through in terms of interest to be paid back versus the gain.

861 - John Cumberpatch

At some point we really do need to address the return on assets / v debt , with a view to selling down up to 49 % of the shares to release capital while retaining control.
Borrowing cost are 27% of the budget !!

3724 - Terence Sissons

Question why current ratepayers should meet the full cost of renewing or replacing existing assets (p 36) whereas new long terms assets are debt funded to ensure that the upfront cost is shared fairly across the generations who'll be using them (p 38). Surely the same considerations apply to both categories - the renewed/replaced assets will be used by future generations as well as current ratepayers. Council should reconsider its decision not to investigate the business case for better use of existing commercial assets. The old saw about not selling the family silver has no application to the council's deliberations - better to receive 51% of $1m than 100% of $100k.

Not Stated

1997 - Justine Wright

These proposals are not going to alleviate the ongoing increases in medium to long term debt, debt that all councils including CCC are struggling to pay the interest on.

>>>

dont borrow money to spend on frivolous things

2429 - Neil Ricken

You are looking to borrow $2.62 billion - what are the annual repayments on this sum?

3011 - Annette Marchant

Fair distribution of debt repayments needs care - the young will benefit most but may not have the ability to pay.

358 - Tamara Dauvergne

This is a very biased way of phrasing the question. I would say: Given that the Council over many years has chosen to use debt to fund projects that were not affordable..... I suspect that many Christchurch citizens who are suffering with the cost of living for groceries and housing - would agree that the Council has been living beyond its means for a very long time by getting further and further into debt.

>>>

Clearly the Council has mismanaged funding by prioritising projects that have got the city into debt.

3697 - Jennie Brittenden

To keep the communities' trust CCC needs to exercise a balance of restraint and long term vision. I respect that this is like walking a tightrope. We are no good drowned in debt.

>>>

Three waters, transport and libraries are too much and debt repayment isn't enough. All households have to live within their means and so does the council.

3815 - Dianne French

The council's debt is horrendous and there doesn't seem to be any plan to pay it back in the near future. Rate payers should not be burdened with so much debt.

>>>

Reducing the debt by, for example, delaying some of the projects until the country is in a healthier financial state, will take the pressure off rate payers.

482 - Graham Townsend

Increasingly adverse economic headwinds mean that the cost of borrowing will continue to rise; future generations must not be left to pay those increased costs. There appears to be no alternative to paying for infrastructure via a rates rise.

489 - Barry Livermore

[Rates > Other]

What gives council the right to commit future ratepayers to a dept that they have no say on.(This is similar to mortgaging the family home and then loosing it in a risky investment. There will be no ability to build future investment if you have already borrowed to the maximum today.Bad economics).

817 - Paul Christensen

Increases on revenue are not matching increases in debt. Rates should be increased more to match the increase in debt. Refer the Infrastructure commission's research on local government debt <https://tewaihang.govt.nz/our-work/research-insights/is-local-government-debt-constrained>

822 - Gavin Scott-Petersen

Borrowing for new projects is a considerable commitment. Ensuring these projects have long-term value is paramount. It's critical that the investments we make today do not become a financial burden on future generations.

Therefore, I urge the council to exercise prudence in selecting projects for borrowing, prioritizing those that offer clear, tangible benefits to the city's economic and social fabric. The commitment to spreading debt repayments fairly across generations is commendable. However, it's equally important to ensure that these investments are made judiciously, avoiding unnecessary financial risks.

Fees and Charges

Car Parking (Parks)

General Comments

1088 submissions were received on the proposal to charge car parking fees at key parks around the city.

324 provided comments in support of the proposal, with many agreeing with the user pays approach.

472 provided comments in opposition of the proposed parking charges, with fair and equitable access to greenspaces being a common theme amongst those who oppose the proposal.

209 provided alternative proposals, and 91 provided general comments about the proposal to charge for car parking at key parks.

Officer Response

To increase revenue, we proposed the idea of charging the public $4.60 for three hours carparking at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park.

Submissions supporting the LTP Proposal to charge for carparking in Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park:

Those who supported charging for carparking in Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park agreed with the concept of a user-pays system or thought this was a justified measure to minimise rates rises. Particularly since these parks are in the central city and well served by public transport (and this would discourage driving) and are visited by those who reside outside of Council's boundaries. Several did emphasise the importance of keeping the charges low as per the proposal. Others commented on the need for some measures to improve the current congestion and use of carparks by non-parks visitors.

Submissions opposing the LTP Proposal to charge for carparking in Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park:

The responses of those who opposed the charges roughly fell into four concerns:

1. Loss of access to parks for low-income groups who would not be able to afford the car parking charges.
2. Less use of parks, which were described as an iconic aspect of the “garden city” and important for wellbeing.
3. Car parking should be covered by existing rates income.
4. The cost of policing the parking could be greater than the revenue.

Several responses agreed with the overall concept but suggested it remain free for those with disabilities and/or on weekends/public holidays and/or for the first hour.

Parking charges are expected to deter those who are currently using Hagley Park carparks but not visiting the park or Botanic gardens (such as those working or studying close by). This will free up parking for the public who wish to use the carparks for their actual purpose.

A significant majority of the carparks on the perimeter of Hagley Park and several nearby city streets will continue to offer free parking. The additional parking charges are estimated to generate $2 million in additional revenue.

The following options are for consideration with Option 1 having no impact on the proposed LTP revenue. Option 5 creates the option that responds to the submissions received and has the least impact on revenue.

Note in all options public holidays are free.

Option 1 – As per the Draft 2024-34 Long term plan:

- Assumption: $4 + GST for 3 hours, 353 days per annum, 3 cycles
- Revenue: $2,100,000.00

Option 2 – As Above but weekends free of charge:

- Assumption: $4 + GST for 3 hours, 249 days per annum, 3 cycles
- Revenue: $1,482,048.00
- Reduction in revenue: -$617,952.00
- Rates Impact: 0.09%

Option 3 – As per Option 1 but first hour free, 7 days/ week:

- Assumption: $3 + GST for 3 hours, 353 days per annum, 3 cycles
- Revenue: $1,575,792.00
- Reduction in revenue: -$524,208.00
- Rates Impact: 0.08%

Option 4 – Weekends free of charge plus first hour free

- Assumption: $3 + GST for 3 hours, 249 days per annum, 3 cycles
- Revenue: $1,111,536.00
- Reduction in revenue: -$988,464.00
- Rates Impact: 0.14%

The following option acknowledges Submitters concerns regarding weekend charging but has the least impact on loss of revenue from the LTP proposal.

Option 5 – Increase the number of charging cycles from 3 -4 (2hrs rather than 3hrs) weekends free, 4 cycles:

- Assumption: $4 + GST for 2 hours, 249 days per annum, 4 cycles
- Revenue: $1,976,064.00
- Reduction in revenue: -$123,936.00
- Rates Impact: 0.02%

Support

1031 - George Tylee

I support parking charges at hagley and botanic gardens.

106 - Crispin Garden-Webster

Go for it

1062 - Georgia van Zoelen

A user pay system is great - especially for all the selwyn residents that benefit from all the Christchurch infrastructure.

1067 - Iarene Jelley

It would be nice to have free parking but it is being abused by a few, so happy bring in the charging.

1069 - Kieran Norton-Taylor

Yes this is a good idea to increase revenue and reduce the need to hike residential housing rates for home owners

1123 - Dean Walker

I think it's a good idea, to help fund the city.

113 - Sarah Cragg

Great targeted solution

1157 - Justin Rogers

Vehicles take up a lot of space - space isn't free. A small charge will stop all-day users filling those parks up too.

116 - Jarrod Coburn

User pays is probably a good thing if it reduces the burden on people who are most vulnerable.

1191 - Ava Johnson

Yes! Add a charge to park cars in non-residential areas, exempting freedom camping areas for still supporting tourism.

1203 - David Moore

Key parks is an excellent measure as many of the cars parking at the Botanic Gardens belong to city workers. Residents without cars subsidise those who do have cars by paying for the maintenance of roads, on street parking, and other infrastructure. This should absolutely move toward a user pays model.

1219 - James Mckie

[Fees and Charges > Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)], [Fees and Charges > Other]

Make more parking fees and tolls money. Make that revenue be put in into public transport that way there is an incentive to mode which is now being invested in and will help people switch.

1221 - Lynette Sessa

I think it is fair to charge parking for the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park

1229 - Cassandra Albert

Introduce parking fees at locations like the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park, balancing accessibility with the need for upkeep.

1260 - Andy March

Introduce them. It should be user pays

1265 - Jill Banbury

Parking fees are high in the city although I think the gardens should be charged in line with the rest of the city

1282 - Kelvin Lynn

I support this as long as the charges are at the lower end of the scale. Better public transport to parks would be a better solution.

129 - Barbara Harding

Parking charges at key parks are acceptable as long as they are not astronomical and the 3-hour limit is maintained.

1290 - Aric Thorn

I support adding parking meters to botanic gardens.

1307 - Lynette Reed

A good idea

1325 - Millie McDonald

Yes support more parking fees, especially if there are more viable and affordable public transport/cycle options

1329 - Lynda Whitlow

The parking charges of $4.60 for three hours is a reasonable amount, that is a good idea. As long as it is CCC who gets the funds and not more Wilsons Parking.

133 - Alan Mears

Supportive of parking charges at key locations

135 - Jac Call

parking charges yes

1368 - Lorraine Dobson

User pay ..

1394 - Michael Clemens

I support the proposal to introduce parking charges at the Botanical Gardens and Hagley Park. These are central locations, and parking is often abused for other purposes. These parks have plenty of other transport options nearby.

1396 - Robyn Wilson

Support introduction of more parking charges.

1418 - Wayne Biddorff

User pays

142 - Carolyn Neame

As long as its still affordable for all it's ok

1422 - Tim Reed

I support this.

1452 - Maraed Riley

Additionally, introduce parking fees at renowned sites like the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park.

1456 - Henry Bersani

[Fees and Charges > Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)]

I think adding parking fees in non residential areas should be implemented, as well as in the botanical gardens and hagley park.

1462 - Sue Piercey

Support this as it will encourage people to find other ways to access the parks such as by bus, cycling etc and will help pay for any upgrades to the parking areas. Fair enough to charge for parking at key parks as it will stop people parking for long periods of time and then walking to do their business at the hospital, in the city, at a nearby event etc. The Council needs to have some signs that will indicate when the carparks are full as it is frustrating to drive into the botanic gardens car park only to find it is full and then have to drive out again.

1474 - Céira Dernhagen

[Fees & Charges>Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)]

Yes, add a charge to park your car in non-residential areas.

>>>

Introduce parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park.

151 - Marg Flyvbjerg

I'd rather the money goes to the CCC rather than Wilson's, so yes

1512 - Denis McMurtrie

Yes. Parking charges should be increased. Eg Gardens parking should be at least $10 for three hours. Just look at the charges in over seas cities. Tolls on some gates? to get into various reserves.

1515 - Andrew Douglas-Clifford

I support changes to parking in the Botanic gardens - these areas have good walking and public transport options as alternatives.

1525 - Caroline Mason

I support charging for parking at the Botanic Gardens as long as the charges are modest

153 - Lindsay Strang

Yes charge parking fees for key parks

1530 - Robyn White

yes, would be good to see at Botanic gardens because people park there to go shopping

1540 - Isabel Carlyon

[Fees and Charges > Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)], [Fees and Charges > Other]

Council should consider all possible options to increase revenue, including by increasing/introducing parking charges, installing speed cameras in the central city and red light cameras throughout the city.

1551 - Philippa Curtis

Free parking at the botanical gardens did seem like an anomaly. The times I used it, it seemed like a lovely gift. I used it when I had small children. And when I was using the hospital & was happy to allow the extra time to walk through the park. I don't want to disadvantage others who could use the free parking in these ways HOWEVER, I am going to come down on the side of charging for these parks for the following reason: to encourage people to use public or active transport.

1567 - Sarah Pritchett

Although I love the free parking at the Botanic gardens I agree to parking charges to encourage less driving.

1585 - Rachel Smith

Yes if fund go towards servicing the part space and towards better public transport options

1611 - Natalie Collins

I have no problem with parking charges at parks.

1612 - Emma Johnson

I support the levying of parking fees.

1618 - Zachary Imhoof

[Three Waters > Water Supply (Capital)]

I am all for reducing car parks and charging a parking fee, I would hope that the parking charges will feed back into our public transport system which could use it.

1619 - David Hera

[Three Waters > Water Supply (Capital)]

Yes, implement a parking fee for non-residential areas, but exempt freedom camping locations to continue supporting tourism. Also, introduce parking fees at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park. We should maintain the current level of services.

1623 - Oliver Mould

I approve of all of your planned changes to fees and charges.

1626 - Sam Bunn

I agree with charging parking fees at Hagley Park

1637 - Megan Andrews

This is a much better option than increasing rates for everyone.

1648 - Andrew Bowman

I agree with these proposals and think that more passing on of costs to direct service users is appropriate.

1690 - Richard Suggate

I support the parking charges at key sites. It will encourage public transport usage and parking that is unrelated to the park usage.

1699 - Dominic McKeown

am okay with fees and charges but dont put a high price on parking or make such an extreme about admin costs associated with the processing. its a joke and everyone over it.

1734 - Fergus O'Neill

[Transport > Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)]

Change parking fees at locations that are well connected by public and active transport, such as the botanic gardens and hagley park. Increased parking fees around the city would also help to get people on public and active transport.

1751 - Matthew Tolan

This seems like a sensible proposal.

1755 - Jenny Heffer

As long as it is not too much I am fine with that.

1764 - Chris Conwest

Think it's a good idea, as long as they aren't prohibitively expensive and the money is used to better parks.

1766 - Jan Edwards

I think people should pay for what they use. ie user pays

1825 - John Davies

I'm cool with user pays. Less cool with non-user still pays regardless.

1830 - Peter Dobbs

Car parking has inherent costs so a charge for the service is fair

184 - Rebecca Nicholls

Ok w this

1893 - Elizabeth Sinclair

I'm ok with parking charges but make sure it's going to our council and not Wilsons parking or an independent.

1898 - John-Paul Kilkenny

Car parks at Parks should stay free.

190 - Darian Troon

This is a good idea.

191 - Jenny Harlow

Ideally it would not happen but it is a way of making some of the increases discretionary in some sense rather than loading completely unavoidable extra charges onto our most financially challenged residents.

1931 - Roz Kinraid

Parking charges are fine with me, drivers have it too easy in this city.

194 - John Lieswyn

strongly agree with charging for car parking at Hagley Park and Botanic Gardens, but feel that bicycle parking should be upgraded at these locations as well.

1952 - Xin Yi Wong

I support this particularly as it may encourage more people to take up public transport.

1977 - Nicholas Lealand

Introduce parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park.

1991 - Stevie Florent

Parking charges should be introduced at key parks given their connection to public transport links.

202 - Anne Spicer

Harsh but if extra money has to be raised then so be it.

2022 - Claudio Schill

Seems like a good idea

2071 - Paul Broady

- I agree with introducing parking fees at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park.

2084 - Sarah Donaldson

I don't like that idea but we need to be able to minimise the rate increase so small parking charges are ok - eg $2 a day. How much do the machines cost to install though and is there really a cost/benefit?

2087 - Emma Norrish (Waipapa Papanui-Innes-Central Community Board)

The Board recognises the metropolitan significance of the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park, as jewels in the city's crown. It hopes all residents and visitors can continue to enjoy this amazing space in the centre of our city, recognising that many of the Board's residents are fortunate in their proximity to the park and gardens, and may take advantage of active modes of transport to get to them rather than incurring parking charges. The Board is broadly supportive of the proposed changes to fees and charges, however with some reluctance. We understand that such increases are required to be considered in order to help keep rates rises down. The Board strongly suggests that the proposal to apply parking charges in the Armagh Street car park, if approved and implemented, is monitored to ensure that the gardens and park remain accessible and well-used by everyone who wants to use them. They should be there for everyone, and care must be taken to ensure that the cost of parking should not become a barrier as visiting the gardens and Hagley Park is central to living in, and visiting Christchurch.

2129 - Marcella Marshall

Charge for parking at the botanical gardens

213 - Diana Plesovs

User pays works and could help the public to consider using alternative modes of transport.

2136 - Clara Carey

I approve of introducing parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park.

2142 - Simon Cutler

Parking charges make sense

2144 - Amy Mcnaughton

Will help ensure that there are car parkss available, sometimes it is difficult to find a park at Hagley.

2155 - Geoffrey Sugden

I support these changes. Where parking charges are introduced please try and incorporate free, high quality, cycle parking nearby to give people another option.

2171 - Mark Smith

Most places around the world you have to pay for parking

2183 - Hali Stauffer

I support the proposal to introduce parking charges in non-residential areas, while recommending exemptions for freedom camping areas to encourage tourism. Introducing parking charges at popular spots like the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park seems reasonable.

2190 - Stacy Rendall

Parking fees sound like a good idea, then you won't have to increase rates so much.

2198 - Andrew Smith

Supportive of user pays model

2242 - Martha Baxendell (New Brighton Project)

We agree

2267 - Redacted Redacted

Yes - user pay

2269 - Lyn Leslie (Te Pātaka o Rākaihautū Banks Peninsula Community Board)

The Board supports the proposal to introduce parking charges at key parks (Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park carparks). Such charges will assist with identified issues such as the lack of parking space availability.

2287 - Alice Johnson

I agree with the decision to charge the people using the car parks than having them as a general amenity, even though I am one of those who will have to pay. It is fairer that way.

2295 - Katja Charmley

I believe the proposed introduction of parking charges at key parks, is a sensible step in managing urban spaces effectively. While initially inconvenient, parking charges can alleviate congestion, encourage alternative transportation, and generate revenue for park maintenance and improvement. Ultimately, these changes reflect a commitment to responsible governance and will contribute positively to our community's sustainable development.

2317 - Julia Palmer

I think introducing charges at these locations is an effective way of obtaining money from people that use the services directly. Especially those with vehicles, this would hopefully further encourage locals that use these services to change their lifestyle habits utilising cycle lanes ect.

2326 - Amanda Booth

Yes, we should charge for parking AND ensure good public transport options are available.

2354 - Chantelle Chalmers

Yes, I think it is a good way to take some pressure from rate payers and have other members of the public contribute.

2362 - Rosalee Jenkin

I support the proposal on principle to introduce parking chargers at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park, however CCC needs to work with ECan to ensure a much more frequent and reliable public transport service, and ensure decent cycle and walking infrastructure to these locations from all parts of the city. Fees for excess water usage should be increased as these are targeted towards people who consume a significantly higher-than-average amount of water and would not impact most ratepayers.

24 - Kaaren Mathias

I think this is essential and I support car parking charges that are much higher than currently.

2457 - Hayden Johnstone

I think the changes are good as a way to both generate money and decrease traffic and the negative impact of motor vehicles by encouraging people to take public transport or bike.

2464 - Bradley Moorfield

Yes, free parking is a subsidy and incentivises car dependency

2474 - Lerk Shih Poh Stedman

I support

248 - Eric Livingstone

The biggest challenge is to get a park at those parks. Shame to see charges go on parking there but if it means less misuse of such parks then that would be good

2482 - Erin Stewart

Agree with introducing parking charges.

25 - Ben Hart

I support parking fees, this will encourage people to use alternative forms of transport

2506 - Logan Brunner

I agree with introducing parking charges in the city, since we need to incentivise public and active transport instead of encouraging cars within the city centre.

2508 - Oliver Hutchison

I wholeheartedly support the proposed parking charges at Hagley Park and the Botanic Gardens

2519 - Charlotte Withington

A small parking fee at key parks will encourage walking or biking to them and carpooling for sport.

2524 - Ruth Falconer

[Fees and Charges>Car parking Fees (on-street & off-street)]

User pays like other countries

It would encourage people to use public transport + to walk

2530 - Clare Thompson

[Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)]

As long as citizens don't utilise public transport they should expect to pay charges

2532 - Ken Begg

I accept these proposed changes.

2533 - Steven Muir

charging for parking is a good idea as it encourages mode shift

2552 - Katie Coluccio

It's a good idea.

2559 - Michael Campbell

I express support for the proposed implementation of parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park, citing their excellent accessibility via public and active transportation. The anticipated annual revenue of $2 million, as projected by the Council, could effectively alleviate other financial burdens. [Fees & Charges > Car Parking Fees (on-street & off -street parking)] [Revenue > Excess Water Charge]

2572 - Sarah Vili

Increase parking, user pays , not sting the residents

2576 - Matthew Polson

Car parks should cost money,

2578 - Sarah Polson

I think charging for parking is fair. We have a great public transport system!

2595 - Nicola Hely

Yes. Parking charges across the city must be increased including at Hagley Park and the Botanic Gardens. Those places are very easy to access by bus or bike, and increasing the fees would help raise a lot of money. Parking fees should be high enough that they can directly subsidise public transport and cycling options.

2623 - Andrew Cockburn

I support increased parking charges and increased charges for high water usage.

2627 - Sarah Butterfield

Driving is a privilege that many don't have. Users should pay.

2640 - Wayne Hawker (New Brighton Museum)

Do not agree with parking fees at the Botanic Gardens, they are a jewel in the crown of our city and having free access to them is sometimes the only time some families that struggle financially can get out and enjoy family time and activities without a cost burden

2647 - Penny Carnaby

I support charging for key parking areas and further support any moves to reduce cars coming into the city. I am in favour of moves to improve public transport and cycle lanes

2664 - Peter Galbraith

Support proposed parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park, as these areas are well-connected by public transport, and active transport. The $2m a year this would raise (based on Council's calculations) would be useful in offsetting other costs.

2701 - Blair Smith

[Fees and Charges > Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)]

Support any increase in car parking fees. I'd suggest you take as your benchmark the parking costs at the airport and apply that as a minimum for all city parking.

271 - Jim Veitch

Ok

2741 - Kevin Pluck

Yes I believe introducing parking charges to the listed places is acceptable especially if the revenue is used to increase the choices of transport such as safe segregated cycle paths, buses, trams, and pedestrian walkways.

2742 - Caroline Dagger

I think this is fair and appropriate. I think the proposed $4.80 for 3 hrs is reasonable.

2758 - Christopher Seay

I fully support these charges. Parking is far too valuable to not be paid for according to its value. It is important for climate and urban form reasons to disincentivise driving and incentivise active and public transport. Parking is currently too cheap and abundant to do this.

2798 - Anne Dingwall

I support only in part

2822 - Angela Leatherby

This makes sense if we want people to consider using public transport or the cycle ways. If we keep making it easy to use cars then we will never change behaviour.

2827 - Carley Dove-McFalls (Generation Zero Ōtautahi)

GZ supports the idea of introducing parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park, given that this area is well connected by active/public transport links. The approximately 620 carparks would generate $2 million a year (based on $4.60 for three hours). Parking charges should increase around the city for on street/ground level only parking owned/provided by council. This can help discourage car use and help force a mode shift.

2828 - Thomas Kulpe

I support the suggested parking charges at parks.

2829 - Jennifer Dalziel

People should pay to park at the Botanic gardens and Hagley Park at present some people park there all day for free

2830 - Fiona Bennetts

[Fees & Charges > Car Parking Fees (on-street & off-street parking)], [Revenue > Excess Water Charge]

- I support the proposed parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park, as these areas are well-connected by public transport, and active transport. The $2m a year this would raise (based on Council's calculations) would be useful in offsetting other costs.

2835 - Emma Rodriguez Dos Santos

Agree YES to paid parking and charges at Botanical Gardens and Hagley Park. Majority of 'visitors' (different to regular users) are either overseas tourists or not local residents and can probably afford it.

2836 - Jillian Frater

I support proposed parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park. There should also be increased cycle parking in these areas to encourage mode shift.

2837 - Deborah Harwood

Good idea we need to keep rates down as much as we can.

2838 - Graham Erikson

Support proposed fees for car parking at Botanic Gardens and Hagley park.

2839 - Teresa von der Heiden

I think it is a good idea to pass on charges to people to use services directly, rather than all ratepayers.

2841 - Hunter Craig

Financially it makes sense to me, I'm never to happy about parking charges, but they do make sense

2844 - Albert Nisbet

I love the idea of more parking charges. >>> [Transport > Carparking (Capital)]

2845 - Erin Todd

Yes. I support the proposed parking fees at Hagley Park and the Botanic Gardens. Most parks in the city are already well-connected through cycleways and public transport. The revenue brought in from this can be used to offset other costs.

2848 - Glen Koorey

I support the additional parking charges at Hagley Park and Botanic Gardens

2855 - Kat Forrester

Hell no. Driving is a privilege not a right. If we want to take our cars in then paid parking should be an expectation

2856 - Rachel Puentener

I understand the reason for charging for parking at the botanical gardens. It will be important that this is a small amount (as per the example $5 for 3 hours) so that it is not a deterrent to people using the Gardens, which could lead to inequities.

2866 - Samantha Cook

Given the other priorities, while free parking is nice, this is a sensible trade-off.

2868 - Jonty Coulson

[Other/Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Fund]

Introducing parking charges is a powerful way to encourage a mode shift, as people will realize the value of biking and public transport. As a result, I support the proposed parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley park. Increased revenue generated can be spent on other climate positive projects.

>>>

[Rates > Residential Rates], [Rates > City Vacant Differential], [Fees & Charges > Car Parking (Parks)], [Other Special Interest Topics > Creating a Climate Change Fund], [Three Waters > Storm Water & Land Drainage]

The increased funding through rates, climate conscious CVD plans and parking charges will be able to appropriately fund climate mitigation and resilience - including the stormwater activity plan, in which not enough funding has been provided for basic mitigation projects.

2887 - Linda Keall

I'm happy with introducing charges at Hagley Park and the Botanic Gardens

2890 - Finn McIntyre (University of Canterbury Sustainable Design Society (UC SUSD))

SUSD generally supports the strategy of minimizing rates by passing some costs (such as carpark charges) of services directly onto the users.

2902 - Prawindra Mukhia

I'm for the proposed changes to charges.

2922 - Zak Morrison

Parking Charges at Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park: I support the proposed introduction of parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park. These areas are well-served by public transport and active transport options, making them accessible without the need for private vehicle use. The anticipated revenue of $2 million per year from these charges, based on the Council's calculations, could provide a valuable contribution to offsetting other costs within the city's budget.

2947 - Katia De Lu

1. Car parking I support introducing parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park. This area is well connected by active and public transport links, so car parking charges would not impose an undue burden on the public. Furthermore, it would disincentivise private car use (see earlier comments) and generate much-needed income for our city.

2949 - Graeme John Marriott

I'm happy with the proposed parking charges.

3 - Di Pranker

Yes I agree with charging parking at Botanical gardens as many parks are taken up by workers in the city - I.e. all day parking. Perhaps address the all day parking charges to make them more affordable - especially for hospital staff

300 - La Wanda Cowan

No that's a good way to manage how and where people are parking and potentially reducing the amount of cars in the city.

3010 - Jan Cook

I support the proposal for parking charges at Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park. It is reasonable for motorists to pay for parking in central city areas at peak times. The Gardens and Park are well serviced by buses and cycleways as alternative transport. The charge should not apply on Sundays or public holidays or in the evenings, or for disabled parking.

3012 - George Laxton

I support the increase charging of parking at the botanic gardens, for too long people use public space for free without getting charged for the true cost. If we are going to be renting out land for people to store their private property then they should be paying the appropriate amount.

3015 - Alexandra Cox

Car parks are almost the least efficient use of public space possible, they are a privilege, not a right and should therefore come at a premium

3018 - Kristal Jenkins

You have to do what you have to do to help New Zealand businesses, charities and conservation programmes from going under and to keep our economy going.

302 - Bronwyn Roberts

Absolutely agree re parking charges in the gardens etc

3029 - Rodrigo Gomez Fell

This is an excellent idea.

3037 - Robert Fletcher

I think charging for parking at the botanical gardens is a positive step - it's commonly completely full, and I suspect many people using it aren't even necessarily visiting the gardens, but just getting a free park for commuting or other things in the city. We might as well manage demand by charging and generating revenue (thus reducing rates), and also encourage more alternative transport into the city (stop subsidising car parking!)

3043 - J Elliott

Agree there should be charges for all parking, however this should be for both Cars AND Bikes and the parking Fee in these parks should be a notional fee.

3055 - Josephine Drysdall

I support introducing parking charges at the Botanic Gardens and Hagley Park, provided that there are free disabled parks available.

3065 - Janet Wilson

Parking charges are fair enough.

3083 - Peter Joyce

support

3085 - Jacqueline Sullivan

I agree with charging for parking. Make sure that the monies collected are used to maintain Ch Ch 's precious historical places.

3087 - Lucie Masselink

[Planning & Strategic Transport, Urban Design, & Urban Regeneration - Strategic Transport]

No, as long as the fees are reasonable. And invest the money in improving public transport

3088 - Heather Brown

I agree - its user pays.

3090 - Trudi Bishop

The parking fees should be council run not run by third party contractors such as Wilsons and all money should be filtered directly back to the community for the funding of better public transport and safer cycle ways.

3094 - Daniel Smith

Users should pay the costs for the services they use, parking should be paid at the botanic gardens as long as it still remains free for accessibility park users who don't have another choice.

3105 - Tracey MacArthur

Parking should be paid. Why should a car driver get free parking especially at rate payers expense!

3125 - Gabrielle Humphreys

That's ok if the fee is reasonable for families.

3158 - Julian Holderness

Park car parks should be free

3163 - Simon Cobb

I support this.

3169 - Barbara Brown

Yes I support charging at key parks. I think $4 for half a day and $8 for a full day would be OK for visitors to e.g., Harley Park (Botanic Gardens). However, how do you stop city workers parking in these parks? The parking should be for visitors to the gardens and park.

3193 - Allan Greenall

Great idea

3209 - Anouk Minnaar

